

FROM THE
HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

In the past month or so I have been to two conventions which included as part of the program a dazzling demonstration of how, within the next decade or so, we will be communicating with one another all over the world by bouncing our voices off satellites, the moon, and possibly other bodies in the celestial train.

This is a very intriguing presentation, and the audience seems to be impressed and quite appreciative of the great strides being made by the telephone people in the field of electronics.

But when you come back to earth and start to use your home phone and have to wait ten minutes for a dial tone, things are brought back into perspective. Effortless communication is still a few light years in the future.

I read that scientists are figuring out that fish and ants and platypuses and a few other inhabitants of the animal and insect world can communicate with one another fairly intelligently. That is bad news so far as I am concerned. I hate to see the trend spread.

Think of all the trouble that has been visited upon mankind simply because we can talk with one another.

I think maybe there is something basic in human nature at stake here. There does seem to be some correlation between communication and trouble.

If you don't believe it, just look around. The guy who communicates openly with his wife is just bawling trouble. It's only a matter of time until he is drawn into an argument, and sometimes worse than that.

I have wondered if maybe the reason the Baptists are always squabbling is because they are such top-notch communicators. They sure believe in letting one another know how they feel.

The fact that they seem not only to survive but actually to thrive on this is proof to me they are made of special stuff. I don't think I could measure up to their hardy standards.

I read an article in Fortune the other day that was about as technical as anything I'm capable of following in print. Some of our scientists are hard at work trying to establish contact with intelligent beings elsewhere in the universe.

They are satisfied that the mathematical possibilities of intelligent life in the millions of galaxies they can now see are so great that these interstellar neighbors can almost be taken for granted as being around. We just don't know where they are, that's all.

So here we are bawling trouble again. The Divine Revelation that we were created "to have dominion over all the earth" makes us pretty big-headed, but I don't remember anything being said about the rest of our solar system, let alone the unfathomable reaches of the universe.

It is easy to imagine that if somebody else hears our radio beeps it may turn out that they are so far ahead of us we will be nothing more than a study in nature for them.

Fortune says they may be so much smarter than are we that they could have a condescending attitude not unlike the one man today has toward domesticated animals. That would be some come-down, huh?

Well, this is a funny thing for me to be saying, since I am in the communications business myself, and depend on it for my livelihood.

The newspaper's fundamental purpose is to communicate. And in spite of all the electronic gizmos that science has brought out lately, newspapers still seem to get the word across. If you doubt this, just try being editor for an issue and see how many times the readers will prove you wrong to your face.

You communicate with them and they'll communicate right back.

The Twin Cities Younger Citizens

Tiger Star Shows Off For Farwell Cousin

For quite some time, and unknown to most Twin City residents, several relatives of one of the top major league baseball players--Norm Cash, first baseman for the Detroit Tigers--have been making their homes in the area.

Mrs. Harden Reed of Farwell is Cash's aunt, and he has two uncles, Wilburn and Milburn who live at Pleasant Hill. Three cousins also live here.

Cash, who has been on top in the American League batting average, almost since the first of the season, began playing baseball at Post, Texas, when just a small boy.

His cousin, Ronny Reed, who will be a junior at Farwell High School this fall, is following in his footsteps. He too began playing baseball at Post, at the age of 8, and has been playing ever since. He is now on the Santa Fe Empps team in the Connie Mack League at Clovis, and is third in the league batting average.

Reed was in Kansas City Sunday, when his cousin was the star of the game, knocking in eight runs and pounding out a home run during a double-header against the Kansas City Athletics. The Tigers took both games 6-4 and 17-14.

Reed went to Kansas City Friday to see both the Saturday and Sunday games. He received a big disappointment Saturday, when the game was rained out, but after he had been taken to the ball players quarters and introduced to most of the team members by his cousin, the day was quite a bit brighter for him.

Sunday's double victory was a real thriller for Ronny, and the highlight of the day came when he saw his cousin hit a home run. Cash had five hits during the games.

Ronny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harden Reed, who are former residents of Post and now make their home in Farwell. He has a twin sister, Beverly, and a younger brother, Danny.

Hospital Notes

Lana Gay Mahaney, 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Mahaney of Farwell, was admitted to Clovis Memorial Hospital Saturday for an emergency appendectomy. She is reported to be much improved.

Mr. George Douglas returned to her home Saturday after being confined in the Clovis Memorial Hospital for a week receiving medical attention. She is reported to be some improved.

Revival Scheduled For Farwell Baptist Church

A revival meeting is scheduled to begin Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Farwell. The meeting will continue through August 6, with services at 10:00 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. daily.

C. M. Fields, who served several churches in this area including Texico and Friona, will be evangelist for the revival. He is now pastor at the Ralls Baptist Church. Clyde Powell, educational director at the local church will be music director. The public is cordially invited to attend.

REPRESENTING FARMER COUNTY in the District 4-H Dress Revue tonight (Friday) at Amarillo will be Miss Judy Billingsley, of Farwell who won the Farmer County revue last week. Here, she models the dress which won the county contest and the one she will be wearing in district competition.

Gerries Is Lone Star Farmer

Dickie Gerries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gerries of Farwell and a senior at Farwell high school, was among boys from over the state receiving a State Farmer Degree at the State FFA convention in Dallas last week.

Among requirements Gerries had to meet to qualify for the honor were:

To complete at least two years of agriculture and have an outstanding program of supervised farming.

To be familiar with the state and national constitution, and to know parliamentary procedure.

To be able to lead a group discussion for a 40-minute period, and to show outstanding leadership and cooperation.

To have earned and invested at least $500 from his farming program, and to have satisfactory scholarship.

He must also take part in activities for community improvement.

Besides meeting these minimum requirements a boy must be good enough to be in the top 2% of the State FFA members, before being named for a State Farmer Degree.

Robert White accepted the award for Gerries, who was unable to attend the five-day meeting, which began Tuesday in Dallas. White, Mike Nelson and Robert Going from Farwell were Morton, agriculture instructor.

A-Day Traded For City Park

Farwell Chamber of Commerce members Tuesday night decided to scuttle the annual Appreciation Day event--this year's anyway--in favor of investing in improvements in the city park.

A light crowd out to the monthly meeting at the city hall took the decision near the end of the session. No opposition was registered to a motion offered by Jerry Bradshaw and seconded by Joe Crume that Appreciation Day be shelved for 1961, but an amendment was added that made the action "subject to approval by the members." Presumably, this could mean that Appreciation Day might be held yet provided enough interested boosters step forward to encourage it.

Appreciation Day, which was started as a harvest-time event three years ago, is one of the Chamber's major activities. It is a fairly expensive promotion for a single event. Last fall for example, the Farwell CC treasury was tapped for upwards of $1500. The major outlay was for the free barbecue, which ran about half of that amount.

The Chamber now figures that it can take this money, plus any additional funds that may be gathered in, and carry out its park improvement plans in good shape. Otherwise, special funds may have to be raised if both projects are carried out this year.

Most of the Tuesday evening meeting was devoted to discussing the park project. W. H. Graham of the planning committee submitted plans and specifications, together with cost estimates, on facilities for the park. These had been obtained from the State Highway Department office in Bovina, and were used for the just-finished improvement program at the Highway 60 park near Bovina. Members agreed the facilities at the park are along the lines that would be desirable in the community park they are working on.

It is the Chamber's aim to improve the park with tables, shelter, toilet facilities, trash disposal, a fireplace, some playground equipment, and grass. However, the group does not want to be saddled with the responsibility of maintaining the park by itself on a permanent basis. Cooperation from other interested civic groups is being sought along these lines.

President Hurschel Harding reported on a trip he made to the district highway offices in Lubbock, where he sought information on whether it would be advisable--or even permissible--for the Chamber to sponsor erection of a sign over the highway leading into Farwell.

Harding reported engineers were not warm to the idea and they pointed out the safety and nuisance factors that would be involved in such a plan. The Chamber will now point toward putting up a large sign of conventional design with a slogan designed to draw the attention of passing motorists.

Farmer County Judge

OFFICIAL PROCLAMATION

FARWELL, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The economy of our county, state and nation is greatly dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families.

The theme of this year's observance is "Safety is a Family Affair."

A vigorous farm accident-prevention education program will be conducted during this week by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Farmer County Farm Bureau.

By directing the attention of our rural residents to safety education, such worthwhile programs can greatly reduce accidents.

THEREFORE, I as County Judge for the County of Farmer do hereby designate the week of July 23-29, 1961, as FARM

Governor Designates Farm Safety Week

The period from July 23-29, already proclaimed by President Kennedy as National Farm Safety Week, has been designated as Farm Safety Week in Texas by Governor Price Daniel.

In his official memorandum, the Governor said, "The nation's economy is dependent upon the continued well-being and progress of our State's agricultural population. Accidents from farm work cause needless suffering, distress and loss of life each year among our rural families.

"A vigorous farm accident-prevention education program will be conducted during this week by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas Safety Association.

"I urge all Texas farm families to increase their vigilance against needless accidents and further encourage interested organizations and individuals to participate in this program."

President Calvin Pigg of the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council said the Council was cooperating with all interested organizations, agencies, groups and individuals to make the week's program as effective as possible. He added that plans in most counties for the observance of Farm Safety Week have been made and noted an increase in youth participation. This, he said, is especially gratifying since youth are often the victims of farm accidents. County extension agents and local 4-H adult leaders are given much of the credit for this improvement.

The Council is hopeful, Pigg said, that all citizens will cooperate and participate in the local observances, for each is dependent upon agriculture for many of the necessities of life.

4-H Club Has Busy Week

The few days have been busy ones for several members of the Pleasant Hill 4-H clubpals, as they took part in the district contests, 4-H rodeo, attended electric camp, and had four members qualify for state camp.

Six club members, Vicki Lovett, Kathleen Smith, Dianne Baldrige, Johnny Pierce, Don Baldrige and Wayne Fahsholtz, recently returned from Camp Scott Able where they had attended an electric camp.

Four members of the club will attend the state camp in Las Cruces on August 7-11. Going will be Janice Sharp, senior home economics demonstration; Gall Pierce, livestock judging team; Johnny Pierce, meat judging; and Wayne Fahsholtz, tractor operator.

Variety Of Activities Keep 1961 Grads Busy

BY ANITA HENSON
VARIETY OF ACTIVITIES
 KEEP 1961 GRADS BUSY
 A variety of activities are keeping 1961 graduates of the twin-cities high schools occupied this summer, with just as many activities making up the fall schedules of the graduates.

After interviews with the graduates, the following were listed as being among things they plan to do: farming, getting married, joining the service, working and attending college.
FARWELL:
 Among Farwell graduates, 15

are planning to attend college, with two already enrolled in summer school. Three of the students plan to attend business school and one of the girls is enrolled in an IBM school. Farming is the chosen occupation of one graduate, three of the girls are married, and the remaining three ex-students are working at other jobs.

SAFETY On The FARM

Is A FAMILY MATTER

Be careful . . . don't let haste make waste for you. Keep the place picked up. Keep a sharp eye out for the hundred and one spots on the premises that can promote danger.

Safety is a year-around job for the whole farm family--bar none. To help you make your own personal safety inventory, here's a set of questions you might like to answer for yourself . . .

Is the farmyard safe for the kids to be playing in?

Is my machinery and equipment in as good shape as I can get it?

Is the house in good repair . . . and is the Missus doing her part in eliminating hazards?

Am I being as careful as I can . . . each day?

I'M SERIOUS!

Maybe you like smiling babies? Sorry to disappoint you, but I've got a lot on my mind.

There's something wrong in America . . . and I'm the chap who is getting hurt!

Our Constitution says that no one can be denied the right to worship God. I'm an American! According to the Constitution I have the right to learn about God, to hear the Bible Stories, to be taught the Christian Way of Life.

But here's the hitch. While the Government can't deny me the right to attend Church School and Church — MY PARENTS CAN. They can rob me of my most sacred right just by neglecting my spiritual needs.

Did you know that about half the children in America are growing up without religious training? And yet there's a church in every village!

Yessir, I'm serious! Instead of talking about juvenile delinquency, we ought to do something about it. We ought to crowd our churches with children . . . and parents! And we ought to start Sunday!

Copyright 1960, Keister Adv. Service, Strasburg, Va.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

SCOTTY TURNER

DICKIE GERIES, senior guard, 160 pounds --Geries has lettered the past two years, and his desire should make him a strong contender for a starting position this year. He is quick and gets downfield good.

BILL QUICKEL, sophomore tackle, 170 pounds--Quickel should give more depth at the tackle position. He didn't have enough speed or coordination last year, but improved greatly toward the end of the season.

SCOTTY TURNER, senior guard, 180 pounds--Turner was a second team all-district selection for past two years. He was a regular at a tackle position in 1959, but changed to guard last year. This should be his best year.

JOTTIN'S

By Jeanne

Being childhood playmates for the first time after many years is not only enlightening, but a pretty harsh reminder that I'm truly not as young as I feel. It's also a reminder that my children are pretty well behaved after all.

My brother is two years older than I, and my sister is six years younger. We had three cousins who were near our ages, and we paired off for play. Then there are two younger children in the two families who are still in school. Anyway, all of us with our husbands or wives and our children were together with the two sets of grandparents Sunday.

Forgotten incidents were recalled one after the other, until we were beginning to wonder how all of us managed to grow up. Things that were probably rather painful at the time are now remembered with amusement. We laughed again as we remembered the time Cousin Merle stuck his arm down a hole in the pasture, and learned immediately that a Mama Skunk was a resident. Helpfully, we encouraged him to wash himself, clothes and all, in the surface lake in the pasture. He still had the odor and he was a muddy mess, but we all learned that too much curiosity can lead to trouble.

I was the youngest cousin for a while and wasn't old enough to be much fun, so the three older ones devised many methods of permitting me to play, without being reported to higher authorities. They nearly got into trouble the day they wanted me out of their way, so they decided to play Indian.

They tied me to the stake in the pasture and were busy playing and forgot about me. I must have been rather young and not too worried because I don't recall much about it. As far as I know, I weathered the storm pretty well.

All of us are developing bulges here and there, a few gray hairs and some receding hairlines, but we still have a lot of fun.

We had a wonderful visit, our children became acquainted and I hope it won't be 12 years before we are together again.

Sidney Millers Have Daughter

Proud parents of a daughter born on Thursday, July 20, at Clovis Memorial Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Miller of Clovis. The little girl, their first child, weighed 7 pounds 3 ounces on arrival, and was named Susan Carrie.

Dudleys Assemble In Graham Home

For the first time in 12 years, the families of two brothers, Milton Dudley of Silverton and Floyd Dudley of Hagerman, N.M. were united Sunday when they met in the home of the W. H. Gramms for a reunion. Mrs. Graham is a daughter of the Milton Dudleys. Only one member of the families, Carol Davis of Hart, a son-in-law of the Milton Dudleys, was unable to be present.

A baked ham and roast beef buffet lunch was served and movies and snapshots were made during the afternoon.

In Farwell for the get-together were the O.M. Dudleys and Connie of Silverton; and their other children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dudley, Joan, Laura and Donna and Mrs. Carol Davis and Alex of Hart, and Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Graham, Ronny, Hal, John and Andy of Farwell.

Here from Hagerman, N.M. were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dudley and Bryan, and their other children and their families, Mr. and Mrs. Babe Stoltenberg, Glenn, Joy and Gay, of Roswell, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Dudley, Deborah and Sharon of Shreveport, La.; and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gann, Larry, Cara, Cindy and Christy of Littlefield.

Floyd and Milton Dudley are brothers and the two families originally lived in Silverton where the cousins were childhood playmates.

Falls and other points in Texas, the new Mrs. Wooten changed into a brown and white plaid homespun cotton suit. To complete the ensemble she wore brown and white accessories, and the corsage from her wedding bouquet.

Mrs. Wooten attended Eastern New Mexico University last year, and was employed this summer at Worley's Elevator at Pleasant Hill. She graduated from Texico high school in 1960. The bridegroom is a senior at Eastern New Mexico University, and is engaged in farming. He is a graduate of Portales High School.

The Wootens are now making their home on a farm in the Bethel community.

In a candlelight ceremony on July 15 in the Texico Baptist Church, Miss Phyllis Ann Kelley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Kelley of Texico, and J. D. (Buster) Wooten, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Wooten of Portales, exchanged vows.

A tall white colonnade topped with a large bouquet of white gladioli and asters was focal point of the altar arrangement, before which Bro. Orvel Brantley, pastor of the church, read the double-ring vows. Fourteen-branched candelabra holding pink tapers were at either side, and palms and ferns were entwined in the altar rail.

Pre-nuptial wedding music was played by Carol White, pianist, and she later accompanied Connie Sharp as she sang "Always," and "Because."

Preceding the bride to the altar were Sue Harris, her cousin from Wellington, who acted as maid of honor; and Ovidene Bilberry, her college roommate from Causey, who was bridesmaid.

Both wore identical dresses of pink taffeta fashioned with nylon organza overskirts, and featuring puffed sleeves. The simple neckline of the dresses came to a V in back. Each carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with clusters of pink ribbons.

Miss Kelley, given in marriage by her father, chose a white street length brocade taffeta dress which featured a billowy silk organza overskirt. The dress was fashioned with minute cap sleeves, and had a scalloped neckline which ended in a V at the center back. Her shoulder length veil of white tulle edged with tiny pearls was held in place by a

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

ALREADY HEADED OUT are quite a number of maize fields in Parmer County. Grain sorghum, along with most other crops in the county, is looking good, and if the weather remains favorable, another bumper crop is in the making.

(At Left)

COTTON IS LOOKING GOOD throughout Parmer County for the first time in three years. Some farmers say the cotton crop is the best it has ever been at this time of year. Looking over good field of cotton is Merritt Brooks, who farms the C.W. Dixon place southwest of Friona.

Crop Conditions Have Farmers Smiling

About 'Best Ever' At Present Stage

If Parmer County farmers appear to be in good spirits right about now, it's probably because they have good reason. Crop conditions, and the general farm outlook for this fall, are about the best they have been in a long while. In fact, one could probably say that crop conditions for this time of year are the best they've ever seen. What's the reason for this unusually bright picture? It's a combination of several things, and the weather throughout the year would certainly not be considered of least importance. For the most part, moisture received to date could hardly have been more timely, as have been the periodic dry spells and sieges of warm weather. Also hail storms, while severe in isolated locales, have not been too widespread. Timely winter snows, which provided a good moisture base, helped to make the past wheat harvest by far the best on record, and were also a contributing factor to cotton, grain sorghum and other minor crops getting off to a good start. Parmer County cotton farmers, who haven't fared to well the past two seasons, now find that this year's crop is in the best shape it has ever been. And, grain sorghum, being grown under acreage controls for the first time, is as good a shape, and probably better, than it has ever been. Cold, damp weather during the spring months in 1959 and 1960, caused cotton to get off to a slow start, but such was not the case this year. Right about planting time, and a few weeks thereafter, most of Parmer County was in the midst of a dry spell. It was do dry for a while, that many farmers were resorting to watering their young cotton. This wasn't necessary for very long, however, because it did start raining some in early June—just at about the right time to help both the cotton and maize and to give a boost to a fast-maturing wheat crop. On the eve of the wheat harvest, most of the county received general moisture, but then it cleared up long enough for the combines to move into the field and cut the entire acreage before the rains returned. The wheat crop, which yielded better than five million bushels in the county, was by far the best in the history of Parmer County, and subsequently put more money in the pockets of farmers. Right after the record-breaking wheat crop was in the elevators, the rains returned and since July 1, from four to seven inches of rain have been recorded throughout the county. The wet weather, along with intermittent days of bright sunshine, have made all of the crops grow at a rapid pace, and at the present time the general crop conditions are excellent. "They could hardly be better," seems to be the consensus among farmers as they cultivate and irrigate the fields in anticipation of a bountiful fall harvest. Besides cotton and maize, other crops such as vegetables, sesame, castor beans, and corn are also looking good at this stage of the growing season. Insect infestations on cotton have not been as numerous this year as during the past two seasons, but Joe Jones Parmer County agent, points out that farmers should keep a watchful eye for the fleahopper and bollworm, which could be coming along at any time. Another reason why the farm outlook is considerably better this year than it has been in the past, would be partially due the new feed grain program. Farmers have diverted from 20 to 40 per cent of the previous grain sorghum land this year, but will receive a support price of a $1.78 per hundred. They have also collected more than $3 million in early payments for diverted acreage, and these payments have been a temporary "shot in the arm." Many farmers may be somewhat skeptical of the long-range effects of the program, which has resulted in tighter controls on the individual activities, but there's no arguing the fact that there has been, and will be more, immediate financial benefits. The price support for this year's maize is about 25 cents above what farmers received last year. Besides the weather and a more favorable price for grain sorghum, another reason for the overall better conditions down on the farm, would be, as County Agent Jones puts it, "The farmers are just doing a better job of farming each year." Better fertilizer applications, and general improved farming methods, are enabling the Parmer County farmer to produce better crops. Everything considered, farmers do have a great deal to be happy about at the moment. Of course, anything can happen between now and harvest time, but as one farmer said early this week, "Right now, things are sure looking good."

Why Would Our Baby Stop Trying To Walk?

Frequently babies give up because they are afraid. The bottoms of their shoes pick up wax from linoleum or hardwood floors and become very slippery. Since the majority of babies walk on the balls of their feet, slippery soles are dangerous and the babies seem to know it. One remedy would be not to wax the floors. Another is to roughen the soles with a bottle cap. The crimped edge cuts through the wax in a hurry. Strips of adhesive tape help temporarily but the tape becomes as slippery as leather when the baby repeatedly runs into the kitchen and out on to rugs that buff the wax to a high gloss. Learning to balance the body on one tiny foot at a time is difficult enough without adding the hazard of slippery soles.

FARM SAFETY FACTS & FIGURES

FARM SAFETY, A YEAR 'ROUND JOB

We Americans seem to need an official "week" each year to remind us of things we really should practice every week of every year. There's nothing wrong with the idea—the official reminder usually proves helpful—but too often too many people will substitute one week's observance for a year's practice. National Farm Safety Week, to be celebrated July 23-29 this year, is a perfect example of a "week" that should be considered a continual part of rural life. Co-sponsored by the National Safety Council and the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the 18th annual National Farm Safety Week has as its theme, "Safety is a Family Affair." Accidents in farm homes take about 2,700 lives a year, according to the National Safety Council, and 3,400 persons are killed each year doing farm work. This is in addition to the 4,700 farm residents who die on the highways in nonwork accidents.

Motor-vehicle accidents cause nearly one-half of the fatal injuries to farm people but only one-fifth of the nonfatal injuries. Rural highway accidents kill many people and the injuries to the survivors are generally severe. Three-fourths of all deaths from motor-vehicle injuries result from accidents on rural roads. One of every seven persons killed in motor-vehicle accidents is a farm resident.

SUGGESTED DAILY EMPHASIS

SUNDAY—Reverence for Life: Because safety is in part a moral issue, religious leaders are urged to make farm safety a part of their sermons and the subject of Sunday School discussions.

MONDAY—Safety Begins at Home: Neat and orderly farm homes are safer homes. Have a safe place for everything, and keep everything in its place. Eliminate unsafe practices in the kitchen and elsewhere. Check electric appliances that they are in safe repair.

TUESDAY—Agricultural Chemicals: Chemicals are becoming more widely used in agriculture and about the farm home. Always read the label, use as directed, store in original containers—away from children—and in locked cabinets. Dispose of empty containers safely.

WEDNESDAY—Prevent Falls: Good planning reduces the temptation to hurry, means better production and fewer accidents. Repair or discard broken, unsafe ladders. Place guards on hazardous places. Neatness eliminates the causes of many falls. Stairs and steps need to be well lighted.

THURSDAY—Rural Highway Safety: Courtesy is one key to traffic safety. Highlight rules of safe driving and walking on roadways. Remove trees, weeds and shrubs at farm entrances and intersections to improve visibility. Obey the "Signs of Life."

FRIDAY—Farm Machinery: Make sure all farm equipment is in safe operating condition. Keep guards and safety devices in place. Always stop machines before unclogging, oiling or adjusting them. Farm equipment should be well marked with flags and flashing red lights.

SATURDAY—Recreation Safety: Take safety seriously—everywhere—all the time. Around bodies of water (both large and small) be especially careful. Learn to handle guns properly. Include safety in farm family vacation plans.

Accidents Don't Always Happen To Other Fellow

BY RICHARD HAPKE

Contrary to whatmostevery-one would like to believe, farm accidents aren't something that always happen to the other fellow.

They aren't something that happen only to someone a 100 miles away, or to persons who don't even know.

Quite the opposite is true. Accidents happen to our friends, neighbors, relatives, and yes, even ourselves.

Many accidents especially those on the farm, where a person is most always working around machinery--result in minor cuts and bruises and broken bones. Others result in loss of limb and sometimes life.

There are various reasons for accidents, some are unavoidable and beyond the control of the individual involved, while others are a direct result of the injured person having been in a hurry or being careless for perhaps only a split second.

More times than not accidents that do happen could be avoided if a person exercised a little more caution and was not in a hurry.

This week, July 23-30, is National Farm Safety Week. In conjunction with this special week, a representative of High Plains Farm and Home called on three area farmers who had experienced serious farm accidents, which resulted in permanent physical impairments.

Each of the three farmers, Melbourn Jones of Oklahoma Lane, Roy Sheriff of West Camp, and Junior Wilkerson of Hup, were willing to discuss their accidents in the hope that their experiences might possibly help to keep someone else from suffering a similar fate.

Melbourn Jones, who farms southeast of the Oklahoma Lane Community, lost his right hand when he got it caught in the auger of a cotton stripper in November, 1955. In recalling the accident, Jones says, "It happened because I was in a hurry and didn't want to lose the 10 minutes it would have taken to have stopped the machine and cleaned out the clogged-up auger."

As is a usual occurrence with strippers, the machine had clogged up with cotton stalks. Jones, in an attempt to force the cotton on through the auger, started using a stick.

The auger grabbed the stick, and before the Oklahoma Lane farmer knew what had happened, his hand and arm had been pulled into the auger.

Fortunately for Jones, there was a Mexican National on the scene who knew how to release the clutch on the machine, and go for help. However, before the clutch was released a chain had already given away and the auger had stopped.

The accident resulted in Jones being in and out of the hospital for five months, and out considerable expense in doctor bills in an attempt to save the hand. He eventually had to have the hand removed and replaced with an artificial one.

Jones says he had to undergo a period of rehabilitation, after the accident learning to use his "hook" and learning to get along without his right hand (he had been right-handed). It took some doing, but he was able to start leading a normal life again, and capable of handling routine chores on his farm.

Now, Jones says he can do just about everything he needs to do, "but I am a lot slower, and a little clumsier around machinery." He does, however, continue to farm, and get the job done, just like he always did.

When it comes to writing, Jones says, "all I can do is write my name. Everything else I have to print."

Also, Jones has been able to adjust to other activities, which he normally did with his right

A COTTON STRIPPER AUGER isn't anything to get careless around, as Melbourn Jones will testify. Jones lost his right hand six years ago as he attempted to unstop a clogged up cotton stripper similar to this one.

FLAT BELTS AND PULLEYS such as the one shown on this feed grinder, are hazardous if a person doesn't watch his step. Junior Wilkerson lost his arm in an accident 10 years ago, when he was applying belt dressing to a similar belt and pulley on an ensilage cutter.

AN UNGUARDED POWER TAKE-OFF was the cause of Roy Sheriff, pictured here on the tractor, losing his right leg in a farm accident in 1958. Sheriff was pulling a stalk shredder behind the tractor when the accident occurred.

hand. One activity is bowling, which he says, "I don't do too well at it, but I do get along all right."

About the accident, Jones says, "In an effort to save 10 minutes, I wound up losing about five months and spending $2500 in doctor bills, not to mention the pain and suffering, and the fact that I'll be handicapped the rest of my life."

Also, there is an annual expense of "anywhere from $20 to $50" in repair, upkeep, and occasionally purchasing a new mechanical hand.

All in all, Jones says philosophically, "that was a pretty costly 10 minutes."

Roy Sheriff, who farms near the West Camp community was the victim of a farm accident in April, 1958, in which he lost his right leg.

A missing power take-off shield was the cause of the accident, shortly after Sheriff had hooked onto a stalk shredder and gone to the field of one of his neighbors. The neighbor was in the hospital and Sheriff was lending a hand with his farming activities.

Normally, the West Camp farmer was overly cautious about making sure the shield was on the tractor, and as one of his hands has said, "He always made sure it was on when we were driving the tractor."

However, that day, Sheriff hooked his tractor onto the shredder and went to the field, not even aware that the shield was missing. Shortly thereafter, the open power take-off grabbed his trousers and wrapped his leg under the shaft.

Sheriff, who was alone in the field, was able to cut off the power with the hand clutch, and he then drove the tractor, shredder and all, to another field where some other farmers were threshing.

He received an artificial leg nine months after the accident and since that time has been able to do most of the things required on the farm. He has, however, been handicapped, and as he says, "I am a lot slower and awkward."

Sheriff, who had farmed for many years without a serious on-the-farm accident, says, "Most of us always think that accidents always happen to someone else."

"But," he adds, "they can happen to anyone at anytime he isn't careful, "and they happen before you even know it."

Junior Wilkerson, who is employed on the farm of A. L. Black, near the Hub community, is another Farmer County farmer who suffered a serious accident which resulted in loss of a limb.

It was in September, 1951, when Wilkerson was operating an ensilage cutter. He was applying belt dressing to a flat belt when belt and pulley grabbed the stick of dressing and pulled his arm under the pulley, wrapping it around the shaft.

There was another man in a truck near the scene of the accident, who cut off the machine, helped release the arm and took Wilkerson to the hospital. His arm had to be severed above the elbow.

Wilkerson did use an artificial limb for a while but he later decided he would be better off without it. "I was always trying to use it just like I had always used my good arm, and was always tearing it up," he says.

After losing his arm, Wilkerson had to undergo a lengthy readjustment before he was able to do much work on the farm again. "It was just like learning everything all over, but I finally got to where I could do just about anything I could do before," he says.

"There are still some things I can't do," Wilkerson says, "but when it comes to operating machinery and irrigating, I do all right."

One thing that has changed on the Black farm since Wilkerson had his accident, is the manner in which belt dressing is applied. "We don't use the stick dressing any more," Wilkerson says, "only the liquid dressing that can be put on with a squirt can."

Besides the three fellows mentioned above, there are also many other farmers in the Farmer County area who have suffered serious accidents. Many of them have lost fingers and suffered other types of injuries around hay balers, combines and other farm equipment.

Accidents do happen all the time, and they will continue to happen, especially around farm machinery. The best way to avoid them is to exercise caution at all times, and to never take chances when in a hurry to get something done.

When you dim your lights you brighten your future.

Move over- give narrow minds a wide road.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

Cotton as a whole looks real good. I have done some checking for cotton insects and have not found anything serious yet. In one instance the fleahoppers were rather plentiful, but did not seem to be taking off much of the fruit.

When trying to determine whether or not to poison for the fleahopper you should consider the amount of fruit already set that is too large for this insect to destroy. You should also take into consideration that cotton always puts on a lot of fruit this time of the year that it must shed whether or not insects are present.

When trying to determine damage done by the fleahopper at this stage of cotton growth you should check close and try to determine whether sufficient numbers of small squares are getting by to finish out the two bale crop you want. To sum up the fleahopper problem, remember to take into consideration the fruit already set, the amount you can expect to mature, the rate these new squares are now being held on the plant in relation to what is needed to set all the cotton necessary to give the production you might expect.

The bollworm problem is just a little different because this insect feeds on small squares and bolls. With this in mind you can see this insect can be much more of a threat to our crop because the damage can continue until the bolls are mature. The danger of this insect building up to damaging numbers is one good reason for not applying insecticides for fleahoppers now unless they are do-

Ammonia Burns Common Accident

One of the most common accidents to occur among Farmer County farmers is ammonia burns, says Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer and physician at Farmer County Community Hospital.

Since January 1, Dr. Spring has treated more than 100 persons for farm accidents, and of this total about 30 have been from ammonia burns, he says.

Most all Farmer County farmers handle nitrogen fertilizer and the accidents usually occur when a farmer is loosening and tightening valves as they fill fertilizer applicators from supply tanks.

Most of the ammonia burns that have been treated at the hospital have been minor ones, but this type of accident can be serious, Dr. Spring points out. They can result in loss of eye sight, the doctor explains, in addition to serious burns.

When a person is burned with ammonia, quick application of water to the affected spot will lessen the degree of the burn, Dr. Spring says.

The ammonia burns, along with other minor accidents that Dr. Spring has treated patients for, most of the time could have been avoided had the persons been a little more careful.

Besides the burns, other types of accidents which patients have been treated for at Farmer County Community Hospital, since January 1, have been broken bones, loss of fingers, snake bite and various other minor injuries.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Farmer County Soil Conservation District has big plans for the month of September. As most of you know that is the month of the annual banquet and soil and crops tour.

Plans for this year are different. This year each Supervisor will be responsible for arranging and conducting a short tour in his zone. Time and place will be announced.

Also, a farmer will be selected from each of the four school districts for the soil and water conservation work that he has done in the past. From these four one will be selected and recognized at the annual banquet.

Briefly, these are the plans for the tour and banquet as of now. Details will be worked out at the next meeting.

Items relating to water: Texas in the 1950's was strongly affected by water shortage. The long-lasting drought added heavily to municipal planning on water, deterred some industrial growth, disrupted income from farming, toppled Texas as the No. 1 cattle state.

Rainfall began again three years ago. But water needs of the state have received relatively little action--although lots of talk. During the next 10 years, cycle theorists anticipate the start of another drought period. For a metropolitan state, a second major drought could produce chaos, at least to the growth pattern.

Pushing attention to this is a major business objective --from THE TEXAS BUSINESSMAN, Dec. 26, 1960.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

To youngsters, summertime is swimming time. This is especially true of rural children, many of whom have a convenient farm pond available. Unfortunately, many of these swimming excursions to the lake or the farm pond or tank end in tragedy.

The first thing to remember is to never let anyone, adult or child, swim alone. Children should never, under any circumstances, be allowed to play alone anywhere near the pond. You know, it is a good idea to keep life preservers handy for nonswimmers to wear when they are playing in the pond or lake. Life preservers do not mean plastic bags. Plastic bags puncture very easily.

July 23 to 29 has been designated as Farm Safety Week. Although one week in the year has been set aside to observe safety, farm and home safety should be observed every week in the year. Accidents are costly. Safety should be observed every week in the year. Accidents are costly. Safety practices have real money value. Have you ever really thought about safety practices as actually saving you money? Not to think of lives of your loved ones, or even the pain and handicaps.

You can start with good food and rest habits for good prevention of accidents. Hurry, fatigue and carelessness can be lessened with good management of time and making work easier. Also, of great importance is a happy family relationship and cooperation as a family. Remember the little cuts or bruises that have a way of happening when you felt upset about some small incident that happened before you left home or in the home?

Remember these rules, too, to avoid heat sickness. Avoid over-exertion, particularly in the early part of the heat wave. Avoid too much exposure to direct sunrays or extreme indoor temperatures and high humidity. Wear a hat while outdoors. Wear light porous clothing and increase the use of salt to offset the excessive loss of salt in the body through perspiration.

Did you know that ice water and alcohol only makes you warmer. Drink water often throughout the day. Eat nutritious food, but avoid over-eating. Yes, food is very important in preventing accidents.

For safety of tractor drivers in traffic could avoid many accidents. In fact about 1,000 persons are killed each year in farm tractor accidents. One-third of these occur on the public roads. Permit no extra riders on the tractor. In a 5 year study 28 fatalities occurred to children under 10 years of age. More seriously, 18 of the deaths occurred among children 4 years of age or under. I heard Dr. Willie Ulich, Extension Agricultural Engineer, once say that tractors had one seat on the tractor for one person only.

Let's not forget the "killers" around the house. If you made a list you might be amazed. Where are your insecticides and other poisonous chemicals stored? Are they within a child's reach? This could bring tragedy. Two out of every 100 persons die each year from accidental poisoning. Of this number, every fourth person is between the age of 1 and 5 years.

Check your home now to make sure that all "killers" are stored well out of the reach of children. Start with the medicine chest. Keep it locked or make certain that it is high enough to keep children out. Too many children die of over dosages of non harmful medicines. Label all bottles and material stored there.

Avoid throwing partially filled containers into wastebaskets or trash barrels where children could taste the liquid or powder. Children love to play grocery store. Cosmetic bottles and bottles from bleaches, polishes, and insecticides don't add to a safe play-grocery store.

Last year farm resident accidents accounted for 11,700 deaths and 1 million disabling injuries. And all age groups, from toddlers to senior citizens, are included in these statistics. Yes, safety is a family affair.

Corn and or grain sorghum producers should carefully weigh the advantages and disadvantages of the new feed grain program and apply them to their own situation before making a decision on whether or not to participate. According to Texas Agricultural Extension Service economists, there is only one best way to make the determinations--take a pencil and paper and do some figuring.

Wyle Bullock, Farmers Union agent, will participate in the Annual Farmers Union Founders' Day celebration this week, according to acting state insurance manager Gerald Leak.
Each year since 1957, one outstanding policy has been highlighted during the drive. This year's policy is the Children's Champion, designed for children up to 14 years of age.
The Champion provides full insurance protection throughout life. If the child dies before age 21, the policy pays the full amount of life insurance protection and in addition returns all dividends and premiums that have been paid in.
In order to acquaint members in the state with the Champion, Farmers Union agents are offering a free "Antidote Chart" which tells what to do until the doctor arrives should a child swallow a common household poison.
