

BORDER TOWN DAYS

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

Something for everyone

It's finally here - the 23rd annual Border Town Days Celebration.

And unless I miss my guess, it should be a good one.

First of all, I'd like to give public recognition to some folks who have added some real zing to this year's gala:

* Glen Shot's "Winter Wonderland" in Clovis has given a $25 donation to the BTDC Committee to help pay the annual expenses.

* B & J Plumbing is giving away a $100 U.S. Savings Bond. Here's how it works: At the end of the merchants' giveaway, all the names left will be placed in one big box and the winner drawn. It will occur just before the pickup truck giveaway at 5 p.m.

* Ted Lopez, of Tedson Trailers, is giving away a brand spanking new bicycle to the "Best of Show" winner of the bicycle contest. That's going to be a real treat for a boy or girl. Be sure to read carefully the bicycle contest story in today's paper and sign up at Texico City Hall.

And when you add those treats to all the prizes given away by local merchants - plus the pickup truck giveaway - you can see what I mean when I say this year's event is going to be a lot of fun!

And take a look at the entertainment schedule: a two-day rodeo; the Charlie Phillips concert; the ever-popular Hardages; the Country Strings; Joni Autrey; Mrs. Bohler's tumblers; the Billy the Kid shootout, the arts and crafts fair, the big parade, etc., etc.

If you are not present for these great activities, don't blame anybody but yourself.

What's really amazing to me is that all this is available in a small community like Texico-Farwell. And it only comes about through a terrific team effort. Here are some of the folks who made it possible:

Ann Cooper, Shondra McIntosh, Theresa Jupe, Vicki Chilton, Tori Meeks, Debra Looper, Cynthia Thigpen, Maurine Caywood, Fred Chandler, Ed Hardage, Dee Hammit, Randy Grady, Lynne Mahaney, Chris Roach, Dutch Quikell, and a host of others.

Some examples:
- Those pennants over the highway giving some flavor to our celebration don't just appear - they are purchased by our Chambers of Commerce and placed on poles by our volunteer firemen.

- The entertainment provided by the Hardages and Truman Welch cannot be understated. A big thank you for these fine folks.

- Farwell city employees help clean up after the Saturday activities. Once again, thank you.

- All the local merchants who participate in the giveaway that is avidly looked forward to by celebration-goers.

- Vicki Milloy and her rodeo group. If you look back, the original Border Town Days started up around the rodeo. So that rodeo has been an integral part of every celebration. Please catch it Thursday and Friday nights.

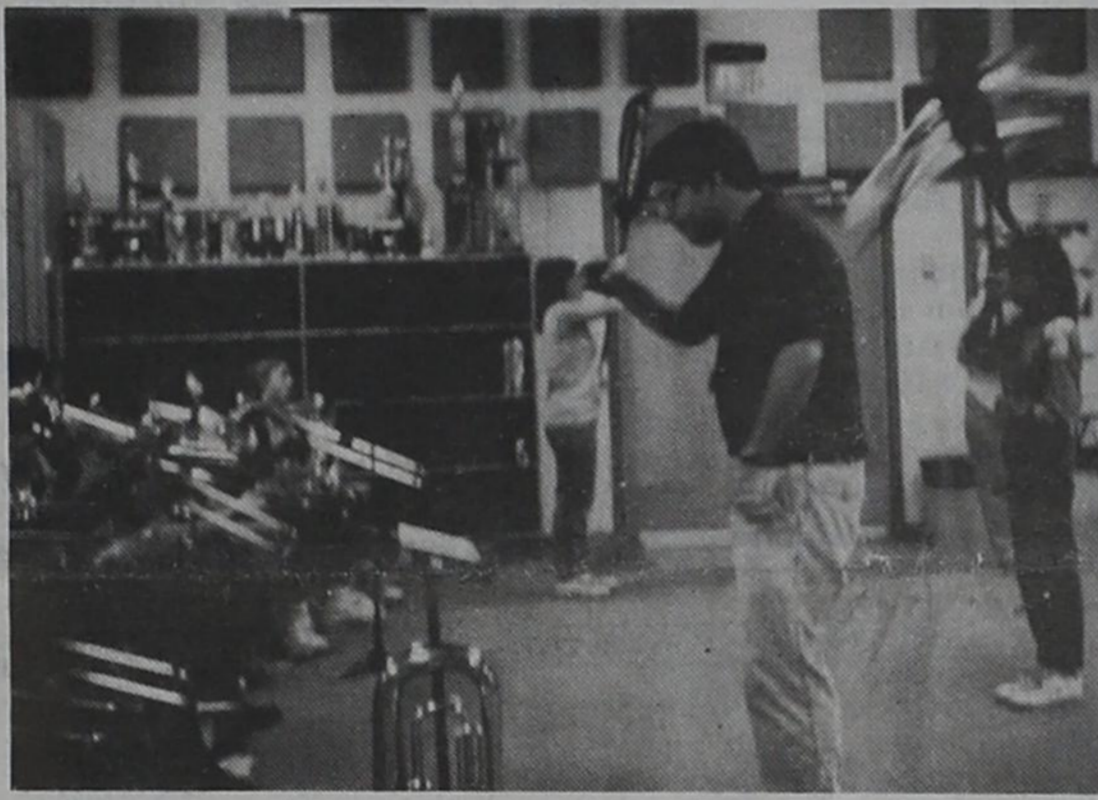

- The Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary (spearheaded on this project by Frances Kube) got Charlie

On target

Neither rain nor the resignation of band director Jerry Sadberry could keep the Texico Wolverine Band out of the Bordertown Days Parade. The Band moved indoors Monday to begin its annual band camp under the direction of the new director, Robert Simmons, Jr.

Meter deposit ordinance toughened

The Texico City Council Tuesday approved revising its ordinance on meter deposits and collections.

The main change involves residents who have their meters turned off due to delinquent bills, then want them turned on again. If that's the case, they must pay a new rate set by averaging their last three monthly water bills and doubling that average.

The regular meter deposit of $30 for new customers was not changed.

The problem of kinfolk being a "new customer" to have a meter turned back on (to avoid paying the higher fee) after a delinquency was also addressed in the ordinance.

A "new customer" is now defined as someone who is not within the immediate family of the previous water user or a person who has not resided with the previous water user - unless the City Council reviews the matter and approves the "new customer."

In other business, the council:

- Authorized city clerk Marie Christian to arrange workers and material for the annual summer beautification project, made possible by a state grant.

- Heard councilman Oran Jay Autrey say he is still gathering information on fixing the east wall of the community building.

- Noted that the deadline for applicants for the deputy marshal's post and temporary street repair personnel is Aug. 2.

Rucker resigns board post

It's a busy time for Texico Schools; hirings and resignations.

Board member Johnny Rucker resigned at a special called meeting July 20 because a close relative is applying for a school post. If a relative is picked, then the board member must resign due to legal requirements.

Rucker, who served nearly seven years on the board, said he enjoyed his tenure. The board will appoint a successor to him.

Meanwhile, the board will meet Aug. 8 to try and fill four vacant posts: head cook, elementary teacher, custodian and secretary.

At the July 20 meeting, the board hired Joel Pate as elementary principal, and Robert Simmons Jr. as band director.

Pate comes to Texico from Artesia. Simmons comes from Ohio.

Simmons already has begun his duties as band director and is expected to lead the Texico Marching Band in the Border Town Days Parade.

Border Town Days kick off

The 23rd annual Border Town Days celebration kicks off Thursday night and continues through Saturday night.

Rodeo

The first event will be the High Plains Junior Rodeo which begins at Farwell Arena at 8:30 Thursday evening.

Events will include Barrel Racing, Poles, Flags, Goat Tying, and Break Away Calf Roping for girls, and Break Away Calf Roping, Tie Down Calf Roping, Steer Stopping, and Steer Roping for boys.

Admission will be $3 for adults and $2 for children 6-12. Tickets are on sale at Rip's Western Wear or at the Farwell Arena.

The rodeo concludes Friday night at 8:30.

This year's schedule includes several new events: Charlie Phillips Concert, Joni Autrey, Mrs. Bohler's tumblers, Country Strings, petting zoo, Farwell marching band, and so on.

Charlie Phillips

The Charlie Phillips concert is being sponsored by the Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary at 8 p.m. Friday in the Farwell High School Auditorium.

Tickets for adults are $5 in advance or $6 at the door. Children under 12 must pay $2.50. Tickets are available at local businesses.

Profits will be used to furnish and decorate the new sun room addition at the convalescent center.

Phillips is famed for his "Sugartime" song which sold 3 million records. He is a Farwell native.

Saturday events

A highlight of the Saturday events will be the eighth annual Merchant's Giveaway promotion in which 47 merchants will give away prizes throughout the afternoon.

Glen Shot's train will be back again this year to give rides to the children.

The Texico varsity cheerleaders will have a water polo activity in the street at the south end of the park Saturday, and the Farwell Freshman class will have a dunking booth.

The big day is Saturday with the parade, barbecue, park events including the beard contest, concessions, arts and crafts show, and lots of music.

Bicycle Contest

On Saturday morning the decorated bike contest will be held at 9:45 a.m. CDT at the empty lot west of "Little Mexico" flea market in Texico.

"You must be on time or you will not be judged," said Ann Cooper, chairman of the contest.

The Farwell Fire Department will give away this pickup truck Saturday.

The registration deadline is 3 p.m. Friday, July 28 at Texico City Hall. She said that youths planning to enter the decorated bike contest in the parade need to register, giving their name and age, if they are to be eligible to win the cash prizes to be awarded.

This year offers a special incentive: Ted Lopez of Tedson Trailers is donating a brand new bike to the winner of "Best of Show" - the bike judged as best decorated regardless of age category. In addition to the new bike, prizes totaling $50 will be awarded.

No motorized bikes will be allowed in the bicycle contest.

This year's BTDC theme is "Around the World in One Day."

This year's rules include the following:

Riders must stay between the three-wheelers during the parade. They will be allowed to double back. No motorized vehicles may be ridden in the bike contest.

All participants must continue to Farwell city park, and then park their bikes. No riding will be allowed in the park area. A bicycle rack will be provided in the back of the First Baptist Church.

You must be present at the park to receive your cash prize. Prizes will be awarded at 1:15 p.m. following the opening ceremony. There will be two divisions in the judging:

Division A: best decorated bike, ages 7 - 12.

Division B: Best decorated bike, ages 6 and under.

Judging will be based 50 percent on originality and theme; 30 percent on neatness, and 20 percent on the use of color.

Judges will be Frank Murray, Kenneth Jones and Rusty Mears, members of the Clovis Rotary Club.

Street Parade

The annual parade kicks off at 11 a.m. CDT. It will begin at Griffith Street in Texico. It will proceed down Hwy 84 (Texico and Farwell's main streets), turning right on Fifth Street in Farwell and ending in front of the Farwell Convalescent Center.

Willie Dannheim will be at the ending point of the parade to direct parade participants to the park.

Parade entrants are to form at 10:30 a.m. CDT in Texico. A map showing where they should go is elsewhere in today's Tribune. A lineup of the parade is printed elsewhere in the Tribune, too.

In charge of the parade is the Texico - Farwell Lions Club. Parade marshal is Hal Helton. The Lions Club members will wear yellow vests and will be available to assist entrants.

Barbeque

Following the parade will be the annual barbecue meal at the Farwell City Park served by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club.

Serving will begin at noon CDT. Tickets are $5 for adults and $2.50 for children under twelve. A drink is included with the price of the meal.

Tickets are available in advance from Rotary Club members.

Park Events

The opening ceremonies will take place at 1 p.m. CDT in the park gazebo. Emcee will be Fred Chandler.

The national anthem will be sung by Jack Allen Kirkland. After the songs, greetings will be given by BTDC chairman Mike Pomper, Farwell Mayor Chris Gikas and Texico Mayor Steve Chancy.

At 1:15 p.m., parade awards will be presented. Ann Cooper and Shondra McIntosh will present prizes for the top four floats, the bike contest, top animal entry, and motorized units.

Also, awards will be presented to the honorary Pa-

Phillips and his band to come Friday night.

All I can say is, not bad for a community of 2,200 folks!

I wanted to give a special thanks to Rick Sullivan for his work on the "pin committee." In years past, we had asked the local ministers and Red's Barber Shop to sell "shave permits." Proceeds were used to pay BTD expenses. But the revenue had declined over the years.

This year, I met with Rick and we hammered out a plan to make up commemorative pins. Our BTD Committee approved the project and Rick ordered 500 pins featuring the New Mexico and Texas state flags and noting "Texico - Farwell Border Town Days 1989." The pins were done in the New Mexico state colors.

We asked for $2 donations (or more) and asked the ministers to offer them, plus we put baskets at some of our local businesses.

This project has gone extremely well. If there are any pins still available at Saturday's Day in the Park activities, I suggest you get 'em quickly. I expect a sell-out.

The pin project is important because it's where we raise the funds we need. Items such as portable toilets, plaques, frames, trophies, gratuities for special performers, etc., cost money, and BTD is a non-profit activity.

I want to thank Rick for his invaluable assistance.

Lynne Mahaney reports that there will be 25 artists and craftsmen exhibiting at 27 booths this year at Border

Steward wins game

The Expos, 16 and under girls' softball team, will participate in the national tournament in Hurst, Texas.

Texico's Brandi Steward hit a home run during the final game in Farmington, N.M. to break a tie and win the state championship for the Expos.

Katrina Stewart also plays on the team which has mostly Clovis members.

Farwell's Rhonda Kirkland helped to coach the team early in the season because her sister is a member of the team.

Town Days.

We got some real good news early this week for the BTD parade.

Our committee had been informed that the antique car club, of which Peggy and Orrie Jones are members, wouldn't be participating in the parade because Amarillo was having a big car show this weekend.

Well, it turned out that the Amarillo show was last weekend - so get ready to see some nifty antique cars in our BTD parade Saturday!

The Texico Wolverine Band didn't skip a beat - they started on time Monday in spite of the rain and the fact that former director Jerry Sadberry had resigned.

New Director Robert Simmons was helped by Cary Kittrell, Sue Gonzales, and band members to get the annual band camp off to a good start.

"Vizion," a gospel music group featuring Dustin

Hardage, Chuck Hammit, Eric Nelson and Greg Bearss, will perform in the Clovis music festival Aug. 3 at 8 p.m. at Marshall Auditorium.

The group is sponsored by Farwell Fertilizer.

Watch for the group also to play at Border Town Days Saturday!

Cotton producers to get option

Cotton producers across the nation will soon have the option of transmitting bale loan data via computer to county USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices.

The bottom line: by sending data on the National Cotton Council's Cotton Telecommunication Network, ASCS' workload will go down, loan processing will speed up and producers will get checks in hand faster.

Children's camp to be hosted

The First Baptist Church of Farwell will host a children's camp, "How to Get Your Way With Your Parents," Aug. 2-5 for children who have completed 3rd - 6th grades.

The camp will include hiking, games, swimming, relay races, archery, riflery, crafts, prayer, Bible study and the building of stronger relationships.

The Bible study will be centered around family relationships, responsibility, obedience, truthfulness, and forgiveness.

The camp will cost $35 per child. The church is planning a week of "Slave Days" to help the kids earn money to offset the cost of the camp. Those interested should contact Tim Miller.

The $35 camp fee covers meals, transportation, and a notebook. Snack bar treats and meals on the road are extra. The money is due by July 31.

Each child will need to bring: clothing, sleeping bag, pillow, towels, wash cloth, soap, tennis shoes, jacket, Bible, mosquito repellent, pencil, and money for snacks and meals on the road. No radios or cassette players may be brought along.

The group will leave the church at 2:30 p.m. Aug. 2. They will return to the church Aug. 5 about 3:30 p.m.

Gazebo

rade Marshal Larry Gregory, and the Pioneers of the Year Johnnie and Beulah Williams.

Following the awards, the Farwell High School Drill team will perform "La Bamba" at 1:30 p.m.

At 1:45, the cast of "Billy the Kid," from the Caprock Amphitheater near San Jon, N.M. will conduct a "Billy the Kid Shootout."

At 2:15, the Country Strings, featuring Joe Hughes will perform.

At 3:15, the Bohler Tumblers will present a program.

At 4 p.m., last year's BTD queen Kyla Didyoung will judge the annual Beard Contest.

At 4:15 Joni Autrey will perform.

At 4:45 p.m. there will be recognition of the classes which have the largest percentage of living grads who came to BTD. All class and family reunion groups are asked to register at the Texico - Farwell Senior Citizens' table. Family groups will be recognized at the gazebo.

At 4:50 p.m., B & J Plumbing will present a $100 Savings Bond to someone whose name is picked at random from the Merchant's Give-Away Boxes.

At 5 p.m., the Farwell Fire Department will give away a pickup truck.

Arrangements have been made so that no Santa Fe railroad trains will be running through the Twin Cities during the parade.

It is advisable to bring a lawn chair or blanket with you to the park on Saturday.

"ASCS has notified us that they will expand the CTN loan - making pilot project to all cotton County ASCS offices beginning with the 1989 crop," said Joe Wyrick, the Council's Information Systems director who manages the CTN project. "We're looking forward to the challenge of providing this service to producers in all Cotton Belt states."

Although the loan pilot was limited to 80 counties in eight states last season, nearly 2,000 government loans involving more than 100,000 bales were secured from ASCS offices via the CTN. Now, the potential exists for all of the nations 38,000 cotton producers in 800 counties across 18 states to get loans by computer. USDA crop production loans are available to producers following the harvest and ginning of the cotton.

Wyrick said CTN loan transactions are faster than the conventional form A loan which requires a producer to go to his county ASCS office, fill out the loan form and leave his bale class cards and warehouse receipts with the county office. The data on the paper loan form has to be keypunched by the ASCS personnel which slows loan processing so that a producer often must wait from four to six weeks before receiving a check.

By contrast, CTN members are given software which allows them to send loan data from a personal computer to the ASCS IBM System 36 mini-computer via CTN - the Council's three-year old electronic document exchange system which receives support from the Cotton Foundation through a grant from ICI Americas.

Wyrick said the Council will continue to provide whatever training is necessary to make CTN users proficient with the loan-making software. Anyone interested in using the software should contact the National Cotton Council in Memphis, Tenn.

Polly Turner, Rodolfo Garza marry

The London House Party Room in Corpus Christi was the scene June 17 for the afternoon wedding ceremony uniting Polly Anna Turner and Rodolfo Garza. Anselmo Longoria officiated as the couple repeated their vows.

The bride is the daughter of Charles and Sandra Turner of Friona. The groom is the son of Fedelia Garza and the late Pablo Garza of Corpus Christi.

The Party Room was gaily decorated with mauve candles, greenery garlands, mauve and blue satin bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a white satin gown featuring a floor length bustle skirt. The dress featured an "old fashioned" high lace neckline and long sleeves.

The bride wore a Juliet cap with branches of seed pearls and flowers crowning her veil of illusion. She carried a bouquet of white silk roses and orchids accented with cascading flowers, ribbons, loveknots, and pearls, designed by a friend, Chris Alexander.

Following tradition, the bride chose: for something old, gold earrings that belonged to her paternal great - great - grandmother, Nancy Sheive Nutt; for something new, her dress; for something borrowed and blue, her mother's blue garter.

Lucretia Hayes of Amarillo, sister of the bride, wore a street length dress of tornado- blue satin and carried one long stem colonial rose - colored flower accented with a rose and blue ribbon.

The groom was attired in a gray tuxedo with rose bow tie, matching cummerbund, and white boutonniere.

Ricardo Garza of Corpus Christi, brother of the groom, was best man.

The traditional wedding marches were played by the bride's father, Charles Turner.

Guests were registered by the groom's niece, Sonja Rodriguez of Corpus Christi.

The bird seed baskets were carried by Ashleigh Hayes, niece of the bride and Andrea Rodriguez, niece of the groom.

The bride's mother was attired in a tornado - blue silk organza dress. She wore a white rose corsage, accented with pearls and mauve satin ribbon.

The groom's mother chose a rose lace dress. She wore a white rose corsage accented with pearls and blue ribbon.

A reception followed the ceremonies at the Party House.

The bride's table was covered with a mauve cloth overlaid with a white cutwork cloth made by the bride's grandmother, the late Edna Martin. Mauve candles accented the table.

The three - tiered wedding cake was accented with mauve roses and topped with a bride and a groom in a heart of blue. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Margaret Gisler, cousin of the bride. Punch was served by Mrs. Connie Garza, sister - in - law of the groom.

The groom's table was also covered with a mauve cloth and overlaid with white cutwork lace. A German chocolate cake was served by Mrs. Joyce Martin, aunt of the bride. Mrs. Irma Rodriguez, sister of the groom, assisted the servers. Following the "toasting" of the bride and groom, the wedding party journeyed to La Terraza Club for a barbecue supper and dance hosted by the Garza family.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodolfo Garza

Out of town guests came from Houston, Lubbock, Victoria, Amarillo, Bryan, Normanna, Robstown, Baytown, Beeville and Friona, Texas.

Okinawans prefer 'Nationals'

by Juanita J. Hadley

Okinawa is not usually considered one of the world's leading tourist attractions. However, for Mary Lou Zinck, Farwell elementary teacher, the idea of visiting the island has been overpowering for at least eight months. The pull? Simple. Her first grandchild is there.

The baby, Berry, and his parents, Michael and Tammy Annunziato, are among the American military personnel and their families stationed at Kadena Air Force Base, one of the five U.S. installations on the island - one U.S. Air Force, one U.S. Navy, and three U.S. Marine.

Mrs. Zinck's wish came true earlier this summer when she spent two weeks becoming acquainted with Berry and with his island home.

Okinawa, located in the Ryukyu Islands south of the Japanese mainland was captured by American forces during World War II and remained under U.S. control until 1972. At that time the Japanese regained possession, but the United States continues to maintain her bases on the strategically located island. According to Mary Lou's son Michael, the Okinawans, who prefer to be called Nationals rather than Japanese, would prefer being on their own, a separate country from Japan.

Whenever Mary Lou speaks of Okinawa, the word "lush" pops up frequently in the conversation. Though the island appears to consist almost exclusively of one large city, it is really many small towns connected to one another, much like metropolitan areas in the States. Town or not, green is the dominant color, and Mary Lou adds that even in the cities every square inch of soil is utilized. For example, banana trees are planted just about everywhere. In addition, the island boasts much sugar cane, and whenever possible village families grow their own produce in small gardens.

In the southern part of the island is Naha Falls, an area that completely fits the lush category and which is frequented by military personnel. In order to reach the recreation area, Mary Lou, Tammy and Michael, with Berry safely esconced in a front carrier, braved the climb through the mountainous jungle terrain. In fact, the final approach to the falls and swimming area proved so steep that the visitors had to rely on strong ropes suspended from overhanging branches to keep from slipping on the red clay soil. Mary Lou reports that, while the way to the falls was difficult, the struggle out was even worse. She laughingly admits to aching muscles for the following three days.

However, Naha Falls was worth the effort. Mary Lou notes that the gorgeous vegetation, the deep, sparkling water, and the general feeling of freshness create an atmosphere very like her ideas of paradise. And, while humidity accompanied the fairly high temperature, the weather was not unbearably hot. In fact, it reminded the Farwellite of the Houston climate.

Grant sought for Lazbuddie waste water system

The Parmer County Commissioners Monday approved seeking a grant to build a waste water system for Lazbuddie's main street. The federal grant, if approved, would supply 100 percent of the funding needed. The area serviced would include the school, churches, Treider's, Sherley-Anderson and a small area across the highway.

The commissioners voted to spend some of its Permanent School funds for two school projects:

- Lazbuddie Schools received $40,000 of its Permanent School portion to build a bus barn.
- Farwell Schools received $14,579 of its Permanent School portion to pay toward the cost of new windows. The entire project cost is $76,139, with the majority of the money coming from the school's capital improvement fund.

The commission also approved a resolution supporting the implementation of the 911 emergency number system in Parmer County. This is expected to be implemented in a year or two, and throughout Texas by 1992.

This will cost county residents an extra 50 cents a month plus one-half percent of long distance phone call costs in Texas made each month. This is mandatory for all residents with phones.

The answering point for emergency calls (police, ambulance and fire) for most residents in Parmer County will be in Friona. But folks in some parts of Lariat and Lazbuddie will be connected immediately to Muleshoe. And folks west of Bovina and north of Farwell will go through Clovis.

Regardless of where the answering point is, the closest department will be dispatched. Thus, although a caller on the Texas side of Pleasant Hill gets the Clovis dispatcher and asks for police help, police from the closest area - say, Bovina - will be sent.

The commissioners also are considering raising licence fees $5. This new money would go to the county bridge and road fund.

The state has passed legislation allowing this if county s so choose. A couple of years ago, $5 was tacked on for this same purpose.

If the county raises this fee, it would be done to keep the ad valorem tax from increasing, said County Judge Porter Roberts.

Combest coming to Farwell

U.S. Cong. Larry Combest will be at the Farwell Community Center on Aug. 10 at 2:30 p.m. to hear the concerns of West Texans about various issues including health care, the 1990 Farm Bill, the oil and gas industry, and the federal budget.

The trip is one of six town hall meetings planned in August by the Combest.

Combest has scheduled meetings in Morton, Hereford, Farwell, Plainview, Seminole and Denver City.

"These meetings are very important to me," Combest said. "As your representative in Washington, I value the opinions and concerns of the 19th district, and town hall meetings give me the opportunity to hear from residents on a firsthand basis."

Grid practice to start

Farwell Athletic Director Rex Cumpton announced that two a day football practice begins on Aug. 14.

The morning practice will begin at 8:30, and the evening practice will be at 6. Equipment will be issued on Aug. 9. Seniors will report at 6 p.m., juniors at 6:30 p.m., sophomores at 7 p.m., and freshmen at 7:30 p.m.

Farwell's first scrimmage will be held here on Aug. 24. The Steers will play Vega.

City of Texico
Ordinance No. 245

An ordinance pertaining to public water utilities; prescribing the meter deposit for accounts that have been delinquent; prescribing the procedure for disconnect of delinquent water utility accounts; and amending prior ordinances in conflict herewith.

Be it ordained by the governing body of the municipality of Texico, New Mexico:

Section 1: Recitals. It is hereby determined by the governing body of the municipality of Texico, New Mexico, that the meter deposit rates for delinquent accounts should be established to insure adequate protection to the city for outstanding debts and to protect the public water utility by establishing a secure financial foundation, all of which is in the best interests of the citizens of the City of Texico, New Mexico.

Section 2: Disconnect of water utility for non-payment. A water utility customer who has for any reason allowed his water bill to be in arrears for a period longer than thirty (30) days is subject to disconnect of service by the following procedure:

The Clerk of the City of Texico shall give written notice to the depositor at the address of the meter that unless full payment is made within ten days after the date of the mailing of the notice, that the City of Texico will disconnect its water utility services to the meter, apply the outstanding meter deposit to the present bill, reimburse the depositor for any excess deposit, and that the City of Texico will not reconnect the service until a new meter deposit is established and paid.

Section 3: Delinquent Meter Rates Established. If a meter is disconnected pursuant to the procedure described in Section 2 herein, a new meter deposit rate will be established by the City Clerk by averaging the last three monthly water bills charged to the meter and doubling the computed average.

Section 4: New Customer. A new customer shall not be subject to the delinquent meter rate. However, a new customer cannot be any person who is within the immediate family of the previous meter depositor or a person who has resided with the previous meter depositor at the meter address unless the City Council has reviewed the matter and approved the person as a new customer. In the event of any question, the City Council may be requested by the applicant to schedule the matter and make a determination at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

Section 5: Effective Date. This ordinance is effective five (5) days after publishing notice of same.

Passed and adopted by the Council of the City of Texico, New Mexico, unanimously, this 25th day of July 1989.

Charlie Phillips

Charlie 'Sugartime' Phillips to appear

The Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary will sponsor a concert at 8 p.m. on July 28 in the Farwell High School Auditorium featuring Charlie "Sugartime" Phillips as part of the Border Town Days celebration.

Phillips is famous to most of the world for his 3 million selling song "Sugartime." But he is famous here because he is a hometown boy. Phillips wrote "Sugartime" while driving a tractor on the family farm near Farwell. He recorded it in the Norman Petty Studios in Clovis with Buddy Holly playing guitar.

Phillips is the son of the late Kate Phillips of Farwell. He attended Farwell High School where he studied music under Irma Jobe who encouraged many students like Phillips who had a natural talent for music.

Since that time, Phillips has become internationally known as a writer and Country/Western singer and has appeared on the Grand Ole Opry, Ozark Jubilee, Louisiana Hayride, the Big D Jamboree and many others.

Phillips has recorded for several major record companies including Columbia, Reprise, and Coral. Some of his other hits are "I Guess I'll Never Learn," "Be My Bride," "Welcome to the Wedding," "Later Tonight," "Souvenirs of Sorrow," "Twenty Fools Ago," "Going Away," "The Wild Side of Houston," and the song sometimes called the "Cowboy National Anthem" - "The Big Ball is in Cowtown".

Phillips and his band, "The Sugartimers," are a top attraction whenever they appear and have a reputation for being one of the top traditional Country and Western/Western swing dance bands in Texas.

Phillips has made his home in Amarillo since 1960 and along with "The Sugartimers," still plays every Saturday night at an Amarillo landmark, The Aviatrix Ballroom.

His hobbies include collecting old cars and skiing. He also is interested in broadcasting, real estate, and farming.

The Farwell High graduate will be joined on the program by Ed Hardage of Texico at Phillips request since Hardage was his inspiration when he was getting started.

He will also be joined by the "Country Strings," a group which includes Joe Hughes, Calvin Rippee, Hurschel Parker, and Charlotte McMurtry. The Country Strings play gospel, and songs in the tradition of Bob Wills and the Sons of the Pioneers.

Profits from the program will be used to furnish and decorate the new sun room addition to the Farwell Convalescent Center.

Tickets for adults are $5 in advance, $6 at the door, and for children under 12 are $2.50. They are available at many local businesses.

The Bordertown Four, featuring Fred Chandler, Turner Paine, Velda Jolly, and Donald Clark will also perform.

Roy Norman will be the master of ceremonies.

Dinosaur bones to be displayed

Weldon Kube of West Camp will be one of the exhibitors at the 24th annual Clovis Gem and Mineral Show at the Youth Recreation Building on 7th Street on July 29 and 30.

The show will be open from 9 a.m. - 7 p.m. Saturday and from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Sunday.

Among other interesting exhibits at the show, Kube will display some prehistoric crocodile-like dinosaur bones that he and fellow rock hound Nancy Bennett found on a ranch north of Clovis near the Curry-Quay County line last March.

"She and I each have a small box of bones that we found," he said. "We each found several bits of bone and teeth. These animals shed their teeth, so there were quite a few of those."

The pair is not sure exactly which prehistoric animals that the teeth came from, but they have been seeking an identification of the bones in libraries nearby. They have narrowed the identification down to a few possibilities.

Both Kube and Ms. Bennett are members of the Clovis Gem and Mineral Society which is presenting the annual show. The group often goes on trips looking for gems and other interesting minerals.

Some of the members will simply display their finds at the show. But there will also be several dealers present selling jewelry, gemstone marbles and carvings, lapidary equipment and supplies. There will also be two demonstrators present, one showing how faceting is done, and the other making arrowheads. There will be many interesting and beautiful displays provided by the Clovis club and other gem and mineral clubs in the area.

Admission is free. The Clovis Gem and Mineral Club is a non-profit organization, and this annual show is the club's major fund raising activity. Proceeds go toward a book scholarship which is given to a student attending Eastern New Mexico University and majoring in one of the earth sciences. This scholarship is presented during the group's December meeting.

Brenda Pierson, Dwayne Yarbrough wed

Brenda Pierson and Dwayne Yarbrough were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony June 9 at 7 p.m. at Bethel Assembly of God Church in Clovis.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. V. Ray Allen. It was a garden setting with ferns, baby's breath and teal bows adorning a gazebo with spiral of candles to each side. The setting also featured a unity candle.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Pierson of Farwell.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Yarbrough of Cunningham, Tenn.

The bride wore a gown designed and made by her mother. It had a strapless, fitted underbodice of cream, luster satin. The lace bodice overlay was fashioned with a princess style waistline, with portrait neckline. The puffed lace upper sleeves ended in slender satin tapered to a point at the hand. The full length skirt was made of cream satin with a chapel train with drape and designer bow in back. Skirt and train were edged in 6 - inch double- edged lace and seed pearls.

She wore a wide brimmed tulle- covered hat with tulle and pearls cascading down the back. Her hat was fashioned by her sister. She carried a cascading bouquet with roses and baby's breath accented with strands of pearls.

The maid of honor was her cousin, Annette Crabtree. Bridesmaids were her nieces, Cassandra and Ella Eubanks.

Their dresses, also fashioned by the bride's mother, were made of teal, medium turquoise and light turquoise satin. They were tea length, princess style with cascading ruffles down the back of the skirt. The bodices featured puffed sleeves and sweetheart necklines. They carried lace fans with a single teal and cream orchid with streamers of ribbon and pearls. They wore hats with teal flowers and ribbon streamers. All the hats were made by Jo Eubanks, sister to the bride.

The ring bearers were Rachel Williams, second - cousin of the bride and Jon Eubanks, nephew of the bride. Rachel wore a gown identical to the maid of honor and Jon wore a tux identical to the groom's.

The groom wore a cream, formal tux with cream tie and vest with a single rose boutonniere. His best man was Charles Abernathy; his groomsmen were Bryan Baggett and Jeff Good, all of whom were lifelong friends. They wore black tuxes with ties and cummerbunds to match the girl attendants' dresses. They had teal carnation boutonnieres.

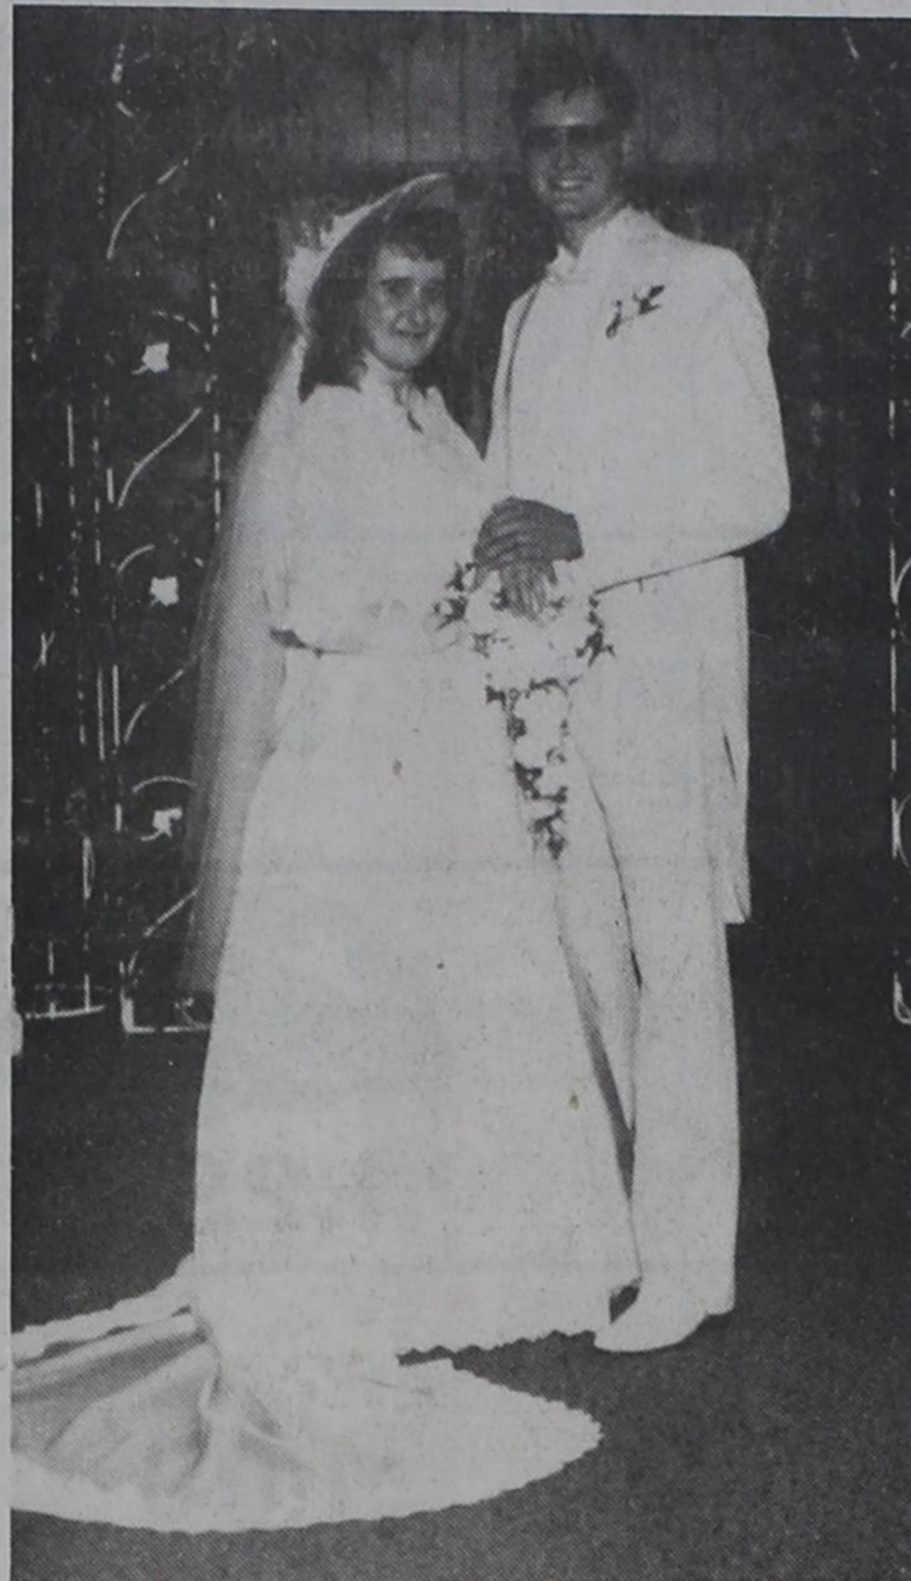

Music was provided by Sharon Eubanks, sister of the bride who sang "Twelfth of Never" and "Always." She was accompanied at the organ by Hazel Granada.

Ushers were Wayne Pierson and Troy Eubanks, nephews of the bride. Junior groomsmen were B.J. Eubanks and Cary Eubanks, also nephews of the bride. They wore black tuxes with teal ties and cummerbunds and teal boutonnieres.

The guest book was attended by the bride's sister-in-law, Bobbie Pierson.

A reception followed in the church fellowship hall. The servers were friends of the bride and groom. They were Ruth Baggett and Sharon Dixon. The bride's sister, Jo Eubanks, catered and hosted the reception.

The newlyweds honeymooned in the Great Smokie Mountains of Tennessee and are at home at 1112 Calhoun, Clovis.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Yarbrough

Texico's Martin reports on insurance contracts

Greg Martin of Texico recently served on a New Mexico State board which awarded insurance contracts for all of the school systems in New Mexico except Albuquerque.

"I think we are the only state in the country that does this," said Martin.

Because all of the school systems worked together, they were able to get a new 8 year contract which was only 5% higher than the old 4 year contract that was in place. The contract includes health and accident policies for the schools.

Martin served on the committee as a representative of the School Board Association. There were also representatives of the teachers' organization, the administrators' organization, and several other organizations involved in education.

Showers come

Most of the Twin Cities area received nice showers Saturday night, Sunday night and Monday, but the Lariat area received some hail along with theirs.

Lonnie McFarland, manager of the Sherley Anderson Grain Elevator in Lariat, reported that about 1 1/2" - 2" of rain fell at the elevator Saturday. It was accompanied by strong winds.

He reported hail damage to crops - mostly corn, cotton and maize - east of Lariat and west of Bovina. He also reported that .10" fell Monday morning.

Fred Chandler reported that .3" of rainfall fell on the Sherley Grain Elevator in Farwell as of Monday morning.

Scott Brown reported .55" fell this weekend at the Sherley Grain Elevator in Lazbuddie. He noted there was some hail damage north of Lazbuddie.

Rose Longley at Farwell Feed Yard reported .23" fell there on Saturday, and .13" fell there on Monday morning.

Out Reach Singers to perform

The "Out Reach Singers" will present a free, live, 60 minute concert of contemporary Christian music at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church Aug. 11 at 8 p.m.

The concert will follow a church-wide covered dish supper at 6 p.m.

The "Out Reach Singers" is a non-denominational music ministry group (actually they have 5 groups traveling in the summer and 4 during the winter.) They travel around the U.S. and abroad giving concerts and witness about Christ.

Daniel Hutchins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hutchins of Farwell, is a member. He will be with them at Hamlin Memorial. Daniel toured Europe and the United States with the group this summer.

Buster Herington's land south of Farwell got 1" of rain Saturday.

This is to be a busy weekend.

Border Town Days are a much looked forward to event for our residents. We take as many as possible out to watch the parade - and how they enjoy it! The fun of being in the parade for the few who can go in the van is an added traction. This year we hope to make it even different. Look for us Saturday.

The Ladies Auxiliary will again have a bake sale this year. They will also have a guacamole salad made by our own Lupe Vidaurri. The salad was a big hit last year and we sold out quickly so don't wait too long or you will miss a delicious treat.

We also have a visit to Baskin Robbins slated this week. Everyone likes ice cream and with the variety we have so many flavors to enjoy.

Our birthday party is this Friday. We extend an invitation to come and share our party. The Border Town Four will be here, giving us their usual musical treats. They make our birthday parties such a fun time we can't thank them enough for their thoughtfulness in giving their time and talent.

Hope this is a happy weekend for each of you. See you at the parade.

Meals on Wheels

Noon meals can be delivered to your door. For further information, contact the Farwell Convalescent Center at 481-9027. This program is for elderly, handicapped and temporary illnesses.

Students told about 'Dinosaur Dining'

Several local youngsters participated in the cooking school conducted by Connie Moyers of Southwestern Public Service and Rochelle White of the County Extension Office.

Below are some of the recipes from the "Dinosaur Dining" Cooking School recipe pamphlet.

Tex - Mex Skillet Dinner
 1 lb. ground beef
 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce
 1 16 oz. pkg. frozen Past Accents Southwestern Style Seasoning
 1 1/2 c. Monterey Jack cheese, shredded

Brown ground beef; drain. Stir in tomato sauce; bring to a boil. Stir in vegetables and pasta; cover and simmer for 3 - 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender - crisp. Sprinkle with cheese. Serve with tortilla chips if desired.

or Microwave directions: Crumble ground beef in a 3 quart glass casserole dish. Cook 3 minutes on high power; stir to break apart. Continue cooking two minutes or until browned. Stir in tomato sauce and cook 2 minutes. Stir in package of vegetable-pasta mixture. Cover and cook 2 - 3 minutes on high power or until vegetables are tender - crisp. Sprinkle with cheese. Serve with tortilla chips.

Waffle Bread
 1 1/2 c. corn meal
 3/4 c. flour
 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 tsp. soda

2 Tbs. sugar (optional)
 1/2 tsp. salt
 2 eggs
 1 1/4 c. buttermilk
 6 Tbs. melted shortening
 Sift dry ingredients together. Beat eggs and buttermilk together and add to dry ingredients. Add melted shortening. Heat waffle baker and bake batter until steam no longer rises from sides of waffle baker (4 - 5 minutes). Makes 8 waffles. These may be frozen and reheated by dropping each into the electric toaster.

X-TRA Special Snack
 2 quarts popped popcorn
 1 c. shredded coconut
 1 c. peanuts, salted or unsalted
 1 c. sunflower seeds
 1 c. M&M candies, plain
 1 c. raisins (optional)
 salt, if desired
 Combine all ingredients and mix well. This makes a nutritious and delicious snack.

Yummy Fruit Pizza
 1 roll (18 oz.) refrigerated slice and bake sugar cookies
 1 pkg. (8 oz) cream cheese, softened
 1/3 c. sugar
 1/2 tsp. vanilla
 3 - 4 c. assorted sliced fruits*
 1/2 c. orange marmalade, peach or apricot preserves
 2 Tbs. water.

Connie Moyers of Southwestern Public Service donned elbow high insulated gloves before she demonstrated how electricity gets to each home. She and County Extension Agent Rochelle White conducted a cooking school for area youth Brandi Norvell, Samantha Bowery, and Amanda Engram pitched in to make Tex-Mex Skillet Dinner.

Texico reunion coming

A gigantic reunion is being planned for former Texico School students and teachers of classes 1965- 1977.

The date has been set for Aug. 4 and 5.

On Aug. 4, each class will be on their own and a representative from each class will be in contact to let everyone know what has been planned for that class.

On Aug. 5, there will be two functions planned.

Beginning at 11 a.m. MDT, a "Dutch Treat Picnic" will be held at the Youth Recreation Building at Hillcrest Park in Clovis. This will be for the entire family.

Then "The Big Bash" will get under way at the Clovis Room of the Clovis Holiday Inn at 7 p.m. MDT. There will be entertainment as well as an awards program. This will be for the adults only.

If you are a Texico graduate or former classmate, and you have not been contacted, or if you know someone who needs to be contacted, call Cynthia Chumley at 762 - 1760 or Cheryl Whitener at 389 - 5336 or Cynthia Thigpen at 481- 9355.

This collection makes a point!

by Juanita J. Hadley

Some of the most interesting items in Gilbert Tenorio's collection are not mounted behind glass. Instead, they can be closely examined on a necklace he often carries with him. The most unique piece is the white bone bead seen at the bottom of the necklace. Upon close viewing, one can see a number of designs carved or incised into the bead. Other rare examples include several round, glass Chinese beads dating from the 1700's. Tenorio happened upon these unusual beads after he and others had helped tear down an old house. The beads were found under some of the flooring. Texico resident, Juanita Hadley, holds the necklace.

Usually waiting for car repairs, or to have a flat fixed, or any one of a hundred other necessary services is, at best, long and boring for the driver.

Not so if that person is a customer of Clarence and Barbara Sena's C & B Phillips 66 service station in Texico. There, anyone can pass the time constructively, studying the framed collection of Native American artifacts on display.

When asked about the collection, Clarence is quick to explain that, although he found a few of the items himself, the real credit goes to his father-in-law, Gilbert Tenorio of Encino, N.M.

Tenorio loves to talk about points, artifacts, Indians - both historic and prehistoric- and his grandchildren. But he always comes back to points. And, like so many who truly enjoy their avocation, he is a literal treasure trove of information.

Tenorio notes that, in addition to the objects to be seen at the 66 station, he also has two larger frames at his home and numerous other articles that are simply too big to mount. Items like hand axes, tomahawks, and matates and manos to name a few.

In order to show off and enhance some of his collection, several years ago Gilbert decided to arrange some of the items into star-shaped designs. So out came the pencil and ruler and a piece of bright orange fabric. The results of his efforts are visible to anyone who enters the station.

Each of the three stars is composed of numerous arrowheads. The points range from unbelievably small, remarkably worked examples of no more than one - half inch long to equally well worked examples of three or more inches in length. Tenorio explains that the almost miniature arrowheads were used for killing small game such as birds or rabbits. The larger the point, the larger the game it was intended to kill.

In the open spaces surrounding the stars, Gilbert artfully placed designs featuring lance points, other worked stone artifacts, bone tools, and a number of very old coins. He explains that the lance points were, of course, hurled at larger game, and also reminds his listener that originally all points were attached to the shaft with animal sinew. The points in the collection vary not only in size but also in color. Gleaming black gives way to every conceivable shade of gray, to blue, on to an array of reds and browns, and all the way to an almost translucent white. And some of the points exhibit two or more colors.

Gilbert Tenorio of Encino, N.M., and his son-in-law, Clarence Sena of Texico have a right to be proud of their collection. Most of the objects were found by Tenorio, but Sena also added some to the total. Both men are knowledgeable on the subject of historic, prehistoric and paleo Indians. While Tenorio is not always around the Twin Cities to answer questions and volunteer information, Sena can usually spare a few minutes for talk between his duties taking care of customers at the station he and his wife operate in Texico.

Paige Brown poured milk into the blender as Chelsi Woods, Kristen Perkins and County Extension Agent Rochelle White watched. Each girl or boy did some of the cooking.

Cooking

Cut cookie dough into 1/8 inch slices; cover bottom of pizza pan with cookie slices, overlapping slightly. Bake at 375 degrees for 12 minutes or until crust is light golden brown. Cool completely on a wire cooling rack. In a bowl or food processor, combine cream cheese, sugar and vanilla until it is well blended. Spread mixture evenly over crust. Arrange fruit over cream cheese in an attractive design. Combine marmalade and water in a bowl; mix well. Using a teaspoon, spoon preserve mixture evenly over pizza, covering all fruit. Chill and cut into wedges to serve.

Note: sliced peaches or nectarines, blueberries, strawberry and grape halves make a colorful pizza, but you can use any fruit.

Indian points

Its hue depends upon the material from which a particular point was chipped, with most being made of agate, flint, petrified wood, or obsidian. According to Tenorio, most Indians were eager to find or acquire white stones for working because the color represented the eagle.

Probably the most noticeable item on the board is a large white point located in the center of the largest star design. Tenorio proudly relates that his late wife Caroline found it in about 1967 on one of their many outings to the Coronas, a mountainous area of New Mexico frequented by wandering bands of Indians for hundreds of years. At that time, Mrs. Tenorio, whom he describes as a "real doll," jumped up and down, proclaiming, "I'll bet you never found one this big!"

Tenorio feels that most of the arrowheads and lance points in the collection in Texico are fairly modern, belonging to the 1840's through the 1880's, and represent such diverse groups as the Navajo, Mescalero and other Apaches, Zuni, Comanche, Cherokee, and Choctah.

However, the case boasts two much older points, dating back 6,000 to 7,000 years, to a time when paleolithic man inhabited the land that later became New Mexico.

Other items in the collection may not be as flashy as the points, but are equally interesting. For example, there are a number of chipped stone blades and scrapers which female members of the Native American groups used after their male counterparts had "brought home the bacon." (The "bacon" in this case probably being stone, bear, or buffalo.) One other fine example of being tool represented is a white drill.

The frame also boasts an assortment of bone tools. Tenorio points out several that were used in weaving, some of which are obviously bone needles, and a particularly interesting piece with what appear to be grooves notched into one edge. He explains that this tool was created to comb or card wool.

In addition to the Indian artifacts, a variety of late 1800 and early 1900 U.S. coins are also displayed on the board. Tenorio included the pennies, dimes, and quarters since they were all found around old homesteads, etc. where he and others were searching for Indian items.

Tenorio explains that present-day Indians have added much to his understanding and knowledge of past customs. For instance, he learned from them that skunk skins were handled differently than other skins. Soon after the animal was killed, its skin was buried in wet sand for a specified length of time to rid it of its stench. After the smell had been removed, it could be tanned following ordinary methods.

Another little-known practice dealt with the making of moccasins. Apparently, the Indian would locate two rocks approximately the same length as his feet, one shaped to resemble a left foot, the other, a right foot. Leather was then fit, cut, and sewn to the shape of the "foot."

Tenorio first became interested in collecting Indian artifacts in 1954 when he drove to an uncle's ranch north of Encino to cut a load of wood. As it turned out, the area had been an Indian campsite. There were points everywhere. In that one afternoon, Gilbert obtained the first 60 points for his collection, as well as a matate and mano, the stones utilized to grind grain by hand.

Since that beginning, Tenorio has broadened his search. A Torrance County maintainer operator for 25 years, he often used his lunch hours walking about, always on the lookout for the gleam of a point. In addition, he has hunted an old lakeside campsite near Encino many times where, Clarence Laska notes, worked flint is still easily found. Numerous other parts of New Mexico - Corona and South Lucy, (for which the Lucy point was named), Pintada Canyon near Ramadero, and even the area around Clines Corner- have all yielded artifacts.

In order to view all his Archaic Clovis and Folsom points, his mammoth tooth and tusk (from one of the two extinct prehistoric animals he discovered in the Corona/ Encino area), and the entire range of his collection of other artifacts, including, by the way, approximately 50 matates and manos, those interested must travel to Tenorio's home in Encino. But for a fascinating taste of ancient America, a person can simply stop by C & B Phillips 66 service station in Texico.

Patrons of C & B Phillips 66 service station in Texico can gaze their fill at the collection of Indian artifacts on display in their establishment. Included are a variety of arrowheads, other points, stone and bone tools, and old coins.

Committee gets sugar position

Dennis Printz, Hereford's Agricultural Manager said:

"Our grower partners, along with Holly Sugar, generate approximately $120 million into the Panhandle economy. Our crop is currently average, to a little above, and with a good disease - free growing conditions, harvest should begin by late September."

Printz sent a press release from Washington, D.C. dated July 12 to tell what the sugar industry is doing for local farmers.

A spokesman for the U.S. beet sugar industry testified before the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Agriculture at a hearing where farm lawmakers reviewed the status of federal programs currently operating under the Food Security Act of 1985.

Craig Anderson, a sugar beet farmer from Longmont, Colo., and past president of Mountain States Beet Growers Marketing Association, pledged continued industry cooperation on behalf of the more than 100,000 beet sugar growers, processor employees and their families as the Committee prepares general farm legislation to reauthorize programs set to expire in 1990.

"This committee has skillfully designed and the Congress has strongly supported the current U.S. Sugar Program. Our nation's sugar policy has worked well and is absolutely essential to the future of the domestic beet sugar industry," Anderson said in testimony to the Committee.

Anderson pointed out that all major sugar - producing and consuming nations continue to maintain some form of protection and price stabilization for their sugar industries and consumers. Commenting on multilateral negotiations currently underway in Geneva aimed at eliminating measures that distort free and fair trade, he noted that "domestic sugar producers were the first commodity group to endorse an Administration proposal to rid the world of tariff and non - tariff barriers to the international trade in agriculture."

"Insofar as sugar is concerned," Anderson stated, "we believe the best signal we can send our negotiators in Geneva is a comprehensive and strong domestic sugar program that will sustain a viable domestic sugar industry until such time as all others are prepared to abandon their predatory trade practices."

The committee also heard testimony supporting U.S. sugar policy from Jack Nelson, President of the Rio Grande Valley Sugar Growers and a sugar cane farmer from Santa Rosa, Texas.

Giveaway under way

Forty-seven Twin City businesses will be participating in the eighth annual Border Town Days Merchants Giveaway program held in conjunction with the annual BTD celebration's park activities on July 29.

This year's giveaway will take place throughout the afternoon of the Saturday festivities at Farwell city park.

Debra Looper, chairman of this year's event, said, "Any merchant that wasn't contacted but who wants to participate in the giveaway should call me at 481-9027 immediately. There's still time to enter."

Each participating business has a box in which customers may register for the prize to be given away by the merchant. A person may sign up once each time he is in a store until July 28 when the boxes will be picked up and taken to the park for the drawing.

Drawings will be held from each individual merchant's box, and the person whose name is drawn will be allowed ample time to claim the prize. However, in the event that the person does not show up to claim the prize in the allotted time, another name will be drawn so that all prizes are awarded that afternoon. It is essential that a winner be at the park to hear when his name is called.

No purchase is necessary at any of the participating merchants in order to register for the many prizes. Registrants must be 12 years of age or older.

Boxes were placed at the participating merchants earlier this week. Here is a list of the participants and what prizes they are giving away:

Michael's Lawn Service, $25 lawn mowing; Pierce Real Estate, clock-radio-phone; Haseloff Designs, $15 gift certificate; Farwell Post Office employees, 1988 Commemorative Mint Stamp Set and a 1987-88 Definitive Mint Stamp Set; Citizen's Bank, $50 savings bond; Security State Bank, $25 cash; Target Fuel Stop, $15 gift certificate for gasoline;

Nutri Tech, $25 cash prize; Smith Office Supply, clock; Crossroads Gift Shop, turquoise belt buckle; Farwell Feed Supply; Franse Irrigation; C & T Fertilizer, lawn fertilizer; Sherley-Anderson Grain, Lariat, $50 prize; Cooper Crafts, $15 gift certificate; Sherley Anderson Pitman, $50 gift certificate; Tri County Tire, radio controlled Indy Turbo Car worth $120;

Red's Barber Shop, 2 hair cuts; Farwell Spraying Service; State Line Tribune, a 2-year subscription; Texico Postal employees, $25 worth of stamps; Tide Products, lawn fertilizer; A Touch of Country, designer baskets; Pierce's Beauty Shop, 1 perm; Playorama Fruit Market, gift certificate for a hanging plant; KIJJN Christian Radio, collection of albums; Kelly Green Seeds, 2 bags of fertilizer and 1 quart of Round-Up; ENMR Telephone;

Lezlie Castleberry receives her degree.

Castleberry graduates

Lezlie Castleberry of Farwell graduated from Eastern New Mexico University on May 12 with a bachelor's degree in education.

Attending the ceremony were Ruth and Bobby Jones of Dickens, Texas; Noni Eubank, Betty and Lance Castleberry, and Randy Kellev of Farwell.

After the ceremony they celebrated with dinner at the Cattle Baron in Portales.

Miss Castleberry will assume a teaching and head tennis coach's position at Amarillo High School in August. She will coach both the boys' and girls' tennis teams at the Class 5A School.

Cotton still holds a healthy share

This information came from the National Cotton Council: Cotton continued to hold a healthy share in U.S. - produced apparel and home furnishings in 1988 - a year in which those markets did not fare exceedingly well.

An annual NCC market research report - the 1989 edition of "Cotton Counts Its Customers" - indicates cotton's share in 1988 was 32 percent for an estimated consumption of about 8 million bales, down slightly from the previous year's 8.3 million.

Cotton was consumers' fiber of choice in clothing in 1988, with its share in that market sector holding at 53 percent. Apparel continues to be cotton's strongest end - use sector, accounting for about 5 million bales or 60 percent of its consumption.

Consumer preference for 100 percent cotton and cotton - rich blends was demonstrated by an increased use of cotton in knits such as sport shirts, sweatshirts, underwear, non

Harry Sheets: A man for all hobbies

Editor's note: Some folks might be wondering who our new cartoonist is, so this information has been put together.

Harry Sheets, who is the Tribune's volunteer cartoonist, was born on his grandfather's farm north of Clovis. His family moved to a farm north of Texico for a short time.

As with many families during the Depression, they lived in several places. After leaving the Texico area, they moved to Oklahoma. Then they lived in Arizona, Oregon, Washington, and several places in California. During World War II, both of his parents worked in defense plants in the Los Angeles area.

It was in California that Harry first learned about art. He has since enjoyed working with several different mediums, but oil painting and cartooning have been his favorites. Over the years he became a fan of several of the syndicated cartoonists. He has especially enjoyed political satire and Dirk West's Southwest Conference football cartoons.

Sheets was a freshman in 1948 Farwell High Graduate Harry Sheets.

high school in Gardena, Calif., when Harry's parents decided to move back to this area.

Harry finished 9th grade in Clovis, the rest of his high school years in Farwell, graduating in 1948.

Harry had an opportunity to play football at Eastern New Mexico University, but after a short time decided to "join the Navy to see the world." He served on an aircraft carrier after boot camp in San Diego. Some of his service time was spent in Hawaii.

He returned to Farwell after his stint in the Navy to go into business with his father. Sheets and Sheets is in the same Texico location as it was when the Sheets family moved back in the mid 1940's.

Sheets has had many hobbies through the years - fishing, hunting, water skiing, snow skiing, golf, art, gardening, traveling, and flying. He flew his own planes for more than 20 years.

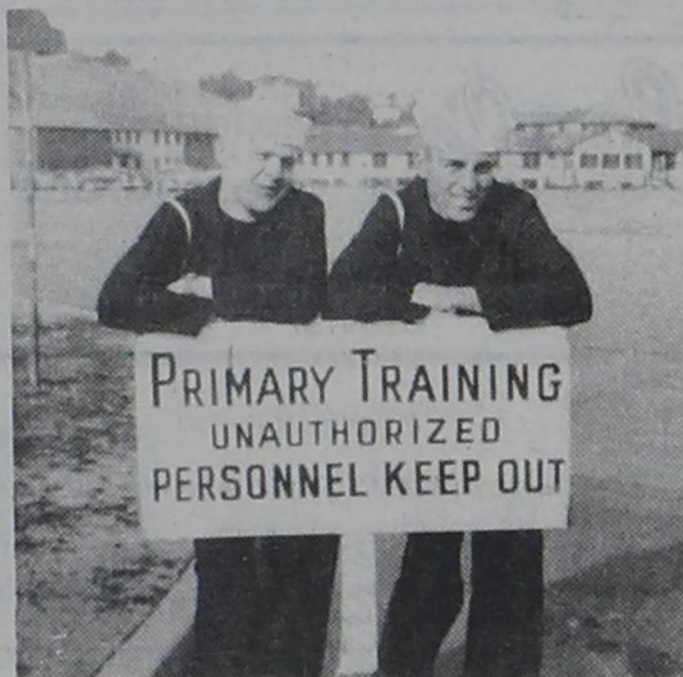

One day last spring, Sheets was sitting beside Mike Pomper at a Texico - Farwell Rotary Club meeting. At the time John Tower was in the news because of the controversy over his nomination as Secretary of Defense. Sheets made a quick sketch of a cartoon on a napkin, and Pomper asked if he would like to draw cartoons for the Tribune.

Sheets has had no pay for his work, but says he has had a lot of fun doing the cartoons. Some cartoons that he has done are statements of his opinion that he doesn't consider funny at all.

Harry and his wife Mina were married in 1974, and they have five children.

Sheets flew his own plane for over 20 years.

You're in the Navy now, Harry.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheets.

Cotton (Continued from Page 5)

- sheer hosiery and sweaters. Knit items used almost 2.4 million bales or 47 percent of the cotton that went into apparel. Woven fabrics continue to use the most cotton in the apparel category (53 percent with denim and twill constructions the most popular end uses).

Home furnishings, cotton's second strongest market sector, consumed 2.5 million bales, or about 32 percent of total cotton consumption in 1988 - down slightly from the 2.6 million used in 1987. Industrial end - users accounted for the remaining 8 percent - about 700,000 bales - 42,000 more than in 1987.

Cotton's top five markets in 1988 used almost 4 million bales, about one - half of the cotton consumed in all end - uses. Men's and boys' shirts was cotton's best market, with 1,033,000 bales used. The others were men's and boys' trousers and shorts, 976,000 bales; towels and washcloths, 895,000; drapery, upholstery and slip cover fabrics, 541,000; and women's slacks and jeans, 522,000.

Recipe of Week

Banana/ Bacon condiment

- 1 Tbs. sugar
- 1 Tbs. cinnamon
- 2 bananas

4 strips of bacon cut in half

Mix sugar and cinnamon. Peel bananas and cut each banana into four slices. Roll in cinnamon and sugar mixture. Wrap each piece in half of a bacon strip. Broil, turning often until the bacon is crisp. Serve hot.

This recipe goes well with Hawaiian or island dishes.

State Sen. Teel Bivins on a Texas phenomenon

AUSTIN - Not long ago, a bill by Senator Ted Lyon that would allow public utilities to self-insure was before the full Senate for consideration. The pros and cons of the bill were hotly debated. Senator Lyon though, had done his homework. When the vote came, he had enough votes to suspend the rules and adopt the bill on final passage. In a wonderfully ironic moment when Lt. Governor Hobby announced that Senator Lyon's bill had finally passed, the lights in the entire Capitol complex went out. Incredibly, there was a complete power failure at the moment the bill passed the Senate.

Intense floor debate in the Texas Senate is the exception and not the rule. One remarkable thing about the Senate is the propensity to "work things out." This is largely attributable to the fact that you must have 21 votes to be able to bring up any matter before the full Senate. An example can best illustrate what I am talking about.

Senate Bill 740 by Henderson on its face seemed to be an innovative solution to a thorny problem. Fifty-two percent of the Texas population currently lives in areas that are in one-attainment of federal ambient air quality standards, due in part to harmful emissions from gasoline and diesel powered vehicles. That 1991, U.S. EPA diesel bus standards will require a 54 reduction of nitrogen oxide emissions and an 85% reduction in particulate emissions over current emission levels. These standards cannot be met with current diesel fuel technology.

Natural gas is an abundant, cost effective, clean burning fuel which, when used in motor vehicles, can achieve significant reductions in harmful emissions from these sources and can reduce the high costs associated with the operation and maintenance of vehicle fleets. For vehicles using compressed natural gas, carbon monoxide emissions are reduced by 50%, hydrocarbon emissions are reduced by 40%, particulate emissions are virtually eliminated, and maintenance costs are reduced by approximately 50%.

Senator Henderson's bill as proposed would have created new law which would require school district boards, state agencies, and local transit authorities to convert existing vehicles to use compressed natural gas or other alternative fuels.

My first impression of the bill was very positive because of the environmental impact, the maintenance and operation cost savings to units of state and local government and perhaps, most importantly, because it would encourage development of new markets for natural gas from which District 31 could definitely benefit. However, the bill as it was originally drafted had a definite down side. The cost of converting diesel fuel vehicles to compressed natural gas is very expensive. In mandating that school districts and local transit authorities convert their vehicles, the Legislature would once again be creating mandates without funding. If I heard one chorus throughout my year long campaign for the Texas Senate, it was from school districts, county and city governments saying "no more mandates without funding."

Since I did not serve on the committee that voted the bill out, I only learned about it when it appeared on the intent calendar for the full Senate. I was in a real quandary because I supported some aspects of the bill, but I strongly opposed the Legislature ordering local units of government to do things without providing the funding to accomplish them.

The proponents of the bill argued that in the long run the maintenance and operation costs of converted vehicles would result in an overall savings to units of local government. That argument, of course, is based on the assumption that natural gas would always remain inexpensive relative to the cost of liquid petroleum fuels - a dangerous assumption at best.

To make a long story short, I was able to get Senator Henderson to accept a floor amendment. The amendment allowed school districts and other units of local government that operate fleets of diesel vehicles to escape the mandates of the bill if they can demonstrate that conversion was not cost effective.

The fact that Senator Henderson accepted my floor amendment when he knew he had the votes to pass his bill in fact is the phenomenon I alluded to earlier. There is a tradition in the Senate of working things out. I was particularly pleased with this result because first of all, I didn't have the votes to kill the bill and secondly, there were parts of the bill I believed to be good policy.

Reynolds picked for program

David L. Reynolds, principal of Farwell High School is among 320 elementary and secondary school administrators chosen by the Texas Education Agency to participate in the 1989-90 Texas School Improvement Initiative Program.

Established by Commissioner of Education W.N. Kirby, the Texas School Improvement Initiative is a statewide program in its second year of operation, designed to promote high performance standards of educational quality at the campus level.

"This goal will be accomplished by involving elementary and secondary principals as well as superintendents and central office administrators in the new performance-based accreditation process," says Dr. Ruben D. Olivarez, assistant commissioner for accreditation at the Agency. "Each school district in the state is required to receive a full accreditation review at least once every six years. This review includes a comprehensive on-site evaluation of school campuses."

Reynolds received training to enable him to participate in on-site visits of other schools and to prepare for the on-site accreditation visit Farwell will receive in 1991-92.

Electricity camp

Three Parmer County residents participated in an electricity camp sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company (SPS) for 4-H members. About 100 4-H'ers from throughout the Texas South Plains attended the camp July 10 - 14 in Sacramento Mountains south of Cloudcroft, N.M.
