Large Party Asked For Goodwill Caravan

Arrangements were being perfected Thursday for the organization of a large goodwill delegation to attend the Midland fair next Monday, which, in addition to being the opening day of the Midland race meet, has been designated by fair leaders there as official "Big Spring Day."

Preliminary plans for the trip were announced Thursday by George White, president, and W. T. Strange, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The delegation will be boosted by the Big Spring high school band and pep squad, plans having been completed for these groups to accompany the caravan.

Members of the party will be provided with Big Spring caps and arm bands," Strange said, "and Big Spring banners will be prepared. We appreciate the honor of having Monday at the Midland fair designated as Big Spring day and we want that city to know Big Spring is supporting the fair."

The chamber of commerce officials have asked that automobiles be used for transportation of the band and pep squad members to Midland. Those who will take some of the high school group are requested to advise the chamber of commerce.

Herefords Sold By H. S. Currie

Henry S. Currie, well-known Glascock county rancher, who has resided in Garden City for the past forty-five years, is retiring from the cattle business, he said while he recently disposed of 600 head of fine Hereford cattle to Clayton & Johnson of Post, Texas.

Clayton & Johnson operate a 200 section ranch in the vicinity of Post, Currie contracted for the sale of his cattle with this firm about six weeks ago, prior to the rains.

HARVESTING AT EXPERIMENT FARM MEANS TEDIOUS TESTS

Harvesting is getting in full swing at the United States Experiment Farm.

Added to the inherent hard work attached to harvesting, is a number of tedious tasks which makes the job doubly hard at the experiment station.

For example, all milo is raised on 1-10 acre plots, is studiously cultivated by different methods, is closely watched as to rotation, and when harvested, the yield of each small plot must be placed in a separate container for comparison. Out of this complicated program comes information as to what kind of cultivation is best and whether better yields come after sudan, peanuts, cotton, peas, etc.

Both Houses Lack Quorum, Delay Work

NEW PASTOR AND WIFE HERE

AUSTIN, Oct. 17 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred's injunction to legislators that they "get to work and stay at work" went unheeded Thursday as neither house developed a quorum on the second day of their second special session.

Senators received committee reports on two old-age pension bills, then recessed after a five-minute meeting. Both the pension bills were without tax features; although Allred had asserted that no pension measure should be drafted without a revenue clause.

The house state affairs committee approved a pension bill authorizing payments to needy persons, but this proposal also was without a tax feature.

Representative Walter E. Jones of Jourdanton, chairman of the house revenue and taxation committee, said revenue bills would be speeded to the floor and called a meeting for tonight to consider all proposals.

Burden of initiating revenue measures rested on the house after a bill to regulate liquor and levy a tax for pensions and the sales tax were ruled out in the senate.

McCumber To Appeal Case

BARTSTOWN, Oct. 17.—Attorney Thursday planned to file a motion for appeal, for W. H. McCumber, Midland man given a 10-year penitentiary sentence for robbery of the Citizens State bank here last August 28.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty Wednesday after deliberating ten minutes.

McCumber had pleaded insanity. The bank was robbed of $3,000 by a lone robber who fled in an automobile. McCumber, former employe at the Midland airport, was arrested and charged after a small boy found a sum of money, identified as that taken from the bank under the seat of an auto at the Midland airport.

Road Litigation Is Unchanged

Status of the right-of-way problem on highway No. 1 east inside the city limits remained the same Thursday.

Important developments appeared in prospect before next week as parties to the suit of the city versus L. E. Coleman, et al indulged in a bit of "watchful waiting."

The litigation reached a peculiar stage Wednesday when the suit was filed and County Judge J. S. Garlington declined to appoint three jury view commissioners agreed upon by County Attorney Wilbur Burgess and parties to the suit.

Feeding Test Will Be Started Oct. 28

The pictures above introduce pastor of the First Christian church, and will preach for the first time at services Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Schurman come here from Brownwood, where he has held a pastorate for more than five years.

Forty Hereford calves will be placed on feed at the United States Experiment farm Oct. 28 for the annual 180 feeding test. George Bond, feeder, said Thursday.

The calves have been bought and will come from the Tom Good ranch.

Bond said that the same type of test as conducted last year will be run this year and next, since feeding tests must be run in three-year cycles.

Thus the comparison of individual fattening of calves with group fattening, a study of the relationship of type and individuality of animal to rate and economy of grain will be made again.

Identical rations with last year will be used, a mixture of ground milo heads, cotton seed meal, chopped sumac, salt and pulverized soybean shell.

In the test last year, first of the individual vs. group series, the group fed stuff gained 39.3 more pounds than individually fed calves. They also maintained better appetites without fluctuation.

Individually fed calves showed a cost of $9.71 per 100 pounds gain to cost of $10.59 per 100 pounds for group feeds.

Prior to this type of test, four pens of 15 each were fed different rations for 180 days. Ground milo heads made the best grain stuff.

Feeding tests conducted at the farm are climaxed with a traditional Feeders Day program. Such affairs have shown a steady growth in popularity until several hundred people now attend the program.

Latest Effort Of Laval To End Ethiopian Conflict Fails

(By the Associated Press) The estranged relationship between France and Great Britain approached a showdown Thursday, with France promise unqualified naval aid in event Italy attacked the British Mediterranean fleet, and with Premier Laval of France countering with a plea for more time.

Laval decided to lay before his whole cabinet the entire question of how far France will go to aid Britain in case of war.

Authoritative sources said that Laval had promised London an answer regarding the naval aid by Monday; and it was indicated the answer may be favorable.

British irritation at France's mild policy developed after Laval's latest peace moves had collapsed. Paris reports on the Laval attempt to stop the African conflict said that Mussolini had refused to state his terms for peace; that Great Britain had refused to lessen her Mediterranean concentration and that Lt Duce had declined negotiations as long as the warships remain.

U. S. Marks Time. The league of nations sanctions committee, for the second day, failed to agree on the British "buy nothing from Italy" proposal. Washington circles said that the United States is delaying taking a stand on sanctions until the European powers decide on a line of action.

Secretary Hull and other officials were in discussion with the French government over the situation.

Italy, going ahead with the program of setting up a state in the captured territory, proclaimed De Gasperi as emperor, who deposed his father-in-law, the emperor, for the Italians, as chief of the new Tigre province.

Emperor Haile Selassie asserted that he "will not discuss peace while a single Italian remains on my soil."

The Paris Sols correspondent said that Italian machine gun fire had massacred, almost to the man, the attacking force of Ethiopians seeking to recapture the city of Aksum.

Around And About

By Tom Beasley

COACH OBIE Bristow is making plans to be in Dallas Saturday for the S. M. U.-Rice game, the scrap that will hold the attention of football fans the nation over. Other members of the local coaching staff and one or two players may make the trip.

THE CISCO Lobes have been drilling hard for the non-title tiff with the Steers here Friday and should be in good shape and ready to go, according to reports eked out of the Cisco camp. The Lobes lost a conference game with Brownwood last week. Over-tension was blamed by the Cisco coaches for the fumbling, but they expect to have all of that eliminated before the Steer tussle. The Lobes have been handicapped all season by lack of reserve strength.

WALLY FROMHART's summer vacation may not help him materially in preparing for football at Notre Dame, but it's different, at least. The "Irish" quarterback serves as a guard in a West Virginia prison camp, where the convicts build the roads.

IF THE games between first year teams are any indication of the future strength of schools' first stringers, writes Bob Cooke in the Sweetwater Reporter, Sweetwater will have a better team in 1937 than Big Spring. The first year Big Spring team barely nosed out the Colorado second stringers last week, 7 to 0. The Mustang Colts whipped the same outfit, 19 to 0, earlier in the season.

THE DISTRICT 3 dads this week had quite a lengthy discussion concerning plans of the Inter-scholastic League to add another team or two to this sector next year. The league moguls have indicated that Lamesa and Coleman, coming up from Class B, will be put in this district. All members of the committee but Chester Kenley of San Angelo voted against having Coleman or Lamesa in this district.

KENLEY ALSO informed the committee that his school would not consider having Lubbock in this district. Lubbock has asked permission to join the district 3 circle and all members but San Angelo would like to have the West team in. The Concho members made threats of going to the Oil Belt.

SWEETWATER AND Big Spring representatives were in favor of trying to get Abilene and Lubbock and form a five-team sector, which would be strong, well balanced, and would give each team four conference games.

THE DISTRICT committee voted to meet with league officials at Austin Nov. 29 to discuss plans for revamping the district line-up.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS also agreed not to schedule any games for 1936 until the Inter-scholastic League finishes the redistricting work.

THE DISTRICT committee has twenty dollars in the treasury, which is not bad at all, considering the amount usually found in the coffers.

FAILING CISCOANS RESORT TO OPEN TYPE OF GAME Longhorns And Aggies Down To Business As Grid State Gets Tough

RECORD IS VERY POOR

Shelley's Gridmen Show Lots Of Hustle And Willingness

CISCO, Oct. 17.—Cisco's Big Dam Lobes are the smallest ever turned out in a black and gold uniform here, but they hustle more and fit together better than any other 11 boys ever to form a Cisco team.

It will be on this hustle and willingness to work that Coach De Ter Shelley will rely upon when his charges take the field against the Big Spring Steers Friday. With the boys' enthusiasm he hopes to put on the gridiron a smoothness of play and a low charge that will mean much in the fast, open type of game the Lobes use.

On paper the Lobes do not have much. While the Lobes were scoring 23 points their opponents ran up 97 against them, and the Lobes made the 26 points in the first game. Incidentally, that first game, which the Lobes won from Electra by a count of 25 to 13, was the only one in which the Ciscoans showed their full strength. Old Man Injury began to dog their trail before even that contest was over.

The next week the Lobes lost to San Angelo by 44 to 0, after playing a scoreless first half. Then, with their morale broken and their team crippled from the Bobcat contest, they went to Sweetwater and lost by 27 to 0. Last Thursday night, keyed up for their first conference game, they fumbled their way to a 13 to 0 licking at the hands of the Brownwood Lions, who failed to score in 1934.

Steers Whip Thru Drills

Display Pep And Enthusiasm In Practice Wednesday

It may have been the cool afternoon atmosphere, or it may have been due to the presence of a prominent grid official, but whatever it was, the Big Spring Steers displayed a world of pep and enthusiasm in their Wednesday evening practice that has been sadly lacking throughout the early part of the '35 season.

A bunch of hustling youngsters, not even closely resembling the shoddy team that took the field against the Bowie Bears, ran through their plays, took instructions in blocking, and practiced offensive football on the kickoff with an air never before quite uncovered in the local camp.

Several dummies were brought out by the mentors and the linemen took turns at blocking under the tutelage of Bristow's former coach, Harry Faulkner.

Bruce Phillips, scrapping little guard who learned his first football under Ben Daniels, was brushed a bit when the Longhorns scrimmaged. A big first stringer threw a block that completely smothered the little man and he was carried to the sidelines.

Big J. W. Coats was back in uniform and worked along with his brother, Woodrow, and Cordill and Sam Flowers in the first string secondary. Coats worked into several spinners and appeared to be the man the local coaches have been after. Coats will alternate with O. C. Grey, with Cliff Trainer also due to see service in the quartet.

BAMBINO TAKES LIFE EASY NOW

NEW YORK (UP)—Mrs. George Herman Ruth, wife and general manager of baseball's Bambino, is letting Babe take things easier these days.

The Babe laid away his bat after the Boston Braves released him and took up golf. Mrs. Ruth, who once kept the home-run king on a diet and clicking schedule of regularity, thinks it's all right for him to let down a little after 22 years on the diamond.

She's still handling his business, however, and looking out for his interests. She's turned down some $100,000 worth of contracts since the former home run king was sent home from Boston just because "The Babe has been the idol of American youth for a long while and I won't have him mixed up in anything that isn't just right."

Ruth's business has always been baseball and as far as his manager wife knows it will continue to be. However, she is not sure whether he will attend the mid-winter meeting of club owners but supposes he will.

BEARS, GOLDBUGS MATCH GRID WARES AT OKLAHOMA FRIDAY

WACO (Sp.)—Coach Jennings Baylor university Bears will occupy the center ring of the Southwest conference circus Friday night as they match their grid wares with those of the Oklahoma City University Goldbugs eleven in the Euge's backyard. Mounting enthusiasm fills the capital city of the Sooner state as the OCU eleven prepares to take the field against the Bears in a determination to cut the first slice from the Grizzlies' victory cake. It is the initial meeting of the two university sides, and the Goldbugs will be fighting for prestige by a win over a Southwest conference club, while the Bruin eleven will battle to keep its state clean.

Frogs Favored By Experience

FORT WORTH, Oct. 17.—Statistics and experience will favor the Horned Frogs of T. C. U., when they do battle against the A. & M. Cadets here Saturday, but Lady Luck and a stout fighting heart may have more to do with the outcome of the game.

The Aggies are out to make a place for themselves in the conference sun—and to gain a victory over T. C. U., after eight defeats and two ties in the last 10 games. A. & M. supporters believe these two factors, plus the best team in recent years, will give the Cadets a victory.

On the other hand, the Christians will be able to put a team on the field that matches the Aggies in ability, equals them in weight, and surpasses them in experience.

Obie Was A Star

He Excelled at Football, Basketball And Grappling

Friday night Dexter Shelley brings his Cisco Lobes here for a game with Obie Bristow's Big Spring Steers. Harry Faulkner, who is due to be one of the officials, coached both Bristow and Shelley in prep school, and tells some interesting yarns on the two mentors.

Both were excellent players, Faulkner said, doing everything well. Bristow was an all-Missouri valley conference fullback for his full time at Oklahoma University. Shelley was all-Southwest conference fullback for his full time at Texas. Both played two years of professional football and still use a few plays which smack of the Faulkner influence.

Faulkner tells the yarn of how Bristow scored 75 points single handed in basketball against a team supposedly superior. Obie simply couldn't miss with either hand or both, nor could he be guarded. The team on which Obie played lost out in the state final after two extra time periods, with the captain and a star player on the bench.

But the gem of all was the story of Bristow's grappling activities. Oklahoma U. tried itself on its wrestling. When the heavyweights grappler turned up with a severe attack of boils immediately before officials.

WE DRIVERS

A Series of Brief Discussions on Driving, Devoted to the Safety, Comfort and Pleasure of the Motoring Public. Prepared by General Motors

No. 5—DRIVING ON HILLS

In some parts of the country hills are taken for granted... and good steep ones, too. But for some of us who live in flatter country, hill driving is not so familiar.

As a matter of fact, there are several conditions peculiar to driving in very steep hills or mountains, especially if the altitude is high. For instance, a car that develops 100 horsepower at sea-level, has only 83 horsepower at an altitude of 5000 feet, and only 60 horsepower on top of Pike's Peak.

Another thing is that sometimes grades are deceptive and we don't realize how steep they are, if there is no level ground to judge by.

So if we go on a road trip and happen to get into country where hills are hills, we often have no idea of what is in store for us. Like as not, we will come rolling up to a hill, taking it for granted that we'll make the grade. But before we've gone very far we find that our power seems to be giving out, and we're slowing down. Then we realize we must shift to second gear, but we're lucky if we haven't found out so late that there we are, stalled on a hill!

Now people who drive on hills all the time say one thing to remember is that there's nothing like a good start. Of course, this is true, because the minute we start up, gravity starts to work and work fast. Yard-by-yard it uses up our momentum till by and-by that momentum is just about gone. Then we have to shift to a lower gear to increase our power.

Experts tell us that by far the most common fault in hill-climbing is failure to shift to a lower gear soon enough. So just to be sure, some drivers set a definite point at which to change gears. The consensus of opinion seems to be that we should always go into second gear as soon as our speed gets down to 20 miles an hour.

There are times, however, when we want to stop on a hill. So it's important to know how to start again, with our car on an upgrade. And there seem to be two methods used by experienced drivers.

Some use their foot brake to keep their cars from rolling backward, put their engine in low gear and accelerate slowly with the hand throttle, gradually engaging their clutch and releasing the brake at the same time. Other good drivers do exactly the same thing, only they use the hand brake and the foot accelerator. But both groups tell us it doesn't make much difference... to use whichever method we happen to like the better.

Now there aren't many hills that cars can't climb nowadays... and what goes up must come down. And that's where we have to look out for momentum. He may have been a friend in need when we were coming up hill, but going down he'll run away with us if we aren't careful. And if there are any sharp curves or any bad bumps or loose gravel, we have to be careful or he'll pitch us right off the road.

Many drivers say that we should go down a hill in the same gear we would use to get up. In other words, if it's steep enough so we would have to go up in second or even low gear, then we'd better get into that same gear before we start down. If our car is in second or low gear, our engine works as a very effective brake, and besides it saves a lot of wear on our real brakes.

Speaking of gears, experienced drivers say we should never, under any condition, disengage our clutch and coast down hill. That's just what momentum is waiting for. Just give momentum a free rein, without our engine to check it, and nobody can tell what's going to happen.

When we do get in country where people are used to driving on hills all the time, it may seem to us that they take those hills without the slightest concern. But if we were with them and could watch them closely, we would see that they take all these precautions we have mentioned, just as a matter of habit. And one thing is sure. They make it a rule never to pass other cars on hills, or get on the wrong side of the road, when they can't see far enough ahead to be sure whether anyone's coming.

Wife Beating Nothing New; Ancient Men Even Paid To Have Job Done

AUSTIN, Oct. 17.—Wife-beating is news. But there's nothing new about it. And about the only difference now is that few modern men will pay to have their wives beaten.

The first recorded case of wife-beating in America is in the form of an Aztec codex or sheepskin, dated 1540. This document, now in the possession of the Garcia library at the University of Texas, came from the ancient village of Teotihuacan, near Mexico City. By means of Aztec numerals, pictures, and some Spanish writing, it relates how a certain Spanish lord paid a negro the sum of three sheep to give his wife a sound beating.

Dr. Carlos Castaneda, librarian of the Garcia collection, says he cannot determine definitely whether the lord was too tender hearted to beat his wife or whether the wife was just too large. The Indian scribe, however, who kept this lord's records, presents a very realistic sketch of the chastisement.

Primitive as this document may appear to us now, it is remarkably complete in detail. Aztec numerals are employed to designate the number of sheep, chickens, or pounds of maize the lord exacted from his Indian subjects. Four chicken heads, or four dots and a chicken head, meant four chickens; and so on through 19. Twenty was indicated by a flag. The next step in this curious, but rather efficient, system was the square of 20, indicated by a feather. A purse, made somewhat like our numeral eight, represented 20 cules.

In the Garcia collection are many such graphic accounts of the Mayans, Aztecs, and Incas who once inhabited the region of Central America and the north portion of South America. There are 43 in all, three of which are in the original and have never been published.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY—SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Lean Fat The Easy Way—Without Starvation Diets, Harsh Exercises, Fals or Waxes, Irritating Habit-Forming Laxatives

There's a reason why so many people find dieting slow and often times futile in reducing. The reason, doctors say, is often because a little gland is not working right. All the blood in your body goes through this tiny gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't pour into the bloodstream about one and one-half drops of vital fluid every 24 hours, many people take on ugly fat. This fluid helps nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "draft" acts in a furnace.

Now, physicians combat this condition by feeding the gland the substance it lacks—and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Marmola Prescription Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So don't waste your time or money striving to reduce with methods that are hard, futile or depend on harmful, habit-forming pills and laxatives for their action. Start the Marmola treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Marmola today from druggists.

Fitted Jacket For Evenings

Here is Maggy Rouff's version of the evening tulle for 1936. She makes it of sapphire blue cloque, combining a simple dinner gown with a short fitted jacket collared in silver fox. It is accompanied by a silver fox muff and a LeMonnier toque trimmed with black birds of paradise.

New Evening Bridge Club Is Organized

Hal Farleys Entertain Group At First Meeting

Several couples met together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hal Farley Wednesday evening to organize an evening bridge club. They named it the 8 O'clock bridge club. At present the club will consist of two tables of players.

The Farley home was beautifully decorated in Halloween colors and novelty whistles were favors on the refreshment plate.

Mrs. Farley scored highest for the women and Mr. Badwick for the men. Attractive trophies were presented them.

Miss Jane McGuire and Mr. Gilbert Gibbs were guests of the club.

Members playing, in addition to the host and hostess were: Mr. and Mrs. George Maxwell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Badwick.

Roman Hyacinths Best Indoors

They Bloom Two Or Three Weeks Earlier. Grow In Light Rich Soil Or In Water Glass

The easiest grown of all the hyacinths for indoor use is the type known as the Roman hyacinth. The spikes are smaller, looser and more graceful than the common hyacinth and each bulb produces two or three of them. They also come into bloom in the house from two to three weeks earlier than the giant types. It is now time to get hyacinths going for living room and sun parlor decoration during the winter months as well as to get beds of these handsome and fragrant blooms planted outdoors.

For indoor growing a light rich soil produces the finest blooms. They are also grown in specially designed glasses in water. The procedure is the same whether grown in water or soil. Plant the bulbs with the nose just out of the ground in soil, or set the bulbs in a glass with the base just touching the water. Rainwater or distilled water is best for the purpose, with a lump of charcoal in the glass. Set away in a cool dark place until roots are formed and the blunt nosed spike pushes out of the bulb. Formation of roots is easily noticed in the glass. In potted bulbs the growth does not start until the roots are developed. Allow the growth to be at least an inch before bringing out to the light.

Hyacinths are coming back to garden use and deservedly, as they are among the finest of spring bulbs, both for the stately formality of their heavy spikes and for the delicious perfume that permeates the whole garden during their season. They require well drained soil to do their best and should be set six inches apart and six inches deep.

Beds or groups of a single color are most effective and there is a wide variety for selection. They are sold in unnamed bedding types according to color.

Conclave Of B. & P. Clubs Is Announced

Sweetwater Business and Professional Women's Club will be hostesses on October 26-27 for the annual meeting of the Fifth District Conference of B. & P. W. Clubs. The fifth district is composed of eight clubs, including Abilene, Brownwood, Colorado, Sweetwater, San Angelo, Stamford and Big Spring. Miss Ethel Harkins of Sweetwater is district chairman. A large group of representatives are expected from each club, and a number of district officers and the state president, Miss Blanche McComb of San Antonio will be included among the visitors. Miss McComb will be the principal speaker Saturday evening, Oct. 26, at the president's banquet. In her address she will speak of the objectives set for her administration which will be both informative and instructive.

The general conference theme will be "Women United for an Effective Democracy." There will be a program Sunday, Oct. 27, at the centennial luncheon, which will be entertaining and far reaching in the interpretation given by the four speakers who will appear on the program. The theme will be "Climbing the Stairs Toward Effective Democracy." "Stair One" will be given by Miss Octavene Cooper of Colorado; "Stair Two" Miss Evelyn Hudspeth, Morton; "Stair Three," Miss Minnie Minter, Abilene; "Stair Four," Dr. Mellie Armstrong of Brownwood.

The Blue Bonnet hotel will be official headquarters and rates will be according to accommodations chosen: $2, double bed; $2.50, two single beds; $4.50, suite. Visitors are asked to make their own reservations. All programs will be given at the Blue Bonnet hotel except the dance Saturday evening at the Macle hotel, which will be given complimentary to the conference visitors.

The conference program has been arranged as follows: Saturday afternoon, Miss George Stiles will be chairman of registration; Saturday

T. E. L. Heads Meet; Outline Class Duties

Mrs. K. S. Beckett, Teacher, Is Hostess To Group

Newly-elected officers of the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist Sunday school held a business meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. K. S. Beckett.

Duties of the officers were outlined and the progress of work on hand reported. Those present made plans to finish two quilts that are now being pieced for the needy. When the piecing is done, the date for an all-day quilting will be announced.

Topics discussed were questions of handling absentees and prospective members. Special mention was made of the home mission program the church is observing this week. It was announced that the "sunshine" sisters would be revealed at the next class meeting.

At the close of the session, refreshments of fruit punch and cake were served. The officers of the class are: Mrs. E. E. Bryant, president; Mrs. L. L. Guiley, first vice-president; Mrs. J. H. Baggett, second vice-president; Myrtle Crowder, Misses Pond and Elizabeth Kirkpatrick.

Jaunty Spikes of Daffodils Find New Friends

Specialists Are Developing This Early Spring Flower Into Beautiful Show Subject. Plant Them This Fall In Quantities.

Daffodils Make Excellent Early Cutting Material.

The daffodil, or narcissus, is truly an all-purpose flower, for we use it in the regular garden, the fockery and as a house plant. Time was when gardeners thought of it only as an early bird, charming as that is in the spring, and bothered little about quality flowers or varieties, knowing that any spot of color is welcome when it is first.

But recent years have brought a keen interest in these jaunty spikes, whose delicate blossoms belie their hardness, and in some sections of the country there are daffodil shows just as there are dahlia shows; and gardeners everywhere are examining and probing the excellent new varieties which have been developed. Few sights are as stirring as a woodland where daffodils have been allowed to naturalize. They fit in naturally in remote corners of the garden under trees, which will not be in bloom when flowers are in bloom and will keep them shaded to mature the bulb afterwards. A perennial or shrub border is an excellent place for them to provide early color; they will wither away and be concealed when the regular planting comes to life.

Many of them are delightfully fragrant, and they all make excellent cutting material, as witness the pot plants which the florist grows for the spring trade. The trumpet varieties are the best for indoors; they are the most delicate and beautiful, and must not have a dry atmosphere, or the bulbs will blast. Pot them now with the nose of the bulb just above the soil; put away for several weeks and you will have a flourishing house plant which will last a long time.

If you have a rock garden you can add much color to it by planting a few of the miniature daffodils. They need not be disturbed after once getting started and will last for years.

Never use fresh manure to fertilize daffodils. A good commercial plant food is best. Six inches deep and the same distance apart is a good rule to follow in sand loam soil, although the trumpet types like a fairly heavy soil. It is not necessary to lift bulbs until they multiply to the point of crowding.

Boosters Band Club Is Organized To Aid School Band

A group of mothers of the High School band boys met with E. M. Conley, band director, Wednesday afternoon and organized a boosters band club. The next session of the club will be held Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium.

Mrs. J. A. Myers acted as chairman pro tem. Mrs. V. H. Flewelling and Mrs. H. N. Robinson were named on a committee to nominate officials at the next meeting.

The main object of the club is to see that the boys are equipped with complete uniforms. They now need trousers to match their capes and caps, said Mrs. Myers, suggesting black trousers with yellow stripes. Plans have already been made for raising funds to pay for the garments.

The club is open to men as well as women, and the date has been set in the evening so that all parents of the band boys and friends interested could attend.

Present at the meeting were: Mmes. Myers, Robinson, M. Wentz, Bell, C. A. Murdoch, Flewelling and Mr. Conley.

Mrs. Lee Hanson Justamere Hostess

Mrs. Lee Hanson extended the hospitality of her home to members of the Justamere Bridge club and two visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Reuben Parker and Mrs. Joyce Fisher were the visitors, Mrs. Fisher scoring higher.

Mrs. Ellington made highest score for the members.

A pretty refreshment plate was passed to visitors and following club members: Mmes. Wilburn Barcus, M. H. Bennett, C. S. Blomshield, John Clarke, E. O. Ellington, Tom Helton, W. H. Leeper, J. Y. Robb, E. V. Spence, R. C. Strain. Mrs. Y. Van Gleason will entertain the club next.

Benefit Bridge And 42 Party To Be Held Tues.

The members of the American Legion Auxiliary will put on a bridge and 42 benefit party at the Crawford hotel next Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Reservations will be received by Mrs. R. F. Bluhm, telephone number 1044W.

"Chink" Jones Of Fabens Visits Here In Touring Trailer

Mr. and Mrs. M. H. ("Chink") Jones, who moved from Big Spring to Fabens about ten years ago, arrived in Big Spring Wednesday night in their house on wheels and are visiting today with Mrs. John Clarke and other friends. They expect to go to Fabens Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left Fabens a year ago on the 19th of October for an eastern tour and are just now returning. They have covered the east coast from Florida to and including Canada. They also visited their daughter, Julia, in New Jersey and their son, Morris, who lives in Chicago.

Mr. Jones built a trailer in which they have lived on the trip. It is equipped, friends said, with everything necessary for comfort, including a bed, a refrigerator, a radio and a dog.

Mrs. Viola Bowles Is Elected Head Of Circle

Mrs. Viola Bowles was re-elected leader of the Christine Coffee circle of the First Baptist W. M. S. at the business meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Mrs. W. D. Cornelison's home.

Mrs. Cornelison was elected assistant leader. Mrs. C. C. Coffee was made mission study chairman and Mrs. I. I. Stewart treasurer-reporter.

Mrs. A. B. Coleman will be the next hostess. At this meeting Mrs. C. S. Holmes will conduct the Bible study.

Do Not Pay Cash - Or Issue A Check - In Advance To Strangers - On An Order, Warns Chief of Police!

ISSUES WARNING

This Is a Warning to Housewives and Citizens

To beware of thieves posing as salesmen or solicitors seeking admittance to the home, STRANGERS SHOULD NOT BE ADMITTED UNTIL THEIR CREDENTIALS HAVE BEEN CHECKED UP AND VERIFIED THROUGH DEPENDABLE LOCAL FIRMS OR PERSONS.

IN MANY CASES— Strangers without reliable and verified credentials are "locaters or spotters" for professional criminals and according to police records lack of caution on the part of the householder has often resulted in costly property losses and bitter experiences.

DO NOT PAY CASH IN ADVANCE, nor ISSUE A CHECK for Peddlers— as in many instances the customer has NEVER received anything for the cash advance payment; nor has any refund been made of the initial deposit. In many cases the checks have been "altered" and later cashed by a third and innocent party.

IT IS BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY... BE SURE YOU KNOW WHO THE PEDDLER IS BEFORE ALLOWING HIM TO ENTER YOUR HOME.

IT HAS BEEN A REGULAR OCCURRENCE LATELY — of Peddlers calling at homes in Big Spring selling all kinds of merchandise on the basis of "I am working my way through school and need your support." Others are using the FREE GIFT selling talk so as to gain admittance to the homes. In case these Peddlers call at your home, PHONE THE POLICE AT ONCE, as we are anxious to co-operate with our citizens at all times.

ONE NEED NOT BE AFRAID of offending the honest salesman representing a LOCAL FIRM, as THEY HAVE THEIR CREDENTIALS WITH THEM and welcome such investigation—that is why they are required to carry credentials.

ON THE SPOT

Most of us have heard about the certainty of death and taxes. The one grows nearer each day, and the other seems to become a bigger burden as regularly.

Now Texans are faced with necessity of carrying a greater tax load, to finance the payment of old age pensions. Apparently the tax payers are willing this time, since they approved the idea of a pension system.

Governor Allred, in his message to the legislature Wednesday, said that any pension measure reaching him should carry revenue provisions. In the same message, he repeated his opposition to a sales tax, and said that property taxes must not be increased.

All very well and good. The sales tax idea remains unpopular in Texas, and the great mass of property owners, large and small, certainly would not willfully bear any more of the governmental-expense load.

But the age pensions must be paid. Texans will want to provide for those old people who are in need; but they also will demand that the cost be distributed in a fair and equitable manner.

That "fair and equitable" may be interpreted in a lot of ways, and the means of financing the pensions is a real problem for the legislators. They are, to put it plainly, on the spot.

TIP TO HUNTERS

Uncle Sam has helped a lot of people, and now he's coming to the rescue of the boys who fare forth each year, armed for big game, and return only to tell the story of the perfect shot that missed.

It seems that you can buy your game and save all the trouble and the tall yarns.

The word has gone out that on October 21, a division of the department of agriculture will open bids for the sale of buffalo, elk and mule deer, representing the surplus from herds on various game preserves. The surpluses are disposed of annually in this manner.

Some animals will be sold only for breeding and exhibition but some of the elder buffalo and elk may be sold for meat.

It's a great chance to take a hunting trip, armed only with a checkbook.

The mounted heads would look great over the mantelpiece and could be exhibited with the remark, "I got these when I overshot all the other fellows. My pocketbook had the longest range."

THE TALK OF PEACE

The report that Italy is ready to discuss peace, right in the midst of its successful campaign, has some interesting implications. One is that Mussolini doubts his country's ability to keep going under the economic and financial pressure which the league is prepared to apply.

The promptness with which the Ethiopian ruler rejected the idea of making peace with Italy suggests that he is aware of Italy's troubles, and therefore in no hurry to start negotiations. Time, he doubtless believes, is a big factor on his side.

There is little reason to believe that the peace talk will get anywhere, for the present. Italy has committed itself to a course which it must follow, no matter how painful and costly the going.

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

Evidence—Gov. Herbert Lehman is quietly talked of as the next secretary of the treasury in the cabinet shuffle which President Roosevelt is expected to make before the 1936 elections.

This report fits in with Gov. Lehman's reluctance to offer himself as a candidate for reelection in New York State. Undercover advisers say that Mr. Lehman, for various reasons, faces trouble in a reelection contest.

Mr. Lehman's accession to the treasury post would also serve as evidence that the administration means to slow on business during the next year or so. He is acknowledged to be a conscientious and able executive.

Veterans—The American Legion convention's boing of Wright Patman did not begin to reflect the soldiers' distaste for his linking of inflation with payment of the bonus.

Wood—Unbeknownst to his closest friends President Roosevelt has made a personal survey of the delays which Comptroller General McCarl has caused in passing upon New Deal projects.

Signals—Despite President Roosevelt's affection for Vice President Garner, political exigencies may demand that the popular Texas step aside next year for a running mate who will bring more political strength to the ticket.

Youth—Educators are becoming increasingly restive about the New Deal failure to do more for youth. Most of them regard the National Youth administration as nothing but a political joke.

They rode in silence until they reached an outlying negro cabin. Aubrey rained in his horse. "It won't be a minute," he said as he dismounted.

He disappeared into the tiny cabin and Emily looked about her with interested eyes. The cabin must have contained two rooms at most; it crouched on the edge of a thicket of second growth pines.

A negro child, barefoot and without a coat, came out on the porch and sat motionless on the top step, watching her with round, unwinning black eyes.

She remembered her rides with David. "May I go with you some time?" "I'd be tickled to death. Feel like going today?"

She hesitated. Dr. Proctor had said she might ride now, but that she must take it gradually.

MORNING STAR BY MARIAN SIMS

Chapter 38 HORSEBACK: Judith said slowly, "David belongs at Carrollton."

Aubrey began to understand. He grinned affectionately at his wife. "Going to play your God, eh?" "Not at all," Judith said severely.

"God's not nearly so considerate of His children as that." "But suppose David's gotten over Carrollton? It would be a miracle if he hadn't, after all these years."

She turned on him. "Can you imagine being happy, or being at home, anywhere else in the world, no matter how long you'd been there?" "No," he confessed, thinking nevertheless that he and David were different types.

"And so," Judith decided, "I'm going to cable him tomorrow. He'll tell me the truth." "Suppose he can't swing it?" "Then we'll have to buy it and let him pay us."

He said ruefully, "How many mortgages do you think this roof can support?" "Anyways," Judith's confidence was boundless, "I'm going to cable." "What about Emily," he demanded; "going to mention that?"

"No—ooo, I don't think I shall. All I can do about that is to watch and pray." "Particularly pray," Aubrey twinkled. "Where are those old corduroy breeches of mine? I want 'em for morning."

She looked at her plate. "One like yours would do beautifully." She hadn't eaten that much breakfast in years, but it looked delicious. "With orange juice before and waffles afterwards?"

She remembered her rides with David. "May I go with you some time?" "I'd be tickled to death. Feel like going today?"

She hesitated. Dr. Proctor had said she might ride now, but that she must take it gradually. "I haven't been very fit, but I'd love it. Are you going far?"

"No. And if you do get tired you can come back any time. Jude will be dragging you to field trials and fox-hunts before long, and this will be a good way to begin."

She finished breakfast and went up to change clothes, singing softly as she went. This life did get into your blood, if only there were someone to live it with you.

Judith's horse was saddled and waiting when she came down; not Starlight this time, but a sleek little bay with a white blaze and three white socks.

Ballinger Man Made A Member Of Jersey Club

G. E. Kemp of Ballinger, Texas, is among the outstanding Jersey breeders recently elected to life membership in the American Jersey Cattle Club...

Lewis W. Morley, executive secretary of the organization, is announcing the election of Mr. Kemp, reports that an unusually large number of breeders are joining the club.

An indication of the upturn in Jersey business, is the number of registrations of purebred Jerseys put on record during the first six months of the club's fiscal year beginning April 1, 1935.

When West Texas farmers come to take their "shelterbelting" seriously, they may be able to get some valuable information on best type of trees to use from the United States Experiment Farm here.

A program involving Arizona cypress and pine tree plants is going into its third year at the farm. Since the cypress are just putting on some size, experiments are to be carried out by thinning to ascertain how close they should be put out.

The poor pines have done little but exist. Apparently West Texas isn't destined as a pine country because of dry weather.

Chicago Fair Is Scattered

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—(UP)—Tons and tons of interwoven steel, the bright lights and brilliant-hued buildings of the Century of Progress have been removed from the World's Fair grounds and scattered so widely that nearly every section of the country will have some souvenir of the famous exposition. The fair itself has vanished but the material from which it was built will continue in use, most of it in forms unrecognizable. Today, only the Travel and Transport building and the steel work of the Home planning building still stand. They will be demolished before Nov. 30. Sold as junk for $38,000.

Equipment and Material Sent To All Parts Of Nation

Last February a wrecking company purchased the material from the Century of Progress for $28,000. It has sold the glittering city piece by piece. The steel fencing has been purchased by factories and schools. Purdue university has half a mile of it. The structural steel has been taken by brokers for future sale. Two thousand tons of it went to a Long Island construction company in New York. Some of the buildings were sold complete for use elsewhere. The south wing of the Travel and Transport building will be a market building at Muskegon, Mich. and the north wing an addition to a candy factory at Bloomington, Ill. Elevators in the Sky-ride went back to the manufacturers. Individuals bought 10,000,000 feet of plywood and plaster board. Contractors took the remainder. The 7,000 huge floodlights which illuminated all building exteriors are now lighting rock-gardens, football fields and filling stations. A Chicago steel and equipment company took the pumps and motors constructed specially for the giant fountain in the north lagoon.

'TOGETHER WE LIVE' FILM AT RITZ, OFFERS NOVEL STORY

BEN LYON In "Together We Live"

An unusual type of picture is "Together We Live" which opened at the Ritz Thursday for a one-day showing. It has a novel plot that will appeal to most theatre-goers.

Produced by Columbia, the picture offers a novel story of the life of an entire family. Concerning Hank Kavanaugh, an old Civil War veteran, patriotic to the core, who learns that his sons are entertaining radical ideas about their native land, the picture employs a new angle and many amusing situations in bringing the theme to a stirring climax. A charming romance is woven through the story.

Ben Lyon, Esther Ralston and Sheila Mannors are leading players in the cast. Others are Hobart Bosworth, Wera Engels, Charles Sablin, William Blakewell, Claude Gillingsworth, William V. Mong, Richard Carle and Carlyle Moore, Jr. Each characterization is well done. "Together We Live" makes good entertainment.

460 Are To Be Taken Into 77th Heavy Field Artillery

Enlistment of 460 young men for the "Southwest's Own"—the 77th heavy field artillery will start Oct. 20 and is to be completed by the 29th, Sergeant Rex A. Taylor, district recruiting officer, said here Thursday. Only young men will be taken into the 77th, hence the opportunities for mechanics, machinists, chauffeurs and kindred tradesmen is practically unlimited, according to Sergeant Taylor. The regiment is to be stationed at Fort D. A. Russell, M. Rfa, Tex., and will be completely motorized. Its allotment of 115 motor vehicles will range from five passenger sedans and pick-up body trucks to 7-12 ton tractors. All enlistments are made in the grade of private, Taylor revealed. Pastor Talks At School Assembly

"The Open Door," was the subject used by Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, in an address before the Big Spring high school assembly Wednesday.

"The first door which is impossible to close is the door of friendship," the minister said. "No matter how you are treated, there is always someone to whom you can be kind. Another door is that of thought. Thought precedes action, and if you think the wrong thoughts, you will probably do the wrong thing."

"The other door in a person's life is the door of a honest life. If you determine to enter that door you are bound to win. If you are willing to pay the price it is almost impossible for this door to be closed to you."

Garner Party Starts Trip

MAHON IN GROUP GOING TO PHILIPPINES AND THE ORIENT

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 17. (UP)—A party of congressmen, headed by Vice-President John N. Garner, sailed Wednesday for the Philippines to act as official observers at the birth of a new nation.

On Nov. 15 they will attend the inauguration of Manuel Quezon as first president of the Philippine commonwealth which will rule the islands for a 10-year interlude between American rule and complete independence.

"President McKinley told the world that we would liberalize the Philippines," Garner commented on the United States' promises after the Spanish-American war. "We are now doing what he said we would. I am a man who believes in keeping my word."

George H. Derr, United States secretary of war, now in Japan, will join the party at Manila where he will represent the president at Quezon's inauguration. Derr, accompanied by Edwin L. Neville, American charge d'Affaires at Tokyo, appeared before Emperor Hirohito of Japan yesterday.

Vice-President Garner, on the present voyage, likewise plans to pay his respects to the emperor. The President Grant will touch Japan and China before proceeding to Manila.

In the congressional party leaving Seattle Wednesday for the Philippines and the Orient was George Mahon of Colorado, representative from this district. Mahon, accompanied by Mrs. Mahon, left for the west coast some time ago.

Children In Fancy Costume Parade At VFW Event; Prizes Are Awarded

One of the most colorful events of the entire week, held in connection with the Veterans of Foreign Wars was the parade of children in fancy costume held Wednesday afternoon in the big exhibit tent at the showgrounds on Third street.

In contrast to the baby parade held Tuesday afternoon, the event yesterday embraced only walking children in costume, and more than thirty mothers entered their children.

First prize was won by Baby Ada Beth McGinnis, who, dressed in a little pink silk dress trimmed in white fur with skating cap to match, and entered as a "Snow Queen," and who by her unassuming and confident manner won the hearts of the audience.

Other entrants who by their costume and bearing were worthy of honorable mention were Barbara Jape Greer as a Red Cross nurse; Aubrey Nelson as a cotton picker; Von Marie Petty as Little Red Riding Hood; Calmynn Campbell as Farmer Jones; Wanda Lou Petty as Poor Butterfly; Nadell Stewart as a bathing beauty; Betty Lou McGinnis as Betty Boop; Betty Jean Murphy as Little Red Riding Hood; and the Barbee Twins, Jarrell and Darrell, as prize fighters.

Events scheduled as part of the week's baby program at the Fair include award of loving cups to winners in the 100% perfect baby contest, and the selection of winners in the six divisions of babies for beauty. In this, three cups will be given to winners in the hands of some baby boys contest and three cups to winners in the beautiful baby girls contest.

Baby events Friday afternoon will consist of the Movie Impersonation contest and the close of the popularity contests; one for baby boys and one for baby girls. After the conclusion of these contests Friday, eliminations will have been completed, and the field will have narrowed down to a dozen or so youngsters who will compete for the title of Grand Prize Baby which will close Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

Credit Man Is Club Speaker

Eubanks Discusses Work Of Retail Merchants Association

The Big Spring Retail Merchants association ranks next to the ten major cities of the state in the clearance of credit reports, and in this respect has a volume equal to cities of 30,000 to 50,000 population; the association here also is at the top in information-records on file, according to a check of government men who use the information regarding federal agency loans.

This information was given to Kiwanis club members at their weekly luncheon session Thursday, by L. A. Eubanks, secretary of the association who has recently returned from a school and convention of credit officials. Eubanks was the principal speaker at the club session, giving an explanation of his organization's handling of credit reports.

W. T. Strange, manager of the chamber of commerce, who was one of the club's visitors, told of the projected goodwill trip to the Midland fair next Monday and urged Kiwanians to lend their support. Several members of the club indicated their intention of joining the caravan.

A plea for support of welfare agencies in their work to assume the relief burden after direct federal relief is terminated was presented by Rev. C. A. Bickley. Herbert Whitney was in charge of the day's program. Clarence Day of Coahoma, another visitor, directed a humorous skit which got a big hand. He was assisted by George Gentry, Carl Blomsheld, Garland Woodward and Eubanks.

Fight Pictures Show Here Starting Friday

At the Ritz Theatre Friday will be the first showing here of the recent heavyweight fight between Joe Louis, sensational negro bomber, and Max Baer, former champion, who was hammered mercilessly by the stolid Harlem boy.

The picture shows every little detail clearly, including all preliminary activity and scenes after the fight. Knockdowns, of which there were several before Louis delivered the lethal punches, are shown in slow motion and reveal that Louis did his damage with short but terrific left and right jabs to the side of the head.

Max kept his right cocked for action but never attempted to use it. He managed to land two or three punches with his left but they failed to do any damage and he clinched and went for the ropes as Louis slashed him in the face from the opening bell, catching Max dozens of times with his left jab which apparently carried a lot of dynamite.

At no time did Joe ever attempt to hit Baer as he slipped helplessly to the mat.—TSB.

Credit Man Is Club Speaker

Eubanks Discusses Work Of Retail Merchants Association

The Big Spring Retail Merchants association ranks next to the ten major cities of the state in the clearance of credit reports, and in this respect has a volume equal to cities of 30,000 to 50,000 population; the association here also is at the top in information-records on file, according to a check of government men who use the information regarding federal agency loans.

This information was given to Kiwanis club members at their weekly luncheon session Thursday, by L. A. Eubanks, secretary of the association who has recently returned from a school and convention of credit officials. Eubanks was the principal speaker at the club session, giving an explanation of his organization's handling of credit reports.

W. T. Strange, manager of the chamber of commerce, who was one of the club's visitors, told of the projected goodwill trip to the Midland fair next Monday and urged Kiwanians to lend their support. Several members of the club indicated their intention of joining the caravan.

A plea for support of welfare agencies in their work to assume the relief burden after direct federal relief is terminated was presented by Rev. C. A. Bickley. Herbert Whitney was in charge of the day's program. Clarence Day of Coahoma, another visitor, directed a humorous skit which got a big hand. He was assisted by George Gentry, Carl Blomsheld, Garland Woodward and Eubanks.

Fight Pictures Show Here Starting Friday

At the Ritz Theatre Friday will be the first showing here of the recent heavyweight fight between Joe Louis, sensational negro bomber, and Max Baer, former champion, who was hammered mercilessly by the stolid Harlem boy.

The picture shows every little detail clearly, including all preliminary activity and scenes after the fight. Knockdowns, of which there were several before Louis delivered the lethal punches, are shown in slow motion and reveal that Louis did his damage with short but terrific left and right jabs to the side of the head.

Max kept his right cocked for action but never attempted to use it. He managed to land two or three punches with his left but they failed to do any damage and he clinched and went for the ropes as Louis slashed him in the face from the opening bell, catching Max dozens of times with his left jab which apparently carried a lot of dynamite.

At no time did Joe ever attempt to hit Baer as he slipped helplessly to the mat.—TSB.

NEW TERRITORY UNDER STARS AND STRIPES

A survey group from Hawaii took possession of this sand-strewn coral reef—Howland Island, 1,600 miles south and slightly west of Honolulu—in the name of the United States, for possible use as an aviation base on the route to the Antipodes. Fashion Becomes Grecian Or Wickedly Medici Or Anything Historical; Skins Must Match

Whether you float gracefully forth in Grecian swirls, or sit for your fashion portrait after the Renaissance, or march bravely out in a Costume Militaire, you have to start from the same place—your dressing table. Because there's no denying the fact that the new period costumes and the new colors hit the face hard. Imagine a sallow skin or faded, muddy tan against one of those vibrant chive green gowns. Or a double chin peeping out from under a wicked Medici collar. Or a dainty Juliet jeweled snood topping a wind-chapped, coarsened complexion. It just can't be done. Helena Rubenstein's newest beauty aid comes to the rescue. It is a luscious, make-up film that not only conceals imperfections and lines, but actually youthifies the skin all the time it is worn. It is known as Town and Country Make-Up Film, was introduced first in England and has been acclaimed there as the perfect foundation for the delicate, sensitive English type of skin. So successful was it in England that Helena Rubenstein decided to introduce it to American women whose skins are kin to English skins. It is a complete departure from the old type of foundation which was more or less a coating for the skin. The secret of its effectiveness is that it does not remain on the surface, but because it contains actual biological elements the skin can use, the skin biological ingredient said to reproduce the natural moisture found in young, unlined lips. The same ingredient is responsible for the dewy lustre and softness which this cosmetic imports to lips, and for the special ability it has to prevent and correct chapped, rough, "old" lips. Eyes by Titian

Helena Rubenstein has dipped her famous mascara and iridescent eyeshadow—like the courtiers, their fabrics—into the deep rich purple and blue tints of Rembrandt, Raphael and the Old Masters. The result is a dramatic new blue-violet mascara and iridescent eyeshadow that make eyes as shadowy, mysterious and deep as a Titian portrait. And knowing that the ladies of the Renaissance led a sheltered life while the modern woman lives 60 active minutes per hour, it's also good to know that Helena Rubenstein's mascara will stand every test of strain and wear—because it's water-proof, smart-proof, run-proof and keeps lashes soft, silky, perfectly groomed the day through. If you have two eyes to see with, you will not be able to pass up these exciting new eye cosmetics.

Contestants Lose To Referee

HOUSTON (UP)—County Commissioners Tom Graham and Bill Tautenhahn vied in a crab-eating contest, with Judge W. E. Ward as unofficial referee. A check revealed that the judge had eaten more crabs than either of the contestants.

Prune Whip Goes On Relief

BOSTON (UP)—ERA headquarters here probably will have to find a recipe for prune whip. With 19 cartons of prunes, the government sent along 500,000 cans of evaporated milk.

Perpetual puzzles

These puzzles we have married are disturbingly feminine. They sit across the table from us and smile riddles. They treat us like spoiled children, and yet like kings. They ferret out our secret poker games—and collect! They devastate our reasoned actions by a caprice . . . and we love it.

How do these wives of ours manage to keep so young, so attractive, so full of life? Well, for one thing, they have learned that the advertising pages are their willing servants. Here they read of an appliance that turns mornings of drudgery into hours of leisure. There is a cosmetic blended to fit the skin like a glove. Or a new recipe to tempt your appetite.

Right now, your wife is busy with fall buying. And she lets the advertisements shoulder part of the task. They bring her good news about fall gowns and gloves, blankets, perhaps a fire screen, new slippers for you, a sweater for Junior . . . She reads the advertisements carefully and they save her time, trouble, worry—and money.
