Farwell Steers: District Football Tri-Champions

Texico Lady Spikers: State Volleyball Runners-up

See stories, pictures inside...

Border Banter By Mike Pomper

Thank you, Rex, Michael

We're fortunate to be in the midst of such fine school athletic programs. As I write this column Saturday, the Farwell Steers came from far behind to topple Sudan in football and gain a share of the district championship. Meanwhile, the Texico Lady Spikers, as a wild card, are making another bid for a state championship in volleyball.

Do you think a big "thank you" is in order for coaches Rex Cumpton and Michael Littlejohn? You bet you do. School athletics are very important to the well-being of small communities such as ours. When we have good programs, we feel better about ourselves. It's good to live in a community such as Texico-Farwell.

Although the reminder is elsewhere on this page, I want to stress this: Thanksgiving is next week. That means we publish our paper a day early. So the deadline for getting news and ads to us is Tuesday, 1 p.m. Please don't forget.

One of our local fellas is making a bid to be district governor of our Lions: Hal Helton, who runs Helton Oil here. Hal is yet another one of the reasons why Texico-Farwell is strong.

Hasn't it looked super to see our American flags flying at local businesses on our national holidays? Ever wonder whose idea that was? It was Hal's.

And he just didn't present the idea while serving as Texico-Farwell Lions Club president two years ago. He followed through on it to make it a reality. I've seen a lot of great ideas presented over the years, without follow through (are you reading this, President Carter?).

That's not the case with Hal. He's in his third term as our local Lions Club president and progress continues to be made. With a strong push from John Getz, the Lions Club is sponsoring the nationally acclaimed McGruff anti-crime program in Texico and Farwell elementary schools.

I wish Hal the best of luck in his run for district office; he would do an excellent job for the New Mexico Lions, just as he has been doing for the Texico-Farwell club.

If you ever want to see how government can - and should - operate, a case example is the recent topic handled by the Texico City Council: rules for truckers.

Complaints were made to the council about property damage and city street damage involving semi-trailers. So the council, unsure of what route to follow to try and correct the problem, put out a questionnaire soliciting resident viewpoints.

The council not only received back a bunch of these questionnaires, but they also got a lot of feedback in person from truckers and others.

The culmination was that the council decided that tighter truck rules weren't the answer. Rather, the individual problems that had been

'Cotton looks great'

The area cotton harvest is running behind the normal schedule, but nobody seems to be complaining about it.

Area farmers have enjoyed a longer, drier fall season than usual; it is just what they hoped for. The first killing freeze came later than usual, but it came before most farmers had resorted to using costly defoliants.

Cindy Patterson reported that Farwell Gin had ginned about 200 bales by Nov. 17. Fred Carthel of Pleasant Hill brought in the first bale.

"We've been averaging about 19% yield," said Patterson. Carol Smith at Oklahoma Lane Gin reported that they had gotten off to a slow start this year, but "the cotton looks great! We have ginned about 100 bales, and it goes through the gin really good."

"We've had some farmers average 2 bales per acre with a 22-24% turnout," said Smith. She said that the first few batches that they gin each year are often wet or green.

"We haven't seen as much burr or trash this year as usual. Some years the yield is only about 16% lint from the cotton plant."

Jim Heard of Heard and Caldwell Farm brought in the first bale at Oklahoma Lane Gin.

At Lariat Gin, Yaunda Martin reported that they had just started this year. Calvin Meissner brought in the first bale on Nov. 5.

"We have only processed about 38 bales, and we have only gotten one report back from the compress," said Ms. Martin. It showed a yield of about 800 lbs. of lint per acre.

"We are running about 22% right now, but some of the first cotton we got in had been defoliated. Most of our farmers didn't need to defoliate this year," she added.

At Clay's Corner Gin, Terry Jesko brought in the first bale. "It's looking really good this year," reports Donna Hall.

"We've ginned about 500 bales. They have averaged 800 lbs. of lint per acre - about 1.6 bales per acre. The price is about 1000 points, and we are looking at about 60¢. We are averaging 23 1/2% - some better, some worse," Hall added.

Hall's report was based on 50 grades that they had gotten back by Nov. 16. The grades were for good white cotton.

Farmers will not know exactly how much they have earned until the lint is sent to the compress where the graders check the thickness and tensile strength of the fibers.

"We usually grow low mike cotton in this area," relates farmer Donald Christian. (Low mike cotton is cotton fiber which is not very thick when measured with a micronaire).

Oddly enough, it takes more fibers to make a strand of thread with low mic cotton, but the thread comes out with more tensile strength than thread made from fewer fibers.

The low mike cotton does not usually bring as much money as the long fiber cotton grown in other areas. The High Plains area is a world leader in the production of low mike cotton.

In the ginning process, the cotton lint is separated from the burr and the seed. The lint is baled up and sent to a compress where it is graded and compressed and sold to the mill which makes it into thread or fabric.

Sometimes the percentage of lint to burrs is very low. In those years the burrs and trash are very harmful to the expensive ginning equipment. This year the yields have been good.

The producers pay the gin to separate the cotton from the seed and the burrs. The seed is sold separately from the lint. Seed prices are reportedly low this year.

Dry land cotton was especially good this year. Farmers did not have to pay to irrigate it, and the growing season was

Chancy won't seek Texico re-election

There are three posts open on the Texico city ballot next spring, those of councilmen Steve Chancy and Bryan Kube, and Municipal Judge Howard Billingsley.

Kube and Billingsley said they plan to seek re-election, but Chancy doesn't.

Billingsley, who has been the judge for 10 years, said he will run for re-election.

Kube said he probably will run again.

"I feel a lot more needs to get done to improve the community," said Kube. "The priority is on the streets in town. More paving needs to be done."

Chancy said he was announcing his decision not to run again now so as to give city residents the time and opportunity to seek the open post.

"I hope we will see lots of candidates," Chancy said. "Persons interested in serving on the council shouldn't let their inexperience bother them. I was once at that point. I'll be happy to talk with people about the job. It's really a matter of using common sense and good judgment."

(Information about the election rules is listed in a legal advertisement on the classified page of today's Tribune.)

Ernest Anthony

White, Anthony seek re-election

Both of the Parmer County Commissioners whose posts will be on the 1988 ballot have announced they are seeking re-election.

They are Robert White, Pct. 3 (Farwell area), and Ernest Anthony, Pct. 1 (Frona area).

White has lived in Parmer County his adult life. He and his wife, Doris, have two daughters: Dana attends Texas Tech and Angie is a Farwell High student.

White is a member of the Farwell First Baptist Church, the Farwell Fire Department, the Parmer County Stock Show Board and the Castro - Parmer - Swisher Counties Repository Assessment Commission (which will study the effects of a proposed nuclear waste dump in Deaf Smith County on its surrounding counties).

"If re-elected, I will continue to work to improve the condition of our rural roads and make the wisest decisions I can regarding the disbursement of county funds," said White. "And I will continue to support the government food commodity program."

White is concluding his first term as commissioner. Anthony will seek his fourth term as a commissioner. He has been a resident of Parmer County for 44 years and has farmed north of Frona since that time.

He served for a number of years on the board of stewards at the First United Methodist Church of Frona and was a member of the board of directors for Frona Consumers Cooperative. He serves on the same Repository Assessment Commission as does White, and is a member of the Texas Cattle Feeders Association, the Grain Sorghum Producers Association and the Texas Wheat Growers Association.

"I have enjoyed serving the people of Parmer County and Pct. 1, and if re-elected, will continue to keep the best interests of the taxpayers at heart," Anthony said.

Memorial sponsored in Mesman's memory

Teresa Mesman of Oklahoma Lane reported that she has decided to sponsor an annual excellence award for the American Milk Producers, Inc.'s Young Cooperative Program as a memorial to Tom Mesman's memory.

"Tom was very active in the Young Cooperative Program, and we had become close to many of its members. We felt that this annual award would be a fitting and living memorial to him," said Mrs. Mesman.

Tom died as the result of a farm related accident on Oct. 21.

The final arrangements for the award will be made at the Board of Directors meeting of the Associated Milk Producers Association in Arlington in January. The award will be given at the AMPI national seminar each year.

"We really appreciate the people who donated to Tom's memorial fund, and we want them to know what we have done with the funds," said Mrs. Mesman.

Depot group seeks aid

The group involving in trying to save the old Texico depot, nearly 80 years old, is still hard at work, reports committee member Ann Cooper.

She said the Santa Fe Railroad is looking at Dec. 1 as the date when it needs to see progress being made by the Bordertown Heritage Foundation or it will move ahead with demolition.

The date is a problem with the committee because there is no way they can get a state grant approved to move the depot within that time frame.

The National Society for Historic Preservation had contacted the railroad, to say that guidelines must be followed involving the depot. Mrs. Cooper said the Santa Fe is following guidelines.

Needed is $200,00 to move the depot. The railroad wants to tear it down so it can realign its tracks, the site of several accidents.

The Foundation has been told by state officials that up to $400,000 in grant money is available for projects within their guidelines. But new guidelines are being written for writing grant proposals and they haven't been announced yet.

After that, it would take 3 or 4 months to get a decision on a grant request.

The group has collected more than $1,000 in donations with more than $3,000 pledged. Donations may be sent to: Bordertown Heritage Foundation, Box 592, Texico, N.M. 88135.

The money is being placed in an escrow account and will be returned to contributors if the Foundation fails to save the depot.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Cooper said the Foundation plans to attend Tuesday's Texico City Council meeting to seek its support. If the city council passes a resolution supporting the group, Mrs. Cooper believes this will help show the Santa Fe that progress is being made.

Also, the Foundation will have a fund-raising chili supper at the Texico Community Center at 6 p.m. today (Friday). It will feature homemade chili from Chat 'n Chew. The cost is $3 for adults and $1.50 for youths under 12.

wetter than usual.

At one time cotton was the king in this area, but then popularity shifted to grain farming.

"Cotton is so unpredictable," says retired farmer Walter Kaltwasser. "It looks like you can make money at it this year."

Kaltwasser related that he had had three good cotton crops in a row in 1954-1956. "I thought I'm on my way; I know how to do this." Then in 1957 I found out that I didn't know anything. We had a wet season that year."

Even if a farmer has a good growing season, there are a lot of other factors involved in the final analysis. The contract they sign to sell their product can make or break them. "Farmers today have to know how to hedge their positions," says Donald Christian.

caused should be in the realm of police matters. Also, part of the problem lie in the city's responsibility.

I want to publicly commend the Texico City Council on showing folks what democracy is all about.

On a personal note, I'd like to apologize to everyone I infuriated last week. I was battling a flu bug which knocked me out - and made me extremely grouchy.

If you saw a bunch of water running down Third Street in Farwell Wednesday, it was due to the cleaning of the water tower.

Rumor of the Week: It appears that the recent season was Dave Lynn's last as a football coach at Texico. The duties of being Texico elementary school are such that it appears Dave won't have time to be the head coach anymore.

Running on LP gas can give your profits a lift.

Unlike gasoline and diesel fuel, LP-gas burns completely and cleanly in your lift motor. So the carbon and sludge deposits that can foul your spark plugs and other engine parts don't build up as quickly.

And LP-gas' high octane content gives your lift clean, efficient power so it runs longer without overhauls.

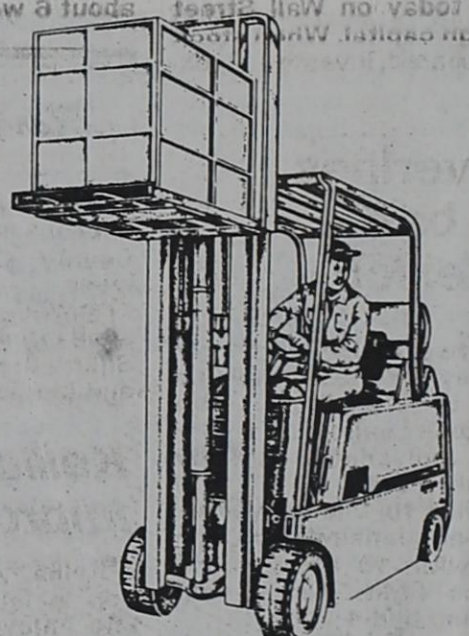

Fewer repairs will mean lower maintenance costs. And that means higher profits for your business.

You'll also get fewer fumes and noxious gases with Philgas in a well-tuned engine.

So running your lift safely inside plants and warehouses is no problem and all your employees can breathe a little easier.

Come by and let us show you all the advantages of using Philgas in your engines.

And all the nice things running on Philgas can do for your profits.

Proclamation

Texico mayor John Hadley signs a proclamation proclaiming Nov. 15-21 as American Education Week in Texico. Hadley is shown here with Texico Elementary Principal, David Lynn.

1929 crash was vastly different

National news media have been full of stories about the stock market, and most of these stories have been full of doom and gloom. What happened on the stock market in October is not what happened in October, 1929 by any stretch of anyone's imagination.

In 1929, people were borrowing large sums of money to invest in the stock market. When the paper value of the stocks fell, the investors still owed large sums of money even after they sold the stocks at a loss.

Today the Securities and Exchange Commission regulates the amount of money people can borrow to use for stock purchases. There is a limit to the losses, so there is not such a wave of panic as there was in 1929.

The SEC also ordered the halt of computer trading when things started to get panicky. They forced people to slow down and think about their investments instead of selling in a rush.

U.S. corporations (which are basically sound) had the opportunity to buy back some of their own shares of stock making the real value per share increase.

Much of the capital invested today on Wall Street is foreign capital. When stock prices soared, investors flocked in from England and Japan. Today they share our losses as well as our gains.

The drop in the stock market in October, 1987 involved more dollars than the one in October, 1929, but it was a much smaller drop in percentage than the drop of 1929 was. It will take less to rebound from this drop than the 1929 crash.

Lady Spikers state runners-up

The Texico Lady Spikers came in second in the New Mexico State Volleyball Tournament last weekend.

First, they beat Cloudcroft 11-15, 15-6, 15-1, and 15-13. "We had the first game jitters, but after we got started, everything went very well. We had an excellent passing and serving match. We served 88% and passed 86%. Every one of the young ladies had a great match passing led by Robin Pierce with 18 excellent passes. Angie Liggins had 16 and Geneva Garcia had 15. Twilla Longo had an excellent match, serving 23/23 with 7 aces, 14 kills, 3 stuff blocks and 90% passing. Geneva Garcia had 4 aces, and 12 kills; she had a good match also. Heather Delaney had 3 aces and 15 assists and Robin Pierce had 11 assists; she led in the setting dept. Dena McDaniel also had 4 assists. Leslie Steward had 7/7 serving record. Jennifer Gentry had an 18/19 serving record with 12 excellent passes and 100% on attacking; she had a good match," said coach Michael Littlejohn.

Heather Delaney, Geneva Garcia, Twilla Longo, and Robin Pierce were named to the all district team.

In the semi-finals, Texico beat Elida in a 5 game match. Texico won, 15-13, 15-3, 10-15, 7-15, and 15-9.

Littlejohn described the match: "This had to be the sweetest victory since I've been at Texico. The girls and myself felt that we hadn't received any respect from Elida all year. We also had the feeling they were overlooking us and looking to play Tatum in the finals. Every one of the young ladies played the match of the year at the right time. I was extremely proud of them!"

In the match, Geneva Garcia had one stuff block. She served effectively 29/30 times - 10 of the serves were aces. She had 15 excellent passes, and 11 kills.

Heather Delaney served effectively 13 out of 14 times. She had 3 aces and 7 excellent passes. She had 2 kills and 11 assists.

Twilla Longo made 6 stuff blocks. She served effectively 23 out of 25 times. She made three aces and 11 excellent passes. Longo had 12 kills; she led the team in kills and stuff blocks.

Robin Pierce served effectively 15 out of 17 times. She had 3 aces and 14 excellent passes. She also had 15 assists. Leslie Steward made 5 stuff blocks. She served effectively 7 out of 8 times, and she had one ace. Steward made 21 excellent passes, three kills and one assist.

Jennifer Gentry served effectively on all 18 serves she made; she had 2 aces. Gentry made 3 stuff blocks, and 25 excellent passes. She also had 7 kills.

Dena McDaniel had one kill and 2 assists in the match. Littlejohn said, "We served 91% or better in every game for a match percentage of 94%. Our setters did an excellent job of mixing the attack game up and keeping Elida off balance defensively. They were able to do this because of the excellent passes they were getting."

In the finals of the tournament, held in Roswell, Texico lost to Tatum 13-15, 1-15, 17-15, and 1-15.

According to Littlejohn, "This was a match that started as a dream. Geneva Garcia served 6 straight points, exactly what we wanted. Then it turned into a nightmare as Tatum's first server served 11 straight points. But the young ladies didn't quit, and they fought back into the match, finally losing 13-15.

"The second game was just a total mental and emotional collapse. We had played so well the day before against Elida, then came out hot, then cold against Tatum, and then lost a hard fought close one that we just couldn't get it together in the second game.

"But, typical Texico volleyball prevailed as the young ladies never quit. Being down 0-2 in games and emotionally drained it would have been easy to just accept defeat, but that's not what these young ladies are made of. We took a 10-4 lead with everything going great, but a great Tatum team fought back and took a 14-15 lead with the serve. Again the girls could have let up and said 'we tried,' but no way. They fought back on a couple of gut plays to take a 17-15 victory.

"The third game was just a great game by Tatum and a good game by Texico. We just couldn't get on a roll. The ladies gave it everything they had even to the last point where Geneva Garcia almost ended up in the bleachers going after a missed pass, which typifies the entire season, never give up!"

"I'm as pleased with this team as any I've had. They overcame a lot of negatives this year and came back to be second in the state. There aren't any winners or losers at state, just a first and a second. These young ladies aren't losers by any means, they are winners clear to the bone! I'm going to miss this year's seniors as we've become extremely close over the past few years, but they are looking for bigger and better things to come!"

For the season, the team had a record of 19-5 matches; 58-25 games.

In the Texico-Tatum game, Geneva Garcia effectively served 17/20 times. She had 5 aces, 19 excellent passes, 7 kills and 5 stuff blocks.

Heather Delaney served effectively 6 out of 8 times. She made 1 ace and 4 excellent passes. Delaney had one kill and 12 assists.

Twilla Longo served effectively 7 out of 9 times. She made 2 aces and 6 excellent passes. Longo led the team with 17 kills. She had 3 stuff blocks.

Robin Pierce served effectively on all 15 serves she made. She had 5 aces and 14 excellent passes. She made 12 assists.

Leslie Steward served effectively 6 out of 8 times. She made 25 excellent passes and 2 kills in the match. She also had one assist.

Jennifer Gentry made all 11 of her serves effectively. She had two aces and 20 excellent passes. Gentry also had 5 kills and one stuff block.

Dena McDaniel made all three of her serves. She had one ace and one excellent pass as well as 2 assists.

Littlejohn added, "We want to thank all the fans that went to Roswell. It was one of the best - if not the best crowd we've had ever at a Texico volleyball match. We also want to give a special thanks to all the fans who put up signs and posters and waited around to welcome us home at 11:30 p.m. They'll never know how much it meant to me and to the team. Thanks!"

Lazbuddie students hold nursery school

Lazbuddie's Homemaking III class recently held a nursery school for pre-schoolers at the high school. It was held for five days for 1 1/2 hours each morning.

The girls who planned and carried out the project were Linda Flores, Connie Gonzales, Sandra Martinez, Virginia Marrufo, Maria Martinez, Viki Moore, Molly Nelson and Tammie Vise. Girls who helped with the project during the last half hour each day were Stacie Hodges, Britt Engelking, Elsa Mendoza and Jana Vise.

Home ec teacher Barbara Lust helped the students set the project goals and gave guidance throughout it. The girls observed the children's interaction, different personalities, coordination and levels of learning.

The homemaking girls provided activities and snacks for the children attending.

They set up three centers: art, math and science, and reading.

Lazbuddie junior Connie Gonzales said, "The children read stories, identified colors and shapes, had art lessons, counted blocks and had nutritious snacks all week long."

Connie, president of the school FHA/HERO chapter, added, "We would like to thank the mothers for allowing their children to attend, along with everyone who gave their resources to help out, and everybody that helped to make the nursery a success. We especially thank the children who participated. We enjoyed it very much and learned a lot."

Children who attended were Kayla Copp, Kyla Elliott, Kendra Gallman, Kelsey Jones, Eric Magby, Brady and Katie Mimms, Trey Nickels, Tobin and Shannon Redwine, Jay Seaton and Riley Willingham.

FFA convention attended

Texico and Farwell youths and their sponsors attended the 60th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo., last week.

Attending from Texico were: Lance Akers, Todd Cash, Byron Martin, Ronnie Richardson, Kevin Spears, Martin Singleterry, and Juan Rojo under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie West. Attending from Farwell were Wayne Pierson and sponsor Richard Montgomery.

"You haven't seen anything until you have seen 24,000 kids all doing 'the wave' in a huge auditorium like that," said Mrs. West. Oddly enough, in that huge crowd Mrs. West reported that the Texico and Farwell groups met, and that they saw groups from Grady, Melrose, Clovis, and other neighboring towns.

The convention voted down a proposition to change the name of Future Farmers of America to Future Farmers and Agriculturists, and they elected a girl to be their president.

During the trip, the students heard speeches from Vice President George Bush, Secretary of Agriculture Block, Secretary of Education Bennett, industrialist Lee Iacocca, football star Roger Staubach, and entertainer Charlie Pride.

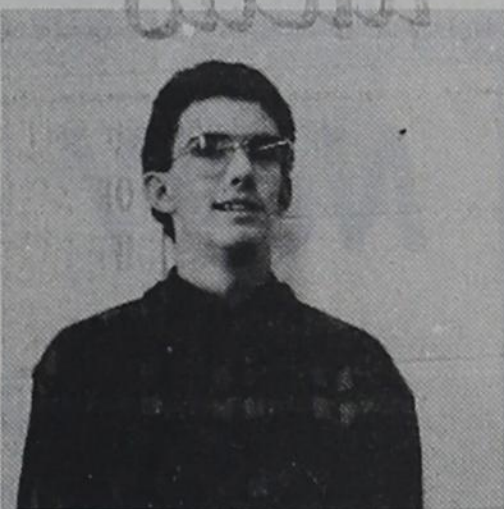

"I never knew all those people cared so much about farming," said Lance Akers.

The local groups were glad to get reservations 20-30 miles from the convention center. There were few rooms to be had in the vicinity.

The Texico group was able to visit the Cowboy Hall of Fame, Dodge City, the Eisenhower Museum, the Crown Center, and the Hyatt Regency while they were on the trip.

"The boys said, 'A museum, do we have to go?' but then we had a hard time getting them out," said Mrs. West.

"You wouldn't believe how long Eisenhower's limousine

Wayne Pierson was one of the local students who attended the national FFA convention in Kansas City.

is," said Akers. The Farwell group was not able to do as much sight-seeing as the Texico group did, but they were able to travel with students from neighboring areas.

They drove in a van with Kurt Kitten of Slayton, David Cobb, of Lubbock, Ron Lane of Panhandle, and four boys from Boys ranch. The Farwell group enjoyed the Rodeo and heard the Rodeo Sweethearts sing.

"The last session was really exciting," said Pierson. "The auditorium was packed."

"SPS helped to sponsor Mr. Montgomery, and the boys from Slayton, Lubbock, and Panhandle, and I," said Pierson. "We really appreciate it."

Third Graders Observe Sandwich Day

by Stephen Cloud and Tina Smith
On Friday, Nov. 6, 1987, Mrs. Richmond's third grade class observed sandwich day. The students are writing stories and listening to the history of the semi-holiday. The third graders made different kinds of sandwiches for lunch. "We are having fun today," Josh Lynn says.
Mrs. Richmond stated that the teachers do not have movies on Fridays, so the teachers try to do something special for the kids on Friday. "I wish we could do this every day," said Clint Hamilton. The students finished the assignment by eating their sandwiches.

4th grade studies solar system

by Brandon Schauf

This week Mr. Dale Schwartz's 4th grade science class is studying about the solar system. One part of the study is to make a model of the solar system. In the other part they have to pick a planet of their choice and write a report on that specific planet.
In the report, they tell if that planet has any moons or not. If the planet does, they have to name them. Also in the report they have to tell how far the planet they picked is from the sun. The report is also to have many other details about that planet. One child, Donann Reed, said with much excitement, "The solar system is a good project to do in science. I really learned a lot from it!"

Getting Paid back

I got my PIK certificates just the other day
What am I to do with the blooming things?
I called the office to see what they had to say.
I could sell it, trade it, or I could buy some more.
They got me so confused I just stood and stomped the floor.
Chorus: (Repeat after every verse)
It's PIK PIK certificates, payment in kind:
Buy them, trade them, it boggles the mind.
Now I'm not up on the proper thing to do.
I called my educated neighbor; he suggested quite a few.
Then he came right over; he wanted to help me out.
Said he knew some friends that had quite a bit of clout.
Said he had a friend who could trade it on the board.
Said they could make a lot of money; I was really floored.
I said, "Let me think it over and sleep on it tonight."
I dreamed that they lost it, and I woke in a fright.
Then he told me I could roll them and make a lot of dough.
I couldn't understand it, and I told him so.
He said I could sell my corn and then buy it back.
But if I made a dollar, I would have to pay more tax.
The next day I went to see my banker, and I said, "What should I do?"
He said to leave it there with him, as my debts were quite a few.

I'm sure that many times bankers are real nice.
But I sure wished afterwards I'd never asked for his advice.
On my way home, I got to thinking I could use a new pickup truck.
The dealer couldn't understand my trade so I went home without any luck.
Now I'm telling you, I'm puzzled as can be.
That bloomin' certificate will get the best of me.
Last Sunday I went to church and dropped it in the tray.
They called me Monday morning; they hardly knew what to say.
Would I please come and pick it up; they had no use for it.
To trade it would be gambling and that would not be fit.
So I think I'll just keep it, tuck it away.
I'll show it to my grandson and see what he has to say.
He won't let me do something foolish, that wouldn't be his way.
Because this future generation gets smarter every day.

Federal aid available

Federal help is now available through the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service to provide financial counseling services to Texas Panhandle farmers who face financial distress, Sen. Phil Gramm said.
Through an $84,000 grant from ACTION, which administers and coordinates the domestic volunteer programs sponsored by the Federal Government, Texas A&M will provide at least one trained counselor each to 41 Texas Panhandle counties on a full-time basis.
In addition, a toll-free telephone number will also be established that will be manned by professional counselors. The counselors will be trained in financial planning.
"These funds are important because they apply the resources of Texas A&M and ACTION to the real problems faced by many Texas farmers," Gramm said.
Gramm said the volunteer network created through these federal funds will serve as a model program for other industries confronted with financial difficulties.
Gramm said that Texas A&M won a national competition for these services and will begin to assemble the volunteer network within the next month.

Steers capture tri-championship

By ROBBY DYER

The Farwell Steers made a fantastic comeback in the second half of its game Friday against Sudan, scoring a 28-21 victory.

The triumph gave Farwell a share of the district championship, with Bovina and Anton. All three teams went 5-1 in district. The Steers were 7-3 overall. This was the first time since 1983 that the Steers won a football title.

Since three teams tied for the championship, a coin toss was held to determine which two teams would proceed into the playoffs. Farwell lost the flip; thus its season is ended.

During the first quarter, the Hornets capitalized on Farwell errors to move to an early lead. The Steers' only TD came on a 47-yard run by Damon George. At the half, the Steers were down 21-7.

But after a superb band performance during the half, the Steers came back to take charge of the game.

Farwell scored a TD early in the second half after they drove 70 yards downfield. Jeff Actkinson capped the drive by catching an 11-yard pass for the TD.

Then Farwell recovered a fumble and with 6:40 left, Jeff Actkinson scored on an 8-yard run.

Farwell later was pinned back on their own 4-yard line but came through. They undertook a 96-yard drive. Shawn Stewart made the go-ahead TD and also scored the 2-point conversion.

To achieve a share of the district championship, Farwell had worked hard all season. Since they began 2-a-day workouts, the pace never slackened.

Farwell was down 21-7 at the half when coach Rex Cumpton told his team that they were beating themselves. Farwell was leading in rushing at that point, but a few costly errors had allowed Sudan to score three TD's.

Jeff Actkinson scored 2 TD's in the game. He had 20 rushing attempts to gain a total 157 yards - more than twice as much Sudan's entire team only gained 78 yards rushing.

Damon George scored 1 TD. He also gained 140 yards in 15 attempts.

Joe Jaime scored two extra points, and he gained 64 yards rushing.

Shawn Stewart scored 1 TD and 1 extra point. He gained 20 yards rushing.

Farwell attempted 7 passes in the game, completed 4 of them to gain 66 yards passing.

Damon George received 2 passes to gain 44 yards. Greg Bearss received 1 to gain 15 yards, and Bony Nicolas received 1 to gain 7 yards.

Sudan attempted 11 passes and completed 8 of them to gain 94 yards passing. They had 172 total yards gained compared to Farwell's 447.

Coach Rex Cumpton said: "We had kind of a bitter-sweet end to our season. The team did everything they had to, to put us in a positive position. We won the final game of the season and finished in a co-championship for the season. Unfortunately, we did not do so well on the coin flip, and did not get to advance to the state playoffs.

"I was very proud of our team for this season. We were not projected to do well in the early season polls, but these guys worked hard, showed a lot of character, and did what they had to do. We have a good group coming back for next year to build on. I would like to thank the people of Farwell for their help and support this season. The great fan support makes a difference."

One main difference in the fan support this year has been the use of junior high school players in the band. Band director Norris Samuelson directed a band of 115 Farwell students during the game. The rousing fight songs and cheers by the band helped to spur the Steers on to victory.

The pre-game and half time shows included both the Farwell and the Sudan bands in some interesting and complicated marching maneuvers.

Herrera, Arce score in Steer victory

Farwell's junior varsity football team beat Sudan 14-6 on Nov. 12.

Sammy Herrera scored the first Farwell TD. Joel Smith made the point after.

Michael Arce intercepted a pass and ran it back for the second Farwell TD.

"We had a very successful season; we were 3-4-1. Our young kids improved, and we expect to see some on the varsity next year," said coach Larry Gregory.

Steers of the Week

Steers of the week for offense were the front line: Donald Rubio, Chuck Hammit, Vince Smith, Bruce White, Dustin Hardage, and Jaime Mendoza. Coach Cumpton said the line opened hole after hole in the second half to enable the comeback. On defense, named were Damon George and Jeff Actkinson. George had eight tackles and Actkinson had 15. "Both of these young men did a good job of supporting on both the run and the pass," said Cumpton.

Spider monkeys researched

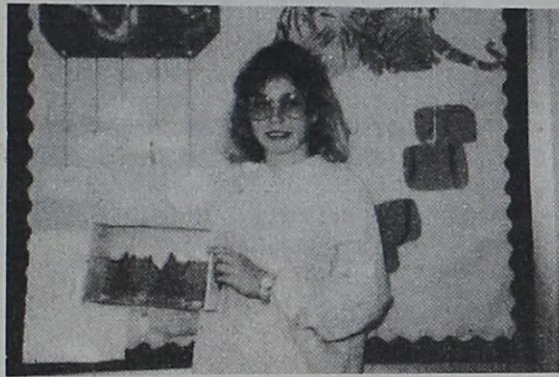

These students are shown with projects they completed in the Farwell Schools G/T Program.

Roslyn Bennett

Rhae McGuire, Corbey White, Rachel Embry, Roslyn Bennett, Chelsi Wood

Melissa Schwertner

Farwell Elementary School students in the gifted and talented program recently completed a variety of projects.

Rhae McGuire's project included research on the famous painter Norman Rockwell.

Rhae made a Five False Facts Box. The box contains 15 true facts and 5 false facts about Norman Rockwell. Other students can use Rhae's project to see if they can find the five false facts about Norman Rockwell.

Roslyn Bennett also did a Five False Facts Box. Since the projects were due at the end of October, Roslyn chose witches as the topic for her research. Roslyn decorated her box in orange and black with colorful witches.

Rachel Embry chose to do a mobile on tigers. After completing research on tigers, Rachel enlarged a picture of a tiger. Rachel put information about tigers on orange and black striped cards hung from the tiger.

Chelsi Wood researched spider monkeys. Chelsi chose to share her information by making a diorama showing the spider monkey in its natural habitat.

Melissa Schwertner chose to do a mobile and a diorama on the timber rattler. Melissa used paint, clay and rocks to make an interesting diorama. Melissa completed two projects in the same length of time the other students completed one project.

Corby White researched cheetahs. Corby then illustrated a book cover. He also wrote a summary about cheetahs inside of his book cover.

Each student signed a contract agreeing to finish research and a project within a certain time limit. Students have learned that a contract is a goal establishing agreement between two parties. The contracts included a specific task, stated deadline for completion which reflects realistic assessment of the students' learning rate and the signatures of participating parties.

Other students in the program are Jacob Fisk, Ginny Mizelfelt, Reace Bennett and Christi Phillips. The Gifted and Talented program now serves grades 1-6. Verona Traynor is the instructor.

Anderson participates in capture

By WILL ANDERSON

The history of mankind in the lands surrounding the Persian Gulf (or Arabian Gulf, if you prefer) begins quite literally "in the beginning."

It is quite possible that the location of the Garden of Eden was between the River Tigris and the River Euphrates in what is today Iraq. I am told that many Biblical scholars disagree and suggest that the Garden of Eden was located in Bahrain. (Property values have declined somewhat in the past few centuries from what I've been able to see so far.)

Advanced civilizations existed in this area 1,000 years before Abraham and Lot, their people, and their herds began the long trek to Canaan (estimated about 4,000 years ago).

The centuries since then have witnessed the rise and fall of empires and the clash of their armies and navies. The gulf area served largely as a cross-roads (and a battleground) between civilizations. As early as 166 A.D., a delegation of Romans reached the court of ancient China. Their ship could have departed from the gulf area and it is believed they landed in Tongking (modern Vietnam). But the gulf's major identity today - oil - was not exploited until this century, mostly since World War II.

The ancestors of Iran, Persians, and the Arabs of the rest of the gulf have alternately co-existed and fought throughout history. The current war between Iran and Iraq began over seven years ago. The war continues, despite enormous losses on both sides, and mediation efforts by the United Nations have been fruitless.

An additional affect of the war has been "The War on the Tankers" in which each side attempts to cripple the other by destroying their economic base - the export of oil. The large clumsy oil tankers that come to the gulf from around the world are easy targets for the guns and missiles of Iraq and Iran. Nearly 400 vessels from more than 30 countries have been hit. If the flow of oil from the gulf is stopped, or significantly reduced, the shock to world economies (especially American allies) would be catastrophic.

My staff, Commander Middle East Force, is responsible for the coordination of the American warships, aircraft and minesweepers in the gulf trying to defend the traditional rights of innocent passage upon international waters and free commerce. Also in the gulf area are warships or sweepers from the Soviet Union, Great Britain, France, Italy, and soon, Belgium and the Netherlands.

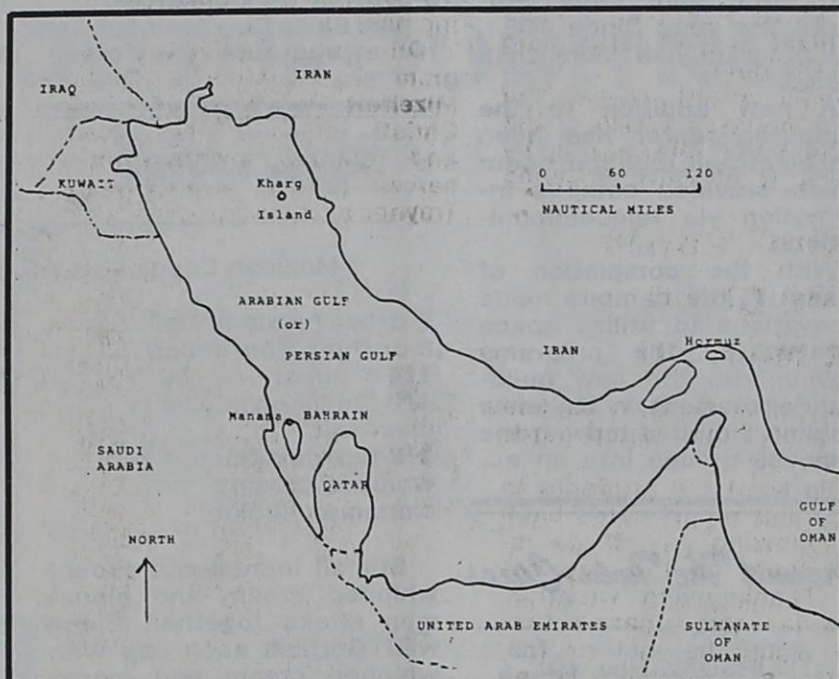

The action here recently has included the capture of a minelayer, the "Iranian AJR," and the sinking or capture of three Iranian attack boats. The destruction of the Iranian oil platform at Rostam Oilfield was accomplished by U.S.S. Destroyers Leftwich, Hoel, Kidd and John Young, with over 1,000 rounds from their 5-inch guns.

And that's the way it is in my part of the world for now. I am assigned here for at least a year, and I regret that all I've written about thus far has been the job. As soon as we get the chance to take some time ashore, I will be writing something a little more interested, I hope.

I've heard some wild stories about a belly dancer in Abu Dhabi named "Hannah of the Seven Veils" and if any of them are true, I'll be in touch (X-rated Tribune to follow)!

Transferring one of the wounded off the minelayer "Iranian AJR" to the U.S.S. LaSalle.

Yule display to be lighted

Glen Shot has announced that his annual Christmas display will be lighted at 6 p.m. MST on Nov. 28.

The display is located at 3312 Cherry Drive in Clovis. "We've added thousands of lights and some new displays," said Shot. "We've made it better than ever."

Shot will have a choir singing Christmas carols starting at 5 p.m. on Nov. 28. He also has rides on his little train available.

The train is familiar to Twin City residents because it was a hit at recent Border Town Day activities.

Hospital Notes

Neddie Johnson was in Clovis High Plains Hospital.

Minnie Ramm was in Methodist Hospital. She celebrated her 80th birthday there on Nov. 16. Her friends sent her many cards.

Need a card?

Representatives of the Social Security Office in Clovis will be at Farwell Elementary School on Nov. 24 from 1 - 2:30 p.m. to fill out applications for Social Security cards for children.

It is now mandatory for all children 5 years old and above to have a Social Security card number.

The children will need to have a birth certificate or baptismal certificate to verify their birth in order to get a Social Security card.

ENMU to build new addition

The Eastern New Mexico University Board of Regents broke ground for the $1.6 million addition to ENMU-Clovis at a commemorative ceremony on Nov. 12.

"The construction of the fifth phase of the Clovis campus of Eastern is indeed an exciting project and one which is drastically needed," said Dr. Jay Gurley, ENMU-Clovis provost.

The new addition, designated as Phase V, will incorporate the art and retail marketing programs and will conclude the facilities in the 1981-86 master plan for ENMU-CLOVIS.

Dr. Gurley explained, "There has consistently been growth in the art program under the leadership of Kyril DeFoor and the retail marketing program has had very stable enrollment under its instructor, Jerome Schmidt. Also, this new phase will provide the opportunity for added classroom space which is currently utilized to capacity in the evening hours."

The growth trend for the art program has almost doubled in the last three years. Currently, 300 students participate in art courses compared to 154 students in the fall of 1984. The retail marketing program serves approximately 60 students this semester.

Gary Blakeley, president of the Board of Regents, said, "The board has been pleased with the growth and programs at ENMU-CLOVIS, and we are proud of the architectural enhancement it's provided for the community."

Phase V will be a single story structure which duplicates the architectural design of the existing buildings. The 23,600 square foot building will include student art labs for painting, drawing, ceramics, and photography. Labs for retail marketing and advertising also will be included. Incorporated in the design will be a Commons Area which will serve as a display for art work.

Dr. Gurley said, "Our appreciation is extended to our local voters for allowing this new building to become a reality for the local legislative support for seeing that capital outlay bills of this nature are included in the agenda for state business."

Blakeley also thanked the Clovis community for their support of the bond funding for ENMU-CLOVIS. Phase V was funded by a statewide general obligation bond.

Following the ceremony, which included the Regents breaking the ground which had been painted by ENMU-CLOVIS art students to simulate a ritualistic sandpainting, Dr. Gurley invited the group to attend the Open House for Phase IV.

Phase IV was completed in June of this year and houses the Computer Resource Center and the digital electronics program. The centralized computer lab was specifically designed for use by the computer information systems and computer science students. It also hosts students in computer assisted design (graphics, advertising, production and printing).

Although the computer center was originally created for a specific group of students, usage is increasing among students enrolled in other courses such as English, nursing, math, and psychology.

Throughout 1980, interest in computer technology has rapidly increased. This is reflected by the student growth pattern of ENMU-CLOVIS computer technology courses which show an enrollment of 133 students during 1980, 416 students during 1981, and 1,417 students this year. Since 1981, the program has more than tripled.

A new addition to the computer center has been the electronic bulletin board which provides campus information via telecommunications.

With the completion of Phase IV, the campus made renovations to utilize space vacated by the programs moving into the new building. Renovations in the main building included moving the business offices into an expanded area and adding three cashier windows. The vacancy created by the business office provided for the growth of the bookstore.

The Skills Development Center moved into the former computer lab, and a museum will be established across from Town Hall where the computer center was located. The museum will house a variety of art collections which have been donated to ENMU-

CLOVIS.

Various modifications in the main building, which currently includes an art lab, will be made as needed when the programs move into Phase V according to Gurley.

Cotton prices explained

The following is a release from the National Cotton Council.

The weighted average price paid to farmers for U. S. cotton through September this year is 58.1 cents per pound. The weighted average price for the calendar year is important to producers because the 1987 deficiency payment rate will equal the difference between the average and the established 79.4 cent target price.

The monthly average price rose from 46.4 cents per pound in February to a high of 68.3 cents in July, sparking concern that the final payment rate might fall below the 8.15 cents per pound advance payment received by most producers. But the average price by September had fallen to 64.9 cents, making that an unlikely possibility.

Economists at the National Cotton Council and others in the industry think as much as 80 percent of the 1987 marketing may occur in the last four months of the year. NCC also speculates that the year's average price may be in the vicinity of 60-64 cents, which would mean a total payment in the range of 15-20 cents and a final payment of 8-12 cents above the 8.15 cent advance.

Steers win hoop opener

With only a three-hour practice Monday, the Farwell varsity basketball boys team opened its 1987-88 season Tuesday with a 63-41 win over Muleshoe in an away game.

Leading the Steers were Jeff Actkinson and Boney Nicolas, with 15 each; Shawn Stewart, 12; Damon George, 11; Jaime Mendoza, 6; Greg Actkinson, 3, and Steve Geries, 1.

The JV boys team won 54-53. Farwell was led by Michael Day, 17, and Adrian Smith, 12. Due to a UIL rule, Day is ineligible to play varsity ball this season but can play JV ball.

The Farwell varsity girls team lost 68-14. The JV girls also lost.

Students attend FHA confab

Codie Burch, Michelle Vernor, Kayla Thornton, and adult advisors Mrs. Kendale Burch and Mrs. Roy Thornton attended the national Future Homemakers of America leadership training conference in Denver last weekend.

The group met the national officers, and heard speakers on many timely topics such as Aids, Teen Suicide, and the FHA National Project.

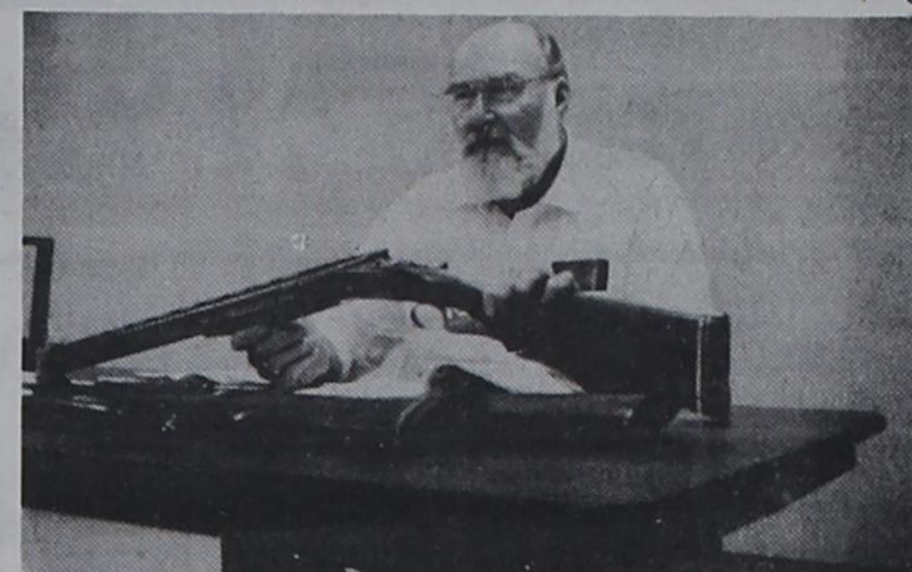

Over 2,000 FHA members attended the convention. The 47 members from the state of New Mexico met together and traveled part of the way together.

"We missed the final session because of the snow storm, but at least we all made it home safe and sound," said Mrs. Burch. The trip home took the group 12 1/2 hours, because of a frozen starter on the bus, but the FHA members counted themselves lucky when they heard about the plane crash in Denver which reportedly claimed lives of FHA members from other states.

The Denver meeting was part of a series of nationally sponsored training conferences, called Cluster meetings, to be held this fall. Since a primary goal of Future Homemakers of America is to help youth develop leadership skills that will prepare them for active roles in their homes, schools, and communities, the organization offers this "hands-on" learning weekend in five different locales across the country each year.

Home economics students and teachers in Missouri, George, New York, Colorado, Wisconsin and surrounding areas have been gearing up to take advantage of these high quality training opportunities during October and November. This year's meetings are being underwritten by a grant from RJR Nabisco, Inc.

Letter To The Editor

Uniforms 14 years old

In last week's paper, I read where the band boosters are trying to raise money for new uniforms. There is no doubt in my mind that after several hundred students have worn the uniforms over a period of years, that the uniforms are threadbare and worn out. I remember when I was in the Farwell Marching Band and how hard it was to raise the money for new uniforms.

However, I would like to dispute the age of the current uniforms. I believe that they are only about 15 years old, not 26. I graduated from Farwell in 1973 and we received new uniforms in the fall of 1972. If you have back issues of the Tribune, you will find a picture of Carolyn Herington and Marilyn Winegeart modeling the new uniforms and hats.

I know the students and band boosters would appreciate all the support that the community can give them during the arts and crafts fair. I know we did.

Sincerely,
Carolyn Herington Johnson

Amy Daniels attends Girls State in Seguin

Amy Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roy Daniel of Lazbuddie, attended Girls State last summer. Here is her report:

"There were 18 girls from the Panhandle among the 588 girls at Girls State. We arrived in the afternoon at Texas Lutheran College in Seguin and were met by Miss Goff, our director, and girls singing and dancing. These girls were to be our junior and senior counselors.

"We received name tags and were assigned to a city, a political party and the House or Senate. I was a Nationalist, a Representative and a citizen of City L, which was in Tejas County. The girls from City L were better known as 'the Electric Ladies of Lightning Lane.'

"We deposited money in the Girls State Bank. We were informed that we could write checks if we needed to buy anything. On Wednesday, we held city elections. On Thursday, party elections. Afterward, they announced our party platforms. The Nats were for a proposal of a state lottery, prison reform, stricter penalties for child abusers, and the revision of House Bill 72.

"On Saturday, we held state elections. The Nats took most of the positions.

"On Monday, we left for a visit to the State Capitol. The Girls State officials were inaugurated by the Lt. Governor and other state officials. Ann Richards, Secretary of State, spoke to us. She was very good and inspired us all.

"During our House and Senate convenements, we debated bills and decided whether or not to pass them. If they passed, they went to the Senate and if they passed there, they went to the Governor. It was just like our real state government."
