

General Election Tuesday

Grand Jury Indicts

Parmer County grand jury, in a Monday session which lasted until about 11 p.m., returned 17 indictments.

Three cases were passed--no action taken--but none were no-billed.

A. C. Teter, former manager of Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc., was indicted on three counts--two of embezzlement and one of theft. His bonds were set at a total of $4,000 which was the same as it was prior to the grand jury sessions.

Indictments were also returned against James Awbrey and Jackie Hyman for car theft, James Lewis for forgery, Roberta Eason for forgery, Ben Cotton for forgery, Junior Parks for burglary on two counts, Benny Carr, William Cato and Roberta White for theft, Alfred Doshier and Eldon Thatcher, burglary on three counts, and C. Elmer Altman for non-support.

Indictments were also returned against four individuals who have not yet been apprehended. Charges against them were fraud on two counts, swindle with worthless checks, forgery, and theft.

Some of the cases will possibly be tried in district court at Farwell this week.

Grand Jurors were Clarence Johnson, A. G. Schlabs, H. D. Ellison, G. B. Buske, Wendol Christian, Leslie McCain, Don Schuman, Claude Miller, Floyd Damron, Loyde Brewer, Dalton Caffey, and John Armstrong.

GROUP ATTENDS FUNERAL MONDAY

A group of local people attended the funeral of Newt Wheeler in Plainview Monday afternoon. They included Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox Sr., Mrs. J. A. Cox, Mrs. Lenna Traylor, and Mrs. Bunk Phillips. The deceased was a cousin of Mrs. Guy Cox.

Amendments Highlight Ballots

For Parmer County voters, the highlight of Tuesday's off-year general election will be voting for or against nine proposed amendments to the state constitution.

The only other interest on the ballot is Republican Roy Whittenburg's opposition to Incumbent Ralph Yarborough for U. S. Senator's post. Across the state, Whittenburg is given little chance of victory. However, the fact he is from the Panhandle has caused a smattering of local interest.

Save the formality, other candidates were chosen in the Democratic Primaries in July and August.

Polls in Parmer County's eight voting precincts will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p. m.

Precincts, precinct chairmen, and sites of the polls are Black, John Benger, community building; Friona, Floyd Reeve, city hall; Bovina, Tom Rhodes, Legion Hall; Farwell, Albert Smith, courthouse; Lazbuddie, E. V. Crain, school; Oklahoma Lane, Harold Carpenter, Methodist Church; Rhea, Melvin Sachs, Parish Hall; and Lakeview, Otho Whitefield, Whitefield home.

In addition to the Whittenburg vs. Yarborough race, Edwin S. Mayer, Republican candidate is opposing Price Daniel for governor, Grover C. Carothers, Republican candidate, is running against John C. White for commissioner of agriculture, and Republican John Q. Adams has his name on the ballot opposite that of Robert W. Hamilton for Associate Justice of Supreme Court, Place No. 1.

Constitution party has nine names listed under its heading as candidates for various positions.

Texico Polls In Town Hall

Town hall will be site of the polls in Tuesday's general election for voters in Texico precinct.

Election judges are Charles McDaniel, Democrat; Mrs. W. J. Matthews, Democrat; M.H. Poteet, Democrat alternate; J. R. Hadley, Republican; and Mrs. J. R. Hadley, Republican alternate.

Clerks will be Mrs. Russell Johnson, Democrat; Mrs. Wesley Engram, Democrat; Mrs. Ted Engram, Democrat alternate; W. L. Freeman, Republican; and Mrs. T. L. McLeod, Republican alternate.

Voters will use a voting machine. This will be the third time the machine has been used in Texico precinct.

Locally, the election has little significance. Local officials were elected, so to speak, in the Democratic primary. They will be unopposed on Tuesday's ballot. There are no Republican candidates on the local scene.

Holding the lions' share of attention in the New Mexico election is the governor's race. Democrat John Burroughs is attempting to unseat the incumbent Republican Ed Mecham.

Democrats and Republicans are opposing each other on a full slate of state offices as well as U. S. senator and representative in Congress.

Five constitutional amendments will also be voted for or against.

Hotel Cafe Sets Opening

Texico Hotel Cafe, now under new management, will observe its Grand Opening Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Milstead are new owners and managers. Free coffee and doughnuts will be served all day Saturday.

The Milsteads, former owners of the business, purchased it last week from Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Crow.

The public is extended an invitation to attend the opening in an advertisement in this issue of The Tribune.

County FB Will Meet at Texico

Members of seven other local Farm Bureau groups in Curry County will attend the annual county convention tonight (Thursday) when the Texico local is host in the Texico School gym at 8 p. m. (CST).

County delegates to the state convention to be in Roswell will be designated, officers will be elected, and annual reports heard, County chairman, P. C. Edwards, Center, will preside. Program will be presented

THE SICK AND THE INJURED--Sickness and injuries have plagued Farwell's Steers throughout the season. Here, Coach J. D. Atwell, left, is shown with eight of his squadmen who are out of action for the season. The coach is worriedly scratching his head as he looks over the players he won't be able to use in Friday night's tough game with Friona. They're posed around the bed of Tommy Williams, starting defensive halfback, who suffered a broken leg. Other players and their

Farwell Vs. Friona Here Friday Night

Parmer County's answer to Texas-Oklahoma game will be unreel in Steer Stadium Friday night. Farwell's Steers, proud holders of a perfect season record, clash with Friona's Class AA Chiefs.

This season, the Chiefs moved up to AA classification and stronger competition. They have a record of 4-2-1 against an impressive list of opponents. They hold victories over Happy, Sunray, Whiteface, and Amherst. Friona losses were to Tulla, in a 21-18 squeaker; and

FOR TEXICO POOL

Door prizes will be awarded. They are to include three prizes and ten $5 certificates to be applied on state convention expenses. Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley are chairman and chairwoman of the host organization.

CONSTRUCTION WILL BEGIN THIS WEEK

A swimming pool for Texico-Farwell, a dream of many area residents for some time, is on the brink of becoming a reality. N. L. Tharp, Texico farmer, put up the money--$11,000--for the community improvement at a special meeting of Texico town board Monday night.

CC Hears Complaint About Dump Grounds

Farwell city commissioners heard a complaint from Felix Winegeart, city garbage man, at a called session in city hall Friday evening. Winegeart told the commission he had heard the city dump grounds were going to be leased and used as pasture for livestock. He said he wasn't in favor of such action and didn't want the trash hauling job if such was going to happen. Mayor Sam Aldridge explained to Winegeart that the commission knew nothing definite about such an arrangement and that that wouldn't enter into whether he (Winegeart) wanted the job as city garbage man. Since the city had no contract with Winegeart, a motion was passed "to employ Felix Winegeart as garbage man at a salary of $150 a month." In addition to the salary, the motion offered Winegeart charge of the dump grounds, giving him the revenue from the salvage, and permission to charge individuals for unloading trash on the grounds. Winegeart first said he wouldn't accept the proposition because of the "grazing" idea. Later, he agreed to accept it. However, he told the commission that when a deal is made with someone to use the land and water (at the dump grounds), "Then I'm out."

Chuck Wagon Supper Set Friday Night

Tickets for a chuck wagon supper to be served tomorrow night are still available from members of Farwell Study Club, sponsoring organization. They will also be on sale at the door.

Association Plans Annual Dinner

Annual dinner of Texico Cemetery Association is scheduled for election day, Tuesday, November 4. Members will serve chicken, dressing, and all the trimmings at Texico Woman's Club Building. Pie and coffee will be served throughout the day and townspeople are urged to support the project. Proceeds are used for upkeep of the cemetery.

A $11,000 DONATION--N. L. Tharp, center, Texico farmer, gave a $11,000 check Monday night to pay for a swimming pool for Texico-Farwell. Looking on are J. H. Winegeart, Texico mayor, and Louis A. Marot, contractor for the pool. Construction is scheduled to begin this week and it's possible the pool will be completed in six weeks, Marot says. In the picture, Tharp has just finished signing the check which will be placed in escrow until the job is completed.

Construction Will Begin This Week

A swimming pool for Texico-Farwell, a dream of many area residents for some time, is on the brink of becoming a reality. N. L. Tharp, Texico farmer, put up the money--$11,000--for the community improvement at a special meeting of Texico town board Monday night.

Contractor for the pool is Louis A. Marot, Bovina. He reports that excavation will begin the latter part of this week. Marot says the pool could be finished in six weeks if construction is not hampered by severe weather. "We won't have any delay because of equipment," the contractor says. "It's all here."

When it is completed, the pool will be operated by the Town of Texico and may be used by all area residents. "When it is finished, I want to invite Farwell as well as Texico to use it (the pool)," Tharp said Monday night. Tharp also said he hopes the pool will closer unite Texico and Farwell. A project by people in both Texico and Farwell was abandoned several months ago when a site for the pool couldn't be agreed.

Blueprints for the project call for it to be 25 by 55 feet in size. It will be nine feet deep on one end and three feet deep on the other. It will be located four blocks north of Wheeler Avenue on the state line in Texico. The property belongs to Tharp.

Accessories for the pool include a diving board, two ladders, and two sets of underwater lights. It will be constructed to comply with specifications established by State of New Mexico. Tharp says the location is such that nothing will be bothered by the pool and there will be plenty of parking space. Also, it will be centrally located for both Texico and Farwell, Tharp says. The check Tharp wrote Monday night was placed in escrow in Security State Bank. The money will be paid to Marot as the work is completed. In keeping with New Mexico specifications, plans are proposed for bathhouses and locker rooms. This, however, will not be paid for by Tharp. Texico board of trustees agreed in a meeting several weeks ago to assume operation of the pool when it is completed. Herman Gerles has returned to his home after spending some time in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gerles. He has been recuperating from an attack of encephalitis. He was confined to Clovis Memorial Hospital for several days.

Here is another unusual recipe we thought you might like to try. It is one given us by Justine Monroe, so it's bound to be good. ESAs members have been holding rummage sales for several weeks and the results haven't been anything stupendous, though sales have been made. But this past week indicated a change, and the sales were swamped, so much, in fact, that the girls are running low on rummage.

baskets are taken to needy families in the area. This project becomes bigger and more expensive each year, as residents realize that it is being done, and more names are turned in each year.

So if you would like to help, just call any ESA member and she will pick up your rummage this week. Particularly needed are children's clothes and men's clothing, also old quilts, blankets and household goods.

We think this project to brighten a lot of lives in the area at Christmas time is a good one, and we know all of you will want to do your part.

An enlightening article in one of the national magazines this month lists the "seven sins" of shower giving, and all hostesses and potential shower recipients should take heed.

The bridal shower particularly, is such a lovely occasion for the newly-wed to remember, and therefore should be planned with good taste, so the memory will never be marred in the future.

The seven sins listed were: 1. Don't entertain this way for a member of your immediate family.

2. Don't plan a shower without consulting the bride's mother.

3. Don't repeat someone else's guest list (most friends can afford only one gift.)

4. Don't invite casual friends and acquaintances.

5. Don't set the sights too high. (Shower gifts are token gifts, and most women in a small town are invited to several showers every month or so.)

6. Don't feel a shower invitation is mandatory. (Any guest has the same right to decline a shower invitation as she does any party.)

7. Don't forget you are the hostess.

In our job as society editor, we've seen most of these errors committed, and they are usually called to our attention by someone else, so breaches of etiquette in showers do not go unnoticed. It might be something to think about.

WHAT PLACE HUSBANDS? Where and how to place the husbands of women delegates to the United Nations at official functions continues to be a knotty problem for the bureau of protocol to unravel. Wives of men delegates have always followed their husbands but it is sometimes hard to disregard custom when it is the other way around and a visiting husband makes his appearance. Claire Boothe Luce as Ambassador from the United States to Italy solved the problem when her husband, Henry Luce of Time, Inc. appeared, by treating him as a "distinguished guest." This seems a practice likely to become standard with time.

Fabulous Farwell Axes Anton

Anton's Bulldogs were the seventh victim for Farwell's fabulous Steers Friday night. The game was a 50-0 rout and it was the second District 3-A win in as many tries for Farwell. Anton was making its debut in district play.

The fray was no closer than the score indicates and the Steers had it iced away before the first half ended.

In other games this season it hasn't been unusual for the high-flying blue and white to score the first time they got the ball. Friday night, they scored the first time Anton had the ball--on a safety.

Weather for the game was footballish with a brisk breeze coming in from the north which had spectators shivering under blankets and heavy coats. In spite of the cool weather, the crowd was large.

The Steers continued their crowd-pleasing methods of hard, solid blocking and tackling. Steer backs, time after time, were offered large, gaping holes to run through by the light, but quick, Farwell linemen.

Anton's offense was never allowed to get rolling--the Bulldogs had only five first downs during the game--as fierce Farwell defenders destroyed almost all the offensive dreams the visiting team brought to Farwell with it.

The win made the Steers an even-more solid favorite to win this district. They have two district games left to play--with Sudan and Springlake.

Farwell received the opening kickoff. Handicapped by a five-yard penalty, they failed to make a first down. Quarterback Johnny Lovelace punted from his 34 to Anton's 18. Two plays netted three yards but a 15-yard penalty set the ball back to the six. Attempting to punt out of danger, Anton's Carl Taylor had his kick blocked by hard-charging Steers with Jerry Lovelace leading the way. The blocked punt gave Farwell a two point safety.

Following the safety, Anton kicked off from its own 20 to Johnny Lovelace on his 25. He returned to the 33. In a series of six plays, which featured a 15-yard penalty against Anton and a 19-yard pass play from Johnny Lovelace to Benjy Dial, the Steers were on the seven-yard line. From that point, Quarterback Lovelace skirted left end for the first touchdown. Jerry Lovelace ran the extra points over the right side and the Steers led, 10-0.

Hugh Barnett, 210-pound Bulldog back, took the kickoff on his five and returned to the 10. J. L. Smith made five to the 15, but a fumble on the next play gave Farwell possession on the 21.

On the first play from that point, Johnny Lovelace passed to End Morris Reed for a lightning-fast six-pointer and the score was 16-0. Jerry Lovelace carried the extra points across, but a penalty nullified the play. On the second attempt a Johnny Lovelace-to-Phillip Berry pass was incomplete.

After this kickoff, the Bulldogs put together a pair of first downs to get to their own 40 before a fourth down situation caught them. Barnett went back to punt, but a bad snap from center forced him to run. He lost a yard and Farwell had possession on the Anton 40.

A five-yard penalty, an incomplete pass and short gains by Berry and Jerry Lovelace brought up a fourth down and eight situation to set the stage for possibly the most spectacular play of the Steers' season. Johnny Lovelace went back to pass. Momentarily, he found no receivers open and then he was trapped. Bulldogs were all around him. Receivers were open by then, but the big quarterback couldn't throw because two Anton men were hanging on his right arm. Tucking the pigskin under his left arm, he shucked off the would-be tacklers and started around left end, picking up downfield blocks as he went. He went the distance for a TD but the play was rubbed out by a holding penalty.

On the next play he punted--from the 45 to the 19.

Then Dial intercepted a Bulldog aerial and was downed on Anton's 29. Dial and Jerry Lovelace managed for three yards each and then Jerry was sprung loose on a 23-yard scoring jaunt to make the score, 22-0. Berry carried over on the extra points try, but this play, too, was erased by a penalty. Johnny Lovelace failed on the second attempt.

Ronnie Biffle took the kickoff on the goal line and returned to the 10. In three plays, the team which was once the District 3-A favorite, was out to the 14 and forced to punt.

Berry, playing safety for the Steers, gathered in the punt on his 48 and returned it 48 yards to Anton's four. On the next play, he charged through the left side to make the score, 28-0. Jerry Lovelace carried the extra points through the same dependable left side of the line and it was 30-0.

Fumbles, possibly the greatest contributor to Anton's complete undoing, were lost to the Steers on eight occasions. The visitors bobbed the ball 10 times. And it was a fumble which left Farwell in still another scoring position after the 30-0 kickoff.

This time they obtained possession on the 15. However, with the second team carrying out offensive chores, they failed to score and lost the ball on downs on the 13. Anton couldn't gain and was forced to punt. The hurried kick went out of bounds on the 13.

On the first play from that point, Dial, playing quarterback, passed to End Bill Owen for a touchdown and it was 36-0. Dial was halted in an attempt to quarterback sneak the extra points over.

The half ended after the Bulldogs had thrown four incomplete passes from their own 10.

To begin second half action, Anton received the kickoff. But after three plays, a fumble gave Farwell the ball on the Anton 21. On the first play from there, Johnny Lovelace passed to End Owen Huffaker in the endzone and the score was 42-0. The score remained unchanged as the extra points attempt was no good.

Late in the third stanza, the Steers added their final tally. Jerry Lovelace punted from Anton's 45 to the six. A fumble on the punt gave Farwell possession on the six. Larry McDorman made one, Barthel Ford netted four in two carries to put the ball on the one. From there, Dial went over on a quarterback sneak. McDorman added the half-century points as he went over left end for the extra points.

Fourth quarter was scoreless as Steer substitutes played the Bulldogs between the 40-yard lines.

Services Read In Oklahoma For Mrs. Anthony

Funeral services for Mrs. Lillie Anthony of Mountain Park, Okla., a former resident of this vicinity, were Wednesday, October 22, in Lawton, Okla. She died there at the age of 71 after suffering a stroke October 8. She had been in ill health for several years.

She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Janie Eads of Dumas; four sons, Euel Smith of Clovis, Grafton and James of Snyder, Okla., and Grover of the home. Other survivors include seven grandchildren, one great grandchild, five brothers, and one sister.

Although Dad may sometimes think otherwise, we at least try to be good housekeepers. I suppose that's a pretty loosely used term, and those of us who learn the most tricks to make the job easier—and less monotonous—win our "good housekeeping" nod from the rest of the family.

To avoid yellow stains on your hands when peeling carrots, peel them under water.

To remove odor from your hands after peeling onions, rub your hands with raw celery or parsley before washing them. Wetting your hands with clear water and rubbing them thoroughly with salt also works.

To remove food residues not removed by ordinary cleaning from pots, pans, roasters and similar utensils (except aluminum) fill the utensil with cold water, add one teaspoon of lye for every quart, boil a few minutes, rinse with clear water. Presto, that knuckle-bruising chore is done!

People who like to be waited on are the hardest ones to be cured of their ailments.

LINEARS
As they have in the past, Christmas lights will be used to decorate Farwell, chamber members decided. Also, a contest for the best decorated homes will be conducted. Understand such a contest has been held in the past but not for two or three or so years. Cash prizes—pretty nice ones, too—will be offered and out-of-town judges will decide the three winners. It's not too early for housewives who are interested in entering to start making plans for their decorations. In the past seven weeks, this department has griped and complained and even bragged a little about this weekly idea of predicting the score of the Steers' football game on the following Friday. We know not words to describe the sad, lost predicament we have ourselves in now. Our good football friend Sam Rundell was in the office this week and we tried to get an estimate from him about the game's outcome. But we ended up questioning each other with neither of us doing any answering. Friona and Farwell haven't had a common foe. Friona is Class AA, Farwell is Class A. The teams were in the same district last year and the Chiefs won 18-0. They've been holding their own in their Class AA district this year. As a whole, their opponents have been stronger than those of the Steers. Farwell, however, has had a couple of real rough games that a lesser team would have lost. Too, the Steers have a habit of making their own breaks no matter who the opposition is. They've had a lot of desire all season and they're not used to getting beat or being behind in the scoring. We could be wrong, but: Farwell 22 Friona 14

FRIONA
Friona features a strong defense. Proof of that is the scoreless tie with Muleshoe. Offensively, the Chiefs, who are coached by Colie Huffman, operate from a Straight-T. Their fullback, J. W. Baxter, a 165-pounder, is their most feared runner. Their passing attack is considered "pretty good." Quarterback Jim Roy Clements does the tossing. His favorite target is Right End Gary Goetz. Coach Atwell sums up Friona by saying, "They have a real fine ball club." Probable starters for the visitors are: Chauncey Woody, 145, left end; Kim Caffey, 200, left tackle; Gene Pope, 145, left guard; Jon Mack Roden, 160, center; Jim Greeson, 160, right guard; Gary McLaughlin, 190, right tackle; Gary Goetz, 155, right end; Jim Roy Clements, 140, quarterback; Gary Brooks, 145, left halfback; J. W. Baxter, 165, fullback; and Gary Bradley, 145, right half. Probable starting lineup for the Steers is: Owen Huffaker, 145, and Morris Reed, 160, ends; Larry Jesko, 170, and Robert Carthel, 180, tackles; James Burleson, 150, and Joe Hughes, 150, guards; Gerald Christian, 140, center; Johnny Lovelace, 190, quarterback; Larry McDorman, 150, left halfback; Phillip Berry, 160, right halfback; and Jerry Lovelace, 165, fullback. Weight advantage is divided between the teams. In the line, Friona will have the edge, 165 to 157. In the backfield, the Steers will outweigh their cross-country rivals 166 to 149. The Chiefs are given a very good chance to be the team to snap the winning streak of the Atwellmen by area football observers. This will be the first week in three that the Steers have not met a district foe. Following this game, they round out their schedule with district games against Sudan and Springlake. Largest crowd of the year is expected to be on hand for the

Fall's First Frosts Arrive on Time

Jack Frost is right on schedule this year. The signs of his first visit were evident in the Parmer County area early Wednesday morning, October 22.

As is usually the case, Jack hitched a ride with a cold front from the north to make his first appearance. He was somewhat timid Wednesday morning, however, and didn't treat any green growth too severely.

This is also typical of his behavior.

A killing frost usually occurs along about October 25 in the Parmer County area. Much earlier frosts have been recorded, and, as you might expect, some later. However, that's about the average killing frost date.

Before the first "killer" though, usually light and spotted frost visits two or three times, causing little to no damage to vegetation. That is the kind that was here last week.

The first frost date had no particular significance to grain sorghum this year, but it did affect the growth of cotton plants. The freeze was of not long enough duration or severe enough to kill the plants outright, but most farmers report their crop "nipped" in low-lying areas, and further plant development at a standstill.

Here again the freeze has been of no particular consequence so far as the lint itself is concerned. More than the cold weather, the drizzle and high humidity readings that have come in with the cold front have been the main hindrance.

Hand boll pullers are still in short supply and most farmers have been figuring on finishing their harvest with mechanical strippers. In fact, stripping of the crop would have moved right along toward the end of last week if the weather hadn't intervened.

Moisture itself has been very light. What areas did receive what could be classified as showers have reported no more than a quarter of an inch. The rain and drizzle has come very calmly with no whipping winds. Consequently, farmers and ginners feel that the cotton quality has not been too adversely affected.

The weatherman has been promising the return of sunny skies since Monday, but as late as Tuesday night the weather continued very cool and the sky overcast, threatening rain or even snow.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

There are many factors that enter into soil fertility. One of the most important factors is the organic matter content of the soil.

Virgin soils of Parmer County contain approximately three to five per cent of organic matter. Under cultivation this percentage is reduced. The average dryland farm has about one per cent. The average content of the irrigated land is about 0.7 per cent. These figures are considerably lower than the figures for the virgin pastureland.

Organic matter present in the soil directly affects the water-holding capacity of the soil. The small fragments of organic matter have the ability to hold up to ten times as much water as a soil particle the same size. Therefore any increase in the organic matter content will increase the amount of water a soil can store. This is extremely valuable to the dryland farmer who depends on water stored in the fall and winter to produce the next crop and to the irrigation farmer who pre-irrigates. Crop production depends on the water stored in the soil.

Organic matter increases the water intake rate of the soil. During the process of decomposition of the organic, there is given off a glue-like substance. This substance tends to stick the soil particles together in small clumps called aggregates. A soil that is well aggregated will take water more rapidly than will a soil in poor condition. This is especially true in tighter soils.

To increase the permeability of a soil is helpful in this area where many of the rains fall in a short period of time. A well aggregated soil tends to resist both wind and water erosion. This resistance is due to the fact that several of the smaller particles are stuck together creating a larger aggregate which is not easily moved.

Another important function of organic matter is the increase in bacterial activity. An abundant supply of microscopic bacteria is necessary for plants to be able to use the nitrogen plant foods. The bacteria use decaying organic matter for food to supply the energy required to change the nitrogen to a form that plants can use.

Bacteria are also helpful in the plant utilization of phosphates by storing the phosphorus in their bodies to be released all during the growing season. The number of bacteria in the soil is amazing. One gram of soil contains from 100,000 to several billion. This means that there are approximately 5,000 pounds per acre on dryland and 20,000 pounds or more per acre on irrigated land of these bacteria in our soils.

Without these bacteria working for us our soils would be infertile. Any way that we can increase the food supply of these bacteria will increase our soil fertility.

The most economical way to supply this needed organic matter is by the efficient use of crop residues and green manure crops. The addition of organic matter increases the amount of plant food available to the plant by speeding the breakdown of the rocks and minerals of the soil. Acids are given off in the decomposition of organic matter. These acids help eat away these minerals leaving the plant foods.

The organic matter content of a soil is related to the ease of tillage. Soils that are low in organic matter tend to pack and form clay pans or plow pans much more rapidly than soils high in organic matter. A packed soil reduces the infiltration of the rain and restricts the development of plant roots.

The addition of organic matter will not solve all of your fertility problems; however, it is a step in the right direction.

Motor vehicle accidents take the lives of a person every 14 minutes, according to the National Safety Council. One person is injured in a motor vehicle mishap every 23 seconds.

NO TRICK PHOTO--Nope, the plow is really that big. It's a disc-type breaking plow from New Haven Farms northwest of Bovina, used to really roll back the tight High Plains soil of the area. Bonnah Boyd proves it's a big 'un.

Early Start on Next Year

Not since the fall of 1956 have Parmer County area farmers set themselves to the task of preparing for another crop with such vigor as they have been doing in the past two weeks.

Shredders have chewed their way along through the grain sorghum stubble almost before the dust produced by the combines had settled. Some farmers have even completed their fall land plowing in early-harvested grain sorghum fields.

Many are using or are contemplating the use of commercial fertilizers to speed decomposition of stubble that has been returned to the soil, thus increasing the organic matter content of their land. Organic matter plays a vital role in farming--especially under irrigation.

All of this is in strong contrast to conditions on the farm just a season ago. Beset with one of the most dreary falls in history for harvesting, area farmers soon fell far behind in their after-harvesting chores.

In the belief that it is not always necessary to shred, disc, plow, or otherwise work land without ever missing a year, many chose to hold this year work to a minimum or even omit the practice altogether.

As a general rule, area farmers still believe that breaking land regularly in the fall is a part of good irrigation farming, but records indicate that there were a lot of them that didn't get around to it, just the same.

1957, then, lent itself well as a "leave out" year, but 1958 is already seeing many farmers return to intense land work practices that have paid off so well since the advent of large scale irrigation on the High Plains.

shut it off if for any reason it should leave its pre-determined course and take off across the country.

FARMERS CAN RECEIVE "DOUBLE DEDUCTION" ON GIFTS TO CROP

Farmers who choose to support charitable organizations such as CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) are in the unique position of being able to obtain a "double deduction"--and it all is quite within the law.

For income tax purposes, gifts of agricultural products such as grain sorghum or cotton may be deducted on the basis of their market value, and farmers may also choose not to report this value as taxable income on their reports.

Therefore, point out county CROP officials, farmers should not count the value of donated commodities as income, should not count the costs of producing this commodity as an operating expense, but can deduct the cost of the feed or fiber as a charitable contribution.

All elevators and gins in Parmer County are cooperating with the CROP movement this year. Forms are available there.

Urges All Eligible To Vote in Election

"Vote for whom you please for governor in the coming general election, but please vote," Gilbert Kaltwasser, president of the Parmer County Farm Bureau, urges.

The reason a person's vote is important, he says, is because the number of votes cast for governor in the general election in a precinct determines the number of delegates that precinct will have in the party's county convention in 1960. In turn, it also determines how many delegates a county will be able to send to the state convention.

"It is in the interest of good government that the individual should participate in his political party's activities," Kaltwasser says. "For if the majority does not exercise its citizenship responsibilities, there is a real danger that a minority faction can take over the party machinery. And, if we are to keep our democratic form of government the majority must always rule."

Farm Bureau has been carrying on a "good citizenship" program on local, state and national levels this year. In addition to get-out-the-vote campaigns, the organization has made available to high schools recordings of the National Anthem and is sponsoring a nationwide essay contest.

Interestingly enough, land breaking is the only farm operation on the High Plains that has ever been proved wholly adaptable to all-automatic techniques.

Because of the large acreage and uniform lay of the land on the typical High Plains farm, many dreams of "push button" farming have been enjoyed, but none has come as close to reality as the guide-operated tractor pulling a land-breaking plow.

In this work, a farm tractor of conventional design is fitted with a special attachment which "feels" its way along the furrow just plowed, guiding the tractor in order that another two, three, or four rows may be plowed out.

Safety devices are usually installed on the equipment to shut it off if for any reason it should leave its pre-determined course and take off across the country.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

By RAYMOND EULER

Rat poison sold like hot cakes. We will have some more in about Friday if we can get it to sell at the same price. We hope everyone who has rats will take measures to get rid of them right now. We are told that the Friona city dump grounds are infested with them, and this is probably true in other city dumps. It seems that this would be a good place to do some work before they all come to town or to your house. Besides the damage they do to feed and other things, rats carry diseases.

Mose Glasscock was among Parmer County men who attended the Amarillo meeting on livestock sanitation and disease prevention Monday morning. According to a report we received that same morning, not a single county in the state of Texas is certified brucellosis-free.

To livestock producers and dealers, this is an important thing. It is doubtful if Texans can eat all the livestock products they produce. If it becomes impossible to ship livestock out of the state because of disease, it will work a great hardship on a great industry.

We received a letter from Mrs. Elmer Teel of Texico giving us part of the history of The Woman's Society of Christian Service. We had complimented the Oklahoma Lane Society for a letter to the editor expressing concern for the activities of their youth when they were not at home or engaged in scheduled activities. But we referred to them as a club. Mrs. Teel tells us the society is definitely not a "club." Anyway, we are for the organization.

Five or six couples will leave Parmer County as delegates to the Texas Farm Bureau Convention the ninth of November in Corpus Christi. This is where policies of the state organization will be developed and adopted. Officials of the organization will spend the next year carrying out these policies. They will not change any of them unless the membership says to next year.

It is important that you vote November 4.

County 4-H Group Plans Coming Events

Special events discussed and planned at a recent meeting of the County 4-H Council included 4-H Achievement program, National 4-H Club Week, and a Method Demonstration Day. The latter will precede 4-H contests in the spring.

Attending the meeting in the courthouse were Mikala Austin, Peggy Martin, Roy Donaldson, Jimmy Terrell, and Paula Wingard of Farwell; Richard Chitwood, Pat Chitwood, Linda Gleason, and Mrs. Dee Chitwood of Lazbuddie; Terri Sue Mabry, Johnny Mabry, and Mrs. Mabry of Friona; and Rose Ann Greeson and Brenda Deaton of Black.

Cotton Quota, Allotment, Referendum Date Set

A national marketing quota of 12,167,000 bales, a national acreage allotment of 16 million acres and a date, December 15, for a farmer referendum on marketing quotas for upland cotton have been set by Secretary of Agriculture Benson. All are in accordance with present legislation covering cotton. In setting the national marketing quota figure the Secretary found that the total supply of upland cotton exceeds the normal supply needed by 4, 379,000 bales. The national acreage allotment for 1959 will be apportioned to the states, the state allotment to the counties and the county allotments to farms according to the provisions of the law.

If marketing quotas for 1959 are approved—it takes a two-thirds favorable vote—in the December 15 referendum, the cotton grower will have a choice between two allotment-price support programs known as choice A and B.

Under A, growers who comply with their regular acreage allotment will have available price support at not less than 80 per cent of parity. Growers under choice B receive larger farm allotments—40 per cent above the regular allotment—but with a reduction of 15 per cent of parity in the support price as compared with choice A.

If marketing quotas are not approved for the 1959 upland cotton crop, only the regular allotment program will be in effect. Price support will be available to cooperators at 50 per cent of parity as provided by law.

Under the 1959 quota program and in accordance with controlling legislation, growers who exceed their chosen farm acreage allotments will be subject to penalties of 50 per cent of the cotton parity price as of June 15, 1959 on the farm's excess production. Too, all cotton produced on the farm will be ineligible for price support.

According to J. E. Montgomery, program specialist, Texas ASC office, notice of individual farm allotments under both choice A and B will be made available to producers prior to the December 15 referendum.

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

Ever since the 1930's America has had more than its share of farm planners. Most of these planners have been in or associated closely with the federal government.

There are still a lot of people in the nation today who have ideas that they think could help shape agriculture into a more profitable pattern. However, they all don't come from the government.

A "new twist" in this department is the farm planning being done by the Doane Agricultural Service of St. Louis. Doane is an old and respected name in farm counseling---private enterprise style.

Up in Sherman County folks got together and hired the Doane people to put them down on the balance sheet for an unbiased appraisal of what their county agriculture has and what it needs. The service agency is coming through with some interesting recommendations.

Sherman County farmers, like those of this area, were bothered by a declining farm income due to declining prices, rising costs, and acreage restrictions.

The purpose of farm programming was to determine the most profitable combination of enterprises for selected representative farms in the county. Guides were developed to adapt those plans for the individual farms.

It required six months to make the study. Factors taken into consideration included the climate, soils, topography, markets, water, size of farming operations, availability of labor, capital, experience of farmers, and the attitudes of farmers.

The Doane people raised some eyebrows when they brought into use an electronic "brain" to figure out the best possible solutions to the problems of the Sherman County farmers.

Now, don't get excited. Of course, the brain cannot really "think." What it does do, though, is to carry out "linear programming" which is a mathematical means of determining the combinations of enterprises that can return the greatest net profit to a farm operator, depending on the amount of land, labor, and capital available. (The same thing can be done with pencil and paper---it just takes longer, that's all.)

The number of enterprise combinations fed into the electric brain was 2604. The electronic computer used was an IBM 650.

Combinations that came from the brain will furnish the basis for decisions that Sherman County farmers may make to shape a new agricultural future for them. Possible markets for the enterprises studied were a basis in their recommendation or elimination. Over 20 potentially good market outlets were located by Doane's for the products from different enterprises which were recommended.

Here is what we think is important about all of this over in Sherman County: Doane's prophesies that "Future prosperity of many counties in the nation will depend on how well they adjust to changing trends in agriculture."

We don't necessarily believe that it takes an organization such as Doane's to point that out, but we certainly believe that it is true. We further feel that although independent surveys such as the one we are discussing here are very valuable in special situations, the greatest protection we can have against the time when such services will be needed on an EMERGENCY basis is simply good farm education and an alert, well-informed farm public.

A young man today is certainly not wasting his time to go to college and get a degree if he intends to farm when he obtains it. Of course not. A college education will sharpen him and help him prepare for and adjust to the resolutions that are now taking place in our production, marketing, and consuming of food and fiber.

Agriculture is still basic to the American economy. The farmer is not about to be pushed out of business by synthetics or any new tool of science. For the farmer who is really intelligent, things are going to get better, not worse.

But there's one thing for sure in today's agriculture, and that is that it's no longer a static, take-it-easy life. Agriculture is as dynamic and full of change as any industry, and for those who can not see and adjust to change things are going to be rough ahead.

Most fatal auto accidents involve only one car, according to the National Safety Council.

Amarillo Hearing May Affect Location

Friday, October 31, will be the day that a hearing will be held in Amarillo which will help determine if the Bushland Experiment Station will become the site of a large USDA-backed research center.

The meeting, which will be in the Herring Hotel at 9:30 a.m., is called "vital" to those who want to see such a center located on the Plains.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

For a long time we have been hoping someone would come up with a solution to the ironing problem. It seems that with each season the manufacturers of materials approach a solution to the problem.

Every homemaker should read the instructions on each garment and use the suggested method for washing and ironing. Of course, it takes longer to drip dry cottons, but the time you will spend saves time at the ironing board, so is really worthwhile in the long run. If we shop carefully for materials that require a minimum of ironing, we will be well rewarded in time saved.

One of the new magazines shows patchwork blocks used in different ways for decorative purposes. Almost any patchwork pattern can be worked up to make attractive covers for floor pillows, chair cushions, or other articles used in the house.

For a long time it has been our desire to piece a quilt out of the new cotton scraps. Wouldn't a Flower Garden, Rocky Road to Jerusalem, or Dutch Mill pattern be pretty worked up in print and plain colored scraps?

Long winter evenings always call for hot drinks and cookies are always welcomed by members of your family as well as guests. For spicy cookies that are a little different, try MINCEMEAT COOKIES

 1 cup moist mincemeat
 1 cup butter
 1 1/2 cups sugar
 2 eggs
 3 1/4 cups flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon soda
 1 cup nuts
 If using dry mincemeat, first break into pieces, add water, heat and stir until lumps are thoroughly broken up. Bring to brisk boil and cook about three minutes.
 Cream shortening, add sugar and continue to cream. Add slightly beaten eggs and blend into sugar mixture. Add sifted dry ingredients. Add nuts and mincemeat. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet. Bake at 425 degrees for ten minutes.

Another cookie recipe that any homemaker should have in her file for use any time she desires to make spice cookies is:

MOLASSES COOKIES
 3 cups sifted all purpose flour
 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon ground ginger
 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon ground nutmeg
 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 1 cup shortening
 1/2 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
 1/3 cup molasses
 1 egg
 1 tablespoon vinegar
 Sift together flour, soda, salt and spices. Cream shortening and sugar until fluffy. Add molasses, egg, and vinegar and beat until smooth and light. Add dry ingredients in several portions, stirring until smooth after each addition.
 Chill dough in refrigerator 1 or 2 hours. Divide dough in 3 portions and shape each into a roll about 2 inches in diameter. Wrap each roll in waxed paper and chill in refrigerator overnight. Slice 1/8 to 1/4 inch thick and place on cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven 10 minutes.

If you are one of the homemakers who say, "My family just doesn't care for cooked cabbage," you might like to try this recipe for Skillet Cabbage:
 1 medium onion
 1 green pepper
 3 stalks celery
 2 large tomatoes (drained canned tomatoes may be used.)
 1 small cabbage
 2 tablespoons bacon fat
 3/4 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 Chop onion, celery, pepper, tomatoes and cabbage. Heat bacon fat in skillet with cover. Toss in vegetable and seasoning. Mix well. Cover, cook over moderate heat for 8 minutes or until cabbage is tender, but still on the crisp side.

One of the cleverest household gadgets we have seen advertised recently was a Wet 'n Dry measuring cup. It would certainly be a welcome addition to the utensils in any kitchen. When you change from liquid to dry measure, there's no need to wipe the cup dry.

All you need do is turn the cup over and use the other end. This item comes in two cup and one cup capacity with graduations clearly marked. It also has a pouring lip for filling steam irons and baby bottles.

Rise in per acre yield of feed grains is the major influence in the upward trend in production. National average yields of each of the four feed grains in recent years have trended upward. The average yield of the four feed grains reached a new high point this year of over 1 ton per acre. More acreage has been seeded to oats, barley and sorghum grains in recent years than before World War II, but this was about offset by a steady decline in corn acreage. The domestic feed grain supply for 1958-59 totals 211 million tons, 100 million more than just prior to World War II. Mounting stocks under the Government price support program has accounted for about half of this increase.

As we have said before, a true sponge cake is made with the whites and yolks of the eggs. The recipe we especially like is for a

HOT MILK SPONGE CAKE

2 eggs
 1 cup sugar
 1 cup cake flour
 1 teaspoon baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup milk
 1 heaping tablespoon shortening
 Beat whole eggs until double in bulk. Gradually add sugar beating until all the sugar is dissolved. Heat milk and shortening almost to boiling point. Sift flour and measure one cup. Sift again with baking powder and salt and fold into egg and sugar mixture.
 Fold in hot milk mixture a little at a time. Pour in 8x8x2 inch square tin which has been greased on bottom but not on sides. Bake in 350 degree oven for about half an hour.

When cool, cover with White Syrup Frosting
 1/2 cup white syrup
 1 egg white
 Heat the white syrup almost to a boil. Beat egg white until stiff. Gradually pour in the hot syrup, beating all the while. Continue beating until it holds its shape. It becomes consistency of marshmallows and will hold up well for days.

Farmers Union Report

We don't know whether you've ever heard of Parkinson's law or not, but a year or so back an English history teacher wrote in Reader's Digest that government bureaus had a tendency to expand regardless of the amount of work to be performed.

This fact was again brought to light by Sen. Murry (D-Mon.) when he cited in a recent Washington speech the tremendous growth of the U. S. Department of Agriculture under Benson's management. While net farm income was falling from $16 billion annually to the $12 billion mark or less, the number of USDA employees went from 62,000 up to more than 80,000.

Included in this number are men with attitudes such as that held by Mr. Don Paarlberg, who in 1955 told farmers they were living in a dream world and that they shouldn't have expected such prosperity to last, anyway. Now he has been promoted to Mr. Eisenhower's personal economic adviser.

Nebraska farmers were advised by Mr. Benson not to increase the number of hogs now on hand, even if feed is cheap and plentiful. He said "The only way favorable hog prices can be maintained is to hold production to the quantity and quality that the nation's consumers will buy at a price profitable to farmers." But later when asked by a farmer, "What are we going to do with all this corn?" he replied, "Feed it. We can't keep storing it in government warehouses."

No doubt the farmer went off talking to himself, wondering just how he was going to do that without increasing his hogs.

No Cadillacs in Nixon's campaign tours. The reason given was that the Cadillac is a symbol of affluence which conflicts with the "regular fellow" image which is being created for the vice-president.

The Lazbuddie Local held a box supper in the school cafeteria last Tuesday night in which a considerable amount of money was raised. This could be a hint to other county locals as a means of sweetening the wampum bag. Doesn't cost anybody much and everybody enjoys it. If you happen to be interested see T. O. Lesly. He knows a good auctioneer.

Another Good Start On The Wheat Crop

It's just like old times. The Parmer County area is behaving like the wheat-growing country that it used to be. Back in the dryland days, that is. In 1954, in 1955, and in 1956 wheat farmers about threw up their hands at the thought of getting a crop up and started off with enough moisture. They had to turn to irrigation wells to provide the water. In 1957 it was different, though. The wheat went into the ground with an abundant supply of moisture, and very little supplemental irrigation was required to produce a crop. The same appears to be the case this year. Pre-irrigation (before planting) has been the exception rather than the rule. And the crop--somewhere around 90,000 acres--is off and going strong. In fact, it's seldom looked better. County Agent Joe Jones has warned farmers against judging a book by its cover, though. He says that farmers should not make the mistake of letting their wheat go into a hard winter without enough water to see the crop through. In other words, he advocates using the irrigation well before the need becomes painfully apparent. Some cattle are being put on the lush pasture that the booming wheat has produced. However, there is still lots and lots of grazing going ungrazed. Favorable livestock prices will doubtless push more cows into the fields but it is unlikely that their numbers will approach the grazing capacity of the wheat. When area wheat is good it more than meets the requirements for grazing.

CHOOSE ACCESSORIES CAREFULLY

Accessories should accent or compliment a costume--not call or hold attention to themselves, according to extension clothing specialists.

Choose them to add spice to a simple solid color dress or suit, or to supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.

Plan your accessories carefully before you buy--remembering the color and design of your basic dresses or suits. Avoid bargains with which you have nothing to wear.

Avoid too many colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times--generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bag and gloves, or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Don't overdo it. The more brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area in should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in makeup. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

Always look for the word "enriched" on the bread wrapper or the sacks of flour you buy. It means that specified amounts of good iron and three important B vitamins have been added. It assures extra food value at no added cost.

Quick loaf breads add extra energy and interest to meals--delicious served hot, in sandwiches, or as toast for breakfast.

To make tasty banana nut, prune, orange nut, or peanut butter bread, get a copy of Extension Bulletin, "Quick Breads" from your local home demonstration agent or write the Agricultural Information Office.

Try new garnishes for soup--Everyday food items which make unusual soup garnishes are thin strips of pimiento, paper thin slices of lemon, orange or lime, slices of stuffed olive, and grated or crumbled cheese. Whipped cream with a dash of horseradish is good with some types of soup. With tomato soup try popped corn.

Eating tossed green salads is an easy way to "take" vitamins and minerals. Dark green and yellow vegetables are excellent sources of vitamins A and C. High on this list of vegetables are fresh cabbage and other salad greens, carrots, asparagus, broccoli and green peppers. All vegetables will give a greater return on your investment when they are served fresh and raw.

Leftover cooked vegetables can be put to good use by adding them to salads. Green beans, beets, cauliflower, broccoli, English peas and other cooked vegetables taste better in salads than they do warmed over. For extra flavor marinate cooked vegetables in French dressing.

One person in 40 is injured each year in a home accident, according to the National Safety Council.
