

Salmonella Still Plaguing Citizens

The story of salmonella, Group C2, isn't over, according to health officials and city officials this week. The disease which could be considered an epidemic proportions, has spread enough that Dr. Paul Spring, county health officer, has made recommendations to the city officials.

In a letter to the mayor this week, Dr. Spring indicated that after discussions with the state health department and others, several recommendations were made regarding the epidemic of salmonella in the Farwell area. The first suggestion was to chlorinate the city water. This has been a practice and reports on the water for the past six months have been rated "pure," according to information. According to officials, members of the State Health Department were in Farwell last week and personally ran extensive tests on the water system. Reports were received Wednesday and the water tested "pure" according to the city officials.

Dr. Spring also says that tests should be made on all food handlers, including cafes, grocery stores and dairy products handlers. Officials were contacting all such operations this week to ask their cooperation in the project. Response has been good so far.

The third recommendation was to appoint a city health officer "so that with future health problems there will be closer liaison between the local doctor and other health officers." At this time, the commission made no plans to follow this particular suggestion. "We do not feel that this problem would justify the expense at this time," they say.

The salmonella scare began in December. Cases which have been treated are requiring a long recuperation period according to a local physician.

Since November 1, 30 cases have been reported in the Farwell area and were diagnosed by tests at the state health department in Clovis. Eight of the above cases have been observed in the past 3 1/2 weeks, according to a report to a local physician from the department.

FROM THE HOPPER

BY HOP JR.

When I was in college studying journalism, I sometimes felt the attraction of the expose type of writing, which always proved exciting, and when often brought the skillful journalist fame and fortune.

This week I'm giving in to this old urge by showing you, the reader--for the first time and nowhere else ever printed--an authentic analysis of what goes on in a banker's mind when he's talking with you.

Appearing with this column is a reproduction of a sheet of doodles I surreptitiously snatched from the desk of Bob Anderson at the bank when he was counting his money and not looking my way.

I think it offers an interesting, if somewhat shocking, peep into the secrets of the banker's mind. Now I don't pretend to be able to understand all the symbols shown, but some of them are too obvious to miss.

Start off at the top. Those 21's. Probably they refer to the interest. The guy on the phone was asking for six and Bob was holding out for 21.

Be sure to notice the two dollar signs, and also don't fail to recognize the quarter (with eagle's wings spread). You can get a pretty good idea of what the borrower looks like by the caricature in the lower left hand corner, and you can also see what's fixing to happen to the poor fellow. Note the sharp-pointed weapon aimed at his head.

Brrr. No wonder they call 'em cold-blooded bankers.

Got some fan mail from Barbara (Hinkson) Lust, the folks who ran off and left us and moved over into Castro County.

She says "We have enjoyed the 'nice' publicity about Castro County in The Tribune, and if anyone challenges you to pick up the 1000 beer cans around Nazareth, let us know and we'll help you!"

She's talking about my claim that since Nazareth has gone wet, I'm betting there are 1000 beer cans on the roadside within five miles around the community.

Well, I've been challenged all right, by one of my in-laws who lives over at Hart. Looks as if it's going to take an actual count to settle this. However, I'm sure not backing down now that I've got somebody who's volunteered to help pick them up if I lose the bet.

The courthouse gang is having a lot of fun out of a jail trustee named Larry, who's been in the tank awaiting grand jury investigation of a charge of forgery.

Larry, who's a Negro, got into trouble at the wrong time, so to speak. That is, he was arrested just a short time after the grand jury had finished a session, and so faced a lengthy stay behind bars awaiting for a new call from the district judge. He couldn't make bail, so things were looking pretty bleak.

Wilson Accepts C-C Invitation

Will Wilson, the state attorney general, will be the featured speaker of the annual Farwell Chamber of Commerce banquet. The event will be Saturday evening, February 13, in the high school cafeteria.

The state official confirmed his acceptance to come in a telephone conversation with Clay Henson, Chamber president, the first of this week. R. W. Anderson and W. H. Graham, who were asked to contact Wilson, expressed pleasure that the official had accepted, and agreed that the local organization was fortunate to land such a "name" guest.

New Business To Open In February

State Line Motor Exchange is the name of the newest business venture in Texico-Farwell, according to J. C. Robertson Jr., owner.

The business, which will feature complete engine service, is scheduled to be open by February 1, unless something unforeseen prevents completion of the building.

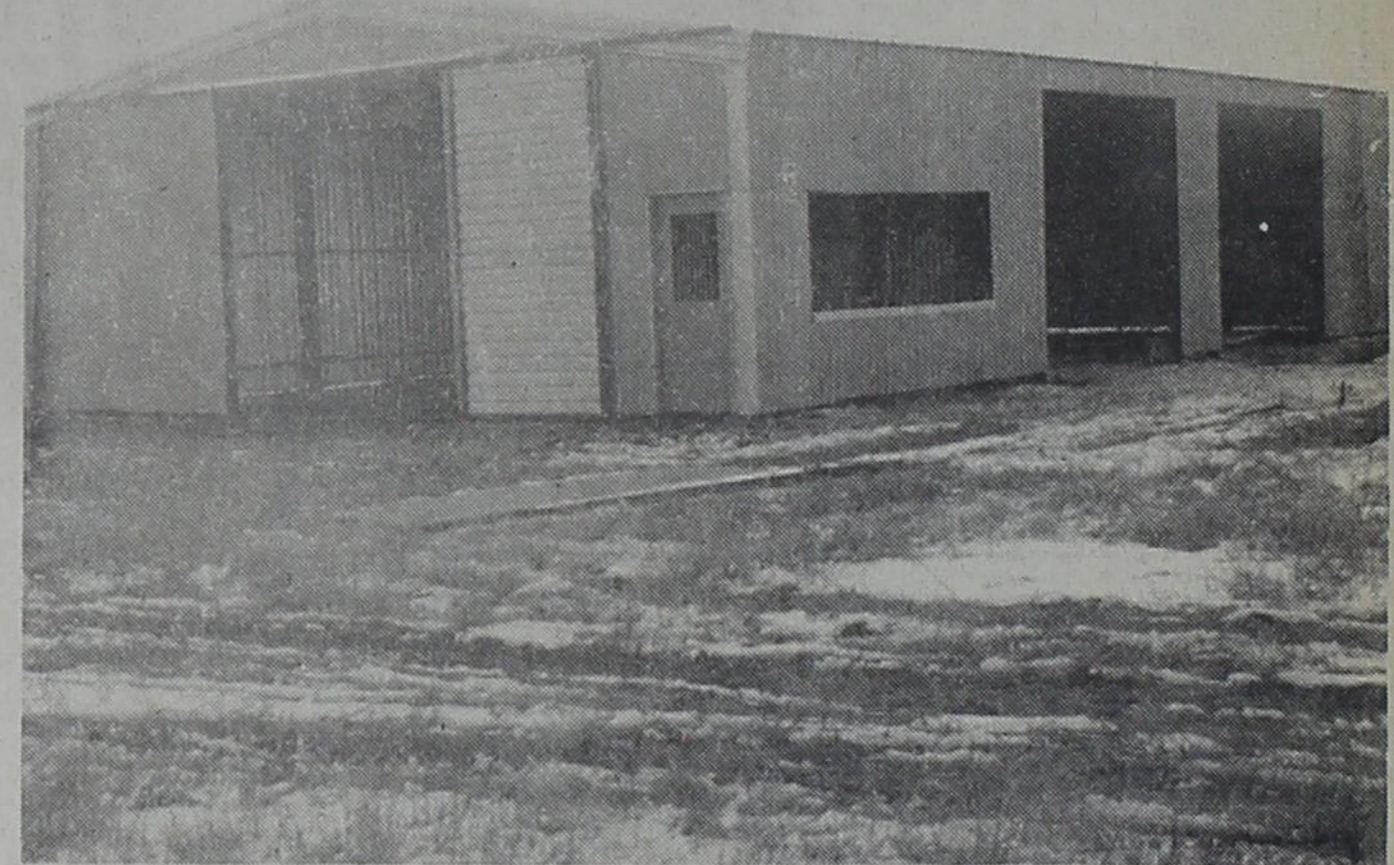

The all-steel building which is being erected by Plains Steel Building of Lubbock, is 36x64, with a concrete floor, office space and rest room, and is located east of 3-D Drive-In. Robertson, who was graduated from Farwell Schools in 1948, plans to install all-new equipment.

He has previously been a partner in a like business venture in Lubbock, where he was associated for 1 1/2 years. Before that, he was employed by Sun Motor Exchange for a year, and also had mechanical experience while in the Army.

He plans to try to get authorization as the official inspection station for Farwell, although confirmation has not yet been made on this phase of the operation.

The bad weather has held up construction, "But we hope to be ready to go by the first," Robertson concludes.

The Farwell service station formerly operated as a Dixie unit has been taken over by Bell Products. Perry Cumpston, who is managing the station, is now living in Clovis. This is the first Bell station to be opened in Texico or Farwell.

COLD WEATHER didn't keep erection crews from putting up this new steel building in east Farwell this week. It will house another new Twin City business, owned by Junior Robertson.

Methodists Plan New Building Opening Soon

As construction enters its final stages on their new building, Texico-Farwell Methodists are looking forward to occupying the structure for the first time in just a short time, and have set Sunday, February 7, as the date for special services and an open house. The Methodists' new $80,000 educational plant marks the first new construction for the local church in more than two generations. Construction got underway last fall after more than a year of intensive ground-work, including a church-wide pledge program to finance the improvements, and planning just what would be built and how it would serve the best interests of the church.

Elmo Jones of Littlefield is contractor for this, the first of two phases designed to furnish the congregation with an all-new church when the building program is completed. The units just being finished are primarily educational, although the fellowship hall which is getting the floor installed this week will serve as a sanctuary until the sanctuary proper (in the next construction

A New Approach

Ever notice how a return to fundamentals sometimes seems almost shocking -- when everything else has been found to fail? Probably no greater search has been made for the answer to a problem than the search adult men and women have made in the last 15 or 20 years seeking a solution to teenager unrest.

We have tried to analyze our children to find out what their trouble is. We search our souls and probe our own shortcomings, thinking perhaps the answer lies there. Still, our young men and women continue to stray. Everybody is an authority on what to do, but no treatment seems to be effective.

Suddenly a minor court judge in Denver has come up with a "new idea." Actually, it's as fundamental as the law of gravity, but in the light of modern thought it is almost revolutionary. In what he called "An Open Letter to a Teenager," he wrote:

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenager: 'What can we do? Where can we go?' The answer is GO HOME.

"Hang the storm windows, paint the woodwork. Rake the leaves, mow the lawn, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors. Repair the sink, build a boat. Get a job.

"Help the minister, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And then when you are through -- and not too tired -- read a book.

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war or in poverty or sick or lonely again.

"In plain, simple words, GROW UP. Quit being a crybaby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or a lady."

We need to have concern for our young people. They shouldn't be neglected. They appreciate attention, and praise. They even appreciate criticism if properly offered. However, when we decide that giving them things will make them better, we often find the reverse is true. Judge Gilliam is so right it hurts.

Miss Mathews To Appear In Church Drama Festival

Betty Jean Mathews, daughter of Mrs. Louise Mathews of Clovis, will take part in the Church Drama Festival, co-sponsored by the Religious Education department of Wayland Baptist College and the Plainview First Baptist Church, Feb. 11-13.

Seeking a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in religion education and a minor in business, Miss Mathews is a member of the church drama class of Wayland. Along with other members of the class, she will assist with the festival production. Miss Mathews is a 1958 graduate of Texico high school.

Under direction of the Church Recreation Service, a department of the Southern Baptist Sunday School Board, Nashville, the festival will include plays by Wayland and four out-of-town churches, as well as conferences in all phases of church drama.

Seek not the favor of the multitudes, it is seldom got by honest and lawful means. But seek the testimony of the few; and number not voices, but weigh them.

PRACTICE BEGINS for members of the Farwell junior chorus, as they rehearse for their coming operetta, "Lost, A Comet." The production is being sponsored by Mrs. Lucille Brittain and Bill Bradley, band director.

Operetta To Be In March At Farwell

Members of Farwell junior chorus this week began practice on an operetta which they will present March 4 and 5 in the school auditorium. The program will begin at 8 p. m. Proceeds from the musical, entitled "Lost, A Comet," will go to the school library fund.

Characters in the play are mother earth who will be played by Teresa Quickel on the first night and Martha Coffer on the second night. Atom will be played by Melynda Ritchie on the first night and Gail Vandiver on the second night. Celia will be played by Lana Gay Mahaney on the first night and Sheri Roberts on the second night.

Other characters are Bessie, Joyce Watts; Tessie, Janis Billingsley; Jessie, Melissa Pruitt; Flora, Diane Lovelace; Dora, Linda Finley; Cora, Jeannie Blair; and Laura, Edith Ann Walling.

The moon queen is portrayed by Sharon Winegeart; Kathryn Gober is the Rain Queen, Debbie Morpew is the sun queen, and Beverly Bynum is the star queen. The wind queen is portrayed by Maudie Stancel, and the cloud queen by Linda Queen. Susan Blair plays Sirius at the first performance, and Linda Williamson portrays the same character in the second night's performance.

The operetta, which was created for amusement, begins when a comet mysteriously disappears and all her friends resolve to find her if possible. They visit mother earth and tell her of their mission, and she promises to do all she can to help find the lost comet. The situations that follow are humorous and entertaining.

MR. AND MRS. PHILLIP RAY CRUME

Miss Stephens Weds Phillip Ray Crume

In an informal ceremony in the Joe Crume home Sunday, January 10, Miss Florence M. Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foster F. Stephens of Clovis, became the bride of Phillip Ray Crume, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crume of Farwell. Minister M. C. Jackson, pastor of Muleshoe Church of Christ, performed the double-ring ceremony before an arrangement of pink and white gladioli and carnations flanked on each side by white candelabra and palms. Bobby Joe Crume, brother of the groom from Hereford, was best man, and Mrs. Jerral McDonald, twin sister of the bride from Amarillo, was matron of honor. She was attired in a two-piece pastel blue street length dress, and wore a blue floral hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. Candelighters were Jerral McDonald of Amarillo and Donald Crume, brother of the groom. Traditional wedding music was provided by Mrs. H. B. Prothro of Clovis. JOTTIN'S
By Jeanne

If you find mistakes in the paper, please consider that they were put there for a purpose. We try to publish something for everyone and some folks like to look for mistakes.

Goodness -- it must be June in January. Have you ever heard of so much of Cupid's handiwork. We like it -- it makes the Tribune's society page really get some sparkle when we have wedding pictures and stories, engagement announcements and bridal showers to report.

If we miss any, be sure to let us know.

One of our friends at Silver-ton found an old magazine "Comfort" printed in 1915. We enjoyed a column she wrote giving comparisons on "Then and Now."

The column that catches the eye is "Talks with Girls," conducted by Cousin Marion." It was the same type thing we read in our newspapers today, but the answers were different.

Here are a few: "Blue Eyes, Bryan, Texas-- Better not be popular with young men than sacrifice your self-respect to do so. If other girls get all the beaux that way, you let them have them.

"Doubtful, Wapato, Washington -- It is not proper for a girl of fifteen and a man of twenty-three to exchange "cool, friendly letters." The girl of fifteen should be putting in her time over her school books.

"Virginia, Trevilians, Va.-- A young man of good family and good habits who has been devoted for five years is, I think, the very kind to make the best kind of husband. But he is too young to think of marrying. Wait until he is at least twenty-five. Both of you will have saved money, too, in that time and have a nest egg to start with. You have my blessing.

"Lonely, Moneta, Va. -- A seventeen-year-old girl in school has no business whatever to be disturbed in her mind, or heart, about which of two young men she should choose. Her books are her business and there will be plenty of time for beau troubles when she is done with her books. Cut out the beaux for the present, my dear.

Blue Eyes, Pineville, La.-- School girls should not have beaux on Sunday afternoons, but if your parents have no objections, I don't suppose I should make trouble about it. I know if I had daughters in school the beaux would be few and far between. At the same time I should want them to associate with boys and girls of their age and have a good time without any beau business and regular callers. The best way to cure the flirting youth is to laugh at him when he tries it on you. This is for now and when you are older.

"There my dears, I've answered your questions that were for me to answer, and I've been perfectly sweet about it, haven't I? Scolded just enough where it was needed, didn't I? You see I know. Now be good little girls, remembering that while you have hearts to throb you also have heads to have some sense with. May the good Lord watch over us all and lead us aright. By, -- COUSIN MARION"

Wolverines Smash Dora In 6-B Tilt; Enter EPAC Tournament

Dwight Turner, sophomore guard, put on a brilliant shooting display at Texico Friday night as the Wolverines smashed Dora's Coyotes 62-40 in a district 6-B game.

Turner, who used an uncanny jump-push shot, hit 22 points for the winners, 10 of them in a sparkling Wolverine rally which put Texico ahead 32-23 at halftime after the Coyotes had trailed only 13-12 at the end of the first quarter.

Dora led only once, at 3-2, with one minute gone in the opening quarter when Jerry Sparks hit a free throw to break a 2-2 tie.

Turner hit a field goal to put the Wolverines back in the lead, and the Coyotes never led again although they tied the score at 6-6, 10-10 and 12-12 before Charles Stockton's free throw put the Wolverines in front to stay.

In the third period, Wesley Ingram hit a push shot with 40 seconds gone to start a Texico drive that carried the team to a 21-point lead, 47-26. The Wolverines held a 50-32 lead going into the last quarter.

Texico, scoring their 11th win in 13 games, led by 25 points in the fourth quarter, at 60-35, before reserves finished out. It was victory No. 7 against no losses in loop play for the Wolverines.

In addition to his 10 points in the second period, Turner hit four points in the first, third and fourth stanzas for 22 points.

Second high scorer and the only other twin figures man for the green and white was Charles Stockton. He tallied three field goals and four free tosses for 10 points.

Skinner and Sparks each hit 12 for the visitors to lead Coyote scoring.

In the preliminary game Charlie Morris and Leon Kelly led the Wolverine "B" teamers in a spirited fourth-quarter rally that gave the junior Wolverines a hard-fought 39-26 win over Dora.

The victory was No. 13 without a loss for the Texico quint, and was the nearest the team has come to losing this year although they won by 13 points.

Kelley hit 16 points and Morris 13 as the local team scored 19 points in the last quarter after trailing throughout the game.

Dora, led by Ronnie Hagan, was ahead of the locals 9-6 after one period, 14-12 at halftime, and 22-21 at the end of the third stanza.

Morris snapped a 22-22 tie with three straight free shots after Hagan's long set shot put the visitors ahead for the last time at 26-25. Then the locals rolled away as Dora failed to score again.

Crash Victim Dies Tuesday

A Lubbock man critically injured in a one-car accident near Farwell last week died Tuesday, reports Sheriff Chas. Lovelace this week.

William D. Crawford, 25, received severe head injuries in the wreck after he lost control of his car and skidded sideways on the wet pavement into a tree on Highway 70-84 last Wednesday night.

Ironically, another wreck of similar circumstances occurred in almost the same spot Sunday afternoon. Jerry Ellis, 19-year-old Houston youth, wrecked his 1954 Chevrolet when he lost control of it after skidding on some ice. He collided with three trees, but was not injured.

The location of the two wrecks is about a mile east of Farwell. The highway curves at that point.

Farwell Loses District Games To Sudan Friday

Both Farwell's boys' and girls' basketball teams suffered defeat at the hands of the Sudan Hornets when they clashed in Steer gym Friday night.

In the boys' game Farwell led throughout the first half, leading by one point at the end of the first period and by five points at the half way point.

In the third quarter the Steers couldn't find the basket and managed only 8 points while Sudan poured in 16. In the final quarter they were again outscored by the Hornets, 9 to 6.

The game, Farwell's second district contest, leaves their record at 1-1.

At times, delegations of firemen have called on the commissioners' court to seek all or partial reimbursement for expenses incurred in making such calls.

Last week, the commissioners acknowledged the inequity by granting financial cooperation with Bovina, Friona, and Farwell departments. All will receive $750.

No action was taken by the court to indicate this will become an annual custom, since they felt that they were not in a position to bind future court sessions, but observers privately feel that this action will set a precedent for yearly participation so long as the county's financial position remains relatively healthy.

Farwell-Friona Swap Wins In Non-District Battle

Friona's last-quarter rally fell short Tuesday night in Chieftain gym as the Steers from Farwell outlasted their cross-county rivals, 48-43.

The Steers led throughout the game having a 12-8 lead at the halfway point. At the end of the third quarter the Steers held a 17-point lead, 37-20, but the Friona five were not ready to stop and poured in 23 points in the final period to fall short by only 5 points, 48-43 at the game's end.

High point man for Farwell was Larry McDorman with 14 points. Mickey Rundell had 12. Wood hit 15 for the losers.

Farwell's season record now stands at 11 wins and 8 losses.

Although Farwell's lasses played an outstanding game, the mighty Friona Squaws eked out a close 46-42 victory.

The Friona crew outscored Farwell in the first quarter 20-13, and led at halftime 30-24. At the end of three quarters, the score stood 39-31, and although the Farwell girls outscored Friona 11-7 in the final period, the effort fell short and when the final gun sounded Farwell trailed by 4 points.

High scorer for Farwell was June Ritchie with 19 points. Susan Harper led the Squaws with 10 points.

Game Group Sets Meeting

The newly-formed Parmer County Game Management Assn., defeated in its pheasant importing project, will attempt to launch a similar program for quail at a meeting Thursday night.

The meeting is scheduled for 7:30 in the American Legion Hall in Bovina. Efforts are being made to get interested people from throughout the county to attend.

A suggested constitution for the organization will be presented at the Thursday meeting.

"We have been told by game authorities that quail can be obtained easier and cheaper than pheasant," Al Kerby, acting president of the association, said.

At the last meeting, plans to bring pheasants to this area were abandoned when A. S. Jackson, state biologist from Canadian, said pheasants would not survive here.

Jackson said quail might be imported successfully and the association immediately changed its objective.

The proposed constitution sets up as objectives the improvement of wildlife cover and food, pond management, hunting regulations and others that will

Gale Hadley Is Crowned Texico Band Sweetheart

Coronation of Gale Hadley as band sweetheart of Texico School Band for 1960 highlighted the halftime show during basketball games here last Friday night.

Miss Hadley, who is a senior, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hadley. She was escorted to the center of a band formation by band president, Charles Stockton. As the group played "My Wild Irish Rose," Stockton placed the red and silver glitter crown on her head, gave her the usual congratulatory kiss, then presented her with a dozen red roses. Crown bearer was Marty White and flower girl was Lou Ann Hadley sister of the queen.

The honoree was attired in a floor length turquoise net gown with a bouffant skirt, and bustle type sash.

Preceding the coronation, the band, led by drum major, D' Rene Danforth, formed the letters "G. H." for Gale Hadley, while playing "Brasses To The Fore." Other formations were made with each majorette leading a line. Designs were formed to co-ordinate with the pyramids on which the music was written.

Majorettes are Connie and Judy Tharp, Beth Ellen Peyton and Carol White.

Gale has played clarinet in the local band for the past eight years and is serving as band secretary this year. She is a member of the local chapter of the FHA, press club, is active in 4-H and serves as co-editor of the school paper, "The Wolverine's Tale."

good behavior, Sheriff Charley has turned Larry out occasionally to do some work around the courthouse and thereby earn himself a little daylight.

He's been a good worker, and Noble Goldsmith, the courthouse janitor, enjoys having him around pushing mops and paint brushes. It turns up that Larry has a girlfriend back in Louisiana who he's been writing to and wanting to come out West. He has matrimony on his mind.

The courthouse wits have been enjoying ribbing him to go ahead and tell her to come on out and get married. Since he now has a "steady job" as assistant janitor, he's sure to win her heart.

The henpecked husband eventually tired of his lot and sought out a psychiatrist for advice. The doctor told him, "Don't let your wife continue to bully you. Go home right now and show her who's the boss."

Encouraged, the timid fellow dashed home, slammed the door and seized his wife. He snarled, "From now on, you're taking orders from me, see? You'll make my supper this minute and then you'll lay out my clothes, understand? I'm going out on the town tonight, alone, and do you know who will dress me in my tuxedo?" "You bet I do," she retorted, "--the undertaker!"

Jon Lin Riddle and James Clayton, both of the Bovina chapter, captured honors in the Future Farmer crop growing contests at the annual awards night at Hub this week.

Riddle, with a yield of 9964 pounds of grain sorghum from his five-acre test plot, won the first place milo award, and Clayton, who produced 925 pounds of lint, took first in

Laymen Lead Program At Awards Night

It was laymen's night at the annual awards meeting of the Parmer County Grain Sorghum Association and the Parmer County Cotton Improvement Association at Hub Monday evening, when local association officers did a creditable job of "standing in" for speakers unable to be present.

Dub Anthony of Friona appeared in lieu of Bill Nelson of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and Arlin Hartzog of Farwell took the floor when George Pfeifferberger of Plains Cotton Growers called to say he couldn't make it.

Presiding over the meeting was Robert Wilson of Bovina, president of the county grain sorghum group.

This is an annual meeting, and both organizations sponsor production contests for 4-H and FFA boys in the county for their respective commodities. Winners, their parents, and adult leaders, teachers, and other ag officials were in attendance.

Anthony told the group that the main concern of grain sorghum producers at the present time is development of markets. He reviewed the GSPA history and explained its method of operation.

"It used to be that when I hauled a load of grain sorghum to the elevator and kicked out the gates and dumped it, I was through with it," he told his audience. He added, however, that today things are different. "We have to 'follow through' with our crops today," he said, indicating the importance that marketing and commodity use have taken in the picture in recent years.

Hartzog reviewed the history of PCG and touched on some of the organization's accomplishments. He made special mention of the recent inclusion of cotton classified as light spot, into the government loan program, and estimated that this alone was worth more than $10 million a year to Plains farmers.

He also touched on classing problems, and the work of PCG to gain recognition for High Plains short-staple cotton in world markets.

Feb. 15 Deadline For Trees

February 15 is the deadline for ordering evergreen trees, County Agent Joe Jones reminds area farm families this week.

Planting trees for windbreak and landscaping purposes is increasing in popularity in the Parmer County area, and farm families who have put out and taken care of trees several years ago are now proud of the improvement that has been made to the farmstead.

The price for small trees is $1.50 per 100 trees, and that is the minimum order. Species that are available include the Austrian pine, ponderosa pine, red cedar, Chinese elm, cottonwood, sycamore, osage orange, Arizona cypress, and mulberry.

All of the above are not evergreens, of course. However, evergreens are what most farm families of this area order.

Trees should be ordered from the Texas Forest Service at College Station.

Failure to take proper precautions in the use of electricity can create conditions which can result in accidents or property damage. Overloading electrical circuits, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, is an example of improper use.

THE PARMER COUNTY IMPLEMENT CO.

"The Place Where Most People Trade" Friona, Texas Wednesday, January 20, 1960

We congratulate the Parmer County 4-H boys who received awards in the grain and cotton production contest. Winners in the Cotton Production Contest are Tommy Tatum, Jerry Cass, Johnny Mabry, Dennis Fallwell, Richard Chitwood and Gary Mac Brown.

Winners in the Grain Production Contest are Tommy Tatum, John Taylor, Danny Murphree, Johnny Mabry, Richard Chitwood, Dale Gober, Bruce Billingsley, Gary Matthews, Larry Hough and Roy Donaldson, Gary Coker and Danny Milner. All Parmer County is full of pride for these young boys who are already successful farmers.

Look for the symbol of savings "IH" on the parts you buy. It's your sign of unexcelled quality and precision fit to give you top implement performance.

Holland Parmer County's Pioneer In Sheep Feeding

John Holland has probably been in the sheep business longer than anyone else in Parmer county. He first began sheep feeding and raising in 1947.

"I was in the business before they ever thought of having a sheep market in Clovis," he says.

In his feed lots east of Farwell, Holland presently has about 100 head of ewes and feeder lambs. He does not run a mother herd operation, but runs mostly stockers and feeders. He says the ewes he has that are lambing were bred before he bought them.

"Last week I had nearly 500 head of feeder lambs in here. I buy and sell these things all the time."

Holland buys sheep in large numbers and sells them in small numbers to area farmers. He finds this more profitable than fattening them for market. He is getting set up to buy wool from his customers. He plans to ship it to San Angelo.

"Feeder lambs are worth about 16 cents a pound. That's what I get for them. I paid 14.75 cents and 15 cents a pound for these sheep."

"You can't make anything on one sheep. It's volume, because you haven't got anything invested in one sheep."

Suffolk and Ramboulett are the breed of sheep Holland handles. He says the Suffolk is a rare breed raised mostly in Canada, but there is much crossbreeding.

"Crossbreeding gives a more vigorous lamb."

When a customer is dissatisfied, Holland often buys back the sheep he has sold and sometimes handles the same sheep several times. He usually buys lambs from those farmers who run a mother herd operation.

"I like to fool with sheep." He says sheep are a little more trouble than cattle but the profit is better.

"Statistics rate sheep 3 to 1 over cattle in profit and the government is now rating them at 4 to 1." He explained that every $100 invested in sheep would make from $3 to $4 more than an equal amount invested in cattle.

"Year before last I lacked 67 head handling 10,000 sheep." Holland does sheep handling just "on the side." He says he made about $2500 to $3000 profit last year and even more the previous year, but his income tax was excessive then.

"About seven sheep will take the place of just one cow in the feed lot or pasture." Holland was in the cattle business prior to 1947. He doesn't have any pasture, but runs a feed lot set-up.

He says sheep are a very cold weather animal.

"As far as price is concerned, during the holidays it went up some, and packers think the price is going to be higher yet."

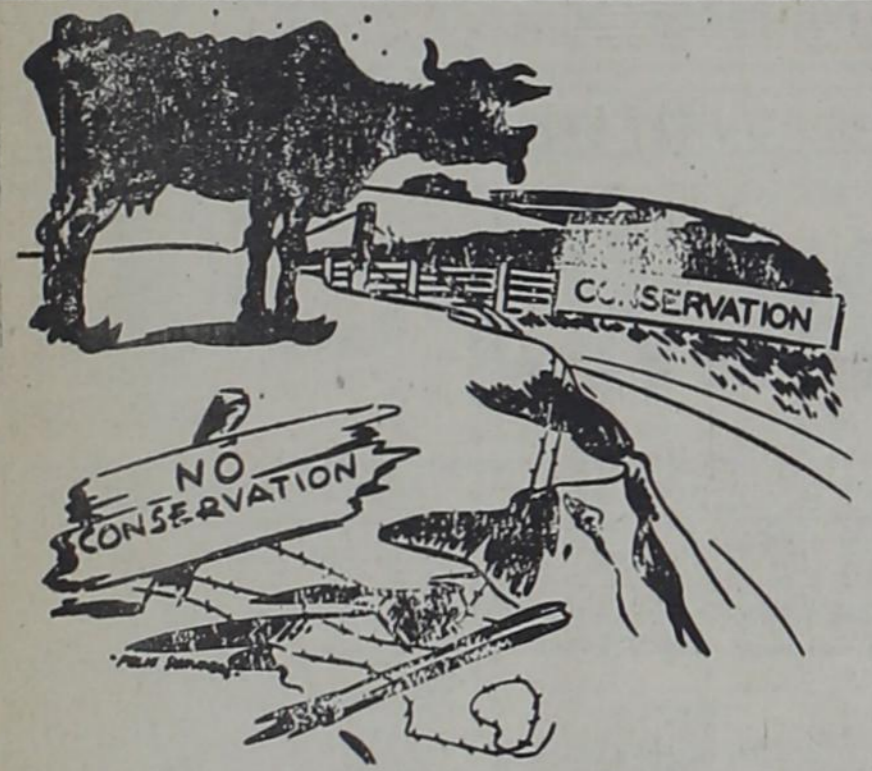

Every farm should have a little flock of sheep because they will live off waste and what you make is total profit."

JOHN HOLLAND feeds some Suffolk ewes at his feed lots east of Farwell. The ewes are all lambing. He says the Suffolk is a cold weather breed raised mostly in Canada. They are distinguished from other breeds by the black faces and legs. Holland has about 100 head of sheep on hand.

FEEDER LAMBS crowd around John Holland as he feeds them at his lots east of Farwell. Most of the lambs in this picture are crossbreeds between Suffolk and Ramboulett. The Suffolk has black faces and legs while the Ramboulett is all white. Crossbreeding gives a more vigorous lamb, Holland says.

It's Worth Crowing About !

A. L. Black of Friona was one of 5 men in the state to be recognized as an "Outstanding Soil Conservation District Supervisor" during 1959.

We are proud to have such a far-sighted farmer as Mr. Black and the honor which was shown to him and his recognition reflects highly upon our rich farming area and the progressive agricultural practices of Parmer County.

Mill Almost Complete

SHOWN HERE IS the new feed mill in Friona being built by Cummings Feed Store. This is just one indication of the growing number of area farmers who are turning to stock feeding to supplement their present farm income. Doyle Cummings says the mill will be equipped to provide all types of poultry and cattle rations.

A new feed mill is near completion in Friona, according to Doyle Cummings of Cummings Feed Store, Inc. He says about three weeks work will finish up the mill.

"We think we will have everything we need to mix poultry or cattle rations in either bulk or sack."

Cummings says the new mill steam roll, grind and mix feed. It is also equipped with a molasses blender.

"We plan to have grain bank storage before the next milo harvest," he says.

He attributes the growing number of farmers that feed stock as the reason for building the mill.

"The trend is toward more cattle feeding by farmers."

On Saturday, Jan. 12, the Lazbuddie 4-H Clubs had their annual livestock project tour.

Everyone met at Lazbuddie and we went to each member's house to see his project. Eleven boys had projects of either calves, pigs, or sheep. Fourteen boys went on the tour, along with nine fathers and adult leaders.

The adult leaders and fathers were A. B. Young, Dee Chitwood, J. T. Mayfield, Calvin

Embry, Frank Hinkson, Truman Gleason, A. E. Redwine, Freeman Davies, Supt. J. G. Ward of Lazbuddie, and County Agent Joe Jones.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL TRANSFEREES

It is very important that all students get their names on the school census in the school district where they reside, and not in the district where they are attending school.

Failure to do so would cost our school districts money.

School census is now underway in each district.

THE HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

At a party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Osborn several months ago, the hostesses, Mrs. Tom Lewellen and Mrs. Osborn, served the most delicious hot spiced tea we've ever tasted. Since that time, we've planned to secure the recipe and pass it on to other homemakers.

In securing the recipe, we also secured a copy of a wonderful cookbook entitled, "Friona's Selected Recipes." Of course, this copy was only loaned to us, but if anyone has one for sale, we'd certainly like to buy it.

The recipes in the book were contributed to members of the WSCS of the Friona Methodist Church and the book was compiled several years ago.

The spiced tea recipe Mrs. Osborn and Mrs. Lewellen used was

RUSSIAN TEA FOR 20

- Juice of: 6 oranges, 4 lemons
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon each cinnamon, nutmeg, allspice tied in a small cloth
- 16 cups boiling water
- 8 teaspoons tea

Boil sugar and spices in 10 cups of water for five minutes. Remove spice bag. Steep tea in remaining 6 cups of water for 3 minutes. Strain and add together with the fruit juices to the first mixture. May be served hot or cold.

Another of the recipes that we can personally recommend is Edith Hannold's

RUSTY RED DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 cup butter or shortening
- 3 1/2 cups flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 4 tablespoons cocoa
- 1/3 cup buttermilk
- 1 1/2 teaspoons soda (dissolved in the buttermilk)
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup hot water

Cream sugar and shortening. Add flour, salt and cocoa, which have been sifted together. Add buttermilk and soda mixture. Add eggs, which have been beaten together. Then add vanilla. Beat well after adding hot water.

Bake at 350 degrees about 35 minutes. For best results, bake in large loaf pan. When thoroughly cooked, cover with favorite icing.

This cake will keep indefinitely and improves with age.

Think we've printed this recipe before, but if anyone failed to clip it and file it, perhaps the duplication will be worthwhile. This dish is wonderful any time you cook outdoors and is equally as good if prepared on a conventional stove.

CAMPFIRE STEW

- 2 pounds hamburger
- 2 large onions
- 2 cans concentrated vegetable soup
- 4 medium sized boiled potatoes

Brown hamburger in a heavy skillet over low fire. Add onion and simmer about 5 minutes. Add soup and diced potatoes and cook 30 minutes over slow fire. Serve on toast or crackers. Serves 8.

Those of you who rarely make hot rolls because of lack of time, will probably appreciate the following recipe. Although we've never tried it, there are a lot of readers who have eaten rolls made by it at the Meryle Massie home.

ONE HOUR ROLLS

- 1 yeast cake
  - 1 pint buttermilk
  - 2 tablespoons sugar
  - 1 teaspoon salt
  - 2 tablespoons melted shortening
  - 4 cups flour
  - 1/4 teaspoon soda
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
- Dissolve yeast in buttermilk then add sugar, salt and shortening. Sift flour, baking powder and soda together and add to first mixture. Mix well. Roll out and cut as biscuits. Let rise about 1 hour. Bake in hot oven.

No doubt, a lot of you will be including some painting in your general spring house-cleaning in the near future. If you're painting baseboards, just set an old dustpan next to the baseboard edge. This will save a lot of work cleaning paint off the floor when you're finished painting.

A. L. BLACK

A. L. Black Receives State SCD Award

A. L. Black of Friona received a sterling silver serving tray at a state convention of the Soil Conservation Service in Galveston last week.

The award was made to Black for "Outstanding Service as a Soil Conservation District Supervisor" during the year 1959.

Black was one of five men in the state to receive such recognition.

One supervisor from each of the five areas in the state was awarded silver trays. There are about 50 districts in each area.

The awards were made possible through the Texas Bank and Trust Company of Dallas.

Black was entered as outstanding in soil conservation work by the Friona State Bank and a scrapbook was prepared and entered by the Progressive Study Club of Friona. Joy Lindeman of the Hub Community was chairman of this committee.

"The women deserve all the credit for this award," Black told a reporter Monday night when his picture was taken with the tray. "If it hadn't been for their unselfish work and their scrapbook there wouldn't have been any award."

The scrapbook is similar to the one prepared by the women for James Mabry of the Hub last year. Mabry was voted the outstanding soil conservation farmer for the district here and later he was named the "outstanding soil conservation farmer" in this area.

Congressman J. C. Wright of Fort Worth was the speaker at the presentations which were held at the Moody Center in Galveston last Friday night.

May Organize Wildlife Group

Interest in bringing wildlife into Parmer County continues high after a meeting a week ago at Bovina, at which time an official said he considered it impractical to attempt to bring in pheasant for permanent stocking of Parmer County range sites.

Interest has now turned to other forms of wildlife, principally quail, and because possibilities appear good for this bird, a special meeting has been called Thursday night (January 21) at Bovina to talk over the plan.

The meeting, which will be in the Legion Hall, may prove to be the springboard for formation of a Wildlife Management Association for Parmer County, says Al Kerby of Bovina, who is acting president of the move.

"We are hoping to have a good turnout from over the county at this meeting so plans can be adopted and work begun," he says. The advisory committee will present suggested articles of organization, and objectives of the association will be under discussion.

Joe Jones, county agent, is acting secretary.

The meeting starts at 7:30.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Since we were too slow to get it printed the week it happened, because of the Christmas Newspaper Schedules, we repeat the following: Frances and I thank God for our little girl, Lorri Frances, who was born December 17th. We hope that all of our Christian friends will pray with us that we will raise her up in the admonition of the Lord.

Your Farm Bureau President, Herman Gerles, plans to attend the President's Conference in Waco January 18 and 19. Theme of the meeting is "United to Meet the Challenge of the 60's."

All of you members should look on page two of Texas Agriculture and read the poem, "My Get Up and Go Has Got Up and Went." If you haven't been listening to it, you can hear the man who read it recently, on Texas Farm Bureau Round-Up. You can hear it on the following Radio Stations on Saturdays: KPAN, Hereford, 7:30 a. m.; KCB, Lubbock, 12:30 p. m.; and KSEL, Lubbock, 7:15 a. m.; You'll find it quite interesting and informative.

Donald Christian, Farm Bureau vice-president and Membership Chairman, will meet with his community captains in the Friona Office Thursday night of this week. Some of these men will attend the Membership Chairmen's meeting in Waco in February. Texas is fifth in membership in the nation, and these men want to do their part to get it higher on the list, where it belongs, but has never been yet.

You have a good group of farmers on your board of directors who are interested in knowing what you think needs to be done in the interest of farmers. They spend a lot of their time and effort in devising means and ways of getting you to express your ideas so they will know what you want.

Why don't you just talk to the director of your community and tell him what you think? Here they are: Herman Gerles,

Bovina, President; Donald Christian, Oklahoma Lane; Franklin Bauer, Rhea; John Agee, Lazbuddie; M. T. Glasscock, Farwell; J. T. Jones, Bovina; H. P. Hamilton, Friona; Joe Jesko, Lazbuddie; Claude Osborn, Raymond Schlabs, Black; Vernon Symcox, Farwell; Franklin D. Carter, Bovina; Gilbert Kaltwasser, Farwell and Lariat area, is Chairman of Resolutions, and a good man to talk to.
