

PERSONAL

By John

Read in The Bovina Blade where the taxpayers of the Bovina Independent School District are considering a forthcoming bond issue. As with most issues of this nature, there are those in favor of all the proposed program and then there are some who question the necessity of various parts as proposed.

This is well and good, and as it should be. A person isn't automatically endowed with great wisdom by virtue of being on a board. But, generally speaking, the board members are better informed on their particular province than the average layman who gives the matter passing thought at the best.

In this instance, I do not presume to advise the Bovina School Board or the voters of the district what they may or may not need, but indirectly I am involved.

This fall I attended the Farwell-Bovina football game, as I have for the past number of years, and again the Farwell fans were crowded into a very inadequate set of bleachers. They spilled over into the sidelines, sat on the fence and were, for the most part, uncomfortable for the game.

Now that Bovina is going to play in Class A, I am sure that the majority of visiting teams will bring large followings to the Hub City. A bleacher section for visitors adequate for the crowds will be appreciated by literally hundreds of people on the High Plains.

When Farwell journeyed to Friona this year, we played the first game on the new Friona field. This stadium was built for the future and was expected to be adequate for many years to come. Yet, on the first game, there was standing room only, and I understand several times since then this has been the case.

Make no mistake about it, "athletics" is becoming big time locally as well as nationally. This year, Texas Tech played to several 45,000 plus crowds. You cannot get seats in the 9,500 seat municipal auditorium when the Red Raiders play basketball.

We are part of a burgeoning area of the country -- growth, expansion, and yes taxes, are ours to contend with. I think the Lord I am a part of this great southwest and am glad to be a part of this wonderful experience of growth.

Concerning the Farwell Steerettes' 46-42 win over the Friona Squaws earlier this year, our friend editor Bill Ellis of the Friona Star did some researching, and found that the Farwell girls had, indeed, beaten Friona before. However, it was some 10 years and 20 games ago, and that probably seemed like an eternity to the Farwell fans.

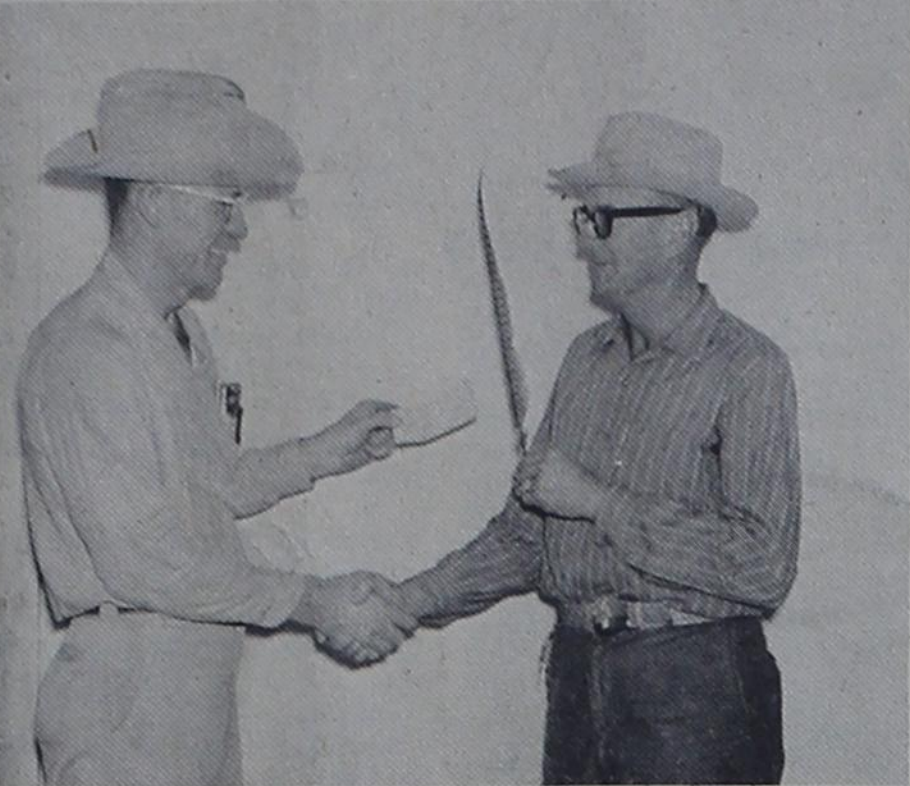

Farwell broke a 20-game winning streak enjoyed by the Squaws, dating back to January 6, 1956, when Farwell last beat the Friona girls, 46-39. That game was in Farwell's invitational basketball tournament.

Farwell fans can even look back on a "banner year" in 1953-54, when the Steerettes beat the Squaws twice, 40-39 and 37-29.

And now, after ten years, in the opening game of 1965-66, the Squaws met an aroused bunch of Steerettes, who were out to break an old losing streak. And they did.

Vernon Jamison was winner of the "longest Pheasant tail feather" contest held in the Farwell area, in conjunction with other contests in the county Dec. 1 - Dec. 7. The feather brought in by Jamison measured 24 7/8 inches. Clay Henson at Farwell Hardware was official measurer for the contest. The prize winning feather brought in by Jamison brought him a reward of $25 from Gilbert Kaltwasser of Pioneer Sorghum.

Other prize winners brought in were a 23 5/8 inch feather by Glenn Phillips; a 23 1/4 inch feather brought in by Irvin Martin and a 23 1/8 inch feather brought in by Buck Bradshaw.

Third place prize of $15 was presented to Phillips by Larlat Gin Company. Martin received $19 from Farwell Fertilizer for his fourth place prize winner, and Bradshaw received $5.00 from Farwell Hardware.

During the seven day hunt, 22 cocks were harvested in the Farwell area.

Other hunters turning in feathers were B. J. Roberts, Bill Boling, Mutt Crook, Richard Engelking, Becky Humphress, Pete De Fries, Delbert Putman and Joe VanZandt.

Feathers brought in during the hunt are being kept in the office of County Agent Joe VanZandt.

Prather Asks Cooperation In Twin Cities Council

Announcement has been made by E. C. (Red) Prather, chairman of the Twin Cities council, early this week, that letters have been mailed to each of the civic clubs and other organizations in the Twin Cities who should be participating in the Council asking their cooperation in the Twin Cities council.

At the meetings held this fall, only four organizations have sent representatives to attend. With no more cooperation than this, representatives from the four participating clubs have decided that to continue with the council would be futile; therefore, each organization is being asked for a final time to either send representatives to the meetings, or the Council will be disbanded.

A meeting has been called for January 4 at which time a final decision will be reached regarding whether to continue the meetings or disband.

The Twin Cities Council was organized some two years ago in order to try to promote good will between the people of the neighboring communities of Texico and Farwell through the combined efforts of the citizens of both towns working together for the good of all.

Twin Cities Council has worked with other civic organizations the past two years to assist in raising funds for the Little League Baseball Park, which benefits the children of both towns.

Quality Good --

Cotton Harvest In Full Swing

Cotton harvest in the Texico-Farwell, Oklahoma Lane and Larlat areas was in full swing the first of this week following the hard freeze of a week ago, followed by dry, warm weather the past few days.

Gin operators in the area generally agree that cotton harvest is approximately 40-50 per cent completed. However, most agree that the harvest will not be completed before January 1. Strippers were in full operation on Monday and for the first time cotton was piling up on the gin yards, with gin crews unable to keep up with the flow of cotton coming in.

All gins are operating 24 hours each day in order to give better and faster service to the cotton farmers. In some areas (south of Farwell) approximately 80% of the cotton is out of the fields while in other areas harvest operations had only begun this week.

Nickels Gin had ginned a total of 3,164 bales on Monday which they estimate is 50% of their average run in a season. However, Mrs. Joyce Haseloff, bookkeeper, says this is a little ahead for the same period last year.

Oklahoma Lane Gin had received 1,100 bales on Monday, but Harold Carpenter said, "This is really our first big day."

Lawrence Cooper, Cooper Gin, estimated that he had ginned no more than 35% of his average seasonal run. To date the gin had received 1,398 bales.

Calvin Meissner, Larlat Gin, estimated that at least 50% of the cotton crop has been harvested. To date his gin has received 1,350 bales.

All of the gin operators agree that the quality of the cotton brought in is better than in the past two or three years. Harold Carpenter said, "The quality is bound to be better since cotton is primarily a warm weather crop, and the elements have cooperated to the fullest to allow the maximum time for maturing the crop."

PILING UP -- Trailers loaded with cotton had begun piling up on the gin yards in all areas surrounding Farwell early this week when, with the cooperation of the weather, harvest continued in full swing. Most gin operators estimate that harvest operations will be completed by the first of the year, weather permitting.

Taxes Going Up In Many States

Thirty-two of the 47 states with legislative sessions during 1965 adopted new taxes or increased existing taxes. These actions, according to the Tax Foundation, are estimated to add $1.3 billion a year to state tax revenues, a 5.4 percent increase over 1964.

Twenty states, however, either voted down or did not act on still other tax proposals to expand revenues by an additional $1.7 billion per year. As of mid-September, proposals for increases of $1.3 billion annually were still pending, but at least $1.1 billion of the total appeared to have very little chance of approval in 1965.

On The Farm In Parmer County
By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

We have been in College Station the past week attending a Beef Cattle Short Course for County Agents at Texas A&M University. We saw and heard about a lot of new research findings in the area of Beef Cattle. We trust this information will be useful to us in our work with beef cattle producers.

Several factors should be considered when deciding upon the amounts needed for the next crop. These conditions include: last year's crop, tonnage and stage of decomposition of residue, previous fertilizer applications, crop to be grown and anticipated yield, amount of organic matter present in the soil and previous response to fertilizer.

Have your soil tested by a reliable soil testing laboratory for an evaluation of the nitrogen status and the rate of use for maximum efficiency.

We have been getting copies of a good many soil test reports. If any of you have any questions, please feel free to give me a call.

Let's all support our girls' basketball team and maybe we can head off another 10-year losing streak. It is amazing what a little moral support will do for a team's desire to win.

We received this lovely poem from Mrs. W. J. Markham of Farwell expressing sentiments that we know are on the minds of all of us, particularly at this time of year, and we wish to share it.

Dedicated to the boys in the Service of their Country.

I won't be home for Christmas, But I know they'll be thinking of me. There'll be a tree all shiny and bright With popcorn trimming all snowy and white; And mistletoe gathered from the elm tree high,

Where we played so often, my brother and I, And Dad and Mom and little Nell, In my mind I can see them so well. With the others all gathered around the tree And I know they'll all be thinking of me.

No, I can't be home this Christmas, But they'll be remembering me. Among other good things that mother will bake, Will be my favorite chocolate cake. And when they are gathered around the table, Dad will read from the old family Bible. Then with heads bowed they'll offer a prayer, "God bless and protect our boy over there." I'll not be home for Christmas, But they'll be thinking of me.

By Mrs. W. F. Markham

Visits Parents Enroute To Viet Nam

PFC Barry McCuan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale McCuan, is visiting in the home of his parents and with friends and other relatives in Texico-Farwell prior to departing for California, where he will embark for Viet Nam.

The scatter gunners will be accommodated in three equal groupings. Quail are plentiful according to Vernon Morse, who will be in charge; however, hunters are asked to bring their dogs because heavy vegetation will make retrieving the birds difficult.

The hunts will be from one-half hour before sunup to half an hour after sunset. Each hunter is entitled to a limit of 12 quail and one pheasant cock.

ENMU Greyhounds Rewrite Records

Quarterback Benjy Dial, half-back Richard James, and kicking specialist Dean Bates emerged at the top of the list statistically in season performance for the Greyhounds of Eastern New Mexico University. Dial, of Farwell, completed his final season for the Greyhounds by breaking three of his own records of the 1964 season, plus rewriting three others. The pace-setting quarterback now owns 10 of the Greyhounds' 14 passing records and all the Hounds' total offense marks.

In the passing department, Dial completed 122 in 246 attempts this year for a total of 1,532 yards and seven touchdowns. He had 19 passes intercepted.

The Pittsburgh Steeler-bound quarterback rushed for 287 yards to accumulate 1,919 yards total offense.

Two of Dial's more notable records are most yards passing in a career, 3,491 from 1962-65; and most yards gained in a career, 4,231.

The Hounds' speedman, James, a Portales senior, was stopped 68 yards short of the season rushing record of 684 yards set in 1961 by Pete Jaquess, now of the Houston Oilers. James accumulated 627 yards in 106 rushes for a 5.9 average.

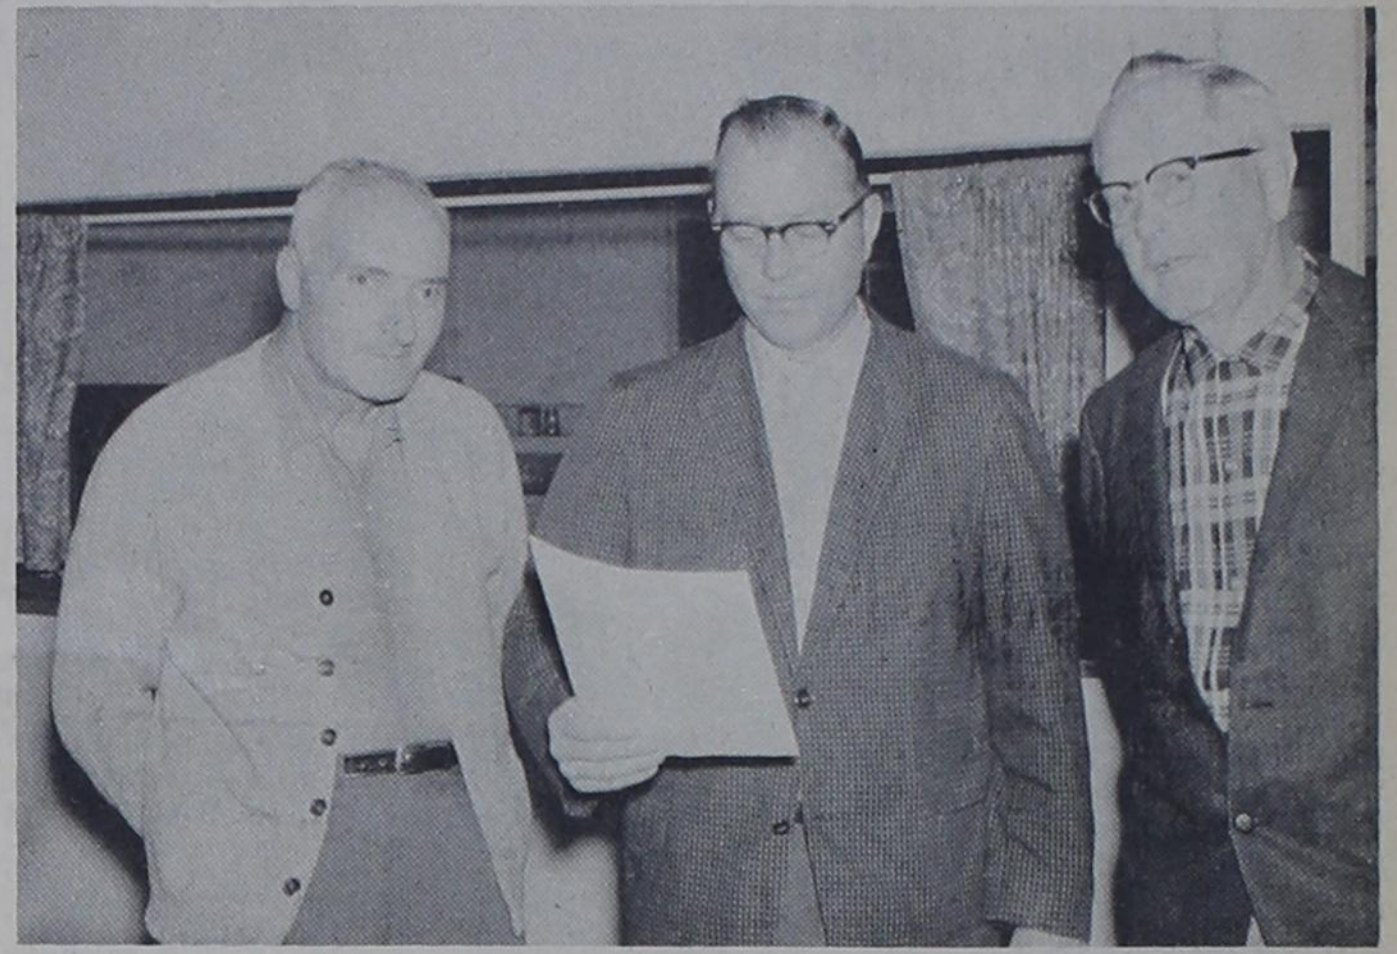

claim to the record of most yards gained by passes in a season. He grabbed 36 passes for 537 yards to erase the old mark of 483 yards set by Jim Martin in 1964.

The toe of the Greyhounds belonged to Dean Bates, Wink, Tex., junior. He punted 44 times and maintained a 36.9 average while amassing 1,625 yards. Though Martin, a Clovis junior, lost one record to James, he broke another, the most passes caught in a season. The tall end snared 38 aeriels to replace the previous mark of 31 and he accumulated 439 yards in the process.

Jim Shea, E. Hartford, Conn., junior, didn't break into the Eastern record book but the pass-nabbing end held onto 33 passes for 520 yards, just 17 yards behind James.

Behind the passing arm of Dial, the 1965 Pack broke the team record of highest total offense in a season. In 10 games, the Hounds rushed for 1,862 yards, connected with enough passes for 1,853 yards and a total of 3,715 yards. That figure wipes out the 1957 mark of 3,328 yards established by Eastern's winningest football team (9-0-1).

The Hounds broke three other team records, all on the offensive ledger. Added to the 10 individual records established this year, the 1965 Greyhounds rewrote 14 records while compiling one of its worst records in years, three wins against six losses and one tie.

The Farwell high school band recently participated in the Interscholastic League marching contest in Lubbock and came home with a third division rating.

Music Director Charles Turner said, "Our band was hampered by a strong headwind during their marching performance; however, they did a fine job considering they are a young band (60% of the members are 7th and 8th grade students)."

Reassigned

Kenneth Smith, son of Mrs. Ann Smith, is spending a leave of absence from the Army with his mother and brother. Smith entered the Army in September and has been stationed at Fort Polk, La. He is enroute to Fort Ord, Calif. He is due to report for his new assignment on Dec. 11.

By Vern Sanford
Fort Davis is a name well known to mule deer hunters everywhere.

It is in the Fort Davis area of Texas that the largest mule deer are found.

There is a reason, too. It is high country, surrounded by tall mountains and deep canyons. The valleys usually are verdant pastures of good grass. Browse on the sides of the mountains afford wonderful deer food.

Fort Davis itself is a small, quaint western town, with only a few residents, except during the summer months when many tourists go to the area because of its historic background.

Now that group of tourists will increase, because Fort Davis has become a national historic site, established by the Department of Interior.

It is one of 18 such national historic sites. Uncle Sam, through an act of congress passed several years ago, acquired 447 acres of land from private interests. This resulted in perpetuation of the few remaining buildings, and restoration of others.

Fort Davis was established as an army post back in 1854. At that time ownership of the property was claimed by John James, a San Antonio surveyor. The fort was constructed as an outpost to protect the Texas frontier and early travelers heading west for California.

It was named after Jefferson Davis, secretary of war. Seven years later Davis became president of the Confederacy.

Following the Civil War the fort, which had been surrendered to the Confederate troops in 1861, was reactivated and reconstructed, on land leased from James. Buildings were of stone and adobe. Some of them still stand today, although portions of the roofs and walls have fallen.

Not too far away is the well-known Indian Lodge, operated as a state park. And only a short distance beyond is the famous McDonald Observatory, where scientists of the University of Texas and Yerkes Observatory study the moon and the stars.

But all the land between is a verdant game paradise.

Besides the mule deer, there also are whitetails. Antelope play on the prairies and a few mountain lions are known to hide out along the high walls of the canyons.

Occasionally a bear sneaks into the country. In fact the only grizzly bear known to have been killed in Texas was taken not far from Fort Davis back in the late 1800's.

Between Fort Davis and Kent on U. S. 80 West, there are a few head of buffalo on the Reynolds ranch. It is a great country for blue quail and a few wild turkey of the Rio Grande species.

This is an ideal area for hunting with a camera. Rock-hounds also find many interesting formations in the upheavals that made the mountains.

Between Fort Davis and Marfa, on U. S. 290, there is the famous Bloys Encampment grounds, where every year the cowboys of the area hold their annual reunion.

It is profitable grazing area for sheep and cattle and is known the world over as the land of the Highland Herefords.

So, whether you hunt wild game in season, or are content to just look at the beauties of nature, you'll enjoy a visit to the Fort Davis country.

Ample accommodations are available at Alpine, Fort Stockton, Marfa and other places in the area. Or, if you are lucky, you may find a place in one of the small motels of Fort Davis, or even the Indian Lodge.

CALORIES DO COUNT!

Yes, unfortunately, calories do count, in spite of all you hear to the contrary. Not only that, but they have a sneaky way of counting UP, if you don't watch them. Or even if you do!

What are calories, anyhow, and how do they work? Doesn't everybody know what a calorie is? Don't the ladies talk about them in the super-market, the laundromat, or over the back fence? Don't even the men talk about them as they eat their hearty lunches while they talk business, or order another hot dog at the ball game?

Of course -- but what are calories, really? The simplest way to explain them is to say that they are units of heat or energy. The body requires them regularly in correct amounts. If it gets too few, weight is lost. If it gets too many, weight is put on. It's as simple as that.

How Many Needed
The number of calories the body needs depends on several factors. In proportion to size, babies need more than anybody else. This requirement grows less as they grow older. Even in adolescence, when spectacular growth calls for more total calories in the diet, the need for calories per pound of body weight is less than earlier in life. And this trend continues throughout life. As an adult, one needs fewer calories in proportion to body weight, and in old age, even fewer, because the activity grows less as one grows older.

All common foods have been chemically analyzed and their calorie value is known. Calorie lists have been published in many forms. In general, proteins supply four calories per gram or about 60 per ounce; carbohydrates have the same calorie value. Fats supply 9 calories per gram or 135 per ounce. These are the values of the pure substances; foods are mixtures, and their calorie value is determined by actual tests in which they are reduced to ashes and their energy output observed in terms of heat, by recording how much their burning raises the temperature of a measured amount of water.

Energy Needs Vary
Calorie needs vary with activity; people who work seated at a desk use much less than those who work actively with their

At Home In Parmer County

By CRICKET B. TAYLOR
County HD Agent

Five 4-H girls of the Lazbuddie club met with their leaders, Mrs. Harvey Blackstone and Mrs. Roy Miller, in the Home Economic cottage on Wednesday at 4:00 p.m. for a program on Home Improvement. I gave a program on developing a study center, with emphasis on the right kind of lamp for study and placement of study desk. Color slides from the Science Research Laboratory were used for illustration and discussion. Individual projects were discussed for 1966 work program.

I appreciate the cooperation of food leaders for sending in the report cards. This keeps me up-to-date on the progress of groups.

YOU AND YOUR EXTENSION SERVICE
Most people know Extension Service as Home Demonstration Club work and 4-H work but this is only a part of the Extension program in your county.

Our goal is to provide homemakers of Parmer County with up-to-date, reliable, unbiased information concerning: buymanship of food, clothing, household equipment, home furnishings; management of resources -- time, energy, money, abilities; understanding of child growth and development, relationship between family members, health -- nutrition wise -- and safety of family members.

YOUR HOME EXTENSION AGENT is a graduate of home economics on the Texas A&M University staff. Her experience includes that of teacher, home economist in business, dietitian and homemaker. Home economics specialists at the muscles. It is said that sitting and thinking uses no more calories than just sitting. Most people can keep their weight about right by observing it periodically and eating less or getting more activity when they find themselves gaining. If this doesn't work, a huddle with the doctor might be advisable, since some disease processes influence energy requirements.

FUN WITH PINE CONES

Pinecones are useful decorations for Holiday season. This comes from Lucille Moore, Recreational Specialist.

To make a Pine Cone Christmas Tree try this:
Use pine cones that are well balanced and will sit up. Paint with green poster paint. When dry, decorate with colored beads and sequins. Using tweezers, pick up a bead or sequin, put a dot of cement or glue on it, and place it on the cone. Cover the cone.

These make excellent table favors, token gifts, Christmas Party give-a-ways, and are especially nice for trays for hospitals and institutions.

Wolves Beat Bronchos, Play Floyd Friday

Texico Wolverines defeated the Grady Bronchos in a district game on Friday night but were defeated in a district game by Fort Sumner on Saturday night. Their district record now stands at three wins and one loss. The Wolves are scheduled to meet what is perhaps the strongest team in the district Friday night when they collide with Floyd Bronchos, at Texico.

The Bronchos have an average of 88 points in each game played this year and they have five players of equal caliber who are out to win a state title this year. Coach Johnny Green of Texico says that Floyd's coach substitutes only when one of the regulars is in foul trouble.

The Wolverines defeated Grady 54-38 behind the shooting of Joe Patterson who had 14 points to lead Texico scoring. Manuel Martinez found the basket for 10 points followed by Jim Webb with 9; Bobby Joe Stewart, 6; Gary Meier and Donnie Morris 4 each; Roy McDaniel, Wesley Raulie and David Duncan each had two points and Jim Hill had one. Top scorer for Grady was Mike Woods with 14.

"One of the bright spots about the game was the fact that the Wolves were able to hold Grady to eight field goals," stated Green.

In the opening game of the evening, Texico's B team defeated Grady B, 45-27. Robert Spearman took scoring honors for Texico with 10 points. Larry Combs had eight points followed by Allan Breitenbach and Lathin Payton with five points each. Leslie Harrelson had four; Ricky Stanley, Ardell Aultrey and Roddy Pearce each had two points, while Lynn Hugi and Jackie Billingsley each had two points.

Scoring honors for Grady went to Wesley Grave with 9 points.

Joe Patterson with 20 points took scoring honors in the Ft. Sumner-Texico game on Saturday night. None of the other team members hit in the double figures. C. Fallon with 26 points was top scorer for Ft. Sumner. Ft. Sumner led all the way outscoring Texico in the first half of the game 32-22. In the third quarter Texico outscored Ft. Sumner 14-13 but in the last quarter Ft. Sumner roared back to outscore Texico by seven points.

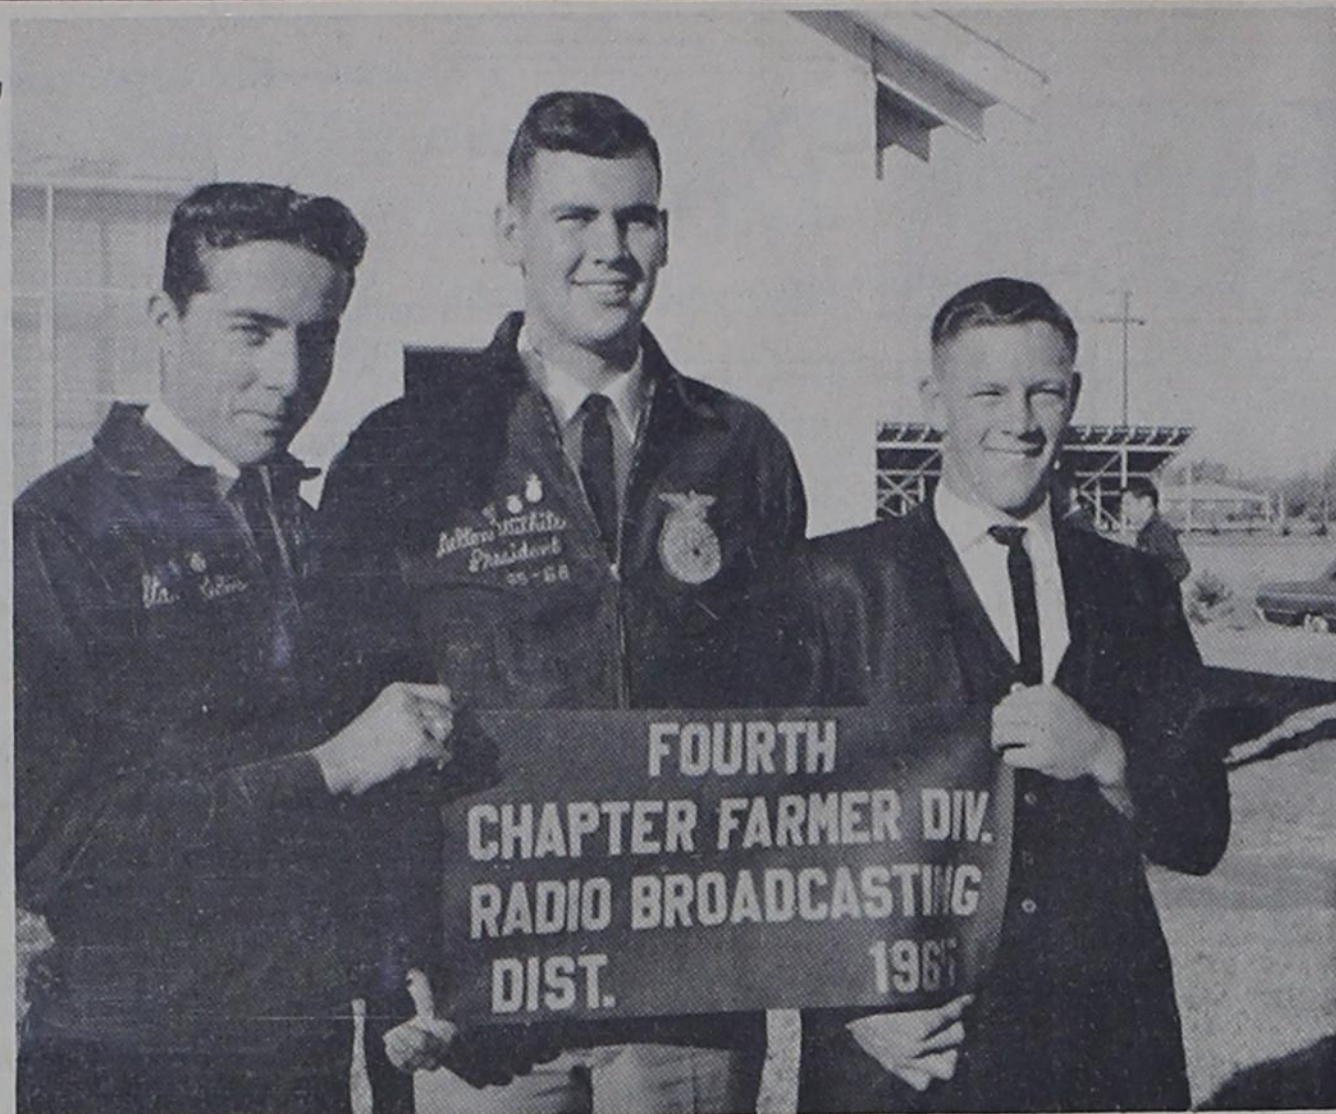

The only other loss for the Texico team has been to Logan. Final score in the Ft. Sumner-Texico B game was 51-37, with Texico on the short side. Robert Spearman was top scorer for Texico with nine points. Leslie Harrelson, Ardell Aultrey and Larry Combs each had 8 points. Stow with 12 points took scoring honors for Ft. Sumner B team.

The final game for Texico preceding the Christmas holidays will be with Melrose on Dec. 17, 7:30 p.m. at Texico.
