

Parmer County Voters Go To Polls Tuesday

Parmer County voters will join voters across Texas on Tuesday, Nov. 3, in casting their ballots pro or con on seven Texas Constitutional Amendments.

Parmer County Clerk Bonnie Warren urges all voters to please bring their voter card with them to their polling place. All eight polling places in Parmer County will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. CST. Mrs. Warren said, predicting that voter turnout will be light.

Places to vote in Parmer County include Black, at the elevator; Friona, at the Community Center; Bovina, American Legion Hall; Farwell, County Courtroom; Lazbuddie, at the school; Oklahoma Lane, at the Community Center;

Rhea, Parish Hall; and in Lakeview, at the J. Dee Willard residence.

Amendments to the constitution that voters will be saying yes or no to include:

Proposition 1, to allow the legislature to authorize cities, towns and other taxing units to grant exemptions from ad valorem taxes on an unproductive area in order to encourage development.

Proposition 2, permits property owners who have defective titles, but who have occupied land and paid taxes on it for 50 years or more, to have their titles corrected.

Proposition 3, creates a committee to oversee the state's budget, to consist of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House and the chairs of the Senate Finance Committee and the Senate State Affairs Committee, and others.

Proposition 4, dedicates half the state's surplus revenue to water research and development.

Proposition 5, exempts livestock, poultry and some other farm products from property taxation.

Proposition 6, permits local option exemption of 40 percent of the appraised values of homesteads.

Proposition 7, authorizes the state to issue additional bonds to fund the Veteran's Land Fund. Would also raise the maximum interest rates allowed on these bonds from six to ten percent.

Deadline for voting absentee for the amendment election is Friday, Oct. 30, at 5 p.m. CST.

Voters who are unable to be in Parmer County on November 3 may vote by absentee ballot, according to Mrs. Warren.

The constitutional amendments will be coming up for a vote in Texas next week. We feel that the Number 4 amendment setting up a water trust fund is important to the people of the High Plains. If you remember, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and his Gulf Coast cronies defeated the vote on the water importation plan. Well, now they are seeking to sink the new water financing plan.

The last time the water importation plan would have carried if all the voters on these baldies had gotten out and voted. They didn't and the downstaters led by Hobby scuttled us. This time we must get out and vote for the Bill Clayton plan to set up a water trust fund and sink the Gulf Coast Bill Hobbitess.

Big Brother in his debatable wisdom gave us our hour back last Sunday morning that he snatched last spring. It sure brightened our morning but darkened our evening. Again our insides are out of time with the sun and it will be several weeks before the two get back in step. In the meantime we will try to be our usual sunny, pleasant and kind self.

By the time you read this column the U.S. Senate will have voted on the administration's pending AWACS deal with Saudi Arabia. Right now it looks like the aginners will carry the day, but Ronnie probably has a card or two up his sleeve, so figure the outcome is considerably more doubtful than Texas Tech winning its next game.

We still consider this a landmark vote for the future good of this country. We do not expect to see a drastic curtailment in our supply of Saudi oil if the vote goes against the deal, but would rather expect to be writing columns in several years bemoaning the higher price and scarcity of petroleum products.

This country is still in hock to the world oil merchants for energy. The largest producer is Saudi Arabia and right now is one of our few, at least lukewarm friends. If the Reagan Administration is figuring any form of punishment to the Mad Man from Libya we will indeed need the future good will of the Saudis.

Even if we are not so figuring, given the volatility of the political climate surrounding Khadafi, he could go and all stability to his government could go all in the explosion of a bomb.

Our economy could not stand a cutback by the Saudis of, say, even four or five percent in their production and then suddenly lose the eight percent of our oil imports we get from Libya. The rest of the world's cutpurses would jack their oil up to double the prices we are now paying and we would be faced with an economic shutdown or a trade deficit that would also ruin us.

We cannot afford to risk alienating the government of Saudi Arabia, at least not for several more years until we have some form of fuel alternatives in sight. It is terrifying to realize that with our continuing dependence on foreign energy placing such economic and political restraints on us we are doing virtually nothing to free ourselves from this vise. We are really a nation of grasshoppers.

The Twin Cities are going to the dogs. If you don't believe it, try selling light bulbs door to door. It has been suggested that the Lions Club give up the light bulb sale program and sell dog food. It looks like the market is there. In fact, some places that only had one light in the house had a plethora of canine guardians. Oh well, the Lions Club will sell more bulbs next year and carry a box of

Clements Warns Amendment 4 Failure Could Lead To Future Tax Increases

AUSTIN -- Governor Bill Clements warned Texans this week that defeat of Amendment No. 4 in the general election on November 3 could lead to higher taxes in the future. Clements made the remarks at a meeting of Water for Texas Committee, a statewide organization of prominent leaders who are backing the amendment, which would provide a plan for setting aside a "nest egg" from the state's budget surplus to help finance water projects.

The governor was responding to published claims of some opponents that passage of the amendment "will lead to higher taxes down the road."

"The truth of the matter is, Texans are more likely to face increased taxes if we DON'T pass Amendment No. 4," Clements declared. "That's simply because the surplus will be frittered away every two years with the help of some lawmakers opposing Amendment No. 4, and we'll end up facing a water crisis down the road that people will demand we take care of, even if it does mean a tax increase."

The proposed amendment, backed by the governor, a two-thirds majority of the Legislature and a committee of prominent leaders throughout the state, would provide for three actions:

(1) Allow an increase in interest that can be paid from the current limit of 6 percent, now preventing sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds, to a more realistic rate of 12 percent.

(2) Create a loan guaranty program which will enable local communities to issue water project bonds at a lower rate because of backing of credit by the State of Texas.

(3) Set aside one-half of the state's budget surplus every two years to create a priority "nest egg" fund to assist local governments in financing of water and sewage projects and pay for vital research programs.

Come Into My Parlor . . .

Squeaks and creeks, spooks and gooks, all of that and more is promised to take place at the Farwell Jr. High school's Haunted House tomorrow night. Admission to the house full of horrors will be 50 cents. Just go to the junior high school building and a friendly ghoul, like Frankenstein [Blake Kelley] or Mr. Bones, or Miss Witch [D'Ann Ray] will show you the way to the Student Council's House of Halloween. Also at Farwell tomorrow night will be the school carnival in the old school gymnasium, complete with games, concessions and a king and queen coronation. Everyone is invited to take part in all this spooky fun.

The Environmental Protection Agency requires that all trash be placed in plastic bags,

"The EPA tells us to do this, and if we don't follow the regulation the city can be fined $1,000 per day," said Marie Christian, city clerk.

Leaking Rail Car Found, Local Traffic Re-routed

The Parmer County Sheriff's department and local Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) officials, as well as several other area law enforcement agencies, were out in full force Monday night "re-routing" traffic on the Lubbock highway after being notified by Santa Fe Railroad about a railroad tank car leaking gassy fumes.

Morgan reports that his office, the Farwell, Friona, and Muleshoe DPS officers, and city police units from Bovina and Friona were all at the scene re-routing traffic for approximately one hour.

"We were called by Santa Fe at approximately 6 p.m.," reports Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan. "They advised us that they had a railroad car leaking highly inflammable material approximately five

"We were then told the problem had been solved and that there was no need to stop the traffic any longer," Morgan said. "We were told it was safe to release the traffic."

Courthouse Closed For Election Day

A reminder that the offices at the Parmer County Courtroom will be closed Tuesday, Nov. 3, for election day.

Loren Simmons, regional manager of public relations for Santa Fe in Dallas, reported Tuesday that the train crew detected a strange odor and stopped the train to locate the problem. The crew found a tank car to be leaking slightly and then tried to determine where the leak was coming from.

City offices in Farwell will be open.

Voting will take place in the Parmer County Courtroom from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. for area voters.

According to Simmons, the leak was apparently not coming from the car's valve, but the leak site could not be located. The crew then detached the tank car from the train and parked it on siding outside of Farwell.

Simmons said the leaking had stopped and reports that the tank was not leaking at press time. "There is no hazard involved at all," he said. "No fire danger. Shipper of the car has been notified, and they are en route to see if the car needs to be repaired or if they need to transload the substance," Simmons said.

The Santa Fe spokesman said the leaking substance was called "styrene monimar." The train was en route to California.

Cars Vandalized At Farwell High

Mrs. Bill Kent of Farwell reported to the Parmer County sheriff's office this week that her son's car, as well as the cars of several other Farwell High School band students, had been vandalized while parked outside of Farwell High Tuesday night.

According to Sheriff Bill Morgan, the Kent car had been vandalized with egg, white shoe polish, and soap. Mrs. Kent also told the sheriff that the other autos had received the same damage, and some had the air let out of the tires.

Mrs. Kent said the band returned at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning from a trip to Lubbock's Jones Stadium, only to find that their cars had been vandalized.

In other action this week at the sheriff's office, Max Steinbock of Lazbuddie reported that four mag wheels and tires were stolen from his house sometime during the last three weeks. Steinbock values the missing items at $500.

The Texas Highway Department reported that a "Low Clearance" sign, located one half mile east of the underpass on Farm-to-Market Road 145 has been stolen.

The festivities will also include games and a Spook House.

Farwell school carnival is to begin at 7 p.m. CST continuing until 10 p.m. in the old gymnasium. Booths and games will fill the gym, and the kids at the junior high have made big plans for a real spook house at their school.

Admission to the spook house, which is guaranteed to scare the wits out of those who enter, will be 50 cents.

Admission to the carnival is free for those in costume, but a 50 cent admissions fee will be charged by the Farwell Young Homemakers to those not in Halloween attire. Kay Stanton, Student Council sponsor, says the 50 cent fee is not a penalty, but was merely imposed to encourage everyone to wear a costume.

With election day on Tuesday, Nov. 3, Parmer County Commissioners Court has issued a resolution in favor of passage of Amendment number 4, "The Water Amendment."

The resolution states in part: "Whereas the Commissioners Court of Parmer County

In 4th place, with 63 points are Johnny Curtis, Richard Engelking and Carl Dean Goettsch.

In 5th place with 62 points are James Craig, Sue Kirkland, Earlene Porter and Jennifer Williams.

In 6th place with 61 points are Hobby Coffman, William Dannheim, Ray Ford, Craig Kaltwasser, Jack Kirkland, Donnie McDonald, Dick Pylant, W.M. Roberts and Don Williams.

In 7th place with 60 points are Teresa King, Max Lonsdale, Carlton Newell, Terry Newell, Scott Parker, Mrs. W.M. Roberts and L.C. Roddam.

In 8th place with 59 points are Pauletta Curtis, John Franse, Steve Franse and Dianne Parker.

In 9th place with 58 points are Claire Brown, James Castleberry, Ronnie Dunsouth, Billy Roberts, Cynthia Thigpen and Robert White.

And in 10th place with 57 points are Lorine Dannheim and Champ Porter.

The contest enters its ninth week this week, and only a mere four weeks remain before we will know who will be the lucky winner of the two tickets to the Dallas Cowboy-Philadelphia Eagles game, plus $50 in cash and an overnight's lodging at the Dallas Regent Hotel.

This week was a bit hard on the weekly entrants, with the average amount right being seven.

But those who managed to fall only one behind the two top winners, with 10 correct guesses, were Chad Dunsouth, Ken Horn, Laura Jacobs and Mark Liethen.

Of the top guessers, the most missed predictions were the Clovis vs. Roswell match and the Houston vs. Arkansas game.

Teams winning the games listed in last week's contest were Vega over Farwell; Springlake-Earth over Hart; Muleshoe over Olton; Roswell High over Clovis; Drake over West Texas; Southern California over Notre Dame; Houston over Arkansas; Texas over SMU; Texas A&M over Rice; Baylor over TCU; Bills over Broncos; and Lions over Packers.

Texico's math class pulled out by one over the Texico computer, with the students having nine right and computer predicting only eight right.

So as it stands now, Drager and Williams will be fighting for those extra points to take the contest's grand prize, but with those in third place only four points away from first place, the tickets could still go to anybody.

agrees that the assurance of an adequate and economic water supply is crucial to the continued growth and prosperity of the Hi-Plains; and

"Whereas state governmental action and support as proposed in Amendment 4 to the Texas Constitution would, if approved by the voters, contribute significantly to the fulfillment of that purpose through the creation of a water trust fund from certain of the state's excess revenues; and

"Whereas the proposed amendment would create a continuing state fund to finance research, water conservation, water quality, sewage treatment and flood control projects throughout Texas in cooperation with local government and water authorities;

"Now therefore be it resolved that the Parmer County Commissioners Court enthusiastically endorses and encourages our voters to support Amendment 4 to the Texas State Constitution.

In other action taken at the court's regular bi-monthly meeting Monday, representatives from the Bovina Senior Citizens group met with the commissioners concerning the possibility of receiving funds from the County's General Revenue Sharing funds.

Mrs. Grady King and Reagan Looney, both of Bovina, were told by the court that the GRS funds for this year had already been earmarked for use, but Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts will check on the status of the funds after they have been reported to the government.

The court approved unanimously that Parmer County and Bailey County law enforcement officials cooperate in the leasing of an identification kit from which a composite picture can be made. Cost would be $125 per year, per county.

Patsy Nance from the Parmer County Tax Appraisal Office presented a contract for consideration for the collection of county taxes, and answered questions concerning the operation of the Appraisal Office, located in Bovina.

County Treasurer Benna Felts was told to reinvest $55,000 of ROW monies in a certificate of deposit for six months and to invest $10,000 of Permanent Improvements funds in a certificate of deposit, also for six months.

Seth Ralston, county extension agent for agriculture, reported that five 4-H students from Parmer County took a total of 15 animals to the Texas State Fair at Dallas, and that 13 of the 15 had made the sale.

The following soil conservation work was approved and ratified: precinct 1, Jerry Loflin.

A public hearing concerning the county's proposed 1982 budget was held at 5 p.m., but no one from the public attended. After going over the proposed budget item by item, the budget was unanimously accepted by the court.

Ronnie Warmuth, high school math teacher and computer instructor at Texico, was playing with his computer again and came up with some interesting stats for the football fans.

Home turf advantage for football:
High school - the home turf served as an advantage 55.7 percent of the time.
College - 57.1 percent of the time.

Pros - 58 percent of the time. He said the figures varied tremendously . . . in the pros during the first week of play it was only 25 percent, while last week it was 86 percent.

follow some simple safety precautions.

Reflector tape on a Halloween costume will make the child visible for 500 feet, says Leo Yates, Extension family life specialist for New Mexico State University, suggesting the use of red or white fluorescent tape.

When selecting colors for children's rainwear or costumes, remember that white and yellow are the most visible colors at night. These colors can be seen for about 120 feet, while browns and blues are less visible.

Little spooks should also carry a flashlight or a battery-operated lantern. The lights will alert motorists and light the way for the children who dash between bushes and across lawns.

When buying ready-made costumes, look on the box or label to ensure that the garment is flame resistant or flame retardant. Also, be sure that the costume provides good visibility for the child and that it does not present a tripping hazard.

Children should be instructed to use sidewalks whenever possible, and motorists should be especially careful when driving tomorrow night, as many youngsters will be crossing haphazardly going from house to house.

Major C.W. Bell, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety in Lubbock, also brings up a grim subject, that of tampering with the holiday treats given to the young goblins.

All Set For Candy!

Courtney Herington is all ready to take part in traditional Halloween activities tomorrow night, proving that two heads are better than one. With her "girl from Mars" kooky spooks costume, Courtney is hoping that when people see her two heads, she'll get twice as much candy! The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Herington of Farwell will be just one of many Twin Cities youngsters out and about

Saturday night, and motorists are reminded to use extreme caution when driving through the community. Not only does Courtney have the option of going door-to-door to collect her Halloween goodies, she can also attend the Halloween Party at the Farwell Convalescent Center or the carnivals at Farwell High and Lazbuddie High. It's going to be a really BIG night!

Roberts Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts heard several cases this week, one involving public intoxication, two for driving with suspended license, and one for driving while intoxicated.

Darrell Buske, 41, of Friona, was charged with public intoxication and was fined $35.

Harvey Schott, 39, of Hereford, was charged with felony DWI and had bond set at $2,000 pending grand jury action. Schott was also charged with DWLS and was fined $200 plus court costs.

David Gross, 19, of Clovis, was charged with DWLS and was fined $200 plus court costs.

Fire Calls

Texico volunteer fire fighters had three emergency calls this week, and the Farwell department received one, according to dispatchers at both departments.

In Texico, the fire truck was sent to 904 Hereford at 7:53 p.m. on October 22 to extinguish a trailer house fire. The fire was caused by a short in an air-conditioner, but no damage was sustained as the firemen arrived at the scene in time.

On October 25, at 8:40 a.m. the ambulance transported a patient from 813 Garwood to Clovis High Plains Hospital.

On October 25 at 10:21 p.m. the ambulance took a patient to the Friona hospital from 608 Anderson.

In Farwell, the ambulance was dispatched to a Ninth Street residence and transported a patient to Clovis High Plains Hospital at 12:05 p.m. on October 27.

Funeral Wednesday For B.O. McDaniel

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon at the Ellis Funeral Home in Muleshoe for former Muleshoe physician B.O. McDaniel of Crane, Tex., who died there early Tuesday. Officiating at final rites was Rev. W.T. Perry, pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Crane. Burial was in Bailey County Memorial Park with Ellis Funeral Home in charge.

Dr. McDaniel was born in Springhill, Mass., and came to Muleshoe in 1954 from Amherst. He was a medical doctor and practiced medicine in Muleshoe from 1954 until his retirement in 1978. He and two other doctors purchased the old Green clinic and hospital and started West Plains Hospital and Clinic which was sold to its present owners in 1968. He was a Baptist and a member of the Lamb, Bailey, Hockley and Cochran counties medical association.

He was preceded in death by his wife Mildred in 1977. Some 10 months ago he moved to Crane from Muleshoe and made his home at Golden Manor Nursing Home there.

Wins API Scholarship

Keith Martin was awarded an American Petroleum Institute scholarship for the 1981 fall semester at South Plains College in Levelland.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Martin of Farwell was presented a $100 API scholarship to be used in his studies as a diesel mechanics major.

Martin, a 1980 graduate of Farwell High, is completing work on his degree major and is employed in Odessa by Diesel Injectors Service of Texas.

In the 11 years since the South Plains chapter of the American Petroleum Institute established a scholarship program at South Plains College, the chapter has awarded more than $17,000 in scholarships assisting 123 persons. A total of $2,600 in scholarships was awarded this fall to SPC recipients.

An original $12,000 donation to the API scholarship endowment fund for SPC established in 1976 has grown to $22,000 today, according to T.C. Coleman Williams, Jr., chairman of the chapter's scholarship committee.

LET'S KEEP THE WATER RUNNING IN TEXAS!

In cities and towns all across Texas, local water problems are threatening to erupt into one enormous statewide crisis. Countless communities are facing growing water supply, water treatment, sewage treatment and flood control problems estimated to cost a staggering $50 billion over the next 25 years. To make matters worse, federal funds for water projects have recently been slashed.

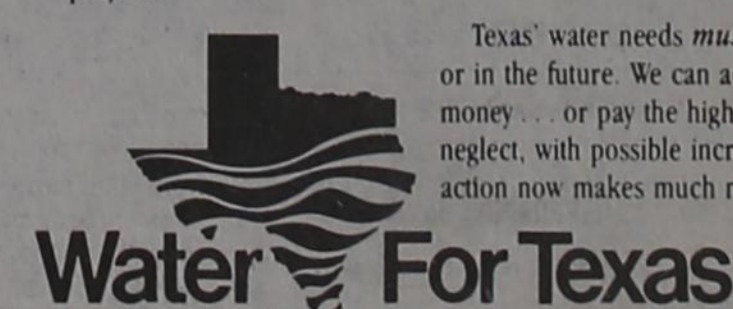

But on November 3, Texans have the opportunity to adopt a plan, already passed by two-thirds of the Legislature, which would harness a portion of our state's budget surplus to help shoulder that heavy local burden.

The plan is proposed Constitutional Amendment No. 4.

Passage of Amendment No. 4 would:

- Make possible the sale of more than $200 million in authorized and urgently needed state bonds to address a backlog of needed projects.
- Create a loan guaranty program to enable local communities to save millions of dollars in issuing future bonds.
- Begin to build a "nest egg" for the future from a part of the state's budget surplus to assist local governments in financing future water and sewage projects.

Texas' water needs must be met, either now or in the future. We can act now, and save money . . . or pay the higher price later for our neglect, with possible increased taxes. Sensible action now makes much more sense for Texas.

Reports From Farmers, Ranchers Needed

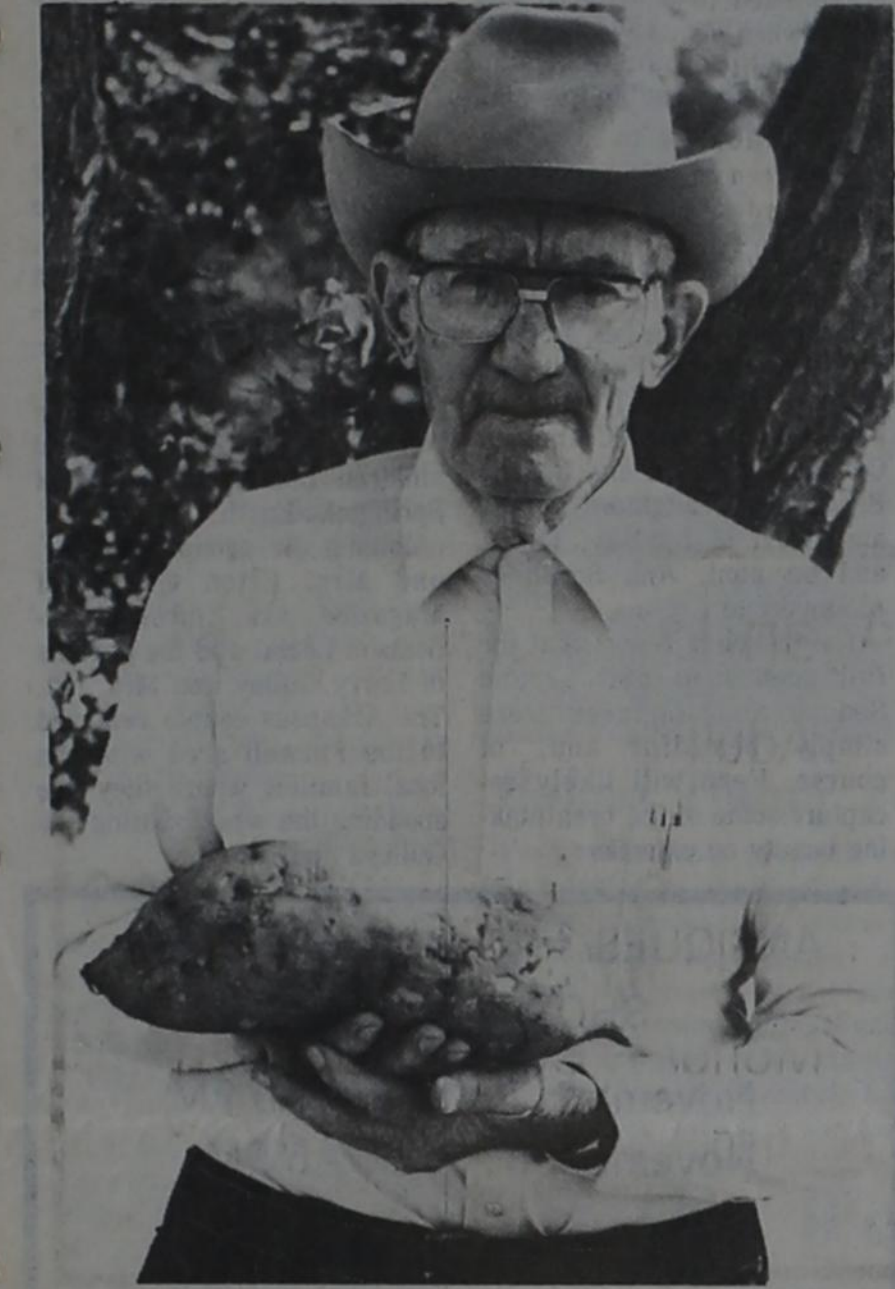

Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin interviewing Texas farmers and ranchers in mid-November on 1981 final acreage, yield, and crop production and end-of-the-year poultry and livestock inventories for Texas and individual counties, according to Doug Murfield, state statistician.

The confidential interviews will be conducted through the mail or phone or in person by field enumerators. Data collection will end in early January.

markets, Murfield said. Without them, most producers would have to depend on trade sources for information on crop and livestock prospects.

Murfield has urged farmers and ranchers to return questionnaires promptly. He said all information reported is kept confidential and is combined with other reported information for state and county estimates. These estimates give Texas farmers and ranchers information on which to plan their production and marketing activity in a way that will be most beneficial to their individual operations.

The reports help in transporting, storing, marketing and processing farm products to maintain an orderly flow from producer to consumer. They also assure competitive County estimates are available for livestock, dairy, poultry, field crops including cotton, small grains, vegetables, fruits and pecans, and cash receipts from the sale of Texas farm commodities.

They can be obtained by writing the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767, or Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, the Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

I Yam What I Yam

Albert "Blackie" Smith of Farwell proved this harvest season that he is yam sure a yam grower, producing this monster weighing four and a half pounds. Blackie says his yam patch also produced a bigger yam than the one he is shown holding, but it had already been given away. Blackie and his son Eddie both worked the garden, so he says they should both get credit for producing the big yam.

3-State Trip 'Colorful' Recalls Gladys Hardage

"What I liked best were the beautiful trees and their bright colors, and the group's devotional prayer and singing each day as we traveled on our way," said Gladys Hardage of Farwell about her recent trip with the Clovis Senior Wheels group through Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri.

The tour got underway, by chartered bus on October 1, traveling 470 miles the first day to Tulsa, Okla. "We crossed Arkansas and saw the beautiful trees in fall colors, and even stopped in Arkansas for a box of apples to snack on while we traveled," Mrs. Hardage recalled.

train rides and the "American Plunge" ride, something Gladys says was "the log flume ride."

Another highlight of the stay in Branson was seeing the outdoor play "Shepherd of the Hills." Before viewing the production, the group first explored the settings of the outdoor theatre. "The play is called the best attended outdoor drama in America," she commented, and is located in the Baldknobber Hills.

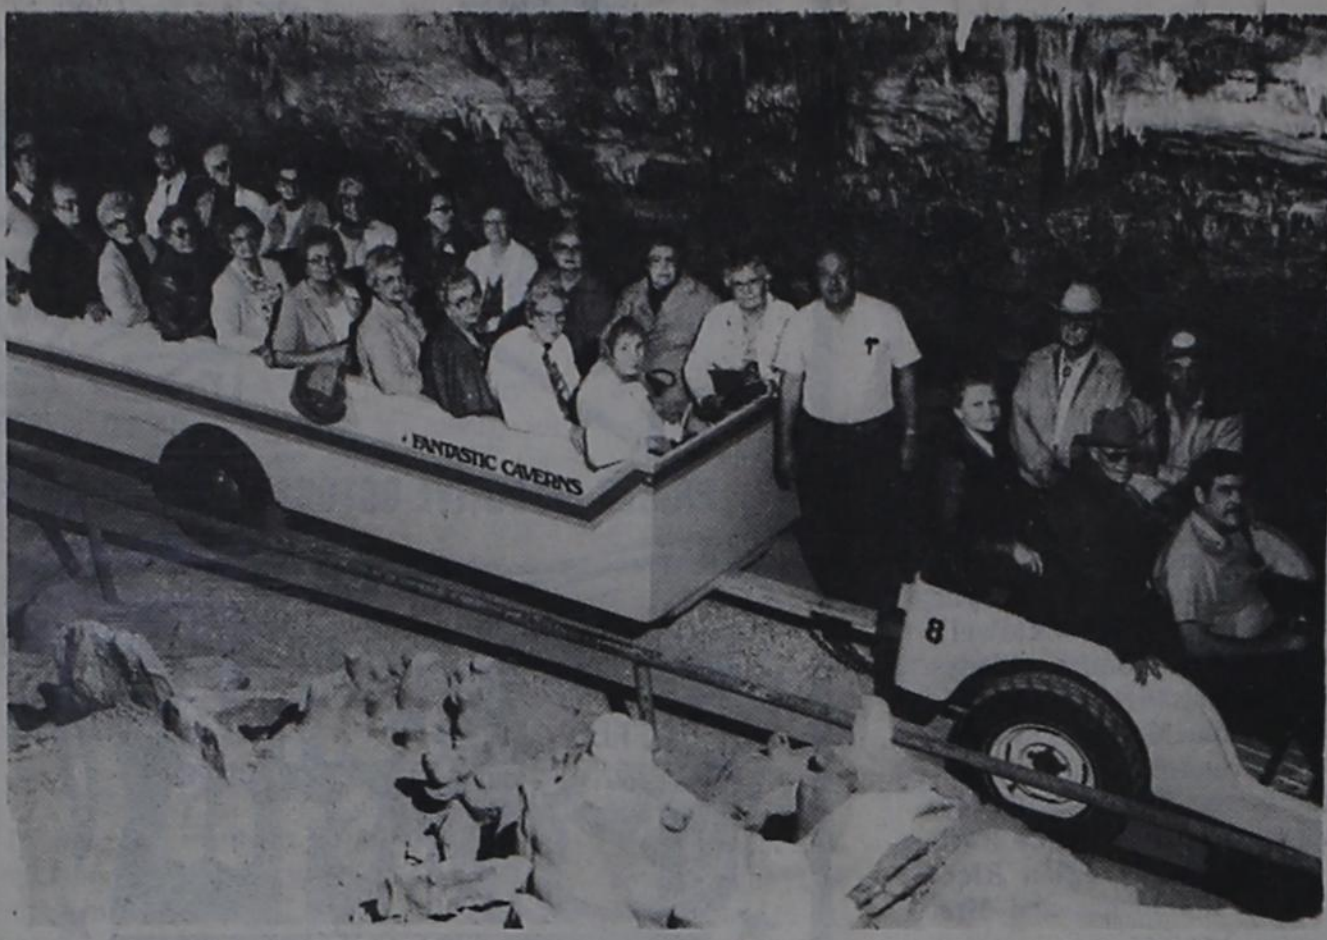

The touring men and women also attended musicals at Opryland USA and a comedy musical entitled "The Foggy River Boys."

Before departing Branson, the tourists then visited Table Rock Lake in a large boat.

From Branson they then traveled 50 miles and had "a once in a lifetime experience of silence and coloring," in the Fantastic Caverns near Springfield. "This was a private guided tour on a jeep drawn train through the low ceiling caverns. Some place we could touch the ceiling with our hands," she remembered.

A tour of the souvenir shop was also on the agenda, with their next stop being in Oklahoma City, before heading home.

Mrs. Hardage was back in Farwell on October 6, "arriving at sunset," she said.

Touring The Caverns

Gladys Hardage [second from far left] was one of many Clovis Senior Wheels members who toured Fantastic Caverns in Springfield, Mo., during the first week of October. The cavern tour was only one of many stops on a six-day sojourn through Arkansas, Oklahoma and Missouri. Mrs.

Hardage said the trees were in full color for the trip and that was probably the part she liked the best.

Former Parmer Agent Wins National Award

Jana G. Pronger, Hutchinson County Extension Agent (Home Economics), a former Parmer County extension agent, has received the Distinguished Service Award for 1981, the highest honor given by the National Association of Extension Home Economists.

One of six Texas County Extension Agents chosen for the honor, Miss Pronger received the award during the national association's annual meeting October 11-16 in Las Vegas, Nev.

"The award recognizes Miss Pronger's creativity and outstanding leadership in educational programming on family health and protection throughout Hutchinson County," according to Ilene Miller, Bell County Extension Agent (Home Economics), awards committee chairman for the Texas Association of Extension Home Economists which nominated the agent.

Attendance at the 1980 Hutchinson County Health Fair numbered more than 1,200 persons. Twenty-three agencies participated in the fair with educational exhibits and screening services provided the public. More than 250 children and adults were immunized against several common diseases, such as measles, mumps, and polio.

In addition, the fairs have become major community efforts involving numerous county residents in their planning and implementation.

As part of the emphasis on family health and protection for Hutchinson County residents last year, Miss Pronger also provided diet analysis by computer, special agent-taught programs and volunteer leader-teacher trainings, mass media educational news, and nutrition direct-mail educational series to the public.

Miss Pronger holds a bachelor of arts degree from Sam Houston State University and a master's degree in education from Texas A&M University.

She is a member of the Texas and National Associations of Extension Home Economists and the Texas and American Home Economics Associations.

Wayne Hudnall Visits Relatives In Area

Dr. Wayne Hudnall of Baton Rouge, La., spent a few days last week visiting his parents, Bro. and Mrs. Harvey Hudnall of Farwell. Dr. Hudnall is a professor of agronomy at Louisiana State University.

He flew into Lubbock for his visit where he was met by his parents, and his sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. John Warrick and J.W.; his niece, Renee; and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Dilbeck, all of Lubbock.

He was able to visit with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claud Heath of Farwell on Saturday before going to Clovis to see his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grayson Roberts. While in the Roberts home he also visited with his wife's sister, Mrs. Tom Seiler and her daughter, Staci.

He attended the Texico Baptist Church with his parents where he was able to visit with many friends, and then was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. O.B. Coffey, where he also saw Mr. and Mrs. Willard Gibson of House, the parents of Mrs. Coffey.

Mrs. Coffey's sister, Mrs. Carolyn Dintamen of Casper, Wyo., was also in the Coffey home, and visited a long time with Dr. Hudnall as they were classmates at House during their school days. The two had not seen each other since the Gibsons moved to Portales and the Hudnalls to Texico in 1961.

Dr. Hudnall also visited in Portales, spending the night at the home of his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harmon, Brenda and Bryce.

On Monday he then drove to Las Cruces where he attended a four-day soil seminar for agronomists. Upon his return trip, he stopped in Roswell to

"In spite of the short quick trip it was good to have him here," said Mrs. Hudnall. "He had not seen any of the relatives since December 1980."

Dr. Hudnall's family was unable to accompany him on the trip because of school being in session.

31-14 Over Tatum - -

Green Machine Rolls On, Hosts Cloudcroft Tonight

by Texico Journalism Students

Texico Wolverines traveled to Tatum last Friday night riding high on a seven game winning streak. Fighting the cold weather, crucial penalties, and the hard hitting Coyotes, the Wolverines still managed to win the district contest 31-14.

The Coyotes were able to stay in the game with the help of several Texico penalties, including an impressive long-yardage pass from Brad Steward to Joe Steward to the 2 yard line and several goal line drives which were called back due to penalties.

Luck was with the hometown team when they picked up an Earl Bibbs fumble on their own 47 and 10 plays later made the first score of the game. The PAT was not good and Tatum took the lead 6-0.

Despite the blow, the Wolverines ignited their number one offense early in the second quarter, and led the remainder of the game. Jerry Wimberly handed off to Bibbs for a six yard touchdown run and a Brad Steward PAT kick was good, putting Texico ahead 7-6.

The Mean Green defense stiffened and forced the Coyotes to punt. But the Wolverine offense could not move and the ball was returned to Tatum.

But Kent Harding fell on the ball following a Red and White mistake on the Tatum 23 with 6:42 left in the first half. The Coyotes held Texico in 4 consecutive running plays and took over on their own 14. Harding was again quick to capitalize on a Coyote error and fell on a fumble at the Coyote 4-yard line.

It took the Wolverines only one play to score with Bibbs taking it in. The PAT kick was no good and the score was 13-6 with a little over three minutes remaining in the half.

On Tatum's next possession, James Kelley intercepted a Coyote pass with the help of Lynn Tubbs on the 37. But that was all of the excitement in the first half as neither team could move the ball.

With their first possession in the second half, the Wolverines moved from their own 40 to Tatum's 15-yard line. Todd Gerries fumbled and Tatum recovered. But Texico wanted the ball back, so Kelley pulled down a Tatum pass on the hometown 30. Under the leadership of Gerries and E. Bibbs, the Wolverines crossed the goal line, upping the score 19-6. The PAT was unsuccessful.

On Texico's next possession, the squad moved downfield confidently and Gerries ran in from 9 yards out with 1:20 left in the third quarter for the next TD. The extra point was no good, but Texico now led 25-6.

Tatum had the ball for only one play when Wimberly recovered a fumble on Tatum's 41 early in the fourth quarter. On fourth down and short yardage, Wimberly recovered from a broken play and made a dazzling 48-yard touchdown run, the PAT again was missed and Texico kept the advantage 31-6.

The Coyotes were successfully moving when their hopes were dampened by Terry Tubbs who grabbed a Tatum pass on the Green and White 30.

Tatum got the ball back with only a few minutes remaining in the game, and the Coyote quarterback let a 37-yard pass fly, which was caught on the Texico 8. Another short pass was good for a Tatum touchdown. The PAT was good and the score stood at 31-14.

The win improved Texico's record to an impressive 8-0, with one district game remaining.

"We're playing better now than at the beginning of the year," remarked coach David Lynn, "but I don't think we're near what we are capable of. We are still making mistakes."

The Wolverines host Cloudcroft tonight beginning at 7:30 p.m. MST. Lynn reports that the Bears are a young team, average in size.

The Cloudcroft team finished last season with a 1-9, 1-3 record, and haven't done a much better job this year, standing 0-2 in the district.

"But I imagine they'll be hungry for a win," said the coach. "We'll have to be on our toes."

Earning the weekly Big Lick award this week were Neal Snipes, offense; and Kent Harding and Brad Steward, defense.

Leading tackler was Lynn Tubbs with 13. Kent Harding and Jerry Wimberly recovered two fumbles each. James Kelley intercepted two passes and Terry Tubbs intercepted one.

It was a night for quarterback sacks as James Robinson trapped a passer once as did Kent Harding, Jeff Holland and Tommy Boardman.

"The offensive line played a real good ball game," Lynn said.

Jr. Wolverines Fall, Scarring Perfect Record

by Scott Elliott and Ronnie Dunsworth

Texico Wolverine Jr. High and Tatum Puppies had perfect 5-0 records going into the toughest contest of the season last week. Only one team could win, and unfortunately, the Wolverines lost their first game of the season, 8-0.

In the first quarter, the Wolverine offense had trouble getting started in the cold weather as they were not successful on their first offensive series forcing the punt team out.

The Stanley Cross punt was partially blocked, giving Tatum good field position in Wolverine territory.

Tatum started a scoring drive and scored its touchdown on a short run. The PAT run was good and the score stood Tatum 8, Texico 0, at the end of the first quarter.

The second quarter was better for the Wolverine offense, with the running of Billy Bibbs picking up first downs and a potential scoring drive.

The Green and White managed to get to the Tatum 25, but a Wolverine fumble eliminated the scoring promise, turning the ball back to Tatum.

Wolverine defense shut down the Puppies in four straight plays, having the ball punted back to Texico. Two Texico plays were run off before the half ended with Tatum still in the lead.

Both teams' defense were forceful, shutting down both offensive efforts in the third quarter. Neither team could score, with Tatum still clinging on to their narrow lead.

In the fourth quarter the Wolverines defense didn't allow a single first down, bottling up the Tatum offense.

Behind the brilliant running attack of the Wolverine offense, Texico again threatened to score. Bibbs accounted for three consecutive first downs as he started picking apart Tatum's defense. The Wolverines got as close as the Tatum 20 when the gun sounded, ending a hard fought battle, and putting Texico on the losing side of the board for the first time all season.

The Wolverines amassed 148 yards in offense to Tatum's 24 yards. Texico recovered two fumbles, Tatum recovered 4. The Green and White was flagged 10 times for 70 yards and Tatum, 4 times for 30 yards.

In the rushing department, Billy Bibbs led the attack with 130 yards on 29 carries for his sixth straight 100 yard plus game. Charlie Bibbs and Rusty McCormack tallied the rest of the Wolverine offense with Bibbs garnering three yards on two attempts and McCormack nine yards on two carries.

Leading tacklers were Ronnie Galvan with 8; B. Bibbs with 7; followed by Doug Thornton with 6.

In the defensive Big Lick department, Ronnie Galvan, Billy Bibbs and Doug Thornton received this weekly recognition from Coach Scott Parker.

Texico JV Football

Texico Flag Team

Texico musicians were the first on the field last Tuesday night, entertaining a crowd of thousands at Clovis High School annual Band Night. The Green and White musicians, flag team and rifle corps, under the direction of Jerry SADBERRY and Anna Southard, entertained for several minutes, proving that small schools can produce big time music.

Texico Band Entertains At Clovis Band Night

by Texico Journalism I
Texico marching Wolverines were won of five high school bands to entertain at last Tuesday night's Clovis Band Night at Leon Williams Stadium.

Norvil Howell, band director at Clovis High, wrote a letter to Jerry SADBERRY, Texico band director, saying, "The performance by the Texico High School Band, Flag and Rifle Corps was superb."

The Green and White musicians performed to the musical notes of "Apache," "Land Of Make Believe," "Another One Bites The Dust," and "Ice Castles" featuring soloists Buck Gaddis on mellophone, Steve Smith on trombone, Ronnie Galvan on trombone, Bob Steward on baritone, with Dennis Chavez on Timpani.

Clovis Band Night, an annual event, was staged to show the community the area high school and junior high school bands, and to give marching bands an opportunity to view other groups on the field.

Texico band will next perform in the Eastern New Mexico University homecoming parade on November 7.

High School Seniors Invited To Visit UNM

On Senior Day, Saturday, Nov. 7, at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, high school students can find out first hand about the educational opportunities available at UNM.

"We believe a visit to a university campus and interaction with faculty and students provides that first hand experience which is so important in the decision making process. That's what 'Senior Day' is all about," Charlotte

Cooper, Senior Day program coordinator, said. A variety of events are available including free passes to the UNM/Utah football game, a dance held in the Student Union Building and UNM tours.

For more information, high school seniors and their parents should contact the UNM Office of School Relations at 277-5161, or James Harding at Texico High School.

For those who will be unable to attend UNM's Senior Day, a reminder that a representative from that university will be at Texico High School November 20, to visit with high school seniors, beginning at 9 a.m. MST in the high school library.

Texico Chess Club To Host Tournament

Texico Invitational Chess Tournament is set for December 12 at Texico School. Any individual or team from the Twin Cities area is invited to participate, according to Ronnie Warmuth, chess club sponsor.

Texico Chess Club, ranked third in the state, has practice sessions each Tuesday night at the high school math room, and anyone is invited to take part in these sessions also, Warmuth said.

The chess sessions are from 6-8 p.m. MST, and both adults and students are invited to attend.

Those who wish to enter the tournament, set to begin at 9 a.m. MST on Saturday, Dec. 12, are asked to bring any clocks or chess sets that they may have.

Season Ends For Junior Spikers

The junior Lady Spikers at Texico did not have a very productive week last week, the junior varsity emerging with only one win from the four games played by the two teams.

The junior varsity squad defeated Logan last Saturday 15-2, 15-8, closing out its year with a winning record of 9-2.

On Thursday, the Green and White spikers were defeated by Tatum 15-17, 15-13, and 13-15. "They were close games, but they shouldn't have been. We had a new team on the court because we had to move a couple of players up to varsity to replace some unhealthy players there," said coach Mike Littlejohn. "Sometimes you have to make sacrifices for the varsity, and sometimes it hurts."

The junior varsity's two losses this season came from Dora and Tatum.

The junior high girls lost both their games this week, losing to Tatum 9-15, 5-15; and losing to Logan, 2-15, 15-12, 3-15.

Littlejohn said that two members who had not played much during the season "did an excellent job" during the Logan match. "Michelle Lebow and Tracy McDonald, both 7th graders, did us a super job."

District Tourney Begins, Texico Spikers Rank 2nd

New Mexico's reigning Class A state volleyball champions, Texico Lady Wolverines, closed out their district season last week ranked second, falling behind arch rival Melrose. The Melrose Buffs managed to end their season undefeated.

Both squads will begin district play this week. Texico was to have played Thursday night in Wolverine gymnasium, competing with winners of the Tatum-Dora clash from Wednesday night.

The winner of Thursday night's game will play in Melrose on Saturday.

Coach Mike Littlejohn cites Tatum and Floyd to be his first two competitors. "We respect them a whole lot. They are both very good teams," he said. "We will have to play real well to get into the finals, but we're capable of doing it. We have got to work harder on our concentration."

Texico split games last week, defeating Tatum Thursday night and losing to Logan on Saturday.

The Green and White spikers took their victory over Tatum in two straight games, 16-14, 15-3. "In the first game we got way ahead and then relaxed a little losing some concentration," Littlejohn said. "Cheryl Scott had a super game though, having another outstanding net game with excellent blocks and spikes."

"We had a lot of good passing from everyone," the coach added, "and the serving was at 84 percent which is good."

For serving, Jill Jesko was 10 for 10; Pam Hoyl, 11 for 12; Lisa Crooks, 8 for 9; Cheryl Scott, 10 for 13; and Tracy Dobbs, 6 for 7.

The loss to Logan on Saturday was attributed to "mental errors," according to Coach Littlejohn.

"We just mentally weren't there. Hopefully it will make us wake up before district tourney play," he said.

The girls took the first game against Logan 15-3, but then lost 4-15, 6-15. "When we lose our mental concentration it hurts. We had a big mental lapse during the Logan match," Littlejohn said. "But serving wasn't bad at all."

Steers Lose Cattle Battle, Falling 23-7 To Longhorns

by Doug Cole
Farwell School Correspondent
In a District 3-AA "Cattle Battle," the Vega Longhorns dealt the Farwell Steers their second consecutive district loss 23-7 Friday night at Steer Stadium.

Vega quarterback Joe Potter scored two touchdowns, on runs of 2 and 3 yards, and kicked a 41-yard field goal to propel the visiting Longhorns over the Steers.

On Vega's first play from scrimmage, Robbie Armstrong gave the Blue and White a big boost when he jumped on a Longhorn fumble, giving the Steers possession of the ball on the Vega 28-yard line.

Six plays later Farwell capitalized on the Longhorn miscue when quarterback Alan Eubank ran 9 yards on a keeper for a Steer touchdown, with barely two minutes gone in the game.

With Raymond Sierra's successful PAT kick, the hometown Steers enjoyed a 7-0 lead. Thanks to an attacking Steer defense that stopped the Longhorns cold inside the Farwell 35-yard line, the local team held on to their 7 point advantage for the remainder of the first quarter of play.

Early in the second quarter Vega drove 56 yards on 10 plays to knot the score at 7 when Potter ran for a 2-yard touchdown. The Longhorns were aided by a Steer defensive holding penalty on fourth down that gave the visitors a first down on the Steer 8-yard line. With a kick for the PAT, the score was tied at 7.

After a penalty on the punt return gave the Longhorns the ball on the Steer 37 late in the second quarter, Vega broke the deadlock with a 12 yard touchdown pass. Again, the Longhorns were helped along by a series of penalties assessed against the Steers during the drive, including a personal foul on fourth down at the Steer 32. However, Ricky Armstrong blocked the PAT kick, giving his team an opportunity to come back in the game.

Both teams were unable to score in the final 4 minutes of the half, but there were some outstanding defensive plays on the Steers' side of the line. Brent Green batted down two Vega passes from his safety position and Jimmy Bernal trapped Longhorn runners behind the line of scrimmage 3 times in the first half.

With just 2:01 left in the half, a hard-hitting Farwell defense halted a Longhorn drive on their own 20-yard line, forcing the visitors to attempt a field goal that sailed wide of the crossbars.

Early in the third quarter, Sierra recovered a Vega fumble on the Farwell 32-yard line, launching the Steers on a drive of their own. But the Steers were thwarted in their attempt to take the lead by a fumble on the Longhorn 30.

Vega took full advantage of the Steer mistake 5 plays later when Potter kicked a 41-yard field goal to put the Longhorns on top 16-7 with 3:30 left to play in the third quarter.

On their very next possession the Longhorns added to their lead, going 53 yards in 9 plays to set up another Potter scoring run, this time from the 3. That score was the last of the night for either team, coming at 11:07 of the fourth quarter, and made the tally 23-7.

The Steer offense was slowed down the rest of the contest, as numerous penalties and two more turnovers robbed any chance for the Blue and White to get back in the game.

At the buzzer, the Farwell Steers found themselves on the short end of a 23-7 slate, and still searching for a win against a district foe, a goal that has eluded Farwell their last seven tries. The victory for the Longhorns leaves them undefeated in the District 3-AA race with a 2-0 record, and a share of the district lead with Kress, also 2-0.

"We beat ourselves with too many penalties," said coach Bruce Dollar. "Every Vega score came after a major penalty against us."

The coach cited inconsistency as the main cause of the Steers' losing season. "We play good for awhile, then we lapse and make a lot of mistakes. We just have not been consistent," he said.

"The last two games we have beat ourselves. I don't think Kress or Vega had any better team than we have," said Dollar.

On the bright side, Dollar pointed out that the Steers "cut down our turnovers," losing only two balls last Friday night to fumbles, after averaging six turnovers a game all season.

Tonight the Steers will travel to Hart, a team described by Dollar as "a lot quicker than us, but the same size as we are."

Dollar said Hart has lost their last four games, but only by one point each. "This game will be two teams trying to stay out of last place, but I think we have played the best teams in the district," commented the coach.

Game time is 7:30 p.m. CST.

Farwell Elem. Sets Book Fair

Farwell Elementary School will sponsor a student book fair November 16-20, according to Pat Graham, fair chairperson.

Students will be able to browse and purchase books during the hours of 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. CST in the school library.

The book fair is being held in conjunction with American Education week, and the elementary school will also have an open house during this week.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair and open house.

"The fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries, and will also contribute to a worthwhile project as all profits will be used for the Future Teachers of America club," said Mrs. Graham.

The FTA is sponsoring the event, with Mrs. Graham serving as book fair chairperson. The committee includes all FTA members and Cathy Arthur as co-sponsor.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many major publishers in all popular price ranges; books to read, or to give as gifts.

All reading interests will be represented including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books.

The committee is working with Education Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Mrs. Graham also said that the library staff will welcome parent aides to assist in the library on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 8 a.m. to noon.

"This is a new program, and one that we hope will be very successful," she said.

Hold It There

This Vega Longhorn may have stopped Farwell ball carrier Alan Eubank this time, but only a few plays later the Steer quarterback crossed the goal line for Farwell's only score of the game. Farwell was first to draw blood during last Friday's district clash at Steer Stadium, but it was downhill after that, as many Steer penalties served to assist the Vega team in achieving a 23-7 victory. Tonight the Steers travel to Hart for their third district meet. Game time is 7:30 p.m. CST.

Student Council, FFA FTA Attend Area Workshops

By Doug Cole
Farwell School Correspondent

Two organizations at Farwell High School, the Student Council and the Future Teachers of America (FTA), attended District 16 workshops on Wednesday, Oct. 14. The Student Council members traveled to Amarillo, while the FTA officers met at Panhandle High School.

At the Quality Inn Motel in Amarillo, the Student Council representatives were lectured on a variety of subjects, including the importance of good communication, goals and purposes of the student council, and group dynamics. Farwell was one of about 20 schools from across the Texas Panhandle to be represented at the conference.

Student council members participating in the workshop included Sammy Sanchez, Roger Robertson, Rocky Ford, Shelley Ford, Vicky Heard, Sheran Smallwood, Jack Smallwood, Johanna Mesman, and Ricky Sikes. Sponsors Kay Stanton and Diane Alfaro accompanied the council members on the trip.

State activities, membership programs, FTA yearbooks and scrapbooks, and fund-raising projects were a few of the topics discussed at the FTA officers' workshop at Panhandle High School. The meeting involved officers from the many chapters of FTA in this area.

Yearlings Hold Vega, Remaining Undefeated

Farwell junior high Yearlings remain undefeated this season, boasting a 6-0 record following their 18-12 victory over Vega last week. The young grid team is 2-0 in district play.

The Vega game in the beginning looked as though it may have been the Blue and White's first season loss, as the Longhorns led 12-0 for the first two quarters of play.

But with only two minutes remaining in the second quarter, Steven Jaime capped off a 45-yard drive with a six-yard run over the goal line for Farwell's first touchdown of the game. The two-point PAT attempt failed, and the half ended with Vega on top, 12-6. But the Yearlings were fighting and ready at the beginning of the third quarter as Kevin Owen accepted the opening kickoff and returned it 70 yards for another Farwell TD. Again the two-point PAT attempt failed, but the score was now tied, 12-12.

"The defense in the second half held Vega to only one first down," said Coach Mike Prokop. "We had excellent defensive effort during the second half."

With four minutes remaining in the fourth quarter, the Yearlings went for a first down on a fourth and one situation. Jaime made the yardage, giving the Farwell team a little more time to try for the winning TD.

It was Eric Williams who received the Jaime pass from 65 yards out and scored the final touchdown. The two-point PAT attempt was again unsuccessful, but the young Steers won the game, 18-12.

For their excellent defensive performances, Coach Prokop cited Jesse Anzaldua, Kevin Owen, Bobby Ford, Carlos Sanchez, David Rubio and Ralph Nichols.

The team was to have hosted Hart on Thursday at Steer Stadium, beginning at 5 p.m. in its third district game. "This will be an excellent game," Prokop said. "Hart beat Vega also. I'd really like to see the whole town come out and see the boys, especially since they are undefeated."

Fifth Graders Present Play At Farwell

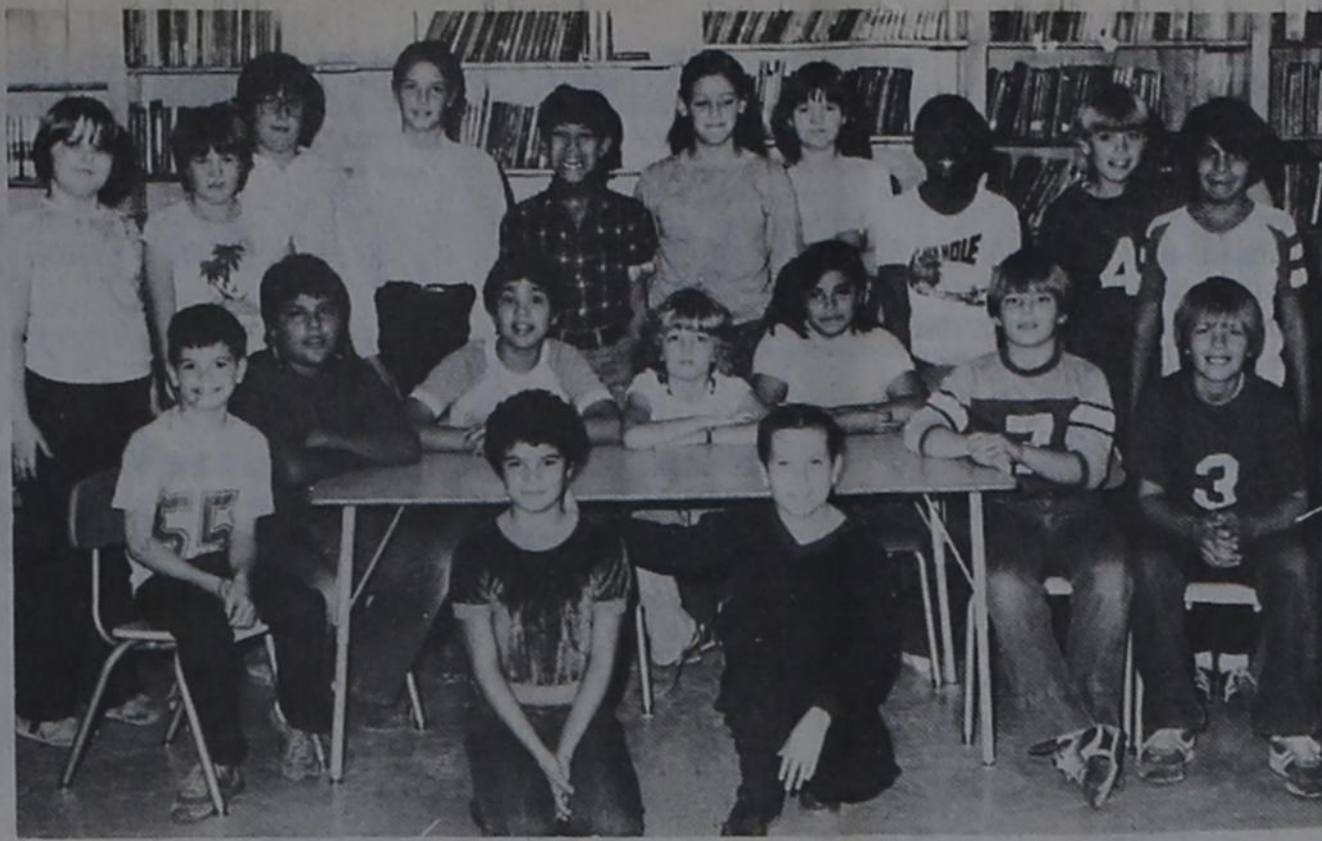

Students at Farwell Elementary School were taught a valuable lesson last week by viewing a play entitled "You Can't Belong," presented by Karolene Inman's 5th grade class.

Presented in four scenes, the audience was shown how discrimination can hurt innocent people. The play gave ideas about how people should treat other people who may be different. It was learned that everyone has feelings, and everyone wants to be treated fairly and kindly.

Narrating the play were Curtis Chisom, scene 1, "Members Of A Club;" Matt Geuther, scene 2, "Basketball Players;" Isi Ortega, scene 3, "A Group Of Girl Friends," and scene 4, Brian Haseloff, "Forming A New Club."

A former class member, Marla Marsh, who began practice on the play before moving to Midland, was visiting in Farwell and also participated in the play.

5th Grade Actors

Geuther, Marla Marsh, Isi Ortega, Sylvia Delgado, Amy Gulley, Curtis Chisom, Mike Stacey and Abel Lopez; at table, Brian Haseloff, Donald

Rubio, Jaime Mendoza, Janell Lovvorn, Maria Hernandez, Jeff Actkinson and Dustin Hardage; kneeling, Chrisy Vidana and Kendra Stephens.

Parmer 4-H'ers At Texas State Fair

Several Parmer County 4-H'ers exhibited livestock at the recent State Fair of Texas held at Dallas, October 19-24.

Sharlet Johnson, Bovina 4-H, exhibited the first heavyweight Cross and fourth medium-weight Hamp. Teresa Rose of Farwell 4-H exhibited the second and third lightweight Berkshire and third place heavyweight Berkshire.

Other 4-H'ers exhibiting livestock were Charles Johnson, Bovina 4-H, and Danna Ralston, Farwell 4-H. Out of 15 head entered, Parmer County 4-H'ers had 13 make the premium sale.

The 4-H'ers were accompanied by Anita and Wesley Ralston, Pat Rose, Sandra and Billy Johnson and CEA Seth Ralston.

Halloween Safety Protects Children

Tomorrow night, Halloween, miniature monsters will invade the neighborhoods and the cry, "trick or treat," will be heard throughout the land.

Major C.W. Bell, Region 5 Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety, said, "Motorists and parents need to take precautions to protect children and prevent disasters this Halloween."

He suggests that small children be accompanied by older children or adults and trick or treating be confined to their own neighborhoods.

Major Bell also stated, "Costumes should be light in color, short enough to prevent tripping and non-inflammable. Facial makeup should be used instead of masks or hoods that restrict vision."

Children should be told to look in all directions before crossing streets and to walk, never run. A flashlight carried by the child can serve as a warning to motorists, and children should be instructed to use sidewalks when possible.

Motorists should use extra caution in residential areas and look for children crossing streets in a haphazard manner.

Major Bell stated, "If parents and motorists join together and think of children's safety, Halloween can be a safe and enjoyable evening for everyone."

Pumpkin Pickers

Sisters Robin and D'Ann Ray were the winners this week of Pansy Pumpkin after they correctly added up the number that had been drawn inside a paper pumpkin on the school's bulletin board at Farwell elementary. The two girls each entered the same amount in the contest, which was sponsored by the Farwell first graders, under the direction of Lynn Roberts. For their "adding" power, the Ray sisters won the decorated giant pumpkin which came complete with a fashionable hair-do, earrings, and flirting eye balls.

Egg Parenting: This Is No Yolk

As any parent will tell you, the care of a newborn baby is not an easy task, and usually turns out to be much more work than the excited parents-to-be had anticipated.

As an introductory activity in Child Development, students in Martha Wheeler's Home and Family Living classes at Farwell were given a boiled egg to "parent" for two days, from class time on Monday to class time on Wednesday.

Mrs. Wheeler explained that those students who had cracked eggs or missing eggs at the end of the two-day period were turned in for child abuse or neglect.

The students were told that their "egg-baby" could never be left alone, and that if the parent could not care for it during a certain time, a trustworthy sitter would have to be found.

Mrs. Wheeler reports that the egg parenting program was a success, and says that most of the egg moms and dads "became aware of what a constant, 24-hour a day job" parenting is.

"And the other teachers cooperated real well," she said.

The Home and Family Living instructor also said that out of 36 parents, only six managed to turn in their babies after the two-day period without breaking them.

She said some of the students' remarks at the end of the two-day parenting session were, "I hated always being tied to it" and "You had to keep him with you all the time and sometimes you get tired of that."

Problems of finding a sitter and keeping the "child" from being hurt were other irritants cited by the egg parents.

Arts 'N Crafts Bazaar To Benefit Rare Disease

Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation will sponsor its third annual arts and crafts Bazaar, Wednesday, Nov. 4, at the Community Room of the Muleshoe State Bank, in Muleshoe.

This is the third annual Bazaar for the Northwest Texas Chapter. Proceeds will be used for research to help find the cause and cure of the disease, myasthenia gravis.

This is a neuro muscular disease characterized by spells of extreme weakness. Many patients go for years undiagnosed because the disease often masquerades as vitamin deficiency, anemia, neurosis or psycho-neurosis.

Symptoms include difficulty in swallowing, chewing, sometimes breathing; double vision, droopy eyelids, and difficulty walking.

With the help of research financed by the MG Foundation, the fatality rate has been dramatically reduced.

The Arts 'N Crafts Bazaar will be open to the public November 4, at the Muleshoe State Bank Community Room in Muleshoe. Handmade Christmas ornaments, Christmas wreaths, hand made afghans and baby shawls will be some of the things for sale.

Home baked loaves of sour dough bread and rolls, big beautiful cakes and pies for that Thanksgiving table; home-canned specialties, such as pickled okra, jellies and jams, and pickles will also be sold.

The Bazaar begins at 10 a.m. and will remain open until 5 p.m. The public is cordially invited to attend this once a year event.

STATE LINE TRIBUNE

Johnson Re-elected To County SWCD Board

Phillip Johnson of Friona was recently re-elected to the Farmer County Soil and Water Conservation District board of directors, representing Zone III of the district.

The purpose of the Farmer County SWCD, its headquarters in Friona, is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes.

As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Johnson will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

Johnson and his wife Trudi have two daughters, Beth and Lindsey. The Johnsons live and farm in the Hub area.

In Texas there are 201 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board.

Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCDs do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Organized in April 1948, the Farmer County SWCD has worked jointly with the Soil Conservation Service to serve all landowners and operators equally.

"Sales and Loans Are Our Service"

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

IS GOD DEAD?

"As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand..." (I Kings 18:15)

Is God dead? According to the above passage He certainly was not dead to Elijah, who knew Him intimately as the living God. The prophet had used similar phraseology on a previous occasion when he had declared to the wicked King Ahab: "As the Lord God of Israel liveth, before whom I stand, there shall not be dew nor rain these years, but according to my word" (I Kings 17:1).

Elijah's prediction came true. For three years and six months there had been no rain or even dew in Israel. Rivers and brooks were drying up. The land lay parched and cracked in the sun. There were no crops, nor any grazing land for the cattle. They had been dying like flies.

The king himself had been brought down from his throne to search for a bit of green grass along the remaining streams "to save the horses and mules alive," lest they "lose all the beasts." The king's humiliation had in turn enraged the haughty Queen Jezebel, so that she hated Elijah with a deep and bitter hatred.

Indeed, so bitterly was the prophet hated by Ahab himself, that the king had sent far and wide to find

Elijah and had not given up until he had taken oaths from the heads of the surrounding nations that he was not to be found.

It was under these circumstances that "the word of the Lord came to Ahab..." saying, Go show yourself to Ahab... (I Kings 18:1). God was about to use the prophet to publicly expose the sham and impotence of Jezebel's god, Baal.

As the prophet went to look for Ahab, he met Obadiah, the governor of the king's house, and said: "Go tell thy lord, Behold, Elijah is here" (I Kings 18:8). Obadiah shuddered at these words and begged Elijah not to make him go. He knew the intense hatred which the king harbored toward Elijah and he feared that, while he went to convey the news, the Spirit of God might take Elijah away to some other place.

It was now, when it meant far more than it had meant three and a half years before, that Elijah replied, "As the Lord of hosts liveth, before whom I stand, I will surely show myself unto him today" (I Kings 18:15). And, as we know, he kept his word.

If God is dead and Christ did not rise from the dead as the Bible DECLARES, then the story of Elijah is but a stirring memory and the Christian is actually an ambassador of no one!

Marching Steers Perform At Clovis Band Night

by Doug Cole
Farwell School Correspondent
The Farwell Steer Marching Band was one of eight bands from this area to perform at the Clovis Marching Band Night before a large crowd at Leon Williams Stadium October 19.

Farwell, the third band to perform, opened their show with "Another One Bites the Dust," followed by "I Love a Rainy Night." The group's finale was the theme to the motion picture "Ice Castles."

Steer Band Director Lynn Burton commented that "things went real well, except on the last song, 'Ice Castles,' as we had only been working on it a few days." Burton went on to say that the group was "received well," and he "had some good comments concerning our show from the band directors at Gattis Junior High and Clovis High School."

Besides Farwell, four other high schools performed at the show, including Texico, Lazbuddie, Clovis and Portales. Also, three Clovis Junior Highs were represented, Gattis, Marshall and Yucca.

In preparation for its upcoming UIL marching contest November 3, the Steer Band participated in the Texas Tech Marching Band Festival Tuesday, Oct. 27. Farwell was one of 25 bands from across the South Plains in classes A-AAA to perform their contest routines at Jones Stadium in Lubbock.

The group was judged by Dean Killion, from Texas Tech University; Charles Nail, director at Odessa Permian High School; and James Mallow of Brady, Tex.

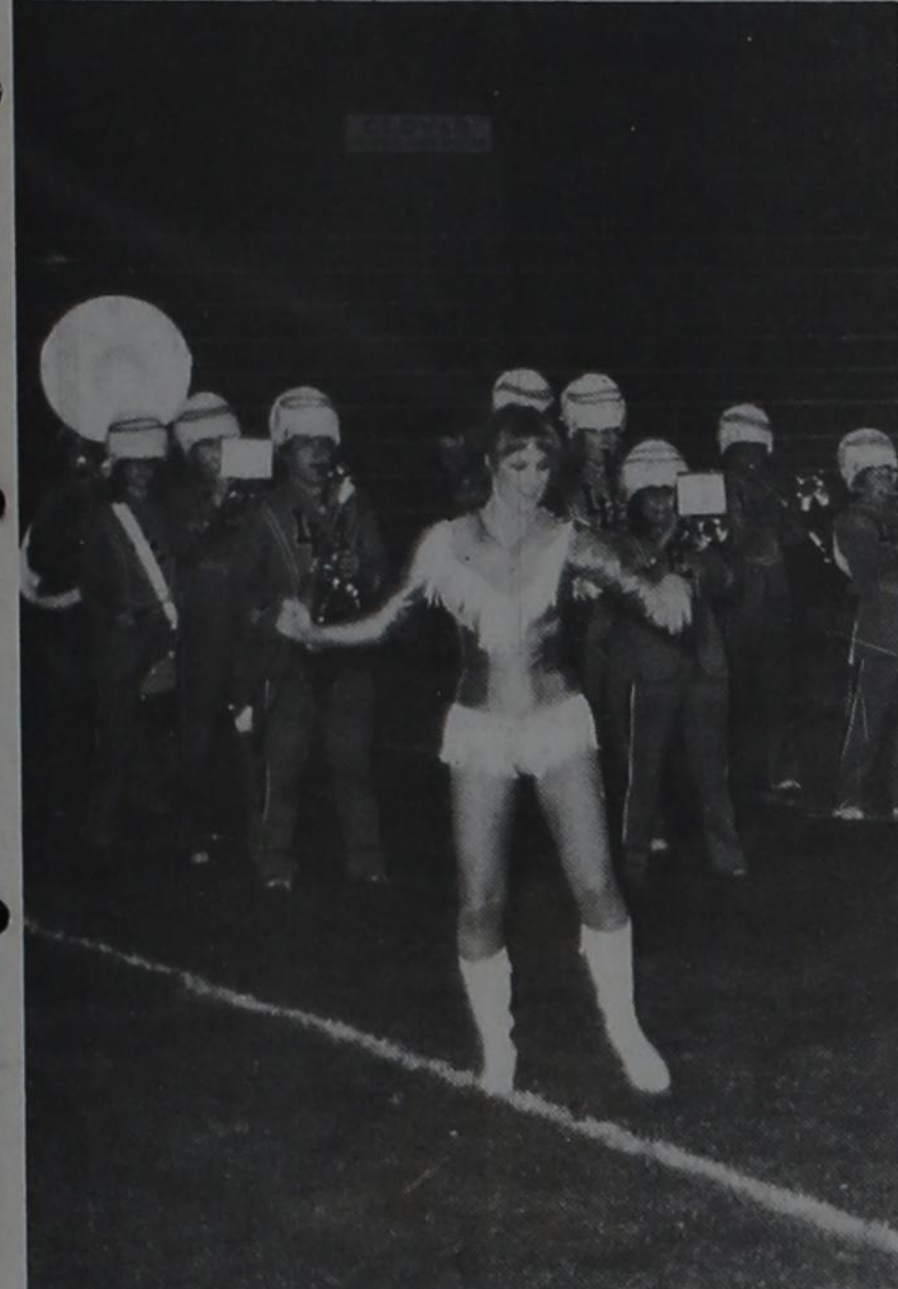

Leading The Band

Farwell drum major Jennifer Williams [back to camera] did her usual fine job in leading the marching Steer Band through several musical numbers last Tuesday night at

Clovis High School Leon Williams Stadium during its annual Band Night. Farwell, Texico and Lazbuddie were among the bands who enter-taind a crowd of several thousand during the annual musical marching event. The Farwell band is directed by Lynn Burton.

Lazbuddie Twirler

The marching Longhorns of Lazbuddie were one of two bands from Parmer County to entertain at last Tuesday night's annual Clovis High School Band Night at Leon Williams Stadium. Lazbuddie

Band, under the direction of Carl Wilke, weaved and marched on the football field as twirlers in orange and white spun their batons to the Lazbuddie music.

Laura Jacobs Attends National Home Ec Meet

Parmer County extension agent for Home Economics, Laura Jacobs, returned recently from a week-long convention for the National Association of Extension Home Economists, in Las Vegas, Nev.

Laura said she attended many "learning" seminars during the day at the convention at the Las Vegas Hilton, and during the evening hours attending many shows performed by top-name stars.

Some of the shows and celebrities seen by Laura included Liberace, the Manhattan, Walen & Madame, Joey Heatherton, a Jubilee Review Show, Tom Jones, Ann Murray and Larry Gatlin.

The group of economists were also invited to take part in a special Nevada Night barbecue and rodeo, and were taken to Lake Mead to view the Hoover Dam.

HALLOWEEN

PROTECT CHILDREN FROM CRACKPOTS

The most frightening horror of Halloween does not stem from the ghosts and goblins who ring doorbells with masked cries of trick or treat. Rather, it is the grotesque behavior of crackpots behind some of those doorbells who turn the children's evening of make-believe into a haunting nightmare.

Every year at this time, newspapers carry the heart-breaking stories of children who have been innocently duped by sick minds. Yet, every year the cautions go unheeded and November 1 sees the same stories all over again.

There is a solution to the problem, and it's a very simple one. Get together with your neighbors and plan an indoor trick or treat party for all the children. Buy your Halloween treats at a reliable store and buy only known brands of candy. A full line of safe Halloween candy is offered by Luden's, Inc., the Reading, Pa. candy and cough drop manufacturing company. Included are full size and miniature versions of their popular 5th Avenue and Nut Log candy bars as well as a wide variety of individually wrapped bagged items including candy corn, Spooky Treats, candy wafer rolls and many others.

Paper Drive Money To Aid Chess Club

Texico faculty members are still conducting their paper drive, collecting old newspapers, magazines, catalogs or any other paper item from residents of the Twin Cities. Profits from the paper collected will go to benefit the Texico Chess Club.

A drive was conducted this summer, and from the profits, a microwave oven was purchased for use at the school.

Currently, the paper drive is being held to purchase chess clocks and chess sets, according to Ronnie Warmuth, drive chairman.

The clocks and sets will be used by the Texico Chess Club, an organization that has managed to rank third in the state for the past two years.

Warmuth said the clocks are especially needed because a Texico Invitational Chess Tournament is slated for December 12 at Texico school.

Those persons or businesses who have paper items to be donated may call the Texico High School office at 482-3305 to arrange a pick-up time.

Halloween Face Fun With Grease Paint

Parmer County Extension Agent for Home Economics Laura Jacobs submitted this recipe for Halloween Grease Paint to be used by those youngsters (and adults) who prefer not to wear a mask when out tomorrow night with all the goblins and ghouls.

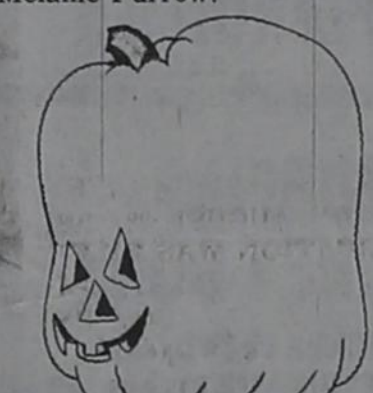

HALLOWEEN GREASE PAINT
White Formula: 2 teaspoons white starch, 1 teaspoon white flour, glycerin, food coloring. Using a rubber spatula, blend first three ingredients on a white plate to form a smooth paste.

Add three or four drops of glycerin for a creamy consistency. This should be enough for one child's face.

Add any food coloring, one drop at a time to form different colors.

BROWN FORMULA: 1 teaspoon white shortening, 2½ teaspoons unsugared cocoa. Mix as in white formula above.

Math Problems Solved For Cancer Research

Once again the children at Farwell Schools will be putting their thinking caps on to help raise money for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.

The 2nd Annual Math-a-Thon, directed at Farwell Schools by Karolene Inman, is currently underway, with 146 students in grades 1-8 solving 200 math problems for pledges.

The math wizards will be asking Twin Cities residents to pledge a certain amount of money, from one cent to one dollar for each math problem solved correctly, with the money being donated to the Tennessee hospital.

"The money will help provide treatment for sick children all over the world. It will support research to find ways to end the diseases that threaten the lives of children," according to a news release from the Children's Hospital.

Every student who raises $25 or more will receive a Math-a-thon t-shirt, and there will be a t-shirt and jacket for those who manage to raise $100 or more.

The top student will receive a calculator.

Mrs. Inman said that last year the project raised $1,339.13. "And we are hoping to go over that amount this year," she said.

Deadline to send in the money is November 10, and everyone in the Twin Cities area is encouraged to help these children raise money for this worthwhile cause.

All students who take part in the event will receive a certificate.

"It is our hope that Math-a-Thon for St. Jude Children's Research Hospital will encourage the youth of America to recognize and pursue the important science of mathematics while helping children who suffer from catastrophic diseases such as cancer," said Danny Thomas, founder and president of the hospital.

Mrs. Inman reports that last year over a quarter of a million students were actively involved in the Math-a-Thon program across the United States.

For further information, contact Mrs. Inman at Farwell Elementary.

Mathematicians For Charity

Already working hard at their Math-a-Thon booklets are Farwell students, seated, from left, Amy Chadwick, 3rd grade; Clint Austin, 1st grade; Kelley Foster, 6th grade; and Brian Haseloff, 5th grade; standing are Jason Schilling, 7th grade; and Carl Hutchins, 8th grade. The students will be working math problems raising money for each problem solved by collecting pledges from Twin Cities residents. All money raised will go to the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Last year the local Math-a-Thon raised $1,339.13 for the Children's Research Hospital. For the second year, the program is being directed by Karolene Inman.
