Rev. Eugene Hawkins

Noble Goldsmith, caretaker at the county courthouse, is receiving lots of compliments for the improved appearance of the grounds and building—and justly so. Goldsmith takes a great pride in his work and as a result of his efforts the county property is now one of the beauty spots of the county.

Later in the season when the hundreds of blooming flowers begin to put forth it should be even more attractive.

Mothers who go to hospitals to visit sick friends and relatives should never take small children in the building with them. Leave them in the car, where they can blow the horn continuously until mother comes back. Restless, sick patients just love to hear an automobile horn blasting while they are trying to rest.

There ought to be a law against sight-seers visiting scenes of devastation immediately after a tragedy has hit a community. The need of such a law was vividly illustrated recently the Sunday following the visit of a cyclone to the little city of Olney, east of here.

Throughout all day Sunday, sight-seers, with their cars lined bumper-to-bumper, filed through the devastated city streets, obstructing the movement of workmen who volunteered to help in clearing the city of the debris and helping in any way they could to rehabilitate the unfortunate storm victims.

Monday came and the volunteer workmen and their equipment had to go back to their regular jobs. The sight-seers were also gone, leaving the poor unfortunate people to clean up their own premises and streets as best they could.

Sights in a stricken community, although tragic, are often amusing to sight-seers. But they are very real to those who have lost their homes and they don't appreciate funny remarks about the queer quirks of a cyclone.

To the editor's household the tragic part of that pickup and tractor crash last Friday evening on the Clovis highway was that our dog, Rusty, came up missing. Rusty got out to investigate the wreck and hasn't been seen or heard of since. Rusty is a wire-haired cross between a terrier and an airdale and is solid black except for a small white stripe along his breast.

Anyone knowing his whereabouts is asked to communicate with us.

On the morning of May 20, Bob Stover went out to investigate his brood sows and found that during the night one of them had given birth to eight pigs. This is not unusual. But—one of the sows had farrowed two freaks of nature. One piglet had three front feet and legs another boasted four front feet and legs. They lived only a short time after birth.

Stover, in telling about the incident, declared that this is not a believe-it-or-not story, as several neighbors saw the multiple-legged pigs.

We have often heard the claim that a man's wife "drove him to drink". We think actually that she was trying to drive him to work.

A unique tax form, containing only three questions should be adopted for the benefit of simplification and brevity, which would not require the advice of an expert in filling out. Here are the only questions necessary: (1) How much money do you have? (2) Where is it? (3) How long will it take you to get it?

Mrs. O. B. Pipkin reminds us that there were 28 Farwell grads in the 1941 class, which holds the record for the number of graduates from the local school. The 1951 crop was 27.

FIRE DESTROYS CAR IN FIELD

Mr. and Mrs. Bunk Phillips were forced to use their pick-up as a means of conveyance Saturday, following the complete destruction of their passenger car, a 1949 Pontiac, late Friday night.

Phillips had gone to the field to do some night plowing and had taken the Pontiac with him. Quitting work about 11 p. m. he went to his car and was preparing to go home. When he attempted to start the machine, it backfired, "and took fire all over." He attempted to smother the flames by throwing dirt on the fire but to no avail.

The machine was a complete loss. It was only partly covered by insurance, Phillips said.

Youth Revival Begins June 17 at Bovina

A youth revival is scheduled June 13 through June 17 at the Bovina Baptist church, Rev. M. D. Durham, pastor of the church says.

Rev. Eugene Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawkins of Bovina will preach the special services. Rev. Hawkins, who formerly lived in Bovina, is now a student at Wayland college in Plainview. He has just completed his first year and is now a sophomore.

The native Bovinian will be accompanied by a singer to assist him in the services.

Pioneer Lady Is Claimed By Death

Mrs. Mollie Kyker, 74, one of Texico-Farwell's earliest pioneers, and wife of Bob Kyker, closed this earthly life at the Clovis Memorial hospital late last Saturday afternoon, following a long illness.

Broken in health the past several years, Mrs. Kyker remained in the family home in south Farwell until just a few days before passing, when she was removed to the hospital.

Funeral services were conducted at the First Church of Christ in Clovis Tuesday afternoon by Minister Lewis C. Cox, her former pastor, assisted by Minister Ebb Randol, and burial took place in the Clovis Cemetery by the side of her son, Guy, who was buried there a few years ago.

Pal bearers were Sam Randol, W. E. Martin, Charley Lunsford, Lewis Pierce, John Holland and T. E. Levy. Steed Funeral Home, of Clovis, was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Kyker bear the distinction of being the oldest couple in point of residence in Texico-Farwell, having located in Texico in December of 1905, coming here from Lindsey, Okla. They observed their 50th anniversary on Feb. 6, of this year. But due to Mrs. Kyker's health, no celebration was held for the event.

Seven children were born to the union, all of them being born in Texico-Farwell, and all graduated from the local schools. Six of the children survive. They are Robert, Carlbad, Clifford, Abilene, Rex, Abilene, who is currently moving to Florida; Mrs. Ed Thomas, Los Angeles; Mrs. Curtis Danner, Portland, Oreg.; Mrs. Lee Bradshaw, Shreveport, La. Seven grandchildren also survive.

All the children were here to attend the final rites of the grand old character, who has wrought so well in the 45 years she has been a resident of the Twin Cities.

Tires and Wheels Are Lifted From Cars

Jack Williams and the Sikes Motor Company reported the loss of two tires and wheels from cars left parked outside, one night last week.

The front wheel and tire were lifted from the front of the Williams' machine, parked just off the driveway at the family home. Sikes' loss was from a car left outside the Ford garage.

New Classrooms, Office to be Built

Some class floors have been sanded off and one floor is already finished at Texico schools, Agrie Jones, superintendent, said today.

Other improvements to be made this summer include the building of three new classrooms and an office. The new addition will be located between the main building and the old auditorium.

School Bond Vote Slated Saturday

Register June 6th for Youth Program

Summer recreation for Texico-Farwell young people will get underway next week, when youngsters register on June 6 for the concerted ten-week program.

Keneth Livingston, Farwell coach, and Curtis Miller, teacher-elect from Texico, will direct the program. Both are alumni of Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. Coach Livingston has had previous experience in this type work, having assisted with such a program in Portales the past summer.

Youngsters enroll for the program at 3 o'clock Wednesday. Children five through nine years of age are to register at Texico school with Miller; and youngsters 10 years and older meet at the same time at the Farwell school with Coach Livingston. This method of registration was decided upon to avoid confusion.

Actually, summer recreation will begin Monday, June 11, Mrs. Lenton Pool, of the planning committee, announces. "Anyone in either Texico or Farwell school district is eligible for the program," Mrs. Pool emphasizes, adding, "it isn't for town children only."

Recreational facilities of both schools will be used for the program; age groups will be kept together. The directors will also work together to plan activities and times. Certain days and certain hours will probably be designated for various age groups, Mrs. Pool explained, although a schedule has not yet been completed.

Committee meeting for planning of the program was held Monday night, with various civic organizations of the Twin Cities represented. Included were members from the Lions Club, Farwell Chamber of Commerce, Auxiliary, Fire Department, Woman's Club and American Legion.

They included Jack Williams, Agrie Jones, Oliver Sikes, Joe Crume, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helton and Mrs. Pool. Group members also selected a committee to work with the directors to start the project. Jones was named as chairman, assisted by Williams, Mrs. Ray Sharp and Mrs. Pool.

The original idea for the program was drawn up in February by the Texico Parent-Teacher Association, and from that outline the proposed project has been drafted until it has reached the present status, with the ten-week program roughly outlined. It is to include both boys and girls.

Many different phases of activity will be planned for the young people—softball, baseball, tennis, ping pong, swimming, lifesaving, water show bike racing, kite contests, marble tournaments and horseshoe pitching.

Worked out through cooperative efforts with the YSO program in Clovis, directors hope that some of the Clovis facilities may be used in conjunction with the local program.

Texico Streets Get Good Grading Work

All the streets in Texico were given a good job of grading last week, putting them in the best condition in recent months.

Since the town does not own a grader, arrangements were made with Homer Bennett of Clovis, to do the work, and all the streets in the town were given a thorough going over.

Irrigation Water in Bar Ditches is Complaint Subject

Considerable complaint is being made against the practice of allowing irrigation water to run in bar ditches along county roads in Farmer, a statement from the Commissioners Court said this week.

County officials pointed out that such practice is a violation of the law and unless the practice is stopped immediately, it may be necessary to file complaints against offenders.

Rural residents have protested that water-filled bar ditches obstruct the movement of traffic to and from farm homes. Furthermore, it was pointed out, continuously soaked ditches interfere with proper grading of dirt roads in the county.

CAFÉ CHANGES

Mrs. F. E. Winegart has taken over the Texico Hotel Cafe, and announces that she will feature home cooking at her new business. She is being assisted by Mrs. Lee Doshier and her daughter, Pat.

Washington Visitor In Anderson Home

Bovina, May 24—Mrs. Mary Zirkle, Washington, D. C., comptroller of the Democratic National Committee, was a guest this week in the home of Mrs. Gabe Anderson, Jr., in the latter's apartment at the Sherley Elevator.

Mrs. Zirkle and Mrs. Anderson became friends when Mrs. Anderson, then Miss Flora Lee Williams of Farwell, was receptionist for the national committee in Washington and made her home with Mrs. Zirkle.

Mrs. Anderson visited Mrs. Zirkle in Washington in February, and last week, when Mrs. Zirkle was in Denver for a meeting of the Democratic National Committee, Mrs. Anderson drove there to pick her up and bring her to Bovina for a visit. She was scheduled to leave for Washington this (Thursday) morning.

Originally from Short Hills, N. J., and New York, Mrs. Zirkle has been in Washington with the national committee since 1928 and currently is the oldest person, in point of service, with the committee.

Palmateer Gets Rap In Court Judgment

Ralph H. Palmateer, farmer-stockman living along the Frio Draw north of this city, was sentenced to the "fullest extent of the law" in a ruling handed down by District Judge E. A. Bills in district court here late Monday afternoon.

In addition to assessing Palmateer a fine of $100, he also was sentenced to serve three days in jail for contempt of court. And that was not all; Judge Bills ruled that Palmateer be remanded to the county jail until he pays some six or seven thousand dollars for the support of his three minor children, Pearl Marie, 16; Alice Fay, 14; and Ralph Jr., 12.

"It is the judgement of this court that you not even be allowed to see your own children; you are not a fit person to be with them," Judge Bills stated from the bench as he dealt a scathing rebuke to Palmateer.

Continuing, Judge Bills said, "it is the opinion of this court that somebody has committed perjury in the evidence given in this case, and I want the grand jury to investigate this evidence from top to bottom."

Paraphrasing Judge Bills said, "The court knows who has lied, but I want the grand jury to make an investigation."

Monday's hearing was the outgrowth of a divorce decree issued by former District Judge James Witherspoon here in 1941, when he granted Della Palmateer a divorce from her then husband and also gave custody of the three minor children in addition to support for the children in the amount of $60 per month.

Recently, Palmateer filed a suit to recover custody of the children, and his ex-wife (now Mrs. Della Light of Friona) filed a counter action alleging that he had not carried out the order of the court in supporting the three children.

Judge Bills also ordered Palmateer to pay his ex-wife's attorney fees in Monday's case in the amount of $250. He also faces the probability of being indicted by the grand jury for perjury, court attaches said.

Mrs. T. A. Autry and family were visiting in Texico-Farwell Wednesday.

PFC. RAYMOND JESKO

Now stationed at Carswell Army Air Base in Ft. Worth is Pfc. Raymond Jesko, son of Mrs. Harry Jesko of Farwell. Pfc. Jesko, an enlistee last Jan. 4, now an MP, and writes his mother here that he expects his corporal stripes in the near future.

Pfc. Jesko first trained at Lackland air field in San Antonio, and has since been stationed at Camp Gordon in Georgia, and bivouaced for a time in South Texas. He was home on furlough two weeks ago.

Pfc. Jesko's biggest surprise in army life was his being made an MP. He had planned to be included in the ground repair crew when he enlisted.

Farwell Girl Injured Slightly in Collision

Nancy Aldridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Aldridge of Farwell, escaped serious injury last Friday afternoon when the pickup she was driving collided with a tractor four miles west of Texico on Mabry Drive.

However, she is reported to have suffered a fractured right arm in the wreck. The driver of the tractor, Kenneth Nunn of Portales, was painfully bruised, but has no broken bones following the mishap.

Miss Aldridge was returning alone from Clovis, and says that she must have fallen asleep while driving during the warm afternoon. The pickup struck the rear end of the Ford tractor, also east-bound, and smashed it badly.

Nunn was sent sprawling clear of the wreckage, which probably accounted for his escape without more serious injuries. He explained that he was on his way to Farwell, where he owns a quarter-section of farming land south of town.

Lewis Tries 10 Cases In Month of May

Ten cases, nine for overloading of trucks, and one for a worthless check, were tried in the Texico JP court this month by Sam Lewis. The justice reports that all charges of overloading were answered by pleas of guilty, although two of the men charged jumped bonds of $30.50 each held by officials of the Port of Entry.

The worthless check matter, says Lewis, is "still pending."

Mrs. A. D. Smith left Thursday to spend a week visiting relatives in Topeka, Kansas.

This Saturday, June 2, Farwell school district voters will return to the polls to vote on another bond election called by the school board after being petitioned May 14.

The election, which will determine whether the school will be substantially improved or not, will be for $165,000. This amount, if voted in, would be sufficient for construction of a new high school building, a new cafeteria, and conversion of the old high school for grade school use only.

The board has taken pains to point out to taxpayers that the improvements asked for are absolutely essential, and should be given serious thought by voters.

Notices of the election were posted May 15, and the board feels that the lapse of time between that date and June 2 will be sufficient for the school patrons to "talk up" the measures to be voted on.

The school, according to findings of the board, has outgrown the present facilities available with its enrollment of 376. The board asserts that it feels immediate action should be taken by the members of the district to correct the problems just explained.

The board is composed of Claude Rose, president, and Webb Gober, Dick Gerles, Lee Jones, C. C. Christian, Lester Norton, and Austin Jones.

The petition for an election was signed by 40 voters.

Court is Continued When Jurors Plead For Planting Time

District Judge E. A. Bills agreed to continue the criminal session of the Farmer County district court here Monday when, after examining the 48 prospective jurors, only ten jurors remained on the panel.

After considering requests of the jurors—a large percentage of whom were farmers—that they be allowed to return to their farms to proceed with their planting operations, Judge Bills announced that the session would be continued until July 23.

Hearing of three non-jury cases were then brought up before the court. James Caruthers and George W. Rux entered pleas of guilty to forgery and were sentenced two years in the penitentiary.

The third case was that of Ralph Palmateer, charged with contempt of court, details of which are carried in another story in this issue.

Methodist Pastors Named For County

Pastors who will be in charge of the four Methodist churches in Farmer County during the coming conference year were announced at the conclusion of the Northwest Texas Conference at Abilene last Sunday by Bishop Wm. C. Martin.

Two of the county pastors were returned for another year with an equal number assigned to other fields. Those returning are Rev. J. E. Tidwell, Friona; and Rev. Travis Jordon, Lazbuddie.

Assigned to other posts were Rev. A. D. Moore, of Oklahoma Lane, who goes to Mobeetie; and Rev. Oscar Bruce, who goes to Knox City.

Rev. Vernon Willard comes to Oklahoma Lane, and Rev. I. T. Huckle succeeds Rev. Bruce at Bovina.

Hal Ed Helton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Helton, has been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whaley, in Amarillo, for the past few days.

Park and Clinic Sought by C of C

Poor attendance at a town meeting Monday night didn't keep the directors of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce from doing a lot of work. They drew up initial plans on two new civic projects which, if completed, will mean much to the city.

The first was a move to get a small municipal recreational park installed south of the Courthouse. This idea, according to C. M. Henderson, president of the Chamber was brought forward by considerable local agitation for such a move.

Felix Monroe, Joe Crume, and Ray Means are on the committee which will be responsible for future action on the project, and it is expected that these men will be ready with initial plans for the work by time of the next town meeting a month from now.

The second project that met with approval by the Chamber was the introduction of a plan and the naming of a committee to see what could be done about getting Farwell a medical clinic.

This same idea was discussed some two years ago, but the movement did not gather enough speed to meet any definite conclusions.

This time, however, Henderson feels that there definitely are some interested persons backing the plan, and although "things are still in the embryo stages," the project may eventually be worked out.

Included on a committee that will take charge of work on the clinic are O. C. Sikes and Ray Sudderth. If plans for the clinic ever materialize, they probably will include the setting up of a corporation and sale of stock to finance it.

"With regard to the park," Henderson commented, "it will be on a donation basis." For this reason, the chamber is not able to announce just what it has in mind for the planned park, as the wishes of donors would have to be taken into consideration.

Other business attended to at the meeting included plans for immediate action to clean up the city. Alleys will be dragged and settling sewer ditches in the alleys will be filled in, the chamber decided.

Sikes also heads the clean-up committee. Committeemen include Monroe, Crume, and Means.

If the applications are approved, "Prof" Morton says, the State Key will be awarded winners at the State FFA convention in Houston this summer. If the boys are not at the meeting to receive the award, a special awards banquet will be held in this area.

Sewer System is Working Well

Eighty people have already tied on to the new sewer system installed in Farwell, Bob Anderson, of the City Commission says, and more are hooking up to the system every day.

This number is about sixty percent of those who could be benefitted by the sewer.

Anderson adds that the system is working in fine shape; the sewer ditch sinkings during the recent rains didn't harm at all.

SILVER WEDDING ANNIVERSARY TO BE NOTED BY BUSKES THIS FRIDAY

Back on June 1, 1926, Miss Lila Myrl Crow became the bride of G. B. (Pete) Buske, in a home ceremony performed in the modest parlor of her home in Abernathy, Texas. Rev. J. F. Floyd, Baptist pastor, read the vows.

This Friday, June 1, twenty-five years later, Myrl and Pete will celebrate their silver anniversary, in one of the loveliest new homes in Friona, equipped with all the ordinary and a good number of the extra-ordinary "modern conveniences."

The occasion will be open to all their friends of the entire area, with the honorees inviting guests to their home between the hours of three and seven o'clock, in the afternoon.

Pert and trim-figured, although now the mother of three girls and one boy, Myrl is as red-headed as she was twenty-five years ago when she took her vows and her appearance denies the fact which she laughingly admits, that she is four years older than her husband.

On that wedding night in 1926, young Myrl wore a white georgette and lace dress, which "I made myself," although her young bridegroom didn't present her with a wedding ring until family finances improved some years later. Pete laughs and says "we had a Saturday night wedding, with about 15 cents in my pocket."

The couple spent the first three years of their married life in Abernathy, where Pete was engaged in farming, and moved to Friona in 1929. For some years, Pete operated a small but thriving produce business here, and later held the Chevrolet dealership for some time, but he never got away from farming and cow swapping, and eventually turned to the latter—with improvements—and currently has an office here with H. T. Magness.

Asked for highlights of their courtship, Myrl recounted that she vividly remembered her first meeting with her future husband, "at a Valentine party" although later events have become a little dim with the passage of time.

At the time, she was working with her father, L. M. Crow, in the operation of a store in Abernathy, and continued her activity in public life until DeAnn, now 13, put in her appearance. Three years later, the twins, Lila Gay and Phila May, were born, and finally came Kim, now three years old.

On hand to enjoy the occasion with the Buskes on Friday of this week will be parents of both Myrl and Pete. The Crows reside in Friona, while Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Buske will come from Abernathy. The latter, incidentally, celebrated their golden anniversary last July.

done work at Schaufler University, in Cleveland, Ohio.

Explaining that "trains make me sick", Jane began her summer tour by going by bus to Galveston, where she visited with Dr. and Mrs. Richard S. Bolten, the latter being a sister, Miss Margeurite Meyer, and is to be on hand in New York before June 12th, the date on which the Norwegian ship, "Stavengerjord", is slated to sail.

Jane will be one of 250 students on the ship, selected from all parts of the United States on various scholarships. The trip is to take 10 days, with the group set to embark on June 22nd, and before leaving, Jane laughed and remarked that she planned to ask her doctor brother-in-law, in Galveston "for some of those sea-sickness pills" so that she might avoid the plague of the high seas.

In Oslo, the students will be housed in a new apartment dormitory, located near the new science building of the University, where they will have their classes for six weeks. Jane hopes to get in eight hours of work, which she will apply toward her Master's degree. She is majoring in English and education, and plans to resume schooling in the States this fall, although she has not definitely made up her mind which school she will enter.

Upon her return to America, she will visit in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Meyer in Friona before continuing her education.

The occasion will be open to all their friends of the entire area, with the honorees inviting guests to their home between the hours of three and seven o'clock, in the afternoon.

Explaining that "trains make me sick", Jane began her summer tour by going by bus to Galveston, where she visited with Dr. and Mrs. Richard S. Bolten, the latter being a sister, Miss Margeurite Meyer, and is to be on hand in New York before June 12th, the date on which the Norwegian ship, "Stavengerjord", is slated to sail.

Jane will be one of 250 students on the ship, selected from all parts of the United States on various scholarships. The trip is to take 10 days, with the group set to embark on June 22nd, and before leaving, Jane laughed and remarked that she planned to ask her doctor brother-in-law, in Galveston "for some of those sea-sickness pills" so that she might avoid the plague of the high seas.

In Oslo, the students will be housed in a new apartment dormitory, located near the new science building of the University, where they will have their classes for six weeks. Jane hopes to get in eight hours of work, which she will apply toward her Master's degree. She is majoring in English and education, and plans to resume schooling in the States this fall, although she has not definitely made up her mind which school she will enter.

Upon her return to America, she will visit in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Meyer in Friona before continuing her education.

Local Student Leaves Thursday for Program in Oslo, Norway

Leaving on the first lap of her long trip, Thursday, Mrs. Jane Gallagher, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. George E. Meyer of this city, is now enroute to Oslo, Norway, where she will spend six weeks in schooling at the University of Norway.

Laughingly denying the fact that she might have been an outstanding student to receive one of the four Jesse H. Jones scholarships presented in Texas, Jane casually explains that "they just asked for a transcript of our credits . . . and later I found out I'd received the Jones scholarship." Jane completed her work for a bachelor of science degree at West Texas State College in Canyon on Monday, May 21st. Previous to the one year spent at Canyon, she had Stanley Lockhart, Church of Christ minister, sang "The Star Spangled Banner", and Roy Wilson, Legion adjutant, read the roll call of the dead. The placing of flags and flowers on the graves was in charge of the Legion Auxiliary, with the Girl Scouts laying the remembrances.

Concluding the program, Bud Crump directed the firing squad salute, and taps was played as the occasion closed. John Blackburn was in charge of program arrangements.

Members of the building committee, holding a session on Sunday afternoon, have tentatively set July 15th as the date for the formal opening of the new Baptist church in Friona, Rev. Russell Pogue reports.

"Actually," the minister said, "we hope to be in our church a week or two preceding that date, but plans for our formal opening will be made for July 15, at which time friends from all over the county will be invited to participate in services."

Indications are that the new building, when completed, will cost around $100,000, and will be one of the most beautiful and modern churches in Parmer County, which has seen a boom in church erection during the past several years.

At the current time, securing of lighting fixtures is the only bottleneck starting the contractors in the face, with other interior work scheduled to be completed within a few days, following which furniture will be installed.

The new building will house the sanctuary, the beginner-primary department, baptistry, pastor's study, and nurseries, Rev. Pogue said, adding that one detail of which the group is particularly proud is the fact that a small broadcast system will be hooked up, enabling members of visitors to hear services from all buildings on the church ground.

Seating capacity is currently planned for 550, although it is estimated that a maximum crowd of around 670 can be handled, the pastor added. The building will be completely air conditioned, insuring comfort for the worshippers at all times of the year.

Members of the building committee are C. W. Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Magness, G. B. Buske, George Messenger, Charles Allen, Mrs. Melvin Bennett, Mrs. Sloan Osborn, Roy Miller and Leonard Haws.

Memorial Program Is Held At Friona

Memorial Day, May 30th, was observed in Friona this week when residents gathered for two special programs on Wednesday, the first being held at 10:30 a. m. at the City Park near the monument erected to honor Parmer County boys killed in action in World War II.

The program opened with a tribute to veterans of all wars, given by Bert Neelley, commander of the Friona American Legion Post, following which Mrs. Roy Wilson, president of the Legion Auxiliary, placed the memorial wreath at the base of the monument, and then Rev. Russell Pogue, local Baptist pastor, offered a prayer.

Residents then dispersed to the local cemetery for an 11 o'clock program, which was opened by Commander Neelley. Legion Chaplain Forrest Osborn offered a prayer, and a reading, "The Name of Old Glory", by James Whitcomb Riley, was given by Miss Martha Ann Blankenship.

Rev. George E. Meyer, Congregational pastor, was the speaker of the program, basing his talk on the topic "Old Glory Say Who?" in which he offered some challenging thoughts to his listeners.

Rev. George E. Meyer, speaker of the day centered his address about a poem by the Hoosier poet, James Whitcomb Riley, entitled "Old Glory, say Who?"

He paid tribute to the men of all the nations' wars; those who paid the full price of devotion; those maimed of body or mind; those who offered on the altar of war their all; to the women who actually fought in some of our battles as a nation; those of the Waves and the Waes, the office of strategic service; of the department of intelligence, and the nurses who across the years have cared for the wounded and the dying; the hundreds of thousands of Gold Star Mothers; an equal number widowed by war; the thousands upon thousands of children made fatherless by the war; in the nation's wars. These all being those who gave

Farm Work Resumes In Area Over Weekend

Farmers in the Friona area returned to their field work with a vengeance during the past weekend, as warm, sunny days followed soaking rains which had put the ground in top condition for spring planting.

In fact, although they probably would have been reluctant to admit it, some farmers were ready for the showers to cease before the moisture actually did come to an end here during the middle of the week. The general rains followed an eight-month long dry spell which had been broken only fleetingly by scarcely appreciable moisture in scattered showers or light snowfalls.

Indications are that an even larger acreage that has been noted the past several years will be planted in grain sorghums, as many fields of wheat were turned under when early spring moisture failed to materialize. What wheat remains in the area after the drought and the insect devastation has headed out rapidly during the past few days, and hopes are being held by farmers who still have some of the crop that they will, at least, salvage planting seed for fall operations.

Seniors Return Home From Annual Trip

Friona seniors and their sponsors returned home late Saturday afternoon from Cowles, N. M., where they had spent the week enjoying a spring outing at Creste del Monte, lodge of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maurer, of this city.

Included on the trip were Phyllis Allman, Martha Ann Blankenship, Keith Brock, Helen Carr, W. L. Cleveland, J. Vonne Fulk, Jimmie Ray Gore, Betty Jean Pope, Dale Houlette, Vera Ann Jones, Gaylord Maurer, Mary Lou Miller, Betty Ann Stevick, Herbert Schueler, Ruby Shaffer, Edward Spring, Jr. and Merle Gray, class members; Mrs. Raymond Jones, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Carr, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Maurer, Raymond Cook and Glenn Cunningham, class sponsors.

Seek To Reorganize Cemetery Assn.

Allan Romich, manager of the Friona Chamber of Commerce, said the first of the week the he was urging to reorganize the local cemetery association.

The association has not been very active for some time, and local residents are hopeful of getting things worked out with a view of keeping the burial ground clean and tended.

Foundation is Laid For Cotton Gin

Concrete foundation lines for Friona's new cotton gin were run the past week and erection of the business is anticipated in the near future, G. B. (Pete) Buske announced today.

The gin, which will be the only one in this part of the county, incidentally, is being erected locally by the North Plains Gin Company, with Buske, J. B. McFarland and Wright Williams as co-owners, and Williams is slated to serve as manager of the business when it is in operation.

The building and complete equipment was purchased in Oklahoma, some months ago, and is to be moved here in sections, Buske said, with Ray Edwards, of Muleshoe, serving as the building contractor.

One of the latest Hardwick-Etter gins, Friona's new business will be modern in all latest details, Buske said, adding that the "latest thing" in cleaners, dryers, ect., will be available in the gin. Location of the business is south of town across Frio Draw, on the east side of the road.

Asked about burr disposal, Buske said that the company plans later to install an incinerator which will eliminate much of the disagreeable odor and smoke from the burning burrs, but went on to add that it was doubtful if this could be done before the first ginning this fall. Tentative plans are for the gin to be completed within the next thirty to forty days, depending on weather conditions.

Handkerchief Shower Given Mrs. Roden

Mrs. Ralph Roden was honored the past Thursday afternoon, when a farewell handkerchief shower was tendered at the Woman's Club House by some thirty members.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Bill Hannold, Mrs. Bud Crump and Mrs. Mary Boggess.

The Rodens moved the first of the week to Littlefield, where they will make their home. Roden, formerly manager and pharmacist in the Parmer County Community Hospital here, has been in Littlefield for some weeks, taking over a drug store in that city.

The serving table was centered with a lovely bouquet of carnations and stock, with Mrs. Boggess presiding, while the guest book was handled by Mrs. Crump. Bouquets of roses were arranged about the room for decorative effect.

Club Improvement Is Discussed At Meet

Ways and means of improvement for the new club year which will begin in September was taken up at the final meeting of the fiscal year by the Friona Woman's Club, on Wednesday of last week.

Culminating the year's work, the ladies met at the Club House for a covered dish luncheon at 1 o'clock on Wednesday, following which an interesting program was enjoyed and business matters attended.

The serving tables were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers, and Mesdames Roy Slage, Jake Lamb, Wesley Hardesty, L. F. Lillard and Lem Miller served as hostesses for the occasion, with twenty-seven members on hand.

Opening the program, roll call was answered by suggested improvements for the 1951 club year, after which Mrs. Estes Bass gave a dis-discussion on comic books. In her talk, Mrs. Bass stressed the importance of mothers "looking over the 112 different comic magazines" available on the news stands, in order to check up on children's selections.

A report on the seventh district club conference, held in Amarillo in April, was given by Mrs. Spencer Hough, delegate, and sidelights from the affair were listed by Mrs. Roy Slagle and Mrs. F. W. Reeve.

In considering improvements for the club, members stressed better attendance, unanimous response to roll call, and further voted to enforce the Constitutional rule on absences from the organization.

Texans Brag on State Even When in Japan

Japan PFC Lawrence K. Finley of Austin (1012 West 23rd St.) looked up from his copy of "Texas Brags" long enough to venture a typically-Texan comment about Japan:

"It's OK, I suppose," he said, "but not much larger than my uncle's pasture."

When is a Texan not a Texan? No one in the 40th Infantry Division claimed to know, but it was apparent that a Texan in Japan—6,000 miles from home—is still a Texan.

The 40th Division, which is the first National Guard division to arrive overseas since World War II (a fact that the Texans themselves sometimes brag about), is a Southern California outfit. It was by a quirk of fate that the division suddenly found its ranks filled, to a surprisingly large extent, by Texan draftees and volunteers.

PFC Steve K. Pace of Houston (2413 Ralph St.), two members of the division finance section, toyed with a few statistics:

Japan has an average of 559 people living in each square mile; Texas has an average of 22 people per square mile.

"It's kind of crowded here," said Pace after his first visit to nearby Sendai.

"Yeah," Smitley said, "only the New Yorkers feel at home."

In fact, they went on, you could set the entire country of Japan down in Texas and have 119,649 square miles left over. You could disperse the entire Texas population in the remaining 119,649 square miles and still have a population density of only 84 persons per square mile.

PFC John Marquis of McCamey, a towering Texan, bumped his head on the top of a door opening and found undeniable proof that the Japanese are small people. "In Texas," he said, "we don't build buildings this way."

PFC M. J. (Burt) Ingram of Corpus Christi (2408 Summers St.) took a look at a blossoming cherry tree and quipped: "Shucks, this couldn't hold a candle to a hillside of bluebonnets."

PFC Sam Cloyd of Bellville, a former Santa Fe railroad employee, looked over a dinky, narrow gauge railroad train and said, "Back in Texas, where I come from, this would be too small for a roller coaster."

Pvt. N. P. Cronovich of Galveston (4720 Woodrow Ave.) remarked that he has a Texas flag in his foot-locker and was planning to whip it out on special occasions.

Finley, who was one step ahead of him. He had already whipped out a Texas flag in Sendai and attached it to a rickshaw he had hired. Then Finley, who can't speak a word of Japanese, tried to explain to a crowd of Japs, who couldn't speak a word of English, the significance of the flag.

No one is quite certain just how many Texans are in Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudelson's command. Both Californians and Texans figure they already have the answer without searching through thousands of "201" files scattered throughout more than 100 military units.

Judging by the noise the Texans make in bragging, the Californians are convinced there are a couple of regiments of them. The Texans, confident in their abilities, say no more than battalions are needed to make all that noise.

MEAT CALLS FOR RICE IN THESE DISHES

Meat and rice are a time proven combination. A review of the known combinations gives a hint to further opportunities for joint serving of these two foods, points out Reba Staggs, home economist.

Chop suey made with pork strips is the usual. Taking a cue from this prepare heart chop suey or liver chop suey. Both of these are served with rice for popular combination and are an economical choice at your market.

A stuffing for meat is second use for rice. It may be the stuffing for a beef flank steak, lamb or porkcushion style shoulder, pork chops or a frankfurter crown. To rice stuffing, the same as bread stuffing, add chopped celery, minced onion or mushroom bits.
Ground beef adds a satisfying touch to Spanish rice for another combination. A top of the range dish or an oven casserole may be prepared of bulk pork sausage, tomatoes and rice. Ground pork combines with rice to stuff hollowed green peppers.

Molasses Orange Bars

An unusual flavor combination—molasses tang with sparkling orange—makes these bar cookies a delight to eat. They're quick to make, too.

If you like to serve snacks and desserts that are nutritious as well as taste-pleasing, plan to make the molasses orange bars pictured today. Both enriched flour and molasses are excellent sources of food iron, and in addition enriched flour contributes essential B-vitamins, protein and food energy.

A new quick-mix method for making these bar cookies enables the home baker to turn them out with a minimum of time and effort. Sift dry ingredients into a bowl, sprinkle with orange sugar, and then add remaining ingredients. Stir to blend, then beat two minutes. It's as easy as that—your cookies are ready for the pan. These "in-a-bowl" cookies make a saving on dishes, too.

A simple topping of sugar mixed with grated orange rind is spread over the cookies before baking. They may be frosted later, if desired.

Molasses orange bars are perfect dessert companions with apricots, apple sauce or other fruits. Or have them with milk, hot chocolate, or coffee.

MOLASSES ORANGE BARS (Quick-Mix Method)

1 1/4 cups sifted enriched flour	1/4 cup new-type shortening
1 teaspoon baking powder	1/2 cup molasses
1/2 teaspoon soda	2 eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt	1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup sugar	1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon grated orange rind	1/2 cup Orange Sugar

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt, and sugar. Sprinkle orange rind over flour mixture. Add shortening, molasses, eggs, milk and vanilla extract. Stir to combine ingredients.

then beat 2 minutes. Pour into greased pan 9x14 inches. Sprinkle with Orange Sugar. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes. Cut in bars or squares.

Orange Sugar 1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons shredded orange rind
Mix together
Makes 32 bars, 1x3/4 inches.

HERE'S HOT SANDWICH WITH DRIED BEEF

With dried stored beef in your refrigerator you have a solution to menus for any meal of the day, as well as for after movie and play-time snacks, says home economist Reba Staggs.

This ready cooked meat is right for lunch or late evening eating as "dried beef" burgers. Over big buns place thin slices of American cheese. Toast in the broiler, then serve topped with barbecued dried beef. For extra-simple barbecued sauce making, add chopped celery and pickle relish to a tomato sauce or canned tomato soup.

To cream dried beef for numerous other dishes, melt 2 or 3 tablespoons of lard in a frying pan and cook the dried beef (easily cut with kitchen shears) until crisp. Add an equal amount of flour to drippings and blend. Stir in 2 cups of milk (for 3 tablespoons flour) and cook until thick, stirring constantly. For variation, add cooked or canned peas to the creamed dried beef. Attractive serving is accomplished by arranging the creamed dried beef and peas on a platter surrounding fried noodles or curried rice.

Another different serving of dried beef is obtained by adding chopped cooked cabbage and minced onion to a creamed mixture. Season with just a hint of curry and serve on fluffy rice or buttered noodles. One of the simplest of all dishes is prepared with scalloped potatoes. Along with the layers of sliced potatoes, add layers of dried beef. Chopped dried beef and noodles au gratin is another tasty dish.

Henry Clay is credited with saying "I'd rather be right than president!"

Sgt. Blalock Has Good And Bad Luck

Sgt. F. C. Clyde Blalock has had his share of luck, both good and bad. Several months ago Sgt. Blalock and several of his buddies found a small boy in a cave somewhere in Korea; they fed and clothed the boy and managed to keep him with them until recently.

They had to place him in an orphanage, though they all hated to give him up, but realized he would do better at the orphanage than with them.

Sgt. Blalock was recently promoted from Staff Sgt. to Sgt. First class and is now at Onyong, Korea, which is nine miles from Seoul.

Bovinaites Have Narrow Escape

Archie McCutcheon was fishing recently at Elephant Butte Lake in New Mexico and had quite an experience. He and his brother-in-law were taking a last joy ride in their boat before leaving the lake.

They were out close to the butte when they turned the boat too sharply and it flipped over. The boat and motor stayed afloat and the two men were able to grasp the boat and hold on when they came up out of the water. A large boat was near by and towed them into shore.

Although Archie said he didn't feel frightened which he fell in, he was counting himself lucky that they came through with no ill effects. They were bemoaning the fact that they lost a tackle box and a fly rod and two automatic reels.

Area Scouts Finish Activities At Reese

Two days of scouting activities at Reese Air Force Base, Texas, proved to supply the essentials to a successful Explorer Scout Encampment, conducted by the Llano Estacado council of the Boy Scouts of America, it has been reported by the Public Information office at the base.

Friday and Saturday, the Panhandle explorer scouts, guests of the air base, viewed the flight line, a field sanitation display, the Link trainer section and toured the grounds. They were shown through base operations, the weather station, and even got some actual "flying time" in the famous TB-25 Mitchell bomber.

GI "chow" was the diet, as the scouts took all their meals in the RAFB Consolidated Mess. The encampment was made in an area located near the base gymnasium, with the small explorer tents neatly pitched in proper military order.

Besides the orientation of base facilities, explorers were shown survival training and combat films and heard talks and lectures.

Saturday, tents were folded and a tired group of young men silently broke camp to return, enlightened, to their units.

Area Scout Executive Wilbur J. Hiatt and Harry DeLashmatt, Jr., field representative, both of Amarillo, supervised activities of the encampment on the base. Maj. George V. Wendling, Reese Air Reserve Coordinator, served as project officer during the scouts' stay.

The encampment was the second held on the base this year; South Plains council explorers held a similar camp-out in March.

Counties represented by scouts were: Armstrong, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Hartley, Moore, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Sherman, and Swisher.

Junior students are sponsored by the Legion and Auxiliary, with financial aid from other interested organizations.

Leaving first for the meetings will be Bobbie Williams, Texico, daughter of Mrs. Cora Williams, who will attend sessions at Eastern New Mexico University in Portales, June 8-15. Kennard Harris, also of Texico, and son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Harris, will be a member of Boys State June 10-17, at El Rito, N. M.

Purpose of the meetings is to teach fundamental principals of American government through actual practice.

Alternates for the two Texico delegates are Andre Palmateer and Jane Moss; Farwell alternates are Joan Spurlin and Jesse Coburn. All are junior students.

Increasing Livestocking Puts Pressure on Feed

Farmers of Parmer county are being urged to increase the production of feed grains—not because there is a shortage now but to prevent one later on, says Joe Camp, chairman of the county PMA committee.

Full cribs and bins in Parmer don't change the fact that for the country as a whole livestock feed reserves are being reduced. More livestock are being fed at a heavier rate. And that livestock production is vitally needed to back up the nation's defense effort, he says.

Camp pointed out that at the beginning of the 1950 feeding season there were 174 million grain-consuming animal units on farms in this country. At the beginning of 1951 this number had increased to 177, much of it breeding stock, which will be reflected in further increases.

Where winter wheat has been lost, farmers are being encouraged to seed this land to grain sorghums.

Even though farmers plant the feed grain acreage aimed at this year, grain reserves will probably be reduced by the increasing numbers of livestock, according to Camp.

"All the feed we can produce will not be too much to keep livestock production at the levels needed to support the defense effort, he warns.

Scrap From Farms Will Help In Production of Defense Equipment

WANTED: All the iron and steel scrap that is lying dormant on farms, such as obsolete, broken and worn out equipment and other accumulated material. It is urgently needed to maintain and increase the output of steel plants and foundries. More scrap means more steel!

If steel mills and foundries are to achieve any increase in production over the present high level, all available farm scrap must be started moving off the farms, says the Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap, of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Farmers everywhere can help toward more steel by scrapping their obsolete equipment and selling it promptly to a local scrap dealer, with other iron and steel scrap from their farms. It will be used to make steel for defense equipment and essential civilian items.

The need is urgent. Steel plants and foundries are now using record quantities of scrap. Every day in 1951 about 98,000 tons of purchased scrap are being used. Never before have such large quantities been required. Even so the need will increase, for steel capacity is scheduled to rise sharply over the next year or two.

Farms have always been a good source of scrap and during the war when drives were conducted, agricultural areas yielded large tonnages of scrap to help win the conflict.

Farmers are asked to take their scrap now to town and sell it to scrap dealers. If the scrap is unusually bulky, preventing its easy transportation by the farmer, the scrap dealer can be called or arrangements can be made through the local farm agent to get it to the dealer.

Farms are one of the principal sources of the scrap that is required by steel companies and foundries. Auto wrecking yards, factories and railroads are among the other major sources.

More scrap from farms means more steel!

Farwell, Bovina Trips Chronicled By Representatives of Two Schools

The Farwell Trip (As Told By Jerry Pool)

Farwell seniors have returned from their annual trip and after a few weeks recuperation should be the same "guys and gals", but will Colorado Springs ever be the same?

The seniors began their long-to-be-remembered jaunt on Wednesday morning of last week, at 4:20 in the morning. They were quite a distance into New Mexico when the sun came up.

Trying to get to their destination in a hurry, they made a non-stop trip into Las Vegas and found that they had only four gallons of gas left in the bus. Before eating lunch, the trippers continued on to Trinidad and the final stop for the day was in Canon City, where they spent the night. Arriving there about 4 in the afternoon, the group was raring to go after removing their travel dust.

They encountered another group of Texas seniors, from Groom, while there. To climax the day's activities, the locals took in a nice, quiet show. The next day, group members took an early morning tour through the state penitentiary at Canon City, followed by a trip out to famed Royal Gorge. Most of the tourists went down into the canyon on the incline railway, then went wading in the Colorado. Bettie Foster became camera shy while being "shot" and took an unscheduled dip in the water.

On the way back into town, the seniors made the Skyline Drive, featuring a 1,000 foot drop on each side of the road.

After eating lunch, the seniors headed for Colorado Springs. They stayed at McLaughlin Lodge, and were the 37th school group to register at the lodge for this year. During their stay, seniors from Dimmitt, Springlake, Meadow, Ralls, and towns in Kansas and New Mexico were also visitors.

The group remained in Colorado Springs until Tuesday morning when they were to return home. Activities were varied, including swimming in the indoor pool of the famed Broadmoor Hotel, extended sight-seeing and other diversions. They were also frequent inhabitants of the movie houses.

The altitude on the trip up Pike's Peak proved a little too much for Glenn Smith, but he recovered rapidly. At Manitou Springs the group went sight-seeing and shopping. Two of the prettiest places, according to Jerry Pool, were the Will Rogers Shrine and Seven Falls. Indefatigable, they toiled up the 290 steps to observation point at Seven Falls.

Also on the list was a trip through the Garden of the Gods, and a visit to the Broadmoor Hotel zoo—and not to miss anything, the group tried out their balance on ice skates.

Sunday morning, class members attended services at Bethany Baptist Church. Maybe if they'd walked faster, they would have seen the Cave of the Winds, for after hiking the 1½ miles to the cave site, they were told that the last tour had been gone about 10 minutes.

Some of the graduates also went up the Mount Manitou incline. Sandra Bateman, Irene Hardage and Sue Medley, determined not to miss anything, made the trip not once—but twice.

The Ice Follies at the Colorado Springs City Auditorium drew the crowd out, as did a carnival, and Monday night the group returned early to the lodge to pack for the homeward trip.

All that could sleep all they could, though they were disturbed with a "cologne fight" at one time during the night. Leaving the lodge at 4:30 Tuesday a. m., the seniors had breakfast in Colorado Springs and settled down for the ride home. Exhausted, they slept most of the first lap of the trip, and arrived in Clovis at 5:45, home shortly afterwards.

Realizing that their school days were really and truly over, and their return home the climax of many years as classmates, some of the girls had the "sniffles", it was reported.

But as one senior put it, "I just wouldn't take anything for the trip." h-inwieucreWinuAlrear-inkin wou

The Bovina Trip

(From Bovina Correspondent)

Bovina seniors are back from a short but eventful trip which was the last fling after 12 years of schooling.

Leaving Bovina at 4:40 a. m. Sunday, May 20, the group headed for San Antonio. They reached Level-land in time for breakfast, and had lunch in the park at San Angelo. Arriving in San Antonio by 6 o'clock, the trippers were ready to go again after they had cleaned up and taken on dinner, so the group took in a movie.

On Monday morning, the day began with visits to the Sunken Gardens, the Alamo and the zoo. After lunch the group visited the old governor's mansion, the Buckhorn and the old cathedral, and to climax their wanderings that afternoon, took a boat ride on the San Antonio river. Many of the students rode a roller coaster for the first time at a carnival that night.

Early Tuesday morning, the tour continued to Galveston. Arriving at the port city at 2:30, the seniors made a dash for a swim in the Gulf, and after dinner attended the carnival. They also swam before breakfast on Wednesday morning and went boat riding. Following lunch some of the group rented bicycles, some went shopping and others sight-seeing.

On Thursday, the rains began and continued all day. Not to be stopped, a few of the seniors went bike riding and were soaked, so most of the group stayed in that afternoon. In the evening, they rode over to Port Arthur on the ferry.

On their way to Houston the next morning, the trippers stopped at the San Jacinto monument and rode the elevator to the top of the 570-foot edifice. After a picnic lunch, they explored the Battleship Texas.

Friday night, the seniors were "in style" registered at the swank Shamrock Hotel. Many of the group took advantage of the Hotel swimming pool and watched a television show.

Saturday morning the group was Austin bound, arriving at noon. They spent the afternoon visiting the State capitol and went swimming later. Sunday morning, breakfast was eaten in Austin and the long trek home begun. The trip was broken by stops in both Brownwood and Lubbock.

Bus trouble caused a delay, and the group arrived in Bovina a few minutes after midnight, Sunday, a tired but happy group of graduates.

Small Retail Stores May Be Given Option

LUBBOCK—Hundreds of small retail stores in the Far West Texas district of the Office of Price Stabilization will be given the option of continuing to price under the general ceiling price regulation, rather than under the retail regulation, CPR 7, the Lubbock district office announced.

The office said many small retail stores with limited bookkeeping facilities and clerical help would get this option under the amendment which was scheduled for issue early this week.

The office of Price Stabilization, in announcing that the amendment was forthcoming, reminded that all other retailers selling items controlled by CPR 7 and its amendments must file their pricing charts by May 31 if they want to continue to sell legally after that date. There will be no extension of the deadline, OPS emphasized.

The amendment, according to advance information, will provide that stores selling housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks may elect to price these particular items under the GPCR under either of two conditions:

1. The first provision designed to help the smallest stores, gives the election for these items to any retailer whose overall net dollar volume of sales of everything in his store is less than $100,000. Total dollar volume for this purpose, OPS emphasized, is figured on the sales not only of the household wares, notions, etc., but of the store's entire stock of goods.

2. The other provision, which will meet the situation of the store doing a relatively small volume of business in housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks, gives the election to price the articles under GPCR to any retailer whose net dollar volume from sales of those items is less than $60,000 annually, irrespective of his volume of sales in other lines of merchandise, and even though his total volume of sales is over $100,000.

A third provision which retains a principle incorporated in CPR 7 as first issued, gives the option to any retailer whose sales of apparel, apparel accessories, shoes, beds and bedding, furniture, yard goods, floor coverings, lamps, radio, television, phonograph records, musical instruments, luggage, etc. (all CPR 7 and a few amendment 2 items) are less than $20,000 annually in net dollar volume.

The retailer who elects to remain under the GPCR does not have to notify OPS. The retailer who makes the election simply lets that deadline go by without filing a chart. In the event OPS asks for information, however, the retailer must be prepared to show that he was entitled to make the choice.

Meanwhile, the district OPS officials called attention to the new ceiling price regulation covering service trades. It is estimated that several thousand establishments in the Lubbock district, which includes Parmer County, have been removed from the GPCR and placed under the regulation CPR 34. It became effective May 16.

The new order will benefit the public by making prices clearly visible in every retail service place. The establishments must post their ceiling prices in a prominent position by June 16. The regulation also requires that ceiling prices be filed with the district office by that date, with adequate descriptions of each service. Mailing address is Office of Price Stabilization, Broadway Building, 1202 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas.

A partial list of some of the everyday services and service trades concerned: barbers and beauticians; auto, radio and household appliance repairs; laundry and dry cleaning and tailor shops; shoe repairs; parking lots; filling stations; checking accounts, bowling alleys, skating rinks and golf fees; admission to amusement parks, and some other amusement and recreational facilities.

Creep Feeding Beef Calves Recommended

By creep feeding their beef calves, livestock men can add as much as 100 pounds of weight per head by weaning time Joe Jones, county agent, says.

According to U. D. Thompson, assistant extension animal husbandman of Texas A. & M. College, a "creep"—an enclosure with openings large enough for calves to enter but too small for older cattle—is inexpensive and easy to build. This arrangement gives calves access to additional feed.

Specifications for building a practical feeder and suggestions for locating it are given in a new Extension Service circular, Circular 289 also gives suggested rations for feeding suckling calves and directions for starting the calves on feed.

Thompson points out that an important advantage of creep feeding is better condition of the cows at weaning time. They are not suckled down so much when the calves receive additional feed.

In addition to being heavier and having more finish, creep-fed calves grow out more uniformly in size and condition. There is little shrinkage at weaning time.

Creep-fed calves usually sell for a higher price per pound than calves that are not creep-fed.

Livestock men are asked to consult their county agent about creep feeding calves this spring and to also pick up a copy of Extension Circular 289, "Creep Feeding Beef Calves."

COMMISSIONERS MEET

The Parmer County Commissioners was in session here Monday. The minutes reveal that nothing but routine business, including the payment of current bills and approval of the minutes, was handled during the session.

It is all right for a man to know what he does not know but there is no reason for him to brag about his ignorance.

Cleanliness is the first rule in properly caring for the pressure cooker.

A Few ?'s to Ask the Printing Peddler

Jones Gives Pointers On Blue Panic Grass

Several area farmers have been inquiring about Blue Panic grass, County Agent Joe Jones says, and quite a bit is being planted or will be planted. Discussing the grass, the agent emphasizes that he planted Blue Panic on dryland in early July of last year and it did not winter kill. The grass seeded out in late September and the seed matured before frost.

The pasture plant is a relatively new grass in Texas, having been used first in the south section of the state. Introduced from Australia, it was first believed that it was adapted to the southern part of the state only. Over a period of years, Blue Panic has been found to be rather winter hardy; it resembles sudan and is sometimes called perennial sudan. Like sudan, it can be killed by one plowing.

According to Jones, Blue Panic is a perennial bunch grass that forms tough crowns and is very palatable when kept grazed to a height of 8" to 18". It is a good soil conserving and soil improving grass, having a tremendous root growth which opens up the soil.

The plant responds well to nitrogen fertilizer and requires lots of nitrogen for best yields. However, it pays $3 to $4 for each dollar spent on commercial fertilizer, Jones adds. It works exceptionally well when grown with a legume which helps to supply needed nitrogen.

It's a great day for the family when the dessert course features sugared strawberries heaped high in shortcake scone ring. Pour thick cream over individual servings.

When it's strawberry time, there's nothing like a shortcake to make your family happy.

Buy fluffy unfrosted cake from your baker's to make this national favorite, or make quick biscuit or scone shortcakes. A scone dough is handled just like biscuit dough. In the scone, sugar and eggs have been added for extra richness. Today's handsome scone ring is made from a "drop" scone batter. After stirring liquid into flour mixture only until flour is moistened, spread batter in 9-inch ring mold. The ring mold provides a pretty shell for the plump, red berries.

If you do not have a ring mold, bake batter in round cake pan, then split and serve shortcake style. Use the scone batter as a shortcake base for other fruits or berries in season.

You'll be pleased with the high nutritional value of shortcake desserts. Enriched flour in biscuit or scone supplies essential B-vitamins and food iron, the eggs, milk and fruit topping other important food values. Use enriched flour in home baking and look for the label "enriched" on all breads you buy at your baker's.

STRAWBERRIES IN Scone RING

3 cups sifted enriched flour	6 tablesp. ons shortening
4 1/2 tablesp. baking powder	2 eggs
1 1/2 tablesp. salt	1 1/2 cups milk
4 1/2 tablesp. sugar	1 1/2 quarts strawberries

Sugar for strawberries

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening. Beat eggs. Add milk to beaten eggs and add all to flour mixture, stirring only until flour is moistened. Pour batter into greased 9-inch ring mold. Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes. When baked, unmold and fill center with sugared crushed strawberries. Garnish top and sides with whole berries. Makes 1 9-inch ring.

The legume also helps to alleviate sod boundness which is common to Blue Panic.

The grass will run one cow per acre for six months, Jones explains, and up to two or three animals during the peak growing season. It can be planted in rows or drilled, however rows are preferred interplanted with a legume such as madrid clover. Rows allow cultivation of the grass when it is getting started.

Approximately 657,000 seeds are in a pound and seeding rate of 1/2 to two pounds per acre seed in 30 to 40 inch rows. "Cover the small seeds about 1/2 inch on tight soils, it will be necessary to cover deeper on sandy soils up to one inch," Jones states.

If the grass is drilled, weeds can be controlled by mowing or chemicals, if in rows by cultivation. It seems to grow slowly for the first six weeks, Jones adds, but afterwards, the growth is rapid and a height of five to seven feet is sometimes obtained. Once Blue Panic is established, the problem is solved for approximately five years which is about the life of Blue Panic pasture. Now is a good time to plant while the soil is warm and has good moisture, the county agents says, adding that the plant is a good grass on both irrigated and dry soils.

Another pointer from the agent is that nurse crops are not needed, they take moisture. Grass should be cultivated at first to keep the weeds down. Blue Panic stands drouth well, Jones states.

Sound judgment should be used to begin grazing, but the grass should get a six weeks to two months start, immediately after planting. A thinner stand is used on dry soils, but it may take more seeds to get a stand some years. For this year, with good moisture, it shouldn't be necessary, the agent points out.

One lb. per acre should give a good stand on both dry and irrigated soils this year.

Fall planting is not advisable from the agent's present knowledge of this grass.

There isn't much limit to production with rich soil and lots of water; Jones also says that this is a good year to start Blue Panic while native grass is sufficient to take care of livestock. Conditions may not be this favorable again for some time.

Soil conservation district grass-drills are good for planting. Jones recommends flat planting on a firm seeded.

In seed production, the agent says that grass is to be grazed closely, then permitted to make seed. If some shoots get ahead of others, then it will ripen and shatter before the others are ready for harvest. The grass should be harvested when the oldest seed heads have begun to shatter some. This grass has yielded up to 1000 lbs. of seed per acre on two harvests in one year, the county agent explains.

Also the grass will make seed, the first year. Jones urges farmers who would like to try this grass, to plant now and to put the seed in correctly.

"I got the story on
50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil"

says Marshall Rousseau
 Police Sergeant
 Harlingen, Texas

"Driving at all kinds of speeds, I've piled up 30,000 miles. I've used Conoco Super in my personal cars, and have had absolutely no engine trouble of any kind."

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000!

TRAVELING SALESMAN
 "55,000 hard, fast miles have been put on my Pontiac, with new Conoco Super," says David Brown, Salesman, Salt Lake City. "That car is still like new—excellent gasoline mileage, oil consumption slight, and no engine repairs."

PIKE'S PEAK TOURS
 "Our car makes 2 or 3 trips to the top of Pike's Peak every day during the summer," reports R. P. Finney, Sight-Seeing Service, Colorado Springs. "We use Conoco Super and never have to add oil between 1,000-mile drains."
