

CRITIQUE

By Glenn Coates

The total number of books published in March this year shows an increase of about 30 over 1954. And this is in spite of an almost 50 per cent drop in "adult fiction" titles for the month. There were 882 books published in March this year and 855 in March last year. Juvenile books led all other types this year with 132 titles. Adult fiction placed second with 135 titles. Last year, adult fiction totaled 217 and the juveniles, 148.

For the first three months of 1955, 2,989 books were published. In 1954, 2,906 was the total for the same period. Apparently, more books are being published and they are more widely varied. Where fiction once held the major portion of the market, more attention is now being given to the younger readers and to factual accounts.

Remember the series "The World We Live In" which appeared in Life magazine? Well, it is now available in book form, the complete series. The book is 300 pages long and has many fold-out pictures. One of them will fold out into a mural five feet long.

Pre-publication price of the volume is $9.95 for the regular edition. Bookstore price will be $13.50. A deluxe edition is also being offered at an additional $2.

"G. B. DEALEY OF THE DALLAS NEWS" by Ernest Sharpe, Henry Holt and Company, 504 pp., $5.

George Banerman Dealey first saw America from the deck of the ship which brought his family here from England in 1870. The particular place was Galveston. He was a mite over 11 years old. Seventy-six years later, he died leaving behind many legends and a much better city as a result of his stay. He died in 1946 in Dallas.

Between these two occurrences, Dealey began a new trade at the lowest bottom and climbed to the summit. He grew from a $3 a week office boy to be owner and publisher of one of the largest papers in the state, the Dallas Morning News.

The new office of the News in Dallas has the following inscription set in concrete on the front of the building: "Build the News upon the rock of truth and righteousness, conducting it always along the lines of fairness and integrity, and acknowledging the right of the people to get from the newspaper both sides of every important question." The inscription was set in 1949, but Dealey said those words back in 1907, when he was only an employe of the paper.

That brief statement is a summary of the methods employed by Dealey in his conduct of the affairs of the News. Even though he placed other men in positions of authority, he always suggested that they not change the News from its previous path without consulting with him. And he made many important decisions during the more than 72 years he worked for the A. H. Belo Company.

For instance, he abolished liquor advertisements from the News. This cost the paper $50,000 per year in revenue, a large amount of money in those days. Then, he came out against ads on the front page. This angered his best advertiser, but Dealey weathered the storm.

Again, he pitched his support to the groups wanting Governor Jim Ferguson impeached, only to later back the election of "Ma" Ferguson as Governor. Between those events, he had aroused the ire of the Dallas Ku Klux Klan. He was violently opposed to the Klan and fought them every step. The News almost went under in this fight. Ma Ferguson was the opponent of the Klan candidate for the governorship and Dealey felt that anything would be better than the KKK.

Dealey brought the first radio station to Texas in the form of WFAA with the power of a mighty 100 watts. But he still considered it a passing fad. His elder son convinced him of the importance of radio. He introduced a "Book Page" and a "Farm Page" to the News. Two important factors in the rapid growth of the paper.

And all of this after he had been sent to North Texas to find a suitable place for a newspaper as a companion to the Galveston Daily News. From start to finish, Dealey was the Dallas Morning News.

On his 65th anniversary with the News, journalists from all over the country gathered at Galveston to proclaim him the "Dean of American Journalism." This was perhaps the happiest moment of his life.

Although he had been with the newspaper all of his life, he had always been in the business end of journalism. Never had he been a reporter or in another phase of the business.

One of his favorite projects was the enlargement and beautification of Dallas. Many of the improvements in evidence in the city today are directly attributable to Dealey.

Few biographical works about Texans are as complete, informative, and interesting as this one. And Dealey's contributions to our world are not of the kind that make big headlines. But they are the kind that make life a little easier, a little more complete, with very little thanks.

Panel Advances Redistrict Plan

AUSTIN — A plan to force counties to redistrict commissioners' precincts where there's lopsided representation cleared a House committee Wednesday night.

The Constitutional Amendments panel put its approval on the resolution by Rep. Louis Anderson of Midland calling for an election on the redistricting plan.

Anderson has softened his original proposal in the hopes it would have better chances of passage in the face of outspoken opposition from county judges and commissioners.

As it has been redrafted, the plan would be for compulsory elections on petition of 10 per cent of the voters in a county. The election could be called if any precinct had fewer than 10 per cent or more than 40 per cent of the residents of the county within its boundaries.

Voters would submit their petition to the county judge who would then call the election. If the redistricting carried at the election, the commissioners court would re-draw the precinct lines so that from 10 to 40 per cent of the population came within each of the four precincts.

The commissioners would be given six months to do the job. If they did not within that time, the county judge would name a five-man board, one from each precinct and one from the county at large, to divide the county into new precincts.

Mansfield Scores Chiang 'Unleashing'

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) said today the United States would not be facing the "difficult decision" on defense of Quemoy and Matsu Islands "if President Eisenhower had not 'unleashed' Chiang Kai-shek in 1953."

Mansfield said a massive reinforcement of the offshore islands by the Chinese Nationalists "would never have taken place" if Eisenhower's State of the Union message in January, 1953, had not "invited" it.

Eisenhower told Congress in January, 1953, that he was "issuing instructions that the 7th Fleet no longer be employed to shield Communist China. . . . We certainly have no obligation to protect a nation fighting us in Korea."

Mansfield, a member of the Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview today: "If these instructions had not been issued, the Formosa Strait would have remained stabilized. The issue today would be clear-cut. The line would be clearly drawn. Our commitment would cover Formosa and the Pescadores, not the offshore islands."

In another interview, Sen. Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, took an opposite view of Eisenhower's 1953 orders to the 7th Fleet.

"I'm very thankful that Eisenhower made that important decision," Bridges said. "If he hadn't, there would be nothing standing between Formosa and the mainland. Formosa would be far more vulnerable."

Bridges has insisted the United States should declare publicly an intention to use U.S. military power to assist in defense of the offshore islands. Congress has authorized this use of U.S. forces provided Eisenhower decides the islands are essential to the defense of Formosa.

Bridges said: "Anyone who believes in the security of America ought to be thankful that Eisenhower had the foresight to pave the way for the Chinese Nationalist to reinforce their positions on the islands."

A SIGN OF THE TIMES

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A letter about the driving of an old-time steam car has come to me from Mr. Henry Stickney. He says:

"I am an American from away back, but I was born in Paris, France, 77 years ago and lived over there for a long time."

"After reading your article about early steam cars, I decided to write you about my experience in driving a French steam car known as the Gardner Serpolet. I got a job driving this car for Eugene Leigh, a horse trainer."

"It took about 45 minutes to get the car ready for driving after the signal was given. I always had to have on hand a quart of alcohol, which was poured into a shallow iron container at the rear of the car. As I remember, there were four or six burners, and after they were heated a valve was opened. The valve was between the fuel tank and the stove, and was controlled by a wire which ran from the dashboard to the rear of the machine."

"In this steam car I made many trips between Chantilly and Paris, and drove some of Mr. Leigh's friends around Paris. The car was rated a six-h.p. machine, and would catch up on gasoline cars going uphill. We did not have to worry about flat tires because the wheels were fitted with hard tires without any inner tubes."

"On good roads we made about 12 miles an hour. My boss would tell me not to go so fast."

"The car was easy to steer, but there was a faulty valve and this caused much trouble. At certain times a cloud of black smoke would come from the rear. If this happened, I knew what to do. Stopping the car, I had to crawl on my knees and close the valve."

"Often, on the road, people would shout that the car was on fire. Some persons made ready to douse the whole car with a garden hose."

"The use of that car came to an end while I was driving on the Place de la Concorde in Paris. There was a big cloud of black smoke from the rear. I struggled to close the valve, but that was the finish."

"I think Mr. Stickney will agree that modern cars are less exciting but work more smoothly!"

Here are the Three Greatest New-Car Values in America!

THE FABULOUS STAR CHIEF

Here's the beauty that is taking business from the costliest cars—and no wonder! It's luxury-sized. The roomy body is mounted on a 124" wheelbase. It's luxury-powered. The Strato-Streak V-8 with four-barrel carburetor puts 200 horsepower under the handsome hood. It's luxury-styled. The quality of fabrics and interior appointments matches that of the highest-priced cars. It's beautifully distinctive—way out front for future-fashioned smartness. And it's a Pontiac—which means top-most reliability, thrift and resale value, and the easiest price on any big luxury car!

THE FUTURE-FASHIONED 870

Your favorite body style becomes really exciting when it's an 870. Choice of Vogue Two-Tone colors is as wide as your imagination. And it's just as outstanding in all other ways. Outstanding in performance with Strato-Streak power. Outstanding in riding ease with a long wheelbase unmatched at the price. Especially outstanding in the way it handles and responds with passing power.

THE SPECTACULAR 860

It's the biggest, highest-powered car ever priced so low—less than many models of the lowest-priced lines and much less than stripped economy models of higher-priced makes. Yet it's a king-sized car with a road-leveling 122" wheelbase, and delivering 200 horsepower. Beauty? Just look! And remember—you can choose from 4 interiors and 36 color combinations. Never has it been so easy to own a truly fine car!

All with the history-making 200-H.P. Strato-Streak V-8 Engine!

Every model in every line of Pontiacs has the sensational Strato-Streak V-8 engine, one of the most efficient power plants ever developed. Here's more take-off punch, more passing drive and more years of smooth performance than you have ever enjoyed in any car within hundreds of dollars of Pontiac's low price range. And that applies whether you decide on 180 horsepower or specify the optional power-package which moves you up to a blazing 200 horsepower. Either way you get topmost power per dollar.

Still Unknown Exactly When Salk Needs Will Be Filled

EDITOR'S NOTE: For years, Alton Blakeslee has followed scientific studies in looking for a cure for infantile paralysis, as it soon was called. From the first announcement that the Salk vaccine showed promise to last week's electrifying news that it was a success, he has been in on its development. Father almost a two-year veteran within the polio danger age group, Blakeslee shares in the solution for this question uppermost in the minds of parents everywhere.

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

A soaring demand for the new Salk polio vaccine is beginning to be met—but only here and there, in dribbles.

Questions about the vaccine tumble over one another in parents' minds. Foremost is: When can my children get it? As of today, this is the question with the most indefinite answer.

Three of four drug houses are shipping out some vaccine for private doctors to give children. And they are rolling out vaccine to be given free to some schoolchildren.

The drug firms simply won't tell how much commercial vaccine they have started to send out. Medical leaders in big cities across the nation don't know how much various areas will get, or when.

A flood is expected, but no one seems sure when. In a few places a few children already have been inoculated. Doctors in most areas are besieged with requests.

As for other main questions:

Q. How much vaccine will there be this summer? A. Drug firms just aren't saying, or perhaps don't yet know. The latest estimate is: Enough for 30 million children this year. This estimate seems to cover the "stretching" of supply even if only two shots are given, rather than three.

Q. When will free vaccine be given? A. Starting in some cities Monday and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis says this should be completed before the end of school in each state.

Q. Must the vaccine be given before summer? A. No. It can be given any time, even during summer, provided a child is well at the time. It's preferable to give it before the polio season starts.

Q. How quickly does the vaccination start protecting? A. Antibodies begin to appear in the bloodstream within two weeks after the first shot says Dr. Jonas E. Salk, University of Pittsburgh scientist who developed the vaccine.

Q. Will the vaccine wipe out polio this year? A. That cannot be hoped for. Not enough children could be vaccinated this year with the expected supply. The goal is to reduce polio's toll drastically this year.

Q. How long will immunity last? A. For months, and perhaps for life. Booster shots might well be needed occasionally. Only time and more knowledge can answer this.

Q. How could one course of vaccine produce long immunity? A. Dr. Salk finds the first one or two shots "prime" the body's mechanism to produce antibodies. It becomes "hyper-reactive," or like a cocked revolver. The detectable amount of antibodies may be low.

But the booster shot seven months or so later pulls the trigger, so tremendous amounts of antibodies are produced.

Dr. Salk also finds that natural infection to polio virus can do the same thing, pulling the trigger on antibodies in time to overcome the infection and prevent damage.

Perhaps the cocked-revolver may persist for years or life, so any exposure to virus creates protection. This remains to be proved.

Q. If a child got the real vaccine last year, should he get another shot? A. Dr. Salk recommends a booster, to pull the antibody trigger. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will offer this booster shot, a free shot, to youngsters vaccinated last year.

Q. Can polio be eradicated? A. That can be hoped for. It may come even before all children (or adults also, later on) could be inoculated. For vaccination may well work to stop easy spread of polio infection from one person to another.

Q. Does the vaccine help prevent spread of polio within a family? A. Yes, from all indications in the test. This offers hope of stamping out a polio fire before it gets started.

Services Held For Mrs. Emma Collum

LAMESA—Funeral services were held here Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Emma Collum, 80, who died Friday at Dallas.

Mrs. Collum lived for the past 18 years on the Stanton Highway near Lamesa. She was born in Georgia Sept. 8, 1874.

The Rev. E. L. Jones, pastor, officiated in services at the Bryan Street Baptist Church. Interment was in the Lamesa Cemetery under direction of the Higginbotham Funeral Home.

Mrs. Collum is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Lou Thompson of Dallas, and three grandchildren.

Former Resident Dies In New Mexico

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. J. G. Crawford, former Howard County resident, in Socorro, N.M., on April 9.

Burial was in Mountain Air, N.M. beside the grave of a son, A. G. Crawford. Among survivors are her husband, J. G. Crawford, Socorro, N.M., and a son, Harold Crawford, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Crawford lived many years in the Hartwells community of western Howard County before going to Kermit and then to New Mexico.

ed, spreading from brother to sister within a family.

Q. What's the earliest age at which a baby should be vaccinated? A. Very young babies probably already have antibodies, inherited from their mother. Vaccinating babies at age 3 to 6 months is okay, says Dr. Salk. Earlier, it might have no good effect.

Q. Does it protect against non-paralytic polio? A. Very definitely.

But the big value is that it protects against paralytic polio. Polio is had only because it can kill or paralyze. Most of us by age 18 have had one or more bouts with polio, feeling sticky or feverish or like having a bad cold, with no other ill effects. Often this infection passed practically unnoticed, but we developed protective antibodies against that type of virus.

Q. Who should have priority? A. The children in the most susceptible age groups.

Children at ages 5 and 6 show the highest attack rate; next come the 4 and 3-year-olds; next the 2 year olds; next those 2 and 7 years old; next those 1 and 9, then the 12 year olds, then 10, then 11, at least by last year's experience. After age 13, the attack rate declines pretty steadily with age.

High priority is also given to pregnant women.

Q. If you had children aged 14, 8 and 2, which should get the vaccine first, assuming the doctor has only a small supply? A. On the basis of greatest susceptibility, the 8-year-old should be inoculated first, then the 2-year-old.

Q. Is the vaccine safe? Yes, beyond any doubt. It even appears safer than most medicines already in general use. It is made of virus which first is killed, so it cannot cause any polio sickness. But this dead virus can still stimulate production of antibodies against natural, living virus.

Q. Didn't some children given the vaccine get reactions? A. Yes, but so did just as many—or more—kids who got only the "dummy" shots. In other words, no reactions could be attributed to the vaccine.

Children getting the harmless shots of sterile water had the same few reactions. This means the "reactions" were due to emotional upsets, or the fact the children had some ailment, already under way, which would have appeared anyhow.

Marathon Bible Reading

A Bible reading marathon was launched at the First Baptist Church in Garber, Okla., with 85 members and nine visitors signing pledges to take 15-minute turns reading the Bible from the pulpit until the entire book is read. The Rev. Wilbur Nucholls, right, pastor, read for 15 minutes and then passed the Bible to Freeman Combrink, left.

Optimist Leaders

Big Spring Optimists elected officers and directors to complete the organization of their club at a meeting Friday. Shown are Bill Estes, vice president; Frank Franklin, secretary-treasurer; Dr. James Whitney, president; and Joe Bunch, vice president. The club is to meet at noon each Tuesday at the Wagon Wheel.

Newly-Formed Optimist Club Names Officers

Dr. James E. Whitney heads the slate of officers named by Big Spring Optimists who completed organization of their club Friday evening.

The others are Joe G. Bunch and B. M. Estes, vice presidents; F. O. Franklin, secretary-treasurer; L. A. Robert Hall of the Salvation Army, chaplain; and Charles D. Butts, Charles W. Lusk, Herbert C. Vinson and Loyd Wooten, directors.

Whitney said a sergeant-at-arms will be named at the new club's next meeting.

On hand to assist with completing the organization of the club was William W. Spear, field representative for Optimist International. He said the local club has been accepted for membership in District 7, of Optimists International. Formation of the Big Spring club was started several weeks ago under sponsorship of San Angelo Optimists. The group will meet each Tuesday at noon at the Wagon Wheel Restaurant, and formal chartering ceremonies will be scheduled soon.

Dr. Whitney said that the club will immediately initiate a program of boys' work, one of the major phases of Optimists' activities.

TEC To Aid Junior College Students In Finding Work

Ted Vinson, assistant manager of the local Texas Employment Commission office, said Howard County Junior College would also get the assistance of the TEC in aiding students with employment problems.

Vinson has been helping high school students in the past and has received about 65 applications for part time or summer work. He expects to place all these students.

At HCJC he hopes to develop a full-time program through which college students will be provided with positions. HCJC students will be given placement tests where the occasion warrants and Vinson is confident that the TEC will be of considerable assistance to them.

Leon Kinney, manager of the office, was in Lubbock Friday attending a Farm Placement meeting. Managers of all local district offices were expected to attend the meeting as well as representatives from Washington, Austin, and Dallas. Purpose of the meeting is to determine the amount of farm labor to be needed in the area this year so that the number of "braceros" needed can be decided upon.

Jerome Kovarik, representative of the Colorado State Department of Employment Security, was in Big Spring Friday talking with laborers interested in traveling into the northern states for employment this summer. He said that his group had contacted almost enough persons already and that the offer may have to be closed in the near future.

The laborers are scheduled to leave for the Holly Sugar Company fields May 2, he said. However, he will be in Big Spring again on April 25 to interview other workers who might be interested in the work.

Four Big Springers Called For Service

Four Big Springers were called into the armed services in the April draft call, according to Louise Nuckolls of Local Selective Service Board No. 71.

The recruits were called Tuesday. They were Ricardo Bravo, Earl Lee Brown, Salvador Castro, and Roy Jones Echols. The next call for selective service will be May 4, Mrs. Nuckolls said, and again, four boys will be called.

'Shocked' Knowland Terms Adlai Talk Asia Give-Away

INDIANAPOLIS, April 16 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) said tonight he is "amazed and shocked" at Adlai Stevenson's speech of last Monday night.

Knowland said the Democratic presidential nominee of 1952 "appears to be giving the green light to the loss of Quemoy and Matsu," and casting "reflection upon the future of the island of Formosa itself."

The Senate Republican leader, in a speech prepared for the Indiana Republican Editorial Assn., said:

"Less than two months after the Congress approved the Formosa resolution by a vote of 409-3 in the House and 85-3 in the Senate and after ratification of our mutual defense pact with the Republic of China . . . Mr. Stevenson stated that we should seek to get certain of our allies to line up with us in the defense of Formosa against any aggression pending some final settlement of its status — by independence, neutralization, trusteeship, plebiscite or whatever is wiser."

"What a way to build confidence in our ally, with whom we have just entered into a mutual defense treaty," Knowland said. Knowland said Stevenson avoided any suggestion "that there might be a plebiscite on the mainland of China to see if the Chinese are satisfied with their loss of freedom by Communist aggression supported by the Soviet Union."

Engineers will be here from Midland, Odessa, Snyder, Big Spring and other communities. Around 30 are expected for the party, which will be addressed by E. B. McCormick, chief engineer for Cosden. McCormick will speak on the "Use of Effluent for Refinery Water."

sent to a United Nations or any other type of a trusteeship over the Island of Formosa," Knowland said.

And even if a trusteeship for Formosa were seriously considered, Knowland said, it could be set up by the United States only by "obvious treachery" and in direct contravention of the defense treaty signed early this year. If it were to be set up by the United Nations, Knowland said, "it could only be done . . . by an act of aggression against the Republic of China."

Stevenson advocated a declaration by the United States, its allies and "uncommitted states," condemning aggression in the Formosa Strait "and agreeing to stand with us in the defense of Formosa against any aggression, pending some final settlement of its status."

Knowland said the "morale, value" of Quemoy and Matsu for Nationalist China "is as high . . . as is that of Western Berlin for free Germany."

The United States should prevent the islands from falling into Red China's hands, Knowland said, just as much as it should prevent west Berlin from falling within the Russian orbit.

Mayor Dabney Fascinated By Job, And Always Runs To Win Election

By JOE PICKLE
When the city commission organized the other day and the vote for mayor was 2-2, George W. Dabney declined to break the tie. A little lesson back in Toyah might have stuck in his memory.

He had served on the school board there from 1918-31 and for 12 of those 13 years he was president of the school board.

"I would have been president all 13 only the other nominee one year voted for himself and got elected," Mr. Dabney remembered.

Mr. Dabney could have been in the same spot on the mayoralty choice, but he didn't figure that would be quite ethical. Instead, he made a little speech and in the end he was an unanimous choice.

George Dabney enjoys being on the city commission and serving as mayor. He doesn't make any bones about it.

"When I run," he said, "I run to get elected. It's no disgrace to be defeated, but it's not exactly any fun, either."

Politics—and he doesn't think that it is a horrid word since it simply means the people—fascinate him. For almost two score years he has been a public official of some sort, and with little or no pay.

"I wouldn't have one of these big paying jobs," he explained. "I just like to be in a position of service. The happiest years of my life have been when I was dealing with the public. People think I'm crazy, and it's hard to understand, but I just like people."

Most of the time people like him. He's led the ticket everytime he has run here. Looking down the list from Toyah city elections of 40 years ago when he was further down the line, he admits topping the ticket isn't exactly a life-long habit.

On a few occasions he has faced citizens irate enough to do battle. Invariably, he leaves them in a good frame of mind.

"Most people simply want to be heard," he said. "If what they want is right, I try to help them get it. If not, then I try to explain. Having had a chance to get it off their chest, most people are satisfied."

He gets calls all hours of the day and night—the latter usually when some acquaintance has lingered too long in his cups. The mayor won't try to cut any corners to get them released, but he has gone their bond on occasions.

George W. Dabney was born at Trenton, Tenn., on Nov. 20, 1887 as one of five children (only one sister—Josie Dabney of Fort Worth survives). When he was two, his mother died, and three years later his father passed away. The family was split and he went with his father's sister until he was 13 and had grown into a strapping boy earning $8 a month on a farm.

There was a catch, if he didn't stay through the harvest, the rate was only $4. After four months, a brother, working as telegrapher for a railroad in Ashwood, Tenn., wired him he could make $1 a day in a flour mill. He left the farm never to return.

After a year in the mill, and studying telegraphy at night, he got a job at Mt. Pleasant, Tenn., with the L&M at $45 a month on July 3, 1903. Within 18 months he had a yen for adventure and headed south, stopping at Denison, Texas. There were no jobs open so he took one at Sapulpa, Indian Territory (Oklahoma). In 1906 he quit to go to Dallas and joined the Texas & Pacific Railway Company, being assigned to Atlanta. Later he was shifted to Louisiana and back to Texas with a spot at Fort Worth.

"I told them I wanted a job in West Texas—kind of had Weatherford in mind. They gave me West Texas all right, Monahans."

He arrived there Oct. 19, 1907, when it was raining up a storm. Two years later he was sent to Toyah, but he came back to Monahans long enough to marry his sweetheart, Miss Willie Chessney on May 12, 1909. He already had a house at Toyah and when he brought his bride back, Mrs. Theo Andrews, now of Big Spring, had given the place the woman's touch.

Seven children were born to the Dabneys: George W. Jr., with Humble in Santa Paula, Calif.; Chessney with Boeing Aircraft in Seattle, Wash.; Robert, a switchman in Chicago; Jack, a navigator and painter in Meriden, Conn.; Mrs. Josephine Raul, Ray (HCC student) and Florence, all of Big Spring.

Toyah incorporated after a bitter battle in 1910 between those who were tired of the pigs, cows, horses and chickens having the run of the place. Mr. Dabney was named alderman and secretary, a spot he held until 1916. Records he has shows the budget of the young city ranged from $1,200 to $1,700 a year, and he got $30 of that for keeping all the records. The City of Big Spring now has a budget of $1 1/2 million. The mayor gets $20 a ice as a commissioner or as mayor. He has no accurate records ("I don't keep a diary"), but he estimated he has made nearly 1,000 speeches of one kind or another in the nine years he has been mayor. He has issued countless proclamations ("I'm known as the proclaiming mayor"). When it is possible, he attends funerals of acquaintances, sort of because he feels it expresses the concern of the city. He is a frequent visitor in hospitals.

The mayor rises early, around 3:45 a.m., for he must be to work by 4:30 a.m. He is off at 12:30 p.m., picks up a load of groceries on the way, and trudges off up the hill to his home at 906 Runnels. After lunch he sleeps for a couple of hours, goes by the city hall to sign checks and papers, chat with City Manager H. W. Whitney, and then to go uptown and visit people.

He keeps more stuff in his pockets than a Philadelphia lawyer has in his brief case. He prides himself in attending meetings, for in 10 years he has missed only five regular meetings and those when he was out-of-town on vacation or city business. He has had to break only three tie votes since he has been mayor.

The thing that has given him more pride out of the job is that "I can go over among our Negro or Latin-American citizens, or to any banquet or meeting anywhere and am treated with the same respect and given the same feeling that I am one of the people."

Remembering his own youth, he has a natural sympathy for the underprivileged. One of his fondest dreams is a swimming pool for each, the Negro and Latin-American communities, and more park facilities for the city in general.

Foremost problem facing the cities is finances, he said without equivocation. "I'm disappointed in the Legislature for not giving us some more sources of revenue. More than 70 per cent of the people in Texas live in cities. We've got to have more money."

Whether the city does or doesn't find more revenue, George Dabney will be around leading his weight to the things he thinks will provide the essential services and give people an equal opportunity to help themselves.

month—the same as any other commissioner.

In 1912 he had joined the bank and in 1914 when it consolidated and the force was cut, he went to the store of Funley Holmes as assistant manager and treasurer until 1920 when he rejoined the T&P as clerk. While still on the school board, he was elected alderman and from 1927-30 he was both mayor of the city and president of the school board. When he transferred to Big Spring in 1931, he became ticket agent.

Never again, he told himself, would he mess in politics. Although Joe Clere told members of the First Christian Church to "give that man Dabney a job, he's a worker," Mr. Dabney managed to confine his efforts to the church. Then one day in 1945 he and Mrs. Dabney were walking by the city hall.

"I think I'll go in and file for commissioner," he told her. He had not mentioned it before, and that was all there was to it. He was elected and a year later when R. L. Cook retired from the commission and Luke LeBlau, senior commissioner refused to accept the mayor's post despite Mr. Dabney's urging, the commission made Mr. Dabney mayor. He has held the place since, outstripping all predecessors both in length of serv-

Ike Gets First-Hand Report On Far Eastern Situation

AUGUSTA, Ga., (AP) — President Eisenhower today got a first hand report on the Far Eastern situation from Adm. Felix B. Stump, commander of all U.S. forces in the Pacific area.

Stump flew from Washington to the President's vacation headquarters for an hour-long conference but told newsmen no emergency—"none whatsoever"—had prompted the visit.

Asked by a reporter whether he made any "assessment of Red China's intentions" in that area, Stump smiled and replied: "No sir. If I could I'd be a lot better off."

Stump arrived in Washington Thursday from his Pearl Harbor headquarters. He flew to Augusta after reporting to the Defense and Navy Departments.

Guard Unit Will Take Part In Alert

The Big Spring National Guard battery will participate in the nationwide test alert of Army and Air Guard units to be held sometime this spring. W-O Billie L. Eggleston, administrative assistant for the local unit, reported Saturday.

The Guard will be temporarily mobilized when the alert is sounded. Eggleston cautioned residents against becoming alarmed as the alert will be only for training purposes and to test the mobility of the various Guard units in the nation.

Data for the alert is being kept secret. Orders will come from the adjutant general. The alert will be known as "Operation Minuteman."

Lake Water Supplemented By Wells In Peak Periods

Water from the city's O'Barr lease had to be pumped into the distribution system Thursday and Friday to supplement CRMWD water being processed through the heavy demand for water on new filtration plant.

This was necessary because of those two days, both of which were considerably warmer than usual. Records at City Hall show that Thursday's use was 5,304,000 gallons. Use Friday was 4,870,000 gallons.

Pumping O'Barr water into the city system does not mean that the new filtration plant cannot process the amount of water needed, said City Manager H. W. Whitney.

It does mean distribution problems, however, and the engineering firm of Freeze and Nichols is now making a flow analysis of the Big Spring system to see what can be done.

The problem comes about 10 p.m. each evening, when there is a terrific demand for water, Whitney explained. The demand is so great in a short period that water cannot be replaced in the system quickly enough.

The filtration plant is capable of processing more than 14 million gallons of water per day, but the storage and distribution facilities are not capable of providing large quantities of water in brief periods.

When the point is reached that enough water cannot be pushed through the plant in a short period, then the pumps on the O'Barr lease are put into motion, providing water at a different point on the system, Whitney explained. This is what happened Thursday and Friday.

The new 15 million gallon water storage basin which the Colorado River Municipal Water District is building northeast of town will help considerably, Whitney pointed out. The flow analysis being made by Freeze and Nichols also includes a study of present reservoirs.

Storeroom Ruined, House Is Damaged

Fire destroyed a storeroom here Friday afternoon, and a house was damaged by flames during pre-dawn hours Saturday.

The storeroom, at 108 E. 13th belonged to Mrs. W. A. King. It caught fire as a result of children playing with fuses, according to the fire department report.

The small building and all the contents were listed as a complete loss. The fire occurred at 3:35 p.m. Friday.

The residence of Letha Carroll, 406 Donley, caught fire early Saturday morning as a result of a cigarette in a trash can, firemen said. There was small damage to the ceiling, roof and walls of the bedroom. The fire occurred about 1:10 a.m.

SA Groups Win Honors At Dallas

The Girl Guard and Corps Cadet units of the Big Spring Salvation Army won standards of excellence at the annual SA Young People's Council in Dallas Saturday.

The Corps Cadet group from Texas won the Pearson trophy for outstanding religious work. Lt. and Mrs. Robert Hall of the local Salvation Army Citadel accompanied the Big Spring youths to the council.

Job For Everyone

Soil conservation isn't just something for the farmers, it's a job for everyone. This is the object of a graphic display on display here for the next three weeks. Currently it is on display at the State National Bank. April 25 it will be moved to the First National Bank lobby, and then into the Settles lobby just prior to the Zone Soil Conservation awards dinner here May 6. The display, prepared by Texas Electric Service Company, is entirely new and shows how soil management and care affects all phases of life.

CRMWD Jobs Move Steadily

Steady progress is being made on three units of the last current contracts of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Asphaltic membrane lining for the floor of the 15 million gallon reservoir north of Big Spring was laid last week and work has started on the sides. Within 10 days this project should be complete.

Dirt work on a similar size reservoir four miles southwest of Snyder was completed Saturday. Plastic lining will be installed there after the Big Spring project is finished.

About 2,000 feet of 18-inch line have been laid from the Sharon Ridge water plant near Knapp southward to a point of crossing with the CRMWD's 27-inch line to SACROC and Snyder. There will be a tie-in of the lines, probably today, so that the Sharon Ridge plant can get up to two million gallons per day and begin immediate testing of lines.

Starting Monday, the 18-inch line will be laid from the district's pumping plant at Lake J. B. Thomas northward to the present terminus of the line.

THEY BEAT THE DEADLINE

Several people got their auto "inspections" the easy way.

Robert Henderson at Truman Jones Motor Company reported Friday, the deadline for inspection, that 10 of the new stickers were stolen from the firm.

Three Fined After Midnight Gang Fight

Two men and a woman were fined a total of $90 in city court Saturday morning as a result of a gang fight near the T&P depot about midnight Friday.

All pleaded guilty to charges of disturbance. One man was fined $40, and the other man and woman were assessed $25 each.

Six officers were dispatched to First and Main to break up the fight, and it is not known how many people were involved. One man was injured but did not receive hospital attention, officers stated. Cause of the disturbance was not known.

Scout Roundup Plans Shaping

Plans are shaping rapidly for the annual Buffalo Trail Council Boy Scout Round Up here April 29-30.

Sam McComb, district chairman of camping and activities, is anticipating more than 1,000 in attendance, possibly one of the largest registrations in the more than 25 years the event has been going. A large number of troops likely will arrive here the afternoon of April 28 to pitch camp in the Round Up area southeast of the City Park.

Beside camping skills, boys will be tested in a number of fun events and Scoutcraft. These include Scout law relay, pony express, signaling, height judging, first aid relay, flint and steel and bow and drill, fire making, knot relay, blanket rolling, chariot race, fire building and pancake cooking, water boiling, stick relay, silent signals, nature study, tent pitching.

Contests will be run the afternoon of April 29 and the following morning. The traditional barbecue furnished by Big Spring will climax the event.

Wolfson Will Lay Proxies On Line Friday

CHICAGO, April 17 (AP)—Louis Wolfson will lay his proxies on the table Friday in his attempt to gain control of Montgomery Ward & Co.

After eight months of hectic campaigning between Wolfson and Seymour Avery, Ward's chairman, the people who own the big mail order and retail merchandising firm will render their verdict.

What that verdict will be, no one will know immediately. The proxies of both sides will be collected. But it may be weeks before the tabulation is finished because of the number of proxy mailings by both sides and the complexities of cumulative voting.

Wolfson and Avery will meet for the first time at this annual stockholders meeting. If the meeting is conducted as in the past, the 51-year-old Avery will preside. Wolfson will be seated in the audience of stockholders.

Avery will get his first look at the man he has said is leading a "raiding party" on Ward's assets when the New York and Florida financier arises to say a few pertinent words.

Both sides claim victory. Wolfson's chances of at least getting several seats on Ward's board of directors boomed last Friday when the Illinois Supreme Court ruled all nine of Ward's directors must stand for re-election.

The side which gains five or more of the nine directors' seats, has control of the company. It's been a rough, tough and—for Wolfson—an expensive battle. Originally he thought it would cost him $250,000. He now acknowledges he spent around $500,000.

In these last few days both sides will be putting on the ultimate ounce of persuasive pressure to entice that suddenly important person, the undecided stockholder into their camps.

Even the stockholder who has signed a proxy for Avery or Wolfson can't be considered "safe." He can revoke that proxy by signing a proxy for the other side. It's the proxy with the last date which counts, cancelling all others mailed earlier.

That's why claims of both sides have to be viewed with caution. They may be perfectly sincere in stating how many proxies they have. But they don't know how many may have been revoked by later proxies to the other side.

At stake is control of the oldest and second largest mail order firm in the country, rich in tradition, a household name throughout much of the country for more than three-quarters of a century.

Ward's has stores in every state except Delaware and Massachusetts. Its catalogs—known for decades as the "dream books"—to the people on farms and small towns—are mailed almost everywhere in the world.

It has assets of $721,254,577, of which $327,215,778 is in cash or government bonds. It sells three million dollars worth of goods every day. It has 53,000 employees and 68,000 stockholders, of whom more than 55,000 own less than 100 shares.

It is run by Avery, a man described by his friends as having great personal charm. But he is also a man who has had troubles with his executives, many of whom have resigned or been fired during the 24 years Avery has been in control.

In the postwar era Avery has adopted a policy of nonexpansion. This has contrasted with many other retail establishments, and particularly with Ward's big rival, Sears, Roebuck & Co. Ward's has fewer stores today than when World War II ended.

As a result, Ward's is in an extremely liquid condition—that is, it has an enormous amount of money and bonds stashed away for a rainy day.

In his challenge to Avery's rule, the 43-year-old Wolfson has contended this money should be used to expand Ward's sales, and presumably, profits. Wolfson has promised he would start building 24 new stores within the first year of his regime.

Wolfson, son of a successful scrap dealer, has also said he would split Ward's common stock on a three-for-one basis, expand Ward's manufacturing operations, set up a separate corporation to hold Ward's real estate and accept tenders of up to two million shares of Ward's stock at book value, if approved by stockholders.

MEN IN SERVICE

ZACK TAYLOR

2nd Lt. Elton Z. (Zack) Taylor, son of Elton Taylor and a brother of Mrs. John Rudessal, Big Spring, is now assigned to Mather Field AFB, Sacramento, Calif.

He received his radar observer's wings and his lieutenant's commission on March 21 at Ellington AFB after more than a year of training.

He had entered the Air Force in January 1954 and took basic at Lackland AFB. On his way to his new station, he visited here. After a year of experience in the field, he will be given specialized training.

Visiting his parents here prior to boarding ship for duty in the Pacific is Carl W. Thurman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Thurman, 1300 E. 6th.

Thurman recently completed basic training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Station. He plans to leave Big Spring April 23 and is to report aboard the USS Renshaw in San Francisco three days later. The second-class seaman expects his first sea duty to carry him to Japan.

Thurman attended Big Spring High School until 1954. He enlisted in the Navy last Jan. 22.

AUSTIN — The Texas Legislature has from 12 to 17 working days left in this regular session, according to how 700 figures. The authorized 120 days are up May 10. But, as the times runs out, lawmakers will be up against the "72 hour rule" and the "48 hour rule," regulations they have on the span of time required for committee hearings and presentation of bills to the members.

May 10 falls on a Tuesday. That means, there are three more full work weeks. Even if they lengthen the work week from the four days they have been using, there's not much time for all the pot measures.

Taxes will be the main order of business for the House during the week that's upcoming. Last Monday the House slapped down the tax program which administration forces advanced. Some voted against it because they just didn't like the levies proposed — one cent hike in gasoline taxes, one cent hike on cigars and increases on beer licenses.

Some voted against it because they felt they were being rushed. Some voted against it because they wanted chance to slap at the Shivers administration. Some votes were inspired by H. B. 7, the natural gas economic waste bill which has got itself involved in many a piece of legislation. The gas price bill has been stymied, but backers are hoping to get it up in the House next week. Senate might hesitate to restore it. A one-cent increase is included in the omnibus bill the House turned down last Monday night. That is expected to stay, however. The one-cent hike on cigar levy is expected to go through. Some House members predict the omnibus bill's tax on beer licenses will give way to a levy directly on beer.

The longer the tax-spending fight goes on, the poorer the chances for other bills. One of the major measures considered dead this session is statewide judicial redistricting. "Single-shot" bills are expected to be turned loose during the closing days.

Missionary Preaches At Big Spring Church

Miss A. B. Mass, recently returned from 14 years of missionary work in the Orient, was guest speaker at the Big Spring Seventh Day Adventist Church last Saturday.

He told members of the local church that Christianity is spreading rapidly in the Philippines and other sections of southeast Asia. He has worked in the Philippines, Burma, China, Formosa and Palestine.

Debts Alleged In Two Civil Suits

Two suits alleging debt have been filed in 119th District Court.

In one, Bert Massingill claims that he is owed a total of $627.03 by G. W. Martin. He asks judgment for that amount and also applied for garnishments against what he said he believes four drilling concerns owe Martin. Garnish-ees are Robinson Drilling Company, CB Drilling Company, Russian Drilling Company and John Drilling Company.

C. H. Wasson filed the other debt suit, claiming that the Hillburn Appliance Company owes him five per cent of net profits for all of 1954 and through March 26, 1955. He contends the percentage is due him as part of his remuneration as a salesman. An accounting and judgment is asked.

Art Expert To Speak

DALLAS, April 16 (AP)—Dr. Julius S. Held, professor of fine arts at Harvard College, Columbia University, will speak here Thursday on the stories behind several great art forgeries. Held is a recognized expert in 17th Century Flemish and Dutch art.

Nice Either Way

It doesn't matter how you look at this, Eleonore Storer, a 21-year-old mannequin, makes an attractive appearance kneeling on a mirror after being voted beauty queen in a recent contest in Hamburg, Germany. She will represent that city in the contest for the title of "Miss Germany."

Roses Save Clerk's Life

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert P. Canina, 20-year-old bank clerk, sent roses to his girl.

If he hadn't sent the roses... He came to work early in the financial district, stopped at a Broad Street florist shop.

"I had a fight with my girl friend last night," he said. "I'd like to make up with her."

Roses, said the florist instantly—red roses for true young love. Canina nodded, and sent six red roses to his 19-year-old sweetheart, a telephone clerk, who worked a few buildings down Broad Street from his office in the Manufacturers Trust Co.

An hour later, at 9, he hadn't heard from her, and he climbed out on a window ledge hanging six stories over teeming Broad Street.

Police and a priest pleaded with him not to jump. Thousands gathered below waving him back. Among the thousands was the florist who recognized the red rose buyer.

He rushed to a patrolman and told of the quarrel. A quick check of records and police were telephoning Marilyn Osterwald.

Marilyn, who had just received the flowers, raced to the window ledge.

"I love you," she cried in tears. "Everything is all right. I got your flowers this morning."

Canina looked at the crowd below, at the outstretched hands so near him, drew a deep breath and stepped back to life.

40 On Hand For First Meeting Of Community Chorus

Approximately 40 people gathered Thursday evening at the Howard County Junior College auditorium for the first meeting of the Community Chorus.

Orland Johnson, choral director at HCJC who will be in charge of the chorus, stated that he was pleased by the response and enthusiasm displayed by those attending.

Five numbers were included on Thursday night's practice agenda, and it is expected that a good many more will be added during coming practice sessions.

Plans call for the chorus to meet every Thursday night at 7:30 at the HCJC auditorium. Anyone who likes to sing is invited to attend. It is not necessary to be an accomplished musician, it was announced.

Tentative plans call for two concerts this year. One will be at the beginning of the summer and the other in early fall.

The Community Chorus is sponsored by HCJC and the Big Spring Music Study Club, of which Mrs. Don Newsom is president.

'Unfair Sales' Bill Slowed By House

AUSTIN — The retail grocers' "unfair sales" bill, which started off at a gallop the first of the week, was slowed down Wednesday night when a sub-panel studying it asked for more time.

But, predictions are, the bill will come out of committee with a favorable report. It will, however, be a softer version than the original proposal of the grocers when it is reported out Monday.

An estimated 2,000 grocers descended on Austin the first of the week in support of the bill. They say they need some regulations to stop price wars which are putting them out of business.

Their bill, H. B. 714, as introduced would affect not only groceries, but all merchandise items. It would provide that no goods (with certain exceptions such as seasonal items) could be sold for less than cost plus 6 per cent. Several other states have such laws.

Navy Enlistees Home On Leave

The first three men to enlist in the Navy through local Recruiter R. E. LaFon are home on leave this week. The men were first to join the Navy after LaFon established the recruiting office here.

In Big Spring now on 14-day leaves are Jack W. Axtens, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Axtens; 106 Wright; Glen H. Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Barber, 1205 E. 6th; and Ronald J. Gunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gunn, 509 Johnson.

The men enlisted in the Navy on Jan. 27 and remained together throughout boot camp. When their leave is up, Axtens will report to electrician's school at San Diego, Calif., for a 14-week course in electricity. Barber will report to Balboa Hospital at San Diego, Calif., for ten weeks of medical school. Gunn is to report to the Naval Air Station at Phoenix, Ariz. for duty.

Chief LaFon said that ex-service men who re-enlist in the Navy are now being offered their choice of duty stations. A man must re-enlist within three months of his discharge to be eligible for this program, LaFon said. On enlistment, the ex-service man indicates four preferences for duty.

If at all practicable, the Navy will assign him to one of these stations. These choices may be any combination of ship type, home port or geographical area, LaFon said. The assignment will be for at least 12 months.

Chief LaFon is in the Navy Recruiting office in the basement of the post office each day except Tuesday and Thursday. Office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Documentary Film On Africa Billed

A documentary film of Africa by the columnist, Robert C. Ruark, is the offering at the Terrace Saturday. The color film, "Africa Adventure" is a pictorial representation of Ruark's book "Horn of the Hunter" which has been a best seller for many months.

Charging rhinos and elephants, as well as other beasts of Africa, are audience assurances that the film will be an attention holder full of excitement.

Fusselman Discovery Rates 605 Barrels

Ray Albaugh of Big Spring No. 1 W. J. Schuster has been completed for a 605-barrel Fusselman discovery in southwestern Mitchell County.

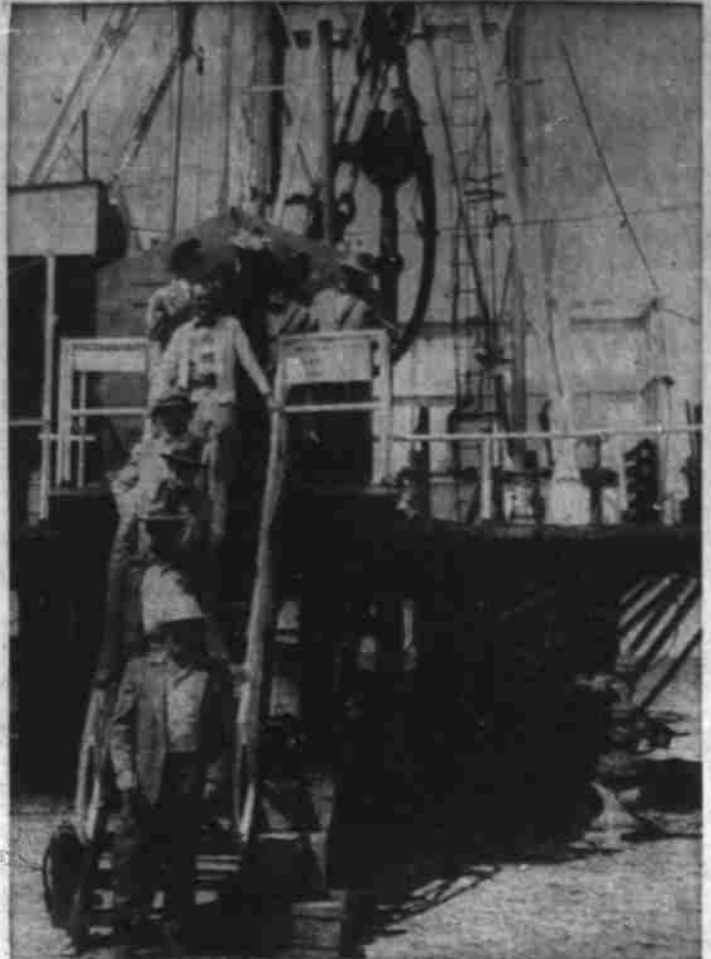

The potential was based on a 12-hour flow with only a 34-64th choke. Gravity of oil was 50 degrees. This becomes the second well in the Albaugh Pennsylvania field, and, of course, the first from the Fusselman section. Albaugh No. 1 Whittington was completed two years ago as a small producer in the Pennsylvania.

Total depth of the discovery is 8,331 feet, and plugged back total depth is 8,546. The test was through perforations 8,465-8,497 feet, which had been washed with 500 gallons. When opened Saturday the well kicked off and flowed 302.7 barrels of oil in 12 hours through the 14-64th choke. Pressure in the tubing was from 600 to 800, and on the casing 1,300 to 1,600 pounds. Pressure held firm.

Southeast field of northern Howard, about 20 miles north and west. Operator had shut the well in after perforating. Initial test revealed strong pressures and a brisk flow, and no storage had been erected. Since then a pair of 500-barrel tanks have been raised on the lease.

Location of the well is in the center of the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 12-37, SP. This puts it half a mile east and a quarter of a mile north of the C N W SE 11-37, SP. It also is about 13 miles north and east of Forsan and four miles east of shallow production on the Hyman lease in southeast Howard. Nearest Fusselman production is in the Luther-ing was from 600 to 800, and on the casing 1,300 to 1,600 pounds. Pressure held firm. The oil was an extremely light amber color. Gas-oil ratio was 511-1. Although owns all the lease interest in the producing tract and has considerable acreage in the area.

Businessmen At Oil Test

Lamesa businessmen got a first hand glimpse of various industries in action during Industrial Week observance. Several of them made a trip to the oil fields to see just how a deep test is drilled. Seven Explorations Scheduled In Basin

Seven wildcats were located in the Permian Basin this weekend, according to Railroad Commission reports. They are in Cottle, Garza, Reeves, Cochito, Tom Green, and Coke counties.

General Crude No. 12-B Swenson Development Company in the Cottle County prospect. It will be drilled by rotary tools to 4,500-foot depth. Location is 1,980 from north and 690 from west lines, 12-B-John H. Stevens survey, about 11 miles southwest of Paducah.

Chapman No. 1 E. E. Ramsey Jr. will be drilled as a wildcat eight miles north of Orla in Reeves County. Drillite is 660 from south and east lines, 30-55-15, T&P survey, and depth is to be 3,000 feet.

Garza County drew two new explorations. Estill S. Heysler Jr. No. 2 T. R. Greenfield, 11 miles northwest of Post, is one, and Ridley Wheeler No. 1 Shelby County School Land, 2 1/2 miles southeast of Southland, is the other. Heysler No. 2 Greenfield is 990 from south and 330 from east lines, 28-5-H&G survey. It will be drilled to 3,400 feet. Wheeler No. 1 Shelby County, slated for depth of 4,500 feet, is to be 330 from north and west lines, Shelby County.

Progress No. 1 Cora Henderson, 1,980 from north and 690 from east lines, C. H. Hearne survey 108, abstract 1,091, is to be drilled as a wildcat seven miles northwest of Cochito County's Dodson field to a depth of 5,000 feet.

Union and Smith No. 1 W. J. Marshall is the Tom Green County try. Location is to be 6,009 from south and 690 from east lines, W. N. Bullock survey 11, abstract 5,127. It will go down to 6,500 feet for a sample of the Ellenburger. Location is 2 1/2 miles southwest of Orient.

Murray Petroleum Company No. 1 J. R. Mims, 4,481.1 from east and 660 from north lines, 4-W-T&P survey, is to be drilled as an 8,500-foot prospect in Coke County. It is 20 miles southwest of Robert Lee and 10 miles south of the Fuller-Coke field. Test is to be of the Cambrian.

Cal Hubbard, supervisor of employees in the American League, is a former collegiate and professional football star.

Basin Drilling Steady, Gain Registered In Howard County

Drilling activity in the Permian Basin continues at a steady pace, a survey conducted by Reed Roller Bit Company shows.

The survey, taken April 10, lists 527 rigs turning in the Basin as compared with the 529 on March 25. The 527 total in five better than at the same time last year.

Andrews County, with 83 units, is the Basin leader in activity, and Lea County, N. M., with 78 rigs, is the second "hottest" area.

Ector County has 34 rigs, Gaines has 32, Midland has 27, Coke has 27, and Crane has 24.

Drilling in the immediate area has maintained its pace also. Borden County slipped from 12 to 6 rigs between the two survey counts, but Howard County went up from 12 to 16.

Glasscock lost one rig, going from four to three, but Dawson picked up two, rising from two to four. Sterling County lost one rig, surveys listing five and four, respectively, and Martin County picked up one rig. Mitchell retained five on both counts.

Counties and the number of rigs, with the previous number in parenthesis, follow: Andrews, 83 (78); Borden, 6 (12);

Cochran, 3 (3); Coke, 27 (30); Chavez, 13 (17); Crane, 24 (22); Crockett, 4 (2); Dawson, 4 (2); Ector, 34 (29); Eddy, 6 (7); Gaines, 32 (37); Garza, 12 (10); Glasscock, 3 (4); Hockley, 2 (2); Howard, 16 (13); Irion, 1 (0); Jeff Davis, 1 (1); Kent, 6 (9); Lea, 76 (87); Lubbock, 1 (2); Loving, 3 (2); Lynn, 2 (1); Martin, 1 (0);

San Angelo Desk-Derrick Club Tours Refinery Here

Cosden Petroleum Corporation entertained Desk and Derrick Club members from San Angelo and Odessa Saturday with a tour of the refinery and a luncheon at the Wagon Wheel restaurant.

There were 12 of the visiting club members here and they were joined by six local members. The D and D Clubs are composed of persons in the oil industry who are interested in learning more about the various phases of the industry. This field trip was a part of their educational program.

Jack Smith conducted the tour through the refinery. Visiting from Odessa were Rita Amster and Lucy Delaney; from San Angelo, Eva Canning, Louise Libbroth, Irene Cox, Kathleen Smith, Pat Smith, Betty Carlisle, Irene Jenkins, Ora Lee Bolen, Billie Cook, and Sue Jett. Local members joining the group were Jo Hill, Helen Green, Charlotte Sheedy, Mary Archer, Marguerette Cooper, and Sue Raliff.

Oil Workers Get Raises Paralleling 10-Cent Pattern

DALLAS (AP)—Officials of the Texas CIO Oil Workers Union said a general wage increase of 10 cents an hour has been negotiated with the major national petroleum companies for 40,000 Texas workers.

E. Carl Matten of Dallas and J. Elro Brown of Houston, district directors of the CIO Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, said the increases have been negotiated with Phillips, Shell, Esso, and several other companies.

The representatives said all major companies have signed contracts except Sinclair. They said an agreement has been reached with Sinclair on the wage increase but that negotiations on working conditions are continuing.

The CIO representative estimated that the round of raises will add two million dollars a year to payrolls of major oil companies in Texas.

Demand Decline Foreseen In May

DODGE BIG SPRING, TEXAS PLYMOUTH
101 Gregg Phone 4-6351

I'm an insurance man and one of the first customers of Tarbox Motor Company after they came to Big Spring. They gave me a trade-in on my old car that I don't think you could beat anywhere. Now I am driving a New 1955 Ford. I sure do love it.

We traded our old car to Tarbox Motor Company and received all it was worth and some on the A-1 Ford we are now driving. Boy, we sure are enjoying the driving comfort of our 1953 Ford. If you want to trade cars that is the place to go.

"Who would believe that Elnora and I would own a new Ford? We didn't, until we saw Tarbox Motor Company. Elnora was still skeptical and said it was another car dealer's gimmick. Tarbox Motor Company gave an outstanding price for our old car and now we are enjoying a new 1955 Ford.

I purchased a 1952 Ford automobile from Tarbox Motor Company at a wholesale price and found the car as good or better as they represented it in every respect. Their finance plan and monthly payments was just tailored for me.

THIS CONTEST WILL RUN UNTIL MAY 1

DO IT YOURSELF Utility Stand Ideal For The Beginner

By BILL BAKER

How about a do-it-yourself project that is ideal for the beginning woodworker? We would like something that is especially easy to build.

Fine! I've got a good one for you—a utility stand that is not only easy to build, but is also beautiful and useful.

Sounds good so far. Tell me more. You said you wanted something easy to build, and that fits the utility table. Simplicity of design takes away lots of the workshop headaches. And you'll need only a small amount of materials, so your lumberyard bill will be small. A saw, hammer, screw driver, some sandpaper, plus a few nails and screws is all of the equipment you'll need, too.

All right, we're convinced that this is the right project for the novice. Now tell us something about the cabinet.

Before I do that, let me tell you about some of the other features that make the utility table the novice's dream.

You'll use my pattern package number 120 to assist you in building. Featured here are exact size paper pattern pieces, duplicating each section of the stand. All you'll have to do is tack, trace and cut. You are assured a perfect, professional-looking job before you even start the project.

Very good. What are the dimensions of the stand, by the way?

From floor to table top, your stand is a little over two feet. The upper surface is 15 inches by 17 inches. The step-down area in front of a handy drawer is 17 inches long by 5 inches deep.

In our home, where can the utility stand be used?

You name the spot and the job, and the utility stand will fill the bill. It makes an ideal end table in your living room. It's also a perfect night stand for the bedroom. Or you might want it as a table for your entrance hall or dining room. The drawer makes an ideal storage area for often-used items and the central area is fine for magazine placement. Notice in the above picture that the stand also features a unique planter box. This will brighten any room.

Could we make the same table but use wrought iron legs instead of wood?

Yes. The pattern package tells you how to use either type of leg. Okay, we're sold! How can we order the pattern?

It's easy. Just send your name and address (clearly printed), together with only one dollar—($1) in check, cash or money order, to Bill Baker, Big Spring Herald, P. O. Box 1111, Los Angeles 53, California. Be sure to ask for pattern package 120.

Also, if you would like to have a copy of a new catalogue listing all of the easy-to-build Bill Baker patterns, simply send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to the above address. Ask for the catalogue, and one will be mailed to you.

Start With A Stand

This easy-to-build utility stand is the beginning woodworker's dream. You can build it with Bill Baker's new do-it-yourself pattern. Kay Christopher, motion picture and television actress, is shown with the finished stand.

THE SAME OLD LINE

By Bob Smith

When we first began this column a couple of weeks ago, we made the request that fishing and hunting lovers send in information on trips they made or those they heard about; also, for such little amusing sidelights as they might know about. Since then, we have received a few bits of information interspersed with a long loud silence. One suggestion, however, was to the effect that one way to stir people up was to insult them. So here goes:

"Are all fishermen liars, or are all liars fishermen?"

Now, let's have some correspondence.

It was a windy day last weekend at Buchanan Dam, according to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Loving and friend, Charles Lebkowsky. The rough water kept them from laying out trot lines, but they managed to bring back 79 crappie averaging 1.5-3 pounds, and 5 channel cat, averaging 1-3 pounds.

We note a Fort Worth scientist scored the closing of Benbrook Lake to fishermen, saying the best way of producing big game fish is to allow heavy fishing. Leonard Lamb of the Game and Fish Commission said a lake can nourish just so many fish, and if the turnover of the fish population is halted, growth of the fish also stops. We think there are quite a few ranchmen around here who could have told us that, from their experience with overgrazing.

The fish weren't biting too well for the Omar Jones family last weekend. But, as Omar says, "It was mainly just an outing for the kids." The Joneses took their new trailer house to the N. Concho, caught a few perch and got a lot of non-fishing exercise, then went to Colorado City Lake for more exercise and some crappie.

Lake Thomas seems to be yielding quite a lot of crappie. B. O. Williams, who operates a place about 5 miles east of Vincent on the Snyder highway, reports a nice string. Channel cats also are biting well. I. H. Dunn has been landing some nice ones on a trot line at Lake Thomas.

Some difficulties in raising of minnows were revealed by Marion Toole, chief aquatic biologist with the Game and Fish Commission in Austin. He said: "Minnow raising does not mean just placing minnows in some water and then reaping the harvest."

Toole listed some major points behind those bait minnows: Each hatchery pond must have its own water intake and outlet; some minnows spawn in pond water, others in streams; some can be seined, but during warm weather golden shiners must be dipped or trapped; a half-acre pond will produce more minnows than two quarter-acre ponds.

Dove hunters take note: The state has okayed development of a site along the new Falcon Lake for whitewing dove nesting. If successful, this project should mean more of this favorite game bird, hard pressed for survival in the last few years.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Wants Enforcement Of Dog Ordinance

Dear Editor:

The clean-up campaign slated for this week is a good thing for our city, and I heartily endorse it, but I want to suggest that our city officials go a step further in cleaning up Big Spring by enforcing the ordinance requiring that dogs and other pets be kept on the owners' premises, either in an enclosure or on a leash.

Else, I would urge that they pass another law requiring that every garbage can in the city be so firmly anchored it could not be turned over by dogs in their search for food, thus scattering paper and trash that is blown all over town.

The present dog-catching facilities are definitely inadequate—one lone man working at this part time can catch only a small per cent of the dogs loose in town. He needs a helper and they should work at this until the situation is remedied.

I like dogs as well as anyone, but we have always cared for ours enough, when we owned one, to keep it in our own back yard where it was protected, fed properly and not allowed to be a nuisance to our neighbors.

To put this matter mildly, I am thoroughly "fed up" with constantly having to pick up other people's trash blowing into our yard, and with dogs that overrun the lawn, damaging the grass and shrubs.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. L. H. Williamson
1001 E. 15th.

Baptist Workers To Meet Monday

Baptists in the Big Spring Association will have a look at results of recent and current simultaneous revivals and then turn their eyes to the summer program at their workers conference Monday.

The Big Spring Association meeting is slated for 7:30 p.m. at the Northside Baptist Church.

The Rev. Ed Welch, pastor of the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church, will speak on "Conserving the Results of the Simultaneous Revivals." Darrell Mock, director of education for the First Baptist, is to speak on plans for the vacation Bible schools.

Paul West will speak on a church member's covenant and Tom Adams will bring the sermon of the evening at 8:35 P. B. Hall Jr. will lead the singing and provide special music.

Victim Identified

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—L. Thomas P. Riley, 29, Waco, Tex., was one of three men killed yesterday in the crash of a stratojet bomber a half mile off Hamilton, Bermuda.

It's Clean-Up, Fix-Up, Paint-Up, Week

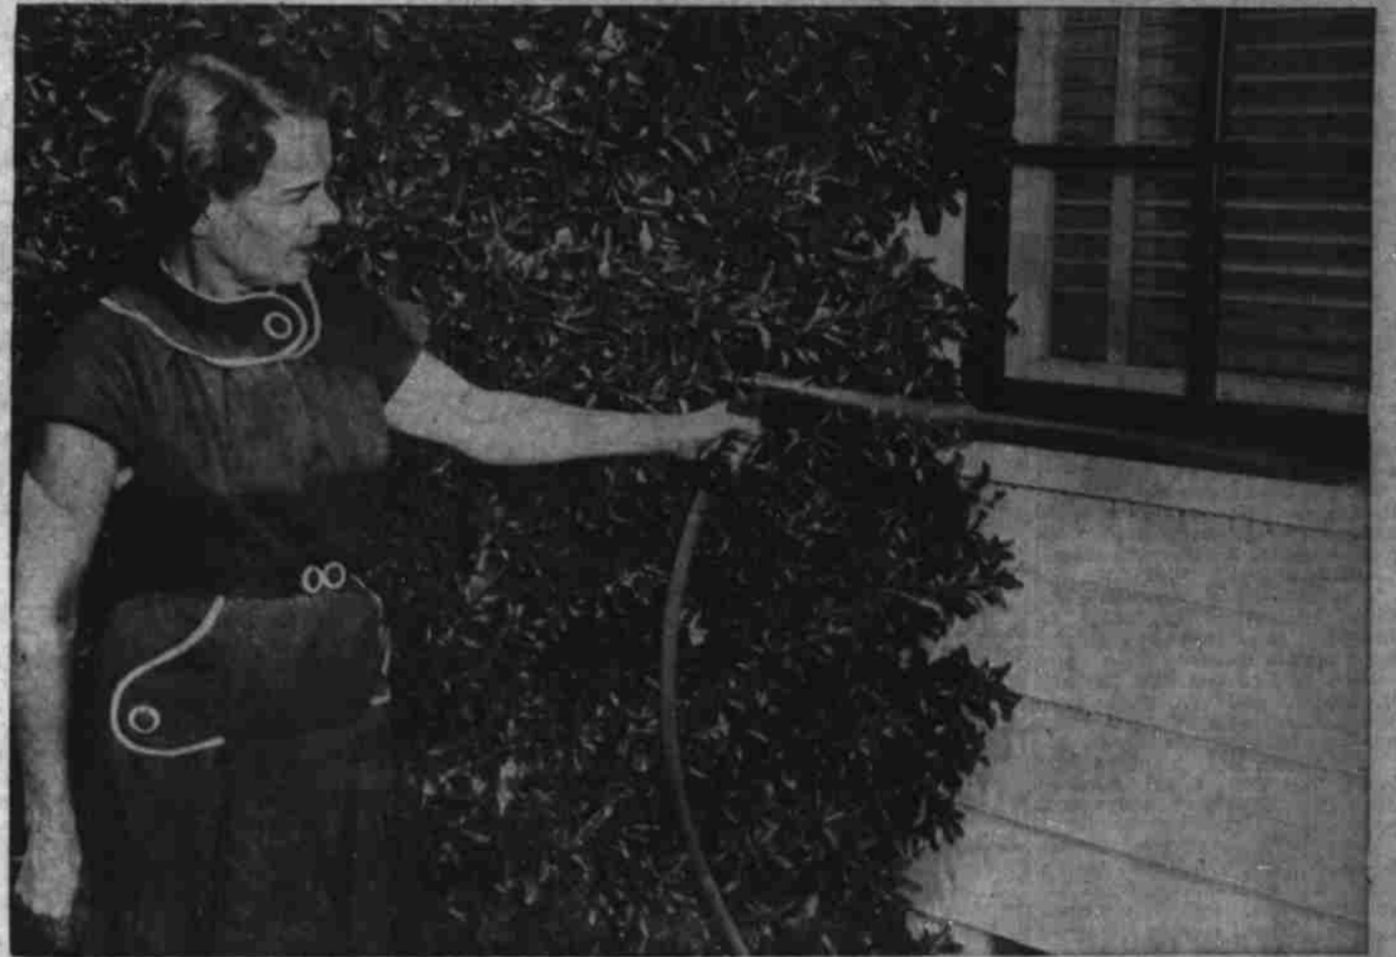

MORE FUN THAN WORK—is fixing up the barbecue pit, according to Mr. and Mrs. Kyle B. Cauble, 204 Lexington. Since they got the jump on clean-up week, their garden is as neat as the oft-mentioned pin. To get into the swing, though, they are getting the pit in order for steak or chicken barbecues.

A CLEAN-UP CAMPAIGN—to Elmer Cravens, 1801 Runnels, means the cleaning-off of insects from his well-tended flowers and shrubbery. His constant companion, Little Bit, sees that the job is done right, just as he oversees every activity that goes on around the place.

PAINT UP, CLEAN UP—will definitely be represented in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waymon Phillips, 1606 Sunset, from all indications. As soon as she finishes putting paint on the new gate, Mrs. Phillips will probably have to start in taking it off her son. Oh well, at least he's getting into the spirit of the campaign.

A GOOD BATH—is important for the house as well as the shrubbery, especially during the season of sandstorms. It will improve the appearance of the house as well as remove the dust and dirt from the plants. One advantage of the method used by Mrs. Hubert Stipp, 819 W. 18th, is that no water is wasted and, oh, how nice to open a window which isn't filled with sand!

NO TIME FOR PHOTOGRAPHERS — when Mrs. Sam Shapiro (right) 102 E. 17th, joins in the clean-up campaign. The removal of the dead leaves and foliage will add greatly to the beauty of her garden, in which she does most of the work. Such material will make a good addition to the compost bed and should be used instead of being discarded.

Jubilee Week Planned By 1905 Hyperions

Plans are under way in the 1905 Hyperion Club for the celebration this week of their Golden Jubilee. Organized in January, 1905, it is the city's oldest study club. It was given the name "Hyperion," which means "gloriously bright and beautiful."

Brooks, Mrs. V. H. Flewellen, Mrs. J. H. Greene, Mrs. Cliff Wiley and Mrs. K. H. McGibbon.

Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, members will entertain clubs of the City Federation at a seated tea at the Settles Hotel. High point of the afternoon will be the skit to be staged in the manner of a club meeting of the year 1905. The entire club will be attired in the fashion of that year. The play is an original by Mrs. J. A. Coffey.

During the first year of its existence, the club joined the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and in 1914, the group became a member of the National Federation. Worthwhile programs were proposed for the club and the women began with work in English and American history, literature, Delphin courses and extension courses from Texas colleges.

San Angelo Desk, Derrick Club Visits Refinery

Saturday morning about 20 members of the San Angelo Desk and Derrick Club toured the refinery, accompanied by six members of the Big Spring Club. After the tour, Cosden was host to the group at a luncheon at the Wagon Wheel. R. L. Tollett spent Tuesday in Fort Worth, and addressed the Desk and Derrick Club of San Angelo that evening. He and Dan Krausse spent Wednesday in Wichita Falls. On Thursday Tollett was in Dallas, where he was one of three refinery experts impaneled to answer questions of delegates to the annual meeting of the National Gasoline Association of America. Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson and Dan M. Krausse attended the annual conference of Rotary's 183rd District in Midland Monday and Tuesday.

Bruce Kirtley with the National Aluminum Company, Houston, was in the offices Wednesday. Floyd Smart returned to work this week after being off due to illness. Jack Alexander was in Crane Thursday and in Lubbock Friday on company business. Sam Hefner and P. F. McCreary are fishing at Possum Kingdom Lake. Before returning to Big Spring they will visit in Dallas on company business. Richard H. Ford of the McGraw-Hill Company was in the offices last Wednesday.

Dan Krausse will be in Houston Monday attending the meeting of the Military Petroleum Advisory Board. He is serving on the Aviation Fuels Committee of the MPAB, which is a body of oil industry experts charged with the responsibility of keeping the oil industry geared to petroleum requirements of the military establishment. E. B. McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Phelan are in Del Rio today attending the bullfights in which Pat McCormick will participate. Mrs. McCormick will return with them.

The following have been serving on jury during this session: Dan McKinney, Frank Hughes, Robert Long, E. G. Rainey Jr., W. W. Moeser, J. W. Bennett, Donald Hale, Brandon Curry, J. D. Robertson, Pete Banks, W. H. Robinson, Johnny Nobles, and Fred Beckham. Jack Alexander will be in Austin next week attending the Texas Highway letting. He will return to Big Spring Wednesday night. Chester Burton returned to work this week after being off about six weeks to undergo major surgery. Thursday night Mrs. Mildred Cornelson was honored with a shower in the home of Joy Hester. Girls from the credit department and sten pool attended. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Reed and Claudia visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reed in Corpus Christi over the weekend. A new employee in the IB room is Mrs. Helen Pashall. Mrs. Pashall is from San Angelo. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Walker of McDonald, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts last weekend. Maggie Smith will be on vacation next week.

Breakfast Given For Communicants

Seventeen boys and girls and their families gathered for a breakfast following the children's first communion at St. Thomas Catholic Church this morning. The breakfast was at the Wagon Wheel. White, symbolizing purity, was used throughout the decorations. The Rev. William J. Moore and Mrs. Carl Marcum were in charge of arrangements. The Victory Nol Missionary Society prepared the children for their first confession and communion, instructing them in the significance of the Mass as a reenactment of the Crucifixion.

On Wednesday of this week, Mr. Tollett is flying from New York to Denver to attend semiannual meeting of board of directors of the American Petroleum Institute. Mrs. Tollett will join him in Denver. They will return to Big Spring a week from today. George Yager returned to work after being on a leave of absence due to illness in his family. Returning from vacations Monday will be L. V. Arnold, S. R. Morris, W. D. Froman, Lloyd Nalls, M. V. Day, R. J. Roxburgh, W. E. Fats, E. L. Long, Ray Groselove, L. V. Morgan, O. G. Milam, and R. H. Matthes.

A community choir, under the direction of Mr. Orland Johnson was organized Thursday night in the college auditorium. The group is open to anyone who likes to sing, and will meet at 7:30 each Thursday evening.

Prospective graduates are urged to pay their graduation fee (to the business office) before May 1.

The fine arts production "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" attracted many Jayhawkers to the City Auditorium Monday night. A few of them were Homer Petty, Rosetta Williams, Bobby McDonald, Martha Winans, Frank Hinkley, Barbara Abbott, Joan McKinney, Marcellous Weaver and Frank Hunt.

Arlen White and Ronald Anderson visited Howard Payne College in Brownwood this weekend.

Norma Blount, Becca Sewell, and Mary Ann Moore celebrated their birthdays (all next week) with dinner out Saturday night.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By FRANCES WALKER

Sports seem to have been in the spotlight at HCJC this week. The Jayhawk track team, led by John Curtis, won over Odessa JC and the Sul Ross varsity in a three-way meet at Odessa Thursday.

John won the 100 and 220 yard dashes; Harold Baker, the mile; Ronald Anderson, the quarter; and Phillip Stovall tied for first in the high jump.

Others helping to score the victory were Cleone Russell, Doyle Scott, Jimmy Spears, Jimmy Robinson, and Arlen White. Mr. George McAllister is track coach.

The golf team, James Underwood, Lake Thompson, Frank Hunt and Jimmie Smith, journeyed to Odessa yesterday to compete with teams including Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons in a one-day college meet at the Sunset Country Club.

The first round of the HCJC Basketball Intramurals ended Monday finding Flournoy's Foxes in the lead with a 4-0 win-loss record. Phillips Fidos ran a close second with a 2-1 score.

The second round opened Friday when the Fidos skinned past the Foxes with a 12-11 score. Silas Flournoy was high scorer with 11 points. Frank Hunt, of the Fidos came in second with 8 points.

In the second game, Airhart's Airdales were victors over Patterson's Possums. Bob Patterson was high point man.

Shadows of the Wild West will fall upon the college campus Thursday and Friday. Through joint cooperation of the Student Council and the various student organizations, a sunrise breakfast, a hay-ride and wicker roast, Kangaroo Court and a big western dance will be the activities staged on Ranch Days.

But all the pleasure does not come free — there are a number of rules which must be followed: Girls can't wear make-up and boys mustn't shave; everyone must dress western; there will be a kitchen' post, so all students are to ride their stick horses to school; no students are allowed to kidnap, molest, or dunk the sheriff. Judge or deputies; and no "real" guns are allowed on campus (just cap pistols, water guns, etc.). Varmints who are caught breaking these laws will be subject to biking, hanging, dunking in the horse trough or worse punishments assigned in Kangaroo Court. Judge of the court, incidentally is Benny Welch and the sheriff's-deputies will serve on the jury.

Frank Hunt has received the sheriff's badge upon the resignation of Richard Road. Frank announced that his deputies are to include Jim Knotts, Red Scott, Phil Gots, Paschall Wickard, Earnest Lillard, Junior Soter, and Richard Road. Assistant deputies will be Nancy Milford, Barbara White, Frances Walker, and Countie Crow.

Pan American Day, April 14, was well remembered on the Jayhawk campus. A colorful display, including the flags of the 21 members of the Pan American Union, was staged in the library.

The Lamo Club met Friday to make final plans for their part in the Ranch Day celebration, and to Chase walked over and pulled the connection loose. The newcomers came here from Selma, Ala., and he is stationed at Webb Air Force Base, where he is an instructor. They are originally from Dallas, although, at one time, Mrs. Holcomb lived in San Angelo. They are Presbyterians. They like bridge and golf, although lately, they have found very little time for either.

make tentative plans for a sock supper, and for their annual style show, to be staged in the near future. The club then presented their president, Peggy Knight Crooks a wedding gift, and their best wishes.

Students, let's be looking forward to the bond election on April 30. Encourage all your friends to support the appeal for much-needed expansion of the HCJC plant.

Dr. Anthony Hunt and Mrs. Ben Johnson journeyed to Austin this week for the annual meeting of the Texas Junior College Association.

Mr. James B. Frazier and Mr. John Paul Vagt made a somewhat shorter journey to Odessa College Thursday. Mr. Frazier was interested in the geology department (with special reference to the uranium classes), while Mr. Vagt's interest was in the OJC library.

Students of HCJC are urged to participate in the Big Spring "Paint-up, Clean-up, Fix-up Week" which begins Monday.

Students interested in ordering copies of any pictures taken by the "Jayhawkers" photographers or Wallace Studios, see me as soon as possible.

Students who have attended HCJC for only one semester of this year, and wish to receive year-books should pay their additional three dollar fee as soon as possible.

A community choir, under the direction of Mr. Orland Johnson was organized Thursday night in the college auditorium. The group is open to anyone who likes to sing, and will meet at 7:30 each Thursday evening.

Prospective graduates are urged to pay their graduation fee (to the business office) before May 1.

The fine arts production "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial" attracted many Jayhawkers to the City Auditorium Monday night. A few of them were Homer Petty, Rosetta Williams, Bobby McDonald, Martha Winans, Frank Hinkley, Barbara Abbott, Joan McKinney, Marcellous Weaver and Frank Hunt.

Arlen White and Ronald Anderson visited Howard Payne College in Brownwood this weekend.

Norma Blount, Becca Sewell, and Mary Ann Moore celebrated their birthdays (all next week) with dinner out Saturday night.

HI-TALK

By PEGGY HOGAN

This short week seemed stuffed full of study as six weeks test made their way into our curriculum. But they're over now and face us only once more this semester. Have you counted 'em? There's only 31 more days of class left!

The Corral was not published this week because of tests and the Senior Edition. The staff is really digging in to make that special edition the best one yet.

The Women of the Air Force Band entertained the student body with a concert Friday morning. "Dry Bones" seemed to shake up the audience most in the varied program.

Then all "men" stayed behind for a recruiting program by representatives of the U.S. Navy, Marines, Army, and Air Force. Each discussed their reserve program, handed out literature and explained their programs. They emphasized the importance of graduating from high school before joining any branch of the service. Mr. Worley read a letter from the draft board which explained the draft status and what one could expect from the draft.

All seniors get a chance to look over the Air Force at our own Webb Air Base Monday afternoon. Webb buses will pick up all the seniors in front of the school at 1 o'clock. The tour of the base is through the courtesy of the commanding officer, Col. C. M. Young, who sent letters of invitation to each senior and his parents.

Two trophies were presented at the assembly Friday. The band captain Howard Sheets presented the Sweepstakes trophy, won at Odessa recently, to the president of the student body, Glenn Rogers, who represented Big Spring High. The other trophy was presented by the courtesy of Ted Phillips to Al Kloven as the Sportsmanship Award of the year in basketball.

District Interscholastic Literary Events scheduled in Lubbock yesterday saw a lot of Big Spring students. Those that were entered as representatives of BSIS were: Janice Williamson and Joe Dawes, Spelling; Claudine Butler, Ready Writing; Rita Gale and Barbara Lewter, Shorthand; Billy Evans, China Carroll, Jon Cook, Joyce, Nix, Zelenor Likins, Typing; Rodney Sheppard, Tom Guin, Ruth Abat and Gerry Gardner, Debate; Robert Morehead and Margaret Fryar, Senior Declaration; Don Shore and Clara Freeman, Poetry Reading; Glenn Rogers and J. D. Adams, Extemporaneous speech. Sponsors going along were Mrs. Betty Lou Ratliff, Don Green, Dell McCoub, L. B. Brackeen, and Mrs. Barbara Foster.

If you've noticed a bunch of kids making a bee-line for the cafeteria every afternoon at 4, it's an energetic gang coming out for cheerleaders. Sue Boykin is in charge of the workouts. Juniors coming out are: Julie Rainwater, Eunice Freeman, Gary Tidwell, Joyce Horn, Clara Freeman, Betty Cain, and Donna Belew. Hopefuls among the sophomores are: Toni Barron, Ceelia McDonald, Lou Ann White, Sue Boykin, Fredia Donica, Sue Barnes and Jean Robison. Election day is set for Wednesday, April 27, at which time student council representatives will be elected also.

Hey Seniors! Here's another invitation to a day just loaded down with free fun. It's Senior Day at Hardin-Simmons University. They outlined a tremendous program in their invitation which begins at 9:30 with a tour of the campus. Then music, entertainment, and inspiration before the barbecue at noon. Open House follows lunch and every senior will be admitted to the annual Intercollegiate Rodeo at 2:30. You'll see ROTC units and other special organizations and hear the Cowboy Band.

A state FHA convention in Galveston this week is the big deal going on for several girls and homemaking teachers, Mrs. Nancy Annen and Miss Edna McGregor. Darlene Agee, Frances Reagan, LaVelle Wasson, Linda Rutledge, Pat Bradford, Sue Boykin, and Marzetta Nix are the girls who will attend. They will leave Wednesday morning going by San Marcus for a ride in the glass-bottomed boats and San Jacinto for seeing the monuments there.

"What Chemical Progress Means to My Family and Me" is the title for Coden's essay contest this year in connection with Chemical Progress Week, May 15-21. Deadline is May 2 for the 500-750 word essays and prizes run high on the local level... $50 U. S. Saving bond for first place, $25 bond for second place and a $10 merchandise certificate redeemable at any Big Spring store for third place.

Hay, a bumpy ride, laughter, hot dogs, singing, and a frolicking good time all go together to describe First Baptist Young People's hayride last night. The troop rode out to the Reagan Ranch east of town for a weiner roast and campfire. Robert Morehead led a sing-song and Jim Weatherly gave the devotion.

Basketball star Al Kloven leads the way for Senior-of-the-Week. Al has not only proved his exceptional talent for playing basketball the last several years, he proved his sportsmanlike character on the court, in the classroom, and around school by capturing this year's Sportsmanship Award. He has lettered five years in the sport, racked up 376 points this year to place seventh in the district. He's a former member of the FFA Club and plans to stick around here next year at HJC as a physical education major. Good luck to a good sportsman and a future Jay-hawker.

Parsley In Salads

That parsley you bought for garnishing languishing in the refrigerator? Remember it gives a wonderfully fresh taste to salads. Snip lots of it fine with your kitchen scissors and add to cabbage or carrot slaw, mixed greens, cucumbers or tomatoes.

DRESS PARADE

Attending the play, "The Calne Mutiny Court-Martial," Mrs. C. W. Mahoney wore a striking ensemble of red lines sheath and duster. A row of rhinestones decorated the back seam of the duster and were used on the dress. She wore rhinestone costume jewelry and a black coiffe hat of shiny straw. Her pumps and bag were black patent.

A brown and beige print was chosen by Mrs. Robert Stripling when she attended the play. The scoop neck and the cuffs of her bracelet-length sleeves were piped in black velvet. Her choker and earrings of bronze steel-cut beads matched the beaded bag that she carried.

Mrs. Louise Horton wore a brown and white costume to the play; for the Altura luncheon, which she attended during the same week, she chose navy and white.

Attending the same luncheon was Mrs. C. O. Nalley in a shirtwaist combination of black skirt and white blouse. Her very tiny, close-fitting black hat sparkled with black beads. Mrs. Ernest Brindley wore a brown and beige costume dress topped with a short jacket. Her brown straw hat was velvet-trimmed.

Sage-green jersey was the choice of Mrs. P. D. O'Brien for her attire at the book review recently given for the Wednesday Review Club by Mrs. Clyde Angel. The wide neck was outlined with beads and pearls, and she wore yellow gloves and a yellow pillbox.

Mrs. Angel's dress was of soft blue processed cotton with square, low neck, topped with an Eton jacket. Her cap-like hat was the exact shade of the dress.

Black patent pumps and bag were used by Mrs. Lonnie Coker with her two-piece dress of egg-shell linen. Her straw hat was off-white.

A red duster topped the red and white print worn by Mrs. A. C. Bass and her hat was red; Mrs. W. F. Taylor wore a dress of navy and white with white hat. Mrs. Gilbert Gibbs wore a combination of

Local Women Are Given P-TA Life Memberships

At the P-TA District Conference held in Abilene Thursday and Friday, life memberships were presented to Mrs. Alton Underwood and Dixie Boyd.

Thursday evening a banquet was given in honor of all superintendents, principals and life members. Friday, skits were presented by various towns showing the work of the groups along line of mental health, child welfare and allied subjects.

Mrs. Nell Norred will be sent by the 18th District to the national meeting to be held in Chicago. The spring conference of 1956 will be held in Midland.

4-H Girls Have Candy Demonstration

A demonstration on making fudge chocolate chip candy was the program on dairy foods for the Center Point 4-H Girls Club Thursday in the home of Barbara Sneed.

Miss Sneed and Lynn Watson led the demonstration. Mrs. Norris Sneed and Christy Sneed were visitors and six members attended.

To Wed

Mrs. and Mrs. Otis Gossett, 511 Young, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, LaVelle, to Pfc. Floyd A. Chapman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Chapman of Plainview. Wedding vows will be taken in December when Chapman returns from a tour of duty in Korea.

Local Woman Judges Art Work In Snyder

Mrs. J. Emmette Miller has returned from Snyder, where she was a judge in an artists' exhibit in connection with the convention of the 7th District of Texas Federated Clubs. About 500 women attended the meeting of the district, which includes clubs from Snyder in Amarillo.

Mrs. Miller will return to Snyder on April 23 to present an exhibition of some of her work. While there, she will speak to high school classes along the line of painting and art.

MRS. CHARLES DONALD STEARNS

Venita Sue Smauley Weds In San Angelo

Venita Sue Smauley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smauley, 1000 Howell Ave., became the bride of Lt. Charles Donald Stearns of Cincinnati, Ohio, Friday evening at the First Methodist Church in San Angelo.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Rutherford of Cincinnati.

The Rev. Ennis B. Hill, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony by candlelight. Two seven-branched candelabra and bouquets of white chrysanthemums were used in church decorations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of nylon tulle styled with a pointed neckline and trimmed with Irish applique of embroidered white flowers. Her finger tip veil of illusion tulle was attached to a crown of seed pearl studded flowers matching those on the dress. She wore gauntlets of shirred tulle. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of lavender orchids, stephanotis and ivy leaves.

Edna Mae Jones of San Angelo was maid of honor. She wore a waltz-length gown of pastel pink cotton lace a small hat of the same material and matching gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Lt. George M. Sayre Jr. of Goodfellow Air Force Base was best man.

Barbara Jean Davis of San Angelo, gowned in turquoise cotton lace, lighted the candles. Mrs. H. M. McMillan, organist, played "Because" and "Always."

The lace-laid table at the reception was centered with an arrangement of white carnations, stephanotis and greenery. Candelabra were placed on either side. The four-tiered cake, decorated with pink roses, was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Jerry Blaylock and Julia Leib served, and Kathryn Savory registered guests.

For a wedding trip to Dallas and Fort Worth the bride wore a white polka dotted navy dress of polished cotton. White accessories were accent to the large white linen collar. Her corsage was of lavender orchids from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live in San Angelo. The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and San Angelo College, where she was a member of Sigma Alpha Chi sorority. She was graduated from Shannon School of Nursing and has been an instructor there since her graduation.

The bridegroom was graduated from Withrow High School in Cincinnati and attended the University of Cincinnati and McNeese State College at Lake Charles, La. He is an instructor pilot at Goodfellow Air Force Base.

Does Vigorous Exercise Help Prevent Polio?

No, strenuous exercise and overtiring should be avoided during poliomyelitis epidemics.

Chances of contracting the disease are likewise greater if a person is suddenly chilled, as from a dive into cold water. These precautions are but two out of many which your doctor urges you to take to help protect you and your family. Your doctor is prepared to care for you during illness with lifesaving skill. Mrs. Hare To Head West Ward P-TA

New officers were elected at a meeting of the West Ward P-TA Thursday afternoon at the school. Mrs. Leo Hare will head the group, with Mrs. Bob Carr as vice president. Secretary is Mrs. C. T. Clay, and treasurer is Earl Penner. Reports were given by various officers and committee chairmen. Mrs. Bledsoe O'Brien, president, asked for volunteers to help with the polio vaccine inoculations. The group voted to buy a punch bowl for the school. Mrs. R. E. Hall gave the devotion, and the program was presented by pupils of the second grade. They were under the direction of Joyce Howard, Mrs. E. L. Baber and Mrs. Dick Fielder. Room count was won by the fifth grade of Mrs. A. B. West. She also won the special prize. Refreshments were served by the mothers of sixth grade pupils.

Lomax HD Club Meets

Mrs. Ralph Newman and Mrs. Doris Blissard gave the program for the Lomax Home Demonstration Club when they met recently in the home of Mrs. Wiley Williams. Their topic was "Annals and Parentals." Date for the book review, to be held in the home of Mrs. Paul Blusterbaum, was set for May 23. Seven members attended the meeting with two guests, Mrs. Lehman Rawls and Mrs. Ross Hill.

Navajo Indians Study Of The Woman's Forum

Navajo Indians were discussed at the meeting of the Woman's Forum Friday when they met in the home of Mrs. Max Fitzhugh. Mrs. Clyde Johnston was co-hostess. Mrs. C. M. Boles, in telling of the home life, arts and crafts of the Indians, told the group that the tribe had grown to be the largest in the United States, with 71,000 members in four states. Language of the Navajos is very much like the Eskimo and the Chinese languages, but there is no way of writing it, Mrs. Boles told the club. The Indians are above the average in intelligence and were used in code service during the Second World War.

They are the best silversmiths and weavers of the present day, and the art is handed down from parents to children.

Mrs. Carl Benson told of the ceremonies, dances and music of the Navajos. The dances are the same from year to year, and the original war dance has been danced only twice in the last 87 years. The observer of the ritual is shown what is really the square dance.

Singing and dancing are always the ceremony performed at the home of a person who is ill. Curiously enough, their many illnesses never include ulcers. They have a

Once-Paralyzed Resident Needs Job In Comeback

By CLIFTON LAWHORNE

Otis L. Gossett, who was left totally paralyzed a year and a half ago when a bullet passed through his brain, is today making a remarkable comeback.

The 43-year-old Big Springer now has full use of his left side, can walk haltingly on his right foot, and has limited movement in his right arm.

He has achieved partial recovery even though his doctor said he would be paralyzed for the rest of his life.

Gossett, who has worked in Big Spring for the past nine years, was accidentally wounded in Odessa, as on Nov. 23, 1953, while moving some goods in his car.

A rifle discharged as he was picking it up, and the bullet struck him in the head. The pellet went straight through his brain and lodged in the back of his skull.

An immediate operation was necessary, and Mrs. Gossett said the physician told her that her husband would be left blind, unseeing and completely paralyzed.

The physician's prediction about the paralysis was true, but even though Gossett hovered between life and death for two weeks, he could see and think as well as ever.

When he left the hospital, he could not move or talk. He had to depend entirely on his wife and their two girls.

Mrs. Gossett found that when she pulled her husband's big toe that his leg muscles twitched. She kept pulling the toe and massaging the leg. Before they knew it, Gossett was out of the bed and hobbling around.

His vocal cords were still paralyzed, however, and it was not until March 15, last year, that he began to talk. The first day it was a whisper, but the second day the sound was as loud as ever.

Though Gossett could barely move, he knew that something had to be done to make a living for his family. He and his wife sank all their savings into a small grocery store on East Sixth Street.

The store was off the beaten path, however, and they lost money. Their son, who was in the service, was discharged on a hardship plea to help out at home.

After the store venture folded, the entire family — including Gossett — went to the cotton patch. They pulled bolls on the Walter Robinson farm. The first day out Gossett walked only a half block before folding.

He got used to the strain, however, and was walking two and three miles a day before pulling all the bolls. He couldn't tote a sack but could pull bolls and throw them in his wife's row.

Since the cotton picking venture, all that Gossett has done is build his house.

They used to live in a small two room house at 511 Young, which was not large enough for the entire family. With wood gathered here and there, they added two more rooms to the structure.

During this time Mrs. Christine S. Feagan, counselor for the Texas Education Agency's office of vocational rehabilitation, became interested in Gossett.

"I found a man who wanted to work and take care of his family," she said. "He was doing everything he could to rehabilitate himself."

Mrs. Feagan was so impressed that she arranged for a local corrective therapist to work with Gossett to see if more improvements could be made. Treatments began about four weeks ago.

Results of the treatments have been amazing, the therapist said. Gossett, through constant use of pulleys rigged up by the therapist, has regained about 50 per cent more use of his right arm.

Pages of practice signatures are stacked up two inches high, but Gossett can now sign his name with his right hand as good as ever. And through constant exercise, his walking gait has also improved.

"He has done a splendid job of grasping at every opportunity and has worked to the utmost of his capabilities to improve his condition," Mrs. Feagan said.

She pointed out that the rehabilitation work has gone just about as far as it can. "What he needs now, more than any medicine, is a job," she emphasized.

Despite his determination and willpower, Gossett has found rough sledding when it comes to getting a job. He has even registered with the Texas Employment Agency, but is so far without luck.

That he is a top-notch employe is testified to by A. J. Brown, manager of the local B. & B. Grocery Store where Gossett worked for nine years.

"Otis is one of the best checkers I ever saw," Brown said. "He was conscientious, the customers liked him, and he knew the business. He can count money with the best of them."

The Gossetts get a monthly check from the State Aid to Dependent Children fund and receive aid from the Christian Church. Their son, who is back in the service, also helps out.

Gossett was raised on a farm in East Texas, and he moved to a farm near Midland in the 1930's. He went to work for B. & B. Grocery in Odessa in 1939, and came here with the firm in 1946.

"I was in the grocery business 15 years," Gossett said. "I guess I know that work better than anything, but I also know the safe

Exercises Arm In Paralysis Fight

Otis L. Gossett, who is fighting paralysis caused when a bullet passed through his brain, is shown working overhead pulleys to regain use of his right arm. Totally paralyzed following an operation about a year and a half ago, Gossett now has full use of his left side, can walk haltingly on his right foot, and has limited movement in his right arm. He was accidentally wounded while removing a rifle from a car. The bullet entered his head, passed through the brain, and came to rest on the back of the skull. He has succeeded in rehabilitating himself, and Mrs. Christine S. Feagan, state rehabilitation worker, says the best medicine he can have now is a job. He, his wife, and two children live at 511 Young.

Patricia McCormick Takes On Two Bulls In Acuna Ring Today

By GLENN COOTES

To the strains of the traditional "La Macarena," Big Spring's Patricia McCormick will march into the bullring at Ciudad Acuna today at 4 p.m. for the second time since she was seriously gored in the same ring last Sept. 5.

Pat will fight two bulls which were bred at the La Plaza Ranch in the Mexican state of Nuevo Leon. Chevo Cantu, promoter of the Macarena ring in Acuna, said she will meet bulls from the same herd, as the one that gored her last year.

Also displaying their talents during the afternoon will be Americo Garza "Romerito" and Tito Palacios. Each of these matadors will kill one bull each. They last appeared at the Macarena ring with San Angelo's Pat Hayes. Torera Hayes bested both of them and won the ears and tail of her last bull, "Romerito" and Tito each had their trousers torn by the bull's horns, but neither of them claimed an accolade.

World To Get Vaccine Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — The latest data on the Salk polio vaccine will be distributed by the government as a good will gesture to nations around the world, including those behind the Iron Curtain.

There was no plan to send any vaccine itself abroad, although Secretary of State Dulles announced he would explore the possibilities with other government officials.

The Commerce Department yesterday clamped an export embargo on the product. Officials held no hope there would be enough to send any abroad before 1957.

The State Department said Dulles planned to send copies of Tuesday's report giving a favorable appraisal of the Salk vaccine to the 75 American missions abroad.

These missions include embassies in Poland and Rumania, which presumably would furnish copies to Communist nations like Red China, which this country does not recognize.

Dulles said the report on last summer's tests is being sent to countries "around the world so that they may have the benefit of this humanitarian research project as well as the information on the Salk formula itself."

"corrida de toros" (running of the bulls) Easter Sunday at the Laredo ring. But she drew two cowardly animals which refused to fight, and the afternoon offered Pat few opportunities to show her skill and ability.

This afternoon promises to be much better as the La Plaza bulls are courageous and swift.

Pat is probably the foremost girl bull fighter in the world. Since she left Texas Western College and took up the cape, many other girls have followed.

But at Ciudad Acuna, Pat is still the most popular torera. Promoter Cantu said she is his best drawing fighter and that the arena is usually filled when she makes an appearance.

Acuna is across the Rio Grande from Del Rio, approximately 250 miles from Big Spring. It has the closest bull ring to Big Spring. Several Big Springers are planning to watch Pat this afternoon.

BS Spring Cleaning Is Scheduled For This Week

Spring cleaning on a city-wide basis will get under way today and last through Saturday. The occasion is "Clean-up, Paint-up and Fix-up" week in Big Spring.

Purpose of the week is to start a whitewash movement here which will lead to a more beautiful city, and the immediate objective is to promote cleanliness.

The clean-up campaign is being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce through cooperation of city officials. All citizens are asked to join in the effort.

The clean-up drive is held here annually, and those in the past have been most successful. Last year a record 617 loads of trash were hauled away from residents here by city trucks.

Special routes have been scheduled this year by garbage collection crews, and anything that home owners slack up in the regular pick-up spots will be hauled away.

R. V. Forexyth, director of the city public works department, said that everything will be picked-up. This includes old furniture, dead trees, weeds, papers, magazines, wood, trunks, garbage, etc.

Everyone is urged to clean their yards, adjacent lots and homes during the week. Block parties are suggested so that all residents can get together and give their block a thorough going over.

E. L. Powell is chairman of the clean-up campaign this year, and

Mrs. Irene Stripling is chairman of the beautification campaign which is being held in connection with the week.

All the women's clubs are co-operating with the beautification campaign, and a poster contest is slated to follow the week which has the theme of "Don't Be A Litter Bug."

The clean-up campaign is slated each year both as a cleanliness measure and as a health measure. Not only does it clear the streets of ugly trash, but it provides more healthful conditions.

Sanitarian Lige Fox warns that the time to start combating flies and other insects is now. All organic matter can be cleared during the campaign, and garbage disposal units can be prepared for the summer.

This preparation of garbage disposal units to do away with flies would come under the heading of "fix-up." Window screens which have been banged around during the winter can also be fixed up, as can many other parts of the house needing repair.

The week would also be an ideal time to clean-up and install air conditioners. Women will find that the week will afford a good opportunity for spring cleaning of the house, too.

Beauty of the city would be enhanced considerably if a number of houses here were painted.

The trash pick-up routes will start on Wednesday, three days after the clean-up campaign begins. This will give people ample time to stack their trash at the disposal places for pick-up routes.

Wednesday through Saturday the special city pick-up route will cover all streets and alleys south of Sixth and east of Johnson.

The other two routes will be covered during the week following the clean-up campaign. Monday through Wednesday of that week all streets south of Sixth and west of Johnson will be covered. Then Thursday through Saturday a 11 streets and alleys north of Sixth and west of Union will be included on the pick-up route.

Proclamation

Mayor G. W. Dabney Saturday proclaimed April 17 - 23 Big Spring's annual Clean-Up-Paint-Up-Fix-Up week and urged every citizen to participate in this year's program.

The proclamation was as follows:

WHEREAS, the general health and welfare of our citizens depend upon wholesome surroundings arising from good clean living conditions, and

WHEREAS, the lives and property of our people are endangered by fire and accidents caused by littered and cluttered conditions in homes, factories, places of public assembly, alleys and streets and

WHEREAS, a clean and beautiful community is a proud and prosperous one and

WHEREAS, unity of effort is required for future development of our community,

THEREFORE, I, G. W. Dabney, Mayor of the City of Big Spring, do hereby designate April 17 to 23 inclusive as Clean Up Week and most respectfully call upon all departments of this city, its commercial organizations, civic clubs, schools, churches, boys' and girls' clubs and all other associations and our people in general to take an active part in this constructive program of community improvement to insure its success.

This, the 16th day of April, 1955.

DAR Keeps George Warm

WASHINGTON (AP)—Because of a motherly concern lest the father of his country look cold around the ears, a hat has been added to the design of a George Washington statue to be erected at Gettysburg, Pa.

The statue is sponsored by the Daughters of the American Revolution, whose president general, Miss Gertrude Carraway, disclosed the design change today.

In discussing the program and projects of the 64th annual gathering of the Daughters here next week, she mentioned the DAR memorial bell tower on the Gettysburg battlefield. The DAR raised half a million dollars for this project, and Miss Carraway will tell the Daughters that the carillon of 56 bells has now been electrified.

A four-panel bas-relief of the story of Valley Forge, done by New York sculptor C. Paul Jennewein, is being installed in the memorial tower. Outside will be a statue of Washington by the same artist, carved out of stone from Rockwood, Ala.

Miss Carraway said the original design for this statue had Washington bareheaded. "But we thought it would be too cold for him to have his hat off," said Miss Carraway.

Paint, Repairs, Clean-Up Add To Value Of Property

A homeowner helps himself and his property in more ways than one when he keeps his house painted and in good repair.

Paint, where it's needed, increases the value of a home. Regular painting also protects the structure from deterioration. And it just naturally makes a house more livable — a place the owner and occupant can take pride in owning and residing in.

The same applies to other home maintenance projects — keeping screens, windows and doors in good shape, repairing walk or broken steps, keeping garage doors swinging or sliding freely.

Paint, paper and other protective and decorative steps taken on the inside of a house are worth just as much to the homeowner as improvements made on the outside.

Real estate men say that there is no standard by which the value of such improvements can be gauged, since many other factors enter into the determination of the value of a used house.

But they all agree that such home improvements generally are worth many times their cost in increasing the market value of a home.

As one dealer said, the easiest way to sell $1 worth of paint for $10 is to put it on a house that needs painting. That's one way of saying a $100 paint job will add $1,000 to the value of your house.

Of course, that won't hold true in every instance, since property values also depend on location, size, type of construction, etc. The condition the house is in also goes a

Mrs. Clark Free On Bond

FORT WORTH (AP)—Mrs. Mary Clark, 46, was free today on $10,000 bond in the 1953 slaying of her wealthy oilman husband William P. Clark, 61.

Three other principals in the case, all ex-convicts, remained in jail in lieu of bond. They are Tincy Eggleston, 48, Cecil Green, 39, and Harry Huggins, 48. Police say the trio took up Mrs. Clark's offer of a $10,000 prize for the murder of her husband during a fake robbery.

Eggleston's bond was set at $50,000 with Green's and Huggins' placed at $15,000 each.

Care Of Trash Cans Important To Health

Trash and garbage is an ideal breeding place for insects and rodents, according to Lige Fox, sanitarian in the County Health Unit. Fox placed special emphasis on the proper care of garbage containers.

Each household should have a well sanitized container for their garbage and trash, he said, and it should be scalded and sprayed with insect repellent periodically. When "wet" garbage is placed in the can, it should first be wrapped in some sort of paper to prevent it from sticking to the sides of the can, he added.

If this sticking is not prevented, the garbage can will become a nest of breeding places for mosquitoes and other vermin. Rodents will use the garbage can as a feeding ground, too, he said. Persons should obtain galvanized cans with a firm lid and keep it covered all the time. The 16 and 20 gallon sizes are the best, Fox said.

This size is not too heavy for the collectors and it is much easier to keep clean. The large 55 gallon cans are of little use, he said. Collectors will not pick up garbage collected in them. And cardboard boxes are next to valueless, he added.

There is a city ordinance against cans larger than 30 gallons, he explained. Cans larger than that are much too cumbersome for the use of the collectors.

And empty containers should be collected and disposed of, Fox said, old tires lying around collect water when it rains and these become perfect breeding places for mosquitoes.

There is just no way to lay a tire in the open that will prevent water from collecting in it, he said. Many persons think that the water will dry up, but it stays quite a while. And once a quantity of water has collected, mosquitoes will begin to lay eggs and the first thing you know there is a swarm of them in the neighborhood.

So get a good garbage can with a lid, keep it clean, keep the cover on, throw away old bottles, cans, and ties, and Big Spring will be a much safer and disease-free city.

Wise Use Of Water Helps To Preserve Benefits Of Clean-Up

Benefits of a thorough clean-up campaign can be preserved through beautification. And there is no better way to beautify your premises than to make wise use of water. Perhaps not as many places are retarded due to improper water application as from lack of water, but the facts are that how water is applied has a lot to do with the progress and stamina of your lawn and plants. Fundamental rule is to water thoroughly and less often. "Plants are like people," explains

Johnny Johansen, superintendent of parks and grounds for the City of Big Spring. "They won't go any further than they have to get to the table."

When you water, Johansen cautions, water enough for the moisture to penetrate deeply. Then don't water anymore for several days, depending upon heat, winds, etc. This helps roots penetrate deeply, gaining more staying power for the plant. Daily light sprinklings only cause the roots to stay near the surface where the moisture is so that the real hot weather comes along, the plant wilts and burns.

Use a sprinkler that has a spray which is neither too fine or too coarse. The fine mist will blow and evaporate before maximum benefit can be had; the too coarse sprinkle will cause water to run off before it has time to soak in. Perhaps early morning or late afternoon or evening are the best times to water, principally because there is less evaporation. It is conceivable that plants will be blistered in the heat of the day due to water application, but this is hardly a major hazard. Water has a cooling effect on the soil even in mid-day.

Johansen advises against sprinkling rose bushes late in the evening. Because evaporation is less then, it is possible enough moisture will remain on places of the plant to let fungus get started.

However, an occasional washing or sprinkling of all plants is beneficial. Plants have pores in their leaves, just like the human skin, and they transpire through these pores. When the pores are all stopped with dust, naturally the plant can't do quite as well. Johansen had one final piece of advice to those who wish to preserve the benefits of clean up and tidy up through beautification. It is this: make sure that plants have adequate food. Yard plants are like birds in a cage. Cut off the food supply from a caged bird and pretty soon he is a dead bird. Unless plant food is added occasionally, lawns, flowers, shrubs and even trees can become starved. They just seem to stand still, regress or even die.

New Furniture, Appliance Firm Is Established

The Wasson and Trantham Furniture and Appliance is open and ready for business, according to the owners. The new company is located at the corner of Gregg and Fourth and is a partnership of C. H. Wasson and C. O. Trantham.

The partners plan to carry a complete line of furniture and appliances. They will be distributors for the Westinghouse line of appliances which includes refrigerators, ranges, freezers, home laundries, dish washers, television sets, and radios. They will also handle Wedgewood ranges. They have a complete selection of Stamford living room furniture, Ward and McCoy bedroom furniture, and Sleepcraft mattresses by Seelye. Other products will be baby furniture, chrome dinettes, lamps, lawn furniture, and "Winter Air" coolers.

Wasson came in Big Spring in 1941 and has been employed by an insurance company for nine years and an appliances company for three years. Since 1950, he and Trantham have operated a used furniture store.

Trantham pitched baseball for the Big Spring Broncs back in the late thirties and then moved away. He returned here in 1948 and has worked for himself in the furniture and refrigeration business most of the time. The partners plan to sell their products on an easy payment plan and they will offer delivery service as well as a repair service on their refrigeration appliances. The store occupies approximately 3,600 square feet and is now open for business. Modernistic furniture and other furnishings are on display now. However, a grand opening is planned for May 2 and an extensive celebration is being planned.

Regular Clean-Up Reduces Danger Of Fire Outbreak

Cleaning up old papers that have blown against fences and discarded magazines that have accumulated around the house and garage is a practice that should be followed the year around, not just during "Clean Up, Paint Up, Fix Up Week," according to Fire Chief H. V. Crocker.

Elimination of such not only improves the looks of one's place, Crocker points out, but reduces the threat of fire, as well.

City garbage details stand ready to do their part, added Crocker, if the householders gather the unwanted newspapers and magazines and place them near their garbage cans. The trucks will pick up the matter on their regular runs and take them to the city dump for burning.

People often store things in garages or attics they never really plan to use again but, says Crocker, it not only serves as a fire hazard but takes up valuable space that could be used for storing

'Johnny Dark' Is Feature At Lyric

Racing fans will probably enjoy the Lyric showing of "Johnny Dark" today and Monday. The film stars Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie. Other feature stars are Don Taylor, Paul Kelly, and Ike Chase. The climax of the picture is a road car race between hand-built sport cars of the latest design. Prime contenders for the first place slot are Tony Curtis and Don Taylor. They are also contenders for the hand of Piper Laurie. There are several exciting smash-ups during the race.

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—The nude body of Frank Simmons, 21-year-old caddy, was fished from a creek here yesterday. Police said Simmons apparently had been on a swimming party.

Uncle Billy Mauldin Has His Ninety-Ninth Birthday

Friends have been wondering what happened to Uncle Billy Mauldin.

News of him turned up the other day in an Associated Press dispatch from Chula Vista, Calif. It told how old "Injun" Fighter William H. Mauldin, who rode herd on the renegade Geronimo, had celebrated his 99th birthday.

Uncle Billy is the uncle of Mrs. Mary Ezell, whose mother, the late Mrs. M. E. Barrett, had come to "big spring" when there was nothing but some hide tents to house families of the buffalo hunters. He had hunted both bison and Indians in this general area, and over the years he had returned here for a visit.

He is now at the Federicks Home in Chula Vista, and nurses and patients marked the occasion of his 99th birthday on April 8 with a party and cake. Just to show he was still pretty sharp, Uncle Billy recited the names of all the cow ponies he had ever owned.

This venerable pioneer is the grandfather of Bill Mauldin, the cartoonist who became famous for his Willie and Joe creations during World War II.

next year for his 100th birthday. Mrs. L. C. Medlock, director of health services at the home, said, "That'll be fine." Uncle Billy replied, "I hope I'm here to enjoy it."

$150 Awarded In Suit On Contract

A jury last night found that Billy Cecil Garrett of Waco was damaged to the extent of $150 in what it also found was breach of a contract by Jesse E. Ferrell of Big Spring.

Garrett had asked judgment for a total of $8,250 in the suit against Ferrell. In addition to $750 in damages, he asked $2,500 exemplary and punitive damages and $5,000 for alleged slander.

The suit involved an agreement between Ferrell and Garrett under terms of which Garrett operated a laundry here for Ferrell. Jurors were Carl Lockhart, M. A. Loukamy, Victor Alexander, Fred Beckham, H. V. Hancock, D. H. Schoonover, Ruler Jones, Isaac Medlin, Truman Jones, Carl Eason, Earl Reid and John M. Nobles.

Bunny Appears

Kitty Campbell, 6, is a little bit surprised about it, but there's a larger-than-life-size rabbit there to offer her a loaf of Bunny bread. The big bunny's appearance here was in connection with a promotion campaign to introduce the product in Big Spring, a campaign sparked by heavy newspaper and radio advertising. Mark Anderson, manager of the Bunny Bread Company, reported good acceptance of his product developed after long research on the basis of freshness, flavor, texture and eye-appeal. Kitty Keith, advertising manager, is in charge of the campaign. Kitty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Campbell, 1405 Tucson Road.

Whirlybirds In Korea

Sterling Hayden listens to a battle report from his helicopters over Korea in this scene from "Battle Taxi" starting today and playing through Tuesday at the State. The picture is the story of the Air Rescue Service during the Korean conflict.

'Johnny Dark'

Tony Curtis and Piper Laurie co-star in "Johnny Dark" at the Lyric today and Monday. The race car film is packed with suspense and modernistic sport cars. A border to border race climaxes the action.

A Great Minister's Career Told In 'Man Called Peter'

"Lord, give us courage to stand for something lest we fall for anything" is a sample plea of Peter Marshall who made the prayers in the U. S. Senate an important event and made him a national figure.

And his story starts today at the Ritz in "A Man Called Peter" in CinemaScope and color. Peter Marshall was a lonely boy in Scotland when he first decided to journey to America. From these lowly beginnings, he rose to be Chaplain of the United States Senate and much respected for his "folksy" attitude toward his Father.

His wife Catherine has written many books about the popular pastor and this film was taken from her best selling novel of the same name. In the film, Richard Todd plays Peter and Jean Peters plays his wife, Catherine. Also starring in the picture are Les Tremayne, Robert Burton, and Gloria Gordon.

Most interesting fact about Peter was his intimate and close relationship with God. After a talk with his Father, Peter traveled from his native Scotland to America and arrived here with only $50 in his pocket and no trade to follow for a livelihood.

He works as a laborer and a proof-reader to earn his way through a theological seminary. After that, comes a small pastorate in Georgia. After three years there, he goes to Atlanta where he gains a reputation for his unorthodox preaching among the young people at a nearby college. And there he meets his future wife, Catherine.

After marrying Catherine, they are called to Washington where Peter becomes pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, the "Church of Presidents." He wins wide popularity in the capitol and his church is filled to overflowing each Sunday.

The pair give birth to a son and then Catherine is stricken with tuberculosis. She no longer recovers when Peter is hit by a heart attack while in the pulpit. He almost dies but gradually recovers. He treats the attack casually with the statement, "God just didn't happen to want me."

The illness increases the fervor of his sermons and he is asked to become Chaplain of the Senate. He accepts and changes the prayers from their customary perfunctory response.

One evening after a walk with his wife and son, he is again stricken by a heart attack. This time, all his courage and faith are put to the supreme test.

The film is a tribute to the life of a great man, and to his wife, and to his faith. It is a story that only his wife could have written. Read the book; see the movie. Hollywood rarely reaches the heights displayed in this picture. Many of Peter's sermons are re-spoken, all of them good. The picture plays through Wednesday.

Grace Kelly In 'Green Fire' At Ritz Thursday

"Green Fire," starring Stewart Granger, Grace Kelly, and Paul Douglas will play at the Ritz Thursday through Saturday.

Granger plays an adventurer who has discovered an emerald mine in a mountain in South America. To exploit the hidden wealth, Granger hires laborers from a nearby coffee plantation owned by Grace Kelly.

The two are in love which only serves to complicate matters as they are opponents businesswise. Paul Douglas is Granger's partner but he is opposed to the plan of mining the mountain also.

Finally, Miss Kelly's brother is killed when the mine collapses and this only embitters her more toward the mining operation. Granger proceeds and finds that he must divert a river which will flood her plantation to get at the wealth of his dreams.

The sultry Charlita, who doped in "Ride, Vagabond" returns to the screen in this picture. However she does no dancing but plays a love sick girl in pursuit of Granger.

The movie is in color and CinemaScope.

Murder Thriller, 'Black 13,' On State Calendar

A psychological murder mystery, which was filmed in England with English actors, is the film fare at the State Wednesday and Thursday. "Black 13" stars Peter Reynolds and Ronald Anderson.

The stars are relatively unknown in this country, but in Great Britain they have made names for themselves on the stage and screen. Hollywood studios are well known in this country for their superb story content and brilliant acting. This film is no exception. Suspense and careful direction will hold your interest until the last scene when the implicated culprit is finally caught. And he is a psychologically unbalanced killer. Don't miss this one. Foreign films are few and far between and they are keeping Hollywood on its toes.

With Faith In God

Richard Todd and Jean Peters play Peter and Catherine Marshall in "A Man Called Peter" beginning today at the Ritz. The film is a CinemaScope and color production of the life story of a man who rose to be the Chaplain of the U. S. Senate and who made the prayers of that political body take on true meaning. An excellent motion picture and rival of "The Robe" for popularity.

Crazylegs Hirsch Stars In Story Of Prisoners

"Unchained" plays Friday and Saturday at the State starring Elroy Hirsch and Barbara Hale.

The film is a semi-documentary story of the Chino Prison in California. It was adapted from the book "Prisoners Are People" by Kenyon J. Scudder. Scudder was the first warden of the prison. It was largely through his efforts that the "new style" prison was built in 1941.

Chino Prison is a jail without bars and each prisoner is on his honor not to leave it. There are no walls, or no sadistic guards connected with it.

Elroy Hirsch, star of the picture, is remembered for his outstanding football career and his first film, "Crazylegs," in which he portrayed the story of his own life. He plays an inmate for the Chino Prison and the movie documents the actions and thoughts of men deprived of a place in society for their felonious acts.

Air Rescue Work is Dramatized in Film

"Battle Taxi" stars Sterling Hayden and Arthur Franz at the State, beginning today and playing through Tuesday.

This picture is the story of the Army Air Force's Air Rescue Service. Some of the story is during the Korean conflict when the Service made many thousands of flights behind enemy lines on rescue work. Sterling Hayden plays the commander of a group which makes many daring flights in their helicopters to save the lives of their fellow servicemen.

CINEMA COMMENT

By Glenn Coates

Grace Kelly, starring in "Green Fire" at the Ritz, has been in Hollywood less than two years, yet she has made a notable record. She was nominated for an Academy Award for her performance in "Mogambo," her first picture. Following that, she starred in "Dial M For Murder," "Rear Window," "The Bridges of Toko-ri," and "The Country Girl." As you know she won an Oscar for her performance in the last one. Only six pictures and she has won an Academy Award and nominated for another one. Miss Kelly is one of the brightest stars on the Hollywood firmament.

It's probably a good thing for the Big Spring audience that Hollywood hasn't come out with "Smellscape" especially during the run of "African Adventure" at the Terrace. An African waterbuck appears in one scene, and although it is a beautiful animal, it carries an insect repellent in its hide which smells about like a skunk — in king size portions. There is one thing to thank science for.

Allen Rivkin, writer of the screenplay for "Prisoner of War," interviewed approximately 331 repatriated American soldiers before writing the story for the picture. Some of these prisoners had spent as much as 33 months in a prison camp.

He said one Air Force officer told him he had withstood Red tortures for over 30 days before he signed a "confession" that he had dropped "germ bombs" on innocent civilians — and that was only after his captors placed maggots on his open wounds. This is just one of the incidents that went into the filming of the picture.

The Federal Correctional Institute at Seagoville, Texas, was modeled after the Chino Prison in California which is the location for "Unchained" at the State next week. The two institutes are the only ones of their kind in this country. Neither of them employ armed guards nor do they have fences or gun towers.

Inmates are allowed to have radios, newspapers, soft drinks, and many other privileges. They visit with their relatives in a large recreation room instead of through bars or wire windows. They are never addressed as "prisoner," or "convict." Always as "inmate." Rehabilitation is the sole purpose of the "honor institutions." This type of prison was conceived and backed by the first warden of Chino Prison, Kenyon J. Scudder.

Believe it or not, but there have been 73 motion picture titles beginning with the word "black" since 1915. The 74th one, "Black 13" plays at the State next week. Like many other of the pictures beginning with the word, the current offering is a mystery story. Filmed in England, where mystery is apparently a national pastime, this one is a psychological murder drama.

In 1917, Bogart enlisted in the Navy and was fitted with size seven and five eighths hat, a 36-inch neck size shirt, a 32-inch jacket and a 32-inch waist pair of trousers. When he reported for his assignment in the "Caine Mutiny" studio lot, Bogart was measured and the sizes were exactly the same for all of his necessary Navy uniforms.

'Caine Mutiny' Returns To Jet

"The Caine Mutiny" starring Humphrey Bogart, Jose Ferrer, Van Johnson, Fred MacMurray, and May Wynns begins Tuesday and plays through Friday on a return run at the Jet Drive-in.

Following closely on the heels of the stage production here last week of the court-martial scene starring William Bendix as Capt. Queeg, the movie embraces the complete story as related in Herman Wouk's Pulitzer Prize winning novel.

Unlike the play, the movie portrays all the events which lead up to court-martial scene. Bogart plays a convincing part as Queeg and Ferrer also turns in a good performance as defense counsel Greenwald. Van Johnson plays the executive officer Maryk who relieves Bogart of his command and is later court-martialed. MacMurray is the intellectual author who urges Maryk to take the step.

Korean Prison Drama Offered At The Lyric

"Prisoner of War" plays Tuesday and Wednesday at the Lyric and stars Ronald Reagan and Dewey Martin.

The picture is a story of a group of American soldiers who are captured by the Chinese Communists in Korea. The film portrays the long hard march to the prison camp near the Yalu River which many of the men found difficult to make. Still others never made it at all.

Then, the life in the prison camps is starkly illustrated by the tortuous methods that the Communists imposed on the Americans. Reagan plays a prisoner who seemingly accepts communism and becomes a "Progressive." However, he is actually a U. S. agent who is trying to gain information and pass it back to the government.

There is another prisoner who actually goes over to the other side and his portrayal of the part might be partially explanatory of the reasons why some soldiers did accept communism as a faith. All of the terror of Red "brainwashing" is dramatized in the picture.

Lutherans Honor Rev. A. H. Hoyer During Convention

AUSTIN — Seventeen Lutheran ministers and teachers were honored this week by the Texas District of the Lutheran Church for long-time service to their denomination.

In the group was Rev. Adolph H. Hoyer, pastor of the St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Big Spring. He was honored for 35 years of service. Mrs. Hoyer also was recognized as a faithful companion and assistant to Rev. Hoyer.

In a special service at the 34th annual convention of the district, Rev. W. E. Doore of Fort Worth preached the sermon, and the Rev. A. F. Jesse of Austin, first vice president of the district, presented scrolls of recognition.

Accompanying Rev. and Mrs. Hoyer to the convention from Big Spring was Gus Oppgaard. Mrs. Hoyer visits the couple's son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Wilmer A. Hoyer of Houston, during the week.

Demand For Books On The Upswing At County Library

Patrons of the Howard County Library are checking out an increasing number of books, according to librarian Opal McDaniel. The total books in circulation during March was almost 700 more than in February and over 1,200 more than in January, she said. Total books checked out in March was 5,765; for February, 5,081; and for January, 4,439. Several days in March as many as 400 books were placed in circulation, she added.

Adult fiction was the most popular type of book for March, Mrs. McDaniel said. Such books accounted for 2,598 of the total. Adult non-fiction totaled 665, juvenile fiction totaled 1,599, juvenile non-fiction was 384 and pre-school-age books totaled 579.

The library added 94 books to the shelves during March. The librarian purchased 73 and 21 books were donated. Finea were up for March also, she said. A record $55.47 was levied and collected in fines for overdue books. This compares with $67.29 in February and $63.55 in January.

A shipment of approximately 30 books was received in the library this week. Most of them will be ready for circulation Monday, Mrs. McDaniel said.

Many of them are of best seller caliber and will probably be in much demand, the librarian said. One in particular:

"Coromandel" by John Masters. This book is the third in a series of the authors' projected fictional history of the English occupation of India. The previous books, illustrative material, Rodman also

The total books in circulation during March was almost 700 more than in February and over 1,200 more than in January, she said. Total books checked out in March was 5,765; for February, 5,081; and for January, 4,439. Several days in March as many as 400 books were placed in circulation, she added.

Adult fiction was the most popular type of book for March, Mrs. McDaniel said. Such books accounted for 2,598 of the total. Adult non-fiction totaled 665, juvenile fiction totaled 1,599, juvenile non-fiction was 384 and pre-school-age books totaled 579.

The library added 94 books to the shelves during March. The librarian purchased 73 and 21 books were donated. Finea were up for March also, she said. A record $55.47 was levied and collected in fines for overdue books. This compares with $67.29 in February and $63.55 in January.

A shipment of approximately 30 books was received in the library this week. Most of them will be ready for circulation Monday, Mrs. McDaniel said.

Many of them are of best seller caliber and will probably be in much demand, the librarian said. One in particular:

"Coromandel" by John Masters. This book is the third in a series of the authors' projected fictional history of the English occupation of India. The previous books, illustrative material, Rodman also

"Nightrunners of Bengal" and "Bhowani Junction," were both on best seller lists. This one is about a boy, Jason Savage, who saw a name, Coromandel, on a blood-soaked map of India and decided to journey there from his native England. He works hard and leaves his farm to travel to London and then on to India. Time of the novel is 1827 and persons liking historical novels should find this one above average.

"My Zoo Family" by Helen Martini.

Mrs. Martini has played as nursemaid to almost every animal in her husband's zoo. Mr. Martini is head keeper of the Lion House of the Bronx Zoo. At various times his wife has been the foster mother to jaguars, leopards, lions, tigers, gorillas, marmosets, and deer. In this book, she tells of these many experiences.

"The Day Lincoln Was Shot" by Jim Bishop.

The book starts at 7 a.m. April 14, 1865 and closes 24 hours later. It is an hour by hour account of the momentous events that took place in that period, the assassination of the President responsible for the War Between the States.

"Haiti: The Black Republic" by Selden Rodman.

This one is a complete guide and history of a little known country. The author covers the story of the Republic from the time of Columbus right up to the presidency of today's Paul Magloire. There are 45 pages of photographs and a large number of maps and other illustrative material. Rodman also

MAGAZINE SECTION APRIL 17, 1955

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

A united economist forecasts the weather. WHAT'S AHEAD FOR AMERICA'S MILLIONS?

I was just thinking...

... ONE OF THE FINEST MEN I know has been sitting down for 30 years.

Not by choice. His back was broken a long time ago. Nothing broke his spirit.

When he stands, he stands only with the strength born of suffering. When he walks, he must be held in place like a mechanical doll on a stick. But there is an alchemy in him. Once you have looked into his eyes and heard him speak, you never remember again that the temple of his body is marble in a wheel chair.

He is a poet. His friends are Robert Frost and J. Frank Dobie, the great authority of the Southwest. He is a farmer, and in Summer he guides a tractor through his fields and stores up sonnets with the seed.

He is a teacher, and about him is the love and devotion of the young minds who have sat beside him and heard the quiet voice and been inspired to more than words.

But though he lives not as other men live, he has tasted a man's pain. He has known the happiness of a marriage and the bitterness of its death. And he died a little, too, I know, when they carried him to the cemetery to watch the brief brightness of her presence denied him.

But he has never asked for pity and he has not received it. His house is filled with memory and reality. Those who seek him out often do so for purely selfish reasons. He gives so much and asks nothing. He has been the confidante of the unhappy and the rejoicer with the blessed. The flame of his courage burns as brightly as his fire on Winter afternoons.

I think there must be many who envy him. He has found new happiness hand-in-hand with a new marriage born of years of friendship. His walls are lined with good books and good paintings. There are flowers at his window and the smell of growing things in his fields.

Sometimes I wonder how great a loss the power to walk is to a man like that.

How fortunate for us who love him that he was chosen to be less a cultivator of the soil than of the soul.

Patsy Johnson

As You Were Saying...

SHALL OUR KIDS BE SCRIBBLERS, TOO?

How can we teach our youngsters to write legibly when our great statesmen, business leaders, and men of letters sign their names with a scrawl?

I have received any number of business letters and not been able to decipher the signatures. Are we getting too lazy to write clearly? Is it too much trouble to make an "n" look like an "n"—so it won't be mistaken for a "u"? If it were possible to type all letters, it would be a help, but signatures are very important and should be written with care.—Violet P. Stefanich, Fort Myers Beach, Fla.

The Family vs. Television

You've probably heard people say, "After television comes into your home, you'll find no time for family reading or other family activities."

That's true—if you let it be true. It depends on what you want to do together as a family. If you want to sit together passively and be entertained, if you want to let others think for you, you can have it that way. But don't blame TV. Television will influence your family life only insofar as you let it.

Some say the days are gone when the family would sit down together to read the Bible, a devotional classic, a novel. No doubt that's true for many families, but not for everybody. If TV has disrupted the family reading period, there may not have been much interest in it in the first place.

Television, like many other things which have threatened family unity in the past, can easily be controlled. All it takes is discipline.—Kurt Hartmann, Pflugerville, Texas.

Why Are Some People So Unkind?

As the mother of a teen-age handicapped daughter, I am often asked, "What do you find the hardest situation to cope with?"

The answer is: the public! Why do people think that because one is physically handicapped it is perfectly proper to ask (usually before the wheel-chair patient), "How is she mentally?" "What's the matter with her?" "Is she ailing?" "Can't she walk?"

Other people give advice on what to do, or they tell me of a case cured by a doctor in some far-off city although they don't even know what's wrong with my daughter.

Ironically, my daughter at 14 has acquired more friends through her good manners and tact than all of these crude people put together.—Mrs. Gustave V. Lehtonen, Bethany, Conn.

How to Make Birthdays Happier

Instead of a birthday book, I keep a Friendship File. For a small sum I bought an alphabetical-index file like those used for recipes. In it I enter the names of friends and relatives whom I intend to remember during the year, and I allot one card for each name.

Whenever I talk with one of these persons and he casually mentions something he'd like, I make a mental note of it. Later I write it on his card. By the time his birthday arrives, I find I usually have several things listed. Thus I can choose a gift he really wants at a price I can afford.

The delight of the recipient when he receives something he truly wanted is rich reward for the tiny effort involved in keeping my Friendship File.—Louise G. Peters, West Palm Beach, Fla.

Give Them the Wide Open Spaces

More than two years ago my husband and I moved from the East Coast to the Nevada desert. Our families thought we were journeying to the world's end, and even today they constantly express sympathy for us. But we have never been so happy among newly made friends.

The spirit of friendliness is instilled in nearly everyone here.

This probably stems from the fact that we're not crowded and thus do not suffer the feeling of encroachment which people in densely populated places have.—M. M., Babbitt, Nev.

Rip Van Winkle, 1955 Version

My little girl friend who lives next door came in for her usual story hour, as she has been doing ever since she could understand reading. She was greatly impressed by the story of Rip Van Winkle and his experiences.

When I reached the place where Rip awakened from his "nap" and discovered he had grown a long beard, Kitty quickly pushed the book shut, climbed down from her chair beside me, and said, "I'll have to go home now and look at Daddy. He was taking a nap when I left."—Mrs. A. L. Harrison, Waco, Texas.

GLORIOUS AZALEAMUMS

You'll Get Thousands of Super-Blooming Flowers Like These This Summer
Every Plant in Your Dream Garden Collection is GUARANTEED to Bloom!

CARNATION QUEEN—(Patent Pending) A new beautiful 1954 introduction. The plant grows to about 18-24" tall, full of beautiful rich pink flowers which resemble a Carnation bloom. This type flower is very new and distinct. It will produce up to about 600 flowers the first year double that amount the second year. Colors change with the weather, often giving you several different beautiful shades of one hue.

QUEEN MARY—(Patent Pending) A new 1955 introduction with beautiful rich yellow Azaleum type flowers. The petals are double with a very contrasting yellow center. Flowers measure about 2" across and will produce about 400 flowers the first year. The plant grows about 18-24" in height. The Azaleum type is a new odd distinct hardy type flower. The center of the flower is so distinct that you actually still have a beautiful flower after the outer petals drop off.

MAIDEN'S DREAM—(Patent Pending) New 1955 introduction which grows from 18-24" tall and will produce up to about 600 flowers the first year. Very beautiful peach color which is new in the Azaleum color class. Flowers are about 2" across. The plant grows very full and compact which gives you the appearance of one solid mass of bloom. Even after freezing weather sets in buds will continue to come forth and flowers which will give you flowers up until extreme cold weather.

How would you like to make your garden the talk of the town this summer by flooding it with veritable walls of super blooming flowers that flame into gigantic fireball plants the size of bushel baskets . . . miracle plants that are weighted down with solid masses of spectacular blooms that change their colors from bronze-red to cardinal, from gold to orange? How would you like the thrill of being able to grow varieties that no gardener ever saw before 1951 . . . gorgeous varieties THAT ARE AVAILABLE TO THE PUBLIC IN LIMITED QUANTITIES FOR THE FIRST TIME THIS SPRING! . . . How would you like to set your landscape ablaze with plants of such fantastic blooming power that they produce over 600 flowers on a single plant . . . every single flower a full 2" and in some varieties up to 3" across!

Greatest Flowering Plant On Earth

How would you like to grow flowers that are so gloriously beautiful that they look like blooms from another world . . . flowers that bloom in an unbroken mass in Mid-August, September, October, November, right up to the first hard frost! These miracle Azaleamums have been so perfectly developed by plant scientists that they will thrive in practically any type of soil with only a few minutes care during the entire growing season . . . even if you've never planted a seed nor grown a flower before in your life, you can have a garden that is out of this world . . . beyond your fondest dreams in beauty and splendor! Flowering plants that will be worth many times their value next year though they cost you less than 1/6 of a cent a blossom!

Amazing Plant Discovered in Texas

While vacationing in Texas in 1952, a garden expert discovered a strange-looking plant that seemed at first glance to be a low-spreading azalea bush topped with a mass of blooms. But azaleas flower in the spring and this was the middle of September! On close examination each flower proved to be a flaming red chrysanthemum. Feverish with excitement, he brought his discovery to Emil Prushek, chief breeder and plant hybridizer of R. M. Kellogg Company, one of the world's leading nurseries, and there the great work of Emil Prushek began . . . to develop a super-blooming new breed of flower from this one plant.

How Famous Plant Hybridizer Changed Nature

After ten years of work and nearly 2000 experiments Prushek discovered he could change the color of this amazingly beautiful flower from red to orange, from orange to yellow. He actually penetrated the mysteries of nature to change the yellow flower to white and the pink to orchid. He made each flower 1 1/2 times larger and he discovered that where each bloom grew before he could now grow as many as 3!

BLAZING RED—PLANT PATENT NO. 1177. Inaugural Mass. then 600 blossoms blooming in the sun like a beautiful ball of fire. Or mass the Blazing Red together for an overwhelming display up to four feet across. Multiply year after year. Blossoms 2 1/2" across, sometimes larger.

400 Flowers From Single Azaleamum

Finally, after 10 years of work and more than 10,000 experiments came the greatest triumph of all when Prushek developed the Blazing Red Azaleamum! A single one of these spectacular plants will give you 600 or more beautiful flame-colored blossoms this summer and fall . . . Each plant will be covered with fiery red blossoms stretching 2 1/2 feet high and up to 2 feet across this year . . . double that flowering area next year!

20 Minutes To Plant—Blossoms 4 Months

You can have the Dream Garden of Your Neighborhood with just six of these famous patented Kellogg Azaleamum plants! Plants that will bloom in color splashed masses so densely packed with flowers scarcely a leaf will show . . . plants that bloom in flowering walls and hedges so alive with brilliance that no artist can capture their full beauty. Just scoop out 6 holes and plant six super-blooming Azaleamums to food your terrace, your porch, your beds or borders. 2,000 blossoms this year, 10,000 next!

Defies Frost—Stays Colorful Longer!

Azaleamums are such hardy plants they will bloom with even deeper fire and splendor as the cold weather approaches . . . even after the first hoar-frost. Azaleamums are so eager to burst into bloom that you can pick them by the basketful . . . and watch new masses of buds erupt in full new blooms within a week or ten days time! When other flowers in your garden are dying your Azaleamums will flower in blazing beauty!

What's Ahead for America's Millions?

by Dr. Leo Barnes, Chief economist, Prentice-Hall, Inc., and author of "Your Investments"

New capital equipment like this big sand hopper is helping boost 1955 production.

Something new for the farmer: a combine made especially for hilly land.

The stock market should continue rising but not dramatically.

This is how General Electric scientists visualize the television receiver of the future.

Here is a heartening analysis and forecast of business conditions by a noted author and economist.

THE WISHES you made last December 31st for "a prosperous New Year" are on their way to coming marvelously true. In fact, 1955 may prove to be the best year in U. S. history.

We're likely to produce some $370 billion worth of goods and services this year. The national output was $357 billion in 1954 and $365 billion in 1953.

As Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks says in an economic report prepared for the readers of FAMILY WEEKLY: "Good times are ahead for America's families. The year 1954 was the most prosperous peacetime year in our history and it points to an even better 1955."

Whether the current upturn will lead to a long-term "boom" seems to depend on two questions: Will this year bring peaceful co-existence between democracy and communism—or war? If peace prevails, how big a program will the government undertake in public works and foreign aid?

Conscious of the administration's responsibility to stimulate jobs, Secretary Weeks reports that "pockets of unemployment are a matter of deep concern to your government." And he declares that in the months to come "we shall not relax our efforts."

Barring war, I believe that price levels should continue stable. There will be very moderate declines in food prices during 1955, but clothing will cost you more. Rises in the cost of housing and other services will continue, but at a slower pace.

Only a few sections of American industry will fail to match their 1954 performances. Most of them will show moderate gains over last year. This seems to be the outlook for some specific industries:

Agricultural Equipment: With net farm income slated to drop from $12½ billion to $12 billion, sales will probably be about the same as in 1954. This is 10 to 15 percent below the $2.2 billion worth of farm equipment sold during 1953.

Apparel: Manufacturers' sales will probably exceed last year's by four to seven percent, while prices will rise one to three percent above those of 1954.

Appliances: Most household appliances are expected to continue their vigorous comeback. Sales of freezers should increase eight to 12 percent; driers, 15 to 20 percent.

Automobiles: The year should turn out to be one of the best on record. Sales for the 12-month period will probably be close to the good performance of 1954.

Building: Construction outlays should reach about $39 billion, some six percent better than 1954's record level. The drop in industrial construction will be more moderate than previously expected and residential building is expected to exceed 1954 expenditures by about 12 percent. Secretary Weeks believes the "construction boom should accelerate in 1955."

Chemicals: Faster business tempo and good export prospects should push this year's sales moderately above last year's. In general, prices should remain steady, but some weakness may result from overcapacity, improved production methods, and lower prices by foreign competitors.

Dairy Products: Another good year, with sales exceeding 1954 by two to four percent. Cut in government price supports has increased consumption and reduced surpluses.

Electrical Utilities: Improving industrial use, with steadily expanding residential consumption, will boost power sales five to

New construction during 1955 may reach $39 billion or six percent more than last year's record level.

The automobile industry expects 1955 to be one of the biggest sales years in history.

"Best Days Are Yet to Come"

In his special economic report for FAMILY WEEKLY, Commerce Secretary Weeks declares: "Vision to see economic growth possibilities for several years ahead will help make 1955 a year of unbridled prosperity. Faith in tomorrow means economic action today. By 1960 our population should be about 130 million—an increase one million greater than the entire present population of Canada."

"With faith in God and in ourselves, we cannot fail to go forward to a happier, healthier, more prosperous future. Truly, our best days are yet to come."

What 25 Top Economists Predict

A survey of 25 top business economists by the Research Institute of America shows that, in 1955, they expect the United States to achieve an economic gain not exceeding 2 1/2 percent. "The danger is not depression, that is out of the picture for 1955," says the Institute. "The danger is the possible loss of public confidence as we lose the line between recession and full employment, apparently unable to get off, while production and population grow."

seven percent. Effective capacity will be increased about 13 million kilowatts.

Food Processing: This is one of the few industries which reached new highs last year, but 1955 should see more gains. Frozen foods will continue to be the fastest-moving, but canned goods also will do better than in 1954.

Machine Tools: In 1954 manufacturers lived to a great extent off the backlog of orders received during the Korean conflict, but with the backlog vanishing, production in 1955 will be geared to incoming orders. Some pick-up is being noted, but it's not apt to be enough to sustain sales at the 1954 rate of $900 million.

Petroleum: The demand for oil will expand three to five percent. Inventories have been cut and are no longer a major problem.

Retail Trade: Stores are expected to set new records in 1955, ringing up sales between $172 billion and $178 billion—one to four percent above the 1954 level. Retailers' biggest headache—narrow profit margins—will continue because labor costs will increase, there'll be fierce competition, and the spread of discount selling won't permit higher markups.

Steel: Production should climb nine to 13 percent, to between 95 and 98 million tons. This output would still be under the peak production of 1951 and 1953, and equal about 80 percent of the industry's current capacity.

Stock Market: The bull market seems likely to continue, although less dramatically than in 1954. Secondary issues that are "behind the market" will draw more attention than the blue chips which set the pace in 1954.

If occasional business readjustments develop in 1955, the government will wield its power to stabilize and stimulate the economy. For, in order to stay in political power, no administration will long tolerate unemployment of more than three million persons.

If you want a guide to America's economic future, look back over the past few years. You'll find it difficult to avoid the conclusion that at last this nation has learned how to avoid serious depressions.

For the first time in history, we have had a major world war, followed by the usual post-war boom, but not followed by a deep depression. It seems that our capitalist system, as modified over the past generations, has finally managed to eliminate the worst excesses of the traditional business cycle.

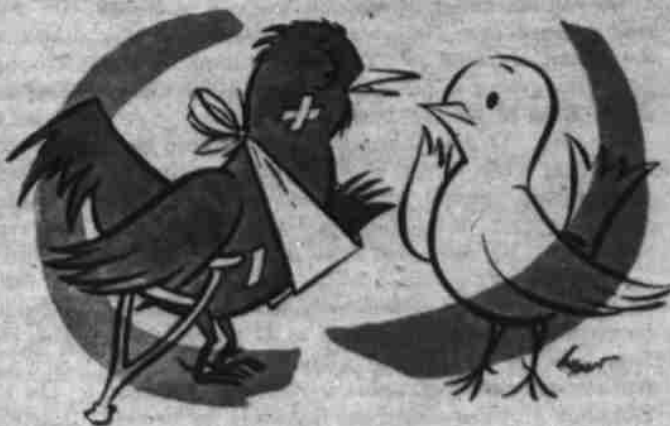

"Sorry, folks—but I just remembered this is the day of the week I put Drano in all the drains."

There's not a shadow of a doubt about it—dangerous sewer germs do lurk in every drain. No liquid disinfectant can budge the muck they breed in. It takes Drano to unclog drains and keep them running free and clear. Use Drano once a week—every week. Won't harm septic tanks. Makes them work better. Get Drano today at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also available in Canada.

There's nothing like DRANO . . . to keep drains free-running and sanitary.

"I didn't even see the window—they'd cleaned it with Windex Spray!"

Word travels fast about Windex Spray. For it cleans windows, mirrors, all kinds of glass surfaces in half the time it takes other glass cleaners. And glass shines bright; stays bright longer! For there's no waxy dust to clean afterward—no waxy film to attract dust later.

Windex Spray is a thrifty buy, too. Specially economical in the big 20-oz. refill size. Get it today at your grocery, drug or hardware store. Also sold in Canada.

So fast, easy, thrifty, it outdoes all other glass cleaners combined!

Elegant crêpes are international favorites under many names!

Blender-born strawberry pie, that takes half the time, is twice as easy and infinitely delicious.

Blender Magic

Crêpes à l'Orange

Base Recipe—Sophisticated crêpes—really so easy to make in a blender! Exciting for parties and delightful for family fare.

For Orange Butter—Cream together until butter is softened

6 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons orange juice

Continue to cream mixture while gradually adding

6 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Blend thoroughly. If prepared long in advance, cover and store in refrigerator. (Butter should be soft when spread over crêpes.)

For Orange Sauce—Rub until flavorful oils are absorbed

6 cubes of loaf sugar over

1 lemon peel
1 orange peel

Dissolve sugar in ½ cup orange juice, strained

Set aside.

Cream

½ cup butter
2 tablespoons confectioners' sugar

Store sweetened butter and sweetened orange juice in refrigerator until ready to use.

For Crêpes—Lightly butter a 6-in. skillet.

Melt and set aside
2 tablespoons butter

Measure and set aside
1 cup sifted flour

Add to blender container, in order
1 cup milk
3 eggs, unbeaten
¼ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt

Add melted butter and flour to blender container; cover and blend just until smooth.

Heat the skillet moderately hot. Pour in just enough batter to cover bottom. Immediately tilt skillet back and forth to spread batter thinly and evenly.

Cook each crêpe over medium heat until light brown on bottom and firm to touch on top. Loosen edges with a spatula. Turn and brown second side. It should be unnecessary to grease skillet for each crêpe.

As each crêpe is cooked, transfer it to a hot platter, spread generously with Orange Butter, and roll.

When all are cooked, set platter in oven to keep crêpes warm while completing the sauce.

In a chafing dish or a large skillet, melt the butter mixture for the Orange Sauce and blend in the sweetened orange juice. Heat thoroughly. Add the crêpes, a few at a time, until all have absorbed some of the sauce and are well heated.

Serve immediately, allowing 3 crêpes for each serving.

16 to 18 crêpes

Crêpes with Jelly

Follow Base Recipe, using an 8-in. skillet. Omit Orange Butter and Orange Sauce. Spread crêpes with currant jelly and roll. Sprinkle with confectioners' sugar just before serving.

BLENDER TIP—For a delicious luncheon main dish, prepare crêpes, omitting the Orange Butter and Orange Sauce. Fill crêpes with a creamy crab-meat mixture, top with a Mornay sauce, and serve hot.

Banana Cake

Grease bottoms of two 8-in. round layer cake pans. Line with waxed paper cut to fit pan bottoms. Grease waxed paper.

Sift together into a large bowl and set aside

2 cups sifted cake flour

1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt

Peel and cut into pieces

2 to 3 bananas with all-yellow or brown-flecked peel (or enough to make 1 cup banana purée)

Cover blender and turn on motor. Add bananas by pieces, blending until puréed (of same consistency throughout). Empty blender container.

Put into the blender container

2 eggs, unbeaten

Cover and blend for a few seconds. Turn off motor and add to blender container in order

½ cup hydrogenated vegetable shortening or all-purpose shortening

1 cup sugar

2 teaspoons vanilla extract

Add banana purée, cover, blend 2 min.

Using a rubber spatula, scrape down sides of container and blend a few seconds longer.

Add gradually, stirring after each addition, two thirds of blended mixture to sifted dry ingredients. Stir until well blended (total strokes about 100). Add remaining blended mixture all at one time; mix until smooth. Turn batter into prepared pans.

Bake at 350°F 25 to 30 min., or until a wooden pick or cake tester comes out clean when inserted in center of cake layer, or until cake layer springs back when touched lightly at center.

Cool cake layers 10 min. in pans on cooling racks. After cooling, run spatula gently around sides of pan. Cover with cooling rack. Invert and remove pan. Immediately peel off waxed paper and turn cake layer right-side up. Repeat for the second layer. Cool completely.

Two 8-in. round cake layers

Frosty Frappé

Pretty and refreshing—a year-round treat! Again your blender rates compliments for this fruit frappé of icy elegance. Pile it into chilled sherbet glasses and poke short straws into the frappé. Watch faces light with joy as friends sip the melting ice.

Set refrigerator control at coldest operating temperature.

Rinse, peel, cut into quarters, and remove seeds from

2 oranges

Put orange pieces into blender container. Cover and turn on motor. Add by pieces 2 bananas with brown-flecked peel, peeled and cut in pieces and ¼ lemon, rinsed and seeds removed Cover and blend until smooth with the same consistency throughout.

Empty about one-half blender contents into a bowl.

Add to the remaining blended mixture
3 cups water
½ cup sugar

Cover and blend about 30 sec. longer. Combine the blended mixtures; mix thoroughly and pour into a refrigerator tray. Put into freezing compartment of refrigerator. Freeze until mixture is of mushy consistency.

Serve partially frozen in chilled sherbet glasses. If desired, garnish with mint sprigs.

Peachy Strawberry Ice-Cream Pie

Prepare
Strawberry Ice Cream (one-half recipe)

Thaw according to directions on package

1 pkg. (12 oz.) frozen, sliced peaches

Prepare, bake, and set aside to cool

One 9-in. pie shell (pastry or crumb crust)

Spoon Strawberry Ice Cream into pie shell. Top with the sliced peaches.

Serve immediately.

One 9-in. pie

Strawberry Ice Cream

Tuck this recipe away for that day when fresh strawberries and raspberries are plentiful. An abundance of berries is no problem with a blender at hand. Store quarts of luscious homemade berry ice cream in your home freezer and enjoy the full flavor of ripe, red berries whenever you choose.

Set refrigerator control at coldest operating temperature. Refrigerator trays or 3 1-qt. freezer containers will be needed. Set in refrigerator to chill a bowl, beater, and

1 qt. whipping cream

Rinse, hull, sort, and put into a large bowl

1½ qts. fresh strawberries

Mix with strawberries

2¼ cups sugar

Cover bowl and allow strawberries to stand 30 min., or until sugar has dissolved and sirup formed.

Put into the blender container
½ cup unsweetened pineapple juice

Add one-half the strawberries and sirup.

Cover and blend just until fruit is chopped. Empty contents of blender container into a large bowl. Put remaining strawberries and sirup into blender container and blend just until fruit is chopped. Turn contents of blender container onto berries in bowl and mix well. Turn mixture into refrigerator trays and set into freezer compartment of refrigerator. Freeze until mixture is of mushy consistency, stirring occasionally. A few minutes before strawberry mixture is of desired consistency, prepare whipped cream. Using the chilled bowl and beater, beat 1 cup of the chilled whipping cream. Beat until cream is of medium consistency (piles softly). Prepare remaining chilled whipping cream, one cup at a time, following the same procedure. Combine whipped cream. When the strawberry mixture is of desired consistency, blend thoroughly into the whipped cream.

Turn mixture into the refrigerator trays or freezer containers and freeze until firm.

3 qts. Strawberry Ice Cream

Double Strawberry Parfait Pie

Set refrigerator control at coldest operating temperature.

Prepare, bake, and set aside to cool

One 9-in. pie shell (pastry or crumb crust)

Note: Cookie or graham-cracker crumbs are easily prepared in a blender if procedure is followed as in Graham-Cracker Cake.

Four into blender container

1¼ cups hot (not quite boiling) water

Add contents of

1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin

Cover and blend until gelatin is completely dissolved.

Continue to blend while adding by heaping spoonfuls

1½ pts. Strawberry Ice Cream

Blend just until mixture is smooth.

Set blender container into refrigerator to chill 15 to 20 min., or until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon.

While gelatin mixture is chilling, rinse, hull, and sort

1 pt. fresh strawberries

Add about one half of the strawberries to the blender container. Blend just until the strawberries are slightly chopped. Repeat for the remaining strawberries. Spoon mixture into the pie shell.

Chill in refrigerator 45 to 60 min., or until mixture is set.

One 9-in. pie

Poppy-Seed Crescents

Laurels to the electric blender! Now poppy seeds can be freshly ground for these delicately flavored cookies!

Lightly grease cookie sheets.

For Poppy-Seed Filling—Using the electric blender, grind enough poppy seeds to yield

3 cups (about ½ lb.) ground poppy seeds

(Put into blender container about ½ cup whole poppy seeds at one time. Cover, turn on motor, and grind 3 to 5 min., or until poppy seeds are very finely ground. Remove from blender container and repeat procedure for desired amount of ground poppy seeds.) Mix the ground poppy seeds in a heavy 1½-qt. saucepan with

1¼ cups sugar

¾ cup milk

½ cup butter

Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, about 5 min., or until mixture is slightly thickened. Remove from heat and set aside to cool. (If, on standing, filling becomes too thick to spread easily, stir in a small amount of milk.) While filling is cooling prepare the dough.

For Dough—Put into a large bowl

3 cups sifted flour

Work into flour by pressing against bottom and sides of bowl with a fork

1 cup unsifted butter, chilled and cut into pieces

Add gradually to ingredients in the bowl, mixing thoroughly with a fork, a mixture of

3 egg yolks, slightly beaten

1½ tablespoons cream

2 teaspoons grated lemon peel (grated through colored part only; white is bitter)

(Mixture will be crumbly.) Gather dough into a ball. Turn out onto lightly floured surface. Work with hands, squeezing dough until well blended. With palms of hands shape dough into smooth roll. Slice into 48 pieces. (If dough is too soft and sticky to handle, chill for a short time.) Shape pieces into balls.

For Crescents—Lightly sprinkle a small area of working surface with

Confectioners' sugar

Roll one of the balls at a time into a round about 1/16 in. thick. Spread dough with about 2 teaspoons of the filling. Beginning at nearest edge, roll; shape into crescent by curving ends of roll slightly. Place crescent onto cookie sheet with overlapping edge underneath. Repeat procedure to prepare remaining crescents, lightly sprinkling confectioners' sugar onto working surface each time. Brush crescents with

Egg, slightly beaten

Bake at 375°F 15 to 20 min., or until lightly browned; remove to cooling racks. Sift over crescents a small amount of

Confectioners' sugar

Easy Way to GOOD DECORATING

by Ruth W. Lee, Home-Furnishings Consultant

MANY WOMEN who excel at meal-making and housekeeping are stymied when it comes to choosing home furnishings or planning a room setting. Designed especially for these homemakers, a new color-slide sound film, "Creating a Home," presents the basic principles of good decorating in an easy-to-understand, practical manner. For example, miniature rooms illustrate modern ideas of furniture arrangement and floor planning. Skillful use of swatches and color chips dramatizes a sequence showing how to develop a color theme.

Representing the three major decoration trends, provincial, traditional, and contemporary settings are pictured in this film, which provides a 20-minute program of help and inspiration for homemakers. It was produced by the Home Fashions League of Illinois.

"Creating a Home" is available to women's clubs, colleges and schools, and church groups. For information regarding rental or purchase, address Home Fashions League of Illinois, in care of Dallas Jones Productions, 1725 N. Wells St., Chicago 14, Ill.

Dear Miss Barrows:

I collect rocks. When my mother, father and I go on trips I pick up rocks on the way. In the Black Hills in South Dakota I bought quite a few rocks. Among them there is a rock with lots of fossils in it. Also I have rocks with mica in them and a sheet of mica. In Minnesota I got a piece of iron ore and in Kentucky I got a piece of granite. In Crystal Cave I got some flint. I have rocks from around home, Canada, Kentucky, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Wyoming, and Colorado.

Sincerely, Phyllis Rector
Age 11 Modesto, Illinois

Dear Miss Barrows:

Have you ever heard of a dog party? Well, I had one for my dog's birthday. Her name is Cookie. I invited boys and girls in the neighborhood to come to the party with their dogs. When they all arrived I went in the house and got some milk and dog biscuits. We filled the dog bowls with milk and gave each dog a biscuit. The boys and girls and I went into the house to have some cake. In about five minutes we heard barking and growling outside. The dogs were fighting over the food. The growling and barking went on and we didn't know what to do. Finally I ran and turned on the hose and sprayed it on them. They stopped right away. Then their owners took them home.

I told Cookie next year just she and I are going to have cake and dog biscuits.

Riddles

1. What's the best way to keep soft hands?
2. How does a baseball player resemble a spider?
3. What kind of dog has a bark but no bite?
4. What bird and what insect are letters of the alphabet?
5. A pint has how many peas?
6. If there are six crows in a tree and you shoot one, how many remain?

Answers: 1. do nothing; 2. he catches flies, too; 3. a dogwood tree; 4. the jay and the bee; 5. one p; 6. the dead one, the rest fly away.

Let's Build a Picture

All you need to make a picture like this is a pair of scissors and a sheet of paper, possibly blue for the sky, and on this paper paste a green place to cover the lower part. This can be the grass. Now cut out the shapes above the picture from different-colored papers, as many as you want to use in your picture. These will make the trees, leaves, flowers, sun, hills, lakes, birds, boats, and whatever else you want to make out of them. By combining the shapes, you can make fat trees or thin trees, fancy flowers or plain flowers, high hills or low hills. See what you can make up.

Tunnel Relay

Form two lines of ten or more players for this relay game. Each player stands directly behind the one in front, with feet well apart, and the first one holds a basketball. At the signal "Go!" he throws it between his own feet down the line between the wide-spread feet of all of his players. The last one in the line picks up the ball, runs to the head of the line, and repeats. When every player in the line has done this, one after the other, and the first player is again at the head, the race ends. The line that finishes first wins the race.

Tangled Flowers

Can you rearrange these letters to spell the names of flowers? For example: "Rain on cat" is CARNATION.

2. TO LIVE
3. Y SAID
4. LUFIX
5. TOG FERM TONE
6. SRAE
7. RAP LURKA

Answers: 1. rose; 2. violet; 3. daisy; 4. tulip; 5. forget-me-not; 6. aster; 7. larkspur.

NEW FREEDOM FROM IRREGULARITY

TRY THIS GREAT COMBINATION
ALL-BRAN AND MILK

For fitness and relief from constipation

Supplies laxative food bulk plus important food elements

You know about milk. It is generally considered to be one of nature's most nearly perfect foods.

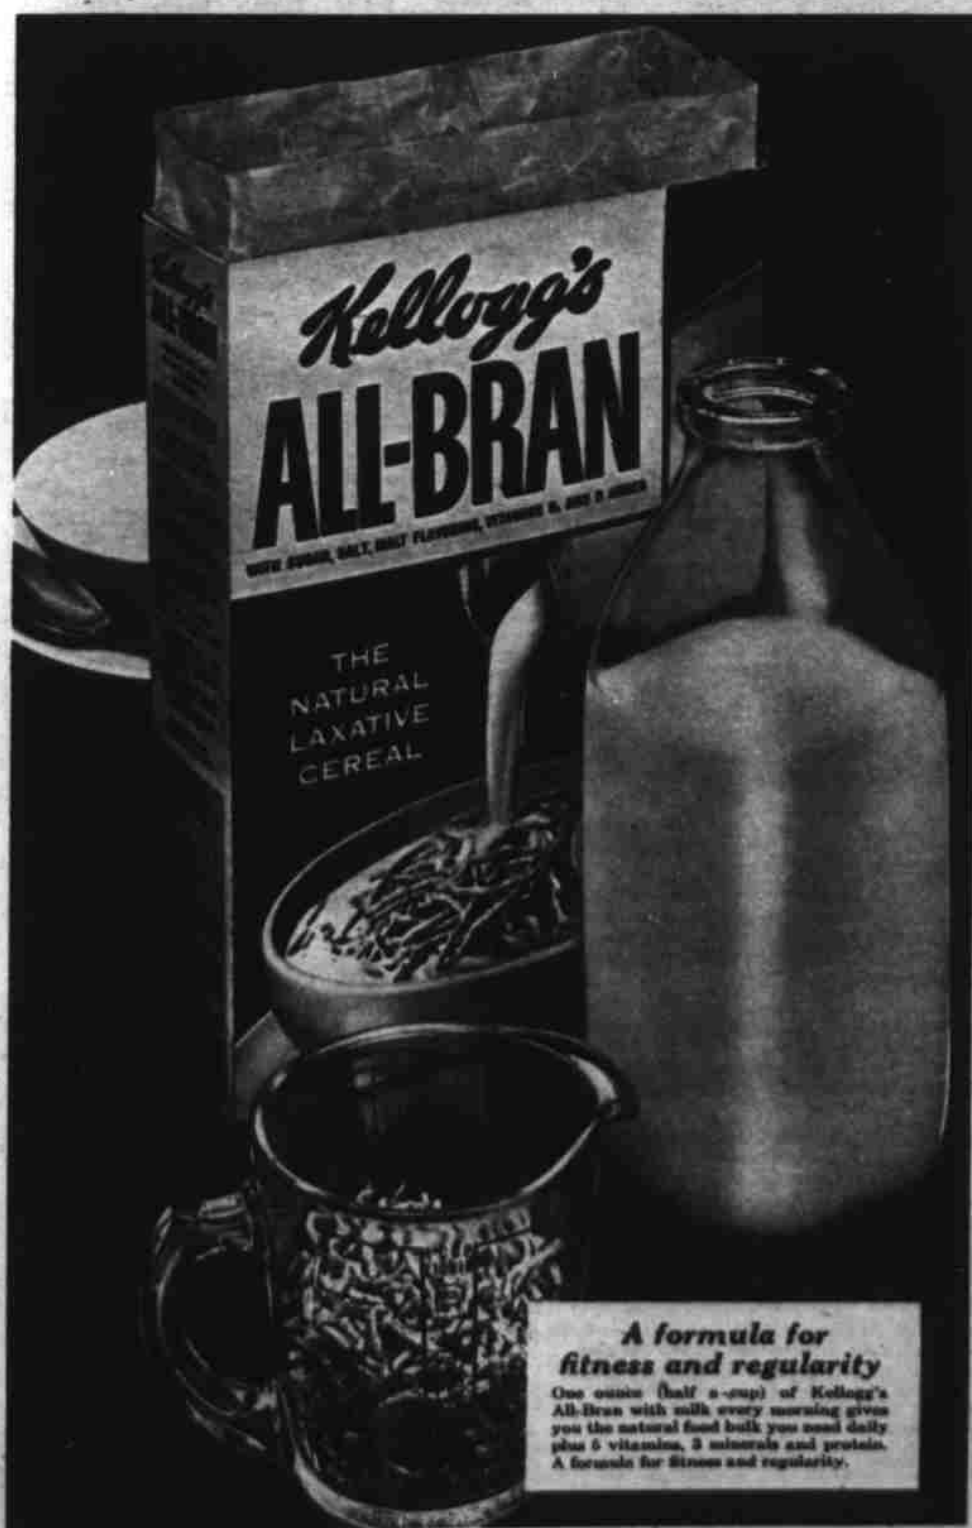

But there is also another great natural food — bran — that many in their middle and later years have long turned to. By name it is Kellogg's All-Bran, the original. This scientifically milled whole bran cereal has a delicious flavor and stays crunchy even in milk. All-Bran has helped millions find safe, gentle relief from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet.

Kellogg's All-Bran, pioneered nearly 40 years ago by W. K. Kellogg's, was conceived as three cereals in one. First—a bran cereal in appetizing form. Second—a cereal that in combination with milk would provide solid nutritional benefits. Third—a natural bulk laxative, an aid to comfortable elimination without harsh purging.

Kellogg's All-Bran lives up to all three definitions. Served with milk it supplies nine body builders that we need daily. As for its flavor and effectiveness, All-Bran has become the most widely used and accepted bran cereal in all the world.

If you are one of the millions who suffer needlessly from irregularity, why not try All-Bran and milk. Eat a half a cup of All-Bran with milk every day for 10 days . . . for fitness and regularity. If, after ten days you are not completely satisfied, return the carton and receive double your money back. That's a promise from Kellogg's of Battle Creek, Mich.

News for folks who eat their All-Bran at restaurants — new foil-wrapped package makes sure your All-Bran is extra fresh.

It's wonderful the way
Chewing-Gum Laxative acts chiefly to

REMOVE WASTE - NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the wonderfully different chewing-gum laxative. FEEN-A-MINT is different because you chew it. It's different, too, because it removes mostly waste—not good food! You see, FEEN-A-MINT does not work in the stomach, where food is being digested. That's why it does not take away a lot of the good food you need for energy.

Doctors know that FEEN-A-MINT works chiefly in the lower bowel... removes mostly waste, not good food!

So to feel like a million, do as millions do. Chew delicious FEEN-A-MINT... and feel full of life and energy! Get FEEN-A-MINT!

"Your Child's Going to the Hospital..."

There are ways of keeping it from becoming an agonizing experience.

LITTLE TOMMY BROWN is going to the hospital because his appendix has been acting up and the doctor thinks it should be removed. How does Tommy feel about all this? Is he frightened?

"No," says his mother, "we've told him exactly what's going to happen, and I think Tommy is actually enjoying the idea; it makes him feel important." Tommy will probably get along fine and be home before he knows it. Certainly, today, there's no reason why he or his parents should be afraid.

Pediatric divisions in our hospitals have changed a lot in recent years. Walls are painted in cheery colors and gay with nursery-rhyme illustrations. There are "playrooms" filled with toys, paints and crayons, record players, books, and TV sets. One large Chicago hospital even shows animated cartoons daily. And in most hospitals a person trained in handling children is on full-time duty.

Suppose your child is to be hospitalized for the first time. How can you prepare him for the experience?

First, do what Tommy's mother did—tell your child the truth, explaining why he's going and what's going to happen. If he's to undergo surgery, don't keep it from him. Children are usually less fearful if they know what to expect. Break the news only a few days in advance. The less time he has to think about it, the better off he'll be.

When the day arrives, follow your doctor's advice in feeding him. There'll be some tests that might affect his stomach if he's eaten too heavily. Let him choose a few toys to take along. They will make him feel more at home his first night alone in the hospital. His own pajamas will help, too.

At the hospital, let him take part in the admitting procedure, giving his age and address, and answering any questions he can. It will make him feel important and help to bolster his courage.

If he doesn't need complete bed rest and quiet, check with your doctor about getting him a bed in a ward with other children. The companionship will speed his recovery.

When you're ready to leave him that first night in the hospital, do so without any fuss or tears. His nurse will see that he's safely tucked in, so just leave quietly.

Make sure you know the hospital's visiting hours, and don't promise you'll be back to see your child at times when you know visitors are not permitted. Most hospitals let the mother stay a night or two on a "rooming-in" basis, unless she seems nervous or unstable. The day your child is scheduled for surgery, you'll be allowed to stay all day if you wish; but you may be asked to leave the room when he's given medicine, because some hospitals find it easier to give drugs if parents aren't around.

Bring a small gift after the operation or whenever you come to visit your child, but don't bring food or candy; he'll be on a strict hospital diet.

The pediatric section in the average hospital today is designed to make the child's absence from home and parents as pleasant as possible. And in most instances, it works. Take the case of the little girl who learned she was going home the day after her tests were completed. She looked up from the blackboard on which she had been busily drawing and asked plaintively, "Please, may I stay a few days longer?"

Housework Easy Without Naggng Backache

Naggng backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good health is very important to good health. When some everyday conditions, such as stress and strain, cause this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from those discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

HOW YOU CAN GET MONEY FOR SICKNESS AND ACCIDENT BILLS

without going to the hospital

New policy provides CASH BENEFITS for many out-of-hospital services as well as MONEY for your family's hospital and surgical expenses!

Here is a new Family Hospital Policy that makes ordinary hospitalization plans seem as out-of-date as a horse and buggy. It not only provides money for your hospital room, board and nursing charges, and more than 75 different operations, but also specified cash benefits for many medical services—performed in or out of the hospital.

You can get money for x-rays, blood transfusions, laboratory tests, drugs, dressings and medicines, oxygen, and use of the iron lung—money you would never receive under ordinary hospital-expense plans unless you were actually a hospital patient. Under this new policy, you can get money to help pay such expenses even if you never get near a hospital. You can still collect the full benefits shown in your policy.

You don't have to belong to a group to get this protection. Just fill out and mail certificate below for free information without obligation.

HOW YOUR FAMILY CAN SAVE MONEY WITH THE WHITE CROSS PLAN

You can save money under the White Cross Plan because you take just the protection you need. You keep costs low by paying for only the policies you want. For example, the Family Hospital Policy (P6) described above can be taken separately, or you can combine it with these other types of low-cost accident and health protection:

MONEY FOR DOCTOR'S BILLS—You can get up to $150 for each different covered sickness or accident whether doctor treatments are in your home, at his office, or in the hospital. Benefits under this policy (P89) begin with the first treatment for injury, the third treatment for sickness. Or you can get money for operations. If you wish, you can combine these payments with the surgical benefits provided under the Family Hospital Policy to increase your cash allowance for covered operations.

MONEY FOR LIVING EXPENSES—Household bills are a major worry when you are sick or injured and there's no money coming in. Under the Income Protection Policy (P16) the family wage-earner can get from $50 to $200 a month just for household bills when disabled, confined, and unable to work—either in the hospital, or at home under doctor's care. You can get this money—whatever amount is stated in your policy—for as long as a full year for sickness, up to two years for injury.

This new policy can save you money even if you now have health insurance

Under the new "P6" policy you can get extra money—money you would never receive under ordinary hospital expense plans unless you were a hospital patient. You can collect FULL CASH BENEFITS stated in your policy, even if you have other insurance. All money is sent to you—unless you direct us to send it to the hospital or doctor. Accident benefits begin immediately from date of policies; sickness benefits cover most illnesses originating after policies are in force 30 days. All exceptions and limitations are kept to a minimum and clearly stated in the policies. All policies are renewable at insurer's option. Mail certificate today.
