Revenue Sharing --

Commissioners Vote To Aid Bovina Senior Citizens

After much discussion of the request by the Bovina Senior Citizens for financial aid from General Revenue Sharing Funds, for paying utility bills, Parmer County Commissioners approved unanimously to give this group $1,200 from the first installment which will be received by the County some time after October 1, 1982 with the remainder of the General Revenue Sharing Funds to be equally divided among the four precincts to be used for maintenance of the County roads.

The decision was made at the regular commissioners court session Monday, July 12.

Don Spring and Rev. Dick Richards of Bovina met with the Court discussing equipment needed for the Bovina ambulance after Spring completes his Paramedic course. Since Spring will not finish the course until December, the commissioners said they would try to help, but, in the interim, they are also to check another place for financial aid.

The quarterly report of county finances presented by county treasurer, Benna Felts, was approved and it was voted to have the report published in the three county papers.

Friona State Bank asked permission to substitute securities pledged as County Depository. It was approved unanimously to allow the substitution of $500,000.00 of U.S. Treasury notes maturing 8-15-82 to be replaced by $500,000.00 of U.S. Treasury notes maturing 8-31-83.

A motion was approved to advertise for bids on a new tractor and backhoe for Precinct No. 3 with a used 480B Case Tractor and backhoe to be taken in as trade in as per the attached specifications. Bids are to be opened at 11 a.m. July 26, 1982.

The Court will also advertise for bids on a good used truck-tractor as per the attached specifications for use by Precinct No. 1 with no trade in. Bids to be opened at 11 a.m., July 26, 1982.

County Extension Agent for Agriculture, Seth Ralston, reported that 12 members of Parmer County 4-H Clubs took part in a horse show in Lubbock with one member qualifying for state. Also, seven members attended a trap-shoot placing third.

County Extension Agent for Home Economics, Laura Jacobs, reported that a 4-H fashion revue was held in the park in Farwell with 19 members of county 4-H clubs participating. The District 4-H fashion revue will be July 14 with four county members going. Miss Jacobs also reported that she will be attending the Electric Camp sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Co. at Cloudercroft, N.M., on July 19.

The following soil conservation work was approved and ratified and the work will be performed when the machines are in that area and not demanded for use on the roads:

Superior Rating

The Farwell Convalescent Center was recently awarded a superior rating from the Texas Department of Health for services rendered to residents of that facility. Holding the prestigious certificate are Mary Ann Resch, administrator of the Center, left, and Linda Winegeart, activities director. The Center received news of the rating on June 25 for how well it provides care and ser-VICES for its residents as required by state and federal regulations. This is the first time the facility has received a superior rating. It has been open since July of 1976.

Farwell Convalescent Center Receives Superior Rating

The Texas Department of Health awarded the Farwell Convalescent Center with a superior rating last month for services rendered to the residents of that facility.

According to Mary Ann Resch, administrator of the facility, the rating was awarded on June 25 on the basis of how well the center provides care and services for its residents as required by state and federal regulations.

Mrs. Resch said that this is the first time that the Farwell center has ever received a superior rating. The center has been open since July of 1976.

The rating, according to Mrs. Resch, is based on nursing care, various activities, and dietary standards, as well as local, state and federal guidelines, and the life, safety code. Those facilities going above and beyond what is required are those who receive superior ratings, Mrs. Resch said.

The Farwell Convalescent Center provides 24 hour nursing care for its 51 residents and is periodically inspected by state and federal officials. They are also inspected if there are complaints against the facility.

Mrs. Resch reported that a total of 95 points are possible when rating convalescent centers. She said that last year the local center missed the superior rating by only two points, but exceeded the minimum requirement by eight points this year.

She added, "We're really excited about the rating this year, because we've never had it before and without it we're just another nursing home."

Students To Conference

Five Texico High School students recently attended a one-week Business Awareness Week conference on the campus of New Mexico State University at Las Cruces. They were Anita Dimas, Jeannie Chavez, Ronnie Dunsworth, Kevin West, and Steve Miller.

Each student was sponsored by a New Mexico business who paid all expenses for the student except for travel expense. To be selected for the conference the students were nominated for the honor by the school's business instructor, Mary Peyton Williams.

Then after a screening process of the Association of Commerce and Industry of New Mexico, 250 students from high schools across the state were selected.

After arriving on the NMSU campus on Sunday, the students were divided into mock business corporations. Each corporation then competed in a contest for the week in conducting a profitable business.

Attendants were taught to read daily data processing reports, heard guest speakers, including Congressman Joe Skeen, took a field trip to a Las Cruces business, and participated in many recreational activities during the week.

Each group was assigned a counselor for the week's sessions, each counselor being a successful New Mexico business person who donated his or her time to the conference.

Members of the conference received imprinted t-shirts, notebooks of business information, college and career counseling, and application and interviewing techniques.

On Friday of the week the participants attended a banquet to conclude the activities. Contest winners were named and the evening ended with a dance.

Teresa Turner, T. J. Parks Wed In Outdoor Ceremony

Teresa Turner and T.J. Parks exchanged wedding vows May 29, 1982, at 3 p.m. in a double-ring ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, north of Texico. Teresa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Turner and T.J. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Crump Parks of Tucumcari.

The theme for the outdoor festivities was "country wedding" and guests were urged to dress western. Hay bales padded with panels of denim patchwork were used as benches. A white, four-sectioned screen, flanked by arrangements of red roses, Palmettos and German ivy, served as the altar. Rev. Bob Reid of Pleasant Hill Baptist Church officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a Victorian-styled dress in ivory sheer cotton. It had wide ruffled eyelet lace in a deep V neckline, front and back, long sleeves, a long six-gore skirt, and was accented with ivory ribbon. Her bouquet was ivory silk roses and baby's breath. For something old, the bride wore coins minted in the year of the bride's and groom's births; something borrowed were pearls belonging to her mother; and something blue was her garter.

Music was furnished by Christi Harrington Brown of Artesia as pianist. Vocalists were Kay Thurmond, Christi Allen, and Quinn Alexander of Floyd.

At the reception, two tables were placed joining at right angles and covered with navy and white polka dot cloths. Figurines of a bride and groom with fresh flowers were the decorations.

The three-tiered cake was made by the bride's great aunt, Marida Wright, and a cousin, Kathy Wright. The cake was topped by small figurines of Mickey Mouse and Minnie in front of a garden gate. The bride has collected Mickey since early childhood.

Cake and punch were served by Sheryl Day, Jana Jesko, Tonye Harrington, Celia Johnson Reid, Pam Southard Bean, and Lori Harrington. All serving bowls and trays were a collection of early homestead.

Hostesses were Kathryn Harrington, Jerri Herrington, Jane Harrington, Alta Geries, Fern Sanders, and Martha Allen.

Public Notice
Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.
It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.
A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.
Notice to El Paso Area Customers
Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell adopted the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to merge the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.
Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies
The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público
Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.
Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha solicitado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento en los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.
Una copia completa del nuevo arancel se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas tiene una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, la Comisión ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en la cual Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.
Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso
Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas de Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone unir las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que resulta de esta unión se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission), al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y está disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.
Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono
El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicio de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en dichas tarifas de servicio también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen los servicios ya mencionados en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas para larga distancia, cualquier cambio en las mismas también afectaría a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

Mesa Redonda - -

Cowboy Camp Meeting To Be Held July 22-25

by Faye Plank

The Mesa Redondo Cowboy Camp Meeting is slated for July 22-25 at the campsite which is located in a beautiful secluded area at the Bower-Farmer Ranch, 11 miles south of Tucumcari, N.M., on Highway 18.

Mesa Redondo Cowboy Camp Meeting is within relatively easy access to many in Texas and New Mexico who have never had the experience of a cowboy camp meeting.

The camp meeting is set up to provide a Christian experience for all ages. It incorporates religious speakers, music, children's activities, and meals served under a tent.

All persons are welcome, regardless of denomination, who are willing to abide by the rules laid down by the association.

There are limited facilities, and each party is responsible for their own camping equipment such as tents, bedding, campers, trailers, etc. Meals will be served without cost.

Ministers for this year are Wayne Stockstill of Upland, Calif., and Boyce Evans of Lubbock. Brother Evans will be returning for his second consecutive year, and Brother Boyce will serve in the camp for the first time this year. Both evangelists have served in other camps around the circuit, and they each have a love for the camp meeting ministry.

Returning to lead the music for the fourth consecutive year will be Paul Biggs of Bartlesville, Okla. Hope Rader of Des Moines, N.M., will also be returning as pianist for the fourth consecutive year. Other capable and dedicated leaders, who are responsible for the various age groups during the entire camp, are: Youth--9th grade and up, Buddy and Mary Ann Cortese; Youth--6th through 8th grades, Bill Ruyan, Wesley Grau, and Danny Tivis; Children--1st through 5th grades, Harold and Blanch Hill; pre-school and nursery children, Donna Pharies. A nursery will be available for all services.

Under the direction of Rick Steel, camp manager, three meals will be served starting with breakfast at 6:30 a.m., dinner at 12:30, and supper at 6:30. Coffee is served from daylight till dark.

Morning services are scheduled for 9:00 o'clock. The next service is at 11:00 a.m. In the afternoon a service will be held at 3:00, with prayer meeting at 5:00 p.m. Following supper, the evening service will take place at 8:00, after which there will be a campfire service.

The meeting will open on Thursday at 3:00 p.m. with youth fellowship, followed by prayer meeting and evening service.

Mesa Redondo Camp Meeting will be five years old this season. It traces its lineage back to the Bloys Camp Meeting, started in 1890 in a quiet valley in the Davis Mountains of the Big Bend Country of Texas. It is steeped in history going back to a time when folks found it necessary to travel many miles for religious fellowship.

Mesa Redondo Cowboy Camp Meeting Association was organized in May of 1978. Frank Crenshaw, a rancher from Melrose, N.M., was named president. Other officers were Rev. David Crow, Melrose, vice-president; Wilma Fulgham, Clovis, secretary; and Lou Briscoe, Tucumcari, treasurer. Others taking part in the founding of the organization were the late Torrance Reed, Bill King, and Vaudie Pierce.

Also instrumental in starting the Mesa Redondo group was the Ted Van Soelen family of Clovis. Esther Smith Van Soelen had spent many summers in her childhood attending meetings at Nogal Mesa with her family, the Otto Smiths. Mrs. Van Soelen, a Clovis attorney, drew up the articles of incorporation for the camp meeting association.

Some time before the Mesa Redondo Camp was organized, two of the main participants had had their own encounter.

Dr. D.D. Farmer, who would furnish the site for the camp meeting, had met W.E. "Bill" King, who was the preacher for the first meeting.

The men had met at a Boys Ranch meeting where Farmer heard King present his "pegging string" sermon. Farmer thought King was his kind of preacher.

King, a veteran of cowboy camp meetings, thought Farmer his kind of cowboy, and readily accepted an invitation to visit the Bower-Farmer Ranch, a spread he had ridden and long admired. They agreed it looked good for a camp meeting site.

So, Farmer, King, and Mrs. Van Soelen, with the help of the others and the Ranchers Camp Meeting of the Southwest Association, brought Mesa Redondo into being.

The preaching is the heart of the camp meeting. In all cowboy camp meeting literature one finds that all denominational convictions or none are welcome. "Old Fashioned" religion is favored, and the spirit of the occasion necessarily involves evangelism-revival.

Rev. King said, "When Jesus came, he talked plain, and he listened. He didn't have a fancy church."

"What appealed to the cowboy and his neighbors, isolated from a regular type environment, exists in us all, to some extent," King said. "Camp meetings give meaning to life that may seem harsh and meaningless in other ways."

King had spent many years on the camp meeting circuit, including a stint in the New Mexico Gila Wilderness. He branded, mended fences, broke horses by day, preached by night. And he baptised many along the way--in creeks, horse tanks, one in a bath tub.

If you wish to have a heart-warming experience, to worship with many others far out in the canyons, to hear the lusty singing of a volunteer choir, to sit under the ministry of the Word of God, and to join one of the "talk-it-over" informal sessions led by a preacher in a tent afterward, you are invited to come.

Visitors are welcomed at any time during the meeting. They can line up for a savory meal, pitch their tents, or park their campers and travel trailers.

So promise yourself and your family that you will take them to this awe-inspiring place. Rock ruins dot the landscape, evidence that the area once gave shelter and a meager livelihood to many families.

Deer and antelope are to be seen at eventide nibbling the small grass plots along a dry wash. There were tales of rustlers and cattle-stealing, brand changing, hide-a-ways, ranchers, homesteaders and such, as the first group of Christian cowboys looked over the Bower-Farmer Ranch trying to decide on the "perfect" spot to locate the camp.

Looking out across the rugged cliffs from the top of the mesa, one can see the valley floor below and the few lonesome mountains lifting their faces to the heavens. No wonder the Lord seems so near, his presence so close.

From the camp on the canyon floor, you can watch the moonlight "gently settling" on the canyon rim. You can watch the sun peak over the top of the cliffs in the morning and quietly slipping behind the horizon at night. Here indeed you can find your Lord and visit with Him in your own way.

Daily De-Mudding

C.L. Mahaney, rural mail carrier for the U.S. Postal Service in Farwell, performs what has become almost a daily task after the continuing rains in Farmer County where he delivers the mail across many miles of dirt roads. Mahaney uses the water hose with lots of force to unclog the mire from underneath his vehicle so that it will be able to make the rounds again the next morning. It is unclear just what Mahaney does with all that country soil he brings in to town every day.

Rains Bring Needed Moisture

Heavy rain clouds rolled over Farmer and Curry counties around mid-afternoon Sunday dumping from almost one inch to three inches of rain in some areas and causing afternoon temperatures to dip sharply into the low 70's and upper 60's.

The showers began at approximately 3 p.m. MDT and swept over the Plains, drenching area crops with moisture.

Lonnie McFarland at Shery-Anderson Grain Company in Lariat reported receiving .8 of an inch at the grain elevator there.

McFarland said that the local rains will be extremely beneficial to corn, grain sorghum, and sunflower crops, but that cotton crops will suffer because in order to produce, they need hot, dry weather.

Shery-Anderson, Pitman, Inc., employees in Farwell reported receiving one inch of rain Sunday afternoon and an additional .3 of an inch last Wednesday evening.

A spokesman at Shery-Anderson Grain Co. in Bovina said that 1.2 inches of rain fell at the elevator there, while Jack Clayton of Bovina reported 1.75 inches at his home.

In Texico, a reported 1.1 inch of moisture fell, and south of Texico-Farwell, about 1.5 inches was received.

In Farwell, city rain gauges showed all the way from .90 to 1.2 inches of moisture.

Northeast of Farwell, it was reported that some areas received 3 inches, and the area around Wisley Switch got about 2 inches of rainfall. In Friona, 1.6 inches of moisture was reported.

For the week ending July 6, the maximum air temperature was 98.2 degrees and the low was 65.5 degrees.

The relative humidity was 65.9 percent for a high and 7.9 percent for a low during the week.

The soil temperature had a high of 90.7 degrees at a six-inch depth and a low of 71.4 degrees also at a six-inch depth.

The solar radiation for July 3 was at a maximum of 680.8 percent, and the wind speed was reported at 9.46 miles per hour for a high and 5.0 miles per hour for a low.

In Curry County, .96 of an inch fell in the city of Clovis. The additional rainfall Sunday afternoon and evening increased the city's total rainfall for the month to 1.66 inches.
