Commissioners Protest Longer Pheasant Season

Parmer County Commissioners discussed the lengthening of the pheasant season during its Monday meeting at the county courthouse in Farwell. They noted that the letter of protest which they had written to Charles D. Travis, executive director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, had been received and reviewed, but that no changes in the new regulations allowing the season to be extended would be made. Interested parties may express their views by writing to Travis in Austin, Tex. 78744.

Commissioners also discussed the problem of sprinkler systems on county farms. They again ask that farmers be careful how they place the systems so as not to cause accidents or injury which might result in possible liability to the owners of the systems.

The Court also agreed to protest Docket No. 2672 which is the proposed rate increase by Southwestern Bell presently pending with the Utility Commission.

In other business, they voted to pay workman's compensation insurance in the amount of

Texico School Ups Lunch Fees

At its Tuesday meeting Texico School Board voted to increase the price of school lunches for the coming school year. Student lunches will now be 60 cents each and adult meals will be priced at $1. Jim Pierce, superintendent, said $14,060 for the ensuing year.

Soil erosion work was also approved for the following persons: Precinct Three: Toby Booth, Don Gerles, Jim Curtis, $25 each; Marlon Inman, $50; and Bruce Billingsley, $12.50;

Also, Precinct Four: Ken Russell, Jennings Land and Cattle Company and Ag Air, $25 each; Precinct Two: Norbert Schueler, $25.

the increases were necessary because "it costs more to prepare the meals."

The Board also accepted the resignation of Virginia Loera, secretary.

Board members attending were Herman Gerles, Mike Spearman, and Greg Martin. Also attending were Pierce, Marcia Leavell and Mrs. Manford Turnbough.

SHERIFF'S REPORT

Parmer County Sheriff's officers have been investigating several burglaries and cases of vandalism.

Three juveniles from Summerfield vandalized a railroad right-of-way two miles east of Black. Damages in the amount of $800 were done to a two-ton truck and forklift.

Vandals also slashed the tires of a stock trailer at the ag barn in Farwell. Pudge Rose is the owner of the trailer.

A farmhouse owned by Mrs. Vern Owen three miles northwest of Bovina Feeders was burglarized and several items were taken including women's clothing, clock radio, eight-track tape player and heating pad.

Six International tractor weights were taken from the Joe Blair farm four miles south of Farwell. The fuel tank in the back of a pickup was also vandalized.

A gas meter was broken off at a residence on Avenue D between Sixth and Seventh Streets in Farwell.

Fortenberry Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Paul Fortenberry has heard three cases since the last report.

Victor Betancourt, 59, of Clovis was fined $100 plus court costs for driving while intoxicated. Juan Thomas Alfaro, 27, of Amarillo was fined $100 plus court costs for DWI.

Three Farwell Girls Attend Government In Action Tour

By Shirley Gorman

Three Farwell girls have recently returned from an enjoyable and unforgettable trip to Washington, D.C. The local participants in the Government In Action Youth Tour sponsored by the Rural Electric Company are Sharmy Christian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy Christian, and Penny and Lisa Hughes, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hughes.

Sharmy will be a junior and Lisa will be a senior at Farwell High School this fall, and Penny will be a sophomore at Temple Junior College.

Twenty-four states participated in the tour and a total of 39 youths and five chaperons were part of the Texas contingent. On June 8, everyone from Texas met in Denton to get acquainted. Later they traveled by bus to the Capitol stopping overnight in Memphis and Knoxville, Tenn.

The entire tour of Washington, D.C., lasted approximately 4½ days, but it was a thrilling experience for the three local girls.

"Riding on the bus was a lot of fun," Penny said, "because everyone got to know each other so well. We played a lot of fun games too."

"Everyone became so close that we didn't want to part in the end," Lisa said.

"I wasn't too enthused at first," Sharmy said, "but after the first day I really started enjoying myself and didn't want to go home."

The brief tour of our nation's Capitol kept the local girls quite busy. The first day in Washington, D.C., they attended a reception for Congressman Kent Hance from Texas and representatives of the Rural Electric Company. They each had their picture taken with Congressman Hance. Later, they toured the city.

The second day was "Rural Youth Day" with the youths from the states which participated in the tour getting together to tour the White House, and to listen to a talk by Chip Carter.

President Jimmy Carter was to address the group, but it was cancelled at the last minute.

That evening all the youths in the tour group enjoyed a disco dance at their hotel.

The next day was reserved for touring the high points of Washington, D.C., including Arlington Cemetery, Iwo Jima Monument, and the Smithsonian Institute. After five hours, Lisa, Penny and Sharmy agreed that they had seen only a small part of the 11 buildings which make up the institute. But they did see the rocket which went to the moon, Charles Lindbergh's plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," and the Hope Diamond which was small and blue in color. They also saw stuffed animals from all over the world. Later they took a cruise on the Potomac river.

The final day of their stay in Washington, they visited the Washington Monument, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing where money is made, and visited Mt. Vernon and saw Thomas Jefferson's grave.

Every night the Texas contingent sang songs and often got the youths from the other states to join in with them. Since they were so

Mae Martha Johnson Extension Food Specialist

Dear Food Focus:

I like to use fresh garlic but I have trouble getting the skin off the cloves. Can you help me?

Frustrated with Garlic

Dear Frustrated: It will be easy if you give the unpeeled clove of garlic a light tap with the handle of a table knife before peeling. The skin will come right off.

Dear Food Focus:

I've found that parsley is an inexpensive way to make a meal look really fancy. But the bunch always wilts before I can use it all. How can I keep it crisp?

Using Soggy Parsley

Dear Soggy: Wash and trim the parsley and put it in a wide mouth jar with the stems down in about an inch of water. Cover and refrigerate.

Or, better yet, grow your own parsley either in the yard or in a pot in a sunny location. It will replace the leaves as you pick them and you can have fresh parsley all the time.

Dear Food Focus:

Man has the weather been hot lately. In fact, about the only, cloudy thing around is my iced tea! What am I doing wrong?

Steaming in Socorro

Dear Steaming: Tea contains tannins, compounds which react with hard water to form a precipitate which causes cloudy tea. It can also happen sometimes with soft water if the tea is steeped too long.

There are several things you can do that may help. You can use distilled or bottled water. Bottled drinking water will give better flavor than distilled

The Now Washbasket
By Steffne Miller

Judging from the letters we get, it seems that homemakers will never stop asking for tips on removing stains from the laundry. Here are some strategies for stains:

1. Treat stains immediately, so they don't become permanently set. If immediate treatment isn't possible, blot the stain with cool water, then treat it the first chance you get.
2. Be sure the garment is colorfast before applying a stain remover, and stay away from chlorine bleach as a stain remedy. You risk damaging the fabric, color or finish of the garment. Instead, use a chlorine-free laundry additive (such as Borateem Plus) or a pre-treat product. They contain enzymes, whiteners and brighteners that remove stains without harming any washable item.
3. Wet the stain with cool water, cover with laundry additive, scrub gently; then launder. (You'll boost the cleaning power of your detergent by also adding 1 cup of Borateem to each washload.)

NOTE: Some stains are especially stubborn and may require more than one treatment.

Begin Planning Entries For Curry County Fair

Get a head start on the Curry County Fair, Begin now, take advantage of this summertime for planning and preparing your entries for showing at the Fair, September 4-8, remind Fair officials. Competition at the Curry County Fair is open to the world except as noted in the Curry County Fair Book. So begin preparation today to be part of one of the biggest county fairs in the country.

The Curry County Fair has exhibitor classes, both junior and adult, for all types of livestock, agriculture products, both field and garden varieties. The Home Economics Department includes food, clothing, hand work, crafts, photography, and a flower show. Mrs. Diane Porter, superintendent of Canning, says to remember when canning that all canned products must be exhibited in regulation canning jars, either one pint or one quart. No other containers will be accepted.

One jar shall constitute an entry. Labels must be placed one-half inch from the bottom of the jar. Pickles will be opened and tasted.

Vegetables, fruits and pickles will be judged on selection, as to uniform size, shape and ripeness; color, natural color of vegetable or fruit; pack, whether it is economical and uniform; the conditions of solids - are they firm but tender; condition of liquid - clear.

The Canning Department is divided into the following classes: vegetables (best pt. or qt.); fruits and berries (pt. or qt.); pickles and relishes (pt. or qt.); catsups and sauces.

Jelly, jams and preserves are to be exhibited in standard jelly glasses or in pint jars. All preserves, jellies and jams will be opened in judging. Meat may be beef, pork, fried or stewed chicken, sausage, chili, mincemeat, or fish. These products will be judged on appearance - pieces of uniform size, with little but not too much fat. The pack should be solid, economical and attractive; the condition of liquid, clear and jellied. It should have a flavor and odor of freshly cooked meat.

For further information, pick up a Fair Book at the Extension Office in the Courthouse, or phone 762-0296.

Pinching Calories To Save Pounds

Ideal weight loss should be no more than 3 pounds per week. From the age of 25 years, your calorie needs decrease by about 10 percent each decade. Diet foods can be a help, but their use alone will not result in loss of weight. All foods provide calories and should be counted when trying to lose a few pounds. Differences of 15 to 20 calories between foods are insignificant when the daily reduction should be as much as 1,000 calories for some of us. Learn which foods are concentrated sources of calories and, depending upon the food, eliminate them altogether or use them only in smaller amounts.

Chattanooga Choo-Choo

The lively New Mexico Lions Band performed many spritely numbers recently as they played at the International Convention of Lions Clubs in Montreal, Canada, but perhaps none so peppy as this skit to the tune of "Chattanooga Choo-Choo." Dondra Geris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Geris of Farwell, left, was the "train's" caboose for this performance staged at a shopping mall in Montreal.

Perform For Parents

Before leaving for Montreal, the New Mexico Lions Band performed for their parents on the campus of New Mexico State University in Las Cruces where they had been practicing and "tuning up" for the International Convention of Lions Clubs. Dondra Geris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Geris of Farwell, who toured with the band, is pictured second from right, standing.

Dondra Geris --

Band Student Performs In Montreal

By Shirley Gorman

Band has opened many a new door for Dondra Geris of Farwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Geris, but perhaps none so thrilling as the opportunity to play with the New Mexico Lions Band and to perform in the International Lions Club Convention parade in Montreal, Canada.

"I enjoyed meeting so many different people," Dondra said. "Since there were only 35 of us everyone became real close and it was hard to say good-bye."

Dondra and the other band students from across the state of New Mexico gathered at New Mexico State University campus in Las Cruces June 16 to begin a grueling practice regimen designed to get them "in shape" for their Canadian performances.

The first practice session was six hours long and it included marching exercises.

The following day -- Sunday -- they again practiced for two hours following church attendance and a steak dinner. Later that evening the energetic band students, directed by Jerry Hoover, NMSU marching band director, performed in concert for their parents.

Dondra's mother, brother Steve, and sister Lisa, were present for the concert. Later the New Mexico Lions Band performed for freshman orientation.

After a final practice session Monday, the band traveled by plane to Montreal. The trip which lasted from 6 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. included a four-hour layover in Chicago.

According to Dondra, the Lions Club parade was "very long." "We were number 62 and that was not even halfway through the parade entries," she explained. "It took hours for the parade to complete its designated route."

The New Mexico Lions Band performed prior to the Montreal Expos baseball game with the Cincinnati Reds in Olympic Stadium. Following their performance, they stayed to watch the game.

Twice -- on a Thursday and Saturday -- they performed outside of the Montreal Convention Center. On Saturday, though, the weather was rainy and cold.

In addition to playing musical selections, the band also performed skits. Dondra took part in two skits. She was the caboose to the tune of "Chattanooga Choo-Choo" and was one of a group doing a Mexican hat dance. She also performed two solo numbers.

Besides playing in the New Mexico Lions Band, Dondra, and the other students enjoyed sightseeing and shopping. One treat was visiting old Montreal. Even though French was the predominate language they did not have any trouble communicating, she said.

The cleanliness of the large Canadian city amazed the Farwellite. "We saw men washing the streets and going about picking up trash. Everywhere we went it was very clean and trash free."

Some familiar sights also greeted the tourists, including a two-story McDonald's restaurant complete with the Golden Arches. Another whole

"I would like to thank the Texico-Farwell Lions Club and everyone who contributed toward my trip," Dondra said. "It was truly a wonderful experience."

block area in the city featured many restaurants specializing in foods of many different countries.

Dondra also observed Canadian women with tattoos on their cheeks and people with their faces painted blue in honor of a saint's holiday.

They also visited several malls which were carpeted and air-conditioned and some were built underground.

While in Montreal the band members stayed at the YMCA along with the other bands which also performed in the Lions Club parade.

Dondra said she was thrilled to be a part of the New Mexico Lions Band for 1979 and she expressed a desire to return next year when the band will perform at the International Lions Convention in Chicago.

Deadline Nears For Natural Gas Filing

Farmers who purchase interstate natural gas for agricultural purposes will not be eligible for priority use requirements unless they file a request with their local distributors by July 15, Texas Attorney General Mark White said Monday.

White said many High Plains farmers may not be aware that they need to request Priority 2 treatment by that date.

The Priority 2 classification entitles all essential agricultural users of natural gas purchased from interstate pipelines to 100 per cent of their current requirements.

The new classification system is part of a natural gas curtailment plan adopted by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission. The plan is scheduled to go into effect November 1.

White said that after users file their requests with their local distributors, the requests will be reviewed and forwarded to their interstate pipeline suppliers by July 30.

It Only Hurts When We Laugh Dept. The following statements are exactly as they appeared on car insurance claims filed by some unlucky — and still dazed — motorists:

- a. "To avoid hitting the bumper of the car in front, I struck the pedestrian."
- b. "An invisible car came out of nowhere, struck my vehicle, and vanished."
- c. "I saw the slow-moving, sad-faced gentleman as he bounced off the hood of my car."
- d. "The indirect cause of this accident was a little guy in a small car with a big mouth."

Seventy-five percent of all traffic accidents causing death or injury occur within 25 miles of the victim's home. Half of all car accidents occur at speeds below 40 mph. Moral: Seatbelts aren't just for freeways or long trips.

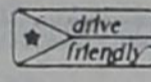

The government claims the 55 mph limit saves gasoline. Does it really make much of a difference?

— O.R., Pampa
Yes, it does, both to the individual and the nation. As your car's speed increases, so does its wind resistance — a big factor in gas mileage. Most cars can get about 28 percent more miles to the gallon at 50 mph than at 70. At 55 mph your mileage is 21 percent better than at 70. (That's a saving of four out of every twenty gallons!)

If consumers used less gas, demand wouldn't be so great and (hopefully) prices wouldn't rise as high. And we might avoid California style rationing and gas station waiting lines. The Federal Highway Administration says that if everyone went 55 mph, we could save three billion gallons of gas a year. That ain't no drop in the bucket... or tank!

Oh, Well, Back To The Old Drawing Board... The idea of motorized transport fascinated but baffled inventors for centuries. Even the great Isaac Newton couldn't solve the problem. Sometime in the late 1600's, after figuring out the mathematics of the Law of Gravity, Sir Isaac designed a jet-propelled steam carriage. Unfortunately, it would have required operating speeds in excess of 700 miles an hour, somewhat impractical for the muddy roads of the time, so the idea was shelved.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

STANDING, WALKING AND RUNNING FOR GOD

In a way the Christian life is a stand; in another it is a walk, and in another, a race.

In 1 Cor. 15:1 the Apostle Paul writes of "the gospel... wherein we stand" and in Rom. 5:2 of "this grace wherein we stand," while in Gal. 5:1 he bids us: "Stand fast... in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free." Perhaps all this is well summed up in the appeal to his beloved Philipians:

"Therefore, my brethren, dearly beloved and longed for, my joy and crown... STAND FAST IN THE LORD, my dearly beloved" (Phil. 4:1).

But the Christian life is more than a stand—it is a walk (which in Scripture refers to conduct).

Once, says Paul, we walked "in trespasses and sins" (Eph. 2:1,2), but having been saved by grace, through faith in Christ, we are now to "walk in newness of life" (Rom. 6:4). In his epistles the apostle also bids us to "WALK WORTHY OF THE LORD" (Col. 1:10), to "walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise, redeeming the time, because the days are evil" (Eph. 5:15-17).

But the Christian life is even more than a walk; it is a race. Sad to say, some Christians whose "walk" is consistent and commendable, have never come to look upon the Christian life as a race. They never put enough into it so that it might be said of them that they are running. Yet the same great apostle wrote, by divine inspiration:

"Let us lay aside every weight, and the sin that doth so easily beset us, and LET US RUN WITH PATIENCE THE RACE THAT IS SET BEFORE US" (Heb. 12:1).

The word "patience" in this passage points to the fact that the Christian life is not a short "hundred yard dash." Nevertheless we, believers in Christ, should put into it all that we have. "They which run in a race," says the apostle, "run all," but they do not all receive the prize. Hence the admonition: "So run that ye may obtain" (1 Cor. 9:24).

Those who have not trusted Christ as Savior have not even begun to stand or walk, much less to run a race for Him. These might as well forget rewards until they first accept "the gift of God... eternal life, through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Rom. 6:23).

TIPS FOR GARDENS AND FLOWERS

BE A LEAF WATCHER

Check foliage regularly to see whether insects or fungus are damaging the leaves; if so, spray with insecticide or fungicide.

If you see many undersized leaves that are paler green than normal, this indicates a nutrient deficiency, usually of nitrogen. Apply a complete fertilizer to correct this situation.

The wilting of new leaves, or curling up of leaf edges, generally indicates that the plant needs some water.

LETTUCE LORE

Leaf lettuce is six times as high in vitamin A and three times as high in vitamin C as head lettuce. Both are good sources of fiber.

If you think lettuce makes you sleepy, you may be right. An old materia medica calls it "a feeble hypnotic".

When you harvest lettuce, if you cut the stem slightly above ground level you'll often get a second crop of sprouts from the cut end.

Overmature lettuce may taste bitter, so make small and frequent seedings and harvest at top quality, or younger.

SAVE SEEDS

If your own vegetables are something special, try saving the seeds. But keep these facts in mind. Seeds of different vegetable varieties have different longevity. Corn and onion will germinate for one year. Bean, carrot, and pea seeds are viable for three years. Beet, cabbage, cucumber, radish, tomato and squash seeds are good four years or more.

Starchy seeds or seeds with hard coats keep the longest. Dry seeds carefully several days in the sun before you store them.

Instead of picking all the flowers, let a few wither naturally and set seed. Seeds are ready when "petals" are quite dry and seeds beneath them have turned dark and firm.

Collect seeds in labeled envelopes then spread them on paper towels to dry, remove dried chaff, and return to envelopes for storage. Or gather and sow marigold seeds in July for second-generation plants to bloom by late summer, early fall.

FOR NICE, WHITE HEADS OF CAULIFLOWER

If you want white, store-quality cauliflower, you should blanch the heads when they reach fist size. Here's how: Pull the leaves up and secure them around the head so it will develop protected from sunlight. The cover of leaves should be loose enough to allow the head room to expand. Protected heads will be whiter, tastier and more tender.

MAKE CUT ROSES LAST LONGER

Here's a way to cut and condition your roses to prolong their bloom in arrangements.

Cut flower buds when the outer petals are just beginning to unfold. The best time to cut flowers is in the early morning. Cut the base of the stem with a sharp pair of shears at a 45 degree angle to expose maximum surface for water absorption.

Plunge the stem up to the base of the flower bud into a container filled with lukewarm water. Place container in refrigerator for 24 hours. Then remove the flowers, recut the base of the stem an inch above the first cut at the same angle. Now crush the base of the stem to increase water absorption.

Place stems in a deep vase filled with water and keep flowers out of direct sunlight and strong drafts. This method also works well for most garden flowers.

BAGS ON, BIRDS OFF

One way to keep birds away from your ripening strawberries is to slip small plastic bags over the fruit clusters a couple of weeks before harvest.

GARDENERS' ALMANAC

JULY — Maintain disease and insect control spray applications on fruit trees, small fruit, vegetables, flowers, and ornamentals.

Make second planting of carrots, radishes, corn, beets, lettuce, and greens by the middle of this month. Fertilize roses. Give roses their last feeding of the year so that new growth will have time to harden before cooler weather sets in.

Cut roses properly. Take only as much stem as you need for the arrangement. Rose bushes need plenty of foliage because plant foods are manufactured in the leaves. Remove all faded flowers each week.

Keep lawn cut at 1 and 3/4 to 2 inches this month. Water at the sign of drought. Do not feed lawn. Spray any crabgrass that appears with post-emergence chemicals. Also check lawn for insect damage and spray as necessary.

Check evergreens for spider mites. Shake evergreen branches over a piece of white paper. If spider mites are present, spray with a miticide two times a week at two week intervals. Recheck often; they multiply rapidly in the midsummer heat.

AUGUST — Maintain disease and insect control spray applications on fruit trees, small fruits, vegetables, flowers, and ornamentals.

Harvest any onions that have matured from the spring planting and let them cure in the sun for several days.

Plant radishes, mustard, and turnip greens for a late crop.

Plant colchicum and fall crocus. They are best when planted in a cool moist location.

Spray roses with fungicide to curb black spot.

Annual cuttings — if you want to prolong the life of your bedding plants and boost your house plant collection, take some cuttings now.

SEPTEMBER — Plant a fall vegetable garden. As long as you live in a warmer climate, you can plant winter radishes, kale, lettuce, mustard, carrots, and spinach.

Plant spring flowering bulbs the last of this month for next spring.

Feed annuals for the last time to keep them blooming. Feed flowering shrubs to encourage healthy growth next season.

Prepare lawn for winter. Fertilize. And get rid of grass clippings and other debris.

Kill last of dandelion, plantain, and other broadleaf weeds in your lawn with 2,4-D.

Trim evergreens.

Take houseplants indoors before a killing frost. Repot. Watch for insects and spray. Remember houseplants should be inside as soon as night temperatures get down to around 50° Fahrenheit. If you wait for frost warnings, you may be too late.

OCTOBER — Spray anti-desiccant on evergreens to protect against winter weather.

Spade the garden, leaving all vegetable foliage and green fruit. Just spade it under along with grass clippings and maple leaves. Ripe fruit and vegetables should be removed.

Protect roses. Mound soil about 10 inches deep over the bases of the bushes and cover this with a layer of leaves and straw. If winter is very severe in your area, it's a good idea to cover the entire bush with a plastic cone or box, after mounding the plant with soil.

Repot herbs you want to grow inside.

Rake all leaves off the lawn and use them as mulch in the flower and evergreen beds, under trees and around flowering shrubs.

Feed the lawn with a low-nitrogen lawn food late this month to stimulate root growth, which really takes place after the tops stop growing.

Protect trees and shrubs. Deciduous trees should be securely fastened to a sturdy pole. Tie the trees loosely with heavy cord to prevent any bark injury. Don't use wire.

Wrap all young trees with a long strip of burlap or tree tape to avoid sunscald. Sunscald occurs when the bark of a young tree is warmed during the day and then subjected to freezing temperatures at night. The burlap or tape protects young bark until the tree has a chance to develop a thick bark of its own.

NOVEMBER — Keep your lawn mowed until growth stops. This guards against long grass matting on the ground, causing smothering and increasing the chance of snow mold.

Apply fungicide sprays to turf for snow mold control before first snowfall.

Be sure to remove all leaves and other debris from the lawn before the first snow. If leaves are allowed to remain on the lawn, they will pack down and smother the grass below. In the spring, your lawn will look patchy.

Dormant spray to destroy over-wintering bugs. This is a must for fruit trees and grapes.

Spray broad-leaved evergreens with Wilt-Pruf early this month to keep them from being scalded by sun and wind this winter.

Girls State Delegate

Donna Kalbas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kalbas, really enjoyed her recent experience at Texas Bluebonnet Girls State in Seguin. She had the opportunity to make many new friends and to learn more about all facets of government: city, state and national. Donna was so impressed with her experience that she said she would love to return next year.

Kalbas Attends Texas Girls State

Donna Kalbas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Kalbas of Farwell, recently returned from the Texas Bluebonnet Girls State Session June 19-29 in Seguin. The 560 delegates were headquartered at Texas Lutheran College.

During that period, Donna lived in City H (Halcyon Hallibus of Hazardous Harbor) in Freedom County and she was a member of the Nationalist Party. The Farwellite failed in her bid for the office of State Commissioner of Agriculture but later the governor appointed her to the Board of Education.

"I learned a lot and I enjoyed meeting so many new people," Donna said. "I know more about our government now and I consider myself to be a better citizen."

Guest speakers included the mayor of Austin.

According to Donna, this session introduced the most bills - 46 in the House of Representatives and 30 in the Senate. As a member of the House she attended four sessions. Later they visited the capital and held a mock session of the House.

The delegates all sang several Girls State songs in the rotunda of the capital which were recorded and will be distributed to the girls as soon as they are processed.

During the general election an unusual thing happened, Donna said. A run-off election had to be held because of the write-in voters for a candidate for governor. "That had never happened before," she said.

FIRE CALLS

Units from the Texico and Farwell Volunteer Fire Departments were called to Muleshoe last Thursday where they assisted several other area units in battling a fire at a vegetable packing shed.

That same day the Texico ambulance transported a man to the hospital in Clovis. Farwell did not report any fire calls.
