

State Board Chairman Dies Under Train

Claude D. Teer Killed Instantly Near San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 28 (AP)—Claude D. Teer, about 55, chairman of the state board of control, was instantly killed here this morning when struck by an inbound Southern Pacific train in the vicinity of the San Antonio state hospital.

CLAUDE TEER

The hospital, eluded a woman nurse about 6 a. m., ran onto the track and was struck by the engine, according to Judge O. L. Wiley, who is conducting an inquest. Having suffered a nervous breakdown several months ago Teer had been a guest in the home of Dr. W. J. Johnson, superintendent of the state hospital, for more than a week. Miss Nell Isabel, the nurse, in her efforts to pull Teer from in front of the approaching train narrowly escaped being struck, according to Wiley's information. Dr. Johnson said the chairman of the state board of control had been a guest in his home, on the hospital grounds, for "about ten days." Deputy sheriffs reported they were told by an eye witness to the tragedy that a man fully clothed, was seen to run from the hospital grounds, closely pursued by a woman dressed in the uniform of a nurse. The nurse was reported to have caught him, but the man broke away and ran onto the tracks. Teer headed one of the state's largest agencies. Under its control are more than 200 eleemosynary institutions. The board acts as buyer for all state departments, including the big highway department. He formerly was a member of the Texas legislature. Department officials said Teer is survived by his widow and a daughter, Mrs. Anna Fey Peterson of Austin.

VISITOR HERE Claude D. Teer, killed today in San Antonio, was well known in Big Spring. As chairman of the board of control, he played a prominent part in location of the new state hospital here, and made many trips to the city in connection with establishment of the institution. He was here shortly before the hospital opened. Dr. Geo. T. McMahan, superintendent of the hospital, was notified early Monday of Mr. Teer's death.

Safety Lane To Operate

The Texas Highway Patrol was preparing Monday afternoon to set up a safety lane here for checking automobiles for mechanical driving defects. Equipment for the lane had been unloaded from the patrol van on Main between Third and Fourth streets. There were, however, no patrolmen on hand to give a schedule for the lane. Patrolmen stationed here could not be immediately contacted. Included in the lane's testing will be checks for horns, windshield wipers, steering apparatus, lights and brakes. The brake testing machine is a new type that readily tests the pressure applied by each wheel on the automobile. Those who have cars free from mechanical defects will be given stickers noting that the car is safe when driven safely. Others will be given a sticker with individual defects checked. As in other safety lanes conducted here, the driving public will be urged to cooperate in a safe driving campaign by submitting to the checks.

BRITISH STAND ON POLISH CRISIS PUT BEFORE HITLER; SUPPORT FOR WARSAW RE-AFFIRMED

Second Appeal Is Made By Daladier

Paris Fears Agreement For Negotiations Impossible

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—Premier Daladier drew up a second letter to Adolf Hitler today in an effort to dissuade the German fuhrer from going to war and keep the way open for peaceful negotiations.

Censorship The French government simultaneously extended its preparedness for war with publication of a decree applying censorship to news and photographs. Effective today, the decree said all printed publications, radio broadcasts and newsreels must be submitted to the newly formed general information service for approval. Export of photographs and newsreels was forbidden. France was reaching the last stages in full preparedness with progressive mobilization of troops, requisition of transportation and partial evacuation of Paris.

Spokesmen of the French government said they considered it "virtually impossible" to find a ground for common understanding between France and Germany since the exchange of communications between Daladier and Hitler "showed they did not speak the same language."

The second letter, these sources said, would not alter France's firm stand in support of Poland. It would undertake, instead, they said, to persuade Hitler of the "error of his ways" in refusing to negotiate directly with Poland over his claims on Danzig and Pomerania (the Polish Corridor). This was the latest move in a swift exchange of views between France and Germany, which began Friday with Hitler's outline of his aims to the French ambassador to Berlin, Robert Coulondre.

France replied Saturday with Daladier's first letter, urging Hitler to negotiate with Poland. Hitler's answer came Sunday in a letter of refusal.

20 Called For Grand Jury

Twenty men have been summoned for grand jury service when the September term of 70th district court opens Monday at 10 a. m. The list of jurors included a liberal sprinkling of younger men with the older and more experienced men. It was noted that the arrangement was in accordance with a desire of Judge Cecil Collings to give young men more experience as veniremen. An unusually heavy criminal docket, with more than two score cases already on tap, awaits attention of the grand jury when it goes into session with District Attorney Marielle McDonald.

Japan Forming A New Government

Tokyo Cabinet Resigns As Result Of Soviet-Nazi Agreement

TOKYO, Aug. 28 (AP)—A retired army leader, General Nobuyuki Abe, today was designated by Emperor Hirohito to form a new cabinet replacing that of Premier Baron Kichiro Hiranuma which resigned as a result of the German-Soviet non-aggression pact.

After receiving the imperial mandate Gen. Abe, considered a moderate politically, left the palace and immediately began the task of building a new government.

The summons to Gen. Abe, former acting war minister, came shortly after Hiranuma's resignation was submitted while Japan kept her attention on Soviet Russia for any major move against Manchoukuo or North China.

Emergence of General Abe after three years retirement was sudden, since he was not mentioned in initial cabinet speculation. Newspapers had turned their attention to him, however, in the past two days reviewing the career of the 64-year-old general who resigned from the supreme war council after the attempted military coup of Feb. 28, 1936.

Official reports, meanwhile, said Italian ambassador Giacinto Auriti had called on Foreign Minister Hachiro Arita with assurances the German-Soviet pact would not alter Italian-Japanese friendship. Japanese sources said the anti-Comintern agreement, in which Japan, Germany and Italy had been linked, was not mentioned.

Hiranuma told the Japanese press Japan's about-face resulting from European events—principally the German-Soviet-Russian non-aggression pact—necessitated the government's resignation. Many Japanese obviously were worried as to whether Russia, taking advantage of her isolation from the present European crisis through the pact with Germany, might attempt to hamper Japan on the Asiatic continent.

This might come, it was said, in an attempt to drive into Manchoukuo from the Outer Mongolian border—zone of sporadic hostilities more than three months—or through Japanese-controlled Inner Mongolia into North China.

Flying Instructor Killed In Crash

SHAMROCK, Aug. 28 (AP)—John Andrew Van Wormer, 30, former flying instructor at a Wichita Falls flying school, was killed yesterday when the light plane he was stunting crashed and burned in a field near the airport here. Van Wormer, formerly of West Plains, Mo., where his mother and sister reside, left Wichita Falls about a month ago. He had planned to instruct a group of local flying enthusiasts.

Answer Will Be Expected From Berlin

Cabinet Action May Forestall Action For Another Day

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Britain's Ambassador to Germany, Sir Neville Henderson, flew to Berlin this afternoon with a message to Adolf Hitler which informed quarters said re-affirmed the British intention to support Poland if she is attacked.

Removal of Threats The details of the note were not disclosed but it was reported to have said the first requirement for any negotiation of the Polish question was removal of threats of force.

Sources close to the government indicated the message was of such a nature a reply was expected from the German fuhrer. This, it was believed, would forestall any decisive action until tomorrow at least.

Shortly before Sir Neville left London the government took a series of emergency steps, indicating possibility of war still was considered "imminent" as Prime Minister Chamberlain said last week. A special session of parliament was called for tomorrow to hear a statement from Prime Minister Chamberlain on the latest developments and take any action thought necessary.

The admiralty, which already had taken control of all British shipping, advised merchant vessels to stay out of the Mediterranean and Baltic seas.

At the same time the government made effective sweeping defense regulations under the new emergency powers act, closing military areas, restricting civil liberties and putting public utilities under new regulations.

The note Sir Neville was carrying to Berlin was given final approval by a noon cabinet meeting after it had been under consideration by the cabinet Saturday night and yesterday afternoon.

It was Britain's considered reply to what was reliably described as a general but vague offer from the German chancellor for negotiation of both his dispute with Poland and European problems as a whole.

The British statement was expected to tell Hitler the first requirement for any negotiation was the removal of threats of force.

A second condition was believed to be that the immediate German-Polish quarrel must be separated from any negotiation of a general European settlement.

An outline of Hitler's message and the answer was to be made public later in the day, probably through the British press.

This and other circumstances led to a general belief in diplomatic quarters that the British message would prove to be an historic document both to impress Hitler and the whole world.

The unanimity of the British press on what the British government should tell Hitler at this critical hour indicated the cabinet had decided to stand firm on the policy laid down by Prime Minister Chamberlain.

DIRECT NEGOTIATION REJECTED, DEMANDS ARE BROADENED

Fuehrer Said Willing To Have His Friend Mussolini Mediate Dispute

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Adolf Hitler expects to receive Sir Neville Henderson, the British ambassador, at 10 o'clock tonight (3 p. m. CST) to receive the reply of his majesty's government to Germany's proposals for a solution of the German-Polish war crisis.

Arrangements for the British Ambassador's visit were made while Hitler was represented in well-informed circles as willing to have some friend like Premier Mussolini of Italy mediate Germany's dispute with Poland.

Sir Neville was flying from London after a series of three British cabinet meetings had completed the reply to Hitler's proposals.

In rejecting direct negotiations with Warsaw the German chancellor disclosed his demands on Poland not only included return of the Free City of Danzig and Pomerania (Polish Corridor) but also vaguely implied he would insist on their "adjustments" at the expense of Poland.

In connection with suggestions Premier Mussolini would be acceptable as a mediator, reliable sources said Bernardo Attolico, Italian ambassador to Germany, was in frequent touch with Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Direct Talk Futile Hitler indicated in a reply to Premier Daladier of France made public early today, that he considered direct talks with Poland would be futile.

He did not comment directly on Daladier's suggestion the French premier was "ready to make every effort which an upright man can undertake" toward peaceful solution.

Officials quarters said nothing was known in Berlin about a second letter to Hitler which Paris dispatches said Daladier was drafting.

Hitler's letter was interpreted as indicating he was provoked by Daladier.

In Paris, Daladier had commented on the Hitler correspondence without, in the opinion of some German leaders, doing justice to Hitler's arguments.

Hitler cited what he called "Macedonian conditions" prevailing along other parts of the frontier, presumably Upper Silesia. The plain inference was Germany had claims in this direction, too. Germans use "Macedonian" as a synonym for "terrorist."

Hitler wrote Daladier he said he wanted nothing more for Germany than Daladier would want for France, if France were in Germany's "intolerable" position.

France, Hitler argued, would not tolerate a foreign corridor through its territory, so why should Germany?

The demands on Poland definitely were increased, because Hitler had been on record before only for a "corridor through the corridor"—a strip of territory to connect Germany with Danzig and the isolated province of East Prussia.

Now Poland's right to a corridor to the Baltic sea is conceded no longer. The comment about "Macedonian conditions" farther south was regarded as a hint other claims.

Il Duce Said Ready To Aid In Solution

ROME, Aug. 28 (AP)—Fascists said today Premier Mussolini was ready to lend his good offices to a settlement of European problems, but indicated Great Britain and France would have to satisfy both Germany and Italy of their good will.

Virginia Gayda, often the unofficial spokesman of the government, said Mussolini alone could not "accomplish the miracle expected of him."

"He has need," Gayda wrote in the Giornale d'Italia, "of responsible men of goodwill who listen to his words and understand with honesty the spirit in which he speaks them."

Gayda, like other Italian commentators, remained pessimistic as to the outcome of the exchange of notes between London and Berlin.

The margin of time in which to avert war, he said, was lessening, adding, "no bright hopes should."

WOULD INVOKE NEUTRALITY LAW WHILE ASKING REVISION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—If a European war breaks out, a government official said today, President Roosevelt will invoke the neutrality law at the same time he calls congress to consider its revision.

The law places an embargo on all shipments of arms and ammunition to belligerents. The administration wants to repeal this provision and permit sales on a sort of "cash and carry" basis.

The president is directed to invoke the neutrality act whenever he finds that a "state of war" exists.

Authoritative sources said the law might not be called into operation if there was only a "lightning" war between Germany and Poland, but they expressed certainty it would be invoked if the conflict spread throughout the continent.

Mr. Roosevelt and state department officials have been drawing up the proclamations by which the act would be put into effect, and have supervised a long series of preparations designed to ease the shock of a European war on American economic conditions.

The president remained in the White House during the week-end, talking with Secretary Hull by telephone and studying dispatches to the state department. He held in abeyance plans for a trip tonight to his home at Hyde Park, N. Y., but the impression prevailed he would not leave the capital.

Humble Crude Stocks Near Exhaustion

President Weiss Testifies At Commission Hearing

AUSTIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—H. C. Weiss of Houston, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, largest purchaser of crude oil in the world, testified today at a colorful hearing before the Texas railroad commission that as a result of the oil shutdowns the company's stocks of crude would be exhausted by September 1.

Representatives of other major oil producing states and the interstate oil compact commission sat in on the hearing in the great hall of the state house of representatives, a hearing called to determine whether the 15-day shutdowns which expire tomorrow should be extended.

Under sharp questioning by Ernest G. Thompson, chairman of the compact commission and also a member of the railroad commission which regulates oil in Texas, Weiss said present inventories of 11,757,481 barrels and as of Sept. 1 would be 7,320,749.

Of those inventories 2,807,704 barrels were needed to fill pipelines and 3,320,749 to fill tank bottoms for transportation purposes.

Weiss also testified the Humble had gasoline stocks of 2,073,684 barrels at present, an increase of 212,444 barrels since March 31, and 308,638 since a year ago.

"As I get it, you will soon be out of oil, will you not?" queried Thompson.

Weiss grinning broadly replied: "Yes, unless our supply is increased in the meantime."

Asked for statistics on storage of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, referred to generally as the "parent" of the Humble, Weiss said flatly they were not available.

He said the Humble needed between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 barrels of crude for normal working conditions, and had made heavy reductions in recent months.

"Have you reduced enough?" asked Thompson. "Too much," snapped Weiss.

"That is to say, you are a week bit short?" Thompson pressed. "We aren't long," said Weiss.

He said the company would like to begin rebuilding its storage supplies gradually.

Questioning veered to the Humble's policies regarding prices.

Weiss said prices were determined largely by supply and demand and other factors of economics.

Urged for more detail, the Humble president read a long statement previously published in advertisements. See HUMBLE, Page 5, Col. 1

INFANTILE PARALYSIS FATAL TO CHILD

ABILENE, Aug. 28 (AP)—Felix Boyd Dodder, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Dodder of Colorado City, died in an ambulance at 10:30 Sunday morning as he was being rushed to Abilene to be placed in an iron lung. The child had suffered a swift and violent attack of what physicians termed infantile paralysis. His throat and chest muscles were paralyzed.

The boy was placed under an iron lung for the trip and was being accompanied by his physician, parents and two men operating the inhaler. He became ill Friday and first symptoms of infantile paralysis were detected Saturday night.

Funeral was held in Colorado City at 6 p. m. Sunday.

OIL MAN VICTIM OF AUTOMOBILE MISHAP

CORPUS CHRISTI, Aug. 28 (AP)—Funeral services were conducted here today for Charles Greco Porter, 49, president of the Forties Blanchard Oil company, victim of an explosion at the dam Saturday night, and Buchanan dam Saturday night. J. D. Blanchard of Alice suffered a broken arm and W. H. Gee of Houston a possible skull fracture in the wreck.

Porter, who started in the oil business in 1923, forming a partnership with Blanchard shortly afterward, had extensive holdings in East, Southwest and West Texas, New Mexico, Illinois, Oklahoma and Arkansas. He also owned a gold mine in Nevada.

Germany Goes On A Rationing System

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Nazi Germany's capital saw today the greatest run on its food stores in decades.

Housewives hurried to grocer, butcher, dairyman and other provisioners to get their names down for the new rationing process.

In addition, they bought whatever the dealers would give them of stocks not yet on the ration list.

There is plenty of bread, potatoes, vegetables, rye and wheat flour, but there is less meat, sausage, marmalade, coffee, milk and sugar as a result of the plan.

Drawing on his experience in the World War when many countries were starved into submission by the British blockade, Germany decided to ration herself now.

The government-prescribed diet, as published today, limits meat consumption to a person for one week to 700 grams, approximately 8.3 ounces.

Under terms of the gasoline decree, the owner of an automobile must prove he needs his car and negotiate on the account of gasoline he may purchase daily.

There already had been a run on sale of gasoline from 8 p. m. Saturday to 8 a. m. Monday.

These included eggs, potatoes, flour and canned goods.

Germans began to eat less of some favorite foods because of

Wartime Dictatorship

America is making plans for a dictatorship that will regiment all the material resources of the nation as they have never been regimented before.

Acting Secretary of War Louis Johnson disclosed part of the program in an address before the newly created war resources board, composed of six outstanding representatives of industry under leadership of Edward R. Stettinius, chairman of the United States Steel corporation.

Lessons learned in 1917 and 1918 are being used to advantage by today's planners for industrial mobilization in any future conflict.

Meet Mr. Lochinvar

By Marie Bizard

Chapter 33 In The Dark Cecily said, "Yesterday, I made up my mind that I had stirred up a situation out of whole cloth, imagined something important—

"I put myself on the carpet and went at it analytically. My resulting conclusion was that I wasn't quite bright. I decided that I was as romantic as any foolish heroine of a cheap love story.

"Cecily, when women fall in love, they always do that. A woman never takes a man for what he is, as she does other women; she always makes him into what she wants him to be."

"We're getting away from the point. I wanted to tell you that, having faced this whole thing, I finally got what I thought was the right value; a simple situation, I had made into a melodrama. And then, having decided this, all of a sudden a great big mystery—a real mystery—breaks over my head. It's like a nightmare. No explanations for it."

"Laura took one of Cecily's hands into her own. 'Listen to me, Cecily, I've got more to lose, probably,' she was thinking of Donald—'than you have. I'm going to ask you to believe me. Your lunch that there was something peculiar going on was intuitively correct. There is! And I'm as much in the dark as you are.'"

"But Locke? You said . . . 'I know, I said that I was bound to secrecy, and I am. But I'm almost as much in the dark as you are.'"

"Cecily let her breath out in a long, patient sigh. 'But, Laura, why did you say you'd turned your ankle?'"

"Now, Cecily, get your age! What else was there to say? 'There was a moment of heavy silence. Then Laura said with dignity, 'Cecily, I won't attempt to explain anything else to you. I'm sure that you are quite well aware that I had a good reason for not coming back to my own place last night. And that there was nothing improper in my not doing so.'"

"I know it, Laura. You need not say anything more to me. May I ask you one more question?"

"Did Locke say anything . . . anything personal about me?"

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

HOLLYWOOD—The timely, political, propaganda movie has not yet run its course despite the spotty boxoffice on "Confessions of a Nazi Spy," the industry's guinea-pig for the new experiment in frankness.

"Nazi Spy"—at first expected to clean up a record gross in America—has not done so. But foreign returns have been gratifying enough to warrant a continuation of the "Americanism campaign" sponsored by Warner Bros.

The studio also has completed its "Career Man" Beginning as a document as frank as "Nazi Spy" the script during production was toned down—assumably at the time when income from "Nazi Spy" looked most unpromising.

Hollywood's prise on-again, off-again story property is "It Can't Happen Here," Sinclair Lewis's work showing consequences of a dictatorship in the United States.

Metro, meanwhile, has Phyllis Bottome's novel, "The Mortal Storm," with a setting inside Nazi Germany, also "I Had a Comrade," likewise a Nazi yarn, and an untitled story by Erich Maria Remarque dealing with refugees from Nazidom.

Walter Wanger still says he will make "Personal History," the Vincent Sheean autobiography, as the story of an American reporter who tries to find liberty abroad and finds it, finally, only in America.

As quickly as the reporter-hero, in one version, got held in one country, that particular country has changed hands, making that version obsolete.

Washington Daybook WASHINGTON—The government has spent millions in designing battleships, roads, low-cost houses, kitchen aprons, drug-store glassed-in gardens, and suspension bridges, but not one dime has it laid out in fashioning a comfortable set of clothes for a man.

For seven cents, or maybe it is 13, you can get a pamphlet on winter gardening. Experts will help you fight the Japanese beetle. Consular agents will sweat through a steaming summer in Java enduring malaria and chigger bites to help you sell an iceless refrigerator or a new brand of soda-water.

They can tell you how to bake a blueberry pie, roast a duck, mix a cooling summer drink (non-intoxicating), or prepare a school lunch for a growing boy.

Down in the basement regions the department's architects and philosophers have drawn many plans for low-cost homes that should make farm life a thing of beauty.

A huge wing of the department is given over to textiles. A person would think that there, if any place, a little work could be done in designing a non-binding air-cooled shirt. But no.

They tell women how to make simple household garments, how to rig up a low-cost outfit for the youngsters. They pioneered in designing and popularizing the sun suits for tiny tots. They publish illustrated pamphlets telling women how to spot fraud in a piece of textile and how to detect slip-shod tailoring in a coat. But not one room is given over to fashioning a pair of pants that won't need pressing every 48 hours.

There was sympathy for the idea of doing something for mankind. A young woman, head of a division, explained, however, that there never had been an appropriation from congress for it.

"Did anybody ever ask for one?" she asked. "I don't remember, if they ever did," she replied. She was cool and comfortable while we talked. She wore a striped cotton shirt open at the throat, a skirt and doubtless a light slip and other hidden essentials. That was all—except, of course, shoes and stockings.

Opposite her we sat writing in three layers of cotton, including a coat, shirt and undershirt, two of them tight woven. Our shirt was tightly buttoned around the throat to stop ventilation. Besides, we had on tightly-woven trousers and some more gear underneath.

Why the dickens doesn't somebody do something about it? We did have one advantage. The young lady began fumbling around in a purse and then a drawer to find a match. We had pockets.

Quota Fixed In NYA Aid

Howard county's quota for NYA school aid jobs for the 1939-40 school year has been set at 44 for white and one for colored schools.

The quota was based on the county's relative youth population and its particular need for NYA school aid jobs.

Kellam asked the county superintendent to call a meeting of the local NYA County Placement Committee for the purpose of distributing NYA jobs to the schools within the county.

The quota of NYA school aid jobs for the entire state was placed at 12,546. This is an increase of approximately one third over last year's quota.

By HANK HART
Will Ramsdall, a bit of a lad with a nice No. two pitch, and Lefty Lucas, erstwhile box of the local forces, hooked up in a sweet hurlers' duel here Sunday afternoon and the Baron righthander emerged the decided winner as Big Spring decided Lamesa, 6-2, to increase their third place lead over Midland two games, and gain a full game on Pampa, beaten by Clovis.

The slender Ramsdall did not give up an earned run in going the route. Emmett Fullenwider accounted for the Lohorns' only tallies when he homered following Curdele Loyd's error on Bob Watson's ground ball after two men had been retired. The blow came in the eighth round.

Lucas was tough—especially on Pat Stacey, whom he cut down on pitches no less than four times. But he could be hit at times and had plenty of trouble with the right handed swingers.

Wollin Routh
Don Wollin proved the big thorn. He punched out three base blows and drove in a pair of runs. Ramsdall slapped out a double and a single to figure prominently in the 11-hit assault.

Bobby Decker, rejoining the team after a brief suspension, sent the Barons off on the right foot in the initial round when he gained a base on balls off Lucas, stole second base and romped home on Wollin's first blow. Wollin then counted on Billy Capps' line double over Jay Tate's head in the left pasture.

Lucas settled to stifle the Baron runners for three heats but Wollin doubled to open the fifth and Luke again had his back to the wall. He believed the situation somewhat by whiffing Stacey and Capps in succession but Tex Walton ripped into a fat one for a single into right field and Wollin started a non-stop journey to the dish.

Capps stroled to begin the seventh, pliffed the middle cushion, went to the far corner. On Luke's wild throw, he sneaked on Tony Rego's spangly, the squeeze play—which had Van Marshall as the pivot man.

Fullenwider's round tripper rekindled the Lamesans' victory-bent machine but the Big Springers retaliated with a brace of rallies in their part of the eighth and it was all over. Ramsdall opened with a double and, after Decker skied to Fullenwider in short center, moved to third on Loyd's hopper to Wooten. Wollin doubled to score Willis, then romped home when Stacey finally connected safely.

The two teams tangle again here tonight in a "Ladies Night" feature despite limited facilities all women will be admitted free. The schedule of time is 8:30 o'clock.

Jodie Tate is slated to shoot another southpaw, Lefty Milleshaugh, against the Big Springers. Rego will probably rely either on Ed Eahr or Pat Patterson.

RALPH FLANAGAN DETROIT WINNER

US Merzmen Are Ready For '40 Olympis Bid

DETROIT, Aug. 28 (AP)—America's swimming leaders looked westward today for the talent with which to end Japan's supremacy in the water when the 1940 Olympic games are held at Helsinki, Finland.

Using returns of the senior men's National Amateur Athletic Union outdoor championships as a basis, it seemed evident America will get Garrison support in its Olympic quest from nine tiny, brown-skinned youths from far-off Hawaii.

Five of them from the island of Maui combined to score 23 points in the four-day meet which closed yesterday and take the national championship back to the Alexander House Community association.

Ralph Flanagan, of Austin, Tex., completed his fourth "grand slam" of the distance events in yesterday's finale by taking the 880-yard freestyle in 10 minutes and 7.8 seconds, more than four seconds over his own world record. Adolph Kiefer, of Chicago, won the 300 meters individual medley for the second straight year.

Otto Jarets, a 17-year-old Chicago high school boy, won the 100 meters freestyle.

Earl Clark, of Ohio State, won the 10 meters platform diving.

Three points behind the Maui team was the Detroit Athletic club. The Medinah Athletic club, of Chicago, was third with 25 points.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIEZE
ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 28 (AP)—They're not kidding about Lou Nova's performances. We saw him in two drills over the week-end and he looked terrible. So bad that in New York last night Joe Jacobs laid $2,000 against $10,000 Galento wins by a knockout in four rounds. Lou's handlers wanted to move the camp into Philadelphia, hoping the change would put a little pep into the fighter, but Nova vetoed it.

Coach Tommy Thomas is all set to succeed Rogers Hornsby as manager of the Baltimore Orioles.

WHY BRING THAT UP?
This week's ducey cap is awarded the Jacksonville baseball club. Last year they gave a youngster named Johnny Rucker the air for not being good enough. The other day the Giants bought Rucker from Atlanta for $50,000.

Literary circles will be interested to note that "My Life And Works, By Tony Galento" now appears in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

TEXANS COMPETE FOR POLE TITLE
CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The national 12-goal open polo tournament begins Tuesday with several outstanding teams entered, including the strong Hulsches of Houston.

The Hulsches, champions of the Southwest circuit, won the national inter-circuit championship yesterday with a decisive 13 to 4 victory over Oak Brook of Chicago.

The Hulsches' first match is against Oak Brook Wednesday.

MT. PLEASANT LOSES IN LAST ROUND OF SEMI-PRO TOURNEY
WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 28 (AP)—Semi-pro baseball's national tournament, which started two weeks ago with fireworks and ended in a near-rat, had its first repeating champion today—undefeated Duncan, Okla.

The runner nine beat Mt. Pleasant, Texas, 5-2, to win $5,119.56 first money and an all-expense trip to Puerto Rico to meet Guayama, insular champion, in a series starting September 7.

Piling up 85 runs to 11 in seven victories, the Oklahomans had to beat down the bouncing young Texans twice on cruise, the first time by a bare 3-1 margin.

Exports Lose To Dallas, 7-4

By the Associated Press
The Texas league race with 12 days to go, headed toward the home stretch today with Houston still setting the pace, Dallas, San Antonio and Fort Worth completing the first division and Shreveport still just out of the Shaughnessy playoff.

Fort Worth dropped a Sabbath game to San Antonio's Missions, 3-2.

The Cats' left fielder Casen lost three easy flies in the sun to give the Missions extra base hits and centerfielder Black mishandled two balls in the seventh to permit the winning run.

But Shreveport, dropping a twilight and night doubleheader to Tulsa, 1-0 and 4-3, was in no position to take advantage of the Cats' mishap.

Dallas' Rebels came from behind to defeat the Beaumont Exporters 7-4, and Houston split a doubleheader at Oklahoma City, winning 12-2 and dropping the second game 7-0.

At the beginning of the current season he moved again, this time to Abilene where baseball interest had been dormant for more than a decade, constructed a park, was promised civic cooperation in helping put over the drive for the establishment of the professional sport.

His elaborate dreams, however, were not realized. He lost money due to lack of support.

In desperation he asked for assistance from the league, at the same time attempted to float a loan to meet his obligations, guaranteeing the existence of his venture until more interest could be constructed or the city could plainly prove it was not baseball minded.

For some unexplainable reason, Withers lost his footing just when it appeared he would pull free, would begin to realize some profit from his venture. The loan, he said, was forthcoming but before he had time to employ it, his franchise was jerked from his hands, taken by the league.

Stunned by the action taken, Withers appealed but his cause was drowned by the league's decision.

Withers had an alternative. He had concrete evidence, so he claimed, that would prove that the league president was overstepping his rights in grabbing the franchise of Withers contended that a vote of the league's directors was necessary in order to take over an operator's league rights. No vote was taken, according to Withers.

His appeal was referred to Judge Withers' Branch, high czar of the minor leagues, who has the case under consideration at the present time.

But his accusations did not stop there.

He protested the right of Price's final ruling on the league's 1939 schedule, which, he claimed, was not the one originally passed upon by league directors in a meeting held at Lubbock in March.

He charged Price with discriminating acts and collusion with others and with acts not within his jurisdiction, said acts contrary to the league's constitution.

Actually, Withers was attempting to reveal many alleged unfair practices, he said, what he termed "virtual dictatorship" by a league party.

Your correspondent takes no sides in the matter but he did have the opportunity of seeing evidence as compiled by Withers of violation of the league's constitution and of the rules of organized baseball.

Whether the evidence is impressive enough to make it embarrassing for the accused parties remains to be seen.

It was generally known that Withers was unpopular in certain quarters, that he participated in many a verbal battle with parties who did not share his views, that he was often accused of circulating communistic ideas.

But the fact we are interested in is that he did fulfill his agreement with Abilene to the limit, that he approached that city in good faith with an open purse, based said purse to the limit in giving the proposition to the fans, then suffered the consequences when his venture collapsed.

Was he then given the needed cooperation by the president and the league in general?

And what of future such cases? Will in like circumstances it continue to be the survival of the fittest?

In the opinion of your reporter the league's constitution is but a scrap of paper, weak fire of all because the salary limit clause, which relieves emphatically that the pay limit of any club shall not exceed $1,100 a month, is not being respected.

Unless a new agreement is reached and all regulations respected.

RED RUFFING GAINS 20TH TRIUMPH

20-Game Winners 2-Game Winners Are Expected

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
Before the finish this baseball season may be notable for many things—including Joe DiMaggio, first 400 hitter in nine years—but it seems certain to have a bumper crop of pitchers winning 20 or more games.

In the first flush of mid-season enthusiasm over achievements of Bucky Walters, Bob Feller, Red Ruffing and their fellow tradesmen, some fans even thought a 30-game winner might bob up.

Ruffing reached the goal for the fourth consecutive year yesterday as the New York Yankees tamed the Detroit Tigers, 13-3, for their ninth straight victory, extending their American league lead to 13 full games.

Feller pitched Cleveland to a four-hit, 1-0 shutout in the first game of doubleheader against the Boston Red Sox for his 19th triumph. The Tribe also bumped Boston in the second game, 5-3.

Paul Derringer hurled the Cincinnati Reds to a 7-2 decision over the New York Giants on six hits. It was his 17th victory.

Among other pitchers aiming at the mark are Curt Davis of the St. Louis Cardinals, with 15 already from Tommy Bridges of the Tigers and Bill Lee of the Chicago Cubs, each with 16 victories, and Buck Newsom of Detroit, Luke Hamlin of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Dutch Leonard of the Washington Senators, with 15 apiece.

Leonard got his 15th yesterday as the Senators defeated the St. Louis Browns 8-7. Ken Chase hurled the Nats to a 4-3 victory in the 11-inning nightcap.

Bill Lee failed to increase his tally as the Phillies nudged out the Cubs, 4-3 and 3-2.

The Boston Bees and Cardinals split with Bill Posedel winning the first game, 10-4, for Boston. The Cards came from behind to take the second, 6-5, in eight innings.

Cy Blanton stopped the Dodgers, 9-5, in his first start since April 23 after they had beaten the Pirates 3-2, in the opener.

Bill Beckman shut out the Chicago White Sox for the Philadelphia Athletics, 2-0, in a pitching duel with Thornton Lee.

TIGERS RETAIN 4TH PLACE LEAD IN EAST TEXAS
By the Associated Press
Marshall, with an easy 8-3 victory yesterday over Longview, maintained a two-game leadership over Tyler for fourth place in the East Texas league pennant race.

The latter served notice it was driving toward a spot in the circuit playoff by beating Texarkana 10-2. It was Tyler's fifth straight win and ninth in 10 starts.

Second place Kilgore thumped tall-ender Jacksonville 6-3 and 2-0 in a doubleheader, and the league leading Henderson Oilers went down before third place Palestine 9-4.

S. Rodriguez limited the invaders to six hits in the opener. Bill Wood had a triple in the opening game and three base blows in the nightcap to lead the Aces' hitting assault.

Walter Hagen Bids Farewell To Golf Game

28 Pay Fees Sundays Sain To Complete Lineup Soon

By EARL HILLIGAN
CHICAGO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The one and only Walter Hagen, after 25 years as one of golf's most commanding figures, bade farewell to serious tournament competition today.

"I'm all washed up," grinned the 47-year-old veteran after he completed the final round of the Midwestern tournament which commemorated the 25th anniversary of his first national open victory on the same course.

"I'm going to play for fun in a tournament or two occasionally," he said, "but it's too hard to keep in playing shape any more. Anyway I've had my share of championships—I figure I've averaged about two a year for 25 years—and I'm ready to call it a day. But it's a great game, isn't it?"

The records show he won the U. S. open twice, the Western open five times, the P. G. A. title five times and the British open four times.

He's generally recognized as the greatest money maker professional golfer ever knew, earning about $1,000,000 in a quarter of a century.

Paired with Gene Sarazen, he finished 4th in a tournament arranged solely to pay him honor. The best-ball event was won by Ed Dudley, Philadelphia, and Billie Burke, Cleveland, with a rating of 19 "net" holes won. Ralph Guldahl and Harold McSpadden finished second, with a plus 6 standing, followed by Byron Nelson-Dick Metz plus 4; Hagen-Sarazen, minus 3; Tommy Armour-Jimmy Thomson minus 5; Henry Picard-John Revolta, and Paul Runyan-Horton Smith, each minus 6, and Denny Shute, Ernie Harrison minus 9.

Dudley and Burke, in winning $1,500 first money, played the 126 holes, with a best ball aggregate of 447, 80 under par.

Others who qualified but were delayed in qualifying were Tom and Harry Jordan, both of Big Spring, Max Leamun, B. Jobe, and Bill Shafer, all of Crane.

Robbins, who returned Saturday from Lubbock where he competed in a tournament in that city, said that several golfers, including Joe Dick Slaughter, were expected from that vicinity.

Sammy Sain, captain of the local forces in the Hall & Bennett trophy matches Sept. 1, expects to complete his lineup by Wednesday.

Qualifying for the ninth annual Big Spring Invitational Golf tournament will continue at the country club course throughout the week.

The meeting does not officially get underway until Saturday but tournament officials have decreed that a whole week be dedicated toward qualifying to relieve any unexpected rush and afford out-of-town players an opportunity to post their scores at their leisure.

Shirley Robbins, manager of the club, announced that 28 players had paid their entry fee by Sunday night. Twenty-three of those had turned in qualifying scores.

Bob Battle, Colorado City, was low with a par 71.

Only two other players besides Battle was able to negotiate the course in the 70's. Theron Hicks, Big Spring, had a 75 as did James Pritchett, Colorado.

Jap Aviators In Alaska

ROME, Alaska, Aug. 28 (AP)—Their first and most difficult flight safely over a round-the-world goodnight service their twin-motored monoplane today for a hop to Whitehorse, Yukon Territory, en route to the United States.

They brought the plane, named the Nippon, down here at 11:02 a. m. (4:02 p. m. CST) yesterday at the end of a 2,400-mile flight across the north Pacific and Bering seas from Hokkaido Island.

All seven stepped out fresh and unperturbed by the 16-hour flight made in hazardous weather.

Plans were to take off again today for Whitehorse, weather permitting, then fly to Vancouver, B. C., Seattle, San Francisco and Los Angeles before turning east across the United States.

Pilot Sumitohi Nakao, holder of a Berlin-to-Tokyo flight record, is in command of the ship, flying under sponsorship of the Tokyo newspaper, Nichi Nichi, and the Osaka Mainichi, aviation-minded Japanese newspapers. All seven crew members are on the staffs of the papers.

The plane, Japanese built, has a cruising speed of 165 miles an hour. Pilot Nakao said he flew through 25 below zero weather and snow and rain.

Echoes On War Crisis

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Security markets stirred uneasily today, with Wall Street stock prices off $1 to $2 in leading issues at the worst, while war-time control was extended over the world's financial machinery.

A slow rally cut losses after an early dip partly erased the gains scored toward the end of last week. Trading was in moderate volume.

Without the anchor of a stable British exchange rate, foreign currencies swung wildly. Some were quoted only nominally. The pound sterling at one time here traded around 63, off about 20 cents from last week's final quotation.

Brussels Conference

BRUSSELS, Aug. 28 (AP)—A meeting of the Belgian cabinet was interrupted today to allow the French ambassador to confer with the Belgian foreign minister. The ambassador previously had been granted an audience by King Leopold.

The defense ministry announced final mobilization had been ordered to bring the air patrol of the frontier to full strength.

Railroad connections with Germany were reopened after being closed temporarily last night.

Air Service Halted

PARIS, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Air France company announced suspension today of airlines linking Paris with Berlin, Rome, Bucharest, Turin, Milan, Geneva, Zurich, El Touagret, Marseille, Bordeaux and Bari.

All seasonal service also was canceled.

The line further announced its planes between Paris and Stockholm would fly for the last time today.

Air services will continue normally between Paris and London, Marseille, Casablanca, Algiers, Tunis and Dakar as well as the lines serving Syria and the Far East.

Netherlands Mobilize

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 28 (AP)—With a general mobilization order, the Netherlands today prepared to swell its army and navy to three times its present strength.

By tomorrow the Netherlands expects to have 400,000 men under arms. It now has 130,000 men mobilized.

Naval reserves will be called to man second line ships. The men-of-war on the first line have long been ready.

Approving Pact

MOSCOW, Aug. 28 (AP)—Soviet Russia's parliament took the first steps toward formal endorsement of the German-Russian nonaggression pact today.

The lower house in a four-minute session, at which Premier-Foreign Minister Molotov was given a huge ovation, adopted an agenda which included agricultural taxation and compulsory military service measures along with the nonaggression pact—the two preceding bills making it likely the pact would not reach formal ratification before tomorrow.

Troops Being Moved

BUDAPEST, Aug. 28 (AP)—The Slovak government closed its frontier with Hungary at midnight last night.

Reports from Bratislava said German troops were pouring into the Slovak capital, from Vienna and being taken by train and bus north to the Polish frontier.

SAYS AMERICA WILL BE FORCED INTO WAR

BOSTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—National Commander Eugene I. Van Antwerp told the 40th convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today "we might as well accept the fact that we will try to force America to take part when another world war gets underway."

"We know from experience that belligerents have no respect for the rights of neutrals," he declared in a prepared address. "We know that force is our only defense against an invasion of our rights as a world power."

Calling upon the convention to "take a realistic view of matters," Van Antwerp asserted that while the American people do not want war "they will tolerate nothing that threatens our peace and security."

ment form explaining its position in the uproar over the crude price cuts.

Further questioned by Thompson for detail on Humble prices and markets, Wilcox answered, and Hines Baker, of Houston, Humble director and attorney, objected.

"We just want to see what unwanted crude is being produced so regulatory authorities can act to prevent waste," Thompson said.

"Here we have before us the biggest crude purchaser in the world. We only want to find where the crude is coming from. This is the man who can tell us."

Chairman Len Smith of the railroad commission ruled Wilcox did not have to answer unless he wanted to.

Concerning purchasing policy, Wilcox said the company preferred to buy only the crude it needed, but would, under some circumstances, increase its stocks beyond that point.

It favored conservation, he testified.

MARKETS Wall Street

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Under the leadership of stocks and metals, stocks rallied selectively in today's market after an early tumble of one to four points attributed mainly to a revival of European war tension.

Prices began to improve around mid-day and, in late dealings, extreme losses were reduced in many instances or converted into modest advances. Most closing quotations, however, were on the upside, revealing giving away here and there at the finish.

Traders in the forenoon reverted to pessimism and scurried to neutral territory. Offerings, however, were comparatively light and this, brokers said, tended to bring in a little support.

Transfers for the five hours approximated 700,000 shares. The feeling in boardrooms was that war or peace would be decided probably within the space of hours.

She was one of 12 chamber secretaries participating in a "school of tourism" conducted under the auspices of the El Paso Gateway club.

Purpose of the new organization is to furnish "correct, comprehensive directions to tourist through the Southwest." The new organization will hold semi-annual meetings.

J. W. Farris, National Park Service, Charles, Sutton, U. S. Forest Service, and Col. Thomas Boles, superintendent of Carlsbad Caverns, addressed the unit in its final sessions.

Other officers named were Bernice Strawn, Alpine, first vice-president, J. Betty Bush, Las Cruces, N. M., second vice-president, and Shirley Whitlow, Douglas, Ariz., secretary.

Building More Trench Silos

Mounting popularity of the trench silo as an essential part of Howard county farms promises to leave one of every seven farms in the county with such feed storage by the end of the year.

In a radio talk Monday morning County Agent O. P. Griffin said that 78 farmers had declared their intention of filling new trench silos this fall, which, 69 already in use, will give the county 145 underground silos. This will establish a ratio of about one for every seven farms.

"There should be a successful trench silo on every farm," said Griffin. "If all were successful as they should, there would soon be a silo on every farm."

According to the agent, "feed production to be profitable should be marketed through livestock, but livestock on the farm cannot be profitable without a steady supply of feed." Trench silos insure against an erratic supply such as maintained in stacks.

He advised farmers to pattern their silos after those successfully in use. Griffin warned against making the silo too large for the amount of feeding to be done and suggested that for average needs several small silos would be more effective.

As to construction he emphasized sloping sides so that weight of the feed will keep it tight against sides as it sinks. Feed should be arched well above the ground level to prevent the dirt cover from cracking.

In filling, the feed should be kept thoroughly wet with good living water. Bundles feed should be shingled in after the string has been cut. The tighter the feed is packed, the better. The problem is to exclude the maximum amount of air.

"If you have a feed crop," said Griffin, "there is no better way to store it than in a trench silo. It may be a little more trouble to feed out, but you should take out about twice as much feed value as the same feed kept in a stack for one year."

Rug Cleaning Firm Opens For Business In Big Spring

Announcement was made Monday of the opening of a new type of firm in Big Spring, the Klen-O-Rug company, which will specialize in cleaning and renovating all rugs and carpets. Location is at 809 West Third street.

Proprietors of the concern are Harvey Savig and Tommy Barber, who have moved here from Mineral Wells, where they resided for a number of years and operated a similar service.

Savig and Barber said they would guarantee satisfaction on every rug cleaning job, and promised that "when we are finished with renovating all rugs will look like new." All items are de-oiled and de-mothed, they said.

The Klen-O-Rug firm will maintain delivery service, and eight-hour service is assured on each job. All rugs and carpets will be insured while in possession of the company, the operators said.

must themselves negotiate any settlement of their dispute; Poland is ready to negotiate on a basis of complete equality and when the threat of force is removed; Great Britain is ready to help create favorable conditions for a general European settlement.

"If Germany will make her contribution; but, finally, if Poland has to resist any vital threat to her independence, Great Britain will be at her side immediately.

A source close to the government indicated Britain did not regard Hitler's publication of his letter to Premier Daladier of France, embodying a flat demand for Danzig and Pomerania (the Polish Corridor) either as heightening or lessening the present crisis.

Britain's position, the authoritative London Times said editorially today "could hardly be better stated" than in the weekend "message to the German people" issued by the British national council of labor.

This message said, "There need be no war, if the threat of force is renounced. But if Poland is attacked, Germany will be at war with Poland only, but from the first day, with Great Britain and France, who both stand firmly by their pledges."

British

might be taken up in the future.

The foeber argued he was least with Poland.

"I have made an offer to the Polish government which shocked the German people," he said. "Nobody but myself could even dare to go before the public with such an offer. It could therefore be made only once.

"I am deeply convinced that if especially England at that time had, instead of starting a wild campaign against Germany in the press and instead of launching rumors of a German mobilization, somehow talked the Poles into being reasonable, Europe today and for 25 years could enjoy a condition of deepest peace.

"As things were, however, Polish public opinion was excited by a lie about German aggression.

"The Polish government declined the proposed Polish public opinion, convinced that England and France would now fight for Poland, began to make demands which one might possibly stigmatize as laughable insanity were they not so tremendously dangerous. At that point an unbearable terror, a physical and economic persecution of the Germans, although the numbers were more than a million and a half, began in the regions ceded by the Belgians.

"I see no ray of persuading Poland, which feels herself as unassailable now that she enjoys the protection of her guarantees, to accept a peaceful solution. I should, however, despair of an honorable future for my people, if it were not determined under such circumstances to solve the problem in one way or another."

Hitler concluded:

"That our two peoples should now enter a new, bloody war of destruction is painful not only for you but also for me, Herr Daladier. As already observed, I see no possibility for us on our part to exert influence in the direction of reasonableness upon Poland for correcting a situation that is unbearable for the German people and the German Reich."

The question of whether Germany's enlarged demands left any room for negotiation remained unanswered. But apparently the problem was made no easier by the Hitler letter. Europe today still did not know whether it was heading for war, or an eleven-hour compromise.

"I am bound to tell you personally and our two peoples that the fate of peace still lies in your hands," Daladier told Hitler at the start of his original plea to the Fuehrer.

The French premier told Hitler France would fulfill her obligations to Poland and was confident of her allies. But, he assured, there is nothing in the Polish-German issue which could not be subjected to procedure for a just and peaceful solution.

"In such a serious hour," he said, "I believe sincerely that no noble-thinking man could understand that a war of destruction should be undertaken without a last attempt of a peaceful solution between Germany and Poland. Your will to peace could be applied with all determination without doing harm in any way to the German cause."

Defense Regulations

LONDON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Defense regulations so sweeping they required pages to summarize—varying from the control of carrier pigeons to the operation of lighthouses—were published by Great Britain today.

The minister of transport now may operate the railroads. Land may be taken over to produce war foods.

Military areas were closed. Use of cameras was restricted. Codes and mails were made subject to restrictions. All public utilities were put under new regulations.

be drawn" from the current "waiting phase."

Gayda again affirmed Italy's solidarity with Germany, in recognition of Germany's "just demands."

Hitler has kept Mussolini informed of his proposal to the British government and his intentions in four exchanges of messages between them the past three days.

St. Erzey Louisa, the British ambassador, conferred with Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian foreign minister, yesterday.

German Ambassador Hans-Georg Viktor von Magkensen delivered a telephonic message from Hitler to Mussolini yesterday.

Those acquainted with Mussolini's viewpoint thought it likely he was insisting on the recognition of Italian claims on France in any general settlement.

In diplomatic quarters there was feeling Britain, while rejecting Hitler's scheme, would counter with a sweeping plan to make raw materials available to Germany and Italy, among other things.
