

FROM THE HOPPER

By Hop Jr.

How long has it been since the local chamber of commerce, or anybody else for that matter, tried to figure out how many people live in Texico-Farwell? We haven't heard—let alone seen—figures on this subject in a long while.

Just out of curiosity, the wife and writer prowled the community Sunday afternoon, to get some details on the probable population. What we did was to count all "residential units."

That is, a duplex apartment, for instance, was counted only one unit. Several people have houses and outside apartments. All these came under our unit rule. On the other hand, we counted trailer houses, unoccupied houses, and houses under construction.

We feel that the total will average out at least one family per unit.

In Farwell, we found 257 residential units, in Texico 207. Before we started counting, we guessed Farwell at 175 and Texico at 140, so you can see we were a little surprised.

This is a total of 464 residential units in the Twin Cities, and very likely means we have more than 450 families living here. In that case, the population would necessarily be over 1,500 and it might be pushing 1,750. That's because, we feel, especially in Texico, there are a number of better-than-average families.

Otis Huggins says Southwestern Public Service Company has 263 residential meters in Farwell, and 182 in Texico. Keep in mind that we aren't including businesses at all, just homes.

Any chamber of commerce worth its salt should be able to claim 1,900 people in Texico-Farwell without even cheating, and "prove" it with the above figures.

We have neglected to thank Buck Gregory for the sack of nice potatoes he gave us a couple of weeks ago, but we have been reminded of his generosity several times as we pulled our chair up to the dinner table.

Field-fresh potatoes are a real treat, and we thank Buck for his hospitality. Even at $2 a hundred, they taste plenty good!

Ever since we were big enough to ask our daddy for the car, we have been a fan of a nationally-prominent automotive writer named Tom McCahill. He started as a virtual unknown just before the war, and with his inimitable style and honest-to-goodness car savvy, he built a tremendous readership.

This one columnist, incidentally, enabled his sponsoring publication, Mechanix Illustrated, to not only survive in a highly competitive specialized field, but actually made it the top magazine.

He passed up such magazine moguls as Popular Science and Popular Mechanics in spite of all they could do. They hired the best competitive writers in the woods, but couldn't touch McCahill. That feat is like seeing somebody like Willys overhaul and put to shame General Motors or Ford.

Mechanix Illustrated used to be the "poorboy" of its field, but that isn't so today.

This month, we notice with pleasure a trend McCahill is reporting on. In Millbrook, N. Y., says Tom, there is a huge sign at the city limits that reads, "NO SPEED TRAPS." Underneath, the following explanation: "Because fair-minded drivers obey our requests."

McCahill, who ordinarily ducks traffic cops like the plague and matches wits with them at every turn, was so wowed with this new approach that he automatically tapered his speed to 20 and 30 mph as was indicated by the signs through the city.

"I believe a lot of other readers will react the same way," he says. "American drivers don't get told easily but as a general rule are the most cooperative in the world when asked nicely."

We're not nearly as sporty about outsmarting the cops as Tom seems to be, but he probably has hit on something that will appeal to the personalities of some of our problem drivers. It even appeals to us.

If you've ever been turned loose of your Mama's apron strings, it adds up that you have bought something on credit. That can be either good or bad, depending on your special circumstances.

Installment credit has been the grease that has ciled the wheels of American business; but it has also been the fly in the ointment of many ulcerated managers who have seen their life's savings washed away in a flood of repossessions and bad debts. There are important do's and don't's in this business of buying on time. Here, first, are the don't's:

DON'T make major purchases on impulse. You'll regret it nearly every time.

DON'T shop for terms only. DON'T buy if you have to borrow the down payment. This is a common failing. It's a great temptation when you're Addition Planned for P. O.

Ebb Randol, owner of the building in which the Farwell post office is now located, this week announced plans for expansion of the quarters in the near future.

Randol says a 21x24 addition will be constructed, to adjoin the present building on the south side. He expects to complete the improvement some time this summer.

The post office department last year advertised for bids for a new office building, which the government was offering to lease. Randol and others submitted bids for new facilities, but the government accepted Randol's second proposal, which was to add onto the present one.

"The government just would not pay a lease sufficient to justify a new brick building, although I offered to build it," Randol says. He had planned to remove the frame building where the office is now housed, and replace it with a new brick building.

The post office pays $37.50 per month lease now, and the new building (brick) would have leased for about $100. Randol did not disclose the lease agreement for the remodeled facilities.

The addition will give the local office approximately 1,200 feet of floor space. Construction of the addition will be similar to the present building. The entrance will still be on the north, but major inside changes are planned, including a vestibule, and relocation of boxes on the east side.

Randol says the addition will cost "about $5,000." The government accepted his offer in May of this year, but Randol says he's just now "getting around to the work." He said he had been allowed seven months to complete the addition, but indicated he would be through long before that time elapses.

Worrell Dairy Sale Tuesday, August 13

The dairy herd dispersal sale of Raymond Worrell will be Tuesday, August 13 at his farm four miles west, one mile north of Clovis. Auctioneer is Col. Lloyd Otten, and Orval Francis is clerk.

BIG HAUL — Parmer County law officers, Tom Atkins, deputy, and Chas. Lovelace, sheriff, are shown with the 25 cases of booze they confiscated early Sunday morning. The beer, all bottled in quart containers, was taken from a 1957 Ford, which was traveling on Highway 60 between Farwell and Bovina.

College Students To Direct Revival At Okla. Lane

A youth-led weekend revival will be held at the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church, beginning August 9 and going through the 11th, according to an announcement made this week.

A moisture map in the farm section of The Tribune gives a complete county wide picture of the moisture received during the week and the rain that appears to be general.

As far as can be found, no complete total of moisture since the first of the year has been kept by anyone in the Texico-Farwell area, but a check of past rain maps in the Tribune reveals that ap-

Rain Measures 1.84 Inches

The Texico-Farwell area received its best single rain of the year Monday morning when 1.70 inches fell in Texico-Farwell. The Monday rain, coupled with .14 which fell Sunday afternoon gives the Twin Cities a total of 1.84 inches for the past week.

A moisture map in the farm section of The Tribune gives proximately 9.5 inches have fallen in Texico-Farwell. This is considerably more than at this time in recent years.

1,300,000 Bushel Addition Begins At Lariat Elevator

Construction work on 21 new storage tanks for Sherley-Anderson Grain Company at Lariat is now in progress. When the project is completed, it will boost the capacity of the elevator to over 1½ million bushels.

Preliminary work on the project started over two weeks ago and excavation work has already been completed, reports Penny Anderson, representative of the company. "It is the largest expansion project we've ever undertaken," Anderson says.

Last year, one million bushels of storage space was added to the company's Bovina elevator, and prior to now that was the largest expansion program. The new tanks at Lariat will have a capacity of 1,300,000 bushels.

The concrete tanks will be 24 feet in diameter, 148 feet in height, and will be located southeast of the present elevator. The capacity of the elevator now is about 300,000 bushels, Anderson says.

He expressed hope that the elevator will be completed by October 20, and ready for this fall's harvest. Anderson cited the present cement strike as a possible curtailment, but was optimistic that it would have no effect on the project.

Pouring of the first cement was scheduled to get underway on Tuesday of this week.

When asked the reason for choosing Lariat as the site for the new elevator, Anderson said, "We have long needed a larger elevator here." He added that it would be operated in connection with the firm's other elevators in Farwell, Bovina, Summerfield, and Hereford.

When the Lariat project is complete, it will give Sherley-Anderson a capacity of 6,830,000 bushels in Parmer County. The capacity of the Bovina elevator is 4,130,000 bushels and at Farwell it is 1,200,000.

Youth-Led Revival To Begin Sunday

An eight-day youth-led revival is planned at the First Baptist Church in Farwell, beginning Sunday, August 11. The services will begin at 7 o'clock each morning, according to Rev. E. J. Keith, pastor, who says the early sermons are scheduled so residents will have time to attend church before going to their jobs each day.

Evening services are scheduled each day beginning at 8:30. Vance Zinn, Lubbock, will be the evangelist for the series. A pastor of the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church for two years, and just recently associated with the Melrose Baptist Church as pastor, Zinn is a young minister and is well-known here. He was associated with Farwell Schools for a time while serving as pastor here.

Rev. Zinn is presently pastor of Chapel Hill Baptist Church in Lubbock. He is a graduate of Wayland College in Plainview.

Vernon Stokes of Sundown, the young man is now a student at Wayland College in Plainview and is studying for the ministry, and also receiving college work in music. According to revival workers, the former pastor of Stokes recommends him highly as a song leader.

Stokes was graduated from Sundown High School before enrolling in Wayland.

A special invitation is issued to both youth and adults to attend the services which will continue through Sunday, August 18. Everyone of all faiths is asked to attend the series.

Two evenings of fellowship for the young people are planned during the revival. The first of the special socials is set for Tuesday evening and the second is planned for Saturday night.

Refreshments will be served for both meetings. All intermediates and Young People are invited to the special fellowship meetings, say committee members.

Mrs. Sanders Back, Daughter Improved

Mrs. Grace Sanders returned Thursday from Nampa, Idaho, where she had been at the bedside of her daughter, Norma Lee, for several weeks. She reports that Norma Lee is now recuperating nicely, although she will have to assume a restricted schedule for a long time.

The former local young woman was critically injured in an automobile accident six weeks ago, when her car overturned as she was driving alone.

Private Clubs Head Topics at Texico Meeting

A discussion on what action to take in regard to private clubs, which are invading the city limits, highlighted the meeting of the Texico City Commission Monday night.

Jack Skipworth appeared before the commission and told the group that he had opened a private club behind the drive-in in Texico. He was seeking information on whether or not an occupational license was needed and what the city's policy was on such a venture.

Mayor Scotty Levins told Skipworth that the city did not want a private club. "I think the majority of the people don't want one and the majority of the councilmen do not either," the mayor said. All councilmen present expressed themselves as not being in favor of a club and City Attorney Earl Hartley was asked for legal advice on accordance with the law, said the attorney.

It was pointed out that Skipworth was not there applying for a license, but only to explain what he was going to do. Helton later said it appeared to be only a question of whether they were going to let Skipworth operate with a license or without a license.

Skipworth told the commission that the place was not a "honky-tonk." "Some families even bring their kids to the club," he said.

It was finally decided to postpone any action on the club until the next meeting, pending the outcome of the local option August 20. It was said that this might not have too much effect on the situation, but it could shed some different light.

After deciding to postpone action, more discussion was heard on the topic but no conclusion was arrived at. Councilman Judge Stone said, "We might be against it, but if it's legal, what are we going to do about it?"

It was suggested that the thing to do would be to catch the club operators making any illegal sales. This was said to be the only way to close the club.

Other than the private club discussion, business was somewhat light for the commission this month.

Action was taken on changing the cut off date on delinquent water bills. Under the present set-up, water is not cut off until the bills are three months delinquent, and the commission voted to change this.

The commission proposed a new policy which would have water cut off by the 20th of the month if the bill was not paid.

According to the clerk, Juanita Autrey, the city had been left holding the bag on some accounts by residents moving away after being delinquent several months.

The policy decided on by the commission will be drawn up and approved by next month. All water bills in the city are in the mail by the first of the month and due on the 10th. In the future a final notice will be sent delinquents on the 15th and if it is not paid by the 18th, the water will be cut off, according to the new set-up. This will go into effect next month.

The clerk then pointed out the need for some sort of a litter law for the town. It was pointed out that there was considerable old furniture littering some vacant lots and streets which something should be done about.

No action was taken, but the attorney is to write a letter to those concerned, asking that something be done about the situation.

A building permit to Agnes Ortiz was approved. It was for construction of a two-room tile building on Garwood avenue, south of Main street.

Two resolutions, drawn up by the attorney, were read and approved. One was for transferring money from one account to another in the water and sewer fund. Too, a resolution thanking N. L. Tharp for his part in mowing the weeds in the city was read and was to be sent to Tharp.

Bills for the month, approved by the commission, were as follows:

General Fund—Texico Waterworks, $7.55; petty cash, $9.30; Southwestern Public Service, $34.13; Roth Grocery, $2.11; Mountain States Telephone,

25 Cases of Beer Confiscated By County Officers

A 1957 Ford, appearing to be transporting considerable weight, aroused the suspicion of Sheriff Chas. Lovelace Sunday morning, and after investigating, the lawman found that the car contained 25 cases of beer—all quarts.

The car was traveling northeast on Highway 60 between Farwell and Bovina when spotted by the sheriff about 1 a.m. The driver was arrested and placed in custody at the county jail in Farwell. Both beer and automobile were confiscated by the sheriff and Deputy Tom Atkins.

Driver of the car was John Soliz, Hereford, who was tried in Parmer County court Monday morning for transporting intoxicants across a dry area. He pled guilty to the charge and was fined $200 and court costs by Judge A. D. Smith.

The auto, registered in Soliz' brother's name, was loaded

Plans Announced For Style Show, Baby Show Planned

Tickets are now on sale for the second annual style show sponsored by Theta Rho chapter of ESA in conjunction with Fern's of Farwell. Date for the event has been changed to August 19, because of conflicting activities.

"Carnival of Fashions" is the theme of the presentation, and local models will be named to appear on the program during the evening. Rosa Roberts, educational director of ESA, will present the commentary for the evening. The show begins at 8:30 in the evening.

Also included in the event will be ESA's own Kiddie Carnival, in which a personality contest is planned for youngsters. All little ones from the ages of 1 through 4 are eligible to compete. In the younger division, the contestants must be old enough to walk.

"If a child is walking and is one-year-old and has not reached his fifth birthday, he can compete in one of the four divisions," says Maxine Williams, president of the organization. Anyone wishing to enter a child in the contest is asked to call Mrs. Williams before Saturday, August 17.

Prizes will be awarded the winners of the contest. Myrtle's Studio of Clovis will present 8x10 portraits to the youngsters that are judged top contestants. Fern's will present three door prizes during the evening, $5 gift certificates.

Tickets are 75c for adults, 50c for high school age groups and 25c for grade school youngsters. Further details will be given on the show in next week's paper.

The sheriff also arrested two persons for being drunk Saturday night. Raymond Everett, Bovina, was picked up in Farwell and was tried in Justice of Peace Court by J. R. Thornton Monday morning. He was fined $47.10.

E. W. Morris was arrested by the sheriff in Friona and was to have been tried on the same charge, according to the sheriff.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

Baffling Situation

A major topic of discussion in Texico these days concerns the invasion of a private club right under the citizen's noses. Recognized as legal businesses in the neighboring city of Clovis, Texico is now faced with the problem of doing likewise or finding some way to do away with the so-called private drinking establishments.

The topic was brought up by the city commission Monday night and it is quite a problem for the city dads. The majority of the citizens, whom they represent, do not want a club and the commission doesn't either. But, after receiving an opinion from the city attorney it appears that their hands are tied as far as doing anything about it.

The State of New Mexico recognizes private clubs as legal businesses and as long as they are not found operating illegally, there is not much that can be done, according to the attorney.

In spite of the legal opinion, though, some citizens still believe that the commission can make clubs illegal by ordinance or do away with them by petition of the townspeople.

We admit that we don't know, but there are several things about the whole private club set-up that are puzzling.

When a city body can make its own laws governing other town occurrences, why can't it on something like a private club?

Then, too, even if clubs are legal as long as they don't buy and sell liquor, why can't they be policed to see that they do function according to law? Or, are the operators of these clubs so smooth that they can carry on their businesses with no infractions of the law being detected? Or, is it that law enforcers are falling down on the job?

We don't know what the case might be, but it is hard to understand why such clubs can exist when an area is legally dry. Hardly anyone will say that the clubs stock only the liquor furnished them by members, which they in turn serve to the members and guests for a service fee. That is the way a club can lawfully operate.

Something else which is puzzling is why individuals and organizations will go all out to keep an area legally dry, but never put forth any effort to see that bootleg joints are done away with. At least they don't fight them as forcefully.

These are several things which are hard for us, as well as other people, to understand. Maybe we're uninformed on the whole subject, but the above questions are things which few people can answer.

Maybe if someone would delve into the problem fully, they could uncover some facts which would be enlightening to many people. If someone could answer these questions, it might help people to understand why liquor can be sold in a dry area with the approval of the law.

Too, for a person who wants to face the upcoming local option question open minded, it might help him to better make up his mind regarding it.

Reception Planned For Stagners On 50th Anniversary

All friends of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Stagner of Clovis are invited to join the couple in celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, August 18, at their home at 1106 Main St.

An open house is planned from 2 o'clock until 5 o'clock in the afternoon (Clovis time) and hosts and hostesses for the social occasion will be the children of the honored couple. They are Mrs. H. L. Tidenberg, J. L. Stagner, Jack M. Stagner and Mrs. Carroll McCleskey.

The Stagners are well-known in this area, having resided in Parmer County until 1940 when they moved to Clovis.

Mrs. Harry Jesko amazes us. She hasn't been in her new home a long long time, but she already has one of the prettiest yards in town.

A special study for the young people of the church is planned tonight (Thursday) and tomorrow night, with Jerry Henson directing the review. After the lesson on Thursday evening, fellowship is planned with refreshments of ice cream, and cake or cookies served to the group.

The second night, study of the theme "How To Win Christ" will continue, and there is a possibility that talks will be followed by an appropriate film on the soul-winning study. Intermediates and young people, from ages of 13 through 24 or 25, are invited to attend the sessions.

Attendance for the past week in Sunday School was 152, and 69 were recorded as having attended Training Union.

Wives were special guests for a buffet supper, when members of the Brotherhood were hosts for a meeting and social Monday evening, at the church. Joe Reed, who is chairman of the food preparation committee, prepared the ham for the meal and each couple brought covered dishes to complete the meal. Pie was served for dessert and tea and coffee were included on the menu.

About 39 people attended the fellowship program and heard a message by C. J. Humphries, a lawyer of Amarillo, who discussed "The Great Trial." Humphries is president of the Brotherhood of District 10 which includes the Panhandle.

Wednesday (last night) was conference time with election of officers for the new church year. Following the conference, a youth-led prayer meeting was scheduled to make plans for the coming youth revival. Jerry Poteet, young minister from Texico, was speaker for the evening.

The revival begins Sunday, August 11. More details appear in a story elsewhere in the paper.

METHODIST CHURCH NEWS

Rev. William Hardwick, Pastor

Undergird Your Life With Faith

Four laymen of the church attended the laymen's retreat at Sacramento August 2-4. They were Joe Blair, John Hadley, Joe Helton and Mark Fairman. There were 277 laymen from the churches of the New Mexico annual conference present, and the men decided to complete the new men's building at Sacramento. The men of the local congregation will raise about $100 to help finance the project.

The junior classroom has been painted and rearranged under the direction of Peggy Snider and the children of her class. The improvement adds a great deal to the room. Also on the agenda for improvement is the primary department. The members of the commission on education decided to have new partitions built for the large classroom, to provide more privacy for teaching in each age group.

The pastor has returned from a pastor's school held last week at Sacramento.

The church is still in need of another air conditioner to cool the basement class rooms.

The choir meets each Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the evening under the direction of Mrs. Hardwick and Mrs. Carolyn Anderson. In services the past Sunday, Mrs. Hardwick presented a solo, "Eternal Grace."

For the next three months, every member of the church will receive a copy of the Oklahoma-New Mexico Methodist newspaper. The official board has decided to provide this medium of information and has asked that members not only read it, but let the members of the board know how much they enjoy it.

Keep watching the back page of the church bulletin for some interesting information.

Vacation season was noticeable Sunday with a decline in attendance. Sunday School attendance was 94; morning services, 95; and evening services, 37.

No meetings of the MYF are scheduled during August because of the vacation season. Beginning in September, regular sessions and planned programs are to be scheduled regularly. In the planning stages is a party one evening in the sandhills. More information on this will be given at a later date.

August Meeting Set Thursday

B. A. Rogers announces that Texico Farm Bureau meeting for August, will be held in the school lunchroom tonight (Thursday), beginning at 8:30. Tentative program plans include irrigation pictures to be shown by Prof. Morton and a report on New Mexico Boys State by Bobby Patterson, delegate to the annual program.

Mrs. Woods Still Must Wear Brace

Mrs. Irene Woods, who was injured in an automobile accident downtown several weeks ago, was in Amarillo for a checkup by a bone specialist Saturday.

Her mother, Mrs. Elsie Hardage, reports that she will continue to wear a back brace for six weeks. She returns to the doctor for another checkup on September 14.

IS RECUPERATING

Mrs. Bert Williams is home and recuperating nicely after undergoing surgery in Clovis Memorial Hospital on Thursday. She came home Friday.

Second Rummage Sale Successful

The second rummage sale held Saturday by members of ESA was successful, according to Mrs. Don Williams, president of the group. This sale terminated the sales for a few weeks, she adds, although present plans are to continue the money-making project a little later in the season.

Members are to gather rummage in the meantime, she says, and anyone wishing to donate clothing, dishes, furniture or most anything may call any ESA member to pick up the rummage.

"We are badly in need of children's clothes in all sizes and men's clothing in the smaller sizes," she says. Money derived from the sales goes into the fund for civic projects, she adds.

SLAMS DOOR ON HAND

Mrs. V. L. Martin of Farwell received severely mashed fingers when she accidentally slammed a car door on her right hand Monday. Although the two middle fingers on the injured hand were badly bruised, she was recuperating nicely at the middle of the week.

Ebb Randol, former local resident, will be guest speaker at the Farwell Church of Christ Sunday morning. Randol is now a resident of Clovis.

DON'T overbuy or take on too many payments simultaneously. Anybody who has ever seen his installment payment bill eat up over half of his monthly pay knows the problem here.

DO consider major purchases carefully and then choose sound terms that will reduce finance charges and provide for full ownership of goods at the earliest possible time.

DO make a big enough down payment (cash or trade-in) to give you a worthwhile equity in your purchase.

DO consider the desirability of credit life, health and accident type of insurance that will pay up the sales contract in the event of disability of the wage earner.

DO make sure the time sales contract is completely filled in to show the cash price value of any trade-in; coverage and cost of any insurance; amount and number of monthly payments, and the total price you will pay.

DO keep credit purchases in line with your income; complete payment of one purchase before taking on another, except where the combined payments will not require too large a proportion of your monthly income.

Hopkins-Franklin Reunion Planned

Hopkins and Franklin Counties reunion is planned at McKenzie State Park in Lubbock this weekend, on August 11, according to a note from Glenn T. Hackney, president, and Roy T. Owen, secretary-treasurer.

According to the letter, Hopkins County stew will be served at noon that day, as former residents and their families gather for the reunion.

The get-together is planned east of the swimming pool on the east side of the park. There will be plenty of stew and crackers, says Hackney, but attendants are asked to bring a basket lunch, plates, bowls, spoons and glasses. Three-hundred guests are expected to attend.

At Last! General Rains Come Back To County Area

Low-hanging clouds were almost as welcome as the cotton blooms when they drifted over the sunbaked horizon last weekend, bringing with them the first general rain to the Parmer County area since planting time.

Thunderheads threatened to break up the dry spell for two days before they finally did, and most area points didn't get any rain to speak of until Sunday. From Sunday through the first three days of the week, though, the showers kept up steadily, hitting here and there.

The only spots in the area still on the short side of an inch or more of moisture are in the southeastern part of the county. Other than that, it is difficult to find a place where the rain has not been more than an inch.

Most measurements are running from one and a half inches to slightly over two inches, and isolated spots have topped two and a half in a three-day period. Note the accompanying moisture map for pinpointing of rainfall amounts.

conditions. Most irrigated wheat is "dusted in" and watered up.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

More about the conservation of our irrigation water: "Tail water is not the only loss of water. Many farmers have rows that are too long. In order to get the water out to the lower end of the rows, it has to stay on the upper end longer than necessary. The results are that the upper end is wet deeper than the roots will go. All water that goes deeper than the root zone is wasted water."

Most fields have a good crop at the upper and lower ends with a poor crop in the middle. The poor crop in the middle is probably due to lack of moisture. More than likely, had the water been used properly, there would be a uniform crop throughout the field. In other words, enough water is being wasted at the upper and lower ends of the field to properly irrigate the middle.

There are many types of systems that can be used to conserve our underground water. A few methods are proper length of rows, level rows, to prevent loss of rain water and to obtain an even distribution of irrigation water, watering when needed and applying only the amount of water needed.

If you are interested in analyzing your irrigation system, the SCS will be glad to go over your system and discuss with you the good and bad points.

If you have been thinking about planting alfalfa this year, now is the time to start that land preparation. Land needs to be in perfect condition if maximum yields are to be obtained. Another important factor is the application of super phosphate fertilizer each year. Also inoculate the seed.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has released a leaflet announcing the development and release of a Perennial Sweet Sudangrass. It is a cross between Sweet Sudan and Johnsongrass. Seed may be available for farmer planting by the summer of 1958.

Farwell Girl To Represent County At Dress Review

Judy Billingsley will be honored by representing Parmer County at the district 4-H dress revue in Amarillo Tuesday. The winner of the Tuesday revue will go to state competition.

Twelve counties comprise the district in which Miss Billingsley will face competition next week. A member of the Farwell chapter of Parmer County 4-H clubs, Miss Billingsley competed against 30 county members for honors which gave her the opportunity to go to Amarillo.

The Parmer County girl's winning dress and her 4-H record will be sent to Amarillo Monday, and the construction of the dress will be reviewed then. Then on Tuesday, Miss Billingsley will be in the Panhandle city to model the ensemble in the "best-dressed" class. Not only will she wear the garment which she made, but she will be judged on posture, personality, and poise. Also noted will be her choice of appropriate accessories for her ensemble.

The young lady, who will be a freshman in high school next year, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Billingsley.

Miss Billingsley won the Parmer County competition with a dress of blue shantung weave cotton and rayon blend, featuring an empire waistline and button tabs.

The important thing is to control them in the home so there'll be none for infesting the TV cabinet.

Rain Is Big Factor

Crop prospects likely would have been turning down in the Parmer County area this week had it not been for the general showers. Most crops were on the verge of suffering serious damage from lack of moisture.

Cooler weather is expected to allow fuller and more even development of grain sorghum heads, too, and farmers welcome this by-product of three days of damp weather.

Cotton is blooming in all areas, and is making steady progress toward maturity, although still later than normal. Insects have not been too serious.

Corn, where irrigation water has been sufficient, is holding up very well in spite of the lengthy dry spell, and prospects continue good for that crop. Corn ear worms have not been as bad as some anticipated.

Organize Certified Growers

Fourteen Parmer County farmers have banded together to grow, boost, and plant certified seed in the Parmer County area. Their title—Parmer County Certified Seed Growers Association.

The organization was formed at Bovina in a recent meeting. They elected Truett Johnson of Friona president, who has for several years produced planting seed on his farm about five miles south of Friona.

Other officers are Glenn Phillips of Farwell, vice-president; County Agent Joe Jones, secretary; and F. W. Holcomb of Friona, treasurer. A committee set up at the organizational meeting to advertise the work of the organization includes Harold Lillard of Friona, chairman; and Harold Joe Wells, Bob Jones, and Steve Bavousett.

Members besides officers are Charles Seale of Farwell, and Nelson Welch, Wayne Gouth, Walter Reithmayer, Weldon Minchew, Eugene Boggess, and Doyle Shearer, all of Friona.

Purpose of the association, according to Johnson, is to promote cooperation with the Texas Experiment Stations and build an area noted for producing good quality seed. Better marketing is another aim of the group, through joint effort of the association.

"Parmer County is a good place for producing certified seed," Agronomist Jack King of the Lubbock station tells the group. "This area has about the best potential of any county in the Southwest for growing good seed and building a reputation for good seed production."

The organization sponsored a roguing school Friday at the Wayne Goss farm, attended by about 15 area farmers. Plans for a county field day, including a tour of seed growing farms, are in the making. Seed buyers over the nation are to be invited, Johnson says.

CAREERS IN NURSING

The Texas State Committee on Careers in Nursing wishes to announce vacancies still exist in the September classes of professional schools of nursing in Texas.

The nurse of today goes everywhere. She is in the hospital, in the home, in schools, in industry, in Public Health agencies, and in the Military nursing service, both in this country and abroad. The nurse has become an important part of the health team as it strives to protect and improve the health of the community, state, country and world.

Men and women interested in a career in nursing may write for information to the Texas State Committee on Careers in Nursing, c/o your local Postmaster. It is suggested that those who desire to enter a nursing school in September indicate same on their request for information.

THE PARMER FARMER

By LELAND BOYD

is about four miles west of Friona, the other night and learned he has been doing the same thing for the past four years.

We went with him while he started the tubes to running from the tail water, and we are quite intrigued with his operation. He picks up water that would ordinarily stay in bar ditches, and gets a volume that must nearly equal what a good 10-inch well would produce. He times his watering a little later than the farmers around him and can water about 15 acres a day, when the 18 wells that furnish his supply have been running.

"Rain cannot come now," we were told last week. "Oldtimers to this area have had a rule proven through the years that never fails."

The rule reported goes something like this: Never will it rain when farmers need it as bad as Parmer farmers needed it before the rains last week and this week. And never will it rain when it is at a time when everybody wants rain.

By this account, the rains this week and last were rule breakers. Whether or not they prove to be drouth breakers depends upon what one is accustomed to, for in desert country the one to four inch rains would have set a new record for rainfall during one year perhaps.

In Parmer County, the rains could hardly amount to a drouth breaker, but if the value of the rains to dryland farmers and ranchers could be cashed in at banks, quite a tidy sum would be in circulation.

Last week in the High Plains Farm and Home, a picture of an ordinarily dryland milo crop being irrigated with tail water was published. We talked quite a while with the farmer, Harrison Gee, whose wet "dryland"

He says his investment, besides the tubes and labor, amounts to about $450, spent to put culverts under the road to get the water in his ditches. Just think—no fuel bill for the equivalent of a 10-inch well.

The one big disadvantage, he says, is having to keep close watch for water when it comes down the slopes. He has it timed pretty well, and knows when it starts around a particular corner it will be approximately two hours before he needs to start his tubes.

Losing a little more sleep due to keeping a close watch for water is another unpleasantry, he says.

Like he, we'd say winter is the best time for sleeping, and cash in on free water.

Another phenomenon of rain on the Plains was experienced by several farmers during the past week. This one is the ability of a cloud to rain right up to a fence row or property line and quit. We hear that this happened west of Hub, near Bovina, and at other spots, too.

Shirley Smith, who operates a ranch about 12 miles northwest of Bovina, says last week's rain hit his place pretty good. About two inches fell on the east portion of his section. Nearly four inches fell on the western portion.

He wasn't sure all of four inches fell on the western part because "the gauge had a bunch of bugs in it, and made guesswork out of telling exactly how much fell."

There was enough to make the pastures look like a sheet of water, and seven water gaps were washed out from his place on Frio Draw, he said.

L. C. Johnson, Porter McGee and Leo Ruzicka had a good aerial view of their places and the surrounding area Saturday. Elvie Jennings of Benger Air Park took them flying over their places. This wasn't the first time for either of the three, but they agreed that it was a thrill.

A machinery inventory of a typical dryland farmer on the High Plains includes the following: two tractors, one pickup, three trailers, two knifing sleds, one rotary-hoe, one stalk cutter, one sand fighter, and one-half a combine, according to a survey taken by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

The average age of the equipment is four to six years, and the average life expectancy is from 10 to 12 years, six years more. This means that by 1962 or 1963 most of the equipment will need to be replaced, requiring an approximate outlay of $12,700 within this period, or about $2,500 a year.

Parmer County still has a few scattered dry-land farmers, but if weather conditions do not become more favorable, there's still a rough road ahead for those that are left.

My, the rains are wonderful! And they have come at the right time, too. Well, really they could have come earlier, but then, should we complain?

There certainly is a difference in the amount of slope a crop can be successfully irrigated on, and the type of soil seems to make more difference than anything.

The tight lands in the northern two-thirds of Parmer County are very fertile, and can really "put a crop on" under ideal conditions. However, in many cases the tight soil, coupled with a low organic matter content and a sloping field, makes it very difficult to get enough irrigation water into the soil to do the crops enough good. That's one of the basic reasons for our excess runoff water.

The sandier soils to the south lap up the water at a much greater rate, and it is surprising to see how evenly the grain sorghum plants grow on some of these hilly farms.

Parmer County is not through building elevators. There is a 1,300,000 bushel unit going up at Lariat now. It will supplement the old tank-type units of Sherley-Anderson there. Chalmers and Borton of Hutcheson, Kans., is contractor.

Plains Cotton Growers, in estimating the 1957 cotton crop, figures the Plains will produce 1,654,000 bales this year. They call their estimate "conservative," and we must agree.

From Parmer County's 40,000 irrigated acres, they are expecting 46,000 bales. That does seem conservative in the face of last year's crop of 60,000 bales, but PCG is taking into consideration the lateness of the crop this year.

Castro County's acreage of 53,000, also all irrigated, is expected to produce 55,000 bales. Deaf Smith has 10,000, and PCG is looking for 11,000 bales. Bailey County, with 96,000 acres of cotton but 34,000 of that dryland, is anticipated to turn out 73,000 bales.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU By RAYMOND EULER

Renner, Mingus Find Price Weak For Cabbage Crop

Twenty-one acres of plump cabbages are being cut by two farmers south of Friona this week, but prospects for good profits are not bright.

Raising the cabbage this year (their first try at cabbage) are John Renner and Glen Mingus. It isn't their first dabble into vegetables.

They are making the first of what will probably be three cuttings this summer. About three weeks ago, the early cabbage market was about $35 a ton, but since has dropped, and they are now not much above the "getting our money back" point.

Cabbage has seen better days on the Plains. Prices often run $50 a ton, and in rare instances top $100 and the growers really "clean up."

At the Renner and Mingus field last week was Leon Coffin, Hereford buyer. He is handling the marketing for the Friona men.

Renner and Mingus planted the cabbage April 25. Maturity is usually expected within 74 days, but cool weather has delayed the crop.

The farmers say cabbage isn't especially hard to grow, although dusting for insects, especially loopers, is a big problem.

The men's investment in the crop will run around $135 to $140 acre they say. The harvest is expected to take 15 days to complete.

But, as often occurs in vegetable markets, the price is down.

There's no shortage of material for cole slaw on the farms of John Renner and Glen Mingus south of Friona. Here they lean on a rick of bagged cabbages. John is holding a nice-sized one up for inspection.

Laborers pick the nicest heads as they stride down the rows, deftly slice them off at the bottom, and toss them to a trailer pulled behind a tractor. Others atop the trailer stack the cabbages like dominoes.

Thirty-Four Girls Have 4-H Camp

A highlight of the past week-end for members of Parmer County Girls 4-H clubs was the camp held for the girls August 1-2 at Hub community house.

The delegation from Lazbudie was in charge of registration for the weekend's festivities, beginning at 2 o'clock in the afternoon on the opening day.

Craft was planned for the first afternoon also, with girls completing key rings and coin purses of leather.

The second day of the camp began at 7:30 in the morning, with a well-rounded breakfast of bacon, eggs, tomato juice and toast prepared and served by the girls.

After a snack of doughnuts and pop during the morning, a demonstration on small electrical equipment was given by Earnestine Gary, home economist with Southwestern Public Service Co. of Clovis.

Sign-Up Begins Aug. 26

Parmer County farmers may sign up for the 1958 wheat acreage reserve under the soil bank program between August 26 and October 4, it was announced this week by Prentice Mills, county ASC manager.

The county manager received instructions on the sign-up program via a telegram from the state department of agriculture.

He said that there would be a maximum payment of $3,000 per farmer and that the payment in Parmer County will be $20.32 per acre on irrigated wheat and $9.31 on dryland.

Elevator Being Built At Lariat

A 1,300,000 bushel expansion program is underway at the Sherley-Anderson Grain Co., Lariat. Work on the 21 new concrete tanks started two weeks ago and when completed it will increase the capacity of the elevator to 1,600,000 bushels.

Chalmers and Borton of Hutchinson, Kans., are the contractors and it is hoped the project will be completed by October 20, says Penny Anderson, company representative.

It is the largest single expansion project ever undertaken by the firm, which also has elevators in Farwell, Bovina, Summerfield, and Hereford. When completed it will give the company 6,830,000 bushels of storage at its three elevators in Parmer County.

The concrete tanks will be 24 feet in diameter, 148 feet high, and they will be located southeast of the present elevator at Lariat.

Onion Deal Nears Windup In Parmer County Area

Some Parmer County farmers who have pioneered onion growing on a big scale in the area can finally see "daylight" this week on the 1957 onion deal. Although their fortunes have had some ups and downs, it can be considered a successful year for them.

Euvon and J. T. Ford and sons plunged into the business this year with 80 acres of onions, knowing that they had some obstacles to overcome. Good prices last year meant plenty of competition at the market place, and there's no more unwanted commodity than onions in surplus.

They saw some of their crop hit $2.80 a sack this year, and also saw some of it selling for $1 a sack just last week. It has been an erratic year.

Right now, the Fords are winding up operations east of Farwell, harvesting 28 acres on Burl's place. Prospects for high tonnage are good, since the last 15 acres taken from J. T.'s farm yielded over 900 sacks per acre.

The market is showing some improvement, too, and this week, onions were moving at about $1.35 a sack. J. T. says big tonnage makes the difference in profits on a fairly cheap market. Processing is costing 68 cents a bag now, which leaves the producer 67 cents a bag gross profit.

The rain over the weekend caught 11,000 sacks of onions on the ground, and it will be a day or two before they can be hauled to market because of drying requirement. These are sweet Spanish onions, and from 80 to 85 percent will grade "jumbos," says J. T.

On the sweet Spanish crop, Ford is grossing (after processing) about $600 per acre, and says his production costs amount to $125 an acre. That is leaving a fairly respectable profit.

Since about 40,000 sacks have yet to be marketed, it's too early to count money in the bank, but the Fords are anticipating an average per-acre profit of $400 for their 80 acres of onions.

They emphasize that volume helped them to do that well in spite of this being a "rough"

Just before loading, the sacked onions present an unusual appearance as they sit in symetric rows awaiting transportation to the marketplace. These onions are the wind-up of the 80-acre harvest on the Euvon and J. T. Ford and sons farms east of Farwell.

It had been planned to follow through with carrots on the onion land, but because of delay in harvesting, and a lagging market, there won't be time to work the carrots in this year, and that has been given up.

"But we're ready to get back into the onion business again next year," says J. T. "We plan to have our land ready to go so we can get started about February."

J. T., Doyle and Burl all expect to plant about 50 acres of onions next year.

At one time much earlier in the season, J. T. had been offered $750 an acre for onions in the field, which he turned down. At the time, heavy rains in North Texas were making the High Plains onion prospects look very good.

He says he would have made more money if he had taken the offer, but at the time the outlook was so good it appeared to be a risk worth taking. He isn't bitter about his decision.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A new angle to the chain letter idea is being circulated. This one we really like. Of course, it had the usual notation, "This is not a chain letter because no money is involved" attached to it, but the contents of it proved very interesting.

Instead of sending money, hankies, aprons, pot holders, or other articles, the gimmick was recipes. Surely would be interesting if everyone to whom a copy is sent would send recipes to the person whose name is on the top of the list and just keep the thing going.

We are using our first "chain letter" recipe this week. It was sent to Mrs. A. R. McCown at Erick, Okla., from a former neighbor of hers at Denver. The title of it is "Crazy Chocolate Cake" and after you read the recipe, you will surely agree that it sounds that way.

Crazy Chocolate Cake
1 1/2 cups all purpose flour
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
6 tablespoons melted shortening or salad oil
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cold water

Sift flour, then measure and sift again with sugar, cocoa, soda, and salt into an ungreased 10 inch baking pan. Make three depressions. Into one hole put vinegar. In the second hole put shortening or salad oil. Put vanilla into the third hole and pour water over the entire mixture. Mix with a fork. Do not beat. Bake in the same pan used for mixing in a 350 degree oven until thoroughly cooked. Cool in the pan and then ice. The cake is very soft, so should be iced and served in the same pan it was baked in.

Who ever heard of a chocolate cake with no milk, no eggs, and mixed, baked and served in the same pan? Several persons with whom we are acquainted vouch for its goodness, so we plan to try it real soon.

One product that we have been reading about that we surely intend to keep on our shelves as soon as it is available is minced onion. There is no more delightful flavor that can be used in so many different ways. Just imagine having onions ready to add to meats or vegetables without having to peel or dice them.

When minced onion is available everywhere, there surely will be a lot of meals prepared without nearly as many tears as we shed when preparing onions for different things now.

The beef growers are actively campaigning for more beef to be eaten, so maybe Parmer County homemakers should begin doing the same thing for the promotion of carrot sales. If Mrs. Hardy May, Mrs. Bob Jones, and Mrs. Kenneth Neill read this column, maybe they will take the hint.

One recipe that could be printed in a leaflet promoting the consumption of more carrots was given to us this morning by Mrs. Rene Snead. Her husband doesn't grow carrots and we don't know where she got the recipe, but since she also gave us a sample of the cookies, we know it is good.

Carrot Cookies
1/2 cup shortening
1 cup sugar
1 egg unbeaten
1 teaspoon lemon extract
1/2 cup finely shredded carrots
1/2 cup raisins
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Cream sugar and shortening. Beat in egg and lemon extract. Stir in carrots and raisins, then sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet or roll into small balls. Bake 400 degrees 10 to 12 minutes.

Most homemakers we know use card files and cards for their recipes. The idea is very good and makes keeping up with them much more simple. If you use the card system and have trouble with drops of water, milk, or other liquid collecting on the cards when they are out of the file, just go to any five and ten cent store and buy cellophane covers for the cards. This idea makes your file much neater and does away with having smears make the instructions illegible.

Corn, Sunflowers Studied At Station

One hundred varieties and strains of corn have been planted in observation test plots at the High Plains Station at Halfway. These varieties are in tests of 25 with 2-row plots 22 feet long. Each plot is repeated four times. The varieties and strain include both white and yellow hybrids, supplied by Extension farms, plant breeders, and the Texas Research Foundation at Renner.

Seed for T.R.F. No. 9, the latest white hybrid, produced by Lawrence Gundy at the Foundation, is being raised at the station. Some fertilizer experiments are being conducted for corn.

In the search for new cash crops for the High Plains area, the High Plains Station has a research program on sunflowers. Some 80 varieties are planted in 22-foot observation plots. Forty of these plots are replicated four times and 40 varieties have three repetitions. The sunflower has been developed as a cash crop in Argentina, Russia, Canada, and in California and Kansas. It has not been a commercial crop in Texas because adapted varieties have not been available.

Water will boil at less than 212 degrees F. at high altitudes because of the reduced atmospheric pressure.
