

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

By time you read this it will be January 26, at least, and my New Year's resolutions will be less than one month old. However, I have abandoned all hope for them after allowing myself some excuses for "slip-ups." I had just as well face the facts: I'm a lousy manager of myself. All of the resolutions I made were of the personal sort. That is, they had to do with the formation or elimination of daily practices and habits. When I measure my ability to control and regulate myself against someone like old Ben Franklin, I have to hang my head in shame.

Not that I consider myself his equal. Nope, not hardly. It's just that I think if Ben could live an entire life of discipline, I ought to be able to stand it for one month. But I can't.

I had determined to keep my temper under control, but I see myself cuffing the kids and shooting sharp remarks at a tardily answering operator just as bad as I ever did.

The between-the-meal gorges I had always enjoyed I swore off after Christmas. It was easy at that time because I was so stuffed with goodies that the very thought of them was unpleasant. But that feeling soon passed and here I am shoveling in any and everything two or three times a day between meals, and acting surprised to watch my feet disappear behind an expanding wasteline.

I also have slipped back into my disgraceful propensity for being late, and the hour of good solid reading that I measured out for myself is being nibbled away by the return of a haunting enchantment with the adventures of Buzz Sawyer, Amos Hoople, and a few other heroes of the comics page.

In short, my resolutions are shot.

You can now swear me in as a rugged individualist. Me and about 500 other hardy souls. The Grahams were among some of the visitors at the Little Chamber of Commerce banquet last Friday night, and it was quite an event.

Their speaker was Tom Anderson, agricultural magazine publisher who either makes a fast friend or a hard enemy every time he opens his mouth. Anderson was his usual sarcastic self as he punctured both parties and laced scores of high office holders.

The only kind words he had during the whole evening were for the John Birch Society, the Farm Bureau, Nathan Hale, Patrick Henry, and Gen. Edwin Walker. Anderson is a past master at the art of verbally cutting his opposition to ribbons and was shooting par for

Over $4,740 Taken From Helton Oil Co.

The first major burglary in Parmer County this year occurred Sunday night as thieves broke into the Helton Oil Company in Farwell and made off with a truck loaded with several hundred dollars worth of tires and accessories.

A total of 104 passenger car tires, two battery chargers, a marine type battery, several boxes of Champion spark plugs, a portable typewriter, $239.50 in cash and a red and black 1955 Ford truck with a grain bed was reported missing.

Including the value of the truck, $4,741.93 was reported as the value of all goods taken after an inventory was completed, according to Tom Atkins, deputy sheriff.

Entrance to the building was gained by breaking a window in the automobile service door. The burglars are thought to have crawled through the broken window, opened the big door and carried the merchandise out to the parked truck.

The cash was taken from a fireproof filing cabinet in the office of the company. A large screwdriver was used to break open the cabinet, officials reported.

A new shipment of tires was unloaded at the company warehouse Saturday morning. Most of the new shipment and some of the tires already in stock were taken.

A heavy chain was used to secure the gates of the high wire fence around the company yard.

The thieves sawed a link in the chain with a hack saw to provide an exit for the truck.

Several flood lights bathed the building and yard with light during the burglary, officers reported.

Loveless located the truck abandoned in a field north of Lubbock on Tuesday.

Law officers throughout the panhandle and eastern New Mexico were seeking information which would lead to the recovery of the truck and equipment this week.

Ammerman was born in Pennsylvania in 1932 and has "been on his own" since he was 13 years of age. He has traveled over all the United States and a large part of the world. He says that he first became interested in communism when he was with the United States Army during the Korean conflict, where he served from the beginning of the "cold war" until August of 1951. Ammerman has been with KGNC since coming to Amarillo in 1959.

One of the interesting acts the comedy team of Dick and Virginia Williams will present will be "the girl that can't be lifted" feature, an act which won her the gold medal Nicholson award

This was the second time for Paul Frederick's team to win third in the EPAC contest. They have taken second place honors three times. San Jon has knocked the Wolverines out of the running four times in five trips to the tournament, winning over them once in semifinal play and three times in the final game.

The third-seeded Texico boys beat Grady 51-34 in the first go-round, then bowed to San Jon 70-37 Friday. Saturday the local team whipped Melrose 66-48 to tie down position number three.

Steers Upset Sudan, Beat Springlake Too

Farwell's Steers pulled one of the season's biggest upsets in upending the previously unbeaten Sudan Hornets, 48-44, in an overtime in the local gym Tuesday night. The victory gave Coach Bill Mayfield's boys a 2-2 district record and put Sudan into a tie for first place with Hale Center with a 3-1 record.

At the end of regulation play the score was knotted at 44-all. Three steers made good on free throws during the overtime for the four point edge. Maurice Smith, high scorer for the evening with 22 points, hit two free shots and Jerry and Leon Lovelace each hit one.

Iris Goldsmith led the Farwell girls in scoring with 17 points in a 41-30 loss to the Sudan girls who are unbeaten in district play. The game was nip and tuck until the third period when Sudan pulled away with a 10-point lead. The Steerettes are now in third place in district standings.

In the Steer's game Friday night, fans saw the local squad edge Springlake 56-50 in one of the fastest and most exciting games of the season. Springlake held an all-court press on the Steers from start to finish in a close, rugged contest. Steers in the scoring column were Max Field, 17; Leon Lovelace, 14; Jerry Lovelace, 12; and Maurice Smith, and Errol J. Anson with 6 and 7, respectively.

The Steerettes swamped the Springlake girls by a lopsided 50-17 count. The local team had a good night both on offense and defense. All of the Steerette forwards got into the scoring column to contribute to the win. Chris Palne was top scorer with 22 points.

Saturday night the Steers will play hosts to their cross-town rivals, Texico. Boys and girls teams will play Kress here on Tuesday night.

If you plant grain sorghums this should be of interest to you. The High Plains Research Foundation better known as the Half Way Experiment Station has come up with some interesting facts pertaining to time of planting and its relationship to yields. Contrary to what some people think April 20th plantings did not harvest any quicker than May 15th, but both were harvested on October 2nd. However that beats cutting on January 18th, which I saw the other day. April plantings will give a plant that is as much as 15 inches shorter than the same seed planted on June 1st. Of the six hybrids in this test five of them made their highest yields from June 1st plantings. Yields from plantings made on May 15th, were almost as good as those planted on June 1st. It would appear that the last 15 days of May would be about the best one could hope for in planting sorghums. Another test that I think is of interest is that there hasn't been a hybrid sorghum yet made that is any better than Texas 660 and you can't find any 660 better than what you can buy at Golden West Seed Co.

Two members of the Lazbuddie FFA have entered four head of livestock entries for the 13th Annual San Antonio Livestock Exposition, Feb. 9-18, at the Joe Freeman Coliseum, according to Scott E. Windham, vocational ag teacher.

Windham announced that members entered are: Tony Haber, showing 2 Duroc barrows, and Jimmie Dale Seaton, 1 Duroc and 1 Hampshire barrow.

Their entries are among more than 5,000 head of livestock and horses which will be at the Exposition. An all time high of $160,000 in premiums, prizes and purses is offered, according to president E. W. Bleckett, who also announced Saturday, Feb. 10 will be "Rural Youth Day" with some 35,000 rural youngsters expected to attend if good weather prevails.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"The editorials reflect a zealous and almost fanatical patriotism and an active effort to awaken the public to the dangers of Communism. The whole subject matter is controversial."

This was the statement made by the Regional Forester in giving Don Caron, Ranger, U.S. Forest Service, Okanogan, Washington, his choice of discontinuing his off-duty anti-Communist activities or being fired from his government job. Sources of the information he was distributing were American Legion, American Bar Association, Congressional Record, House Un-American Activities Committee, Senate Internal Security Committee and the FBI.

The above is from the editor of the Waterville (Washington) Empire-Press.

On crop referendums; In one Texas Community there were 28 votes cast for the quotas and one against. Over half the votes cast were Negroes who represented a total acreage of less than 60. The one vote against represented approximately 200 acres. Three of the voters represented a total of 6 acres. The mention of the colored people voting heavily is mentioned only with reference to the fact that they were probably brought or sent in to vote.

It is generally known that these referendum votes are sometimes cast under the direct surveillance of those holding the elections and that sometimes soliciting is done at the polling places. Farm Bureau does not believe this is an equitable method of determining the will of the people.

Your directors will meet January 29 and February 5. You are welcome to attend, in the office in Friona at 8:00 p.m.

Harry Hamilton, your president, will be with the group in the capitol Monday, on this subject, and then he will be in a membership rally for Farm Bureau in the same city Tuesday. This is his second trip in ten days.

Livestock Producers
Meet Feb. 1 In Hub

County livestock producers will meet in the Hub Community Center Feb. 1 at 1:30 p.m. to hear a report on livestock feeding in Arizona and California and to discuss other pressing business.

Other main subjects to be considered are market cattle testing (or back-tag testing) and aims of the Southwest Animal Health Foundation.

"The foundation is interested in eradicating the screwworm fly in the southwest and with the cold winter which we are having, this will be a most opportune time to start on the project. The cold weather will mean that a smaller area will have to be treated with the steril fly," Deryl Coker, county agent, stated.

Market cattle testing must be undertaken in order to maintain the recently acquired brucellosis-free status for the county. At least five per cent of the female stock which is over three years old must be tested each year for a period of three years or at least 15 per cent of the cattle during a three year period. Market testing will prevent another complete county-wide testing and re-certification.

Farm Record Book Workshop Starts

A series of county-wide farm record book workshops will be conducted in Farwell, Bovina and Friona on January 29-31.

Record books will be furnished free by each of the three banks in the county. Security State Bank in Farwell, First National Bank in Bovina, and Friona State Bank in Friona, each purchased 100 "Texas Family Account Books" for use by farmers in the county.

These account books will be discussed by Texas Extension Area Farm Management Specialist, James Murphrey of Amarillo in each of these meetings. "Many of us have been looking for a record keeping system and this workshop will give you an opportunity to start. Record keeping is very important for we need to know what we are doing," Miss Ettie Musil, home demonstration agent, said.

The first meeting will be Monday at 1:30 p. m. in the district court room in Farwell. The second meeting will be in the Bovina school cafeteria on Jan. 30 at 2 p. m. The last workshop will be conducted Jan. 31 in the Friona State Bank community room.

Additional information concerning the workshops may be obtained from county extension agents Miss Musil and Deryl Coker. The workshops are open to all interested persons.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Watch for moths and carpet beetles all year around. Now that we keep our houses warm all year, the pests can thrive at any season to damage our wool rugs and carpets.

Regular care with the vacuum cleaner is the first step in controlling these damaging pests. It prevents dust, lint and hair from accumulating and offering extra food for the beetles. Vacuuming can remove the insects themselves and their eggs.

Thorough vacuuming means going back and forth with the vacuum cleaner seven times or so in the same place. Don't fail to vacuum under heavy furniture too. I saw a very sad sight in Seymour a few years ago when I was called to investigate a beautiful carpet.

In one corner of the living room we found a mass of wool balls. Yes, moths and carpet beetles had truly had a feast completely ruining about one square foot of carpet. These pests had their feast day under a heavy television set. There was nothing more this homeowner could do for the ruined spot of carpet.

However, we did treat the rug well to control the rest of the carpet. Entomologists advise a five percent DDT oil solution on rugs and carpets every 12 to 18 months. For a 9 by 12-foot rug of average weight, you will need 1 1/2 to 2 quarts of spray. Rug pads of animal hair or wool, will need spraying on both sides unless they have been treated previously.

When spraying wall-to-wall carpeting give special attention to edges and parts that have been under a piano, sofa or other heavy furniture piece. Call on good expert help of a carpet-cleaning or pest-control firm if you have doubts of cleaning expensive rugs.

If possible rotate rugs and carpets occasionally to make sure all areas are exposed to regular cleaning, light and air.

Of Prevention If

If you feel a slight soreness or notice any redness anywhere on your foot, don't wait for the situation to worsen. Protect that area with a small corn pad or a flesh-colored bandage. If your foot troubles don't respond to simple treatment of this sort, see your doctor. When your feet are swollen, you can make them feel better fast this way: Sit on the edge of the bathtub; hold your feet directly under a stream of warm water; scrub them gently with lather and a nailbrush. Then let the water continue to run on them, in alternate doses of hot and cold, for two or three minutes. Dry thoroughly, and complete the treatment with this exercise: Sit on a chair, and cross the right ankle over the left knee. Grasp the elevated foot with the right hand, the ball of the foot under your thumb and your fingers over the toe joints. Work fingers up and out in a rotating motion, applying firm pressure. Repeat with the left foot. Or try a home treatment with an electric foot massager. All through the year, give yourself weekly pedicures; at holiday time, perhaps you'll want to splurge on a salon pedicure.

January 31 is the last day to pay your county and state property taxes without penalty. Starting February 1 a 1 1/2 percent penalty will be assessed and it will increase each month.

Also, January 31 is the final day for paying your poll taxes. Poll taxes can be paid at the tax assessor's office in Farwell or at Dan Ethridge's office in Friona. Application blanks for the poll taxes are available at the Bovina City Hall.

If you mail in your payment for taxes, make sure that you have included the extra $1.75 for poll taxes. In the past, some folks have thought their poll tax payments were included in the amount assessed for property taxes. This is not the case since it up to each and every taxpayer whether or not they want to vote.

Car license tags go on sale February 1. Be sure and bring your title and last year's license receipt.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH
 Prior to the time when the plow came to the high plain of Texas and all of the land was in good heavy native grass, surface drainage was not a problem. Rain falling on the grassland gradually moved to natural draws or playas lakes and did no damage. The story today is quite different. With most of the good land plowed, there is very little material of any kind to slow the water so it can soak into the land; consequently some of our best land is being scoured and gullied.

We have two partial solutions to the problem which supplement each other - one is to provide ground cover to slow down the runoff water, and the other is to develop a drainage system for moving the runoff water from the nearly level high plains county to the playas or draws so that it does not cause erosion.

The usual procedure to move excess water off the land without erosion is by using a system of diversions and grassed waterways. The waterway is the key to developing a good drainage system. It must be established first since all of the remaining system will empty into it. Without it there is no place to start to properly drain the land without erosion.

This year the ASCS office in Farwell has increased the cost share for building grassed waterways. They have increased it from $45.00 an acre not to exceed 50% of the cost to $80.00 an acre not to exceed 70% of the cost. This is an excellent opportunity for farmers to build, and establish to grass, some badly needed waterways.

Sugar Beet Acreage Unrestricted In '62

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced on December 28 that there will be no governmental acreage restrictions on the 1962 crop of sugar beets.

The decision was based on a number of considerations. Late estimates indicate that sugar production from the 1961 sugar beet crop will be about 2,525,000 tons, or approximately 200,000 tons less than anticipated at the beginning of the harvest.

Secondly, the inventory of beet sugar at the end of 1961 will be close to 100,000 tons less than at the beginning of the year. Thirdly, there are major uncertainties regarding the beet sugar quota which may be effective for 1963, the year during which most of the 1962 crop of beet sugar will be marketed. In view of these uncertainties and other considerations, the USDA said the maintenance of sizable stocks of beet sugar appears prudent.

Available processing capacities of beet sugar factories limit production regardless of other restrictions.

Although the present Sugar Act expires June 30, 1962, it is understood that preferred consideration will be given to sugar legislation when the next Congress convenes.

Acreages of the 1961 crop of sugar beets - estimated at 1,120,000 planted acres - were also unrestricted. However, acreages of the preceding six crops were restricted.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

It is good to get home from California, although I did hate to leave their sunshine and come back to this cold weather.

The trip to Arizona and California was a very educational one, and all who attended from Farmer County learned a great deal about cattle feeding. One thing for sure we all found out, that there are other people who know how to feed cattle.

This is one thing in which we have in common with cattle feeders of Arizona and California, and that is we are after the same thing, Money!

Lot-feeding in Arizona and California has increased 700% and 500% respectively in the last 15 years. Even with this large increase in cattle feeding, California still has to ship in 450,000 head of cattle annually for slaughter. California ships in 1 1/2 million feeders each year with approximately 1/3 of them coming from Texas. Arizona feeds roughly 935,000 Texas cattle.

It's a boy's world at our house--it's evident when one walks into the house. The premises do bear the marks of "four boys later."

One of the most interesting studies at our house though, is the observation of the two older ones as they study at night. If there is no written work, Ronny settles into the big arm chair or on his tummy and switches from one position to the other five or six times during a 20-minute lesson.

Hal takes it more seriously, since he hasn't learned to be so debonair about learning. As a first grader, he reads aloud, and as he picks up steam, his monotone becomes louder and louder. He has confused any attempts at expression with volume.

Even so, the three-year-old is an avid listener and is the needed stimulant to encourage reading past the required lesson. I'm still amazed at how quickly children learn words that seem difficult.

The Witan, publications of University of Kansas, has published some facts "Ten Things I Wish I Had Known Before I Was 21."

Here they are:

1. What I was going to do for a living--exactly what my life work would be.
2. That my health after 30 depended in a large degree on what I put into my stomach before I was 21.
3. How to take care of money.
4. The commercial asset of being neatly and sensibly dressed.
5. That habits are mighty hard to change after you're 21.
6. That worthwhile things require time, patience and work.
7. That the world would give me just about what I deserved.
8. That a thorough education not only pays better wages than hard labor, but it brings the best of everything else.
9. The value of absolute truthfulness in everything else.
10. That my parents weren't old fogies after all.

About 50 men from the Oklahoma Lane and Texico-Farwell Methodist churches were on hand for a fish fry at the church in Farwell Thursday of last week. The local group hosted the meeting and James Craig donated the fish.

Announcement was made that C. L. Kay of Lubbock will be the speaker at the April 17 meeting. This program was originally planned for December 21.

But his best and most appreciated crack was strictly local and off-the-cuff. He commented that his Littlefield reception was the coldest one he had ever had. That was a literal truth.

The Chamber had booked the big tin wrestling barn for the barbecue and speech, and there wasn't enough gas in Pioneer Natural's entire system to heat that giant deepfreeze up.

You could see his breath during the entire talk and he stayed with it for an hour and 20 minutes. WOW!

The average man gets nothing out of having his name in the paper. The first time he's too young to read, the next time he's too dazed to read, and finally he's too dead to read.

A reporter asked the candidate for mayor what the main issues of the campaign were. "Issues?" he replied. "There ain't any great issues, I guess. It's just that Mac's got the job and I want it."

Red Diamond Wheat Pasture Neutralizer as it's name implies is a wheat pasture frothy bloat neutralizer. This is partially due to the presence of Mucin in the mineral. Mucin has been known for years as an anti-frothing (bloat) agent.

Red Diamond Wheat Pasture Neutralizer should be fed free - choice on succulent pasture and hand fed to your chronic bloaters.

Livestock will readily eat this crumbled aromatic mineral on first attempt but they will soon regulate their daily intake to approximately 1 oz. per head per day.
