Denver City, Texas

A SALUTE TO THE PROGRESSIVE
PEOPLE OF TEXICO

Thomason Construction Company is just now completing the large paving project for the City of Texico. This marks another era of progress for this fine community, and, in fact, entitles the town to the title, "Most Progressive Small City in New Mexico."

It has been a splendid opportunity to work with the leaders of this fine city, and the management of Thomason Construction Company wants especially to thank the town council for its wonderful spirit of cooperation. Congratulations are in order to the citizens, too, for backing such a fine program of community improvement.

It has been established that no city can grow as it should without adequate paving, curbing and guttering. Texico now has that, and there will be no limitation in this important area in the near future.

Once again, thanks for everything, Texico, and we hope that progress and success are yours!

Sincerely,

THOMASON CONSTRUCTION COMPANY

Nazareth, Texas, Farmer Reports -- $4 Return on Maize For Every $1 Spent on Ammonia

Greg Hoelting, prominent Castro County farmer, says: "By side dressing my last year's maize with 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia I averaged 5150 pounds of grain on 15 acres. It was a uniformly mature crop, easier to cut. One day I started the combine at nine o'clock; when I stopped at seven that evening, there were 3700 bushels harvested. "I figure my increase in grain nets me about $4 for every $1 I spend on ammonia."

Raymond Hadley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hadley of Texico, has been notified that he has received a State Farmer Degree. Any FFA boy who has been a member of FFA has had leadership training in FFA, and in other school activities, has an investment of $500 in a farm program, has made at least $350 from his past farming program and has kept accurate records of all management of the program, is qualified to send in an application for the degree, but only those with the highest amount of points receive the award.

Raymond will go to Albuquerque June 10 to attend the State FFA convention where he will receive his degree. Two other boys, Gary Singleberry and Leon Kelley, will accompany Raymond as voting delegates for the convention. James Pierce, agriculture teacher in the school, will sponsor the boys at the convention. Raymond was president of the local chapter of FFA for three years, and during his freshman year was Greenhand president. WHEN OPPORTUNITY KNOCKS A corporal and a private were court martialled for striking a sergeant. At the trial, the corporal explained: "This topkick doubled up his fist ... close to my nose, you understand, Sir. He musta been trying to emphasize a point, but I'd just returned from leave ... we'd had a fight with sailors on shore leave, and when I saw that fist ... it was just reflex action, Sir." "And you!" the officer addressed the private. "Oh," retorted the private, "when the corporal belted the sergeant, I naturally assumed the war was over, so I let him have a couple, too!"

the newspaper insists on knowing his identity.

What appears under a "Letters to the Editor" heading then, is not manufactured by the newspaper, but ours is a medium of expression offered the general public. It may or may not be in agreement with the paper's editorial policy.

This editorial policy, in The Tribune, will always be expressed either in the column you are now reading or at an appropriate place in the paper; usually under the "masthead" on page 2. But always it is clearly distinguishable from regular news matter.

The news columns, on the other hand, are reserved exclusively for the factual reporting. The news may be good, or it may be bad. We aren't a judge of that. But whenever we feel we have access to real facts--not just rumors--we print a story. And we write it as objectively and as factually and as impassionately as we possibly can.

Engineering for the new road has been completed, and construction is scheduled for 1960.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

About this time of year many mothers are faced with the problem of keeping children and young people busy and interested in one project or another. As we think of ways to help our children keep busy, some serious consideration should be given to teaching them to work.

Learning to do a job well for the job itself isn't an easy task. Most children, invariably ask the question, "How much does it pay?" when they are asked if they would like to do any job. Up to a point this is good, but those of us who are older should remember that satisfaction gained from doing a job well is very important, also.

When it is necessary for each member of a family to do specific chores there was no problem of teaching all children in the family to work. However, in our present economy there are far too few jobs that parents require children to do.

Those of us who hire someone to clean the house, weed the lawn, or do other similar chores, then worry about what our children are going to do to keep from being bored need to do some re-arranging so that we will have time to work with the children and teach them to do these things.

Since work isn't a necessity in the lives of most of our children, we, as parents, should make it a planned part of our lives.

A recent Associated Press release warns against the danger of giving children plastic bags to play with. The danger comes from suffocation. A warning that every mother should heed is "Beware of plastic bags."

Even though glycerine is one of the most old fashioned beauty aids most of us can remember, it is still highly recommended by many skin specialists. If your hands are not as soft and nice looking as you would like for them to be, try rubbing glycerine on them then wearing white cotton gloves while you sleep.

If you are one of the homemakers who feel that you are so busy with household chores and other time consuming activities that you rarely have time to do the things you would really enjoy doing, you might like to follow the following example:

MY GOLDEN HOUR--A home, a husband and two children fill my day so fully that reading, letter-writing and dabbling in paints, all things that I like to do, used to be out of the question. Then I decided to get up an hour early every morning and do these things, with no telephones, no doorbells, no pleas for attention until the family came to life at seven.

The first few mornings I was pretty foggy, as I numbly brewed my coffee and retreated to the big chair in the living room. But it was so much fun I began getting up with wide-awake anticipation.

In a year I've read three books, completed nine paintings, and renewed old friendships through my letter-writing. My only rule; no straightening the house, no doing dishes, no mixing formulas. This golden hour is all mine. Mrs. David H. Syme, Jr., St. Paul, Minnesota.

This letter was originally printed in the Woman's Day Magazine.

The next time you have left over ham and want to dress it up to serve so that members of your family will not recognize it as a "left over," try combining it with ground beef and making a delicious

HAM LOAF
1 1/2 lbs. ground ham
1 lb. ground beef
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups tomato juice or milk

1 cup fine cracker crumbs
1 teaspoon onion salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/8 teaspoon cloves
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
2 tablespoons honey
1 tablespoon ketchup
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Combine ground ham and beef. Beat eggs with fork; add tomato juice, crumbs and seasonings. Add ground meats; mix thoroughly. Pack into a 9 1/2 by 5 1/4 greased loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 minutes. Invert in shallow baking pan.

Mix honey, ketchup and lemon juice. Spoon over loaf. Bake 30 minutes more.

For a company meal you might like to serve with hot cherry sauce. To make the sauce, heat one (1 lb. 8 oz.) jar of cherry pie filling and serve hot over ham loaf slices.

Since both carrots and onions grow in Parmer County, we should add recipes to our collections that feature these two vegetables. One easy to prepare dish that uses both is

CARROTS AND ONIONS IN TOAST CUPS
6 to 10 carrots
1 cup whole cooked onions
1/3 cup milk
1 (10 1/2 oz.) can cream of celery soup

Toast Cups:
12 thin slices bread
butter or margarine
Scrape carrots and cut in thin slices. Cook in 1" boiling water which has been salted about 15 minutes. Add cooked onions; heat. Drain. Add milk and soup. Stir carefully; bring to boiling point. Season.

Trim crust from bread slices; butter one side. Press 2 slices, buttered side up, into bottom of a six ounce custard cup, overlapping slices in bottom of cup. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 15 minutes or until crisp and golden.

Heap carrots and onions in toast cups. Makes 6 servings.

If you want to know what is meant by a spitting image, try feeding cereal to a baby.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Outstanding soil and water conservation efforts by James Mabry, a cooperator in the Parmer County Soil Conservation District have resulted in his being named one of the 15 state winners in the third annual Conservation Picture Awards program co-sponsored by the Association of Texas

Soil Conservation Districts and the Great Southwest Life Insurance Company of Dallas. In choosing 15 state winners a statewide committee of judges considered his conservation achievements along with those of other farmers and ranchers who had received similar honors from many of Texas' 174 soil conservation districts.

The award, which will be presented to James next year is an 18 x 24 inch colored and framed aerial photograph of his farm. In coming months the photograph will be displayed along with those of the other winners at many state and regional agricultural events including the Texas State Fair and the annual convention of the Association of Texas Soil Conservation Districts.

RUSSIAN COTTON
Russia increased its cotton yield last year as the result of better planting and harvesting methods, according to a Soviet announcement. Production last year was placed at 4,335,000 metric tons compared with 4,210,000 metric tons in 1957. A metric ton is 2,204.6 pounds. Planting was largely by the "square cluster sowing method," and much of the crop was mechanically harvested.

Herbicide sprays for brush and weed control should be applied when wind speed is 10 miles per hour or less.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

FARM LABOR REGULATIONS: The Department of Labor has announced in a letter that the tentative date for a hearing with regard to the proposed labor regulations as set for June 1, 1959, has been postponed and no new date has been fixed at this time. The letter further indicates that no regulations will be promulgated until after the public hearing. We believe this indicates there will be no new regulations effecting this year's farming operations, at least. Labor Secretary Mitchell was stymied, it appears, when opposition was as widespread as it was, to his proposal to put farmers under the same wage and hour laws as industry is under. Local, state and American Farm Bureau led the storm of protest with the cooperation of many retailers and others whose future depended on stopping the move.

John Henderson, Black; Gilbert Kaltwasser, Farwell; Vernon Symcox, Farwell; Roy V. Miller and Harry Hamilton, Friona, and many others have been in with letters and telegrams replying to their protests to the labor proposition. They came from the office of the vice president, several senators and congressmen and other officials. All the letters were not favorable, but they gave the men an insight into the attitudes of many of them.

The States Rights bill is again being introduced in congress, and if Texas people can get their senator (L. Johnson) to vote for it, it could become law this year. He opposed it last year and his vote kept it out.

Senator Humphrey is pushing "Civil Rights" legislation again, to tell you what color people to hire to keep out of jail. This legislation is entirely un-American in our opinion, and we hope opposition will be strong enough to keep it out of our statutes.

meet Monday night about 8:30. You are welcome to attend. They will be glad to see you and listen to you.

YOUNG MAN -- WE PUT THE LIGHT IN YOUR WINDOW

Had you come 25 years ago young fellow, your light would have been a kerosene lamp. But your Dad and a lot of other folks like him organized an electric cooperative and built their own electric system. It was the ONLY way we could get electricity in our rural area.

Now you are going to have to help guard it. Some people would have you think the government built the system and gave it to us. That isn't true. We borrowed the money and we are paying back our loan with interest. Our cooperative is a business managed, tax paying partnership and we are happy to welcome you as a member. Because the Cooperative brought electricity to your farm you'll lead a healthier, happier life.

Grow strong, young fellow. You'll want a light in the window some distant night when your son comes into the world.
