Individual Income Tax Put In Plan

Senate Committee Not Yet In Agreement On Revenue Measure

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—The treasury estimated today the latest compromise tax plan of the senate finance committee would produce $642,000,000, of which $172,000,000 would come from individual income tax payers.

Indicative of the fact the committee is still groping for an agreement on how to rewrite the tax bill as passed by the house were requests for additional estimates on other ways of raising $625,000,000 for permanent revenue President Roosevelt has requested.

Committee Flare-Up
Week-end expressions from several senators said they would prefer to return to the original compromise plan, which was based on higher taxes on undistributed income and was calculated to bring in the $630,000,000 of needed new revenue.

Despite uncertainty over the final form of the tax bill, there seemed little doubt the finance committee would approve a measure retaining the present flat corporate income tax, with a surtax on undistributed profits, and imposing the normal income tax on dividends.

Under the latest proposal for a compromise, the normal individual income tax would be raised from 4 to 5 per cent; corporations would pay a flat 15 per cent tax on net income, with a surtax of 7 per cent on that part undistributed. All dividends would be subject to the normal income tax.

For Earlier Plan
This plan seemed to have the backing of a majority of the committee last week. However, within the past day or two several committee members have turned back toward an earlier compromise plan under which corporations would pay a flat tax of 15 or 16 per cent, with a surtax ranging up to perhaps 40 per cent. This would eliminate the rise in personal income tax rates.

FINAL MEETING OF TEACHERS IS CALLED

Final meeting of all faculty members of the local schools will be held at the senior high school building at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon. It was announced today by Superintendent W. C. Blankenship. Year-end reports and arrangements programs in connection with school-closing activities will be discussed, Blankenship said.

Would Take Warrants On Tax Accounts

Exchange Acceptable To City From Any Holder, Official Says

That some delinquent taxes could be paid the city with warrants the municipality would issue for airport purchase and improvement, in event the issuance were approved at the polls, was seen as a possibility today.

In reply to an inquiry by The Herald, City Manager E. V. Spence said that the city would exchange its own warrants to any holders of the securities, accepting them on delinquent tax accounts.

$500 Denomination

It is proposed, in the issue before voters today, to issue $42,000 in three per cent warrants—$36,000 for purchase of the port and $6,000 for the city's share of improvement cost—bearing interest of three per cent, and payable $6,000 a year over a seven year period. The warrants would be issued in $500 denominations.

They would, of course, be transferable, and could be offered the city by any holder, Spence said. The tax question was propounded in view of the fact that the major part of the proposed warrants would be circulated locally. The warrants would go directly to holders of stocks and bonds of the Big Spring Airport corporation for transfer of the corporation's properties to the city.

Designation Is Made For New Radio Broadcasting Station

Call letters for Big Spring's new commercial radio broadcasting station will be KBST.

Announcement was made Monday by officials of the Big Spring Herald Broadcasting company, that the federal communications commission officially had assigned those letters for the new station, construction permit for which was granted last month.

Company officials said preliminary toward construction of the station were going forward. Prospective sites for antenna have been selected, and a definite location is expected to be made soon. Negotiations for studio space also are underway.

Procedure for these locations is going forward in conformance with requirements of the communications commission.

Total Poll Of Below 500 Is Indicated

Many Making Renditions In Order To Cast Ballot On Issue

A total vote of less than 500 was forecast in early balloting Monday on the proposal that the city purchase the airport, through issuance of warrants.

At 2 p. m. only 149 votes had been cast and if the usual ratio of late votes holds good, approximately 450 votes will be polled before balloting ends at 7 p. m.

Voting was slowed somewhat during the morning by necessity of checking on each applicant as to whether he or she had rendered property this year. Several were required to render their property, real or personal, before being issued ballots.

Many Renditions

The proposal has served as a tonic for renditions, it was learned from staff members of the city tax office. Throughout the morning there was a number ready to render their property for this year.

The attorney general Saturday held that voters must have rendered property this year in order to cast ballots in the election. Balloting is being held from the city fire station.

Soon after the polls close, the city commission will convene to make an official canvass of the returns and declare the election results.

Prompt action is indicated if the voters approve the proposal to buy in the airport at $36,000 for improvement purposes.

RAINFALL A BIG HELP TO COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Thousands of dollars benefit on highways under construction came with hard rains covering the county Sunday evening.

S. C. Dougherty, resident engineer, said Monday that all base material down on highway No. 9 north and south received a good soaking during the night and peck solidly.

The rain was a double blessing in that it replenished the water supplies from which trucks have been hauling water night and day and at the same time cut construction expense by reducing the amount of water required.

PIONEER RESIDENT OF MIDLAND DEAD

MIDLAND, May 18. (Sp)—J. P. Inman, 65, resident of this city for 24 years died at Silver City, N. M., Saturday. He had undergone an operation necessitated by an attack of acute indigestion.

The body was due to be brought back here Monday.

Inman came to Midland in 1902 and had engaged continuously in the jewelry business.

County Shows Great Increase In Number Of Sheep And Goats, And In Production Of Wool And Mohair

Tremendous increase during the past five years in the number of sheep and lambs, the number of such animals shorn, the number of goats and kids and the amount of wool shorn and mohair clipped in Howard county is disclosed in a special report of the 1935 federal farm census released by Director William L. Austin, of the bureau of the census, department of commerce.

On April 1, 1930, there were 5,205 sheep and lambs in Howard county, and on January 1, 1935 there were 15,399; number of sheep and lambs shorn increased from 1929 to 1934 from 3,201 to 15,563. Amount of wool shorn jumped from 34,286 to 115,840 pounds. There was an increase of from 89 to 1,275 in the number of goats and kids, and the amount of mohair clipped went from 103 pounds to 4,395 pounds.

Importance of goats and production of mohair and wool in Texas is shown in the special report. The number of goats of all kinds and ages on farms and ranches in the state was 2,565,765 on January 1, 1935, a decrease of 77,858, or 2.4 per cent, from the number on April 1, 1930. This decrease, the report said, reflects in part the effects of the 1934 drought, which greatly decreased the carrying capacity of pastures and ranges. However, Texas remained the leading goat producing state, having on January 1, 1935 more than 87 per cent of the U. S. total.

The amount of mohair, a product of Angora goats, clipped in 1934 was 10,348,833 pounds, or a decrease of 1,490,094 pounds from the clip of 1929. The Texas production of mohair was equivalent to 50.7 of the U. S. total. In 1934, the production of wool in the state amounted to $2,564,478 pounds, an increase of 14,940,309 pounds, or 36.4 per cent, over that of 1929. The number of sheep and lambs shorn in 1934 was 7,311,859, as compared with 5,019,918 in 1929. The state's wool clip in 1934 constituted 15.5 per cent of the U. S. total.

5th Mistrial Is Ordered In Johnson Case

Jury Unable To Reach An Agreement After 36-Hour Deliberation

Another mistrial was added today to the series growing out of the indictment brought against John Johnson, 39-year-old Lynn county deputy, for the death of E. O. "Bunk" Best in Dawson county, May, 1933.

After 36 hours of deliberation had failed to break a 7-5 deadlock, Special Judge Charles Sullivan dissolved the jury and declared the case a mistrial.

Johnson, who had sat in the courtroom with his wife and daughter most of the morning, heard without emotion the procedure he had heard twice before in Dawson and twice in Howard counties. He indicated he would still be reluctant to see the case dismissed.

Grady Best, brother of the slain man and who was shot in the arm at the time, sat with his wife and daughter as the jury made its report.

It was generally conceded by officials that the case had been tried here for the last time. It was first heard in November, again in January and then a third time in May.

While there were no accurate figures available, it was estimated by some officials that the case has cost the state and Dawson county between five and ten thousand dollars.

It was reported that the balance was in favor of conviction.

Officials Say Work Relief To Go Ahead

Measure Held Improper Delegation Of Authority By Congress

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—The District of Columbia court of appeals today held the 1935 relief act unconstitutional.

Three of five judges said the $4,880,000,000 law was void because of improper delegation of power to the president, because of an invasion of state's rights and because of lack of definite authorization.

The court decided the law "attempts to reach and control matters over which the constitution gave congress no power."

To Appeal

In a test case resulting from plans for a model community project in New Jersey, the court found there was no constitutional power conferred upon the government to regulate "housing" or to "relocate" the population.

Administration officials conferred to determine where the decision left the relief policy. Solicitor General E. A. Tamm said an appeal will be taken to the supreme court.

A spokesman for Harry Hopkins said the work relief program would continue despite the decision. The Resettlement administration has been allotted $32,398,400 of the work relief fund.

The court indicated certain types of relief projects are constitutional, saying: "We are not confronted with appropriations for internal improvements of a national character, the importance of erection of public buildings or the grants or loans to state or municipality to carry out public works projects."

Justice Van Orsted said the same legal flaws in the AAA and NRA were found in the Resettlement administration.

Supreme Court Rules Against Guffey Coal Act

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—The supreme court today ruled the Guffey coal act is an unconstitutional invasion of state powers.

The decision held the government is without power to regulate the hours and wages of the mining industry as well as in the manufacturing industry.

Former Governor Of Illinois Dead

KANKAKEE, Ill., May 18. (AP)—Former Governor Len Small, "father" of Illinois' paved highway system, died suddenly Sunday in St. Mary's hospital. He was 73.

A blood clot ended his life as he was recovering from a minor operation.

The former executive had just completed his fifth campaign for governor—two of them were successful—in fine health, and showed no ill effects of the surgeon's knife.

As members of his family put it, "He was not really ill at all."

Small, who rose from a poor boy to a power in business and politics, won the title of "Hard Road" Governor for the paved highway system built during his administration from 1921 to 1929.

EDITION ADVERTISES MIDLAND RACE MEET

Advertising the spring race of Midland Downs opening May 22 and running through to the Merchants' Handicap $1,000 purse on May 30, the Midland Reporter-Telegraph Sunday issued a 22 page special edition.

Profusely illustrated and aptly picturing the growing West Texas race meet, the paper edition is informational as well as entertaining.

It refutes any conceptions that this section of the world is barren of good racing stock and shows graphically how Midland merchants combine efforts to capitalize on good horse flesh and really put over an attraction of importance.

FORMER EXCHANGE MANAGER ON TRIAL

W. R. Bell, former manager of the H. O. Bedford Stock Exchange office here, went on trial in the 70th district court Monday morning for alleged theft of $3,347.50 given him in a transaction by Alvis E. Dolan.

He was indicted for misapplication of the funds supposed to have been given him for payment on a stock deal. The bill contained four counts.

Case against Bob Digsby and F. D. Hanson for mule theft was delayed until Tuesday morning when one of the defendants wanted to enter a guilty plea and the other did not.

FAMILY TERRORIZED BY DESPERATE CONVICTS

Four of the convicts who escaped the Oklahoma penitentiary, accompanied by electrical displays and high wind, visited nearby the whole county, although other West Texas areas received little rainfall. Big Part Of County Gets 'Planting Rain'

Howard county, skipped by beneficial moisture that the west-central portion of Texas received earlier this month, got its much-needed "planting rain" Sunday night.

A fall of torrential proportions, accompanied by electrical displays and high wind, visited nearby the whole county, although other West Texas areas received little rainfall. Only the southwestern part of the county failed to receive sufficient precipitation.

Farm lands and ranges and pastures in the territory were benefited immeasurably.

Three Named In Charges Of Robbery

Bus Passengers Recently Have Been Victims In Robberies

Three men were charged Monday morning with robbery by assault after G. B. Carter, Oklahoma City, had reported the loss of $452 to officers.

The men gave the names of Jack Copeland, Jim Boyd and Delmus Anderson.

City police, who made the arrest, said that they believed the arrest broke a theft ring which has preyed on bus passengers stopping here.

G. H. McDonald, and Robert B. Sikes, Rector, Ark., reported loss of $8 in cash and a 1934 class ring in circumstances similar to the Carter robbery.

According to officers, several bus passengers have been frightened by a member of the ring into pulling their wallets from their pockets, whereupon another member of the gang snatches the purse. The first man, after demanding to report the affair to the law, suddenly disappears.

One passenger lost $110 in this manner recently, they said.

FORD DEALERS WILL MEET HERE TUESDAY

Ostrander, general manager of the Ford Motor company, Dallas, and W. B. Strange, wholesale manager of the Dallas branch. Other officials are also expected, Merrick said.

A banquet will precede the sales meeting.

Allred Asks U.S. Aid For Age Pensions

Social Security Board Is Requested To Advance Million And Half

WASHINGTON, May 18. (AP)—Governor Allred of Texas asked the social security board today for a million and a half dollars to match state funds for the Texas old age assistance plan.

After conferences with members of the board, Allred disclosed he would submit to the Texas legislature recommendations for legislation permitting Texas to apply for aid to dependent children and the blind.

Orville S. Carpenter, Texas pension director, said he would ask the board tomorrow for $1,500,000 to begin the state's payment of old age benefits on July 1.

Allred planned to fly back to Texas today. He left the state by airplane Saturday night.

$5,124 More For Schools

Supplemental Apportionment Means That Sum To County

Action of the state board of education Saturday in voting a supplemental apportionment of $1 per scholar will net schools in Howard county $3,124.

While he had joined with state school men in asking for a $250 supplemental allocation, W. C. Blankenship, city superintendent, was pleased with the $1 appropriation.

He said that he felt the grant meant the winning of a principle which might eventually mean the strengthening of the schools' positions in the future.

It was the first time the state board had voted a supplemental apportionment payment since a $1750 limit was attached as a rider to an appropriations bill a few years ago.

Rural schools will receive $1,500, Coahoma at least $200, Fossil $100, and Big Spring at least $300.

Boston Red Sox Owner Considers Old 'Lefty' Grove As His Best Buy

Grove Still Has 'The Stuff' In His Arm

By BILL BRAUCHER NEW YORK, May 18—What seemed to be a bad bargain two years ago—$125,000 and two players for Lefty Grove—now appear to be the best buy that Tow Yawkey, young millionaire owner of the Red Sox, ever made.

What Does He Have To Do? If Grove hasn't already proved himself the greatest left-hander the game has ever seen surely he has not left much undone to establishing the fact. To be sure, he hasn't called in the outfielders and retired the side on strikes, as the story about Babe Waddell reads, but his games-won record already is better than the Babe's, and Grove is a more dependable person than the reckless Babe.

It's practically indestructible, said Doc. "Grove's arm is leather. Last year he worked pretty hard trying to keep the team from slipping. But he'll come back as soon as he gets it rested up a little. His arm is like a piece of rawhide, and it's good for 10 years."

Grove's comeback last year after a disastrous 1934, his worst year in the majors, sustains the Doc as Exhibit A. Grove's earned run average for 1935 was 2.70, the best in the league, and he won 20 while losing 12. This year, in better shape than ever, and with a better Boston team behind him, there's no telling where the little southpaw from Lonsaconing, Md., will stop.

Chas. Worley C. C. Manager Takes Over New Duties Today, Succeeding Val Latson

Chas. Worley was unanimously elected last night by directors of the country club as country club manager, succeeding Val Latson, who will devote his time to the contracting business.

Worley, who was pro at the Woodlawn club in Tulsa in 1932 and '33, came to Big Spring in the fall of 1934. He spent about two months at a course in Breckenridge.

Carl Blomsheld, president of the country club, was enthusiastic over the selection of Worley as manager of the club, and promised many improvements. Worley assumed his new duties today.

One of Worley's first jobs at improving the course will be the installation of grass tees on holes No. 1 and 4, work on the greens, and new changes in the golf shop and club house.

Mrs. Bob Parks was selected as collector for the club, and Fred Stephens will have charge of finances.

Baseball Racket CHARLESTON, S. C., May 18 (AP) Officials of community baseball leagues in this section have warned fans that racketeers have been known to go through crowds with hats taking up collections "to buy baseballs and bats for the teams."

Revives Old Talents BERKELEY, Calif., May 18 (AP) Injured knees threatening to end his running days, George Anderson, University of California ace sprinter, is thinking of reviving events of his early student days. Without training, he used to put the shot 44 feet and throw the javelin 200.

There has been a marked change in his disposition, however. He used to be an impossible man to interview. Cameramen put him on their list of people hard to get along with. Once he broke a lens when the photographer tried to shoot him without permission.

Control Plus Restraint He was as temperamental as a roomful of starving tigers when he came to the Athletics from Baltimore, back in 1925, and just about as wild. His former teammate, Jimmy Dykes, suggested that perhaps Mr. Mack ought to buy masks for the men on the bench to wear while Lefty was out there throwing that fast ball at random. Grove would pitch shutouts in those days, and strike out sluggers, but bases on balls kept him sweating. And if Mickey Cochrane hadn't been his catcher, Grove surely would have led the league in wild pitches.

He started to click in 1929, and in four years since has led the league in percentage. Now, 36 years old, Grove not only has fine control, but has blossomed into a genial personality. Comparing him to Waddell in the matter of cold figures, Grove has won 20 more games in his 11 full years than Waddell won in 12 major league seasons. Waddell, in the years from 1899 through 1910 won 202 games of the 406 in which he appeared. Grove, from 1925 through 1935 has won 223.

JONES IS HIT HARD BY LOCALS

(By HANK HART) The Cosden Oilers spotted the Trent Independents a two-run lead in the initial stages of their Sunday afternoon clash and went on to win, 18-5, in a terrific batting attack on "Lefty" Jones.

The visitors did all right in holding the locals for six innings, but Jones was battered in the seventh and eighth as the Oilers chased 11 runs across the plate.

All of the Oilers except Dutch Moxley and Scotty Scott came up with at least one bingle, while Morgan, Harris and Baker all recorded extra base blows.

Baker and Harris, both of whom have been in a batting slump, came through with three hits each while Morgan hit in four of his six trips. One of "Mileaway" was good for a home run, the mighty clout coming as the Big Spring catcher lay off in the second stance.

Pap Payne scattered the thirteen hits recorded against him and walked in to victory when his mates bombarded the offerings of Jones in the late innings.

The Oilers will be hosts to the Stanton Buffs here Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. and will pay a return visit to Lorraine next Sunday. Allen Wiggins is expected to do the flinging in the Wednesday game.

THE HERALD'S NEXT SERIAL STORY Gypsy Weather By MARGARET BELL HOUSTON

"It's gypsy weather tonight," said the old butler as rain and wind howled about the great stone castle. He called it that because in his native Wales, gypsies, caught in the storm, came begging at the door—as if blown in with the rain.

And "gypsy weather" that eventful night was to bring to the castle the mysterious girl known as Hope, who thereafter was to tangle the lives of the two Joris brothers. To Rupert, brilliant devil-driven head of the house, Hope's coming offered a fantastic remedy for bitterly hurt pride. And to Dirk, the younger brother, her sudden introduction as Rupert's wife presented baffling problems. Mystery and romance combine entertainingly in Miss Houston's absorbing story, which moves to a surprising and happy conclusion. Starting Wednesday, May 20

WESTERN COLOR FEATURES MANY CELEBRATIONS

FORT WORTH, May 18—Days of the old pioneer wild west will be relived in the Texas cattle country this summer in many rodeo and pioneer roundup celebrations planned in conjunction with the Centennial year observance of the Lone Star State.

Plans are being made now to stage scores of thrilling western-type entertainments for Texans and their visitors from outside of the state. Some of the celebrations to be repeated this year, such as Midland's Western rodeo and Stamford's Cowboy reunion, are nationally famous.

Fort Worth, center of the wide-spread southwestern cattle industry, will take the lead with the glamorous Texas Frontier Centennial from July 1 to December 1. Elaborate entertainment planned there will make the cattle city the play center of the nation during the five months of the frontier show.

Among other colorful entertainments planned are events at Pampa and Midland in June; at Pecos, Stamford, Fairburn, Canadian, Eagle Pass, and Borger in July and Big Spring, San Angelo, Odessa, and Lubbock in September.

Democrats Seek Vainly For Texas Donkey Mascots

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (UP)—This border country, once so well populated with donkeys that certain sections were named for the animals, finds itself donkeyless in a time of need.

A Porter, representative of the Women's Press Association of Washington, D. C., left here recently in disgust after searching the prairies for a dozen donkeys for the democratic convention at Philadelphia this summer.

One section near Brownsville was named "jackass prairie," because donkeys roamed wild over the lands.

Many of the animals were shot and cowboys drove others across the Rio Grande for sale in Mexico.

Mrs. Bob Eubanks left on the noon train for Kansas City, Mo., called there by the critical condition of a brother-in-law who has recently undergone an operation. Mrs. Eubanks' sister is in the same hospital, also very ill.

Wrens Keep Season Dates

WINGER GRABS W.T. GOLF TITLE

MINERAL WELLS, May 18.—Mrs. R. E. Winger of Fort Worth won the second annual tournament of the Women's West Texas Golf association here Sunday, defeating Mrs. W. K. Powell of San Angelo, 6 & 4, in the 36-hole final.

Mrs. Powell never won a hole from Mrs. Winger in the afternoon until the twenty-eighth, which she took to prolong the match. She ran down a long putt for a half on the next one to become dormie and the end came when Mrs. Winger knocked in a par four on the thirty-second.

Mrs. Powell, who before the start of the match was conceded little chance by the close followers of the tournament, grabbed the first three holes off Mrs. Winger. It was on the second hole that she served notice that her putter was to be her chief weapon. There she ran down a 10-footer for a win and kept right on at the third to get three-up.

Mrs. Jess Rogers, Amarillo, won the first flight title, defeating Mrs. C. E. Hart, Mineral Wells, 3 and 2. Mrs. H. L. Ellis, Big Spring, went 19 holes to defeat Mrs. E. L. Matshy, Mineral Wells, for the second flight trophy.

The championship consolation went to Mrs. C. M. McCullough, Amarillo, who turned back Mrs. Rhea J. Vernon, Abilene, one up. Mrs. Lea Aldwell, San Angelo, won the second flight consolation by default from Mrs. P. G. White, Jr., Electra. Mrs. M. E. Tatum defeated Mrs. Floyd Barron, 2 and 1, in the second flight consolation final.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS TO TRAVEL IN CARS

AUSTIN, May 18 (UP)—A trap for road speeders has been baited by the state motor patrol. It is intended to catch the "smart" driver who keeps a look-out for the uniformed patrolmen on motorcycles. Now S-men in plain clothes riding in automobiles will supplement the motorcycle officers.

When the speeder dashes by a car, he will not know if the car occupants are civilians or motor police.

"This class of reckless driver is causing a large percentage of the accidents," Chief L. G. Phares of the motor patrol said. "They are particularly dangerous because they keep one eye out for motor patrolmen, instead of watching the road and traffic."

Golden Rain

Chapter 46
UNDERSTANDING

"It meant," said Morgan frankly, "that I was in a temper because you seemed on the edge of marrying Allan Beckley, and if you didn't want me I didn't want you. And I own up, I did try to interest myself in Kay. But it wasn't any good. It never went as far as Miss Ella and her tea party thought."

Iris clutched the edge of the hammock with both hands. Even if he wasn't engaged to Kay, he mightn't want her.

"I wasn't on the edge of marrying Allan. Allan—doesn't want that from girls."

Suddenly the storm broke. Morgan was down on his knees by her hammock, he had her in his arms, he was holding her tight.

"My poor little darling. My brave little Iris. Darling, blessed, wonderful child . . . He loved her—he loved her in spite of everything!"

"Oh, Morgan, darling," she cried, sitting willing close to him.

Presently he said—he was sitting beside her in the hammock now, a jealous arm around her—"Promise me on thing."

"Of course."

"Promise that whatever comes, whatever you hear about me, you'll marry me just the same. I know your word's sacred. Promise."

She laughed. "Why, that's what it's all about, isn't it? There was some trouble not yours, you said, but you were mixed up in it. Is there any more?"

"Only," said Morgan, being a bit of a coward in this perfect moment, "some details of places and names, and so on."

He kissed her again, and added irrelevantly, "Mind waiting a day or two for my ring? I want you to have my mother's."

"Of course I do. You have to produce it out of the air, like a conjuror. Oh, Morgan, I'm so happy! Do you know? I had everything planned. I was going to see if I couldn't get a miniature painting to do. And now I suppose we'll stay here with the family, till we're old and staid, and afterwards, I like the idea, now."

"Being," said Morgan fondly, "a creature of delightful extremes."

"There was one duty which Miss Ella would delegate to nobody but herself and Iris—dusting out and arranging the long living room which had been her father's studio so many years. They were at it of a fresh, sunny morning, when Iris heard a ring at the open front door, followed by a quick, clicking step she knew, down the hall.

Iris, in her pink apron, stood at the living-room door. She was right, it was Phina.

She smiled at Iris, alert and a little smugly superior, in the old way. "Well, darling, had enough of the old homestead? Run up and pack your suitcase. I have a little visit to pay Miss Lanning anyway. I'm glad to find you so easily, Ella."

"Good morning, Joie," Miss Ella said, placidly, holding out a small work-hardened hand. "Won't you sit down? Iris and I are nearly through our morning's work."

Phina was taken aback for a moment, but only for a moment. "You know perfectly well that I won't accept the smallest hospitality at your hands, Ella Lanning." Her voice was full of a steady, concentrated, satisfied anger. "Do you remember what I told you that day, the day when Jean and I and the babies left? I told you then, standing there, penniless and friendless and young, that I'd win out over you. I'd come back with more money than your precious, stupid Lannings ever had, and more social position than they'd ever lost. Come back to see you down and myself on top."

Her voice was louder, even coarser, as she went on, but it never broke or stopped. "Well, I've made it, and come back to tell you so. I'm a millionaire, and I have society by the tail!" She came close to Miss Ella, towering over her, glaring down into her face. "I'm up and you're down, do you hear—down in the mud!"

But Miss Ella was unmoved. She shook her head, as one would at a child, then she spoke, very gently, as she would to any stranger.

"I'm sorry I can't show you my brother's paintings," she said. "They've been moved from here."

Phina stepped back. Her face blanched, her mouth dropped half open. Then she rallied.

"Is she daft?" Phina demanded, shaking Iris's arm fiercely.

"No, but her mind isn't quite like other people's. She's quite happy, but she lives only in my father's pictures, and the museum she's planned so long."

Phina did not seem to hear Iris's explanation. She stood back, looking somehow shrunken and limp. Her hands twisted one over the other. "It was all for nothing—it was all for nothing," Iris heard her whisper. Then she pulled herself together with a pitiful shadow of her old dominance.

"Come, Iris, get your things together. I explained that you had a sudden summons from a sick relative, but you can't stay away forever."

Iris shook her head. "No, Aunt Phina, I'm here to stay."

The old Phina would have imposed her will on Iris with an irresistible drive; this woman had no power left.

"Good-bye, then, dear, I'm sure you'll think better of it," she said weakly. She turned and went out the front door, waveringly, like an old woman. "All for nothing," Iris heard her say again, as she passed.

She did not, of course, give Iris up so easily as this. There were letters, there were telephone calls. Phina would be Phina to the end. But it had not occurred to Iris her last effort would arrive.

She was in the garden, dreaming, as Molly Williams, the new maid, saw to it that she was allowed to dream a good share of the time. She pulled out her vanity and did her face, to be sure she was pretty for Morgan. Then she heard the noise of the car and rang the little bell. Molly brought tea and went away, with a smiling backward look. Iris pretended to be interested in her magazine. She wouldn't rush forward every time with cries of joy!

But it was Allan Beckley—Allan, as sure, as soft-spoken, as languidly charming as ever. He dropped his slender length in the chair near her.

"I've come to drag you back to Long Island, darling. You can't think how stupid things have been without you."

It struck her as a little ridiculous, and she laughed.

"Sorry," she said. "Staying here."

"But you don't understand," said Allan. "I'm asking you to marry me."

For a moment she was furious. Then she quieted.

"Sorry, Alan," she said. "You and I never ought to get married. We don't want or even know about the same things. I want real happiness. And I want stable things and people—people I can pin to."

He did not even know that she meant he had failed her. He laughed.

"Earnest morality, Jeffersonian simplicity? Iris, I know what you want, what you've wanted all the time I've known you. Beauty, luxury, strange things, exquisite sensations—"

He was mocking her, as always, into the attitude he wanted her to take. She looked at him, long and languid on the wicker seat, smiling at her in his old amused, disarmingly, friendly way. Oh, idiot that she was, why hadn't she explained the one thing that mattered.

She stood up in her pink ruffles that he had lazily praised, and held her ringed left hand out to him. "I'm engaged," she said, "to the man I cared for all along, if I hadn't been too silly to know it."

She expected irritation, hurt pride masking as satire, courteous retreat—anything but the black suspicious surprise she got. Allan caught the slim ivory hand and stared at the ring on it, a great diamond on a heart-shaped shield of small emeralds, as if she had stolen it.

"Where," he demanded, forgetting to be gay or polite, "did you get Aunt Louise's ring?"

"It was everything on earth belong to Allan Beckley and his relations," she said.

He scarcely heard what she said, still staring at the ring.

They had been so deep in talk that she had not heard the Ford which brought Morgan and Uncle Will back from their office. So up on them sauntered Uncle Will, drawing a handkerchief over his high, wrinkled, wet forehead. And behind them strode Morgan himself.

MODIFIED PROGRAM FOR NEXT YEAR PLANNED BY ICKES' PWA

Agency To Lend Money With RFC To Finance Construction Of Projects

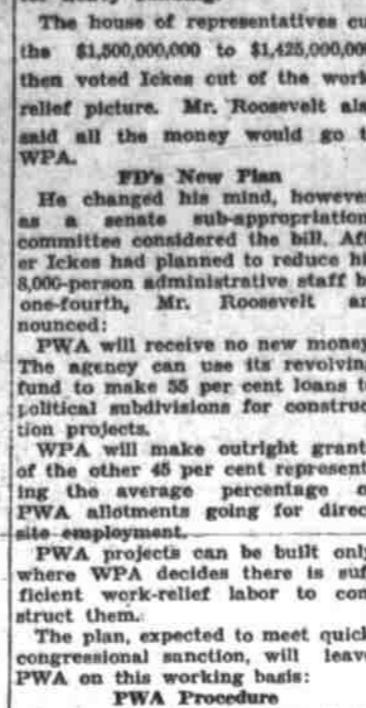

WASHINGTON, May 18 (UP)—The Public Works administration, saved from the new deal's alphabetical junk pile by a last-minute presidential stamp, planned today to function on a modified scale in the 1937 work-relief program.

With no new funds of its own, PWA will lend money in cooperation with the Reconstruction Finance corporation to finance 55 per cent of construction project costs. The Works Progress administration will supply the other 45 per cent.

The plan was put forward by President Roosevelt after PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes had virtually admitted defeat by WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins in their "battle of billions."

Hopkins sought the whole new $1,500,000,000 for his quick, cheap work. Ickes wanted $700,000,000 or whatever he could get—to dis-

Texas Ranges Need Rainfall

AUSTIN, May 18—Ranges for the greater portion of Texas were in need of additional moisture on May 1 to promote the growth of grass and to insure summer grazing, according to the monthly report of the U. S. department of agriculture bureau here. The reported condition of all livestock ranges was below the 10-year average condition on May 1, but considerably above the poor condition of a year ago.

Cattle ranges on the first of May were rated at 74 per cent of normal, compared with 76 per cent a month ago, 66 per cent a year ago, and 53 per cent the 10-year average May 1 condition. The greatest deterioration during April occurred in the northern half of the state. Scattered local showers the last few days in April had little effect on the reported condition of ranges on May 1. Heavy showers since the first of May should prove beneficial in many localities, but general rains are needed to produce adequate grass for summer grazing.

Sheep ranges declined 5 points during the month of April, while the usual decline is only about two points. The condition on May 1, 1936, was 73 per cent of normal, compared with 78 per cent a month ago, 59 per cent a year ago, and 81 per cent the 10-year average on May 1. Some rainfall was received at the close of April and early in May in localities in the sheep area, but many sections remain dry and general rains are still needed.

Cattle 80 Fed. Normal

Cattle have fed up well, and in most areas are in good condition. The reported condition of cattle on May 1, 1936, was 69 per cent of normal, compared with 78 per cent a month ago, 70 per cent a year ago, and 84 per cent the 10-year average on May 1. In the drier areas livestock was maintained by supplemental feeding; which, according to all indications, will have to be continued. In northwest Texas the old feed supply is being exhausted, and a further shifting of livestock to other grass land may become necessary. Some cattle have been moved to Kansas grass land from the northwestern and northern portions of the state, and more are being moved from most areas in Texas. There is, however, still an ample supply of old feed in the southern portion of the state. Calves are in a healthy condition, and losses have been light. A good calf crop seems assured this year.

Sheep have held up well despite the dry weather for the greater portion of the sheep producing area in Texas. They can be maintained somewhat longer without marked deterioration in condition by supplemental feeding. There is still some old feed on hand in the sheep area. The condition of sheep on May 1, 1936, was 81 per cent of normal, compared with 83 per cent a month ago, 73 per cent a year ago, and 85 per cent the 10-year average on May 1. Indications point to a good lamb crop this year. Lambs are in a healthy condition, and losses have been very light.

Stocks declined two points in condition during April, but are still holding up well. Texas goat condition on May 1, 1936, was 83 per cent of normal, compared with 85 per cent a month ago, 77 per cent a year ago, and 86 per cent the 10-year average May 1 condition.

DEATH RAY WORKS; INVENTOR ACQUITTED OF FRAUD BY JURY

Father 'Didn't Know Best,' So Betty's Golf Queen Now

By FELIX MCKNIGHT (Associated Press Sports Writer)

SAN ANTONIO, May 18 (AP)—A little more than four years ago a shy, tousle-haired girl of 13 sneaked out on a sand green course at Dallas to watch her dad play golf. She got in dad's way and was promptly advised to forget about golf.

Betty Jameson didn't forget, however, and today she's Texas state champion at 18 and shooting for the 1935 United States Curtis cup team.

Near 80 for every round, demure Miss Jameson captured the Texas Women's title here with a 5 and 4 triumph over Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, former Texas and Old Mexico champion and quarter-finalist in the women's national of 1935.

Trailing her on every shot, nervously puffing a cigarette on the fringe of the gallery, was the gentleman who gave the fatherly advice on the sand-green course four years ago. His smile was broader than anyone's when the stocky youngster clinched the title with a brilliant approach shot which struck the pin and settled inches from the hole.

Six months after she took up the game, Betty won her first title—and a big one. She captured the Texas Women's municipal title at Wichita Falls and then went back to her Dallas home to win the city municipal championship.

In 1934 she made dad's advice look even worse by winning the Southern Women's amateur title and the Dallas city trophy. The year 1935 had its disappointments. She developed a "semi-final" complex and was eliminated in the round of four in the Texas, Old Mexico, Southern, Texas Open and Dallas city tournaments.

Today she is a stout, broad-shouldered girl of 135 pounds who raps tee shots consistently between 210 and 225 yards, controls a slight "tail-end" hook with her long irons, excels at approach shots and relies on her putting for victory. She putted sensationally to defeat Mrs. Chandler.

Betty's tournament campaign this summer calls for visits to the Southern Women's just at Oklahoma City, starting June 1, and the National Women's tournament.

Plays On Boys' Team

At the top of her game, she is anxious to roll up a record in the next two years that will give her a chance at the Curtis Cup team.

She plans to finish her high school studies this summer and to enter the University of Texas next fall. It will take a summer school session to give her necessary entrance requirements and that means passing up a tournament or two.

Incidentally, she is the No. 1 player on the Thomas Jefferson high school golf team here—the only girl ever to compete on a boys' athletic team in San Antonio. And she whips her male opponents with regularity and ease.

PHILS HELD TO 6 HITS BY DIZ

(By The Associated Press)

In the American and National leagues:

The St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Phillies, 10 to 3, Sunday, Dizzy Dean holding the Phils to six hits. A four-run St. Louis rally in the seventh broke a 3-3 tie. Durocher, Ogdowski and Dean doubled and Pepper Martin hit a home run. St. Louis scored first in the second inning when Medwick hit a home run. In the same inning the Phillies nicked Dean for four hits and three runs. Camilli hit a homer, Grace and Davis doubled.

The New York Giants, making the most of their 11 hits in a free-slugging match, defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 8 to 6 to hold second place, a half-game behind the Cards, in the National league pennant race.

Home runs by Bill Werber and Rick Ferrell gave the Boston Red Sox an 8 to 7 victory and their fourth triumph this year over the Chicago White Sox in the opening of the series. More than 23,000 fans saw the Boston team come from behind in the 8th to tie the score in the ninth with Ferrell's circuit smash. The Red Sox drove Johnny Whitehead from the box and were on the long end of a 6-1 score going into the last half of the fourth.

CHARGES AGAINST ENGLAND ARE FALSE, EDEN TELLS HOUSE

LONDON, May 18 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden charged before the house of commons today that forgery, deception and trickery were used to obtain "fabricated evidence" of Ethiopian dumdum bullets purportedly made in England.

He said evidence was obtained by Col. Pedro Lopes whom the British knew as a "notorious purveyor of false information."

Stung by allegations which were hastily withdrawn from Geneva, Eden took advantage of the question to tell a story of Lopes's activities, saying Lopes posed in London as an Ethiopian arms purchaser.

Goobers Pay Athlete's Way

COLORADO SPRINGS, May 18 (UP)—They call him "Peanuts" and "Two Sacks" because selling goobers keeps him in shoes and textbooks, but on these spring afternoons he leaves the roster to patrol center field for Colorado college.

Introducing Johnny Sutak of Flint, Mich., one of the best fly chasers in the Rocky Mountain baseball conference.

Whenever Colorado Springs folk gather for a circus or a softball game, you'll find the affable Johnny there, too, entreating the customers to buy "two sacks of Sutak's."

He puts the same gusto into selling peanuts as he does into playing baseball, and now has a thriving little store not far from the campus.

Born in Flint's factory district 25 years ago, Sutak decided he wanted an education. A year after he left high school he and a classmate, Tony Lesnick, opened a fruit store in Flint.

They saved enough to come to Colorado college, bringing with them another Flint youth, Joe Nagy, who catches on the ball team and plays a rough, tough game at end on the football eleven.

Sutak also plays football, but he doesn't show "the old fire" as when he is going back to deep center for a line drive or dancing in the coaching box, cajoling the batter—"Come on boy, two sacks of Sutak's for a bingle!"

"I like these BARGAIN LONG DISTANCE calls"

"I'm seven today, Grandpa, so Mamma said we would call you long distance at seven tonight. She says it's cheaper to talk after seven. And all day Sunday, too. She said we'd better telephone, 'cause my pencil don't spell very good yet. Now, Mamma wants to say hello."

Save after 7... and Sundays

After 7 o'clock every evening, and all day Sunday, rates are reduced on both person-to-person and station-to-station* calls. The reductions apply on all calls to towns over 100 miles distant, and to many shorter calls.

Just ask Long Distance for the new rate to any point.
