

PERSONAL

By John

This week, I received two press releases that are of utmost importance to the folks in our area. The first one is of vital importance to our agricultural economy; the second one deals with our auto insurance rates. If you have insured a car recently, you know how rates have advanced and how many insurers have been dodging their responsibilities to the public.

The first release to draw our attention is from the National Cotton Council with headquarters in Memphis, Tennessee. It concerns the necessity of the cotton industry to raise funds to engage in research and promotion of cotton. The giant synthetic fiber producers are now spending five times as much as cotton on research and seventeen times as much on promoting synthetics as cotton spends on promoting cotton products. As a result, synthetics now have a market totalling nearly seven million bales; more than two million were gained in the past two years alone. It is pointed out that cotton doesn't necessarily have to match them dollar for dollar as they are fighting each other for markets.

The grower plan contained in House Bill (HR-12322) would allow growers to assess themselves $1 per bale and this would push the funds in the $12-$15 million dollar range annually. Since experience shows that through cooperative efforts industry money can be doubled, this would give cotton interests a $25 to $35 million dollar fund annually. This would support a lot of research and promotion. One of the outstanding results of industry research has been cotton's comeback in the permanent press markets.

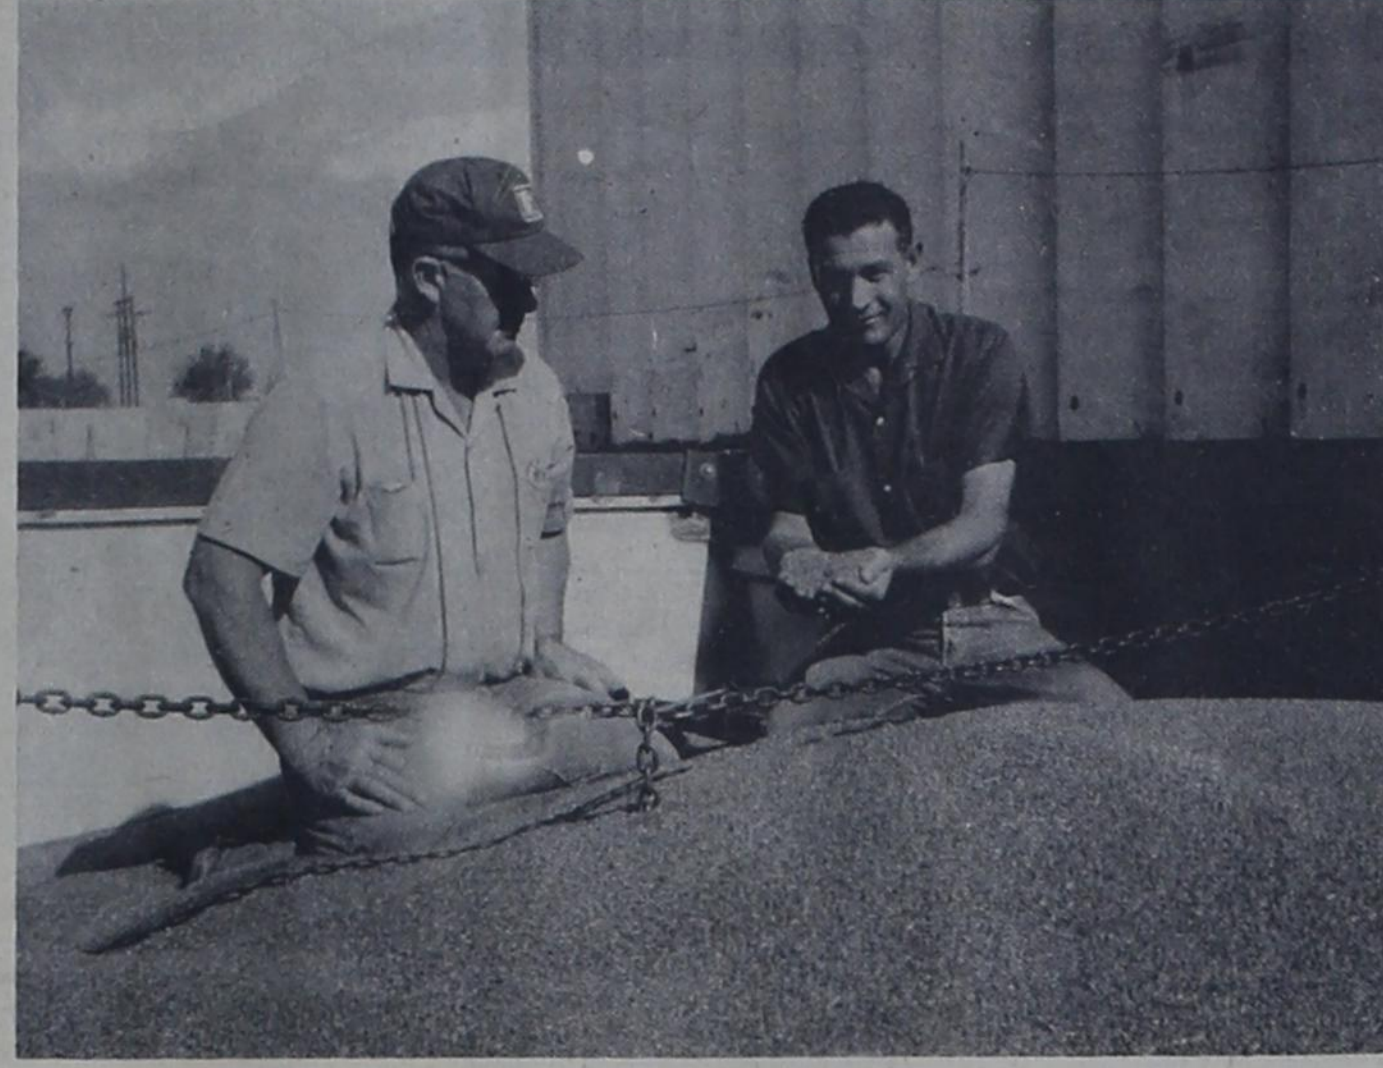

The industry pointed out that there is a potential 775,000 bale market for cotton in the rug industry if we can continue through research and promotion to develop it. This is a very worthy effort on the part of the cotton producing areas. It deserves the support of all citizens in the United States because it is the basic American way to solve a problem. By self-help, not a government dole.

The other release dealt with the June 15th hearing of the State Insurance Board over the "growing tendency" of some insurance companies to cancel out or to refuse insurance on certain classes of risks. This problem is becoming more of a scandal every day. Many drivers suddenly find themselves without insurance or that they can not obtain it.

Now, there is currently a plan in operation whereby a person in that circumstance can go through what is called the "assigned risk pool" and obtain coverage. This coverage is very minimal and at an extremely high rate. It is a lot easier than you think to land up in the "pool". There are a number of factors that help account for it.

Many companies try to shove the poorer risks off on somebody else and only accept the best risks. We all have several classes of insurance; auto, fire, personal liability and others. Some risks are better than others. However, it looks to me that when they are skimming off the cream of your business, they should be prepared to accept a little sour milk when it comes their way. After all, that is what insurance really is all about. There will be losses; somebody is going to have an accident. If it were not so, then none of us would need or buy insurance. Rates are not calculated on an individual basis, but on a state-wide basis.

The insurance companies are a State controlled industry and our State Representatives and Senators, in the final analysis, have control over your coverage. This is one area in which we certainly ought to write to our legislators with our problems. It will have a very salutary effect on the insurance industry if their actions are made a point of inquiry by our legislators. It will also have a beneficial effect on the actions of the same legislators if they

FIRST LOAD OF WHEAT -- First load of 1966 wheat was brought into Sherley-Anderson-Pitman elevator in Farwell Tuesday morning by Walter Kaltwasser who lives east of town. The 200 bushel load, with a test weight of 61 lb. per bushel and moisture content of 14%, was cut late on Monday afternoon. Kaltwasser declined to estimate the yield per acre on the 35-acre patch from which the load was cut. He received a $25 bonus on the load from Fred Chandler, shown on the right, elevator manager.

Wheat harvest for the 1966 season is expected to get into full swing within the next week or ten days in Parmer County. Some farmers have already begun to pull combines into their fields while others are giving their wheat a few more days to ripen before beginning harvest operations.

Marsha Lovelace Leads In Salesmanship Contest

Marsha Lovelace has jumped to a lead in the State Line Tribune salesmanship contest in which contestants are vying for prizes ranging from top prize, their choice of an RCA Portable Stereo or an RCA two-speed tape recorder, to many lesser prizes.

Marsha, the 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Lovelace, has a total of 14,400 points after the contest has been in progress for a full week. She is presently top contender for the grand prize.

Following close behind is Gary Hahn, son of the Garland Hahns, with 13,400 points. Kevin Hargrove is in third place with 12,500. Glenda Sublett has 8,600 points; Niel Christian has 7,200; Paul Bush, 7,100; Meredith Anderson, 6,600; Kathy Lockhart, 6,100; Johnny Watson, 4,400; and Gene Charles Lovelace, 1,900.

There is still plenty of time for boys and girls 16 and under to get into the fun and excitement of the contest and at the same time win valuable prizes for selling subscriptions to the local newspaper, says Mike Getz, contest director.

The junior salesmen have been authorized to sell subscriptions to the Tribune, for the duration of the contest, for $3.00 per year. At the end of the contest subscription rates for the paper will be raised to $4.00 per year.

Youngsters in the contest receive points for each new or renewal subscription they sell. In a short while, a great number of points can be obtained by combining the right point totals on subscriptions.

In addition the grand prize, which will be presented to the winner of the subscription contest, other prizes available include a Debutante travel case complete with a portable Philco radio, a hi-light high intensireading light, a Midland combination radio and jewelry box, a Philco radio, a Zenith table model radio, a model 15Y Winchester singletshot 22, a Kodak instamatic camera with flashlight, a boys' Timex shock resistant waterproof watch, a girls' shockproof, waterproof watch, a 17 jewel Elgin girls' watch, a Valiant 12 transistor radio, a Valiant portable radio, an Eveready flashlight and many other prizes which contestants, who do not have enough points to obtain one of the prizes listed, may obtain by visiting Holiday Store in Farwell.

Other merchants who are participating in the contest are

Campbell Electric, PK Jr Discount Auto Supply, Farwell Hardware, and Rose Drug and Gift Shop.

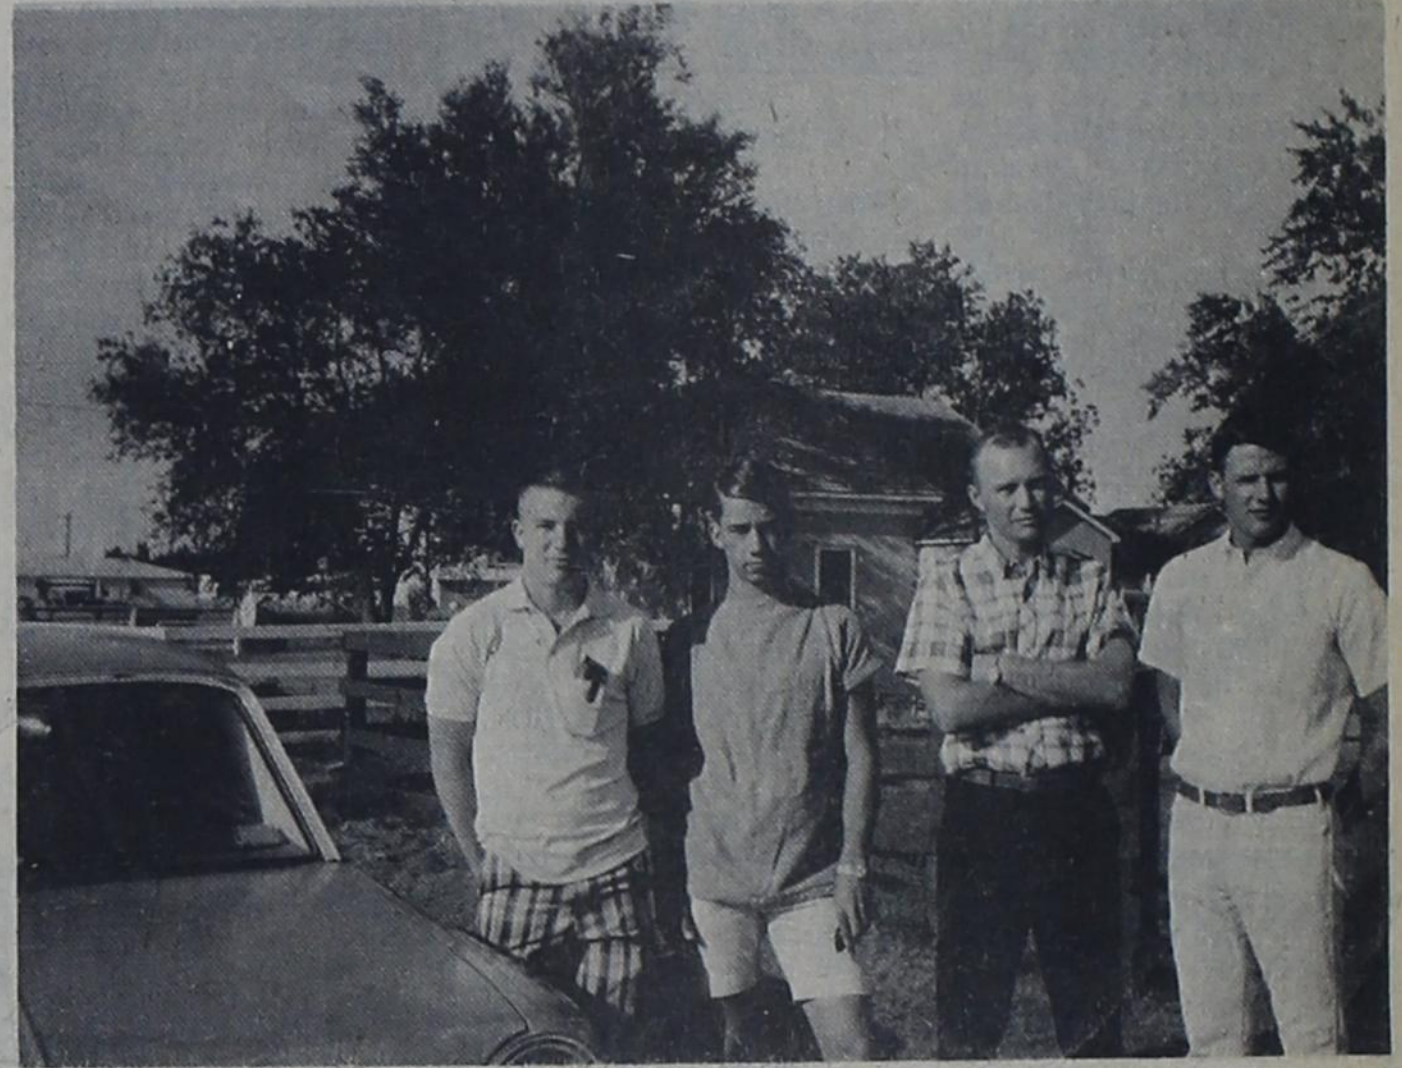

Anyone who wishes to obtain a new or renewal subscription to the State Line Tribune can help their favorite salesman by calling one of the following: Meredith Anderson, 481-3483; Paul Bush, 481-3629; Niel Christian, 481-9002; Randy Chandler, 481-3458; Derek Garner, 825-2369; Kevin Kaltwasser, 825-2433; Kevin Hargrove, 481-9021; James Hobbs, 481-3244; Gary Hahn, 481-9074; Kathy Lockhart, 482-3427; Marsha Lovelace, 481-3684; Thad Phillips, 481-3818;

Also Cindy Phillips, 481-3818; Glenda Sublett, 481-3354; Johnny Watson, 481-3629; Sharon Williams, 481-9087; Mack Watson, 481-3629; or Gene Charles Christian, 481-3498.

Junior salesmen who have not yet entered the contest, but who wish to do so may come by the State Line Tribune office and pick up their identification card, sales forms and receipts. Other salesmen already in the contest who need additional supplies are asked to stop by and pick them up. All new and renewal subscriptions should be turned in at least once each week by the junior salesmen.

WHICH WOULD IT BE -- Marsha Lovelace, who is currently leading in the junior salesmanship contest selling subscriptions to the State Line Tribune, looks hopefully at the RCA Stereo and two-speed tape recorder, top prizes, and wonders "Should I win, which would I choose."

Money, Money, Money, Who's Got The Money?

One billion dollars! In reference to government spending one hears this figure mentioned daily. Frequently, the figure quoted for some specified government project runs into several billion dollars. Perhaps we are so accustomed to thinking in terms of billions of dollars that we have lost all perspective as to the enormous figure represented by such a fantastic sum of money. Consider the following:

If at the time of the birth of Jesus Christ, one had started spending one billion dollars at the rate of one dollar per minute, sixty minutes per hour, twenty-four hours per day, three hundred and sixty-five days per year, it would have taken until the turn of the 20th century, about 1902, to spend the entire one billion dollars.

Fantastic isn't it, yet welfare spending alone amounts to many times this figure. If one billion one dollar bills were laid end to end, they would stretch four times around the earth at the equator. Stacked on top of each other they would extend 159 miles high, about the low point of the Gemini 9 orbit.

If this boggles your imagination, try this: Laid ten abreast and end to end, one billion dollars would build a bridge from Dallas, Texas to Saigon, South Viet Nam! At $4000 per person, one billion dollars would completely educate one quarter of a million people at Harvard University. It would carpet one hundred and five million square feet, about 3.8 sections of land. Are you beginning to get the picture? If not, keep reading.

One billion one dollar bills would build a tower twenty feet in diameter that would soar 125 miles into space. They would build a fence five feet high that would run from Birmingham, Alabama to Fairbanks, Alaska, a distance of approximately 3900 miles!

One billion one dollar bills laid side by side and end to end would completely pave a road sixty feet wide and three hundred and thirty miles long.

Now, do you realize what an enormous sum one billion dollars amounts to? If so, consider this:

There is an excellent chance that Lyndon B. Johnson will become the first president in history to spend one TRILLION dollars. That's right, one trillion. If you think a billion dollars is a lot of money, try calculating what you could do with a trillion. One word of advice. Make sure your slide rule is well lubricated.

June 4 Wedding Unites Melody Coffman, Owen Drake

A 7:30 p.m. wedding ceremony on June 4 in the Farwell First Baptist Church united in marriage Melody Jayne Coffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Coffman, Farwell, and Owen W. Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Drake, Friona.

The double ring service was read by Rev. J.L. Bass before a setting of 15 and seven branched candelabra holding white tapers flanked by palms of emerald greenery. Centering the altar setting was a huge basket arrangement of white daisies and gladioli. Daisies were entwined into the seven branched candelabra. Focal point of the setting was a white kneeling bench set on an aisle carpet of white crushed plush. Family pews were marked with nosegays of white asters and satin bows.

Candles were lighted by Arlene Gaye Coffman, sister of the bride, and Bobby Drake, brother of the groom. Ringbearer was April Dawn Coffman, sister of the bride. Serving as ushers were Jerry Brown, Friona, cousin of the groom, and Hobbie Coffman, Farwell, brother of the bride. Bestman for his brother was Larry Drake, Friona.

Appropriate nuptial selections were played by Mrs. Mike Ellis at the organ preceeding the ceremony. She also accompanied the soloist, J.B. Douglas, Friona, as he sang "I Love You Truly," and "Walk Hand in Hand." The wedding march and recessional were played by Alice Coffman, sister of the bride.

The three little Misses Coffman, were dresses in identical dresses of flocked lavender silk organza over slipper satin. They wore princess tiaras of lavender sweetheart asters in their hair. Their attire was completed with white gloves and shoes.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Dean Wilson, sister of the bride. She was attired in a floor length dress of lavender slipper satin with an overskirt of silk organza. The dress was fashioned with a jacket of lavender French lace. She wore a picture hat in matching hue. Mrs. Wilson carried a cascade of white daisies complemented with streamers of lavender ribbon. Completing her attire were lace mitts of white and white shoes.

The bride given in marriage by her father, chose a formal wedding gown of white slipper satin and lace, designed with a scalloped neckline, and long fitted sleeves which came to points at the hands. The 18th century skirt swept into a full chapel train. A tiara of pearls and tulle held her shoulder length veil of silk illusion. Lace mitts completed her attire.

Miss Coffman carried a top white Bible, a gift from Mrs. Anne Overstreet, a cascade of white rosebuds and stephanotis. She wore a diamond pendant, a gift from the groom.

Following tradition the bride wore for something old the wedding band of the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Drake. New was her wedding ensemble; borrowed were diamond earrings from her niece, Kimberly Wilson; and blue was the traditional garter, a gift from the matron of honor. For luck she carried in her shoes pennies minted in the year of her birth and that of the groom.

Mrs. Coffman, mother of the bride, was attired in a frosted pink silk shantung suit with matching hat and accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Drake wore for her son's wedding a beige linen sheath dress with frosted gold accessories. Her corsage was also of white carnations.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held in the fellowship hall of First Baptist Church. Serving table was covered with a lace tablecloth over lavender and garlanded with lavender asters and greenery. Centering the table was the four-tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom figurine, flanked by candelabra holding lavender tapers.

Set at either end of the table were crystal punch services from which frosted lavender punch was served with the wedding cake, mints, and nuts. Napkins bearing the names "Melody and Owen" and the wedding date completed table decor.

Gloria Drake, Erma Brown and Brenda Conner presided at the serving table. Erma Brown presided at the registration table. The registration table was laid with lace and centered by a stem arrangement of lavender daisies.

When the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, Arizona and Colorado, the bride was wearing, for travel, a yellow linen sheath dress and shoes, complemented by white gloves and the rose lifted from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Drake is a graduate of Farwell High School and has been employed at Friona State Bank for the past 20 months.

The groom is a graduate of Friona High School and received a B.A. Degree from West Texas State University in 1965. He is a member of the U.S. Army Reserve and is engaged in the cattle and horsebreeding business. He also has farming interests in Friona.

Gas dries fast, fluffy and for 1/4 the cost.

See this model and other automatic Norge gas dryers at the Southern Union showroom.

If you want the job done right... do it with gas.

You're tired of spending 70 hours a year hanging four tons of wet wash on the clothesline. (And that's exactly what you're doing, if you're an average housewife.)

You want an automatic clothes dryer, and you've heard that gas is the kind to get. Why? First, because gas dries clothes fresh and fluffy, the way the sun does when the weather's just right.

Second, because minutes can be precious when you're waiting for clean clothes, and gas dries faster than anything else.

Third, because a gas dryer will do the job for 1/4 the cost of an electric dryer.

One more reason: At a self-service laundry, they've got to dry clothes right. And nine out of 10 do it with gas.

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS & CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF CLOVIS AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of The State Line Tribune as he saw conditions. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the cooperation of those citizens in Clovis who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Earl Mitchell

In mentioning some of those men who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business life of Clovis, we would be censured if we failed to include Earl Mitchell, manager of Automotive Ignition Incorporated, a firm that is recognized as a leader in the automotive parts and supply business.

Mr. Mitchell is that solid type of citizen whose fairness and friendliness, and sincere desire to be of service are accountable for a large measure of his success. As time goes on, his personal interests have become more closely interwoven with the business and civic affairs of the city. As a result he has, quite naturally, become accepted as a man who can be called upon, and who will cheerfully do his part to further the development of those community activities to which he is best fitted to lend assistance.

Earl Mitchell has, by the successful operation and management of Automotive Ignition Incorporated, earned the friendship and good will of his fellow citizens. He is to be complimented for his activities, and we only express the desire of his many friends and associates in wishing him continued success.

Howard L. Pierce

It is not always the kind of business which determines its importance to the community. But, more or less, the methods used in its management. The services rendered to the public, and the manner in which it meets all business and civic obligations.

The cheerfulness of the entire personnel of the Gibson Discount Center, in their contacts with the public, and the ready acceptance of all business responsibilities by Howard L. Pierce, proves conclusively that he is a man who is well-versed in the principles of successful business management.

As most people know, this firm is a leader in their line of business. This is partly so because of their long experience, but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

Richard Snow

Richard Snow, administrator of the Retirement Ranch Incorporated of Clovis, is one of those individuals who have helped Clovis grow, and who has at all times assisted in every manner possible to promote that growth. One of his principle objects has been to see the city take its proper place as a leader, and one of the more progressive cities in the state. And he has helped, whenever help was needed, to obtain that objective. The community has gone forward on the impetus of the activities of such men, and it continues to progress through their efforts.

This is but a small expression of gratitude to a citizen who has toiled for an ideal, and has gradually seen that ideal take shape. The many services performed for Clovis by Mr. Snow are too well known to require repetition here. It is sufficient to say that we recognize in him, a leader in both business and civic enterprise; that we respect his opinions, and depend a great deal on him, and men like him for future guidance.

Allen Williams

The true value of a citizen is not gauged by his personal success, but rather by the manner in which he shares that success by his contributions to the community in which he lives. A city grows and flourishes according to the number of public-spirited men and women who compose its population.

And Allen Williams of Williams Paint & Floor Covering is one of those men who has given much toward the development of Clovis and vicinity. He has turned his personal success in the business field to the advantage of the people as a whole, and has accomplished much toward making the city a

Our issue this week proposes to call the attention of our readers to some of those dependable and civic-minded men who have contributed their share of time and energy to the building up of Clovis and the surrounding territory to the position of prominence which it now enjoys.

Howard & Merle Gore

To serve the public honestly, efficiently, and cheerfully, is the basic foundation many progressive business people of Clovis have found to be the shortest route to success. In making this statement, the two we have in mind is Howard and Merle Gore of the Zia Lodge and La Zia Dining Room. The popularity and patronage enjoyed by their many services accentuates the ideals of courtesy and efficiency which they have consistently applied in the management of the lodge and dining room, and in the servicing of its patrons.

The conduct of such businesses, and those who operate them have done much to make Clovis the business center for many miles around, and it is fitting that we give credit where credit is due to such citizens as Mr. and Mrs. Gore for their part in the onward progress of the city. In doing so, we are merely putting into words the opinions of those who know them.

Merle and Howard Gore have earned their success by the method in which they have served the public, and accepted both civic and business responsibilities, and we wish them every success in the future.

Max L. Parsons

Clovis owes much to those progressive citizens who have taken an active part in the growth and progress of the city, and who have helped to make it the business center for this section. In mentioning some of those men, it is only fair to include Max L. Parsons of the Parsons' Upholstery & Refinishing Shop, now located at 1221 Edwards, whose outstanding knowledge of the upholstering, refinishing and bicycle repair and maintenance business, has brought him to the forefront in his particular field.

Mr. Parsons is wholly deserving of our sincere praise, and these few words of commendation are but a just recognition for the many activities he has conducted on behalf of the general welfare of the community.

The honest and successful conduct of his business affairs, is not only a reflection of his character, but has also been a strong factor in maintaining him in a position of leadership in his field of endeavor.

We trust that Max Parsons will continue to serve the people of Clovis and the surrounding area for many years to come.

George Reiser

It is no coincidence that more frequently than not, those who take a progressive part in the business and civic life of their city are the same ones who are pre-eminently successful in conducting their own private affairs. In connection with the foregoing statement, we wish to mention and pay tribute to George Reiser of Reiser Florist, whose authorized agents in our community are represented by the Farwell Fire Boys.

Mr. Reiser has proved very ably that he is a florist of more than average ability, for it is largely due to his progressive methods, coupled with his sound and practical ideas, that his flower shop and floral service holds its high position in the public's opinion in this area. He has made his business a "profession", with the result that he is today one of the more popular florists in Clovis, giving to his patrons an excellence of artistic service seldom equaled.

It is also true that George Reiser does his share toward community improvement, and has given freely of his time and energy to the promotion of those enterprises which have benefited the city at large. We are glad to voice our praise of a man who is successful in his own business, and who also has time to give toward community development.

Buster Terrill

Performing and outstanding service for the people of Clovis and the surrounding territory, Buster Terrill, agency manager for the Western American Life Insurance Company, has achieved an enviable reputation for his progressive policies of business administration. His constant study of insurance problems in relation to the protection the people both need and can afford, have been important factors in his well-earned success.

Mr. Terrill is a man of ideas, and he is as practical as he is progressive in putting those ideas to beneficial use in furthering the service his company renders to the public. His sound judgment, and unwavering honesty are characteristics which place him in the front rank with other business leaders of the city. Yet, he is unassuming and modest in his personal contact with his clients, always ready to listen to their ideas and desires.

We are glad to pay tribute to progressive citizens of this type, for it is such men as Buster Terrill who have caused Clovis to become the recognized trading center of this section.

Tom & Louise Snell

Tom and Louise Snell of Snell's Bible Book Store, are two of those progressive type of individuals upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business or other matters. They are also civic-minded, and have in the past, and no doubt will continue in the future to give more of their time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves.

They are the kind of people who make friends, and friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part, and they spare no efforts in order that their services to the surrounding area shall be more dependable.

Mr. and Mrs. Snell have never been known to inject themselves into a situation for the mere purpose of gaining publicity. However, they proceed in a calm and unostentatious manner, and accomplish their objectives with a quiet dignity. We do not hesitate to recommend Louise and Tom Snell to our readers as good examples of the more progressive type of business people who have aided in the growth and development of Clovis and the surrounding country.

Gerald W. Culp

A drive-in restaurant operator of Clovis who has based his success upon the belief that the public will appreciate good food, well prepared and appetizingly served, is Gerald W. Culp of the Burger Chef Drive In, whose many friends and customers by their daily patronage of his popular eating place, attest to the soundness of his policy.

It is not only because of the successful management of his business that Mr. Culp has come to be recognized as an asset to the community; but it is also because of his policy of "looking ahead", and endeavoring to sponsor or take part in those community activities which will, in some manner, benefit the city of Clovis and the people as a whole. He is another of those men who has shown his appreciation for his success by a willingness to contribute of his time and efforts to the promotion of community projects.

It is such men as Gerald Culp whom we are privileged to include in this review, and to publicly give him due credit for his success in business and civic affairs.

Having a well-earned reputation for honesty, dependable judgment, and a complete knowledge of the insurance business far above the average, F. E. Sieren of the Sieren Insurance Agency, merits a brief tribute in this Clovis review.

Without assumption, or seeking public acclaim, he has filled his place in the community as one of its solid citizens, performing his duties of citizenship quietly, yet efficiently. As a leading progressive business man, Mr. Sieren holds a high position in the esteem of the public generally.

It is not only as a practical executive, whose sound judgment and far-sighted planning have brought such fine things to himself, but it is because of his inspiring optimism and loyal friendship that F. E. Sieren is held in such an interest in community activities, and in due course of time will assume his full share of civic responsibilities.

Bob Price deserves a word of praise for having so adequately established himself in his new endeavor, and we are glad to give him this brief mention.

Mr. & Mrs. Howard Ong

To be a consistent and persistent booster of any community, often takes courage and plenty of optimism.

It is because of their unflinching faith in the future of Clovis and the surrounding country, and their unflagging efforts to promote its development, that Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ong are selected now for this brief tribute.

They have proven very ably that they are restaurant operators of unusual ability, for it is largely due to their ideals of service, coupled with a determination to serve only the very best of food, that the New China Inn holds its high position in the public's favor. And their personalities and energy in directing the operations of the business are imported factors in their outstanding success.

We are glad to pay tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Ong, and to point out to our readers that theirs is the guiding influence responsible for the splendid service and delicious foods, served in a delightful atmosphere, to be had at the New China Inn on Mabry Drive in Clovis.

Vera Bevell

We desire in this Clovis review to call the attention of our readers to the well-earned position which Vera Bevell has reached in the business life of this section. During the comparatively short time she has been operating Vera's Taco Village, formerly the Pleasant Inn Cafe, she has made many personal friends, as well as having earned the good will of her associates for the straight-forward manner in which she has conducted her business affairs.

Ms. Bevell has worked hard to deserve the confidence which the people of the community have in her, and she continues to work hard to maintain in every way, that high standard which she has set, not only for herself, but for the operation and management of Vera's Taco Village as well.

She has also shown a willingness to assist in every manner at her disposal in the growth and development of Clovis, and is always ready to lend her support to civic projects. Vera Bevell deserves our heartiest congratulations on the splendid record she has already established, and we sincerely hope for her continued success.

Boyd C. Sides

In bestowing credit upon some of the more progressive business men of Clovis who in one way or another have contributed their bit to improve both business and civic conditions, we wish to publish a few words about Boyd C. Sides of Boyd's Fine Service, authorized dealer for Nationwide Trailer Rentals in this region.

Mr. Sides has set a standard for himself and the operation of his business that under present existing conditions, has been extremely difficult to maintain. However, that he has done so is proved by the large volume of business which his Fina station continues to handle, much of which is due to his unceasing attention to detail, and his ability to cope with new and unexpected problems.

Boyd Sides is also civic-minded, and has, when asked, cheerfully cooperated on those civic activities to which he has been able to lend assistance. He more than deserves the respect and good will which he has earned, and his many close friends and customers are confident that he will continue to maintain his usual integrity and high standards.

James Montgomery

It is a privilege in this Clovis review of progressive men and firms that have been such a great aid to the growth and development of this section of the state, to place such a man as James Montgomery of the Plains Equipment Company, on an equal plane with all others in this rank. In the past, few men have exceeded him in contributing of their time and energy to the onward progress of Clovis and the surrounding country.

Mr. Montgomery is generally recognized as one of the more dependable farm machinery dealers in this district, and he retains that distinction in the admiration and respect of his wide circle of friends. Also his interest in, and the very valuable assistance he has rendered to the many projects of a civic nature, reflect the principles which he has always so successfully applied to his business affairs.

We congratulate James Montgomery on his record, and sincerely hope that his career will be as useful and completely successful in the years ahead as it has been in the past.

Bob Price

Having a well-earned reputation for honesty, dependable judgment, and a complete knowledge of the insurance business far above the average, F. E. Sieren of the Sieren Insurance Agency, merits a brief tribute in this Clovis review.

Without assumption, or seeking public acclaim, he has filled his place in the community as one of its solid citizens, performing his duties of citizenship quietly, yet efficiently. As a leading progressive business man, Mr. Sieren holds a high position in the esteem of the public generally.

It is not only as a practical executive, whose sound judgment and far-sighted planning have brought such fine things to himself, but it is because of his inspiring optimism and loyal friendship that F. E. Sieren is held in such high regard by the people of this region.

We gladly praise the successful record of this dependable Clovis insurance consultant.

Bob Price

Having a well-earned reputation for honesty, dependable judgment, and a complete knowledge of the insurance business far above the average, F. E. Sieren of the Sieren Insurance Agency, merits a brief tribute in this Clovis review.

Without assumption, or seeking public acclaim, he has filled his place in the community as one of its solid citizens, performing his duties of citizenship quietly, yet efficiently. As a leading progressive business man, Mr. Sieren holds a high position in the esteem of the public generally.

"Cotton" Arnold

Successful business men as a rule, show their appreciation for their success by their often repeated demonstrations of civic pride. This is a fortunate fact. Otherwise a city would be lacking in that progressive element which advocates and develops various projects of a civic nature that are indicative of a progressive community.

And "Cotton" Arnold of Cotton's Salvage, Welding & Machine Works, who pays the highest prices for all types of scrap metal, is a man who has never failed to lend a hand when it comes his turn to help on some worthy project promoted for the general betterment of Clovis and the adjacent territory.

Mr. Arnold takes a genuine pleasure in this method of showing his appreciation for his success, and in so doing, recognizes his civic responsibilities to his community.

It is such men as "Cotton" Arnold who become acknowledged leaders in both business and civic enterprise, and we compliment him on having attained that position in his city.

Wayne Wicker

Logically a man who has earned the reputation of being one of Clovis' more dependable jewelers would in so doing, have earned the friendship and good will of a great many people throughout this entire district. And one who justly deserves that distinction is - modest, efficient, friendly, Wayne Wicker of Wicker Jewelers, who numbers many of our readers as some of his best satisfied customers.

Mr. Wicker is the type of man who would be an asset to any community, not only because the successful conduct of his business plays a definite part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate measure of his value to the city and this district, lies in the fact that he is untiringly zealous, and remarkably successful in the promotion of civic progress.

It would be difficult to estimate the actual dollars-and-cents value of such a man to his community. We congratulate the people of Clovis for numbering among their more progressive citizens such a man as Wayne Wicker, and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of success.

Luke & Alicia Creamer

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Luke and Alicia Creamer of Luke's Tasty Freeze, for their many services to the city of Clovis, and their splendid record of achievements in the business life of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Creamer probably have as wide a circle of friends as any other two people we could name, because they are just naturally the kind of folks that make friends with almost everybody, and always conduct themselves in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know them. Clovis is fortunate in being able to number among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

They are always ready and willing to lend their support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district.

They may be depended upon, and their services to the people are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider Alicia and Luke Creamer as assets to the community, and conscientious business people of whom the city may be proud.

Herman L. Horton

It isn't the size or volume of a man's business which determines its value to the community in which he lives. But rather by the manner in which it is conducted. Which, to a greater or lesser degree, reflects the personality and character of the individual. The value of Herman L. Horton's business to his city is a reflection of his progressiveness, and a determination to render the utmost in service, a policy which has caused the AAA Appliance Sales & Service to be so well thought of, and so widely patronized by the people of Clovis and the surrounding area.

That some progressiveness and ability which has made him so successful in his own business has also fitted Mr. Horton to be of assistance on community projects and public drives. Moreover, he does so cheerfully, and with a friendly spirit of cooperation that is always more than welcome.

It is a pleasure to include Herman Horton in this Clovis review, and to wish him further success in his field of endeavor.

Robert L. Lydick

There are many men in their chosen vocations who have gained recognition for the progressive manner in which they have conducted their business, and accepted their civic responsibilities, but who will not permit much to be said of their achievements.

But in reviewing a group of such citizens, we should include Robert L. Lydick of Lydick Engineers & Surveyors, for he is a man who has always done his work effectively, even though it has been accomplished in an unobtrusive manner.

Mr. Lydick, busy as he is, always manages somehow or other to do his bit in any movement calculated to benefit the community as a whole. His modesty however, will not permit him to say the things about himself which are said by his friends, who do so because of a personal knowledge of his activities.

We do not hesitate to recommend Robert Lydick to our readers as a citizen who continues at all times to work to the advantage of the people of this entire district.

Raymond W. Johnston

In compiling this review of progressive Clovis business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business and commercial life of this district.

Such a man is Raymond W. Johnston, local manager for the Rich Food Plan, who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. He is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the community, and in his way, has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. Johnston has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation of being a go-getter, who does not sit back and wait for the business to come to him.

We are glad to pay tribute to Raymond Johnston, and to point out to our readers that his sincere desire to be of service, coupled with his determined methods, are largely responsible for the standing of the Rich Food Plan throughout this entire area.

One of the more progressive business men of Clovis, and one who deserves the respect and good will of a great many residents of the city is capable, friendly, T. A. Cox of Cox's Body Shop, whose wide knowledge and long experience in the automotive body repair and painting business has raised him into a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that Cox's Body Shop has earned a reputation for reliability -- second to none.

Mr. Cox is also civic-minded, and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit this entire district. And the people of both Farmer and Curry Counties may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed in the interest of progress and civic betterment.

We urge our readers to look to T. A. Cox as a dependable business man of whom we may well be proud. His devotion to the city has been constant, and his achievements well merited. We wish for him further success.

Delmer J. Grigsby

In paying tribute to some of the more progressive business men of Clovis, we would be remiss in our duty should we fail to include Delmer J. Grigsby of Delmer's Auto Service, whose business ability is no greater than the "know-how" and mechanical skill which has contributed to his well-earned success in the automotive repair and maintenance business.

He has also contributed generously to the welfare of the city, and the community for many miles around. And his civic spirit is evidenced by the many services which he has performed, and will continue to perform in the interest of the people as a whole.

Mr. Grigsby is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him, those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. And his upright business methods are a credit to his inherent sense of fair play.

We congratulate Delmer Grigsby on his splendid record of service, and trust he shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

Harold Thomas

Harold Thomas, manager of the Clovis Cattle Commission Company, has won the universal respect and good will of the people for the progressive manner in which he has kept this reliable company in the forefront of the business life of this entire district.

Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Thomas is not the kind of man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment, whose opinions and advice are sought after, and listened to with respect.

We compliment Harold Thomas for the successful man-

C. V. "Blackie" Armijo Jr.

C. V. "Blackie" Armijo Jr., of Blackie's Plumbing Company, is one of those dependable business men who has always done his bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Clovis as the leading trading center for this region. He has always worked for the development of the city, and his many services are worthy of sincere appreciation.

His well-earned success as a business man is easily understood, knowing as the people do, his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings.

And it is a combination of technical knowledge, professional skill and business ability which has elevated Mr. Armijo to a position of leadership in the plumbing and heating business.

He is completely aware of his civic responsibilities, and is wide awake to the many opportunities for service, and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole.

We compliment "Blackie" Armijo Jr., on his accomplishments, and wish for him continued success.

Graduates Set Goals High, Many To Attend College

As the 1966 school year drew to a close the 23 graduates of the Texico school seemed to realize for the first time that they are no longer members of the Texico student body, but are instead, young adults who must carve a place for themselves in the future of their town, county, state and nation. After careful consideration they have announced the following plans for the future.

with Eastern New Mexico University the popular choice of many; Uncle Sam will take a toll of the graduates; and others will work for a while and then plan for the future. On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

"What price are you willing to take for your irrigation water?" Farmers need to consider this question to determine the amount of water they apply to a crop, says Economist John Shipley, with the Bushland Experiment Station.

clusive," Shipley said, "but I figure we netted less than six dollars for the extra six inches of water we used in the heavier irrigation schedule. "Some fellows believe the extra water is justified by the added yield," he said. "My question is: Would you sell the water to me for one dollar per acre-inch if I paid the pumping cost?"

Water applications at the tillering and boot stages are varied. Applications to water-up the crop and the dough stage are kept constant.

Water Table Changes Outdated Many Pumping Systems
The decline of the water table has produced a situation in which High Plains farmers need to re-evaluate the efficiency of their irrigation pumps, says Extension Irrigation Specialist Bill Lyles, of Lubbock.

Larger irrigations naturally produce the best yields. For instance, Shipley says seven inches applied at tillering and eight inches at the boot stage produced 74.5 bushels of wheat per acre.

Most pumping plants in the area were originally designed for greater discharge and shorter pumping lift, he says. The water situation has changed so the cost per unit of water pumped is often unnecessarily high.

Irrigations of four inches at tillering and five inches at the boot produced 64.7 bushels per acre.

Old, worn pump bowls contribute to the problem. In some instances, Lyle says pumps were improperly matched to the wells when they were first installed.

Both plots received a six-inch irrigation at the dough stage, according to the Texas A&M University researcher. "These results aren't conclude," Shipley said, "but I figure we netted less than six dollars for the extra six inches of water we used in the heavier irrigation schedule. "Some fellows believe the extra water is justified by the added yield," he said. "My question is: Would you sell the water to me for one dollar per acre-inch if I paid the pumping cost?"

Getting Enough Milk?

June is traditionally the "Dairy Month," and this is a good time to consider daily needs from this important source of food.

Why do we need milk? Well in the first place it is especially important for these three nutrients:

- Calcium - needed throughout life for healthy bones.
- Riboflavin - a B vitamin, one of the essential nutrients for healthy skin and nerves.
- Protein - the main material needed for building and repairing body tissue.

Many people get too little of these three nutrients for their best nutritional health. It's very difficult to get enough calcium and riboflavin, in particular, without a good deal of milk.

One reason why milk is so excellent a food is that it contains many different nutrients in favorable proportions that can readily form efficient work teams for your body's nutrition.

How much milk is enough? Nutritionists consider mainly the calcium needs when they figure the amount of milk for good daily nutritional needs. Here they are:

Children under 9 yrs. - 2 to 3 cups

Children 9 - 12 yrs. 3 or more cups

Teenagers - 4 or more cups

Adults all ages - 2 or more cups

Expectant mothers - 3 or more cups

With summer weather ahead and with picnics and many other activities where other beverages are being served (that contribute nothing but calories) the wise homemaker will need to plan carefully to see that this important milk food is not neglected when providing nutritious meals for each family member. An 8 oz. glass of milk costs only 2 cents more than other beverages. It's such a waste, nutritionally speaking, to neglect this very important food, milk.

Here is a good way to get some milk into the meals, try this recipe:

APPLE CUSTARD

- 1 cup canned apple slices, drained
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 beaten eggs
- 1 1/2 cups hot milk
- Nutmeg

Arrange apples in bottom of four custard cups. Combine sugar, salt, and eggs. Add milk slowly. Pour over apples, sprinkle with nutmeg.

Set cups in a pan of hot water. Bake at 350 degrees F. (moderate oven) for 30 to 40 minutes, or until custard is set. 4 servings. Over 1/3 cup milk per serving.

Also that long popular "Banana Pudding" is a good source of milk too. Another recipe that's full of good nutrition is:

SOFT CUSTARD

- 1/4 cup sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon salt
 - 3 eggs, beaten
 - 3 cups hot milk
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - Cinnamon or nutmeg
- Add sugar and salt to beaten eggs. Gradually add the milk to the eggs mixture.

Cook over hot, not boiling water and stir constantly until the mixture coats the spoon. Remove from the hot water at once. Strain. Cool; add the vanilla and sprinkle a little cinnamon or nutmeg on each serving. 6 servings. 1/2 cup milk per serving.

As a sauce. For thinner custard to serve as a sauce, follow the recipe, using 2 eggs or 4 yolks instead of 3 eggs. Good with many kinds of fruit, gelatin desserts, cakes, and puddings.

For additional recipes and information on milk, write or call the County Extension Office, 481-3619 or Box 608 and ask for your free copy of bulletin on Milk.

NOW WHAT WAS THE TEMPERATURE????? -- Thermometers in Texico-Farwell were showing various temperature readings at 4:20 p.m. on Tuesday afternoon with readings ranging from 91 degrees at KZOL radio station to 102 degrees two blocks away at the Fina Station, operated by Cecil Rundell. Another thermometer at the Rundell station showed a reading of 96 degrees. Here Rundell checks the reading on his thermometer at 4:30 with the reading showing a drop of two degrees in the 10 minute period. "Now what did your thermometer indicate?"
