Chamber Banquet Slated Tomorrow

Edward G. Weber of Amarillo, vice-president of public affairs for Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS), will "Accentuate the Positive" in his key address to the Texico Chamber of Commerce's Annual Banquet to be held at 7 p.m. MST Saturday, April 17, at the Texico High School Cafeteria.

Other highlights of the annual event will include the naming of Texico's "Man and Woman of the Year" and the introduction of new Chamber officers and directors.

Serving as master of ceremonies for the evening will be A.D. McDonald, 1975-76 Chamber president. The invocation will be given by Rev. Jimmie D. Swank prior to the introduction of special guests by Lewis Cooper. Dinner music will be provided by Louise Engram and Group.

Cooper will then introduce Weber. The guest speaker has been associated with SPS since 1949 and assumed his present position in 1973. He is active in civic affairs serving as secretary and director of Water, Inc.; director of the Texas Water Conservation Association; member of the Department of Promotion-Evangelism-Communications, Episcopal Diocese of Northwest Texas; member of standing committee, Diocese of Northwest Texas; past president and former director of the Amarillo Advertising Club; former director and trustee of the Amarillo YMCA Foundation.

Presentation of the "Woman of the Year" will be made by Marie Christian, 1975 Woman of the Year. A.D. McDonald, 1975 Man of the Year, will introduce Texico's "Man of the Year" for 1976.

McDonald, outgoing president of the Chamber, will then make the introduction of Chamber officers and directors. Incoming officers will be Joe Caywood, president, and Jim Pierce, vice-president. Mrs. Louise Engram was re-elected as secretary-treasurer of the organization. Outgoing officers are McDonald and Bill Thigpen, vice-president.

Directors selected to serve during 1976-77 are Pierce, Mrs. Engram, Caywood, Tony Mendoza, Lewis Cooper and Thigpen. McDonald will also serve as a director during the coming year. Outgoing director is Doyal LaRue.

Joe Caywood, ticket sales chairman, has reported that tickets for the banquet may be purchased at the door Saturday night for $3.50 each. He also commented that every person attending the affair should affix his or her signature to the back of their ticket. "We will have a drawing for a door prize and it will save us all some time if everyone has their ticket signed before presenting it at the door."

Menu for the banquet includes roast beef, baked potato, green beans, salad, cherry cobbler, rolls and tea or coffee.

In this election year it would be well if everybody could indulge in a little thought about the free market economic system. It is this system that is in the most danger from our current crop of political aspirants.

Our favorite columnist, W.H. Graham, recently printed part of an essay written by Karl Keating, a native of Chicago, who was a Governor's Scholar, Chancellor's Scholar, National Merit Scholar and Weaver Fellow, and a contributor to a book of nine essays titled "Free Enterprise - An Imperative."

We pass it along for your consideration. We hope you read it not once but several times. It is well worth reading and thinking about in this election year.

"Knowledge of human nature is the beginning and end of political education," explained the historian Henry Adams in 1907. He was noting that the political system which best compensates for the peculiarities of human nature is necessarily the most just system. Any system that denies man's nature will only do violence to the individual and to society. The same holds true for economics. The economic system which best accounts for man's essential nature will be the most just system. Any economic system that pretends man is something he is not - or pretends he can be something he is not - will produce only frustration and misery. Today, as in 1907, square pegs do not fit in round holes.

The free market has been defended on quite a number of grounds, differing according to time and place. Its ultimate justification rests not on its high level of material productivity, but on a consideration of human nature and the needs of that nature. Other economic systems - call them mercantile, socialistic, or collectivistic - do not mesh so well with the true nature of man as does the free market, and for this reason the free market is to be preferred.

A civilization may be great and good only if its people have as exemplars people who are great and good; this truism is so simple that it is often ignored. While inequality of wealth, for example, may seem somehow unfair, it is only such inequality that allows great acts of philanthropy (which encourage small acts of philanthropy), and throughout our civilization's history it has been the philanthropist who has financed the libraries, the hospitals, the theaters.

These essential institutions - needed for the health of both the body and the culture - are seldom "going concerns" as businesses; only through the largesse of the wealthy have the poor been able to have access to books, doctors, and plays. Similarly, only in contemplation of the beautiful are people encouraged to enhance and increase the beauty around them; the Cathedral of Chartres inspired countless quaint chapels, and Michelangelo's Pieta has given inspiration to many struggling sculptors. And only the good examples of the great moral leaders are capable of rekindling in the breasts of the multitudes attachments to charity, fortitude, and gentleness. People live through example and inspiration, and without exemplars the people cannot be inspired to improve themselves or their conditions, for it is truly the exceptional man who can elevate himself without frequent and considerable reference to earlier and better men.

These exemplars may be produced only if each man is permitted to develop and mature at his own rate, in his own way; a forced effort to equalize things and people will merely stifle the most creative individuals - it will not encourage the less creative to exert their inherent abilities. Egalitarian measures, then, in the long run reduce the number of great and good exemplars, and with fewer such people the large masses will entertain piddling thoughts and will aspire to petty goals, and the society will be the worse for it. What will become the accepted standard will be the standard

Easter Sundries For Easter Sunday

Residents of the Twin Cities area will be observing Easter Sunday, April 18, as they attend church services, picnic with their families, supervise egg hunts and do many other things. Making her preparations for church and the big egg hunt is Jennifer Williams, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barry Williams of Farwell. Jennifer thinks that Easter is a time to share and she plans to share her day with her Easter chick and rabbit, which is apparently hiding behind the egg in Jennifer's basket. And not to be forgotten on Easter Sunday are Jennifer's parents and her brother, seven-month-old Matthew, who will also participate in Easter activities to observe the day Christ arose from the grave and ascended into heaven.

Athletic Director Secured For Farwell

It has been reported by James Perkins, superintendent of Farwell Schools, that during a special session of the Farwell School Board called Tuesday evening, April 13, an athletic director was secured to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Eugene Jennings, effective at the end of the current school year.

Employed as athletic director is Van Tom Whatley. Whatley is currently serving at Bishop High School as first assistant and offensive coordinator for the school's football program.

Tentative date for beginning employment for Whatley is May 3.

Whatley was present for the special session which was attended by School Trustees Gilbert Kaltwasser, Ted Magness, Wilbert Kalbas, Billy Mayfield, Doyle Ford and R.J. Garner. Also attending were Jack Williams, James Craig and Jerry Yows, Farwell Schools principals.

Farwell Council Slates Public Hearing

During the regular session of the Farwell City Council which convened Monday, April 12, a petition was presented which had been signed by 31 property owners in Ridgcrest Units

One, Two and Three calling for zoning restrictions. Following a discussion of the petition, Councilman Ralph Franse moved that a public hearing be called. The council agreed to pass an ordinance in accordance with the restrictions and to call a public hearing at 5:15 p.m. CDT Monday, May 3, with all interested persons invited to attend.

Also during the session, a cemetery fund was established. The fund now contains monies received from the sale of lots and interest drawn from certificates of deposit.

Council members authorized City Clerk Janie Bowery to request Southwestern Public Service Company to install four additional lights on the west side of the city park. The request was made in order to provide more usable space at night during the summer months.

Next on the agenda was a discussion of the four-way stop situated at Third Street and Avenue G. It was decided that the intersection is to continue to be designated as a four-way stop.

In other business the Council granted permission for City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell to attend a Traffic Control Study Workshop in Plainview April 13-15.

Council members present for the meeting included Mayor Gil Patschke and City Commissioners Fred Chandler and Ralph Franse.

REGIONAL QUALIFIERS - Farwell Varsity Steerettes Rhonda Walls, left, and Bonnie Foster qualified at the recent District 3-A Track Meet to participate in the Regional Meet to be conducted Friday, April 23, in Lubbock. First and second place winners in the Regional Meet will advance to State competition. Miss Walls qualified in the 80-yard hurdles with Miss Foster qualifying in the 440-yard dash. The two Steerettes will be participating in a Qualifiers Meet to be conducted at Dawson today (Friday), April 16.

★ Banquet Tickets On Sale

Janet Yakubovsky, sponsor of the Farwell Pep Club, has announced that tickets are now on sale for the 1976 Athletic Banquet to be held May 8 at 8 p.m. CDT.

Tickets may be purchased for $5 each from any Pep Club member. "We have a limited number of tickets and anyone wishing to attend the banquet should purchase tickets as soon as possible," Mrs. Yakubovsky commented.

Speaker for the evening will be a member of the Greyhound coaching staff from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales.

Mrs. Yakubovsky also stated that all Pep Club members are to decorate for the banquet beginning at 3:30 p.m. May 7.

It Rained!

Amounts Vary Through Area

The Twin Cities and surrounding areas were blessed Monday, April 12, by the first measurable precipitation to fall since last September.

In addition to the moisture received, the residents were treated to a display of lightning and the not-so-welcome wind and sand and a small amount of hail.

It was reported that John Armstrong of Farwell received .44 inch of moisture with Olan Schlueter of Texico recording .50 inch.

Archie Tarter reported that he recorded .50 inch of rain in Farwell proper and .60 to .75 inch at his farm in Lazbuddie.

The general consensus about Monday night's storm is that "it didn't really help a great deal but it sure was welcome." Along with the rain, precipitation fell in the form of hail along the southern edges of the storm with Texico and Farwell reporting "a very short hail storm with very small hail."

The tornado season was ushered into the area with the storm as Twin Cities' residents were on the edge of the system which produced a funnel cloud which was sighted south of Dora, N.M.

One area agri-businessman is quoted as saying, "Many of the area's dryland wheat fields have debilitated to the point that recovery for an economic crop is doubtful. However, we are looking forward to good summer crops. We need one of these wet rains each week now until the last of May for a good summer crop of sorghum."

AIDING THE COMMUNITY - Texico Future Farmers of America members recently dug and planted over 30 trees in the planned park area in Texico, one block north of Highway 84, as a community service project. The thornless honey locust shade trees were donated to a member of the Texico Woman's Club for the park by Archie Boney. In turn, the FFA members donated all of the "muscle power" put into the two-day project. Other work is scheduled to begin in the near future on the park. The above group is only a small representation of the many Texico FFA members who worked on the project.

SPRING CLEANING was on tap for members of the Texico-Farwell Lions Club when they gathered Monday, April 12, at the Lions Club Ball Park to clean up the area in anticipation of the beginning of Little League Baseball. Try-outs for the 1976 baseball season were underway as the Lions were cleaning the ball park and area and try-outs were to continue Tuesday, April 13. Among Lions Club members aiding in the project were Jim Walker, with shovel; Richard Deel, standing; and George Herrington, kneeling. The two Lions kneeling in the background are Bill Whitesides, left, and Dewayne Williams.

NIGHT STUDENTS - Twenty-two adults from the Farwell area have been participating in night classes at Farwell Schools in order to obtain their General Education Development (GED) diploma, to advance their knowledge in various phases of high school study or to better acquaint themselves with reading and writing the English language. Among those participating in the course which began September 17, 1975, are, from left, front row: Mary Mesman, Doris Meeks, Sharon Menning and Jean Tarr; back row: Jesse Cantu, Sr., Judy Pena, Benita Sanchez, Roger Menning and Maria Lopez. Six of the group which began study are receiving GED diplomas. They are Eva Ancira, Sharon Menning, Doris Meeks, Linnie Mae Crook, Jean Tarr and Mary Tomlinson. Serving as instructors for the classes have been Betty Turner and Delores Vaughn, Farwell School instructors.

Six Receiving Diplomas - -

'Students' Attend GED Study Course

Twenty-two adults from the Farwell area returned to the status of "students" September 17, 1975, with six of the group receiving General Education Development (GED) diplomas.

Farwell instructors Betty Turner and Delores Vaughn have been instructing three-hour classes on Monday night of each week since September 17 to aid those persons wishing to receive a diploma. Mrs. Turner reported that there have been several bilingual persons who have attended the sessions, not to receive a diploma but to advance their knowledge in reading and writing the English language.

The instructors commented that at the beginning of classes, persons attending were given a diagnostic set-up and records were placed in workbooks as a result of the diagnostic testing. "All of those participating worked at their own speed during the study.

They were acquainted with the basics in several areas of study and reviewed their knowledge in order that they may pass a GED test. Several of them studied simply to advance phases of their high school learning."

held by the majority of the people in common, and this is necessarily the bottom of the barrel. The lowest common denominator in values will be the goal to which the people aspire, if they aspire to anything at all.

No economic system, of course, can make men good or can make good men. At best the economic super-structure can allow men to be good. And the Better system is the one that encourages and permits the individual to improve himself, while at the same time discouraging the evil man from extending his activities.

While unable to "force" anyone to be good, the free enterprise system at least maximizes the opportunities for people to become good. To be morally good an individual must have a chance to be morally bad. (Someone has said that there can be no Heaven without a Hell.) If an individual is forced to do a certain thing, his doing it is no moral credit to him. Morality requires freedom to be immoral - it requires, that is, freedom. And the private enterprise system is the one which maximizes this freedom: it thus allows an increase in morality. By leaving more decisions to the individual than would other economic systems, the free market permits him to exercise his moral nature.

It is worth noting in this context that the free enterprise system therefore permits the maximum amount of charitable activity. Now a person can be charitable only voluntarily; he is not charitable if the government takes his goods and distributes them to the needy. Since under the free market system the government would be strictly limited in its activities, the individual would have proportionately more of his goods to dispose of as he pleased. This means that he would have a greater opportunity to be charitable. Quite obviously, if the government took all but the bare essentials from a person, he would have nothing left to give away: he would be unable to be charitable even if he so desired. But if he has control over his good, and if he can distribute them as he sees fit, then he at least has the chance to act charitably.

All-Stars Eliminated In Tourney

The Farwell Little Dribblers All-Stars were eliminated after two games in the 1976 Regional Little Dribblers Tournament conducted last week in Dimmitt.

In their first game of action, the local roundballers took the court against Hart and fell to their opponents 45-16. In their second game, Farwell's All-Stars faced and were defeated by Bovina 48-26.

According to Coach Jerry Yows, Blake Buchenau was high individual scorer in both tilts.

Coach Yows also commented, "I believe this competition was good for the kids. I feel that winning or losing is not as important as the togetherness at this early age."

The Little Dribblers would like to express their appreciation to the Farwell Jaycees for sponsoring and supporting the program for the 1976 season.

Cardboard chewing cattle may become more common during the next few years. Researchers say cellulose in cardboard provides a much better diet for cattle than newsprint materials which were experimented with for several years. Giving the new product the title, "Rumose", promoters are pushing for acceptance of treated corrugated boxes as a viable feed supplement in the feedlot for commercial feeders. Developers advocate grinding or pelleting of the boxes, then mixing with whey (waste material from cheese making) or other materials to make the boxes more palatable. One of the key researchers for this project is Dr. John Campbell of the University of Missouri. Dr. Campbell says the process of manufacturing the boxes may increase their digestibility which "approaches or even exceeds the digestibility of common forages". For cattle, "box" lunch may take on a whole new meaning.

Sheriff's Department Reports Busy Week

Several thefts have been reported this week to the Parmer County Sheriff's Office with the thefts occurring throughout the county.

On Monday, April 12, the Sheriff's Department received a report from Oscar Baxter of Friona on the theft of several car radios, tape decks and speakers valued at $1000 retail from Friona Motor Company.

According to County Sheriff Charlie Lovelace, Baxter related that the break-in happened sometime during the night of April 3 and was discovered April 4.

The thief or thieves apparently kicked in a panel on an overhead door to gain entry into the business.

Richard Deel reported vandalism and theft from a truck parked at his residence in Farwell. It was reported that twin citizens band radio antennas, valued at $30, were involved in the incident with one being taken from the truck and the other being broken off.

The sheriff also reported that a "pick-up" has been issued for a suspect in an incident involving the removal of mortgaged property resulting in the loss of approximately $300.

The theft of an electric drill valued at $50 was also investigated by law enforcement officials. The drill was taken from the Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell. Sheriff Lovelace commented that the theft occurred "two or three weeks ago."

The Sheriff's Department also investigated the death of a farm hand which resulted from an accident which occurred at the Leon Grissom farm feed lot at Oklahoma Lane. The victim, Eplfano Cruz, 48, was apparently injured, according to the sheriff, by a power take-off from a feed truck. He was transported to the Friona hospital where he died.

Floyd Rector of Friona reported the April 5 theft of a chain hoist from a pickup parked at an irrigation well. The hoist was valued at $75.

Also on April 5, Gerald Wright reported the theft of a tool box and tools from a tractor parked at an elevator at Friona. Value of the stolen property was set at $65.

Sheriff Lovelace also reported that Farwell City Marshal Ronnie Mitchell picked up Charlie Johnson Friday, April 9. Johnson was charged with illegal transportation of intoxicating liquors through a dry area.

On Monday, April 12, Johnson was tried in County Court and was fined $150 and court costs. He paid his fine and was released.

Odolfo Ortega, 19, was apprehended by law officials on a felony warrant issued from Crowley, Colo. Ortega, who was being sought for the kidnapping of a minor, was apprehended in the northeast part of the county. He waived extradition and was returned to Colorado by Sheriff Denton.

A juvenile girl was picked up with Ortega. She was returned to Colorado by her parents.

In other action by the Sheriff's Department, Dale Wiley posted a $500 bond in County Court on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Farwell Hospital District Given More Than $60,000

More than $60,000 in contributions and pledges has been donated to date to the Farwell Hospital District, according to Prentice Mills, chairman of the hospital board's finance committee.

Contributions to date total $56,645, and Mills said the district has "firm commitments" for an additional $4,000. "One person has already contributed $1,000 to furnish a room in the nursing home. Four others have given firm commitments to do the same," he said.

In addition to cash, some people have contributed ser-VICES or equipment to the hospital district. Mills said a woman has given the beauty shop equipment which will be used in the nursing home.

He said, "There are a number of items that are needed to provide proper medical care and nursing home comforts for people of this district and surrounding area. Some of these items are: install sprinkler system at nursing home, build patio for use of patients and guests at nursing home, build fireplace in nursing home, provide television set for nursing home and a piano, bookshelves and other furniture for the nursing home.

"We are in the process of remodeling the Farwell clinic (now owned by the hospital district) to accommodate the dentist and two doctors to be officed there. This will require new heating and air conditioning, new floor covers in part of the building, parking facilities, furniture, medical equipment and so forth."

He said contributions made to the hospital district are tax deductible since the district is a nonprofit organization. Checks should be made payable to the Farwell Hospital District and can be delivered to any board member or deposited to the board's account at Security State Bank in Farwell.

THAT EASTER FEELING - The spirit of Easter affected a bake sale being sponsored by a local church this week. Seems someone contributing to the sale baked for the season and created a cake in the form of an egg half, topped by a yellow bunny and dotted with yellow and red flowers and surrounded by green coconut grass and candy Easter eggs. Brenda Capps of Farwell was so excited about her discovery of an Easter "goodie" that she brought it to the Tribune office to share her delight with everyone.

Spring Fashion Fair Slated

"Spring Fashion Fair" is the theme of a clothing program set for Thursday, April 22, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Muleshoe.

Tips on sewing, quick and easy ideas on recycling clothing, accenting with accessories and the "Simplicity Spring Style Show" will highlight the one-day event, according to County Extension Agent Jana Pronger.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring the event in cooperation with the Family Living Committee of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb and Parmer counties.

Speakers will be Vivian Trimpl, home economist for Viking Sewing Machine Company; Becky Culp, area Extension Service clothing specialist, Amarillo; Dicky Perkins, Buyer with Gabriel's Dept. Store; and Jeri More, home economist for Simplicity Pattern Company.

An added attraction for the clothing program is a series of exhibits by merchants from the four-county area of Bailey, Cochran, Lamb and Parmer counties. Door prizes also will be presented.

"This is an excellent opportunity," says Miss Pronger, "for persons to take advantage of advice from clothing experts."

Club Lamb, Barrow Sales - -

May 7 And 8 Big Days For Area 4-H, FFAers

May 7 and 8 will be big days for hopeful southwestern 4-H and Future Farmers of America members in the market for club lamb and pig prospects. Beginning Friday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. MDT at the Curry County Fairgrounds in Clovis, the Curry County Club Lamb and Barrow Sale will sell 100 lambs and 100 barrows of all breeds from the top sheep and hog producers in Curry County.

Then on Saturday, May 8, New Mexico's premier breeder of show winning lambs, Eugene Batie, Tucumcari, will conduct his second annual 1+1 Club Lamb Sale at the Quay County Fairgrounds in Tucumcari. The Batie sale will feature 200 Hampshire and Suffolk show prospects. These lambs are carrying the same breeding as the Batie lamb which was named Reserve Grand Champion at the Houston Livestock Show in early March this year. The lamb was purchased in last year's 1+1 sale and shown at Houston by Marfa, Texas, FFAer, Miss Jettie Steen. Miss Steen sold the lamb at Houston for $6,800.

The Curry County Lamb and pig sale in a first effort by the eastern New Mexico group and according to Curry County Extension Agent Billy Dictson of Clovis, only the top 100 lambs and barrows from more than 400 nominations will be allowed to sell at the May 7 event.

Prior to the Batie sale on May 8, a 4-H and FFA sheep judging contest will be held. Last year's judging contest drew more than 500 participants from Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado, and New Mexico. Batie is offering trophies and discounts from the purchase price of sale animals to the top judges in the contest.

Both Batie and Dictson have expressed optimism that these events will be highly educational and rewarding for junior exhibitors, their parents, and their teachers.

with 30 AA, A and B schools. The Amarillo Relays is one of the biggest meets in Texas each year and I felt we did our best. Although only two of our people placed, everyone ran well, improving on times in almost every area."

Next meet for the Steers will be at Sundown today (Friday), April 16. Preliminaries are to begin at 1 p.m. with the finals to get underway at 6 p.m.

Election Results Canvassed, Equalization Board Scheduled

Members of the Parmer County Commissioners Court convened in regular session Monday, April 12, during which a date for the Equalization Board Meeting was set and votes were canvassed for the County School Trustees Election. Upon a motion made by Jimmy Briggs it was agreed that the Equalization Board Meeting is to be held at 2 p.m.

May 24 in the County Courtroom. In canvassing votes of the recent County School Trustee election it was shown that Wendol Christian was elected trustee-at-large with a total of 963 votes. It was also shown that Gene Smith was elected in the Lazbuddie Precinct with a total of 173 votes. Other business concerned the opening bids on a proposed lease for County School Land in Gaines County. Upon receiving information from Webb Walker, stating that he was unable to submit a bid and since no other bidder appeared at the appointed time, it was agreed that the bidding and sale of the land be closed.

A discussion was then held concerning the clearance of a sign belonging to Dub Hayes of Texico, such sign being situated on the right-of-way required for Farm Road 1381. Hayes met with the Court and the removal of this sign was discussed at length.

It was pointed out that the sign carried a permit issued by the Department of Highways and Public Transportation; that it is approximately 10'x32' and that advertising could be placed on both sides of the sign. The sign contains five posts and the required cross pieces and bracing to support the frame. It was further pointed out that the permit could not be transferred to any other location; consequently the sign would have to be completely removed.

After much discussion, Commissioners agreed that damages in the amount of $750 be paid to Hayes to clear this right-of-way of the sign with the consideration that the sign be removed by Hayes before April 19 and that a $100-a-day penalty be imposed if the sign is not moved by midnight of April 18.

Discussion was entered into relative to a request by Eastern New Mexico Rural Telephone to place underground telephone cable along certain county roads. Commissioners also approved a request for the installation of electric high lines on a county right-of-way by Deaf Smith County Electric. The road situation was updated and discussed at length to the effect that roads 3333 and 1381 are clear for construction. It was reported that members of the Commissioners Court wish to commend everyone concerned with these roads upon the early clearance and the assistance in every way.

The Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District Board of Directors met in its regular monthly meeting on April 6. These meetings are open to the public and anyone is welcome to meet with the board.

All the directors were present to carry on the business of the district. The items accomplished in the district were reported by Herb Evans of the Soil Conservation Service, Friona.

The status of the two flood-water dams was discussed. A proposed starting date for construction of site three was presented.

It was brought to the attention of the Board that money for conservation practices is available in the county through the Great Plains Program.

Soil Stewardship Week was discussed and plans were made for observing the week. The biennium budget was submitted and approved.

The Board of Directors includes Leon Grissom, Jimmie Cockerham, Leroy Johnson, Dan Smith and M.C. Osborn. "These men are dedicated servants of the district. They encourage Parmer County residents to learn more about the district and the services it offers to just about anyone who asks," comment SWCD officials.

THE FRUITS OF CHRIST'S RESURRECTION
The resurrection of Christ is God's answer to unbelief. The changed life of His followers who saw Him alive after His crucifixion and the revolution in the life of Paul, who saw Him "last of all," rank high among the "many infallible proofs" of His resurrection. Towards were made bold, doubters believed, the sorrowing were made glad, the pitiless persecutor became His docile follower. The broken Roman seal, the empty tomb, the failure of the enemies of Christ to produce the dead body and a hundred other facts add their testimony that the Lord Jesus Christ has been "DECLARED TO BE THE SON OF GOD WITH POWER . . . BY THE RESURRECTION FROM THE DEAD" (Rom. 1:4).
The resurrection of Christ further assures us that God is fully satisfied with His payment for sin, for "WHEN HE HAD BY HIMSELF PURGED OUR SINS (HE) SAT DOWN ON THE RIGHT HAND OF THE MAJESTY ON HIGH" (Heb. 1:3). "FOR BY ONE OFFERING HE HATH PERFECTED FOR EVER THEM THAT ARE SANCTIFIED" (10:14).
Next, the resurrection of Christ gives us a living Saviour. Comparing the Old Testament priests with Christ, Hebrews 7:23-25 says: "And they truly were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death: But this Man, because He continueth ever, hath an unchange-

North Carolina Takes Stand For Independence

by Donald Whisenhunt

As the tension mounted in the spring of 1776 the astute observer could see that the confrontation that had been coming between Great Britain and her American colonies was almost at hand. It was North Carolina that took the first formal action.

During late March 200 years ago British troops under General Clinton were threatening to invade North Carolina. According to historian George Bancroft, such a threat caused no terror or panic; instead it strengthened the resolve of the Tarheels to defend themselves. Bancroft says that they were so well organized that virtually every man in the colony could be ready to fight on an hour's notice.

In the face of this threatened invasion the leaders of North Carolina concluded that their days of negotiating with Great Britain were over. The North Carolina Congress met in Halifax on April 4. A special committee headed by Cornelius Harnett brought out its report on April 12.

The committee resolution stated that the moderation of the United Colonies in dealing with Great Britain had been fruitless. It concluded that there was no future possibility of dealing peacefully with Britain.

Therefore, the resolution offered by the committee authorized the North Carolina delegates in the Continental Congress "to concur with the delegates of the other colonies in declaring independence."

North Carolina was, therefore, the first colony to take a formal position for independence. Shortly, other colonies would follow suit. North Carolina had now taken an action that would be most difficult to retract if the movement were to falter. In effect, this colony had put itself on the block; to convince other colonies to follow this lead now became necessary for its own survival.

The situation in the British colonies had almost reached an impasse. For one who had a view of the history of the entire colonial period, it was quite difficult to imagine such a state of affairs. Yet, if one clearly understood the relationship between the colonies and the mother country from the beginning, to arrive at such a situation was not so surprising. On the other hand the relationship between Spain and her colony in Texas was such that the development of such a situation did not seem possible. Unlike the British, Spanish monarchs had taken a personal interest in the colonies from the beginning. Any violation of imperial policy was not tolerated. Therefore, the possibility of rebellion in Spanish Texas in 1776 that resembled in any way the actions on the Atlantic coast seemed remote indeed.

Area Hosts Sought For Foreign Visitors

Farwell area families are being sought to host foreign visitors later this year as part of the American Host Foundation Program, according to Richard E. Black of Sudan.

Black said that in the past the 15-year-old program has concentrated primarily on foreign teachers who each spend about one month in the United States and stay from one-to-two weeks with two to four different families in various parts of the country.

Because of the Bicentennial Year the U.S. State Department has asked the foundation to expand its program to others this year in addition to teachers. Black said many of the visitors would like to spend part of their time in Texas and the foundation is looking for hosts.

Foreign teachers will be visiting primarily during July, August and early September and other professions will be traveling to this area through December.

Black said a host in this area will be expected to provide transportation to and from the Lubbock airport, furnish lodging and meals and arrange for the visiting couple "to see life the way it is lived in our area." All visitors will be English speaking.

Anyone wanting to be a host or needing further information should contact Mr. or Mrs. Black by writing Box 177 Route 1, Sudan, Tex. 79371 or call (806) 933-2525.
