District Title On Line Tonight

Farwell's Steers, churning along with an unblemished district record, will be hosts to the Springlake Wolverines tonight (Friday). The meeting will be an auspicious one, because the outcome will determine who will go home with the District 3-A football championship.

Oddsman see the Steers as a slight favorite, and playing on the home field won't hurt anything. Springlake is expected to provide the toughest competition in the district this year for the Blue and White, who so far have handled the other four conference foes without being extended.

Springlake is characterized as fielding a "young, scrappy team." The contest is expected to draw a big crowd if the weather doesn't get upset, and there'll be a lot of dyed-in-the-wool fans on hand to cheer the Steers on to what they hope is victory regardless of what turn the elements take.

The Steers pasted Sudan handily, 35-6, last week to set themselves up as the conference favorites. The Hornets were very much in the game until the last quarter, but they lacked the scoring punch to really threaten and had only one really encouraging break--that one giving them their only touchdown by way of a pass interception. Farwell ground down the field to a score in less than six minutes after receiving the kickoff to start the game, then in the second quarter began to stack the points up on the game guests with another touchdown.

Leon Lovelace, in addition to the usual yoemanship chores of running the team and lugging the ball like an all-state candidate ought to lug it, had a perfect night in the point-after department which is worthy of note. He kicked five straight standard-splitters to ring up an even 7 points for the team every time they cashed in on a touchdown.

Struggling against a 14-0 deficit as the third quarter began, Sudan went the only route open to them--the airlines. Their passes were good for occasional yardage, but the long flyers that result in electrifying scores just never panned out. The Steers kept on scoring and led 21-0 as the fourth period began.

They scored twice more in the last quarter to put the hopes of Sudan completely out. The Hornets picked up their lone six points on a pass interception against the Steers' second team.

Basketball Season To Begin Nov. 22

Basketball at Texico will swing into action Nov. 22 when the A and B Wolverine teams meet the Dora Coyote teams at Dora in the first game of the season.

Coach Paul Frederick says

"Only time will tell what kind of team Texico will have this year as all of the team graduated in the spring and this is a rebuilding process."

He has only three returning lettermen from last year and they saw only limited action with the A team. Lettermen returning are Wayne Hudnall 5'7", Bill Campbell 6'2", and Tom Ricks 5'10".

In addition to this group of boys nine sophomores who have played junior high ball are coming out for practice. They include David Duncan, Jimmy Hill, Mike Hitson, Gary Meier.

The Jefferson County amendment, to allow that county to set up retirement programs in political subdivisions in that county was defeated 365-113 and No. 4, which provided for $150,000,000 more state bonds to finance and extend the veteran's land program was defeated in Farmer, 227-344.

Only five absentee ballots were cast in the election and all five voted against all four amendments.

All precincts in the county followed the same voting pattern on Amendments 1, 3 and 4, voting against in all instances. Friona was nearer reversal on the veteran's land question than any other precinct, voting this one down by only four votes 78-74.

Amendment 2 was a different story. Farwell, Black, Lazbuddie and Rhea were against the amendment, and Friona, Oklahoma Lane, Bovina and Lakeview communities voted approval.

The tabulations are complete but unofficial.

Plans Well Underway For Ex-Student Reunion

Plans are well underway for one of the largest and best reunions of ex-students of the Farwell, Oklahoma Lane and West Camp schools in recent years, according to Bobby J. Crume, president of the ex-student association.

The reunion will be held at the Farwell high school cafeteria Nov. 30, 7:27 p.m. with a smorgasboard meal to be served by ladies of the United Pentecostal Church. Price of the meal is $1.75 which is less than in recent years.

Main speaker for the evening and biggest hooter of all is the Hootenanny will be R. P. (Red) Terrell, former popular coach in the Farwell school. He taught here in the early 1930's. In addition to Terrell several other ex-teachers in the schools have indicated that they will also be in attendance.

Several music groups have been secured to add to the evening entertainment; included in the group are the Diabo Trio from Cannon Air Force Base and there is a strong possibility that Bill Wooley, brother of Sheb Wooley of Rawhide fame, will also be in attendance with a musical group in addition to local talent.

Crume says that some ex-students in the schools might have been overlooked when invitations were sent out. If this is the case all students who did not receive a card are asked to contact Crume and indicate whether they will be in attendance at the reunion, and also give their correct names and addresses for future use.

Actkinson-Rundell Tied For Lead; Mrs. Johnson First In Weekly Contest

Coming into the home stretch with only one week left in the local armchair quarterback football contest, Mrs. Dodie Actkinson and Weldon (Pete) Rundell, who have been two of the top contenders all season, are still in a tie for first place with 73 games called right during the season.

In second place with 68 games called right are Nell Walling and Bill Moss while Jimmy Clements is in third place with 67 games called right.

In the weekly contest Mrs. Albert Johnson was the lone person to pick eight games right. She missed only the Dimmitt-Morton and West Texas-New Mexico University games which ended in ties. All other contestants missed these games also.

Jimmy Clements called seven games right and was off only one point on the tiebreaker score to win second place money. Harold Travis and Bobby Actkinson also called seven games right and were each off 8 points on the tiebreaker score, to tie for third place. Clements and Actkinson each called Cleveland over Pittsburgh in addition to missing the tie games and Travis called TCU over LSU.

For picking eight of the ten games in the local football contest right, Mrs. Albert Johnson is shown receiving congratulations and a check for $5 for first place from C. C. Christian of the Oklahoma Lane Gin Co.

Farwell's New Water Spheroid Due Soon

It has a fancy name, and it has a fancy shape. It's the new water spheroid elevated tank soon to be erected by the City of Farwell.

Chicago Bridge and Iron Works has the contract, totaling about $35,000, to give the residents of Farwell a big drink and a new look to the community's skyline.

The city, which has been badly in need of a modern elevated storage unit, has the only wooden storage tank for miles (maybe hundreds) around, but will close the "progress gap" with a bound when it puts up the new storage, which is the fanciest thing in water tanks yet.

Actually, Dimmitt, our Castro County neighbor to the east, stole a march on Farwell two years ago by putting up the area's first spheroid-type tank.

Aside from its attractive shape and uptown name, the new tank will have some practical features. For one thing, it will hold 100,000 gallons of water 100 feet above the ground, which is something the Farwell water system desperately needs.

Also, the "water tower with a figure," will just about eliminate the climbing ambitions of youngsters as the only way to the top is through a locked door in the base and then up the column.

The tank will be built south of the ground storage tanks on the city property in mid-town. Construction should begin on the foundation within two weeks, says Richard Hubbard, contrac-

Mother Of Local Man Dies; Rites In Vernon

Funeral services were recently conducted in Vernon for Mrs. F. H. Coburn 80, mother of Jesse Coburn of Farwell. Mrs. Coburn passed away in a Vernon Hospital after an illness of one week.

She was born April 12, 1883 in Lexington, N. C., and was married to F. H. Coburn in 1902. They moved to Wilbarger County in 1911 from Sayre, Okla., and farmed in the Tolbert community near Vernon until 1952 when they retired and moved to Vernon. She was a member of the Texas Street Methodist Church, Vernon.

Besides the local son survivors include, her husband, three daughters, Mrs. R. J. Ring, Mrs. Roy Morris, Mrs. Seth Reynolds, three other sons, B. T., G. F. and Cleve, one sister, 10 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Nope, Farwell isn't buying the Le Claire water tower, but this is what the new tank soon to be erected by the city will look like -- except of course the name is likely to be spelled FARWELL.

Entered as second class matter at Farwell, Texas, under the act of March 3rd, 1879. Published every Thursday.

The Texico High School marching band was in Portales last week to participate in the homecoming parade, in which some 24 area bands took part. Although the Texico band did not come home with a first or second place, Gary Stelting, band director, thinks that this was good experience for his young band.

At present time the band is working on drills and numbers to be presented at halftime of the Wolverine basketball games. They will also possibly present a concert during the winter or spring, says Stelting.

Commissioners Canvass Election Returns

Only business transacted by the Parmer County Commissioners at their Monday meet was canvassing the election returns of the previous Saturday.

A report was heard by the commissioners from Judge Brewer on the highway meeting recently attended by the group in Austin, with Brewer stating that no reply had been received on the request of the commissioners.

He also reported that Brigida Salinas, small Spanish American girl who was injured in a shooting in Mulcshoe early in the year and a resident of the Lazbuddie community, had been taken to the children's hospital at Gorzales where she will have therapy treatments, with the county to bear a share of the expense.

Farwell Juniors Meet Springlake In Final District 3-A Game

Farwell junior high school football team will have their work cut out for them when they meet Springlake this Thursday (tonight) in the final district game, says Coach Jerry Dee Owen. He says "Springlake has a fine ball club and will be hard to beat," although he does not minimize his team's chances of winning first in the district.

The local team will be playing without the services of one of their ace backs, Bobby Chadwick, who broke an arm in the Sudan game last Thursday. Singled out for fine performances by their coach in the Sudan game were backs, Alfredo Flores, Bobby Chadwick, Al Phillips and Lewey Bradshaw. Linemen playing exceptionally well were Ricky Stewart, Johnnie Gonzales, and Bruce McCuan.

Final score in the Sudangame was 26-0 with Farwell on the long end of the score.

This week will end play for the boys and they will open their basketball season Monday night by meeting the Texico junior high team at 6 p.m. in the Farwell gym. At this time the junior high girls will also be playing the Texico girls.

County Victims Receive Aid From Polio Foundation

In its first quarter-century, 1938-1963, the March of Dimes has devoted $392,300,000 to the medical care of the victims of birth defects, arthritis and polio, including $14,423,95 for Parmer County, with this amount spent in direct aid to those suffering from birth defects, arthritis and polio.

The March of Dimes in 26 years has invested $81,100,000 in basic research into polio, birth defects and arthritis, making possible both the Salk and Sabin vaccines.

Arthritis and rheumatic disease alone afflict eleven million in the U.S. alone, says Joe Jones, chapter chairman of Parmer County. He adds that a quarter million babies are born each year in the U.S. with significant birth defects. Contributions to the Parmer County chapter help support this work.

Your March of Dimes contributions help support treatment centers for birth defects and arthritis in Texas at Dallas, Galveston and Houston and the National foundation for polio research.

All contributions made to this cause are deductible by donors for income tax purposes.

Dianne Fullerton-David Lindop Exchange Wedding Vows

In a ceremony read at Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church, Oct. 27, 8 p.m. Dianne Fullerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fullerton and David Lindop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lindop exchanged wedding vows.

The impressive double ring ceremony was officiated by Rev. Robert O. Tomlinson, church pastor, before an arch entwined with bronze flowers, flanked by seven branched candelabras holding tall bronze tapers. At either side of the candelabras were baskets of bronze mums. In front of the arch was a white wrought iron kneeling bench entwined with florets of bronze mums and greenery. Family pews were marked with bronze satin bows.

Organist, Mrs. James Craig played a medley of soft nuptial music preceding the ceremony and accompanied Misses Shir-lene and Peggy Martin as they sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Candlelighters were David and John Saylor, small cousins of the bride.

Alice Ramm attended the bride as maid of honor. She chose a sheath dress of bronze brocade with which she wore matching accessories. Her bouquet was a stylish cascade arrangement of bronze mums.

The bride escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father chose a floor length dress of white Chantilly lace over taffeta. The dress was styled with a fitted basque waist, a high neckline accented by a small collar outlined in pearls and a softly flaring skirt. The skirt extended to chapel train.

Her full length veil of white illusion fell from a fitted head-dress made from pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids surrounded by Stephanotis atop a white Bible.

Carrying out tradition the bride wore for something old a necklace, new were her shoes, borrowed was the wedding dress from her aunt, Mrs. C. L. Saylor and blue was the traditional garter. For luck she wore in her shoes pennies minted in the year of her birth and that of the groom.

Placed at one side of the floral arrangement was the three tiered wedding cake, decorated with wedding bells, lovebirds and white roses topped by a bride and groom figurine. At the other side of the arrangement was a crystal punch service. Napkins inscribed with the names "Dianne and David" completed table decor. Flanking the table were tall baskets of bronze mums in spiral arrangements. Guests were registered by Jeannie Pettigrew.

When the couple left for a short wedding trip the bride wore a three piece suit of charcoal grey with matching accessories. Her corsage was an orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The House of Weddings in Amarillo was scene for the October 19 wedding of Patricia Ann Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Green, 1608 North Roberts, Amarillo, and Kenneth Murdick, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Murdick, Texico.

The impressive double ring ceremony was officiated by Odell Purdy, Church of Christ minister before an altar decorated with fresh flowers and Boston Fern. The fountain centering the altar was twined with garlands of English Ivy and pink roses.

Preceding the ceremony soloist, Mrs. Tommy Birkley sang, "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Sharon Percifull, a close friend of the bride, was matron of honor and Betty Hall was bridesmaid. They wore identical dresses of emerald green satin and carried colonial bouquets of pom pom mums tied with emerald green satin ribbon from which florets cascaded.

Flower girl was little Karen Green, niece of the bride. She wore a dress of emerald green styled similar to those of the other bridal attendants and carried a bouquet of bronze mum florets. Ringbearer was David Harold Green, nephew of the bride. He presented the rings at the altar on a white satin pillow edged with lace.

The bride escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father chose a wedding gown of white silk organza styled with a round neckline, edged in lace, and a fitted bodice. The softly flaring skirt extended to a full chapel train. Harvest Moon Theme For Senior Banquet

A harvest moon theme highlighted the annual banquet for Texico and Farwell seniors at the local Methodist Church Thursday night. Hostesses for the affair were members of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service, whose president is Mrs. W. N. Foster.

Focal point of room decorations was a shock of feed surrounded by pumpkins over which a large harvest moon hung. Tables were lighted by brown and gold candles and centered by floral arrangements featuring brown and gold mums. Place cards were made from autumn leaves.

Master of ceremonies was Rev. Robert O. Tomlinson, local Methodist pastor. He also gave the invocation and the benediction. Guest speaker was Ray Lofton, superintendent of school at Fort Sumner. Mrs. James Craig played soft organ music during the evening and also accompanied Barbara Bieler as she sang two numbers.

What kind of range does your new home deserve?

the modern answer is gas

You folks who are looking at houses or talking to builders: give a minute's thought to your next range. Will it be a built-in? Probably. But before you make up your mind, see all the built-ins, "slide-ins" and wall-hanging ranges available in gas. You may find a better idea. Will it be smokeless? Only if it's gas. Only gas lets you broil with the oven door closed. Keeps your kitchen clean. Will it cook economically? You can treat yourself to a lot of evenings out on the money you'll save cooking with gas! Will it still work like new 5 or 10 years from now? Only if it's gas. Will it be the fastest, cleanest, most controllable range you can buy? Isn't that what your new home deserves? Then choose from the only ranges that give you all these advantages: modern gas ranges!

Keeping warm out on the deer stand, or in a duck blind, or fishing a lake or bay in the dead of winter, can be something of a real problem to the outdoorsman.

One reason some outdoorsmen feel the cold so intensely is that they begin the day wearing too much clothing. I know it sounds ridiculous—getting cold because of too much clothing—so let me explain.

You start the morning off wearing enough apparel to keep you warm at the time. But actually you've got on too many clothes.

To begin with you feel the cold more because you've just come out of a warm house. In getting breakfast and dressing you've done relatively little physical exercise to generate body heat.

Now let's take a duck hunt as an example. In addition to woolen underwear, you're bundled up in a sweatshirt, a zip-up jacket and a heavy parka. You feel real comfortable at the time.

Exercise Warms Body
Then the work begins. You trudge out to the blind lugging a gun, shells and sacks of decoys. Next you put out the decoys. You're doing a lot of physical exercise so pretty soon you've worked up a good sweat.

Then you step back into the blind for the hunt. There you're doing very little to generate body heat. So pretty soon you start feeling the cold because you're wet with perspiration.

You can avoid this cold by not wearing so many heavy clothes.

Don't wear the heavy coats when you're putting out the decoys. In omitting this heavy outer apparel you'll avoid working up a sweat. Put on the extra coats only when you actually need them.

Many outdoorsmen complain of cold feet. There's a way to avoid that, too. You can wear insulated socks inside your boots or waders. Or put on a pair of lightweight dress socks and then some heavy woolen socks.

Wear Loose Boots
Be sure your foot doesn't fit too snug inside the boot. A tight fit results in cutting down blood circulation in your feet. And with poor circulation you'll feel the chill.

Waist-high waders of course offer more protection against water than do hip boots. But waders can be mighty cold if you're not careful.

Personally I prefer boot-foot waders over the stocking-foot type.

With the stocking-foot type, you have to wear tennis shoes or wading shoes. To keep the waders from slipping inside the shoes, you must tie the laces rather tight. If you do a lot of walking in thick mud, the laces generally are tied around the ankle. This is to keep the mud from pulling the shoes off. Such a tight bind across the instep or around the ankles cuts blood circulation. Result—cold feet.

When your foot has room within the boot, you can warm your feet by wiggling your toes to stimulate circulation. But just try to wiggle your toes in a boot that fits snug tight. It's the same way with your dress shoes. Your feet get colder in tight shoes than they do in loose-fitting ones.

Wear Caps With Flaps
What about cold ears? A cap with ear flaps is a must.

But don't tie those flaps down snug when you're working or exercising vigorously. Heat generated by your body will make your head and ears wet with sweat. Let the flaps hang loose during periods of activity—then tie them down.

It's a good idea to carry along a towel. It's great for wiping the sweat from your head and face. Also if you have room in your hunting coat, take along a spare hunting cap. It will be welcome after a heavy downpour.

Coffee, hot tea and hot chocolate are wonderful for restoring body heat in those hours of inactivity when you're waiting for the ducks or deer to show. But don't take alcoholic beverages. The "snake bite" juice may warm you when you drink it, but it slows down blood circulation and shortly you'll get colder than ever.

But more important than that—alcohol and gun powder just don't mix.

Food Warms The Body
You also can build up body heat by munching a chocolate bar, or by eating an apple or an orange.

Gloves are a must in cold weather. But get the right kind to suit the purpose. Leather gloves are okay for the deer hunter who has little occasion to stick his hands in water. Gloves should be loose fitting so the one on your trigger hand can be slipped off in a hurry.

Leather gloves are no good for duck hunting or fishing. They get wet easily and soak up a lot of water. Then when you dry them out, they'll shrink and get stiff.

For working around water get cotton gloves that have been rubberized. Again they should be large enough so you can slip them on and off easily.

If possible, skip shaving the day before you make that cold weather hunting or fishing trip. That stubble on your face offers some protection against cold and it will help prevent face chapping.

As an extra precaution, take along a change of clothes and leave them in the car. You never know when you'll get caught in a rain squall or perhaps take an unexpected dunking.

Don't let cold weather spoil your outdoors enjoyment. Dress right, and you'll hardly notice the cold.

"I just came in for an estimate, Doctor."

Local Women Attend Delta Kappa Gamma Meet

Three local women, Mmes. Harry Whitley, E. G. (Blackie) Williams and John Boling were in attendance at the Saturday night meeting in Dimmitt of the Delta Xi Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma Society.

Miss Della Stagner, Hereford presided over the short business meeting and Mrs. Merlin Kaul of the Westway district distributed new yearbooks, calling attention to special features. She then presented the program leader, Mrs. Ralph Smith, Dimmitt, who introduced the members of her panel, Mrs. Frances Kennedy, Hart, Mrs. Claudia Ola Brown, Hereford, and Mrs. Bill Thornton, Dimmitt.

The panel presented a discussion on "Early Marriages, Trends and Patterns" with the three contributing factors, home, school, and church emphasized. Mrs. Brown stated that the home must provide purposeful activities, which are sometimes termed chores for teenage children. Mothers are often guilty of pairing off children or encouraging interest in the opposite sex apart from group friendships.

Mrs. Kennedy explained that often junior high school activities are carried out on the pattern of the high school eliminating the vision children should have of reaching high school status that they may enjoy the activities that should be reserved for this age. The Houston school authorities have ruled that no formal dress shall be worn by any student before high school level for any school function.

Mrs. Thornton stated that the churches often fail to meet the present day challenge for developing the youth spiritually by neglecting to provide suitable and qualified directing of the social life of the teenage membership.

Mrs. Alvis Fuqua, wife of the Dimmitt high school principal, served refreshments of spiced tea or coffee with a variety of sweet dainties from a table beautifully laid with a lace cloth centered with an arrangement of fall flowers in shades of red and gold. The tea was held in the new homemaking cottage at the Dimmitt high school.

Approximately 50 of the 60 members of the chapter were present from Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer Counties. Next meeting will be a 9:30 a. m. brunch in the club house at Bovina.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

While this is not a suggestion that everyone toss aside his modern weapon and take to the woods with a muzzle-loader, anyone who hasn't had the experience of hunting with one of these dirty guns has really missed something. And, there'd probably be fewer shots at game missed if everyone did use a muzzle-loader. For one thing, you can seldom make more than one miss per head, herd, bird or covey sighted—for the simple reason that even if you can still see your game after reloading, it would be too far away. On the other hand, the weapon with the greatest potential for misses is probably the autoloader. Knowing that only one shot is possible with a muzzle-loader, more than likely makes judicious and better shots out of those who have a tendency toward reckless let-offs. An element is injected into the hunt that most people have forgotten or never experienced; a greater premium is put on skill in stalking and evaluating a shot.

There are a number of newly-made replicas available. Among the old weapons of modern manufacture are percussion, double-barreled shotguns, as well as percussion and flintlock pistol and flintlock muskets. You can also get powder flasks and all kinds of accessories. Aside from everything else, says Pete Brown, Gun Editor, Sports Afield Magazine, there is a lot of satisfaction in poking black powder and all the other load elements down the muzzle of one of these guns. The payoff comes when you touch or tug it off and get that sustained, throating whoom with the smoke cloud and smell of spent black powder. Shooting black powder produces a sensation on each of the five senses. Not that it appeals to all of them; the taste is not so good, but you never forget it. If you don't

Highlights and Sidelights From Your State Capital

AUSTIN, -- Gov. John Connally has made public the itinerary of his famous guests, President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

They are due in the Lone Star State on November 21 and 22.

The Kennedys will visit San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas and Austin -- in that order.

In San Antonio the President will preside at dedication ceremonies at the Aerospace Medical Center. He will arrive at Kelly Air Force Base about 3 p. m. on November 21.

That evening he will attend a dinner in Houston for Congressman Albert Thomas.

Next morning, Kennedy will be honor guest at a breakfast sponsored by the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce.

At noon, he'll attend a Dallas Citizens Council and Graduate Research Center luncheon in Dallas.

Then he'll fly to Austin, arriving at Bergstrom Air Force Base about 4 p. m. That evening Gov. and Mrs. Connally will honor the Kennedys with a reception at the Mansion. Elected Democratic State officials and their wives will attend.

TICKETS BY THE TON-- Most touted attraction of President Kennedy's Texas trip is the $100-a-plate dinner, which the State Democratic Executive Committee will sponsor in the Austin Municipal Auditorium at 7:30 p. m. on November 22.

An SDEC aide estimates that a ton of invitations -- 60,000 in all -- have been mailed to Democrats over the state.

GOLDWATER WAGON --

State Rep. Dick Morgan of Dallas, chairman of Texas' Draft Goldwater Committee, named Lewis J. Moorman Jr., San Antonio rancher-olman as state finance chairman.

Moorman was state GOP finance chairman during the Nixon - for - President Campaign, and in U. S. Sen. John Tower's race in 1961.

GOP National Committeeman Albert B. Fay of Houston appointed members of the party's Candidates Committee to recruit "a blue-ribbon slate of candidates" for Republican primaries in 1964. They will meet in Dallas on December 12, and for Republican primaries in 1964.

Recruiting Committee includes Fay, Mrs. Ike Kampmann Jr., of San Antonio, State Chairman Peter O'Donnell Jr. of Dallas, Mrs. G. N. McDaniel of Borger, Mrs. Tobin Armstrong of Armstrong, Wilton Fair of Tyler, W. J. Klattenhoff of Slaton, and J. C. Man Jr. of Wichita Falls.

HOSPITAL POLICIES AIDED -- A special committee to review policies in State hospitals was named by the State Board for Hospitals and Special Schools. Action followed disclosures that a convicted kidnapper and former mental patients have worked as doctors at some state institutions.

Dr. Raleigh R. White of Temple said he considered employment by the San Antonio State Hospital of a woman doctor who had served a prison sentence for kidnapping an "error in judgment".

Board Chairman Howard T. Tellepsen of Houston, reacting to newspaper criticism of hiring a former mental patient as a doctor at Wichita Falls State Hospital, pointed to progress made throughout the hospital system.

"Out of a total of some 220 doctors, we have a wonderful, dedicated group of men," Tellepsen commented. "You will find a few sour apples even among personnel of private companies which pay the best salaries, and we don't have a high wage scale compared to private industry."

Tellepsen named Dr. White to the personnel study committee along with Dr. George A. Constant of Victoria and Ward R. Burke of Diboll.

Another committee was named by the Board to select the site for a new school for the mentally retarded, to be located west of the one-hundredth meridian. Members of this committee are C. E. Bentley of Abilene, chairman; Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe; and Walter F. Woodul of Austin.

ADVERTISE TEXAS -- Twenty-seven advertising agencies are interested in handling Texas' $200,000 account to promote travel and tourist spending in the State.

The 27 firms told Texas Tourist Development Agency they want to compete for the privilege of ballyhooing the State's attractions to the world. They represent 20 percent of all agencies contacted. At a November 15 meeting TTDA will determine which firms will be asked to make formal presentation of advertising plans at their next meeting, set for January 16-17.

APPOINTMENTS -- Governor Connally appointed E. W.

Boedeker of Levelland as District Attorney of the 121st Judicial District. He succeeds Morgan L. Copeland who will join the legal department of Gulf Oil Corp. in Midland on December 1. District is composed of Hockley, Cochran, Yoakum, and Terry counties.

Connally also designated Peter Michael Curry of San Antonio as judge of the new 166th District Court of Bexar County, effective February 1. Court was created by the 58th Legislature.

Governor reappointed Judge W. St. John Garwood of Austin, John Peace of San Antonio and Abner McCall of Waco to the Texas Civil Judicial Council. Council was authorized by the Legislature to propose a plan for statewide judicial redistricting.

Earlier, Connally picked Sam Rayburn Bell of Paris, Joseph A. Chandler of Stephenville, J. C. Looney of Edinburg, Charles Prothro of Wichita Falls and Dan C. Looney of Dallas to fill vacancies on the Texas Commission on Higher Education.

House Speaker Byron Tunnell of Tyler appointed Reps. Bill Clayton of Springlake, Henry Fletcher of Luling and Menton Murray of Harlingen to an Interim House Committee on Soil and Water Study. Committee is assigned the task of recommending new methods of conserving soil and water resources.

COURTS SPEAK -- State Supreme Court, reversing itself, agreed to hear arguments on January 8 on Shell Oil Company and Aluminum Company of America suits against the Railroad Commission's oil and gas production formulas. Issue pits major oil firms against independents. Latter now are favored by formulas used in 300 gas fields and nearly 2,000 oil fields, the major oil firms contend.

High court voided a Texas Highway Commission prohibition against use of imported material in State road building and maintenance. Its decision backed up the Third Court of Civil Appeals.

Third Court took under advisement arguments in a suit to halt construction of the giant $65,000,000 Millican Dam on the Navasota River.

Contesting the project are property owners whose land would be flooded by the huge reservoir -- estimated to be twice as large as all seven lakes in the Colorado River chain.

College Station, Bryan and Navasota. . . cities which would be assured long range water supplies. . . are fighting for construction of the dam.

A VERY WET ISSUE -- Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio proposed a bipartisan referendum on whether local option elections should be held on sale of liquor by the drink.

Johnson said he will try to get candidates for governor and Lieutenant-governor to take a

Parmer Gas Users Reject Pioneer Gas Proposal

Entire County Well Represented At Meet

Parmer County farmers, representing every section of the County, held a meeting at the Bovina School cafeteria, Thursday night, November 7th and heard a letter read from C. I. Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company to Bruce Parr, President of Plains Irrigation Gas Users.

The letter suggested that the users agree (1) that 7.45% rate of return based on the fair value which findings were calculated by rate accountants hired by the gas company was a reasonable rate of return for the irrigation farmer, and (2) that the method of allocation used in Docket No. 300 before the Railroad Commission be the basis of any check and study.

The letter from the president of Pioneer was written in response to requests from gas users that Dr. E. A. Steinberger, the rate consultant hired by the High Plains farmers belonging to the gas users, be permitted to check the work papers of the rate accountant hired by Pioneer.

Bruce Parr, president of the Parmer County Gas Users Association and also president of the board of directors of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association addressed the group and explained that the exchange of letters resulted from conferences held with officers of Pioneer by the Plains gas executive committee.

He pointed out to the group that Pioneer was advised at these meetings that before any figures would be accepted by the Association, the basic figures for any conclusions would have to be checked by Dr. Steinberger.

He also pointed out that it would be "entirely unjust and unreasonable to suggest that the gas users or any irrigation farmer be bound by any finding in Docket No. 300 since Pioneer made every effort possible to exclude the farmers from the hearing itself and since no farmer was a party to the suit as such and irrigation rates were not in question at that hearing."

Docket No. 300 was an application by Pioneer to fix a rate to the majority of the cities served by Pioneer.

After much discussion with respect to the letter, the group unanimously voted to recommend to the board of directors of the gas users that the proposals be rejected.

Parr then called on John D. Alkin to bring the Parmer County farmers up to date on the most recent activities of the Association.

Parr explained that he had served on the board of directors and/or the executive committee of the board ever since the organization of the Association and that during that entire period, numerous efforts had been made to compromise what he termed an unreasonable rate being charged for irrigation gas and to substitute "some equitable contract for the ridiculous 30-day agreement presently in effect between Pioneer and Plains Irrigation Gas Users," but that these efforts have come to no avail.

He reviewed the various meetings of the board of directors and the executive committee as well as the meetings with officers of Pioneer during the summer of 1963.

His remarks were followed by a brief summary of the legal complexities involved in the gas users' problems and a brief explanation of the history behind Docket No. 300. A letter from Pioneer was then read to the group.

Alkin explained that the directors of Plains Gas Users had always taken the position that the only thing that farmers wanted or needed was the same protection offered cities, towns and villages under the regulation of the Railroad Commission. It was explained that the sale of irrigation gas to farmers by Pioneer constitutes an unregulated monopoly permitting Pioneer to charge any price they desire for irrigation gas.

W. L. Edelman expressed his appreciation on his own behalf and for the farmers of the county for the work done by the officers, directors and committees of the board of directors of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, and expressed the opinion that "if the board continues to use good judgment and leaves no stone unturned the farmers in the High Plains will ultimately gain the right to obtain natural gas at a fair price."

Americans Buy Meats Confidently

Americans can have confidence in the meat they buy in today's markets, says Ed Uvecek, livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

It is examined for wholesomeness by means of an inspection system and has been systematically graded to indicate quality differences, he says. Inspection and grading are the two most important areas in the marketing of livestock and meat in this country.

A new Texas A&M University Extension leaflet, L-585, explains each inspection stamp used in the state and the differences in the U. S. Federal meat grades. The various inspection stamps are examined in detail and the meaning of the lettering on each is explained. The publication also traces the recent changes which have occurred in the Federal grades for each species. A special section explains the USDA dual grading system which was in effect for a one year trial period, from July 1962 to July 1963. The USDA is presently proposing that the yield grade portion of the dual system be incorporated into the old grading system.

A copy of this leaflet can be obtained from your county agricultural agent or by writing the Department of Agricultural Information, College Station, Texas.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

'THE PRETTIEST FALL I HAVE EVER SEEN'

Those were the words of just one Parmer County farmer last week, but they are representative of the attitude of every farmer on the irrigated High Plains.

Although the growing season is "officially" over with the first frosts occurring last week, the blessings of sunshine and dry weather are still with the area.

Parmer County area farmers have needed no urging to get into action with the advent of this extremely helpful attitude on the part of Mother Nature.

They have blitzed the 225,000-acre grain sorghum crop with an army of combines and trucks that may well set another record in speedy harvest -- and in recent years the time has been whittled to almost an eyeblink compared to a generation ago.

By the middle of this week, harvest is expected to be approximately three-fourths completed. Grain is going on the ground in every community in the area, as filled-up storage and an excrecating shortage of boxcars for shipping out leaves warehousemen and farmers with no alternative but to "rick it".

Cotton has opened beautifully now that it has felt the sting of frost, and although wholesale stripping is perhaps another week or two away, enough cotton from hand-pulled fields and early-maturing fields suitable for stripping is coming in to keep the gins turning.

If cotton maintains its present excellent condition--and again, weather is the determinant here--the stripping machines are expected to duplicate the feat of the grain combines and harvest the 1963 cotton crop in record time.

The gold star 4-H boy and girl were selected at the county achievement program Saturday night. This means that they were outstanding in their project work and 4-H activities. Janis Billingsley and John Gulley are 1963 Gold Star winners in Parmer County.

The success of a boy or girl in 4-H work depends to a large extent on his or her parents interest in helping the youngster decide on projects which will best suit the family and home situation.

A good example of parent interest is found in the Leon Billingsley family. Janis is the fourth gold star winner in this family, her mother was a gold star winner and 4-H member and is now a 4-H leader, the grandmother of Janis, Mrs. E. W. McGuire was also a 4-H club leader.

Now that the 4-H achievement program is over, thoughts turn to 1963 plans and projects. Meetings will be held this month to enroll new members where accompanied by parents. For those not so familiar with 4-H work there may be questions like these.

What is 4-H? This may be answered by saying "it is a group of young people learning to work and plan together under skilled leadership."

Who is eligible? Any boy or girl whether town or rural between the ages of 9-18 may join a 4-H club by agreeing to work on a project and follow 4-H ideals and standards. The main requirement is a willingness to learn by doing.

What do they do? They carry on a wide variety of projects in agriculture, home economics, citizenship, and personal development. Developing character and good citizenship are long range goals.

Who's behind it? The 4-H program is part of the nationwide educational system of the cooperative extension service of the US Department of Agriculture, the state land-grant colleges, and county government. Local people, public spirited men and women serve as volunteer leaders trained and assisted by county extension agents in carrying out project work.

Meetings - Democracy in Action: Here boys and girls learn and practice the fundamentals of four form of government. The educational part of a club meeting centers around individual projects and activities. Most of the work is centered around the home and family.

Your county agents located in the courthouse at Farwell can tell you how to get a 4-H club started or give further information on club work.

It's cotton-pickin' time in Parmer County, and a boy learns a lot about the work there is to do in the world when he's got a cotton sack over his shoulder. This is Jerry Ancira of Bovina who has weighed in his harvest and is unloading it into a trailer.

Cricket Taylor, Parmer County HD Agent, congratulates Janis Billingsley and John Gulley for being named County 4-H Club Gold Star award winners. Janis is the fourth member of her family to win the coveted award.

Janis Billingsley-John Gulley Named Parmer County Gold Star 4-H Club Award Winners

Selected as 4-H Gold Star girl and boy in Parmer County this year are Janis Billingsley 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Billingsley, Farwell and John Gulley also 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Davis Gulley, Lazbudie.

They were presented with their awards by Joe Harbin, electrification advisor for the Bailey County Electric Coop, assisted by Cricket Taylor and Deryl Coker, local extension service agents, at the 4-H Club achievement program held at Hub Community Center Saturday night.

The gold star award is the highest award to be given a boy or girl on the county level. Janis and John will be honored along with other county gold star winners at the district 4-H club banquet in Amarillo Nov. 16. They will be accompanied to the banquet by their parents, and also Cricket Taylor and Deryl Coker.

Janis Billingsley has been a member of the Oklahoma Lane 4-H club for six years where she has been active in all phases of club work. Her projects include clothing, foods, safety, poultry, and electricity. She is a junior leader and a member of the junior leaders 4-H leadership club. In 1962 she won first place in the district bake show and received a $100 bond.

John Gulley has been a member of the 4-H club for three years. His projects have included soil and water conservation, community improvement, electricity and field crops. He has won first in district on two demonstrations and second on one demonstration. He has presented demonstrations on all projects with the exception of field crops.

Award medals were presented to the highest scoring boy and girl in specific projects and project pins were given to those boys and girls completing project requirements. Adult leaders were presented with leadership pins.

4-H award winners were: Achievement: Katie Blackstone, Dale Blackstone; Beautification of the Home: Bruce Billingsley, Bernhard Binger;

Beef: Bobby Redwine, Dale Schueler, Wayne Schueler; Clothing: Sheree Rundell, Martha Coffey, Tina Rundell;

Dress Revue: Judy Koelzer, Cheryl Kaltwasser; Electric-John Gulley.

Garden: Byron Jamerson. Home Economics: Janis Billingsley, Kathy Coker, Shella Vaughn.

Swine: Timmy Foster, Floyd Schlenker, Sam Morton, James Schlenker.

Public Speaking: Jill Mims; Tractor-Garry Foster.

Rev. J. L. Bass, pastor of First Baptist Church in Farwell, was guest speaker for the evening. He stressed the need of training for service in order to lead a full life and also said training received as a youth was essential for one to achieve his highest potential. "One gets out of life what he puts in," said Rev. Bass.

Master of ceremonies was D. H. Foster, president of the county 4-H council. The 4-H pledge was led by John Gulley and other entertainment was furnished by 4-H clubs from over the county. The numbers included singing, piano selections, accordion numbers and stunts.

Refreshments were served by adult leaders at the close of the evening.

Do Big Shoes Cause Feet To Grow?

The above question was not submitted as a question. The mother told us that her daughter's feet were big because she had worn big shoes.

If she had been in a mood to be reasoned with (which she definitely wasn't) we could have pointed out that Hawaiian children wear no shoes at all most of their young lives but their feet are very short.

We would find it useful if big shoes did cause feet to grow because there are so many parents who would like to see the tiny feet of their children grow.

Until 1907 when the practice was outlawed, the Chinese bound children's feet to keep them small but the binding did not stop growth -- it just directed it so the feet became deformed knobs that would sicken the stomachs of anyone who saw them.

'ROUND THE CLOCK FOR HARVEST

Fall of the year with all of the work involved is a time of joy for all, including the farmer, the elevator owner and the ginner who will each be able to heave a sigh of relief when the harvest is completed and with a smile say "It was well worth the effort," as they realize that their combined efforts have put money into the pockets of each.

It is at this time of year that all other things must be momentarily forgotten as men work round the clock shifts, skipping their usual dally bull sessions at the local coffee shops, where yarns are swapped and football games replayed to the satisfaction of each.

Groans of agony are heard as men postpone the long awaited fishing and hunting trips again and again and weary wives take over the chore of rearing the family signlehandedly for the few short weeks harvest is in progress.

Sleep is something that the bone weary men seem to have heard of in the distant past and meals are often postponed for hours. Yet the echo reverberates from field to elevator and gin "Lets get the harvest out."

For the second consecutive year State Line Grain Co. is operating on a round the clock basis to enable the farmers to bring in the grain as soon as it has been harvested, Bill Dollar, elevator manager, says that ten men man the operation with two five men crews working twelve hour shifts. Where do these men come from? The crews are made up mostly of transient workers who follow the harvest from one locale to another. Normally the elevator employs four men.

Dollar works with both crews and jokingly says, "I am now working 25 hours each day instead of the usual number," adding that his children have almost forgotten what he looks like as he spends so little time at home. The only time he gets home is for meals and most of them are postponed again and again, although he does not recall that he has missed a meal yet. "Sleep is something he could do more of," Dollar said adding that most of his sleeping is done in snatches while standing." The harvest season has been unusually long this year due in part to the weather conditions in the spring with planting delayed in some areas due to lack of moisture and the elements ruining young crops in other areas causing replanting. In addition to this, frost is later than usual this year and some crops can not be harvested until frost falls.

Harvest will be completed in another two or three weeks, believes Dollar. He says that the yield is not as good as in previous years; however by end of the season he estimates that State Line Grain Co. will handle over a million bushels of grain.

Cotton harvest in the area is just beginning with all of the cotton received at area gins during the past weeks of the hand pulled variety. With the fall of a killing frost all of this will change and gins will begin operating on round the clock basis to keep up with the pulling operations, after cotton strippers go into use.

The gin at Oklahoma Lane which has ginned only 50 bales to date is expecting to begin full scale operations in the next two or three weeks. The operation is under supervision of Floyd Coates, gin superintendent who is on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week during ginning season.

Coates is assisted in the operation by two crews, who work in 12 hour shifts. Employed on each of the shifts is a ginner, ginner's helper, two suction men, a yard man, a scale man, two press men and an extra man who fills in where ever he might be needed. The men forget eating and sleeping for the period of time they are on duty.

The Oklahoma Lane Gin Co. co-owned by C. C. Christian, Troy Christian, Wendell Christian and Harold Carpenter maintains a complete service for the area cotton farmer; bringing in Spanish Americans from the valley each season to assist with harvest operations. These men are also used at the gin in different capacities.

All cotton handled by the gin is transported to Bovina with the cotton seed taken by truck to Lubbock. In addition to this the cotton burrs are returned to the farm of the owner to be used as a soil mulch if the owner so desires.

Wendell Christian estimates

Cotton pours through the gin stands at Oklahoma Lane Gin. The peak of the harvest is probably two weeks away as yet.

Through the night the gleam of the yard lights at the elevators and the bobbing lights of loaded trucks pierce the dark of the

that the gin at Oklahoma Lane will handle about 50% of the 4,000 bales ginned there last season due to the shortage in acreage this year. Cotton acreage was cut by the government this year in addition to which the elements did their share in cutting the acreage still more. The yield this year is good considering weather conditions, says Christian.

Grain Sorghum Used In Emergency Feeds

Most of Texas is dry and much of the state is now faced with the problem of poor grazing, says Uel D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

When this condition exists and the total feed intake of cattle must be supplied, probably the cheapest method is to supply energy by feeding sorghum grain, and limit the animal's intake with salt, explains Thompson. And though roughage is expensive and low in energy, some must be provided for proper ruminant digestion, he adds.

There are several alternatives for producers who have no pasture, according to Thompson. They can sell replacements if necessary, wean and sell calves as early as possible, cull low producers and confine animals to traps or drylots and feed them.

A mixture of 34 per cent ground sorghum grain, 33 per cent of a 41 per cent protein supplement, 31 per cent salt, and 2 per cent trace mineralized salt, can be self-fed. Cattle will consume about five pounds of this mixture daily depending on the quality and quantity of the roughage they receive.

However, such a mixture is deficient in Vitamin A, states Thompson. Mature cattle need about 40,000 International Units of Vitamin A per head daily and the synthetic form may be fed, placed in the drinking water or injected into the animal, advises Thompson. It is not advisable to mix the synthetic form with mineral or high salt feed mixtures and to leave it exposed to air, sunlight and heat.

The amounts of roughage fed daily should be limited, due to their high cost and low energy value, and low quality roughages should be ground. Though grinding costs may be too high on other types of roughages, rice hulls must be ground to prevent intestinal irritations, says Thompson.

For more information on feeding of cattle during these times of stress, see your local county agricultural agent or write the Department of Agricultural Information, College Station, and ask for "Emergency Feeding of Livestock," B-218.

COTTON FARMERS LAUNCH MARKET COUNTERATTACK

Cotton farmers launched a determined counterattack yesterday to hold and expand markets for their fiber by approving research and promotion projects calling for expenditures of $2.6 million during 1964.

Projects totaling $1.8 million for promotion and $800,000 for research were announced at a meeting here of trustees for the Cotton Producers Institute, a voluntary organization financed by growers across the Belt.

Trustee Chairman Russell Giffen, Huron, Calif., said promotion projects will seek to better inform U. S. housewives and others on what cotton products have to offer in appearance, performance, comfort and economy. Campaigns are scheduled for the late winter and spring season and next fall.

Mass women's magazines, a national newspaper supplement, network television, trade magazines, and newspaper advertising by local department stores that cooperate in a special retail promotion in major markets will be used.

Aims of research projects are to cut costs of producing cotton, to improve quality of the raw fiber, and to produce new or improved cotton products, Mr. Giffen said.

The trustee executive committee reported recent inspections by its members revealed the Institute's current research projects generally are making good progress. Ten such projects were renewed for another year.

The projects deal with systemic insecticides, nitrogen in fruiting and growth, verticillium wilt disease, men's cotton suits, tests of fiber strength, warm cotton fabrics, biochemistry of the cotton plant, chemical treatment of fabrics, and comparison of cotton's qualities with other fibers.

Funds were budgeted for 11 new projects. They include research on methods of improving:

- (1) luster of cotton fibers,
- (2) chemical weed control in irrigated cotton, (3) herbicide use on Johnsongrass and nutsedge, (4) controlling perennial weeds, (5) cleaning cotton and removing short fibers, (6) biological-chemical insect control, (7) controlling verticillium wilt by systemic fungicides, (8) adaptation of cotton plant to minimum temperatures, (9) soil factors affecting systemic insecticides, (10) fabric development, and (11) forming and shaping cotton garments at will. In reviewing Institute activities for the past year, trustees noted market surveys, conducted in conjunction with its nationwide advertising, show consumers now are more aware of the qualities offered by cotton products. Effectiveness of Institute promotion also has been recognized through a national award.

Mr. Giffen pointed out grower participation in the Institute is expanding in established locations and growers in new areas have plans to organize. "This business plan is making solid progress. However, it is equally obvious that the competitive pressure facing cotton growers is increasing. We therefore must expand participation in the Institute as rapidly as possible," he stated. Texas trustees for the Institute are Roy Davis, Lubbock; LeFoy Durham, Plainview; Roy Forkner, Lubbock; and Jack Funk, Harlingen. Mr. Davis is a member of the executive committee.

16 Wheat Varieties Tested At Halfway

Sixteen varieties of wheat were tested at the High Plains Research Foundation in the 1962-63 season. Delbert Langford, Associate Agronomist at the Foundation, conducted the test at Halfway. Nick Vilim, Chief Chemist for the Producers Grain Corporation, completed the various analyses at the firm's laboratory in Amarillo.

Wheat quality was measured in protein, sedimentation value and in actual bread baking tests.

Results show that good baking quality is not necessarily associated with high protein or sedimentation values or vice-versa. Since the government loan price is set up on a schedule of premiums and discounts based upon protein and sedimentation, some poor quality wheat is bringing premium prices while other good quality wheat varieties are being sold at a discount.

Varieties which rated a premium price based on protein were Ottawa, Bison, Commanche, Triumph, Kaw, Early Blackhull and Caddo. Of these, Ottawa and Early Blackhull were poor in baking quality, and Triumph was only fair. Premium prices, based upon sedimentation values, included Ottawa, Tascosa, Bison, Commanche, Triumph, Kaw Karkof, and Early Blackhull. Again Ottawa, Early Blackhull and Triumph were not graded as "good" in baking quality.

Warrior and Rodco wheat rated discount prices on protein and sedimentation, but scored as "good" quality wheat in actual baking tests. Bison, Commanche and Kaw were the only varieties in the 16 tested that rated premium prices based on both protein and sedimentation which also graded "good" in the baking tests.

Report No. 74 from the High Plains Research Foundation also shows the top yielding wheat varieties during the past three years, plus the agronomic characteristics of these varieties which should be considered in selecting the best variety for profitable wheat production. Oat and barley tests are also included in the report. The research report has been distributed to all farmers and businessmen who give financial support to the Foundation's free enterprise research work.

Dr. Earl Collister, Director of the Foundation, stated that the practical results obtained from the wheat research program at the Foundation will add several million dollars to the economy of the High Plains and Panhandle areas.

Classing Office Samples 136,000 Bales To Date

The Lubbock U. S. Department of Agriculture Cotton Classing Office handled 53,300 samples last week to bring the season's total to 136,300 bales, according to W. K. Palmer, chairman at Lubbock. Mr. Palmer went on to say that at the close of business Friday, the Lubbock office had a carry-over of 12,000 bales.

Joe Brevard, chairman for the Lamesa office, reports 22,700 samples classed with a carry-over of 3,000 bales. The season's total for Lamesa is 69,000 bales.

At Brownfield, Wilburn Reeves stated that 9,700 samples had been classed for that area this week and they had a carry-over of 2,000 bales. To date 26,900 samples have been classed in Brownfield.

All three offices have classed 236,100 bales thus far. Last year on November 8th, 216,000 samples had been classed and there was a carry-over of 10,000 bales.

Average grades showed little change from a week earlier. Middling was the predominant grade classed in Lubbock, Middling Light Spotted was the main grade classed in Lamesa and Brownfield.

The percentages for the cotton classed in Lubbock were: 37 per cent Middling, 25 per cent Strict Low Middling, 18 per cent Middling Light Spotted, and 6 per cent Strict Low Middling Light Spotted. The other 14 per cent consisted of grades ranging from Strict Middling to Strict Low Middling Spotted.

The average staple ranged from 29.7 thirty-seconds of an inch at Lamesa to 30.2 at Lubbock. In Lubbock 15/16 inch was the predominant staple with 56 per cent. Fourteen per cent was 29/32 inch and 31/32 inch accounted for 23 per cent. Six per cent was 1 inch or longer.

Micronaire readings were excellent with 84 per cent 3.5 and above at Brownfield, 87 per cent at Lubbock and 98 per cent at Lamesa.

Market activity has been slow. The best demand was for light spotted grades of staple lengths ranging from 29/32 inch to 31/32 inch. Prices were quoted in the local markets at 25 to 50 points above the loan value. Middling 1 inch was still quoted at 32.50 cents per pound in the Lubbock market. Other prices were Middling Light Spotted 15/16 inch 30.10, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 inch 30.55, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 inch 29.00 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 inch 29.00 and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 inch 29.25.

Bin yard prices for cotton seed are generally $52.00 to $55.00 per ton. Sacked cottonseed meal ranged from $75.00 to $78.00 per ton. Bulk cottonseed hulls ranged from $22.00 to $25.00 per ton.

Screwworm Danger Not Over As Yet

The worst of the fall screwworm season may be over, but the danger period is far from being past, officials of the Southwest Screwworm Eradication Program have warned.

The dry weather which has been plaguing much of Texas has helped keep native screwworm fly populations down, eradication workers said. However, infestations could appear in many areas of the state that are now screwworm-free, if considerable rain is received and cold weather doesn't help keep down fly migrations.

The number of infestations reported to eradication headquarters at Mission last week was less than half of what it was three weeks ago. Counties reporting the most cases are those that have had some rain in recent weeks, officials pointed out.

Eradication workers said nearly all of the cases are located in the southern parts of the state where screwworms have been known to be able to survive year-round. This makes it even more important that livestock producers take all precautionary steps to prevent additional cases from developing, they stated.

Measures recommended by eradication program experts that will aid in the battle to eliminate the screwworm from the Southwest include frequent inspection of livestock, treatment of wounds with smears and sprays and collection of samples from infested wounds so that positive identification of the insect can be made. Sexually sterile screwworm flies are released near farms and ranches where screwworms are reported. The sterile males mate with native females, thus causing the eggs that are laid to be infertile and incapable of hatching.

Farm-City Week November 22-28

Accomplishments of farmers and agribusiness groups will be related to city dwellers as a part of the observances in Texas and other states of National Farm-City Week, November 22-28. Activities designed to give rural and urban residents a better understanding of their respective roles in today's complicated and competitive world will be included in the observances, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Nationally, Kiwanis International is coordinating agency for the Farm-City Week observance. Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde and Calvin Pigg of Renner have been named co-chairmen for Texas. They are encouraging widespread participation in activities which will encourage better understanding and neighborliness between urban and rural citizens.

Officials of the Extension Service point out that county Extension agents, 4-H Club members and leaders and county program building committees are putting the final touches on plans to participate in community and county activities. They will also cooperate with other groups and organizations, such as civic clubs, chambers of commerce, women's clubs, farm organizations, commodity groups and others.

The Extension officials and co-chairmen point out that agriculture in Texas, as well as the nation, is a dynamic industry. Last year in Texas the total value of agricultural products amounted to more than either the total manufacturing payroll, the total construction awards or the total retail trade payroll.

Texas annually produces crops valued at about one and a third billion dollars and livestock and livestock products with a value of more than one billion dollars. The total of all agricultural sales plus the value of products used at home brings the figure to $2,447,000,000. Only oil produces a larger annual dollar, they say, and agriculture is the oil industry's largest customer.

What To Look For In A Ready-to-Cook Turkey

It's almost gobbletime again and every homemaker should know some of the basic rules for buying turkey, says F. Z. Beanblossom, poultry marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The first consideration when buying ready-to-cook turkeys is the amount of turkey to buy and whether to buy a whole turkey or a turkey roll, says the specialist. Whichever the choice, the homemaker should consider cost on the basis of the edible portion of the pounds bought to get a true picture of the cost of each, he says.

When deciding the amount of turkey needed, she must also take into consideration the number of people to be served and whether she wants to have leftovers. When buying whole turkeys allow about 1/2 to 3/4 pound per person, and about five to eight ounces of uncooked turkey roll or five to six ounces of cooked roll per person, explains Beanblossom.

Quality and wholesomeness is the next consideration in buying turkey, he says. The bird should have a broad breast, large drumsticks, and bulging thighs, be well covered with fat over the body and be fully fleshed. It should be free of defects such as torn skin, bruises, and broken bones, and should be free of pinfeathers.

Wholesomeness means the condition of the bird as to cleanliness, freedom from disease and completeness of processing, says Beanblossom. If processed under USDA supervision, tags on the wings of the birds will show their grade and that they have been inspected for wholesomeness, he adds.

Are You Prepared For An Emergency?

How well are you prepared to meet an emergency? Could your family survive in case of a natural or man-made disaster?

The answers to these questions are vital to all Americans today and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service has two new bulletins that will aid you in preparing for such emergencies should they occur.

"Family Survival Plan," MP-666 and "Emergency Food and Water," MP-665, may be obtained from your local county agricultural agent or the Agricultural Information Department, College Station.

The "Family Survival Plan" says that planning is important to the family's safety and says that plans should include provisions for an adequate supply of food and water and medical supplies. The plan should also inform members of the family of their responsibilities in case of an emergency and should provide for continuing study and training to better prepare them for any possibility.

Included in the bulletin is information on how the community will be warned, and a chart of what duties each family member should assume during an emergency. Shelter plans, protection factors, and shelter supplies and equipment are also considered.

"Emergency Food and Water" suggests that a 14-day supply of food be provided for big disasters or just the unexpected visit of guests for dinner. The bulletin discusses radiation effects, decontamination, storage methods, special foods, foods for infants and other factors concerning provisions for an emergency. Examples of food and water inventories are also given.

Preparation for disasters must be made before the need arises and these bulletins can help you get ready. Get a copy of them soon, before you need them.
