JULY 26, 2012 NUMBER 50 100th YEAR 50 CENTS

It's time for 46th Border Town Days

The 46th annual Border Town Days celebration kicks off Saturday and it promises to be another superb family event for the Twin Cities of Texico and Farwell.

The day begins with the Decorated Bicycle Contest at 10 a.m. (all times in this article are CT -- Texas time). It will be held adjacent to the Texico branch of Citizens Bank on Anderson Street.

The deadline for entering the bicycle contest is 3 p.m. on Friday, July 27. You need to sign up at the State Line Tribune office, 404 3rd St., Farwell. The theme is "New Mexico Centennial."

Cash prizes will be awarded to the top bicycle contest placers, and the grand champions (a boy and a girl) will win brand-new bicycles courtesy of Master Tech Auto Service and Tedson Trailers, both of Texico.

Gerri Bowers is in charge of the bicycle contest. Contestants will be judged by three judges picked by the Clovis Chamber of Commerce.

A story elsewhere in today's Tribune has more details of the Decorated Bicycle Contest.

At 11 a.m., the Big Parade kicks off at Griffin Street in Texico. A map showing where participants need to line up is elsewhere in today's Tribune.

This year's parade will again feature antique vehicles and tractors, class reunions, fire trucks, motorcycles and lots of horse units.

Lining up the parade entries will be Mark Barnes, and Judy Lekovich and her niece. Participants are urged to be at the parade start at least 30 minutes early.

Because the highway will be closed during the parade, Craig Street in Texico will be used as a bypass for traffic moving through the area.

Hereford Street residents are asked not to park their vehicles on that street while the parade is held. The Border Town Days Committee appreciates your help.

Texico Police Chief Doug Bowman will give the signal to kick off the parade, after being contacted by the railroad officials who normally stop train traffic for it.

The parade proceeds down the highway (closed to traffic both ways), then turns at 5th Street in Farwell, Ross Prokop will lead the Whiskey Rebellion band at Border Town Days.

No dogs allowed at BTD

Just a reminder that last year we asked in the paper if dogs should be allowed at Border Town Days, and the answer was overwhelmingly 'no'.

Kristen Scanlan: Champion volleyball player and coach

Rumor had it that Texico volleyball coach Kristen Scanlan was once selected to the U.S. Olympics Women's volleyball team. That did not turn out to be quite the case, but the real story is just as interesting. Mrs. Scanlan was actually chosen to play for the U.S. Junior National Women's volleyball team that trained for the Pacific Rim Tournament. This team represented the U.S. against other countries such as Japan, Australia and China.

Mrs. Scanlan was hand-selected by the Junior National coach after playing club volleyball with his team. She was already an accomplished setter after graduating from Arlington (Texas) High School, then trained hard at the Colorado Springs, Colo., national facility.

Mrs. Scanlan began playing for the Junior National team the summer before her first year of college and continued to represent the U.S. on the team during the summer after her freshman year as well. While her Junior National team did well in 1978 and 1979, she remembers it was difficult for the U.S. Olympic women's volleyball team of 1980 because of the Olympic boycott that year (over U.S. unhappiness over Soviet involvement in Afghanistan). For political reasons, the Olympic players never did get the opportunity to compete in volleyball that year.

While in high school, Mrs. Scanlan helped her team win the State class 4A Championship. Later, she was inducted into the Arlington High School Sports Hall of Fame.

She was recruited by Texas A&M University where she played as a scholarship player for four years. During this time, Texas A&M was very successful - winning Regional Championships in 1978 and 1979 and ranking in the top 10 in the National Championships.

For Mrs. Scanlan, her college career was unique because, at the time, Texas A&M was included in the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW) division. Within the AIAW, college teams played mostly tournaments - traveling every weekend to a different match. They were ranked according to their tournament record, so they traveled a lot.

This actually affected

Welcome to Lazbuddie!

A Unique Family, with a United Belief In the Power of Hope and the Pursuit of Success

While it may be a small corner of the world, Lazbuddie is a community with a heart as vast as its horizons. From here, one can peer into the future with hope, while relishing a past and a present filled with success.

At its heart is Lazbuddie School, a family of students, parents, staff, and community members who seek, expect, and provide limitless opportunities for the youth of the area.

The Mission of this unique family is to “cultivate strong minds, build communities, embrace values, and strengthen families.”

Cultivating strong minds

Lazbuddie employs innovative thinking in order to provide big school academic advantages in the haven of a small school. Our high school students enjoy the opportunity to take Interactive Television (ITV) courses, dual-credit courses, and advanced courses in cooperation with South Plains College. Many Lazbuddie students have earned several semesters of college credits before high school graduation.

For the first time ever, our high school students will have the opportunity to enroll in many course offerings that were not previously available through the Texas Virtual School Network, which was developed by the Texas Education Association. Students can choose from five foreign languages, psychology, sociology, music and art appreciation, as well as other core area, career, and technology courses that are offered through the TxVSN and counted for local, and in some cases, college-level credit.

Lazbuddie ISD offers an array of Career and Technology Courses, including Food Science, Culinary Arts, Child Development, Horticulture, Agricultural Fabrication and Ag Mechanics, Animal Science, Interior Design, Professional Communication, and many others.

Instructional innovation is not limited to just junior high and high school academic programs. For the first time ever, our elementary school grades, 1st through 5th, will be departmentalized.

In lieu of a grade level teacher to teach all subjects in each self-contained classroom, our elementary will have a Math Specialist, Reading/ELA Specialist, Science Specialist, and Social Studies Specialist. First graders will remain in their own classroom and the instructional specialists will travel to the students.

Second through fifth grade students will travel from classroom to classroom for a 45-minute instructional period in each core area. The only exception will be Reading/ELA, which will be a 90-minute period.

The departmentalization plan for our elementary will be advantageous to students for several reasons.

First, our district utilizes the state-recommended CSCOPE curriculum, which is designed to facilitate vertical alignment of learning in each subject area from grade to grade. Departmentalizing will enable our teachers to know their subject area in greater depth and at increasing levels of complexity. This will also eliminate the “jack of all trades, master of none” effect that plagues many elementary teachers as a result of the load of preparing lessons for multiple subject areas.

Secondly, teachers know that students all learn differently, and at different rates of speed. As a student changes teachers from year to year, much instructional time is lost in the process of getting to know the student and his/her learning needs. By departmentalizing, teachers will be able to get to know their students in their assigned instructional area, and then will have the benefit of having that student for several years, with no instructional time lost!

Unlike many districts, Lazbuddie ISD offers a full-day Pre-kindergarten program to all 3- and 4-year-old students. These students are taught by highly qualified, experienced classroom teachers who provide not only instruction, but the nurturing, love, and attention that every parent desires for their child who may be starting school for the first time.

Lazbuddie ISD offers an array of services for students with varying instructional needs, including Response to Intervention, Dyslexia, Gifted and Talented, ESL, Special Education, and reading intervention.

Embracing Values

Small school values are what attract many students and their parents to Lazbuddie. Our policies, whether regarding discipline, grading, dress code, attendance, or student recognition reflect our belief that all students, regardless of background, abilities, or challenges have value and are valued equally just because they are.

It is our calling to show every child that he or she is loved, accepted, and respected and it is our commitment to inspire our students to achieve nothing less than their personal best. We embrace these values and principles in an ongoing effort to guide the decision-making process and to ensure that we, above all else, strive to do what is right for kids.

Come join us and be part of our school family

We invite you to visit us at 675 FM 1172 in Lazbuddie, Texas. Our offices are open 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday, and you can call us with questions at (806) 965-2156.

We also encourage you to see what Lazbuddie has to offer by visiting our website at www.lazbuddieisd.org. We are currently accepting transfer applications and these are available on our website under the heading “Reports and Publications.” While we may not be able to run a bus directly to your home, transportation may be available for transfers, depending on your home location.

School Registration for the 2012-2013 school year will be the evening of Aug. 13. There will be a meeting for parents of elementary students at 6:00 p.m., followed by elementary registration for any students not already registered. Junior high and high school students are asked to attend a parent meeting at 7:00 p.m., followed by registration.

You are also cordially invited to come take a look at Lazbuddie ISD, meet our faculty, and share in the good food and fellowship at our annual Community-Wide Cook-Out on Friday, Aug 24, at 6:00 pm in the Lazbuddie ISD Cafeteria. Our Longhorns host Holy Cross in a scrimmage at 7:00 p.m.

We hope you will come and be a part of our school family!

“It is hard to put a finger on any one thing that makes Lazbuddie School unique, but what we hear the most is that Lazbuddie just ‘feels like home.’ Perhaps that’s because here, you can just be who you are and belong to something so much greater than yourself. There is a special calling for this school, and it is blessed beyond measure. Our enrollment is growing, our course offerings are growing, and our facilities are improving. By the time school starts, we will have a new playground, and in the very near future, our courtyard near the new gym will be renovated.

“Our school is not about any one person, program, or endeavor. It is a family that, throughout every adversity and challenge, works to outgrow the status quo. We look forward to the coming year with an anticipation of bigger and brighter things to come!”

– Joanna Martinez

Building Communities

At Lazbuddie ISD, a sense of community is the key to the success of any endeavor. Within our school community, there are numerous student groups, both curricular and co-curricular, that have a sense of unity and a pursuit of success unique to each group.

- National Honor Society
- Robotics: State Qualifiers 13 out of 14 years
- FCCLA: Regional Officer and two State Competition Qualifiers
- FFA Chapter: Recipient of the Golden Horizon Award; District Awards: 1st Sr. Farm Skills, 3rd Public Relations, 3rd Sr. Creed Speaking, 1st Livestock Judging, 1st Horse Judging, 2nd Junior Prepared Public Speaking, 2nd & 3rd Senior Prepared Public Speaking, 1st Soil Stewardship Speaking. Area Awards: 9th Horse Judging, 3rd Jr. Prepared Speaking
- Athletics : 2 Regional Qualifiers in Powerlifting; Girls Bi-District Basketball Champs; Girls District Cross Country Champs; JV Girls District Tennis Champs and District Coed Doubles Tennis Champs; Area and Regional Girls Track Qualifiers; Area Boys Track Qualifiers; Individual Boy District Golf Champ and Girls Golf District Runner Up Team; All-American Cheerleaders
- UIL: One Act Play Zone Alternate; Elementary UIL 3rd place team

Strengthening Families

For many years, Lazbuddie ISD has relied on the support of the community, as well as the parents whose children attended the school. In an age of ever-increasing challenges for parents with young children, we believe that it is part of our mission as a school family to give back to the community and to the parents who have given so much to us.

As we seek to adapt and evolve our approaches in meeting the needs of kids, we are striving to impart what we have learned to parents in order to help them make the best decisions for their children.

In the coming school year, we plan to increase communication and involvement with our parents by utilizing our AlertNow phone system, letters and newsletters home, parent meetings, a parent/teacher organization, and family nights at school.

We also are planning informational seminars for parents and students on topics that range from study skills to internet and social media safety to life skills for graduating seniors.

At Lazbuddie ISD, we believe that parents are a child’s first and best teacher, and that the support of a child’s family is key to the success of the child. Since many of our school family members are also parents, we endeavor to strengthen the relationship between home and school and maintain effective lines of communication for sharing and developing best practices for kids at home and at school.

Scanlan

Kristen Scanlan's academic decisions quite a bit. She comments, "I was originally majoring in landscape architecture, but I traveled so much with volleyball that I couldn't attend some of the required classes. Eventually, the dean called me in and we decided this just wouldn't work."

Because of her volleyball schedule, she changed her major to health and physical education, thus adding a few more classes to her graduation plan with the major change. During her last year, she served as a graduate assistant, helping coach the volleyball team.

Mrs. Scanlan has been successfully coaching every since. After graduation, her first job was right back at her old high school in Arlington. She coached three different volleyball teams for three years before getting married and moving.

After seven years out of coaching, she returned to coach a year at Kilgore, Texas, before having twin girls, Erin and Fallon. When the girls were going into 1st grade at Dora Elementary, Mrs. Scanlan agreed to coach there for the next two years.

She then decided to just teach science for the next three years before her move to Texico. While teaching science, then-coach Michael Littlejohn approached her about coaching at Texico. By arranging her schedule where she could teach P.E. classes to the younger kids, she agreed.

As they say, "the rest is history" - Coach Scanlan is now going into her 8th year at Texico and her 7th coaching season. The success of Texico volleyball is astounding.

The Lady Wolverines have won New Mexico State Championships for the past 6 years straight - three under Littlejohn and three under Mrs. Scanlan (who was assistant coach for the first three). However, she takes very little credit for the successes.

"I have been blessed by these kids," Mrs. Scanlan said. They are unbelievable because of their work ethic and their support of one another. I always tell them that the most important part of volleyball is the relationships they build. Whether they win or lose, it is important to love each other and have fun."

Mrs. Scanlan also says that these kids are like family to her - she tries to keep up with the girls throughout the years. "Christmas cards are always fun at our house."

Though her own daughters played volleyball on her team until they graduated in 2011, Mrs. Scanlan says she misses them, but it is still incredibly fun to coach.

"I just want to remind the girls here that sports are fun - you have to work hard, but it is still supposed to be fun."

She said the school administration "understands that the kids are the most important thing. We are certainly in a bubble here at Texico with good parents, good kids and a good administration."

Mrs. Scanlan emphasizes to her girls that it is "their team." As a coach, she feels it is her job to facilitate, but it is ultimately up to the girls. She gives her senior players a lot of responsibilities on and off the court.

"The seniors decide what the summer schedule will be, what uniforms will look like, etc. They generally handle all the decisions that they are able to handle."

Mrs. Scanlan also upholds several coaching philosophies for her teams, including:

- teams need to have a positive attitude - work hard and love each other.
- teams need to get better every time out.
- girls need to learn how to do everything - not just specialize in one position.

- physical mistakes are fine - effort mistakes are not.
- girls need to be ladies on or off the court.
- if you make good decisions off the court, it shows on the court

These philosophies have certainly worked for Mrs. Scanlan and Texico. It is hard to find a more successful volleyball program anywhere.

Mrs. Scanlan is excited about her team for the upcoming year. "We are trying to get in some good summer play dates to gain experience with 3, 4 or 5A teams. The better the competition, the more experience we gain."

This year's team may be young in experience. Thus, it may take a little longer to get going this year, but she expects good things. They are currently working to determine their offensive strategy, based on the players in the positions this year.

Mrs. Scanlan hopes to stay at Texico School to continue her coaching legacy. Her daughters are attending college in other states and she enjoys staying active with her P.E. classes and coaching duties for volleyball and golf.

While Mrs. Scanlan had an amazing career of her own in volleyball, her teaching and coaching influences have truly been wide-reaching. From the youngest P.E. student to the graduating seniors, she acts as a positive influence to literally hundreds of kids. Her energy and enthusiasm are renowned.

She follows her own philosophy when planning her lessons or coaching a team - lack of effort is not acceptable. She plans special units for P.E. classes, encourages all the kids to compete for Presidential Fitness awards, hosts an end of the year field day/track meet for all the Elementary, sponsors special clinics and gives her all every day in class.

To top it off - she remains humble, saying, "I don't know why anyone thinks that I am interesting."

She is not only interesting - she is a true role model.

A cowboy's tale

Dee and his family in front of their first home in 1938.

Editor's note: This reminiscence is by Dee Owen, who died in 1989. He was the father of Jerry Dee Owen, of Farwell.

When I was growing up in the 1920s, the dream of the majority of farm boys was to be a cowboy and work on a ranch. I had moved with my folks from Denton County, Texas, to a farm bordering the big range country southwest of Muleshoe.

Cowboying seemed to me an inviting way of life, especially at the end of a long day following a team of horses and a one row turning plow. Often when I was plowing on the family farm, I could see riders in the nearby pastures.

At 16, I got my first job at Steele Cattle Co. They put me at the Jennings Camp, 15 miles southwest of Muleshoe. My only transportation then was horseback; so, trips to town were few.

I had my first lesson in cooking working there. Through trial and error and a healthy digestive system, I soon learned how many beans to soak, how to soak and swell dried apples and how to make baking powder biscuits. Groceries in those days were all pretty basic and included homemade canned corn, tomatoes, flour and not much else. I had to learn how to cook or starve.

With my first paycheck, I ordered a pair of Crockett one-piece steel bits from a mail order catalog. When they arrived, I rode the distance to town and in front of the post office in Muleshoe where I tied my horse, I put these new bits on my bridle. This was in 1926 and I used these same bits for the next 60 years. They have been patched and re-welded several times since then and have been used on all my horses.

While at the Jennings Camp, the cow camp where I was staying burned to the ground along with all my guns, clothes and a stuffed bald eagle. All that was left were ashes and an old iron cow that was nailed to the barn. This old iron cow represented at this time the total of my possessions. It now hangs in the office of my youngest son, Bill.

I worked at the Jennings Camp for two years when Steele bought a ranch in Ft. Sumner. We moved three herds of cattle to the new ranch, each taking about 10 days.

In those days, there were few fences between Muleshoe and Ft. Sumner. When we came to one, we would take it down and cross the wire, being very careful to fix it back like we found it. We crossed the Pecos River below old Ft. Sumner and made one crossing when the river was flooding. It took all day to swim the cattle across because sandhill cattle, horses and cowboys don't take to good to high water.

We could make 10 to 12 miles a day from daylight to sundown. The cattle bedded down at night but if it was stormy, we rode night herd to keep them calm.

I remember one night real well because it came up a bad electrical storm. We all stood guard all night long and electricity would play across the cow's horns and across their backs. I had always liked and had a silver horned saddle. The lightning would play across it, up my horse's mane and over the buckle of my bridle. I put my glove over my saddle horn and tied my handkerchief around the bridle buckle. I never owned another silver horned saddle after that trip.

The Pecos River bordered the ranch and I had my first experience with quicksand while riding "bog" - pulling out cattle that ventured in too far. There were still wild horses and burros on the ranch and most all were loco-ed.

I remember one peculiar habit they had. When they went to get a drink, they would drop their heads and try to drink before they ever got to the water. We had to drive the wild horses and burros off. Many had to be roped but seldom survived the roping because the strain of the chase ended up killing them.

To keep the calves more uniform in size, the bulls were separated from the cows along in October and returned to the them in early spring. The ranches ran one bull to 20 cows so you had a pretty good size bull pasture. During the winter, they were peaceful and would bed down together for warmth but come the first sign of spring, they got real anxious to move so we moved them out.

One time we were gathering the bulls when one rider didn't show up from his area of the pasture. We searched for him and found that a bull had gored his horse right through the center of the cinch ring on his saddle, killing the horse. By the time the bull got loose from the horse, the cowboy had run up into a shinnery thicket. He hid and was very still while the bull pawed and tore at the edges of the thicket. The bull never got to him but went back several times to work on the dead horse. The cowboy escaped with his life.

I stayed near Ft. Sumner about two years, then returned to Muleshoe to work for the VVN Ranch -- one of the largest ranches in the area. W. H. Fuqua of Amarillo owned the ranch, which consisted of 125 sections and was bordered on the west by the New Mexico state line. The VVN ran around 6,500 head of cattle under the able direction of Arthur Haley, the most capable cowman I ever worked for. My half of the ranch was the sandhills. It made excellent winter pasture while the south side was out on the plains and was used for summer pasture.

There were about 20 pastures, all with windmills. These windmills had names as well as the pastures where they were located and you soon learned the name of each one. The ranch would hire a windmill man for major jobs but a lot of the cowboy's time was spent on minor jobs such as replacing leathers and oiling the mills. The cowboys also kept up the fences and carried pliers and steeple in their saddle bags to make immediate repairs. A lot of the mills were wooden, direct stroke Eclipse and at each mill we kept a jug of oil. When you came to a squeaking mill, you climbed the tower and oiled the pitman.

The boy who thought cowboying was to straddle a horse didn't stay long. You were a hired hand and did what was necessary on the ranch. I have fond memories of the VVN crew that I knew so well. Fred and Cotton Lee, Junior Ross, Ted Townsend, Jim Lane, Loy Hennington, Slim Patterson, Tom Cox, C. B. Nutt and Clay Neal. Each man had certain pastures that was his responsibility to care for. He prowled them out every three days.

You carried screwworm medicine at all times and roped and doctored the cattle right in the pastures. In the years that I spent on the VVN, I could not recall any serious injuries. The distances from town or from any other person made for very careful and capable horsemen.

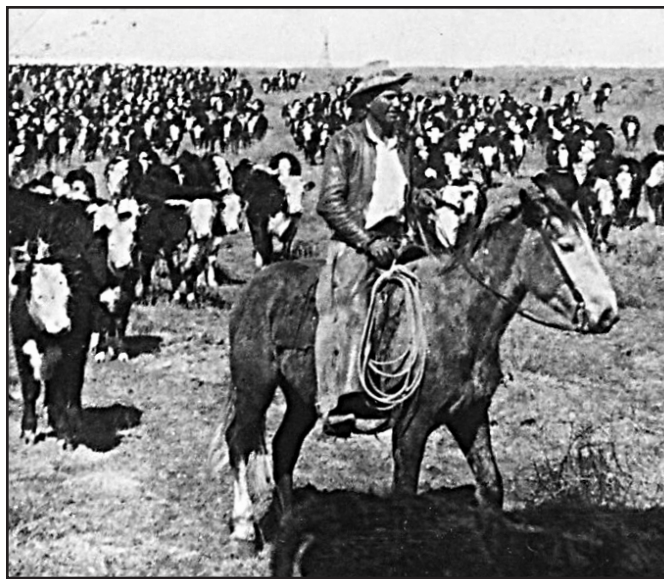

In the early spring a large group of pens and a dipping vat were located near the center of the ranch. A fully provisioned chuck wagon was set up at the vat pens. Cattle were brought in from the pastures and worked. Extra men were hired and each brought his own saddle and bedroll. We slept on the ground by the chuck wagon. We camped at the vat pens until all the calves were branded, dehorned, vaccinated for blackleg and the bull calves were castrated.

The calves were roped and dragged close to the branding fire by men on horseback who worked in pairs. Usually three teams of two men each flanked the calves. It was hard work for both men and horses and you soon learned who was a good partner to flank calves or to rope with. We put in 12 to 14 hours of hot dusty days until the job was done.

The chuck wagon cook provided ample meals of beans, meat, potatoes, fried fruit and sourdough biscuits. A good chuck wagon cook was a real prize. We had one who could make sourdough doughnuts. There was no campfire singing and relaxing as many are led to believe. After supper, you were only too glad to crawl in your bedroll because 4 a.m. came early.

After the branding and working the cows and calves, they were returned to their respective pastures and then the work really started for the cowboys. Screwworms were bad. We roped and doctored for months. The calves were fattened until fall when once again they were rounded up and brought back to the vat pens. This time the calves were cut from their mothers to be weaned and sold.

Cutting calves from their mamas required horse work. Good cutting horses were needed. We had no contests and no prizes but some of those cutting horses could hold their own in any contest held today plus they had to work all day.

After the calves were cut off from their mothers, a bawling confusion took place. The cows were returned once again to their home pastures and the calves were driven to the stock pens in Muleshoe. It was quite a wild drive as calves kept trying to break back to their mamas. Only the best horses and riders could keep the herd moving. There were several active springs in the flat west of Muleshoe. Water holes had been dug here for cattle waiting to go to the shipping pens.

Calves were sold by the head. Commission men purchased them for feed lots in Iowa and shipped them by train. We would make reservations for a certain number of cars on a certain date and delivered the calves on that day.

The shipping pens in Muleshoe were a busy and noisy place. Old canner and cutter bulls were also trailed in and sold there. I recall that one old bull was so determined to return back to his old home that three times he broke back after they managed to get him to the shipping pens. After he had finally been penned, he hooked his horns under a heavy stockyard gate, lifted it straight up and ripped it from its hinges. No cowboy there that day would risk his horse or his life in an attempt to pen him again. They just let him go. I guess he died on the range probably still mad and on the prowl.

In those days the VVN had one of the best herds of cow horses. We kept a herd of brood mares and raised our own replacements, keeping the best horse colts and selling the rest. To upgrade the breeding program of horses, the government made available thoroughbred stud horses that had been retired from the race tracks. The ranch got one named, "Highwayman", a great money winner of that time. He was retired early from racing because he was score spoiled and would not stand in the starting gate.

When the colts were 3 years old, they were put in the bronc pens where they were kept about a month. Here they got used to being tied up, broken to a saddle and used to ropes. Myself and brothers Fred and Cotton Lee worked the bronc pen. Cotton later went on to become a world champion steer roper for several years in a row during the late 1940s and early 1950s.

By the time most of the rough edges were taken off these colts, it was time for fall work. Each man took three or four into his string and started using them right away. You were very careful not to let your new horses develop bad habits because they were yours to ride for as long as you worked for the ranch. We named them whatever suited us and were very possessive of the horses in our string. No one else rode them without your consent.

We kept about six horses in our string through the summer but usually about three during the winter. We kept them rode down. We fed very little commercial feed and mostly just grass in summer and bundles in winter. The lack of commercial feed required us to use more horses as we put in long, hard days riding and checking cattle on them.

Every old cowboy fondly remembers his favorite horse. I had a blue roan horse named, Rambler. He weighed about 1,100 lbs., which was larger than the average ranch horse of that time. He had uncanny cow sense and was what you dreamed a good cutting horse could be. Rambler was such a good cutter that he attracted a lot of attention from the cow buyers. They wanted to buy him but he definitely was a one man horse. With me riding him, he worked to perfection. Under any other rider though, he became stubborn and sluggish.

In 1932, the ranchers found themselves in a lot of trouble. Cattle were cheap and there was no market. To reduce the surplus, the government started a cow killing program. They paid $18 for cows and $8 for calves. The cattle were rounded up and the ones for slaughter were cut out and driven to the vat pens. Government men with rifles shot them. The skinning crew went to work where the cattle fell. Several of the farm families surrounding the ranch, came to get beef to cook and can. It was one of those sights you spend your life hoping to forget but never could. Times were hard.

There were lots of wild sandhill plums on the ranch. In July when the plums were ripe, families came in wagons and made a day's outing of gathering plums. They also came in the fall and winter to pick up the cow chips which were found in great abundance around the windmills. They were used for heating. In the summer, three or four men stayed at headquarters and one stayed at the camp about half a mile from the state line.

We rode the pastures checking and doctoring the cattle, doing minor repair on the windmills and patching up fences. We used a slip, a fresno type, and in teams we cleaned out and built up the dirt tanks near the mills. During the summer if there were many windless days, we would run low on water. When this happened, we hauled pump jacks in wagons to the mill sites. I have spent many nights sleeping by a mill to tend to the pump jack.

The roads through the ranch were bad with deep sand in places. Most of the places were inaccessible by car. All the work was done either on horseback or by team and wagon. There was a freight office in Lariat, and from there we hauled bulk salt to troughs in all the pastures. Every windmill had a salt trough and we spent several days a month putting out salt. I remember after I married, we would take a load of salt to the bull pasture where my wife was never comfortable to be in a wagon met by around 300 big whitefaced bulls who were all hungry for salt.

I stayed at headquarters a few years then went to the line camp where I stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Clay Neal. When they left, I stayed on at the line camp from then until I married Edwina Burke in 1934. During the winters, an old man named Tom Cox worked off and on at the camp. He and I made spur rowells out of the square pitman from the Eclipse direct stroke windmill. We heated the iron in a forge, flattened it with a sledge hammer then cut the circles and spokes with a hacksaw. It took all winter. These rowells were tempered and tuned to make a fine ring when worn. I still have the old rowells today. In later years the rowell changed to a smaller size.

Ted Townsend worked winters with me. We wintered around 3,000 head of cattle by hauling cottonseed cake to them every other day. This made for long days. We left at daybreak and barely got in by dark. We drove a little team of mules and tied our saddle horses up to the side of the team in case we saw any doctoring that needed done. We would pick out a smooth flat for a feed ground and pour the cake out, going in ever widening circles. One of us drove the team while the other rode in the back of the wagon and poured out the cake. Cattle learned fast to watch for us and gather at the feed ground. We always fed cattle until around April 15.

In winter we set out steel traps along our feed routes. Coyotes were plentiful and the hides would average from $2 to $3 each. We made some extra spending money this way. Hide buyers would come through about once a month. We also had lots of quail around camp; therefore, we also kept traps out and caught a few to eat.

We always tried to keep a milk cow to give us milk for cooking. We would watch for a young heifer that looked like she might give a little extra milk and then we would bring her and her calf into camp where we milked her. We would turn her out days and keep the calf penned so she would come back at evening. We would have to tie her head to a post and sometimes her feet as well. She never gave us any milk but we managed to take about a quart away from her.

This was enough for biscuits and coffee. We had a milk trough at the windmill where cold water ran through it and kept our milk and butter fresh. I would save the cream until I got almost a quart then I'd put the cream in a fruit jar and then put the fruit jar in a sack that I tied on behind my saddle. When I got in from my day's work, I'd have a little butter and it was very good.

In the winter we kept beef wrapped in a tarp and hung in the windmill tower where it kept until we ate it. When we ran out, we would kill another cow and divide it. We never had any meat to spoil.

At various times and in various areas of the ranch there were what we called Jacob's Lanterns, some people called it St. Elmo's Fire. They were lights caused by some climatic phenomenon. We usually saw them through the summer and fall during hot, dry weather. There were several close to our headquarters.

Once, they looked so real that we thought they might be truck lights moving around so we got the idea it could be rustlers and decided to saddle up and try to ride to them. When we did, they disappeared. From time to time we would attempt to ride to the lights. There were several at the foot of the hill at the end of the old DZ salt lake on the state line. We'd always see one down the draw east from the line camp. Every cowboy that ever spent much time on the VVN can vouch for the lights.

In 1933, we had no winter moisture or spring rains. We ran out of grass but found pasture in Brownfield, Texas. The ranch sold some of the cows and moved the rest to pasture. They were trying to hold on until it rained. They laid off part of the crew and I stayed on at the line camp, keeping the fences up and mending the windmills.

We finally got a 5-inch rain in September 1933 and the gama grass headed out before cold weather. In the spring of 1934, the cattle were brought back from Brownfield. We had plenty of grass but the years of low prices and drought had taken too big of a toll. It was too little, too late. A loan company assumed management of the ranch and sold off all the stock that remained.

In 1936, the old two-story ranch house was torn down and a new headquarters built. The loan company leased the ranch out to Halsel Cattle Co. of Earth, Texas. The old VVN that I remembered was gone.

At times many of us old cowboys would like to relive some of the past but none of us would want to relive it all.

Great parade lineup set for Border Town Days

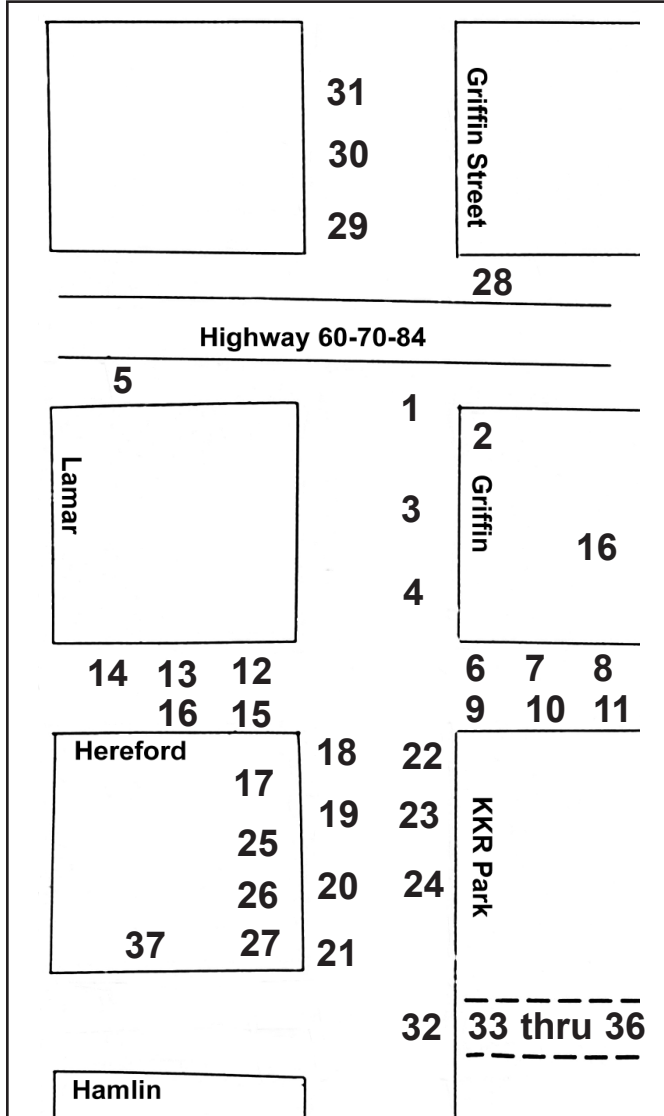

Here is the list of how groups should line up for the Border Town Days parade on Saturday.

The parade kicks off at 11 a.m. ct (10 a.m. New Mexico time) at Griffin Street in Texico, one block east of Hwy. 108.

Helping line up entries will be Mark Barnes, Judy Lekovich, Ruth Anne Bennett and Fern Tharp.

The highway will be closed off during the parade. Hereford Street will be used as a bypass.

Residents are asked not to park their vehicles on Hereford Street during the parade. The parade will go down the highway to 5th Street in Farwell, where it turns south, past the Farwell Care and Rehabilitation Center, and ends at the Farwell city park.

Mike Read will be at the parade end to direct groups to park. Any groups that wish to join the parade but are not included in this list still may do so, but have to line up at the end of the parade (behind the horse units and in front of Big Mike's Bikes) and are not eligible for cash prizes.

Parade participants should know that Griffin Street will be CLOSED at the highway while units are forming. Thus, floats are asked to come down a different street to Craig Street, then turn south on Griffin Street.

The Latest

Two Texico boys competed at the State baseball tournament in Taos, N.M. Dalton Thatcher and Brock Thompson play on the Roosevelt County All-Star team for 11-12 year olds.

Although the team fell out of the tourney after two games, Thatcher hit a home run in the first game.

The Parmer County Commissioners on Monday heard that the new county website will be online in August.

In other business, they: -- Re-appointed all the same election judges for the 2013-014 term.

-- Got an update on the county's watershed structures. All are okay.

The Farwell Hospital District will meet at noon on Aug. 2 at the Farwell Care and Rehab Center.

On the agenda are discussions about charging rent for facilities occupied by J.R. Ivins and Lacey Meeks, updating the medical clinic sign and notice to Melinda Burney regarding her vacating the building.

New Lazbuddie School football coach Ken Hoskins said practices will start at 7:30 a.m. on Aug. 6.

Fallon Scanlan was named to the University of Kansas School of Business Spring 2012 honor roll.

Fallon, a graduate of Texico High, is a junior in management and leadership.

Mary Mesman will sell raffle tickets for a quilt at Border Town Days.

The proceeds go to St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina.

Steyn returns to preach here

The public is invited to hear former Farwell 5th and Avenue C Church of Christ preacher Phillip Steyn speak at the Sunday morning service.

Do you know of any Farwell track records in yards?

Farwell School is seeking to update its list of track and field records.

A board with the best school scores is posted in the foyer to the new gym.

School Supt. Mike Read noted that the track records deal with the meter runs, but not the older records that dealt in yards.

He hopes that folks who know about the older track records in yards contact his office at (806) 481-3371 and let him know. Or you can send a note to him at Farwell School, Box F, Farwell TX 79325.

Here's a look at the current school records:

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

We are starting to collect school supplies for kids in need. There will be bins to organize our supplies. They are not ready yet so just drop off the supplies in the small classroom on the south side of Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church.

You can also donate money for the cause.

We will be contacting school secretaries to see what families need help and then send out invitations. We will then have a day where kids can come and pick out their stuff! This way the kids can get excited about school because shopping is soooooo much FUN!!!

Thank you for helping make this outreach a success!!

God bless,
 Kristin Kasel

Texico City-Wide Clean-Up

First Baptist Church Texico Student Ministries will be providing a free service the community Friday, Aug. 3, from 8 a.m.-noon and 1-3 p.m. mst.

Students will cover every street in town and dispose of old furniture, tires, and junk too large for dumpsters for free.

Furniture and trash that is stacked in the alley by the dumpsters should be moved by residents to the front curb by Thursday evening, August 2, for pick-up. The city's disposal company will NOT remove large objects from alleys, and the students will not be touring the alleys, so it is important for everyone to pitch in and move the debris from their own resident alleyways to the front curbs.

Should there be special circumstances whereby individuals have heavy objects they are unable to move themselves to the curb, inquires for help should be made by August 2 via (575) 482-3632.

This effort will be a FREE service to the community of Texico and the students will pay to dump the debris at the Clovis Landfill from their activities fund.

going south past the Farwell Care and Rehabilitation Center and ending at the Farwell city park.

Helping out in this area will be Michelle Agee, who will be stationed at the railroad crossing, and Mike Read, who will be at the end point of the parade to direct participants where to park.

After the parade, which normally takes about 35 minutes, folks will congregate at the Farwell City Park for a large variety of food and entertainment, highlighted by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club's BBQ.

The BBQ opens immediately after the parade. Also at noon, the Merchants Giveaway starts. Thirty-three participating merchants are giving away goodies to folks who have signed up at their businesses.

A table manned by Farwell Care and Rehab Center personnel will be set up adjacent to the gazebo.

Announcements will be made every few minutes by Benji Henderson of who the Merchants Giveaway winners are and folks must collect their winnings immediately, or new names will be called.

At 12:30 p.m., the opening ceremonies at the gazebo will be held. Cindy Bermea will sing the National Anthem.

Then Texico Mayor Jerry Cunningham and Farwell Mayor Jimmie Mace will give their traditional welcome.

Honorary Parade Marshal R.L. Richards, who has resigned as Texico School superintendent for 22 years, will be honored.

Will Anderson will lead the dedication of the Farwell Obelisk.

Prizes will be awarded to the antique car, tractor,

County employees win State honor

Parmer County employees are literally "getting up and moving."

Seven recently took up a challenge issued by the State of Texas to be more active and live a healthier lifestyle. Not only did they accept the challenge - they won!

Parmer County's team recorded an average of 8,248 steps per day to bring home the title from the State.

Cheered on by Adult

Probation Officer Bruce Gipson, the group beat out all other "small" counties (counties with between 1 and 10 people participants) in Texas.

County Treasurer Altha Herrington helped organize the group for the statewide competition. She said, "We gave it our all."

She said that originally Parmer County had an individual challenge within the county for 8 weeks. After that period, the statewide challenge was issued for an additional 3 weeks.

Employees who signed up were issued pedometers that fit in their shoes to track each step they take during the day.

"After the first week, the State emailed us to say that we were in 3rd place. We couldn't let the other counties beat us, so we put it into high gear," said Mrs. Herrington.

At the end of the 3-week program, Parmer County finished 1st and earned the victory.

Texico Schools to sponsor Community Health Fair

On Thursday, Aug. 9, 2012, Texico Schools and REC-6 will sponsor a FREE Community Health Fair in conjunction with Kindergarten Registration. Activities are scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. mst in the Educational Complex.

Community Health Fair activities include:

- Kindergarten Registration (required for all fall kindergarten pupils).
- Pre-school screening is available for infants through 4 years of age.
- Parents must bring their child's birth certificate, Social Security card, Medicaid card, and shot records, and proof of residence for the screening and registration.
- Fingerprinting will be available for children for Child Identification.

All activities will take place in the Texico Educational Complex

We invite you to attend this year's Health Fair activities!

Bike contest nears

Registration is under way for the Border Town Day Decorated Bicycle contest. You can sign up at the State Line Tribune, 404 3rd St. in Farwell

Two brand new bicycles are being given away. Tedson Trailers and Master Tech Auto Service, both of Texico, have donated the two bicycles. One is for a boy and one is for a girl.

This year's BTD theme is "New Mexico Centennial."

Kids can dress up themselves and their bikes in honor of any part of New Mexico history, including famous folks from New Mexico, cowboys and Indians, cavemen like the 'Clovis Man' or even aliens.

Also, an anonymous donor has provided funds for cash prizes to be given away in each category.

The registration deadline for the contest is at 3 p.m. on Friday, July 27.

Contest honcho Gerri Bowers said youths planning to enter the contest need to register, giving their name and age, to be eligible for all the prizes.

The contest will be held one hour before the Border Town Days parade kicks off on Saturday, July 28. The contest takes place adjacent to the Citizens Bank branch in Texico. Entrants need to be there at 10 a.m. Texas time.

After the bicycle contest ends, all participants will ride in the parade to the Farwell City Park. A bicycle rack will be set up at the First Baptist Church lot since bicycle riding is not allowed in the park.

Prizes will be announced at the beginning of the day in the park activities at 12:30 p.m. Texas time, at the Farwell City Park gazebo.

All participants need to be on hand at that time to receive their prizes. No motorized bikes are allowed in the contests.

All riders must bring their decorated bikes and trikes to the west side of the Citizens Bank building in Texico by 9:45 a.m. Texas time.

You must be on time or you will not be judged, alerted Gerri.

She added, contestants need to be sure to stick to the theme "New Mexico Centennial" if they are going to be counted. The judges will be looking for adherence to the theme.

The contest is open to all area youths. Also, the BTD committee allows children and grandchildren of local folks to enter also, even if they live elsewhere.

There are two categories 7 and under, and 8-12 years of age.

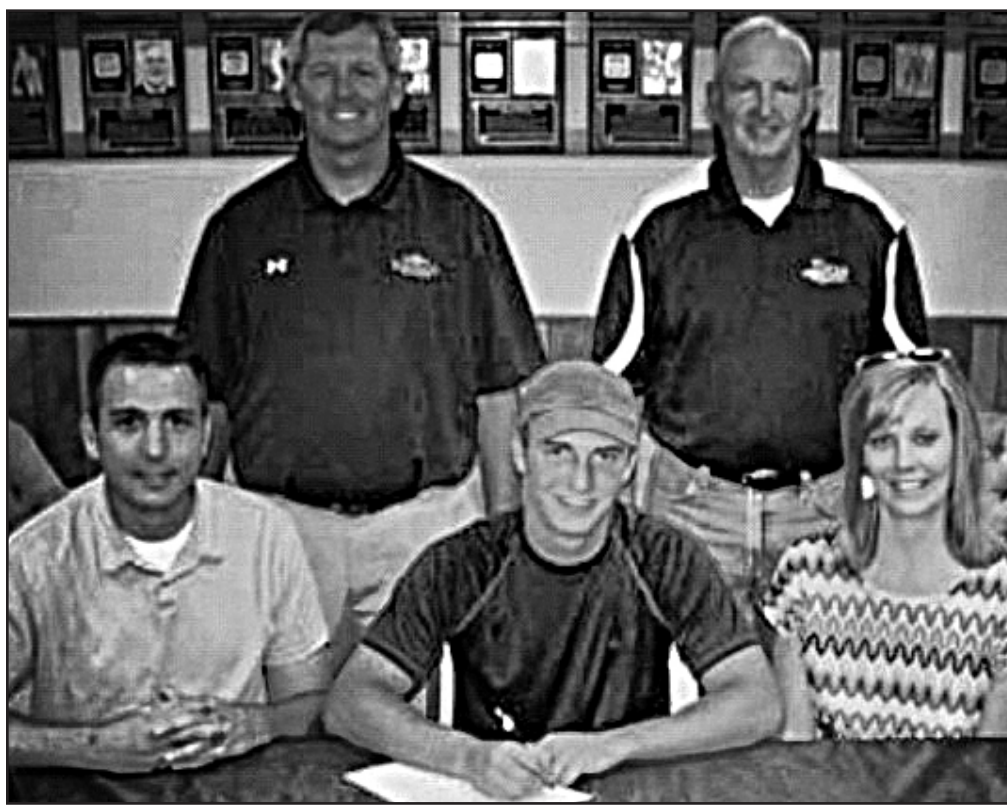

Cemetery group to have raffle at BTD

The Mt. Olivet Cemetery Association is having a 50/50 cash raffle at Border Town Days to raise money for ongoing restoration projects at the old Farwell cemetery.

The drawing will take place at 4 p.m. at BTD. Tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

Tickets are available at Farwell Hardware, the Beauty Box and from Roger Menning and David Kube. Tickets also will be sold at the park at BTD.

Half of the money collected from the ticket sales will be given away, said David Kube.

Ponder signs with Wayland Baptist

Branson Ponder, son of Rev. and Mrs. Russ Ponder, of Farwell, has signed a letter of intent to play baseball at Wayland Baptist University. Branson attended Farwell Schools for 3rd through 6th grades before the family moved away. He plays 2nd base and shortstop.

Dannheim sworn in as District Commander

Farwell's Bill Dannheim was sworn in as 18th District commander at last week's state American Legion convention in Houston.

The 18th District includes 24 Panhandle counties. Dannheim, who also is commander of the Parmer County American Legion post, reports they had a booth at Friona's cheeseburger festival last weekend, and hope to have picked up four new members at it.

The post will also have a booth at Border Town Days. "We would love for more county veterans to join our post, and we hope to see them there," said Dannheim.

The post is conducting a raffle to be held on Aug. 25. Prizes will be: 1st, new shotgun; 2nd, $100 worth of gas, and 3rd, 6 months free use of the Bovina Recreation Center's exercise equipment for two persons.

Tickets cost $5 each or 5 for $20 and will be sold at the post's booth at BTD.

Please make sure you read the legal ad for Bovina School pre-registration on Page 11.

It's important if you pertains to your family.

And the article on state changes for vaccination rules, elsewhere in today's Tribune, is vital for you to know.

Mustangs 2-a-days are just about to get started.

Looking at the schedule, it seems like a lot of traveling this year for the team.

Fillies are getting ready to attend a basketball camp at West Texas University in Canyon. The girls have been busy raising money to attend the camp with bake sales and car washes. I think they finally made it.

Vacation Bible School starts on the 30th at the First Baptist Church. Lots of works goes into preparing one of these. A big thanks to all of the volunteers who help put it on. It is great to see God's work, especially to serve the children of this community.

The Class of 2002 held its 10-year reunion at the City Park. They had lots of people who attended and had a good time catching up on old times.

The one traveling the furthest was Rocio Antillon, from San Antonio.

All other graduating class will have a reunion on Aug. 11 in Amarillo at the Fifth Season off I-40 and Coulter. If you want to attend, contact Darrel Read, 221 Morton Ave., Dumas, TX 79029, or you can go on Facebook to the Hay Hook Line Camp Gang and I am sure you can talk to some there.

Leticia Garcia-Truex's daughter Aryah, formally of Bovina, is a dancer for the play "TEXAS" performed at Palo Duro Canyon.

Aryah is the granddaughter of Eddie and Leti Gracia, of Bovina.

It has been a very busy summer for this young lady. If you get a chance to see her in "TEXAS," it would be great to watch a local do something special.

Aryah Garcia-Truex

God Bless and hance a great week.

Interesting Fact of the week: The famously told story of the Titanic being unsinkable was actually taken out of context back in 1911 by the Shipbuilder magazine, which published an article about its construction.

The article claimed with the ships doors closed it would be practically unsinkable. History proved that wrong.

Welcome to the 46th Annual Border Town Days

Enjoy all the fun activities on Saturday.

There are lots and lots of rides for the kiddies.

And the Big Parade looks like it will be great.

Believe it or not, football season is just around the corner. Sure comes up fast, doesn't it. Coach Hector Guevara reports that football practice will be held starting Aug. 6.

It will be held Mondays through Fridays from 7 to 9 a.m. and 10 a.m. to noon.

For the first practice, Coach Guevara reminds all players to bring their cleats.

"And show up with an attitude to WIN," he adds.

Speaking of football, the Tribune is seeking an adult who would like to cover games, either at home or away or both, for the paper. We pay folks to do this.

It really makes for a better writeup for our kids when we can find a writer. Since the two-person Bovina staff obviously cannot cover all our four schools' football games, you can see the necessity of hiring writers.

So, if you would like to cover some or all of the Mustang games, and be paid for it, please contact Rob Pomper at the Tribune -- (806) 481-3681 or email him at tribune@plateautel.net.

Sue Fowler reports 1.2 inches of rain arrived Tuesday morning.

A couple of weeks ago, the Tribune reported that the Bovina School Board was discussing the possibility of a bond issue for a new gym and wasn't sure whether to have the election in November or May.

Supt. Dale Fullerton reports that the May date has been chosen if the board goes ahead with election.

From Sept. 19, 1946: Mr. and Mrs. French Crook and family moved to Hedley, Texas.

Former Bovina residents Mr. and Mrs. Leo Hoffman have a baby girl. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Moorman and children spent the weekend in Levelland.

Harry Jackson has a new home under construction.

The state's Democrat and Republican primary runoff elections will be July 31.

You can vote at the EMS building. A very low turnout is expected since there are no local races involved.

A summary of all the races on both tickets is elsewhere in today's Tribune.

Reminders: St. Ann's Jamaica will be held on July 29.

Changes announced for State vaccination clinics

Farwell School nurse Lu Ann Fillpot reports that the Dept. of State Health Services will start a series of vaccination clinics like it has done in the past except for now they will be held at the Farwell Community Center.

Immunization clinics will be held Aug. 21, then in September, November, January, February and April at the center from 10 a.m. to noon and 1:30 to 3 p.m. Watch for notices in the Tribune.

There are many students who must receive their immunizations before school starts or they will not be allowed to attend school on Aug. 27.

If parents have any questions, they may call me at 481-9131, ext. 5. Leave a message and I will be checking in throughout the summer.

There are some important federally-mandated changes for parents to note:

If the child has Medicaid or CHIPS, the parents must bring the Medicaid/Chips card with them to the clinic.

If the child has insurance that does not cover vaccinations, they will qualify for vaccinations at the clinic.

If the child does not have insurance, Medicaid or CHIPS, they will qualify for free vaccinations.

The DSHS is requiring parents to bring the vaccination record with them to the clinic. If parents do not have a record, they may drop by Mrs. Fillpot's office at Farwell Elementary School and she'll print one out for them.

These new rules are changes from the federal level. I suppose there's not a lot we can do about it.

For parents whose children are insured and they're having difficulty finding providers that can vaccinate insured children.

K & K Pharmacy, at 1411 W. American Blvd. in Muleshoe, will vaccinate all children (insured, Medicaid, CHIPS, cash) without an appointment. Their phone number is 272-7511.

Kristine Isaacson, the registered pharmacist and owner, will also come to Farwell School and hold a vaccination clinic if there would be enough students to attend that needed vaccinations.

She will file with the insurance companies, Medicaid, etc.

Most physicians will give vaccinations in their office, too.

Hutchins joins Friona staff

Friona's football team has a definite Farwell flavor to it this season.

Former Steers head coach Mike Prokop now pilots the Friona Chieftains, and one of his assistant coaches is Farwell High grad Daniel Hutchins.

100 Years

Farwell Texico Las Alamos Clovis
Boyna

Of the State Line Tribune

by J. Claude Wells

From the latter part of 1907 to December 1909, the frontier towns of Texico and Farwell were pioneer in scope and action. Those were the years I spent there, holding on to a 160 acres northwest of Texico and the other time in a home 3 blocks northeast of the Parmer County Courthouse in Farwell.

While holding down the claim, I rode a bicycle to and from our half-dugout to Texico to work for the Texico Daily Trumpet as a part-time reporter and printer.

We were supposed to spend six months on the claim, pay $200 and get the patent to same. By that time, though, some people had put together a plan to contest the claim when they knew the settler was able to make final proof. Many would buy the contesting party off - by paying anywhere from $25 to $100.

We decided not to pay money when we were notified our claim was contested. When the contest was dropped, we then got our patent to the land, and moved back to Texas.

Early days in Texico were exciting. Every other man, who was neither saloon keeper, gambler or merchant, was a dealer in real estate. Several firms made plenty of money locating visiting land hunters on claims over various parts of that area -- sometimes those who filed would find, upon surveying, they had been shown a nice quarter section several miles away from the poor quarter their filing papers showed.

When any visitor got off the train, he was contacted by from one to a dozen would-be land agents between the depot and hotel. All pitching their sales talk to the tune of "You can't beat the bargain I offer."

Texico's main street for two blocks was lined with businesses, from a National Bank, large general mercantile stores, and smaller merchandising firms to several eating places and some dozen saloons, where drinks and chances to gamble were provided in each.

The days were usually quiet and people could go about their business without worrying about the chances of being molested. Many nights it was different.

Loud talking, drunken staggering men, saloons were beehives of activity with drinking and gambling going on, and not too infrequently fist fights would provide entertainment for onlookers. All in all, peace officers were usually successful in keeping activities

Farwell Booster Club to elect officers

The Farwell Booster Club will have its first meeting of the new school year on Aug. 2 at 7 p.m. in the high school library.

The meeting is primarily for electing officers. Current positions are held by: Aimee Herrera, president; Molly Stancell, vice president, and Hayley Christian, secretary-treasurer.

If you are interested in having your name put on the ballot, please call Mrs. Herrera at (575) 219-5500 by July 26.

Ballots will be available at the beginning of the meeting and voting will take place during the meeting.

Other items on the agenda will be the two-a-days snack schedule and field house decoration and snack schedule for the upcoming season.

Mrs. Herrera said, "Please invite anyone you know to our meeting who may want to join. We are looking forward to another Year of the Steers and Lady Blue!"

Marriage Licenses

The Parmer County clerk's office last week issued a marriage license to Serafin Vazquez and Angelica Gallagher.

within bounds.

One day, Carrie Nation, of hatchet fame, was to visit Texico and lecture. The cab driver, before the train came in, was bragging to all that he was not going to allow Carrie to knock a cigarette out of his month as she had been noted to do elsewhere.

Plenty were at the train when Carrie got off, walked to the cab, asked the cabby to drive her to her destination, and quicker than the eye his cigarette went flying through the air.

In November 1907, a big snow storm came and citizens began to worry about not having much coal on hand. They wired the Santa Fe Railroad headquarters to send coal. A freight stopped on its way west and several noted some cars of coal tried to chain one car to track but the engineer pulled out without completing his switching duties.

By using scrap wood and such until the blizzard passed, no one suffered much from cold. From then on, coal dealers stocked up on sufficient fuel through the winter.

Before settlers plowed up a lot of land, grass was plenty good and high and during the winter season grass fires put on quite a show, sometimes endangering property. Everyone turned out to check the blazes before they spread to the whole country.

The Santa Fe had a line from Amarillo to Roswell, then built a line west toward Belen out of Texico. The company started a town know as Riley Switch 10 miles west of Texico. The promoters of same let it be known that they intended to make the new town (which they called Clovis) the division point.

We Texico and Farwell people scoffed at the idea. We lost. They took up the track toward Portales and connected Portales with Clovis, made Clovis a division point, and that new town continued to grow to the present time. Texico began to dwindle.

During the years we were in the Twin Cities, the Capitol Land Co., with Judge J.D. Hamlin as resident manager, brought buyers from the East, and sold them Texas land that is now proving to be the best in Texas.

Train loads of possible customers would be unloaded and taken by autos east through Lamb and Bailey counties -- many of them buying land and later improving same.

It was my pleasure to be with Judge Hamlin on many occasions. He was one of the finest and most competent gentlemen to ever set foot on the Texas Plains soil.

There were no roads suitable for auto travel east of Farwell until Capitol Land Co. had two flat-breaking plows connected auto wheel width part shallow furrows for autos to follow.

During those days, that part of West Texas was unsettled, except for a few ranches. Antelope were numerous and sometimes hundreds could be seen in one herd.

While working for the Texico Trumpet in 1908, I had a hair-raising experience. Wife and baby were visiting her parents and I stayed in town instead of going to and from our claim, and the evenings were spent in the Trumpet office reading and writing.

Before that week, a gambler and bawdy house keeper had married a preacher's daughter in Texas, brought her to Texico and placed her in a two-story rooming house directly across the street from the Trumpet office.

After some days there, it turned out that he had tried to get his bride to be the bawdy house madam, which she refused. One day we in the office heard a scream, rushed to the door in time to see her stagger and fall on the second story porch of the rooming house. The poor girl had taken poison and died immediately.

Leroy Loomis was our managing editor and R.D.

Edgell our city editor. One or the other editorially lambasted the husband for the next two or three days.

The husband sent word he would kill whoever wrote the editorials. Edgell waited at the Trumpet office several nights hoping the gambler - bawdy house keeper would show up, but he didn't.

It was just after this that I stayed in town a few nights, and the gambler showed up as I was sitting by the coal stove reading.

"Where is the man who wrote about me?" were his greeting words as he entered through the front door. "He is not in town," I replied.

"You'll do," he said, reaching for his hip pocket with one hand and knocking me out of the chair with the other hand.

"This is it. I am a goner," was my instant thought. My hand had fallen on an iron rod which we used for a stove poker.

I came up with the rod swinging as he was getting his gun pointed.

The rod cracked his wrist bone, causing him to drop the gun. As he staggered back, he brought out a gun from his other pocket with his other hand. I threw the poker at him and ran into him with all my might as he fired, the bullet missing my head.

Facing death and realizing same must have given me additional strength, because we went to the floor and twice more he tried to point his gun at my head and twice I would divert the bullets and they entered the floor by the side of my head.

I weighed about 120 lbs. and he weighed about 190 lbs. Hearing people coming to the door, he jerked loose and ran out the back. It was the afternoon of the next day that a posse found him at the Hassell Ranch some 25 miles east of Farwell, brought him to Texico, and then it was then that I learned of his broken arm.

He spent six months in the Portales Jail and then his trial came up. His father was a district judge in Texas who defended his son. Instead of finishing the trial, the court and defense came to an agreement. The father agreed to pay a $1,000 fine, take his son home with him and be responsible for all his future actions. The last report I heard about the son was that he was a lieutenant in Pancho Villa's army in Mexico.

Immediately after the fight, the whole town formed posses and searched until after midnight for the would-be assassin. The president of the First National Bank of Texico led one of the posses and carried a hang rope. It seems the gunman had gone into a Chinese laundry in a dugout not far from the Trumpet office and when things quieted down walked the rest of the night and next afternoon to reach the Hassell Ranch, where he was captured.

Another sidelight to the story during that 25-mile walk was that the broken arm caused a lot of suffering and fever caused him to get thirsty. Passing a field a few miles from Farwell, he saw a jug by a fence post. He swallowed quite a bit before he could stop. It turned out to be lubricating oil.

Aycock wrote cemetery history

Editor's note: In 1986, Farwell's Chris Aycock wrote a history of Olivet Cemetery as part of his Eagle Scout service project. With David Kube now heading a committee to restore this historic landmark, the Tribune is reprinting Aycock's report:

Olivet Cemetery is located two miles south of Farwell on State Line Road and was the original cemetery for Farwell, and many prominent citizens of Parmer and Curry counties are buried there.

The Capitol Freehold Land and Investment Co. deeded the land where the cemetery is located in 1908 to J.D. Hamlin.

The first sale of cemetery lots occurred in May 1910, according to the Parmer County deeds records, in a sale from Hamlin to Florence Armstrong.

The earliest burial there was apparently in 1907, before the land was deeded to Hamlin.

The oldest marker shows only the name "Essie," the words "At rest," and the dates "1898-1907."

The newest grave is that of William J. Jones, Corporal, U.S. Army, World War II, who was buried in August 1981.

In 1928, W.E. Howren, of Amarillo, surveyed the land which had been designated as Olivet Cemetery and repaired a plat of the site. The plat which was never recorded shows the cemetery to be 6.36 acres divided into 6 sections and 525 lots surrounded by roads and including a small "park."

From the deed records, it appears the last recorded sale occurred in 1926. But judging by the number of folks buried there, many sales occurred which were never recorded in the deed records.

Many important citizens and their families are buried at Olivet.

The Feb. 3, 1908, issue of the Farwell Times, stated, "J.D. Hamlin was employed by the Capitol Syndicate Co. to handle their lands and open up the town of Farwell. Practically, he may be considered the founder of each of our twin cities."

Both J.D. Hamlin and J.M. Hamlin are buried at Olivet. J.M. Hamlin served as Farwell School's first board chairman.

Also buried at Olivet are members of the Hassell family, who were mass murdered, and several war veterans, including some from the Civil War.

In 1973, Hugh and Wilma Mosely, of Farwell, conducted an extensive survey of Olivet. They determined that about 100 people are buried there, though only 11 people have recorded deeds to the lots.

--Mike Pomper

There was an exchange on Capital Hill in Washington, D.C., last week that summed up the economic morass in our nation.

Fed Chairman Ben Bernanke testified on the economy before a Senate committee, which included Chuck Schumer (D-NY).

At the end of Bernanke's testimony, Schumer urged him to step up his efforts to right the economy, and Bernanke simply gave a small smile in return.

Bernanke should have responded, "Well, Senator, the ball is really in your court. It's up to Congress to take strong action."

But Bernanke couldn't since that would have been politically incorrect.

That simple exchange sums it all up. Congress is in denial. As I've written in the past, Congress normally handles big problems by throwing money at them. But now, Congress is out of money, so it is confused.

I know that sounds simplistic, but it's the truth. Congress is confused. And Schumer is a complete jerk for trying to pass the buck.

I know that's something you don't want to believe. And I don't blame you. But the leadership of our nation is in the toilet, and that includes the administration.

President Obama is busy running around the country criticizing Gov.

Romney for how he ran an investment company years ago, and that Romney is not turning in enough old tax returns.

Who cares? What I want to do is why our president is not throwing himself 100 percent in to the fight to lower unemployment and right the economy.

The answer is obvious. Our president doesn't have the answer, considering the adversarial situation in Congress and lack of compromise.

What Mr. Obama should be doing is having the GOP and Democrat leaders over for drinks some evening, and talk about the good of the nation and what it will take to improve things.

Instead, they are not talking.

The fact is that the liberal economic policies of the current administration are a failure and Mr. Obama cannot admit to that.

But what really cracks me up is that those failed policies will continue -- with a huge negative impact on all Americans and our children -- because Mr. Obama is favored to win re-election.

Let's hear it for the voters. ***

Friona State Bank has been strong since its beginning in 1908. In 2008 we celebrated our 100th anniversary and we're still going strong. The majority of our directors are from Parmer County, and in the farming and ranching business.

We invite our friends far and near to stop by and visit with us about our banking services and products; you'll find us to be friendly and service oriented, and like our motto says, Friona State Bank is "Where People Come First."

Along with the normal bank products of checking, savings and loan accounts, we have a very active senior bank club called the "FSB Gang".

We at Friona State Bank are going places - And we'd like for you to go with us!

Texico, Farwell seniors said back when ...

Each year, the Tribune publishes an article on the Texico and Farwell seniors who started their educational careers in these two schools.

Here's what the students, then kindergarteners, had to say about their likes and dislikes a dozen years ago:

FARWELL

Lydia Gomez liked to play with her Barbies. She didn't like to clean her room.

Chelsea Bass liked to play with her brother, and visit Nana's and Papa's home.

Victor Moreno likes to ride his bike and watch Pokeman cartoons. He didn't like eating beans or having people scream at him.

Cassidy Martin liked to ride her bike, swim and go to the park. She didn't like spinach, picking up her toys or cleaning her room.

Estrella Meza liked to ride her bike. She didn't like to clean.

Bretton Stancell liked motorcycle riding, going to the mountains, playing with cousin Caitlyn, and playing with toy cars. He didn't like salad, girls' stuff, shots and scary movies.

Tomas Germain liked drawing, playing with his brothers, Nintendo 64 and watching cartoons. He didn't like hamburgers (plain and dry) and cleaning his room.

Hayden Hadley liked to ride his horse, Desperado; ride his bike, and 4-wheeler with his dad. He didn't like onions or green beans.

Clara Reyes liked bowling, ballet, basketball and gymnastics. She didn't like it when her baby brother burped and spit up.

Collin Christian liked fishing, football, and riding bikes and 4-wheelers. He had no dislikes.

Kayla Cullison liked to play with her brother and friends, swing, color and play with her Barbies. She didn't like cleaning her room.

Caitlyn Stancell liked to ride her bike, and help her dad with the cattle. She didn't like to lose any teeth or the devil.

Adilene Garcia liked to eat sopas huevos.

Olivia Schilling liked to paint, do arts and crafts, and use play-doh. She didn't like brussel sprouts or cleaning up messes.

Elizabeth Pereda liked to collect flowers. She didn't like menudo and ensalada.

Ruben Gutierrez liked to play basketball and play with his Play Station. He didn't like getting sick.

Cheyenne Rodriguez liked to collect rocks, and play soccer and basketball. He didn't like peanut, butter and jelly sandwiches.

TEXICO

Morgan Cary liked to play with cars, ride her bike and play with her dog, Barkley. She didn't like going to bed.

Margarita Garcia liked to dance, sing, paint and write. She didn't like vegetables.

Michael Harrison liked to play baseball and computer games, and go biking. He didn't like being sick, eating pickles or crashing on his bike.

Lindsey Foote liked her dog and riding her bike. She didn't like taking naps.

Zachary Madrid liked to eat, go to the park, ride his bike and do puzzles. He didn't like mustard or onions.

Sabra Barnett liked horses, swimming and drawing. She didn't like the water cold.

Kyler Miller liked the outdoors.

McKenzi Mayfield liked running, swimming and soccer. She didn't like messy rooms, the wind or taking out the trash.

Uriel Munoz liked to watch cartoons, play Nintendo and listen to music. He didn't like picking up his toys.

Diana Maldonado's favorite food was pizza.

Rallin Harris liked golf, basketball, football, swimming and soccer. He didn't like mean people or mosquitoes.

Yahaira Estrada liked to play with her dolls.

found the appropriate path.

I realize that some folks don't give a hoot nor a holler at all this history stuff. I have one Farwell friend who has pointedly said that he never looks at such.

But I have received enough feedback to believe that most folks like perusing days gone by through the eyes of our area pioneers.

I'm a history buff, as you all know. And I think it's good to see where we came from, how the area got populated, and how folks made it work.

Now don't get me wrong, we will continue carrying historical pieces and photos, just not on the regular weekly basis as it has been the past year.

But, all in all, it's been a special time for us at the Tribune to recount so many fascinating stories that helped make Texico-Farwell what it is today.

Notice is hereby given that Farwell Emergency Medical Service has been granted a variance from the Texas Department of State Health Services to allow operation of an ambulance staffed with only one (1) certified EMS volunteer and one (1) non-EMS certified driver when necessary.

This variance is good 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, was effective on July 10, 2012.

A public hearing was held at Farwell City Hall, 100 9th Street, Farwell, Texas, on May 8, 2012.

Farwell EMS joins area system

Weldon Kube, director the Farwell EMS, reported to the Farwell City Council on July 17 that the EMS recently joined the South Plains Emergency Medical Services System.

This system provides medical direction and training to local EMS departments. So far, Kube feels positive about the change.

He also said there are 3 local people taking EMS training classes in Bovina. ne person is almost finished with the licensing process.

He said call volume has been down recently, which is a good thing for the area.

The EMS department is getting quotes on a new ambulance for Farwell. The old ambulance is almost 13 years old and a replacement may be needed soon.

State regulations call for safety corrections for old ambulances but the new one will meet mandated standards. The council asked for a report next week on the progress for ambulance bids.

In other news, the Council:

-- Approved building permits for Rafael Serna to put a new roof on a house at 302 7th St.; for McCutcheon Construction to build an addition to Farwell Elementary School; for K-Bar Texas Electric to provide electrical and plumbing for the new school addition; and for Robert Lucio to put a new roof on houses at 305 7th St. and 110 9th St.

-- Discussed two proposed two revised ordinances for the city.

Ordinance 187 would allow city employee Gerald Porter to issue a citation to anyone violating a city ordinance. This type of ordinance has been recommended by the state to alleviate some of the demands on the police officers.

After licensing, Porter will be a Code Enforcement Officer for the city. If any violation of city code or ordinance is not corrected, Porter can issue a citation that includes an appearance date to discuss the matter before a judge.

Ordinance 188 is an adoption of the 2012 edition of the International Property Maintenance code. This code is also mandated by the state and deals with regulating and governing the condition and maintenance of property, buildings and structures within Farwell.

It provides standards to ensure that facilities are safe, sanitary and fit for occupation and use. It also provides more authority to condemn unfit buildings and demolition of such structures. The city also would have the authority to issue permits and collect necessary fees.

The council agreed to move forward with these two ordinances and will discuss approval at next month's meeting.

-- Enrique Gonzales requested permission to put a manufactured home at 7th Street and Avenue D. He described the home as a 'nearly new' double wide that will reside on a foundation.

The Council agreed to follow the normal procedure of sending letters to all the neighboring properties asking for their permission. If no neighbors object to the manufactured home within the 2-week deadline after receiving the letters, his request will be granted. If anyone objects, the request will be denied.

-- Passed a motion to proceed with fencing the new Distribution Center site outside Farwell. he center will have an 8-ft. solid metal fence on the perimeter with two gates. The construction of the fence will begin as soon as the county levels the property.

-- Discussed the Richard Gulley property at 405 2nd St. It contains a house and accessory building that was damaged by fire recently. The property sustained structure damage and is declared to be over 50% damaged.

Gulley was given notice that he has 10 days to repair or demolish the structures. He has the option to file for a permit giving him a 60-day extension for that time.

If the property issue is not resolved, then the city will proceed with a hearing to decide how to deal with the property. The city could possibly condemn the property or demolish it and put a lien on the property to cover the demolition costs.

-- Heard a report from the water department that they are currently cleaning up areas to get ready for Border Town Days. This week they will be painting the playground equipment. The gazebo is also being re-roofed.

The purchase of the new lawnmower is complete and city employees have been trained for safety.

Another report from the Texico-Farwell News

'Mr. Whitener will finish shearing sheep next week'

Here's another in the series of articles from the Texico-Farwell News, which was published in 1917 to 1919.

There were two big stories in the June 4, 1919, issue.

One was for the 4th of July celebration scheduled for Texico-Farwell. But the big headline was actually larger than the one-paragraph story that simply said "a good program is being arranged. A man of note will be here to make the principal address of the day. Plenty of music, both vocal and instrumental, will be a feature of the day.

The second story talked of the recent Decoration Day (now called Memorial Day) exercises at Pleasant Hill. The crowd was estimated at 3,000 -- coming in 170 automobiles and 20 other vehicles - buggies, carriages and wagons.

Supt. Bazzill of Pleasant Hill School presided and Rev. Culpepper gave the principal address. Mrs. Noah Whitener gave a piano solo. And Rev. Nix gave the welcome.

There were other important local stories on Page 1.

Ola Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Moore, who lived southwest of Texico, died when he was struck by lightning. Ole was 18 years old and had been married a year.

The death of J.S. Massey, a civic booster, died at the age of 52 of typhoid. He arrived in Farwell from Tipton, Okla., in 1917. A former school teacher, he was Plains country agent.

Page 2 was full of "wire stories"-- non-local. They included info about war time alcohol prohibition act which continue into the 1920s; the importance of Americans owning their own homes; and the national women's suffrage movement.

Page 3 featured "Town Topics," which included:

Miss McDonald, former postmistress at Bovina, visited the Twin Cities on business.

K.K. Runnels was an Amarillo passenger yesterday.

A.E. Swadley met with an accident last week which left him a badly bruised finger.

Miss Essie Temple had a narrow escape last week when a team ran away, throwing her to the ground, dislocating her hip.

Ruth Curtis, who had been visiting her sister, Miss Ovail, last week, returned to Clovis yesterday morning.

Miss Pauline Anthony, of Elida, visited at the home of Rev. Thurston for a few days.

W.C. Towne, architect, was down here from Amarillo. He brought with him the full plans, drawings and specifications for the Cannon Ball factory building, which is now under construction.

Estelle Hawkins, 2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Hawkins, of east of town, was kicked by a mule Tuesday. Dr. Foote was sent for and found the child had only received a severe flesh wound.

Page 4 had a large ad from A.E. Swadley saying he had taken charge of the Highway Garage with the expectation of staying here. He formerly was with the Texico Garage. His motto was "Clean and Fair Dealing."

Several local businesses have been around for awhile

The State Line Tribune isn't the only local business that has been around awhile.

Here's a look back at some of the others:
 Farwell Service League was originally formed as the Theta Rho chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, chartered in 1951. The original members were Dardanella Helton, Nell Walling, Maxine Ford Williams, Julia Symcox, Dorothy Quickel, Jeanne Graham, Iris Price and Modena Carter.

The Texico branch of Citizens Bank opened on June 14, 1965. Bank manager Bill Christian was assisted by Mrs. Kay Kamradt and James Ussery.

Mesman Dairy was opened in 1968, starting with 110 head of dairy. Ben and Mary were helped by their four children - Bernie, Ted, Tom and Johana.

Farwell Chamber of Commerce was organized in 1946. Among its achievements were: paid the costs of the election to incorporate Farwell; paid for a feasibility study for a sewer system; fostered street paving projects; and built and gave Farwell its city park.

Kelly Green Seeds was founded in 1962 by Mr. and Mrs. Pat Patrick. Jerry Monk started to work there in 1971. After Mr. Patrick died in 1973, Jerry managed the business until buying it in 1982.

St. John Lutheran Church was founded in 1921 with six families as charter members. Services were held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graf, located about 5 miles northwest of Lariat. The present church building opened in 1953.

Fransé Irrigation -- Ralph Fransé began working in the irrigation business in Portales in 1946. He moved to Farwell in 1954, and bought Fransé Irrigation in 1979. His family continues to operate the business.

Graham served as Bovina School Supt.

From the 1971 Tribune:
 Mrs. B.N. (Irene) Graham came to Farwell in 1916. Since arriving, she has spent much of her time participating in activities at the local Methodist Church. She taught Sunday School for youths and adults for 15 years. She was president of the Women's Missionary Society for about 25 years.

She married B.N. Graham in 1911. They were both teaching school at Kress, where he was school superintendent. After getting married, they moved to Bovina where he became school superintendent.

B.N. took the position of county and district clerk, which at that time was one job and they moved to Farwell. They had five children.

When they moved to this area, Mrs. Graham said she found "more saloons in Texico than anything else."

She said a drug store and grocery store, owned by Baylor Triplett, the oldest merchant in Curry County, were where Rip's Western Wear became. Today, it's the home of GHC Labs.

"In Farwell, there were two big wholesale stores. The building housing the State Line Tribune and Aldridge Insurance used to be a wholesale store."

When she first moved here, the county courthouse was located two blocks away from where the present building stands.

Mrs. Graham said residents got their water from wells or cisterns in the early days.

There were quite a few fires, too, she recalls. She

The Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority was organized in 1977. Its original officers were Sheree Montgomery, Janice Fant, Julie Lingnau, Kendale Burch, Gloria Hutchins and Kitty Johnson.

Farwell Hardware was placed at its current location about 1952 by Clay and Irene Henson. The building earlier had housed a Hudson dealership for Walter Hardage. Neil Stewart bought the hardware business in 1974, and later his son, Ricky managed it, then sold it to Steve and Cindy Meeks.

Security State Bank opened in 1925, founded by Belva and Gabe Anderson.

The law firm of Aldridge, Atkinson and Rutter was founded by John Aldridge and Sam Aldridge in 1932. The Aldridges practiced in the firm until their deaths in 1968 and 1977, respectively.

remembers several buildings burning down, including a two-story hotel which was located on the spot where the water tower now stands.

There were both good and bad things happening in the early days of Farwell, she said.

Once, she heard men talking outside her house. When she went out to investigate, she found three or four men on horseback driving a herd of cattle across the prairie.

"They were trying to get across the state line before the sheriff caught them," she said.

She also proudly said, "We never locked our door back then. In the West it was that way. Those were the things that made the bad experiences disappear."

Mrs. Graham still lives in the house she lived in when arriving in 1916. When the Grahams first lived here, the surrounding area was prairie, and the town of Farwell was located where the courthouse and park now are.

All of her children attended the old yellow schoolhouse, which was then covered with red brick.

Articles on the page included "Fairfield Facts." Tidbits noted that Miss Della Boone was visiting friends and relatives in Clovis; and a party was given for Miss Lola Moss of Union community who was leaving for the Summer Normal at Las Vegas.

There was a Pleasant Hill column penned by "Trixie", which noted:

-- Mr. Whitener will finish shearing sheep next week.

-- Mrs. Sam Snodderly has returned from Iowa.

-- The Woodmen had an unveiling ceremony Friday.

-- The oil men are visiting Pleasant Hill now.

-- Mr. Emery Colwell, who is attending the State University, will be home about the 15th.

And the "Hurley Items" column noted:

-- Last Thursday, the Hurley Broom Co. shipped 76 dozen brooms to various points in New Mexico and Colorado.

-- The community sale on May 31 was well attended and everything from chickens, cattle, horses, household items. The day's sale amounted to over $1,000.

The Red Cross sold three quilts that brought $14.75. The baseball boys cleared $25 on ice cream. One feature of the sale was a registered Poland China hog, bought by W.G. Gwinn.

And an ad for the Modern Cafe had these prices: breakfast, 50 cents; regular dinner from 11:30 to 2, 40 cents; supper, 50 cents; and Sunday dinner, 50 cents.

Xcel Energy is running a contest for its subscribers on its Facebook page www.facebook.com/xcelenergy.

The page will feature trivia questions. Customers can enter once a week until Sept. 3. Grand prize is $1,000. Seven runners-up will win $100 each.

Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church will have a Vacation Bible School on Aug. 6-9 from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m.

From Monti Vandiver, Parmer County extension agent - IPM:

Crops have progressed very well over the last 10 days or so, slightly lower temperatures have helped moderate moisture demands a bit. A few scattered and very isolated rains helped those fortunate enough to be in their path.

We are still in need of a good area wide rain as crops are demanding more moisture than most irrigation systems can supply.

State Sen. Kel Seliger, whose area includes Parmer County will have a town hall meeting Aug. 2 from 10:45 to 11:45 a.m. at the old Depot, 700 Main St., Friona.

New Texico School Supt. Miles Mitchell said he will continue to also have the athletic director's post.

Mitchell was hired as Texico athletic director earlier this summer, then was appointed to the superintendent's post by the school board a couple of weeks ago.

Bob Curtis reminiscences

Grain elevators – a wonderful invention

By Bob Curtis

Years ago, someone came up with the idea of the grain elevator.

It would be a large storage facility where farmers could bring their grain products to sell or store what they had grown. It would be built next to the railroad so grain could easily be shipped to where it needed to go.

This is basically all the elevator did, but for some young boys this was a place where you could have a most exciting adventure that only a few got to have.

Most people thought it was just a noisy, dusty place that attracted pigeons. This was far from the truth. I was one of the lucky few that experienced what really happened at the elevator.

When I was about 5 years old, my mother, Mrs. Willard Curtis, introduced me to the elevator at Lariat. She used to haul the grain my dad grew.

Back then, they dumped the grain on the ground in big piles, then loaded it into trucks to be taken to the elevator. My mom was one of the people who got to load the grain into the truck. She scooped grain into an auger that took it up and into the truck. This was back-breaking work but my mom did it with a smile because she knew she was making life better for her family.

I got to play under the truck in the shade. Remember, I was only 5 and not much help when it came to scooping. Once my mom got the truck filled and was ready to go to town, she would put me in the truck and we were off.

I remember standing in the seat leaning against her as she drove. It was okay back then for a kid to stand in the seat. Seat belts had not been invented yet and you could lean against your mom as she drove.

Lots of things had not been invented back then. I guess that's why they called it the "good old days." My mom worked very hard so she probably didn't think the days were that good. I was lucky to be with her in the field and not home with a babysitter the way a lot of kids are today.

I was fixing to have a wonderful adventure few little boys ever got to have. At times, I thought I might wet my britches because I was so excited. I don't think I ever did, but that is how excited I got.

Sometimes, when we got to the elevator we would have to wait because other trucks might be ahead of us. Soon the scales would be clear and it would be our turn to weigh and unload. I had no idea why we had to weigh but we always did.

My mom had to drive the truck into a small building that was alongside the elevator. She had to put the front wheels up on a small ramp. Once she did this, she got out of the cab and got her scoop to help the man at the back of the truck. I wasn't exactly sure what she did but I knew scooping was involved and the adventure was about to begin.

All of a sudden, the front of the truck started to go up. I went up and up just like my rocket ship. I could

Farwell home designated a historic landmark

One of Farwell's oldest homes was designated a Texas Historic Landmark by the Texas Historical Commission in the 1980s.

Known locally as the Aldridge house, it was recorded by the Commission as the Hopping-Aldridge house in honor of its first two owners. Located at 710 4th St., the building is currently owned by Mack and Bonnie Heald.

The house was built between 1915 and 1917 for R.C. "Coke" Hopping, Parmer County's sheriff from 1910 to 1918. It was purchased by James and Minnie Aldridge in 1918. Aldridge succeeded Hopping as the sheriff, with his term starting in 1919.

It remained in the Aldridge family until selling to Heald in 1981.

Architecturally, the house is a two-story, foursquare design-frame structure with two coats of wire and stucco applied over the wood siding. This technique was sometimes practiced in this part of Texas, with the resulting structure of this type called a Prairie Style building.

It's one of the few homes of this style to be found in this part of the Texas Panhandle.

In 1984, the house received an exterior restoration that consisted of replacing the bannisters that had previously been removed. All wood and stucco surfaces were painted in colors that were used in the era that the house was built.

The Hopping-Aldridge house is the first residence in Parmer County to receive a state medallion.

see the moon go by. Then a red planet and one with rings around it. There were stars everywhere and the clouds looked like someone had spilled milk all over.

This was the best thing I had ever seen. The most exciting thing that ever happened to me. I was in outer space and I was the only one there.

After a couple of minutes, the truck started to go back to earth. When I landed, my mom climbed back into the truck. She didn't even act like she knew I had been gone. I had seen the moon and planets and millions of stars and she hadn't even missed me.

Then we started back to the farm to get more grain and begin another adventure back at the place they called the elevator.

Things have changed since. Large trucks haul grain to the elevator. They pull in and the truck's floor opens up and the grain falls into a big hole.

The worst thing of all is that no more moms are driving the truck with a 5 year old riding shotgun. No more little boys learning against their mom as she drives down a dirt road, no more rocket trips to outer space and, most of all, no more little cat naps taken by a little 5 year old boy with his head in his mother's lap.

I guess maybe they were the "good old days," but sometimes I think that progress just stinks.

Thanks for the memories, mom.
