

ON THE LINE

BY DOLPH MOTEN

A well-concealed sign in County Clerk Hugh Moseley's office proclaims: Our Aim Is Accuracy We Never Make Mistakes

And that sign brings to mind smart aleck signs in general. Possibly the first one along that line we noticed was the one which said simply: THIMK

That one evolved into the once-popular sign which tried to say PLAN AHEAD in nice, neat equal-size handletters. However, said painter didn't plan ahead and it was necessary to curve the last part of the AHEAD down so it could all go on the card.

Now Hugh has come up with this mistakes business. Where do we go from here?

We've noticed, too, that card-size signs with witty phrases have been popping up on rear windows and rear bumpers of cars. Seems to us that individuals who drive those off-brand foreign cars have the greatest weakness for those faddish signs. Maybe driving such a buggy looking car gives them some sort of complex that they hope to overcome with publicly-displayed wit. Or maybe it takes the same kind of sense of humor to appreciate both those cars and the signs.

At the moment, it would be impossible for us to remember all the signs we've seen on these cars, but here are a couple:

- Help Stamp Out Big Dogs. Need Blonde---Will Travel. Quiet---Driver Asleep. Don't Follow Me---I'm Lost. Made in Las Vegas from Old Slot Machine Parts. Don't Step on Me---I Eat Bugs. Don't Honk---I'm pedaling as fast as I can.

One which is appropriate for old cars is:

- Don't Laugh---I'm paid for . . . and another is . . . Don't Laugh---You May Be Old Some Day.

June Magness, who often comes up with some choice column material, tells us about reading about some guy who went to a fancy blowout in New York City. She says he said that judging from all the fur coats, you'd think it was a P-TA meeting in Texas.

You read, we're sure, the wire service story about the fellows in the foreign-made car who ran into a jackrabbit in Southwest Texas, turned over, were hospitalized, etc. Note that we said ran into -- not ran over -- the jackrabbit. Last sentence and paragraph in the story we read said, "The rabbit was killed."

Stories like that don't do anything to help those individuals who drive those little cars overcome their complexes.

Basketball fans here will be in hog heaven next week. It's district tournament-time and games will be played Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights. There will be eight games played in those three days -- four in the boys bracket and likewise in the girls'.

School officials are, of course, hoping to have good crowds at the sessions. If the Steers and Anton's Bulldogs end up in the finals of the boys bracket -- and there's a strong possibility they will -- you can count on a lot of people being present.

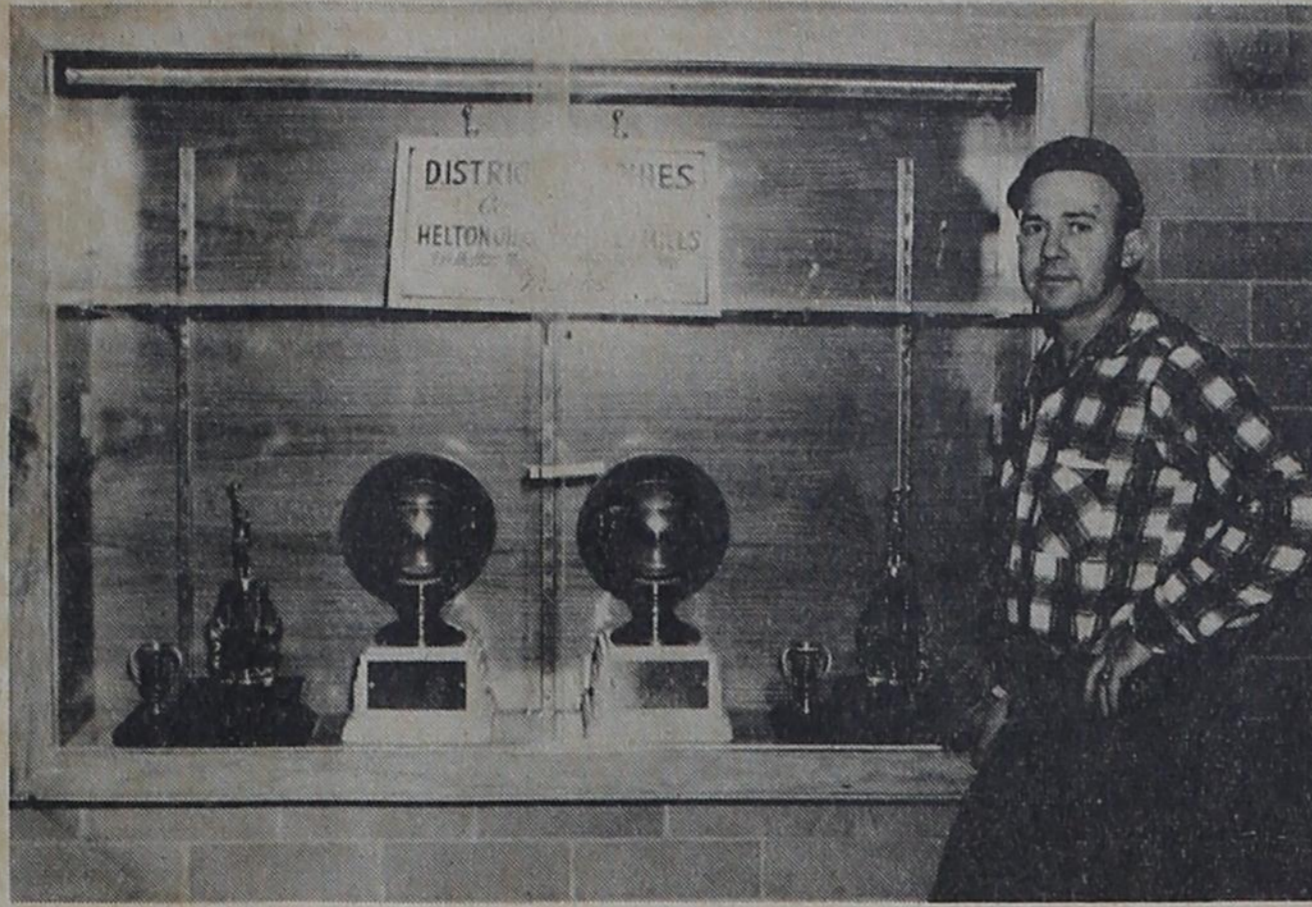

We understand that basketball here used to draw more people and make more money back when Farwell, Bovina, and Friona were all in the same district. Just pretty good teams would fill the house. A large part of the natural rivalry is killed when those teams are all in different districts as they are now.

Too, it's hard to build up a strong rivalry between schools which are a long way apart. There's not as much of that natural rivalry in the first place and in the second place the distance involved cuts down on the number of fans who attend the games.

However, we're not complaining about the basketball district we're in -- just pointing out that it helps the gate to have a rival nearby.

We'll see you at that bas-

District Tourney Next Week

Farwell Outlasts Anton

With Big Johnny Lovelace ducking in 31 points, Farwell's Steers took an overtime, 52-48, win from Anton here Tuesday night. The victory left Coach Calvin Murray's boys with an unblemished record in District 3-A play. They will go into the district tournament, which will be played here next week, with an 8-0 mark.

Coach R. B. Tucker's girls won second place in the district round robin as they bumped the Anton girls, 48-37.

Three Steers fouled off in the exciting game that saw the score deadlocked at 42-42 at the end of regulation playing time. Two Anton boys were given seats on the bench by officials for committing intentional fouls.

Owen Huffaker went out of the game via the four route in the third quarter. Freddy Magness followed early in the fourth period and Lovelace went out with less than a minute remaining in the overtime period. The Steers were further handicapped by the loss of two members of the squad who didn't suit up for the fray. They were Gerald Christian, who was ill, and Phillip Berry, a starter. Both are expected to be ready for action by district tournament-time.

The Steers led most of the way. They were ahead 13-9 at the first quarter's end, and 22-17 at the halfway point. It was in the second half that the score began to tighten. Farwell had a scant, one-point, 30-29 edge at the end of three quarters. They lost the lead briefly in the final period.

Trailing Lovelace in the scoring column were Dickie Williams, who had eight; Jimmy Martin with five; Benjy Dial, who made four; and Magness and Mickey Rundell, with two each.

Ronnie Biffle was high for the visitors as he basketed 21. In the girls game, Farwell had three high-scoring forwards. June Ritchie and Jeanette Lindop accounted for 18 points each and Carolyn Parker made 12.

They were behind, 10-15, midway through the first half, but managed to tie the score, 23-23, at the half. They pulled out front in the third period, 37-29, and held on.

In Friday night action here, both teams picked up a win over Springlake. The Steers had an easy time winning, 72-40. The girls game was closer, but the locals came out on top of a 31-24 count.

Twelve Steers got in on the scoring parade which was led by Berry, with 16 points, and Williams, with 12.

For the girls, Carolyn Parker made 13 and Iris Goldsmith hit for eight.

In a non-district clash here Saturday night, the Steers accepted a 45-40 defeat from House.

Farwell was ahead until the final quarter when the House team turned a defensive full-court press into a winning formula. In that final period, the Farwellmen were outscored 7 to 13.

Lovelace led the scoring with 21 tallies.

TUMBLEWEEDS---Monday's wind and sand caused the tumbleweeds to move around. Here, Lewie Bradshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Bradshaw, is waist deep in them in downtown Farwell.

MOD TOTALS NOT COMPLETE
Final totals for Parmer County's 1959 March of Dimes Campaign are still not complete, Cary Joe Magness, county campaign director, reports. They will be figured at a regular meeting of the county chapter.

Farwell Juniors Plan Chili Feed Before Tourney

Farwell junior class will sponsor a chili supper at the school cafeteria at 6 p.m. Friday, February 20, prior to the finals of the district basketball tournament.

Tickets are on sale from any member of the class or they may be purchased at the door. Chili, pie and coffee (all you can eat) will be served for 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Patrons may order only pie and coffee if they desire.

County May Pay for Fires

The three city fire departments in Parmer County may receive reimbursements for trips made outside the city limits by late this year or early in 1960.

This was decided at a regular session of Parmer County commissioners Monday.

Representatives of Farwell, Bovina, and Friona fire departments requested late in December that the county help defray fire department expenses because a majority of calls were made to rural areas, from which no tax money for operating the department is received.

The commissioners said the reason no funds could be allotted now was because the county is operating on a "tight budget."

The court heard reports from representatives in Bovina and Farwell precincts from men who had been appointed to revalue land for tax purposes. At a meeting last month, each of the four commissioners appointed three men to set new values on land in this precinct.

Citizen Wants Out Of Texico Limits

Texico town board of trustees has heard a third request that property be eliminated from the town limits.

J. H. Leavell appeared before the board Saturday morning to make the request on the grounds that he lacked city services. Similar requests have been presented at earlier meetings by Lewis Pierce and C. A. Casady. The board took no action.

In other action the board, at the insistence of the state health department, passed ordinance No. 134 which provides that all food handlers have health certificates and for a penalty for violations.

Approval for paving on private property at the owner's expense was granted several citizens. In addition, the board met with representatives of the school board Tuesday morning and approved plans for paving of parking areas at the school. All paving will be done in connection with the current town project.

Les Means was appointed police magistrate and bills paid. All members of the board were present for both the Saturday and Tuesday morning meetings.

Eight Games In Three Days

District 3-A basketball tournament will be unreeled in Farwell's gym next week.

Action is slated for Tuesday, Thursday, and Friday nights. Winners of the tournament in both boys and girls brackets may claim half the district crown. The other half has already gone to winners of round robin play -- Farwell's boys and Sudan's girls.

If different teams win the tournament and the round robin, a sudden death playoff game will decide the district representative in bi-district play.

First game of the tournament is slated for 5:30 Tuesday. Anton and Kress girls teams play then. Following that game on the Tuesday-night card will be Sudan and Springlake girls at 7. Rounding out the Tuesday night program will be a boys game between Sudan and Springlake. It will begin at 8:30.

No games are scheduled Wednesday. Play begins again Thursday at 5:30 as Farwell girls meet the winner of Anton-Kress game. At 7, Anton boys play the winner of Sudan-Springlake game. Third Thursday night game will feature the favored Steers against Kress at 8:30.

Texico Takes Two

Texico's Wolverines picked up a pair of victories on a two-day trip into New Mexico over the weekend.

Though they trailed by as many as 12 points in the fourth quarter, they rallied to down St. Peter's at Roswell Friday night, 58-55. Jerry Reid paced the Wolverine attack. He hit 20 points.

Following Reid in the scoring were Raymond Hadley, 10; Wesley Ingram, nine; Bobby Stover, seven; David Lockhart, six; Monte Singleterry, four; and Don Johnson, two.

The game was a see-saw affair throughout. Texico trailed, 14-17, at the end of the first quarter; at the half, Coach Paul Frederick's boys were on top, 30-29, but as the fourth quarter began, they were behind again, 37-46.

Saturday night, the Wolverines were involved in another

1715 Pay Poll Tax In County

A total of 1715 Parmer County citizens paid their poll tax so they will be eligible to vote during 1959.

This report came this week from the office of Lee Thompson, county tax assessor-collector. Bulk of the poll tax receipts were issued in January -- 940. December saw 321 people buy their right to vote, November had 140, and in the first month in which poll taxes could be paid, October, 314 people received a receipt.

The '59 figure is less than a year ago. A total of 2230 poll taxes were paid last year. However, this was expected as '59 is an off year from an election standpoint while '58 was not.

In 1957, which is comparable to '59 in the number of elections scheduled, 1796 poll taxes were paid.

"We were disappointed in the number of poll tax receipts issued," Thompson says, "but for a while it looked like we wouldn't have even that many."

There is some talk from the Farwell Fire Department about bringing charges against George Magness, Dutch Quickel, and John Sharum for receiving money under false pretenses.

The $35 the department donated to the March of Dimes to hear them sing was a gross misuse of company funds. About the only solution that I see is for them to make a few guest appearances at city functions. If any of you are needing a trio of singers, and I use the word "singers" loosely, get in touch with the Fire Chief and I'm sure he has a group picked out for you.

Fertilizer tests on grain sorghums at Halfway Experiment Station have shown that the use of nitrogen alone has given the most net returns for money spent. The use of phosphate has in some tests increased the yields over straight nitrogen but the added cost of the phosphates was not a paying proposition. It is the opinion of this writer that phosphates might be used to an advantage south of town on the sandier land, but it is doubtful if the application on the tighter lands would be of any benefit. The use of from 120 to 160 pounds of nitrogen gave the greatest net profit.

Youth Injured In Tractor Mishap

Gary Foster, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Foster, was injured in a tractor-post hole digger accident Saturday afternoon.

Knocked from the tractor when part of the machinery came loose, the youngster suffered a broken collar bone, lacerations on the back of his head and under his chin, and a possible slipped vertebrae in the back of his neck. He was taken to Clovis Memorial Hospital where 82 stitches were required to close the wounds.

Just how the accident occurred is not clear. The tractor was en route to a job location but the post hole digger was not in operation.

Family members report that Foster is doing well and that visitors are allowed. His room number is 227.

Tender, delicious Biscuit Honeys will add exciting interest to breakfast, lunch or dinner.

They're rolled up like snails and brushed with honey and nuts. Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in 1/4 cup shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add 2/3 to 3/4 cup milk to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out into an 8-inch square about 1/4-inch thick. Cut into 24 strips. Coil each strip around to form "snails", sealing edges well. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Brush each biscuit with honey and sprinkle with a few chopped nuts. Bake in hot oven (450 F.) 10 to 20 minutes. Makes 24 Biscuit Honeys.

BUILT TOUGH for TOUGH JOBS

THE JOHN DEERE "KBA" DISK HARROW

Here's a disk harrow that is literally built to "dive-in" to the toughest disking job and to work right through it without a murmur—the husky, rugged John Deere Model "KBA."

Of course, its rugged serviceability is but one of the favorite qualities of the Model "KBA." Others include its willing response to effortless hydraulic control, its availability either as a wheel-carried or regular model, its extreme flexibility, and its simple adjustments to suit the disking job at hand.

But come in, and let us finish the big story of the Model "KBA" and its ability to return to you many times its cost in easier, faster, better disking.

BLOWING TOPSOIL is checked by Bob Crozier, left, work unit conservationist for the Parmer County SCD, and Guy Nutt of Amarillo, area conservationist. They are checking a central Parmer County listed field which has had furrows filled with sand from an adjoining dryland field. The men do not consider wind erosion as a serious hazard to area farmland in spite of the way the land seemed to blow Monday.

Farmers Must Wait For Support News

What will the 1959 support price be on grain sorghum?--the Parmer County area's most important question of the year is still unanswered. To make matters worse, it will be "after March 16" before the information will be released. That means that area farmers will have a cold choice on their A and B plan cotton options . . . they won't know what to expect on their grain sorghum when the deadline comes for them to make up their mind on whether they want to stick with allotments and a support price of 80 percent of parity or overplant by as much as 40 percent and receive 60 percent of parity for their cotton. It would be much easier for them to decide this important matter if they knew what the grain sorghum support would be--but they won't. The USDA had been expected to reveal sorghum supports around February 1. They set the cotton support January 31 but did not divulge the sorghum information. After corn controls were thrown off last fall and a new program applicable to all feed grains came to be adopted, it was generally held that grain sorghum support prices would be upped. The increase was hoped to run from about seven to perhaps seventeen cents per hundred. Since the USDA failed to announce supports last week, though, there have been rumors that the "increase" will not be an increase at all but in fact will be a rather severe cut-back. None of these rumors has panned out, but farmers are still "playing it scared" on the basis of the sketchy information being made public. Area prices for grain sorghums have been holding up pretty well, indicating that those who buy and sell in major markets and who often have access to information not available to most farmers, still have confidence that grain sorghum prices will be relatively stable next year. The support was announced February 14 last year.

that your prompt response will save time and money in the office, too. Patterson, Florian Jarecki, and possibly Gilbert Kaltwasser are going to Dallas to attend a membership meeting for workers Thursday. The kick-off Banquet will be on March 2, in the Friona School Cafeteria. J. H. West, TFB President of Bishop will be the speaker. He will also have a sound motion picture called Freedom in Action, depicting the importance of citizen participation in local politics. Those who have seen the film say it is thought provoking, interesting and informative. Another Farm Bureau sponsored bill designed to exempt farm trailers up to a gross weight of 14,000 pounds is being introduced by Conley, Murray and Boysen. This is of economic importance to every farmer who owns a trailer. If you favor such an exemption, write your Senator and Representative. Another bill with Farm Bureau endorsement is one extending to one year the time allowed for filing on state road tax exemption of farm used fuels, and eliminating the need for notarization of such requests. Passage of this bill would bring in an estimated five to ten thousand dollars for Parmer County to be spent with local merchants. The inconvenience of the present method causes hundreds of gallons of gasoline refunds to be neglected or overlooked. We hope you will urge your county officials, sheriff, judge, attorney, etc., to use the full extent of the Texas law in an effort to curb drunk driving which definitely tends to increase the cost of insurance to you and your careful driving neighbor. Waiting till such drunk drivers have killed or injured someone is waiting too long. CONSIDER THIS: Every man shall kiss his lips that giveth a right answer. Prov. 24:26

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

For the protection of cultivated land against erosion by wind and water, nothing can take the place of continuous cover of dead or living plants, or both. This is true regardless of location, rainfall, soil, or the kind of farming or ranching that goes on. In the Plains country, however the need for plant cover grows more important as conditions tend toward the dry side. At the same time getting good cover becomes a tougher job. The job is two-sided; first, a crop must be managed in a way that it will protect the soil until a new crop covers it. Experience of farmers and ranchers and research work have taught us important lessons. We know that burning crop residues is one of the worst mistakes that can be made. And too much tillage wears out the residues and therefore should be held to a minimum. Leaving stubble and other crop residues on the surface has proved especially valuable in the grain summer-fallow areas where 15 or 16 months usually pass between harvest and the planting of a new crop. One way of leaving such cover and disturbing the soil surface as little as possible is by using equipment having sweeps or blades 32 inches wide or wider. This practice is known as stubble mulching. It is a year round system. In it all tillage, planting, cultivating and harvesting operations are done in a way to keep crop residues in the surface to protect the soil. Where wheat is grown each year, more cutting or stirring of stubble is possible without serious harm. The period for seedbed preparation is shorter. Narrower sweeps, chisel-type implements, or even disk types in some instances, may be used. When sorghums are grown separately or in rotation with wheat, the principles are the same. They involve the conservation of residues during the critical period to protect against wind, runoff, and splash erosion. The same practices help develop a soil condition that will take in moisture faster and keep it longer.

In growing sorghums, if there is a high yield of stalks, as on irrigated land, it is safe to shred the stalks coarsely and tuck them lightly in to the soil with a disk. On drylands, however, where yields are not so high, it is best to leave a high stubble during winter months. For sorghums in rows 24 to 48 inches apart, the usual minimum height recommended is 15 to 18 inches.

Most County Land "In Good Shape"

In spite of what might have been said about the free-flowing real estate in Monday's sandstorm, most all Farmer County area land is in good shape and is not subject to damage by wind erosion.

This is the report from the Soil Conservation Service this week, after a check of conditions following the blow -- this first storm of the season.

Guy Nutt, area conservationist for Area II, was in the county Tuesday, and he and Bob Crozier, work unit conservationist for the county, concurred that farmers as a general rule have things "pretty well tied down."

The reason so much blew the first of the week is that it was the first wind of any consequence in many weeks and much loose and powdery topsoil that is always present under such conditions simply got up and moved off with the gale.

Big-scale irrigation and intense cultivation methods have made a return of the Dust Bowl days an impossibility for this part of the High Plains. Land now has more natural cover, is usually better plowed and protected, and nearly always has a higher moisture content than in the days when there were no irrigation wells.

In fact, of the 420,000 acres in cultivation in the county, 404,000 of it is under irrigation, according to SCS figures. That means lots of protection.

Farmer County is itself a Soil Conservation District. In addition to that, the county voted itself a wind erosion control district several years ago. That means that landowners can be required by law to care for their land to prevent excessive blowing.

This law is practically never made use of these days, however, and blowing dust is not the hazard it once was.

Cotton Loan Rate Dips Slightly

The 1959-60 cotton loan rate has been announced, and will be down slightly from last year. Prentice Mills, ASC office manager, reports that the support price will be at the rate of 80 per cent of parity, compared with 81 in 1958-1959.

The national average on 7/8 inch middling white cotton is $30.40. In Farmer County it will be $30.16 this year (under the "A plan"). Premiums and discounts on grades and staple will be unchanged from the previous year.

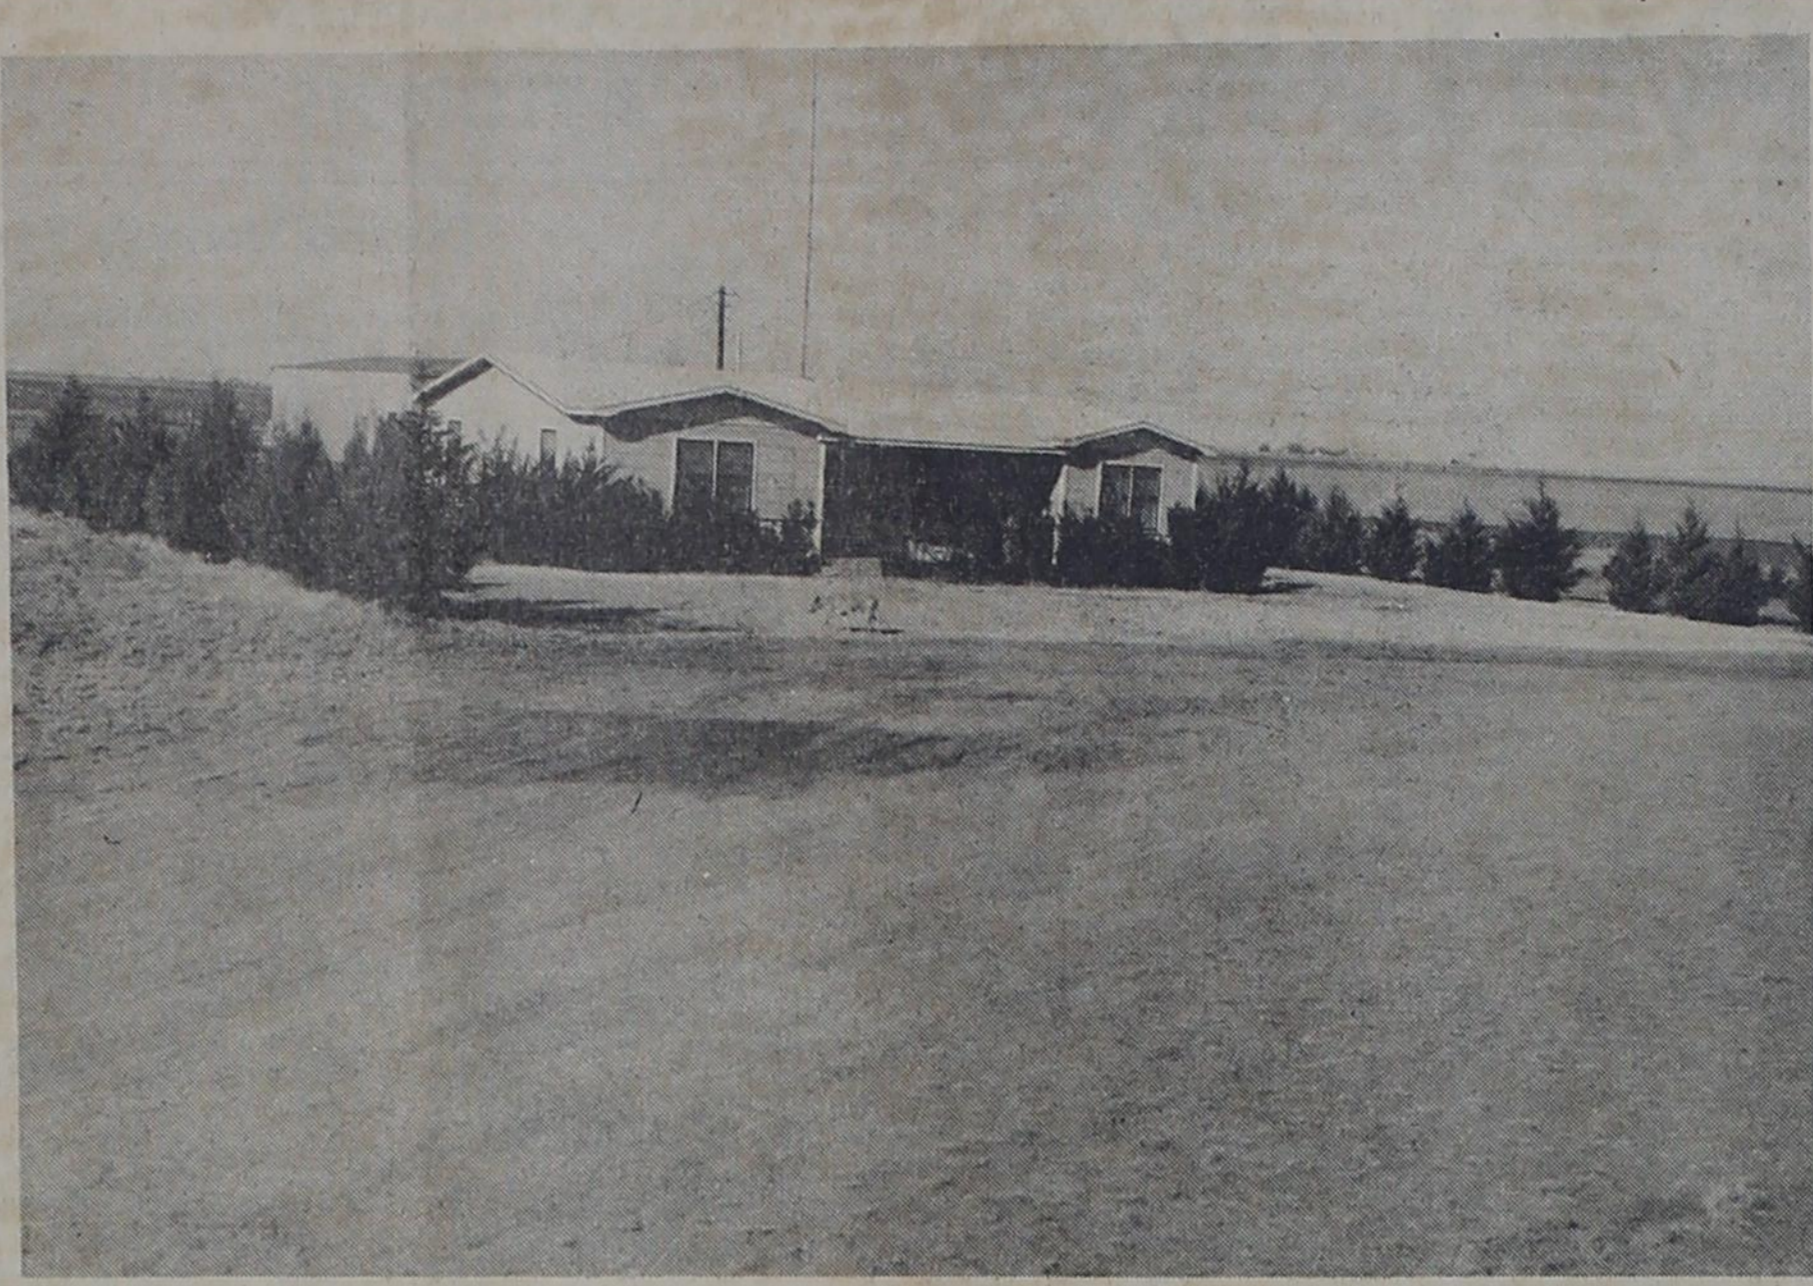

Supports on cotton grown under the B Plan will be 65 per cent of parity, which will amount to $24.46 in Farmer County.

The new support rates, announced last week, are about in line with what was expected in most quarters. The support of "A" cotton will continue at a rate considered pretty good by most High Plains farmers, and will assure the continuance of cotton as the No. 1 money maker on area farms.

As to whether growers are going A or B plan this year, there's still no indication of a general trend to either side. No one knows for sure what the B plan cotton will bring on the market -- although most agree it will probably be slightly to moderately over the loan rate.

That question mark, plus the enigma of not knowing what grain sorghum support prices will be until after time to select which cotton plan will be followed, is the middle of the year for area farmers.

A neat, well-kept farmstead is that of the T. O. Lesleys of Lazbuddie. The Cypress and Red Cedar evergreens which encircle their home provide not only beauty but protection from the elements. The trees nearer the house are for decorative purposes.

More and more Farmer County area farm families are finding pleasure and usefulness in landscaping their farmsteads with trees like these.

Most of us have heard of Johnny Appleseed all our lives, but recently someone gave us a cookie recipe that was supposed to have been his favorite. Of course, it is doubtful that anyone knows Johnny Appleseed's favorite cookie recipe, but this one is very good.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

There are more lovely materials than ever, for those of you who enjoy doing your home sewing, on the market now. So many of them are specially treated cottons that need little or no ironing. For full sheer skirts or dresses that need narrow hand rolled hems, try making them in this fashion: Stay stitch near the edge of the fabric, then roll edge between fingers and hand stitch.

The trend in summer sleepwear is shorty gowns and baby doll pajamas. These can be made of batiste or crinkle crepe and do not require any ironing. When you shop for ready made garments, you can ask for these two materials and still have attractive sleeping garments that are easily kept.

Do those of you who have clothes dryers have difficulty keeping the clothes from drying with wrinkles in them? According to the experts, the way to avoid this problem is to know exactly when to remove the clothes from the dryers.

One manufacturer gives this advice. "Dry clothes will be wrinkle free if you take them from the dryer and fold them as soon as they are dried, rather than if they remain in the dryer for several hours. Even clothes that are damp-dried will continue to dry if allowed to remain in the dryer after it stops.

At this time of year it isn't unusual for members of the family to become tired of green beans served in the usual manner. For something different,

SAVORY GREEN BEANS

- 1 quart canned green beans or frozen beans cooked until tender
 - 1/4 cup chopped onion
 - 1/4 cup chopped parsley
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1/4 cup flour
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 1 cup sour cream
 - 2 tablespoons vinegar
 - Bits of saute'd bacon (1 slice cut up)
- Drain beans and reserve liquid (about 1 cup). Saute onion and parsley in butter until soft but not brown, add flour, blend well. Add bean liquid, sugar, and vinegar stirring constantly. Add sour cream, then beans and cook slowly until heated thoroughly. Place in hot serving dish and garnish with bits of saute'd bacon. Serves 8.

A carrot salad that is different is GOLDEN CRUNCHY SALAD
1 cup raw carrot, grated
1 cup green cabbage, shredded
1/4 cup chopped sweet pickle or sweet pickle relish
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 teaspoon salt

THE PARMER FARMER

by W. H. Graham Jr.

It wouldn't be right to consider Monday's big blow as a "surprise," but it is true that it was hardly expected. For this time of the year, though, a windstorm such as we experienced shouldn't shock anyone who has been on the High Plains for as long as four or five years.

The reason that the sandstorm caused so much comment, we believe, is that we've been getting a wee bit spoiled during the past two years. Last spring, for example, was the tamest one we can recall in our life on the Plains. There wasn't a single honest-to-goodness all-day, all-night spell.

If our memory serves us, the spring of 1957 was pretty decent so far as blowing dust was concerned, also. Back past that some of the years we remember pretty well and some of them we don't. Generally speaking, there were some pretty dirty springs in the drought years of 1950-1957, but we can't pick out which were the worst.

However, we do know that the past two springs have been downright abnormal in their mildness. It is a natural (though not desired) thing for the wind to blow across the Plains during February, March, and April. Just ask anyone who's been around long enough to know.

Monday's blow put us to thinking. What would you call it: a sandstorm? Or a duststorm? Some call them "dusters," while others prefer (and it's pretty accurate) the term "dirt-storm."

To us, the term "duster" can be used only infrequently, as we think it refers to the monstrous clouds that sometimes steal down upon us from the north or northwest.

How long has it been since we had a true "black duster?" Several years at least. The black dusters of the middle and late 1930's were really horrible things to experience. They inflicted as much psychological as they did physical damage. They depressed people terribly, although usually they didn't last long and for that reason were not a real threat to soil erosion.

Anyone who has experienced standing in the open and seeing the terrible black and purple clouds boil down upon him knows the feeling of impending doom that sometimes grips a man's heart. It is as if all nature were overturned and the end of the world were at hand. What a frightening thing these black dusters were!

Like a curtain drawn across the sky they would obliterate the sun in mid-day and a pall of darkness would overcome everything in their midsts. Trees would bend and groan under their weight. Dust and sand, tumbleweeds and debris of the field and roads would whip past in front of the mighty winds. As a boy we were very impressed with these black dusters and it will be a long time before we will forget them even if we never see another.

Cotton Plan - Discussions Scheduled

Three meetings have been scheduled in Parmer County to discuss A and B plans which cotton farmers are being offered this year.

Prentice Mills, manager of ASC, and Joe Jones, county agent, will conduct the meetings. "We'll try to be prepared to answer all the questions farmers have to ask," Mills says.

The first meeting will be at Lazbuddie Thursday, February 12. It will be in the school auditorium and will begin at 2.

The second session will be at Hub community building Monday, February 16. It, too, will begin at 2.

The third and final meeting will be at the school in Bovina. It will be Monday night, February 16, and will begin at 8 p.m.

Mills says it is hoped that all farmers in the county will have an opportunity to attend one of the three centrally-located meetings.

The ASC manager also reports that he hopes to have the support price on maize by February 16.

LOOK FOR WHOLE GRAIN CORN MEAL

Take time to look for whole grain corn meal when you shop. You'll get extra food benefits and flavor, say extension foods and nutrition specialists. That's because this type of corn meal contains all the food nutrients that nature provides in corn. Check the label when buying corn meal. For added nutrition check to see if the corn meal is enriched as well as made from whole grain. Corn is naturally low in the B vitamins, thiamine and niacin which are important to the health of the nerves. The nutritive value of whole grain corn meal is improved by the addition of an enrichment mixture which includes these vitamins.

NEW CORN DISHES

Need some variety in your daily meals? Exciting new dishes made from corn meal can give a special touch to the main course, the bread course and even the dessert course, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists.

"Sausage Corn Bread Supper" is one example. Add a tossed green salad, milk and fresh fruit, and you have a quick easy meal ready.

Recipes for this and other corn meal dishes such as Banana Corn Meal Loaf, Corn Meal Waffles, Dixie Brownies and others are found in B-269.

WHEN YOU CHOOSE ACCESSORIES

Have you ever brought home a bargain hat or bag--or shoes of a delightfully "different" color only to find that they didn't go with a thing you had? In that case, they may have been expensive accessories after all.

To get the most for your money, plan carefully before you buy -- remembering the color and design of your basic dresses or suits. Accessories should accent or complement a costume, according to extension clothing specialists. They can add spice to a simple solid color dress or suit, or supply the unifying note with a striking print dress or plaid suit.

Avoid using too many different colors in one costume. The eye jumps from one spot to another, and you lose the effect of unity. A general rule for the use of contrasting color, texture or pattern in accessories is never to repeat more than three times--generally two are smarter; for example, shoes, bag and gloves, or shoes, bag and hat, or bag and hat.

Intensity of the color is important. Don't overdo it. The more brilliant or intense the color, the smaller the area it should cover. Unusual colors draw the eye just because they are complex in makeup. Use them with care.

Basic colors in accessories, namely black, brown or navy, are always in good taste and easy to use.

Color in shoes is a fashion to be used with caution. It calls attention to the feet and ankles. Be certain yours can stand the spotlight.

A final suggestion: Look smart but not extreme. Don't overdress. The best dressed women are often the most simply dressed.

ACCESSORIES AROUND THE CLOCK, a beautiful new bulletin by extension clothing specialists, gives lots of ideas and suggestions. Get a copy from me.

FOOD MARKETING TIPS....

To be sure that the family is getting its share of vitamin C, take advantage of the large supply of fresh grapefruit and oranges. The season for tangerines will soon be over so get them now if you want them. Apples continue to be a good value in quality as well as price. Bananas are being offered at attractive prices in most markets.

Generally speaking, fresh vegetable supplies have declined and prices are up slightly on some items. Iceberg lettuce quality remains fair to good but prices have advanced some. Dry onion prices have been edging upward for the past three weeks. White potatoes and carrots are in plentiful supply. New cabbage is attractively priced in most stores.

In the meat picture are attractive values in the pork line, especially loin roast. Other pork features are shoulder cuts, smoked picnics and sliced bacon. Swiss steak is one of the better beef choices. Those "buy a pound, serve a pound" variety meats--heart, liver and kidney--rate a place on your shopping list.

Poultry is still quite economical. Frying chickens and turkey are in large supply. Egg production continues to be high with the large size eggs quite plentiful.

This is the time of the year when we realize that it is better to give than to receive -- because it's deductible!

Missed your paper? Then call IV 6-3681.

February is almost half gone and we've been so busy mixing formula, manning the rocking chair and loving the new baby, we've hardly realized where the days have gone. But there is plenty going on around town, it seems, even if we haven't been able to keep tab.

There are plenty of holidays -- Valentine's Day, Lincoln's birthday, and Washington's birthday. There is World Day of Prayer and the first Sunday of Lent.

The Farwell PTA is planning one of the bigger and better programs of the year tonight, and the Chamber of Commerce will have their annual banquet Saturday night.

And there are numerous regular meetings and plans being made.

It looks like a busy time for all.

Charles Didway in his column in the Post paper says: "There's nothing wrong with being poor, except that nowadays most of us can't afford it."

Heating Costs Can Be Cut By Insulation

The cost of heating an uninsulated house is as much as three times the cost of heating the fully-insulated house," says the National Electric Manufacturers in its Manual for Electric House Heating.

"From the standpoint of economy," the manual points out, "it is just as important to insulate walls, ceilings, and floors in order to keep the heat in as it is to insulate an electric refrigerator to keep heat out."

The manual, published as a basic guide for designing electric heating installations, says that proper insulation is recommended for all electrically-heated homes, regardless of their location or the electric heating method used.

In many areas across the country where electric utility rates are low, electricity is rapidly becoming a standard heating fuel for homes.

One reason for this is that experiments have shown that a house thickly insulated with mineral wool can be heated with electricity in these areas at costs comparable with other forms of fuel.

Current recommendations for insulation in an electrically-heated house are a 6-inch thickness of mineral wool in the ceiling, 4 inches in walls, and at least 2 inches in an unheated floor.

The electric heating manual adds that when proper insulation is installed, "the savings in-

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deaton and family of San Diego arrived Sunday to visit with relatives and to be at the bedside of Carl Deaton who was injured last week and is hospitalized in Northwest Texas Hospital. They are guests in the home of his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Martin.

Mrs. Short Has New Granddaughter

Word has been received here of the birth of a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Thomas of Selad Valley, Calif. The new arrival is the granddaughter of Mrs. Noma Short of Roseburg, Ore., a former resident of this area. Her mother is the former Katie Lee Short. Laurie June was born January 13.

Oklahoma Lane To Talk Building

All residents of the Oklahoma Lane community are urged to attend a special meeting tonight to discuss a proposed community building.

Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration club is sponsoring the meeting at 7:30 p.m. in Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply Building in an effort to determine whether there is sufficient interest in a community building to warrant launching a drive to finance and construct one.

Refreshments will be served by the club and free entertainment will be a movie entitled "A Tenderfoot In Europe" shown by Cotton John of KGNC in Amarillo.

Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply is located 1 1/4 miles north of the churches on the Bovina-Lariat road.

Hand-me-down clothes make good sense, especially in families with a number of children, but it isn't good practice to extend the idea to shoes. If not properly fitted, shoes can be a menace to foot health.

When buying new shoes for the youngsters, never be guided by the size of the old pair. Have the child's foot measured each time he gets new shoes. A 10-year-old's feet grow one to three sizes every 12 to 16 weeks.

During this rubber-wearing season, the insides of shoes get almost as dirty as the outsides. Keep rubbers from ruining shoes by washing the insides occasionally with soap and water.

Suede leather should be cleaned with a soft sponge. Even "suede brushes" can rub away the nap if used too vigorously.

When one button on a garment keeps getting loose from wear and strain, sew it on with dental floss.

Wax the insides of metal waste baskets to keep them from rusting. The wax also keeps dust from clinging.

Wax can also help your new leather purse keep its youth and beauty longer. Give it a treatment of good paste wax to protect the leather from scratches and mars as well as cracking caused by drying. Renew the light coat of wax occasionally.

To remove black grease stains from wood, coal and other stoves, dissolve a rounded tablespoon of household lye in two quarts of water. Scrub with an old brush and rinse. Wear rubber gloves.

A yellow flame caused by clogged gas stove burners wastes gas and heats improperly. To remove accumulated carbon, boiled over food particles, boil the burners in a solution of 2 tablespoons of lye in a gallon of water. Rinse in clear water. Holes will be cleaned out and the money-saving blue flame will be restored to your burners. Do not use on aluminum burners.

Underwater, bronze or brass with steel, iron or aluminum are the major combination which set up electrolysis, the latter metals taking the damage. Such incompatible metals should never be used in combination.

If you have a new appliance: 1—Keep the directions. Know where they are. 2—If you lose an instruction book, request another. 3—Even if you have owned a similar appliance, study the instructions. They may have changed because of design and engineering improvements. 4—Ask for a demonstration of major equipment.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

Salt water may not be the best thing in the world for boats, but, more often than not, its bad effects are exaggerated. Actually the list of salt-water trouble-makers is a short one which includes marine borers, barnacles, corrosion and electrolysis, states Willard Crandall, Boating Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

New products combined with tried-and-true know-how have lessened the hazards of salt-water boating. Perhaps the greatest single deterrent is the modern boat trailer which permits an owner to keep his boat in "dry dock" yet have it launched and ready to go on a few minutes notice. In this way he is able to keep both top and bottom sides washed down with fresh water.

Boats kept in the water for any length of time, whether they are built of plastic, metal or wood, must have antifouling bottom paint. While borers will do little damage to plastic or metal, many other salt-water growths will accumulate to hamper good performance if such paint is not applied. The rule is: Any boat left in salt water must be periodically removed, its bottom scraped and new paint applied. Antifouling bottom paints work by dissolving poison into the water. Sooner or later all the poison is dissolved. This is the reason the paints have such a limited life.

Metal fittings and hardware that are never submerged but subjected to salt spray should be of the best quality stainless steel, bronze, chrome over bronze, monel, or nickel or aluminum alloys. Fiber glass is

Taxes In Farwell To Remain Same

Taxes in City of Farwell will be the same in '59 as they were last year. This was decided by the city commission at a regular meeting Friday in city hall.

Tax levy will be 50 per cent of valuations and the 84 cent tax rate will continue to be in effect.

In the brief regular session, Mayor Sam Aldridge and Commissioner Smokey Gast -- Commissioner L. E. McKillip was absent -- voted to hire Felix Winegeart to clean the sump pit of the sewer pit.

The following bills were approved for payment:

Trouble Lurks In Windows Chosen Unwisely

Many families take windows pretty much for granted until they begin to cause trouble. Then it's frequently too late to do anything about it beyond ripping them all out and installing new ones all around.

For this reason, it's a good idea for families who are planning to build, buy, or remodel a house to be more aware of window ills and how to avoid them ahead of time. Here are a few examples.

1. Condensation. Moisture can form on the frame and sash of some windows in winter. This moisture can run down onto walls, spoiling wallpaper and paint, and drip onto carpets. The surest way to avoid this is to choose wood windows, since moisture won't condense on wood.

2. Heat loss through frames and sash. Some materials used for windows conduct heat rapidly. In winter, this can mean higher fuel bills and the discomfort of cold surfaces inside the house. Frames and sash made of ponderosa pine, however, stay warm to the touch and effectively block the passage of heat because wood is a natural insulating material.

3. Appearance. Many windows are made of materials that do not take paint well. As a result, the frames and sash can't become a part of the decorating scheme, inside or out. Wood windows eliminate this problem.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seale were guests of the Byron Forts in Tatum Sunday. Also visiting in the home were Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dial of El Paso. Dial is the son of the local woman and his wife is the former Laquita Fort.

Know the Weather

By E. H. Skins

What are the ominous directions for winds to blow from? Can useful weather information be obtained from the use of a wind vane only?

The worst weather in the United States often follows winds out of the east or north. Yes, it is possible to detect valuable clues about the weather using only a wind vane. If one will combine the vane with a barometer, the accuracy of predictions will be raised many times.

However, with only a wind vane, be suspicious of a wind change from the east to the north. If the sky looks threatening (or a barometer reading shows pressure falling) you might well be in for a bad storm.

Likewise, a wind changing from south to east is often a bad omen. Remember that bad weather systems in this country (low pressure areas) move counter clockwise, and drift eastward. Wind changes often reveal what section of this circular movement you are then in.

ON THE LINE--

kethall tournament if we're not overrun by one of those midget cars we've made fun of this week.

Sally Lewis says...

Accidents in the home, which exact a greater toll of injury than accidents in industrial plants, are generally caused by carelessness. Good housekeeping, keeping dangerous materials away from children, cleaning out fire hazards, learning how to use appliances and electricity properly are among the many common sense precautions that can keep you and your family off the home front casualty list.

Electrical fuses are made to protect you. They blow out when there is a short circuit or overloading. The common fuse is 15 amperes. When fuses are blown, they should be replaced with those of similar capacity—never with pennies or wires.

When a fuse blows turn off the master switch. You should have a list on the fuse box, indicating the circuit for each box. Disconnect all the electric devices from the circuit with the blown fuse. If a new fuse blows, the wiring circuit is "shorted" and qualified service is required. If the fuse does not blow, the fault may be due to a "short" in the appliance. This can be located by connecting appliances individually to see which one causes the trouble.

Don't change fuses in the dark. Keep a flashlight handy.

Major plumbing jobs should be turned over to professionals.

Frozen pipes can be thawed by using electric irons, boiling water, heat lamps and even hair dryers. One of the workless methods is to remove as much of the water as possible from the top of the pipe and slowly shake enough household lye into the pipe to make it hot to the touch. As pipe cools, add more lye until it is clear. When the drain is thawed, flush it with plenty of hot water.

Minor leaks in pipes can sometimes be repaired with special cement—at least they seal the leak until a plumber arrives.

French Student Speaks To FHA

A French exchange student, Miss Joe'll Tiller LaRoche, was guest speaker at Farwell FHA's annual banquet honoring their parents Thursday night. The young woman is a senior at Hereford High School.

Over 100 persons attended the affair, a salad supper served in the home economics building under the direction of Mrs. Glenn Lust, home ec instructor.

Patsy Sprowls, president, was mistress of ceremonies and Jolene Donaldson gave the invocation. Belva Christian welcomed the guests.

Music was by a trio -- Carolyn Watts, Miss Donaldson, and D'Ann Garrett -- which sang "Tonight You Belong To Me" and "Sentimental Journey," and the Silhouettes who sang "Devoted to You" and "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes." Mrs. Erma Jobs accompanied both groups.

Remainder of the program was also in keeping with the Valentine theme illustrated by the centerpiece of a large red glittered heart and a styrofoam cupid. Wilma Norton acted as program co-ordinator and presented humorous "commercials" between numbers.

Appearing in a skit called "Romance in Piff Piff Land" were Miss Christian, Miss Norton, Judy Herington, Fern Smith, and Alice Ramm.

Miss Smith made programs for the event and other decorations were made by FHA members.

Quick, Easy, Glamorous... Dream Parfaits

A parfait is one of the most glamorous ways of saying "It's time for dessert." The dessert here made extra special by Dream Whip, a new topping mix that adds only a few calories for all its rich flavor. This black and white parfait is made with cocoa topping and vanilla ice cream. Once you've tried this you'll find many other flavor variations for these Dream Parfaits... such as adding two teaspoons instant coffee to the topping for a mocha flavor.

Parfaits made with this wonderful topping can be stored in your freezer until you're ready to serve "something special"... so make them a-plenty.

- Black and White Parfait
Cocoa Fluff Topping

- Cocoa Fluff Topping

Blend, then beat at high speed of electric or rotary beater until mixture is as stiff as desired.

Hospital Has Annual Meeting

hospital board, pointed out in the financial report, which was turned in last September, that since the report was made up the hospital has begun to operate in the black.
