Surfacing Of Highway No. 1 East Gets Under Way Saturday

Hope To Finish 12-Mile Stretch In Fifteen Days

Approximately one mile on Highway No. 1 east had been surfaced Saturday afternoon and prospects were that all of a 12-mile stretch would be finished within 15 days.

Placing of a double course asphalt surface was started Friday noon by Morgan Construction company two miles east of Coahoma and progressed west.

Rock is ahead by about five miles and it appears that the surfacing crew will not be able to catch up with the rock before the road is brought to its termination east of Big Spring where the new highway intersects the old.

Last week the federal district engineer gave approval for an overpass east of Itan tank on the re-routed highway No. 1. This virtually assures the letting of a contract at an early date.

Since highway rerouting got under way in this county two summers ago there have been conflicting reports on the means to be used in eliminating the east grade crossing.

Most reports were that it was to be an underpass just east of Itan tank. Now an overpass is certain and it is to be located across a deep cut just east of the present grade crossing near the county line. The road will swing back of a hill and connect with the Mitchell county segment.

S. C. Dougherty, resident highway engineer, said Saturday that bids would be asked soon on 37 miles of highway No. 9 north. Recently contracts were let for surfacing No.

Allred Proclaims "Church Loyalty Days" Oct. 5-6

AUSTIN (AP)—Governor James V. Allred has taken note of the war situation and stressed the value of the churches in maintaining peace.

He proclaimed Oct. 5-6 as "Church Loyalty days" and urged citizens to attend church "so that Texas may do its full share in aiding the churches of this country to impress the people with a love of peace."

"The people of our state and nation are desirous of peace and, in the words of our president, desire to remain 'unentangled and free' from the conflagration that threatens to inflame a civilized world."

Employment For 2 Million In 4 Months

$500 Of Federal Funds Will Be Average Expenditure For Job

WASHINGTON (AP)—Employment for an average of 2,500,000 persons in the four months beginning Nov. 1 was named Saturday as the aim of Harry Hopkins, works relief administrator, the mainstay of the works relief program.

High officials estimated that $500 of federal funds would be the average WPA expenditure per job to carry the program up to July 1st. On that date in contrast to an estimated $900,000,000 still unspent by slower moving agencies engaged on heavy construction they said WPA's entire $1,500,000,000 would be spent.

WHERE ITALIAN ATTACK ON ETHIOPIA BEGAN

700 Italians, 1300 Ethiopians Reported Slain In Danakil Fighting Saturday

LEAGUE COUNCIL REPORT ABSOLVES ETHIOPIA FROM BLAME FOR WAR

Italians Use 100,000 Men With Planes, Tanks, Cavalry On Aduwa Front; 100,000 Tribesmen Oppose

ASMARA, Eritrea (AP)—Count Galleazzo Cianna, son-in-law of Premier Benito Mussolini and commander of "The Desperate" air squadron, announced shortly before noon Saturday that the Ethiopian town of Aduwa would fall around 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

In the early afternoon more Italian troops under General Mariavagna were at the gates of Aduwa, the goal of Italy's forty-year-old desire for revenge with the Ethiopians offering no resistance.

(By Associated Press) It was reported Saturday the Italians captured Aduwa without opposition. Only women, children and infirm men populated the city. It is believed Ethiopian forces retreated behind the town into hills. Serious fighting was reported near Adigrat.

Ethiopia formally asked the league of nations council immediately to enforce military, naval and aviation sanctions against Italy.

(By Associated Press) The league of nations council committee's report absolving Ethiopia from blame for war Saturday went before the league council.

Baron Popeo Aloisi, chief Italian delegate, instantly met it with a declaration he wished to make full reservations concerning the report.

The Ethiopian delegate, Teles Hawariate, presented Ethiopia's request that the league invoke an article calling for military sanctions against aggressor nations.

The council is now ready to consider the question of designation of the aggressor. It was learned the British cabinet received Premier Mussolini's bid for simultaneous cancellation of Anglo-Italian precautionary military measures in the Mediterranean, and for a resumption of tri-power discussions regarding the African conflict.

Later reports said Ethiopians still held Aduwa, but was under a fierce Italian attack.

Italians moved into Dolo on the southern border. Other Italian troops pushed to Adigrat, reported to have been recaptured by Ethiopians, and to Entisico.

Planes bombed various points in Mussali and in Danakil Desert country on the Aduwa front.

Seven hundred Italians and 1300 Ethiopians were reported slain in the Danakil fighting.

Casualties in other places were unknown, but were believed heavy. In the Aduwa sector the Italians were using 100,000 men with planes, tanks, cavalry and every other modern device of war.

Opposing them were 100,000 Ethiopian tribesmen, with the same amount rushing to their aid from the south.

Along the southern front Italy was pushing thrusts, menacing Addis Ababa, vital to the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railroad.

The league of nations assembly will be convened Wednesday in an urgent session to consider the dispute.

The league council agreed in principle to appoint a committee to examine the dispute's "new situation." It will recommend the council's next step.

Educational Program Given For CCC Camp

Educational program for the CCC camp was outlined at the regular stunt night Friday by T. O. Brooks, educational advisor.

Brooks explained that 70 men were enrolled in classes including public speaking, sight music, reading, glee club, piano, English shorthand, and blue print reading.

He announced that prizes for proficiency and regularity would be offered by service clubs and merchants and that the awards would be posted in the recreational hall.

Several numbers were offered by the camp glee club under the direction of Lieut. A. H. Bankert.

After Brooks had announced plans for early installation of a camp newspaper, Lieut. F. B. Farr, camp commander, spoke briefly in support of the idea.

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

Ready— Uncle Sam won't be caught napping again if war breaks out along a vast front in Europe. The administration is profiting by the experience of 20 years ago.

A month ago officers in many branches of the army reserve forces received detailed but secret orders as to their stations in the event of a conflict involving the United States. The first batch went out to officers of the aviation units. In some cases they were told not only the location of war-time duty, but the officers and units which would be placed under their command. It is an unprecedented move.

Factories equipped to manufacture war-time materials, especially airplanes, have been asked to stand by. Orders for additional war equipment can be filled almost as soon as received. Industries now geared to peace-time manufacture can be enlisted in a vast military machine within 24 hours' notice.

Debtor

With another presidential election less than a year off, the Democratic National Committee will get low ranking on credit books unless it liquidates its 1932 debt faster than it has been doing. It still owes $417,000 and some of the creditors may get cranky.

The largest items—totaling more than $300,000—are owed to John J. Raskob, now off the Roosevelt reservation; ex-Chairman Joseph P. Kennedy of the SEC; R. W. Morrison of San Antonio, a buddy of Vice-President Garner; the two national broadcasting companies; the New York Telephone Company (part of the A. T. & T. now under investigation); and street railway advertising agencies.

The Democrats' only recent payment on this hangover debt was $5,000. Mr. Raskob, but it still owes him $35,000. Though they are running up current charges with life broadcasters and telephone company, they have not cut down on bills for a long while. The debt bill is about $142,000 and the old phone bill amounts to almost $37,000. It looks as if the money were coming in slowly these days.

The scolding Ike-Hopkins feud over bondholding versus post-war construction has piced the town of Palermo, N. D., on the map. It was this hitherto unpublicized hamlet which was denied Hopkins funds for a school building.

J. Kuykendall Hurt In Wreck

Cars Sideswiped North Of Ackerly Late Friday Evening

Joe E. Kuykendall of the Burrus Grocery & Market of this city suffered a sprained back and other minor body bruises when the car he was driving sideswiped another about two miles north of Ackerly Friday evening. Mr. Kuykendall accompanied by his wife and daughter, Eloise, and H. C. Burrus, Jr., were returning from Lubbock, where they had attended the funeral of Claude Burrus, brother of Mrs. Kuykendall. The other car occupied by two men, said to be from Lamesa, was going north toward Lamesa. Both cars were badly smashed as they sideswiped, but no one was injured except Mr. Kuykendall.

Lights evidently blinded drivers of both cars, and as they attempted to pass each other on the pavement the collision occurred.

H. C. Burrus, Sr., who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall to Lubbock, remained there until Sunday, when he was expected to return to Big Spring. A passing motorist brought Mr. and Mrs. Kuykendall and daughter to town, while Young Burrus remained at scene of the wreck before being brought to Big Spring later.

Mr. Kuykendall was confined to his home Saturday, where he was resting as well as could be expected. He was not seriously injured.

Belated Rental Checks Arrive

A small block of belated first rental checks were received and distributed by County Agent O. P. Griffin here this week.

Hardly more than a dozen contracts were represented by the total payment of approximately $700. Griffin said Saturday he had been informed that the audit on 899 of Form No. 120 (compliance certificates) had been completed and the papers passed and forwarded to Washington on Oct. 2.

He estimated it would take about one month for second rental checks to be received here for distribution.

Indications of a boom-time autumn here were seen in the opinion of one local authority who expressed the belief that between 50 and 75 per cent of the farm debt here had been paid off by early benefit payments. This being the case, farmers would have more money to spend than they have had in years.

Oil, Gas Shows In Holman Test

Oil and gas shows were encountered Saturday in the O. L. Williams No. 1 Holman in Edwards county at 670 feet. The test was drilling in sandy lime.

Two other oil shows were encountered, one at 465 feet and the other at 490 feet. There was no gas with either. Drilling will be resumed Monday. Gas pressure was increasing on the latest run, according to reports.

Vealmoor school opened Monday morning with a good enrollment. Great interest seems to be manifested due to the fact that the parents of almost all the pupils were present. The building is being repaired on the inside and pleasant school term for both teachers and pupils is predicted.

LUCILE LAVERNE, BELOVED SCREEN AND STAGE STAR, VISITS NIECE IN BIG SPRING

Lucile LaVerne, beloved actress of stage and screen, paused here Friday afternoon for a brief visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thom. Mrs. Thom is her niece.

Miss LaVerne is on route from her home near Hollywood to New York, where she is to do a serial by Lulu Vollmer, author of "Sun Up," for N. B. C.

House Fails In Attempt To Work Thru Saturday

AUSTIN (AP)—The house failed Saturday in its first attempt of the session to work on Saturday. It adjourned until Monday when a quorum was not obtained.

Speaker Coke Stevenson urged members to refrain from charges that would increase factionalism and counseled members that "the nearest approach to a solution of the liquor problem would be written by men who do not have extreme views."

Representative Quinn, Beaumont, has said he understood there was an "organized effort to break a quorum."

H. Campbell, Public Enemy No. 2, Caught

Man Arrested At Neesho, Mo., Identified As Associate Of Karpis

NEOSHO, Mo. (AP)—Deputy Sheriff John Fox announced the man arrested here shortly after midnight had been identified as Harry Campbell, public enemy No. 2, and associate of Alvin Karpis.

He said the man admitted his identity.

Campbell, one of twelve accused of kidnaping Edward Bremer at Saint Paul, was with Karpis when he eluded a police trap in an Atlantic City hotel last Jan. 20.

After a careful check, Thomas Carpenter, Campbell's associate, is said to be wanted on numerous robberies and kidnaping of a Kansas night watchman.

Ruling On Tax Discount Law Awaited Here

Assessor-Collector Wolcott Receives Instructions From Comptroller

Tax Assessor-Collector John F. Wolcott of Howard county received the following letter from the Comptroller of Public Accounts George H. Sheppard of Austin Saturday, in reference to the validity of the discount law:

Austin, Tex., Oct. 2, 1935.—To the Tax Assessor-Collector, Dear Sir: A mandamus suit has been filed in the supreme court at Austin, Tex., testing the validity of the discount law and we are advised a hearing will be had in the early future. In fairness to the taxpayers, we would suggest that you notify them, either by publication or otherwise, that if they wish to take advantage of this discount, should the court hold the law constitutional, that they make tenders of payment less than the discount. You should keep a record of all those who make tenders and advise them that you will issue the receipt less the discount, if paid immediately after the court's decision.

Yours very truly, George H. Sheppard, Comptroller of Public Accounts.

Mr. Wolcott stated that taxpayers who wished to pay their taxes and receive the 3 per cent discount for October, 2 per cent for November or 1 per cent discount for December, could do so, but the money would be held pending ruling on constitutionality of the discount law. The Howard county official said Saturday that there had been no tax payments received as yet asking for discount.

War Talk Takes Wheat 3c Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—War-inspired wheat market speculation Saturday boomed prices more than 3c higher to the best level in more than a year. War talk has grown in the past month to the most important market factor aside from a rather acute supply condition. During that time wheat futures have gained from 12c to 16c a bushel, advancing well above the dollar level. December wheat, which touched a high of $1.09 1/2 Saturday, the best price that delivery has reached since August last year, that made a 10c gain in the past week.

Pecos Oil Lease Suit Seeks $16,960

AUSTIN (AP)—Attorney General William McCraw sued in district court Saturday for $16,960 allegedly due the school fund from a Pecos county oil lease executed by J. G. and Annie Yates to the Plymouth Oil company.

The suit contended the school fund was due one-half of the bonus and rental on the leases executed by Yates as surface owners under the relinquishment act on mineral-reserved sold public free school land. The state alleged the bonus was $32,920 and the annual rental $448.

Her most recent role, and first since her illness, was in the screen version of Dickens' "Tale of Two Cities." In it she has the part of an insane hag, the leader of the mob. She was due to engage in a knife fight but the producers balked at the suggestion and allowed her close friend, Blanche Yurka, to take the part.

She may be remembered here for "Sun Up," "The Night Nurse" and "The Merry Widow." (Continued On Page 9)

ing at the same time that he approved expenditures for golf courses and bird sanctuaries. Palermo became a "no man's land" over which editorial writers, columnists and magazine authors wept.

New Palermo will get it. The house secretary later granted the money after a roar of complaints against the Hopkins program induced the president to reinstate many permanent projects on the calendar. And nearby Bowbells, winning a swimming pool but denied a water and sewage system, can soon take baths all year 'round.

Most people miss the real importance of President Roosevelt's address at Boulder Dam. They interpreted his reference to the need of arroyos and similar small projects as a championship of the Hopkins idea. Insiders know that it was a defense in which the president "took a plea." As written at Washington, the speech made no mention of boondoggling. Politicians grumbling at every stop necessitated the insertion. Palermo was the real reason.

Jesse Jones' row with New York bankers over railroad reorganization may soften senate liberals' anger toward him. "They have muttered that he was too friendly to the Vanderbilt-Whitney-Reed's banking faction and neglectful of more humble interests in his refinancing schemes.

The RFC chairman says off the record that he recognizes the justice of claims advanced by various protective bondholders' committees. But he points out that they have no facilities for refinancing or management if he gives a "preferred status to their demands. He insists in trying to put the lines on their feet. Stockholders, the courts and the ICC must also approve any program before it can become effective.

The Jones-banker quarrel finishes a riot for the "wheel" investment of bankers' financing of railroads. So does the auction of the Van Sweringen empire to the Cleveland boys whose pyramiding of a suburban trolley line into a $3,000,000 network was graphically depicted in the Pecora inquiry. Senatorial sleuths are working quietly but they promise sensations when Wheeler opens his show next fall.

Difficult

Jesse Jones' private enter a demurrer to President Roosevelt's claim that his policies have brought a certain measure of recovery. It forecasts the tack which the GOP and its allies may follow in meeting this admittedly potent political argument.

Retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers concede that goods are moving. But they insist that sales show no increase in volume—only in dollar value. They attribute the discrepancy to increased prices which they blame a various administration policies—AAA, an NRA hangover and federal subsidies.

They offer this as one reason why unemployment shows no great decrease even in the face of rosy reports. Opinion is not unanimous, however, even among such organizations as the United States Chamber of Commerce and the National Association of Manufacturers. The counter-argument is chiefly significant because it anticipates the difficulty Mr. Roosevelt's enemies have in meeting the recovery issue.

Bigstick

President Roosevelt may pour more bitter medicine for the utilities according to those who know his ultimate plans. He hinted at them when he discussed "regional" power systems in his Boulder Dam speech. He has confided additional details to certain advisers.

What he has in mind is setting up four—perhaps five—yardsticks throughout the country as the framework for an integrated, national power system. Passamaquoddy in Maine and the St. Lawrence in New York would comprise the northeastern segment. Bonneville in Oregon and Grand Coulee would light up the northwest. Boulder Dam and Parker Dam would be the nucleus of a southwestern system, and TVA would be the fourth sectional empire.

His power aides are framing plans for a fifth scheme embracing the Mississippi River and Valley. This would subordinate power for irrigation and navigation, though available hydro-electric resources would be tapped wherever possible. As now contemplated the "yardstick" would be lengthened into a "big stick."

Notes

Whirligig advised you some days ago that President Roosevelt's first choice for chief of staff of the army was Major-Gen. Mallin Craig, commandant of the War College. Craig is superbly qualified. . . . Hugh S. Gibson, close friend of Hoover and a star career diplomat, is dissatisfied as Ambassador to Brazil—and of course several Democrats are after his job. . . . Foreign embassies called home the text of Roosevelt's San Diego speech.

NEW YORK

By JAMES McMULLIN

Suspicious—Jesse Jones' publication of the acid correspondence exchanged between himself and representatives of New York Central's banking creditors tipped off a feud that has been growing more acrimonious and is headed for a showdown.

Disinterested observers agree with interested bankers that Mr. Jones' suggestion of a 4-per cent convertible bond issue is the height of unjustifiable optimism—considering current market conditions and New York Central's financial status. But they also agree with the RFC chief that the road's debt structure is unhealthy and that the bankers have done nothing to cure it. The basic issues involved are obscured in the exchange of invective. The bankers' charge that Mr. Jones—in asking them to commit themselves to "take their share" of the bond issue he proposes—is urging them to violate the law forbidding deposit institutions to underwrite securities (an accusation which Mr. Jones heatedly denies) masks a far deeper grievance. What they really resent is being asked to swap the demand notes they now hold for 10-year bonds of extremely dubious value—a point not even mentioned in the letters made public. Jesse Jones' pet peeve is equally hidden. The bankers' counter proposal in effect asks him to give up the RFC's preferred creditor status and put the road's debt to the federal agency on a par with its debt to the banks. Also it seeks to tie his hands by having him agree not to call the RFC's loan without six months' notice—a period which would give the bankers time to dope out some last ditch alternative to the dread prospect of foreclosure by Uncle Sam. Each side suspects the other of trying to play it for a sucker—which doubles the difficulty of getting together on any proposition.

Command

What next? Mr. Jones will make one more fervent attempt to put over his long term refunding plan in the next two months. The bankers will resist to the limit in order to maintain their position. They scoff at the idea that he would dare to take the responsibility for foreclosure and its consequences in terms of destroying public confidence in recovery. But he has a trump up his sleeve that they had better watch—the right to name his own directors in case the road defaults. It would be a very severe blow to Wall Street power and prestige if that happened.

The road itself—per Harold S. Vanderbilt—sides with the bankers. That's natural. But Mr. Vanderbilt and other large stockholders who share his views won't be in a happy position if Mr. Jones does decide to get tough.

The incident is significant as revealing final abandonment of the Washington-Wall Street truce and revival of a bitter contest for command of the nation's economic destinies. Many conservative insiders are pulling for New York—but privately betting on Washington.

Painful

There were several intriguing angles to the Van Sweringen's repurchase at auction of control of their own empire at 10 cents on the dollar. One was the clever maneuvering by which Colonel Leonard Ayres—bidding on behalf of the brothers' new corporation—managed to get what they wanted at a price barely over the minimum set by the creditor banks. He waited until he knew what that minimum was and topped it by a scant $1,000. The bankers are plenty burned up about it.

A second was the strong inference—becoming stronger as New York studies the situation—that the Van Sweringens are being used as a show-window front for a well heeled mid-western group that is evidently out to challenge New York's supremacy in the railroad field. Big time Wall Streeters didn't catch on to that slant until it was too late.

A third is the chance that deep-laid midwestern plans may still gage. The Interstate Commerce Commission's decision as to whether the new Mid-America Corporation shall be allowed to assume the control it has bought is no mere formality. It's an even bet the commission will rule in the negative—and what a painful joke it would be on the Van Sweringen bankers if it turned out that they have paid over three million dollars for nothing but a staggering burden of debts!

Napping

Impartial legal experts mostly agree that Justice Dore's decision forbidding New York City to hold a referendum this year on the question of building a municipal power plant was based on sound law—not an interpretation twisted to Tammany's benefit.

But it was a sweet break for Tammany just the same. The boys are on record as having favored such a referendum—both in the state legislature and in New York City's own Board of Estimate and Board of Aldermen. Nobody can accuse them of undue regard for the feelings of private utilities—no, sir! And now the court's intervention spares their pal Consolidated Gas any embarrassment on this point for at least a year to come. That makes it lovely all around.

How did this happy result come about? Partly by clever penmanship in the legislature which partially tied the city's hands while seeming to leave it free. Even more because Mayor LaGuardia and his associates were caught napping, the obstacle if they had discovered it in time. Now it's too late.

Economy

If airmail is slower than you think it should be in some sections of the country this may be why. When the Interstate Commerce Commission took over the job of fixing airmail rates—and raised them—it provided that the Post Office should pay a certain sum to a given airline up to a specified average poundage per plane. Higher poundage calls for a steep additional premium. That was bad news for Jim Farley's economy campaign.

But the Post Office Department retains full freedom of choice in routing airmail. When it found that poundage was running too high on main transcontinental lines it transferred some of that mail to more circuitous routes where the average load was lighter. This has produced economy—but not efficiency.

Averse

The New York banks didn't rush into print with quarterly condition statements on Oct. 1 as quickly as usual. One reason for the hesitation was because of the new law that banks insured in the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation must mention that fact in any advertisements relating to deposits on penalty of a fine—and perhaps a condition statement might be construed as such an ad.

It may seem a trifling matter but some of the big fellows would be as averse to mentioning their FDIC membership in public as they would be to showing up at a swank wedding in overall. It just isn't done—if they can help it.

SHAPING RICHES OF THE SPIRIT

No matter how far America may go in efforts to secure a fairer distribution of material income we shall still never be a really wealthy people until there is a fairer distribution of those richer treasures of the mind and the soul—a love of all that is beautiful in art, nature, music, literature, play, and in noble conduct and spiritual aspiration. Here indeed is an opportunity for a "share-the-wealth" program that will impoverish no one and enrich all.

Stage And Some Actors In New Italo-Ethiopian Drama

The stage is set and the actors have made their bow, a very Moody one at that, and the crucial act of the Italo-Ethiopian drama is under way. Mussolini, bent on a "colonial expedition," has unleashed his modern, powerful war dogs on the almost primitive black tribesmen. Thus Il Duce's conquest for new lands has turned into a fierce war. Saturday sharp fighting was in progress along all sectors. With Mussolini's command of "Avanti!" (forward), his troops were reported to have taken Aduwa, point where Italians met with crushing disaster in their last attempt on the black empire. But later reports said Aduwa was still in Ethiopian hands despite fierce fighting between opposing forces. Moreover, the Ethiopians were reported to have recaptured a post previously taken by the advancing lines of Italians. Most of the civilized world fears that the well equipped and trained Italians will prove too much for the Ethiopians, who only recently have nationalism. The men of Emperor Haile Selassie will battle to death to protect their mountainous country. At the left is a picture of Il Duce overlooking some of his light artillery. To the right a few of the Ethiopians are seen crouching in trenches, a new thing for them.

Army Recruiting Party To Be Here About October 11

An army recruiting party is scheduled to arrive in Big Spring about Oct. 11 to canvass for recruits for Fort Bliss, El Paso, Tex. This party is from the Eighth Cavalry, and under charge of Sergeant C. C. Morris.

There are vacancies in all the organizations at Fort Bliss—cavalry, field artillery, medical, veterinary, quartermaster, motor transport, signal, and ordnance. Quite a number of office clerks, typists, mechanics, electricians, and radio men are wanted but the bulk of the men need have no trade, provided they are husky and willing to learn.

Applicants for enlistment must be American citizens, white, single and without dependents, between 18 and 35, at least five feet four inches tall and weighing at least 120 pounds; of good character, and capable of passing a simple educational test that is equivalent to about the eighth grade. Character must be vouched for by at least two reputable citizens and consent of parents, in the case of minors, must be secured in affidavit form.

Visitors are welcome at the soldiers' camp and interviews are solicited with young men interested in the army and with their parents.

War Rears Its Ugly Head As World Waits To See If Universal Conflict Coming

War, thought banished forever from the earth by the bloody havoc of 1914-18 when nations murdered nations "to make the world safe for Democracy," broke out again in all of its horrible reality last week when Italian forces began their long anticipated advance on Ethiopia.

By Saturday the conflict was in full swing with the Mussolini leaders hurrying their modern forces against the crudely equipped black tribesmen.

Reports that Italy had taken Aduwa were denied in later bulletins which said Ethiopians were still in possession of the point with fierce fighting ensuing. Moreover, it was reported that the Ethiopians had recaptured Adigrat.

Italian forces, using every modern device of war including tanks, planes and cavalry, numbered 100,000. Ethiopians had mustered that many to oppose them and had an equal number coming up from the south for support.

And so Saturday there was death and destruction where a week ago there was hope that another blotch on civilization could be averted.

More than once Mussolini had pulled rein on his intended conquest of the Black Empire because of England's movements in the Mediterranean with her powerful fleet. He had even made his press soften its views. However, pressure at home apparently had its effect and Il Duce declared war.

The League of Nations has been convoked into an extraordinary session to determine the aggressor in the outbreak and to consider "sanctions" against the guilty party, generally conceded to be Italy. Saturday a committee had absolved Ethiopia from blame for the war. It appeared likely that it might be the middle of the week before the "sanctions" could be got through. In the meantime it appeared that thousands would be sacrificed on the altar of Mars before even so much as league verbal opposition could be voiced.

Big question mark remaining is raised around England and France. What will their attitude be? Will they use force to curb her? Will they go to war with Italy to protect Ethiopia—to show that right is greater than might?

These are questions most anxiously awaited by the world. These are the questions, the answers of which may well determine whether the world will be plunged into another universal war.

This next week will be a most important one in world history.

The Big Spring Week

What was one of the biggest oil deals to be pulled in this section in some time was consummated here last week with $500,000 involved for less than two sections in the East Howard pool. The mere mention of half a million dollars changing hands takes your breath away. Stop to think how much the entire oil property in Howard county is worth if a small block could command that much. Maybe that will serve as a basis for the realization of how much the oil trade means to Big Spring.

What you ask, is wrong with football here? Nothing. The fault is with the manner in which it is being played. This resolves itself into two possibilities, namely the coaching or the players. The coaching is as good as if not decidedly superior as last year when Big Spring went to the quarter finals. The men are almost as good with one exception. As a whole they are spoiled. There are, thank goodness, some who are playing the game for sport and not publicity. The latest exhibition was miserable because many of the players elected to use questionable tactics as individuals instead of sticking to the time-honored doctrine of team play and sportsmanship. To mention this is sheer heresy, especially among proud parents. However, it is said not in the spirit of knocking "the home team," but in the hope it sounds a note which might have a beneficial effect later on. We want Big Spring to do its best. Whether the best is good enough or not, we will be plenty satisfied with it. Big Spring ought and will support the high school football team when it tries. The converse is equally true.

In little more than a week Big Spring will observe the fifth anniversary of inauguration of all-mail service here. Within the past few days some definite plans have been made which will make the day of Oct. 15 a decidedly important one for Big Spring. Not everyone can take part in the planning of the celebration, but everyone can have a part in assuring its success. After all it is said and done, success of the celebration will depend upon the poundage of airmail going out of Big Spring on that day. Every man, woman and child can afford to write a letter, place a airmail stamp on it and then take it to the Chamber of Commerce for the special cachet. There is no time to lose. Fix your letter or letters today. Do your part.

Wednesday marked the 160th birthday of the beginning of the Texas war for independence. It gained mention before one of the local service clubs, otherwise it might have gone unnoticed. The question arises: Just what is Big Spring doing toward participating in the centennial celebration in 1936? A year ago civic leaders were bothered about securing an appropriation for a mummy celebration here. Since the centennial commission's knowledge of state geography did not include any part of West Texas, hope for this appropriation was abandoned. It was the same with any and all plans. The time has come now, however, for Big Spring to figure on doing something for herself. As a matter of fact a stepping point for tourists in 1936. We have

President's Talks Seen As Forecast Of '36 Platform

By BYRON PRICE
 (Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington)

It's too early to attempt a ready-reference political index to Mr. Roosevelt's swing across the continent, but certain chapter-headings readily suggest themselves.

Agriculture: The President's opening thrust at the opposition is a comparison of present farm conditions with what they were before he took office.

Power: He follows his farm speech with one extolling what the government is doing toward development of publicly-owned utilities.

Spending: He makes public a summary hinting at a balanced budget in the near future, designed to quiet fears of increased taxation.

Recovery: He preys constantly on the theme of improved industrial indications, giving the credit to the New Deal.

Parties: He avoids references to party, and makes a frank bid for independent voting. (The two individuals he praised at Boulder dam—Senator Johnson and Former Representative Swing—both are Republicans.)

Obviously, the list of topics still is incomplete. Yet the selection made in this first approach to 1936 are worth careful note, because they probably are prophetic.

Shots In "Crucial Sector"

It may be argued that the President was speaking in and to the west, when he put agriculture and power at the head of the procession of issues; but does anyone suppose that crucial sector was chosen by accident for the opening of the campaign?

That the west will decide the election is accepted as axiomatic today by most leaders of both parties. That the farm problem and the power problem are in the front rank of political consideration there is hardly open to question.

Nor is there any dispute that in his treatment of these subjects Mr. Roosevelt was bidding for exactly the same bi-partisan support which carried the west for him in 1932.

So distinguished a Republican as Senator Capper says his party cannot hope to carry the farm bait if it opposes AAA. At the forefront of the western crusade against "the power interests" is another Republican, Senator Norris.

Mr. Roosevelt has struck directly at the two points which, above all others, are agitating the western liberal wing of his opposition.

Questions Answered

There are certain other issues which cannot be considered sectional, certain questions which are being asked over and over again in west, east and south.

Is the new deal working—that is,

are times really getting better in a national sense? Isn't it time to call a halt to excess spending? How will these recurring deficits be paid for in the end? To these questions also Mr. Roosevelt has addressed himself. His words, presumably, forecast for the first time what the Democratic reply will be in '36. Prosperity is to be halted as definitely on the way. A cut in expenditures is promised, and a pledge given against increased taxation.

This reply doubtless will be found highly encouraging by the President's friends, and rejected as unsatisfactory by his opponents. What is clear thus far is the trend, of the argument, not its results.

Points To Be Clarified

Of course much remains which is far from clear. Mr. Roosevelt's first western speeches contained no discussion of the constitutional issue, and no mention of the repeated charges of the Republicans that his 1932 promises have been disregarded.

When he spoke of power and agriculture, he emphasized the material side of the picture, and entered into no debate on economics or constitutionality.

These are phases of the campaign which may be expected to develop more slowly, on the Democratic side at least. That they will come prominently into the picture eventually no one doubts.

DETROITERS TAKE LEAD IN WORLD SERIES

Bobby Wilson Leads Mustangs To Victory Over Tulsa Hurricanes

DEFEAT CUBS 2 TO 1

Aging Alvin Crowder Hurl Five Hit Ball For Michigan Bengals

WRIGLEY FIELD, CHICAGO (Sp.)—The aging Alvin Crowder put the Detroit Tigers in the favored position to win the World Series here Saturday by pitching the Michigan Bengals to their third straight victory over their National League rivals, the Chicago Cubs, 2-1, in a brilliant pitching duel with Tex Carleton and Charlie Root.

Besides holding the heavy bats of the Cubs to five scattered hits, the old ring master helped win his own ball game by scoring the first Tiger run of the game, his marker coming when Charlie Gehring doubled in the third.

Plea Clifton, great little Beaumont third sacker of two years ago, tallied what proved to be the winning run in the sixth without the aid of a hit. With two away in that frame, he drove a hot one to the fence in left field. Augie Galan made a brilliant try for it but dropped it and Clifton reached second base before he could recover the ball. Billy Jurges, playing deep for Crowder, misjudged the old General's hopper and allowed the ball to career into center field and Clifton scored on the play.

The Cubs scored their only run in the second when Gabby Hartnett put the Bruins into a temporary lead with a mighty home run into the left field bleachers. The Grimm Reapers could do nothing else in the way of offensive baseball off the offerings of Crowder and had the Detroit veteran in trouble only once after the second. Crowder was in "hot water" in the ninth when he allowed Demaree and Cavarretta to hit safely with only one away in the ninth but he ended the game by forcing Stan Hack to hit into a double play.

Cavarretta, the Chicago freshman, led the Bear assault with a pair of singles while Charlie Gehring collected a double and a single to lead the Detroit attack. Cavarretta's two hits were his first hits of the series.

Carleton was in constant trouble due to his wildness, issuing a total of seven free passes while on the hill.

Charlie Root, who took the rubber in the eighth after Tex retired at the end of the seventh in favor of pinch-hitting Chuck Klein, was in better form than in his last start allowing only one lick through the two innings he labored. The only blow recorded against his came in the ninth when Cochrane came through with his second hit of the series and his second single off Root. Cochrane's only other hit came in the first inning of the second game when Root was doing the twirling for the Cubs.

FIRST INNING DETROIT—White called out on strikes after talking three balls; Cochrane hit a bouncer off Carleton's glove, bounded to Herman who tossed to Cavarretta to catch Cochrane by a half step; Gehring swung at a bad ball for the third out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

CHICAGO—Galan, a switch hitter, batted one for a base hit. First safety in left field for a double advancing Goslin to third. Bupp hit safely. Owen hit short right but Billy Herman backed up to make the catch, holding both runners. Clifton lined a straight drive to Jurges who leaped high in the air, snagged it, brought it down and tossed to Herman for a double and tossed to Herman for a double and tossed to Herman for a double.

NO RUNS, TWO HITS AND NO ERRORS.

SECOND INNING DETROIT—Cochrane hit a bouncer to Herman, the ball took a bad hop and went for a base hit. First safety in left field for a double advancing Goslin to third. Bupp hit safely. Owen hit short right but Billy Herman backed up to make the catch, holding both runners. Clifton lined a straight drive to Jurges who leaped high in the air, snagged it, brought it down and tossed to Herman for a double and tossed to Herman for a double.

NO RUNS, TWO HITS AND NO ERRORS.

THIRD INNING DETROIT—Crowder slung across the left side of the infield; White, working the count to three and two, batted one over Cavarretta's head into right field but threw out. Demaree to Herman; Crowder advanced to third on the play; Cochrane walked; Gehring rapped a ball into center that Lindstrom made a one-handed try for but missed, the hit going for a double; Crowder scored on the play; Goslin was intentionally passed.

Frogs Rally To Win, 13-7

Sammy Baugh Stars As Texans Romp Away To Victory

PAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (Sp.)—In a wild game that saw several scoring threats on both sides, the T. C. U. Horned Frogs came from behind to defeat the Arkansas Razorbacks here Saturday, 13-7, when Jimmy Lawrence and Willie Walls went over for touchdowns.

The Frogs rallied first when L. D. Meyer blocked an Arkansas punt midway in the field, picked it up and raced toward the goal line. He was swarmed under by several Parker backs but interlarded to Sam Baugh before they pulled him down and the former Sweetwater flash carried it clear down to the five yard marker before the Arkansas safely tackled him. From there Jimmy Lawrence went over on two tries.

The Porkers went into the lead before the period ended, however, when Robbins passed to Beal for a touchdown and the goal was kicked.

The Texans started a march in the third period to regain the lead when Baugh shot an aerial to Willie Walls who went over. The pass was good for 23 yards.

The Porkers, rated as decided underdogs, put up a great fight but the Frogs made away with their first victory in three years.

Sandies Stop Capitol Hill

Amarillo Boys Stop Champions Of Oklahoma 27 To 18 Saturday

AMARILLO (Sp.)—The powerful Amarillo Sandstorm finally ended Capitol Hill's string of victories and at the same time protected the tradition of their own gridiron by defeating the Oklahoma Sooners here Saturday, 27-18.

The visitors, champions of the Sooner state for the past two years, battled the Lone Star champions to a standstill for three quarters, holding them to 13 points while they tallied 12, but the Cherymen opened up in the last period to count twice and clinch the game.

Beautiful kicks by the Amarillo secondary put the Indians in holes they found hard to come out of.

Wagner played a great game for Sandstorm while Kemp and Denton were outstanding for Capitol Hill. Kemp went over for the last touchdown, galloping some ninety yards straight down the field for the marker. The score was made against the Amarillo second string.

Coach Cherry's men rammed most of the touchdowns over on straight power plays, using their familiar double wing back formation to a good advantage.

Anticipate Struggle Tech coaches will cause a lot of hard work for the first three days of this week. There will be no work-out at Dallas Thursday, as originally planned, but the tourists will drill at St. Louis on Friday afternoon.

In playing the Demons, Tech's team takes on the club which played Lynn Waldorf's Northwestern University Wildcats on even and scoreless terms for 33 minutes a week ago, only to lose by a couple of touchdowns when Waldorf flooded the field with fresh reserves late in the contest. A letter to Pete Cawthon from Waldorf himself confirms the suspicion that De Paul will be no push over for the Raiders.

ATLANTA (Sp.)—The playoff for the Dixie Series title will be resumed in Atlanta Sunday beginning at 2:30 p. m. CST. The Oklahoma City Indians, representatives of the Texas League, hold a 3-2 advantage in the meetings and need only one victory to clinch the first-series win the Texas League can boast of in five years.

The Sooners won one of the two games played in Atlanta and another pair in their own ballpark. Fifteen thousand fans are expected at the Cracker ball park.

COACH DANIELS AND DEVIL FOOTBALL SQUAD

Coach Ben Daniels, veteran mentor of junior team here, has his 1935 Devil football club off to a good start. The Devils trampled the Colorado Jackrabbits in a scrimmage early in the week and ran over Lamesa in a game Thursday. Daniels believes he has a number of coming stars in this line-up. Left to right: Chock Smith (c) quarter; Settles, end; Creek, tackle; C. Smith, guard; Greenwood, guard; Brigham, center; Humble, tackle; Anderson, end; Gibson, full; Bigony, half; McGee, half.

Steers Look Terrible In Loss To Bowie

Big Spring Gridders Flop In All Departments

LUBBOCK (Sp.)—Rest and relaxation was ordered for Texas Tech Matadors today, following Friday night's stiff scrimmage with Wichita university, because the Matadors turn Red Raiders again this week, the aim being to raid Solder Field at Chicago Saturday with all guns manned against De Paul university's Demons.

Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith and pullman load of athletes, enough for three complete teams, will begin the Chicago trip early Thursday morning, expecting to reach the windy city late Friday afternoon. The game with De Paul is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

It is Tech's second of five inter-sectional games with teams from six states, the second trip of a road program that will have showed the Matadors approximately 6,000 miles of scenery when the post season curtains are drawn.

Coach Jim Kelly brought his De Paul team to Lubbock last fall, and after the Tech regulars had been turned loose in the second half the final score favored the Kelly men, who also abide by Notre Dame formation principles, vowed to make it intensely interesting for the Raiders in 1935.

Anticipate Struggle Tech coaches will cause a lot of hard work for the first three days of this week. There will be no work-out at Dallas Thursday, as originally planned, but the tourists will drill at St. Louis on Friday afternoon.

Dixie Playoff Is On Again Today

ATLANTA (Sp.)—The playoff for the Dixie Series title will be resumed in Atlanta Sunday beginning at 2:30 p. m. CST. Three outstanding sophomores on Coach Wes Fry's 1935 squad are sons of former stars who made gridiron history for the Purple.

They are W. G. Speer, Jr., Manhattan, halfback, who hopes to emulate his father's sensational runs of 1907-10; Winner Polunin, Topeka, halfback, whose father, Lester B. Polunin, was a quarterback of distinction; and George Root, Manhattan, center, whose dad, Harvey Root, was a star tackle.

Bulldogs Win From Dunn 7-0

Paul Baker, Hefty Fullback, Rams Across From Ten Yard Line

COAHOMA (Sp.)—The fighting Coahoma Bulldogs pushed a touchdown across in the first quarter here Friday afternoon and set back to hold the heavier Dunn backs throughout the remaining periods to defeat the visitors, 7-0.

Paul Baker, hefty fullback, went across from the ten-yard line after the quartet of Bulldog backs had rammed their way to the last marked. The big visiting forward wall succeeded in bottling up the Coahoma secondary on the center and off tackle plunges but the Bulldog backs were a constant threat on their end runs.

Echols, acting captain, plunged across for the extra point when the Coahoma quarter elected to give it to a fellow back instead of attempting to kick from placement.

Final arrangements have not been completed, but the Coahoma officials are planning to send their team against the powerful Big Spring Devils Friday evening in a scrimmage before the Big Spring-Fort Worth Poly game.

Games have also been booked with the Snyder second stringers and with Loraine HI, the Snyder affair scheduled for Oct. 15. About 22 boys are reporting for training every afternoon.

Temple Owls Drub Aggies

Rinzo, Romps Through A. & M. 92 Yards For Initial Touchdown

TYLER (Sp.)—The Temple Owls, coached by the veteran Pop Warner, invaded Texas here Saturday, struck twice as the third period opened and bagged a 14-0 victory over the Texas Aggies for their second victory in two years over Homer Norton's men.

The play was about even during the first two periods when Temple held the advantage in the first quarter and the Texans in the second, but Vincent Rinzo turned the tide on the second half's opening kick by racking 92 yards through the Aggie line for a touchdown.

Two minutes later, they scored again, this time when Rinzo took a pass behind his own goal line after the Owls had gained possession of the ball on an Aggie fumble within the ten-yard line.

The Aggies put up a great battle against their favored opponents but finally gave way to a heavier and more experienced enemy.

PRINCETON IS CLOSE VICTOR PRINCETON (Sp.)—By the narrow margin of one point, the powerful Princeton Tigers nosed out Pennsylvania here Saturday in the first football game between the two schools in 41 years.

Sanback's pass to White carried the ball over for the Tigers and the former's educated toe provided the margin for victory.

RUNS WILD IN FOURTH

Curly Hays, Former Angelo Star, In Brilliant Game

TULSA, Okla. (Sp.)—Bobby Wilson, the Mustang candidate for All-American honors, proved the margin between victory and a possible tie here Saturday by running wild in the last quarter against the powerful Tulsa Hurricanes, the Ponies smashing the Hendersonsmen, 14-0. Both markers came in the second half.

Wilson, a marked man from the time he took the field, was practically stopped during the first two quarters, but really began to click in the second half and personally directed the Mustangs to their two touchdowns that meant victory.

Young Bob was all over the field in the final quarter, coming down with almost impossible catches thrown to him from Smith, Shuford and Myers and finally returned a Tulsa punt for 40 yards for the final touchdown.

The Corsicans flash began the drive for the first marker in the third period when they took the ball from Tulsa on their own eight yard line. On three plays, he had taken it out to midfield and was soon in Hurricane territory.

The almost perfect kicks by the Tulsa secondary threw the Mustangs to a disadvantage they could not overcome the first half.

Captain Tack Dennis was still "favoring" his injury and did not break into the lineup. The sensational sophomore ends, including Curly Hays, former Sam Angelo star, turned in brilliant games for the Oklahomans.

Purdue Cops From N'west

CHICAGO (Sp.)—Old Purdue made it another Saturday over its rival, Northwestern, with a 7-0 win when Tommy McGannon, fleet-footed half-back, scampered back 45 yards with a Wildcat punt to score.

Isbell, red headed Texan, added the extra point for Purdue.

In the fourth stanza Purdue rushed the ball to the Northwestern 2 yard line with 3 downs to go. But the Wildcat forward wall bristled and bogged the Boiler-maker attack down.

Bob Swisher, Northwestern luminary, lifted the hopes of Chicagoans with a 20 yard dash in the fourth and was following up with sustained punches at the line, only to be stopped by the final gun.

Isbell, McGannon, Decker and Drake averaged 11.4 yards; Montoye seven for 24, average 5 yards; Flowers 24-5; Flowers three for three yards, average one yard; Corbill 12 for 33, average 4.1-3 yards.

For Bowling: Carr 15 times for 37 yards, average 2.5 yards; Montoye seven for 24, average 3.4 yards; Flowers two for one yard, average 1.5 yard; Miranda four for seven, lost one, average 1.1-2 yards; Bastillos four for five yards, lost seven yards, average -1.2 yard; Arroyo one for one yard, lost average -1 yard.

EARLY SATURDAY morning Bristol breezed out of town. We can't blame him much for that. Fans were ready to fry him to a nice brown. However, the reason for Obie taking out was to scout the Poly. Farrold of Fort Worth against the Ranger Bulldogs. Big Spring plays Poly here Friday night of this week.

UNLESS THE coaches are able to perform miracles this week, the Hoyines stand practically no chance at all of defeating the Parrots. The Steers started the season with a hap-hazard win over the Pecos Eagles that didn't especially please the fans. They looked still worse in losing to the Abilene Eagles, and their tiff with Bowie Friday was so dull and uninteresting that a number of fans are trying to get rid of their season tickets. The only rise noted thus far was in the Austin Panther game at El Paso a week ago when the Steers did look fairly good, and at that time it was thought the boys might be snapping out of the coma and making ready to steam through the remainder of the schedule, which is pretty tough for any Class A schoolboy football team. But alas! Schlotow's "night owl" brigade seems to be going from bad to worse.

PLAY AGAINST Bowie wouldn't have done credit to a very sloppy Class B team. It all went to prove that a team can't win trying to play dirty football. Instead of going into a game and fighting as a unit, they went in for individual shows, and as a result the till wasn't worth seeing.

BIG SPRING did little more than break even on the game—financially. They did worse than that in actual combat. That one penny exhibition will cost several hundred dollars from the gate in games yet to be played. That hurts a lot when you stop and realize that the school has bought thousands of dollars worth of equipment the past year that must be paid for.

MEN WHO are supposed to know tell us that the Hoyines are sorry because coaches fail to make the boys keep any sort of training rules. Some say they can't be made to do anything. Why not? Other coaches discipline their boys. Big Spring has a team that's more experienced and heavier than the average West Texas club. Why can't they win. The Big Springers have been playing teams with a lot less experience and weight.

AT THE rate they're going the San Angelo Bobcats will take the Hoyines into camp by three or four touchdowns. Maybe more.

OFFICIALS of Friday night's game were unanimous in saying they thought the local gridders were terrible. Cotton Clover, who helped officiate the tussle, said they made no effort to win. There's no excuse for stuff like that.

ONE OF the Mexican boys who was crippled and unable to play was used in the press box to identify players and made one of the best cracks of the night. "Those boys show a lot more pep running off the field than they do going on."

GUY DAVIDSON, head coach of the Bowie team, said he would rather coach a group of Mexican boys any day than a team of white boys. Why? Simply because they behave better. Those Mexican boys were very orderly and easy to discipline. Big Spring lads were in for dirty football. They wanted to cripple as many of the Bears as possible. Maybe they did scratch up a few players, but Bowie came out on the long end of the score, and after all, that's what counts.

JEWEL WALLACE, assistant Bowie coach, plays on the strong McClint Oiler semi-pro basketball team in El Paso, one of the strongest semi-pro quintets in the state. The Oilers split with the powerful Suede outfit last year and divided a two-game series with the House of Davis. The Suedes had the best club, in the opinion of Wallace, who says the McClint team will be proper this season.

MAJOR TEAMS FALL BY WAYSIDE SATURDAY

IS A DAY OF UPSETS

Tulane, Tennessee, Brown And Kansas State Are All Defeated

(By The Associated Press) Tulane, Tennessee, Brown and Kansas State all fell by the wayside Saturday in another day of astonishing results.

While Princeton, Ohio State, Duke, Notre Dame, Temple and Rice were emerging victoriously in other feature contests, Tennessee figured as the outstanding contender for southeastern conference title, collided with North Carolina Tar Heels of Knoxville and suffered a terrific beating, 38 to 13.

Duke, meeting one main contender, crushed Washington and Lee, 26 to 0, while North Carolina State, where Hunk Anderson holds forth, trounced South Carolina, 14 to 0.

Tulane, long a major Southeastern conference power, ran into a stunning reversal as Auburn's Plainsmen won, 9 to 3.

Kansas State, Big Six champions two years ago, fell by the wayside by the margin of a field goal before Fort Hays Teachers, 3 to 0.

Brown was beaten by Rhode Island State for the first time in history, 13 to 7.

9 south from a point four miles south of Big Spring to the county line and for four miles of grading and ditching on No. 9 north.

It was learned Saturday that the highway department is calling for plans on all of highway No. 1 through Howard county, giving hopes of early completion for four important roads leading into Big Spring.

Work on the west overpass is nearing completion. Last concrete, except some light work, likely will be poured this week. Much fill work remains to be done, but the overpass has taken on the appearance of a bridge instead of an incomplete pier. It will be ready for traffic long before the rerouted No. 1 is completed.

a part in "The Mighty Barnum," as the aged crone. Her make-up required four hours to put on "and," chuckled Miss LaVerne "four hours to take off." After all this trouble her part had, in the finished production, to be cut when she became desperately ill just as it was released.

Like most actors and actresses of the legitimate stage, she first turned up her nose at the films "But when Sarah Bernhart went into films," confessed Miss LaVerne, "I changed my mind." That was in 1917. Since then she has been dividing her time between the stage and screen. Her new love is radio.

However, Miss LaVerne is best remembered for her immortal performance in "Sun Up." She played the show four years in New York, two years in London and opened in Paris in the American theater. In addition to these lengthy runs she played several other runs in the states, appearing in only four cities.

John Barrymore's front page article in the play and lauded her as being "the greatest American actress." A London producer hastily inquired where she could be reached. Told she was in California, he sent a cablegram with a generous offer.

Just as she was to go on with her part in the filming of the play, the cablegram arrived. Her part coast.

VAUGHAN GETS BATTING CROWN

NEW YORK (UP)—Arky Vaughan of the Pittsburgh Pirates, playing his fourth season in the major leagues, was the champion batter of big time baseball this year, according to final unofficial averages released Saturday.

Vaughan averaged .385 and only a late season slump prevented him from joining Rogers Hornsby and Bill Terry in the elite ranks of .400 hitters.

Joe Medwick, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, was second best with .353. Buddy Myer of the Washington Senators won the American crown from Joe Vosmik of Cleveland for four hits in the last game of the season to put him ahead with an average of .350.

Cubs Hit 290 The Chicago Cubs took the National League batting crown with 290, four points better than the New York Giants. The Giants were the best fielders, averaging .972. St. Louis was second with .970 and Chicago third with .969.

In the American League Detroit took both batting and fielding titles with averages of .268 and .978, respectively. The Washington Senators and Cleveland tied for second in batting with .254. Chicago was second in fielding with .976.

Bill Lee of the Chicago Cubs had the best pitching average in the majors, winning 20 and losing six. Eldon Auker, Detroit Tigers' submarine ball specialist, took the American crown with 18 wins, seven losses, for .720.

Dizzy Dean of the St. Louis Cardinals was the strikeout king with 190—his fourth straight year as leader in this department. Vernon Kennedy of the Chicago White Sox turned in the only no hit game of the year.

Lou Gehrig, by playing another full year with the New York Yankees, brought his consecutive playing streak to 1,653 games.

Calves Defeat Junior Broncs

The Big Spring Calves, outlaw grid organization, defeated the Jr. High Broncs at Steer stadium Saturday, 6-0, when Jimmy Winslow went over on a short off tackle plunge in the first period.

The Calves held the advantage throughout the game and played in enemy territory most of the time.

Young Pepper Martin and Harold "Lefty" Bethel were the standouts for the future Steers, while Marvin Hoess, Howard Hart, and Red Womack turned in good games for the outlaws.

B'Spring Clears Little On Game

Big Spring cleared about $100 on the Bowie game here Friday night, school officials said Saturday after a check-up.

There were a total of 1,192 paid admissions, bringing $686.90. Bowie received a guarantee of $300.

Big Spring expenses: officials $43.75, printing $25, lights $12, polling field $12, game ball $4.

LAST DAY FOR SECOND ROUND

has eliminated this cause and, accordingly, the number of passengers affected by nausea has been greatly reduced.

"Better ventilation and quiet passenger cabins have added materially to the comfort of air travelers and have also served to eliminate nausea."

Midway Teacher Heads Howard Co. Teachers' Ass'n

Herschel Summerlin, Midway, was named president of the Howard County Teachers' association Saturday in the initial meeting of the year.

Eighty-one of the 86 county school teachers, in addition to several teachers from the city school system, were in attendance.

Mrs. J. F. Sellers, Cauble, was elected secretary of the association. H. F. Rallsback, Highway, was chosen director and general of the county inter-school league.

After the membership fee for the association had been pegged again at 25 cents, 65 teachers joined for the current year. This, however, has no bearing on membership in the State Teachers Association which costs $3 per annum.

Miss Sue B. Mann, deputy state superintendent, told teachers what they might expect in the way of aid, transportation aid, standardization and the new curriculum.

Dr. D. D. Jackson, Texas Tech, spoke on the curriculum course he intends to offer here as extension work. Several Big Spring and Howard county teachers enrolled for the class. Dr. Jackson praised the enthusiasm of the association.

Invocation was asked by Rev. E. C. Arthur, pastor of the Church of God, M. L. Blackweider, Forsan band director, led the associational singing.

WOMEN GOLFERS MEET SATURDAY

At a business meeting of the Big Spring Women's Golf association Saturday it was decided to play each Monday on the Latson trophy and alternate Fridays on the Rix and Bristow trophies.

The golfers will meet at the club house for luncheon each Friday. A membership drive will be staged the next two weeks. Ladies not members of the county club are invited to have luncheon and play bridge. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. E. O. Ellington or Mrs. Liberty.

Pairings for Latson trophy play Monday; Bristow vs. Reed, Rix vs. Liberty, Akey vs. Ellington, Spence vs. Bennett, Stalcup vs. Rush, and Hicks vs. Robb.

SECTOR THREE GETS RIPPING

The past week was a "surprise" week for the three teams in District 3.

Big Spring galloped off the wrong side of the channel in losing to Bowie of El Paso, San Angelo continues to worry the dopesters by holding the Old Belt favorites—Breckenridge—to a scoreless tie, and Sweetwater scalded the guessers' chart by lacing Cisco's Lobos, 27 to 0.

Big Spring goes against Poly of Fort Worth this week and Abilene tangles with San Angelo in what promises to be the big game of the week for West Texas fans.

Municipal Pool May Be Finished During This Week

The municipal natatorium and bath house may be completed this week.

Only interior finishing remains for the bath house and caretakers quarters and the most of that work has already been done.

The natatorium needs only a coat of a special paint before it is ready for use.

Perpetual puzzles

These puzzles we have married are disturbingly feminine. They sit across the table from us and smile riddles. They treat us like spoiled children, and yet like kings. They ferret out our secret poker games—and collect! They devastate our reasoned actions by a caprice... and we love it.

How do these wives of ours manage to keep so young, so attractive, so full of life? Well, for one thing, they have learned that the advertising pages are their willing servants. Here they read of an appliance that turns mornings of drudgery into hours of leisure. There is a cosmetic blended to fit the skin like a glove. Or a new recipe to tempt your appetite.

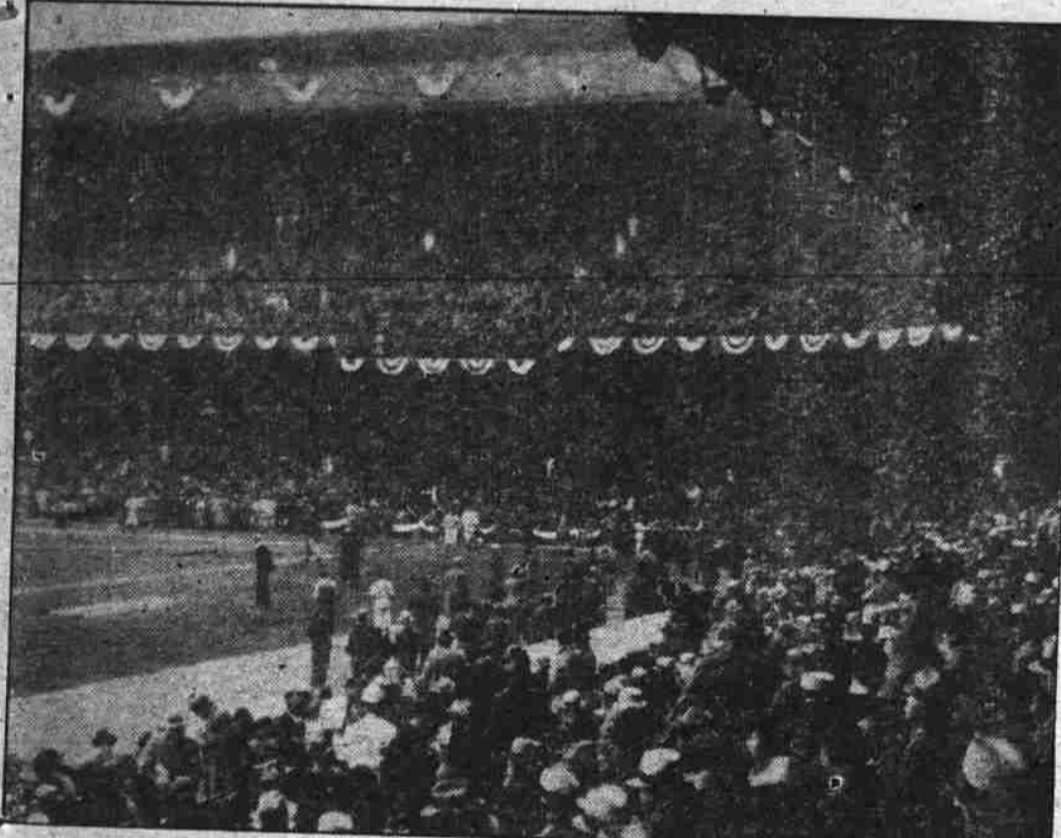

Right now, your wife is busy with fall buying. And she lets the advertisements shoulder part of the task. They bring her good news about fall gowns and gloves, blankets, perhaps a fire screen, new slippers for you, a sweater for Junior... She reads the advertisements carefully and they save her time, trouble, worry—and money.

MORNING STAR

BY MARIAN SIMS

Chapter 28
JEFFREY

"It was good to be digging in the ground! As long as you could get close enough to the earth, people didn't seem so important. Emily was considering her beds of annuals: scabiosa (it sounded like a disease instead of a flower!) ageratum, painted daisies.

"Do you think this woods dirt is too rich the way it is, Andrew?" Andrew scratched his woolly head. "Lard, maw'm. Them flowers'll have a fit in it!"

She dwelt with pleasure upon the idea of her flowers having a fit in their beds, and then remembered that her mother was leaving this morning for two days at Presby-terian. She went to telephone thick and some French-fried pota- toes and a piece of apple-pie with ice-cream."

"And hot biscuits?"

"And plenty of hot biscuits." Frances had been rather restrict- ing his diet of late. Too much red meat and too many starches, she insisted, were bad for a man of his age.

She stopped to give Narcissus the menu before she went back to the garden and dropped on her knees before the annual bed.

"Miss Emily, that ain't no job fo' a little thing lak you. Wait till I gits to it."

"But this is the part I like best, Andrew." She thought of Kipling: "Adam was a gardener, and God who made him, sees That half a proper gardener's work is done upon his knees—"

It was good to be digging in the ground

"Dad, aren't you a widower to-night?"

Jeffrey, with no trace of be- reavement in his voice, admitted it.

"Then you must come and have dinner with me. Edwin will be at a merchants' meeting and we can have a grand time settling the universal problems."

"There's nothing I'd like better," Jeffrey assured her eagerly.

"Nor I. Any preference about the menu?"

"Do you mean it?" His voice was wistful.

"Of course I do. This is your party."

"Then I'd like a steak a foot

This was the only time she ad- mitted to herself, that she felt at ease in that position.

Jeffrey looked keenly at her across the candle-lit table.

"You look a little tired, Mick. Feeling all right?"

She wasn't, but she hesitated to lay another worry upon his shoulders. They weren't, she realized sadly, as strong as they had once been. She loved him so much that the sight of him across her din- ner table made her throat feel tight.

"Nothing but spring fever, dar- ling. I always get this way when spring comes."

He looked relieved, but not en- tirely reassured. "I was afraid you were worrying about something."

It was a leading remark, she knew. "I stopped worrying. Dad, eight months ago. Since then I've taken each day as it comes."

"And—how have they come?"

She smiled at him. "About as well as can be expected, as they say when the patient is critically ill."

"No better than that?"

"Most of the time they've been a great deal better than that, but this hummaging process is long and tedious. I'm not sure I wouldn't be wiser to stop strug- gling. What do you think?"

He smiled ruefully. Shook his head. "Don't ask me. I wish I knew, I—stopped."

"I know you did. And was it eas- ily afterwards?"

Jeffrey Felton hesitated. "I think it was. Your mother is a wonderful woman," he added hast- ily, "and I'm damn' grateful to her."

"I know, darling," she answered him quickly. "And Edwin is a wonderful man. But life is so re- arn and earnest to them both."

He grinned understandingly.

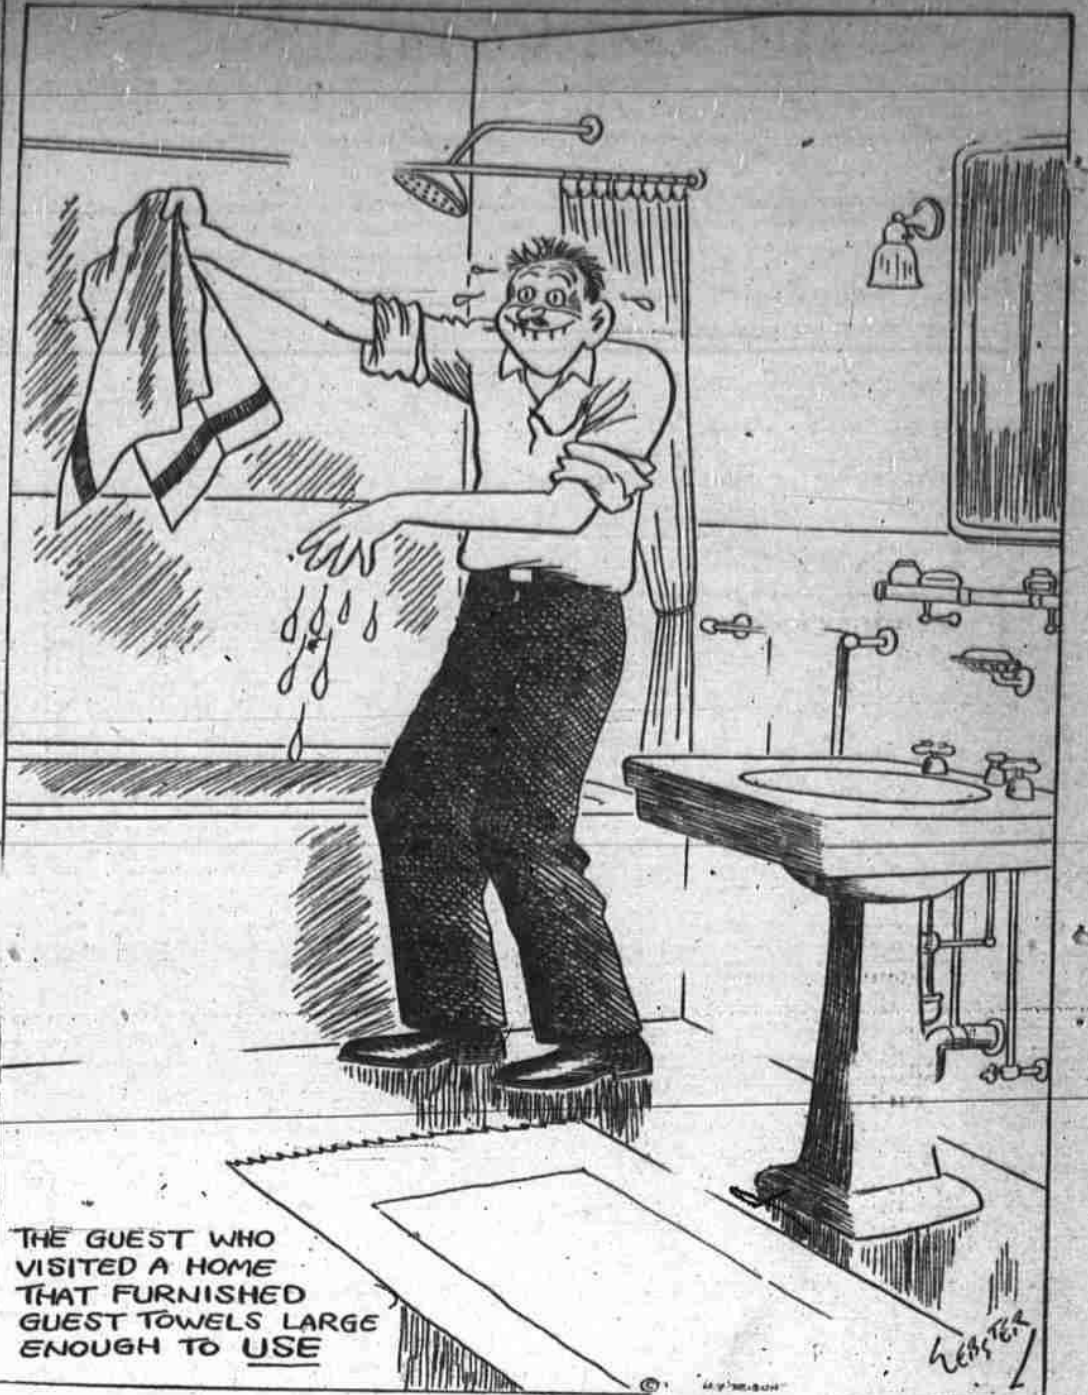

"And so black and white. No shad- ings—everybody either sheep or goats."

"Yes." She had felt that more keenly about Edwin than anything else. "A thing is either exactly right or terribly wrong, and peo- ple are either good or very bad. I tried to argue with him once but sin was a purely relative term, be- cause a thing that was a sin yester- day was frequently an act of grace today, and that the sam- ing might be true of today and tomorrow. I might have been swearing in Sanskrit!

The Thrill That Comes Once In A Lifetime

THE GUEST WHO VISITED A HOME THAT FURNISHED GUEST TOWELS LARGE ENOUGH TO USE

"It's been wonderful about my dereliction," she admitted honest- ly. "Not a word of reproach. But he often looks at me as if he'd just found out that I was a changeling. I shook him dread- fully."

Her father looked steadily at her. "You are different, Mick. More— alive, although that's not exactly the word I want. I've wondered if your bid for freedom did that for you."

She looked thoughtful. "I think perhaps it did." She told him what Charlotte had said of the relative importance of being happy and being alive.

He nodded soberly, and thought with a stab of pain that he would have given everything he possessed to have her merely unbowed.

"Suppose," he suggested thoughtfully, "that you—keep on trying with Edwin, and we'll see which way is best, yours or mine. And if it doesn't work, honey, I'll stay with you till the last gun's fired."

Jeffrey had just left when Edwin came home. Edwin was president of the Merchants' Association now; the youngest man ever to hold the office. He took his duties very seriously.

Emily accepted a kiss of greet- ing that was a trifle absent-mind- ed. "Was it a good meeting?"

"Fairly. The attendance wasn't what it should have been, and it's very hard to accomplish much un- less there's concerted action, but we got several important measures passed."

"I'm glad of that." She tried to be interested, but groceries were difficult to get excited over—un- less, of course, you were suddenly deprived of them.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK PROCLAMATION BY MAYOR

FIRE uncontrolled is one of the most serious problems that confronts us today, by reason of the fact that it has taken a heavy toll in the number of people burned to death annually and by reason of the further fact that this form of waste has proven to be a heavy financial burden on each of our citizens.

FIRE to a very large degree is preventable by the proper application of education in fire prevention and fire protection.

NOW, THEREFORE, I, C. E. TALBOT, mayor of the city of Big Spring, Texas, do hereby proclaim the week of October 6 to 12 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK, during which WEEK I most respectfully urge our civic and commercial organizations, our school officials and teachers, and our citizenship as a whole, to cooperate and work with the fire chief, fire marshal and city officers in an effort to control this useless loss of life and property by fire.

Every home and place of business should be inspected carefully and all fire hazards removed.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I hereunto sign my name and affix my seal of office on this, the 7th day of September, A. D. 1935. C. E. TALBOT, Mayor.

COOPERATIVES SET PACE IN FARM MORTGAGE FIELD

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The 600,000 farmers who own stock in the Federal land banks through their national farm loan associations in excess of $100,000,000 have built a permanent cooperative first mortgage system which is an important factor in the farm lending field and as such will continue to have a wholesome effect on interest rates and terms of farm mortgages.

Governor Myers cited the fact that interest rates on farm mortgages averaged around 8 per cent 19 years ago when the banks were chartered and that these permanent cooperative institutions since then have made loans at 5 to 6 per cent on a nation-wide basis.

The Governor stressed the fact that these banks are not government banks, that prior to the emergency the farmers owned practically 100 per cent of the stock and that they now own nearly half and the way is open for them again to own them completely.

"Because these banks have been temporarily called upon to handle emergency refinancing loans from government - appropriated funds, there may be some justification for the misbelief that they are not cooperative and belong to the government," the Governor conceded.

"People forget that the Federal land banks were established as farmers' cooperative credit institutions. They have a 19-year record of making sound first mortgage farm loans, having built up a two billion dollar business on that basis and are continuing to make loans on a cooperative basis without any substantial change.

"These banks have given farmers better terms than they could secure elsewhere not only as to interest rates but also the long terms for which the loans run and the provision for systematic, orderly repayment in small installments. Compared with interest rates previously paid, farmers with Federal land bank and Land Bank Commissioner loans will save over $5,000,000 this year on interest alone.

"The total loans by the Federal land banks," he said, "now exceed $2,000,000,000. One out of every four mortgaged farmers has a cooperative loan, for the number of Federal land bank loans now exceeds 600,000."

"Building along much the same lines as the cooperative Federal land banks, 560 production credit associations have been organized and have been furnishing short-term production credit during the last two years, now having loans outstanding amounting to $110,000,000. Similarly, credit has been made available to farmers' cooperative buying and selling organizations, through the establishment of 13 banks for cooperatives. These banks have served the credit needs of over 1,000 local cooperative marketing and purchasing organizations which is 5 times the number served at any one time by the old Federal Farm Board."

"In brief," Governor Myers said, "the Farm Credit Administration is a cooperative credit system through which farmers reach the investment market and obtain funds for long-term credit, short-term credit and credit for cooperative marketing and purchasing organizations. These loans are made on terms fitted to farmers' needs and at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business practice."

Painting Of Jesse H. Jones, RFC Chairman, To Be Unveiled Monday At Joint Session Of Legislature

Giving Hubby a Hand. AUSTIN—A life-size painting of Jesse H. Jones of Houston, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, will be unveiled with impressive ceremonies at a special joint session of the legislature Monday afternoon.

Texas from all sections of the state will attend and pay tribute to the New Deal's outstanding financier. A reception and ball for Mr. and Mrs. Jones will follow in Gregory gymnasium, Monday evening.

Alben W. Barkley, the eloquent United States senator from Kentucky who keynoted at the last democratic national convention, will deliver the principal address.

Among other speakers will be Frank Andrews, prominent Houston attorney and old friend of Mr. Jones.

The full-length portrait of Mr. Jones to be presented was painted by Edmond Pizella, noted artist of New York and Washington. The senate appropriated $500 for its purchase in a resolution last spring. The picture will be hung in the senate chamber among those of other distinguished Texans.

Austin citizens arranging for the reception and ball expect it to be the biggest and most brilliant party held here since the last inaugural ball. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Jones will be Governor and Mrs. James V. Allred, former Texas governors and their wives, state officials and other luminaries.

While in Austin the RFC chairman and his wife will be guests of Governor and Mrs. Allred at the executive mansion.

Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodul of Houston, in charge of arrangements for the unveiling program, has been notified that large delegations are coming from Houston, Galveston, Beaumont, San Antonio, Fort Worth and other Texas cities.

With but one week remaining before the official opening of the Veteran of Foreign Wars Big Fall Fair and Exhibition, the committee in charge find that while the greater part of the major work has been done, there still remains a multitude of details which must be worked out before the doors can be opened to the public. To complete these arrangements and carry out the actual labor involved, the fair staff has been augmented by a number of men and clerical help who will remain on duty every day and night until the close of the fair.

The actual work of fitting together the many departments into a composite whole will begin tomorrow and the committee announce that by next Monday morning everything will be in readiness. The grounds at Third and Douglas streets must be gone over and measured that the many tents for exhibits and amusements may be placed to the best advantage; exhibits and demonstrations must be planned that their location and operating time will not interfere with others of a like nature and with the amusements and free attractions and poultry exhibits must be housed and stabled with arrangements made for feeding and bedding; and the showing of the whole must be arranged that the visitor may have ample time to see and appreciate it all.

Amel Hoffman, remained in the ring at the Yankee Stadium after the battered form of Max Baer had departed to the dressing room. A few minutes later Buddy Egan climbed through the ropes to fight Ford Smith. His lips were drawn in a grim, straight line.

"The fourth round, wasn't it?" he asked. Hoffman nodded. The bell clanged. Buddy bit his lip and turned to face his man.

He seemed listless—his heart was not in his work. From the first flurry of punches it was apparent that the younger of the Baers was in for a rough evening. Smith, conqueror of Art Loasky in his last 30-pounds start, gave away almost 20 pounds to the youngster and then set about handing Buddy a real lambasting. Only in the second of the six rounds did Buddy land with any effect and then only in a short rally. Buddy was a mighty relieved youngster when the final bell sounded. The judges' decision in favor of his opponent did not bother him in any noticeable degree.

In the dressing room under the stands the brothers were reunited. They embraced and after a moment or two Max managed to twist his battered features into a smile and consoled his kid brother, "So they got you too." To which Buddy replied, "That's what the judges decided."

Altogether it was a very bad evening for the Baer family. Joe Goes Touring. While on all sides tribute was being paid to Joe Louis', stic prowess, Promoter Mike Jacobs bused himself outlining the Bomber's future. Julian Black and John Roxborough had given him a verbal contract for Louis' services for the next five years. Jacobs intends to give Louis the opportunity to fight frequently if he desires and already has lined up several prospects for a November bout.

After that Jacobs plans to take the heavyweight sensation on a tour which will give the fight enthusiasts of South America and Europe a chance to see the Bomber in action against the best man available. Early summer will find the troupe back on the local lot gunning for a shot at Jimmy Braddock's championship.

Baer Sells Shares. Mike Jacobs revealed a move that serves to further his claim to the promotorial mantle left by the late Tex Rickard. Shortly before the Baer-Louis match was made Promoter Mike bought Baer's percentage of the gate for $150,000. Max and his manager, Amel Hoffman, did not share Jacobs' optimism about a $1,000,000 gate.

The 25 per cent which was to have been the former champion's end amounted to $181,149, representing a neat profit of more than $21,000 for Jacobs.

Jack Kearns has never forgiven himself for not gambling with Tex Rickard when he signed for Jack Dempsey to meet Georges Carpentier. Kearns insisted on a flat guarantee which left the end netted him several hundred thousand dollars less than he would have received had he shared Rickard's vision. After that Kearns made certain that the terms for Dempsey's battles included the option of a percentage along with the customary flat guarantee.

"BROADWAY MELODY OF 1936" AT RITZ SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Jack Benny Foresees New Development In Field Of Screen Entertainment

Greater inter-relationship of stars between talking screen and radio is to be the next great development in the field of entertainment, according to Jack Benny, famous radio star who returned to the screen for the starring role in "Broadway Melody of 1936." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's musical extravaganza which opens a two day engagement at the Ritz theater.

A greater knowledge of what elements make for success in both media is responsible for the development, he believes.

"When the screen first started to draw on radio for stars," he says, "the experiment was not a success, because the right methods were not employed. Radio performers were put on the screen in the same characters and with the same ideas they used on the air. In other words, they brought nothing to the screen but their radio names. And it takes more than that.

Radio to broadcast dramatic sketches first showed the radio star what to do in pictures. The success on the air of Frank Morgan, Wallace Beery, Lionel Barrymore and others can be traced to the fact that they departed from their screen characters and went into revisions of standard stage plays. They thus presented themselves to radio audiences as actors, playing characters, entirely aside from anything that had to do with their work in pictures. In other words, they proved that they could qualify as entertainers in each medium.

Welcome the Chance

"I believe this interchange of stars is to be a great thing for both radio and pictures. And, personally, I welcome the chance to work in both because of the better per-

Mystery and mirth run rampant in "The Bishop Misbehaves," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's whimsical new picture, playing at the Lyric Theatre. Based on an idea new to the screen, it takes tense mystery and by deft handling makes it no less mysterious in that its every moment is hilariously funny.

The story deals with an old bishop who reads detective stories avidly. When he's confronted with a crime mystery he sets out to solve it, using the ideas he got out of the detective books. He solves the case in a series of episodes as amusing as they are amusing.

Number Of Bond Issues Approved Shows Building Activity Comeback

AUSTIN—The building and improvement program which the late depression interrupted in Texas is well along the comeback road, Attorney General William McCraw pointed out today.

As proof, he quoted an increase of 100 per cent in the number of bond issues approved by his department during the first six months of 1935 over the average annual total for the six years preceding 1935.

During the six years prior to 1935, there was an average of 650 bond issues approved each year by the attorney general. During the first half of 1935, Jan. 1 to July 1, there were 850 issues approved, showing an increase actually slightly more than 100 per cent, he said.

"It is significant," McCraw added, "that bond issues for educational purposes—new school buildings, dormitories, libraries and the like—place Texas schools well up in the classification. When Texans vote money, they like to vote it for their school children."

Relief bonds totaling $4,500,000 topped the list, followed next by good road bonds amounting to $3,983,983. For education, Texans have approved $2,773,000 in bonds this year.

Of the grand total of $32,020,925, more than half, or $18,159,762, have been refunding bonds, and of this fact Mrs. Effie Wilson-Waldron of the Bond Division said:

"This would indicate a very poor trend in the financial condition of Texas, if, as is generally supposed, refunding of bonds was done only in cases of default. This, however, has not been the case this year.

"At least two-thirds of the bonds refunded during 1935 have been refunded at a lower rate of interest. This was made possible by lack of activity in the bond field generally, fewer new issues being offered, thereby providing a ready market for municipal bonds that could be called in and refunded at from one-fourth of one per cent lower rate of interest. Of course, this type of refunding results in a saving of the difference in the interest rate to the unit issuing the bonds and indicates a gain rather than a loss."

McCraw has assigned two lawyers to devote full time to examination of each bond issue. Besides Mrs. Waldron, who is Texas' only woman assistant attorney general, Victor Boudin is in the bond division.

Mrs. Waldron also pointed out that many of the new issues of bonds come under the heading of revenue bonds and represent securities for money advanced by the PWA on so-called "self-liquidating" projects such as water control improvement projects, water and sewer systems, auditoriums, gymnasiums and dormitories.

The following schedule shows the classes and amounts of bonds approved:

Education: New school buildings, extensions, repairs, dormitories and libraries, $2,773,000; health, hospitals, sewer systems, water and light systems, $1,426,500; recreation, parks, auditoriums, gymnasiums, stadium, swimming pool, $283,150; good roads, new roads, new bridges, repairs, street improvement, $2,783,903; water control, levee improvements, navigation, dams, drainage, $771,500; public buildings, courthouses, jails, repairs, extensions, $323,000; relief, $4,500,000.

The year has shown also that Texans are becoming more "bond conscious" probably as a result of a national inquisitiveness as to general financial conditions which grew out of the depression.

"For years people in various communities have voted bond issues for various types of improvements with very little knowledge of what a bond issue means to the individual or to the state as a whole; but since the first year of the depression the people of Texas as well as the rest of the nation have begun to inquire into our general financial condition," Mrs. Waldron said.
