Roberts Sells Holdings to Clovis Firm

The sale of Roberts Seed Company's facilities and elevators in Texico-Farwell to New Mexico Mill and Elevator Company was announced this week by M. C. Roberts, Ray Pritchett, and Bob Strader.

This transaction marks the first change in ownership of the local facilities for 20 years. Roberts built the elevator, warehouses, offices and seed business after he moved here in 1937, and he has been active in the management of the firm that bears his name through the years.

The Clovis men announced that the business will be known as a division of New Mexico Mill & Elevator Company. The sale was made effective Tuesday of this week.

Also sold Tuesday was the Portales plant of Roberts, and the purchaser of that branch of Roberts Seed Company was Bud Hodges, a long-time employee of the firm.

Roberts still holds his Clovis elevator and facilities, and will continue to do business there as Roberts Seed Company. He will also use that business name locally until this fall. The purpose of this will be to liquidate stocks of feed, binder twine, baler wire, and other supplies.

Roberts will continue to handle seed wheat, oats, barley and rye here until that time, but is pointing for retirement this fall as soon as he can dis-

Although the sale has been consummated, considerable paperwork yet remains to be taken care of before the change-over can be complete. However, business will continue as usual, since the elevator storage units are empty and ready to receive grain during the wheat harvest.

A Cappella Singers To Be At Lariat

The A Cappella Singers of Southwestern Christian College of Terrell will make an appearance at the Lariat Church of Christ on Tuesday evening, July 2, at 8:30.

Southwestern is the only Christian college in the United States that is individually supported by members of the Church of Christ and is dedicated to the training of Negro youth.

The A Cappella Singers have traveled extensively during the past three years and have appeared in almost all of the 48 states as well as in several parts of Canada.

Everyone is welcome to attend Tuesday night's performance by this talented group, says Loren Thompson, minister of the church.

FOR INSECT CONTROL — Recently acquired for the purpose of spraying the city for flies and mosquitoes is this insecticide machine. Here, Lex Huggins, left, and Wilfred Quickel, city manager, prepare to refill the liquid container in the back of the pickup. The first spraying of the town was completed on Wednesday of this week, and more are planned.

Pres Abbott Dies

Pres Abbott, the old-time tale spinner, XIT ranch hand and one of Parmer County's best-known pioneers, is dead.

He died at a Clovis rest home about 4 o'clock Tuesday morning at the age of 83. He had been in failing health for over a year.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2:30 p. m. in the Bovina Baptist Church, with Rev. Russell Pogue, former Friona minister, now in Wellington, officiating. To assist Rev. Pogue will be Rev. Virgil Goodwin, pastor of the Bovina church.

Pallbearers include John Aldridge, G. D. Anderson, Sr., Bev Buchanan, Aubrey Brock, Joe Wilson, Reagan Looney, Tom Atkins, and O. W. Rhinehart. Honorary pallbearers include W. E. Williams, Ed Ross, Glenn Dunn, A. B. Wilkerson, Perry Looney, and Reese Cagle.

Steed's Funeral Home is in charge of services.

The only immediate survivor is his son, John, who is engaged in missionary work at Espanola, N. M. His wife, Mae, preceded him in death five years ago. She also had been active in missionary work with Spanish-speaking people of South Texas.

Pres Abbott was born November 3, 1873, in Oconee County, S. C. His parents were J. Ben and Elizabeth Carpenter Abbott. The family moved to Texas in 1886 and settled in Parker County.

He moved to West Texas in 1893, and a year later, Pres sought a job with the XIT ranch of the Texas Panhandle, which at that time embraced three million acres.

He was hired by the ranch at $25 per month, with meals and "lodging" thrown in. Several years later Pres was married to Mae Elizabeth Messenger in Deaf Smith County, 1913. The Messengers had lived near Friona.

John was the only child born to the couple.

As the years rolled on, Pres Abbott became one of the area's most adroit story tellers. At the time of his death, he was the number one source of history on Bovina and folklore of the Plains at the time of the big ranch.

Pres made a yearly pilgrimage to the XIT reunions, which usually were held in Dalhart. He always enjoyed swapping stories about old times with his friends.

Of Bovina, Pres used to say, "I didn't move to Bovina. It moved to me." He was on hand when the Santa Fe railroad was laid from Amarillo to Texico, and Bovina became a big cattle shipping point.

He loved to joke about himself, and referred to himself as "an old smooth-mouth" in later years of his life. His slightly-built figure was a familiar sight on Bovina streets, and he usually had a stick or two of peppermint in one of his pockets to pass out to friends he called on.

Deposits Appear Up $200,000 At Security State

Deposits at Security State Bank in Farwell appear to be running about $200,000 ahead of the same time last year, reports R. W. Anderson, bank vice-president, this week.

He made the estimation on the basis of a June 6, 1956, to a June 6, 1957, reading. The second call for quarterly bank statements of condition was made by the state commissioner of banking that week, which was out of the ordinary.

"As long as I can remember, we have always had our call on June 30," said Anderson, "but it's different this year." He pointed out that it would be inaccurate to compare a June 6 statement this year with a June 30 statement last year—thus the estimation.

Deposits on June 6 at Security State were $3,289,305.58.

In addition, Anderson pointed out that this year's wheat crop is later than usual, which further aggravates the discrepancy that exists between the 1957 (Continued on Last Page)

City Sprayed with Insecticide

Spraying operations for insect control in the city of Farwell got underway Tuesday morning as the recently acquired city sprayer was put to use in the alleys and streets, spreading the insecticide.

The spraying occurred following action by the city commission at a recent meeting. It is hoped that the insecticide will get rid of many of the flies and mosquitoes, and help to prevent any cases of encephalitis.

The spray mixture being used is that recommended by the Public Health Service. It contains 50 gallons of water, 25 percent DDT, and one gallon of Malathion, says Wilfred Quickel, city manager, who operates the sprayer.

The manager points out that this is not a herbicide and will not interfere with gardens or flowers which individuals have growing. "It is only an insecticide and for the control of flies and mosquitoes only," Quickel says.

The first spraying was completed Tuesday and there is enough insecticide left to cover the town three or four more times. It is not known just how often the town will be sprayed, according to the manager, but the alleys and trash cans will be sprayed several more times, he says.

The spraying is the second step taken by the city for insect control. Recently, weeds in the alleys and vacant lots were mowed.

A similar undertaking has also been done in Texico, but the mowing operations were not completed while the mower was in town.

Also planned in the immediate future is spraying in Texico. The insecticide has been acquired and spraying should start soon, according to Russell Johnson, water and sewer superintendent.

To be used as a spray machine in Texico will be the fire truck. The water supply tank will be filled with the insecticide and the nozzle spray will be used to spread it around the alleys and trash cans.

Teachers Receive $399 Pay Increase

Like other teachers across the state of Texas, members of the Farwell School faculty will receive a $399 yearly pay raise next year. The raise comes following the passing of a bill in the recent state legislature. It was recently signed by Governor Price Daniel.

Jack Williams, Farwell School superintendent, points out that the starting pay for a teacher with a Bachelor's degree will be raised from $2,805 annually to $3,204. The starting pay for a teacher with a Master's degree will be $3,429.

The superintendent also explained the tenure setup at the school, where each teacher automatically receives a $44 raise for each year's experience. For those with a Bachelor's degree the annual raise continues for 12 years and for those with a Master's degree the increase is received every year for 26 years.

The highest possible pay for a teacher with a Bachelor's degree is $3,852 and the ceiling for one with a Master's degree is $4,833, says the superintendent.

"The pay increase is not yet in line with other states, but it will help," Williams says.

July 4th Picnic Is Planned

Activities at the annual Fourth of July celebration at the Oklahoma Lane community are scheduled to get underway at 4 p. m. Everyone is invited to the affair and entertainment has been planned for each age group.

Highlight of the day will be a baseball game and it is hoped that a speaker can be secured for the evening get-together.

Free lemonade and ice cream will be served free of charge during the afternoon and a basket supper will be served about 7 o'clock. Everyone is cordially invited.

Mr. Fletcher, a resident of Farwell for 37 years, was visiting with his son Cecil Fletcher at Bonnersferry, Idaho, at the time of his death. He had also been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Venus Stormont at Spokane, Wash.

Baseball Round-Up

Pony Team Wins Second Extra Inning Affair

For the second straight time, the Texico-Farwell Pony League squad won a come-from-behind extra inning ball game by one run, when they topped Friona 7-6 here last Thursday afternoon.

The local team won its opening game against Bovina 15-14 in eight innings recently. Last Thursday's win gives them a 2-0 record for the season and they need only to win over Lazbuddie today (Thursday) to cop the championship for the first half of the season.

The season schedule has been split and the winners of each half (should they be different teams) will clash for the Parmer County title when the season ends the latter part of July. Other teams in the league are

Little Leaguers Notch First Win

The Texico-Farwell Little League baseball team came up with its first win of the year Tuesday afternoon when they went to Bovina and chalked up a 6-4 decision.

The win gave the local team a split with Bovina in games during the week. The Bovina Little Leaguers pounded out a 20-16 win over the Texico-Farwell team here last Friday.

The local team scored two runs in the first inning Tuesday to take the lead and it was never behind. They added two each in the fifth and sixth innings.

Van Crume was on the mound for Texico-Farwell and he went all the way to receive credit for the win. He gave up six hits and struck out nine of the opposing batsmen.

Mrs. Billington Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Sterlyn Billington underwent surgery at the hospital in Clovis on Wednesday morning of this week. Family friends report that Mrs. Billington's condition was pretty good following the operation and that doctors were well pleased with the success of the surgery.

Wedding rings are placed on the third finger of the left hand because of an old Egyptian belief that a nerve ran from that finger to the heart.

Mrs. Milstead Suffers Stroke

Mrs. A. Milstead, who suffered a stroke last week, is reported to be getting along pretty good this week. Friends say that she is able to be up part of the time now.

Mrs. Milstead suffered the stroke while visiting in the Oklahoma Lane community and remained at the home of friends overnight. She was returned to her home in Farwell the next day.

As the annual summer youth program goes into full swing, once again swimming tops the activities as the most popular with the Texico-Farwell youngsters. This report comes from

Mercury Climbs To 104 Degrees

The hottest day of the year so far was recorded in Texico-Farwell Tuesday, when the Mercury climbed to 104 at the Texico depot. The previous high for the year had been on June 21 when it reached 98.

Although it has been hot for the past few days, the average temperature for June is lower than last year. Through the first 25 days of the month this year it has averaged 86, according to the records at the depot.

Last year, through the first 25 days, the average temperature was 93 degrees.

Milfords Leave For Oklahoma

Mr. and Mrs. Herman K. Milford and children, LaCretia and Stephen, left the past weekend for Lawton, Okla., where they will make their home.

The Milfords, formerly of Oklahoma, and teachers in the Farwell School system for the past five years, have accepted positions in the junior high school at Lawton. Milford will be teaching science at the Oklahoma school and Mrs. Milford will teach English. They taught the same subjects at the high school here.

Former Farwell Coach to Portales

Carl C. "Smokey" Cates, former football coach at Farwell High School, was recently hired as head football coach at Portales High School for next year.

Cates coached at Farwell for two years after his graduation from Eastern New Mexico University in 1953. After leaving Farwell, he went to Borger where he served as junior varsity coach until taking the Portales position.

Second Bus Added To Haul Group

Joe Helton, president of the Lions Club, the sponsoring organization, made arrangements for a bus from Texico.

The bus has been acquired from N. W. Peyton, Texico bus contractor, and paying the $10 transportation fee each trip will be the Texico City Commission.

The money will be appropriated with the addition of the extra bus, the number of youngsters who will participate in swimming is expected to increase, says Atwell. Probably some have not been going swimming because of the crowded bus, he says.

Kirk L. Runnels Dies in California

Funeral services for Kirk L. Runnels, 50, former resident of Texico, were conducted at Anaheim, Calif., on Saturday, June 22. Runnels died at his home in Anaheim following a heart attack on June 19.

He is the son of K. K. Runnels, who lives south of Texico. He was a long-time resident of this area, and operated an auto repair garage in Texico until 1955 when he and his family moved to California.

Besides his father, he is survived by his wife; one brother, King, of Seattle, Washington; two sisters, Dessie, Seattle, Wash., and Kathleen, Long Beach, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Fred Cohee, San Diego, Calif.; and two sons, Jim, of Anaheim, and Cary, who is presently stationed with the Navy at San Diego.

LOTS OF FUN—These Texico-Farwell youngsters pause for a minute from their swimming in the Muleshoe pool Monday morning to pose for the camera. They indicate that there is much enjoyment in this phase of the summer youth program, which is by far the most popular with the local youngsters.

THE TRIBUNE'S EDITORIAL COMMENT

A Clean-Up Campaign Would Help, Too

As the fly and mosquito control measures get underway in Texico-Farwell, it brings to mind a need for an overall clean-up campaign, where the citizens would all join together to give the towns a face-lifting.

The mowing of the weeds in the past, and now the spraying of insecticide by the city should help considerably in doing away with the insects, but a city-wide clean-up week would do even more good.

Those back yards where there are many weeds which the city mower didn't get, and where there is much debris, old jars and bottles, and other breeding places for the insects should be cleaned up.

We notice where many other cities and towns have a week set aside for such purposes. Some call it just a general clean-up week while others designate it as "Clean-up, Paint-up, Fix-up Week." At that designated time all citizens are urged to join in the city-wide program to take any means to give the town a new and clean look.

In some places many businessmen and other citizens all take off for a day or afternoon and cover the city, cleaning the alleys, vacant lots, and streets.

Of course, it would be best if all citizens would voluntarily take care of their own places without being urged to do so by the Chamber of Commerce or some other organization, but some people just never seem to "get in the mood."

Mrs. Martha Snider Recalls Oklahoma Before Statehood

By OLA C. HOPKINS

HOLLIS — Spry at 90! That's Mrs. Martha Snider, Hollis, happy, but not too excited over all the to-do about the 50th anniversary of statehood. Why, that's just recent history to this nonagenarian who moved as a bride to the Bethel community, 16 miles southeast of Hollis, 71 years ago, some dozen years before Hollis was founded.

What with getting meals, sewing, doing laundry and looking after wants of her 11 children she left affairs of state to the man of the house, her husband, George W. Snider, who died just that till his death in 1935.

While mail came only periodically by mailcoach from Quanah, Texas, and was the only means of learning what was going on in the outside world there was much to be done in building a community as pioneer settlers moved in. A two-room frame building was soon completed and a windmill set up to furnish water for the embryo cattle herd which had been driven overland from Gainesville, Texas, to the expanseless prairie. The "Snider Windmill" was to become a landmark, only watering place for many miles.

Life was good on the new frontier homestead in spite of hardships and inconveniences, as for instance, having to wait for medical attention till a doctor could travel the 20 miles by horseback from Quanah, across the treacherous Red River, in birth and illnesses of her children.

"But they grew up healthy and are still living," the proud mother rejoiced.

The whole family would pitch in with jobs inside and out. Soon a schoolhouse was built. The Sniders considered themselves most fortunate to have the schoolhouse only a mile away, whereas some pupils had to walk four miles.

When weather was too bad for some to return home after school, they would spend the night with the Sniders. Floor pallets became a necessity even after the house was enlarged to four rooms. One of the earliest recollections of the Snider children was of countless travelers, "prospectors" as they were called, would camp at the Snider Windmill.

A daughter said, "In severe weather campers would often take up their bed rolls and ask permission to spread beds inside the Snider kitchen for protection and since our only heat in pioneer days was from a "bachelor stove" that did duty as both heater and cooking, we had to sit up till the "company" was ready for bed."

All supplies had to be brought from Quanah and there was always the fear of the rampaging Red River in flood season. Or of quicksand at other stages. Or even the dry sand bed in dry season. Always it was a hazard for the deep sand made crossing with loaded wagons difficult for teams.

The Snider home was known as a happy haven for neighborhood youths as the parents also delighted in activities of the young, even teen-agers, or the "courting days" of their seven daughters. Mother Snider cannot even count the biscuits she made, but guesses "maybe a million or more, for there was no store-bought bread in pioneering," she said.

In due time the Snider youths had taken care of the marriage problem as they were mated with neighborhood companions, with five of them marrying into two nearby families, the J. R. Husband and the Bert Williams families.

Ethel Snider married W. G.

Husband, later prominent Hollis physician and surgeon who built the first Hollis hospital. Ruby married Claud Husband, Hollis merchant; and their brother, Carl Snider, married Thelma Husband, sister of W. G. and Claud.

Melvin Snider married Grace Williams while sister Bonnie married Willie Williams. Most of the Sniders continued to live and rear their families in this county, although in recent years the Melvin Sniders and the Willie Williams moved to Farwell, Texas; and the other children, Mrs. Elmer Willingham and Mrs. Letha Knight moved to Lovington, N. M.; Mrs. Evans Johnson to Lawton and Mrs. Aleen Clonts, Casa Grande, Ariz.; Roscoe, eldest and former county treasurer of this county after statehood, is in Los Angeles, Calif.; and Elmer at Borger.

Mrs. Snider rejoices that all her children are still living and that she now has 30 grandchildren, 43 great-grandchildren and one great-great grandchild, son of Bob Scott, Jr., of Lawton. "Any day may swell that number," her eyes twinkled to add. The homestead on which they filed after Old Greer county was annexed to Oklahoma in 1896 has grown to include several hundred additional acres and instead of "from teepees to towers", statehood slogan, it was for the Sniders "from ranch to irrigated farms."

Miss Joy Berry Has Surgery

Miss Joy Berry, daughter of the Alton Berrys, underwent an emergency appendectomy at a hospital in Las Vegas, N. M., on Wednesday evening of last week. She was returned to her home here Sunday and is reported to be getting along fine at the present time.

Joy was attending camp with other Farwell FHA girls at the time of the attack. She was taken to the hospital by a pre-med student who happened to be visiting the caretakers of the camp that evening.

Burglary Suspect Returned To Dallas

George Standifur, a Negro, was arrested, east of Bovina Sunday morning and taken to the county jail in Farwell where he was to have been picked up Tuesday by Dallas authorities.

Standifur was recently indicted on a burglary charge at Dallas and he is to be taken there to stand trial, says Chas. Lovelace, county sheriff. Standifur has recently been working on a farm near Bovina.

The driver who speeds along at 85 is literally killing time.

Farwell FHA Girls Home from Camp

(Editor's note: The following report of the Farwell FHA Chapter's summer camping trip was prepared by Wilma Norton, FHA reporter.)

We left for our trip on Monday, June 18, shouting "El Rito de San Jose or Bust." We enjoyed sack lunches at a park in Santa Rosa on the trip.

In Las Vegas we stopped to get a few supplies at a grocery store and also stocked up on more film for our cameras.

Finally, we arrived at the El Rito de San Jose cabins in the El Porvenir mountains. We unpacked after we were shown to our cabins, which were very nice. With the exception of the cabin where the sophomore girls stayed, the rooms were equipped with running water, gas stoves and baths. There wasn't much question as to who would stay in the "other" cabins—the lower classmen didn't have much choice!

Monday evening the group enjoyed hiking and swimming and just looking over the country. After a hamburger supper we adjourned to our cabins, but not to sleep!

Tuesday the girls spent the day riding horses, swimming and hiking and resting in the shade. That night we boarded the bus and went to a nice picnic area in the mountains for a wiener roast. Some of the group biked back to the camp while those not so energetic stayed with the bus.

The top of Hermit's Peak was our destination for Wednesday. One of the girls remarked that the four mile climb seemed to be at least 12 miles and perhaps 15 to the top. At the top of the peak was a ranger station and three of the girls didn't even stop to rest before making their way on up to the station. Mrs. Everett Christian and Mrs. L. B. Penick also enjoyed the climb, but seemed in no hurry to reach the top. Mutt Crook, the bus driver for the trip, took a nap at the foot of the peak while waiting for the group to make their climb.

Wednesday night the group was disturbed when Joy Berry was suddenly ill with an ache in her side. After a brief examination by a pre-med student who was counseling at a nearby boys' camp, he took Joy to the hospital in Las Vegas where she underwent a major appendectomy. She's at home now and doing fine.

Everyone was tired, but who wants to bet that every one of these girls wouldn't like to go back? Making the trip were Judy Hillock, Linda Crume, Juanita Range, Martha Smith, Wilma Norton, Janice Hillock, Joy Berry, Katherine Billington, June Richie, Judy Herrington, Belva Christian, Faye Routon, Alice Ramm, Janice Meisner, Betty Dollar, Joyce Routon and Jo Anne Schell;

Also, the following sponsors: Mrs. L. B. Penick, FHA advisor; Mrs. Lester Norton and Davy; Mrs. Everett Christian, Mrs. Frances Routon, and Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Crook, Randy and Joquetta.

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do. At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Doris Harriman and Doyle Ford Sunday

Miss Doris Harriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Harriman of Farwell, became the bride of Doyle Ford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Ford, also of Farwell, in an informal ceremony performed at the home of the bride's parents on Sunday afternoon, June 16.

Reading the double ring ceremony was Loren Thompson, minister of the Church of Christ of Lariat.

An improvised altar setting in front of a picture window formed the scene for the wedding. The arrangement featured palms centered with a bouquet of orchid stock. Black wrought iron candelabra on either side held tapers covered with silver glitter to carry out the bride's chosen colors of orchid and silver.

Jerry Ford, brother of the groom, and Miss Montella Mitchell, cousin of the groom, were candle lighters. Miss Mitchell wore a pink dress with white accessories and a wristlet of pink carnations.

Mrs. Elaine Groff sang "Whither Thou Goest," accompanied by Miss Jeanette Hughes, and a trio composed of Mrs. Groff, Miss Hughes and Miss Betty Smart sang the "Wedding March."

Miss Marian Smith of Farwell was maid of honor and was attired in a street length dress of orchid with white lace circling the bodice. She wore a white hat and carried a cascade arrangement of white carnations.

Burl Ford served his brother as best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress featuring a V neckline and a semi-full skirt. A large white orchid with a cascade arrangement of stephanotis and streamers topped the white Bible she carried.

Bridal traditions included a penny minted the year of her birth for something old; her bridal ensemble was something new; something borrowed was the white Bible she carried and a lace handkerchief; and something blue was a garter given her by Mrs. Ted Sheets.

The serving table at the reception held immediately following the ceremony was centered with an arrangement of orchid stock and pink asters in a crystal container with crystal candleholders flanking the floral centerpiece. Pink punch and the two-tiered wedding cake, decorated in the bride's chosen colors, were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Ford rated in the bride's chosen colors, were served.

Mrs. Harriman wore a stone blue sheath dress with white accessories and a pink feathered carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding, and Mrs. Ford wore a pale pink dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gardenias and stephanotis.

The bride changed to a pale blue fitted suit with white collar and white accessories for a wedding trip. She wore the orchid from her wedding bouquet.

Following a trip to Colorado, Utah and Yellowstone National Park, the couple is at home in Farwell where Ford is engaged in farming with his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford are both graduates of Farwell High School. She was graduated with the class of 1957 and he was graduated in 1955. He also attended West Texas State College, Canyon.

Final Rites Recently For Former Resident

Funeral services were held last Tuesday in San Bernardino, Calif., for J. D. Williams, long time resident of Texico and a nephew of Mrs. W. H. Matthews and Mrs. B. L. Harding, both of Texico, and of Mrs. H. H. Carlyle of Muleshoe. Mr. Williams died following complications after surgery. Mr. Williams was born south of Texico and lived there until 17 years ago when he moved to San Bernardino. He had worked for the railroad after moving there and was employed as a city bus driver in San Bernardino at the time of his death. Mr. Williams was the only child of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Williams who lived in Truth or Consequences, N. M. Mrs. Williams died eight years ago and Mr. Williams died in April 1956. Survivors include his wife, the former Eunice Matthews, and their five children, including Dee Austin and Helen, both of whom are married and are living in San Bernardino, and Odessa, Lynn and Derry, all of the home. Mesdames Matthews, Harding and Carlyle were the only persons from this area attending the funeral.

During the evening services for the next few weeks the pastor will bring a series of doctrinal sermons on "What the Methodists Believe and Practice." This week the message will be on "The Sacraments." You are urged to be present for the special services.

MYF still meets each Sunday night at 6:45 in the church basement. We have a new set of ping-pong paddles and we will hold a ping-pong tournament sometime this summer. Our "Quest Period" will be led by the pastor again this week. After this, the various area chairmen and adult leaders will have charge of the "Quest Periods." We have been having a good time and good fellowship. We invite all of the youth of our towns to attend.

All intermediates are asked to be making plans to attend the district camp from July 8-12 in the cool Sacramento Mountains. The elevation is 7500 feet above sea level and when the rains filter through the tall pines it is really cool even in July.

Let's have a whole dozen to attend this camp. The pastor will be going and this will help solve some of the transportation needs. Fee for this camp is $16 and this is the best week you can spend in the summer.

Members of the official board are reminded that the regular monthly meeting will be held Monday evening, July 1, at 8 o'clock at the church. All members of the commission on finance are especially asked to be present.

Our services were well attended this week. We had 114 in church services, 115 for Sunday School and 70 in the evening services. We are shooting for 150 in Sunday School within the next two weeks. This should be easy for us to do if each Methodist Christian will make an attempt to be present. We're counting on you to NOT let us down!

This past Monday, Mrs. E. G. Blair and G. W. Atchley spaded and prepared the area south of the church for planting flowers. We thank them for their work for their church.

Members of this congregation are invited to an open house at the parsonage this Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 p.m. Several of the ladies of the church will help Mrs. Hardwick with the preparations.

Notice to members of the W.S.C.S.: Programs are to be held in the mornings instead of afternoons during the summer.

The young adults were out in force Sunday morning and we all had a fine fellowship and coffee hour. We are trying to have 50 in this class; so let's all do our best to attend. We will plan our class social and discuss a class project this Sunday.

With Mrs. Utsman

Mrs. Ollie Utsman will be hostess for the monthly business and social meeting of the Rebecca Sunday School class of First Baptist Church, Farwell, on Monday evening, July 1, according to the class reporter.

Maurice Smith Injures Leg

Maurice Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, received a severe gash in his leg while playing baseball with the Babe Ruth League in Clovis last week. The accident occurred when Maurice slid into second base during a practice session at the Clovis park. He was treated at the hospital in Clovis and seven stitches were required to close the gash. He was returned home Friday and his mother reports that he is getting along fine and that doctors say the wound is healing nicely. There is a slight possibility that he will be able to play ball again before the close of the season.

NEWS FROM LAZBUDDIE

By MRS. CLYDE MONK

Scott-Stafford Vows Read Here Sunday

In an afternoon ceremony at the Lazbuddie Baptist Church on Sunday, June 23, Miss Juanita Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Scott of Lazbuddie, became the bride of Charles Stafford, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. D. Stafford of Del Rio.

Rev. Stafford read the double ring ceremony for his son's wedding and was assisted by Rev. Ted Vassar, pastor of the Assembly of God Church of Levelland.

The church altar was decorated with fan shaped arrangements of greenery and pink roses. An improvised cross made of rosettes from Yucca blossoms and six branched candelabra centered the altar setting. A kneeling bench covered with white satin stood before a trellis of pink roses to complete the wedding setting. White satin bows marked the family pews.

Mrs. John Agee played traditional wedding music and accompanied Jim Gordon who sang "Oh Perfect Love," "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Don Owens of Levelland attended the groom as best man. Ushers and candle lighters were Darrell Foster of Waxahachie and Ted Henly of Amarillo.

Maid of honor was Miss Barbara Akens of Clovis who wore a waltz length gown of white crystalline which featured a fitted bodice and full skirt. She wore a small tiara of nylon tulle and carried a cascade arrangement of mixed flowers.

Misses Carolyn Scott, sister of the bride, and Danny Rue Cargile, bridesmaids, were attired in dresses of blue crystalline styled identically to that of the maid of honor. They wore blue nylon tulle tiaras and carried bouquets of mixed flowers with white streamers.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She wore an original design gown of white chiffon over white satin. The waltz length creation featured a sweetheart neckline and long chiffon sleeves which came to points over her hands. The bouffant skirt fashioned with tiers of ruffled chiffon over satin was accented with lace and seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with pink rosebuds and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Carrying out the traditional old, new, borrowed, and blue theme, the bride carried a linen handkerchief for something old; something new was her bridal ensemble; something borrowed was a dime she carried in her shoe for luck; and something blue was a garter which was given her by her aunt, Mrs. Jack Smith.

Mrs. Scott, mother of the bride, chose a blue and white linen dress with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Stafford, wore a navy lace dress with white and navy accessories. They each wore corsages of white astors.

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the reception held immediately following the ceremony. Composing the receiving line were the bride couple and their parents. Miss Naomi Watson of Muleshoe presided at the bride's book.

The reception table was covered with a lace cloth over green and was centered with the four-tiered wedding cake which was decorated with love birds and pink roses. Miniature wedding bells topped the confection. The bride's bouquet served as the floral arrangement of pink roses and bouquets of pink roses were placed throughout the receiving rooms.

After the bride and groom cut the first piece of the cake, Miss Carolyn Scott served cake and Miss Danny Rue Cargile presided at the punch service.

For a wedding trip the bride changed to a navy and white slier cotton dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the trip, the newlyweds will be at home in Waxahachie where Stafford plans to continue his schooling. He is also employed as a postal employee at a Dallas post office.

The bride is a 1957 graduate of Lazbuddie High School and the groom was graduated from Del Rio High School. He is presently a student at Southwestern Bible Institution at Waxahachie.

The rotary hoe is effective, under proper conditions, for eliminating young grass and weed seedlings in row crops. Use of the machine, according to C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, will greatly reduce expensive hand-hoeing labor and aid in getting crops started faster than those competing for moisture and nutrients with weeds.

Bobby Joe Crume
Completes Course

Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.—Pvt. Bobby Joe Crume, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Crume, Farwell, Tex., recently was graduated from the basic Army administration course at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

The eight-week course included training in typing, army clerical procedures and record keeping.

He entered the army in January 1957 and completed basic training at Fort Carson, Colo.

The 22-year-old soldier attended Abilene Christian College.

Lions Have Final Meeting of Year

The final meeting of the year for the Texico-Farwell Lions Club was conducted Monday night in the City Cafe. Business was light and no program was presented at the session, presided over by Joe Helton, outgoing president.

Other out-going officers were Paul Frederick, vice-president; John Getz, secretary-treasurer; Jack Williams, lion tamer; Shirley Kesner, tail twister; and Paul Wurster and A. D. Smith, directors.

The above officers directed the club's activities during the year, which saw the local club rank fifth in District 40-x in attendance percentages. The district is comprised of clubs in Eastern New Mexico.

Activities for the year included various money-raising events, of which most of the funds derived went for the Texico-Farwell summer youth program and sight-conservation. Under the sight-conservation program the Lions buy glasses for school children whose parents are financially unable to do so.

Spanish Course Concludes Monday

The Spanish course which has been conducted at Farwell during the past weeks was concluded Monday night. It was reported that 14 of the 26 area persons enrolled completed the course. Those who did not complete the course were the ones who did not attend every meeting.

Ben Vera was the instructor for the eight class sessions.

The names of those who were enrolled in the course were unavailable.

Mrs. Monty Parsons Undergoes Surgery

Mrs. Monty Parsons returned to her home in Texico on Monday of this week after being confined to the hospital in Clovis where she underwent surgery the first of last week.

Family members say she is getting along fine this week. Here staying with Mrs. Parsons during her recovery is her daughter, Mrs. Leona Judd and children of Elida.

Little League—

In the game here last Friday, Bovina had several big innings, building up a commanding lead, before staving off a late Texico-Farwell rally. The Bovina team got eight hits off starting pitcher Bobby Hapke, and aiding the Bovina cause was nine errors by the local team. The Twin City squad had 11 hits.

The Texico-Farwell Pee Wee team once again failed to get on the winning track in two games with Bovina the past week, dropping the first one last Friday 13-5 and the one Tuesday 8-4.

The games, with an hour time limit, lasted only two and three innings, respectively. Last Friday, Bovina scored five runs in the first inning and eight in the second frame to coast to the win.

They didn't have quite as easy a time of it on their home field Tuesday, but with a five-run second frame, they once again proved to have too much for the locals.

Both Pee Wees and Little Leaguers are idle tomorrow (Friday) but they will play host to Lazbuddie next Tuesday in games that will end the first half of the season.

Business Light For Chamber

Only a small turnout was on hand for the regular Chamber of Commerce meeting Tuesday night and few topics were discussed by the group. Topics talked over included the swimming pool and the cemetery.

Attending the meeting were Joe Blair, Bob Anderson, Wilfred Quickel, Jim Terrell, Ed Blain and Dick Hapke.

Homer Fletcher—

was the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fletcher, early day pioneers of Coke County and some of the first settlers to move to Taylor County.

Besides his children, Mr. Fletcher is survived by a brother, Pole, of Farwell; two grandsons; three nieces; Mrs. Carrie Scarbrough of San Angelo, Mrs. Neva Francis of Mountainair, N. M., and Mrs. Vida Bell Wyatt of Abilene; several nephews, among them Oren Fletcher of San Angelo; a great-niece, Mrs. Anna Bell Matthews of Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif.; a great-nephew, Jerry Wyatt of Abilene.

Mrs. C. M. Crow, of Farwell, the former Mrs. Eugene Fletcher, is a sister-in-law.

Pallbearers are to be Ben H. Smart, Jim Bob Smart, Donald Rolland, Hazel Petree, Chas. Lovelace and Felix Monroe. A pastor from Idaho who is arriving on the train with the body will conduct the services.

Farmers Map War On Field Bindweed

Bindweed is no longer an "Isn't it a good thing we don't have that stuff out here?" weed in Farmer County. That fact is being driven home time and again by the county weed committee sponsored by the Farm Bureau, and apparently, the warning is beginning to sink in.

Numerous farmers over the county are waking up to discovering that many of their neighbors' farms and bar ditches—perhaps even their own—are popping up with infestations of the dreaded noxious weed.

That farmers are uniting for action against the threat of a full-scale bindweed invasion is evidenced by the increase in interest in meetings. Last Friday morning, for example, a dozen farmers met at the highway barn in Bovina to help work out a joint control plan with the State Highway Department.

Representing the state was Lloyd Killough, head of maintenance work in the county, who indicated willingness of the Department to work with farmers, but who pointed out that cooperation must be had from individuals.

"We can't go along in a control program unless farmers agree to leave treated patches alone and not plow through them," he emphasized.

Killough was referring to highway rights-of-way that are particularly troublesome sources of infestation. The Department has already been active in treating bindweed spots with soil sterilant, and good results have been reported.

With the Highway Department in the fight, cooperation from the railroads is being sought,

These farmers were spotting bindweed infestations on a county map at a meeting held in Bovina last Friday morning. Left to right, they are Carl Schlenker, Spencer Hough, and Bruce Parr. All are interested in noxious weed control.

Law Pondered as Weeds Sprout

Spring rains did more than put big heads on the wheat of the area. They played nursemaid to a "jillion" weeds that are now cluttering up the fields of Farmer County area farmers.

The weeds are being taken care of where cultivation equipment can reach them, but when they appear in the rows of cotton, grain sorghum, corn, and other row crops, the problems begin.

Several years ago hormone type herbicides were introduced into the Plains and gave great promise of effective control of such field nuisances. One of the most popular is 2,4, D.

These "weed juices" have been very effective, but they do have their drawbacks. One of them is that they have adversely affected cotton, which is a certain type of broad-leaved plant that is susceptible to the hormone.

Last year, for instance, widespread complaint was heard from every quarter of the irrigated Plains concerning the use of 2,4, D in fields near enough to cotton so that some of the spray drifted and settled on the susceptible fields.

The problem was so acute, in fact, that the county voted to make itself come under special state laws which regulate the sale, transport, and use of hormone type herbicides.

This is the first year that farmers have been faced with trying to farm under the new regulations, and there are many questions popping up. It is required that any farmer who desires to use these herbicides first obtain a permit to do so.

These can be obtained from Darwyn Metcalf at Texas Tech. Applications for these permits can be obtained from the county agent, county attorney, the Farm Bureau office, Bovina Farm Chemical, Cummings Farm Store, or county elevators.

They must be submitted in duplicate.

County Agent Joe Jones has prepared a brief outline of things farmers should know before using hormone type herbicides. Here is a condensation of the rather detailed and lengthy state law broken down by Metcalf:

It will be the joint responsibility of applicator (or crop owner) and custom applicator to supervise the application in compliance with regulations set up by the Commissioner of Agriculture.

For aerial application an inspector of The Texas Department of Agriculture must be present.

Any person who engages an applicator when such an applicator is not licensed and bonded is violating the law. Do not hire custom applicator until you are sure he is licensed and bonded in Texas.

All permits expire when the acreage for which the permit was granted has been sprayed. Permits are good only on land for which they were granted.

An accurate wind gauge must be at the place of spraying during such spraying. No 2,4, D or 2,4,5-T shall be sprayed when wind velocity exceeds 10 miles per hour.

Distances from susceptible crops with varying wind velocities:

Velocity	Downwind	Upwind
0-3 mph	1 mile	½ mile
4-6 mph	2 miles	¾ mile
7-10 mph	4 miles	250 feet

RECORDS: The applicator must keep records for a period of two years:

- The name and address of the person in control of the land or crops.
- The names and addresses of the person and firm making the application.
- The exact location of the land.

Onion Situation Looks Favorable

A group of Farwell onion growers are crossing their fingers and holding their breaths. If nothing happens to their splendid 85-acre onion crop, and the market keeps its feet for another 15 days, they'll be in the chips. In fact, they stand a good chance of netting $1,000 or more per acre.

J. T. and Euvon Ford, brothers who farm east of town, and J. T.'s sons, Doyle and Burl, are the farmers who are taking the big plunge into the vegetable business this year, and so far, everything looks rosy.

"We hope to start harvesting July 5," J. T. says this week. Right now (at least, on Saturday it was) the market is hovering around $3.25 a sack—that's 50 pounds.

This prospect for good prices when harvest gets rolling next month has prompted some high offers from onion speculators. Last week Ford turned down $750 per acre for the smelly bulbs, and that was field price, although he would have had to water them one more time.

"We figure at that price we could have made $675 per acre," he says. "But we believe we'll hold on to see how much we can get out of them ourselves. This onion business is just like the oil business."

So far, things have gone smoothly for the Fords. They got their sets out and up to good stands, and planting depths appear to have been accurately calculated for maximum development. The yield is expected to be around 800 sacks per acre, and 80 to 82 per cent No. 1's.

Weeding costs have run $15 per acre—not considered prohibitive since they figured to spend about $40 an acre on this cost of production. The spring rains helped out on the water situation, and they have irrigated only four times, about half of what they had anticipated would be required. One more irrigation will finish the crop.

Total production costs will be about $150 per acre.

"Everything's gone well for us so far, but we've learned a lot this first year," says J. T. "I know that we can come back next year and improve everything quite a bit."

Several factors are contributing to improved prospects for the High Plains onion crop. The main one is that the North Texas crop has been washed out by heavy rains, and that there's no competition from that quarter to worry about.

Right now, the biggest threat lies to the north, in the sunny Colorado Valleys. They usually begin their harvests around July 15, and it will be the aim of the Plains growers to market their onions as speedily as possible to get in under the Colorado harvest which will peel back prices.

The Fords have harvest hands already lined up, and are just waiting for the moment they can begin. They estimate that they can harvest from 12 to 15 acres per day.

J. T. calls Hereford daily to check on the market.

J. T. Ford has pulled these four nice-sized onions from the crop raised by Euvon, his brother, to show how well the vegetables are developing. Onion growers are encouraged over prospects for making good money this summer.

Food Advice For Travelers

Keeping your family well-fed may be your biggest vacation problem. Here's some food advice for travelers from extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Include lots of fruit, vegetables, meat, eggs and milk in your diet. Try to avoid fat or fried foods and sweets, such as too many soft drinks, candy, cookies and ice cream. These foods may not be harmful at home in moderation, but it's easy to eat too many on a trip. They may cause you to omit other necessary foods. Eating well-balanced meals will do more than anything else to prevent car sickness and constipation—two common problems of travelers.

To select a safe, sanitary restaurant, specialists suggest you watch where local people

Easy Outdoor Cookery

A quick, easy way to prepare the main dish for a picnic or outdoor meal is to cook on skewers — "Shish-Kabobs" are delicious and different.

There are many possibilities, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists. You may have all vegetables or all meat on the skewer, or alternate the meat cubes with a combination of vegetables such as tomato wedges, chunks of carrot, mushrooms, pieces of green pepper, onion, etc.

A basic "Shish-Kabob" is made with boneless meat, cut in 1½ or 2-inch cubes. Beef, lamb, ham or pork may be used.

With lamb or veal, use the shoulder or leg; with beef, use the round, chuck or rump. Allow ½ to ¾ pound per person.

Prepare the meat by simply brushing with lemon juice and olive oil, or marinate for 2 hours to 2 days in the following mixture: 1 part of lemon juice to 3 parts olive oil seasoned with crushed garlic, salt and pepper, and if you wish, add some thyme, oregano, bay leaf or cumin.

Now string the cubes on your skewers—If you like the meat rare, push the cubes closely together. For all around crispness, separate the chunks on the skewer.

Broil over coals. It will take from 10 to 16 minutes, depending on how well done you want the food.

Serve immediately.

the Soil Conservation District, which has three ready for that purpose. The rent on the equipment is $4 per day.

The spreaders are located at the following places: A. L. Black farm, 4½ miles east of the Hub; Walter Kaltwasser farm, 7 miles east of Farwell on Oklahoma Lane road; and Roy Crawford, Bovina vocational agriculture teacher.

It was pointed out at the meeting that Farmer County has led the state in weed control work of this type, and is a model for neighboring counties. Considerable attention has been focused on methods being used here.

All of the farmers agreed that the ideal time to get rid of bindweed in the county is before it gets any worse—and it's already worse than most people realize.

2. The county has agreed to help control bindweed spots on county-maintained rights-of-way.
3. The State Highway Department will take care of highway ROW.
4. The railroads will control patches along their lines.

Raymond Schueler, chairman of the weed committee, reported on activities of the group at the meeting, and the question was raised concerning a special "weed district" election.

State laws have provided legislation whereby certain areas (usually a county) can declare themselves in a weed control district—in about the same way that Farmer County became a wind erosion control district and also a hormone herbicide control district.

This law, if brought to the county, would be aimed at wiping out bindweed with stringent controls of sources of infestation.

Most of the farmers present agreed that the law would have advantages, but they indicated it might be hard to get it passed. Fear of bindweed is still not widespread enough, they feel.

Farmers who need to apply chemicals for control of the weed can obtain spreaders from

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas June 26, 1957

The Hank Outlands moved into Uncle John White's house in the north part of town last week and Mrs. Outland trusted Hank and the children to move all the heavy unbreakable things but decided she'd better handle the light bulbs and eggs, so she loaded her arms and started into the house when wham! — she missed a step but by bouncing around about she saved most of the eggs and all the light bulbs. But, that's why Ova Outland is limping this week. We've always thought Hank's boss, the Southwestern Public Service Company, would supply him with all the bulbs he'd need for free.

Thanks to all the folks who came by for our open house. We enjoyed it and are sure you did, too. "Hiboy" is what they call this gadget, one of the numerous rigs being used in early season insect control work in the county this year. This application was being made on cotton on the Gilbert Kaltwasser farm. The equipment is from Bovina Farm Chemical, and was originally intended to be used for corn. That's why it's so high in the air.

Farmers Near End Of Early Season Insect Program

Most county cotton growers are in the last week of early insect control, which has proved more popular this year than ever before. They have been extremely busy in recent weeks getting over the young cotton to protect it from fruit-destroying insects.

Dealers who have specialized in custom application report that they have been running far behind orders on spraying, and have been using as many of the 24 hours in a day as has been practical, in an attempt to catch up. Wind has been troublesome.

There are several reasons why the interest in early season control is so great this year. One is that the cotton is later this year than is customary, and farmers are acutely aware of the desirability of setting the earliest fruit possible.

Another is that many of them are just now getting "into the swim" after trying out the program sometime during the last two years, and have come to feel that compared to what the returns can be, the expense of an early season program is small.

In this type of program, farmers spray their cotton "by the calendar" without much regard for bugs or their numbers. The idea is to give the early fruit every chance to set, and the poisoning is just good insurance.

It is recommended that the program end around July 1. After that date, additional spraying may be warranted—but only if the insect population is big enough to require it.

The idea here is to allow beneficial insects about 30 days to build up before the appearance of the bollworm.

County Agent Joe Jones says there are more insects this year than last year, with the thrip being the most prominent. Also, a number of fleahoppers have been spotted. The agent classifies the infestation as "light to moderate" in most areas.

Council Meets Monday

Parmer County Home Demonstration Council held its regular meeting in the home economics cottage at Bovina on Monday, June 24. Fifteen members of the council were present, representing eight HD clubs of the county.

Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser called the roll and read the minutes of the last meeting. Reports were heard on the progress individual clubs have made in the mosquito control project.

The Midway club reported that 50 homes in that area are being sprayed every two weeks at a cost of about $8. All of the lakes and ponds in the area are being sprayed free of charge by Elvie Jennings of Friona.

Announcement was also made that a powder (3-4-40) can be purchased at the air port in Friona. This powder is to be used on shrubs and grass.

The treasurer's report revealed that the council has $198.93 on hand at the present time, and all clubs are to pay $10 to the council fund. This should be sent to Mrs. Walter Schueler,

Rt. 2, Friona.

The state HD meet is to convene in Houston on July 30, August 2 and 3. A bus for delegates from this area will leave Amarillo at 6 a. m. July 30. Reservations are to be made in advance. Mrs. M. L. Vance should be contacted if members need further information.

Home economists from a Clovis gas company and Clovis electric company are available for any equipment demonstrations if clubs are interested in these projects.

Small Turnout For Referendum

Less than a fourth of the eligible wheat farmers in Parmer County turned out last Thursday to vote in the national wheat referendum, but those who did, joined the nation in approving marketing quotas for the 1958 wheat crop.

Of the 2,110 wheat farmers in the county, 447 voted, 418 approving the quotas and 29 voting against them, says Prentice Mills, ASC manager.

Friona had the largest number of voters participating, with 244 of the votes being cast there. Votes cast at other precincts were: Bovina 81, Lazbuddie 62, and Farwell 57.

THE PARMER FARMER

By LELAND BOYD

Last week, farmers voted in the 1958 wheat referendum about whether or not they wanted to have continued price supports.

If everyone talked about the topic as much as ones I heard, the business of government activity in regulating and supporting agricultural production was thoroughly 'cussed' and discussed.

This brought to mind the attitude cattlemen hold toward governmental control and support of the cattle industry. Chances are that you have heard that cattlemen voted unofficially on the question of whether they should be receiving supports.

It is interesting to note that cattlemen were just as strongly opposed to having the government step in with supports as are wheat farmers in strongly favoring continued support.

The poll was taken by the Western Livestock and Western Livestock Journal and published in the June issue. States reported in the poll included Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Washington and Wyoming.

Six questions offered in the poll were:

1. Should there be a government price support program on beef cattle? Beef men turned this down 2306 to 326.

2. Should government payments be made to encourage sale of shestock? Voting against were 2115, for 466.

3. Should the government offer a program to cattlemen similar to the soil bank program for farmers, involving payment for keeping cattle off privately owned land? No votes totaled 2277, yes 292.

4. Government aid should be extended only in cases of severe drought disaster. This one met approval with 1998 for, 520 against. 5. Do you favor and would you be willing to be assessed for a producer-financed beef advertising program? This one carried; 1664 yes votes, 778 no's. 6. Are you in favor of some form of government aid for cattlemen only until government supports and subsidies are removed from feed grains and other commodities involved in the ranchers' present high overhead? Cattlemen said 1888 no's, and 681 yes's to this.

be had in the penitentiary, but who of us had not rather have freedom?"

Langford's farm and ranch is about eight miles north of Texico-Farwell.

The vote in Texas was about seven to one against supports.

A few of the comments in the WL and WLJ run along these lines:

"I don't want the government to subsidize me; I don't want the government to pay me a bonus to sell off my shestock. Two wrongs don't make a right. Let's exert efforts to remove all subsidies in all industries or we will have all industry

Western Livestock and Western Livestock Journal quoted Elmer Langford of Texico as saying:

"I am a farmer and registered Hereford breeder, and can see the mess the government has made of the farm program and I would like to see the government get out and stay out of business. Security can controlled by imperfect humans. Government aid will mean government control. Keep your business free. I prefer to see all forms of subsidy removed and let the people and businesses as well stand on their own feet. Let's start no new supports, they are just like taxes—impossible to get rid of."

Many area grain sorghum fields are getting their first irrigation, after the moisture left by the spring rains has been exhausted. This is a typical picture of water running down the rows of the young crop.

Farm people were anxious about another problem about three or four years ago. They were fearful that a rapid growth of urban population would lead to the farm people losing an influence in governmental affairs and would eventually defeat the existing farm programs.

From the hints in the WL and WLJ, farmers are now singing a different song, with phrases of "government aid is not solving our problems" being heard frequently.

It might be farmers themselves who finally request that government take props and controls from the field of agriculture.

It wasn't too long ago that we would do some occasional plotting and derive a pet scheme whereby farmers' problems would be solved, if only the scheme were put into effect.

We vowed never to do that again after a doubtful and bored listener told us, "If you are so smart, I'm sure Ike and Ezra would have sent for you to come to Washington to start to work straightening the problem out long ago."

I was talking to Horace Cole, farmer near Hub, who appears to have at least one more problem than most Parmer farmers have. Cole started farming this year, after being a real estate dealer in Fort Worth several years. He says he lived on a farm in Central Texas when a boy, but they were using mules.

He admits relying on advice offered from more experienced farmers this year, which is a trick most new people welcome, unless a contract to follow it is not required to obtain the advice.

The hardest thing to become accustomed to, is having to do work a little more strenuous than is required of real estate dealers, Cole says.

We asked the county agent the other day if a few more sheep and goats aren't sneaking into the area. Joe said that it is true that some interest in sheep has been seen, mainly on account of the generous government program which is providing an incentive for production.

In fact, Joe says that some stockmen have been considering switching from cattle to the fuzzy-haired creatures.

However, to date there isn't a trend of any noticeable proportions. Parmer County and the area surrounding it remains predominantly the domain of the "land" farmer as compared with combination farmer-stockmen that populate many parts of the Southwest.

We heard Fred Sims of Black say the other day that year in and year out, he thinks a pretty good cash crop for irrigated farms of the Plains would be alfalfa.

This is especially true, he feels, where a farmer is equipped to cut and bale the hay and get it in out of the weather until after say, the first of the year, when the market usually is turning upward.

He points out that the records of the past few years indicate that alfalfa would certainly beat the price being received for grain crops.

Fred may be right, but there are a couple of other things to think about. One is that for the first time in six or seven years, most of the cattle feeding parts of the Southwest now have adequate moisture, and can be expected to produce their own forage, and maybe even grain.

Also, alfalfa, although a nitrogen-producing crop and one of the best land builders available, is a heavy user of irrigation water. The dry, hot summer days in the Southwest mean that the irrigation farmer really has to "pour it on" to keep making good hay most of the season.

Cotton Research Started at Halfway

Research on cotton varieties at the High Plains station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway will consist of observation plots, test plots and variety comparison in acreage plots.

Sixty-one varieties have been planted in observation plots 22 feet long. Each of these 61 varieties are repeated four times on plots in different areas of the 310-acre farm. These cotton varieties are new or untried in this area.

Thirty-four varieties have been planted in 100 foot plots with four rows to the plot. The tests will be made from the two center rows. The outside rows will not be used because the results might be influenced by the fertilization or irrigation program conducted on the adjoining plots. Each variety plot will be repeated four times. The research results to be determined by the average of the center rows in the four plots.

Eight leading varieties of cotton have been planted for comparison in acreage blocks. These varieties are those now in common use in the High Plains area.

A farmer visiting the station and observing the planting in process said, "I now understand better than ever why we must all join in this project. The planting, cultivation, irrigation, fertilization of all these varieties in so many plots is quite beyond what any individual could possibly afford to do alone."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Parmer County Soil Conservation District supervisors held their regular monthly meeting at Rhea community last Monday. Several of the Rhea farmers were present.

The Board approved 18 soil and water conservation plans which SCS technicians had prepared the past month. Also during the meeting, the bindweed eradication program was discussed at length.

The progress made with Soil Stewardship Week which the district sponsored this year was reviewed. A number of the church bulletins were on display. The meeting adjourned at 4:30 p. m.

SCS technicians this past week have been at work on the Joe Bozeman place southwest of Clays' Corner. They have been in the process of laying out about 20 acres of bench leveling. Mr. Bozeman plans to grow alfalfa and grain sorghum on the benched land. He will irrigate it from a concrete irrigation pipeline. Mr. Bozeman already has about 30 acres of land benched on his place, of which he has about one-half in alfalfa. He says that he can certainly see good results from the land (that has over a 1 percent slope to it) that has been bench leveled on his farm.

Prizes Offered In 4-H Cotton, Sorghum Contests

Parmer County 4-H boys can really cash in on their ability to grow good crops of cotton and grain sorghum this year—provided they can stand a little competition.

Last year, the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association and the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association sponsored the first county-wide contests ever held for young county farmers. Deadline for entering this year's contests is July 15.

This year, the contests are back, with a lot of interest being evidenced from 4-H boys across the county, according to County Agent Joe Jones. Particular emphasis is being given the cotton contests, which received a nice-sized financial transfusion of $300 from Northern Star Seed Company.

Prizes for the best cotton growers will be distributed as follows: 1st $50 and plaque, 2nd $45, 3rd $40, 4th $35, 5th $30, 6th $25, 7th $20, 8th $15, 9th $10, and 10th $5.

Here are the rules:

1. All boys who are members of one of the 4-H clubs in Parmer County are eligible to compete. Members are encouraged to enter both grain sorghum and cotton contests. To be eligible, a member must have at least two acres and not more than 10 acres in each contest entered. Boy must rent, sharecrop, or own the crop entered.

2. Contestant must designate, on entry form and return to county agent, by July 15th, plot to be entered in contest. Entry forms and suggested record sheets will be furnished for all contestants desiring to enter, and may be obtained by writing your county agent.

3. It will be contestant's responsibility to contact his adult leader or county agent and make arrangements for proper supervision when harvesting his crop. The leaders supervising the harvest of these crops must be present and certify to their accuracy.

4. Any row spacing qualities. The row harvested must have rows with good stands on each side. All varieties of cotton qualify.

5. Awards will be made on the basis of pounds of production per acre and records.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

County Farm Bureau directors will meet in regular session Monday night at 8 in the office in Friona. 4-H boys and girls who recently returned from the state Round-Up will be present to report briefly on their experiences. You are welcome to attend all or part of any of the meetings. You may have suggestions to make to your directors that would be helpful to them in executing policies you have directed them to take care of during the year.

"We advocate the policy of no appeasement with communists wherever they may be found." This statement has been adopted by Texas Farm Bureau delegates for the past several years. With this in mind, we express our agreement with Rep. Howard W. Smith of Virginia, when he said, regarding the U. S. Supreme Court's action in freeing several people who had been convicted of communist activity in California. "I am not surprised. I do not recall any case decided by the present court that the communists have lost."

This condition, we think, is a deplorable one for our country to be in.

The American Farm Bureau opposes "federal aid" to education, not because it is opposed to education, but because it believes decentralization of our education is more desirable than further centralization. We now find that Governor Harold Handley, of Indiana, who also opposes federal encroachment upon educational activities, conducted some research. The white house conference report stated that Indiana needed 1,100 new classrooms annually, and that federal "aid" was needed to accomplish this goal. The governor found that his state and local agencies has built 1,925 classrooms in 1956, 2,100 were due for service in '57, and 2,400 were blueprinted for '58. "We are building these classrooms twice as fast as the advocates of federalized education say we should be building them," he said.

CONSIDER THIS: Open thy mouth, judge righteously, and plead the cause of the poor and needy. Proverbs 31:9.

4-H News

LAZBUDDIE JR. 4-H NEWS
Gary Mac Brown, Reporter

Regular meeting of the Lazbuddie Jr. 4-H boys was held at the home of Gary Mac and James Brown on Wednesday, June 19. Club president Calvin Mason called the meeting to order and the minutes of the last meeting were read by Eugene Houston, club secretary. Glendale King led the 4-H pledge before the meeting was turned over to County Agent Joe Jones. James Brown gave a report of the District I 4-H Club camp which he, along with Richard Chitwood and Jim Roy Wells, attended.

Cooper Young reported on the 4-H Club Round-up which he and Billy Hardage and J. B. Young, adult leader, attended. District winning demonstration teams attend the Round-Up each year.

The group then discussed the crops tour, and calves for 4-H projects. A committee from the junior club to help plan the crops tour for this fall is composed of Calvin Mason, Carrol Redwine, Steven Young, and Glendale King. This group will work with the committee from the senior club and the adult leaders in planning the tour.

Gerald Foster was appointed as the junior club's representative on the county camp planning committee.

The next meeting of the junior club is to be at the home of Steven Young sometime in July. Following the meeting, Mrs. Brown served refreshments of cake and punch to the following: Gerald Foster, Ronald Scott, Calvin Mason, Glendale King, Eugene Houston, James Brown, Gary Mac Brown, Cooper Young, Nelson Foster and Joe Jones.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

want your name published please make a statement to that effect. What we would really like to know is, "Do homemakers really like the trading stamp deal?"

Someone has said the best way to keep from getting old is to keep learning. Maybe each of us should take up a hobby that would keep us busy learning. One which those who have young children could pursue with them is etymology, which is the history of words.

Have you ever wondered where words originate? If so, this hobby would afford a lot of the answers. It is interesting to know that neighbor originally meant, "a nearby farmer." In the Anglo-Saxon, neah means "near" and gebur means farmer. These two words were first combined into "neahgebur." In medieval English it appeared as neighebour and in modern English as neighbor.

Its meaning was changed with the evolution of civilization and no longer applies particularly to neighboring farmers, but refers to all persons living near each other. Even nations in the modern world are called "neighbors" — an inter-

There are so many uses for plastic bags in which vegetables are packaged that none should ever be thrown away. They can even be used for galoshes. Just slip them on over your shoes and fasten at the top with a rubber band. Most West Texas homemakers have very little use for galoshes and the ones we buy get old long before they are worn out.

Do more men than women eat fruit and vegetables without the peeling? A nationally syndicated column reported that the vitamin that prevents baldness is found in large quantities just under the peeling of apples, carrots, and cucumbers. If that is true, and you do not want your husband to go bald, encourage him to eat these foods with the peeling on.

Trading stamps are becoming increasingly popular in some Midwestern cities since homemakers are using them as legal tender in games of bridge where the players are of the opinion that some monetary consideration makes the game more interesting. Sure glad to learn they are good for something.

Our personal experience with them has been that they are an unnecessary nuisance. Wouldn't you rather have the cash value of them and be free to spend it wherever you choose than to have to choose some article that you do not especially want or need?

If your opinion differs from ours, why not tell us about it? We would especially like to have some letters on the subject. Of course, we realize that it is a controversial subject, but would still like to have some homemakers' opinions.

Anyone who cares to write is invited to do so. Please sign all letters. However, if you do not

- Tomato sauce

Blend together all ingredients except tomato sauce. Pack into 1 1/2 quart ring mold. Bake in moderate oven for 1 hour. Remove from oven and let stand in pan for 5 minutes to absorb liquid. ### Expecting Potato Harvest by 15th

Buck Gregory, potato grower of the West Camp-Lariat area, and owner of a shed on the Santa Fe at Lariat, reported this week that he anticipates first digging of the 1957 spud crop to get underway there "about July 15."

Gregory adds that growers are not anxious at all to begin their harvest, since the market has looked too weak thus far. In recent days, however, it has shown some signs of strengthening.

"The big California crop isn't turning out nearly as well as they figured it would, and our market prospects may be a lot better if we just wait a while," he said.
