Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

Let the bands play

We are going to have some real treats at Border Town Days this year.

Not only are we to hear some great music by Charlie Phillips and the Sugartimers, but we have a second band lined up to play, too.

Jim Jones (a cousin of Orie Jones), who lives south of Farwell, called me to say he and his band would love to play, too.

So the way we have things scheduled, Charlie's Sugartimers will play from 1:20 to 2:30 p.m., and Jim's band will entertain from 4 p.m. til ???

Between bands, we will have local singers play. So far, we have had Jessica Lusk, and the duo of Monica Cantu and Hector Carrasco sign up -- plus the Farwell School kindergarteners.

And we have plenty of time for others to sign up, too.

One negative, though, is that we won't have the Galvan Band play at BTB this year. They have a relative getting married in Oklahoma that day and are pledged to play at the wedding.

We will miss them. I know it's only mid-June, but this is when the BTB committee swings into action.

And all early indications are, once again, we should have a super event.

There will be lots of fun things for the kiddies. We have Fritz Friemel's carnival rides planned, along with a ferris wheel, dunking booth, petting zoo, BTB Express, etc.

The fella from Roswell who had pony rides at BTB last year is coming back. Here is what he said to me last week when I called him on the phone:

"I have never seen such a wonderful family day like you folks have at Border Town Days.

"I'm a family-oriented person, and just really enjoyed seeing what type of day you folks put together."

Makes you feel good

Commissioners appoint Parmer County's redistricting committee

The Parmer County Commissioners on Monday appointed redistricting committee members, pending their acceptance.

Appointed were:

Bovina area -- Dale Gober, Kaye Williams and Leon Schilling.

Friena area -- Pat Fleming and Carol Ellis.

Farwell area -- Gary Gober, Esther Steelman and Richard Carpenter.

Lazbuddie area -- Billie Powell and Jim Roy Daniels.

At-large -- Joe Santelana and Ben Rejino Jr.

The county's four precincts need to be redistricted, due to 2000 census results.

In particular, growth in the Bovina precinct will cause it.

The commissioners have authorized Bobbye Hill, of Wheeler, Texas, to put together a map showing where the growth has taken place.

Census results showed the Bovina area gaining 201 persons (from 1990), while Friena and Lazbuddie suffered losses, and Farwell was about the same.

What the redistricting likely will do is remove that part of the Friena area from the Bovina area precinct (Pct. 2).

Also to be taken into account are federal guidelines that mandate that at least one precinct in Parmer County contain a majority of minority (Hispanic) voters.

For the past decade, this has been Pct. 4 -- the Lazbuddie area precinct. It's likely that will continue.

The redistricting of the county commissioner and justice of the peace precincts must be completed at least three months before the 2002 primary election in Texas.

In other business, the commissioners: -- Purchased 6,465 acres of land from Friena

Wheat Growers for $85,409, plus closing costs.

The land includes a barn and will be used as the new "county barn" for Pct. 1 (the Friena area precinct).

-- Heard a request from state trooper Trey Ellis that the commissioners rent additional office space in Friena for the DPS office.

After the meeting, the commissioners went to Friena to view a potential site.

Pool repair almost done

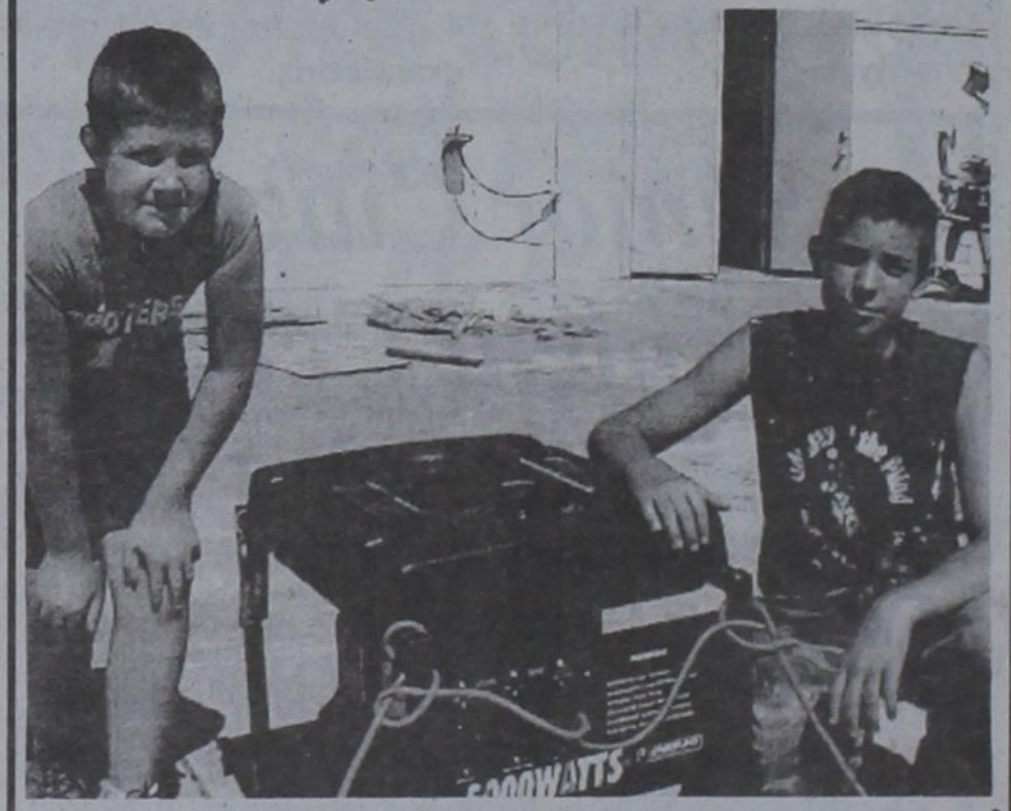

The repairs at the Texico City swimming pool have gone well, reports project honcho Kelley Brophy.

Work is expected to be completed this weekend -- if enough volunteers are available. Some painting is needed, plus a fence put up, etc.

Folks wanting to help are asked to contact Texico City Hall, 481-3314.

Helping with the pool repairs were Kris Foust, left, and Nathan Foust.

In Farwell, the first load came from Matthew Williams on June 6. It was brought in by Travis Bibbs. Williams got a check for $50 for being No. 1. It had a test weight of 58.1 and a moisture content of 13.6.

In Lariat, the $50 check for the first load went to Clinton Rogers. It had a test weight of 60.2 and a moisture content of 13.5. The load arrived June 6.

The first load to arrive at the Lazbuddie elevator came from John Young on June 5. He also received a check for $50.

Jessica Chandler, of Sherley-Anderson-Pitman grain elevator, presents the check of $50 to Travis Bibbs on June 6 for bringing in the first load of wheat this season.

Federal legislation allows senior citizens to earn as much money as they like without sacrificing Social Security benefits. Previously, workers age 65-69 lost $1 in Social Security benefits for every $3 in wages above an annual limit of $17,000.

This new law may affect your retirement-funding plans. For example, if you can expect more income from employment during your so-called retirement years, you may be able to get by with less income from your investments. Previously, you may have thought it necessary to weight your portfolio more heavily toward income-producing investments, such as Treasury certificates, bonds or bond-based mutual funds. But now you may want to consider adding more growth elements, such as stock or stock-based mutual funds.

At first glance, you might balk at the thought of adding more stocks to a portfolio you're relying on to carry you through retirement. After all, stocks can be more risky than other types of investments. But you need to remember that you are likely to spend a long time in retirement -- possibly 2 or even 3 decades.

During your retirement years, if you were to have all your investment dollars in fixed income vehicles, you would eventually begin to lose purchasing power, even in periods of relatively mild inflation. You simply cannot afford a portfolio with no growth elements.

Ultimately, you'll probably need all your financial resources -- investments, 401k, IRA, Social Security and income from employment -- to fund your retirement. But by planning ahead and making the right moves, you can do more than just retire -- you can retire in style.

Storms damage about 2,800 acres of crops in Parmer County

Hail, high winds and blowing sand from four severe storms dealt a hard blow to South Plains crop producers from mid-May to early June, reports the Texas Ag Extension Service. As a result, the region may lose more than half a million acres of its irrigated cotton crop and several thousand acres of other crops.

Warm temperatures and good soil moisture potential spurred many cotton producers to begin planting in late April and early May. By May 25, they had planted almost 95 percent of the region's irrigated cotton crop. A 20-county area surrounding Lubbock comprises the South Plains, and annually produces about one-half the state's five- to six-million acre cotton crop.

High winds and blowing sand damaged several thousand acres of young cotton in eight counties on May 20, and a May 26 storm hailed out several thousand additional acres in western Dawson County. The largest storm occurred May 30 -- rolling northwest to southeast, and leaving crops, livestock, barns, houses and equipment in nine counties damaged in its wake. A June 1 storm then caused considerable damage in three counties north and west of Lubbock.

Preliminary estimates from county agents, extension specialists and agribusiness point to a projected loss of 360,000 to 500,000 acres of irrigated cotton and more than 10,000 acres such as sunflowers, wheat and hay.

Early reports from USDA Farm Service Agency offices across the region point to a dollar loss of more than $77 million in crops, equipment and buildings, but the exact total is not yet known. These reports often are used to help federal and state officials designate "disaster areas" after severe weather events.

The value of cotton losses from the low estimate of 360,000 acres is estimated at more than $60 million. When economic multipliers are factored in, the total regional economic impact could rise to more than $180 million. Economic multipliers are often used to account for the ripple effect of currency spending as it passes through a regional or state economy.

For many producers, the latter storms came right on top of the final cotton planting date for crop insurance coverage. They may not be able to replant an insured crop.

Texico cheerleaders raising funds for camp

Sponsor Vicki Ashley announced that the Texico High School cheerleaders for 2001-2002 will be:

Tara Lockmiller, Brenda Grado, Sissy Loper, Stephany White, London Taylor, Brette Hadley, Ashley Maxwell, Seneca Turner.

Natalie Martin will be the mascot.

The cheerleaders will be having a fund-raiser next week before attending camp at Wayland Baptist University.

The girls need funds for cheer camp, camp clothes, cheer shoes, wind suits and uniforms.

Cheer camp is very important for the girls to attend, said Mrs. Ashley.

"It will teach them cheers, chants and stunts, how to learn about crowd involvement, safety and, most importantly, how to bond and become a unified squad."

The girls also will be in the Border Town Days parade, then do some routines at the gazebo during the Day in the Park activities on July 28.

Mrs. Ashley said the cheerleaders would appreciate the support of local folks to help them reach their goal of selling 100 items per girl.

Parmer County Extension Agent Cody Hill said about 1,500 acres of wheat was damaged due to the storms. And about 1,300 acres of cotton was wiped out. But as a whole, Parmer County looks pretty good compared to the rest of the Panhandle.

Eunice Crume, of Farwell, penned the following poem in honor of Flag Day, June 14:

Old Glory

That magnificent banner waving on high
The "Stars and Stripes" against the sky
Is more than a banner of cloth to me
It represents our country, strong and free.

When I look upon the flag, I see
The men who fought to make us free.
Washington, Grant and other brave men
Who loved our country and fought to win.

When I look at the flag I also see
A wonderful land for you and me,
The majestic mountains and canyons grand,
The rolling prairies and rich farm land.

The red is for valor of our brave men
Who fought in battles our country to defend,
The red of a sunset at the close of day
Poppies growing in Flanders far away.

The blue is for loyalty, the color of skies,
The ocean, blue lakes and blueberry pies.
White is for purity, church spires and snow,
Fluffy white clouds, and daisies that grow.

My flag! Old Glory, I see in you
A place where dreams do come true,
A symbol of freedom, love and liberty,
Yes, you mean all this and more to me.

Texico's area code may get bumped

A controversy is raging in New Mexico over the coming addition of a telephone area code.

Currently, the entire state uses "505." But due to demand of more phone numbers, two area codes will be needed shortly.

The state Public Regulation Commission has voted to assign the metro areas of Los Alamos, Santa Fe and Albuquerque a new number -- 957.

The rest of the state, including Texico, would stay at "505."

But the metro regions are not happy, wanting their area to keep the 505 number and the rural areas to get the 957 number. Stay tuned...
