

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

Parting, the poet said, is sweet sorrow. Don't believe a word of it. It's rough.

Elsewhere on this page is a story about our plans to relinquish the reins of The Tribune to the John Getzes. It is likely that in the near future we will be making a change of residence also -- to Lovington.

For some time we have had an interest in the paper there, and in recent years the field is showing so much potential that we couldn't pass up a chance to buy the remainder when offered an opportunity to do so very recently.

Dick Hapke, a Texico product and practically "one of the family" who has worked for us since he was 11 years old, is managing the paper now and we look forward to joining him.

In all truth, I must admit that the community stands to gain by this change because I am largely an in absentia publisher. This is the next worst thing to having a non-resident publisher. Because of my widespread responsibilities, The Tribune has not had my personal attention and on this account it is bound to improve under the new management.

However, in the same breath I will emphasize that Chris Moss has done such an outstanding (and unheralded) job in newshounding for The Tribune that few community papers in cities of this size can match her. For that we are doubly proud -- and grateful.

Contemplating such a change is painful. With roots 35 years deep and a whole boyhood of nostalgia, I simply can't avoid being hurt, and neither can Jeanne. But of course these sentiments are transitory and memories will soon be recalled with pleasure rather than pain. Certainly I can recommend no place on earth as finer for raising a family and simple, graceful living than this community where I was born.

Our friendships here are real and lasting, and we know that time only mellow such ties -- never breaks them. To our friends, who have endured us through good times and bad, in sickness and in health, we give our most sincere thanks.

"This one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, I press toward the mark for the prize."

Father Of Local Woman Dies

Funeral services were conducted in Tulsa recently for L. S. Simpson, 83, father of Mrs. L. S. Pool of Farwell. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery under direction of Wallace Funeral Home. The Rev. H. D. Scoggin, pastor of the Tulsa Methodist Church, officiated at last rites.

Mr. Simpson, a retired furniture dealer was a native of Albany, Miss. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors in addition to the local daughter are his wife, three sons, Cecil, V. L. and James, all of Tulsa; 14 grandchildren and 28 great-grandchildren.

Graveside Rites Held For Autrey Infant

Graveside rites were conducted at the Texico Cemetery on Sunday for Phyllis Dawn, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Autrey, who died Friday at Clovis Memorial Hospital shortly after birth.

The Rev. Leroy Looper, pastor of the Texico First Baptist Church officiated at the services and burial was under direction of Steed Funeral Home.

In addition to the parents, the infant is survived by three sisters, Betty Jean, Connie Lynn and Linda Ann; her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Moore, Clovis, and Mrs. Eline Autrey, Texico.

Receives Shoulder Injury

Craig Phillips, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Phillips was hospitalized for a short time last week following a shoulder injury during football practice. Although the lad will be out of football play for several weeks he is in good condition according to family members.

Farwell coaches, Vernon Scott, Toby Booth, Bill Adams and Jerry Owen are caught in the act of doping out the strategy to be used against Friona in the first game of the season on Friday evening. Game time is 7:30 p.m. at Friona.

Steers Tackle Chiefs Friday Night

"They're tough", was the comment of Toby Booth, Farwell football coach, as he discussed the Friona Chieftains, first opponents of the Farwell Steers. The game will be played Friday night in Friona, beginning at 8 p. m.

"We're looking for a good ball game, added the coach, "but it'll take everything we have." The kids looked good in scrimmage against Portales, he noted.

Discussing the coming game, Booth says Friona probably has five of the finest linemen the Steer fans will see this year, with an average of 200 pounds in the line. Friona scrimmaged Fritch and according to reports, had nine touchdowns to one. From reports, the Chiefs have a fast backfield, do a pretty good job throwing the ball, and probably one of the strongest points will be on defense. They have four linemen back on the interior, and last year, no one hurt them "up the middle", he contends. "We haven't learned their weakness if they have any", he concludes.

Booth feels Steer defense is "our toughest" and hopes it will show up Friday night. "Our backs are doing a pretty good job running and our ends do a pretty good job catching the football. He was "pleasantly surprised" at the outstanding showing the boys made against the Portales team at scrimmage.

Starters for Friday night are: Johnny Schell, halfback, 150, junior; Bobby Field, quarterback, 165, junior; Larry Suttle, halfback or fullback, 172, junior; Larry Flowers, fullback, 190, senior; Lester Gray Perry, guard, 155, senior.

Grahams Buy Lovington.. Getz Publishes Tribune

The State Line Tribune is being published under the management of John Getz of Farwell this week after a transaction in which he became publisher September 1.

Getz, who has been Tribune advertising manager, and his wife will operate the paper under a lease. W. H. Graham, a native of Farwell and longtime Tribune publisher, has contracted for the purchase of The Lovington Leader in southeast New Mexico. Graham says he and his wife and family will move to manage that paper full-time as soon as housing can be arranged.

Getz is also publisher of The Curry County Times, a weekly newspaper in Clovis. He will continue in that capacity. Mrs. Jim Moss of The Tribune editorial department will remain in her present capacity.

Mrs. Getz, who has been office manager for Plains Publishers, will be associated with her husband in his business enterprises. "We are enthusiastic about this opportunity to serve the community with a newspaper, and we hope to publish a quality product deserving of the public's acceptance and respect," said Getz.

Graham, who has resided in Farwell 35 years, said he had deep personal regret at making the change, but feels his chance to buy the New Mexico property too attractive to pass by. He has been a stockholder in the Lovington Publishing Company for four years. Mr. and Mrs. Getz have one son, Mike, who is a pre-med student at West Texas State University, Canyon. The Grahams have four sons, three of whom are in school and one of pre-school age.

Judge Sam Lewis, Texico Justice of the Peace was presented with a clock-radio while attending the New Mexico Justice of the Peace Association convention in Roswell last week. Speaker for the convention was Chief Justice David Carmody of the New Mexico Supreme Court.

Donaldson-Decker Wedding Vows Read

Miss Dorothy Jolene Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Donaldson, became the bride of Rodney Decker, son of Mrs. Clifton H. Decker and the late Mr. Decker, in an evening ceremony, August 28, 1965. The couple's vows were exchanged in the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church at 7:30 p.m. Officiating the double ring ceremony was Rev. James E. McGuire of the Northside Baptist Church, Abernathy.

Jolene was given in marriage by her father, Sterling Donaldson, of the Oklahoma Lane Community.

Best man was J.D. Mitchell of Seminole. The matron of honor was Mrs. Robert White, sister of the bride, from Farwell. Maid of honor was Miss Peggy White, House, N. Mex. Bridesmaids included Tyra Decker, sister of the groom, Seminole, and Zelda Donaldson, sister of the bride, Farwell. Ina Beth Decker, sister of the groom, was the junior bridesmaid.

Candles were lighted before the ceremony by Larry Donaldson. Ushers were Ronnie Badley, Albany; Larry Donaldson, brother of the bride, Farwell. Groomsmen were Bill Holcomb, Brownfield, Raymond Taylor, Albany, and Ken Kroeger, Burnett. Junior groomsmen were Malcolm Terry, cousin of the bride, Shallowater.

The church altar was set with a huge basket of white gladiolas and mums tied with white satin ribbons. On either side were seven candelabra holding tall white tapers. Jade foliage and woodwardia fern interspersed the entire arrangement.

Mrs. J.B. Sudderth played the organ for the ceremony and for the soloist, Kenny Sheppard of Odessa. Songs by Sheppard were "Whither Thou Goest", "Walk Hand in Hand", and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle with a fitted bodice, featuring a scalloped sabbina neckline, accented with applique organza roses and seed pearls. The gown had long, pointed sleeves and a bell skirt which was enhanced with appliques of roses entwined with embroidery and seed pearls. The full chapel train hung from the waistline attached by self-fabric cabbage roses. Her elbow-length veil of white silk illusion fell from a tiara crown of embroidered organza encrusted with seed pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of white roses encircled by stephanotis tied with white satin ribbon streamers.

For something old the bride wore a pure linen handkerchief in her sleeve. Something new was her bridal ensemble, her veil was borrowed from her cousin, Mrs. Jack P. Driskill. A blue garter was given to the bride by Tri Phi Social Club of Hardin-Simmons University.

All the attendants wore identical formal length gowns of metallic gold floral designed satin brocade. Their headpieces were of scalloped golden tulle. Each attendant wore matching elbow-length gloves and carried a cascaded bouquet of bronze mums enhanced by metallic gold ribbons.

The bride's mother wore a light blue silk crepe sheath with black patent leather accessories. Her corsage was of champagne colored carnations.

Mother of the groom, Mrs. Clifton H. Decker, wore an aqua blue silk crepe dress styled with a pleated skirt, with black accessories. She wore a corsage of champagne colored carnations.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the church fellowship hall. The table had an imported lace cloth over gold underlay. It was set with white milk glass candelabra with two tall gold tapers, a white five-tiered wedding cake, gold punch in a milk glass server and mints and nuts served in white and gold dishes. The bride's bouquet completed the table decorations. Punch and cake were served by Mrs. Jackie Paul Driskill, cousin of the bride, Lubbock, and Janice Blackburn, Tri Phi sister, Sudan, Coretta Watkins, Muleshoe, and Barbara Tucker, cousin of the bride, Plainview. All wore corsages of champagne-colored carnations.

The couple took a wedding trip to parts of New Mexico, after which their residence will be in Lubbock. For her traveling outfit, the bride chose a beige three-piece suit with brown lizard accessories, and a corsage of white roses.

The new Mrs. Decker, a 1965 graduate of Farwell High

Judy Gast Is Bride Of John Abernathy

Judy Gay Gast, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buster Gast became the bride of John Abernathy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hez Abernathy, 310 John Doe, Clovis, on August 28, in a double ring ceremony read by Pastor Henry Shaffer at the Immanuel Lutheran Church in Clovis.

Altar of the church was centered by a bronze predieu covered with white velvet, flanked by brass stands on which stood large floral arrangements of white gladioli and pink carnations. Background for the setting were candelabras holding white cathedral tapers. Interspersing the entire setting were palms of emerald greenery and woodwardia fern. The bridal aisle was laid with a white carpet and family pews were marked by pink ribbon bows.

Serving as bestman was John Ness, Amarillo. Groomsman was Jim Webb, Morton.

Candlelighters, Joe Abernathy, Clovis and David Street, Abilene, doubled as ushers.

Organist, Janice Bartholme, cousin of the bride from Denver played appropriate nuptial selections and accompanied Lloyd Wagner, Clovis who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Matron of honor was Mrs. Randy Rierson, Clovis. Bridesmaid was Jacque Gast, Farwell, cousin of the bride. They were attired in identical full length dresses of pink brocaded taffeta finished with a row of covered buttons down the back. They wore bell shaped hats of pink with pink velvet ribbon streamers and carried colonial bouquets of white carnations edged in Chantilly lace with cascading ribbon streamers.

The bride escorted and given in marriage by her father wore a floor length wedding gown of white peau de sole designed along princess lines. The dress was enhanced by a row of self covered buttons down the back. Completing the dress was a short jacket designed with three quarter length sleeves. The ensemble was made by a close family friend, Mrs. Leroy Berggren.

Her shoulder length veil of white tulle was attached to a tiara of white peau de sole. Her bridal bouquet was a Bible arrangement of white pixie carnations and agapanthes with cascades of miniature ivy.

Following tradition she wore for something old a dinner ring of her mothers; new was the wedding gown, blue and borrowed was a garter, belonging to her sister, Mrs. Robert Vashaw. For luck she carried in her shoe a penny minted in the year of her birth.

Mrs. Gast, mother of the bride, was attired in a beige chiffon dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was a golden beige orchid.

Mrs. Abernathy wore a dress of emerald green silk with beige accessories. Her corsage was also an orchid.

A reception was held in the community room at the Clovis National Bank immediately following the wedding. The serving table was covered with a white damask cloth, and centered by a sterling and crystal eperne holding an arrangement of pink carnations, flanked by three branched silver candelabras holding pink candles.

The four tiered wedding cake was served with pink punch. Peggy Martin and Donna Dunn, presided at the serving table and guests were registered by Peggy Eason. Hostesses for the reception were aunts of the bride, Mrs. Smoky Gast, Farwell, Mrs. James Reynolds, Mrs. Nelson Worley and Mrs. Bill Williams, all from Clovis.

When the newlyweds left for a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico the bride was wearing a pink linen suit with white accessories. Her corsage was the center lifted from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1965 graduate of Farwell High School. She will attend college at WTSU. The groom is a graduate of Clovis High School and recently received a B.S. degree from WTSU. He will be working toward a M.A. degree when school begins in the fall.

MEET MR. WUNSTOP DUZZIT

An inmate of a modern prison always spent visiting days alone in his cell. This worried the warden, who finally called the man into his office.

"Ben," he said kindly, "I've noticed you never have any visitors. Don't you have any relatives -- or friends?"

"Oh, sure I do," replied Ben, happily. "But they're all in here!"

PRODUCERS WINNING

Battle of the Boll Weevil!

BOLL WEEVIL CAN BE BEAT

The efficiency and effectiveness of the 1964 weevil control program, together with the continued support of producers, strongly points toward a complete High Plains victory over this most dreaded and costly of all cotton insects.

20% LESS REQUESTED FOR WAR CHEST

Economies effected in the first year's spraying, plus the fact that over 97% of producers helped finance it, made possible a substantial carryover of funds from 1964 to be used in 1965. This in turn has made it possible to reduce the requested producer contribution in 1965 from 50 cents to 40 cents a bale. And there is hope this can be further reduced in 1966.

The following is a financial report from the Boll Weevil Steering Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to those who are so wisely investing in this vital program:

(3) Reimbursed expenditures from PCG general fund

(6) Total cost of program in 1964 was $1,188,435.20, with the difference paid from Federal and State funds
(7) Required escrow fund to remain 2 years beyond termination of the program
