

Heavy Turnout Anticipated For Election

A heavy turnout is expected Tuesday as Texico-Farwell voters go to the polls to voice their opinion on who should be president of the United States and what officials will serve them on the state and local level.

Polls in Farwell will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. at the county court house and the Texico poll at the city hall will also be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. (Texas Time).

In view of the interest in the elections this year, both on the New Mexico side of the line and in Texas, officials are expecting record-breaking turnouts. Parmer County has 2,749 citizens who have poll tax receipts and Hugh Moseley, Parmer County clerk, says, "I think we'll have just about that many people voting."

He points out that there are more eligible voters in the county than that, since persons over 65 are not required to have poll tax receipts and the 21-year old voters who will be voting for the first time are also exempt from the tax.

In the 1956 election, Parmer County had 2450 voters go to the polls in comparison to 975 in the off year election in 1958.

Texico has 480 registered voters and a high percentage of this total is expected to make the trek to the polls, since there is on the ballot almost a complete slate of Democratic and Republican candidates from the national level on down to the state and county level.

This is unlike the situation in Farwell and Parmer County, where except for a few of the major races, the Democratic ticket is the only one with a complete slate.

Sample ballots, with a complete list of the candidates running on the two major tickets, can be found elsewhere in the paper. Also, the seven constitutional amendments that Texico citizens will be voting on, as well as the four that Texas citizens will be deciding on can be found on the inside pages.

Texico citizens will be using the voting machine and the sample ballot is the one that will be shown on the machine.

Election judges in Texico will be Charlie McDaniel, W. J. Matthews and J. R. Hadley. Alternates are Mrs.

B. A. Rogers and Mrs. J. R. Hadley. Clerks will be Mrs. Olan Schlueter, Mrs. Russell Johnson and Walter Freeman. Alternate clerks are Mrs. Grayson Roberts and Mrs. T. L. McLeod.

In Farwell Albert Smith is the election judge and he will be assisted by Jesse Coburn and Mrs. Gilbert Watkins. Clerks will be John Getz, Mrs. Joan Branscum, Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. O. B. Pipkin and Dale McCuan.

At Lazbuddie the polling place will be the school and at Oklahoma Lane voters will mark their ballots at the Methodist Church. Roy Daniel is the election judge at Lazbuddie and Harold Carpenter is the judge at Oklahoma Lane.

This election campaign has been rough on the small fry and adults alike. "I'll sure be glad when this election is over," has quite likely been the most repeated statement during the past couple of weeks by both the young and old.

There's nothing any more exasperating to a youngster than to get all set for Captain Gallant, 'ole Cisco, or some other favorite TV program, only to have the show replaced at the last minute with a dull, uninteresting 30-minute paid political broadcast.

No doubt there are also some adults who would rather watch a TV program other than a political broadcast. The older folks who are most anxiously awaiting the end of the election, however, are not the "TV bugs," but the ones who have been taking an active part in the campaigning and lively political discussions--the ones who are obsessed with a specific school of political thought.

Take the staunch Kennedy supporter as a first instance. It's infuriating to him as he tries to drive home a point to adversary after adversary, but finds it impossible to convince that "bigoted, self-righteous so-and-so that he shouldn't vote against JFK solely because of his religion."

Or, the Nixon booster who just can't understand why anyone could be "so narrow-minded as to think that Kennedy and Johnson, who advocate a 'blueprint for socialism,' are going to be the saviors of the nation."

Yep, it's vexing for all concerned. Come next Tuesday, though, it will all be over--for another four years anyway.

I'm looking forward to the day when this election is over, too, not because it's been annoying to me, but on the contrary, I'm concerned mostly about the two candidates who are battling it out for the highest office in the land.

At the rate they're going, and as the rift between them widens everyday, I'm afraid there might be serious repercussions if the campaign is carried on much longer.

A mud-slinging campaign such as this one makes a person wonder whether either of the candidates will be able to put on the cloak of dignity and righteousness that should go with the office of president of the United States.

In observing the two men in action, a person gets the impression that both are politicians more so than statesmen, and it makes one skeptical about whether either of them has the necessary virtues for facing the serious problems of the world today.

They are, however, the only two men running for the office, which will require profound dedication and sound, moral reasoning. The rigors of a campaign of longer duration could pervert any qualities they might possess for being the chief executive.

It looks as though there is little chance now for a fifth TV debate among the two candidates, and it's probably just as well.

Considering the way Kennedy and Nixon have been taking piercing jabs at one another, not unlike two roosters in a ring, another face-to-face encounter at the present time could produce a duel that would make the Hamilton-Burr clash look like a school boy fight.

The youngsters were out in full force Monday night, parading up and down the streets dressed as evil looking characters, clearing every household of candies and other knick-knacks.

In trying to get a few pictures of the more original and unique uniforms, I was right behind them all the way. Besides being a lot of fun, the excursion was revealing in that it brought back memories of the days when I was a member of the "trick or treat" set.

Since I am still a youngster, that wasn't very many years ago, but, how things have changed in only a few short years.

Kids today carry sacks to every house in town, holding them up to let their benefactor put whatever she might in the sack, and then scurrying off to the next house to see if a better treat might be in store

GHOSTS AND GOBLINS GALORE roamed the streets of Texico-Farwell Monday night, making off with the candies and other goodies that they could place their little hands on. This weird looking character, who gave his name as David Lee, is just one of the hundreds of goblins who had a successful night. And it's no wonder, who could say no when an evil-looking monster such as this one rapped on the door and greeted his benefactor-to-be with "Trick or Treat."

Poll Shows Nixon Ahead In County

A political poll, taken jointly by Parmer County's three newspapers, indicates that Vice-President Nixon will win the county over his Democratic opponent, Senator John F. Kennedy.

That is, provided the scant 75 persons polled by the newspapers represent the choice of the 2700 voters expected to go to the polls in the general election Tuesday.

The poll represented a cross section of farmers, businessmen, housewives and professional men and women. Of the 75 persons picked at random, the Nixon-Lodge ticket was the choice of 40. That's 53.3 per cent, compared to 37.3 per cent, or 28 votes, for the Ken-neddy-Johnson ticket. Six voters said they were undecided and one said he would vote for neither, accounting for the other 9.4 per cent.

This is the second time that the county newspapers, the Bovina Blade, Friona Star, and State Line Tribune, have conducted a late-season poll on a presidential election. In 1956, a similar sampling of voter opinion revealed that the Democratic candidates, Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver would carry the county over Republicans Dwight Eisenhower and Nixon.

The 1956 poll was accurate in that it did foresee the eventual winner in the county, but the margin of victory was off. The Stevenson-Kefauver ticket received 69.3 per cent in the poll, while Eisenhower-Nixon had 26.6 per cent of the total.

In the actual election, the Democratic candidates had 56.8 per cent of the vote and the Republicans notched 42.6 per cent.

There were more undecided voters in this year's poll, so should most of them swing to

Good Attendance At Watts Opening

Billy Watts, owner of the Watts No. 1 and No. 2 service stations, reports a good turnout at the grand opening of the two stations Saturday.

Representatives of the Humble Oil and Refining Company were on hand during the day to help with the special observance and to hand out favors to customers. The Watts stations just recently started handling Humble products.

OBSERVING HALLOWEEN WESTERN STYLE were these two mean looking hombres who proved that there's more than one way to get the desired results. "Pardner, you'd better put some goodies in these sacks or suffer the consequences," say these two range hands, who just made it into town after a long day on the trail. Behind the masks are Harvey Winkles and Keith Crook.

Steers Meet Sudan For District Title

It will be the "game of the year" in District 3-A Friday night when the Farwell Steers take on a title-hungry Sudan Hornet team in a contest that will probably determine the conference winner.

The game will be played at Sudan and the kickoff is set for 8 p.m.

A win for coach Dempsey Alexander's Steers would give them outright possession of the district title, and a win for the Hornets would put them in the driver's seat for the crown. Both teams have 2-0 records in district play, but the Hornets would still have to beat Hale Center the following week to be assured of the championship.

Farwell defeated Hale Center, 21-20, in its last outing and a win Friday will eliminate the last obstacle. The Steers would still have one conference game left with Springlake but it will have no bearing on the district outcome if the Blue and White team can get by the Hornets.

Hale Center has lost only to Farwell in district play and a win by Sudan Friday night could pave the way for another three-way tie. If the Owls came back to defeat Sudan next week and Farwell wins over Springlake, all three teams will wind up with 3-1 records.

This was the situation last year when Farwell tied with Kress and Sudan for the championship and it took a flip of the coin before the Steers were named to represent the district in the state playoffs.

The Steers will be out to avert such a situation this year, but they will have their work cut out for them. Sudan will be favored in the game on the basis of its past performances this year in compiling a 6-1 record.

The Hornets have on their record a 48-0 loss to Plains, the same team that whalloped Farwell, 67-8. There have been three other mutual foes of the two teams, but they provide little indication of comparative strength, especially in a game where rivalry will be as high as it is in this one.

For the record, however, Sudan defeated Morton 22-14, while the Steers pasted them 30-8. Sudan defeated Sundown, 22-14, but Farwell lost to the Roughnecks 15-7. Both teams hold easy wins over Kress, the Steers defeating the Kangaroos, 36-6, and the Hornets beating them last week, 33-14.

Sudan will be out to snap a four game losing streak against the Steers and no doubt they still remember the first time the two teams met for a district championship in 1956. That year Sudan was heavily favored, but a miracle finish by Farwell gave the Steers a 20-19 win and the district title.

The Steers have beaten Sudan each year since that time, the latest one being an 18-16 victory last season. Alexander, who scouted the Hornets in their game with Kress last week, says that they have a lot of overall team speed and will be tough to beat. With eight starters back, it will be virtually the same team that tied Farwell for the crown last year.

Alexander says the Steers "will be ready" for the tough Hornets, and both he and assistant coach Dan Truelove said after Monday's practice that boys were hitting hard and shaping up well.

For the first time in six weeks the Steers will be at full strength. Quarterback Benly Dial is fully recovered and will be starting the game Friday night. Tommy Williams, who took over for the injured Dial four weeks ago, will also be depended upon to assist with the signal calling duties.

The complete probable offensive starting lineup for the Steers will be as follows:

Bill Owen, 140, sr. end. David Lindop, 142, jr. end. Floyd Trantham, 190, jr. tackle Jimmy Cain, 184, jr. tackle

Dick Gerles, 160, jr. guard Jerry McCuan, 160, sr. guard Jim Clements, 151, jr. center Benly Dial, 170, sr. quarter-back

Jerry Lovelace, 180, jr. full-back Carroll Huggins, 170, sr. halfback William Dannheim, 140, jr. back

A BASKETBALL AND A BASKET are all that a good player needs to get two points, as Texico coach Paul Frederick indicates with his left hand. Football may still be the main sports topic on the Farwell side of the line, but in Texico the boys have already taken to the hardwoods. The Wolverines open the season Nov. 18.

Texico Gets Set For Basketball

With only two of last year's top seven basketball players returning, Coach Paul Frederick has a rebuilding job ahead of him as he starts preparing his team for a long 24-game schedule ahead.

This year's team will have a hard time defending the district crown won last year and living up to the 21-8 record of that '59-'60 team' that went all the way to the state tournament.

Two starters back this year are forwards Kenneth Murdick, 6-1 senior, and Dwight Turner, 5-10 junior. Two lettermen who will help to provide the nucleus of the Wolverine team this year are Bill Reid, 5-10 senior, and Leon Kelley, 6-3 junior.

Lost from last year's team were Don Johnson, Wesley Engram, Charlie Stockton, Ursel Doran and Bobby Walker. Coach Frederick does have 28 boys out competing for berths on the team and among this group are members of

Four Confess To Burglaries In Three Counties

One 22-year old Friona man and three juveniles have confessed to a wave of burglaries over a three county area, reports Parmer County Sheriff Chas. Lovelace, who solved the case and apprehended the individuals last Friday.

The three juveniles, two from Friona and one from Sudan, were picked up by authorities in Spearman on information forwarded to the northern Panhandle town by Lovelace. Joe Edd Brown, the fourth person involved, was arrested in Friona by Lovelace after the sheriff returned from picking up the youths at Spearman.

All four were taken to Parmer County jail at Farwell where they signed confessions to burglarizing the Clay's Corner Grocery Store in central Parmer County and six other businesses in Bailey and Parmer County.

The burglaries in Parmer's two adjoining counties were committed at Muleshoe, Sudan and Amherst. All of them occurred last Monday night, Oct. 24.

Brown appeared before justice of peace J. R. Thornton at Farwell Monday morning. He was charged with burglary, his bond was set at $1,000, and the case has been bound over to the grand jury.

The two Friona youths were tried in juvenile court Monday by County Judge Loyde Brewer. Since the two boys were convicted on a similar charge earlier in the year, they were sentenced to confinement at the State Training School For Boys at Gatesville. The Sudan youth was turned over to authorities in Lamb County to be tried there.

At the Clay's Corner store, the four individuals made off with $450 in cash and merchandise, and with the money they acquired during the night they bought a car, Lovelace says.

The night before the break-ins, to which the boys confessed, occurred, there were several other minor burglaries throughout the county. It is not yet known whether any of these can be linked with the others, Lovelace says.

Editorial Comment: We're For Nixon

When voters throughout the nation go to the polls next Tuesday, their choice for president of the United States will be between two of the youngest, and probably the most controversial, candidates that have ever run for the office at the same time.

Both men are individuals of unusual talents, as they have shown in their face-to-face television debates and their rigorous campaign trips which have extended to almost every state in the union. Both Vice-President Richard M. Nixon and Senator John Kennedy are impressive and convincing when it comes to selling the rank and file of the American people their "bill of goods."

So impressive are each of the candidates that this could well be the reason for so many undecided voters as the campaign goes down to the wire.

Aside from this "impressiveness," which each of the candidates possess, however, are facets of their physical and moral characters which have resulted in many voters having doubts and a mistrust of each of them.

With Senator Kennedy, it could be his youthful appearance or his Catholic religion that are reasons for this air of doubt among the voters. With Vice-President Nixon, whose political career has always been controversial, there's something about him that has caused many a person to say, "I don't like the guy, but I don't know why."

If a voter were going to make a decision on the two candidates by considering nothing more than what has been stated above, he would, indeed, have a hard time deciding which one to vote for.

A person has to go beyond the personalities, age, and religion of the candidates if he is going to make a sound, honest evaluation. That's what we have tried to do in making a decision on the two major candidates. By looking at their past records, their experience, and the programs they propose for our country, we have come to this one decision:

The man best qualified, in our opinion, to be president of the United States is Richard M. Nixon.

Our reason for picking Vice-President Nixon over Senator Kennedy is a simple, elementary one—a reason that is based on a political ideology, and ideology that we feel is so vital to this country if it is to have a future at all.

Richard Nixon has stated time and again that he believes in the principles of free enterprise, of individual initiative, and a minimum of government controls. To us, these things are essential if the American people of today, and especially future generations, are going to have a type of existence other than being mere puppets of a strong, centralized civil government.

Both Vice-President Nixon and Senator Kennedy have set forth ambitious goals and high ideals for the American people to try to attain, but their manner in accomplishing these things has been acutely opposite.

Senator Kennedy makes no bones about it, the manner in which he proposes to reach these goals is by force, more federal controls, more restrictions, as outlined in his farm program, his program for aid to the aged, and his program for federal aid to education.

According to the Democratic platform, the only answer to the problems of today is the welfare state. That's something the American people have fought many wars to try to avoid.

Why should these efforts be in vain?

Granted, Vice-President Nixon represents the liberal element of his party. Some of the programs outlined in the Republican platform are far to the left of what those of us, who still have faith in individual man, believe to be for the best interest of the country.

However, these proposals are a far cry from those outlined by their Democratic counterparts. That's why, of the two, we support Richard Nixon.

Foreign policy is also a big issue in the campaign, and on that count we again feel that the election of Nixon and Lodge will be to the interest of the country.

"Experience counts" is the Republican campaign slogan, and we feel that in dealing with the communists this is most certainly beneficial. In fact, it's almost imperative.

In our opinion, both Nixon and Lodge, in dealing with this nation's adversaries, have acquitted themselves in as capable a manner as anyone could. While on the other hand, neither Kennedy or Senator Johnson have been exposed to the underhanded tactics employed by the communists. And, considering Senator Kennedy's stand on the Quemou-Matsuissee, it appears that he has much to learn.

Considering both the domestic and foreign issues, we support the Republican ticket. We feel that at this high time Americans started putting country above party and started voting for the individuals who are best capable of serving the nation during the trying times ahead.

Governor Burroughs Visits Here Monday

Governor John Burroughs and his campaign caravan, which included 20 other Democratic candidates for state and local offices visited in Texico Monday morning.

The entourage went first to Texico School where the governor spoke briefly at an assembly and all of the candidates were introduced to the student body. The candidates were then guests of several Texico Democratic women for doughnuts and coffee at the Texico Women's Club building.

While here, members of the caravan spoke briefly with local citizens who happened to be on the street and then continued their campaign tour of Curry County by going on to Pleasant Hill and Grady.

Hosts to the visiting candidates for the coffee session were Mrs. Ruby Stone, Democratic precinct chairwoman;

Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. Bill Mathew and Mrs. Olan Schluter. Doughnuts for the occasion were furnished by Mrs. Jim Moore of Jim's Cafe.

In addition to the governor, who is seeking re-election in next Tuesday's general election, other candidates who were members of the caravan and the offices they are running for were as follows:

Thomas G. Morris, U. S. representative; Betty Fiorina, secretary of state; Robert Gastner, state auditor; Earl E. Hartley, attorney general; E. S. "Johnnie" Walker, commissioner of public lands; Ingram B. "7-foot" Pickett, corporation commissioner; G. Y. Falls, corporation commissioner; Irwin S. Moise, supreme court justice; and M. E. Noble, supreme court justice.

Curry County candidates who were on hand included Albert

Matlock, state senator; Dr. M. S. Smith, state representative; Dorothy Thomas, county clerk; Homer L. Litchfield, county treasurer; Evelyn Lockmiller, county assessor; E. C. Kelso, county commissioner, precinct 1; H. B. Moberly, county commissioner, precinct 2; W. Tom Burnett, county commissioner, precinct 3; and John S. Weber, probate judge.

Supper Planned By Variety Club

Nine members of the Variety Club met Oct. 19 with Mrs. Sam Sides in Hereford.

During their business meeting they made plans for their Thanksgiving supper to be Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. W. N. Foster in Farwell.

Mrs. Glen Roberson gave a demonstration on making bows and gift wrapping.

The hostess served sandwiches, German chocolate cake, and cocoa to Mrs. Scotty Barry, Miss Lola Jean Grissom, Mrs. Ed McGuire, Mrs. John West, Mrs. Bandy, Mrs. J. T. Watkins, Mrs. George Lindop, Mrs. C. C. Christian and two visitors, Mrs. Roberson and Mrs. Markham.

Mrs. Campbell Entertains Friday

Mrs. Ray Campbell entertained with a ceramic party in her home Friday afternoon. Mrs. Margaret Byers from Hereford was the agent.

Various games were played and Mrs. Byers told about her products.

The hostess served coffee and cookies to Mesdames H. S. Curtis, Ivy Dell Curtis, Fred Curtis, James Berry, Billy Dollar, Odie Bush, Leon Meeks, Clint Williamson, Mem Sprowls, Don Sanders of Hereford, and Miss Patricia Sprowls.

Bible Class Meets With Mrs. Tharp

The home of Mrs. N. L. Tharp was the scene of the regular meeting of the Wesley Bible Class of the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Albert Thomas presented a study to the 11 members present. Routine business was transacted.

The hostess served cake, whipped cream, coffee, and nuts to the following: Mesdames Thomas, G. W. Atchley, Albert Jones, E. G. Blair, Jess Newton, E. E. Booth, Jennie Cox, Ruby Dixon, Elmer Teel, Bunk Parks, and Miss Laura Temple.

Farewell Party Honors Hardages

A surprise farewell party was held last Thursday in the Home Ec. Cottage in Farwell in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hardage who moved Friday to 2727 64th street in Lubbock.

Their son Gerald and his wife are living in Lubbock where he is a senior at Texas Tech. Another son, Jimmy, is a freshman there.

Friends presented the Hardages with a hammered brass pole lamp as a farewell gift. Mesdames Clay Henson, Clyde Magness, Clarence Johnson, and Bruce Blair served cookies, cake, and coffee to approximately fifty guests.

Mrs. Lucille Brittain and Mr. and Mrs. Ebb Randol attended an area wide meeting of Church of Christ members at Portales Monday night. The dinner meeting was held at the Plains Motor Hotel dining room.

MR. AND MRS. HOMER L. DYKES

Of Interest To THE WOMEN

Homer L. Dykes Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Homer L. Dykes celebrated their golden wedding anniversary with a reception held in their home in Texico Sunday afternoon. Their children and their husbands and wives served as hosts and hostesses.

The reception table was laid with yellow net over a gold-colored taffeta cloth. For the centerpiece, golden leaves and yellow chrysanthemums sprinkled with gold glitter were arranged around a gold circle wreath centered with the numbers "50". A miniature bride and groom figurine was placed in front of the floral arrangement.

The table also featured a large three-tiered wedding cake which was iced in white and decorated with gold bells and white flowers on each tier and bore the inscription "Happy 50th Anniversary" in gold letters on the top.

The "golden anniversary" theme was further carried out with brass candle holders holding gold candles, the serving of golden fruit punch and yellow mints, and with white napkins inscribed in gold with "Homer and Doshia, 1910-1960."

Crystal and silver serving pieces, dishes of assorted nuts, and the coffee service completed the table appointments. Daughters and daughters-in-law alternated in presiding at the serving table.

Mrs. Dykes wore a corsage of white carnation boutonniere. Mr. and Mrs. Dykes were married Oct. 30, 1910, at Killen, Texas, in her parents' home. A friend they had known for years, Elder W. Y. Norman, conducted the ceremony.

After fifty years of marriage, Mrs. Dykes' advice to young couples is to be as peaceable as possible and to learn how to give and to take.

Mrs. Dykes was raised at Killen in Coryell County, Texas. Her parents were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Holmes. There were six children, all of whom are still living. She has two sisters, Mrs. Minnie Lindsey and Mrs. Mattie Hardcastle, living at Caradan. Her three brothers are Delmer Holmes, Center Point; Vilous Holmes, Port Arthur; and Newman Holmes, San Marcos.

The Holmes and Dykes families lived about ten miles apart and were good friends. Mr. Dykes' folks, the Johnny Dykeses, lived close to Belton in Bell County.

Homer Dykes had ten brothers and sisters, nine of whom are still living. Brothers are Johnny of Boone, Colorado; Earl of Maybank; Dewey of Hale Center; and Grady of Belton. Sisters are Mrs. Alla Hillard, Hobbs; Mrs. Eula Hearn, Temple; Mrs. Cora Landan, Corpus Christi; Mrs. Nora Warren, Anthony, N. M.; and Mrs. Iva Creag, Plainview.

Doshia Holmes and Homer Dykes had known each other at least ten years before they married. The first two years of their marriage, they lived in Bell County close to where he was raised. They then moved to a town called Little River. Two of their children, Thelma Mae and Hubert, were born there. Later they moved to Howard County where they welcomed the birth of twin daughters, Ruy and Ruby.

After moving back to where they had first lived, another daughter, Loraine, was born, and Willard and Cecil were born in Mills County.

Mr. Dykes was engaged in farming at these different locations. They also farmed south of Sudan for about fourteen years before moving to Farwell in 1944 and over the line to Texico in 1947. Mr. Dykes gave up farming after moving to Texico-Farwell, and until 1951 he was employed by local filling stations.

The Dykeses seven children and 14 of their 15 grandchildren were here for the reception. Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dykes and children, Eddie, Shauna, and Diane, came from Boise, Idaho, a week before the celebration. They stayed to visit this week and are planning to leave Saturday. Willard works in a filling station in Boise.

Miss Lorraine Dykes spent Thursday through Sunday here with her parents. She is a dental assistant at Reese Airbase near Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Truitt Ellis, Darrell, Dona, Debbie, and Dwayne, from Amarillo arrived Saturday. He works for the Southwestern Public Service Co. in Amarillo.

Other children and families were only here for the day. Mr. and Mrs. Ted Walker and Jerry came from Sudan where they have the Dairy Dee Drive in. Hubert Dykes, commissioner of Lamb Co., and his wife and son, Arnold Gene, are also from Sudan. Their older son, Donald Lee, was unable to be here as he is in Germany. Mr. and Mrs. Olan Hardy, Larry Don and Ronnie, are from Clovis where he is an employee of Campbells. Cecil Dykes, Farwell Junior High principal, and his wife and children, Melinda, Gregg, and Michael, were also present.

As an anniversary present, the children and their families presented their parents with two beautiful table lamps. The couple received many lovely gifts, many in yellow, gold, or brass to carry out the "golden anniversary" theme.

The guest book had a golden cover and guests signed with a golden pen. Melinda presided at the guest book. Approximately 120 registered.

Those from out of town, other than the children and their families, were Mr. and Mrs. Don Odam, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Walker, Knox City; Dale and Darwin Dykes, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dykes from Tahoka; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Creag, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Borem, Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Allan, Mrs. E. W. Palmer, Rita and Janie, all of Sudan; Jodie Bell, Friona; and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hilliard, Hobbs.

Also Mrs. Cora Cox, Mrs. M. A. Parrish, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baldock, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Blevins, Mrs. Bird Dunbar, Orville Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Niece and sons, J. A. Huff, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Baldock all of Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Spies announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Ann, to John Carl Bohannon, son of Mrs. Rhoda Bohannon, 121 Maple St. Clovis. The marriage will take place Dec. 9 at 8 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Blain.

Gleaners Meet With Mrs. Blair

The Gleaner Sunday School class met in the home of Mrs. Bruce Blair Tuesday night. Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser was a guest of the group and brought the devotional.

A regular business meeting was held and secret pal gifts exchanged. Mrs. Blair served homemade ice cream, brownies, coffee, and pop to Mesdames Charlie Hromas, Clytie Dial, Jack Gray, Otis Huggins, Clarence Johnson, R. T. Langston, Lynn Leslie, Dora Langston, Raymond Morton, Joe Reed, Mem Sprowls, Merrill Turner, Amos Tatum and her mother, Mrs. Crow, and the guest speaker, Mrs. Kaltwasser.

Shower Fetes Mrs. Nichols

Mrs. Charles Nichols was honoree for a pink and blue shower October 20 in the home of Mrs. Leon Luce in Texico. Other hostesses included Mesdames Francis Birchfield, Eloise Robertson, Darlene Gibbs and Pauline Watkins.

The lace-covered serving table was centered with a unique centerpiece of a "baby tree" and stork. The minute tree had tiny baby dolls swinging from the limbs and the stork figurine stood behind the design. Napkins of pink and blue design were in keeping with the motif.

Individual cake squares, topped with tiny blue booties, and coffee and pink punch were served. The honoree was presented a corsage of mint green and white, which was designed from infant socks.

Mrs. Helton and Hal Ed were in Amarillo Friday and Saturday. They visited Mrs. Helton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whatley.

Party Honors Miss Lovelace

Mrs. Claud Coffey and daughter, Martha, gave a surprise birthday party for Diane Lovelace last Saturday, honoring her on her thirteenth birthday. Laura Gray, Teresa Quicquel, and Susan Blair were other friends attending. The girls played games and watched Diane open her gifts. Later Mrs. Coffey served a birthday supper and birthday cake and Cokes, after which the girls attended a show.

Sale And Program At HD Meeting

The Oklahoma Lane Home Demonstration Club met at the community building last Thursday with eight members in attendance.

One of the main events of the afternoon was a "white elephant" sale with the proceeds going to boost the treasury.

During the business session, it was announced that an achievement day would be observed with the Midway Club at a later date. Mrs. Edmund Kitten resigned her position of president for the coming year as she was recently elected as a county officer. Mrs. W. T. Magness was elected to fill this post.

Mrs. Kitten presented a program on landscaping and, as hostess, later served coffee, tea, and chocolate cake to those present.

G. A. Group Plans Dinner

At the Junior G. A. meeting held Monday at the Texico Baptist Church, Marlene Bell was in charge of the program, "Girls For Christ."

Teresa Luce called the meeting to order and the group decided to have a dinner meeting Nov. 9. If this time proves convenient, all the meetings may be changed to Wednesday evenings.

New Grandson For Christians

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Christian announce that they are grandparents again. Their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Benny Darnell have a new son born last Saturday. He weighed 7 lbs. 12 oz. As yet, he hasn't been named. Their other son, Benny Ray is two years old.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pete Darnell of Clarendon. Mrs. J. F. Foster of Farwell is the maternal great-grandmother.

Double Birthday Party Held Monday

Mrs. Ray Campbell's sister, Mrs. James Berry of Clovis, held a joint birthday party in her home, Monday afternoon to honor her son, Joe Lynn, and Mrs. Campbell's daughter, Donna Jean.

After outdoor games were played, the nine youngsters attending enjoyed refreshments of ice cream, birthday cake, punch and Halloween candy. Favors were balloons and whistles.

Later in the evening, the older boys, Joe Lynn and James Glenn Berry, and Donnie Ray and Dannie Lee Campbell went "trick or treating."

Many Halloween Parties Held In Twin Cities This Week

Witches, goblins, ghosts and all the weird creatures seen only at this time of year were on the prowl in the Twin Cities this past week. Besides the ones knocking at doors Monday night, many gathered at various houses for parties. The Tribune staff learned of the following parties.

HAL ED HELTON HOSTS GROUP

The week of Halloween parties was ushered in last Wednesday night by festivities at the beautiful home of the Joe Heltons when Hal Ed Helton entertained 16 friends.

The double garage was decorated in the Halloween motif which was carried throughout with the table service and decorations.

Hot apple cider and a variety of cookies and doughnuts were served to Latitia Harrison, Dianne Baldrige, Jackie Hughes, Donna Kay Osborn, Judy Sharp, Carol White, Kay Hal, Beth Ellen Peyton, Vic Harrington, Jackie Dyer, Leon Kelley, Dwight Turner, Kit Doran, Don Reed, Weldon Walker, Darwin McLeod, and the host.

TEXICO BAPTIST JUNIORS HAS PARTY

The Junior Sunday School department, training union, G. A. and R. A. classes joined together for Halloween fun Friday night at the church building.

The room was decorated appropriately and at the beginning of the party was lit only by ghostly candlelight. The guests wore costumes and Tommie Beavers received the prize for best dressed.

The 22 present enjoyed team games and refreshments of pop, hors d'oeuvres, candy, gum, and apples.

Class teachers, Mrs. Allie Burris, Bud Pearce, and Mr. and Mrs. Murray White, served as hosts and hostesses.

PLEASANT HILL PARTY

Mrs. Elmer Langford, Mrs. Dewey Pierce, and Mrs. Ed Baldrige were hostesses Saturday night for a costume party at the Pleasant Hill community center.

The children were divided into two age groups for judging, with Debra Sue Baldrige receiving first and Sharon Hemke second in the younger age group and Janine Clark and Kathleen Smith first and second respectively in the older age group.

Mrs. Edwin Fahsholtz assisted the hostesses in directing a variety of games, climaxed by bobbing for apples. The parents enjoyed playing "42".

Refreshments of chocolate and spice cakes, orange punch, coffee, popcorn balls, and Halloween candy were served to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meier, Gary and Ernest; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Langford and Carolyn; Jacquelyn Langford; Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Clark, Janine and Betty; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fahsholtz, Jackie, Pat, Glennis, and Wayne; Mrs. Frank Hemke and granddaughters, Sharon and Linda; Mrs. Clarence Smith, Kathleen and Patricia; Mr. and Mrs. Vaudie Pierce; Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pierce, Johnny and Terry; Johnny and James Burford; Janet Sharp; Dana Gant; and Mrs. Ed Baldrige, Debra Sue and Don.

SPOOKY PARTY AT PEYTONS

The garage of the N. W. Peyton home was decorated to carry out the Halloween theme, even down to a big black "witches cauldron."

Team games were played, but the highlight of the entertainment was when La June Burris read a spook story and as the group sat in the dark, items to simulate eye balls, dry bones, brains, etc. were passed around.

Hostesses Sherry Nuttall and Sharon Peyton served refreshments of pop, candy, nuts, popcorn balls and a cake shaped and decorated like a pumpkin. Guests came as gypsies, beatniks, goblins, pirates, and every character imaginable.

Those attending were Susan White, Pamela Roberts, Zadine, Wanda Rae, Gary and La June Burris, Beverly and Harvey Winkles, Marlene and Darlene Bell, Terry, Steven and Doug Niece, Roddy Pierce, Jackie Billingsley, Terry Lovett, Dannie Morris, Pattie Nuttall, and the hostesses Sharon Peyton and Sherry Nuttall.

HAMBURGER SUPPER AT WALLINGS

Edith Ann Walling entertained four of her girl friends with a hamburger supper Monday night. The table was decorated in the Halloween motif and had a large jack-o-lantern as center piece.

Those enjoying the hamburger supper, popcorn balls, and games were: Teresa Quicquel, Jeanie Blair, Diane Lovelace, Dona Mills and the hostess, Miss Walling.

DOUBLE PARTIES HELD AT BALDRIDGE HOME

Dianne Baldrige had several of her girl friends home with her after school Monday. The girls decorated the house with appropriate Halloween decorations in preparation for a party that night.

As part of the entertainment at the evening party, the group composed a Halloween story which was then read by Dwight Turner. A ghost story was also read with appropriate props passed for the blindfolded listeners to touch.

Mrs. Baldrige served refreshments of chocolate cake, pop, candy bars, nuts, and gum to Latitia Harrison, Judy Sharp, Carol White, Jackie Hughes, Sharon Thompkins, Donna Kay Osborn, and Miss Baldrige.

Also to Leon Kelley, Don Reid, Bill Reid, Dwight Turner, David Routon, Terry Miller, Jerry Walker, and Darwin McLeod.

The hostess' sister, Debra, and brother, Don, and two of his friends, Lannie Doshier and Mike Spearman were also present.

After the party broke up, the girls, with the exception of Miss Osborn, stayed for a slumber party.

KINDERGARTEN DEPT. CELEBRATES WITH PARTY

The kindergarten department of the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church celebrated Halloween with a costume party at the church building Monday afternoon.

The boys received favors of miniature plastic helicopters filled with candy and the girls received little stemmed glasses filled with candy. They were served cupcakes decorated in the Halloween motif, chocolate milk, and mixed Halloween candies.

Teachers present were Mrs. Joe White, Mrs. A. R. Jordan, and Mrs. Ted Magness. The children attending were Linda and Sandy Hart, Hal Graham, Joyce White, Ty Phillips, Randy Alexander, Caroline Anderson, Jamie Craig, Janice Jordan, Kim Magness, Gregg Dykes, Duke Kirkland, and Jaquetta Crooks.

BARN SCENE FOR PARTY

A barn on the Stanley Pawol farm west of Texico provided the proper atmosphere for an adult Halloween party Monday night. Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Skaggs of Texico and Mrs. Arnold Freeman and Mrs. J. C. Boone of Clovis.

The barn was decorated with feed shocks, pumpkins, and other appropriate Halloween decorations. The guests were costumed and played old-fashioned party games such as they had played when in school.

Hostesses served coffee, pop, and doughnuts to Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Wood, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Weleain, Mr. and Mrs. Wendol Christian, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Burns and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dudley, Don Chisum, Miss Bonnie Hilliard, Jeff Hilliard, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Ray, and the hostesses' husbands, Arnold Freeman, Paul Skaggs, and J. C. Boone.

TEACHERS FETE JUNIOR DEPT.

The Junior department of the Farwell Baptist Church had a costume party Monday night at the church. Teachers of the department, Mrs. Gladys Hromas, Mrs. Joe Reed, Mrs. James Patrick, Marcum Chadwick, Bert Williams and supt. Mrs. Asa Smith, were sponsors of the affair.

The game the children enjoyed most was the breaking of the jack-o-lantern piñata, which was filled with goodies.

Brownies and orange pop were served to Bruce and Warlick Dollar, Bobby and James Chadwick, Robert Curtis, Mark Williams, Bruce McCuan, Regina and Linda Rundell, Vicki Blaine, Susan and Roger Patrick, Linda Williamson, Pattie Tatum, Murray Cox, Peggy Lesley, and one visitor.

INTERMEDIATES HAVE SCAVENGER HUNT
Thirty-eight members and friends of the intermediate organizations of the Texico Baptist Church enjoyed a scavenger hunt at their party Friday night. Mrs. Buddy Pearce, Bill Smith, and Bill Boling were sponsors for the event.

As part of the Halloween atmosphere, dry ice made realistic steam from a black-kettle which was surrounded by wood made to appear to be burning by a flashlight placed underneath. Mrs. Willie Walls, dressed as a witch, stirred her brew in the kettle occasionally. James Hudson and Marlene Bell won prizes for the best costumes.

After games were played, a short devotional was given by Bill Smith. Refreshments were doughnuts served from a broom handle and witches brew.

MRS. BROWN ENTERTAINS CHURCHES YOUNGER SET

Mrs. D. J. Brown decorated her basement with black cats, jack-o-lanterns, ears of corn, pumpkins and other autumn vegetables Saturday night and entertained about 30 beginner and primary children from the Texico Baptist Church.

Mesdames John Lockhart, Wesley Engram, Bill Boling, Dee J. Brown, Leon London, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Pearce, and Murray White were present to assist in directing games for the children.

Refreshments of cupcakes with jack-o-lantern faces, popcorn balls, Halloween candy, and cocoa were served.

Mrs. Tena Roth was co-hostess, but was unable to be present.

The different elementary classes at the Farwell School had Halloween parties last Friday.

Mrs. Ed Baldrige, Dianne and Debra, were in Amarillo Thursday for Dianne to have her eyes checked. They also visited an aunt, Mrs. D. H. Freudiger, and spent the remainder of the day shopping.

Mrs. E. R. Stewart spent the week-end in Alamogordo in the homes of her daughter and family, the Frank Johnsons, and her son and family, the Leroy Stewarts. Mrs. Johnson has had a severe case of poison oak but is now improving.

Going Gets Rough In Guessing Game

For the second straight week the leaders in the Farwell business football contest bit the dust and newcomers walked off with the prize money in what was about the roughest slate of games yet.

Mrs. Dan Truelove was the only contestant to pick eight of the ten games correctly and she won the first prize of $5. She missed only the Tulla-

Dimmitt game and the Plains-Seagraves tie.

In second place this week was Jack Williams, who entered the contest for the first time. He had seven winners and guessed the Lazbuddie-Bovina score at 24-8 to edge out the five other entrants who picked seven winners. The actual game score was 30-0 in favor of Lazbuddie. Nailing down third place was Fred Curtis, who guessed the score of the tie-breaker game to be 22-12. Other participants who had scores of 7, but were farther off on the score, were C. L. Mahaney, Billie Phillips, Dolph Moten and William Danheim.

With only two weeks remaining in the contest, Loyd Smith, who picked six winners, leads the field with a score of 66. Maxine Williams, who was tied with Smith last week, got only five right and dropped into second place with a score of 65. Dempsey Alexander and T. J. Kittrell stayed close behind the leaders. They both got six right and have scores of 64.

One controversy this week centered around the Plains-Seagraves game which wound up in a 20-20 tie. Since it was a district game, Plains won the game on penetrations and some contestants thought that Plains should also be considered the winner in the contest.

The contest judge ruled, however, that the penetration rule is only in effect for determining conference standings. As far as the contest is concerned, the game does count as a tie.

Following is a list of the top contenders for the grand prize of two tickets to the January 1 Cotton Bowl game at Dallas:

- Loyd Smith 66
- Maxine Williams 65
- T. J. Kittrell 64
- Dempsey Alexander 64
- Glenn Phillips 64
- James Norton 64
- Bob Hart 62
- Weldon Rundell 61
- Eugenia Murray 61
- John Getz 61

Lutheran Church News

A Halloween party last Sunday evening was well attended. The assembly hall was beautifully decorated. Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, popcorn balls, and "witches brew." Before the visiting groups started for home, twenty minutes of devotion was observed in the church.

The ladies of the church met after service last Sunday. Plans were made to clean the church on Wednesday, with everyone to bring a sack lunch in order to eliminate time spent in preparing lunch. Plans were also made for the "Mission Festival" for next Sunday. Mrs. Gilbert Kaltwasser was elected president of the women of the congregation, replacing Mrs. Fred Rann who asked to be relieved.

Choir met Wednesday afternoon.

The LWML met Thursday at 2:30. A kit was given by some of the ladies on "Giving For Mission" and was directed by Mrs. Walter Kaltwasser.

Nov. 6, St. Lutheran Church will celebrate their annual "Mission Festival." The Rev. George Heinemeir of Wilson will be guest speaker at both the 10:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. services. Rev. Sander will be at the organ with special music. That day the Sunday School will be shown a film "A Cry In The Night."

The Sunday School training class will meet Nov. 9.

We are happy to report C. E. Seffert is doing very well after surgery and is looking forward to coming home.

Rev. and Mrs. Heinemeir will be guests at the parsonage Saturday night.

MRS. DANFORTH AT BEDSIDE OF FATHER

Mrs. Fred Danforth's father, Howard Rogers, is in the hospital at Morton. The cause of his illness has not been determined, but he has been unconscious for several days. Mrs. Danforth and her sister from Clovis, Mrs. Wilbur Gregg, left Tuesday morning to be at his bedside.

Oklahoma Lane Methodist Mentions

There were 27 present Sunday morning to hear Rev. J. R. Wood speak on "What Makes Men Free."

Monday eight members answered roll call at WSCS. Mrs. Donald Christian brought the closing session of her study, "Into All the World Together."

Other participating in the program were Mrs. R. E. Blankenship, Mrs. Merrill Rundell, and Mrs. Conrad Nelson. Others attending were Mesdames George Douglas, Sam Billingsley, Lee Jones, and Melborn Jones.

UNICEF DRIVE MADE ON HALLOWEEN NIGHT

Monday night the members of the children's department went out "trick or treating" for UNICEF. They collected $36.02. Mrs. Lee Jones, Mrs. Conrad Nelson, and Mrs. R. E. Blankenship served refreshments of hot dogs, pop, and brownies to the children when they returned to the church.

The theme of Halloween was carried out through the fellowship hall. To create atmosphere, Mrs. Troy Christian posed as a fortune teller.

Radarman 2nd class Robert C. Hukill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hukill of the West Camp community, is home on 21-day leave from Navy duty. He returned from Long Beach, Calif., where he is stationed on the USS Los Angeles.

Before coming home, Robert completed a tour to Pearl Harbor, San Diego, and San Francisco. Since he has been home, he received word of his promotion to second class petty officer.

He will report back for duty Nov. 8 and will have six more months of duty before his discharge.

FARMERETTES MEET

Mrs. Delbert Garner was hostess for the Farmerette Club meeting on Tuesday. Good grooming was the topic on which Mrs. Grady King spoke.

During the business session, a committee was appointed for the Thanksgiving social with Mrs. Donald Watkins to be chairman, assisted by Mrs. Leon Grissom and Mrs. James Roach.

The hostess served crackers and dips, date nut pudding, and coffee to one guest, Mrs. King, and members Mrs. Roach, Mrs. Lawrence Cooper, Mrs. Harold Carpenter, Mrs. Troy Christian and Mrs. R. E. Blankenship.

KEEP THE VOICE OF TEXAS STRONG

Texas' dominant position in the Democratic Party has been a major factor in the amazing growth and prosperity of our State during the past 50 years.

Count our blessings that have come because TEXANS were in the RIGHT party at the RIGHT time.

Count the jobs... educational opportunities... military installations... defense projects... water and soil projects... rural electricity and telephone systems. Count our ultimate potentials for development.

Now the Democratic Party has selected a TEXAN for one of the two top offices our Nation has to offer. As Vice President, Lyndon B. Johnson will be in a position to render the greatest service any Texan has ever been able to give his State, his Party, his Nation.

Our Nation needs the dynamic leadership of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson. And Texas needs to be counted in the Democratic column November 8 to keep its voice STRONG in the party that has honored its sons and nurtured its growth. Texas has no such stake in any other party or any other candidate.

Texas' future — and America's — lies in your response November 8.

Miss Merriman To Attend Dinner

An invitation to the Proud Heirs' Dinner to be held Nov. 4 at Wayland has been issued to Katherine Merriman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Shelley of Farwell.

The dinner is in recognition of students who are following the family tradition of attending Wayland Baptist College.

Eighty-six students whose mothers, fathers, sisters or brothers have previously attended Wayland have been invited to the Association of Former Students of Wayland Baptist College.

Miss Merriman was preceded at Wayland by her brother, Don Merriman.

Election Day Dinner Set By Cemetery Group

Members of Texico Cemetery association are making plans for their annual election day dinner on Tuesday, November 8, says Mrs. E. G. Blair, who has been an active member of the group.
Funds derived from the chicken dinner are used for the upkeep of the Texico cemetery. The meal is scheduled at the Woman's Club building in Texico on the 8th with serving to begin at 11 o'clock in the morning and continuing until all the food is sold.
Menu includes a real home cooked meal, says Mrs. Blair, with chicken and dressing, salads of all kinds, home-grown vegetables, and cakes and pie and coffee.
The entire community is invited to eat with the association and to help keep the cemetery beautiful, concludes Mrs. Blair.

Poll Shows--

Kennedy the county would have to be rated a toss-up. However, should they go to Nixon the poll indicates that he would carry the county handsly.
Parmer County has an unusual political make-up as shown by past elections, and the poll in 1956 as well as this one.
In the poll, Farwell voters favored Nixon by a heavy count, 17-5, while Friona went moderately for Nixon, 13-8. Bovina, which has been the Democratic stronghold in the county for several years, favored Kennedy, 15-10.
Except for Friona it was a similar situation in 1956 when Bovina voters went for Stevenson by a wide margin, Friona voters favored the Democrats by a slight margin, and Farwell went overwhelmingly for Eisenhower.
Here's the way county voters have expressed themselves according to occupation:

BOVINA		Kennedy	Nixon
Farmer-businessmen	2	1
Farmers	6	1
Housewives	2	3
Businessmen and women	4	3
Professional men and women	1	2
FRIONA
Businessmen	4	8
Farmers	3	2
Housewives	0	4
Four persons were undecided.
FARWELL
Farmers	2	4
Businessmen	0	6
Housewives	2	2
Professional men and women	1	5
Two persons were undecided and one voter said he would vote for neither of the candidates.

On The Line--

For them there.
After the night's haul, they go home with the "loot," probably sorting it out before they start devouring any of it.
Maybe kids of this modern generation are smarter than I was, but I never thought of taking along a huge sack. It probably wouldn't have done any good, anyway, because if I remember correctly the goodies weren't as plentiful then.
As soon as I got a cookie, popcorn ball, or whatever it might be, I'd start eating it immediately. We kids then considered ourselves quite lucky if we were able to find a second cookie before the first one was gone. Hardly ever could we manage to stockpile enough to take home.
They probably don't realize it, but kids today have never had it so good.
This contrast between Halloween today and what it was like a few years ago brings to mind one point I just can't pass up. Some of my Democrat friends have been telling me that if Kennedy isn't elected all of us will soon starve to death.
This just doesn't make sense. I was a kid and a member of the "goblin set" under a Democratic administration.

Voting Machine Instructions Now Being Given

Instructions on the use of the voting machine are now being given at the Texico City Hall by Juanita Autrey, city clerk.
Individuals not familiar with the operation of the machine, which will be in use during the general election next Tuesday, can receive instruction up through Saturday noon, Mrs. Autrey says.

Methodist Church Will Have Supper

Rev. R. C. Cantrell of Portales filled the pulpit at Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church last Sunday in the absence of the local pastor, Rev. Robert Tomlinson. Rev. Tomlinson was released from the hospital Monday but will be confined to his home another week or so.

Rev. Cantrell will speak at the morning service next Sunday. There will be a family-type supper held at 6:30 p.m. that evening. The speaker for the evening service has not yet been selected.

In other church news, Mrs. Elmer Teel, Mrs. W. T. Magness, Mrs. James Craig, and Mrs. J. H. McDonald attended the district conference held in Fort Sumner last Wednesday, Oct. 26.

Hospital Notes

Mrs. J. R. Thornton, who has been hospitalized since Wednesday of last week with a heart condition, is reported by her daughter to be improving. The family feels that she will probably be returned to her home this weekend and will have a recuperation period at home.

Karen, daughter of the Frank Pritchetts of Clovis, is doing fine now, according to a report Wednesday. The year-old child had been seriously ill in a Houston hospital, but was returned home the first of last week. She is sensitive to anti-biotics and the family has been advised that she should not be given medicines of this type.

Mrs. J. H. Leavell is in the Clovis hospital where she is recuperating from a heart condition. Mrs. Howard Leavell reports that she is doing all right, but will probably be recuperating for some time.

Mrs. W. W. Vineyard was released from the Clovis hospital over the weekend, and is doing well.

W. E. Atkins, Mineral Wells, father of Mrs. Willie Hardage and Tom Atkins, is some improved, relatives report. The Hardages and Atkins are still at his bedside.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

Next time you get into a "How do I stack up?" mood, consider the four following points. In a recent survey of things necessary for any person to make a success in his chosen field, the four basic characteristics were listed as follows:

- (1) Enjoyment of work.
- (2) Honesty.
- (3) Working with a will, demanding and getting the best from one's self.
- (4) Faith in yourself and your ideas.

Homemakers, like everyone else, need to feel that they are doing a good job and should never underestimate the importance of being a good mother and homemaker.

There are so many interesting things to do and so many different ways of doing them that none of us should allow ourselves to get in a rut and stay very long at a time.

How can you make dishwashing interesting? Now, that is a good question and we could apply it to waxing floors, ironing, cleaning woodwork or any other household task that we are not particularly fond of.

When it is necessary to do a disagreeable chore, there are several things we can do that will seem to make the time pass faster. One older woman, who unconsciously taught the writer of this column many things, made a habit of memorizing poems to recite to her grandchildren and great-grandchildren as she did the dishes each day.

In addition to distracting her thoughts from the dishwashing chore, she made numerous children happy by reciting poems to them. Many times the poems came in handy for the grandmother, too. As she sat and pieced quilts, crocheted, sewed on buttons or mended, she could entertain the children by reciting poems to them when she couldn't read to them.

This same gracious lady also sang songs to the children who visited her. Although her voice wasn't extraordinary, she added much to the lives of the children with whom she came in contact.

Another way we can distract our thoughts from an unwelcome chore is to consider it as a small part of a larger more important chore. Tasks that are viewed in the light of a pleasant addition to the lives of those around us seem much less disagreeable.

At this time of year apples are plentiful and can be used in many different ways. This recipe, which calls for fresh apples, belongs to the sweet bread family.

Reforestation And Windbreaks

College Station, Oct. -- Plenty of seedlings are available for Texans who want to reforest or plant windbreaks this winter, reports Bill Smith, extension forester. Orders are being taken now by the Texas Forest Service, College Station.

"Requests for trees will be handled on a first-come - first-serve basis, so interested persons are urged to submit their applications and payments right away," Smith explains.

Application forms for reforestation pines are available from Pineywoods county agents, Soil Conservation Districts, ASC officers or district offices of the Texas Forest Service. The windbreak tree forms are available from some of the offices of West Texas county agents. Either of the forms may be obtained by writing, Texas Forest Service, College Station, Texas.

Shipment of reforestation seedlings will start about December 15, Smith continues.

Slash, shortleaf and loblolly pines are available at either East Texas nursery, and a limited supply of loblolly pine, grown from seed collected in Bastrop and Fayette counties, will be available from the Indian Mound Nursery in Cherokee county. No orders for less than 500 of the reforestation seedlings will be accepted.

Also, some 13 different kinds of hardwood and evergreen seedlings, plus multiflora roseplants will be available for farmstead, orchard or field windbreak plantings. These trees will be shipped between January 15 and March 15, 1961.

Hubby: "Well darling, I've just had my life insured for $5,000.00."
Wife: "That's nice. Now I won't have to keep telling you to be careful every place you go."

- 1 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/4 cup shortening
- 1 egg
- 2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 2 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon mace
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup thinly sliced tart apples
- 1/2 cup coarsely cut dates
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts

In mixing bowl cream sugar, butter or margarine and shortening together. Beat in egg.
Sift dry ingredients together; add alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Stir in apple, dates and nuts.
Even out batter in well-greased and floured loaf pan. Bake in 350 degree oven one hour or until toothpick thrust in center comes out clean. Remove from pan, cool on cake rack. Makes one loaf.

Another apple recipe, using the canned variety, makes a very pretty salad.

- ### Apple Cheese Salad
- 1 cup hot water
 - 2/3 cup small red cinnamon candies
 - 1 package lemon gelatin (3 oz.)
 - 1 1/2 cups sweetened applesauce
 - 1 package cream cheese (8 oz.)
 - 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 - 1/2 cup finely chopped celery
 - 1/2 cup mayonnaise type salad dressing.
- Pour hot water over cinnamon candies, stir until dissolved. Add gelatin, stir until completely dissolved. Add applesauce. Pour half of mixture in 8 x 8 x 2 inch pan. Chill. Blend together cream cheese (room temperature), nuts and celery. Add salad dressing. Spread in layer over firm apple mixture. Pour on remaining apple mixture. Chill until firm. Unmold. Garnish with sugared grapes. Makes 6 servings.

It is not what we eat, but what we digest that makes us strong; not what we gain, but what we save that makes us rich; not what we read, but what we remember that makes us learned; and not what we profess, but what we PRACTICE that makes us good citizens.

High-Protein Ration Most Economical

Addition of extra cottonseed meal to increase ration protein level from 10% to 13% and feeding 4% of tallow increased profits above feed and feeder steer cost by $7.08 in recent University of Arizona experiment. The extra protein and tallow addition were about equal in increasing feed efficiency and their influences were additive, resulting in a saving of approximately 180 pounds of feed per 100 pounds of gain.

Extra cottonseed meal increased average daily gain by 0.2 of a pound. While the tallow addition was profitable because of increased feed efficiency, it depressed rate of gain slightly. Addition of 4% tallow to the 10% protein ration saved 90¢ per 100 pounds of gain.
Extra cottonseed meal and tallow reduced feed cost per 100 pounds of gain by $1.88 when feed prices per ton were $69 for cottonseed meal, $48 for milo, and $110 for tallow.

How Do Candidates Feel About Soil Conservation?

Men and women of the Soil Conservation Districts have a lively interest in the positions of the presidential candidates with respect to Districts and programs for the conservation and development of soil and water resources. Below are the statements from each candidate on the conservation issue and how they would exercise their leadership in this field as they were presented to the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL * OUR STRENGTH

Conservation Of Our Land And Water Resources

BY RICHARD M. NIXON

"The farmers, ranchers and planters of the United States make the soil and water under their control two of the most vital resources of our country.

Without able, vigorous and intelligent agriculturalists working with our soil and water resources, we would soon fall behind in the world struggle for freedom. With such men protecting the producing ability of our natural renewable resources, America can face the future with much greater confidence. For not only will we have ample supplies of the food, fiber and forest products so necessary to our economic life, but we will have pure water which is just as essential—plus those things that go hand in hand with well-managed soil and abundant water—the hunting, the fishing, the recreation and the beauty—all of which are of such great importance to the well-rounded society we wish for our people.

When it comes to the place of government in the field of conservation I have most definite ideas and ideals. In the first place, the Federal Government, as the largest single landowner in the country, should set an example of efficient land management. I believe it should move forward ever more vigorously with a program based on the principle of treating every acre of our public lands according to their conservation needs and using every such acre within its capabilities. I know of the efforts which have been made by Soil Conservation District Supervisors, cooperating with the Federal agencies administering public lands, to pioneer joint conservation operations in areas where public and private lands are frequently intermingled. Should I be elected President, I will propose that these efforts be continued and increased.

I am deeply impressed by the work which Soil Conservation District Supervisors and Directors have been doing over the last 25 years to assure the proper use of our soil and water resources. To my knowledge there are no more dedicated groups of men working in America today than these volunteers for Conservation, Development and Self-Government. A former President of the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts is a member of my staff, and he has re-emphasized to me the magnificent effort these men have made to protect the basic essentials of our high standard of living, stressing the need for more research, more technicians, and more watershed development through the application of techniques provided by years of actual experience on the land.

I am convinced that our agricultural resources are among the most important tools with which we have to work in the years ahead, as we strive for a still higher standard of living, for ever greater strength in our economy and for the matchless defense we must build for our fight against communism and for the extension of freedom in the world. I am glad, as we face the future, that we will not be deficient in the foods, fibers and forest products so essential to a growing nation.

The rather desperate plight of the people in certain areas of our country who see their future curtailed by a lack of an adequate supply of water, and of others who are constantly imperiled by uncontrolled flooding, points up only too clearly the importance of the work being done to promote and assist the development of watersheds. This program will continue to have my wholehearted interest and support.

Ever since President Theodore Roosevelt pioneered government conservation efforts, Republican leaders in Congress and in the White House have always recognized that programs for management and conservation of water and the soil are inseparable. The Great Plains Conservation Program, initiated under President Eisenhower's leadership, demonstrates well the manner in which the Federal Government can exert leadership in sound conservation practice. There should be no penny-pinching in our pressing forward on programs such as this to obtain maximum activity and cooperation between all levels of government and private individuals and so to guarantee against future disasters such as the "dust bowl" of the 30s.

While no man can foresee what the future holds, I know that ample soil and water resources, the dedication and drive of Soil Conservation Districts, the technical knowhow and research of Federal and State agencies, plus the ability of our landowners and operators, all form an essential combination of strength and productivity to buttress America in the years ahead.

I am confident that District cooperators and District officials will continue their devotion to this cause, so important to our country. In their efforts, I believe, they have every right to expect real encouragement, vigorous support and practical assistance from their government. This backing, I can assure you, will be forthcoming from the next Republican Administration."

Statement On Soil And Water Conservation

BY JOHN F. KENNEDY

"A thin layer of earth, a few inches of rain, and a blanket of air make human life possible on our planet. Sound public policy must assure that these essential resources will be available to provide the good life for our children and future generations.

There is too little public recognition of how much we all depend upon farmers as stewards of our soil, water and wildlife resources.

We in America enjoy a situation that is rare in human history. We have enough to eat.

But because we have a little food left over, and because we haven't learned to prevent a modest agricultural surplus from becoming a serious national burden, we have become indifferent about the need to protect our soil resources for future generations.

We are just beginning to become aware how precious pure water is. We are finding out in many areas that pure water is scarce. It takes careful conservation to make the supply go around for all that is used for our homes, industries, recreation, and wildlife. And most of our fresh water originates on the same farms that produce our food.

Our game and fish resources likewise depend upon the land and water that is in the custody of farmers. We take for granted the public rights we enjoy in hunting and fishing on private lands. But in Europe, and most other parts of the civilized world, hunting and fishing are the exclusive privilege of the landed aristocracy.

The public has a fundamental interest in careful custodianship of the land and water resources within the boundary lines of privately-owned farms. It follows that the public should share the financial responsibility for this stewardship.

We have adequate authority to re-vitalize our soil and water conservation effort. We have a

"It takes less time to do a thing right than to explain why you did it wrong."

-Longfellow

munities with watershed problems which need project type action. Some 1,300 local communities have already requested help. Four out of five are still waiting to begin watershed operations. This is a serious lag which must be overcome.

Many farmers have made progress in applying soil and water conservation plans to their land. But, only about one-fourth of the total needed soil and water conservation work has been completed. About three-fourths of the job is still to be done. This gap needs to be closed. Technical assistance, conservation cost-sharing and conservation credit must be geared to help farmers speed up their progress.

I pledge to all of America that if elected President I will see to it that the drive for soil and water conservation will be renewed. I pledge to:

1. Appoint in high office, national conservation leadership with zeal for conservation and the imagination to take the actions needed to meet the soil and water conservation challenge of the Sixties.
2. Propose a greatly expanded program of assistance to local communities in treating small watershed.
3. Propose more soil scientists and conservation technicians to help farmers plan, and apply their conservation programs on their farms.
4. Propose more conservation cost-sharing to help farmers speed up the application of their conservation plans and to accelerate the land treatment work in small watershed projects.
5. Expand the Great Plains Conservation Program to reach the numbers of farmers and ranchers seeking this type of help.
6. Encourage state and local governments to progressively increase their participation in soil and water conservation.
7. Offer state and local units of government, responsible for conservation under state law, a larger voice in a federal-state-local teamwork approach to helping farmers and watershed communities protect and develop their soil and water resources.

Taxes Seen As Block to U.S. Growth

The United States needs economic growth, even though Americans were never better off in respect to material things. Kenneth R. Miller, General Manager of the National Association of Manufacturers, declared in a recent speech in Akron, Ohio. Miller noted that 60 per cent of U.S. citizens live in homes they own. He said the housewife finds in her supermarket items which were available only to gourmets in a few cities before World War II.

Yet, he pointed out, President Eisenhower, labor leaders, and political candidates all agree that the country needs "economic growth." He defined this as "the increase in the productive facilities of the country, the increase in the number of jobs as we have increases in the number of people, and increases in the standard of living."

To encourage economic growth, Miller contended, taxes must be reduced, permitting American industry to catch up with European industry in growth. West Germany, he said, "lowered taxes time after time and they got the growth they were after. They got so much growth that there were more jobs than there were men and women to fill them."

West Germany finally had to raise taxes to slow its growth, Miller pointed out.

Ralph Johnson, in his Wright machine, set a new world altitude record of 9,714 feet at the Belmont Park International Meet on Oct. 31, 1910.

Remember This You Will Make The Decision November 8

Agriculture, our basic industry, has been brought to the brink of bankruptcy under the rule of Ezra Taft Benson and the Republican Administration. The family farm, that basic element of American free enterprise, is seriously threatened. In seven years of Eisenhower-Nixon-Benson rule, we have witnessed the liquidation of 900,000 farming units. Where are these once proud and independent farmers today? They have been forced to leave the land they love and now walk the streets of our cities looking for work, or they are employed on menial jobs.

Republican Promises
In the heat of the 1952 campaign, candidate Eisenhower promised to reward the farmer, not at 90 per cent of parity, but at 100 per cent. But let us consider the facts.

Republican Performance
Farmers net income in 1959 dropped to the lowest level in relation to the volume of their sales, of any year since the Department of Agriculture began keeping records. In terms of parity, which is a measure of fair income for farmers, average farm prices at the close of 1959 reached their lowest level for any year-end period since the depression year of 1933.

The farmer is gripped tighter than ever in the cost-price squeeze that is strangling him. In the first half of 1960, his income was 8 per cent below the depressed level of 1959.

The per capita annual income of people living on farms in 1959 — including government payments and also other earnings from off-farm work — again plummeted to less than one-half that of non-farm people.

Comparing 1960 with 1952, when the Republicans took command, we find the following facts:

- Farm prices — down 17%
- Farm parity ratio — down 21%
- Realized net farm income — down 24%
- Purchasing power of that farm income — down 29% (which is the lowest since 1940)
- Farmer's debts — above $24 billion — a record high

This is the record, in spite of the fact that there are 900,000 less farms today.

The farmer wonders, and rightly so, why the Republican administration has actually encouraged and promoted the cost-price squeeze that is driving him to bankruptcy. Why, during these years when the prices of things a farmer must buy are going up and up and up, why does the Republican administration preach and enforce by its policies, lower and lower and lower prices for the things that our farmers produce?

"Don't Know Yet" On Vegetables

Gateway Produce Company, which this year for the first time undertook the growing of 200 acres of mixed vegetables in the Bovina area, has just completed the harvest and marketing of the experimental crop.

Quality and yield on most all of the 13 varieties was good, but it isn't known yet just how successful the venture was, according to Marlo Trevino, business manager for Gateway.

"We made on some, but lost on others," Trevino says, explaining that there is still a lot of figuring to do to see just how well the entire program fared. However, he says that, "We were satisfied with the overall vegetable picture."

Gateway contracted 200 acres of land from Arlin Hartzog, who farms near Bovina, and the vegetables grown included cabbage, bell peppers, broccoli, okra, eggplant, green onions, parsley, cucumbers, mustard, turnips, beets and squash. It was the first time that some of these vegetables had been grown in this area on a commercial basis.

Trevino says that the vegetable undertaking was successful in spite of the fact that there was big expense and work involved and the weather was against them.

Gateway is making plans to plant more vegetables next year, but the number of varieties will probably be reduced according to Trevino. He explains that operating costs can be reduced by concentrating on a fewer varieties.

Because the Gateway packing shed handled only a few crates of many different varieties, handling costs were higher than they would have otherwise been, Trevino points out.

Just how many varieties will be grown and what they will be has not yet been determined, but one new crop that will be added is tomatoes. During its first year of operation in Bovina (1958), Gateway processed several acres of tomatoes, but there was a poor market that year.

Gateway hasn't processed any tomatoes for the past two years, but Trevino says that good tomatoes can be grown here and the average yield can be 14 to 16 tons per acre.

amount of food processing increases the farmer's share of the food dollar declines.

The farmer's share of each dollar spent for food in 1959 was 38 cents, in 1940 it was 40 cents, and went up to 53 cents in the war year of 1945.

The wheat grower's share of each dollar spent for white flour is now 33 cents. When the flour is mixed with other ingredients and baked as white bread, the farmer's share for his wheat drops to 12 cents.

The corn grower receives 18 cents of each dollar spent for corn meal, but only nine cents of the dollar for cereals such as corn flakes.

On fresh green beans, the farmer receives 43 cents of each dollar. But if the green beans are processed and frozen, he gets only 19 cents of the dollar.

There are, of course, exceptions to the rule. Take citrus, for instance. For fresh oranges, the grove owner receives 32 cents of each dollar spent. This goes up to 38 cents for canned orange juice, and 43 cents for frozen orange juice concentrate.

The wheat used in baking a 20-cent loaf of bread costs less than three cents. In 1959, when the retail price of a one-pound loaf of bread averaged 19.7 cents, the farmer received 2.8 cents, the miller got .6 of a cent, the baker-wholesaler 12 cents, and the retailer 2.9 cents. The other 1.4 cents went for transportation, storage, handling and processing.

The fact, of course, is that today the American housewife is buying convenience -- freedom from kitchen chores. They are also buying food with less waste, needing less trimming, sorting, or washing.

Three so-called ready-to-serve meals costing $6.70 for a family of four could be prepared in the home kitchen for $4.50, or $2.20 less. The home-maker would use about 5 1/2 hours to prepare these three home-cooked meals from start to finish, but only about 1 1/2 hours to get the three ready-to-serve meals on the table.

The food cost saving of $2.20 in the three home-cooked meals would represent an hourly wage of 55 cents for the four extra hours of work in preparing them.

These examples are extreme. Most families actually use a combination of foods -- unprepared, partially-prepared, and ready to heat and serve.

Income Tax Meeting Slated Next Week

A meeting to better acquaint farmers and other interested individuals with income tax laws is scheduled for next Thursday, Nov. 10, at the Hub Community Center. The meeting begins at 1:15. Howard Martin of the Internal Revenue Bureau from Amarillo will be on hand to assist farmers and their wives with tax problems such as deductions, depreciation schedules and any others that persons might have.

The meeting will be sponsored by the county extension service and the county committee on farm and home management.

Joe Jones, Farmer County Agent, says that the meeting will be beneficial to everyone. It is designed to help people learn more about income tax laws, so that they can better understand and practice farm management, he says.

Since this is a busy time for most farmers, many of them may not be able to attend, but

Jones advises that if they can't attend themselves to send their wives.

Ammoniated Molasses Have Adverse Effects

Ammoniated molasses will not substitute satisfactorily for vegetable protein in ruminant ration, reports the Oklahoma Agricultural Experiment Station.

In cattle and sheep feeding trials at that station, the ammoniated molasses were poorly digested and caused "stimulation" or excitement.

If fed long enough and in large quantities, the material caused excess heart damage and the animals died.

Cantaloupes "Best Ever"

Nov. 10, 1821 — Andrew Jackson elected first Democratic president.

Nov. 12, 1898 — Inventor John P. Holland demonstrated his submarine for the U. S. Navy in New York Bay.

Nov. 29, 1929 — Navy Lt. Cmdr. Richard E. Byrd made first air flight over South Pole.

A third cantaloupe harvest has just been completed in the Bovina, and the quality of the melons was the "best we've raised since being here," says Mario Trevino, business manager for Gateway Produce Co.

Yield was down slightly from last year, but after a slow start, the Bovina cantaloupe growers and shippers enjoyed a good market. The average market was from $3.50 to $4.50 per crate, Trevino says.

During the first week of harvest, melons brought only $3.00 to $3.25 a crate, but then the price started to climb and it did go as high as $4.75 to $5.00.

Of the 600 acres grown for Gateway by 11 farmers in the area, there were from 425 to 460 from which good yields were harvested. The average yield this year was 182 crates per acre, compared with 192 last year.

Hall during the summer accounted for the lost acreage and smaller melons were the reason for the lower crate-per-acre yield. "We grew the perfect melon," Trevino says, explaining that they were smaller, better shaped and had a sugar content of 14 to 15 per cent.

Cantaloupes are graded according to four sizes, 23s, 27s, 36s and 45s, the figures representing the number of melons going into a crate. "Last year we shipped more 23s and 27s, but this year we shipped more 36s and 45s," Trevino says.

A sugar content of 14 to 15 per cent is the highest you'll find in melons grown anywhere, and that's what all of the early Bovina melons tested. A few of the later melons had only a 12 1/2 per cent sugar content.

Gateway wound up their packing shed operations on October 17, night after the severe hail and rain storm hit the area. During the two months the shed was in operation, huge semi trucks left daily with the melons to points throughout the Southeastern and Midwestern states.

Some of the melons this year went as far as Chicago and Florida.

With its third year of operation in Bovina complete, Gateway is again making plans for handling 600 acres of cantaloupes next year. The same 11 growers who grew cantaloupes for the shed this year will again plant acreage into melons, as will one new grower.

The farmers who grew the melons for Gateway this year were Bud Crump, Mark Charles, James Boardman, John Lorenz, Tom Caldwell, Wendol Christian, Arlin Hartzog, Lester Rhinehart, Bob Wilson, Howard Ellison and Ewell Hart. The new grower this next year will be Billy Marshall.

A second packing shed, operated by Salt River Valley Produce Co., the start of the cantaloupe harvest, but it closed down soon after the harvest was underway. There is no report on how many melons were handled by this shed.

Watershed Management Important To All

College Station, Oct. 25--The increasing use of soil and water conservation measures for watershed protection has caused many people to ask, "Just what is a watershed?" Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, explains that a watershed is the land area from which water drains to Small streams have water- an enemy, Barton explains. If water runs off the land sheds of only a few acres. This too fast, it cuts gullies and carries small stream and others like it rips off valuable topsoil. This run into a larger stream. These soil, along with other debris small streams and the land they carried by the stream, can clog drain make up the watershed of streams and lakes in the water- the larger stream. Watersheds of shed below. Such sediment may medium-sized streams make up greatly increase the cost of the watershed of rivers, filtering water for home use, are important, because their hydroelectric plants. If too much management determines whether water runs away too rapidly, it er water is to be a friend or causes a flood that damages farms, ranches, crops, homes and utilities, Barton continues. Also, sediment ruins recreation, because clogged streams have very few fish in them.

On the other hand, water can be slowed down and used to advantage when needed soil and water conservation practices are observed over all the watershed. Terraces, stripcropping, more grass and legumes in crop rotations and improved pastures are practices that make more water soak into the soil.

There will be an income tax clinic for farmers, people filling out tax returns, and other interested people in the meeting room of the Hub Community Center, on Thursday afternoon November 10, beginning at 1:15 p. m. Mr. Howard Martin of the Internal Revenue Office of Amarillo and Mr. James Murphy, extension farm management specialist also of Amarillo will bring the program.

Items of discussion will include records to be kept for tax, income to be reported, business and expense, depreciation and depletion, capital gains and losses, trades and condemnations, handling soil and water conservation payments, social security, and inheritance tax.

This program is a part of the years work planned by the extension committee on management and is designed to bring a program to people of Parmer County where they can have the advice of competent personnel as they near the end of the 1960 Tax Year. This program is not designed to train you in filling out income tax returns, but to enable you to better manage your business income and expenses in 1960 and years ahead.

In order to do a good job you must understand the tax laws as they apply to you. Everyone is invited to attend this program. Where farmers are harvesting and unable to attend be sure to send the wife anyway.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Texas A&M College, and Texas Tech College are cooperating in sponsoring a tour of the Midwestern States to observe their feeding operations first hand. Travel will be by Pullman Car with departure from Lubbock and Fort Worth on the afternoon of November 26. The first stop will be in Chicago to attend the International Livestock Exposition. Dean Emeritus W. L. Stangel of Texas Tech will be Tour Leader. For more information on the program come by or write West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas.

This could prove to be a very valuable trip for Parmer County and the individuals attending. I'd like to discuss the trip with anyone who might feel like they could make it. The feeding industry in West Texas and Parmer County will continue to expand. The chief question to be answered by the people is along what line will we develop. Will it be large commercial lots owned and operated by individuals, will it be co-operative feed lots, will it be small or large corporations or will feeding be done on the farms by farmer feeders themselves. This tour might help answer some of these questions for an individual and the county.

Organic matter is the key to productivity of any soil. Those of you near enough cotton gins can well afford to explore the possibility of using burs and gin trash to build up this important component of the soil. Four to six tons per acre will be of real benefit in opening up tight soils and increasing the water intake rate, as well as the water holding capacity.

A KING-SIZE TURNIP is marvelled at by Jimmy Mace, 13-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mace of Farwell. Weighing, a whopping 5 1/2 pounds, the turnip is from a small patch on the Claude Primrose farm east of Farwell. This is just one of many large-size turnips Primrose has grown this year.

Lack Of Limestone Can Limit Crop And Pasture Yields

College Station, Oct. -- Lack of limestone limits production on threefourths of the soils in the East Texas Timberlands and on half of the soils in the Gulf Coast Prairie, says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist. This lime deficiency, which results in acid or sour soils, limits the growth of nearly all crops, and practically stops growth of clover and other legumes.

Lime deficiency not only reduces yields, it ties up other necessary plant foods so that they are unavailable to the crop. "Rations for feedlot cattle should include a feed high in vitamin A potency. Calves are born without body reserves of carotene or vitamin A. Day to day requirements must be supplied through the milk or by vitamin A supplement," according to the Texas A&M Extension Service.

"Young cattle have less storage capacity than older cattle and on deficient diets become depleted in less time. Cattle consuming even small amounts of green pasture or browse generally do not become deficient. Small amounts of green leafy alfalfa hay will protect growing and fattening cattle from vitamin A deficiency."

Plant Disease Of The Week

Harlan E. Smith, Extension Plant Pathologist RECOGNIZE BEAN MOSAIC DAMAGE

College Station, Oct. 25-- Bean mosaics are a group of diseases growers are likely to overlook. These virus diseases are very common on fall beans in all areas of Texas.

Bean mosaic losses to the American farmer total several millions of dollars each year. Losses in Texas have been observed to be from slight to severe.

A mosaic virus disease may infect every bean plant in a field. It reduces yield, quality and selling price. The disease rarely kills a plant. Often it produces no conspicuous symptoms.

Damage by common bean mosaic results in stunting of the plant. Irregular light and dark green areas occur in the leaves. Leaves may be crinkled and puckered. Sometimes leaves are longer and narrower and display a downward cupping. Pods may be rough and shiny and be seriously deformed.

Aphids carry the viruses that cause the mosaic diseases. They spread the virus by feeding on infected plants and then on healthy plants. Sweetclover, crimson clover, red clover and gladiolus are hosts of some of the bean viruses. Normal looking bean seed may also carry the viruses. A few of the less common bean viruses are spread in the fields by cultivation, roguing, or picking.

Some bean virus diseases are controlled by growing mosaic-resistant varieties. Others are reduced by destroying nearby hosts. Avoid planting beans near clovers or gladiolus. Always obtain good, disease-free bean seed from a reputable dealer.

A national marketing quota of 15,562,000 bales and a national acreage allotment of 18,398,424 acres have been proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Benson for the nation's 1961 crop of upland cotton. Both are increases over those for 1960. December 13 was also set as the date for the referendum on 1961 upland cotton marketing quotas.

Livestock Feeding To Be Studied In Corn Belt

Lubbock, Oct. 25--Many areas of Texas have the ingredients--plenty of grain, livestock and favorable climatic conditions --to make livestock feeding a profitable operation. In order for interested farmers, ranchmen, bankers and agriculturists to get first hand information on how successful livestock feeding operations are carried out in the Corn Belt, the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with Texas A&M College and Texas Tech College, is sponsoring a tour into the heart of the nation's great feeding area.

Dean Emeritus W. L. Stangel and chairman of the Chamber's Agriculture and Livestock Committee will serve as tour leader. He extends an invitation to anyone interested to join the group which will leave Texas on November 26 and return on December 1.

Travel will be in Pullman cars with departures from both Lubbock and Fort Worth on the afternoon of November 26. The cars will be put on the same train in Kansas City. The first stop will be in Chicago to attend the world famous International Livestock Exposition where the judging of fat livestock will be observed including carlot champions and the naming of the grand champion fat steer of the Show. Visits will also be made to processing plants to inspect dressed carcasses of fat cattle.

Most county agents and local chambers of commerce in West Texas can supply detailed information on the tour. It can also be obtained by writing the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, Box 1561, Abilene, Texas. Reservations should be made as soon as possible, Dean Stangel said.

This fall shred 4 rows at once
- even the heaviest stalks!

Here's a real work horse. This 140" shredder and clipper - full 4 row size - gets work out of the way in a hurry. Shreds four rows of cotton, sorghum, or corn stalks... clips 140" swath of pasture... handling 1 1/2" brush and stalks with ease. Behind a 35-50 H.P. tractor it cuts from 60 to 100 acres a day, depending on field conditions.

All gear driven - heavy duty. The three sets of rotating blades are all gear driven, using the same type heavy-duty gears and gear boxes as the other famous Servis Gyro cutters. The Gyro 140 also carries the famous flywheel action, heavy blade assemblies for tremendous cutting power at economical, low RPM.

Offset for close work. Cutting swath offsets the 72" spaced wheels on both sides. You can cut under trees, close to fences and barns going in either direction. Though normal overall width exceeds 12', the slide shoes are easily removed, permitting the Gyro 140 to be pulled through a 12' gate.

Optional equipment. The patented Servis shredding attachment with its intermeshing blades is available. Also fan blades and suction skirt with deflector ribs for pick-up and finer shredding can be specified. Special hitch for tandem disk (where power is available), another optional, time-saver feature.

Cuts shredding time in half. Compared with a 5' shredder, you do the same job with half the labor and almost half the fuel cost.

You get the job done - at the time you need it done - fast!
Priced far lower than you would expect such a work horse to be. Come in this week for a demonstration.

HARVEST ROLLING ALONG

Combines, trucks and elevators throughout the Parmer County area have been operating at full force each day and into the night following the week's interruption caused by hail and rain.

Over the weekend and during the early part of this week the grain sorghum harvest appeared to be reaching its peak as many farmers worked at a frantic pace to get the remainder of their hail damaged crop into the safe confines of the elevators.

Elevator men at Friona, Bovina and Farwell were talking about hail damage and some were of the opinion that there weren't too many possibilities left for exceptionally high yields.

"The hail took care of that," said Arthur Drake of Friona Wheat Growers, when asked if there had been any exceptionally high yields in that area.

Most of the elevator men thought it was still too early to tell how much the hail would effect the overall production of maize, but Joe Moore and Harry Johnson of Sherley Grain Company in Bovina expressed the belief that 20 per cent of the crop in that area had been lost.

Nevertheless, there is a lot of grain rolling into the elevators and some of the grain handlers thought that by the latter part of this week, the harvest would be 50 per cent complete.

Besides the actual damage done by the hail stones, the siege of inclement weather that hit just as the harvest got under way a few weeks ago, left its mark in other ways too. In many fields, especially around the Farwell area, the stalks of sorghum had already fallen down and Hestands were being used.

Other fields were rapidly falling over and farmers were hurrying to cut it in spite of the fact that much of it tested high in moisture content.

TRUCKS WAIT TURN at elevators throughout the county this week as the grain harvest reaches its peak. This picture was taken Saturday afternoon at Sherley Grain Company in Bovina.

FARM PROFIT

Cut Your Farm Gasoline Bills This Year

Gasoline thieves aren't always human. On many farms the worst culprits are the hot summer sun and poorly-tuned engines. Massey-Ferguson researchers found that six 50-gallon drums standing in the sun lost 30 gallons by evaporation in a month. A vented 290-gallon tank lost 11 gallons.

But, when they put a pressure cap on the 290-gallon tank it lost only three gallons in a month. An underground tank, same size, lost seven gallons, four gallons less than above ground.

The researchers learned that the best place of all for a gas tank is under a tree away from buildings.

Poorly-tuned tractor engines use 10% to 20% more gas than necessary, they found. University of Nebraska tests showed that a simple tune-up delivered up to 3 more horsepower at the belt and 1 to 2 more horsepower per gallon of gas.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"Agriculture people should be identified as 'ruthless, cold-blooded, big business exploiters of people and the land.'" This is the stated goal of a manual of suggestions from a labor union staff man directed to the California director of the AFL-CIO's Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee which has been picketing farms in California this summer.

"Our greatest enemy," states the manual, "is the public impression that agriculture is made up of the sturdy yeoman, the solid, earthly American family farmer." The document says that the Agricultural people are anything but that. Farm Bureau believes that labor unions should not be encouraged to take over management of farming in America. Their efforts (labor's, that is) have been encouraged by governmental agencies so far.

Do you remember about two years ago when the Texas Broilers Union was formed in conjunction with the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Workmen (AFL-CIO)? The broilers union was formed on the promise that union members would buy products stamped "Union Grown." The Broilers Union is now inactive because, they say, the union failed to live up to its promises.

If you are in doubt as to which is the right way to vote in the coming election, we recommend prayer as the best and only sure way for you to reach the correct decision. This is not a peculiar thing. Prayer will help you with any and all your problems. God, as always, has unlimited power, and will give aid to all those who faithfully ask it of him.

Farm Bureau directors will meet this Thursday night, if you care to, come and visit them.

Urea-Molasses Produce Less Gain In South Carolina

Recent tests comparing 5 pounds of ground shelled corn with supplement of blackstrap molasses and urea-molasses fed free choice in a trough with cottonseed meal added to adjust the protein content have been reported by Dr. W. A. King, Clemson College, South Carolina.

The eight groups of yearling dairy heifers used in the test were also fed oat hay or coastal Bermuda grass hay free choice. Both 3.5 per cent and 4 per cent urea-molasses were used. The average consumption of the molasses was 5.9 pounds per heifer daily with 6.2 pounds for the urea-molasses. The average daily gain over the 84-day experiment was: 1.49 pounds with shelled corn, 1.34 pounds with the molasses, and 0.99 pounds with the urea-molasses.

The gains were significantly lower for the urea-molasses ration.

They will elect a vice president and secretary-treasurer, and begin laying plans for the year's program of action, based upon resolutions passed by the members in convention, both in the county and state, and finally nationally.

Remember that the Bible says that a man's life consisteth not of that which he possesseth. CONSIDER THIS: Hear, ye children, the instruction of a father, and attend to know understanding. For I give you good doctrine, forsake ye not my law. Proverbs 4:1-2
