Circumventing The Law

Someone in the office of Mountain States Telephone Company is having a fine time giving the horselaugh to certain subscribers who didn't want their phone bill to be any higher.

Some member of the New Mexico's State Corporation Commission is secretly very pleased and happy about the result of recent "hearings" on the rate hike problem.

Most people are back in the sticks when it comes to fooling the public; they don't know how it is done. But now they can take a lesson from what has happened.

Here is the phone company's formula:

(1) Get a lot of publicity about "public" rate hearings. Build it up big enough so that there will be no doubt as to your sincerity and true feelings.

(2) Publicize the meeting place and get people to come out to the meeting, but be very certain to conceal the program.

(3) Now that the stage is set and the gullible public is in view and ready to state their part of the case, drown them with technical testimony, deluge everyone attending with statistics which have already been heard and re-heard, make the commissioners, the lawyers, and especially those who are potentially against your proposal wallow in propaganda of your making. Take up, say, eight hours with continuous bellowing, and gleefully watch the people dwindle from a hundred to a mere two!

Then there will be no mentionable opposition to your proposal, and you will have vindicated yourself against any possible comeback by proudly proclaiming that you have given the public a chance to tell their opinion.

Your bid will pass with ease.

This is not a fairy tale or a theoretical case from a textbook. The case above took place in Portales last week.

Quoting from another journal, "The Portales hearing room was packed with about 100 spectators as the hearing opened, but this number had dwindled to about 10 by the time the hearing ended that afternoon.

"Most of the testimony consisted of technical information given by the telephone company's tariff and rate engineer. He spent a major part of the day answering questions and explaining how his company figured rates."

We all live and learn, but this is one lesson we should not forget.

A Ford Motor Co. executive reports that wages and salaries paid by U. S. corporations have increased 75 per cent in the last 10 years, while profits as a per cent of sales have declined 35 per cent. This, he says, demonstrates that wages and not profits are a major inflationary influence.

Sports Scoreboard

Farwell's track squad tested Friona in a two-school duel Wednesday. We don't know the results of this second meeting, but the Steers learned a lot from Friona in their first clash.

There are plenty of track prospects on hand at the local school, with the coach reporting 30 boys attending the practices.

Not much time remains to put the team on its feet. The district meet is the afternoon of March 29, in Friona.

Farwell's '58 version looks to be better prepared than previous editions. Coaches and instructors are now trying to find the combination to get better team effort out of individual performers.

The Steers should shine in the mile relay, and since they have enough hopefuls on hand to enter the maximum number in every track event, look for those "seconds" and thirds" to add up to quite a total.

Farwell looks strongest in the mile relay, but could come through in the weights division as well.

Basketball lettermen have been announced for the '57-58 season at Farwell High School. Seniors who will not be back next year are: Glyn Hardage, Derrell Garner, and Doug Tucker.

Junior who should lead the team in coming season are: Gerald Christian, Johnny Lovelace, Dickie Williams, Owen Huffaker, Jimmy Martin, Freddy Magness and Phillip Berry.

Freshmen eligible to compete on the varsity squad next season are: Benjy Dial, Carroll Huggins, J. F. Mount, Tommy Williams, Bill Owen, and Tommy Barker.

The basketball season ended with the Steers in the same place they've occupied the past two years. . . second.

This year, they tied with Sudan for the position, and likely it will take a flip of the coin to decide where the trophy finds a home.

Almost a month after the district track meet, Farwell plays its first baseball game. With this in mind, it's not too disturbing to note that only nine players have reported thus far to Coach Calvin Murray for baseball. Some of last year's baseball lettermen are the stalwarts of the track squad.

Those nine reporting for baseball are: Jerry Turner, Owen Huffaker, Billy Smith, Jerald Gober, Mickey Rundell, Jimmy Martin, Cyrus Dale, Jack Goldsmith, and Buster Harriman.

Of course the squad will be filled out by track men who are already busy with another kind of practice.

The annual spring meet, with district schools participating in literary and athletic events will be held March 28-29 in Friona. A part of this spring athletic program is volleyball. The meet will be in Farwell High School's gym Tuesday, April 8, at 5 p.m.

Grade school and freshman divisions will compete here April 21 at 4 p.m.

Here's a sports oddity—Morton, the team which beat Farwell by four points to win the district, lost to Plains in the regionals. Plains went ahead to take the region championship, and goes to state playoffs this weekend. Where's the oddity? Well, in regular play, Morton whipped Plains twice, and once it was not even close!

Farwell's 1958 football season schedule has been released. The Steers will play teams all the way from class B through

Mrs. Etta Welch Buried Tuesday At West Camp

Last rites for Mrs. Etta Welch, long-time resident of the area, were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the West Camp Baptist Church by Rev. Stanton Jones and Rev. Lewis N. Johnson.

Mrs. Welch, 83, died Sunday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Roy Faris, of Clovis. She is survived by four other daughters and one son.

They are Mrs. E. E. Hughes of Farwell, Mrs. Nova Knowles of Sonora, Calif., Mrs. Leona Booth of Reno, Nev., Mrs. Alton Kent of Portales, and Herman Burns of Houston.

Pallbearers were her grandsons, Carroll Faris, Leon Faris, Edwin Foster, Tommy Kent, J. C. Hughes, and Leroy Hughes.

Meals would be better if there were fewer recipes and more home cooking.

Randols Return From Meeting

After closing a meeting at the East Side Church of Christ in Morton February 23, Ebb Randol, minister of the Farwell Church of Christ, drove to Abilene to attend the 40th Lectureship at Abilene Christian College.

He was accompanied to Abilene by Mrs. Randol and they visited with their granddaughter, Glenna Ruth Davis, a sophomore at ACC.

The couple also participated in a pay-a-day program at Lubbock Christian College and was honored by the college Monday when they celebrated their 40th wedding anniversary.

These soldiers are taking courses initiated and led by their chaplain, Reverend Martin Werner. More than two hundred Swedish soldiers are preparing themselves for a happy marriage on their return home. The first ten lessons have dealt with the history of marriage. Later other aspects will be taken up such as ethical and social, the psychology of love and the doctor's view of married life. ### Texico Deadline Set March 24

Persons wishing to file for city offices in the City of Texico have until March 24 to do so.

Some misunderstandings have come about; persons have mistaken the deadline for the democratic primary in Curry County (March 4) for the filing deadline for city elections.

This is not so. The city has the right to set its own filing deadline, and anyone wishing to file has 18 more days to do so.

Dickie Will Speak At Farmer's Union Meeting in Farwell

Alex Dickie, state president of the Farmer's Union, will be the featured speaker at an area Union meeting Tuesday evening, March 11, in the Farwell School cafeteria.

The Farmer's Union, sponsor for the meeting, is inviting area locals from the area to attend, plus the general public. Locals expected to be on hand include those from Lazbuddie, Friona, and Bovina, the latter community which is now in the process of organization.

Dickie, a farmer-stockman from Denton in North Texas, has been president of Texas Farmer's Union for several years, and is well acquainted with Union policies and goals. He has appeared before Farmer County audiences several times but this will be his first trip here this year.

The meeting is to begin at 8. Frank Seale, Farwell FU president, emphasizes that the meeting will not only be public but will be a "family affair," and wives and children are invited to attend.

Charlie Phillips and his "Sugar-timers" will furnish entertainment for the meeting.

Reports will be heard from Guy Austin and Elmer Hargrove, who have just returned from a Union-sponsored bus trip to Washington.

Sorghum Producers Get Prizes, Plaques

Prizes of checks, plaques and premiums were awarded to 4-H and FFA members who were winners of the 1957 grain sorghum contest in Parmer County Monday night at the Hub community building.

A meeting of the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Producers Association was the occasion at which county officers for the next year were elected.

The winners of the 4-H division are Johnny Mabry, first, 9027 pounds; Danny Murphy, second, 8793 pounds; Joe Bob Johnson, third, 8244 pounds; Mike Ellis, fourth, 7429 pounds; Cooper Young, fifth, 7376 pounds; Dickie Clayton, sixth, 7341 pounds; Steve Young, seventh, 7218 pounds; Gerald Foster, eighth, 6435 pounds; Carrol Redwine, ninth, 6091 pounds; and Harrol Redwine, tenth, 6091 pounds.

Other contestants, in the order they placed, were Loyd Bradshaw, Gary Foster, Odis Bradshaw, Floyd Reeve, Richard Chitwood, Gary Beauchamp, Randy Price, Jerry Cass, Johnny Miller, Tommy Tatum, Julian Berry, Jerald Gober, and Dale Gober.

FFA contestants and winners are Leon Wilson, first, 7899.4 pounds; Leon Massey, second, 7192 pounds; Roy Dodson, third, 6424 pounds and Dickie Steelman, fourth and fifth, 5500 and 5192 pounds.

Others in the order which their places followed are Gerald McGehee, Clyde Redwine, and Bomar Stacy.

Mabry and Wilson were awarded plaques for first place and a $50 check each. Other winners were presented ribbons and checks from the Grain Sorghum Producers in decreasing amounts for the various places.

The presentation of the ribbons climaxed a program during which the contestants described the operations which they carried out to produce their crop.

Wilson — "Shredded stalks from previous crop, disced, deep broke, knifed, and planted in double rows on 40-inch centered beds. Applied 100 pounds of anhydrous ammonia per acre and sidedressed with phosphate in bands, located under the roots. Watered three times."

Mabry—"Cut stalks, listed and pre-watered with six inches, planted on 10-inch row spacing at a rate of 12 pounds per acre, drilled with grain drill on May 15 and watered four times."

Bill Nelson, marketing specialist of the Plains Grain Sorghum Producers Association, spoke on the research and development which the Association is sponsoring, and the need for additional activity in these fields.

He displayed several products that have been developed through research, including cooking oil, syrup, starch, dog food, and clothing care products.

"We need to promote grain sorghum and the use of the products and by-products of our crop. Other commodity groups are doing this, and we must support and aid research to get wider usage of our product."

"There is also need for agronomic research to develop specific varieties of grain sorghum. Companies have indicated that they would use grain sorghum for oil, for example, if the content of oil were about one and one-half percent greater."

"There is a possibility that different areas will one day devote their acreage to production of a specific milo crop for use for its oil content," the marketing specialist said. Nelson, who joined GSPA last summer, was a staff member of Oklahoma A&M College as agricultural economist.

Explanation of the Association's legislative program was made by W. L. Edelman of Friona, who represented the group at commodity meetings held earlier this year.

The program that the commodity groups are favoring, and one which is in the form of a bill before the legislature, is a staggered price support for farmers who would choose to defray part of their acres for conservation practices.

The price support for a farmer who planted 90 percent of his total allotment would be 60 percent of parity, for 80 percent planting—70 percent of parity, for 70 percent planting—80 percent of parity, and for 60 percent of planting—90 percent parity.

Along with this program would be a plan through which a calculated amount of surplus crop would be issued for sale or feeding.

"This plan would decrease our surplus two ways," Edelman explained. "Surplus crops would dwindle away, and acres diverted would not be producing more surpluses. Prices, too, would increase to the level of supply and demand."

"This program would not cost the USDA a fraction of the money that is being applied to the present program," Edelman said.

During an election that followed Edelman's speech, W. L. Long was elected new president. Long is a farmer of the Hub community, and has served the past year as vice-president of the County group.

Long succeeds Arlin Hartzog, who presided at the meeting.

Others elected were two directors, Fern Barnett of the Black community, and Jack Smith of Lazbuddie.

The new directors replace Pete Braxton of Black and John Gammon of Lazbuddie.

The list of directors now includes Hartzog, John Renner, Truman Kent, Bob Wilson, and Long, besides Barnett and Smith.

Prune Trees Carefully

Prune trees for a purpose, says Miss Sadie Hatfield, extension homestead improvement specialist. Plan carefully and prune moderately. Severe pruning or "de-horning" can permanently deform and injure trees.

Prune trees to make the place more comfortable, convenient, safe and attractive. Often trees can be shaped to improve their appearance. Low hanging limbs can be pruned off so that the lawn will be open and look more spacious. The health of the tree can be improved by removing dead, diseased, or injured limbs.

Use good tools to do the job. A pruning saw and pruning shears are needed to remove diseased or injured limbs or to nip back high branches to make a tree form a dense shade.

Watch your pruning technique! Make clean cuts, flat or flush with the main limb or trunk. Stubs left by improper cutting may cause rotting of the heart wood. You may need to treat cuts on large limbs by painting with a pruning compound, such as orange shellac, to hasten healing. Most trees make oils to cover small cuts. Generally, horticulturists advise putting nothing at all on a cut 2 inches or less in diameter.

If pruning is done now, spring growth will soon hide the cuts.

Preshrunk Fabrics

When possible, buy fabrics for home sewing that have been thoroughly shrunk by the manufacturer. This saves time and insures continued fit and satisfaction. Cottons, linens and washable fabrics should carry a guarantee on the label of shrinkage not to exceed one percent.

When there is any doubt in your mind as to the shrinking quality of fabric, preshrink the material at home before cutting, advise extension clothing specialists.

To preshrink washable cottons and linens, follow these directions:

Fold the fabric very carefully into several thicknesses so there are no wrinkles anywhere in the yardage. Place the folded material in a large pan or basin of warm water and then into cold, being certain the water penetrates into every thread.

Press the water out of the folded fabric; do not wring. Then hang the material over a rod to dry. Do not hang on a clothesline with the fabric pinned along the selvage, since this might cause it to pull out of shape. Press when almost dry, being careful to keep lengthwise and crosswise threads straight.

Foolish men work all their lives in order to be able to rest without understanding that they can rest almost any time.

The Friona boys met February 25, 1958, at the school. President Joe Bob Johnson called order and called the pledge leader to lead us in the pledge. Then the meeting was turned over to Joe Jones, county agent. Kim Buske bought a record book and Danny Murphy reported on the meeting at Farwell. The group chose two committees to display different things to use for their projects.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The Parmer County Soil Conservation supervisors held their regular business meeting Monday, February 24. Those present were A. L. Black, chairman; Carl Schlenker, vice-chairman; Bruce Parr and George Crain, members.

Black presented the highlights of the state convention of soil conservation districts which he and Parr attended. The convention was held last month in Corpus Christi.

Only one change was made in the election of officers. Parr was elected secretary of the board.

Plans have been made to send after the rest of the dirt moving equipment which has been obtained by the district. This will be done in the near future and the supervisors are also making plans for the handling of the equipment.

The time of the year is approaching when a good cover on the land is very important. Crop residue management is one of the most important soil and water conservation practices today. Organic litter on or near the surface of the soil serves as a protective coat during extreme weather conditions.

It cuts down the rate of evaporation and keeps the soil open for free movement of air and water which is vital to the living organisms in the soil. This will in turn make increased yields for those who utilize their residues. The use of soil conservation practices, such as crop residue utilization management, means good farming.

THE FARMER FARMER
by W. H. Graham Jr.

Both the Farm Bureau and the Farmer's Union are driving hard for memberships in Parmer County this month. Both are reporting success in their efforts.

Monday night, Farm Bureau oversubscribed its goal of 650 members and is hoping for even more. Last month a local in Farwell was organized for Farmer's Union, and now they are talking about a chapter in Bovina, too. Lazbuddie and Friona had previously been the organized locals in the county.

The fact that both of these organizations compete in the same field for the same things is at times curious. It is even more curious to see that both appear to be picking up steam, so far as membership and interest in general is concerned.

Farm Bureau and Farmer's Union both have the same ultimate goal: improvement of agriculture. Often, however, they are poles apart in economic ideologies, which, in practice, boil down simply as means of attaining this common goal.

Outsiders and even farmers themselves shake their heads in wonder at the diversity of thought that organized farmers sometimes come up with. These differences are more easily understood, however, when viewed under the light of comparison with other areas of human endeavor.

The Christian religion, for example, is broken up into the Roman Catholic faith, the Eastern Orthodox faith, and Protestantism. Within Protestant peoples themselves are found hundreds of denominations, including many of the major ones such as Baptists, Methodists, and so forth.

When dealing with the human element on such a large scale, it always develops that there are schools or sections or segments that find common feelings among themselves and break off from the parent body. The wonder is, then, that there are but three major farm organizations in the United States today, the third (not mentioned in this column already) being the National Grange.

It is more or less natural that when competing groups such as Farm Bureau and Farmer's Union are active in a common area, frictions will develop. There have been some ruffled feathers and hot words exchanged from time to time on the county scene, but on the whole, we believe that most observers will have to agree that things have been fairly well constrained, considering the differences involved.

While some may decry the fact that there are any differences at all, and say that now is the time for farmers to be united instead of divided, we would remind that such idealism is seldom attained in a democracy, where freedom of thought and expression are supposed to be encouraged instead of conformity.

We also would like to point out that farmers are beginning to take stock of their affairs and the condition of the world around them, and try to make an alignment with existing circumstances instead of "fighting the tide" or doing nothing more than complaining.

Farmers of today are considerably better educated to the socio-economic problems that have brought about and are continuing our farm difficulties than they have been in years past.

Simply their interest in and affiliation with these farm organizations (no matter what political faction they cling) fosters a broadened understanding of agricultural difficulties and opportunities, and points the way toward an enlightened solution of many of the worries that plague the modern farmer.

Legislation now pending in congress could change this, especially because this is an election year, but the word has leaked out, "unofficially," that grain sorghum prices set by the USDA for 1958 are averaging three cents lower than corresponding prices for 1957.

Farmers now making plans for 1958 should keep this in mind. Prospects are uncertain that prices stand any chance of improvement. However, it appears fairly certain that they will be no less than three cents lower than 1957 supports, and possibly be raised, depending on the outcome of bills now under study in Washington.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU
By RAYMOND EULER

Reports of workers on the membership drive at the directors meeting last Thursday night indicate that the total will be well over 600, perhaps 650, the goal set for the year. Jack Patterson, membership chairman and Gilbert Kaltwasser, president, join the other officers, directors and workers in requesting that, if you were not contacted during the drive, you bring or mail your dues in to the office in Friona.

You will soon be reading of 1958 activities of the Farm Bureau Weed Committee. We believe this will be the fourth year of its operation. New organized cooperations in this work are members of the Certified Seed Growers in Parmer County. Their participation will be appreciated and helpful.

Harry Hamilton, legislative chairman, has contacted senators and congressmen of Texas in an effort to get labor laws relaxed regarding Mexican Nationals available for the Plains area. It seems that there is a shortage of these workers that will become acute before the regular period of increased availability. This situation was discussed in the directors meeting last Thursday night, and President Kaltwasser told Hamilton it was within his authority to take any needed action on such matters without further board action.

We kind of wonder if this personal idea of the writer is not in accord with the people of this area: That it is a little disgusting that our political people are going right over from the sputnik matter in looking to the Russian regime for inspiration to the water development subject. Because we believe that it is better for us to look, as our fine forefathers, politicians and leaders did, to God, and His people of faith and leadership for our direction of development in morals and material improvement.

Consider this: He that tilleth his land shall have plenty of bread: but he that followeth after vain persons shall have poverty enough. Proverbs 28:19
