Football, Band Royalty Crowned Friday Night

Football and band honors were announced in pre-game and half-time activities at Farwell High School Friday night.

Reigning as football queen was Jeanette Lindop, senior candidate for the honor. Named pep squad beau was Johnny Lovelace, co-captain of the football team. Band favorites presented during the half-time program were Wilma Norton and Gerald Christian, band sweethearts.

In ceremonies prior to the game with Kress, Miss Lindop was crowned by Lovelace and his co-captains Larry McDorman and Phillip Berry, presented her a bouquet of red roses and a silver football.

Attendants were Faye Routon, senior; June Ritchie, junior; Carolyn Parker, sophomore; and Karen Schell, freshman. Escorting the royal court across the field and on to a float decorated with the pep squad were Dickie Williams, Johnny Lovelace, Morris

Two Businesses Changing Hands

Two businesses in Texico are in process of changing hands.

Texico Hotel Cafe has been sold by Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Crow to Alton Milstead. McCauley Furniture is now having a close-out sale. It will end October 30 and Jim Bob Smart will open S and SFurniture in the buildings now occupied by McCauley Furniture.

Milstead is scheduled to assume operation of the cafe this (Thursday) morning. He is a former owner of the business.

The Crows say their plans for the future are not complete but they will stay in Texico-Farwell.

Smart, who was formerly associated with his brother, Ben Smart, in the furniture business in Texico, is a native of Texico-Farwell and has lived here all his life.

John McCauley, owner of McCauley Furniture, will move to Lubbock where he will be associated with Ben Smart in the furniture business.

McCauley started his business in September 1957 after the Smarts closed the Furniture Mart.

Reed, and Gerald Christian, seniors; Joe Hughes and Larry McDorman, juniors; Carroll Huggins and Benly Dial, sophomores; and Dickie Gerles and Jerry Lovelace, freshmen.

Music for the coronation was by the Farwell High School Band, directed by Mrs. Erma Jobs. Master of ceremonies was Superintendent Jack Williams. Faculty sponsor of the pep squad is Mrs. Bill Engman.

Judy Jesko, pep squad president, crowned Johnny Lovelace and presented him a gift. He was escorted by the cheerleaders.

Light Bulb Sale Slated Tuesday

Texico-Farwell Lions will stage their annual light bulb sale Tuesday evening.

Members will be divided into two teams and the town is scheduled to be canvassed. Cary Joe Magness and Elmer Teel will captain the teams. Losing teams will pay for the meal of the winning team at next regular meeting.

Bulbs will be sacked at a regular meeting of the club Monday night and the sale will follow Tuesday.

Nine bulbs will be in each sack. Price of the sacks will be $2.

Each sack will contain four 60 watt bulbs, two 75's, two 100's and one 150. Regular retail cost of such an assortment is $1.99. Money derived from the project will be used to help carry out the Lions Club program.

The sale is scheduled to begin shortly after 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Battery Stealing Costs $25, 5 Days

Two cases were tried in the court of County Judge A. D. Smith Friday.

Reuben Castillo, 18, who had been charged with theft, was fined $25 and court costs and sentenced to five days in jail. Castillo plead guilty to stealing gasoline and a battery from a combine belonging to Mark Quimby, a custom combiner who was working in the area.

Junior Parks, 23, whose home is in Muleshoe, was charged with burglarizing Ellis Cafe in Lariat Wednesday night of last week. His bond was set at $2500 in JP Court. Some $4 in change was taken from the cafe in the break-in.

While on the subject of states rights, it might be good to mention that a gubernatorial candidate of not long back used that as the theme of his campaign. That and segregation. He didn't get very far in his race. Was on the border of being a political joke as best as we could figure out. His name was Haley.

We don't mean to imply that Whittenburg is a political joke. Just wanted to point out that he's not the only candidate who's been strong on states rights.

Wes Izzard, Amarillo Daily News columnist and one of our favorites, came out strong for Whittenburg in his Tuesday column. That, of course, comes as a surprise to absolutely no one. Izzard's column, like Whittenburg's posters, failed to mention the word Republican. He offered a couple of letters to the editor which appeared in The Dallas News and they, too, failed to say anything about Republican as such.

On the other hand, Democrats have been criticized in recent campaigns for insisting that an individual vote for a candidate because he is a Democrat and for that reason alone. It's all a part of political philosophy.

Still, looks like some of these people who want good, dumb Democrats to vote for Whittenburg would remind them that his name will be under that column headed "Republican." Maybe they'll get around to that as election time nears.

This business of not mentioning which party a candidate is running for reminds us of a bit of philosophy our roommate at A&M, who was straight from South Texas brush country, used to come up with when the occasion arose: "A monkey dressed

BULLETIN

A. C. Teter was arrested Wednesday in Clayton, N. M. Union County sheriff's department notified Parmer County sheriff's department of the arrest at noon yesterday.

The likeable Teter, a former school teacher and high school coach, is scheduled to be brought to Farwell today (Thursday).

Charges of theft and embezzlement on three counts have been filed against A. C. Teter, recent manager of Bovina Wheat Growers Elevator.

The charges were filed Saturday morning in J. R. Thornton's Justice Court in Farwell.

The charges listed embezzlement on two counts and theft on a third.

Embezzlement charges specify two checks as being fraudulent. One was written August 14, 1957 and the other June 28, 1958.

Theft charges state that Teter took $1,124.20 in money July 17, 1957.

The charges followed a complete audit of the cooperatives' financial records and a meeting of the board of directors of the cooperative elevator.

President of the board, L. M. Grissom, said that Teter did not deny taking money.

However, Teter was reported to have replied to questions that he considered the money was for "services rendered."

The audit report returned to the cooperative's board of directors last week indicated a total shortage of $26,386.52 for a three-year period.

Figures listed are $6,873.44 for April 1, 1956 to March 31, 1957; $14,642.48 for April 1, 1957 to March 31, 1958; and $4,870.60 from April 1 this year to the present.

Teter was hired by the Wheat Growers' board in December of 1952 at a salary of $300 monthly, plus 10 percent of the gross annual profits. Later his salary was increased to $360 and the commission percentage remained the same.

Embezzlement Filed Against Bovina Man

Anton Foe

Anton's Bulldogs, pre-season favorite of District 3-A, will be Farwell's undefeated Steers' opponents here Friday night.

It will be the second district go for Coach J. D. Atwell's Steers. Anton will be making its initial district start after sitting out an open date last week.

Selection of Anton as favorite in this district by coaches at the annual state coaches school back in August was based largely on the fact that the team is long on experience. The Bulldogs are reported to have eight starters back from last year's squad. They are, however, handicapped by the loss of a top halfback because of sickness.

The list of grand jurors, from which 12 will be selected for duty, is: A. L. Glasscock, Volley Hodges, Clarence Johnson, A. G. Schlabs, H. D. Ellison, Aaron White, J. F. Mount, G. B. Buske, R. D. Precure, Wendol Christian, Raymond Schueler, Leslie McCain, Don Schuman, John Armstrong, Claude Miller, and Floyd Damron.

Billy Joe Foster of Abilene visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Foster, over the weekend.

No. 6! Kress Kangaroos Kayoed

Starting slowly, but gaining momentum as the game wore on, Farwell's never-corralled Steers stamped past Kress' Kangaroos, 48-0, in the first district game for both clubs here Friday night.

Paced by Jerry Lovelace, sensational freshman utilityman, the Steers won their sixth consecutive game of 1958. As a back, Jerry scored a touchdown in each quarter. He also saw duty at a tackle position.

Farwell got a firmer grip on the District 3-A favorite's role by overwhelming the visiting Kangaroos. Kress picked up on four first downs and never made a serious scoring threat.

A large crowd was on hand to see the Steers extend their winning streak to six straight. Except for the first few minutes of play, there was little question as to the outcome of the game. Farwell was favored to win, but not by such a lop-sided score.

Farwell's offense totaled 421 yards while Kress was held to 111.

The Steers made six points in the first quarter, 20 in the second, eight in the third, and finished with 14 in the final period.

In addition to their fine running game, the Steers unleashed a passing attack which aided in kayoing the Kangaroos. Two touchdowns and three extra point attempts were made via the passing route. Quarterback Johnny Lovelace did the bulk of the passing though Benly Dial, relieving Lovelace, had one completion. In the second quarter, Lovelace passed to Morris Reed for one touchdown and to Dial for another. On three occasions, a Lovelace to Halfback Phillip Berry pass was good for extra points.

Kress took the opening kickoff on the five and returned to the 27. Aided by two five-yard penalties they racked up two first downs and were on the Steers' 44 when they were forced to punt. The punt went into the endzone to give Farwell possession of the ball on the 20.

An 80-yard, Berry-sparked drive from that point netted the night's first touchdown. It took the Steers 16 plays to cover the distance with Berry reeling off runs of nine, 12, 18, and one yards. Jerry Lovelace carried the ball across the double stripe from two yards out.

Jerry was stopped in his attempt to carry the extra points across to leave the score, 6-0.

Following the kickoff, Kress failed to make a first down and punted to Farwell's 30. The Steers made one first down and had fourth down and eight yards to go as the first quarter ended.

On the first play of the second quarter, Johnny Lovelace dropped back to punt, but a bad pass from center forced him to run. Falling to make enough yardage for a first down, the ball went over to Kress on the Farwell 47.

Kangaroos made one first down and were on Farwell's 36 before Defensive Halfback Dial gathered in a stray pass from the arm of Quarterback Saul to give the Steers the ball on their 32. With ball-carrying chores divided evenly, the Atwellmen were on Kress' 31-yard line seven plays later. Then, Johnny stepped back and shot a pass into the waiting arms of Reed who scampered across the goal line to make the score, 12-0. Extra points attempt again failed to leave the score intact.

With their offense still hobbled by stout Steer defenders, the visitors were forced to punt from their own 19. Berry took the kick on his 45 and returned it to the Kress 42. Five plays shoved it to the 10 and Lovelace passed to Dial for the third TD. The Lovelace-to-Berry pass combination was successful and the score was 20-0.

Again the Kangaroos were forced to punt before they

In conversations, in coffee drinking places, as well as others, concerning the future and progressiveness of the Twin Cities, a stranger is apt to hear the remark, and get the impression, that "They won't do anything; nobody's interested."

And the stranger, unless he's interested, probably lets it go at that and figures, "Yeah, they won't do anything."

But, if he thinks about it a little bit and is even slightly interested, he starts wondering, "Who in the thunder are 'they'?"

If he's smart, he doesn't ask that question. Because if he'll carry his thoughts just a little further, he'll figure out that 'they' are the people who are doing the talking.

In other words, when a man says, "They won't do anything," about the community in which he lives, he's saying, in effect, "I won't do anything."

So much for that. The point we'd really like to make is that we're of the opinion that the Twin Cities are ready to make tremendous progressive strides.

Whether they do will depend on how many citizens will stop saying, "They won't do anything," and start saying, "I'm ready to do something."

With people who have that progressive attitude coupled with a little bit of leadership, the aforementioned strides can be made.

We think they will, too.

Slight Damage In Wreck Monday

Slight damage was done to an automobile owned by Jimmie Lou Wainscott in a car-truck wreck between Farwell and Bovina Monday.

Deputy Tom Atkins estimated the damage to Miss Wainscott's car, a '58 Chevrolet, at $100. The accident occurred when Miss Wainscott, going east, attempted to pass a '52 Chevrolet truck driven by Vern Englant and the truck started to turn.

There was no visible damage to the truck, Atkins says. Atkins and Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell investigated the accident.

Quail Permits To be Drawn In Panhandle

There will be another quail hunt in the Panhandle this year on the Gene Howe Wildlife Management area of the Game & Fish Commission, according to the director of wildlife restoration.

Dates for the hunt are Dec. 6, Dec. 20, Jan. 3 and Jan. 15. Applications now are being received for these hunts and permits will be issued after a public drawing is held between Nov. 14 and 17.

No preference can be given as to dates. All hunters will be required to hunt in pairs, with 10 pair each day, for a total of 80 hunters.

Only persons 17 years of age or older can be considered in the drawings for these hunts.

There is a heavy growth of flowering weeds, which has prevented a bird dog census of the area's quail to date. However, the quail population is high and hunting success will be good, if dogs are used.

Among the first troops to arrive on the scene of the great San Francisco earthquake and fire in 1906, were a detachment of Marines from Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco Bay and a detachment of Marines from Mare Island.

For more than 35 years only one U. S. Marine at a time was on duty at Pago Pago, Samoa. The lone Leatherneck was sent there to boss the Fita Fitas, or natives who guard Naval property.

Life's but a brief lesson--and school's out before we know it

Successful permit holders are urged to take their dogs to the hunt, to prevent a loss of birds. The growth of herbaceous vegetation is so rank that the loss of cripples and dead birds will be unusually high unless dogs are used.

Each man whose name is drawn will be permitted to hunt one day and will be entitled to the maximum of one day's limit, 10 quail.

Applications for the permit should be mailed to the Game & Fish Commission, Walton State Bldg., Austin.

Society To Have Day Of Prayer

Others present were Mesdames G. W. Atchley, Felix Monroe, A. D. Smith, J. A. Cox, Albert Thomas, E. G. Blair, B. N. Graham, Grace Sanders, Anne Overstreet, W. H. Graham Sr., W. H. Hardwick and Lena Yoder.

This Fall, it seems as if everybody in our neighborhood is burning leaves. It's as much as your life is worth to hang out a wash!

Leaves, vegetable stalks and grass clippings make an expensive bonfire, if you consider their worth as compost or fertilizer. Soak a two-foot pile with a bucket of water containing lye. Spread earth over it. Keep adding leaves and clippings as they accumulate and repeat the soaking. You soon have a wonderful supply of fertilizer, as rich as any store-bought kind!

It's also the time of year when many garden products go into the freezer. To make them easier to find later on, label packages on both sides, and use a different color tape for different items--blue for beans, yellow for corn, red for pork, etc.

JOTTIN'S

By Jeanne

Did you hear about the clerk, who, through error, was given an envelope which contained a blank check? He looked at it, moaned and said: "It's happened sooner than I figured. My deductions have finally caught up with my salary."

October is always a time when so much happens at once, and it keeps everyone busy. We could never believe that there "is nothing to do" in a small town, because we just can't get around to all the social, school and other events that we once managed to attend. With small children, it limits us quite a lot, because we do have a home to maintain and other duties.

But when so much is going on, it certainly keeps the newspaper staff busy. In fact, we don't always have room for all the stories we know about--and that's a sad situation. That is the reason this column doesn't appear as regularly as it once did. We have so much other news that needs to be included more than personal comments from yours truly.

The pep rally and bonfire staged Thursday to spark school spirit for the first conference football game was enjoyable, and the youngsters all seemed to get the "needed charge." Our five-year-old was somewhat disappointed to have a bonfire that big, and inefficient mama didn't have any hotdogs on hand for roasting.

Letters to the Editor

Fort Riley, Kan. October 20, 1958

State Line Tribune Farwell, Texas Dear Sonny Graham:

I am writing this letter as a New Mexican subscriber even though I'm in the army. My family has been subscribing to your paper for a great many years, and I at the present am a subscriber.

The reason I'm writing this letter is to just a little criticizing on the amount of publicity you give your neighbors, namely, Texico Citizens. I understand the fact that you run a Texas paper, but you have an awful lot of subscribers from Texico and surrounding areas in New Mexico.

Looking over the front page, I see the biggest part of it used on a write-up about the Steers and the Farwell band. It seems to me as you could continue these write-ups on the following pages, and save a little front page space for the doings of the poor, unrepresented Texico subscribers. Don't get me wrong, you run a good paper. I'd rather receive this paper than The Clovis News-Journal, or any surrounding papers, mainly because it is right at home, and even though I didn't get a letter, I could get a little nearer home through your paper.

Don't get the idea that I think you are giving Farwell too much publicity; but if you will bear with me on the front page, you will see what I mean about putting Texico publicity on some of the back pages. I'll see your handiwork next week.

Very truly yours, PFC Albert G. Doolittle

Dear Sirs,

I am enrolled in the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology and would like to keep up with what is happening in my home town. So would you please start sending me the State Line Tribune and send me the bill for a year's subscription. I'll be waiting eagerly for the first copy.

LOOKS AS IF this column is developing a wider readership than we had ever imagined. An unconfirmed report has it that the Charles Robertson family of El Paso enjoy reading Pow Wow each week. We certainly hope so, as Charles, Nova, and charming young daughters befriended this writer at a time when friends were sorely needed. During the hot, hot summer of 1954 when we were right in the midst of the rigors of army basic training at Fort Bliss, the Robertsons provided the one bright spot that surely kept us from going off the deep end! Many weekends in the company of best buddies, we would be entertained to the tune of choice steaks, trimmings, and moral support at the Robertson home. We doubt very much if the military approved of this method of training, but we recommend it strongly for all new soldiers. In fact, we will long remember the Robertsons for their hospitality and feel that if Uncle Sam were to award civilians medals for service above and beyond the call of duty, they would certainly deserve one.

WE DIDN'T WIN the new automobile given away at Clovis last week but we do have the privilege of insuring same for a short while. Mr. D. W. Carpenter, one of our good assureds from Oklahoma Lane, advised us that his niece, Mrs. Pauline Taylor from Gaston, N. C., had won a new Buick, and needed insurance until the car could be delivered. It was our pleasure to arrange for temporary coverage for the new auto and to request permanent insurance from her home-town agent. Service such as this is another of the many "extras" that our Agency is always glad to perform.

A HUNTER'S WIFE sent one local hunter into our office this afternoon with the ultimatum of "No insurance, no hunting trip!" In the twinkling of an eye, this hunter became the proud owner of our Sportsman's Accident Policy. He was happy, she was happy and we were happy! Just like that . . . TO BE SURE, INSURE!

CONGRATULATIONS to the wonderful performance given by the Farwell School Band at the game last week. Our hand is one that we can certainly be proud of, and much credit goes to the director, Erma Jobs. Lots of improvement since the days, 'back when,' that a handful of us blew our lungs out under the direction of that fine, old gentleman, Pop Gray.

DURING last Lions meeting, Lion Elmer Teel casually asked us what we had in mind for the light bulb sale to be held next week. It dawned upon us later why we should have anything in mind, when we were reminded that we were captain of one of the two sales teams. Get ready folks; on Tuesday night you are going to see the "hard sell." These bulbs have got to move so that by late Tuesday night, this writer can be plum' out of the light bulb business!

Sally Lewis says...

Whether we realize it or not, we homemakers toil in a hazardous workshop. Not that we want it so, but more accidents happen in the home than anywhere else.

Our castle need not have danger lurking in every corner, because we can reduce accident hazards. Safety is an attitude, you know. If we think about being safe, we will have fewer accidents.

We can make our homes safer by eliminating causes of accidents and taking precautions against those things which cause painful mishaps. You can guard against household dangers by following such basic rules as:

Never smoke in bed.

Dispose of all rubbish promptly.

Disconnect electrical heating appliances immediately after use.

When lifting objects, keep your back straight, knees bent and feet apart so that your legs and not your back do the work.

Carry objects in such a way that they will not block your view.

If you have firearms, store them in a safe place out of the reach of children.

Read all directions carefully on medicines, disinfectants, etc. Many of our best household aids must be used properly for safety. They are like fire, both servant and destroyer of man. Take for example, household lye. It is an alkali with many uses—cleaning stubborn grease, softening water, removing fruit skins, removing paint, making garden-compost, making soap, preparing certain foods, disinfecting, and dozens of other uses. Each use requires different handling for this time-tested item to serve us well and economically. Just read all the directions—as you should on all products of this kind.

could make a first down. Berry gathered in the ball on the Kress 45 and raced to the 17 before he was halted. On the first play from that point, Jerry Lovelace burst through the right side for a 17-yard jaunt that made the score, 26-0. For the extra points, Johnny Lovelace threw a pass intended for Jimmy Martin, but it was incomplete.

Kress had made one first down following the kickoff and had the ball on their 48 as the first half ended.

On the opening kickoff of the second half, Dial made a 42-yard return to put the ball on Kress' 48. Jerry Lovelace and Berry, on two carries each, had the ball on the 28 before a fumble--one of 10 the Steers were guilty of during the melee--gave the Kangaroos the ball on their 30. Falling to gain, they punted to Farwell's 38. A nine-play drive, featuring a 36-yard pass from Johnny Lovelace to Martin netted the fifth TD. Jerry Lovelace went around right end untouched for the tally. A Johnny Lovelace-to-Berry pass was good for bonus points and the score was 34-0.

Johnny's kickoff went into the endzone to give Kress the ball on the 20. After three plays, they needed two yards for a first, elected to gamble, made one, and the ball went over on the 29.

Running from fullback post, Johnny Lovelace made four, Dial two, Berry three, and Barthel Ford picked up a first down with two yards which put the ball on the 18. A penalty cost the Steers five, but a Dial-to-Larry McDorman pass got that back plus five to put the ball on the 13. Ford made two again, Jerry Lovelace picked up a first down with a seven-yard gain to the four. Berry failed to gain and then a fumble gave the ball to Kress on the six.

Two plays later, Johnny Lovelace intercepted a Kangaroo pass on his 12 and returned it the distance to make the score, 40-0. The Lovelace-to-Berry pass play worked again and it was 42-0.

The final touchdown was added late in the final period when Jerry Lovelace broke loose on a 46-yard scamper. He set up that play by intercepting a Kress desperation pass.

Reserves filled the Steers' lineup in the last half, especially on offense.

EMBEZZLEMENT--

He was bonded for $5,000.

Besides the 26-grand-plus shortage in funds, the cooperative is left with 2,050,000 pounds of degenerated milo. The milo was to have been stored and kept to grade No. 2. A USDA official has established the grade of the milo at "sample grade" or, as described by an elevator employee, as "hog feed."

Inspection of the books of the cooperative show numerous checks written for "milo," "labor," "freight," "horses," and "hauling expense" which are included in the expense accounts.

Checks written in amounts as high as $900 were charged to freight, when elevator officials maintain that Teter was using company money to pay for expenses on his own trucks, including fuel, tires, oil, and labor, and double charging the firm for hauling it from on-the-farm storage of several farmers.

On other alleged discrepancies, the report shows that he had overpaid himself during 1958 about three months' wages. Checks were shown paying himself for 13 months last year.

The auditor, Robert Ginsburg of Friona, says there are many irregularities. Unauthorized handling of expense accounts and improper charges to Wheat Growers made up the majority of the irregularities, he says.

These included pickups, livestock, freight and labor.

It was a check for hogs that began to unravel the discoveries that led to Teter being dismissed as manager and charged. A check labeled milo was given a farmer in payment for hogs destined for Teter's private feeding enterprises.

The farmer who sold the hogs to Teter was a brother of a member of the board of directors, and discussed the check with the board member. Then the directors began to look for further discrepancies.

ANTON NEXT FOE--

For the season, they have a 4-2 record. They have won over Whitharral, Cooper, Hart, and Amherst. They have been defeated by Whiteface and Meadow.

Last week's open date gave Anton coaches an excellent chance to scout the Steers in their game with Kress.

Coach Atwell reports no serious injuries were suffered Friday night and the squad is expected to be in as good physical condition this week as it was last. Larry Jesko, star senior tackle and Loyd Cain, second unit center, were slightly ill early in the week but are expected to be at full strength by game time.

"We have our share of bruises," Atwell says, "but everybody will be able to play."

The weight advantage will go to the visitors--both in the line and in the backfield. Farwell has been outweighed in the line in every game played this year, but this is first time they've been outweighed in backfield as well. Anton's line averages 163 pounds per man as compared with 157 for Farwell. In the backfield, Anton, featuring a 210-pound halfback, Barnett, averages 170 while the Blue and White backs come across the scales at 166 pounds.

Coach Atwell has listed the same starting lineup as he had last week.

The Bulldogs operate their offense from a straight-T formation and have a "good" passing attack. Quarterback McGrew does the tossing and

FOOTBALL, BAND--

After Kress High School Band's guest appearance at halftime Farwell's musicians took the spotlight. They formed an eighth note in front of the stands and Drum Major Don Lovett escorted Miss Norton to the center of the note. She was crowned and presented a gift and in turn crowned Christian and presented him a gift.

Before the band marched off the field, Mrs. Jobs was presented a gift from the group.

A Thursday night pep rally and bonfire preceded the festivities and boosted school spirit before the first district game. Features were talks by the coach and team captains, a snake dance, and yells led by the cheerleaders. The band provided music.

in silks is still a monkey." What South Texans know about monkeys and silk I don't know, but that's what he used to say, anyway.

Incidentally, he was one individual who we felt was justified in being a straddle the fence concerning politics--he had one brother-in-law who worked for George Parr, South Texas political boss at that time, and another brother-in-law who once opposed Parr in a sheriff's race. He could put up a good argument either for or against the mighty Parr.

We weren't aware of it before becoming acquainted with our friend in question, but Parr did some things that were good in addition to all the undesirable actions he carried out and had carried out.

What that has to do with the Republican senatorial candidate is nothing.

When it comes to picking scores to Steer ball games, it sorta makes us wonder why we ever started the idea in the first place. However, as far as we can tell, we're doing as good a job as anyone else could. So, we're not going to quit yet.

Last week we either underestimated the Steers or overestimated the Kangaroos, whichever way you prefer to look at it. The week before, against Plains, it was the other way around. You've heard about the fellow who said he "couldn't win for losing." That's the way we feel.

For a while we tried to "predict" the scores. Now, quite frankly, we're just guessing.

Understand, of course, that when you give Anton and 22 points and lose, this department isn't paying a half . . . or even a third, of your loss. You do that at your own risk.

We daresay that a man could go to Anton today or tomorrow offering that kind of odds and get plenty of money called.

The hysterical golfer rushed into the club house shouting that he had just killed his wife. "I didn't know she was behind me," he sobbed. "I started my backswing and the club hit her on the head. She was dead before she hit the ground."

"What club were you using?"
"The Number 2 iron."
"Oh, oh," murmured the other, "that's the club that always gets me in trouble, too."

Wolverines Win Grady Tourney

With two straight wins, Texico boys' team won the annual softball tournament which was at Grady last weekend.

Coach Paul Frederick's boys edged Logan, 14-13, in the tourney opener Friday. Saturday in the finals they walloped House, 12-6. House was the only team to defeat Texico in regular season play.

The girls' team, also coached by Frederick, lost to House Friday in their opening game of the tournament, 17-4. The House girls poured 10 runs across the plate in the second inning to break the locals' backs. The first game loss eliminated the girls from the tourney.

For both teams, the tournament marked the end of the season. Boys had a 6-1 record. The girls finished the season with a 4-2 mark.

Melrose was the eventual winner of the girls' bracket. They downed House in the finals.

In the boys' two wins, Urssel Doran and Raymond Hadley divided pitching chores. Hadley had a pair of home runs in the series--he would have had three but he failed to touch first base on one jaunt around the bases. Bobby Stover and Wesley Engram each had one home run.

This was second straight year for the Wolverines to cop the tournament. Last season they won the tourney, which was at Clovis, and finished the season with a perfect 7-0 record.

With the closing of softball season, basketball will take the spotlight at Texico High.

HEADACHES

To Whom It May Concern:

For several years I suffered with severe headaches which occurred regularly and quite often. These headaches were of the migraine type. I tried many different medications with little results.

On February 22, 1957, I became a patient at the Muleshoe Chiropractic Clinic. At this time I also suffered from dizziness, low blood pressure, stomach trouble, gall bladder and chronic appendicitis. I have not had a headache for several months and all of the other conditions have improved greatly. I was so pleased with the results that my wife and two of our children have become patients.

RHEUMATISM

For several years I was in poor health, and I was gradually getting weaker. At the insistence of one of my sons, who had been a Chiropractic patient, I consulted Dr. Brooke Green of the Muleshoe Chiropractic Clinic. After a Chiropractic examination which included spinal X-rays, I became a patient. My condition at this time included: extreme nervousness, difficulty in breathing, kidney condition of several years, a lower back condition for more than thirty years, swelling of legs, headaches, high blood pressure, constipation, stomach disorder, sleeplessness, and rheumatism over entire body. From the first Chiropractic adjustment, I felt some improvement and the progress has continued. Now after two months of Chiropractic care, several of these symptoms have completely disappeared and the other conditions are much improved. I have given this above affidavit in the hope that others may find the relief and good health that I now enjoy.

ASTHMA Our son, Ronnie, age 10 was an asthmatic since the age of four. We tried all of the unusual methods with little results. He was very nervous and did not do well in his school work. He slept poorly and was irritable and had attacks of Asthma every day and night. A friend who was a patient of the Muleshoe Chiropractic Clinic advised us to take him for an examination. After examination he was accepted as a patient. From the first adjustment he showed improvement and he has continued to improve until he does not seem to be the same boy. His asthmatic condition has improved and with this change his disposition is better; his school work has improved greatly; and he is now able to sleep all night. We are very pleased with the results he has had under Chiropractic care.

Grain Harvest Over Hump

"Oh the sun shines bright on my Parmer County farm." In spite of lower prices, and in spite of the many worries that beset the irrigation farmers of the High Plains, most of those who still till the soil of the rich Parmer County area are in pretty good spirits this week.

They have been spared an early freeze that for a time threatened both cotton and grain sorghum, and which would have been a double-disaster, following the poor year of 1957, and prospects are excellent that both of these major crops will yield well. On top of a good wheat crop this summer for most farmers, 1958 is already a much better year than the last one.

The grain sorghum harvest is over the hump. Across the county farming area, from two-thirds to three-fourths of the grain has been combined and has crossed the scales of the area elevators into safe storage.

In the southern part of the county, probably 85 per cent of the grain is in. In the northern parts, especially the northeastern sections, the harvest is barely more than one-half done.

There is always a slight difference between harvest dates of southern and northern Parmer County, because of slight climatic variance, and because the soils to the south are lighter and warm more quickly.

However, the degree of difference this year has been heightened by more than a usual difference in weather. Much of the grain sorghum, especially in the northeastern area, was damaged by hail early in the growing season and is later on that account. Commercial elevators that serve the Parmer County grain sorghum producers anticipated a huge crop and hurried to prepare for it with a whopping addition in facilities that totaled around three million bushels.

Several new in-the-field elevators sprang up at strategic production points as warehousemen strove to put themselves closer to the crop.

Still, grain has already spilled onto the ground in every community of the county, and there is still one-fourth of the crop to come in yet.

County Agent Joe Jones agrees that the crop this year is a very good one. He figures that about 230,000 acres of irrigated grain sorghum are being grown in the county this year. That is a slight increase over last year, in spite of all the talk about switching to other crops.

Last year, about 14 million bushels of grain sorghum were produced in the Parmer County area. This year it will probably be around 15 million bushels.

Parmer and Hale Counties dispute the claim of being the biggest grain sorghum producing counties in Texas (and Texas is by far the biggest grain sorghum producing state in the nation). Observers feel Hale will have to go some to beat the 1958 production of Parmer County.

One gauge that has been used to measure production in recent years is the government loans issued against the crop. Since market prices have been low on grain sorghum, a large portion of the crop has been going into the loan.

Last year Hale County put slightly more grain sorghum into the loan than did Parmer County, but Parmer natives argue that more of the local crop moved out earlier and into normal channels of trade than did in Hale County, and that the prize of biggest producer still belongs to us.

This is a debatable point, but still leaves little question that Parmer County is one of the world's major producing areas of this feed grain commodity.

Dry days and low relative humidity readings have been almost perfect for harvest-operations. The wind has gotten up a time or two, but not to such an extent as to cause widespread lodging as occurred last fall.

If the area goes through another week of fair weather and frost-free nights, practically all of the normal-maturing varieties of grain will be combined.

Virtually the only fields that will be expected to remain unharvested until after frost will be those of the long-maturing, "greenhead" type.

A group of men from Mars landed in a city street. "Wonder what town this is?" said one.

"Why not ask him?" cried another, pointing to a fire-plug.

"Don't be ridiculous," was the reply. "Can't you see he's only a child?"

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Animal Disease Meeting Slated at Amarillo

An area-wide meeting to discuss ways of controlling costly animal diseases will be held October 27 at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo, according to Gilbert Kaltwasser, president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau.

The county agricultural leader urged all livestock and poultry producers to attend the one-day session which starts at 9:30 a.m. The meeting is one of six being held over the state under the sponsorship of the Texas Animal Health Council, composed of 30 livestock and agricultural groups.

Purpose of the meeting is to bring the facts of the serious animal disease problem to all producers in the state. Two widely-known animal disease control men will be speakers.

Dr. L. R. Noyes, Ft. Worth, executive director of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission, will explain the animal disease situation in Texas. Dr. John L. Wilbur, Jr., Ft. Worth, veterinarian in charge of the Texas Animal Health Division of the USDA, will discuss what is being done by state and federal governments to control diseases in livestock and poultry.

The Council recently adopted a nine-point program designed to present, control and eradicate diseases of livestock and poultry throughout Texas in cooperation with appropriate agencies and groups. The Council's recommendations:

1. Secure legislation for control of brucellosis including provisions for area control plans with the aim of modified certified accreditation for all of Texas without delay.
2. Revise present disease control laws pertaining to sheep and swine to allow laws to meet present-day conditions.
3. Necessary legislation to prevent use of virulent hog cholera vaccines within Texas and make full use of modified hog cholera viruses.
4. Legislation to modify name of Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission to one more nearly reflecting the functions of the agency.
5. Revise present animal tubercular laws to allow discharge of obligations of LSC as concerns this disease.
6. Revision of laws as concerns interstate shipment of cattle to make laws compatible with presently enforced federal regulations.
7. Legislation to allow control of movement of livestock and poultry within Texas in order to protect any gains made under expanded animal health program.
8. Vigorous educational efforts aimed at acquainting Texas livestock and poultry producers with needs and problems of animal health.

Planter Helps Cotton Problem

The problem of having to replant fields after heavy rains and severe winds has long plagued cotton farmers. This repeat process has regularly cut into the yields and profits of the business particularly in cotton-growing areas of Texas and Oklahoma, where rainfall is often of a hard, dashing nature and can place a crust of soil over seed rows which impairs emergence.

In a bid to eliminate or reduce this, Cline Industries, Rush Springs, Okla., has made a planter attachment which creates a new type of seed-bed.

The attachment creates a plateau for the seed about two inches below the ground level, with furrows on each side of the plateau which run about five inches below the ground level, providing a trap for water which could impair the cotton's emergence if it were placed in a deep or shallow furrow, as is common. In addition, the attachment places earth several inches above the original ground level between each row to block winds. Although designed for use in cotton planting, tests have shown the attachment to work with other crops planted in lister furrows, such as grain sorghum, peanuts, soybeans, corn and castor beans.

Tests in 1954 and 1955 at Oklahoma State's Cotton Research Station, indicated that the device develops a seedbed which improves emergence over standard procedures, especially when rain follows shortly after planting.

The American Flag was first raised over the Philippines by a detachment of Marines which took possession of Cavite on May 3, 1898.

Cotton Awaits Strippers

"The fields are white unto harvest, but the laborers are few."

Warm, dry days have brought an almost miraculous transformation to the Parmer County area cotton fields during the past two weeks. Except for one four-day interruption which brought light showers and drizzly weather, October has been tagged "perfect" for cotton farmers.

The critical stage is past, and although it's almost traditional for High Plains farmers to assume the later the first freeze, the better, Parmer County growers are assured of a good crop now no matter when the freeze stops plant growth.

"Nearly all of what bolls we can expect to make cotton are opening," said County Agent Joe Jones this week as he surveyed the area.

Although stripping or mechanical harvesting is an operation that is usually reserved until after the freeze, it may be that farmers will get quite a bit of this high-speed style boll pulling done before the freeze this year.

There are several reasons. One is that hand labor is in short supply and those who desire hand pullers have seldom been able to get enough to meet their requirements.

Another is that artificially induced defoliation has been a widespread practice this year and many fields are beginning to look "finished" or "cleaned up" and ready for the strippers.

Still a third is the conviction that it is better to proceed with the harvest at the earliest possible time and get the cotton out of the fields where it tends to deteriorate in quality very rapidly after the bolls are open and the lint is exposed. That is especially true if the crop should be subjected to a streak of bad weather.

"It is a lot better to get the cotton out of the fields and even pile it in the turnrow--if there is a rush on at the gins--than to leave it exposed to the weather," declares the county agent.

Those three factors will encourage area farmers to get their strippers busy just as soon as they believe their cotton is ready. That also probably means that the gins can expect a bigger rush than ever, which will come all at once.

The USDA's cotton quality report for ginnings up to October 1 shows the character and staple of cotton produced on the High Plains the best ever recorded, George Pfeifferberger of Plains Cotton Growers has reported.

This is in sharp contrast to 1957 when the High Plains produced their poorest crop--quality wise--on record.

In staple length 67.3 percent of the cotton ginned was one inch and longer while only 2.1 percent was below 15/16 of an inch. The grade index was 99.6 (middling white equals 100) while the average staple length was above an inch at 32.2/32nds of an inch.

In the micronaire statistics only 3.1 percent of the crop is below 3.5 while 96.9 percent falls in the range of 3.5 to 5.9. The majority of the crop fell in the 4.0 to 5.0 range.

In Pressley test the cotton tested showed only 8.1 percent below 70,000 pounds per square inch and 91.6 percent 70,000 to 100,000 pounds per square inch. The majority of the cotton tested fell in the 75,000 to 85,000 pounds per square inch range.

Pfeifferberger said this early cotton quality report is much better than the early 1957 report and even better than in the good quality year of 1956. Present conditions on the Texas High Plains point toward even more of this high character cotton now being ginned.

Good news has just been received this week that will be of interest to all 4-H members. Miss Lucille Moore, recreation specialist, extension service, College Station, will conduct a recreation leaders training school at Hub Community House November 3, 4, and 5. The meetings will be from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. Each recreation leader will bring a sack supper since most of the leaders will come directly from school.

I will attend the State Extension Agents Conference in College Station October 27 to 31. This is the first conference we have had since 1956.

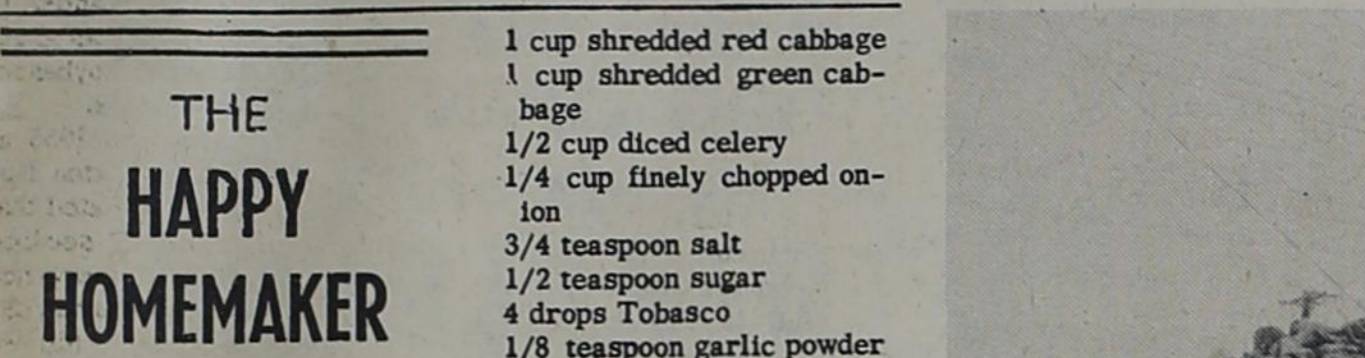

The rush of meeting Home Demonstration Clubs this month is just about over. My demonstration has been on oven meals. I have plenty of recipes if you are interested in them just call or write and I will send you one. I have included four complete oven menus and recipes. They are really good and are a lifesaver for the busy housewife.

A leader training meeting Friday, October 17, at Hub Community House was on broiler meals. Two leaders from each Home Demonstration Club were present.

Mrs. Billie Long of Friona came by the office last Tuesday. She is refinishing a round oak table and making it into a coffee table for the den. I went by her house to look at it and to help her decide on a suitable finish. It is going to make an attractive and sturdy table that will be enjoyed by the whole family.

SUGAR BEETS are virtually unknown in the Parmer County farming area, but are big business for some farmers in the Summerfield area of Deaf Smith and Castro Counties. The crop is good this year. Here a digger loads them into a hopper. The tops of the beets have been cut off.

THEN JOHN SANTA FE TAKES OVER and the beets are loaded for shipment to the sugar refining mill in Colorado, The American Crystal Sugar Company. Beets are a profitable crop under irrigation on the High Plains, but their production is restricted by allotments. Kenneth Neill of Friona Growers and Shippers is an area sugar beet grower.

again and this is a good time for treats for the crowd, large or small, of oldsters or youngsters.

Apples-on-a-stick are usually welcomed by goblins of any age.

- 12 ripe apples
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup molasses
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Wash and dry apples. Remove stems of each and insert a wooden skewer in each. Combine sugar, molasses and salt; cook, stirring frequently, until a small amount, when dropped in cold water, is brittle. If candy thermometer is used, cook syrup until indicator shows 300 degrees F. Remove from heat, add flavoring. Dip each apple in syrup, twisting quickly to cover entire apple. Place apples on lightly greased pan or wire rack to cool and harden.

Cider may be served hot or cold, plain or spiced. So may orange juice or fruit punch. Most of us prefer hot spiced drinks for cool fall evenings.

-Hot, Spiced Orange Juice

- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 pint cider or apple juice
- 2 2" sticks cinnamon
- 4 whole cloves
- 1 quart canned orange juice

juice
1 cup lemon juice
orange and lemon slices

Mix brown and granulated sugar with cider or apple juice. Add cinnamon and cloves. Simmer for five minutes. Combine orange and lemon juice. Heat to just below simmering. Add to hot cider mixture. Serve in mugs and garnish with orange and lemon slices. A stick of cinnamon may be used as a muddler.

SOIL CONSERVATION: DISTRICT NEWS

There is only one permanent cure for wind erosion on agricultural land. The land must be kept covered with either plant residues or with growing plants at least during the critical blow period. But if you don't have sufficient plant cover—dead or alive—you can use emergency tillage as a temporary measure. Emergency tillage roughens the surface of the soil enough to give temporary protection against wind erosion. Use it only when there is too little plant residue or too few growing plants to hold the soil. Its purpose is not the breaking of hardpans or tillage pans although some of this may result.

Avoiding as much tillage as possible is important in conservation because tillage buries plant residues, hastens the loss of organic matter, pulverizes the soil, speeds up loss of soil moisture, and in other ways hurts the physical condition of the soil. Emergency tillage, therefore, should be used only as a last resort. It has the same effect on the soil as excessive tillage.

THERE'S STILL WHEAT TO BE PLANTED and this Oklahoma Lane farmer is making last preparations for a good seed bed with his double-disc. Wheat is already up and off to an excellent start in most parts of Parmer County.

More Nitrogen Needed on Wheat

The heavy stubble from last year's wheat crop is responsible for a situation which makes the use of nitrogen fertilizer more important for this year's crop. The situation, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist, means that more of the soil nitrogen will be tied up in the process of decomposing the heavy stubble and a nitrogen shortage will exist.

This shortage would result in a reduced growth rate for this year's wheat crop during the fall and winter months, says Bennett. The nitrogen needs will vary depending upon the amount of stubble and present level of soil nitrogen. Nitrogen needs at planting time, believes Bennett, will generally vary from 20 to 50 pounds an acre. A soil test can be used to determine the amount. Phosphorus and potash are found in good supply in some soils but in others these vital plant food elements may be deficient. Here again a soil test could prove most helpful. Bennett says that in addition to the nitrogen applied at the time of planting, another application in late January or early February might prove profitable if the supply of soil moisture is good or if the wheat is irrigated.

For information on soil testing, the chemist suggests a visit with the county agent. Generally, he adds, about 10 days are required for making the laboratory determinations on the soil sample and for getting the results back to the farmer.

We expect some Parmer County men to attend a meeting in Amarillo Monday morning, on animal health legislation information. It is sponsored by the Texas Animal Health Council, and everyone interested is welcome.

We hope farmers will keep themselves informed on moves organized labor leaders are taking in the "interest of agricultural people." We are inclined to believe the record speaks clearly for itself, and that it shows that the interests of labor leaders is usually in the interest of labor leaders.

Consider this: "He that passeth by, and meddeth with strife belonging not to him, is like one that taketh a dog by the ears." Prov. 26:17.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Do you have rats around your premises? It seems that rats are becoming numerous in lots of areas, and they should be disposed of before they get too thick. We discussed the problem with the county agent last week and decided that some good, low-priced rat poison would move pretty fast.

As a result, we will have a few 50-pound bags of Warfarin in the office here around the latter part of this week. It will be yours for 30 cents per pound in the 50-pound bags, probably a little more if we have to put it in other, smaller bags. This is a non-profit venture in an effort to help avoid the kind of rodent epidemics you may have been reading about in some other areas. Rats seem to come to the house, and on in town when cold weather destroys the vegetation they live on in the fields.

We appreciate the fine coverage the local newspapers have given the Christian Rural Overseas Program. We hope you have read the news articles and told your elevator operator or ginner to mark some of your grain or cotton for shipment to people who need a little of your lot. Remember that each bushel or bale will ship 30; that is 30-to-one. Even one or ten bushels will do a lot for some people and you would never miss it, would you?
