Some BTD postscripts

Well, I hope you folks enjoyed the 26th edition of Border Town Days.

All I can say is that I'm proud of the BTD committee for putting on such a splendid event. There were compliments galore handed out after day's end.

It's part of my job as BTD chairman to go around looking for problems and glitches, hopefully so they can be corrected next year. I'm very happy to report that this year's list is at a minimum. Thanks to our veteran crew, all went pretty darned well.

We were most fortunate to have a couple of extra singing acts to smooth the opening parts of the entertainment.

Tanya Moore, a Clovis girl who attends Texico Schools, did a beautiful job of filling in before and after the opening ceremonies. She's quite a singer.

Then the Billy the Kid troupe expanded on their usual "shootout" to include some music. Again, this was very much appreciated. Don McAlavy and his group are wonderful friends to Texico - Farwell.

Add to that the Corn Kids and the duo or Jack & John, plus Charlie Phillips, and we had a great time. And, as usual, Fred Chandler did his superlative job as emcee.

Here's one funny incident: When I scheduled the portable toilets, I rented an extra one this year, for a total of five, because I knew we would have a larger crowd, with all those class and family reunions. There's nothing worse than waiting in a line to use one of these units.

And the Clovis company we use did something special for us, giving us some better portable toilets, which I appreciated.

And knowing it's better to have more units available for the ladies, they put "ladies only" signs on two of the units, thus allowing all five to be used by ladies but only three by men.

Unfortunately, some ladies misunderstood, thinking that since two units said "ladies only," it meant that they were to only use those units.

Next year - no signs!

The Cannon Air Force Base honor guard, a longtime staple of our parade, didn't show up this year, although we verified their coming a couple of weeks ago.

I sent a letter to Cannon's commanding general saying we sure missed them.

It's always good to see local folks win the big giveaways. I think Pablo Lucio is still in shock at winning the pickup. We're very happy for him.

The button sales went great - we got our largest total yet. These button sales are most important because we need that money ($600 gross) to help keep us in the "black." Thank you all for buying those buttons as your contributions to BTB.

Those sales, for example, helped allow us to boost the scholarship money for the queen's contest winner to $300 last year. My eventual goal is to get it to $500.

I was told that some representatives of Friona's Maize Days were present to look for ideas to help improve their celebration - and that they found a few. It's always good to help a neighbor.

Referendum hits snag

Whether Farwell city officials can have a referendum to let city residents tell them whether they favor having a city police officer or not has run into a snafu.

At the last council meeting, Mayor Wendol Christian and the council appeared favorable at having some kind of election whereby residents could vote on whether the city should have a police department.

Last week, City Clerk Cynthia Thigpen checked with Texas Municipal League officials and the response wasn't favorable. Here's why:

Farwell is governed under general law statutes. This means the city doesn't have the authority to call an election for the purpose discussed. The city cannot spend any of its money on such an election nor use city employees or city offices.

It is possible for a volunteer group to hold such an election in a place not operated by the city.

For example, a social or service club could ask residents to come to a certain place on a given day and cast ballots, to get the community's feelings on whether a police department should be created.

Chamber accepts contributions for monument

The Farwell Chamber of Commerce plans to erect a monument in Farwell City Park to those Parmer County residents who have given their lives in service of their nation. They plan to list the names of all county residents who have died during U.S. conflicts on this monument.

The cost is estimated between $8,000 and $12,000. Persons who would like to contribute to the monument cost may send their checks to: Farwell Chamber of Commerce, Box 1005, Farwell, Texas 79325.

Below is a list of war dead which appears in the Security State Bank ads in the State Line Tribune each Veterans Day. If you know of anyone who should be added to this list, please call the Tribune at 481-3681.

Also, in cases that we know, we have listed the war in which the persons died. If no war is listed, we need to know which war they died in. If you know, please call the Tribune at 481-3681.

26th BTB has huge turnout

The 26th annual Border Town Days was a huge success last weekend with another large crowd present.

The weather was excellent and the park was full Saturday.

The day's varied entertainment started at noon and didn't end until 5 p.m. It included a performance by "Sugartime" Charlie Phillips.

The crowd was estimated at over 3,000, as several school and family reunions swelled attendance.

Lori Stanley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Stanley of Texico, was chosen 1992 Miss Border Town Days. She is a sophomore at Texico High School. She receives a $300 scholarship from the Border Town Days committee.

Stephanie Olivarez, daughter of Barbara Olivarez, was chosen as the first runnerup.

Shasta Bowery, daughter of Vicki Bowery and the late Andy Bowery, was chosen Miss Congeniality and was second runnerup.

Carol Servatius was chosen Miss Photogenic.

The big food attraction at the park was, as customary, the barbeque served by the Texico - Farwell Rotary Club. Over 1,100 persons were served by Walter Hughes & Company.

The day kicked off with the decorated bike contest in Texico, directed by Rhonda Qualls. Judges were Frank Murray, Max Best, and Carl Thompson, members of the Clovis Rotary Club.

Brandi Bailey was chosen Best of Show and received the bicycle donated by Tedson Trailers.

Other bicycle contest winners included:

- 6 and under (A Division) Nikki Gober, 1st; Khallie Foster, 2nd; Michael Hart, 3rd; and Lindsay Vandiver, 4th.

- 7-12 (B Division) Angela Johnson, 1st; Danielle Edwards, 2nd; Kevin Cochran, 3rd; and Jerry Cochran, 4th.

All winners received cash prizes - given by an anonymous donor. And, all participants received free tickets to ride the CAKE Train.

Texico Mayor Doyal LaRue and Farwell Mayor Wendol Christian both read proclamations honoring the late Ed Hardage and proclaiming the day as Ed Hardage Day.

LaRue presented plaques to Pioneers of the Year, A. D. McDonald and Mae Stone.

Christian presented a plaque to the Honorary Parade Marshal, Dr. J. R. Ivins.

Parade float awards (and their cash awards) were presented to:

- First Place, Roy Richardson.
- Second Place, Farwell United Drug.
- Third Place, Texico - Farwell Senior Citizens.
- Fourth Place, Capitol Food.

Cash prizes were provided by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

The Cattle Capitol Cowbells won the first place for their horse unit and received a trophy. Second place trophy went to Harold Brown and his horse and wagon.

The Clovis Shine Clowns

won first place for the motorized units, and the Shrine small cycles won second place. Both groups received trophies.

Winners of the Old Time Car contests were:

- First place, 1934 Studebaker Convertible belonging to Dale and Tana Gober of Bovina.

- Oldest Car, 1913 Brass Model "T" Ford belonging to Keith and Judy Terry of Portales.

- Car that traveled the longest distance, 1947 Pontiac Hearse, belonging to Don Gibson of Stratford, Texas. Cash prizes ($25 each) were provided by the Texico Chamber of Commerce.

The winner of the $50 drawing for the Border Town Day Buttons was Jim Pierson of Plainview, Texas.

The Farwell Arena Association had events Friday but Sunday's Play Day was cancelled due to memorial services that afternoon for Charlie Bowery.

Curry helps in crash

A former Texico School student, Terry Curry, helped rescue a pilot from a burning airplane at Clovis Airport Saturday.

Frank Grabowski, Clovis, had planned to pilot a single-engine plane to Farwell, where it was scheduled to be in the Border Town Days parade. The Aero Club of Clovis had made the arrangements.

Just after takeoff, though, a rough engine caused Grabowski to return to the ground. Meanwhile, Curry, of Clovis, was driving by and heard the engine sputtering. He stopped his vehicle and ran to the runway where Grabowski was landing.

Curry reportedly then helped Grabowski escape from the plane, now on fire.

Curry is the son of Ronnie Curry, who lives south of Texico. The Texico Volunteer Fire Department, which responded to the call, is considering giving Terry Curry a special award for his assistance.

Tonna Byrd of Rte. 3, Clovis, won the shotgun given away by the Texico Chamber of Commerce.

The winner of the pickup truck given away by the Texico Fire Department was Pablo Lucio of Farwell. Antero Estrada of Texico won the $300 prize and Howard Whitener of Pleasant Hill won the $200 prize.

Thank you, to the residents of Texico, Farwell, and the surrounding areas, who for the past 11 years have allowed me to serve you at Steed-Todd Funeral Home during the loss of your loved ones.

I hope my service and my concern helped make your decisions and grief easier. I owe a great deal of thanks to the late Dexter Todd, his wife Mary Kay and son Mark, for helping me start another career after I retired in 1981 from the U.S. Navy.

Although I now reside in Las Cruces and perform these services for Graham Mortuary, Clovis - the town of my birth, will always be my home. Thank you for letting my family and me share in your lives.

Banter

Grover Wittenburg, a former Farwell resident now living in Louisiana (and president of that state's National Association of Retired Federal Employees), stopped by the Tribune.

He wanted to contribute to the memorial being built honoring the county's war dead by the Farwell Chamber of Commerce.

Grover - check the story elsewhere in the paper about the memorial. It contains the address where you can send your contribution.

Grover told us one of his kinfolks in Louisiana gets the Tribune - and passes it around to two other families every week!

Our BTD parade had a record number of entries and went pretty well.

Once again, I want to publicly commend the Texico

Schools' marching band. They are SO important to our parade. Let's face it - what's a parade without music?

Unfortunately, the Farwell band didn't get enough members to be able to march. I hope it works out better next year.

I think we had a record number of floats adhering to the theme "Recycle America." That was super.

All in all, it was a great day. Just to see families having so much fun together was a great thrill.

When I came here 8 years ago, the main complaint about BTD was that there wasn't much for the young'uns. Well, that's been corrected.

Thanks to the CAKE Train (the Bells of Ranchvale), the petting zoo, dog obedience classes, water polo, dunking booth, sponge throw, ESA-built basketball court, etc., etc., kids had a ball. And that allowed their folks to enjoy the entertainment and visiting.

We're lucky to have a strong community like Texico-

Farwell that supports such a wonderful day of fellowship.

Rumor of the Week; A birthday party here that featured a strip tease artist?

Open campus planned

Farwell High School is making plans for its open campus trail project this fall.

Students will be able to leave the school grounds at lunchtime. If things work out, fine. If not, the program probably will be rescinded.

Principal Larry Gregory said that parents must sign a release form to allow their children to leave the school grounds at noon.

The release forms must be signed in front of Gregory or school secretary Dolly Villarreal. Forms can be signed starting Aug. 4.

If the parents sign the form, then their children will be allowed to leave the campus by walking, bicycle or vehicle. That's up to them.

If the release is not signed by the parent, their children will not be allowed to leave the school grounds at noon-time.

Smith honored

Chamber takes action on railroad blockages

A problem some local businesses are having with the Santa Fe Railroad was discussed at Tuesday's Farwell Chamber of Commerce meeting.

Mike Pomper pointed out that three firms - Franse Irrigation, Nutri Tech and Farwell Feed Supply, plus residences are having a problem with Santa Fe coal trains blocking the crossings, literally cutting off access until the trains move.

Ralph Franse said the law says a train cannot be parked across a crossing more than 15 minutes but he has counted trains stopped for more than 30 minutes near his place.

The coal trains loop around the businesses and homes, and can cut off complete access to them. If an emergency were to occur, there would be a serious problem.

The Chamber voted to send letters of complaint to state Rep. Pete Laney, state Sen. Teel Bivins, Gov. Ann Richards and the Santa Fe. Also, the Farwell City Council will be asked at its August meeting to send similar letters.

In other business, the Chamber discussed fund-raising plans for its proposed veterans' memorial. It will honor the county's war dead with a special memorial at Farwell City Park. The cost is estimated between $8,000 and $12,000.

Persons wishing to contribute to the memorial may send donations to: Farwell Chamber of Commerce, Box 1005, Farwell, Texas 79325.

Robert White, the county commissioner representing the Farwell area, said chances appeared good that the commissioners will donate funds to the memorial.

Other ideas broached included a raffle, contacting the American Legion, and seeking donations from county residents.

Franse, Chamber president, said he hoped the memorial would be ready by Memorial Day next year, and that families of those who died in service to our country could be present.

A committee has been appointed to visit other towns to see what their memorials look like.

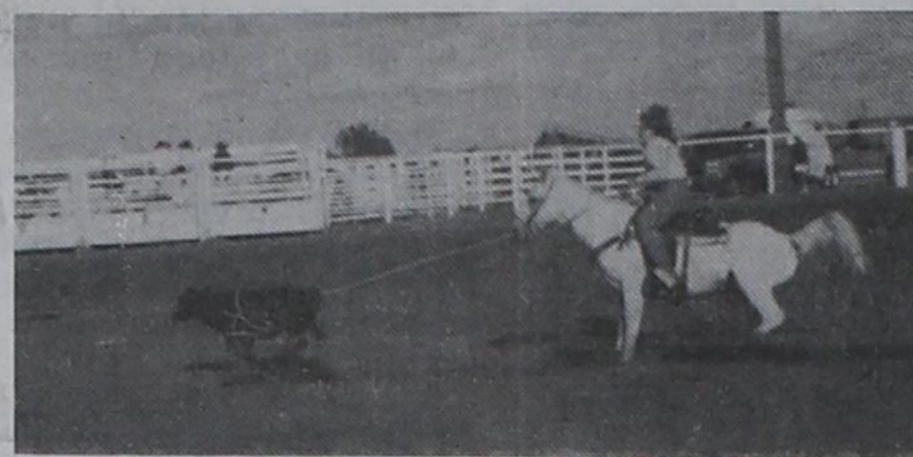

The Chamber also: - Heard a suggestion that the loop around Farwell be named the "John Aldridge Loop."

- Talked about business development.

- Heard that 3 pecan trees will be planted by the state at the Texas marker near City Cleaners.

Christians reside in 'sweepers' colonies'

Editor's note: Will Anderson, a Farwell resident, is in the U.S. Navy and is stationed at the U.S. Embassy in Islamabad, Pakistan. He has written some articles from life there for the Tribune.

by WILL ANDERSON

Pakistan was formed in the partition of the Indian subcontinent following World War II. The British gave India its independence, but the Muslim League insisted that those provinces with a Moslem majority form their own new nation, to be called "Pakistan," which means the Land of the Pure.

For years, the Moslem minority in Hindu India were oppressed and many were forced to live in the lower fringe of society, so the League vowed to form a new nation based on tolerance of all religions and beliefs. This nation was to consist of the eastern-most province of Bengal, and the western province of Buluchistan, Sindh, Punjab, Kashmir, and the Northwest Territories. All these provinces were subdivided into different language groups, different peoples, different traditions, but the one unifying bond was to be the Moslem faith.

Both pillars of the new nation, tolerance and the unification of Islam, were created by the father of the nation, Muhammad Ali Jinnah, and were written into the Constitution.

When the Partition occurred, Moslems and Hindus clashed and there were mass migrations. Half the Punjab remained in India, and Kashmir's Hindu ruler kept it in India despite its Moslem population. There have been three wars, countless skirmishes, and the constant threat of new conflict here ever since.

Pakistan's fear of India has caused it to invest a lot of its budget in defense, but not necessarily at the expense of the care of the people. India is beset by the same problems as Pakistan, but it has had democracy, increasing literacy, and a legislature of people from all levels of society. When Pakistan has not been under martial law, its legislature is always made up of men with great wealth, feudal lords, and Moslem clerics.

The radical Moslems cannot get any great number into the legislature, but they can shape every action by the power they have over the people with the mosques. Most of the people are illiterate.

Much misery exists here today. And a united Moslem nation didn't work. The eastern provinces of Moslem Bengal broke away from Pakistan to become Bangladesh in 1971. Today, there are separatist movements in various parts of the country, and especially the Sindh and Baluchistan.

The other pillar, tolerance of different beliefs, is still proclaimed but never observed to any real extent. In a nation that is 98 percent Moslem, the 2 percent who are Christian are on the absolute bottom of society. The average Moslem laborer makes 40 to 50 rupees a day, about $2, which is barely enough to get by. Christian laborers make barely half that much, and are relegated to work that no one else wants.

The Christians in Islamabad live in ghettos, which are called "Sweepers Colonies," sweeping the streets being one of the few jobs they can get. They receive nothing in the way of electricity, water, or other services from the government. But these Christians work together to get by, building their huts from the stones of buildings that are torn down, paving their own streets, putting in their own drainage systems, and even putting up basic street lighting with electricity they steal from nearby power lines. (I have always wanted to see how they make those connections).

Pakistan is more tolerant of Christians in the diplomatic and expatriate communities than some Moslem countries, most notably Saudi Arabia. Western Christians can run their hospitals and utilities, but they cannot build churches in Saudi Arabia. Western soldiers can fight and die to keep Iraq out of Saudi Arabia, but their chaplains cannot wear a cross on their uniforms.

Pakistan allows us to have Christian churches for the expatriate community and Pakistani Christians, and my congregation is even trying to build a larger building now. But the purely Pakistani congregations are subject to constant harassment and are sometimes attacked. The Rawalpindi congregation tried to build a church but the mullahs stopped them cold. And even Western organizations that attempt to spread Christianity here are thrown out of the country for attempting to "infect" the purity of Islam.

One of the Christian street merchants in front of Will Anderson's house in Islamabad. The "Sweepers' Colony" is behind him at the end of the street.

Four-wheeling across the Punjab with some British friends, we stopped in a village for water, and the children all wanted their pictures taken.

The main street of the Sweeper's Colony, in a community that takes care of its own.

The street in front of Will Anderson's house is busy all day with boys and their donkeys loaded with rubble from houses being torn down. They use this to build their huts and cobble their streets.

Sheriff's Report

Here is the weekly report from Parmer County sheriff Rex Williams:

The lack of protective headgear led to a 10-hour chase and the arrest of two New Mexico boys on charges of theft last week.

Williams said state trooper Marshall Thomas met two boys riding motorcycles about 11:30 a.m. on July 23 about 4-5 miles east of Farwell on Hwy 60. Thomas said they were not wearing headgear. When he tried to stop them, they attempted to outrun him.

The youths eventually laid their motorcycles down near some trees on David Norton's property.

"They jumped off their motorcycles and took off on foot," said Williams. The youths hid for a while in Norton's beet patch.

The trooper pursued on foot, while the youths ran into a corn patch. Williams arrived there about that time.

He contacted the Department of Public Safety in Lubbock which dispatched a helicopter to assist in the search.

"The chopper showed up around 1:30 p.m.," said Williams. "I called on surrounding counties to help surround them."

Williams said that he was assisted by two units from the Curry County Sheriff's Office; two canine units from the Clovis police, three Bailey County units, two Texico Marshal's units, and patrolmen from Deaf Smith Highway Patrol, Castro County Highway Patrol, and Bailey County Highway Patrol in addition to five Parmer County units.

Williams said that later five cowboys arrived with their horses from Caprock Feed Yards to assist in the search, as did several local farmers on 4-wheel ATV's and 2 motorcycles.

About 2:30 p.m. the law enforcement agents got one of the youths to come out of the corn patch.

About 10 p.m. Williams got a call that the other youth was in the custody of a local farmer.

Both boys were taken to the juvenile detention center in Lubbock to await extradition back to New Mexico. Williams said that the boys will be charged with theft in Alomogordo, N.M., in addition to the local charges of failure to wear protective head gear and resisting arrest.

"I want to thank all of the other law enforcement agents who helped with this. We all have to work together," added Williams.

In other police news, Williams said his staff has been working on the reports of stolen lawn mowers here.

"We investigate every case," says Williams. "We may not respond immediately at the time it's reported stolen, but we take reports."

He said his staff has contacted every source where the lawn mowers may be sold within a 200 mile radius. He has also sent teletypes of the reports to Lubbock and Albuquerque.

Williams believes that the rash of local lawn mower thefts may be connected to a rash of lawn mower thefts in Clovis and Muleshoe.

Also:

- On July 24, Stephen Williams, 18, Zephyr, Texas, was arrested by the sheriff's office on a charge of violation of probation. The case is pending in district court.

- On July 25, Jose Gonzalez, 30, Texico, was arrested by Bovina police on a charge of DWI. County Judge Bonnie Clayton fined him $400, court costs and 3 days in jail.

- On July 26, Nestor Anchondo, 22, Texico, was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol on a charge of public intoxication. He was fined $200.

- On July 26, Feliciano Salcido, 24, Clovis, was arrested by Texas Highway Patrol on a charge of public intoxication. He was fined $200.

Commissioners consider 3 percent pay hikes

The Parmer County Commissioners Monday continued working on the proposed budget.

The annual budget hearing is tentatively slated at the commissioners' Aug. 24 meeting.

The commissioners are considering 3 percent pay raises for county employees and officials.

After Monday's meeting, a special meeting was held dealing with the 911 addressing system.

With the county now using the 911 emergency number, county roads' will need to be numbered.

Twenty-three persons attended this meeting, including folks from county fire departments, police, post offices, EMS, etc. It was conducted by Pamela Nielson, of the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

County Judge Bonnie Clayton said that folks attending the meeting were about evenly split between (1) using numbers for both east-west and south-north roads, and (2) using letters one way and numbers the other way.

The county commissioners will make the final decision.

Marriage Licenses

There were five marriage licenses issued in Parmer County last week:

James Brian Herrington and Sheila Gale Deaton, John Pesina III and Tammie Gomez, William Miller and Kathy Walters, Francis O'Neil and Ginny Thornton, Bradford Mallory and Amanda Smith.

Residents told: put the dirt back

Texico Deputy Marshal Kirk Roberts told the Texico City Council Tuesday that two residents of South Griffin Street, in the area just off the highway, have removed dirt from city right of way.

Roberts said large trenches are now running along part of the street.

City Attorney Duane Hamar will write letters to the property owners giving them 10 days to replace dirt in the trenches or face legal action.

In other business, Nora Netcher and Ralph Autrey Jr. were told to seek a setback variance dealing with a trailer too close to a property line.

Approval was given to the First Baptist Church to close part of Turner Street in front of the church Aug. 10-14 during Vacation Bible School.

It was noted by city officials that new federal clean water laws will mandate cities to test for a large number of components, and to go into people's homes for testing purposes. They also will likely force higher water bills.

The council called an executive session to discuss possible pending litigation.

Marshal's Report

Here is the weekly report from the Texico marshal's office:

Deputy Marshal Kirk Roberts reported that a 12-year-old Texico boy was caught Tuesday burglarizing a home.

Roberts said the boy has admitted to one burglary on Third Street in Farwell and to two burglaries of the same house in Texico. These occurred during the past month.
