

Herington's unit honored for valor in Gulf War

By JUDY POMPER

Randy Herington, a 1981 Farwell graduate, was with the Second Armored Division's forward unit attached to the First Infantry Division's Big Red One during the war in Iraq. His unit received a valorous unit citation for the work that they did during the action.

According to Herington, his armored unit was in the forefront of the action. From Feb. 15 - 18, they traveled about 150 miles into enemy territory in 72 hours.

"We were in the front when the ground war started," said Herington. "Our task force took more casualties than any other."

Although he was in the forefront of the battle, there was only one time when he felt physically threatened - when the armored personnel carrier he was riding in was hit with shrapnel.

During the time they were in the Middle East, the men in Herington's unit lived in their armored personnel carrier much of the time. When they stopped for the night they dug holes, and slept near their Bradley.

Herington said the men in his unit had one night when they had mechanical difficulties with their equipment, but most of the time it worked quite well. "All of our companies made it. We had small mechanical breakdowns, but since we were moving that far that fast they held up pretty good."

Most problems they faced appeared to be manageable. When they first arrived in the desert, the weather was very cold. Sometimes the men would need showers very badly, but it was so cold at 5 a.m. that none of them really wanted to shower. Often they didn't have to worry about it - there was no water available for showers.

The weather also caused a few problems, but nothing like the terrible sand storms that scrubbed the attempt to rescue the hostages in Iran a few years back. The Middle Eastern battle zone had more rain this year than in the past 10 years combined. The rain seemed to be a nuisance for our troops, but it didn't slow Herington's unit down much.

Food was a nuisance, but not a real problem. The men in Herington's unit ate prepackaged MRE's, which he says, 'taste pretty good, but you get tired of them. They give you three kinds, and there are always two you don't like. They aren't bad, but they are monotonous."

Herington's mother, Doris, had complained this winter about how difficult it was to get mail or phone calls to him early in the action, but eventually the supportive messages from home arrived. Herington expressed appreciation for all of the support he had received from folks back home.

When he got home he saw a shirt that summed up that support to him. He said, "It said 'Support Our Troops'. It didn't say 'Support the War,' but it said 'Support our Troops.' It was good to know that people cared about us."

Herington noted that the experience taught him a lot about people. Not only did he see the way that his fellow colleagues reacted under the stresses of battle, but he also saw the way people from other cultures reacted.

After going through the thick of battle, Herington was amused by some of the Arabs he met at the King Khaled Military Facility. According to Herington, they complained about their facility. "They had air conditioning, showers, washers, and dryers. They complained because one of their dryers didn't work," he said.

He also remembered the enterprising Arabs who would take a GI's picture with a camel for a package of cigarettes, or sitting on a camel for a carton of them. Few GI's took advantage of the service because, cigarettes were hard to come by.

After the battles, Herington's unit went to Raffa where they were assigned to the relief effort. He had the opportunity to meet some of the people from Iraq in the camp for refugees.

The refugee work helped Herington understand the importance of the war effort. After talking to some of the refugees, he understood the importance of the presence of the US in the Middle East.

"It wasn't just about oil," said Herington. "One fellow I talked to had a wife and two kids killed by Saddam's secret police." Many others had lost homes and businesses and loved ones. The full picture of what Saddam had done to his own people came home to Herington during that relief effort. It seemed to underline the true value of the American effort in Kuwait.

When asked about Saddam Hussein, Herington's opinion was, "We should have finished the job, but the Arabs wouldn't let us." In spite of that, it appeared to Herington that most Americans consider the war effort a success.

He does place his experience in perspective when he compared it to the Vietnam War. "Supposedly, we came back heroes," said Herington, "But from talking to guys like Jimmy Curtis and others I've talked to who served in 'Nam, it was a whole lot harder in 'Nam than it was in Saudi."

Herington and his family spent Father's Day with the Herington family. His wife, Margaret, and daughters Sharie and Leah live in Lubbock.

Herington is stationed in Germany.

Pomper, go away

(Editor's note: Since the column criticized appeared in this spot on Page 1 last week, it seems appropriate that this response be in the same location.)

Dear Editor,
In regard to your column "Border Banter" in the June 14 issue of the State Line Tribune, your comments on the dispute between Texas and New Mexico were not very well accepted by those of us who live on the New Mexico side of the border. Some of us even live on the New Mexico side by choice, which may shock you, Mr. Pomper. In fact, some of us are even glad that a "yankee" like you didn't wind up living in our state.

When it comes to the "silliness" you mentioned on the part of the New Mexico legislature, Texas doesn't have anything to brag about, but that's beside the point. You have done nothing but agitate your readers on both sides of the border, to say nothing of making fun of this part of the country.

For someone who depends on advertising to keep your paper running, don't you think you would be better off if you didn't dabble in the pros and cons of whether New Mexico should lose its statehood. On the other hand, it strikes me as funny thought for Texans to have to obtain a visa in order to travel in our beautiful state. Which brings up the question, if our state is so bad, why is it that 90 percent of the tourists in Ruidoso, Red River, Taos, Santa Fe, lake areas and all ski resorts are overrun by Texas travelers?

Your June 14 issue obtained 60 percent New Mexico advertisers, therefore, I think an apology should be very humbly given in your next issue. Otherwise, Mr. Pomper, I have only one thing to say to you - "Yankee, Go Home!"

Kickoff party set

A reminder that the kickoff Coke party for contestants in this year's Miss Border Town Days contest will be at 7:30 p.m. cdt Thursday, June 20, at the Farwell Community Center. This is also the deadline for returning the entry forms.

Border Banter

By Mike Pomper

Once again, it seems like the queen's contest for Border Town Days is going to be a super event.

Last year, if you recall, the girls had a fantastic time. The committee, headed by Susan Franse, put together a super program and the competition was the highlight of the day.

This year, after perusing the program, another great program is planned, including a trip to see "TEXAS" at Canyon.

As BTD chairman, I can't thank enough the committee members for their work in this regard. The girls will have a lot of fun - and learn a lot at the same time.

So parents, if you have a high school aged daughter who meets the criteria, please encourage her to fill out the application form and drop it off at Rip's Western Wear or at the Coke party. The deadline is June 20.

From spouse Judy:

It is so nice to walk around town during the calm, cool mornings and evenings we have in this part of the country. It seems that everyone I see uses this time to do those odd jobs that need to be done.

The other night I saw Katherine White planting a flower bed in the corner of the yard. She said that she had never messed with flowers much before. She had been so busy raising kids, sewing, canning, and caring for the vegetable garden in past years that she had not found time for things like flowers. This year she decided to plant a few mums and snapdragons and petunias just for the fun of it.

Anyone who knows Katherine wonders how that lady finds time to fit anything into her schedule. She works all day, takes an active role in her church, serves on the Farwell School Board, and finds time to be a caring wife, mother, and grandmother.

I also saw Billy Roberts working on his vegetable garden. He is a little bit late with it this year, he said. But he finally decided to start planting. His neighbors had noticed that he was late with his planting. They mentioned how much they had enjoyed these vegetables last year.

Continuing on my stroll, I saw several people watering and weeding their lawns and caring for their homes before going off to their jobs.

And it all pays off in having a beautiful Texico - Farwell community.

outstanding athletes but if they don't jell well together, forget it.

I've kept up with the Bulls after since they gained the franchise 25 years ago. When I lived in Indiana, I would often take friends to Chicago Stadium in the days of Bob Love, Chet "the Jet" Walker, Norm Van Lier, Jerry Sloan, Clifford "the Mule" Ray and Tom Boerwinkle.

That was an exceptional team in the early 1970s. But their centers didn't rebound well and LA usually knocked them out in the tournament.

Anyway, the Bulls have did it, winning an NBA title. Now it's up to the Cubbies...

I got an interesting news release in the mail last week. I bet you didn't know that July 13-14 is National Nude Weekend.

And that nudist resort near Houston will offer nude skydiving performances and nude helicopter rides.

Amazing.

From spouse Judy: Marcia Cole stopped in at the office with some newspaper clippings her mother, the late Mrs. V. Scott Johnson, had cut out of the State Line Tribune in 1940 and 1941.

Most were ads and articles about homemaking, sewing, and do-it-yourself projects, but often the reverse of the articles she had cut out was something entirely different.

One caught my eye for several reasons. It was located in the "Local Happenings" column. I thought you might enjoy a blast from the Tribune's past. Here it is: "Dr. C. B. Wivel, of Eastern New Mexico College at Portales, was the guest speaker at the regular meeting of the Texico-Farwell Woman's Club, on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. W. H. Graham entertained the members at her home in Farwell.

"South America" was the theme of Dr. Wivel's talk, in which he discussed the industries, population and customs of the country, bringing out also the importance of a "good neighbor" policy toward that country by the United States.

"He went on then to discuss the current idea that was prevalent, to the effect that Hitler had his eye on South America, discrediting the idea, because, in his opinion the country was too far from Hitler's own domain.

"Several articles of wearing apparel were brought from Columbia, South America, by Benton Graham to his mother, Mrs. B. N. Graham, of this city, were exhibited to the club members.

"At the conclusion of the afternoon, the hostess served angel cake topped with banana whip, and coffee.

"Visitors present included Mesdames B. O. Faville, Willis Magness, Aubrey Sprawls, Pearl Grady and Roy B. Ezell. Members were: Mesdames Roy Bobst, Earl Booth, Loyd Cain, Mose Glasscock, W. B. Hill, S. C. Hunter, V. Scott Johnson, Warren Powers, J. D. Thomas, Claude Thomas, E. G. Williams, J. T. Carter, Claude Rose, Clyde Magness, Garlon A. Harper, and the hostess."

From spouse Judy: Chinese fortune cookies always contain cryptic messages. They can be read a dozen different ways without being understood by the reader.

You know the kind of message I mean, something is always lost in the translation. "Life is a butterfly dancing among the ragweed," or "The dragon of hate must have its fire quenched with cool libations of profundity." They make the reader puzzle, and sometimes jump to wrong conclusions.

The other day I ate at a Chinese restaurant, and my fortune cookie contained the message: "Life is a tragedy for those who feel and a comedy for those who think." I think this one makes sense if it is read correctly, but I'm not sure.

Now, college kids tell me that the only way to really understand a fortune cookie message is to add the phrase "in bed" to the end of it. Maybe this is one that makes sense when it is read that way.

While attending ACSC, CDR Anderson completed his masters of political science degree with an emphasis on international relations. He graduated from Auburn University, Phi Kappa Phi, on June 1.

Anderson will be assigned to the American Embassy in Islamabad, Pakistan, as the ranking naval officer in the Office of Military Representatives later this year. He will serve as liaison to the Pakistani Navy and its operation and maintenance of warships purchased from the U.S. government.

Stocking Your Medicine Chest

- Is your home medicine chest prepared for a medical emergency or an illness? Quick response to an emergency can save lives, but you must have certain items on hand to be effective. Here are the basics your home medicine chest should include:
- Rectangular bandages for simple cuts and abrasions.
- Butterfly bandages and narrow adhesive strips to hold the edges of a cut together and allow it to heal.
- Individually-wrapped, sterile gauze pads to control bleeding or secretions and prevent contamination.
- A roll of gauze bandage to hold a dressing or a splint in place.
- A roll of absorbent cotton to act as padding for a splint.
- A roll of adhesive tape.
- An elastic ("ace") bandage to help decrease bleeding or swelling, or lend support to joints or sprained muscles.
- An analgesic, such as aspirin, acetaminophen or ibuprofen, for relief of headaches, muscle aches and joint pain.
- Oral and rectal thermometers.
- Petroleum jelly to use with a rectal thermometer.
- Syrup of ipecac to induce vomiting if certain poisons are swallowed. (Do not administer without directions from your pharmacist, physician or emergency poison personnel. In some cases vomiting may be harmful.)
- Tweezers for removing splinters.
- Hydrogen peroxide for cleansing wounds.
- Calamine lotion for relief of insect bites, stings or itching.
- Antihistamine for allergic reactions.

PUBLIC NOTICE
 BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED
CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS
 SPECIAL ELECTION
 AUGUST 10, 1991

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 42 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the newly created county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation a percentage of the market value of the residence homestead of a married or unmarried adult. The percentage exempted could not exceed 20% of such market value, and the amount exempted could not be less than $5,000. The amendment would also authorize county education districts to hold elections to exempt from ad valorem taxation not less than $3,000 of the market value of the residence homestead of a disabled person or a person sixty-five years of age or older. Finally, the amendment would authorize elections in county education districts for the taxation of certain tangible personal property exempted from ad valorem taxation by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the voters of a county education district to adopt certain exemptions from the district's ad valorem taxation for residence homesteads and to provide for the taxation of certain tangible personal property."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 5 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to pass general laws authorizing Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board or its successor to issue and sell up to $300 million of general obligation bonds to finance educational loans to students. The maximum net effective interest rate to be borne by the bonds would be set by law. The amendment would also authorize the legislature to provide for the investment of bond proceeds and to establish an interest and sinking fund to pay the bonds and provide for the investment of such fund. Bonds authorized under this amendment would be paid from the first money coming into the treasury in each fiscal year that is not otherwise appropriated by the constitution, less any amount in an interest and sinking fund established at the end of the preceding year that is pledged to the payment of the bonds or interest.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment providing for the issuance of general obligation bonds to provide educational loans to students."

Engagement told

Ms. Kay Kerr and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kerr announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Susan, to Eric Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams. The wedding will take place at the Indiana Avenue Baptist Church in Lubbock Aug. 17 at 5 p.m.

These Lazbuddie industrial technology students are pictured with some of the wood projects that won top honors at the regional and state contests. In addition to these projects, Lazbuddie students also placed high in various computer events at both contests. Pictured are: front, Leland Brockman, Jessica Burch, and Jarah Redwine; back, Kirk Jesko, Jon Colby Miller, and Chris Cozbey. (Photo by Vickie Burch).

Technology class wins top honors

by Vickie Burch

Lazbuddie has a very comprehensive industrial technology program, headed up by instructor, Mark Scisson. The program includes hands-on instruction in woodworking, computer-aided graphics, design, construction and programming, and study in robotics and energy conservation.

Last year, Lazbuddie's industrial technology students entered projects in the Technology Students Association's regional and state contests and won top awards in both competitions, with one student, Leland Brockman, going on to represent Lazbuddie at the TSA national convention.

Again this year, Lazbuddie's TSA students earned top places in the regional contest, with thirteen of fourteen entrants qualifying for the state contest. The state competition, which took place in early May in Waco, resulted in the following wins for Lazbuddie: Jarah Redwine, clock project, 1st; production exam, 3rd, out of 140; technical writing, 9th; Leland Brockman, table project, 1st; Chris Cozbey, wood project, 1st; Jon Colby Miller, cedar chest, 1st; Jessica Burch, cedar chest, 2nd; Kirk Jesko, curio cabinet, 1st; Matt Elliott, computer programming, 1st, with Best in Division, and Troy McBroom, computer programming, 1st.

These students were state winners, and they brought home many trophies and blue ribbons. In addition, Lazbuddie, as a team, won the "Outstanding School" award in the state contest.

'Citizens of the Year' named

Lazbuddie Junior High and High School teachers have chosen the outstanding Citizens of the Year - Rachelle Rice and Tim Smith, Junior high, and Jana Vise and Stacey Barber, high school

Rachelle is the daughter of Doug and Linda Rice. She will be a freshman at Lazbuddie next fall. She is an honor student and has been enrolled in the gifted and talented program through elementary and junior high. She is a 2-time winner in the Amarillo Globe News Parmer County spelling bee. She represented Parmer County at the regional spelling bee this year and placed 8th.

As a 7th grader, Rachelle was named to participate in the Duke University Talent Identification Program. She was asked to take the SAT college entrance exam for TIP, with the result that her scores qualified her to receive top state honors. TIP recognizes seventh graders who score in the 97th percentile or above on standardized academic tests. Of these nation-wide top three percent of seventh grade students, only a few, like Rachelle, receive added state and national recognition because of outstanding SAT scores. Each year, Rachelle has participated in academic U.I.L. events for her school and has won top places every year in various events. In addition to academics, she is active in school sports in basketball and track.

Tim is the son of Tim and Debbie Smith. He is an honor student and will be a freshman next school year. He was a new student to Lazbuddie ISD this year. He was very active in sports, participating in football, basketball, and track. Tim represented the school in academic U.I.L. events, winning top places. He is an outstanding student, and Lazbuddie's teachers look forward to his high school academic and athletic contributions.

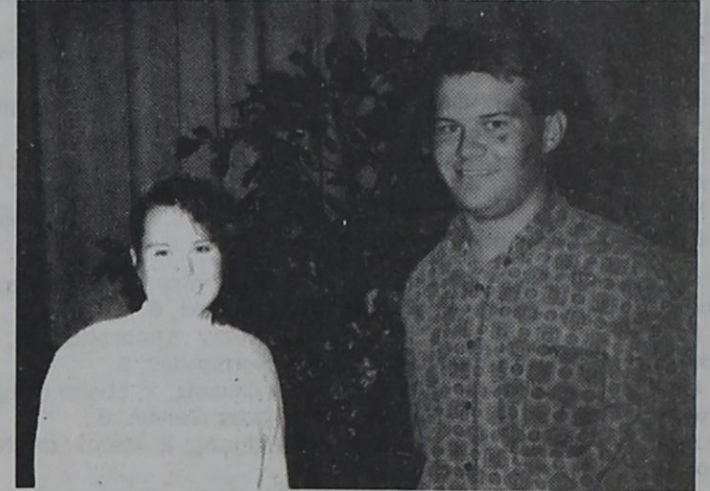

Jana is the daughter of Dale and Nellie Vise. She graduated as salutatorian of her class. She was an honor student, active in basketball, tennis and academic U.I.L. events. She was named AAUW Girl of the Month, Girls State representative, FFA Plowgirl, and was a twirler for the Longhorn marching band. She was active in the Student Council, the National Honor Society, and Future Homemakers of America. During her high school years, she won many academic awards. In sports she received the 1990-91 Spirit Award and the Pride, Hustle and Desire award. She plans to attend McMurry University.

Stacey is the son of Jerry and LaReta Barber. He will be a senior at Lazbuddie next fall. He is an honor student, active in athletics and academics. He is a member of the National Honor Society and is a Student Council representative.

He represents the school in academic U.I.L. events each year and has won top honors in a variety of contests. He participated in the U.I.L. one-act play, earning All-Star Cast recognition. Lazbuddie's teachers and administration has given Stacey a number of leadership roles, including broadcasting the morning announcements to the student body. He is an outstanding student who makes significant contributions to his class and school each year.

Langan is cast member in 'Billy the Kid' play

The musical drama "Billy the Kid" located just south of San Jon, N.M., is beginning its fifth season of entertainment and in the cast is Farwell resident Lacy Langan, son of George and Carolyn Langan and employee of Farwell Schools.

This is Langan's fourth year to be involved with the show as an actor, singer and dancer and according to Langan, it has been an enjoyable four summer's work.

"It's great fun," said Langan. "It is a wonderful show and it is fun showing the history of Billy the Kid like it does."

Langan plays Billy the Kid's best friend, Charlie Bowdree and because of this Langan finds himself getting killed all summer long.

"Really, it's one of the really fun parts of the part," says Langan. "I mean, we have this gunfight with the guys against Billy and then I get shot trying to defend Billy. It's really neat. I get to fall over this brick wall and then die."

Langan is back, however, for the finale of the show in another costume and sings and dances a salute to Billy.

Carey Stancell and Kathy Grantham

Approaching marriage

Carey Stancell and Kathy Grantham announce their engagement and forthcoming marriage. Carey is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Stancell and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Stancell. Carey graduated from Farwell High School and farms in West Camp. Kathy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas. She is the grand-daughter of Rebecca Grantham of Childress. Kathy graduated from Farwell High School and attends Clovis Community College. The wedding will be Aug. 17 at the Church of Christ. No local invitations are being sent.

Extended contracts offered

Southern Union Co. is now offering extended service contracts to customers who buy appliances from Southern Union Gas. The extended service option was introduced in May and is offered in all the company's sale regions, including Farwell. It covers all Southern Union appliances - ranges, dryers, grills, furnaces, heaters, water heaters, lights and washers. Customers may choose one, two or three years of service to begin on the date when the manufacturer's product warranty expires.

SAVING IS GREAT... INVEST IN REAL ESTATE!

Farwell Dairy Queen to re-open Monday

The Farwell Dairy Queen is scheduled to re-open Monday under new management.

According to Hal Leedy, the district manager for 14 stores in a district that stretches from Quanah to Farwell, the Farwell store will be part of a group of 66 stores owned by Bill Hall of the Texas Dairy Queen Operators.

The Farwell store will be managed by Alan Armstrong of Friona.

Leedy and Armstrong are busy cleaning, painting, and doing some minor fix-up work on the building. They are also hiring and training staff.

"Fast food restaurants are a great beginning place to work," said Leedy. He noted that many young people from small towns get their first work experience in fast food restaurants.

As part of an association of fast food restaurants, the Farwell Dairy Queen will receive training tapes and materials so that they can teach their employees how to do their work well.

Leedy indicated that he really enjoyed working for Dairy Queen because it is a place where people can "come in and sit down and visit with us."

Leedy said the Texas Dairy Queen Association is currently making some changes in the menus of Dairy Queens.

On one hand, they want to offer the same quality, service and consistent menu in every Dairy Queen. On the other, they must change with the times.

"We are going to add a few things to the menu. We plan on adding a grilled chicken sandwich and some yogurt," said Leedy. He noted that the chain has been working on a light mayonnaise sauce, no cholesterol oil, and whole wheat buns to make their products more healthful.

"We are doing everything we can to make it nutritious," he said.

Cellular 3 growing

Over recent months, Cellular 3 has steadily increased the areas served with Cellular Telephone Service, expanding beyond the Clovis/Portales RSA-4 New Mexico area.

The RSA-3 Texas areas of Muleshoe, Tulia, Brownfield, Plains, Levelland, and Plainview now are in service. Friona - Dimmitt will be on line soon with Cellular Telephone Service.

At this time, Farwell folks have been able to use the Cellular Service which opened in the area of Clovis and Portales. Calls placed from Clovis, or from Portales are considered as local calls within the Cellular Network, even calls placed from Farwell to Portales. There is an air time charge involved with the calls without toll charges.

Cellular is the service that provides instant communication that goes with you. Not only does the Cellular communication provide a source of security, in having immediate communication, it has helped to establish instant business communication.

Prices range from $300 to a Dick Tracy style ranging over $3,000. You can decide your own style of communication. Basic packages for the Cellular Unit begin at $25 per month and includes 50 minutes of use.

The major focus of the Cellular Service is the fact that it is immediate communication and should be noted that air time is billed whether you place or receive the call. Because of this, the Cellular Service meets the need of major business discussions that require immediate solutions. The Cellular unit also provides immediate contact with family or personnel working in an area without a telephone nearby.

The Cellular units may be installed in your vehicle, or you may choose one that is portable.

The Cellular 3 office is just south of the ENMR Telephone Cooperative headquarters in Clovis. Cellular 3 is comprised of partnerships formed by telephone cooperatives and companies in New Mexico and West Texas.

Cellular 3 may be contacted at its Clovis location, 7109 N. Prince, or by calling 389-3333; or 5 Area Telephone Cooperative at their Muleshoe office at 302 Uvalde or by calling 272-5533.

Marshal's Report

Here is the weekly report from Texico Deputy Marshal Fry Urioste:

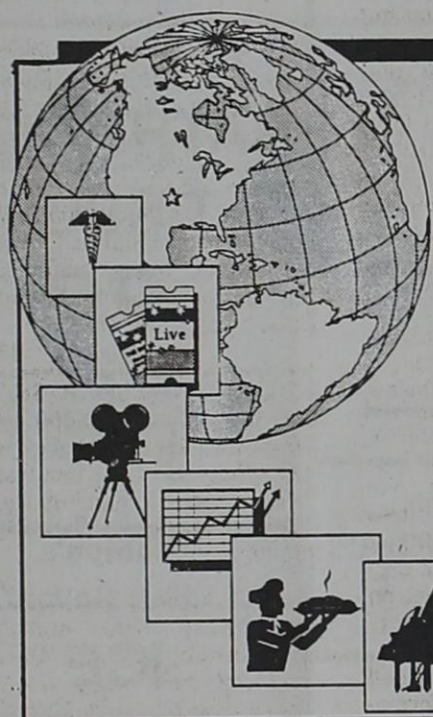

On June 13, Jesse Coburn, 21, Clovis, was arrested on a warrant from Portales for the charge of failure to pay fines.

On June 15, Jesus Garcia, 26, Amarillo, was arrested on a warrant from Portales for the charge of failure to pay fines.

On June 14, Cathy Shoemate, 32, Clovis, was arrested on a charge of DWI 2nd offense.

Urioste also said ticket will be given Texico residents who fail to stop at stop signs in the city.

He also is investigating three burglaries, two in automobiles and one at the flea market.

The Latest

Ed Corn gave a most interesting talk at the Texico - Farwell Rotary Club meeting Wednesday about the marketing possibilities of growing hay locally. He's been growing hay for 5 years and says there's a large market for it here.

Farwell's Ursula Jo Dollar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Dollar, has received her bachelor's degree in business administration from Wayland Baptist University.

Plans are being made for Vacation Bible School at Hamlin Memorial United Methodist Church July 8-10. The theme will be "Jesus and You at Camp Can Do."

Roberta Howard and Denise Christian are the directors.

Three Farwell ladies played in the Women's West Texas Golf Association Tournament last week.

Jan Fontanilla was in the 1st flight, Sharron Hughes in the 2nd flight and Alice Doshier in the 3rd flight. Mrs. Doshier lost in the championship match.

Sky Byrum, a student at Texico High School was among 74 Future Farmers of America (FFA) members who participated in the 29th annual FFA Electric Workshop sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company in Amarillo.

The three day workshop, held June 3-5, featured demonstrations, videos, and lectures, in part, on wiring farm buildings, assembly of electric controls and electric safety.

The annual Farwell Ladies' Golf Tournament will coincide with Border Town Days this year. It will be held July 23 - 24. The event draws ladies from all over the state of Texas.

David and Mary Ann Foerster of Portales were in Farwell on June 9.

There will be a wedding shower from 2:30 - 4 p.m. on June 29 at the home of Yaunda Martin in Lariat in honor of Gary White and Kristy McDaniel.

Gary is the son of Sherry and David White of Oklahoma Lane, and Kristy is a former Muleshoe resident.

Randy Herington was home for Father's Day for a visit with his parents, L.C. (Buster) and Doris Herington of Farwell. Herington is stationed in West Germany, and he has served in Saudi Arabia. His wife and two daughters came from Lubbock, too.

Buster and Doris' daughter, Caroline Herington of Truth or Consequences, N.M., was also home for a visit.

Mike Billington was in town this week working on his rent houses.

Frances Lovelace reported that she had had a lot of company in the past week. Frances' sister, Ruth Long and her husband, Sam Long, visited from Fort Worth. Frances' grandson, Dale Krey, and his wife, Tana, of Billings, Montana were also here. Jerry Lovelace of Houston was also here; he visited Frances and several other relatives here.

Russell Jones visited his parents, Joe and Irene Jones, on Father's Day.

Randy and Betty Kelley had Randy's little girls, April and Kayla of Muleshoe, visit during the past two weeks. Last week they attended Vacation Bible School, and the week before that they all went to the Fort Worth area to visit the James Castleberry family.

Visiting this week in the home of Doyle and Louise Green was their son, Darwin and his family from Tallahassee, Fla; their son Brent Green and his sons from Post, and their son Gary Green and his family from Littlefield. The out of towners also visited their grandmother, Virgie Shaw.

Tim Newton of Crowley, Texas, visited Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Stephens.

Farwell Convalescent Center Chit Chat

by Lynne Gann
Activity Director

Our Father's Day cook-out was a huge success. Everyone enjoyed the hamburgers, they are always better cooked outside on the grill, the baked beans, chips and potato salad.

Due to the ninety five degree temperature we could not eat outside on the patio. Everyone gathered together in the dining room to have the closest thing to an outdoor picnic we could manage. The Auxiliary members brought dessert of fresh bananas and strawberries. With the help of the Auxiliary all our fathers were given a special thank you on their celebrated cookout.

We would like to extend a Happy Congratulations to Wanna Guinn and Mark Calloway. They exchanged vows Tuesday night, the 18th, at the Hamlin United Methodist Church. Wanna has been with us for four years as a nurses aide. Mark, you found your self quite a girl there! Again Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mark Calloway from all the staff and residents at the Center.
