The question of taste or propriety has come up many times during the campaigning. No doubt about it, some of the political wise-cracking has been downright malicious. But some has been uproariously funny, too. I thought it was funny when somebody turned a Goldwater sign upside down east of town. I even managed a grin (a shallow one) when somebody plastered a Johnson-Humphrey sticker on the Tribune window one night last week. But I thought defacing signs and scribbling ugly or salacious slogans across public advertisements was in poor taste.

Following the Jenkins disclosure, a tidal wave of lascivious jokes swept across the country. For several days any time you saw two or more people whispering and wearing big grins it was an even bet they were exchanging the latest humorous outrages on the sub-

Project Yule Card Is Underway

In Farwell

Workers in "Project Xmas Card" being sponsored by Farwell PTA are canvassing the town this week seeking contributions for the fund.

Each year for the past three years local residents have been asked to contribute to the project the amount of money they would ordinarily spendon mailing local Christmas cards. The money is used to buy library books for the three school libraries at Farwell.

Any person, wishing to contribute to the project who is not contacted by one of the workers may leave his contribution at the city hall (in Farwell) with Mrs. Janie Bowery, chairman of the project. Deadline for contributions is Dec. 4.

IMPROVED GREYHOUND --Probably the most improved player on the Eastern New Mexico University football team is quarterback Benjy Dial, a junior from Farwell. Last year Dial completed only .352 per cent of his passes and had 11. intercepted, but this year he has completed .722 of his passes with no interceptions. He has thrown six touchdown passes, two more than he threw in the 10 games of 1963. And he is one of the national leaders among small colleges in total offense with 584 yards.

New gas ranges obey you as

See this accurate, automatic beauty and other O'Keefe and Merritt ranges at the Southern Union showroom.

If you want the job done right...do it with gas.

The new 1964 gas ranges are the most obedient servants warm for hours, and never overcook it. It obeys your orders, ever invented for your kitchen. They do five important things no other ranges can do:

1. Gas ranges give you instant heat control. Turn the knob. The flame goes up, down, or off. Your control is absolute and immediate. Flame obeys instantly.

2. Gas ranges give you automatic burner control. Set your Burner-With-A-Brain. And forget it. There'll be no boilovers. The contents of any pot or pan will be at exactly the temperature you want. Automatically, your gas Burner obeys, gives you control whether you're there or not.

3. Gas Keep-Warm ovens really work. Put supper in the Keep-Warm gas oven. And walk away. It'll keep that meal

4. Gas ranges keep your kitchen clean. Flame actually consumes smoke. You can broil with the oven door closed; no hot, greasy smoke pours into your kitchen.

5. Gas efficiency saves you money. The great new gas ranges serve you so efficiently they cook for 1/2 the cost of the new electrics!

The purpose of a range is to cook meals. If you want the job done right . . . do it with gas.

Masquerade Party Held In After a demonstration on fall Skaggs Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skaggs was scene for a masquerade party on Halloween with Mrs. J. C. Boone and Mrs. Roy Rickstrew assisting with hostess duties.

Prizes were given for the person having the costume which made it hardest for the panel of four judges to guess who he was. Winning the men's prize was Roy Rickstrew and winner of the woman's prize was Robert Cantrell (who had disguised himself as a woman thus making it impossible for the judges to identify him). Winners of prizes in the forty-two games were Mrs. Boone and Jim Rickstrew.

Attending the social were Messrs, and Mmes, John Hill, Ernest Woods, Bill Dudley, J. C. Boone, Oliver Cantrell and Robert Cantrell, all of Clovis. Also Messrs, and Mmes, Paul Skaggs, Roy Rickstrew, Jim Rickstrew, Perry Winkles, Eddie West and Robert Laney,

Youngsters Have

Party At Church

Thirty-two youngsters attended a Halloween party for third through sixth graders, at the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church Saturday afternoon. The occasion was sponsored by Sunday School and evening fellowship teachers of the young people -- Mesdames M. A. Snider Jr., John Lovelace, Joe White and W. H. Graham.

Games were played and sandwiches, potato chips, cookies and punch were served. Attendants wore Halloween costumes.

Each Fall Plains Cotton Grovers compiles and sends to members of the cotton trade, textile mills and others around the world a detailed, bi-weekly report on the quality of high Pla'ns cotton as it is gathered. The report keeps both domestic and foreign buyers and mills aware of the qualities and quantitles of cotton available from the current crop. In addition, it serves as a valuable tool for those engaged in quality research and the expansion of markets for our number one product.

The first such report for the 1964-65 season, covering the quality of 40,000 bales ginned through October 21 of this year, has just been released. Each report gives quality information for the interim period since the last report as well as cumulative figures for the season. The significance of quality data in the first report for the season stems from the fact that, although it reflects quality of a relatively few bales, it sometimes is indicative of what can be expected for the remainder of the season.

Staple length averaged 30.8 thirty-seconds of an inch, slightly above the first 1963 figure of 30.4 thirty-seconds. The percentage of early cotton with staple lengths of one inch and longer took a big jump over the first ginnings of 1963, with 25.5 per cent in this category as compared to only 11.6 per cent last season. While this is encouraging, optimism is considerably dampened by the fact that in 1962 the first quality report showed a 30.8 thirtyseconds average also, with 21.2 per cent one inch and above. Yet, as the 1962 season progressed these figures dropped to 30.1 thirty-seconds and only 4.4 per cent.

Marketing experts on the Plains have indicated that the area should work towards increasing staple lengths to an average of about 31 thirtyseconds to one inch, giving a good balance of cotton both above and below that figure. There is, of course, a market for a certain amount of 15/16 inch cotton and even below, but the market just isn't big enough to accommodate two million bales or so of such cotton.

Micronaire average to date has been almost identical to that recorded last year -- 4.3 with 93.6 per cent above the tenderable limit of 3.5.

Pressley fiber strength (zero guage) came to an average of 80,100 pounds per square inch with 82.5 per cent above 75,-000 pounds. This compares with 79,700 pounds per square inch and 76.5 per cent above 75,000 last year.

Grade, Staple and Micronaire tests are given each of these samples by classing office personnel, but because of the extra time involved, fiber strength tests are made at the Texas Tech Textile Research Laboratories on only about 10 per cent of the total samples. The fabric has the luxury look and feel of real leather, but is water-repellent, comfortable, supple at temperatures from -40 degrees to 340 degrees Fahrenheit; crease -resistant, and is dry cleanable or machine washable.

It can be pressed safely on the treated or untreated side of the fabric at a woolen or steam setting.

A report from the National Institute of Dry Cleaning indicates a minimum shrinkage, or less than 3 per cent; and some bleeding of the fabric, There was more bleeding in laundering than in dry cleaning, Serious injuries and even some deaths have resulted from the explosion of pressurized cans. Heat, is the greatest danger involved. A can placed in an incinerator or a trash fire, though completely empty of the paint, hair spray or insecticides they once contained, will explode with great force and can cause injury if a person should be in range of the flying metal.

We offer these suggestions for the safe handling of such containers. Keep all pressurized containers away from sunlight, hot radiators or other areas of high heat. Any heat above 100 degrees, will create a definite hazard.

they may be buried.

If no other safe method of disposal of such cans is available, property in Lubbock, clear of debt, and producing a $3,600.00 per month income. Would like to contact landowners who would consider a trade. This property has never been listed by any real estate agents, and has never been offered for sale before. It is strictly first class in every respect and would stand the closest investigation. It would be a very good deal for someone wishing to retire from active work with a very excellent income. Would take from a half to a section of 58th St. Lubbock, or phone SH 4-9838

BATTLE RECORD TO DATE

SPRAYING	ACRES SPRAYED	COMMENT
Number 1 (Beginning Sept. 15)	303,000 acres (Originally estimated 240,000 acres. Total includes Skip-row)	First application was hampered by rain, wind, etc. Migrating weevils caused increase in size of control zone. Extremely high adult and unemerged weevil populations encountered.
Number 2 (Beginning about October 4)	281,000 acres (Reduction due to acreage desiccated or harvested)	Field checks indicated effective kill of adult weevils but continuing emergence kept new weevil population up. Addi- tional planes brought in to speed up sprayings.
Number 3 (Beginning about October 13)	230,000 acres (Continuing harvest and desiccation)	Field examination showed great reduction in number of adult weevils, with low occurrence of weevils in diapause stage. Also fewer unemerged weevils.
Number 4 (Beginning about October 21)	190,000 acres	Few unemerged and very young weevils left. Practically no weevils in diapause stage.

Remaining unemerged and young adult weevils will be kept from going into hibernation either by frost or CONCLUSION:

Entomologists agree that hibernating weevils will have been reduced by more than 90 percent hy end of this year's program.

Financial Arrangements

- Compresses to collect 50c per bale, and remit to a special boll weevil control fund in bank no connection with P.C.G.
- While compresses collect on all cotton, the contribution is voluntary for individual farmers who may request and receive
- All funds are under direction of a Certified Public Accountant firm.
- Monthly financial reports by U.S.D.A. and Boll Weevil Steering Committee will be made Complete audit will be pub-
- Any unexpended Steering Committee funds will be placed in interest bearing account for continuation of Boll Weevil Program next season. Unexpended U.S.D.A. funds must return to Treasury, as all appropriations are on annual basis
