Border Town Days - -

Committee Finalizes Plans For Celebration

The countdown has begun! Only two more weeks until the 1981 edition of Border Town Days, and the BTDC Committee reports that many fun-filled and exciting events are on tap for the annual festivities July 24-25 with the majority of activities set for Saturday.

"Pride in Our Progress" is the theme of this year's celebration which will be kicked off with a Friday night performance of the HPJRA rodeo at Farwell Arena beginning at 8 p.m. CDT. But the main highlight of the Twin Cities big event will be Saturday's parade and park activities.

In addition to the traditional events such as the street parade, the queen's contest, beard growing contest, fiddler's contest, arts and crafts display, and park concession and game booths, the BTDC Committee reports that some new awards are also to be made this year. These include prizes to the high school class reunion having the largest percentage of its members in attendance, the family with the most members present, and to the person who travels farthest to attend the festivities. Winners will receive plaques and the winning class will receive a traveling plaque to be displayed at its school.

Dudley Bristow of Farwell has been appointed as BTDC Marshal and will be busy enforcing the "Shave Permit Law" during the park activities.

Mike Camp, beard contest chairman, says that punishment for offenders (those clean-shaven without permits in plain sight) will be severe. The permits are encased in a plastic shield and are made for wearing. They should not be hidden, emphasizes Camp.

Shave permits may be obtained from Ridley Lonsdale at the barber shop in Farwell for $1 each. These permits should be obtained by all men who are not participating in the second annual BTDC Beard Contest.

Beards will be judged for "best looking," "most unique," and "ugliest," and plaques will be awarded.

Those officially entered in the contest include Bob Vinton, Seth Ralston, Roger Menning, Ted Magness, Mike Camp, Robert White, Martin Kube, Eddie Winegeart, Michael Haseloff, James Craig, Robert L. Woodson, Eddie B. Smith, Penn Curtis, Pete Fulcher and J.R. Sewell.

All the fun and excitement for Saturday will be kicked off with the traditional parade which begins at 11 a.m. CDT. Parade entrants are reminded that they are to form in Texico at 10 a.m. CDT for the parade which will move through Texico and Farwell main streets, ending at Farwell City Park where the remainder of the day's activities are scheduled until rodeo time that night.

Changing of the parade formation point has been proposed and is being checked into. It is hoped that entrants will be able to gather on the north side of the highway in Texico on a side street. Exact information of the location will be published in next week's issue of the Tribune.

NEED PARADE ENTRIES
Parade Marshal Don Geries says that he has had several organizations and businesses register for a spot in the parade, but adds that although he has heard of others planning to enter the parade, they have not yet registered. "We urgently need all those wishing to be in the parade to register now to assure them a place in the lineup," Geries said, adding that those not officially entered in the parade will be ineligible for prizes to be awarded. Deadline for registering entries is July 22.

Sponsors of the parade are the Texico-Farwell Lions, Farwell Chamber of Commerce is donating prizes for the best three floats entered, with $50 for first place; $30 for second place; and $20 for third place. Trophies to be presented to the best riding clubs entered are also being provided by the Farwell Chamber.

Texico Chamber of Commerce will provide trophies for antique car entries, and prizes for the kids and their best decorated bikes will be provided by T & A Welding of Texico.

KIDDOES BIKE CONTEST
Kids planning to enter the Decorated Bike Contest are reminded that they need to register for the parade at Texico City Hall if they are to be eligible for the cash prizes to be awarded. Deadline for entering the contest is July 22, and those not entered before that day will not be eligible to win a prize.

Bikers in the parade will be at the start of the procession this year, following behind the Texico and Farwell fire trucks. Bike contest chairman Anne Cooper advises that the decorated bikes will be judged on originality, neatness and the use of color. She adds that children not completing the parade route will not be eligible to win a prize.

Judging will take place in the following categories: Category I, best decorated bike and costume rider; Category II, age six and under with best decorated bike; and Category III, age 7-12 with best decorated bikes will be judged on

Dedication Set For Memorial Fountain

Dedication ceremonies for the Judy Jones Memorial Fountain are set for Sunday at 2 p.m. CDT in Farwell City Park.

Located at the park, the fountain was donated to the City of Farwell by Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority. The fountain was erected in memory of the late Judy Jones. It displays a marble plaque bearing her name.

Taking part in Sunday's dedication ceremonies will be Robin Gregory as host; Margaret Aycock, dedication ceremony; and Farwell Mayor Walter Kaltwasser accepting the fountain on behalf of the City.

Members of ESA invite everyone to attend the dedication of the memorial.

Entries Needed - -

Deadline Extended For BTDC Queen Candidates

Deadline for entering the Border Town Days Queen contest has been extended until Friday, July 17. To date four girls have turned in their applications and pictures for the contest.

Those eligible to enter are girls who will attend either Texico or Farwell high schools next year, and who have never been married.

Contestants should bring their entry blanks to the Tribune office no later than 5 p.m.

Each is asked to bring a photograph of herself along with the entry form as the Tribune will publish the pictures of all candidates in the BTDC special issue. The photos may be any size, although billfold size is preferred, and may either be a school, studio or Polaroid photograph.

Arrangements can be made to have a picture made by the Tribune if none is available.

Each contestant must have a sponsor who will provide the entry fee of $10. Contest chairman Joann Getz advises that she has been contacted by several area organizations and businesses seeking a contestant to sponsor, so BTDC queen hopefuls need not worry about obtaining a sponsor if they don't have one.

Those in the annual contest will be judged on personality and talent. For their talent they may perform such acts as singing, playing piano or other musical instruments, dancing, skits, twirling or pompon routines, readings, poetry reading and others.

Crowning of the new queen will take place at the Farwell City Park during the annual BTDC celebration set for Saturday, July 25. The Queen contest will take place in the park gazebo.

Out-of-town judges will determine the winner of the contest and she will be crowned by the reigning Border Town Days Queen, Tracy Williams of Farwell.

Assisting Mrs. Getz in organizing the Queen contest are Texico Women's Club and Farwell Study Club members.

For further information, phone Mrs. Getz at 481-3681.

Hadley Gets Caught

Texico Mayor John R. Hadley, left, got caught this week with a clean shaven face . . . AND NO SHAVE PERMIT, by Border Town Days Marshal Dudley Bristow. Marshal Dudley uses his "official face checker," and if no whiskers are in sight, and no shave permit is visible, a severe warning is issued. All Twin Cities men caught without shave permits [who are not entered in the BTDC Second Annual Beard Contest] on July 25 will be placed in the official BTDC jail that afternoon. Permits are on sale from Ridley Lonsdale at the barber shop in Farwell at $1 each. It will be Marshal Dudley's job as the official BTDC law officer to ensure that the Shave Permit Law is enforced during Border Town Days. All Twin Cities men with clean shaven faces BEWARE as Marshal Dudley means business!!

July 15 - -

HPJRA Rodeo Entrants Reminded Of Deadline

Contestants planning to enter the 1981 High Plains Junior Rodeo Association rodeo performances scheduled during the 1981 Border Town Days event July 24 and 25 are reminded that the entry deadline is July 15.

The two-nights of rodeoing at the Farwell Arena will be sponsored by the Farwell Jaycees who promise plenty of action for rodeo contestants and spectators alike.

Kicking off the annual BTDC celebration will be the Friday evening performance of the rodeo starting at 8 p.m. CDT. Action for Saturday's session will also begin at 8 o'clock.

Those wishing to enter the rodeo may pick up the official HPJRA entry blank at Rip's Western Wear in Texico or from Jaycee members Mike Camp or Robert White of Farwell.

Cindy Moore, HPJRA secretary, explains that each contestant must register in his or her own age group and no one will be allowed to move up.

Reagan Sends Thank-You To Texico Second Graders

When President Ronald Reagan was shot last March and was forced to spend several days in the hospital recovering from his wounds, the children in Ann Pearce's second grade class at Texico Elementary School sent the President a get-well card.

This week the postal service delivered a special envelope addressed to the children with a return address that read "The White House."

Inside was a card saying, "How delighted I was to receive your get-well message! It tells me of your friendship and makes me very happy. I know with so many young people rooting for me that it won't be long before I'm feeling much better.

"From the bottom of my heart, thank you for caring," And the card was signed, Ronald Reagan.

Mrs. Pearce reports that her students were "very excited" at receiving the card and she plans to frame it to place in her classroom to share with everyone.

Presidential Thank-You

Shown with their thank-you card received from President Ronald Reagan are some of the students in Ann Pearce's second grade class at Texico Elementary. From left are Denise Gonzalez, Mrs. Pearce, Lesley Moore, Krystala Cross, Shellie Morris and Freddy Chavez. The students and their classmates sent a get-well card to the President when he was recently hospitalized and this week received a personal thank-you from him.

Trading The Gavel

Outgoing Texico-Farwell Rotary president Hugh Moseley, left, presents the gavel to newly-installed president Otis McMillan. McMillan and other officers were installed last week at the monthly Rotary luncheon by Dewey Langston of Portales. Newly-installed officers include Jerry Monk, vice-president; Dudley Bristow, secretary; Joe Jones, treasurer; and board of directors, Bill Christian, Walter Hughes, Hugh Moseley, Charles Aycock and Johnny Atkinson. One of the first projects for this group will be to help supervise the cooking and serving of the barbecue during Border Town Days, July 25.

When the Fourth of July falls on a Saturday, about half the stores and offices close on Friday and the other half closes on Monday. It is surely confusing for the general public.

The Fourth was a wonderful day around here including the nice rain that came in the early evening. We haven't heard of any firework accidents, and for this we are grateful. Apparently more places in the Nation have banned fireworks to the public than allow them. It sort of dulls the image of the Fourth of July, but it saves countless and needless injuries. Maybe it's for the better.

Last week President Reagan won a significant victory in the House of Representatives concerning his battle plans to reduce the ravages of inflation. The government is a very significant factor in controlling the erosion of our dollar but it is by no means the only culprit.

The President will soon have to address the economic problems arising from uncontrolled wage increases. Most businesses are labor intensive. That is, a major part of their production expenses are attributable to the cost of labor. A rise in the labor costs is immediately reflected in a rise in price.

Heretofore in our capitalistic economic system wages were a function of productivity. The more that was produced the higher the wages that could be paid and not raise the per unit cost to the consuming public.

Between a quasi-socialistic view from government and a rapacious demand from large labor organizations this concept has been abandoned. Government and labor has demanded more for the same or less production. Somebody had to pay for the additional production and this was the consumer.

Big business with a near monopoly in many fields simply rolled over, agreed to outrageous labor terms and raised their price to the consumer. While there was some slack in the system this could work without too much trouble. Those days are long gone.

Any "productivity" slack has long been squeezed from the market. Any increase in production costs must be immediately passed to the consumer or the producer goes broke, fast.

Well, this robbing Peter to pay Paul has got to cease and the President must demand that wage and/or other benefits be tied to an increase in actual productivity, and not be a result of federal law or from the demands of organized labor.

Yes Virginia, a howl will arise from all special interest groups but these people must realize that there is no "special interest" group. Let the economy of the country topple and all labor will topple with it.

There are no strikes in Red Russia. If our government and labor leaders do not come down from the mountain tops of fiscal boobery there may not be any strikes in this country.

A tough stand against unearned increases will not make Ronald Reagan many friends, and it may not win him the next election, but it could put him in the economic hall of fame for the next hundred years.

Water is a daily need for every living thing. It rises from the earth obedient to the summons of the sun, and descends in showers of blessings. It gives of its beauty to the fragrant flowers; it is the alchemy that transmutes base clay to golden grain. It is the canvas on which the finger of the Infinite traces the radiant bow of promise. It is the drink that cheers, and brings no sorrow, Jehovah, upon Creation's dawn, said, "It is good."

Residents Advised Of Televised CPR Course

David Kube of Texico Volunteer Fire Department advises that four Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) courses are to be aired on television on three channels and Twin Cities residents watching these courses are invited to take a written exam to qualify them as CPR administrators.

After watching the courses, persons may take a written test at the Texico Fire Station as well as practice on the CPR mannequin. "If they qualify," Kube said, "they will receive a certificate from the American Red Cross."

Those interested should call Kube at 481-3441 to make an appointment for the test.

Clovis Men Injured In Hwy. 60 Accident

Two Clovis men were injured in a two-car accident Thursday night, July 2, on U.S. 60, 3.4 miles northeast of Farwell, with the driver of the second vehicle being charged with failure to stop and render aid, and driving with a suspended license.

According to Craig Hunt of the Texas Department of Public Safety who investigated the accident, James Rance Williams of Booker, Tex., was driving a 1974 Ford Mustang when his right front bumper allegedly hit the left rear bumper of the Clovis men's Toyota. The collision caused the small car to leave the ground, turn sideways, veer off the highway and into a field where it overturned several times throwing both occupants from the vehicle, Hunt said.

The investigating officer said that Williams was apparently trying to pass the Toyota when the incident occurred and that Williams then apparently left the scene of the accident.

The two men, driver Prasad Jumroontat, and his occupant Anan Jumroontat, both of Clovis were transferred by Farwell ambulance to Clovis High Plains Hospital where they were treated for lacerations and bruises, and then released.

The accident occurred at approximately 10:45 p.m. CDT on July 2, according to officer Hunt, who said that a passerby saw the vehicle lights in the field and immediately notified Texico Town Marshal Mickey Fenn, who was the first officer on the scene. Fenn notified the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Accident Injures Two

According to investigating officer Craig Hunt of the Texas Department of Public Safety, this Toyota was shoved from Highway 60 after the driver of a second vehicle, James Rance Williams of Booker, Tex., allegedly tried to pass the Toyota when his right front bumper caught the left rear bumper of the Toyota, causing it to veer from the highway into a field, overturning several times, throwing both occupants from the vehicle. Both Toyota occupants were from Clovis and were treated at Clovis High Plains Hospital for lacerations and bruises before being released, officer Hunt said. Williams has been charged with failure to stop and render aid, and driving with a suspended license.

Man Returned Here On Burglary Charge

A Big Lake, Tex., man is currently in Parmer County custody awaiting trial in District Court on a charge of burglary from a motor vehicle and jumping bond.

Ronnie Roberson, Jr., 27, was picked up by Parmer deputy Bob Davis in Ozona, Tex., and returned to Farwell to Parmer County custody. Roberson is charged with the theft of radio equipment from the automobile of former Parmer County Sheriff Charles Lovelace, according to Sheriff Bill Morgan. The accused was released on bond for that offense, but skipped town.

In other action this week at the Parmer County Sheriff's department, Charles Snyder, 50, of Friona was returned to Parmer County custody from Vernon, Tex., where he had been a patient in a State mental hospital. Snyder was placed into custody on a charge of aggravated assault but has since been released on $2,000 bond pending a court hearing.

Donald Lane, 19, of Farwell, was arrested by Parmer chief deputy Lloyd Niece on a Curry County New Mexico warrant on a charge of commercial burglary. Lane signed a waiver of extradition and has been returned to New Mexico authorities, Sheriff Morgan said.

David Anderson of Lazbuddie reported to sheriff's officials that a Sears riding lawn mower had been stolen from his residence near the Sheryl-Anderson elevator in Lazbuddie. The mower is valued at $800. The theft is thought to have occurred July 1.

Edwin Lide, Bovina, reported that two pigs, weighing 175 pounds each, had been stolen from his property on July 2. Lide placed a value on the pigs at $175.

Blake Buchenau Gets III Rating In State UIL

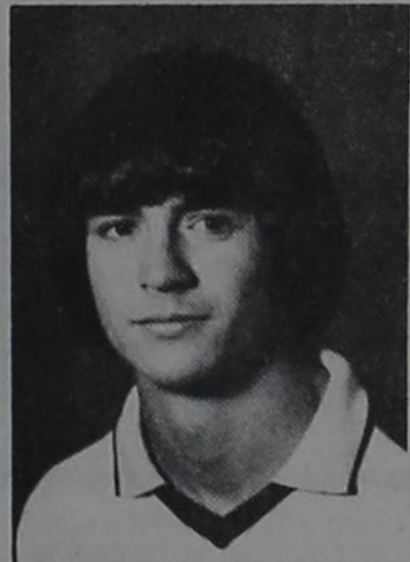

Blake Buchenau received a III rating at the State UIL solo clarinet competition conducted May 30 in Austin.

Buchenau, who will be a senior this fall at Lazbuddie High, received a I rating at District UIL competition in Lubbock last March, qualifying him for the state contest.

He was also named to All-Region band for the third consecutive year in January of this year.

He was a student of Lynn Burton at Farwell and is now under direction of Carl Wilke of Lazbuddie. Blake is the son of Sylvia Buchenau of Farwell and Randee Buchenau of Lazbuddie.

BLAKE BUCHENAU

Marriage Licenses

Six marriage licenses were issued from the Parmer County Clerk's office this past week.

Hijino De Leon and Silvia Ochoa;

Also, to Daniel Webster Norvell and Kathleen Marie Foreman; Jim Bob Calaway and Ruby Louise Pistek; and Pharis Glen London and Susan Marie Anderson.

Roberts Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts heard the following cases this week and passed sentences as listed:

James Rance Williams, Booker, Tex., 20, was charged with failure to stop and render aid and driving while license suspended.

Williams was fined $200 plus court costs for the first charge, and pleaded not guilty and posted $300 bond for the DWLS charge. Socorio Levario, 27, of Dimmitt, was charged with driving while intoxicated and was fined $150 plus court costs and sentenced to three days in jail.

Avel Martinez, 18, of Friona, was charged with driving without a license, third offense, and was fined $200 plus court costs and sentenced to five days in county custody.

Doug Cole To Attend Citizenship Seminar

Doug Cole of Farwell has been selected by the Parmer County Farm Bureau to attend the annual Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar as Farwell's representative, attending with approximately 400 other students from throughout the State of Texas.

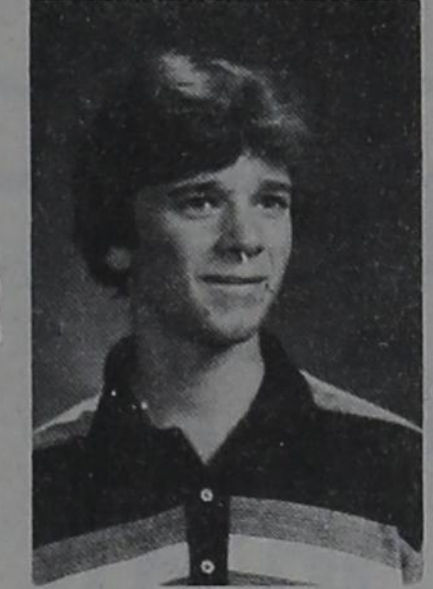

Conducted on the campus of Baylor University, the seminar will be July 20-24. It will be an intensive course in citizenship, American heritage, free enterprise system, the proper role of government and the threat of communism.

"It is designed to complement the formal education of these young people and to make it more meaningful for them," said Carrol G. Chaloupka, president of the Texas Farm Bureau, adding, "several lectures will concern first-hand accounts of people who have dealt directly with communist intrigue which, naturally, will have great appeal to the students."

Chaloupka said that other phases of the seminar dealing with the danger of America losing its system of government because of apathy and misunderstanding of issues are equally important. "This comprehensive program should prove invaluable to our future citizens, giving them a better idea of what has made this country great and what must be done to preserve it," Chaloupka commented.

Doug will be a senior at Farwell High School this fall. He is the son of Marcia Cole of Farwell and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. V. Scott Johnson of Clovis.

A rather unusual, but promising idea for increased corn yields in dry weather comes from research being carried out at South Dakota State University. The process might be called "row ripping". Soil between rows of knee-high corn was ripped to a depth of 10 inches by the S. D. agronomists. They were trying to reduce irrigation water loss and improve the reserve of soil moisture during dry weather. In preliminary reports, corn yields from a number of ripping sites increased from 11 to 48 bushels per acre. Keeping in mind irrigated corn yields in South Dakota may differ from those elsewhere, researchers are hoping farmers may try the ripping process on a small scale. Areas they feel it may work best are those where the ground tends to seal tight immediately after planting. And, as usual, the weather will have the upper hand since the time to do your ripping is - you guessed it - just before a good heavy downpour.

Have you checked your canning jars and lids? With them ready to go, let's talk about water bath and pressure canners.

A water bath canner is easy to come by. Any large kettle with straight sides, a tight fitting lid and a rack to keep jars off the bottom of the kettle can be used for a water bath canner.

It should be deep enough to hold the jars upright and permit the water to boil gently 1 to 2 inches over the top of them.

The boiling water bath is recommended for canning fruits, fruit juices, tomatoes, tomato juice, rhubarb and pickles. The acidity of these foods and the temperature reached during water bath processing are sufficient to destroy the micro-organisms and enzymes present in the foods.

All non-acid vegetables and other non-acid foods must be processed in the pressure canner to prevent possible spoilage and/or botulism.

Pressure canners are equipped with a dial or weighted gauge. Petcocks and safety valves control the escape of steam from a pressure canner. Gaskets that may have hardened may need to be replaced.

For canning small amounts, pressure saucepans of adequate size with an indicator or gauge which operates at 10 pounds pressure may be used. Beware of danger! Don't use the following methods: Open kettle, oven canning, microwave canning, canning powders, compounds or antibiotics.

These methods do not insure complete destruction of spoilage organisms and some additives may not be safe for human consumption.

If done properly, home food preservation can be real plus for the family, if not, it could be fatal!

For more information call the Extension office at 481-3619 or come by, we're on the second floor of the courthouse in Farwell.

Bibles Delivered To Girlstown, Recipients Show Appreciation

by Frances Kube
Monday, July 6, was a happy day for members of the Farwell Study Club, GFWC. That was the day the group went to Girlstown at Whiteface to deliver 60 new Bibles to residents there.

Recently, the club, in conjunction with KZOL Radio of Farwell, conducted a "Biblethon" and obtained the new Bibles for the club to donate. Upon arrival at Girlstown, the group was met and welcomed by Waco Reynolds, superintendent. An assembly of the girls was called in the chapel where they were to receive their Bibles.

Reynolds read the girl's name in each Bible and that girl came forward to receive her book from a study club member. Gil Patschke, owner of KZOL, presented a brief talk to the girls on reading and using their Bibles, saying that "as we feed our body, so shall we feed our spirit."

He then suggested that as there are 31 chapters in Proverbs, they might try reading one chapter a day for a month.

The Study Club group was then treated to a guided tour of the Girlstown campus which included a view of the ruins of the dormitory that was destroyed by fire several months ago.

The girls then proudly showed the three new dorms now being built, hopefully to be completed by mid-September.

The group was shown the older cottages and how the girls are in crowded conditions until the new dorms will be ready. The new dorms will enable Girlstown to give a home to 30 additional residents.

The guests had lunch with the girls and staff in the dining hall and enjoyed visiting with the girls and the directors of Girlstown, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Cooper.

In talking with Mrs. Cooper it was learned that the immediate needs now for Girlstown are dishes, flatware and cup towels to equip the new dorms.

Study Club members report the girls are so appreciative and quite a few came later to again personally say "thank-you" for their new Bible.

Enjoying the trip from Farwell were Eunice Crume, Edith Crawford, Gertrude Foster, Frances Kube, Carrie Christian, Alma and J.C. Sledge and Gil Patschke.

Lisa Crooks Elected To Office At N.M. Girl's State

Lisa Crooks, Texico High School's delegate to the New Mexico Girl's State, says she "highly recommends trying to get to go," to her younger classmates and adds that "the one thing I really got out of it was that I was able to make so many friends. It was great. You didn't want to leave on the last day."

The session, conducted June 6-13 at New Mexico Military Institute, had 300 girls in attendance during what Lisa describes as "very hot weather!"

Lisa says she learned a lot about state and local government, and, the Texico girl was victorious in her quest for office. She was elected over 15 other candidates to the office of City Councilman for Pinon City.

"I learned that the city councilmen make all the decisions," she said, adding, "It was a great experience."

The girls heard U.S. Senator Harrison Schmitt speak their first night at the session. He told the young female delegates "you are the cream of the crop."

While the emphasis was mostly on politics and the hows and whys of the political process, the girls were also treated to a fashion show, which Lisa narrated, as well as a talent show. The two performances were put on solely by the girls, each displaying their own talents, whether it be sewing, singing, dancing, or in this case, narrating.

The girls attended assemblies in government every day, each featuring a speaker and sometimes a film. Following the elections, mock trials were conducted for both civil and criminal cases.

The day's activities ended each night with what Lisa says were called "Vespers" where the group gathered to talk and sing. Their day also included an hour and a half of recreation time with volleyball, basketball or swimming.

Lisa laughs when she recalls the "special song" the group of 300 girls would sing whenever they saw a male guest, or passerby. "Man Without A Girls State" was sung to all male guest speakers, including Sen. Schmitt. "He just laughed," she said.

Their stay at the special session also included an Inaugural Banquet for the newly-elected "state officials." Special guests that evening were the Boy's State Governor and Lieutenant Governor.

Concluding the week-long experience in government were commencement ceremonies where each girl was called individually to receive a certificate of attendance. Following this, all 300 delegates gathered in the school's middle quad for a candlelight ceremony. Each girl carried a candle, all formed a circle and sang songs. "It was really beautiful. We sang 'You've Got

A Friend, 'America, America' and 'I'd Like To Teach The World To Sing' and many more," Lisa said.

She pointed out that one thing she learned while attending was that many of the bigger schools around New Mexico have Girls State workshops before the session. "These girls are told what offices to seek and how to win," she said, "which is okay, except I think they were so busy running for office they didn't get a chance to make many friends, which was the best part."

Lisa is the daughter of Arlyle and Margie Crooks of Texico and will be a senior at Texico High in the fall. Her trip was sponsored by the Texico Women's Club.

Karen Magness Police Chief At Bluebonnet Girls State

Karen Magness, Farwell delegate to Texas Bluebonnet Girls State, says the 10-day session was so busy she and the other 560 delegates had no time for any outside recreation, but that "it was a learning experience," adding, "I learned a lot about our government and had the opportunity to make a lot of new friends."

Karen, using the slogan "Let Me Protect You When You're Away From Home," was elected chief of police for City K ("Keebler Kove") and had the responsibility of "patrolling" her city of 51 inhabitants each night "making sure the blinds were shut and things like that."

The session, conducted June 16-26, took place on the campus of Texas Lutheran College in Seguin. While there, Karen had the opportunity to record an album with all 560 delegates singing such songs as "You're A Grand Ol' Flag," "Eyes Of Texas," "America The Beautiful," "Freedom" and the "Girls State Song" sung to the tune of "You Light Up My Life." The album was recorded inside the capitol building, which Karen describes as beautiful. "I loved being there."

The Farwell senior said a lot of singing took place during the entire session in addition to all the politics and government learning process. "We'd sing before assemblies, before flag raising and during assemblies," she said.

Following the state elections, each girl was escorted to the inauguration by Texas state elected officials. The Girls State governor was escorted by the Texas Secretary of State, and the Girls State Lt. Governor was escorted by the Texas State Lt. Governor. "That was impressive," Karen recalled.

KAREN MAGNESS

Chief Justice Joe Greenhill of the Texas Supreme Court administered the oath of office to the elected state officials of Bluebonnet Girls State in the Rotunda of the State Capitol. The Honorable George Strake, Secretary of State, was guest speaker at the inauguration.

Some Girls State government sessions were conducted at the Capitol Building. "We had all our House business in the House chambers, and conducted all Senate legislation in the Senate Chambers," she said. Karen was appointed Senator and took part in the writing and passing of bills.

During the session the Girls State citizens heard many guest speakers, including Marjorie Wilhelm, a former Governor of Girls State who is now in the anti-trust and litigation department of Conoco, Inc.; Dr. Ann Hodges Morgan, vice-president of Programs, Kerr Foundation, Oklahoma City; Rita Clements, wife of Texas Governor Bill Clements; and Karl Rove, special assistant for administration to the Governor's office.

Karen said the entire Girls State staff was comprised of former Girls Staters and were all volunteers.

Their days usually began with jogging and then they'd meet for breakfast. Following this, the entire day was "crammed full" of lectures and assemblies on government. Many of the evenings were also taken up with more assemblies. An impressive flag ceremony was conducted one evening, with a spotlight on the American flag while the delegates sang "America, America." In addition the girls participated in a talent night where some of the more talented delegates performed dance and song routines.

Karen says one special day was the Girls State Fair the day before the session ended. "It was a lot of fun," she said. "Each city set up a booth and we had contests like a cookie contest, chili cookoff with special "chili" made from candy, and an Armadillo Parade." Karen entered the chili cookoff for her city but said her concoction of nuts and candy was not a winner.

Karen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Magness of Farwell and attends Farwell High School. Her trip was sponsored by the Friona American Legion and Auxiliary No. 206.

Farwell Cheerleaders

Farwell High School varsity cheerleaders have just returned from the Camp Of Champs cheerleading camp in Portales and are now ready to cheer on the fighting Steers and Steerettes this coming athletic season. The girls learned new cheers, chants, routines and dances at the camp which was conducted on the ENMU campus where the girls resided for the four-day session. "Better Than Ever" was the theme of the cheering camp. Farwell varsity cheerleaders who attended are, from left, top row: Betsy Heard, Lety Anzaldua and Cathey Gobble; bottom row: Marla Meeks, Cathy Lovelady and Angie Jaime.

Outdoorsmen attend birdcalling school

Outdoorsmen from duck hunters to nature photographers are learning the finer points of calling wild animals and finding that the quacks, grunts, squeaks, clucks, gobbles, honks, chuckles and murmurs must be just right if one expects to attract an inquisitive goose, for example.

Many are participating in two-day workshops, appropriately entitled, "Callin' Critters," sponsored by the Outdoor Education Institute of the Health and Physical Education Department at Texas A&M University. The non-academic recreational sessions include selection of calling sites,

Smith, Shirley Take Honors At District II Horse Show

Two Parmer County 4-H'ers were 5th place winners in their respective categories at the recent 1981 District II 4-H Horse Show at the South Plains Fairgrounds in Lubbock July 1 and 2.

Keith Smith of Farwell took 5th place in barrel racing with a time of 16.2. Smith was the 1st place winner in junior barrel racing at the recent Parmer County 4-H Horse Show, in addition to being the County's junior high pointer.

Shay Shirley of Friona took 5th place in registered gelding under 5 years at the district meet. He had the County Grand Champion Gelding at Parmer's Horse Show.

Thirteen other Parmer County 4-H'ers were among the 136 contestants who competed in the show including Dana White, Zed Stewart, Shain and Devera Rhodes, Ashlee Gee, Paul, Kevin and Glendon Trimmell, Twila Donaldson, John Cass, Karla Wright and Tiffany and Lacey Osborn.

The local youths participated in six events including halter, showmanship, western pleasure, reining, barrels and pole bending.

The youth were accompanied to the district meet by Messrs. and Mmes. Robert White, Wayne Smith, Jess Shirley, Roy Donaldson, Roy Trimmell, Jerry Cass, M.C. Osborn and Wayne Rhodes; and Parker

Stewart, Johnny Hand, Wessie Weatherly and CEA Seth Ralston.

Shea Floyd of Gaines County won high individual honors; Jerry Ka Clark of Castro County took second high honors. Castro County was high point county followed by Gaines for second.

According to Ralston, only 20 4-H'ers qualified to represent the district at the State 4-H horse show slated for July 14-17 in Waco.

The first known pure-bred Arabian in America was the stallion Ranger, brought to Connecticut in 1765. A son of this horse was George Washington's mount in the Revolutionary War.

Fishing Equipment Care Important

An angler is only as good as his or her equipment and the proper care and maintenance of tackle is essential to performance.

Dull hooks, frayed line or worn rod guides invite disappointment at the moment of truth. The American Fishing Tackle Manufacturers Association offers these tips for making sure your gear is ready for your next fishing outing.

- Fishing rods should be completely disassembled, cleaned and a light coat of penetrating oil applied over metal joints.

- To prevent bowing, rods should be stored in an upright position and never leaned against a wall or floor. Rigid plastic or metal tubular containers take the worry out of stepping on or breaking rods during the off-season.

- Reels should be removed from the reel seats, broken down and lubricated to prevent rust from forming or salt water from corroding the moving parts.

- A few simple tugs should indicate whether line has begun oxidizing and losing its prescribed "test" strength specifications. If the line is relatively new, reversing its position on the reel will restore its strength.

- Hooks on lures should be sharpened with an ignition point file and rusty hooks replaced.

Pilot Plant Breaks New Ground At Clovis On Alternate Energy

Ground breaking ceremonies for a fuel alcohol pilot plant at New Mexico State University's Plains Branch Agricultural Experiment Station at Clovis also has opened up new territory in agricultural research.

"I never dreamed 10 or 15 years ago that agriculture would have taken a direct role in fuel production," said Dr. Koert J. Lessman, Agricultural Experiment Station director. He told a crowd of more than 200 people that challenges such as fuel alcohol production make agricultural research an exciting science.

It was about 10 years ago that Dr. George Morin, the project agricultural engineer, began taking an interest in alternate fuels. Morin said although he didn't seriously consider energy problems in the late '60s, he was concerned with irrigation efficiencies in his research at the University of Arizona. "I realized then that if you conserve water you automatically conserve energy."

"By 1971 or 1972, I could see problems in terms of energy available for pumping water," Morin said. The 1973 oil embargo was conclusive evidence in the case for changing agricultural practices.

That's when he began to look at alternate energy sources from an energy efficiency standpoint. In the next few years he continued his irrigation research and earned a Ph.D in soil and water science.

However, it wasn't until April 1980 that he was able to concentrate his studies on producing alcohol fuel from plants. His position at the new pilot plant gave him this opportunity.

Morin has devoted most of the past year to developing a fuel alcohol plant model and ironing out production problems. He also has modified diesel and spark emission engines to run on alcohol instead of an alcohol-gasoline mixture.

"We plan to use the alcohol produced at the pilot plant in a diesel engine to pump irrigation water and to power farm truck engines," he said.

The ground breaking ceremonies also included a sneak preview of the plant. A scale model and the plant's actual components were on display. The components will be assembled and in working order before the end of August, according to Morin.

The plant will house cooking, fermenting and boiler units, while the distillation column and crop residue burner will be constructed just outside. The tanks will be able to distill 800 gallons of 190 proof alcohol to fuel the modified engines, and 720 gallons of spent mash suitable for livestock feed.

Morin's distillery is only one of the energy conservation programs at the branch station. Agronomists Dr. Dale Fuehring and Dr. Ralph Finkner are studying nearly 30 crops for their alcohol production capabilities.

One crop, the Jerusalem artichoke, is high in sugar content and shows promise for alcohol production. It's knobby, twisted roots could produce as much as 380 gallons of alcohol an acre.

Another addition to the branch station's alternate energy package is now under construction. A 56-foot-tall wind charger, which looks like a cross between an old-fashioned wind mill and an airplane propeller, will provide electricity to the station.

Although the charger will provide about 21,000 kilowatt hours of electricity a year, its primary purpose is to demonstrate how wind-generated electricity can reduce the costs of energy for deep-well irrigation pumping. The wind charger is a cooperative project between NMSU and the University of New Mexico.

Researchers aren't the only ones with far-sighted ideas on energy. Finkner, who is also the station superintendent, said the station's advisory committee originated the idea for the pilot plant.

"It was based on their recommendation that we initiated a proposal for a fuel alcohol plant," he said. The advisory committee, which includes farmers from a four-county area, took the idea from its grass roots beginning and followed it through with economic and political support, Finkner said.

State Rep. Hoyt Pattison and Advisory Committee Chairman Wayne Baker brought the proposal before the New Mexico Legislature. The proposal was approved December 1979. In addition to legislative funding through the New Mexico Energy and Minerals Department, the project received funds from the Four Corners Regional Commission and NMSU's Agricultural Experiment Station.

Morin views criticism of fuel alcohol as a fad solution to the energy crisis from a researcher's long-range perspective. "In the long run, petroleum has a finite limit. We should start building our plants and doing our research now so that when we reach that limit, we will be prepared," he said.

REPENTANCE AND GRACE

When the sinner is convicted by the Holy Spirit of the seriousness of sin and of judgment to come, and cries to the Lord to save him, he has of course repented, or changed his mind, as the Greek term indicates. Many of God's servants, however, considering only the fact that sinners need such a change of mind, conclude that the way to produce the greatest results in their ministry is to stress repentance.

Such should take note of the response to the three great calls to repentance by which the dispensation of the law was brought to a close: John the Baptist called Israel to repentance (Matt. 3:1-12) but was beheaded as a result (14:3-10). The Lord Jesus took up the cry where John had left off (4:17), but was crucified for it. After the resurrection the Lord sent His disciples to preach "repentance and remission of sins... in His name, among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem" (Luke 24:47) but Jerusalem itself refused to repent and it was not long before blood again flowed, as Stephen was stoned and a great persecution followed (Acts 7:54-8:3).

The guilt of Israel's impotence increased too, as the call to repentance was intensified, for while John's murder was permitted by the people, Christ's was *demand*ed by them, and Stephen's was actually committed by them. Thus the carrying out of the so-called "Great Commission" was bogged down at the very start, for if Jerusalem and the covenant people refused to repent, what hope was there that the nations would do so?

"BUT WHERE SIN ABOUNDED GRACE DID MUCH MORE ABOUND. THAT AS SIN HATH REIGNED unto death, EVEN SO MIGHT GRACE REIGN through righteousness unto eternal life by Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 5:20-21).

After calls to repentance had failed, the ascended and glorified Lord stooped down to save Saul, the chief of sinners, while on the road to Damascus, in anything but a repentant mood. The Lord saved Saul, not by threatening him or dealing with him in judgment, but by speaking to him in the tenderest tones and showing him the glory of His grace. And this trophy of grace was sent forth to proclaim "the gospel of the grace of God" and the merits of his crucified, glorified Lord.

This is why repentance was emphasized, indeed was the theme of God's message, from John until Paul, while grace, proclaimed thru the cross and received by faith, gradually displaced it as the theme of God's message for "this present evil age" (Gal. 1:1-5; Acts 20:24).

Letters To The Editor

by Farwell School Children

Dear Mr. Getz,
I feel that next year's U.I.L. schedule of events should be changed. Some of our pupils had to give up certain events, such as Picture Memory and Oral Reading, because they had two or more events at the same time. I hope they change the schedule for next year.
Sincerely yours,
Bony Nicolas

schedules change too much from one year to the next. Last year we had a morning recess, but this year we have only a 10 minute recess at noon. Everything has been changed from last year. I wish things would stop changing from year to year.
Yours truly,
Alice Herrera

Dear Mr. Getz,
I believe that the MX missile should not be put in Farmer County. If they did put the missile here, the farmers could not produce food for other states. Farmers and ranchers would have to move because no one can live within 3,000 ft. of the missile. They should put the missile in Arizona, Utah, Nevada or another desert county because some day I want to farm like my dad.
Your friend,
Jason Schilling

Dear Mr. Getz,
I believe that the city of Farwell should get a new bowling alley. Anytime you want to bowl you have to go over to Clovis, New Mexico. I like to bowl but hardly ever get to because I don't have a way of getting to Clovis.
Sincerely,
Ursula Dollar

Dear Mr. Getz,
I dislike the proposed beginning times for the elementary school day next year. It is not fair to the Jr. High and High School students. The Jr. High students would start school before the elem. And we would be getting out after the elementary students.
Your friend,
Jacob Lopez

Dear Mr. Getz,
I feel that they need to lower prices on every thing. The governor should make more money if they aren't going to lower prices. If the governor doesn't make more money, and if they don't lower prices, I don't know what we will do.

Sincerely yours,
Mark Autrey

Dear Mr. Getz,
I think the price of gas is going too high. The gas man comes out in the country to fill the gas tanks.
Sincerely,
Dana Haseloff

Dear Mr. Getz,
There should be a stop put on air and water pollution so the fish and birds will not be eating it. One way to stop it is to not burn so much coal, or throw trash in the water.
Sincerely yours,
Roy Perales

Dear Mr. Getz,
I like to be in school because all the teachers are nice to you. I like my English teacher because she is very good to the people. However, the people aren't nice to her. They call her names. I don't like them to call her names, so I get away from them because I don't want them to call my favorite teacher names. I like her a lot, and I feel good because she is trying to help me.
Sincerely,
Elodia Ortega

Dear Mr. Getz,
I am concerned about the MX missile being put by Farwell and other neighboring communities have as many rights as others. There should be a vote on where it should be put. It should be located where there is more desert land or wasteland. The proposed location makes a good sight for enemies to bomb, so it needs to be near the least-populated areas in the country.
Yours truly,
Robbie White

Dear Mr. Getz,
I am very concerned about the MX missile. I think that if the MX missile is built around here this would be the center of attention, if there was a war. It would also take up too much farm land. Another problem is that there would be a lot of people moving here. And we would have a shortage of houses which would make it hard on a lot of people.
Sincerely,
Randy Davis

Dear Mr. Getz,
I think that we shouldn't have the MX missile system. If we were attacked by somebody, the farmers and everybody would be the first to get bombed. It would ruin the farmland for a long time. If they take our land to dig holes for the missiles, then we would have a hard time getting around.
I think they should put the missiles out in the Mexican desert. If they bombed the desert, it wouldn't hurt anybody.
Sincerely,
Carey Stancell

Dear Mr. Getz,
I think pollution should be stopped along the highways and country roads. Every time police see someone throwing litter out or leaving it at picnic stops to blow away, they should pay high fines. Those who can't pay the fine should have to pick up a limited area of trash, then maybe we can clean up Farwell because it sure does need it.
Sincerely,
Dee Anne Ray

Dear Mr. Getz,
I like the school and I like the streets and I like to go to math and I don't like to change classes.
Sincerely, sincerely yours,
Beto Mendoza

Dear Mr. Getz,
Pollution is a terrible thing. It kills animals, and someday it will kill people, too. It's not very bad in Farwell or Texico, but if things keep going like they are now, it will get worse.
Sincerely,
Kelley R. Foster

Dear Mr. Getz:
I am writing you about the problem we have about the phone system taken over by E.N.M.R.

Sometimes you can dial a Texico number and you will get a busy signal, then you will dial the long distance way and it will ring. It's also this way when you dial some Clovis numbers.
So the phone system needs to correct their phone connections.
Sincerely,
Sheila Smith

Dear Sir:
I'm writing as a citizen of Farwell. I'm in the eighth grade and I'm going into high school pretty soon. And I'm inquiring about our new time schedule. I think someone didn't take the time to consider what problems this time schedule would cause. It can affect many elementary students. I think it should be looked over again. Thank you for your time.
Sincerely,
Cynthia Lynn Ancira

Reunion Reminder

Lazbuddie exes are reminded of this weekend's reunion starting at 1 p.m. CDT Saturday, July 11, at 11:30 a.m. Sunday, July 12, at Lazbuddie High School.
During both days there will be an arts and crafts display, tours of the school's new addition and "lots of visiting."
An awards program will be Sunday afternoon with entertainment in the Lazbuddie school auditorium. The event is sponsored by Lazbuddie Young Homemakers.

Dear Sir:
I would appreciate it if the trashcans of the city were picked up more often. Since the trash isn't picked up weekly, all of the trash that doesn't fit in the trash barrels blows down the alleys. This concerns me because it makes our town look trashy. Is there a way to prevent this? Does the town need to hire some more garbage collectors? I would appreciate it if this was brought before the town, so something could be done about it.
Sincerely,
Cathey Gobbie

Dear Mr. Getz:
We teenagers and small children need some kind of recreation on weekends and spare time. I suggest for teenagers and small children that we have a skating rink or a miniature golf course. Maybe we could have a bigger park or a playland. We could open another bowling alley. I think that we should consider this.
Sincerely,
Marla Meeks

Dear Mr. Getz:
I am writing about a problem in school. Next year we are going to have to come to school earlier and get out later. Well I don't like the idea and neither do most of the students. We feel we have enough school and classes as it is.
Sincerely,
Christina Pena

Dear Editor:
I need to say I'm against this time change at school. I think if they're going to do this time change they shouldn't have school on Fridays, but if they do, what about the farm kids? They'll have to get up an hour earlier. What the school is doing is fixing it up for the town kids.
Sincerely,
Brian White

With energy costs zooming just any center pivot won't do.

The whole equation changes. The few hundred you can save buying a cheaper pivot can be eaten up in the first year by rising energy costs alone. That's why the right match-up of power, pipe sizes and pressure can make all the difference in the world.

At Valley, we have the latest technology. We'd like to talk to you and show you before you buy any center pivot. Because just any center pivot won't do, especially if rising energy costs are a concern.

Valley dominates the field.

Polly Turner Appearing In ENMU Musical Play

Polly Turner of Farwell is appearing in the ENMU production of "Guys and Dolls" and is the only high school student in the musical play cast.

Polly, who has been dancing since early elementary school, was asked to join the cast after choreographer Peter Kentis of Portales "discovered" her in the Farwell High School production of "Grease" this past spring.

The Farwell High School junior is appearing in the play which opened Thursday night and is based on writer Damon Runyan's good bad guys of New York City's Broadway district.

"Sit Down, You're Rockin' The Boat" and "I Love You A Bushel And A Peck" are two of the tunes from the musical comedy which is being shown at the ENMU Theater.

In the musical, Nathan Detroit is the sweet, tough guy gambler who runs the "Oldest Established Permanent Floating Crap Game In New York."

He and his sidekicks are primarily concerned with keeping the game out of harm's way in the person of Lt. Brannigan of the New York City Police Department. Detroit himself is concerned with keeping out of marriage with Adelaide, his dancer-girlfriend of 14 years.

The plot thickens when Sky Masterson, gambler of gamblers, rolls into town and Detroit has no game going. In an effort to raise the money to pay for a place for the game, Detroit bets Masterson that he cannot take Sarah Brown, with the Salvation Army Save-a-Soul Mission, to Havana, Cuba for an evening of dinner and dancing. Masterson takes on the bet, then falls in love with Sarah and complications set in.

The musical comedy of the ENMU Corral Repertory Company and will play tonight (Friday), Tuesday, July 14, and Saturday, July 18. For reservations call the Fine Arts Box Office at 562-2710.

Farwell's cast member is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner and is currently involved with the Gymnastics Elite group in addition to her dancing.

In ENMU Musical

Polly Turner of Farwell, left, and her castmate Amy Jordan of Portales strike a pose from "Guys and Dolls" which is currently playing at the ENMU theater in Portales. Polly is the only high school member of the cast and was asked to join the group after choreographer

Peter Kentis of Portales saw her in the Farwell High School production of "Grease" last spring. She will be a junior this fall at Farwell High and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Turner of Oklahoma Lane.

Slide Show To Be Presented By Bo Bartleys

A slide presentation on the El Rancho De Los Ninos Ranch in Guatemala is to be given by Bo and Jeanie Bartley, formerly of Farwell and now residents of the Ranch.

The couple will give the slide presentation Sunday, July 12, at 6 p.m. CDT at the First Baptist Church in Farwell.

"This is an open invitation to everyone," said Roene Stewart, church member, adding, "fellowship will follow the presentation so everyone can have an opportunity to visit with Bo and Jeanie."
