

MEMORIAL DAY

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

It's graduation time!

I apologize to the Gikas

First, an apology to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gikas for an inadvertent typo in last week's paper.

We had noted in this column that they had graciously donated funds to allow two additional Farwell students to attend Camp RYLA, sponsored by the Texico-Farwell Rotary Club.

In the story, it was supposed to read "former mayor Mr. and Mrs. Chris Gikas," but the word "mayor" inadvertently was left out.

It was my fault and I profusely apologize to them for this error.

Speaking of last week's paper, a statement also was carried in the Texico city council story to the effect that Fry Urioste had been promoted by Mayor Doyal LaRue from deputy marshal to city marshal.

Not so. He's still the deputy marshal.

The council agreed to advertise for another deputy marshal at the meeting.

Texico Football Coach Bruce Scroggins told some great jokes at the annual Texico athletic banquet Saturday.

When you see him, ask about the thunderstorm help he got from Ryan Null; the note he got from Coach Roy King at halftime of one of the football games, and the injury he suffered during an EPAC tourney basketball game.

They make great stories...

We had it in the Tribune a few weeks back but some folks missed it:

The building going in along the highway near the former Stuckeys, west of Texico, will be a New Mexico "hello" station to greet visitors.

Well, we have our first entry for this year's Border Town Days parade - always the last Saturday in July.

Signing up with a float will be the Farwell High School Class of 1971 - all set for their 20th reunion.

If you want to sign up, just call the Tribune at 481-3681.

We'll be getting hot and heavy into BTDC come June.

Good news on the local medical front:

When Dr. Frank Kretsinger put up his shingle at the Farwell Clinic a couple of months back, he was open only Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Well, folks are returning to the clinic now that we have a family physician, who also handles obstetrics. So the clinic is now open an extra day - Mondays.

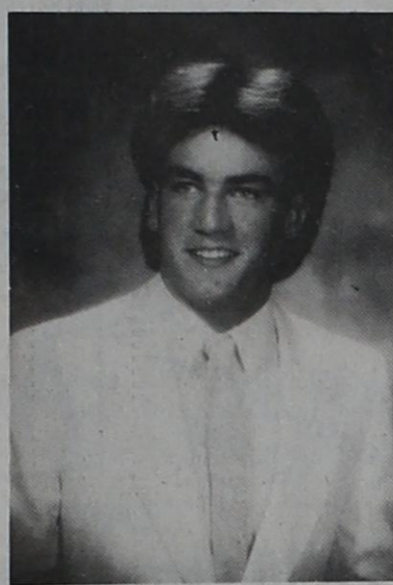

So you can see the good doc Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Farwell water Supt. Dee Hammit suggests that residents watch their water usage carefully.

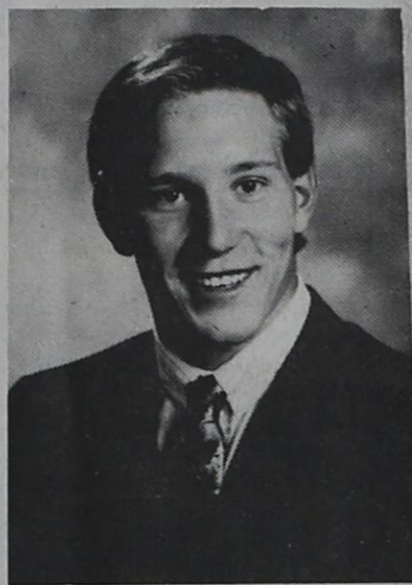

Residents who use up to 50,000 gallons of water will be charged 45 cents per 1,000 gallons.

Above that figure, the price goes to $1 per 1,000 gallons when more than 50,000 gallons are used.

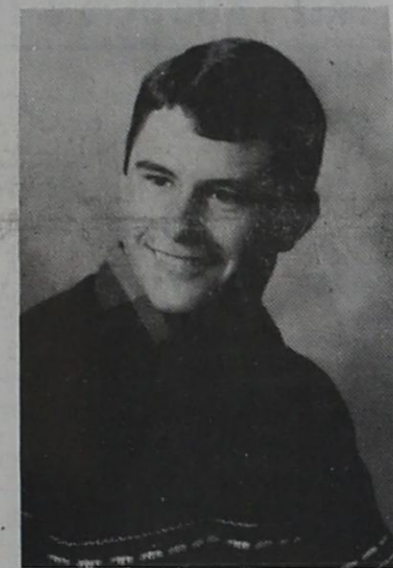

Hammit reports that several residents have exceeded the 50,000 gallon figure.

The Invocation will be given by Dr. Terry Anderson, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clovis.

Folks voted by a large margin Saturday to create the Parmer County Hospital District - 801 to 243.

County residents who were not within either the Muleshoe or Farwell hospital districts were eligible to vote. They are now in the new district.

The new district has the authority to set a tax rate up to 25 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

But the Parmer County Community Hospital Board of Directors announced earlier this month they would recommend setting a tax rate of 18 cents if the district were approved by voters. This means, for example, that property having an assessed value of $50,000 would have a tax rate of $90.

The hospital Board of Directors will serve as the first year hospital district directors.

Here's a breakdown on the vote:

Friona - For, 503; against, 127.

Bovina - For, 120; against, 57.

Lazbuddie - For, 11; against, 24.

Rhea - For, 40; against, 4.

Lakeview - For, 32; against, 6.

Absentee - For, 95; against, 25.

New pump to be installed

The Texico City Council held a work study session May 16 with a representative of the Weston Co., Albuquerque, to discuss the contaminated well at KKR Park.

Levels of carcinogens were found in the well, forcing its closing earlier this year.

After discussing the problem, the council plans to order a new pump installed at KKR Park well. However, the new pump will be placed 60 feet lower than the current one.

It is hoped that the contaminants will be diluted enough by this extra 60 feet so that it won't cause a problem.

If all goes well, then the KKR Park well will again be used as the city's primary water source, with the Lions Park well as the backup.

However, if the contaminant levels are still a problem, then the council will look at a possible filtration system for the KKR Park well. These systems start at $65,000 - and go up from there.

Texico Junior High:

Rodarte is 8th grade valedictorian

Brandon Rodarte, son of Caroline Edens and grandson of Bill and Dorothy Cooper, is the valedictorian of the Texico Junior High Eighth Grade.

He has participated in the Texico Junior High Band, Athletics, and Odyssey of the Mind programs for the past two years. He has competed in the Geography Bee for the past three years, making it to the finals in Albuquerque in the 6th Grade. Brandon is currently working for his Eagle Scout Rank in the Boy Scouts. He is a member of Trinity United Methodist Church in Clovis, and is active in his youth group. Brandon hopes to go to college and become a scientist.

Adam Burford, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Burford of Pleasant Hill, is the salutatorian. Adam participates in the school's athletic program. He also plays soccer in the Clovis AYSO League. He is a member of the Texico Band, and he has won several awards in band contests. His most enjoyable extracurricular activity is working with his church's youth group. Adam wants to go to Texas Tech and major in criminology. Adam has a brother in second grade and a sister in fifth.

Carol Servatius, daughter of Bill and Linda Servatius, will read the Class Prophecy. She was 6th Grade vice president and won Special Academic Awards for both Spanish and Math. In the 7th grade she received April Citizen of the Month award. All three years of Junior High, she was a member of the Junior High Band, Drill Team, and Honor Roll. During both years she participated in cheerleading, basketball, volleyball and track. This year she was Student Council vice-president. Lori Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stanley, will read the Class Will. She has been actively involved in all the programs Texico Junior High has offered such as cheerleading, Band, and Drill Team. She has been a class officer. Lori has been on the Honor Roll every nine weeks from the sixth to the eighth grade. In the 6th Grade she was rewarded the Physical Education Award. In the 7th Grade she won the New Mexico History Award and the Band Award. In the 8th Grade she was chosen for the Citizen of the Month for December. Some of her favorite classes are Art, Math, Science, and English. In her spare time she likes to babysit, read, write, and ride her bike.

Qualls named New Mexico honor winner

Greg Qualls, son of Rick and Rhonda Qualls of Texico, was named New Mexico's winner for the Jefferson Awards for Students.

The Jefferson Awards, the nation's premier public service award, and the "Weekly Reader," the American school newsweekly, announce the award. A press conference is scheduled May 29 at the Texico Educational Complex to formally present the achievement.

Although only in the 3rd grade, Greg proved himself conscientious and able to work with 5 graders, performing a variety of duties in the student store. He also has been a student leader in helping organize all the elementary school children in a city cleanup campaign.

The Jefferson Awards were founded in 1972. This is the second year for the student program.

All 44 national winners and one adult chaperone for each student will be guests of the Jefferson Awards at their annual ceremonies June 17-19 in Washington, D.C. All expenses are paid.

Greg will be accompanied to Washington by his mother.

As a public service, Continental Airlines is flying the winners to Washington at no cost. Each student winner will receive a special Jefferson Award and a Jefferson Award up from the Weekly Reader Corp.

Two of the 44 winners will represent the entire group at the 1991 Jefferson Awards ceremonies in the U.S. Supreme Court.

OLD FASHIONED AMERICAN PRIDE

There was a time in this country when the things we made, we made by hand. Skilled craftsmen who cared about the work they did took the time to do the job right. And every object they made was stamped with pride.

That spirit of endeavor is not lost today. You'll find it in Americans from coast to coast — men and women who still care enough to do their best. From artist to accountant, farmer to factory worker, Americans can be proud of the work they're doing. Just as they can be proud of the country that work has built.

It may sound corny today to say it, but we're proud of America — proud of the old-fashioned values this country stands for and still has. America, you're the greatest!

Drought finally broken

Area farmers were happy to see some much needed rain on Tuesday night.

The rainfall which averaged about 1", was the first substantial moisture this month. This spring has been a little drier than last, but this week's rain helped.

Paul Dee Barnes reports .8" in Pleasant Hill.

Laurose Page of Page's Nursery reports that she got about 1 1/8" of moisture east of Farwell.

The moisture may have been too late for some of the dryland wheat, but it comes at a good time for the irrigated wheat and newly planted corn and cotton.

"Some of the irrigated wheat has some nice big, old heads on it," reports Fred Chandler, manager of Shirley Anderson Pittman grain elevator in Farwell. He reported measuring .85" at the elevator.

Lonnie McFarland, manager of Sherley Anderson Grain in Lariat reported 1.10" of moisture there. "This rain is a welcome sight," he said. "Everybody has been having to water."

McFarland reports that the corn is up in his area, and it is growing and doing well. According to McFarland, most of the cotton has been planted, and it is starting to grow.

Lazbuddie got the most rain in the area - 1 1/2", according to Scott Brown, manager of the Sherley Grain elevator in Lazbuddie. "This changes everybody's attitudes," he said of the rain.

Brown reports that there may be a little more cotton planted in his area this year, and less corn. Usually, the cotton needs less moisture to grow than corn.

Englishman ends walk across Texas here

April 12 marked a milestone in the life of William Tanner, 32, of London, England.

Tanner trekked across the state of Texas on foot and arrived at Texico. The victory was sweet because he had attempted, but failed to complete this task once before.

About four years ago Tanner started off on a similar venture from Texico, but he had not anticipated the effects of a May heat wave and high altitude in this part of the country. He got only part way to Muleshoe before dehydration got the best of him. The experience only made him more determined to try again.

It took about four years of saving to make the trip a reality.

Tanner said he's a waiter at Pizza Express in the Southwest Land section of London. He worked several extra shifts and saved his money the last several to come on this trip. Tanner has also had experience as an actor and as a carpenter which helped him augment his salary.

"By doing nothing else, I was able to afford it," said Tanner.

He arrived in Boston on Feb. 22, where he visited his brother and his wife.

Then he proceeded to the Texas-Louisiana border where he began his hike. He walked from east of Lufkin, Texas to Crockett, Dallas- Fort Worth, Gatesville, Waco, Abilene, Snyder, and Lubbock before heading toward Farwell.

"I'd have liked to cut across and stopped in the hill country, but I didn't have time," he said.

After completing the trek, Tanner planned to take a bus back to Boston before flying home to London.

Tanner will undoubtedly begin planning his next trip. In the course of his lifetime he has visited several European nations and Canada as well as the U.S., but "It is always a budget trip," he says.

This time the trade balance weighed in his favor, so he was able to see more sights for his travel dollar.

His trip was a pleasant one for him. "You have everything here in Texas. You can find anything you want in Texas," he said.

Joel Pate to teach in China

Joel Pate plans to teach English as a second language to Chinese teachers in Chengdu, China this summer. Chendu is located in South Central China, north of North Vietnam.

Pate will be working with a program sponsored by the Southern Baptist Church.

Cemetery cleanup set

The annual cleanup of the Oklahoma Lane Cemetery will be held on Memorial Day at 2 p.m. at the Cemetery. The Cemetery Board will also meet at that time.

Old Fort Days near

Fort Sumner is preparing for its annual Old Fort Days June 6-9. The annual Tombstone race will be held at 6 p.m. on June 8.

Memorial Day

Lest We Forget!

A day to remember, to reflect upon the price so dearly paid for freedom.

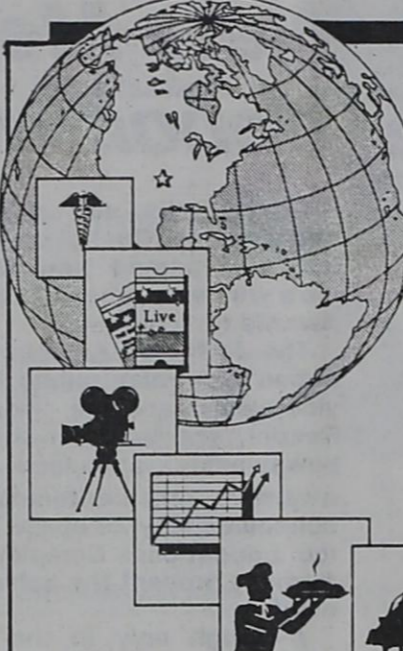

It is a day rich in history and emotion. Established three years after the Civil War, it was originally called Decoration Day ... when graves of friend and foe alike were honored. Those with no one to mourn their passing were not overlooked; they too were remembered for the enormous price paid for liberty and justice for all.

Our country is politically stalwart today because these Americans invested all they had - their lives - in America. Their investment returns security, freedom, and human dignity to the living every day.

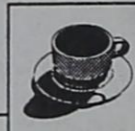

Americans cannot abandon the justice and freedom for which these brave men and women have fought and died. Spend a moment remembering.

Career talks

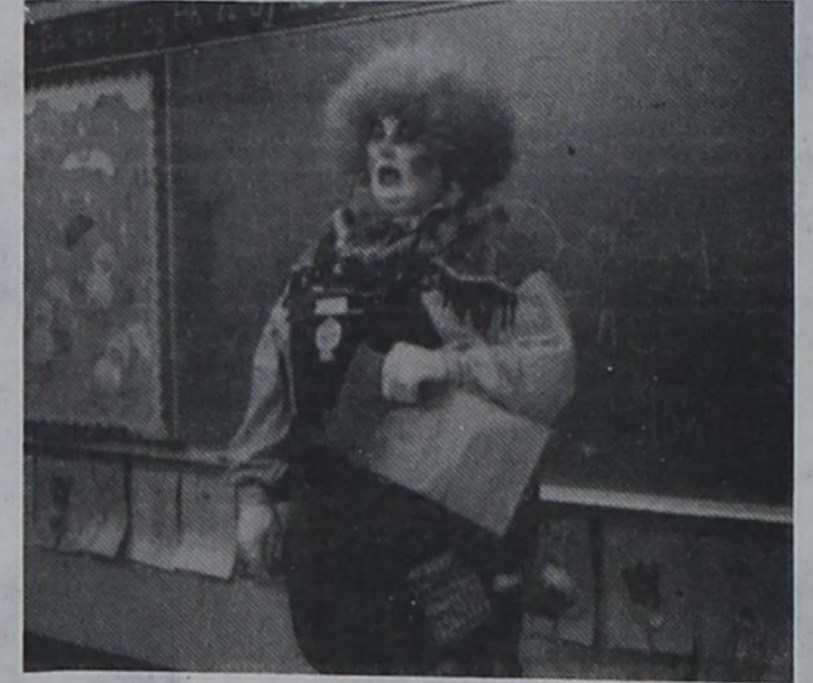

Texico students enjoyed hearing about a variety of careers available in the world of work today. Pictured here are just a few of the people who spoke to the students on April 23 about their professions.

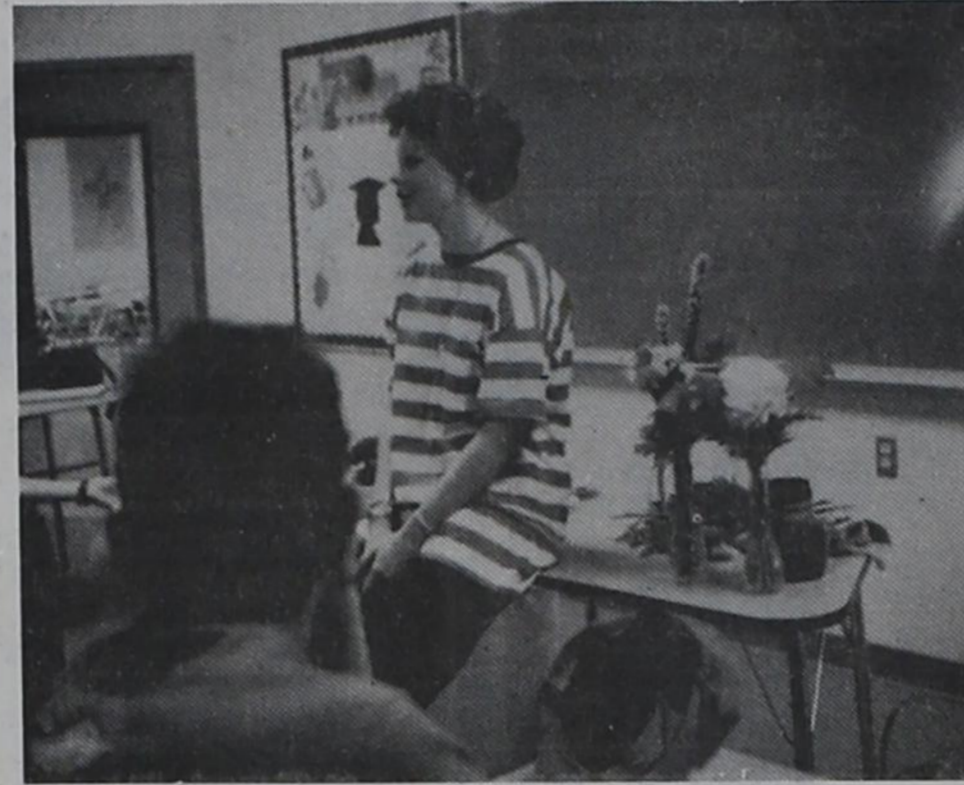

Doug Scioli of the Texico Volunteer Fire Department showed the students the department's ambulance and talked to them about a career in emergency rescue services.

R.N. Gwen Limmer talked to Mrs. Drager's class about nursing at Clovis High Plains Hospital.

Carmen Dotson, also known as Dazy the Clown, told elementary students about her work at a costume shop.

Mary Gustin demonstrated flower arranging, and talked to Junior High students about running a business.

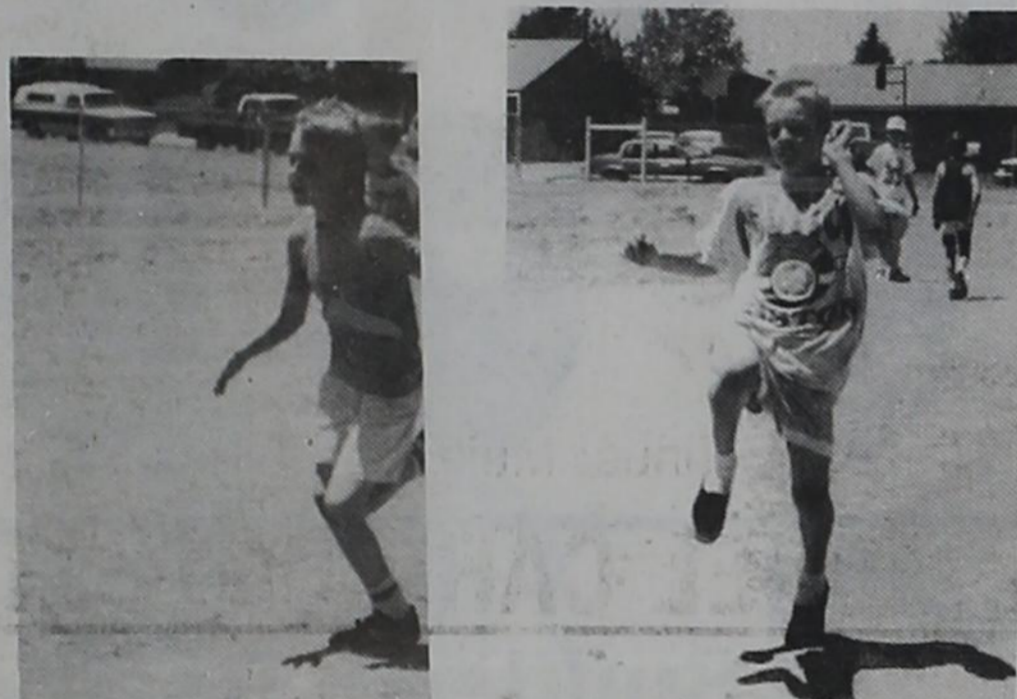

Tangie Gustin, Nikki Stout, and Brittany Duffield enjoyed a picnic lunche before the Farwell track meet.

Texico Junior High:

Coping with stress

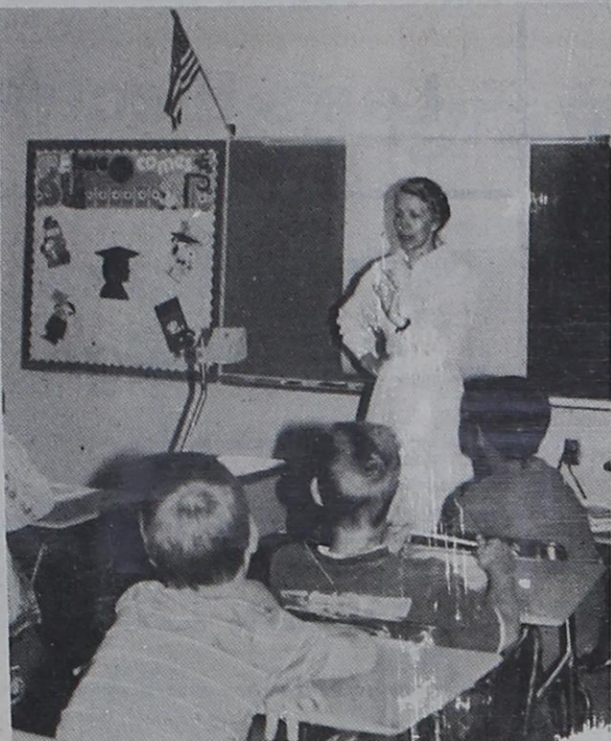

Texico Junior High School 7th and 8th graders participated in a one day program called "A New Attitude" presented in conjunction with the Mental Health Resources Center in Clovis.

During the course of the day, students participated in a variety of activities designed to help them cope with the stresses of growing up.

The first session, "Body Talk" concerned physical maturity and sex education. It was conducted by Phil Teakell for boys and LaRene Whitehead for girls. The second session, "You niquely You" was conducted by Juan Gutierrez. The third, "You're Somebody" was presented by Jeannie Heacock. The fourth, "Choices," was presented by Dallan Sanders. The fifth, "Four B's" was presented by Ellen Fenter.

Each session addressed a different aspect of the impact of maturation and development of youth and gave strategies for coping with those changes.

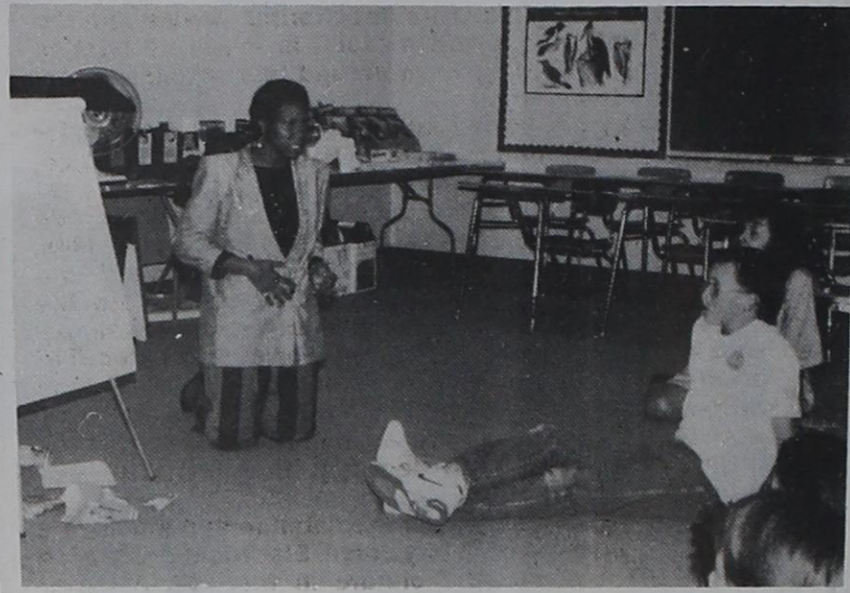

Jeannie Heacock presented "You're Somebody," to Texico Junior High Students.

Bolings celebrate 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boling of Farwell, celebrated an early 40th wedding anniversary with family members May 18 with a reception held in their home.

The celebration was hosted by the couple's children and their spouses, Cheryl and Hayden Smith, Carrizozo, N.M., John and Dana Boling, Ventura, Calif.; Terri Boling, Henderson, Texas, and Michael Boling, Tulsa, Okla.; and grandchildren, J.R. and Candice Boling.

Bill Boling married the former Frances Jones June 30, 1951, in Celeste, Texas. She retired from school teaching in 1986 after 21 years. He retired from FmHA in 1984 after 30 years service and from Parmer County Tax Assessor's office in 1990.

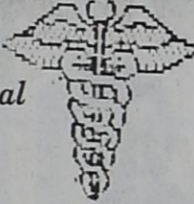

Out-of-town guests attending were Dottie and Winston Evans, Eleanor and Dale Jones, Nolan and Thelma Jones, Paul and Sherry Jones, James Jones, and Linda and Dan Wall.

Baugh to speak at seminar

Brant Baugh, Parmer County entomologist, will be a featured speaker at a training of field scouts who survey crops to assess pest population densities in integrated pest management programs in this area.

It will be conducted at Plainview June 4 by the Texas Ag Extension Service.

A TIME FOR TRIBUTE

..... Lest We Forget!

On this solemn occasion, we proudly pay tribute to our honored dead . . . and most especially express our thankfulness to those who have given their last full measure of devotion for our country, on the fields of battle.

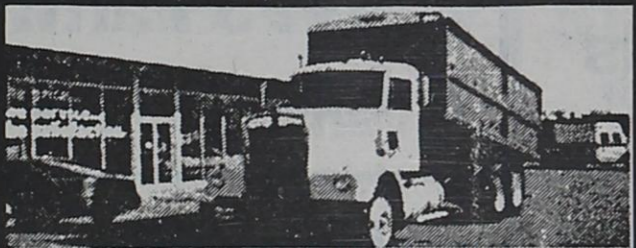

Now, as we are enabled to pause in respect and gratitude, we observe Memorial Day in the tradition of our great nation And we feel privileged to be a part, and to take our part, in all that has contributed to our precious freedom.

Let us now solemnly pledge that these great sacrifices shall not have been in vain.

Checking soil moisture emphasized

Since the availability of water is the principal factor that limits plant production on the Texas High Plains, it is important for irrigators to know exactly how much moisture is available in the 5-foot root zone soil profile of their fields throughout the growing season.

Soil moisture monitoring devices, such as gypsum blocks and tensiometers, allow producers to determine when an irrigation is needed and the amount of water needed to refill the soil profile.

Gypsum blocks and resistance meters are the most commonly used soil moisture monitoring device on the Texas High Plains. The gypsum block is made by casting an inch-long cylinder of gypsum around two stainless steel electrodes with lead wires.

Gypsum blocks are buried into the soil profile shortly after crop emergence. If a producer uses an auger to dig the hole, four gypsum blocks can be installed into the same hole at one-foot intervals. If the producer uses a push tube or drive rod to make the hole, only one block should be installed per hole.

The lead wires from the buried blocks are attached to a wooden stake at land surface and coded to indicate the depth at which the block is buried. Most producers simply tie a knot in the lead wire which corresponds to the depth of the buried block. For example, one knot indicates one foot, two knots indicate two feet, and so on. The blocks are 'read' by connecting the lead wires to a small portable resistance meter which measures the electrical flow between two electrodes.

The meter measures electrical resistance and displays it as a percentage of field capacity value. Electrical resistance varies with the amount of moisture in the soil. A meter reading of "0" is dry, and a "10" is wet.

Another soil moisture monitoring tool commonly used by High Plains producers is the tensiometer. These water-filled tubes have a special porous tip and a vacuum gauge which measures the soil water suction required for plants to extract water from the soil.

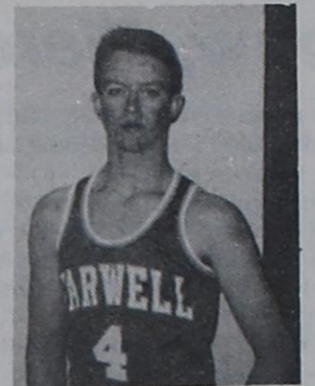

When soils are at field capacity, soil water suction ranges from two to five pounds per square inch (psi). As the soil becomes drier, more suction is needed to extract moisture. When soil water suction reaches 220 psi, the plant's permanent wilting point is reached, and the plant dies.

Tensiometers measure negative soil suction up to 14.7 psi (100 on the vacuum gauge.) For example, a reading of 66 on the gauge means the soil is dry and the plant must exert almost 10 psi to extract water from the soil. A reading of 9.5 means the soil is wet and only about one psi is needed to extract water.

Tensiometers are best suited for higher water demand crops, such as corn and other vegetables. Tensiometers do not work as well when installed in fields with lower water demand crops, such as cotton and grain sorghum.

The key to successful use of soil moisture monitoring tools is taking frequent readings to track crop root development and soil moisture conditions at each foot in the soil profile and keeping careful records.

These "windows into the soil" help irrigators determine what is occurring in the root zone soil moisture profile. With this soil moisture data, producers can determine from which level water is being extracted from the soil and how much water has been used.

Texico, Pleasant Hill precinct lines moved

The Curry County Commissioners Tuesday approved new precinct lines, in line with the annual census changes. They go into effect for the 1992 elections.

Major changes were done to the Texico precinct, especially in light of trying to improve Anglo - Hispanic population totals according to U.S. Justice Department guidelines.

A major concern centered around the boundary between the Texico and Pleasant Hill districts. It has been around two miles south of Pleasant Hill.

Some Texico residents, knowing it would be moved further south due to the federal guidelines, had urged that the line be placed at Llano Estacado, north of the airport, said county commissioner David Snider.

However, the line was moved a mile south of 21st Street - the next county road north of the Texico city limits.

That line was recommended by a private research and polling agency hired by the state legislature to re-draw voting districts, said county commissioner Paul D. Barnes. "One man, one vote has finally come here," he said.

Snider's suggestion, to use Llano Estacado as the dividing line between the Texico and Pleasant Hill precincts, lost 3-2. He and Johnny Chavez supported it; opposed were Barnes, Frank Blackburn and Darrell Bostwick.

Then Barnes presented a motion to accept the division at East 7th Street. Barnes, Blackburn and Bostwick favored it; Snider and Chavez were opposed.

The west side of the Texico precinct will be County Road G - Sugar Beet Road.

The redistribution will create 8 precincts - less than before.

"We don't know where we'll put the polling places," said

Connie Jo Lyman, Curry County clerk. She noted that some precincts are so large that they may have more than one polling place. On the other hand, some polling places may service more than one precinct for county commissioners' elections.

Barnes added that today's voting machines are capable of counting ballots in more than one race.

Curry County may seek approval from a district judge to allow the Texico polling place be listed as an "alternate polling place" so folks have a shorter distance to drive. Barnes said, "The boundary changes are advantageous to our community as far as our legislative boundaries. Hopefully, it allows two people in the legislature solely from Curry County."

Lyman said that once the precincts are in order, the legislature will set senate and representative districts at a special session in September. The new districts will stand until the 2000 census.

Once final decisions are made, the county clerk's office will send each voter a card telling him the precinct he is in and where he can vote. Anyone who doesn't receive a card should contact the county clerk at 763-5591.

Shaw, Pierce, Chadwick named Texico's top athletes

The annual Texico High School athletic banquet was held Saturday night at the Education Complex.

Top awards went to:

- Scholar-Athlete awards, presented by the U.S. Marine Corps, went to Penny Pierce and James Phipps.

- Outstanding Academic Athlete awards went to Denise Gonzales, Dwayne Hamilton, Amy Chadwick and Warren Martin.

- Named for their Outstanding Sportsmanship were Denise Gonzales and Warren Martin.

- Outstanding Athlete awards were presented to Kenny Shaw, Amy Chadwick and Penny Pierce (co-winners).

The Booster Club provided the funds for a multitude of plaques for the students. Over the course of the year, the club spent more than $5,000 for various student activities, including academic endeavors.

Club President Ben Akers gave a special thanks to high school principal Ken Shaw "for his long hours, hard work and dedication to Texico Schools."

Also, Shaw received a special "thank you" from the school's coaches. Other awards given by the coaches went to:

- Kenneth Doolittle, for taking care of the football field for 17 years.

- Audrey Kittrell, for ticket taking and typing programs for 13 years.

- Ronnie Warmuth, for keeping the basketball clock for 12 years and announcing football games for 11 years.

- Evelyn Warmuth, for keeping the books at basketball games for 4 years.

- Teresa Montano, for typing athletic information for 10 years.

Cheerleaders were recognized by sponsor Paula Leighton: Dawn Lassiter and Jessica Gutierrez, football season; Andra Morrison and Jennie Brown, football and basketball seasons; Missy Eaton, basketball season; and Tom Derouin, Hector Orozco and Jesse Barba, yell leaders; and Richard Stephens, Wally Wolverine.

Mrs. Leighton thanked Principal Ken Shaw for driving the squad to all the away games. And she announced the 1991-92 squad: Carol Servatius, Laura Stanley, Natasha Shaw, Jennie Brown, Dara Jenkins, Andra Morrison and Richard Stephens.

Football

The state championship Wolverines all got special certificates from state Sens. Walter Bradley and Gary Robbins for their achievement. The certificates were signed by many top state politicians.

Isela Mendoza

Mendoza picked as Farwell's top musician

Isela Mendoza was honored as the Outstanding Musician, and received the John Phillips Sousa Award at the annual Farwell Spring Concert on May 21. The Sousa Award is the top award a high school musician can earn at Farwell High School.

The high school, junior high school, and 6th Grade bands played selections to demonstrate what they had learned this year.

Other High School students receiving awards were: Michael Mendoza, outstanding brass; Isela Mendoza, outstanding woodwind, outstanding marching band, Tina Ortiz, Division I ratings, Michael Mendoza, April Stout, Sabine Roedde, Priscilla Galvan.

Junior High students receiving awards were: Melissa Schwertner, Monica Mendoza, outstanding woodwind; Blaze Hardage, Chase Hardage and Reagan Williams, outstanding brass; Melissa Schwertner, Cathy Coronado and Monica Mendoza, Division I ratings.

Elementary students honored were: Kathy Foster, Maria Lucio, and Kasey McIntosh, outstanding woodwind; Adam Smith and Adrian Gonzales, outstanding brass.

Sorority officers installed

Theta Rho Chapter of ESA met at the home of Joyce Williams for an end of the year awards luncheon.

Dardanella Helton, special guest and long-time ESA member, led the installation of officers. Denise Christian will be the 1991-92 president; Hayley Christian, vice president; Robin Howard, corresponding secretary; Cheryl Christian, recording secretary; Pam Monk, treasurer; Roberta Howard, awards chairman; Rosa Roberts, educational director, and Susan Johnson, assistant educational director.

Denise Christian, Margaret Aycock, Pam Monk and Roberta Howard recently attended the 50th New Mexico state ESA convention in Albuquerque. They reported on the various meetings, workshops and the awards banquet.

They presented Theta Rho chapter with several awards won at the state convention, including: 2nd place, Outstanding Chapter award; 2nd place, Chapter Scrapbook award; 3rd place, for philanthropic monies earned and recognition for Theta Rho's educational programs given at sorority meetings throughout the year.

Dot Christian presented the Judy Jones Presidential Award to Robin Howard. The JoAnne Liethen Award for philanthropic honors went to Cheryl Christian. Pam Monk received the Girl of the Year award.

Rosa Roberts and Nell Walling received their 40 year service pins. Pam Monk and Robin Howard got their 5 year service pins. Margaret Aycock got her 15 year service pin. Roberta Howard was presented with her second Pallas Athen Award, and Pam Monk got her third Pallas Athen award. First pearl awards went to Hayley Christian and Cheryl Christian.

Plans were discussed for serving tea and lemonade at Border Town Days. Members agreed to have a hamburger cookout and swim party for a family summer social.

Martin receives Smallwood award

Warren Martin, of Texico High School, is one of five New Mexico high school students named to receive Smallwood Scholarships.

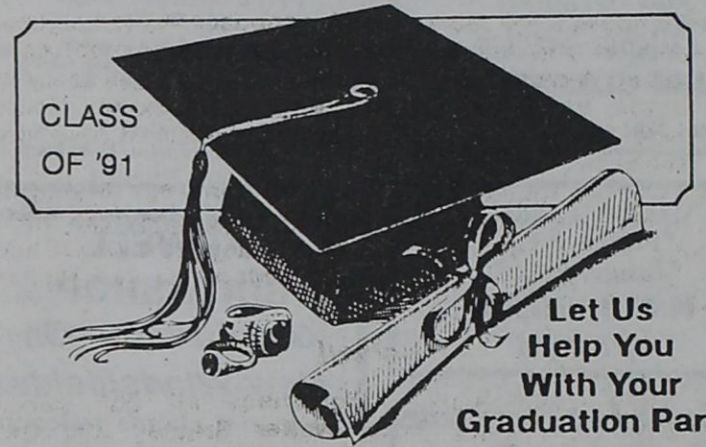

"We are pleased to be able to recognize these outstanding students who have prepared themselves well for college in their high school careers," said Dr. Marvin L. Baker, SPC president. "They represent the upper five percent of college-bound students and promise to provide exemplary leadership in academic and technical endeavors at South Plains College.

Students named to the Scholars Program get a $2,000 scholarship that is distributed in amounts of $500 per semester for the recipient's two years of study at SPC.

He is the son of Greg Martin of Texico, and Bettie Schmidt of Alamogordo, N.M.

At Texico, he was presented academic awards in art, history, biology, astronomy, geometry and typing. He was named an Academic All-American in algebra and geometry. Martin served as student council president and FFA president. He was a football co-captain and competed in track and basketball. He was also selected as a New Mexico Boys State representative. He plans to major in commercial art.

Congratulations Graduates!

Texico is state winner for its cleanup project

Texico has been informed that it will receive a 4th annual Governor's Community Achievement Award, city clerk treasurer Marie Christian announced.

The award is in response to last year's cleanup campaign. Notification was made by the New Mexico State Highway and Transportation Department.

The awards ceremony will be May 31 at the Governor's Mansion in Santa Fe, with Gov. Bruce King. Texico officials have been invited.

Cancer detection unit coming

A breast cancer detection unit will be available to all area women in Farwell May 31.

The unit will be at the Farwell Clinic, 301 Third St. To make an appointment, call Farwell United Drugs at 481-9100.

The cost is $65. A mammogram can detect a cancer even before it can be felt. The American Cancer Society says 1 out of 10 women will develop breast cancer during their lifetimes.
