Cantaloupes Bright Spot In Vegetable Production

Cantaloupes, a new and attention-getting entry into Parmer County agriculture, are currently the only bright spot in the area's vegetable picture.

Promoted by Gateway Produce Company, which built its shed in Bovina this spring, the more than 600 acres of cantaloupes in the central part of the county are rolling to market at a good pace. Prices, which started off at less than $3 a crate, generally considered the break-even point, have now ebbed to between $3.50 and $4, depending on the size of the melons. Generally, anything over $3 is considered satisfactory, and with the good picks that are indicated for most farms, this will result in the melons being a profitable crop for farmers this year. The pre-harvest yield estimate of 200 crates an acre has been upped slightly. From 225 to 250 is expected to be a more accurate figure.

Bovina area growers, in getting into cantaloupes for the first time, had some trouble with the weather earlier in the season, but it has been cooperating with them nicely during the past two weeks, insuring good ripening conditions; hot and dry. This has also aided harvesting operations, which have continued uninterrupted. The Bovina deal is now at its peak of activity and will continue active for another week or 10 days unless weather disrupts the pattern.

All cantaloupes from Bovina are being moved out by refrigerated truck.

Gateway is also ready to receive a smaller acreage of bell peppers—38 in all, from several area farms. Growing peppers this year are Sammy Sudderth, Arlin Hartzog, Billy Sudderth, Don Garrett, and Doyle Elliott.

Harvesting is expected to begin this weekend, and Otto Ables, Gateway shed manager at Bovina, says "Prospects are very good" for the bell pepper market. The second big deal for Gateway will open "by September the first—possibly earlier," according to Ables. That will be when the more than 300 acres of tomatoes start rolling into the shed. The tomato harvest is supposed to pick up about where cantaloupes leave off, but there may be some overlapping this year.

In other good-sized acreage vegetable deals, things were not so bright this week. Potatoes, which started at slightly over $3 to open the season, have been sliding ever since the first loads came in.

The price is now down to $1.65 a hundred "when you can sell a load," reports John O'Haugherty, salesman for Friona Growers and Shippers, where the area's biggest potato deal is.

Rough estimates place the remaining Friona potato acreage at about 150, which is something less than a fourth of the original plantings. Not only is the price at a very low point, but the demand is weak, also, and shipments are being made very spottily.

"The potato market is down all over the country," says O'Haugherty. "Some people think that we get poor prices while everybody else gets good prices, but it just isn't so." He furnished market quotations from a trade publication on points all across the nation to prove his point. Very few were as much as $2.

The salesman does not see any prospect for the markets to improve before the Friona digging is over, either. All of the country is in production.

The first carrots were due to be dug Tuesday of this week, and the market for them also appeared to be down considerably. O'Haugherty expects prices to open at about $25 a ton. Last year, the carrot market opened at about $45 a ton for this area.

This is not unexpected. Last year was an exceptional one for carrot growers. Demand and prices continued high all season long and carrots proved to be the leading money-maker among area vegetables.

A big jump in carrot acreage, especially on the High Plains, was expected on that account. Reports had it that carrot acreage would double or triple with ease, but the belief now is that many farmers had difficulty in getting stands and the volume may not be so great as had previously been thought. There are about 500 acres around Friona.

At any rate, $25 a ton is considered only a "fair" price for the producers. If any money is made at that price, it is likely to be the result of high production instead of the market. There are no estimates on the yield prospects of carrots as yet. There should be by next week.

A small acreage around Friona is in cabbage this year. A. L. Black, Bob Jones and Kenneth Neill have about 30 acres. John Renner and Bruce Parr also have some which is being processed out of the county.

A CREW OF MEXICAN NATIONALIST farm workers is busy with harvesting the Bovina area cantaloupes. They pick the melons from the vines, put them in a satchel, and take the filled satchels to a truck in the center of the patch. The J. B. Sudderth farm is the scene.

At Friona, cabbage cutting began about 10 days ago. The leafy vegetable is bringing about $27.50 a ton, which is not too bad, if enough tonnage can be obtained from the fields.

Growers are hoping for three cuttings.

The tail end of the onion harvest is coming at Friona, with about 30 acres left in the ground. Current prices are about $1.40, which is unsatisfactory. However, O'Haugherty says, "I look for the market to strengthen."

He says the Hereford onion deal is about played out, which could help Friona at the last of the season.

Onions, like potatoes, have had pretty much of a dismal year. The onions still left at Friona are sweet Spanish.

Lettuce, the High Plains late crop, will not be due until early October, usually just before the first killing frost. Both Friona and Bovina will have lettuce this year, the combined acreage being somewhere around 600.

The market on lettuce just now is very poor. However, so much could happen between now and October that this is not necessarily an ill omen.

All in all, the vegetable picture is weak to fair in the Parmer County area, with the single exception at this time being cantaloupes.

Maximum Payment Rates Different In New Program

The Conservation Reserve Program (the 5 and 10 year contract program) has been changed for producers who will enter land under contract for the first time beginning with crop year 1959 in that no maximum payment rate is established for all farms in the county as has been true in the past.

Instead, there will be a maximum payment rate established for a farm upon the request of a producer who is interested in participating in the program, announces the county ASC office.

There will be two maximum payment rates established for a farm. One maximum rate will apply if only a part of the eligible land in a farm is to be placed in the Conservation Reserve. The second maximum payment rate will be 10 per cent higher and will apply where all of the eligible land in the farm is to be placed in the Conservation Reserve for 5 or 10 years.

The annual payment rate previously established for land already under Conservation Reserve Contract will remain unchanged.

The basic rate for Parmer County is $12 per acre. The maximum rate for a farm can, under no circumstances, exceed 150 per cent of the county basic rate, nor can it exceed 20 per cent of the Producers who have filed an application for establishment of maximum payment rate will be notified of this rate shortly after September 26, and if interested in participating will be afforded the opportunity to offer land and apply for a contract on such land. This offer and application for contract must be completed and filed with the county ASC office not later than October 17, says Prentic Mills, ASC office manager. As soon as possible after October 17, the county committee will determine which contract offers are acceptable and applicants will be notified as to whether or not a contract may be entered into.

This program is not designed to cause irrigated farm land to come under contract and it is not anticipated that payment rates will be such that cause a farmer to be inclined to retire irrigated land from production, Mills says.

The aim of this program is to try to encourage the return of marginal farmland to grass; in other words the aim is to put land back in grass which probably never should have been placed in cultivation in the first place. Producers who are interested in participating in this program are advised to call at the ASC office for information relative to their farm.

estimated value of the land. The county committee will estimate the value of the land on each farm.

Physical improvements such as houses, barns, fences or irrigation facilities will not be taken into consideration in estimating the value of the land on a farm.

Any person who feels that he may be interested in participating in the program must apply to have a maximum payment rate established on the farm. This application must be completed prior to September 26. Employees of the ASC office will assist producers in filing this appli-

4-H Boys Study Grain Marketing

(Editor's note: Following is a report written by Cooper Young of the Lazbuddie 4-H Club on a recent field trip made by a group of 4-H members.)

Eleven 4-H boys were accompanied by three adult leaders and County Agent Joe Jones to Amarillo Thursday, August 14. Purpose of the trip was to learn more about grain marketing.

We first gathered in the Petroleum building where introductions were made by Knox Parr, district agent. Bill Nelson, executive secretary of Grain Sorghum Producers Assn., told us the importance of grain marketing.

Frank Pharris, assistant manager of Producers Grain Corporation, told us how to interpret market reports.

We then had lunch at a restaurant. Our host was the Amarillo Grain Exchange.

After lunch we heard a talk by Richard Chitwood of Lazbuddie on the importance of the county elevator.

The afternoon tour took in PGC, Amarillo Grain Exchange and Mead's Bakery.

Boys attending from Parmer County were Chitwood, Dale Gober, Dickie Clayton, Danny Murphy, Randy Price, Gary Beauchamp, Johnny Mabry, Barry McCuan, Gary Renner, Ronnie Proctor, and Cooper Young.

Leaders were Tom Beauchamp, Ralph Price, Dee Chitwood and Jones.

We all had a very interesting and educational time.

"The Place Where Most People Trade"

We've been lucky this week. Two friends sent us Texas jokes. Ethel Ruth Spring, visiting in the east, read this joke in the Chicago paper and sent it along to us. A Texas lad rushed home from kindergarten and insisted that his mother buy him a set of pistols, holsters, and a gun belt.

"Whatever for?" she asked, "You're not going to tell me you need them for school?" "Yes I do," he replied. Teacher said tomorrow she's going to teach us to draw."

Water shortage is becoming our nation's number one headache. Not because there is less rain and snow, but because we use more and more water. Since 1900 our population has doubled but our water consumption has more than quadrupled. Industrial users of water take 46% of our nation's supply; agriculture uses another 46% and domestic users take 8%. Water is also required for recreational facilities and for continuance of wildlife and fish resources. Our nation is seeking a solution to its water problem.

Henderson Sale Postponed Again

Postponed until further notice That's the latest word on the sale of Henderson Elevator Properties in Farwell.

The property, which is owned by the government, was to have been sold to the highest bidder September 16. However, W. W. Baxter, an associate of John E. Speer, trustee in bankruptcy, told The Tribune this week the sale had been put off until further notice.

Earlier, the date of the sale was scheduled to be August 15. It was then postponed until September 16. Baxter says it is not now known when the sale will be.

Included in the property are 550,000 bushels of storage space in seven buildings, some 15 acres of land, a three-room dwelling, and grain handling facilities.

August, 1958, by virtue of said judgment and the mandates thereof the Clerk of the above mentioned District Court of said county did cause to be issued an Order of Sale commanding me as Sheriff of said county to seize, levy upon, and sell in the manner and form as required by law the hereinafter described property;

WHEREAS, by virtue of said judgment and said Order of Sale and the mandates thereof I did on the 6th day of August, 1958, seize and levy upon as the property of the above defendants the following described property, situated in Farmer County, Texas, to-wit:

(Said description showing the number of acres, original survey, locality in county, and name by which said property is most generally known.)

FIRST TRACT:

Lot 9, of Block 16, of the Original Town of Farwell, Farmer County, Texas,

And I will on the first Tuesday in the month of September, 1958, the same being the 2nd day of said month, proceed to sell all the right, title, and interest of the Defendants in and to said property at the Court House door of said county in the city or town of Farwell, Texas, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to the highest bidder for cash, provided, however, that none of said property shall be sold to the owner of said property directly or indirectly or to anyone having an interest therein or to any party other than a taxing unit which is a party to this suit for less than the amount of the adjudged value of said property or the aggregate amount of judgments against said property in said suit, which ever is lower, subject also to the right of the Defendants to redeem same in the time and manner provided by law and subject also to the right of the Defendants to have said property divided and sold in less divisions than the whole.

DATED at Farwell, Texas, this the 6th day of August 1958.

"Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat"

Frank S. Wise, who farms 960 acres near Dimmitt, says: "I know from experience that Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia makes a big difference in my wheat yields. I figure I'm getting an average of 20 bushels more to the acre by putting down 80 to 100 pounds of Phillips ammonia pre-plant."

Other successful Southwestern farmers use Phillips 66 ammonia to give them higher grain yields... and more profitable grazing. The 82% nitrogen in Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia gives young wheat a fast start, supplies plenty of lush, protein-rich forage that puts on more beef at less cost per pound.

Many of these farmers plow down Phillips 66 ammonia in the fall on maize land. They know that 82% nitrogen helps decompose crop residue, to provide extra plant food and make the soil more productive. Remember, Phillips 66 ammonia gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

Miss Yaunda Dale Weds In Seagraves

Miss Yaunda Lee Dale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dale of Oklahoma Lane, and William David Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Martin of Muleshoe, were married in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Rev. and Mrs. Gene H. Davis of Seagraves, on Wednesday, August 13. Rev. Davis performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a dress of white embroidery over taffeta. Something old and borrowed were her earrings and she wore a penny in her shoe and a blue garter. Her bouquet was of small bronze mums atop a white Bible.

Miss Freda White was maid of honor. Her dress was a red sheath and her flowers were white carnations. Best man was Cyrus Dale, brother of the bride.

The bridegroom is in the army and will return to Ft. Carson, Colo., this weekend for eight weeks advanced basic training. His wife is employed by a Muleshoe insurance agency and will remain there until she can join her husband.

Local People Visit Alamogordo Lake

Spending Sunday at Alamogordo Lake were several local families. One party was made up of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Norton, Mr. and Mrs. John McFarland, Mr. and Mrs. Everette Christian and Belva, and Mrs. Ann Smith, Martha, Kenny, and Murrell. lieves Jones. In the case of phosphate it must be done before seeding and should be placed in bands. Nitrogen fertilizers can be put on easier before wheat is seeded, but can be top-dressed dry or through water applications later. Farmers should keep in mind that fertilizer application through water is not considered a very good method because of poor water distribution, points out the agent. "Several methods of getting wheat up have been followed and all have proven satisfactory. These include seeding wheat, then watering up; pre-watering and seeding, seeding on rainfall and waiting for a stand before watering," says Jones. "Keep in mind that wheat should go into winter with the soil profile well supplied with moisture. This will enable the plants to root deeply and stool well."

Soils high in clay particles with a reasonable amount of organic matter can hold rather large amounts of fertilizers for use later on in the year. This is not the case with sands unless they are high in organic matter. "When getting your wheat land ready you should decide whether or not you plan to apply fertilizer in the fall and again next February or try to make one fall application, or one spring application do," says the agent. "In most instances fall applications followed with a spring application result in higher yields. This will become increasingly true as time goes on and soils become more and more deficient in organic matter." To be sure that wheat has the plant food needed at all times fall and spring applications will be necessary. In cases where phosphate is being applied, be sure this application is made before wheat is seeded, and either placed in the soil or worked in, says Jones. For best results phosphate fertilizers should be placed in bands.

It is also a good idea to always treat wheat seed with a fungicide to protect against seed-borne diseases and an insecticide to protect seed from wireworms. The wireworm protection is especially needed where seed are to be placed in a dry soil, says Jones.

August is the month for picnics for home demonstration clubs. I attended one last Thursday given by the Oklahoma Lane HD Club. Plenty of chicken and ice cream were served.

Monday the yearbook committee of the HD council met to plan the 1959 yearbook. Fortified with program suggestions from each club, Mesdames Rene Snead and Ellis Tatum and I completed plans for the yearbook and set up a penciled dummy.

Programs for the coming year include a series on home improvement, home management, foods, and homestead improvement. It all promises to be interesting.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Irrigation trials were conducted last Thursday on the Gilbert Kaltwasser farm south-east of Farwell. These trials are to obtain information as to the amount and rate that the soil is taking water. This check was made on a deep, medium textured, moderately permeable soil which is characteristic of the soil in that area. The rows at this location in the field were 1933 feet in length. The orifices that are used to determine the infiltration rate were set in the same row but on three different grades. The crop was cotton.

The Soil Conservation Service worked with one of the District's new cooperators in planning on building a waterway to stop the erosion caused by this excess water.

H. C. Wells is building an elevated ditch on his place north of Friona in addition to moving some dirt to improve the water application in one of his fields.

Jay Sanders and Glenn Floyd checked out the pipeline completed on Joe Jesko's farm north west of Clay's Corner.

A basic conservation plan was written on the Young and McGuire farm located 3 1/2 miles south of Clay's Corner. This makes 21 basic conservation plans written in the Parmer County Soil Conservation District for this year.

Increase Yields and Profits With The

MARTIN HARVEST HOARDER SYSTEM

The MARTIN SYSTEM is a Drier & Storage Unit all in one. Yet it costs little more than ordinary storage facilities.

Large Farmer or Small Farmer - You can follow the 4 key steps to profits with A MARTIN HARVEST HOARDER SYSTEM.

1. Harvest early—at 83% moisture content. Gain 10 to 15 more bushels per acre because your crop doesn't stay in the field to dry, where it is at the mercy of the sun, wind and rain.
2. Dry with low cost forced air. Drying with forced air is cheap because the air is free and it takes only pennies a day to run the fan. Dry without danger of fire.
3. Store in the same bin. Just turn off the drying switch and your crop is in storage. No expensive handling equipment or labor. Condition the grain at any time by turning a switch.
4. Sell or feed more, better crops. Sell No. 1 corn or grain and you are free to sell any time of the year on better markets. Whether you feed or sell, the greater profits will soon pay for your Martin system.

LET'S ELECT LOYDE A. BREWER COUNTY JUDGE

LETTUCE, TOO, REQUIRES ATTENTION---This weed-infested field of tender lettuce demonstrates the requirements of vegetable growing. Since weeds and vegetables do not mix well, labor is needed in larger quantities than is required for grain sorghum production. This scene of stooping laborers at the Earl Redden farm south of Bovina is typical to farms where vegetables are being grown.

trouble. Add to this the water that is released from the lower end of the field into the bar ditch and you have a total waste that staggers the imagination. If our irrigation water was unlimited, or even replenishable, there might be some justice in our present use of irrigation water. But with circumstances what they clearly are, we are obviously robbing ourselves (and our children) by careless methods.

Sorghum grain stocks on July 1 were more than triple supplies of just one year ago. That reflects the enormity of the 1957 crop. This fact casts a somber shadow over the milo producing areas of the High Plains, even though acreage nation-wide is down about 20 percent from last year.

However, there are some pressures at work which will be of some help to milogrowers this year. The main one is the greatly increased feeding of livestock. Cattle prices have improved substantially in recent months, and feeding has been stimulated.

The growing acceptance--even preference--for grain sorghum in the feed lot is noticeable in the disappearance of stocks. During the April to June quarter of this year 106 million bushels were moved out, compared with only 40 million the same quarter of last year, according to the Cargill grain reports.

In addition to feeding (in which case stocks usually go through normal, direct channels of trade), the government's loan program must be reckoned with, and since Commodity Credit Corporation has taken over such a huge chunk of the 1957 crop, the government's part in finding markets for grain sorghums is even greater at the moment.

What the government does with its grain is, unfortunately, largely a target of happenstance, politics, the state of our economy, and our relations with countries that could use these stocks.

Under Public Law 480, the government has been encouraged to move fairly large quantities of grain sorghum into export channels. There is no assurance that the heavy rate of disposal will continue, however. It just depends.

Gordon Fraser, former assistant administrator of market development for the Foreign Agricultural Service, says, "Of all our farm products, feed grains probably have the brightest export future. We are the world's greatest and most efficient producer of these grains and are already the largest exporter. We have competition from Argentina, Canada, Australia, and a few other countries, but we believe world import demand will expand at such a rate that much of the increased demand can only be satisfied here."

government will push its export program for feed grains, this will be welcome news. The government is getting most of the crop anyway, and so what it does with the grain will have a lot to do with what ultimately becomes of grain sorghum as part of the USDA's farm program.

acid comments to that effect. "I'd like to see YOU irrigate and not have any water in the bar ditches" seems to be the general attitude of our critics.

No doubt it is a difficult feat to make optimum use of irrigation water, especially on tighter soils and especially where there is a pronounced slope to the land.

Also, we have had our eyes open when we visited other parts of the country where irrigation is practiced on a big scale. We can say without reservation that the High Plains is the most flagrant waste area we have ever seen.

We have seen the Lower and Middle Rio Grande, the big Pecos area of west Texas, the Portales Valley, Southeastern New Mexico, Western and Northwestern New Mexico, Southwestern Colorado, the Texas Coastal Plain, and many, many other projects, big and small, all over the Southwest. Some irrigation is from stored surface supplies, some from wells.

But there is no area in the Southwest that wastes water--precious water, without which our agricultural economy would crumble and fall in a few short months--as does the High Plains area.

without waste, the stark fact remains that only about a third of all the ground water pumped here on the High Plains is ever used by the plants themselves.

From the moment that the water reaches the surface, waste begins, especially in the open ditch type of system which is still in common use. Evaporation and seepage from the ditch take their toll as the water is carried from the well to the point in the field to be irrigated.

Then, much of the water released down the row wets soil that has no roots in it. Evaporation is still at work. The soil profile is usually irrigated to a greater depth than the root zone at the top of the field. Swags or low spots and the tail-end of the field often suffer the same

WITH AGE COMES EXPERIENCE AND WISDOM

The job of county judge and ex-officio county school superintendent requires both legal and public school training. County Judge A. D. Smith is an attorney by profession--has had years of experience in dealing with judicial matters. County Judge A. D. Smith is also a public educator, having served for many years in public school systems as both a teacher and an administrator. He knows LAW, he knows EDUCATION, and is the only candidate so qualified.

County Judge A. D. Smith is fair and honest. He believes in doing what is right for the county as a whole. He avoids sectionalism. He will work for the interest of the county--not any one city or school district.

County Judge A. D. Smith has always worked harmoniously with County Commissioners Court. During his tenure of office, Parmer County has received its full quota of farm-to-market roads.

County Judge A. D. Smith believes in efficiency and economy in government, and has personally followed that philosophy. He has no office secretary and keeps the administrative costs of his office at a minimum. County judges in neighboring counties DO use extra help, but County Judge A. D. Smith writes his own letters, runs his own errands, and personally attends to each item of business. County Judge A. D. Smith is ON THE JOB full-time. The way to keep costs of administering this office low is to keep A. D. Smith county judge.

Financial condition of Parmer County is one of the best in the entire state. Money has been used wisely and without selfish motives. You can assure the continuance of such an excellent financial picture by returning County Judge A. D. Smith to office. He does not and will not spend public money foolishly, unwisely, or selfishly.

County Judge A. D. Smith is in excellent health and is approximately the same age as the present Speaker of the House of Representatives.

By his training, by his experience, by the record he has established, we can be assured that County Judge A. D. Smith will continue to hold court, administer school and county affairs, and personally attend to the hundreds of details that go with this important office, and WE SHOULD RETURN THIS DEDICATED PUBLIC SERVANT TO ANOTHER TERM OF OFFICE.

County Singers To Meet Sunday

Third session of the Curry-Parmer County singing association is to be at 3 p.m. CST Sunday in Texico Baptist Church. R. L. Douglas Sr., president of the group, says members are endeavoring to reach persons who participated in a similar group several years ago.

"We have been very pleased with the response," he says, "but there are still lots of the old-timers that we'd like to have back." He urges everyone interested to come for an afternoon of good old-fashioned gospel singing.

Quit not certainty for hope.

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF PARMER SHERIFF'S SALE

WHEREAS, on the 9th day of July, 1958, in Cause No. 1982, in the District Court of Parmer County, Texas, wherein City of Farwell was Plaintiff, Farwell Independent School District, State of Texas, Parmer County, and High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 were Impleaded Party Defendants, and recovered judgment against William S. Osborne, his unknown wife or wives; Charles Osborne, his unknown wife or wives; Defendants, for taxes, penalty, interest, and cost against the hereinafter described property;

WHEREAS, on the 6th day of August, 1958, by virtue of said judgment and the mandates thereof the Clerk of the above mentioned District Court of said county did cause to be issued an Order of Sale commanding me as Sheriff of said county to seize, levy upon, and sell in the manner and form as required by law the hereinafter described property;

WHEREAS, by virtue of said judgment and said Order of Sale and the mandates thereof I did on the 6th day of August, 1958, seize and levy upon as the property of the above defendants the following described property, situated in Parmer County, Texas, to-wit: (Said description showing the number of acres, original survey, locality in county, and name by which said property is most generally known.)

FIRST TRACT:
 All of Lots 3 and 4, Block 13, of the Original Town of Farwell, Parmer County, Texas.

And I will on the first Tuesday in the month of September, 1958, the same being the 2nd day of said month, proceed to sell all the right, title, and interest of the Defendants in and to said property at the Court House door of said county in the city or town of Farwell, Texas, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. to the highest bidder for cash, provided, however, that none of said property shall be sold to the owner of said property directly or indirectly or to any one having an interest therein or to any party other than a taxing unit which is a party to this suit for less than the amount of the adjudged value of said property or the aggregate amount of judgements against said property in said suit, which ever is lower, subject also to the right of the Defendants to redeem same in the time and manner provided by law and subject also to the right of the Defendants to have said property divided and sold in less divisions than the whole.

From the standpoint of the Great State of Texas, it's a shame Roy Harris didn't take the world's boxing championship away from the New York Negro in their fight Monday night.

It would have done much to pump up Texans' ego which was punctured by that Alaska nonsense.
 Maybe Harris will improve and be deserving of a re-match later.
