

PERSONAL

By John

I have noticed for a number of years now, we have been tolerating a Highway Department piece of fiction. Namely, that the highway through Farwell is a four-lane road. This is not so, even if we act like it is four lanes.

When I first came to Farwell in the spring of 1948, this was a two-lane highway. The space between the edge of the road and the sidewalks was not paved as there was not even any curbing. We merely pulled the cars off the road in angle type parking.

In the summer of 1948, Felix Monroe began to run a curb and gutter system on Avenue A for the first time. My, I recall that the folks didn't see how they could get used to turning the corners in as little space as the distance between the curbs gave them.

The State came along then and paved between the road and our curbs to give Farwell a totally paved Main Street. It was two lanes then with angle parking. In the intervening years we have not been able to add any to the width of the street, but we did paint some guide lines, abolish angle parking, and substitute parallel parking. These expedients are what has given us a four-lane, and I use the designation advisedly, highway.

The reason for mention of this background is to point out how many years we have tolerated a potentially lethal pair of intersections in Farwell. I refer to the intersections of Avenue A with Second Street and also at the Third Street corner. By marking off two lanes of traffic and a lane of parking, there is absolutely no room when all three lanes are occupied side by side. This in itself is not too bad, but when coupled with the fact that to see far enough down the road to risk pulling out across the street, one must of necessity, pull the front end of the car so far out that it partially blocks the outside lane of moving traffic.

Obviously there will come a time when somebody had to go some place, and there won't be any room at the corner and we will have a horrendous wreck. And, I think, this can happen without speeding or breaking the law. At these corners, the speed limit is 30 MPH. This is at the rate of 44 feet per second. When a car is parked right up to the corner, a person pulling up to the intersection, without pulling into the outside oncoming lane, cannot see more than a hundred feet or less down the road. This gives less than three seconds for a car to come from a hidden position to the corner. This is not enough time for a driver to look both ways, decide the way is clear, and to pull across the intersection. If, on the other hand, you pull your car far out enough to see further down the street, you protrude in the outside lane of traffic and if there are two cars abreast coming at you, then something has to give, quick.

This dangerous situation should be corrected before a serious accident takes place. The city dads have asked for a stop-light at the corner of Third Street and Avenue A, but the highway department traffic survey shows not sufficient traffic to warrant this placement.

I question whether a count of the number of cars is a sufficiently valid reason to deny the citizens of Farwell the protection they need at that location. Our highway patrol spends a lot of time keeping tabs on traffic on a road that at one time was marked for four-lane traffic and later designated two lanes. Maybe they should look after a four-lane road that was originally two lanes.

Joe Patterson Receives Appointment To West Point

Joe Patterson, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Patterson and a senior in the Texico school, received a letter from U. S. Representative Johnnie Walker this week notifying him of his appointment as an alternate to attend West Point from the state of New Mexico.

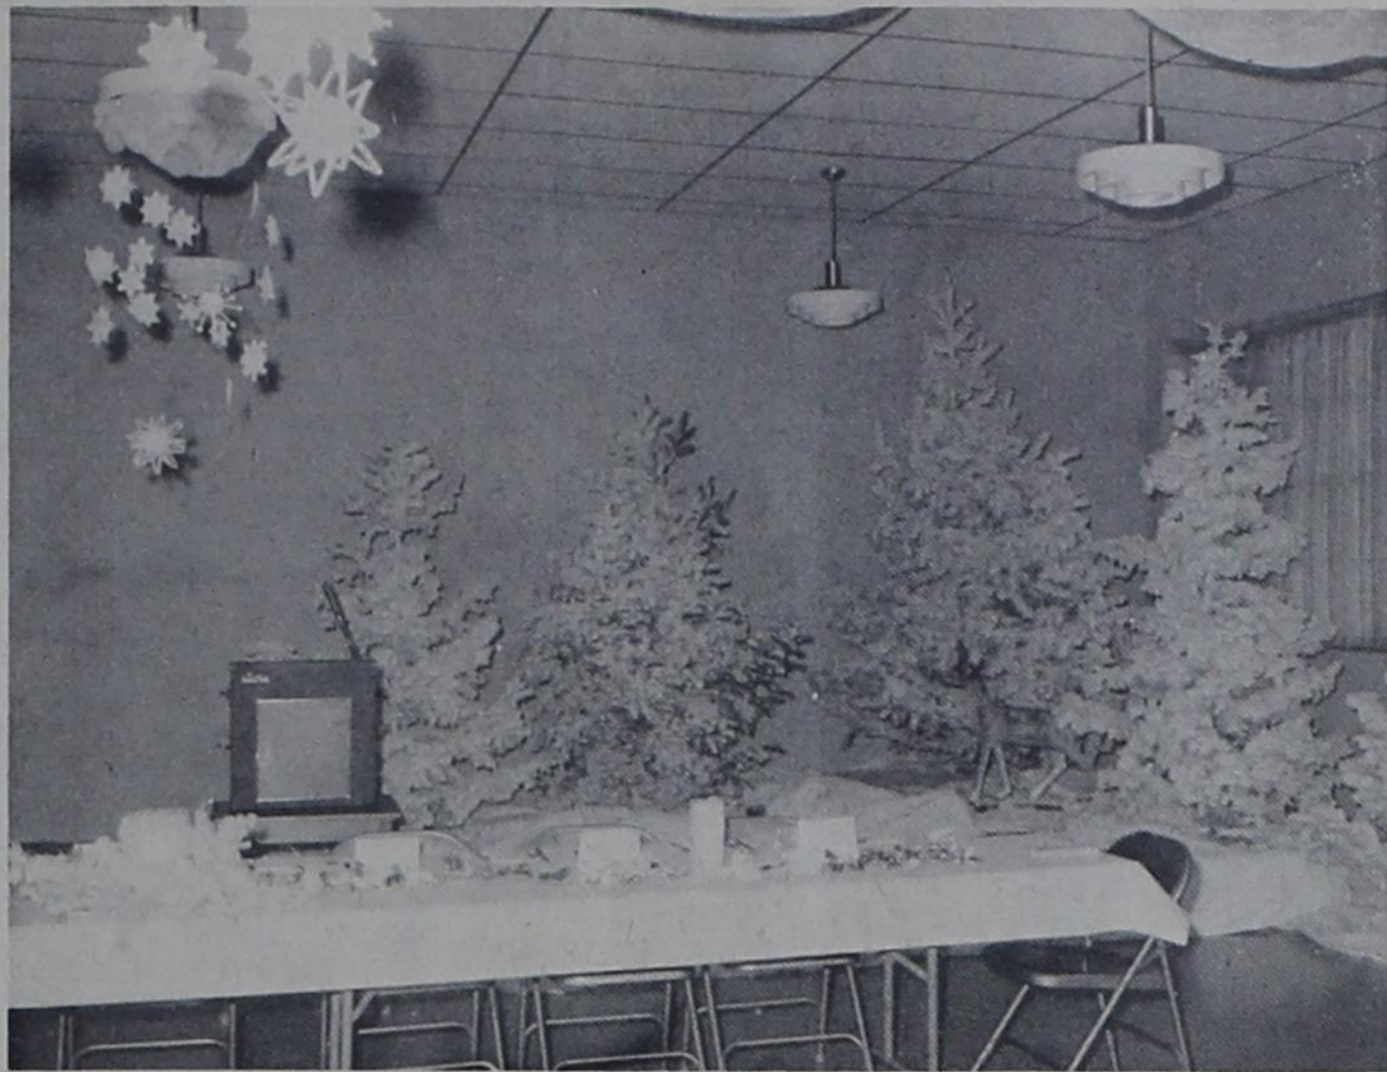

The letter also informed Patterson that the boy who was originally elected to attend the academy had been disqualified due to a physical disability. Patterson says he has already passed the physical test and is scheduled to go to El Paso on March 7 to take the physical aptitude test. He has also already taken the scholastic test and his test will now be re-examined along with those of four other alternates for the appointment, before a final decision is reached.

Young Patterson has been an outstanding student since he enrolled in Texico School. He has attended the Texico school all during high school, and has received various honors. He was named best all-around student for two years, served as president of the band for two years, is presently serving as president of the senior class and of the Texico Chapter of the National Honor Society and has also been active in FBLA and the science club. He is also an outstanding athlete.

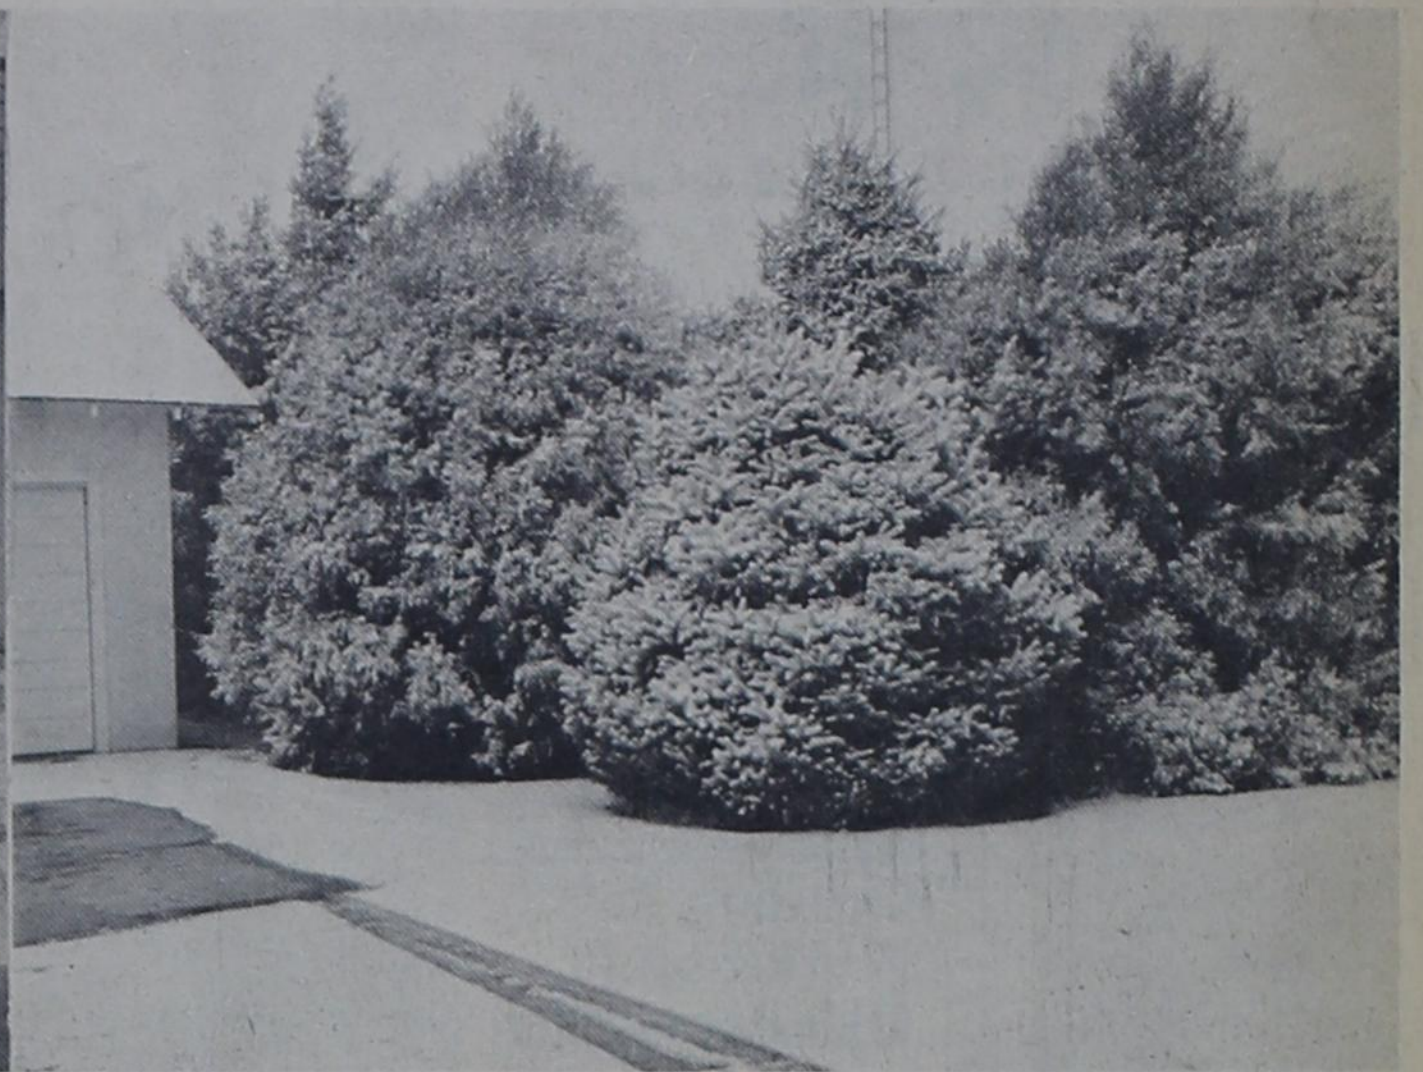

Last summer he represented Texico High School at New Mexico Boy's State. He is an honor student with well above an A-average for his entire high school career, standing at the top of the senior class.

Before moving to Texico some four years ago he attended school in Draper, North Carolina. He is a member of the Primitive Baptist Church in Clovis.

If Joe should receive the appointment to West Point, he

I took my first plane ride in about 10 years last week with Carl Schlenker and Ira Parr at the controls. We flew to Plainview to attend the West Texas Vegetable Growers Conference. Others making the trip were Bruce Parr and Norman Nossaman. Bruce was the outgoing president of the organization and is to be commended for his fine job of leadership to the Vegetable Growers Association. We heard about recent developments in vegetable production and picked up several copies of the results of the 1965 Vegetable Research Report for West Texas. Come by if you want a copy.

leaves (in the case of evergreens) continues at a slow rate through the winter. To supply this moisture, plant roots must continue to absorb water.

When evaporation is rapidly accelerated by prolonged periods of winter wind and sunshine, plant roots are unable to supply moisture fast enough. Branches and canes become withered and, if this condition is sufficiently aggravated, it often results in dying back of a large portion of the plant or in its death.

Therefore, one of the most important preparations for winter is to see that the soil is adequately supplied with moisture. Rainfall has been light during the fall and the ground should be soaked before freezing weather sets in.

Many trees and shrubs may be saved from winter injury if this protection is given. Protection against wind and sun is as important to many plants as protection against extreme cold.

To protect half-hardy shrubs and newly planted shrubs, a wind screen can be constructed from snow fence, burlap or commercially prepared straw mats.

Results Of Skiprow Planting Discussed

PLANTING DISCUSSED (filler)
The High Plains Research Foundation will host an open meeting on the results of skiprow interplanting on Thursday, February 10, at 10 a.m. at the Hale County Exhibition Building, located on U. S. Highway 87 just south of Plainview.

Many farmers are becoming more interested in the High Plains Foundation Farming System. This system of planting two rows of cotton, skip one row, two rows of grain sorghum or castor beans, then skip one row, and back to two rows of cotton, has proven to increase quality and yields of the interplanted crops and save from 20 to 50 per cent of the water necessary to make the crop. The Foundation has completed eight years of extensive research in perfecting this system of farming. It has been used successfully by farmers during the past four years.

Guest speaker for the program will be W. Lewis David, State Executive Director, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (A.S.C.S.). David will answer questions for the farmers and explain just how the Foundation Farming System will fit into the new farm program. At this time it is indicated that there will be no penalty in using the High Plains Foundation Farming System so far as the Government Farm Program is concerned.

Others slated to speak on February 10th are: Loyd Langford, Associate Agronomist to discuss the results of area commercial field plantings in conjunction with 17 West Texas farmers who tried the High Plains Foundation Farming System during 1965; Dr. Arthur Gohlke, Senior Soil Scientist, will speak on "Air Temperature, ITS EFFECT ON COTTON QUALITY AND YIELD, as influenced by interplanting"; a panel of four farmers who used the system will tell how it worked for them; James S. Parker, Textile Consultant, Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will discuss what the improved cotton quality can mean to the West Texas cotton farmer; James Valiant, Water Engineer, will discuss research results with irrigation and fertilizer application to cotton and the interplanted crops; Frank Moore, President of the High Plains Research Foundation will conclude the meeting with a report on the economic value of the High Plains Foundation Farming System to the farmers and businessmen of the High Plains.

There will be a free luncheon Bar-B-Que sponsored by Baker Castor Oil Company of Texas, Lubbock Co-Op Cotton Oil Mill; Hale County Farm Bureau; Harvest Queen Mill; Plainview Wheat Growers Co-Op; Higgins Gin; Rowland-Gordon Farm Chemicals, Inc. and Producers Grain Corporation of Amarillo.

Winter Wonderland Theme Highlights Senior Banquet

Approximately 90 persons from the Texico and Farwell schools were in attendance at the banquet honoring seniors in the two local schools on Monday night. The banquet, held in the fellowship hall of the Methodist Church, was highlighted by a "Winter Wonderland" theme. Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service were in charge of arrangements for the banquet, under direction of Mrs. C. C. Christian, president.

Focal point of room decorations were white flocked evergreen trees in a setting of snow in front of which were snowmen, deer, and sleds. Suspended from the ceiling were snow laden clouds. Lights in the room were hung with mobiles of snow flakes. Each of the tables was covered in white, with runners of snow covered ivy interspersed by snow covered pine cones and white glittered candles, centering each. The head table, at which the speaker and his wife, the pastor and his wife, president of the WSCS and her husband, and presidents of the two senior classes were seated, was centered by a huge white glittered candle surrounded by snow laden greenery accented by silver snow birds. Lighting effects were in blue and white giving the room a delightful appearance of a true "Winter Wonderland."

The receiving room, where guests were greeted by Mrs. Joe Helton, Mrs. Ted Magness and Mrs. W. C. Strickland, was decorated with a snow sprayed tumbleweed lighted by colored icicles. Gracing the registration table was a large white candle.

In charge of decorations for the affair were Mesdames Jack Williams, James Craig, Joe Jones, M. A. Snider Jr., Charles Turner, and Johnny McDonald. During the evening background music of winter songs was provided.

Speaker for the banquet was Rev. Floyd Jennings from the Wesley Foundation at Eastern New Mexico. Topic for his talk was the "Four Boobytraps on the Way to Maturity." Mrs. C. C. Christian gave the invocation and special music was provided by Patsy Seiler and Laurie Gomerail, from Clovis, who sang a group of folk songs and then led the entire group in singing.

Master of ceremonies was Rev. W. C. Strickland. He also led group singing, introduced the speaker, and pronounced the benediction.

The meal, which featured ham with all the trimmings, was served by Connie Phillips, Roberta and Rosetta Chisman, Cindy Phillips, Sharon Williams and Marsha Lovelace. The young waitresses were dressed in the "Winter Wonderland" theme. They wore white crepe paper aprons enhanced with glittered snow flakes and their headpieces were large white lace snow flakes.

This is the expert's opinion on how to dry clothes:

See this model and other automatic Norge gas dryers at the Southern Union showroom.

If you want the job done right... do it with gas.

The laundry man has made his choice between gas and electric dryers.

He prefers gas, nine to one.

Gas is his favorite because gas is the winner, every time and every way he compares it.

Gas costs less to use. You can operate a gas dryer for 1/4 the operating cost of an electric.

Gas dries safer. A gas dryer doesn't lose accuracy or efficiency with age. Whatever you dial, it does.

Gas dries faster. Gas heat is direct. No long warm-ups to waste your time.

Gas dries softer, sunnier. Gas dries as naturally as sunshine. Clothes come out feathery soft and fragrant.

You don't have to be in the laundry business to enjoy advantages like these. See the smart new home dryers at your gas appliance dealer's today!

What is there about traveling salesmen?

Well, one thing about a traveling salesman is that he gives his car hard usage. Business calls require a lot of start and stop driving. And that's when corrosive engine wear can cause serious damage.

Actually, start and stop driving is the kind of driving most of us do most of the time. So, to protect your motor under these severe conditions, your Phillips 66 Dealer recommends Trop-Artic All-Season Motor Oil. Trop-Artic starts protecting at low temperatures, and keeps on protecting at high operating temperatures. It's a light oil, a medium oil and a heavy oil, all in one!

To keep your car running better longer, get Trop-Artic Motor Oil at any station where you see the Phillips 66 Shield.

Wolves Split Weekend Games

Season record for the Texico Wolverines now stands at six wins and five losses with the District 6 B record for the Wolves, five wins and four losses. Over the weekend they split a pair of games losing to Dora on Friday night and taking a win from Causey on Saturday night.

Dora Coyotes defeated the Wolves 42-37 on Friday night with neither team able to find the basket consistently.

High point man for the game was Varnell of Dora with 15 points. Manuel Martinez was high for the Wolves with 13 points.

On Saturday night the Wolves defeated a strong Causey team 68-51 behind the shooting of Joe Patterson, who found the basket for 29 points. High point man for Causey was Garry Brakebill with 21. Brakebill ran into foul trouble and was removed from the game early in the fourth quarter.

In the Saturday night game, Texico led all the way outscoring Causey 20-12 in the first quarter. However by halftime Causey had narrowed the lead to six points and the two teams scored evenly in the third quarter. After Brakebill was removed from the game early in the fourth quarter, Texico went on a scoring spree to end the quarter with 20 additional points to their credit while Causey was able to score only nine.

On Friday night Dora B team defeated Texico B team 72-24 and on Saturday night the Texico B team was defeated by Causey, 45-44.

The Wolves began play in the EPAC tournament on Wednesday night (last night). However a game score was unavailable at press time.

MOST VERSATILE -- Diane Lovelace and Larry Gregory, chosen "most versatile" in recent voting at Farwell High School, laugh hilariously at a shared joke. Classmates and teachers comment that the pair can do "just anything."

BRAINEST AND MOST LIKELY TO SUCCEED -- Maudie Stancell and Delton Wilhite, named "brainest" and "most likely to succeed", turn to their old standby "Daniel Webster" when in doubt about the meaning of a new word. This possibly accounts for the reason they were chosen to represent the high school in the school annual, The "Roundup", in the two categories.

Internal Revenue Question-and-Answer

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q - Where can I get the form I need to report sick pay which I want to exclude from my taxable income?

A - Form 2440, "Statement to Support Exclusion of Sick Pay", is available at any IRS office. You also may find the tax forms you need in many banks and post offices.

Q - To claim a person as a dependent does he have to be a U. S. citizen?

A - To qualify as a dependent, the person must either be a U. S. citizen or a resident of the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Panama Canal Zone or Republic of Panama. Of course, the support requirements must also be met.

Q - Do you have to be married to get the head of household income tax rates?

A - No you don't. On page 4 of the 1040 instructions you will find an explanation of whether you qualify for these rates. Head of household tax rates cannot be used if you are married and can file a joint return.

Q - How much can a child earn and still be claimed as a dependent?

A - If your child is under 19 or is a full-time student, you may claim him as a dependent as long as you provide more than 1/2 of his total support for the year regardless of the amount of income he may have. Otherwise, he may not be claimed as a dependent if he has gross income of $600 or more.

Q - I have a disability pension from Social Security. Is this taxable for me?

A - No. Social Security benefits are not taxable.

Q - When my widowed father retired he went back to Ireland to live. He has only a small $500 pension and I supply his chief support. Can I claim him as a dependent even though he is not in this country?

A - If he is a U. S. citizen then the fact that he lives in Ireland would not disqualify him as a dependent. One of the requirements for a dependent is that he be either a U. S. citizen, or a resident of the U.S., Canada, Mexico, the Panama Canal Zone or the Republic of Panama for some part of the tax year.

Q - I didn't get a blank income tax return in the mail. Where can I get the necessary forms?

A - You can get them at any IRS office and at most post offices and banks.

NOTICE TO PARENTS Of School Age Children

The school census is being taken during the month of January this year. All children who are six years old on or before Sept. 1, 1966 but will not be 18 or older on or before that same date should be counted in this census. It is very important that all children six to 18 years be counted in this census. The child should be counted even though he may not be in school and even though he or she may be married.

If you, as a parent, have not received and filled out a school census blank on or before January 31 you are being overlooked and should do one of the following:

1. Phone the school office and ask for a census blank.
2. Call in person at the School Office and get a census blank and fill it out.

Remember, if your child will be six years old next Sept. 1st, he should be counted in the census now, even though he is not in school now. If he is six but not 18 or older next Sept. 1 he should be counted now. All children from six to 18 should be counted. The six year olds who start next September to school are the ones most overlooked in the census. Failure to count them costs the school and taxpayers extra money. Please help us not to overlook anyone.

Don't Wait 'Till Feb. 1st. To Turn
Your Blanks In - As That Will Be Too Late
