Fire Destroys "Club" in Texico

UP IN SMOKE—Firemen are shown as they douse the last flames of the fire which destroyed the Cotton Club in Texico Monday morning. In the foreground is the west side of the wall which collapsed, as did each of the other sides of the north section of the building.

Fire destroyed a private club in Texico early Monday morning.

The Cotton Club, which was located behind Campfire Drive-in restaurant on Highway 70-84 in west Texico, was demolished by flames which were reported shortly before 5 a.m. Both Texico and Farwell volunteer fire departments answered the call. They were in time to keep the flames from reaching the drive-in, which adjoins the club on the south.

Also, a store-room on the east side of the building was untouched by flames.

All that remained after the blaze, which was brought under control about 6 a.m., was charred rubble, which included several beverage coolers, a piano and other musical instruments on the bandstand.

By the time firemen arrived on the scene, the flames had gutted the interior of the long structure and there was little that could be done except keep the flames from spreading.

Origin of the blaze is unknown.

The club was owned by Jack Skipworth, Clovis, and was leased by Dwight Harris.

HOT BOOZE TONIGHT—Fireman George Magness checks the label on one of the beverage cans following the early-morning fire as Russell Johnson reaches for one of same. Both men admitted that it was still too warm for consumption.

From a town's standpoint, there's a tremendous advantage in having busy highways pass through it. Maybe a better way to express that would be there's an advantage for a town to be located on busy highways.

Anyway, the more traffic you have, the more undesirable people you come in contact with.

An example of that happened here Saturday. A man stole a car in Clovis Friday night and was picked up in Muleshoe Saturday, but Parmer County Sheriff's Department played a role in the bit of criminal action.

In the stolen car, Edison W. Cllet bought gas at Bill Moss' station in east Farwell. Being without funds, he gave Bill a check, which Bill didn't much want, and a camera, which belonged with the stolen car, for 10 gallons of gas.

He explained to Bill that he'd be back to get the camera when he had money. If we understand the story correctly, Bill wasn't as interested in his coming back as he was in getting him away from himself and his place of business as quickly as possible.

Moss' suspicions were aroused when the man didn't have a key to the car and had to pry the locked gas cap loose. Also, he pried the trunk loose.

Then, when he said he'd be back to get the camera, Bill figured it'd be a good idea to get the license number so that someone else would know who to give the camera to in case Bill wasn't at the station when and if the "huggish-looking" character returned. That's when he decided his suspicions were justified.

The front and back license plates didn't match! One was from Parmer County — the front one—and the one on the rear of the car was from Bailey County.

Moss offered an excuse for making a hasty exit from the driveway and went to the rear of the building and waited until the suspect drove away. Then, he hurried a phone call to Sheriff Chas. Lovelace.

The sheriff notified officers at Muleshoe and Cllet was picked up there later in the morning.

The license plates, which didn't match, were stolen from cars on the lot of Friona Motors in Farwell early Saturday morning. Why he didn't swipe a set is unexplained as far as we know. Anyway, one plate was taken from two different cars.

An interesting fact of the story is that law officials here were looking for the suspect even before the car was reported stolen.

At Monday morning's fire in Texico, Richard Hapke, an eight year Tribune employee, must have had a "how're they ever going to get along without me" feeling. Monday at noon, Hap reported to Clovis for induction into the army.

But when the fire sirens sounded in the wee hours of the day, announcing a fire in the Twin Cities, he was the only member, or ex-member, of this newspaper staff to rush out and cover the fire.

Richard, who formerly served the Tribune as news editor as well as in other capacities, was well qualified to do the job. But it seemed a shame that he should have to. He quit work last Thursday night so he would have a few days to rest before answering Uncle Sam's call, and then was pressed into service on the very morning he was to report.

Anyway, we feel it was a fitting final chore just prior to his leaving us for two years.

Since he wrote this week's lead story and made the pictures to go with it—and because he's a whale of a good fellow besides—we'll dedicate this issue to Private Hapke.

Maybe if by now he has boot camp blues or something, that will make him feel some better.

Before we change the subject, we'd like to say in regard to that "get along without me" feeling he surely had Monday morning that he's not the only one who is wondering about that.

At the last Lions Club meeting, J. D. Atwell, Farwell High's head football coach, said out of the clear blue, "Just eight weeks 'til the season starts." And he wasn't talking about dove season.

Be it good, bad or indifferent, the Steers will be in a different district than the tough one they were a part of last year. The four district foes in '58 will be Sudan, Springlake, Anton and Kress.

Atwell's team will open the season against Bovina. Another Parmer County team, Lazbuddie, will furnish the opposition for the second game.

Football's as out of season as a snowball right now, but as the coach said, "It's just eight weeks."

Fire Department Burns Vacant Lots

In an effort to eliminate a fire hazard, members of Farwell Volunteer Fire Department burned weeds on vacant lots in the south and southeast portions of the city last Thursday evening.

More lots would have been burned off, Fire Chief Otis Huggins explains, but a lack of wind kept the weeds and grass from burning.

More work of this sort is expected to be done later.

Residents who have vacant lots which they want burned off, should contact the fire department. Huggins says the department will be glad to cooperate with property owners.

Texico School Gets New Paint

Texico School facilities are undergoing routine improvements this summer. Mrs. Roxie Crooks, secretary to Superintendent Agrie Jones, reports.

All the rooms and the hall in the old grade school building have been re-painted. Now in the process of being redecorated are the principal's office, the business education room, and the science room.

Also, roofs of the older buildings were re-tarred.

In the homemaking cottage, two new ranges have been installed. They will be available for use by 1958-59 classes.

The improvements are being made by custodians of the school.

Sunday visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Foster were Mr. and Mrs. Luther Grissom and Miss Lola Jean Grissom of Bovina.

Wurster Installed as Lions President

Paul Wurster was installed president of Texico-Farwell Lions Club Monday night.

Wurster, and other new officers, will begin their duties July 1. The new president served as secretary of the club during the past year. He succeeds Robert Morton.

Installing officer was Gerald Dorrough, Clovis, Lions zone chairman.

Others installed were Sherley Kesner, vice-president; Hurshel Harding, secretary-treasurer; Loyd Cain, Lion tamer; Elmer Teel, tall twister; Cary Joe Magness, director; L. S. Pool, director; J. D. Atwell, director; and Herb Potts, director.

Morton presented 100 percent attendance pins to eight members who did not miss a meeting during the past year. They were Otis Huggins, Joe Helton, Magness, Richard Hapke, Wurster, Kesner, Pool and Morton.

Huggins, who is also a past president of the organization, presented Morton with a past president's pin. Morton is a charter member of the club, which was organized in 1949.

Atwell, who is a director of Texico-Farwell's summer youth program, reported on its activities. The Lions Club sup-

Watermelon Feed Plans Completed

Farwell Chamber of Commerce will definitely be host to a community-wide watermelon feast July 4.

The decision was made by a handful of chamber members in a called meeting Tuesday night in the city hall building. After discussion both for and against the project, the members voted unanimously in favor of the affair.

Serving of the melons will begin at 7 p.m., it was decided. A total of 50 "average size" watermelons will be purchased and chilled.

Though it is not definite yet, the site of the gathering will probably be at the football field. Wilfred Quickel, chamber manager, promised that the area where the feast will be held will be sprayed for mosquitoes on the morning of the Fourth.

Plans were made to ice down the melons about noon on that day.

Before making the decision, those present discussed the fact that many people would probably be gone since the Fourth, which is on Friday this year, makes for a long weekend. However, it was decided to go ahead with the idea in spite of this fact.

Quickel stressed that all possible help would be needed to take care of the work which will go with the project. D. W. Bagley is in charge of buying the watermelons. He reported that they could be purchased for 2 1/2 cents a pound.

Also discussed at the meeting was the possibility of the chamber sponsoring a trades day in Farwell. No decision was made, however, since few merchants, who would be expected to benefit most from such a project, were present.

The trades day idea will possibly be discussed at the next regular meeting.

Two Airmen Swipe Car Tuesday

A car, belonging to Pauline Sheets, was stolen from in front of her house in Farwell Tuesday night and was recovered some two hours later.

Two airmen from Cannon Air Force Base, Clovis, were apprehended by city police in Littlefield and were returned to Parmer County jail by Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, all Tuesday night.

Miss Sheets noticed the car was gone shortly after the pair had taken it. She notified Sheriff Lovelace. About an hour and a half after he had broadcast information about the missing car on police radio, he was notified the men and the car were in the Lamb County seat.

The airmen, Jackie Hyman, 21, and James Awbrey, 17, admitted to Lovelace that they also stole a car in Clovis earlier in the evening. A flat tire caused them to abandon it near Texico port of entry.

They walked to Farwell prior to stealing the '56 Ford belonging to Miss Sheets. The car in Clovis was stolen from the lot of Blair Motors.

Lovelace said Miss Sheets' noticing the car was stolen as quickly as she did aided in recovering the vehicle.

Jack White, 29-Year Texico Mailman, Retires

ONE OF THE FIRST—Jack White began his career as a rural mail carrier in Arizona in 1921. Here, he's shown with one of the first automobiles he used to make deliveries. This Model-T Ford had wooden spokes in the wheels and tires which held 80 pounds of air pressure. "With those narrow tires, you could take a long-handled shovel and get out of any mudhole," the retiring mail carrier remembers.

At the close of this month, Jack White is retiring. He has served as mail carrier, Texico, Route One, for the past 29 years.

And prior to being a carrier out of Texico, he held a similar position in Arizona for eight years, making a total of 37 years in the mail-carrying business.

White, who is 63 years old and looks younger, received his first appointment as a rural mail carrier June 1, 1921, at Tolleson, Ariz. In September of the same year, he transferred to Phoenix, Ariz. He was there eight years before coming to the Texico job in June of '29.

During the 37 years, he estimates he has owned 30 cars—"I'd have to check to be sure," he points out. Each car was driven an estimated average of 30,000 miles a year. This makes 1,110,000 miles White has driven to see that the boxholders on his route got their mail.

He traded cars "almost" every year. There were a few years during World War II when it was impossible to get a new car, but he had a new one in most of the other years.

One of his first cars (see picture, was a T-Model Ford which had wooden-spoked wheels and tires which held 80 pounds of air pressure. "If we could get 10,000 miles out of a set of those tires, we were really doing good," he says.

Asked about unusual experiences as a mail carrier, he says that he had no really exciting events. But he does remember, on one occasion when he was new on the Texico route, that a lady came charging out of her house with a shotgun as he pulled up to her mail box.

"That shotgun was double-barrelled," he remembers, "the lady was running toward me with it and I was trying to figure out what I could have done to her to make her mad."

The story has a happy ending, however. When the woman got out to White's car, she explained, to his relief, that there was a skunk in her setting hens and she wanted him to shoot it. He obliged, gladly.

Mr. and Mrs. White, who have four children, lived in Texico during most of the years he worked out of there. Only a few years ago, they built a home in Clovis and moved there.

Following is a note from White in which he expresses his appreciation to his patrons: On June 30th this month I will be making my last trip as Rural Letter Carrier on route number one, Texico, N. M. I am using this means as an opportunity to express my sincere appreciation to the patrons of my route for every kindness and consideration which you have shown me while I was your carrier. This includes the times that many of you have helped me out of mudholes, too. If I have failed to show my appreciation or do you a favor, it was because of ignorance or lack of opportunity on my part.

TEXICO CARRIER GIVES TRIBUTES TO PATRONS

This issue of The Tribune is being "boxhounded" on Texico, Route One, which Jack White has served as mail carrier for the past 29 years.

White is retiring July 1 (see story and pictures) and is using this issue to express appreciation to his patrons for their cooperation.

Had I to choose my life's vocation again I suppose I would choose to carry rural mail for I think I have had the finest people to serve that a person could find anywhere in the world, and that is the rural people of America, of which you are a part.

Mae and I have very few plans for retirement except to see a little more of the good old U. S. A., catch up on my hunting and fishing, also I hope to do a little more work for the Lord. However, we will no doubt settle down and be at our home located at 2690 Axtell Street, Clovis, N. M., and we would be glad to have each of you drop by to see us.

I also want to thank the late Mrs. Pearl Grady, Mrs. Ludie Matthews, Mrs. Lucy Brown, Mrs. Bess Dow, Mrs. Katherine Lockhart, Mrs. Louise Engram, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crume, Raymond Mears, Charley McDaniel, Charles F. Bieler and Loren Wilson for their part in making my job, while working at the Texico Post Office, a more enjoyable one.

Again I want to thank everyone of you for everything, and wish for you the best that life has to offer.

Sincerely yours, Jack White

THIS IS THE LAST—Here, Jack White is shown with his 1957 model Ford which was the last he used on his mail route. He estimates he has driven 30 automobiles over a million miles in delivering U. S. mail. White says that if he had his life to live over, he would again be a rural mail carrier. He will "run" his route for the last time June 30.

D'Rene Danforth Wins First Place In 4-H Contests

D'Rene Danforth, a member and junior leader of the Texico Girls 4-H Club, was named one of the first place winners in the senior division of the annual Curry County 4-H demonstration contest Saturday.

She demonstrated the proper method of making pie crusts in the foods demonstrations. Other area 4-H members who placed in the contests included Dianne Baldrige of Pleasant Hill who won first in the junior foods division with a demonstration of milk drinks; Janet Sharp of Pleasant Hill who won third in the junior division with table setting; and Judy and Gwenette Lovett of Pleasant Hill who won third place in the junior division with a team demonstration of sewing tricks.

Mrs. Lillie Mae Daughtrey, county demonstration agent and director of the contest commended the entrants for their achievements and originality in presenting the demonstrations.

Serving as judges were Mrs. Lucian Madole, home advisor for the Farmers Electric Cooperative; Mrs. Roy Keeter, graduate home economist; and Mrs. Jimmie Allman, Texico home economics instructor.

Junior winners will represent Curry County in the July 25 district contest in Fort Sumner and senior winners will compete for state honors at the State 4-H encampment August 4 at State College.

Texico Girls 4-H Plans For Annual County Dress Review

"The Miss of the Missile Age" will be the theme of the annual Curry County 4-H dress review Saturday at 9 a.m. in R. E. Marshall Auditorium in Clovis.

Twelve members of the Texico Girls 4-H Club will be among the entrants and the three junior leaders of the group are working on the stage decorations committee.

Girls planning to enter include Sandy Tipton, Hazel McDaniel, Oriah Curtis, Duranna Curtis, Jean Morris, Pat Hill, Beth Peyton, Carmelita Doshier, Jeanne Hadley, Linda Hadley, D'Rene Danforth and Mary McDaniel. They are reminded that entries must be in the county office by 5 p.m. today (Thursday).

The girls met last Wednesday at the home economics building where they were assisted in beginning their garments by the leaders, Mesdames Fred Danforth, H. L. Curtis, and John Hadley. Punch and cookies were served by the Misses Curtis.

Demonstrations given by Hazel McDaniel and Duranna Curtis were those entered in the junior division of the county contests Saturday.

The former demonstrated setting a breakfast table, and the latter the proper placing of a pattern on material.

Alex Brown Listed On A&M Honor Roll

Alex Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Brown, has been notified that he qualified for the dean's spring semester honor roll in the school of engineering at New Mexico A&M College, State College.

The sophomore student carried 19 semester hours and attained a grade-point above 3.200. He was graduated from Texico High School in 1957.

Suspect in Jail

Ignacio Guardiola, 25, of Muleshoe is being held in Parmer County jail on charge of burglary.

Guardiola has signed a statement admitting burglary in the home of Billy Billingsley, near Lariat, last week. He was employed on the Billingsley farm in April of this year.

Arrest of the suspect was made in Lubbock last Thursday. Warrant for his arrest was issued after some of the items which were taken from the Billingsley home were pawned at a store in Muleshoe, Sheriff Chas. Lovelace reports.

He has been arraigned and bond set at $1000 by Judge J. R. Thornton and is waiting grand jury action.

Paul Douglas Tullis of Anton visited with Don Jones Monday night.

Farwell Scouts Work For Badges

Seven Farwell Boy Scouts began work on their Tenderfoot requirements at a Tuesday night meeting under the direction of Scoutmaster Fred Curtis and Elmer Teel.

Everyone in business has a certain number of dollars that just have to be spent on that never-ending expense item called "Advertising." We have tried everything from thirty-year-old TV movies to idiotic bits in the classified section of this newspaper. As of yet, have seen no visible results. But just hate to quit trying, so will give this method a spin and see if it doesn't sell just one little-bitty ol' policy.

Business at the Graham-Magness Agency has been going along real well in spite of all this recession talk. Am wondering if times are really as bad as all the reports we hear. It's been said if you have a job and are broke, it's a recession and if you don't have a job and are broke, then it's a depression!

We have a real good plan for those who find that their insurance premiums hit them a real good wallop all at one time. It is called the Premium Budget Plan. Through this, you can pay all your personal insurance premiums by the month just like your water, lights, and gas. We would like to show you how it works.

We still have a good supply of zinnia seeds and Farmers' Almanacs at the office. If you haven't yours yet, stop by. They are for free.

At last, we have found a bargain in insurance. It is fire and lightning insurance on wheat in the fields. For $3.80 you can protect $1000 worth of wheat. The premium is too small for you to do without. If you haven't harvested yet, give us a call. We will come out and write the policy for you. Harvest time is the most hazardous time as far as the fire danger is concerned.

The fire-boys are in the process of burning off the vacant lots in town. We are hoping that this will prevent a serious fire later. If you would like to have your lots burned off, call one of the members. We will be glad to have it done for you. We are receiving a maximum good-fire credit in Farwell. Let's keep it that way.

Do you have medical payments included in your automobile policy? One of our Good Insureds is really talking them up for us. A serious automobile accident kept him confined to the hospital for several weeks, requiring special nursing, drugs, surgery and the best in doctors' attention. Upon his release, the insurance company picked up the tab. The bill would've taken many, many months of my earnings to pay. I'd say that was $12 well spent!

heard others make the same comment. And we can't help but believe that our town is what we make it. We love this community, but sometimes we do become a little discouraged.

A newborn baby was crying lustily in the infant's ward. "What's the matter?" asked the visitor, peering through the glass partition. "Look," said the ward nurse, "if you were only a few hours old—out of a job—and owed the government $2,050, you'd bawl, too."

Mrs. Buster Gast was met in Amarillo by her family Sunday when she returned from Denver where she had attended the wedding of her brother, Billy Worley. Miss Billie Heckman had accompanied her to Amarillo to catch her plane Friday.

Scheduled to return tomorrow from California is Loyd Allen Cain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cain. He has been visiting relatives in Burbank and Tjunga and attended the wedding of a cousin in Downey.

Returning from Oklahoma City Tuesday night was Mrs. Anne Overstreet. She had been visiting there a month with a son, Lawrence Overstreet. Hamlin Overstreet went to Oklahoma City to bring his mother home.

In T or C for three weeks vacation are Mr. and Mrs. Johnny McDonald.

Our neighbor, Mom Spurlin, is at it again. She already has an enormous garden in her back yard, and says her Kentucky wonder beans are more "wondrous" than ever this year. She has promised us a taste of her garden handiwork, and we're looking forward to it.

Here's one for the books, truly. Over in Crosbyton, civic leaders are planning a 50th anniversary celebration and historical pageant in September.

Over 200 committee members have been appointed to assist and to date, not one single person has refused to accept his assignment. That is cooperation.

But it makes us a little ashamed of ourselves. We tried to stir up some interest in Farwell's fiftieth year a couple of years ago. No one seemed to care very much. Is it civic lethargy that can't be cured? We've worked on several projects of a civic nature, and find that we do well to find a dozen persons who are willing to give their time and energy on any one project.

We know this isn't the opinion of just "jottin's," because we've

Rain Interrupts Harvest Progress

by W. H. GRAHAM JR.

Rain and a streak of drizzly weather that reminded farmers of the dismal fall and spring weather that prevailed over the High Plains was back in the news the past week.

The moisture stopped the Parmer County area wheat harvest in its tracks before it had really gotten a good start. Estimates are that less than 20 percent of the 86,000 acres in the county had been harvested by time the rain and showers set in—the first ones Monday night, June 16.

On that night, some severe hail damage occurred, also, most of this being confined to the eastern and northeastern parts of the county. Fifty to 100 percent damage reports were not uncommon in a tract alongside Castro and Deaf Smith Counties.

However, on the whole the county wheat crop, which promises to set a new per-acre yield, came through the weather scare in good shape, and some combining was resumed Tuesday mornings.

If no more wet weather comes, farmers are expected to make a huge swath in the harvest in only a few days inasmuch as nearly all wheat is ready to be cut and farmers are very anxious to get the crop in.

Showers persisted Tuesday through Thursday of last week, and drizzle and fog hung over the area Friday through Sunday, preventing any drying out. In some fields both grain and ground was too wet; in others the grain was dry enough to harvest if only the combines wouldn't get bogged down. At any rate, the amount of wheat cut from Tuesday through Monday was just about zero.

Because of heavy heads, farmers have registered concern about the mean streak in the weather. Where the crop has been wetted and made heavier by the rainfall, it has been more susceptible to the winds which have been locally severe.

These have not been the traditional southwestern winds of the High Plains, but gusty, whipping winds from all directions that have accompanied thundershowers. Most have moved in from the east and southeast.

An oddity which has been reported is the apparently heavier lodging of grain not quite ripe. Few farmers have ventured any explanations, but most agree that the "just about" grain has fallen worse than the ripe.

With so much of the crop remaining to be harvested, it would be hazardous to project average yields on the basis of the early reports. But it does appear definite that the yields are turning out at least as well as farmers expected in nearly all cases, and that there have been many who have been pleasantly surprised with their first cuttings.

The earlier wheat has come from the sandier-type soils to the south, and even in that area, irrigated yields exceeding 50 bushels per acre have been common.

County Agent Joe Jones believes that the county-wide average of irrigated wheat will hit or exceed 40 bushels this year. That is up from the earlier estimate of 35, which is still a pretty good yield on an across-the-board average.

Jones also says that some re-figuring is due on the amount of wheat being grown under irrigation this year. There has been no survey, but previous figures have placed the irrigated average at an estimated 45,000 for the county.

"I sure do think that we need to move those figures up," declared the agent. He says that he would venture to say that irrigated wheat now totals around 60,000 acres in Parmer County. A check of elevator receipts, Commodity Credit loan disbursements, and farmer yield estimates later should help authenticate this estimate. It is a difficult one to make.

Even with the wheat market at a comparatively low ebb, the good harvest should roll in a sizeable chunk of cash to the 1,100 farmers who grow the product in Parmer County.

A gross amount of $4½ million would probably be a pretty good guess right now as to what the crop is worth, believes Agent Jones.

It is often said that wheat money is the most appreciated money High Plains farmers get. It comes at a time of the year when cash from their fall crops has long since been used or at least depleted, and at a time when farming expenses usually are running high.

Also, many Parmer County farmers have learned not to even count on any money from wheat after so many poor years under dryland conditions. So the ring of the bell as their 1958 wheat crop "hits" will be all the more merry.

An accessory piece of equipment has been introduced to the 1958 county wheat harvest that first made news in the fall: a pickup attachment for leaning or fallen stalks.

A large amount of grain sorghum—possibly one-fourth of the total crop—was saved by these special attachments in Parmer County last fall, after very unfavorable harvesting weather.

The principle employed in the wheat pickup attachments is the same as that used for the row-crop harvest last fall, but the design of the mechanism is different. Fallen wheat, sown broadcast, cannot be recovered with the maize attachments that were so popular for a time last year.

Strong, silent men are the ones women are said to prefer. . . maybe it's because they think they're good listeners.

However, with men today it's not so much a question of filling the bill as footing it. Speaking of which, there's no place like home. . . for exceeding a construction estimate by a minimum of 30 percent.

Ez Tike attended the road company show of the Ballet Russe when it came to town. He thought it was good but with reference to the toe dancers wondered why they just didn't get taller girls.

Onion Harvest Starts at Farwell

Parmer County onion growers, anxious to regain ground lost in last year's tough markets, started their harvest operations this week. Believed to be first were Euvon and J. T. Ford and sons of Farwell, who got into their fields Tuesday with 100 hands.

Frank and Charles Seale were understood to be planning to start about the same time, State Line Farms in northwest Bailey County started last week, and growers in the Friona area were expected to begin some time next week.

The Fords have another big acreage this year—82 in all. The savory bulbs have opened at prices ranging from $2 to $3 per 50-pound sack, which is considered a "fair" price by growers.

J. T. Ford says the market is strengthening slightly day by day, but that growers are wary of another dip after the first of July and they are pushing to get the crop out as early as possible.

By trying to catch the market at an early point, Parmer County area growers are sacrificing the big tonnage that would come if they delayed harvest a few weeks and allowed the onions to get bigger.

This early tonnage will be down around 350 sacks per acre (of No. 1's) believes Ford. Last year, later onions yielded up around 900 sacks, so it is apparent that the growers are willing to cut their yields to hit what appears to be a better price.

They are harvesting yellow granos first, and about half of their acreage is devoted to this variety.

The North Texas onion harvest is from two to three weeks late, which is helping local marketing conditions, says Ford. Heavy rains there lately and poor weather all season long have diminished crop prospects in that area north and east of Dallas.

Fifty-five of the Ford laborers are being brought up from the Winter Garden area of South Central Texas. Another 45 will be picked up at Bovina. Housing is provided in Bovina and Farwell, at gins.

With this size crew, about 10 acres of onions can be harvested a day. A grader has been leased by the Fords and has been installed in a barn near their fields. This will allow them to ship from their place to Jack Griffith in Hereford who is handling the marketing end of the deal for them. Formerly, all grading and processing was done in Hereford.

Onion production costs have been some less this year because money has been saved on weeding, spraying, and irrigating. But the higher prices of sets has largely cancelled out any benefits growers have received on those accounts, believes Ford.

Jimmie Lou Wainscott

(Editor's Note: Miss Jimmie Lou Wainscott, county home demonstration agent, wrote her column this week from Ft. Collins, Colo., where she's taking extension courses. We hope to have a report from her each week until she returns.)

Well, I have arrived in the snow peaked mountains. At least they are in view. The land around Ft. Collins is much like Parmer County. It is flat, irrigated land. Their wheat is still green and is just beginning to head out. They have a view of the Rocky Mountains that is really a breath-taking sight.

I am taking two courses at Colorado State University, the land grant college of Colorado. My schedule is 7-9 a.m., family financial management, and 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., rural recreation.

Dr. Stanley M. Hunter, family economics and home management service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., is the teacher of the family financial management course. There are 69 in class.

Did you know that management is getting the most you can out of the resources you have? Also that we usually think that we have only money to spend? Dr. Hunter says that we have money, time, and energy to spend. She has caused us all to do some thinking. She has given some definitions of the purpose of our home, personal and family values, standards of living, goals, and level of consumption. I am looking forward very much to the rest of the course.

In the rural recreation class, Mr. Stewart Case, extension service rural recreation specialist for Colorado, is our instructor. This class is to help extension workers to develop more and better rural recreation. So far in the course he has discussed the growth of recreation in the extension

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

We know that you have seen CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) posters at some, (maybe all) of the elevators during wheat harvest, and we hope the leaflet on CROP was in all the church bulletins last Sunday. We also hope you have read and asked questions about this program, which has been going on for several years since the war. We believe that if you understand how it works, you will gladly make a contribution of grain, or if you have no grain, money in lieu of it, to the program.

For each bushel of grain you give, twenty or more bushels will be placed in the hands of representatives of your church in the areas of countries where there are hungry boys and girls and adults. This is a good way for you to help dispose of government surpluses, but above all, it is a good way to distribute food to hungry people of the world. Brother Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the Friona Methodist Church is organizational director for CROP in Parmer and two or three other counties.

As we said last week, there was a grasshopper meeting in the Farm Bureau Office Monday night of last week, and another in the school house in Friona Tuesday night. There were about forty people in attendance at the two meetings combined.

If you would like to participate in a grasshopper eradication program in cooperation with your neighbors, you should see your ginner, or one of the directors of Farm Bureau. The directors will explain the program to you, and/or direct you to a gin, where you can enlist. It is, of course, necessary that several farms of an area get together for effective treatment.

We hope you are all watching for bindweed patches and participating in the program of eradication. You are fortunate in having the cooperation of state and county road men in this battle against bindweed, and we feel that there would be many more acres of infestation had it not been for the operation of the program, under the direction of the Farm Bureau Weed Committee the past four years.

One more warning won't hurt: Be extremely careful about hazards of fire around wheat fields.

This graph makes it easy to see how the High Plains cotton plant's water requirements vary with stages of growth. Tests by the experiment stations of the Extension Service prove that little water is used by cotton before it begins to bloom, and that the critical need for water is in the peak blooming stage. Research is clearly establishing that irrigating simply by looking at the plant and seeing that it "looks like it needs water" is a poor practice for best returns — especially insofar as quality is concerned.

Cotton Water Use Greatest at Bloom

High Plains irrigation farmers are reminded this week that in the summer crops consume greater amounts of water, but the cotton plant itself uses very little moisture until it starts flowering.

"Then it will use approximately one fourth inch water daily," officials at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock report. "June irrigation usually doesn't pay, it may even cost farmers yield and money if cotton is watered too early and the plant thrown into vegetative growth," Don L. Jones, former station superintendent, explains.

"Quality cotton is produced with fewer irrigations. In 1957, spring rains after pre-planting irrigation caused delay in planting or slow growing off, and fall rains on top of summer irrigation caused slow maturity and low grades of cotton.

"Now in 1958, due to rains and moisture received, we have an underground condition as good as could be asked for. Farmers should remember the first summer irrigation should be made at the time of the first bloom. It should provide moisture to a depth of 2 to 3 feet. Earlier irrigation not only encourages vegetative growth but often retards fruiting and delays maturity. Each operator must estimate the time required to cover his entire field. This means some must start earlier than others.

"Additional summer irrigations tend to increase yields but lower quality, which may mean lower net returns," Jones says. The cut-off date on irrigating should occur at the last average effective boll set, or about August 20. Later irrigations cause immature cotton.

Farmers Organize To Fight 'Hoppers

Although the grasshopper infestation situation on Parmer County farms is not nearly so severe as on the North Plains of Texas, area farmers are ready to meet the insect on even terms after organizing the past week.

A special committee, composed of the county directors of Farm Bureau, will be the backbone of the organized effort. Harry Hamilton of Friona is chairman of the group. Directors, who are representative from over the county, will report on infestation in their communities as the need may arise.

This action was taken at a meeting Tuesday night of last week in Friona, which was called by County Agent Joe Jones. Thirty-eight farmers attended, and the agent reports that interest was satisfactory.

Grasshopper infestation is scattered over the county, and no big-scale offensive against the winged pest is contemplated. But in local situations where the count is especially heavy, farmers are agreeing to group together and cooperate for the most effective results.

Four Parmer County businesses have offered their offices as locations for farmers to gather and map out control work. They are Chester and Fleming Gin of Friona, West Hub and Fleming and Son Gins at the Hub, and Parmer County Farm Supply at Bovina.

County ownership maps have been placed at these locations, and farmers are urged to meet there whenever convenient and indicate on the map if they plan or would desire control measures on their place.

Then, if it appears that several farmers who want to control the bugs are close enough to tie their work together for maximum benefit, such maps will make the job of organizing easier. "Blocking up" spray work will be the object of these measures.

Meanwhile, as some control measures are being undertaken individually, County Agent Joe Jones points out some things that should and should not be done.

He says to remove all livestock from areas to be sprayed, even though livestock are being left on the ranges in the Northern Panhandle. The reason for this, explains the agent, is that large-scale, expensive equipment is being used there, and calibrations designed to deposit as little as two ounces of poison per acre can be maintained.

Most equipment used around the average farm cannot be adjusted so as to get such a small, even dosage, he says, and it is dangerous to allow livestock to continue grazing treated land.

If grasshoppers are present in hay, Jones says farmers should cut the hay, bale and remove it, then spray for grasshoppers. Don't spray and then cut, he urges. Dairy cattle should not be allowed to have treated hay, of course.

Dieldrin should not be used around the farmhouse or where grazing will be done. It is adaptable for turn-row and crop application, however.

One pint per acre of dieldrin, aldrin, or heptachlor, or three pints of toxaphene is recommended dosage. Jones recommends from three to five gallons of water per acre. He warns against diluting the poison with more water (even though the farmer still plans to put the same amount of poison on the same acreage) and reducing its effectiveness.

If wheat is to be sprayed, it is recommended that such spraying be done seven days ahead of harvest.

The federal government has been active in the large-scale control measures on the North Plains. Last week it extended the program on a limited basis into such counties as this one, where rangeland "spreads" are much smaller.

The USDA will work through the county in paying up to 25

GRASSHOPPER CONTROL

Your Parmer County Farm Bureau directors are voluntarily serving as a committee to assist with county-wide measures to keep the grasshopper infestation from becoming serious. Harry Hamilton of Friona is chairman of the committee.

We urge that you report any severe infestation of grasshoppers to the director from your community, who will then report to the county group. Directors are as follows:

- Rhea — Jack Patterson
- Friona — Ernest Anthony
- South Friona — Harry Hamilton
- Black — John Henderson
- Lazbuddie — J. D. White and Les Bruns
- Bovina — Donald Christian and Dennis Williams
- Oklahoma Lane — Vernon Symcox
- Farwell — Mose Glasscock

Four Parmer County businesses have been nice enough to offer their office space to aid our work. Ownership maps have been placed at Chester & Fleming Gin, Friona; West Hub and Fleming & Son Gin at Hub; and Parmer County Farm Supply at Bovina. You may locate your plans to poison on these maps and see what your neighbors are doing.

This is another Farm Bureau public service gesture in the interest of better farming in Parmer County. Farm Bureau exists to serve its members.

2-Million Addition At Lariat

Parmer County's commercial facilities continue to expand. An addition which will add 2,000,000 bushels storage to the Sherley-Anderson Elevator at Lariat is now under construction.

Excavation work was begun last week by Chalmers and Barton, contractors, of Hutchison, Kansas. Penny Anderson, manager of the Sherley Elevator at Bovina, said this week that the foundation work should be run within a week.

The 18 concrete tanks will join onto the 1,670,000 bushels already up. The tanks will be 154 feet high. The concrete Sherley-Anderson elevator was built last year. Previously, non-concrete storage had been used there.

Anderson says that the main purpose of the Lariat addition is to serve as terminal-type storage for the elevators of the Sherley-Anderson-Pitman group, which are at Farwell, Bovina, and Hereford.

The addition will also supplement facilities used for purely local purposes.

Vote For A. D. Smith For County Judge

I am your County Judge. The duties of this office are a full time job, and in order to discharge these duties properly it is necessary that I stay on the job as much as possible. Therefore, it is almost impossible to see all of you personally, so, I will appreciate it if you would consider this my personal request for your vote and support.

Parmer County is in good shape, owes very little money, and this is for Right of Ways on Farm To Market Roads and Road Machinery. Our valuation is the lowest. No land in Parmer County is valued at more than seven dollars an acre for State and County Taxes.

The County Judge is chairman of the Commissioners Court. This County has about 115 miles of Farm To Market Roads and more are being constructed.

The State Highway Department usually locates Farm To Market Roads on its basis in the law and on this theory we cooperate.

Each Precinct is anxious to get Roads within its Precinct and we are very fortunate in having been able to cooperate with the State in all of its designations.

The County Judge is also County Superintendent of Schools, Ex Officio. I am a former school teacher and a lawyer, taught school for a number of years, and was Superintendent of Schools. I practiced law in Friona, Texas, for five years.

Don't Burn Straw; It Will Increase Future Crop Profits

The 1958 wheat harvest is here, but already the progressive farmers of the irrigated High Plains are looking forward to next year's wheat crop. This may sound strange, but there are several good reasons for it being true. For one thing, there is no substitute for time when it comes to getting the wheat stubble removed and made good use of.

There was a time when burning stubble was popular. It was believed that such a practice was an improvement over the "plow it under" method, since there was no comparison to be had in the work required for each system.

However, in recent years farmers have discovered that wheat stubble is one of the most valuable by-products their crop can have, and they are taking steps to make full use of the profits locked in every acre of straw. The interest in using stubble might be compared to the interest recently shown in conserving cotton burs.

"There is no better time than now to begin work on next year's wheat crop," points out County Agent Joe Jones. "Whatever you do, don't burn your straw. It is valuable organic matter, and preserves and increases the water holding ability of your soil."

Traditionally, the soils of the High Plains have been low in organic matter. With little or no natural cover such as trees, with a low amount of rainfall, there had been little bacteriological activity down through the centuries that the pastures were virgin.

Then the farmer came to the Plains and opened up the rich soils with a plow. With the development of irrigation and heavy cropping practices, the problem was even more aggravated because the amount of organic matter removed from the

Everything in this story pertains to irrigated wheat. In the case of dryland wheat, the object is not so much how to get rid of straw as it is how to keep the straw on or near the top of the ground so as to furnish protection from the wind and water.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

We noted with interest an article in the Sunday issue of the Amarillo Daily News. It contained figures which showed the average income per hour for farmers engaged in various phases of agriculture.

Of particular significance, naturally, is the report that irrigated cotton farmers of the High Plains top all others in the per-hour income level, that being in excess of $3 per hour worked.

The report was not especially typical of the Parmer County area, mainly because it suggested that the average cotton allotment on the High Plains is over 100 acres. We don't remember the exact figure, but it was around 140.

Parmer County cotton farmers have an average of between 40 and 45 acres of cotton per farm, which is much less than that suggested in the study, and so it is likely that the report might prove misleading when applied directly to our "neck of the woods."

On a per-acre basis, however, we do not think it would be difficult to prove that Parmer County cotton growers make more money than any others on the High Plains. USDA reports on ginnings have shown that since 1954 we have beaten all other Plains counties on a per-acre yield basis—year after year.

We have come to realize that quality is as important as quantity when cotton profits are figured, and here, again, Parmer County growers more than measure up to their neighbors on the east and to the south.

A slightly more favorable climate appears to be the main reason for this. While all High Plains weather can be pretty well grouped into a pattern, there are variations, and Parmer County, on the western edge, seems to have fewer untimely rains and soggy spells than the High Plains as a whole. This factor has proved significant in helping us keep up our quality.

Cultural practices are the most significant controllable factor in cotton quality, and we are convinced that the farmers of the Parmer County area are outstanding here, also. The typical Parmer County cotton grower is "hungry" for more and better cotton, and he is much more willing to change and improve his farming methods if either reward is offered.

There are no statistics available, but Parmer County probably has the highest percentage of "new" cotton growers of any county in Texas. Experience is always a big factor in enabling a person to do things, but there is much to be said for the man who learns something (such as cotton farming) from scratch and has no established and inflexible ideas on how to do things.

There is still a lot of room for improvement in cotton quality by means of cultural practices here, as well as across the rest of the High Plains, but we believe that Parmer County farmers will be the first to adopt improvements. It would be interesting to see a study projected on the earnings of farmers who raise irrigated grain sorghums or irrigated wheat. There is one danger here that needs to be emphasized, though.

That is that the dollar-an-hour profit is only one small part of what goes to make up a useful and practical analysis of a farming operation. The term "hourly wages" is strictly current. It does not take into account the factors that must be studied for the long pull. And these factors are of utmost importance to the farmer, because permanence is his middle name.

For instance, profit per hour figures have nothing to do with soil fertility, water conservation, rotation planning, or any of these factors which are central in the long-range planning of every successful farmer.

To illustrate, a farm owner who leases his farm to a good tenant might find that the tenant averages 4,000 pounds of grain sorghum an acre. The slightly more than $20 an acre he would get for the use of his land, water, and improvements might prove satisfactory.

But if the season was especially dry, five irrigations might be necessary to make a crop, and a four-foot drop in the water table might be experienced on this account.

If the owner's land was worth $200 an acre before this crop was produced, it may be argued that it will still be worth $200 an acre after the crop is taken off, but we insist that this is paper or face value only, and that in reality, a part of the value of the land has been hauled off to the elevator.

Wage-hour figures are not designed with landlords in mind, but this illustration serves as a convenient way to divide costs of ownership from costs of production. In the case of the owner-operator, who is the man we are searching for in this study, of course, he would be subject to both expenses.

Workers in industry receive an average of around $2.25 to $2.50 an hour for their labor. But there are pitfalls in comparing them across-the-board with their neighbors on the farm. Like the tenant in our illustration, they have not been shown the costs of ownership.

Furthermore, industrial employment is not subject to seasonal variations as it was a generation ago. Most workers are "steady." Also, the so-called fringe benefit provisions of most industrial worker contracts have now grown to the point that they are worth more than passing mention when considering earning power.

What farmer ever heard of time-and-a-half, double-time, full-paid hospitalization, paid vacations, or pension plans? To sum it up, it may be interesting to compare farming with other vocations on a wage-hour basis, but it's darned inaccurate, and should never be a basis for making decisions.

An employee publication of the International Harvester Company offers a safe-driving tip: "Drive as though that car behind you were a police patrol car. You'll be amazed at how safe highways can get."

Sen. Andy Rogers States Platform For Re-Election

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE 30TH SENATORIAL DISTRICT
Although I announced my intention of becoming a candidate for re-election as your State Senator several weeks ago, I wish to take this opportunity to make the customary full statement in your newspaper.

Naturally, it is not possible to relate here all that I would prefer that you know about myself and my record. I will hit some of the major points, and urge you to contact me or those in a position to know about any questions you might have. It is my desire that my personal and political record be an open book to you.

I have served four years (two terms) as State Representative and six years (one and one-half terms) as your State Senator. I am 33 years of age, a farmer, cattleman and businessman. I am a native of the South Plains-Panhandle area, as are my wife, two daughters and son. I served in the uniform of the United States Army for three years during World War II, and have a college education.

At different times during the past four years, I have been threatened and warned not to seek re-election. Some of you who know me best have been threatened with embarrassment if you did not persuade me not to make this race. The story behind this is a long one, and touches on many things that have happened in Texas politics. Some of them are covered below—others I will discuss later.

I made my first race for the Texas Senate in 1952. There was a great hue and cry to "clean up the mess in Washington." I was an oddity among candidates THEN. I charged then that "Austin is as rotten as Washington" and that "moral integrity is needed most." I demanded a law requiring state officials and legislators to file, for public record, a statement showing their income and its source. I was quite unpopular in some circles.

In 1954 I, and a few others, urged investigations into several state matters including the Insurance Commission, certain land transactions in which the State was involved, and State contracts. For my efforts I was slandered. A few months later the lid blew off.

NOW, no candidate would dare run for high office without a pledge "that honesty and integrity must be restored to our State government!" Andy Rogers is the only candidate in this race who has supported and voted for lobbyist control, lobbyist registration, and a code of ethics for legislators; for anti-loan shark legislation and compulsory financial statements of State officials' incomes.

Andy Rogers has authored more strict laws on the sale and distribution of narcotics and filthy literature and bootleggers than any other candidate in this race.

I have made many good friends among those who work for the interests of our district. I have made good enemies of those minority blocs whose interests conflict with the interests of our district. Some of these minority blocs have done well for themselves in Austin. But their position is now threatened. They are desperate to continue feathering their nests at your expense, to protect their "darlings," and to gain new ones.

I am on their list for extermination. They will stop at nothing and stoop to anything. Their methods of political slander, deceit and legislative control have been perfected to an art. And, as has been said, "the perfection of art is to conceal art."

It is well known in Austin and Dallas that the top brass of the loan-sharks, electric utility monopolies, gas pipelines, the liquor lobby and others are licking their chops over the slick tricks and schemes they have cooked up to deceive you about your Senator.

Actually, theirs is an old tune with a few new verses—only a little face lifting to bring their show up to date. I have suffered economically, socially and politically at their hands. But I have not run from them in the past, and I will not do so now or in the future.

the NEW MARTIN RIGID FRAME UTILITY BUILDING

Every square foot of floor space in a Martin is USABLE—because there are no center columns—no overhead obstructions—and side-walls are straight. The Martin ALL-STEEL, RIGID FRAME construction gives you a more PERMANENT building—engineered and built especially for farm use.

You can adapt a Martin to suit your exact needs, widths of 24, 32, 36 and 40 feet — eave heights of 8, 10, 12 and 14 feet. Lengths in any multiples, of 20 feet. Doors, windows and ventilators can be put where you want them.

Whatever your farm building requirements, a Martin will fit them better, and at a surprisingly LOW COST. You can erect yourself or we will erect for you at a quoted price you can depend upon...FREE ESTIMATES. Call us today!

TAXES AND ECONOMY

There is no need for either a sales or income tax for Texas. No other state has ever abused its citizens on tax matters as has Texas. A few examples: Nearly 55 percent of present taxes collected in Texas are consumer (or "hidden") sales taxes. The consumer gasoline tax take is more than that paid on all crude oil. The consumer cigarette tax is larger than the total natural gas tax. Other states, even communists, can buy our gasoline tax free, but you pay 5 cents per gallon. Others states tax OUR natural gas up to ten times as much as we do. Roughly, 70 percent of both of these Texas products are consumed outside of Texas. Few of the really big industries in Texas pay more than a proportional TOKEN of taxes, compared with the average businessman, farmer and worker.

Last year two (2) groups had their taxes reduced—natural gas producers and part of the Texas electric utility monopoly. Two (2) groups had their taxes raised—10 percent increase on YOUR car and truck licenses and a doubling of tuition on students of State Colleges.

CONCLUSION: Stating such facts is often political suicide in Texas, but we merely need legislators who will see that these out-of-state corporations pay their share of the load while exploiting our resources. I have fought for this.

LABOR
I will continue to fight to maintain a strong and workable RIGHT-TO-WORK law in Texas. This should be supplemented by a little Taft-Hartley law for Texas, as our present labor laws are a hodgepodge and leave loopholes unfair to business, labor and the public.

APPOINTMENTS AND MORE REPRESENTATION
I was one of a dedicated group that forced legislative redistricting. West Texas gained NINE new Representatives and THREE new Senators thereby.

For the first time in history, since I have been your Senator, our immediate area (District) has had a Chairman and member of the Highway Commission, Chairman of Water Engineers, The State Water Planning Board, the State Dental Board, the State Optometric Board, the Public Safety Commission, two of seven members of the State Board of Colleges and others.

These appointments are made with the advice and consent of the State Senate. Such things don't "just happen", and have never happened to us before. SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES
Our young people are our greatest resource. In 1952 I stated that we were "destroying our future with a false economy school program." We have made some advances. In these, Andy Rogers has been in the forefront.

One law I authored, which equalized our share of the State's school financial burden, has ALREADY saved our fifteen county Senatorial District nearly TWO (2) MILLION DOLLARS (from your pocket) in only 4½ years.

AGRICULTURE
The economy of our Senatorial District is based, first and last, on agriculture. No present member of our State Legislature has a record to surpass my efforts in this field. This record was made on such legislation as has been requested and approved by the farmers, ranchers and businessmen of our District. Andy Rogers' record includes accomplishments and efforts regarding underground and surface water, rural roads, seeds, feeds, "gas for irrigation," experiment station work, animal health, the Extension Service and many others.

I STILL believe that in Austin, as elsewhere, "moral integrity is needed most." I will conduct no smear campaign; I will stick to the record and the facts.
YOU, the people of our agricultural 30th Senatorial District, elected Andy Rogers to be your State Senator in 1952 by an overwhelming majority for one-half (½) a term. In 1954 you gave me a full four-year term without an opponent. It has been a privilege and an honor to be your State Senator. With humility and sincerity, I ask for the opportunity to continue to serve you.

Among Those Who Know the Candidates Best
It's JOE GREENHILL
by more than 3 to 1
FOR THE TEXAS SUPREME COURT
A statewide poll of the legal profession, conducted by the State Bar of Texas, shows the vote to be:
JOE GREENHILL 5,844 votes
His Opponent 1,727 votes
This is the overwhelming verdict of members of the candidates' own profession after carefully weighing their qualifications and experience, studying their record and considering their judicial temperament and personal integrity.
The lawyers of Texas have thus joined farmers, ranchers, merchants, laborers, businessmen and other professional people in supporting the candidacy of Judge JOE GREENHILL because all of them want to keep a fair, honest and sincere judge on the Texas Supreme Court.
Judge Greenhill is a former attorney for High Plains Underground Water District No. 1. He has done much to procure a tax reduction for irrigation farmers (see Cross Section).

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Have you ever tried spraying clothes to dampen them for ironing? This method works especially well if you need to iron a garment immediately after it has been dampened. For a smoother, quicker job, use hot water in the spray.

Everyone who enjoys strawberry and rhubarb pies, preserves, and other desserts should freeze or can enough to supply the needs of the family until another crop comes in.

In our Mrs. America recipes, we have gone down the alphabet to T. Mrs. Tennessee, who is Mrs. Jacy F. Marks. Mrs. Marks selected a dessert recipe.

COCONUT TORTE PIE

Statewide Radio Broadcast

8 P. M. MONDAY JUNE 30th

For Unity, Progress and Good Government

4 egg whites
Dash of salt
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1 cup sugar
1 pint vanilla ice cream
1/4 cup flaked coconut, tinted if desired

Combine 1 1/2 cups coconut and nut meats. Beat egg whites with salt and vanilla until foamy. Add sugar and beat until stiff peaks are formed. Fold in coconut and nut meat mixture. Pour into greased 8 inch pie pan.

Bake in moderate oven thirty minutes. Serve with ice cream balls rolled in tinted coconut.

Most of us probably have more Texas recipes than any other kind, but we can add Mrs. Louis F. Hale's Golden Tassies to our collection. Mrs. Hale, who was Mrs. Texas, says, "These tiny pecan tarts are not a quick-fix dessert but they're worth every minute of the baking time." She also adds, "These may be made ahead and refrigerated for several days (if you can keep them from the family that long) or frozen (baked or unbaked) for weeks."

GOLDEN TASSIES

2 packages (3 oz. each) cream cheese
2 cups sifted flour
1 cup margarine, creamed
4 cups (1 lb.) chopped pecans
3 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups brown sugar, packed
3 tablespoons melted margarine

1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/8 teaspoon salt
Combine cream cheese, flour and margarine. Divide dough into 48 small balls (by dividing the dough in half, then in quarters, and so on, it is easy to get uniform balls.) Place in miniature muffin tins (1 to 1 1/2 inches in diameter) and press dough into cup shape with floured fingers.

Divide half of the pecans among pastry shells. Combine eggs, brown sugar, margarine, vanilla, and salt. Pour over pecans in the shells, leaving room at top to sprinkle on remaining nuts. Bake in moderate oven 15 to 20 minutes or until inserted knife comes out clean. Cool before serving, storing covered in the refrigerator or wrapping for the freezer.

Individual Veal Pies were chosen by Mrs. Donald McGhie, who was Mrs. Utah. The ingredients she uses are:

1 lb. veal, breast or shoulder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
flour
2 tablespoons fat
2 to 3 cups water
2 small onions, sliced

A three-in-one implement is being used on the James Readhimer farm in northeast Parmer County to apply anhydrous ammonia, plant and cultivate at the same time. Readhimer, with hat, and a farm hand stand behind the implement which is hooked to a D4 cat.

1 cup cubed cooked carrots
1 cup cooked peas
2 to 3 cups moist mashed potatoes
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon paprika
Cut meat into 1-inch pieces. Dredge with seasoned flour and brown on all sides in hot fat. Add water to cover meat. Simmer from 1 to 1 1/2 hours, until tender. Add a little flour to thicken broth, if necessary. Add vegetables and transfer to 5 individual casseroles. Circle with border of mashed potatoes. Brush potatoes with beaten egg. Sprinkle with paprika.

Brown in moderate oven 30 minutes. This recipe may be used to fill 4 slightly larger casseroles or stretched with extra meat and vegetables to make 6 individual pies.

Mrs. Vermont, who in private life is Mrs. Charles W. Rounds, commented as follows on her favorite recipe: "Here is an extra large recipe which I like because it makes such a big batch and the more you eat the more you want." Since her recipe is for cookies, it is easy to understand what she meant.

OLD WOMAN IN THE SHOE COOKIES

2 cups plus 2 tablespoons shortening
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup molasses
2 eggs, well beaten
4 cups plus 12 tablespoons flour, sifted
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons baking soda
1 cup milk
2 cups flaked coconut
2 cups chopped walnuts
1 1/2 cups raisins

Cream shortening, blend in sugar, molasses, and eggs. Sift flour, baking powder, salt, and soda. Add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Fold in coconut, walnuts, and raisins. Drop by tablespoonfuls onto greased baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven ten minutes. Makes about nine dozen cookies.

One row of the four row implement shows the attachment of the ammonia chisel, next are two head cleaner sweeps that open the water furrow.

Farmer Rigs Machine To Do Three Jobs In One

A three-in-one machine is being used extensively in the northwestern part of Parmer County by James Readhimer, who has fertilized, planted, and cultivated his 1958 crops with the combination implement.

The implement consists of three tool bars clamped together, with one tool bar carrying the fertilizer chisels, another for the cultivator sweeps, and another for double-row planters.

Readhimer reports good results with the three operation implement, and says the main drawback is that the machine takes a tremendous amount of power to pull. He tried it first on ordinary tractors, but the power lift would not hoist it from the ground.

For power he uses a D4 Cat, and says that it is plenty of load for it.

On the first tool bar are four anhydrous ammonia chisels that place the fertilizer about five inches below the seed. The cultivator sweeps are clamped to the second bar, to plow the weeds in front of the planters and clear away trash.

Several advantages that Readhimer attributes to the implement are the accuracy of fertilizer placement, the ability to plant with little trouble

Another advantage that is working for Readhimer on his rig is the seeded ground is ready for irrigation immediately after planting because the cultivator sweeps plow a water furrow.

However, he points out that this rig would not be one that most farmers could use, because of the amount of power needed to lift and pull the three-job implement.

A large wheat land tractor could do the job, but it would be a slow process. With his D4 Cat, he covers about 45 acres during a 11-12 hour period. Two farm workers were used to operate the rig, because he wanted to be sure that the planter was dropping seed when it was supposed to.

About the adjustments for the rig, Readhimer says that it is simple to change row widths, and every attachment on the rig is completely adjustable. But it does take quite a bit of time, due to there being so many plows, chisels, and planters hooked to the machine.

The jet-age for commercial aircraft will begin this coming winter. On a November day, a Pan American Boeing 707 will take off from New York's Idlewild Airport bound for Europe.

Quotas Returned

Nobody was fooled by the voting tabulations following the wheat marketing quota referendum last week. It carried by a big margin, 238 to 18, in Parmer County.

County growers went along with the majority of producers in other commercial sections of the nation in saying "yes" to the question of whether there will be marketing quotas on wheat next year.

Allotments were not the issue. Mainly, the farmer was offered the choice of 75 percent of parity price supports or 50 percent for the wheat grown within his allotment. Agricultural observers figured the referendum would pass with ease and it did.

The voting was down considerably from last year when Parmer County led the state in the number of votes cast. In 1957, 418 ballots were marked "for" and 29 "against." The wheat harvest itself this summer may have had some effect on the turnout.

Parmer County is divided into three "communities" by the USDA. Community A, which roughly makes up Friona and Rhea, voted 136 in favor of and 5 against quotas. Lazbuddie, which is B community, cast 29 for and 1 against.

In community C, which includes Bovina and Farwell boxes, the vote was 73 to 12 in favor of quotas.

Embree, Edelman Attend Meeting

Expansion of research on water conservation and promotion of economical use of underground water resources as the greatest need for High Plains economy was recommended to the advisory council of the High Plains Station, at their meeting June 17, by Dr. C. L. Lundell, director of the Texas Research Foundation.

Members of the advisory council met at the 310-acre experimental farm at Halfway Tuesday and heard reports on the 1958 research program under way, including ten new programs initiated in 1958 by Dr. T. C. Longnecker, head of the station. Those attending from Parmer County were Warren Embree of Bovina and W. L. "Preach" Edelman of Friona.

The following optometrists of this area have been approved for membership in the Texas Optometric Association. They are voluntarily pledged to a rigid Code of Ethics, and to the Visual Welfare of their patients. This Seal will identify them.

WILLIE WIREHAND PRESENTS

The Bruce Parr Family

of the Black community

Parmer County Farm Family of the Month

The Bruce Parr family, Parmer County Farm Family of June, is a fine family which lives in the Black community, well-known even in statewide circles as a community of progressive families and farmers.

The Parrs farm about a mile east and one-half mile south of the business locations at Black, in some of the finest farming land in Parmer County. Although high producing crops of grain sorghum, cotton, and wheat are the main crops of Parr's farm, vegetable crops are getting attention with even a few acres being planted in sugar beets this year.

Individual members of the family participate in a number of activities. Parr is secretary of the board of supervisors of the Parmer Co. Soil Conservation District, past president of the county Farm Bureau, president of directors of Friona Consumers, and is on committees of the Black Community Association, besides many other activities. Mrs. Parr is a teacher in the nursery to the Friona Baptist Church. Iva is a 4-H member, and in the band and chorus of Friona school. Ira Bruce is an explorer scout, with only four badges needed to rank an Eagle scout, and a member of FFA. Donna Jo will begin school next year, with little brother Larry Kim to have three years before this event.

The Parr family lives in a house with practically all modern conveniences, thanks to electricity. Panels with switches controlling lighting, and central air conditioning are features included in their home.

"We'd be out of business at our home if the electricity went off," Mrs. Parr comments. Of the appliances she has to save work and time, she would not like to keep house without any of them. Pictured above is Mrs. Parr with her electric washer and dryer. Other appliances include refrigerator, dishwasher, deep freeze, and small appliances.

ports the program financially. "It's a lot better than last year," Atwell said in regard to participation in the program. He reported that an average of over 60 were going swimming on the days scheduled for that activity, an average of 40 were attending the movie, and that about 45 boys were participating in the baseball portion of the program.

Oklahoma Lane Baptists Plan Dedication Service

All former members of the Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church are invited to attend the dedication service at the church Sunday.

An old time all-day program has been planned to mark the retirement of indebtedness against the new building.

Speaker for the morning services will be Rev. Barto Massey, who was pastor at the beginning of the building program. Dinner will be served outdoors at noon. Rev. Vance Zinn, pastor at the completion of the building, will speak during the afternoon service. Special musical numbers will be presented by members and former members.

The dedication service committee stresses that persons who may not be able to attend all day are urged to come for any part of the program.

Ball Teams Play In Bovina Today

Texico-Farwell's Pee-wee and Little League baseball teams journey to Bovina this afternoon (Thursday) for their second games in the 1958 Farmer County League.

In their first encounter, last week, they split with Lazbuddie. The Pee-wees went under 21-5, while the local Little League bounced Lazbuddie, 7-3.

In a practice game prior to season play, the Little Leaguers won over Lazbuddie while the Pee-wees lost by a big margin.

Monday, the teams from here go to Lazbuddie for the third game of the season.

Farwell Issues Two Building Permits

T. O. Barnes was issued a building permit by City of Farwell last week. He was granted permission to move a trailer house, for residence, on the 100 by 167 foot strip immediately south of the city hall.

Also, Lee E. Meeks was given a permit to construct a masonry fence on Lots 1-4 of Block 18.

J. C. and Allen Kelley were in Santa Rosa Sunday to attend a high school rodeo.

FARWELL BAPTIST NEWS

Jerry Poteet preached at both services Sunday. Sunday school attendance was 147 and 59 were present for training union.

Routine business was transacted at the WMU meeting Monday morning at the church. Members present were Mesdames Jim Terrell, R. T. Langston, Ruth Reid, Joe McWilliams, Bill Dollar, Jewel Scott, and E. G. Williams.

Members of the primary department were treated to a picnic in the Clovis park immediately after church Sunday. About 18 youngsters were present. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Craft, Mrs. Bill Dollar, and Leroy McDonald and other adults attending were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Battenfield, Bert Williams, and Mesdames McDonald and Jim Terrell.

Word has been received that Dr. Lawrence Hayes of Lubbock will not preach as scheduled Sunday. At press time it was not known who would fill the pulpit.

Singing Convention Organized Sunday

Organizational meeting of an All-Faith Singing Convention for Texico-Farwell was Sunday afternoon in the Texico Baptist Church.

Regular meeting date for the group will be the fourth Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Texico Baptist Church. The church song books will be used. All interested persons are urged to attend.

Elected president was Bob

Douglas. Assisting him will be James McDorman, vice-president, and June Gay Douglas, secretary-treasurer.

DINNER GUESTS—Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Kesner entertained with a dinner at their City Cafe in Farwell Monday evening. Guests were members of summer council of Baptist Student Union at West Texas State College. The Kesners' son, Manuel, center, is unit organization chairman of the union. A total of 17 executive council members, with Student Director and Mrs. Arthur Brewer, were present. At left is Jane Cheyne, president; second from left, Jessie Wilkins, organizational chairman; Mr. and Mrs. Kesner are at right. The dinner was followed by a regular meeting of the council.
