SIXTY-NINTH YEAR

When it did rain it poured on the Twin Cities. As unaccustomed as we are to heavy rains it is always a revelation when the curbs overflow and unexpected lakes form around the area.

It has been a goodly number of years since we experienced a good two and a half to three inch rain in a several hour time span. It also adds to the local discomobulation when the fire sirens shorts out and all the locals think a twister is about to wish 'em away.

There are all sorts of tornado advice to heed, but we think the most logical move is the suggestion to jump in the bathtub in lieu of any underground shelter. From the looks of the traffic Friday evening most folks just wanted to get in their cars and leave the area. This is not a recommended procedure for several good and cogent reasons. We prefer the bathtub advice.

This weekend is a big one for our New Mexico neighbor, Clovis. They will have their big Pioneer Day celebration Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. They will have their P.R.C.A. Rodeo each night at 8 p.m. MDT and wind up with a Saturday full of activities. The big street parade will kick off from Hilltop Plaza at 10 a.m. MDT on Saturday morning. There will be a mass balloon ascension, a chili cookoff and numerous activities spread out all day. A visit to the rodeo and to the other activities will be well worth it for the entire family.

The Texas legislature adjourned Monday night after spending almost $27 billion of the taxpayers' money. They were only able to reach this plateau after some figure juggling by State Comptroller Bob Bullock in his estimate of future state income. Over half of this huge sum went to education and even at that some carpenter that it was too little.

Many bills were passed but one that vitally affected our area was not passed. The bill to exempt Gasohol from the state fuel tax for a short period of time did not get voted upon. Two senators filibustered the time away and it could not get a vote on the Senate floor.

It does seem odd that many seemingly unimportant bills can get passed but some really big ones get stuck in the legislative process. Legislative bodies are the but of much wit, satire and down right dirty cracks. This past one in Texas earned all the snide remarks it can get.

There is hope yet for the Gasohol exemption bill because the legislature also failed to pass the State Redistricting act that it must do by next year. The Governor can call a special session and include this bill in that special session. We suggest that interested persons write the Governor and ask him to include this in the special session he must call.

There are few things more difficult than the art of making advice agreeable.

Anything scarce is valuable; praise, for example!

Elks' Flag Day Ceremony Set At Fire Station

Members of the Clovis-Portales Elks Lodge have planned a special Flag Day ceremony June 14 in recognition of the new Texico Fire Station.

The lodge will present a new U.S. flag to the members of the volunteer fire department during special ceremonies conducted by its members at 4 p.m. MDT.

Texico mayor John R. Hadley is to be on hand to address the audience.

The Elks present a United States Flag to worthy organizations and groups each year on Flag Day, according to Earl Turville, lodge member.

Austin Delegation

Bert Williams (left) and Guy Austin (right) have spent considerable time and money during the past three months in Austin trying to get passage of the Motor Fuels Tax Exemption bill. The two local farmers met extensively with senators, congressmen and committee chairman, including

Speaker of the House Bill Clayton (center left) and Reagan Brown, Commissioner of Agriculture, (center right). The fuels tax bill was filibustered to its death this week and the two Farwell men are now clinging to the hope that the bill proposal can be placed on a special session agenda this summer. If not, "we're pretty well dead ducks in my opinion," said Austin, adding that construction of the proposed gasohol plant in the State of Texas will be impossible without the tax exemption bill passage.

by Mary Sobin

"This is ten times more serious than most people realize," said Guy Austin of Farwell, chairman of the High Plains GPI Cooperative, concerning the filibustered death of the proposed Motor Fuels Tax exemption legislation in the Texas State Senate this week.

"We had the votes, on both sides (referring to the house and senate) we only had 15 votes against us," he explained, "but a Mr. Parker and a Mr. Ogg, good road construction people, got us into a filibuster. The Lt. Governor saw what was happening and since it was the last day of the session, he went on to other matters before it could come up for final vote. And our business was left untouched."

Austin is greatly grieved at the unpassed exemption tax bill, and should rightly be so. He and Farwellite Bert Williams, a GPI cooperative board member, have been to the state capitol nine times in the last several weeks, paying for two lobbyists, meeting with senators, congressmen, and committee chairman, "educating" them on the gasohol plant, projects fuel costs for as little time as two years from now, and area agriculture.

"We've probably spent $15,000 from our co-op," he said. "We really worked hard at educating these people. We tried to tell them it will be impossible for this area to raise a grain crop in two years as fuel costs are expected to double by 1983. We won't be able to pump water on the grain with higher costs," Austin said.

All is not lost, however, as both Austin and Williams are hoping to get their bill on the agenda of the expected special session, which is predicted to be called for soon by Governor Bill Clements.

"We are sure that the governor is going to call a special session," Austin said. "Now our next step is to get him to put this gasohol bill on the special session agenda. We've got to get senators and representatives to talk to the governor."

Austin, a local farmer, explained that once the bill is placed on the special session agenda, the process of voting starts all over again. It's as if the previous efforts had never taken place. "But we've got the people educated now," he said optimistically. "We could get it on the floor in just one day. We've got the speaker of the house, Bill Clayton, on our side, and you just can't imagine how important that is."

While Austin is still clinging to the hope that the bill will be introduced again in special session, he still puts forth a grim attitude. "If it doesn't pass, we're pretty well dead ducks in my opinion. The gasohol plant is nearly going to be impossible to build in the state of Texas without this tax exempt bill," he said matter of factly, adding that "every state around us has this bill, 26 states in all. We were asking for a much less exemption than any of the other 26, too."

Austin has stated that the exemption, five cents from every gallon, is necessary to allow plants to be built and begin production whereby gasohol, a blend of 90 percent unleaded gasoline and 10 percent ethanol, could be immediately priced competitively with gasoline at the pump.

Once the bill is approved, Austin said that within two years three Texas plants will be producing 85 million gallons of ethanol annually.

Most of the gasohol sold in Texas today is produced using

Plans Progressing For Big Celebration

The Border Town Days Committee met Monday night at the Jaycee building in its third planning session of the year for the Twin Cities annual celebration set for July 24 and 25.

Reports were heard from organizations and committee chairmen that all LTD plans were progressing on schedule. The community event is planned in conjunction with the High Plains Junior Rodeo which is sponsored annually by the Farwell Jaycees. Performances are scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights, July 24 and 25, at 8 o'clock at the Farwell Arena east of town.

Fun-filled events scheduled include the parade, rodeo, barbecue, LTD Queen contest, beard contest, Old Fiddlers, arts and crafts show, and a host of park activities to delight everyone - young and old alike.

Theme of this year's celebration is "Pride in Our Progress" and committee members urged clubs and groups to plan to enter a float in the LTD parade and to use this theme where practical.

Texico-Farwell Lions Club is in charge of the parade and Don Gerles is parade marshal. Assistant parade marshal is Mike Norris. Parade entrants are urged to sign up now. Call Gerles at 481-9981, or call the State Line Tribune at 481-3681 to assure a place in the line-up. To be eligible for a prize the entry must be signed up.

Farwell Chamber is sponsoring the float prizes of $50 for first place, $30 for second and $20 for third, and is also sponsoring the riding group trophies. Texico Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the antique car trophies, and T & A Welding of Texico is presenting monetary prizes for the best decorated bicycles.

The barbecue, co-sponsored by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club and the Farwell Jaycees, will begin at 12 noon CDT in the Farwell City Park and serving will continue until everyone is served. Tickets are now available from Rotary members at a cost of $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children, drink included.

One of the highlights of the park activities will be the Border Town Days Queen contest. Contestants eligible are all girls who will attend either Farwell or Texico high schools during the 1981-82 school year.

Each contestant must have a sponsor which may be either a club, business or individual. The entry fee is $10. Entrants will be judged on the basis of personality and talent.

Out-of-town judges will be used, says Joann Getz, contest chairman. She will be assisted by Texico Women's Club members Vickie Chumley and Vicky Lynn, and Farwell Study Club members Frances Kube and Gertrude Foster.

Girls are urged to enter now. An entry blank is printed elsewhere in this week's issue or they may contact any of the above women to enter the contest to be the new LTD Queen.

The second annual beard contest is well underway as is evident by all the whiskered gents around the community. All contestants had to be clean shaven on May 25, but they may still enter the contest if desired. For those men who do not wish to grow a beard, shave permits may be obtained for $1.00. The plastic encased shave permits are now being printed and will be available soon from Ridley Lonsdale at the local barber shop.

Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority and Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority are in charge of coordinating the park activities. Anyone interested in establishing a booth at the park should contact Cynthia Thigpen at 481-3619 days or 481-9355 nights, or Joyce Williams at 825-2444 or Margaret Aycock at 481-3885. Spaces may be rented at the park for $5.

The second annual Arts and Crafts show will be set up on the front courthouse lawn and spaces are available at $10 a booth. Spaces may be reserved by contacting Janie Bowery at 481-3620 or 481-9251.

The LTD Committee is also trying to arrange for an added special attraction for Saturday, and if anyone has a suggestion, contact John Getz, committee chairman.

And last, but not least, will be the usual hand-clapping and toe-tapping music of Ed and Juanita Hardage throughout the day on Saturday at the park.

BTD Booth Planners

Margaret Aycock, left, and Cynthia Thigpen have been busy planning booth space for the upcoming Border Town Days celebration slated for July 24 and 25. Persons, clubs and organizations wishing to obtain concession stand or game booth space at Farwell City Park during the celebration should call Mrs. Aycock, who is representing Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, at 481-3885, or

Mrs. Thigpen, who is representing Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, at 481-3619. Park spaces are available at a $5 fee. Spaces reserved to date include a cold drink and sno-cone booth; tea and lemonade booth; water polo game space; helium balloon concession; corn on the cob concession; and a dunking booth.

Higher Costs Expected For 1983 Electric Bills

Joe Harbin, member services director for the Bailey County Electric Cooperative, predicts electric costs for the farmer in 1983 to increase to approximately six to seven cents per kilowatt hour.

"Currently the costs are running about five cents per kilowatt hour," he explained. "The irrigation farmer pays about four and one-half cents, including a fuel adjustment charge."

The services director said that his company projects a cost of approximately six and one-half cents in 1983 for the irrigation farmer.

"Currently we buy all of our power from Public Service but our contract with them expires in November 1982," he said. "They have said they will not automatically renew the current contract but will negotiate with us, so really we don't know exactly what our costs will be in 1983. All we have to go by is history and projections made by our auditors and consultants."

Explaining further, Harbin said, "Fuel costs are the advancing thing," adding, "it can advance drastically into a pretty high figure."

On a positive note, he said his company will not have a rate change in 1981 or 1982. The change, he explained, is expected to come when the contract runs out.

School Board Accepts Resignations, Budget

The budget for the 1981-82 school year and four faculty/staff resignations were accepted by the Farwell School Board Monday night during a special budget hearing conducted at the superintendent's office.

Following a discussion of each area on the budget, members approved the $1,300,000 amount. Voting for the budget were Richard Haseloff, Bill Martin, Eddie Corn, and Caroline Anderson. Voting against was Joe Hughes.

Three faculty members submitted their resignations to the school board including high school teacher and athletic coach, Royce Baker, second grade teacher, Jean Patschke; and migrant program director and teacher, Becky Norton.

Elementary school secretary Terry Baker also submitted her resignation to the school board.

All four resignations were accepted.

Kindergarten aide Eva Ancira will be transferred to the elementary school as a teacher's aide and library aide and to work in the bilingual program following action taken by the board members. Mrs. Ancira's salary is to remain on the pay grade for Aide II.

Newly-hired football coach and athletic director Bruce Dollar asked for permission to open the school's gymnasium from 7:30-10 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday and Thursdays. Dollar also suggested that a charge be made for groups wanting to use the gym.

Those attending the gathering were Wilbert Kalbas, Joe Hughes, Richard Haseloff, Bill Martin, Eddie Corn, and Caroline Anderson. Board member Billy Mayfield was absent from the session.

Also attending were W.M. Roberts, James Craig, Jerry Owen, Bruce Dollar, Don Malone, Richard Montgomery, Ed Wees and David Gobble.

Postmaster, Carrier Get 25-Year Pins

Two Texico postal workers were honored by their superiors recently for contributing 25 years of service to the United States Postal Service. Postmaster Louise Engram and rural route carrier Loren Wilson each received letters of thanks and a 25-year pin from the U.S. Postal Service.

Mrs. Engram began her postal career in 1955 as a substitute clerk at Texico before being named its new postmaster in 1965. She was presented her 25-year pin at the May 14 district meeting by her superior officer, Kenneth Primrose.

"The good reputation of the Postal Service is built on the loyalty and dependability of persons like you," said Primrose in his letter to Mrs. Engram. "I am happy to commend you for the long-term contribution you have made."

Wilson began his work with the postal service as a rural route carrier on Texico's route two. He passed his 25-year mark this past February and was presented his 25-year pin from Mrs. Engram this week. Wilson is now the carrier for Texico's route one.

The pins represent a new recognition program by the Postal Service called the National Service Award. The program recognizes employees who have served 25 and 35 years.

"As far as I know we both plan to keep on working," said Mrs. Engram with a smile, indicating that her career is far from over.

ethanol made either in Illinois or Brazil, as there are currently no major ethanol producing plants in Texas, which is one reason gasohol is not more widely marketed in Texas.

Tommy Harbert, chairman of Northwest Texas Grain Cooperatives of Dumas, said, "Everyone stands to gain by the expanded use of gasohol," adding, "ethanol can be a domestically-derived, renewable resource which would help our country free itself from the exploitative whims of oil producing nations."

"It burns in automobiles just as well as gasoline, and in many ways even more efficiently, with no required modifications," he said.

Harbert also said that consumers should benefit as soon as the bill is passed and signed into law by seeing gasohol prices drop, and farmers will have a stable market at a fair price for their goods.

What the bill is running up against are road construction and repair people who feel that the exemption will take funds away from them.

"But it won't affect their money," Austin promised. "We've tried to explain that to them. When the road tax funds are not enough for their work, the money comes out of the general fund. Our tax will not affect them at all."

Austin had high praise for those supporting the bill, including the Farmer's Union, E.T. Manning of Shamrock and especially Bill Sarpalius and Bill Clayton. "We've had a good unified effort," he said. "We really had good support

Streets Flooded - -

Much Rain, Some Hail Cause Area Crop Damage

The streets became flooded, some crops were damaged or washed away and many persons panicked at the sound of the Farwell tornado siren during the downpour last Friday and Saturday in the Twin Cities, a rain that dumped approximately three inches in this area.

The wetness began with a slow drizzle Friday afternoon, but by evening the streets were inches deep in water. The downpour caused the Farwell fire siren to short out, setting off the blaring tornado signal. Many persons bundled up their families and belongings and headed for shelter.

Joel White, Farwell fire chief, reports that the station phone literally rang off the hook with persons inquiring about the signal. It was a false alarm however, and soon calm was restored.

According to one report, when the signal went off the weather conditions seemed perfect for a tornado warning, and that is why many persons were so alarmed.

Fred Chandler at Sherley-Anderson-Pitman in Farwell reports that this area received three inches during the weekend rain, as well as a little hail. According to Chandler, the bigger part of the hail was sighted south of Stuckey's and a little north of Texico.

It is reported that the rain-hail caused some damage to wheat, washed away some cotton and set the corn crop back a bit.

However, Parmer County Extension Agent Seth Ralston said that he feels the heavy moisture will be of more benefit to the wheat crop in the long run, "to help the grain start to fill out and be a little bit better crop," he said.

"The rain was super for the corn," he remarked, "but it probably washed out a lot of acres of cotton, some may have to be replanted."

Ralston said he had reports of four to five inches of rain in the Farwell-Oklahoma Lane area, and one to two inches in Bovina-Friona area. There were also reports of hail in the Lazbuddie area.

The extension agent believes that there was not much damage by hail to the wheat crop, which will be ready to harvest in a few weeks. "It still wasn't mature enough to cause it to shatter," he said.

Ralston also remarked that the rain came too late to help the dryland wheat.

In Lariat, Lonnie McFarland at Sherley-Anderson grain elevator said his area received "just a nice slow rain," with no crop damage and no hail. He reports receiving one inch of the wet stuff and said, "it helped" referring to the area crops.

Texico's weather recorder, Walter Curd, said his area received 2.9 inches and a small amount of hail "that didn't last long."

Records kept by Floyd Coates of Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply indicate that the area received .6 of moisture and no hail.

So while we waited and waited all month for the moisture, the clouds finally dumped their goods at the end of the month. "May is usually our wet month, but this year it all came at the very end," said Ralston, "so next year when we look at this month's rain amounts it will be a bit deceiving because it will all be lumped into one amount and won't read that 90 percent of it came on the last day of the month!"

Flooded Streets

Only the big cars and trucks managed to make their way through some of Farwell's flooded streets last weekend following the three-inch downpour of rain. "Lake First Street" probably had the most accumulation, and cars and trucks were forced to slow to a snails pace "wading" their way. Some crop damage was reported following the rain, especially to the young and tender cotton plants, many of which were washed away in the heavy rains. Wheat is expected to survive the heavy water accumulation, but the corn crop has probably suffered a small setback, according to Parmer County Extension Agent Seth Ralston.

Sheriff's Report

Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan reported four incidences that his department investigated this past week, including two cases of vandalism and two thefts.

E.A. Walker of Farwell reported to the sheriff's department that the padlock on the newspaper rack outside the Farwell post office had been broken. No money was missing.

The second vandalism incident involved a pickup belonging to Mike Haseloff of Farwell who reported that the vent glass window had been broken. The vehicle was parked outside his home and the incident was believed to have occurred May 28 or 29, Morgan said.

Mary Kay Hays of Clovis reported her billfold stolen from the Farwell Convalescent Center. Contained in the wallet was approximately $180 in cash and several credit cards.

Ronald Minyen of Bovina reported a 12x7 aluminum hydrant and 24-inch No. 55 PTO drive shaft stolen from his property located three miles north of the Pleasant Hill crossroads. The stolen items have a $350-400 value, according to Morgan who said the theft is believed to have occurred sometime within the last two or three weeks.

Roberts Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts heard three cases this past week, two involving driving while intoxicated and one possession of marijuana less than two ounces.

Mario Lopez, 28 of Tucson was charged with DWI, fined $150 plus court costs, sentenced to 20 days in county custody and given a deferred judgement.

Russel Kinder, 18, of Amarillo was charged with possession of marijuana, less than two ounces, and fined $150 plus court costs and sentenced to three days in county custody.

John Franklin McKinney, 33, of Amarillo was charged with DWI and fined $150 plus court costs and sentenced to 20 days in jail and given a deferred judgement.

from senators and congressmen. It was the filibuster that hurt us."

Austin has said that the plant project he is working on is expected to be a $78 million project and he feels that if the tax exemption tax is passed "it would be almost a no risk venture."

Ethanol is produced by distilling either sugar or starch-containing products. Most commonly used are livestock feed corn, wheat, rice, milo and other cereal grains.

The food value of the grains is not lost, since only the starch or sugar is removed. All the protein remains, leaving a high quality feed as a valuable by-product.

Austin explained that each of the 1,600-farm family members of the cooperatives have contracted to sell a pre-determined amount of grain to the plants to guarantee stable production.

Representative Dan Kubiak, (D-Rockdale), sponsored the legislation in the House. His district includes Hutto, where the Central Texas Grain Products Cooperative is headquartered.

Senate sponsor was Senator Bill Sarpalius (D-Hereford) whose district includes Dumas and Muleshoe where the Northwest and High Plains Grain Products Cooperatives are located.

Parmer Book Committee Seeks More Histories

Grace Whitefield, co-chairman of the Parmer County Historical Commission, announces that although the general history and family history sections have already been submitted to the printers for the upcoming second edition of the Parmer County History Book, memorials, tributes and business histories are still being accepted for print. "Those who have not submitted a memorial, tribute or business history should hurry up and do so," she said. "The rates are as previously announced; $180 for a full page, $100 for a half page, and $60 for a quarter page."

The next meeting for the historical commission was to have been June 4 (Thursday) at the United Congregational Church beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Yield Predictions Fair For Wheat Harvest

Predictions for the upcoming wheat harvest are a bit bleak, according to Parmer County Extension Agent Seth Ralston, who says the long dry winter which produced little to no snow took its toll of the area wheat crop.

wheat being harvested now, and irrigated crops will begin harvest in about two weeks, according to Ralston.

"People are already getting cranked up now, getting their trucks and equipment ready," he said, "harvest is getting closer."

"I'm afraid some of the crop may not yield what producer expectations are," he said, adding that in addition to the dryness, some fields showed signs of stress and disease.

Prentice Mills of Farwell, ASCS office executive director, said that this year's wheat harvest should be "average to fair" and added that it won't be a bumper crop, which is what is to be expected following the recent long dry winter.

Dryland wheat harvest is set to begin in about one week's time, with some New Mexico

Last weekend's rain should not have been too damaging to the wheat, "unless there was some hail," said the extension agent, "but the wheat wasn't mature enough to cause it to shatter."

Ralston predicts a "pretty poor" yield average of 8-12 bushels for dryland wheat and 35-50 bushel average of irrigated crop.

He also said that last weekend's moisture may be of some benefit to the crops "to help the grain start to fill out and be a little better crop."

Turning To Gold

Area wheat producers are starting to trunk up" for the upcoming wheat harvest, getting their trucks and equipment ready. According to Parmer County Extension Agent Seth Ralston, dryland wheat will be ready for harvest in about one week and harvest time for irrigated crops will begin in about two weeks. Last week's heavy rain should not have been too damaging to the crop and Ralston feels it may have been beneficial, causing the grain to start to fill out and be a bit better crop.

Employee Records To Parmer County

Parmer County Commissioners Court, at its May 22 meeting, accepted an agreement from District Judge Jack Young concerning the personnel of the Adult Probation Department who had formerly been employed by the 154th Judicial District and are now part of the 287th Judicial District because of the recent split in the districts and the creation of the 287th.

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts explains that the agreement means nothing more than all probation department employees' records will now be kept in Parmer County instead of Bailey County where they have been.

"Parmer is the most populous county within the 287th Judicial District," explained Roberts, "and that is why the records are being transferred here."

The record keeping involves only four persons, two from Muleshoe and two from Farwell.

The transfer of the records will cost Parmer "a bit more" yearly in matching funds for retirement, says Judge Roberts.

The employee's records include retirement, hospitalization and insurance data.

In other business taken at their meeting, a discussion was conducted with Sheriff Bill Morgan concerning problems he is having with his 1977 Chrysler automobile. It was decided by the Court that instead of spending a large amount of money for repairs, the vehicle should be replaced. Advertisement for bids to replace this vehicle will begin soon with bids to be opened June 22 at 11 a.m.

In previous bids made to the Commissioners Court, only one was received for the shredder advertised for by Precinct One. The court members voted to accept this bid by Peek Industrial Tractor Parts Company of Amarillo in the amount of $6,420 for the shredder, plus an estimated installation cost of $450.

Bills paid by the Commissioners Court include $270 boarding care bill for Dora Fields, an amount to be reimbursed to the County monthly.

Another bill for some dental work, also for Dora Fields, of which $380 has already been paid by Medicaid was received by the Court. The members voted to pay the part of the bill not covered by Medicaid in the amount of $61.86.

In monies received, a notation was made of the receipt of a check in the amount of $1,248.03 as Parmer's 26.66 percent share of the sale of the Bookmobile vehicle to Ector County.

Appearing before the court were Buttons Howard of Farwell telling about a fuel additive which he sells, and County Extension Agents Seth Ralston and Laura Jacobs who gave reports on their respective offices.

The following soil conservation work was approved, ratified and confirmed:

Prec. #2 - Elvin Johnston, Owen Seamonds, Robert Read, Don Fortenberry and A.L. Hartzog.

Before adjourning, a resolution was approved by the Court concerning soil conservation work. It reads as follows:

RESOLUTION

Whereas, the County has road equipment and machinery that is not totally demanded for service and upkeep of County roads,

And, whereas, there is a dire need for soil conservation work to be performed in this County,

And, whereas, various written requests have been received from various land owners for soil conservation work in the past and for future work,

And, whereas, most of the requested soil conservation work will be beneficial to the maintenance of the County roads by keeping irrigation water out of the roads,

Be it hereby resolved that the road equipment and machinery of Parmer County, may, upon prior written request, be used for soil conservation work in Parmer County. Parmer County shall charge a uniform fee of $35.00 per hour for such work.

'Mom And Me Day' Is Sew Simple

In preparation for the upcoming County 4-H sponsored Fashion Review, members of the Farwell 4-H Club sponsored a "Mom and Me Day" where young girls were instructed by their moms on the techniques of sewing. In addition, they were treated to a special lecture on grooming by guest speaker Estellene Billington.

The young ladies were given lessons for three weeks after school and on Saturdays on how to buy fabric, choose a pattern and the art of sewing. In their grooming lecture, they learned how to have shiny hair, clean fingernails and an all-around sparkling appearance.

The girls then spent their special "Mom and Me Day" at the Home Ec Cottage sewing their garments on sewing machines provided to them with instruction from their own moms and other moms.

The "Mom and Me Day" was conducted Saturday, May 23, and Thursday, May 28, for the two groups participating, including members of the Oklahoma Lane 4-H Club.

Taking part in Saturday's group were Sherry and Pauletta Curtis, Teresa and Pat Rose, Dana and Anita Ralston, Lisa and Linda Gerles, Tonya Stehle, and Robbie and Joey Fly.

Participating in Thursday's session were Beverly and Michelle Foster, Janene and Lecretia Foster, Sharon, K.C. and Ella Eubanks, Eva Dean, Kendra and Kaci Stephens, Jane and Kristi Stephens, Kellie Anderson and Robbie Fly.

According to Eva Dean Stephens, many girls completed their garments in the one day. "It was such a pleasure to work with them," she said. "They were so eager to learn."

The finished products are to be modeled by the young seamstresses June 23 at the County 4-H Fashion Review in Friona.

The special day also included a luncheon, and ended at approximately 5:30 p.m. each session.

Sew Simple

Kellie Anderson finds that working with a sewing machine is much easier than originally expected during the 4-H club sponsored "Mom and Me Day" at the Farwell Home Ec Cottage. Kellie, along with approximately 17 other young girls and their mothers, took part in the special day in preparation for the June 23 Parmer County 4-H Fashion Review in Friona. The girls were given instruction by their moms on how to buy fabric, choose a pattern and put in the final stitches to the newly sewn garment. Many of the girls finished their new creation in the one day session.

Pleasant Hill 4-H's Tour Market

A tour to the Clovis Livestock Market, conducted by Charlotte Adams and Wilma Fulgham, members of the Cattle Capitol CowBelles, highlighted the monthly meeting of the Pleasant Hill 4-H Club. Hostesses for the meeting were Keri and Lori Pierce.

Club members were led on a tour of the stockyards following their regular business session which was conducted in the Pierce home.

Following the tour, the group gathered at the park for refreshments.

During their business meeting, members were reminded of the upcoming judging practices. Dress Revue forms were given to those in sewing projects with a reminder that the deadline for the forms to be turned in is June 15.

Books of rodeo tickets for the 4-H rodeo slated for July 10-11 were given to each member to sell. The tickets are to sell for $2 each. Pre-schoolers will be admitted free.

A committee was formed to plan decorations for the upcoming awards banquet. The committee is comprised of Zandy Kelley, Justin Barnes and Jubal and Robin Pierce.

Member LaShawna Kelley gave a presentation entitled "Meet Your Camera" to 12 members, two leaders and eight guests attending.

The next meeting of the group is set for June 25 at the home of Terry Whitener.

Finishing Touches

Learning about the final steps in sewing is young seamstress Robbie Fly, who is being instructed by Eva Dean Stephens during the recent Farwell 4-H Club sponsored "Mom and Me Day." The "day," conducted in two sessions, was held so that the girls could learn how to sew their own dress for the upcoming Parmer County 4-H Club Fashion Review Day, set for June 23 in Friona. Approximately 17 young ladies and their moms participated in the sewing occasion, which also featured a lecture on grooming by guest speaker Estellene Billington.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID SNIDER

Carol Vinton Weds Joel David Snider

In an afternoon ceremony on Sunday, May 24, Teresa Carol Vinton and Joel David Snider exchanged wedding vows in a double-ring ceremony at Sacred Heart Church in Clovis. Rev. Arno Waisman, O.F.M., presided at the service which was attended by immediate family members.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vinton of Farwell and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. M.A. Snider, Jr., also of Farwell, and the late M.A. Snider, Jr.

Escorted to the altar and presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of silk organza featuring a fitted bodice and an A-line skirt. The bodice was enhanced with floral motifs of Venise lace, and embroidered lace outlined the split neckline. Sheer full sleeves decorated with Venise lace motifs were fitted at the wrists with wide bands also enhanced with Venise lace.

The A-line skirt fell to a lace-trimmed hem, sweeping to back fullness forming a chapel train. Her chapel length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a small coil of lace and satin embroidered with clusters of pearls.

She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis atop a Mother of Pearl covered Bible which belonged to Kim Newton, sister of the bridegroom.

In bridal tradition something old were pennies minted in the years of the couple's births; something new was her bridal ensemble; something borrowed were diamond earrings belonging to her grandmother; and something blue was a garter.

The bridegroom wore a black tuxedo with boutonniere of a white rose and baby's breath. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Vinton wore a light gray crepe de sheen dress and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Snider, wore a dress of blue chiffon.

Vicki Vinton of Lubbock served her sister as maid of honor. She wore a dress of candlelight yellow featuring a deep ruffle at the bodice top and ribbon shoulder straps. The three tiers of the skirt were edged in ribbon and lace.

Grady Newton of Lubbock, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

Following the ceremony the couple was honored at a reception at the home of the bride's parents in Farwell. The serving table was covered with white lace over a floor length skirt of brown. The bride's bouquet was the centerpiece and silver and crystal appointments were featured. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a bridal couple, was decorated with yellow roses and brown lace trim and was served with punch. Yellow napkins, and nuts and mints in silver servers completed the table decor. Sisters of the bride alternated at the table.

The bride changed to a blue-green street length dress trimmed with orchid piping at neckline and sleeves accented with rope belt of orchid.

The couple is at home in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride graduated from Farwell High School in 1977 and attended college at Temple Junior College, Temple, Tex., and Sam Houston State University in Huntsville. The bridegroom graduated from Farwell High in 1976 and attended Texas Tech University.

Fathers, Daughters Honored At Social

The fellowship hall of the First Baptist Church of Farwell was the scene of a fun and games night for fathers and teenage daughters last weekend.

The missionary prayer calendar was led by Sharon Eubanks using a robot to be put together by the fathers.

Team games were played by Sharla and Neil Stewart;

Lucia, Chary and Roger Jesko; Amy Dotson and Frank Meyers; Max and Sharon Eubanks and Steve Pierson and G.C. Brunson and Lori.

Afterwards, homemade but-terpecan and strawberry ice cream, cake, cookies and fellowship were shared by those attending.

The evening ended with singing and a special prayer.

Mrs. Dane Hostess For Baptist Meet

Ruth Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church of Texico met at the home of Mrs. Weldon Dane Thursday, May 28, for their regular monthly session with president Mora Schlueter presiding.

The business meeting opened with Mrs. S.G. Jones leading in prayer.

Gracie Dane read the secretary's report and the treasurer's report was given by Ann Schloss.

Mrs. Dane then read a poem entitled, "No Time For Prayer."

The devotion was given by Helen Bowers using as her scripture Psalms 1:1-6. She also read a poem, "The Church In The Glen," and then she read an Easter story as told by a grandmother.

Fellowship followed with refreshments of cake, ice cream, coffee, ice tea and cola.

Those attending were Mesdames Mamie Hightower, Kathryn Bournon, Hattie Harrison, Nora Miller, S.G. Jones, Ann Schloss, Mora Schlueter, Eunice Taylor, Helen Bowers, and hostess Gracie Dane. Also, two guests Iwana Taylor and son Bret, attended.

Visit Children

Mildred Erwin of Farwell spent Memorial Day weekend visiting with four of her children at the home of her daughter in Albuquerque.

Gathered for the weekend were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Burton and sons Bart and Chris of Albuquerque; son Larry Erwin and his son, Ryan, from California; son Gary of Lubbock; and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Cornelison of Plainview.

The family planned the special gathering in honor of Larry who was on vacation from California. Steak dinners and shopping trips highlighted the family reunion, she said.

MR. AND MRS. JERRY WARD

Elyese Moody, Jerry Ward Exchange Marriage Vows

Darla Elyese Moody and Jerry Glen Ward exchanged wedding vows in a candlelight double-ring ceremony on Tuesday, April 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church of Bovina. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Bob Reid of the First Baptist Church of Pleasant Hill. The date of the wedding* was the same date of the bride's grandparents.

Parents of the bride are Mrs. Julia Moody and Weldon Moody, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Ward, all of Bovina.

Presented in marriage by Jim Russell, friend of the bride of Bovina, the bride wore a formal length gown of white silk organza over white bridal taffeta designed with an empire waistline and V-neckline edged with Venise lace. Appliqued lace with embroidered flowers followed the design of the waistline. The slightly flared skirt swept into a chapel length train edged with matching lace that followed the line of the skirt about ten inches above the hemline and came to a point in front centered with embroidered flowers. Sheer triple ruffles formed the short sleeves over the shoulders.

Her fingertip length double tiered veil was of bridal illusion edged in lace and attached to a lace and seed pearl caplet. She carried a cascade bouquet of silk French roses, daisies, gardenias and forget-me-nots. Adding sentiment to her attire, the bride carried a handkerchief belonging to her great-grandmother.

For something old the bride wore her grandmother's gold wedding band, her dress was new, something borrowed was a diamond necklace and earrings from her step mother and she wore the traditional blue garter. The bride carried pennies minted in the year of the birthdates of the bride and bridegroom in her shoes.

Wedding vows were exchanged before an altar centered with a large basket of rainbow colored silk roses, carnations, and peonies on a white pillar circled by a 43 branch candelabra of yellow tapers and two seven branch candelabra, entwined with greenery. A background of palms and fern foliage completed the altar setting.

Family pews were marked with rainbow colored peonies and bows of rainbow colored ribbon.

Ruth Ann Scott, classmate of the bride from Texico, was maid of honor. Delinda Duncan, also a classmate of the bride, from Texico, was bridesmaid.

The feminine attendants wore three quarter length dresses of polyester blend print of pastel flowers with a white background. They were designed with a V-neckline, sleeveless bodice, caught at the waist with belts. They carried colonial nosegays of rainbow colored silk daisies and forget-me-nots with rainbow colored streamers.

Ronnie Ward, of Bovina, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Groomsman was Lyndon Ward, cousin of the bridegroom, from Clovis. Ushers were Mike Ward, cousin of the bridegroom from Clovis, and Cliff Cargile of Brownfield.

The bridegroom wore a silver tuxedo. His boutonniere was of white and yellow silk daisies, and a blue French rose with pastel colored gyp. The male attendants wore ice blue tuxedos. Their boutonnieres were white and yellow silk daisies accented with white gyp. The ushers' boutonnieres were white and pink daisies accented with white gyp.

Flower girl was Tracy Smyth, niece of the bridegroom of Olton. She wore a polyester blend print dress of pastel flowers with a white background. It was designed with a V-neckline and belted waist. Her hairpiece was of pastel colored silk daisies. She carried a white wicker basket filled with rainbow colored silk French roses, daisies and forget-me-nots. Ring bearer was Sean Smyth, nephew of the bridegroom of Olton. He wore an ice blue tuxedo with a boutonniere of white and pink daisies. He carried a ring pillow made by the bride's grandmother. It was of white satin edged with lace, with blue ribbon and rainbow colored silk daisies.

Becky Webb, cousin of the bride of Adrian presided at the register table.

The bride's mother chose a street-length aqua polyester dress featuring a boat neckline with long sleeves for her daughter's wedding. Matching lace edged the neckline continuing down the length of the sleeves. The bodice was designed with knife pleats belted with a tie-belt at the waist and flared skirt. Her corsage was of white silk daisies, pink French roses accented with gyp.

The bridegroom's mother wore a street length lilac dress with matching shoes. The dress featured a high neckline with small cap sleeves, and tied at the waistline. Her corsage was of yellow and white silk daisies and white silk French roses.

Music was provided by Mrs. James W. Moody, pianist, and Mrs. Bobby Englant, organist. Mrs. Moody accompanied Karl Vaughn of Plainview and Mrs. Dee Dee Fulling of Petersburg, as they sang "Love the World Away," "One in a Million You," and "Let It Be Me."

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with a floor length white satin cloth with a matching overskirt of lace and net. The centerpiece was a three-light candelabra with rainbow colored silk flowers. The three tiered wedding cake had rainbow colored spring flowers topped with a bouquet of flowers in rainbow colors. Topping the second layer of the cake were wedding bells in rainbow colors. Punch was served from a crystal punch service. Appointments were silver and crystal. Teresa Golledge of Texico served the wedding cake and Nikie McDaniel of Texico served the punch.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a beige polyester and lace cloth and was centered by an arrangement of blue and brown silk flowers. Appointments on the table were silver. Appetizers of sausage balls, and chicken salad in miniature pastry shells were served the guests. Completing the service were various chips, dips, and crackers, served with coffee. Jill Jesko and Cara Reid, both of Texico, presided at the bridegroom's table.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, the couple is at home at 301 Apt. D, Third Street, Bovina.

The bride graduated from Texico High School this year and the groom is a 1973 graduate of Hereford High School. He is employed by Parmer Liquid Fertilizer in Bovina.

Greens Turn To Puddles Ending Afternoon Golf

The rains came down in a steady pour Saturday morning, but it wasn't until late afternoon that the golfers finally said "Uncle" and pulled carts, clubs and tattered score cards into the club house and called it quits.

The golfers were part of the annual Farwell Men's Golf Tournament, on the Farwell Country Club greens. The morning flights managed to finish their 18-holes, but the afternoon flights were plagued by puddles and a heavier rain, and were forced to stop play after nine holes.

However, the afternoon flights did play 27 holes the following day, which proved to be perfect golfing weather, and rounded out their required 36-hole game for the tourney.

Following the rained-out game Saturday, the group of hearty, yet soaked, golfers gathered for a dinner of barbecued pork and trimmings cooked by Walter Hughes and Company.

Hughes and his crew also served hamburgers and chips to the golfers during the day.

Results of the two-day tournament are as follows:

1st Flight: 1st place, Larry Chapman and Dale Vaughn, Clovis, score 134; 2nd, Eric Roanhaus and Eddie Kelmer, Clovis, score 139; 3rd, Jack Kirkland, Farwell, and Jim Haren, Fritch, score 141; 4th, Jim Berry, Farwell, and Peter Goldbaum, Clovis, score 142.

2nd Flight: 1st, Paul Hubbard and Ken Hagar, Hereford, score 146; 2nd, Larry Ray and Larry Godfrey, Clovis, score 147; 3rd, Brett and Kevin Hargrove, Farwell, score 148; 4th, John Ricci and Bryce Bender, Clovis, score 148.

3rd Flight: 1st, Roy Franse and Weldon Kellogg, Clovis, score 147; 2nd, Bud Fleming and Charlie Stalcup, Clovis, score 149; 3rd, Wendol Christian and David George, Farwell, score 150; 4th, Harry Sheets, Farwell, and Pete Rundell, Plainview, score 150.

4th Flight: 1st, Bruce Dollar and Mike Martin, Farwell, score 151; 2nd, Oakley Stevenson, Bovina, and H.J. Charles, Clovis, score 156; 3rd, Joel Frausto, Hereford, and Joe Leal, Muleshoe, score 157.

5th Flight: 1st, Ben Brock, Clovis, and Roy Deaton, Clovis, score 153; 3rd, Don Maxwell and Jim Selman, Amarillo, score 156; 3rd, Keith Knight, Bovina, and Duane Baize, Friona, score 159.

6th Flight: 1st, Mark Williams and Johnny Actkinson, Farwell, score 162; 2nd and 3rd place tie, Max Thompson and Terry Poynor, Clovis, and Randy Adrian, Farwell, and Don Tinsley, Clovis, score 169.

 All entry fees were returned to the winners in gift certificates.

The first three flight winnings were as follows: 1st place, $154 each player; 2nd place, $115.50 each; 3rd place, $86.63 each; and 4th place, $28.87 each.

The fourth and fifth flights winnings were: 1st place, $157.50 each; 2nd place $94.50 each; and 3rd place $63 each.

Those winners in the sixth flight were awarded $175 each for 1st place; $105 each for 2nd place and $70 each for 3rd place.

The next local event scheduled for men golfers is the 12th Annual Penny Anderson Golf Tournament set for August 15-16 at the Farwell Country Club course. It will be a partnership tournament.

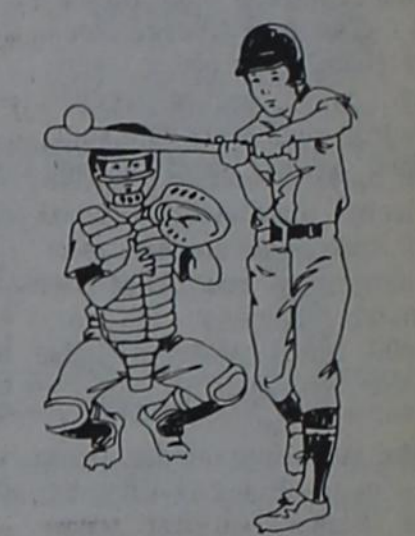

Puddle Putter

Harry Sheets, left, lines up a putt in the puddles of water on the Farwell Country Club greens as the other golfers wade through their own wet mess. The group were part of the Farwell Men's Golf Tournament, played last weekend, despite the heavy rains that fell on the course. The afternoon flights were rained out and the men finished only nine holes. Sheets and his partner placed fourth in their flight with a score of 150.

Attention!
Little League and Pee Wee coaches are reminded that the deadline for submitting game results for publication in the Tribune is 5 p.m. Tuesday. In game results, please remember to list both the player's first and last names.

Golfing In The Rain

Last weekend's rainfall cancelled some area recreation, such as the Little League games and swimming at the Texico pool, but the Farwell Men's Golf Tournament went on as scheduled with many area and out-of-town golfers sloshing their way around the Farwell Country Club greens. This unidentified linkster proved truth to the old saying, "Have Umbrella, Will Golf."

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

THE FATHER OF OUR COUNTRY AND THE APOSTLE OF THE NATIONS

As Americans we celebrate the birthdays of great men, consequently millions highly honor George Washington as "the father of our country," but how few know about Paul, God's apostle to the nations!

Not Matthew or Mark or Luke, not Peter or James or John, but Paul alone wrote, by divine inspiration:

"FOR I SPEAK TO YOU GENTILES (or, YOU OF THE NATIONS) INASMUCH AS I AM THE APOSTLE OF THE GENTILES (NATIONS); I MAGNIFY MINE OFFICE" (Rom. 11:13).

Note well that Paul did not magnify himself, but his office, to which he had been appointed by the glorified Lord. In defending his apostleship before the Galatians, he wrote:

"But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man. For I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but by the revelation of Jesus Christ" (Gal. 1:11,12).

In many other passages the Apostle claims to speak as a direct representative of Christ (See I Cor.

11:23; 15:3; Eph. 3:2,3; I Thes. 4:15; etc.). To Timothy Paul wrote in I Tim. 6:3,4 concerning his own writings: "If any man teach OTHERWISE, and consent not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Jesus Christ, and to the doctrine which is according to godliness, he is proud, knowing nothing..."

This could not demonstrate more emphatically Paul's claim that his words were "the words of the Lord Jesus Christ," received from Him by direct revelation.

To the Corinthians, who questioned this, the Apostle wrote: "...IF I COME AGAIN I WILL NOT SPARE. SINCE YE SEEK A PROOF OF CHRIST SPEAKING IN ME" (I Cor. 13:2,3).

The proof of this claim? This was overwhelming indeed, for Paul was used more than any other apostle to found churches and lead men into the knowledge and joy of salvation. To the Corinthian believers he wrote what he could have written to many thousands of others: "The seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord" (I Cor. 9:2).
