

Has Goose come back?

With the World Series fast approaching - and with the NFL strike still under way as I write this tome, my thoughts once again turn to the National Pastime baseball.

Or as Orestes "Minnie" Minoso used to say, "beizbol."

I have to admit that I am an inveterate reader of the box scores. You know, those writeups in the daily papers listing how each baseball player did. The bad thing is I'm beginning to learn how old I am because I have a tendency to identify the current crop of names with baseball players long past.

Since the box scores only list last names, and I haven't kept up as well as I should have with current big league rosters, my mind turns back to yesteryear when I spot those monikers.

Let me give you some examples:

Toronto has a "GBell." Can that be Gus "Goose" Bell, Texico Homecoming Queen Twilla Longo and King Larry Dudley with crown bearers Sam Singleterry and Nicki Reyes.

Texico honors Longo, Dudley

Winners of the Texico Homecoming Competitions were announced on Oct. 9.

Twilla Longo and Larry Dudley were crowned homecoming queen and king by last year's king, Kyle Snipes and last year's runner up, Coy Jo Burch. Last year's homecoming queen, Kelly Lynn, was unable to attend.

Sam Singleterry and Nicki Reyes were the crown bearers. Members of the court included, Heather Delaney, Keith Harrison, Angie Liggins, Lance Akers, Dena McDaniel, Urban Orozco, Geneva Garcia, and Justin Barnes

Dress up days winners were announced at the pep rally on Friday morning. Monday, Sunglasses and Socks Day, was won by Kristi Neie and Ritchie Pierce for the elementary, Randy McDaniel and Lourdes Rangel for the junior high, and Lilo Perea and Laura Sides and Mrs. Burch for the high school. Honorable mention goes to the THS Volleyball team. Tuesday, Favorite Star Day, winners were: Mandy Helmer and Ronnie Jack Clark for the elementary, Matthew Williams and Fabian Garcia for the junior high, and Andria Chadwick and Mrs. Leighton for the high school. Wednesday, Dress up day, winners were: Yadira Hernandez and Josh Lynn for the elementary, Charles Williams, Tina Smith, and Nash Armstrong for the junior high, and Dena Mc-Daniel, Keith Harrison and Mr. Warmuth for the senior high.

Briones grabs contest victory

After two weeks of relatively high scores, it was another toughie for entrants in the 29th annual Merchants Football Contest last week.

A whole bunch of college upsets dominated the contest. Unbeaten Notre Dame fell to Pittsburgh. High-flying Arizona State bowed to Washington. And Michigan State stopped ranked Michigan.

Five participants had 10 right: Michele Kirkland, Greg Akers, Kent Harding, Carol Gonzales and Isaac Briones.

Briones, of Hereford, was declared the first place win-the old Cincinnati Red slugger? Gus Bell was a Cincinnati "Redleg" back in the 50's. Do you recall that during the Red Scare of the 1950s, the Cincinnati baseball franchise changed their knickname from Reds to Redlegs for a couple of years?

I see "Boone" is catching for the Angels. I always though Ray Boone played 3rd for Detroit. And the Braves have a catcher named "Virgil." It turns out this Virgil is the son of Ossie Virgil, who used to be the backstop for the old New York Giants.

And "Brock" plays first base for Milwaukee. Every time I see "Brock," I just shake my head. It was the worst trade in the history of baseball when the Cubs traded Lou Brock to St. Louis for a sore-armed pitcher by the name of Ernie Broglio. I used to follow Hall of Famer Brock when he was hitting over .400 for St. Cloud, a AA entry in the Northern League. But the Cub College of Coaches (when they tried to go without a manager) messed him up for awhile.

"Lyons" is now playing 3rd base for the ChiSox. That isn't the great Chicago pitcher Ted Lyons, is it? They haven't moved him off the mound...

Detroit has a shortstop named "Baker." It reminds me of 1955 when the Cubs introduced its new infield combo of Ernie Banks at short and Gene Baker at second. Baker was soon traded to the Phillies where he had a productive career. I wonder how Banks did (just kidding...).

The Twins have a pinch hitter specialist named "Smalley." Yes, he is the son of the old Cubbie Roy Smalley. Speaking of the 1952 Cubs, the second baseman who teamed up with Smalley Sr. was Wayne Terwilliger. The "Twig" now coaches for the Twins and is in his first post-season playoff.

The Gards have a pitched

Thursday, Sadie Hawkins Day, winners were: Lindsey Burford and Misty Barnes for the elementary, Justin Bollinger for the junior high, and La Shonna Foreman for the high school.

Friday, Green and White Day, winners were: Tonya Barton and Jessica Hadley for the elementary, Wendy Isaac for the junior high, and Mrs. Leighton for the high school.

Poster contest winners for the elementary school were: 1st, Mrs. Turnbough's class; 2nd, Miss Aragon's class, and 3rd, Mrs. Lynn's Class.

Poster contest winners for the junior high school were: 1st, 6th grade, "Swallow the Bobcats;" 2nd, 7th grade, "Bang the Bobcats,"and 3rd, 8th grade, "Terminate the Bobcats."

High school poster contest winners were: 1st, FFA, "Bust the Bobcats;" 2nd seniors, "Boot the Bobcats," and 3rd, the sophomores, "Bomb the Bobcats."

The float contest winners were announced at the pep rally. The elementary winners were: 1st, Mrs. Jenkins' kindergarten,"Only in America;" 2nd, Mrs. Dunsworth's class, "Cage the Bobcats," and 3rd, Mrs. Olivas' class, "Bury the Bobcats."

Float contest winners for the junior high were: 1st, 8th grade, "Bonkers;" 2nd, 7th grade, "Tomb It May Concern," and 3rd place, FFA, "Brew the Bobcats."

Bullock said the agency's switchboard and toll-free number (1-800-252-5555) is open from 7:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. on weekdays.

"We're just flat swamped," Bullock said, noting there has been an 85 percent increase in telephone calls in the past four weeks.

An increase in the state's sales tax rate to 6 percent took effect on Oct. 1, as well as the extension of the tax to many services.

Anti-crime tips given

Farwell Neighborhood Watch coordinator Frances Kube passes on these tips for local residents:

Use good locks on all exterior doors and windows in your home. Use solid core doors because they are more difficult to break than hollow core wood doors.

Remove or trim shrubbery that hides doors and windows so that neighbors or passersby will be able to see someone trying to break into your home.

Light the outside of your home brightly to discourage prowling or loitering. A security light that comes on automatically on night is a good investment.

Kepp blinds, shades and drapes closed at night.

Always lock your door, even if you leave your home for just a few minues or a trip to the grocery store. Engrave all your valuable property. Keep a record of the serial numbers on valuable equipment. Photograph other valuables. Kepp photographs and records of serial numbers in a separate place or safety deposit box. You will need this for insurance purposes.

Have phone numbers for emrgencies such as police, fire and paramedic services, on every telephone in the house.

Emergency Numbers

For Farwell Fire Department, ambulance, Parmer County sheriff and Texas state police - 911 (in city) or 481-3303 (in country area).

Texico fire department, ambulance or Texico city marshal - 763-3482.

New Mexico state police - 763-3426. Curry County sheriff - 769-2335.

Everyone is reminded that they can still get their Neighborhood Watch decals at the Farwell City Hall.

Kalbas, Ratke vows recited

Donna Gail Kalbas and Michael Dean Ratke were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony at St. John Lutheran Church in Lariat on Sept. 6.

Mrs. Ratke is the daughter of Wilbert and Mary Kalbas of Farwell. Mr. Ratke is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ratke of Bessie, Okla. Officiating at the ceremony was the Rev. Mac Bearss.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents; her father escorted her to the altar.

The maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Sharon Kalbas of Amarillo. The best man was Paul Ratke of Stillwater, Okla., brother of the groom.

Bridesmaids were Diana Estle of Rockwall, Texas, and Susan Blake of Canyon.

Groomsmen were Allen Kalbas, brother of the bride, and Randy K. Willard of Tulsa, Okla. Brian Bose of Bessie, Okla. was head usher.

Acolyte was Kirk Lingnau, cousin of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of white satin styled with a mandarin collar of Venice lace, sequins, and pearls. The sweetheart bodice featured scalloped boarders and dropped waist torso adorned with rose appliques, pearls and sequins. The full skirt was scalloped at the hem and swept to a cathedral train with cameo lace appliques and inserts. The low sheer back was accented with a row of satin-covered buttons.

The bride's headpiece was made of white seguins and pearls with satin and iridescent leaves.

She carried a cascade bouquet of fresh white roses, stephanotis, and spider mums accented with blue mini carnations, blue satin ribbon and white iridescent lace ribbon.

The bride wore a blue garter that was worn by her mother at her wedding as something old, borrowed, and blue.

The groom also chose something old for his wedding; hiswedding band was his maternal grandfather's wedding band.

The feminine attendants wore sky blue satin, tea length gowns. The bodices were covered with chantilly lace of the same color which featured, straight necklines in front and scooping backs. The gowns were fashioned by Peggy Haseloff.

The bride's attendants carried nosegays of flowers and ribbons made of the same materials as the bride's bouquet.

The mother of the bride wore a medium blue, street-length dress with pleated skirt and adorned at the waist with lace. She wore a white orchid and had white roses in her hair.

The mother of the groom wore a blue street-length shirtwaist dress. She wore a white orchid.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with cutaway jacket and tails, black bowtie and black cummerbund. The groom's attendants wore black tuxedos with sky blue bow ties and cummerbund that matched the bridesmaid's dresses.

The organist was Janell Janhsen, the bride's aunt. She provided a selection of pre-service music and accompanied the remaining music. The soloist was Jane Schwartz of Clinton, Okla.; she sang "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring." Other music included: "Lord, Take My Hand and Lead Me," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and the recessional, "Trumpet Tune."

The church was decorated with fresh flowers including white gladioli, white roses, blue spider mums, and blue carnations. Ivy adorned the railing near the altar. Pews were decorated with blue bows and baby's breath. On the organ sat a bouquet of white and blue carnations, white roses, baby's breath in a vase given to the couple as a wedding gift.

The reception was held at the church parish hall following the wedding service. The serving table was covered with a shirred skirt. The cake was a four-tiered cake with a lighted fountain at the bottom, surrounded by seven small satellite cakes at the base. The cake was adorned with fresh flowers instead of sugar flowers. The cake was topped with a pair of glass love birds surrounded by an arch covered with white net, small lights, satin leaves, and pearls. Each satellite cake had vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, and lemon layers. A crystal punch bowl containing sherbert punch was at either end of the serving area. The appointments were crystal plates and cups with goldtone flatware.

Attendants at the cake and punch table were Kristin Janhsen, and Kara Janhsen of Amarillo, Judy Lingnau of Lubbock, Paula Hukill of Lubbock, Brenda East, and Linda Jones of Clinton, Okla.

Following the reception in the parish hall, the parents of the bride hosted a buffet dinner at the Farwell Community Center. Dinner and dance music were provided by Tom Collins and Company of Lubbock.

Following the dinner and dancing, the couple left for their wedding trip to New York City. The bride wore a white satin sundress with a tunic covering the bodice of white chantilly lace. She also wore white satin pumps.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock.

Mrs. Ratke is a graduate of Farwell High School. She attended Texas Tech University and Southwestern Oklahoma State University School of Pharmacy.

The groom is a graduate of Cordell High School. He holds a master's degree from Southwestern Oklahoma State University in business administration in economics and finance.

Amendments viewed

AUSTIN - Among the 25 proposed constitutional amendments on the Nov. 3 ballot are eight that would affect significantly areas of state government or laws enforced by the state courts. Each will play an important role in shaping Texas' future and should be considered carefully by the voters.

In the second of our five-part series examining the Nov. 3 referendum, we will look at these eight amendments. While all are important, we will examine the more complicated of the eight first, saving the more easily explained amendments for later.

Proposition 9 would alter longstanding constitutional rules prohibiting a legislator from seeking statewide office during mid-term if that legislator had voted to increase the pay for the statewide office in question. It also would remove the prohibition against a lawmaker being appointed to serve on the governing board of a state agency. The constitution long has contained such prohibitions because of a fear that a legislator could engineer a large salary increase for a statewide office, then run for that office without risk to his or her legislative seat. This amendment

"I was very pleased with our play especially with our serving. We served 90.5% which is extremely good. Our passing and floor positioning was much better also. We are extremely happy to beat a team that beat us earlier in the year," said coach Michael Littlejohn.

The 7-8th grade team next plays Floyd on Oct. 13.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

would remove that prohibition but maintain the protections against a legislator raising the salary for an office and then enjoying the benefits. Under the new provision, a mid-term legislator elected to a statewide office could not accept any pay increase approved by the Legislature in which that person served.

The prohibition against a lawmaker being appointed to the governing board of a state agency was put in place for the same reason as the prohibition against a mid-term lawmaker seeking statewide office. The same restrictions on pay would apply to appointments as to elections, so the author of Proposition 9 felt the second prohibition could be removed too. Proposition 14 is only slightly less complicated than Proposition 9. Proposition 14 would allow the state to appeal adverse findings of law in certain criminal cases.

Currently the state can make no appeal if it loses a case because such an appeal would be tantamount to placing the defendant in double jeporady, a concept prohibited by the U.S. Constitution. This can put the state in a bind if a trial judge makes an unprecedented adverse ruling on, say, the admissability of a piece of evidence, and the defendant goes on to win the case. The judge's ruling could affect criminal law forever in the state, and the state has no way to appeal.

This amendment would give the state the right to appeal only the ruling of law in the case. Proponents say this amendment would than have future controversy, a bipartisan agreement was reached and is being submitted to the voters as Proposition 22.

This amendment would give the Legislature the authority to limit the governor's power to make an appointment after Nov. 1 of a gubernatorial election year, if the sitting governor was not re-elected. Most agree this is the best way to avoid future controversy.

Proposition 21 would allow the speaker of the House of Representatives to be considered a member of the executive branch of government so that the speaker may serve on certain boards that oversee functions of state government, and the constitution currently does not designate the speaker as a member of the executive branch.

Proponents say this amendment merely will provide better legislative oversight of state functions. Opponents contend the speaker should not be considered a member of the executive branch because the speaker is not elected statewide but rather receives his power from his 149 House colleagues.

Proposition 1 would put the state in the business of forming and financing a self-insurance pool for grain warehouses. Insurance for warehouses has become a matter of concern since the depressed agricultural economy has left many warehouses in financial trouble. This, in turn, poses a financial risk for farmers who store their grain in warehouses.

Proponents say the pooling plan represents a relatively inexpensive way for the state to shore up these risky warehouses. Opponents say it represents a dangerouse use of taxpayer dollars and also point out there is no legislation backing the amendment.

Proposition 17 is related to the tort-reform legislation passed this year. It would allow the Legislature, rather than the courts, to define what constitutes a governmental or proprietary function of a municipal government. A city's liability is limited when performing governmental functions but not when performing proprietary functions. Those backing the amendment feel the courts have unnecessarily expanded the definition of proprietary functions and that this the amendment is the only way too protect cities from frivilous lawsuits. Opponents of the amendment feel it will restrict a citizen's right to sue even when the citizen truly has been wronged by a city's negligent actions.

Proposition 12 and 22 both are housekeeping amendments of sorts. Proposition 12 would change the constitution to guarantee that married couples legally can designate the surviving spouse as the sole beneficiary in case of the death of one. Proposition 24 would make it legal for a county to perform free of charge services for another unit government located wholly within the county. Neither proposition has strong opposition. If you have questions about these proposed amendments, or other issues, please write us at P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas, 78711.

JH scrimmages

Farwell Junior High scrimmaged against Bovina on Oct. 8.

The Farwell 7th grade team was defeated by 3 touchdowns, but "they are showing improvement; they know their positions, and they seem to know what they were doing," said Coach Gary Cates.

The Farwell 8th grade lost on Oct. 15, at 5 p.m.

Texico FFA plans fund-raiser

The Texico FFA is having a gigantic garage sale Oct. 24 from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. (MST) at the Texico High School Ag. Shop.

They would appreciate any donations. The proceeds will be used for supporting the Texico FFA delegates to attend the National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., in November. If you have items for donations that need to be picked up, please call one of the following: Bret Taylor (FFA president), 482, 3449; Eddie West (FFA Advisor), 482-3457; or Texico High School 482-3305. All items need to be in by Oct. 21.

The Texico 9th grade team defeated the Portales 8th grade volleyball team 15-13, and 15-2.

"We started out very sluggish missing our first three serves before finally getting started! We played much better the second game putting everything together," said Littlejohn.

The team next plays at Melrose on Thursday at 5 p.m. The Texico JV team beat the Portales 9th grade team 15-7 and 15-5.

"The team played very well. I am pleased with passing, setting, and spiking. Serving could have been better. This was a match where everyone got to play and get some experience," said Littlejohn.

Texico's JV team played Floyd at Texico on Oct. 13 and at Melrose on Oct. 15.

Texico discusses possibly regulating semi-trailors

How to regulate trucks in Texico was the main discussion at Tuesday's meeting of the Texico City Council.

In next week's State Line Tribune, a questionnaire will be carried asking residents' views on the topic. Also, the proposed ordinance regulating semi trailers will be published in that issue.

presented the proposed ordinance at Tuesday's meeting but made it clear he was still unsure of a final version.

The main questions are: What kinds of semi trailers should be kept off city streets - all of them, or just those with heavy loads?

 How do you enforce the regulation? If the load is the criteria, should the city marshal force the trucker to take his truck to the Port of Entry where it can be weighed?

 How do you solve the problem of heavy trucks causing damage to city streets?

The council made it clear City Attorney Duane Hamar that they want advice from truckers who live in the city and drive those trucks home. But they also want views from all residents as to the problem.

> Ideas voiced included restricting semi -trailers to certain streets or certain areas. While the council said they didn't want to penalize truckers, it was noted that "right now, the taxpayers are being penalized due to the ripping up of the streets."

In other business, the council:

- Agreed to propose an ordinance restricting businesses which display sexually -oriented materials or conduct.

- Heard a report that repairing city streets is under way. $35,000 has been budgeted for this year's work.

Discussed remodeling City Hall.

 Asked city employees to fix the leak in the water line at the city swimming pool before next spring.

Amanda Johnson, Tracy Cline and Christi Phillips.

Those being recognized for their work in Mission Adventures were: Christi Corn. Jamie Bethel, Jaime Morton, Julie Mitzelfelt, Joy Morton, Shelly Bethel, Charla Corn, and Shiloh Roberts.

Helton may seek post

Hal Helton announced at Tuesday's meeting of the Texico - Farwell Lions Club that he was seriously considering running for district governor.

Also, James Craig, Lions club member and Farwell Elementary School principal, said he would go ahead with the McGruff program at his school. This is an anti-crime program for young people.

The Lions Club is paying the full cost of the program. Its initial expense is expected to be about $600.

Texico Schools also will be asked to see if they would like to participate.

Lee Hutchins reported that signs are being made to be placed near the highway welcoming folks to Texico -Farwell. The Rotary Club is sharing the expense of this project.

Bovina turns back Steers

by Robby Dyer

Combine the Farwell Steers and the Bovina Mustangs in a fast paced hard hitting game, and what do you have? You get a super action packed evening with several surprising maneuvers and turnabouts. Even though the Steers lost to the Mustangs, 17-6, the Steers moved the ball well and made some great plays.

At the start, Donald Rubio kicked the ball for the Steers. Bovina grabbed it and ran it 15 yards before the Steers stopped the Mustangs in their tracks. Then the Steer defense recovered the ball at the 40 after Bovina fumbled. Then Jeff Actkinson punted for the Steers to the 5 yard line. This was followed by two more punts – one from Bovina, and then another from the Steers by Jeff Actkinson. Bovina then made a break for the endzone, and Damon George and Donald Rubio both made spectacular long range tackles. Bovina kicked a field goal for a 3-0 lead.

Jeff Actkinson returned the punt for 25 yards. Then Farwell had a high snap on the punt, but Jeff Actkinson recovered it and threw it down field for an outstanding effort although resulting in an incomplete pass. Then the Steers wrapped up the first quarter by stopping Bovina at the 20. The first quarter ended Steers 0, Mustangs 3.

The first quarter ended Steers 0, Mustangs 3. Early in the second quarter, Jeff Actkinson punted 60 yards for the Steers. Then Bovina grounded out a TD.

Coach Rex Cumpton stated, "We had an emotional letdown after the game against Petersburg. We made some real costly mistakes at critical times during the game that stopped drives."

All through the 3rd quarter, defense on both teams kept the quarter scoreless. Then, late in the third quarter, Bovina made another TD.

Halfway through the 4th, Farwell's Jeff Actkinson scored a TD. The Steers missed the extra point.

Donald Rubio kicked for the Steers. Then Bovina punted. The Steers made a superb effort and fought hard all through the game, but the final score ended up 17-6. Steers of the Week

Damon George is Offensive Steer of the Week. George gained 52 yards on 15 carries, and he received a 30 yard pass. Jaime Mendoza is the defensive Steer of the week; he made 13 tackles - 4 unassisted.

"We were able to move the ball fairly well," said Cumpton. "But, our mental intensity was not always there. The district is still a wide-open race and we can still contend for a championship. Our next game is Friday at Farwell against Whiteface at 7:30, and it's Homecoming."

The offensive player of the week was Damon George who made 52 yards on 15 carries and received the ball on a 30 yard pass.

The defensive player of the week is Jaime Mendoza. He made 13 tackles, 4 of which were unassisted. Joe Jaime had 9 carries for 50 yards.

Jeff Actkinson had 11 caries for 37 yards, and 1 touchdown.

Bony Nicolas received one pass for 25 yards.

Farwell made 141 yards rushing in 35 attempts. They completed 3 passes for 62 yards. The Steers gained a total of 203 yards. Farwell made 8 first downs. They averaged 40 yards on each of their 6 punts. They lost 65 yards on 8 penalties.

Bovina made 145 yards rushing in 35 attempts. They completed 2 passes for 38 yards. Total yards gained by Bovina was 183. They scored 10 first downs. They punted 6 times for an average gain of 32 yards. They lost 95 yards on their 12 penalties.

Tammy Willard gives testimony

Tammy Willard presented a program to members of Alpha Rho Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi when they met at the home of Colleen Stover on Oct. 13.

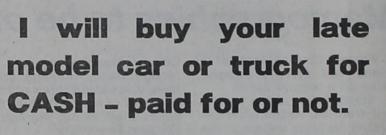

Mrs. Willard gave a testimony about how God had changed her life, and talked about some of the interesting things that have happened to her since she turned her life over to God. She also displayed gift ideas from her shop, The Master's Bookroom.

During the business meeting, the topics of discussion included upcoming social events and community service projects.

The chapter will assist with the distribution of cheese on Oct. 22 at the Farwell Community Center.

Attending the meeting were Debbie Phillips, Robyn Palady, Leigh Ann Woods, Linda Foster, Nedda Travis, Kendale Burch, Peggy Goettsch, Cynthia Thigpen, Colleen Stover, Gaye Roberts, Lynne Mahaney, Joan Johnson, Leesa Stephens, Anne Norton, Jennifer Bearss, Sherry Christian, Kittie Johnson, Joyce Ketcherside, Judy Pomper, and Rhonda Kirkland.

Following the meeting, members enjoyed Colleen's cheese spread, with vegetables and crackers, banana pudding, and stripped delight.

Ladies Auxiliary plans many special events

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Farwell Convalescent Center met Oct. 12 for its regular business meeting.

The meeting was opened in prayer by Lillis McDonald.

Following the minutes and treasurer's report, Cara Mirabella reported on the hardwork by all to make Border Town Days a success while Lynne Gann told of how much the residents enjoyed the cookout in August and the watermelon feed in September.

Mrs. Mirabella then gave a progress report 'on the project of washers and dryer. Through the help of B&J Plumbing, the washers are being updated and kept in running order. An additional $200 was donated by three individual families to go with the $766 from the Auxiliary. This left a $550 balance for which the Ladies voted to donate for the new heavy duty dryer. or-treaters," 10 years old or under, to the Center to enjoy cookies baked by the Auxiliary volunteers. It was suggested that the children be asked to stay and eat their cookies at the Center so that parents would know for sure where they came from. Residents enjoy the visits by the children dressed in their Halloween outfits.

Volunteers are asked to please bring their cookies to the Center kitchen Friday, Oct. 30. If you have any old gaudy jewelry or funky old hats that you no longer want, please contact Lynne Gann at the Center.

This year's Thanksgiving Dinner for family members and Auxiliary will be held Nov. 24 with serving to begin at 6:30 p.m. The Center will provide turkey, dressing, gravy, bread and beverage while family and Auxiliary members are asked to bring a covered dish. Members will be holding a Bake Sale the 10th, 11th, and 12th at the Beauty Box. To avoid the problem of running out of goodies, different ladies will be asked to bring two or more items on one of the three days. Among the goodies will be homemade breads, pies, cookies, and cereal snack mix.

A committee of six ladies was appointed to help Lynne Gann with the task of decorating the Center and the Christmas Trees. A new wreath for the front door and new decorations will be purchased by the Auxiliary.

The Christmas party for this year is being planned for Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. Apple cider and cookies will be served along with a visit from Santa Claus and singing of Christmas Carols. Committees were appointed to see to other details of the program. for new officers. recipes

The following recipes are from Southwestern Public Service:

Sausage Stuffed Squash

3 small acorn squash

1 c. cornbread stuffing mix 1/4 c. water 1 egg

1 pkg. 8 oz. fully cooked sausage links cut into 1/4 inch pieces

1/2 c. coarsley chopped unpeeled apples

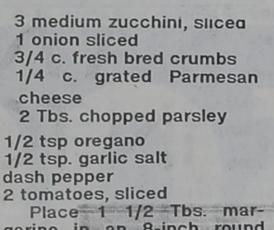

- 3 Tbs. raisins
- 2 Tbs. chopped celery
- 1 Tbs. chopped parsley

2 Tbs. finely chopped onion

Place large-size oven cooking bag in 13x9" baking dish. Wash squash and cut in half crosswise; remove seeds. Combine remaining ingredients to make dressing. Stuff squash with dressing and place in cooking bag. Close bag with nylon tie, make six half-inch slits in top. Microwave on high for about 14-16 minutes, or until squash is tender, turning dish periodically.

Tomato-Zucchini Casserole

3 Tbs. margarine, divided garine in an 8-inch round glass baking dish; microwave on high 30 seconds or until melted. Layer half the zucchini slices and onion rings in margarine. Mix bread crumbs, Parmesan cheese, parsley, oregano, garlic salt, and pepper. Sprinkle 1/3 c. bread crumb mixture over zucchini slices and onion rings in margarine. Top with tomato slices; add another layer of bread crumbs; layer remaining zucchini and onion on top. Sprinkle with bread crumbs; drizzle with remaining melted margarine. Cover with plastic wrap; microwave on high 8 minutes, rotating dish once. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

Craig finds school bargain

Farwell Elementary School Principal James Craig has come up with a great bargain for the school system, Supt. John Grigsby told the School Board Tuesday.

Craig came upon a batch of new quarter-inch aluminum sheets at the Texas Surplus Center. Farwell was able to purchase them for $60 a sheet, compared with regular cost of nearly $400 a sheet, said Grigsby.

The wood will now be completely removed from the bleachers at Roberts Stadium and replaced with these aluminum sheets.

In other business, the board dedicated $2,500 this year for three purposes: developing the school library, sending personnel to curriculum workshops, and getting training for personnel in new curriculum areas the state is considering mandating, such as drug and chemical abuse, self-esteem, drop-out prevention, and AIDS.

These funds were moved from another budgeted area, said Grigsby.

Also, the cost of adult breakfasts was increased from 60 cents to 75 cents.

A committee will be appointed to work out a program for school personnel to participate in a "local leave pool." This will allow them to put some of their local leave days into a pool for emergency use. This will not constitute extra leave days or any expense, said Grigsby.

The number of days students may miss for extracurricular activities was kept the same as last year.

Medication change hindered improvement

Last week there was no story in the Tribune about Kellie Anderson because she was having problems when we called, and her mother was not available to explain what was happening.

Kellie has been in St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix since July 26. She was in a coma for several weeks.

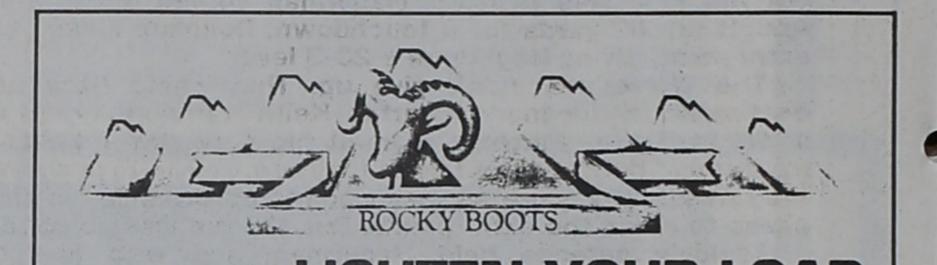

"The doctors have been making adjustments in Kellie's medications, and it really messed her up last week," said her mother, Sallie Ander-Son.

"The doctors took her off one medicine, and then they tried something different. This set off several reactions," said Mrs. Anderson.

Kellie is doing better now than she was last week. She is able to eat without becoming upsest, and she has returned to her physical therapy routine.

"Yesterday she didn't want to stop walking after therapy - she just wanted to keep going, so we did," said her mother.

The Andersons had hoped that Kellie would be ready to return home in time for Farwell's homecoming, but she will not be able to return this week.

conference day OK'd

Tuesday, the Texico School Board voted to make Nov. 3 a parent-teacher conference day.

The schools will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. so that the parents can conveniently meet with the staff members.

"We want to stress that the parents should come even if their child does not have any problems in school. The new building will be open for everyone to see. Parents may pick up report cards for their children in grades 6-12. And, there will be displays of student work," said Supt. James Pierce.

The board voted to approve a proposal to allow three girls to attend the FHA/HERO regional convention in Denver.

The convention will include representatives from all over the western half of the U.S. The FHA members will sponsor a style show on Oct 17 to raise money for the FHA projects.

The board also approved a proposal to allow six FFA members and foreign exchange student, Juan Rojo, to attend the national FFA convention in Kansas City on Nov. 10-16. The FFA will sponsor a rummage sale on field.

Oct. 24 to help raise money for its projects.

The FFA members also received permission to construct a 40x20 ft. concrete slab behind the vocational agricultural building so that the boys will have a place to keep their projects. The FFA members will do the work themselves.

The board approved Senate Memorial 45 which eliminated use of mind altering techniques such as deep meditation, guided imagry, or the teaching of the occult. "We never had any of those things around here, but apparently some part of the state has been having a problem,"commented Pierce.

Some new equipment will be purchased for the schools - lockers, file cabinets, calculators, and desks. The board approved the proposal to do S0.

A small house west of the elementary school will be removed.

The board received an oral report on the review by the State Board of Education's in-depth study. A written report will be issued later The board approved a proposal for a ticket booth to be constructed at the football

The board nominated Mark Schwertner as its candidate for the Parmer County Appraisal District Board.

The board agreed to send Richard Montgomery and a school van along with Farwell student Wayne Pierson and students from 4 other area schools to the National FFA convention in Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 12-14. SPS, which is funding almost all the trip, asked Farwell to provide a vehicle and adult sponsor.

The board discussed Proposition No. 1 on the November ballot, which asks voters whether they support an appointed or elected state Board of Education. Currently, it's appointed.

The board voted 4-2 to endorse an elected state board.

Due to grades, it was reported that 4 or 5 varsity football team players will be ineligible for football the next several weeks.

Grigsby said the September attendance rate was 97%. The enrollment is 520, the highest it has been in a number of years.

The board discussed a proposal to add a physical fitness center, probably just south of the administration building.

Such a center includes different stations for pull-ups, pushups, etc. It could be added to the physical education curriculum. Farwell is eligible for a $4,000 matching grant. The board will meet Monday to further discuss this.

The board hired Connie Cumpton as a special education aide. It also hired Debbie Grigsby to teach art one period a day as an expansion of the theater arts curriculum.

Don't go digging for buried trouble.

Whether you're operating a backhoe at a new construction site or digging up the backyard to put in a new patio, you can follow some simple guidelines to avoid potential accidents involving underground lines.

The first step to digging safely comes before you start the job. Always call Southern Union Gas before you dig. We can provide you with information about the location of our underground facilities in the area where you'll be working.

If it turns out you'll be digging near our underground pipelines, you can minimize the risk of damage by staying alert for the smell of gas before, during and after your work.

If you suspect damage to our underground pipelines, call us right away. Someone will come out immediately to inspect the area and make any repairs that are necessary to make it safe.

Remember, when natural gas is used wisely, it's one of the safest forms of energy around. You can help keep it that way: Just call the people at Southern Union Gas before you dig. We're here to help make sure you don't go digging for buried trouble.

By Janice Jenkins

For their 1987 Homecoming game Texico hosted Hagerman, and lost to the visitors 20-17.

Both teams came onto the field up and ready to play ball. The defenses both played tough as no points were scored in the first quarter.

Texico scored first in the second guarter when Larry Powell kicked a 23 yard field goal. Texico's defense held Hagerman scoreless through most of the first half. But with just 24 seconds left on the clock, Ruben Abbott scored on a 13 yard run; then Hagerman kicked for the extra point and it was good. The first half of play ended with Hagerman on top 7-3.

Hagerman dominated in the third quarter putting 13 points on the board. Junior Eventer scored first on a pass from Robert Donahue. They chose to kick for the extra point, but the kick was blocked. Hagerman scored again when Abbott ran 62 yards for a touchdown. Donahue kicked the extra point, giving Hagerman a 20-3 lead.

The Wolverines didn't give up. They came back and dominated in the fourth guarter. Keith Harrison scored on a 56 yard run. Harrison worked his way down field as excitement built and the Texico fans came alive. Texico knew they needed to score as many points as possible, so they chose to run in the extra points. But, the run was no good.

Texico's defense held Hagerman, and with just 57 seconds left, Harrison scored on a 5 yard pass from Larry Powell. The pass worked, so Texico tried it again for the extra points and was successful.

Late in the game, Harrison caught a pass from Powell in the endzone for two points.

The Big Lick Defensive player was Urban Orozco as he led the Wolverines in tackles. Urban made 10 tackles. Close behind was Robbie Edwards with 8 tackles and 1 block. Paul Brown made 5 tackles and 1 block. Larry Dudley made 4 tackles.

Lance Akers and Keith Harrison both made 3 tackles and 1 block. Harrison also made 1 big defensive play and 3 big defensive plays, as he scored both of Texico's touchdowns and its two extra points.

Mike Williams and Brian Rogers both made three tackles also. Larry Powell made two tackles, but had three big offensive plays as he kicked a field goal, passed for a touchdown and passed for the extra two points. Benjy McDaniel made 1 tackle and came up with two big interceptions. David Johnson made 1 tackle and 1 down field block while Justin Barnes made 1 tackle and a block.

The defense played very well. We just needed to stop Ruben Abbott sooner as he really hurt us on his running yardage that put two touchdowns in for Hagerman.

Big Lick Award

Big Lick offensive Player of the Week is Keith Harrison. Harrison made 3 tackles, 1 downfield block, 1 big play on defense, and 3 big plays on offense Urban Orosczo is defensive Player of the Week. He made 10 tackles and one big play on defense.

had 4-2 yards.

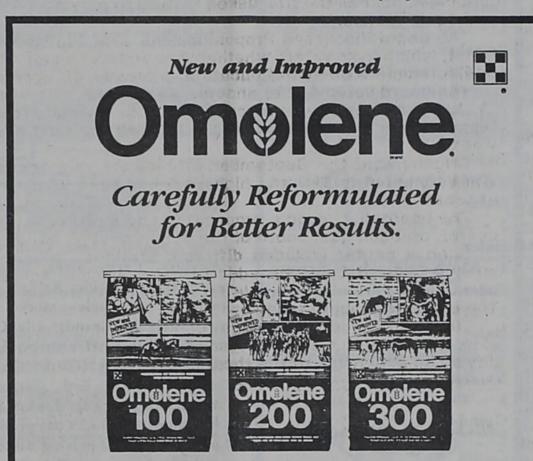

Brian Rogers led in receiving yardage with 3-41 yards. Keith Harrison had 4-30 yards, Benji McDaniel had 1-20 yards, and Larry Dudley had 1-11 rushing yards.

Passing yardage was made by Larry Powell with 8 out of 16 completed for 82 yards and Robbie Edwards with 1 completed out of 3 for 20 yards.

Texico dominated in every area except in scoring. Texico had 12 first downs to Hagerman's 3 and net rushing yards of 36-149 to their 25-95 yards. Texico had 102 net passing yards to their 54 yards and gained a total of 251 yards to Hagerman's 149 yards.

Texico completed 9 passes to Hagerman's 5 and Benji McDaniel intercepted two passes. Both teams had 4 punts, but Texico made 135 yards to their 126 yards. Texico's punting average was 33.8 yards to their 31.5 yards.

Texico will travel to Melrose Oct. 16 to play the Buffaloes.

Letter To The Editor

Where Halloween has its roots

Dear Editor:

October 31. What is your perspective on this day? Just another day? The Lord's day, a day of rejoicing and gladness? Or halloween?

Most of our lives we decorated and participated in the customs of this day, but once we realized the pagan origins of these customs we could no longer participate or have anything to do with them, even to the point of turning off our porch light. As Christians, when we celebrate Christmas we ac-knowledge the birth of Christ, even our rebirth into the kingdom of God through Him. When we celebrate the resurrection, we even celebrate our own resurrection because the Bible says we have been

The Bordertown Heritage Foundation met Tuesday to discuss its plans to try and ing to save the Santa Fe Depot in Texico. The officers are: president, David Kube, vice president, Ann Cooper, secre-tary, Susan Scioli, treasurer, locate the Depot, add a basement, and use it for a public library, Railroad museum and civil defense shel-ter. Cost of this phase of the project would be approximately $200,000. Payment will be made as work progresses. As soon as enough money is donated to relocated the Depot, the Founda-tion will apply for a community Block Grant to cover the cost of renovating, landscap-orating, participating and cel-ebrating we literally become joined with Him in these celebrations.

So when we celebrate halloween and participate in the activities of that day, are we not also joining ourselves with darkness, because it is a well established fact that halloween is the most holy day celebrated by the "Church of Satan" and that it has its roots in "darkness" and that Satan is the prince of darkness.

As Christians we must take a stand against dark-ple in the Texas Panhandle. The area has a very high in-cidence rate of MS. Twenty-five cases per 50,000 people is the average south of the Mason-Dixon line and yet in Dumas along (pop. 13,515), we have over 20 known patients.

We have begun a search to find every MS patient in the Panhandle. Why? Because for each new case we can verify with statistics, we improve our chances of attracting national MS researchers to search our area for the elu- patient information, there is sive cause and cure of this affliction that strikes down so many young adults in the prime of life.

On Oct. 30-31, Dr. Thor Hanson, national MS Society president, will be in Amarillo. At that time, we would like to present him with our survey statistics as proof that this area warrants national attention

Because registering with the MS Society is strictly voluntary and doctors are prohibited from releasing any no accurate way to determine the exact number of area cases, unless we have the public's help.

We are searching for (1) names and addresses of those with MS who lived in the Panhandle the first 15 years of their lives, regardless of present location; (2) deceased MS patients who were reared in the area; (3) those with MS living in the Panhandle who are not registered with the Amarillo MS office, and (4) anyone who lived in the Texas Panhandle for any substantial length of time and was diagnosed as having MS.

If you have any informa-tion you feel would help, please contact the Panhandle chapter of the MS Soci-ety, 1416 W. 8th, Amarillo, TX 79101 (phone 806 - 372-4429) or write: MS Search, Box 663, Dumas, TX 79029. All information is confidential.
