Muzzle

A few days ago a one-paragraph order made the rounds of all responsible officials in the Interior Department and Public Works Administration. It bore the signature of Harold L. Ickes.

Without waste of a word, it directed that henceforth none of the hired hands shall assist in drafting legislation without specific authority from the boss.

The lads are still trying to figure this one.

Some of them have speculated on the possibility it might be aimed to muzzle junior luminaries such as Ben Cohen.

Then in the same breath they recall that Cohen, as member of Ickes' official council, is one of Felix Frankfurter's many gifts to the brain trust.

They remember the touch of Cohen's fine Italian hand in drafting such moot pieces of legislation as the Securities act and the new Stock Market Regulation bill.

Surely, say the dopesters, a Progressive like Ickes couldn't be quarreling with those newest harbs in the flanks of high finance?

A more general suspicion is that Ickes doesn't want any of his bright young men messing with the public works section of NIRA unless he knows all about it.

Ever since President Roosevelt let it be known he was considering asking for an extension of the NRA provisions of that all-important emergency act a group of UWA lawyers have been trying to stir up sentiment to get their own part strengthened.

Since the hands-off-legislation order went around it is being whispered Ickes prefers to leave well enough alone for the time being.

Tinkering

The objection to trying to bolster up PWA is said to be a fear that instead of producing teeth-bearing amendments, tinkering with the act might give Congress a wide-open chance to rewrite it.

Ickes and his fellow Cabinet officers have been doing very nicely this past year with PWA as it is. Departmental appropriations in the regular budget were slash to the bone for economy's sake but it always was easy to get wanted funds from Public Works.

So the more cautious ask—why bust the watch to see what makes it tick?

For instance Public Works Administrator Ickes allotted Secretary Ickes' better than $160,000,000 for his Interior Department. Meanwhile the new Interior Department regular money bill is getting through Congress just about as the Budget Bureau presented it.

The War Department got more than $340,000,000 of PWA funds and its regular budget apparently is only going to be sliced about $3,000,000 by Congress.

Navy and Agriculture were other bit winners in Public Works allotments.

There's nothing amiss in this. On the contrary Ickes has been doing out emergency money where it will get spent fastest in such fashion as to make immediate jobs. But it does ease the woes of Cabinet members who otherwise be biting nails trying to get regular expenditures below bedrock and still run their departments with old-time efficiency.

Johnny-On-The-Spot

Since the rumor was revived that Attorney General Cummings was about to leave the Cabinet to become Governor General of the Philippines a lot of reasons have been dug up why it wasn't so.

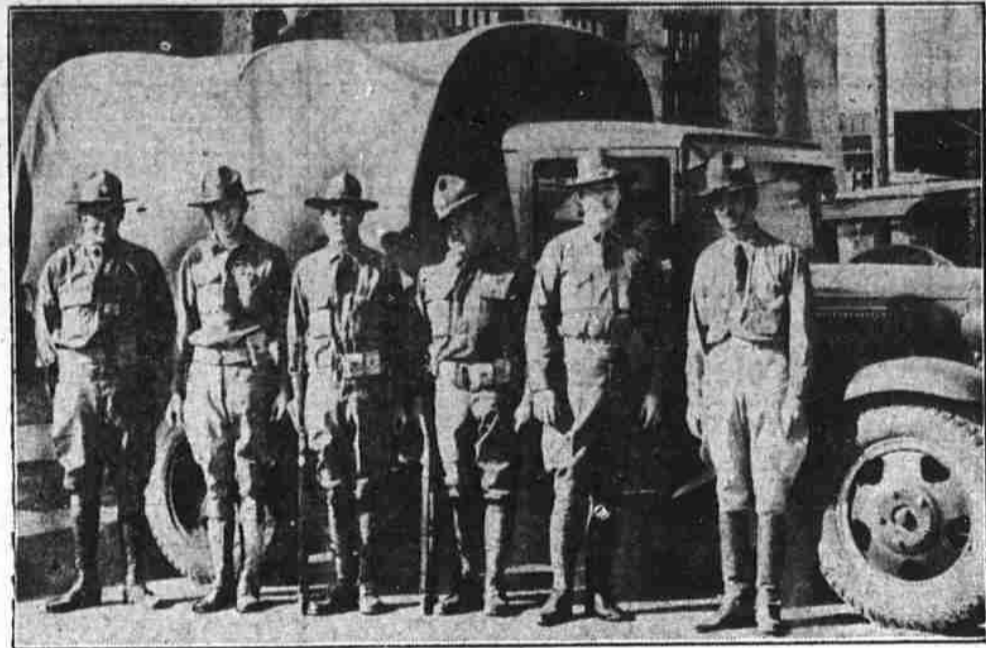

We have yet to hear public mention of the reason that seems most convincing.

What would the White House and the various feder' departments do without Cummings as Johnny-on-the-spot for favorable rulings on procedure of doubtful legality?

The Attorney General has come through just 100 per cent in this.

THIS IS 'ARIZONA'S 'ARMY' IN WATER RIGHTS FRACAS

These members of Arizona's national guard—two soldiers, a radio man, a cook and a major—were dispatched to the site of southern California's metropolitan water district diversion dam near Parker, on the Colorado river, to guard against encroachment of the state's rights in the long-standing Arizona-California dispute over water rights. Gov. B. B. Meador of Arizona said the state's rights were being encroached upon because Arizona had not agreed to construction of the dam. Major F. I. Pomeroy (right) was in command of the "army." #### $10,000,000 Asked To Put Army In Shape

Chief Says Fliers Should Be Fully Organized, Equipped, Trained

WASHINGTON (AP)—The war department said Thursday army fliers should be "organized, equipped and trained to meet any national emergency on twenty-four hours notice."

The statement was issued by Major General Foulke, air corps chief. It followed efforts of Secretary Dern to get Charles Lindbergh to reconsider his refusal to serve on a special commission to study methods of improving the army air service.

Lindbergh refused Dern's first invitation with another rebuke of the administration for cancelling private air mail contracts.

The war department's statement Thursday was in line with the president's request for ten million dollars to improve air service.

FD Tightens Regulations, Contractors Must Deal Fair

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt Thursday tightened regulations requiring all contractors dealing with the government to comply with NRA codes of fair competition.

The president placed full authority in the hands of the industrial recovery administration to deal with government contractors.

The order stipulates all bidders must comply with the code of fair competition, or be subject to a maximum fine of $500 and a sentence of six months imprisonment for false certification.

Special Stress To Be Given Tuberculosis

Miss Nichols, Executive Secretary, Pays Visit To Organization

Workers Receive Valuable Information From State Head

The Howard County Tuberculosis association, in a meeting Wednesday evening at the Douglas hotel, endorsed a public health program, and will give special emphasis to tuberculosis, the dreaded disease that is costing the government billions of dollars each year, and claiming the lives of thousands of men, women and children.

Miss Pansy Nichols, executive secretary of the Texas Tuberculosis association of Austin, was in Big Spring to meet with members of the Howard County association and to help outline a plan to be carried out in Big Spring and Howard county, through the schools.

Mrs. V. O. Hennen, city-county health nurse, received valuable information and suggestions from Miss Nichols as to this campaign.

Working with Mrs. Hennen in the health work is Mrs. J. C. Douglas, who has worked long and untiringly in the tuberculosis association and has handled many of the cases that have been brought to this organization for assistance.

Dr. Lee Rogers, is chairman of the Howard County Tuberculosis association, and presided at the meeting Wednesday evening.

Definite announcement of the program to be carried out will be made shortly.

Parents and teachers are urged to cooperate with the association and help them carry out a worthwhile plan. "Everyone knows the importance of good health in every community, and it is our duty to begin at home, and help every boy and girl in school to build strong, healthy bodies," Mrs. Douglas said, in urging wholehearted cooperation.

Mrs. Insull Reports His Absence, And Does Not Know Where He Fleed

ATHENS (AP)—Mrs. Samuel Insull Sr., said Thursday her husband, fugitive Chicago utilities operator, had fled from Athens, and that she did not know where he had gone. The police detained two maids and a man servant for questioning.

Greek government officials previously had said Insull must leave Greece before midnight.

John Metaxas, minister of the interior, had said Insull will "be forced to leave if he did not go voluntarily."

Further delay in Insull's departure from Greece had been seen when it was learned that no visa was obtainable for him.

Mrs. Insull was taken to the police station for examination. A theory was advanced that Insull left Athens disguised as a woman and was on his way to Paris. An informant who claimed they saw the escape said Insull was accompanied by a woman and that the two wended their way through a curious throng gathered in front of the Insull apartment.

McMillin Tops Famed Career On Big Ten Post
 —By Pap
 PORT WORTH (UP)—If someone 20 years ago had told a 'mule-headed North Side High School student that someday he would be head football coach at Indiana University, the youth's response would have been equivalent to the modern "Oh, Yeah?"
 Yet this spring that same toul-headed youth, none other than A. N. (Bo) McMillin, will take over the Big Ten post, climaxing a football career that reeks with glamor and fame.
 North Side Star
 In 1912 McMillin's name became a football talisman in Texas high school circles. As halfback on the North Side high school team, his name was on the tongue of every follower of high school football.
 In 1914, as captain, he led one of the greatest high school football teams ever assembled in Texas, a team which produced several national football figures.
 Beside him played Buck Weaver, later to become an All-American star at Little Centre College in Kentucky, where Bo himself whirled into national prominence as All-American quarterback at Harvard.
 On that same team were Roscoe Minton, now a high school coach here, who became an All-American at Indiana, and Matty Bell, until this spring coach of football at Texas A. & M. College.
 Won Six Titles
 McMillin was not able to win the state title with his team. It was defeated in the finals at Austin. Nevertheless the passing arm that carried him to wider fame at Centre College was in evidence. His courage and daring made him a nemesis of Texas high school eleven.
 Through his final year in high school, according to an account in the North Side annual for that year, McMillin directed the team's play, although he was suffering from injuries.
 "Bo McMillin held his team up to championship class through

Texas Commercial Failures Decrease During February
 AUSTIN—Commercial failures in Texas totaled 33 in February, an increase of 23 per cent over the 25 in January, but a decline of 55 per cent from February, 1933, when there were 71 failures, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.
 Liabilities amounted to $468,000, an increase of 55 per cent over the $303,000 in January, and a decrease of 47 per cent from the $1,421,000 in February, 1933. Assets of firms that failed totaled $265,000 against $98,000 in January and $561,000 in February last year.
 Average liability per failure was $14,225, against $11,624 in January and $20,014 in February a year ago.

New Passenger Car Registrations For February Increase
 AUSTIN—New passenger car registrations in the 16 most populous counties of Texas totaled 3,237 in February against 1,851 in January and 1,793 in February, 1933, gains of 75 per cent and 81 per cent respectively, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.
 Registrations for January and February combined totaled 5,098 against 4,281 during the corresponding period last year, a gain of 20 per cent.
 The difficulties which many automobile companies had in getting their production schedules under way during January seem to have been largely overcome, and with the big backlog of orders which now prevails, registrations should continue to make highly favorable comparisons with the past three years, the Bureau's report said.

Miller Nichols To Make Race For Howard County Sheriff Office
 Miller Nichols has authorized the Daily Herald to announce his candidacy for the office of sheriff of Howard county, subject to the action of the democratic primary, July 28, 1934.
 Mr. Nichols has been a resident of the Knott community in this county since June, 1905, and stands high in his community and commands the respect of all who know him. He has served as a peace officer here for four years during the boom days when the law had much opposition from the lawless element. Due to his work as an officer in the oil fields during the boom days a lawless element which attempted to obtain a foothold were eliminated. Those knowing Mr. Nichols are confident that he is in every way dependable, and will see that the law is enforced without fear or favor.
 Mr. Nichols appeals to the voters for their influence and support, and asks their support at the polls in the July primary.

D. Waxman, of Chicago. The latter couple will return with Mrs. Fisher to Big Spring for a visit of several weeks.
 The Firemen Ladies' Drill Team Club will hold a cake sale Saturday at Whitmore's grocery.

IMPORTANT OF SCHOOL CENSUS
 Enumeration of boys and girls of scholastic age is now underway in this city.
 Anyone mildly acquainted with the financial situation facing the city schools for the past three years will be compelled to admit that state apportionment money has enabled this independent school district to keep its head above the water.
 Without apportionment money school operations would have to be cut at least in half.
 Payment of state apportionment is made to school districts on a per capita scholastic basis.
 Enumeration of one scholastic at $16 per capita simply means that the Big Spring Independent school district is that much looser.
 When parents or guardians of any children within school ages allow a child to go unenumerated, they are depriving the schools of $16 per annum revenue.
 Repeated omissions multiply the loss and produce a condition very conducive to increased taxation.
 Big Spring Independent school district is entitled to every penny state enumeration money granted on the basis of an honest census. The district does not wish more, but it does wish and is entitled to exactly that much.
 Be sure that every child of scholastic age within this school district is enumerated this year. Start checking up at home and see if your own are enumerated.

Under The Dome At Austin
 By GORDON K. SHEARER

State Rangers with little funds for their pursuit of bandits. Under the existing appropriation a ranger is allowed mileage for using his own automobile in his work. But he is limited to 500 miles a month. Bank robbers and bandits frequently travel that distance in a day.
 The ranger pursuing would have to stop at 500 miles or pay his own expense. If he overtook the bandits and shot it out with them he would have to pay for his own ammunition. If he should be killed the state might pay for his funeral expense.

An inspection of correspondents stationed at the state capitol for newspapers and news associations reveals that all of them have closely clipped hair. There is, accordingly, much speculation about whom Former Governor James E. Ferguson had in mind when he referred in his Forum to "long, bushy-headed broken-down newspaper writers."
 Utility legislation seems to be under a particularly unlucky star at Austin. Two acts to let small communities regulate utility rates have been found faulty. The State Supreme Court found that one did not provide the same thing in its caption and in its body. A fatal error. When a new act was passed at the recent special session of the legislature to replace the one held invalid, the Governor discovered that it had been drawn to amend the wrong act. Its approval, she said, would have placed contradictory laws on the statute book.
 The secret is out why the State Senate puts on an air of superiority to the House of Representatives. Spilloons are barred in the Senate. They are plentiful in the House. Nor is their senate absence due merely to courtesy because of a woman member. There have been several women members in the

Eight Varsity Men Return To Edwards
 AUSTIN, (UP)—Eight of the 23 varsity football men who played on Saint Edwards championship eleven of the Texas Conference, will not appear in 1934 line-ups.
 Among the missing will be Leo Dillon, one of Coach Jack Chevigny's "Four Rockets" of the 1933 season. He was named All-Conference right halfback and widely mentioned for All-American honors.
 Others lost to the squad are Paul Stanford, three-year letterman at the tackle spot; Dan Endom, guard; Haskell Luck, guard, who captured the championship team; John Ledbetter, a two-year tackle; Louis Raffaeli, one-year tackle; Bill Garrett, a two-year backfield man; and John Dibrell, a veteran end.
 The outlook for John (One-Play) O'Brien, new coach of the St. Edwards Tigers, is not as dreary as the list of "missing" seem to make it.
 A squad of 15 lettermen, sufficient to fill every post but right tackle with an experienced player, greeted O'Brien when he arrived here. The tackle berth is empty due to the withdrawal of Sam Guy.

SPORT SLANTS

By ALAN GOULD

Among the golfing professionals who have been playing the closing rounds of the winter circuit on the forthcoming "masters" tournament at the Augusta National course the end of March—featuring the comeback of Robert T. Jones, Jr.—I have found at least two outstanding types of reaction.

One branch of the tourist traffic seems to figure that the event calculated to aid some of the eminent Georgian's business enterprises, will be the entering wedge for a comeback by Jones along several campaign fronts either later this year or in 1935.

The other school of deep thought holds the idea that Jones, while he wishes to win his first major tournament after a four-year layoff, really was reluctant to make a comeback at all and will simply play the part of the old southern host at Augusta without "bearing down" on the golf course.

My own guess is that neither view is entirely correct.

THE OUTLOOK FOR JONES

I have reason to be convinced, in the first place, that Mr. Jones is not the slightest bit of a reticent to open competition again beyond this particular Augusta venture. He says so himself and there is no more reason to question his sincerity in this respect than there is to doubt that James Joseph Tunney is completely through with the prize ring.

It is, nevertheless, quite true that Jones has business connections which would be benefited by his appearance more often in the public eye as a champion golfer. This is to say that his great performance over an eight-year stretch of the winning have been forgotten of the influence of our sporting life diminishes in direct proportion to their disappearance from the fields of action. This has been demonstrated so often that it needs little or no supporting evidence.

As to whether Jones, keenly desirous of winning at Augusta, will well prepared to do so, I would be confident in his old competitive spirit asserting itself. No performer dominant for so long as Jones could sensibly feel other than strong urge to do his absolute best in attempting even a transient comeback.

WILL BE UP THERE!

Championship golf requires good physical condition, endurance and speed; but it is not like boxing in respect to the angle that a long effort is so costly in speed, stamina and energy.

Inspection Service Saves Money, Says Firestone Manager

It is well worth the motorist's time to drive to a well-equipped stop service station for regular inspections of his tires, brake lining, battery, spark plugs and other equipment, says W. Corley, Firestone dealer of this city points out. The inspection costs little or nothing, and any necessary adjustments more than pay for themselves in preventing great costs later.

The tires should be checked

inflation, repair of small holes and removal of small pieces of glass, Mr. Corley says. "If worn too thin or both for safety, they should be replaced. New tires are the automobile accident and insurance you can obtain. To make tires safer engineers at the Firestone Company developed the extra process of dipping which insulates every fiber of every high stretch with pure live rubber. The extra silent safety tread, specially designed with up angles and deep rubber lugs, guards against side-slip forward skid.

The front wheels should be checked for alignment so the tires will not be scuffed away. The battery should be checked to see that it is not operating on a charge—in which condition its life would be greatly shortened. The generator charge rate should be checked. The spark plugs should be checked for connections and bulbs. The spark plugs should be checked for motor efficiency economy, to see if they misfire or lose power, wasting an in of gasoline in every ten feet. The experienced service man will catch any existing defects which will improve operation, give added safety, or save you money.

Tulsa Oilers Ready To Go

Manager Art Griggs Irons Out Financial Difficulties

TULSA, Okla. (UP)—The Tulsa Oilers finally have overcome a series of difficulties—mostly financial—and are ready for their second Texas league season. Manager Art Griggs hopes his team will finish at least as near the top of the heap as it was to the bottom (second) last year.

As Shawnee was selected for the training camp during the week-end just ended, work on a new and real baseball park started here and a season-ticket sales campaign was making good progress. Seven pitchers, two catchers, a third baseman and two outfielders had signed contracts through March 11.

The pitching staff now under signature includes Hank Thornahlen, veteran Texas leaguer with experience at Waco and Galveston, and also veterans Andy Bednar, Jim Biven and Frank Tubbs. These with John Berger, veteran backstop, Pudge Powers, a good catcher, and E. P. Conway, rookie catcher, will start workouts speedily.

Fay O. K.

Salary differences with other players from last year's infield and additions thereto who have been offered jobs, are expected to be ironed out soon.

Griggs' flat refusal to play another season here in the old park—seven miles out and originally the center of a racetrack—almost led to loss of Texas league baseball for Tulsa, which entered the Lone Star circuit in 1933 from the Western League with Oklahoma City.

But civic leaders, the civic finance corporation, even the Civil Works Administration, came to Tulsa's aid and the crisis was passed.

A minimum of 150 ten-year season tickets is being sold at $100 each—some of them on the installment plan—to provide working funds the Tulsa County State Fair donated a new park site; the Civil Works Administration is contributing labor in preparing the grounds. The grandstand will be started soon.

New Park Erected

The new park must be, and is expected to be, ready for use April 12 when the Chicago White Sox and Pittsburgh Pirates play an exhibition game here. The Texas League season opens a few days later, April 17, here with the Dallas Steers as guests.

The new park is somewhat nearer to town and will be ideal with equipment for night games. The pitching staff will include a heavy per centage of portlanders; Thornahlen, Jim Walkup (formerly Fort Worth, Detroit and Southern League, curve-ball only), Lefty Johns, Charlie Woods. Johns is not yet signed. Woods formerly played with Wichita (Western League).

Woods, who was with the Pittsburgh Pirates

during spring training in 1932 and 1933, appears to be the ace pitching prospect here. A young right-hander, he is now Tulsa's property outright, has a mean speed ball and kept the Dallas sluggers in hand last year. His 1933 record here showed 11 games won in 40 participations, 15 complete, 23 starts, 11 finished for others.

Berger To Don Mitt

Berger is the best looking catcher. He was with Memphis several years, coming here in a transfer. In 1932 he batted .593, caught in 100 games and hit 275.

Sammy Hale, holdover third sacker,

must beat out Red Rollings, newcomer from Atlanta by trade, to keep his hot corner position. Alex Hooks, former S.M.U. and Texas League player, has returned his first baseman's contract unsigned. Pete Monahan, Kansas City, offered a similar contract, also had not signed through March 11. No reply had come from Jim Cronin, regular second sacker.

Outfielders under contract were Paul Easterling and Herb Kelly, John Stoneham and Chuck Hostetler, outfielders, Charley Moncrier and Skeets Newsome, shortstops, were still dickering. Berger was unsigned but was expected to offer no delay.

It looks like more baseball will be played this season than for many years. There's some kind of league in nearly every section of the country. Baseball is a good indication of conditions. The folks don't back the game unless they have surplus money because it is something that can be done without.

Big Spring sportsmen have already felt the urge of baseball, and the work of organizing a team will be started before many days. The locals will probably put out a stronger club this year than they have for several seasons.

B. G. (Blondy) Cross, San Angelo sports writer, has been elected president of the West Texas Independent Baseball league. He succeeds W. D. Holcombe, resigned. J. L. Croft of San Angelo was named secretary of the league and Scott Peters, Ozona, treasurer. The circuit includes teams representing San Angelo, Ozona, Texon and Ballinger. The Abilene team, managed by Mose Stimm, is moving to Ballinger.

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion of the world, will referee a bout at Ranger on March 23. It will be Dempsey's first appearance in a town as small as Ranger, and his last appearance in the southwest. In all probability Dempsey will referee the return bout between Little Tade of Dallas and Pat Anderson of Putnam.

Track and field events for District No. 5 will be held at Sweetwater on April 6 and 7, according to an announcement this week. The program for April 7 will be devoted entirely to track and field events. Preliminaries in sprints and hurdles will start at 8 a. m., with finals in all track and field events starting at 1:45 p. m.

Tennis winners will be determined on March 30 and 31. Edgar Hennig, Sweetwater, is director of athletics.

CHAPTER 48

Scanning the sky she saw that yesterday's occasional cloud patches had disappeared. It would be a clear day—a day without rain. She made a gesture about her shoulders, as if to draw an invisible scarf about flesh that was suddenly chill.

The sun rose in a sudden upheaval of purple, gold and crimson. A jaguar snarled in the moat. Janice left the roof and retired to the sumptuous room that was hers—hers until the rain stopped for a day.

A remote thumping, vibrating sound came to her. For a moment she lay relaxed staring at the conscious that about her silent figures were moving.

She propped herself upon an elbow and watched them. They were her servants—women graced in the ankle-length robes square-cut and embroidered at the neck.

The thumping continued. Suddenly she realized it was the flat sound of the temple drum sounding out its deep summons from the pyramid top.

The women were preparing a costume. For a brief instant of panic she thought of screaming, of fighting, of making as great a difficulty as she could—anything to delay the inevitable procession that she realized was now scheduled for today. But reason told her that she must over the eastern jungle. Where was Billy Langton? Could it be that he had been done away with—that he had not been held to participate in this ghastly rite?

She saw him, finally, heading the approaching procession. It was little wonder that she had not been able to pick him out of the column. It was his limp that betrayed him to her.

He was stripped to loin cloth and sandals. Some garment—a skin of some sort—was hung from his shoulders. His head-dress of feathers was like her own but fuller and more elaborate.

The two columns joined one another on either side of the cage of jaguars. She saw the deep lines on Langton's face—his broad nose, his pale lips—pale if a shade lighter than the usual mahogany color could be called pallor.

His eyes were shadowed with pain and despair. He flashed toward her a brief smile, a smile of encouragement she thought, but piteous in its impotence. She returned his smile; and thought she saw his eyes mist with a film of tears.

A jaguar screamed and threw its sinewy weight against the wooden bars. Instinctively she shrank away. The bars gave slightly but held. She noted in that instant that the gate to the cage was held by tied thongs.

It seemed a flimsy prison for such ferocity. She turned her attention to a litter, upheld by four men, that was approaching from the base of the pyramid.

Reclining upon it was the figure of the high priest. She had not seen him since she had been brought to the city. His face was pale—if a shade lighter than the usual mahogany color could be called pallor.

His lips were grim under the beaked nose. Only his eyes lived,

They examined the grouped speaker impassively; his glasses bearing upon Langton and the girl caused his eyes to gleam in fanatic approval at what they observed. He raised his hand.

As if the signal had been awaited the flat thud of the drum increased its tempo. The columns stirred into action. A murmur like that of spreading fire in a sun-dried savannah, arose in the steamy air.

The throng about the pyramid and the conical cliffs were anticipating their performance. The stage was set;—the drama ready to be played. The prologue was done with; now the ceremony of the sacrifice was about to begin.

Janice thought of the bravery of Horatio Greens in a similar situation not long before. Would she be equal to the ordeal? she wondered? Would Billy?

Every time the President or a fellow cabinet officer wanted to slip away on some new administrative trail but feared he might trip on the Constitution, Cummings was called upon.

He helped Mr. Roosevelt and Secretary Morgenthau over the hurdles of their gold program by assuring them all was legal. With no discredit, either, because Congress later was asked to do it absolutely—and did it.

The latest Department of Justice opinion held that Public Works Administrator Ickes was within his constitutional powers in setting up a $100,000,000 Federal Housing Corporation under Delaware charter even though Comptroller General McCall had said that Ickes was all wet.

Sweetly enough this ruling merely put in different words the same arguments presented in the brief of the Public Works General Counsel.

Parched—Uncle Sam was thinking tenderly of your parched throats and flattened pocketbooks when he opened the gates wide to a flood of foreign liquor.

But it wasn't wholly a case of unselfish avuncular love. Your Uncle has an eye on his own wallet. As long as high liquor prices prevail the bootlegger flourishes. Until that gent is eradicated the government exchequer is parched by loss of millions in whisky taxes.

Before the quota rocket went up information was in official hands to show that about 100,000 cases of Scotch is being smuggled in monthly.

The government loses revenue at the rate of $1 per gallon on each case. Every gallon of moonshine put into circulation costs the Treasury out of $3—as certain state moneys intended when they voted

Farley—New Yorkers friendly to Jim Farley say that he is set to remain in the Post Office Department until he puts it on the best business basis of its history.

Behind that ambition is Farley's expectation of an ultimate worthwhile business connection a few years hence. His past experience has been mostly political and he wants to build through the P. O. a reputation as an outstanding executive. His friends add that any connection he eventually makes must leave the door open for his return to politics.

For instance a utility job—unless the utility set-up changes completely would not be likely to enlist Big Jim.

Blocked—Mayor La Guardia's economy bill is still blocked because seven Democratic legislators at Albany can't get their pet county projects out of committee. These measures have been buried because no one but the seven shows any interest in them. The holdouts intend to stay stubborn until they get their way because they fear they'll never get it otherwise.

Irony—Local political sharps see more than a faint irony in Mayor La Guardia's assumption that all Democratic State legislators ought to be regular and jump when Farley or Lehman cracks the whip in his behalf. The Mayor's whole political career is a practically perfect sample of non-regularity.

TVA—David Lilienthal of TVA has been

In New York recently putting the pressure on electric appliance manufacturers. He couldn't see why they needed such a large margin of profit on the items TVA will help them to sell. The manufacturers yielded but swore Lilienthal to temporary secrecy and will remove a few gadgets from the appliances marketed through TVA in the hope that regular purchasers won't resent the price spread too much when the specials are made public.

But neutral experts say prices for all electrical equipment will have to come down in the long run because of Lilienthal's maneuvering.

Exports—New Yorkers in the know say that the government hasn't finished forming export banks to facilitate foreign trade. Special corporations to promote business with Canada, the United Kingdom and Latin-America (except Cuba) are due to follow the initial organizations to deal with Russia and Cuba if these function at all effectively.

Russia now stands fourth in Europe in her ownership of gold. She is mining about $50,000,000 a year and production is rising. . . . The city of Paris recently had to pay nearly 6 per cent yield on a new bond issue. That tips off the state of French internal credit. Hague and Leyden—in Holland—floated issues the same week to yield only 4 per cent. . . . The published list of those who sold aviation stocks before the contracts were cancelled was far from complete.

Flight—Wall Street has a novel flight of capital to get excited about. It was spotlighted by the almost ludicrous recent boom in Canadian securities. Traders suddenly became passionately interested in Canadian Nickel and such. As a corollary the smart boys were interested in almost any stock which can be marketed on an exchange outside the United States.

Part of this activity was due to fear of restrictions in the Fletcher-Rayburn bill. Part of it came from nervousness about the labor situation. Part traces to the hint in the President's speech that industry would do well to consider purchasing power first and profits second.

But most of all it was due to the energy of customers' men who sensed a chance to rake up commissions in a dull market. They kept the phones hot telling their clients about the advantages of switching to Canadians. The situation offered the salesman one of their handiest recent arguments for trading and it didn't take them long to catch on after someone started the ball rolling.

Visitors—New York also learns that Toronto and Montreal have had a number of American visitors bent on exchanging Liberty bonds and other marketable American securities for almost anything sold on the local exchanges. Some of the better class Canadian brokers were a trifle embarrassed. One of them told an eager visitor: "You know we have legislators over here too."

The best informed regard the flurry as comic rather than significant but at least it broke the monotony of Wall Street's dog days.

Strikes—Chances for compromise to postpone labor trouble in the motor industry are improving. New York understands that the managements will make almost any concession short of the closed shop to keep the wheels turning. On the other side responsible labor leaders are trying to restrain the excessive ardor of subordinates. And the government is actively working to promote an understanding.

This doesn't mean the risk of wholesale strikes is ended. It may mean a valuable truce—for the automobile industry in particular. Meanwhile a number of timid corporations are jittery to the point of practically suspending forward buying.

But at least the strike threat gave New York auto salesmen a happy time calling up prospects and urging them to buy quickly before the unions get control and sent prices to the skies.

Farley—New Yorkers friendly to Jim Farley say that he is set to remain in the Post Office Department until he puts it on the best business basis of its history.

Behind that ambition is Farley's expectation of an ultimate worthwhile business connection a few years hence. His past experience has been mostly political and he wants to build through the P. O. a reputation as an outstanding executive. His friends add that any connection he eventually makes must leave the door open for his return to politics.

Yeggs Fail In Attempt To Rob Bank

Fifty Dollars In Small Change Is Taken Late Tuesday Night

BARSTOW—Robbers were unsuccessful in attempt to burn open the vault of the Citizens State bank here Tuesday night, but escaped with a small amount of loose cash estimated by bank officials at less than $50.

A side door of the bank building was forced open and the intruders apparently worked at length with a torch in an effort to get into the strong box. A large hole was burned in the vault.

Officers this morning had no clues in the case.

Less than two years ago an attempt to rob the Citizens bank was frustrated by officers, and two men are now in jail at Pecos awaiting trial in connection with the earlier attempt.

About $200 in silver was overlooked. Several thousand dollars was in the inner vault.

Riby Dyer, sheriff at Barstow, and Linnie Parker, a deputy, were of the opinion that at least four men participated in the attempted raid and believed that it occurred just before dawn.

The men used water several times to extinguish fires started in stationery from heat generated from the torch.

OIL NOTES

Action taken by the railroad commission, regarded as important by oil men, is the denial of permits or tenders on pit oil or tank bottoms.

Heretofore, pits were purposely filled with good oil and dished out to "reclaiming plants" until "reclaiming" oil had become one of the major rackets in East Texas.

Dynamite Blast Is Fatal To 100

LA LIBERTAD, El Salvador (UP)—(Via All-America Cables to United Press)—Local authorities estimated 100 persons were killed Wednesday when 150 cases of dynamite exploded while being unloaded on the docks.

President Hernandez hurried to the port from San Salvador, the capital, 22 miles inland, to take charge of relief and rescue work.

The cause of the terrible blast was unknown, all workmen on the dock having been killed instantly when the dynamite went up with a mighty roar. Flames immediately enveloped the dock and warehouses.

The explosion occurred as workmen were unloading the cases of dynamite from a ship and placing them aboard two freight cars on the dock.

The repair shop of the steamship company where the men were unloading the barges was blown into the harbor, with all the barges and workmen on them. The warehouse contained 15,000 bags of coffee, which were destroyed.

A large stock of gasoline also stored there burst into flame. Firemen from all nearby towns sought to prevent the blaze from spreading.

The authorities said not a building in town escaped damage. The All-American Cables station was damaged, but communications continued without interruption. The steamship office, port building and telegraph and postoffice were badly damaged.

Rev. W. E. Martin expects as guest his sister, Mrs. S. J. Hess of Fredonia, Kansas, who will arrive Friday evening to spend some time in the Martin home with her brother and with Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Martin.

City Operate $2884 Under Year's Budget

Financial Statement For Eleven Month Period Is Issued

City of Big Spring has finished eleven months of the fiscal year with expenditures $2,884.17 under appropriations for the same period.

Total taxes collected during the eleven months amounted to $69,626.31 or $6,172.97 more than the estimate for the year, according to the monthly financial statement prepared by City Comptroller Merle J. Stewart.

Revenues other than taxes collected to February 28 aggregated $89,952.07, or $917.43 less than the estimate for the fiscal year.

During February cash in the general fund increased $1,179.50. Water revenues for February totaled $8,799.20, an increase of $406.46 over January and $153.32 over February 1933.

Warrants in the amount of $7,500 and a note in the amount of $1,254.20 maturing from April 1 to August 23 were paid during February, effecting a saving in interest of about $150. During the eleven months, bonds, warrants and notes amounting to $45,211 have been paid in addition to interest and exchange of $42,183.51 or a total of $87,394.51.

Authority was given by the commission to the city manager to purchase a 40 horse power 400 gallon per minute pump out of savings effected by running under the budget for the year. It is anticipated that the 40 horse power pump will retire indefinitely a 75 horse power booster pump at the nine mile pumping station.

The city manager was also given authority to use a minimum water rate basis of $1.50 for 2,000 gallons instead of $2 for 3,000 gallons in preparing the 1934-35 budget. The recommendation was made because it was felt that the move would greatly benefit small domestic consumers, netting an estimated saving to users of $4,750.

FIRST AIR EXPRESS FLIGHT TWENTY-THREE YEARS AGO

CHICAGO—Although air express, as a nation-wide and efficient service, has been developed almost entirely during the last three years, the idea of transporting commodities by air was born more than 23 years ago, according to Rogers M. Combs, Jr., air express traffic manager of American Airways.

Citing records authenticated by the Smithsonian Institute, Combs said the first air express shipment in history was flown between the cities of Dayton and Columbus, Ohio, on Nov. 17, 1910.

Five bolts of silk, with a combined weight of between 25 and 30 pounds, comprised the shipment and the cost of transporting it over the 65 mile stretch was approximately $5,000.

The plane used to carry the shipment was the tenth ever built by the Wright brothers—a clumsy appearing biplane equipped with landing skids instead of wheels and powered with a small gasoline engine of their own design which drove two propellers by means of sprockets and chains.

Phillip Parmelee, a pilot for the Wright Brothers, flew the plane at the "amazing" speed of nearly 60 miles an hour. Leaving Dayton, Parmelee turned his plane eastward and covered the 65 miles in exactly 66 minutes.

The flight attracted nationwide attention for Parmelee and the Wright brothers and wrote the first chapter in the history of what is now the most rapidly growing division of the air transportation industry.

In Columbus the completion of the flight was celebrated with a large banquet, attended by almost every person of prominence in the city. The bolts of silk were cut up into souvenir ribbons and distributed among the guests.

Congressman Writes Optimistically About Air Mail Service Here

An optimistic communication from Washington has arrived here too late to be optimistic.

In an interview with Harlee Branch, second assistant postmaster general, Congressman R. E. Thomson was told that regarding "restoration" of (air) mail service between Fort Worth and El Paso, you may be assured that such service will be provided temporarily by the war department just as soon as it can be arranged.

Since that utterance, however, President Roosevelt, disturbed by an appalling loss of life in connection with the army's mail flying, ordered suspension of several routes and maintenance only of the absolutely necessary lines.

Only hope in the communication lies in the possibility that the line will be considered when re-bids are submitted by commercial interests.

H. D. Baggary of Dallas, superintendent of the Postal Telegraph company, was a visitor in Big Spring Tuesday and Wednesday on company business. He left Wednesday night for points east of here.
