Austin, Bartlett, Camp show champions at Farwell stock show

Lyndi Austin showed the Grand Champion Steer at the 26th Annual Farwell Livestock last Saturday.

Duane Haseloff showed the Reserve Champion Reserve Champion, and also won the Showmanship belt buckle.

Klay Camp showed the Grand Champion Lamb. Sarah Montgomery showed the Reserve Champion Lamb and she also won the Showmanship belt buckle.

Dustin Bartlett showed the Grand Champion Swine. Shiloh Roberts showed the Reserve Champion Swine.

Brett Curtis earned the Showmanship belt buckle.

Dennis Moore of Boys Ranch served as the judge for the event. Once the show got started, Moore kept the pace of the event moving smoothly. He had words of encouragement and advice for the youngsters as well as criticism.

During the Swine Showmanship event he asked each participant to pen his animal and remove it from the pen to show how well the animal had been trained to respond and how well the youngster had control.

Willie Roberts was the announcer. Mack Heald was the ring secretary. Patsy Camp assisted with the awards.

 More stock show photos - Pages 3 & 4 ***

The event was organized by Farwell FFA advisor Richard Montgomery and 4-H advisors Gary Patterson and Debbie Pollard.

The Farwell-Oklahoma Lane 4-H'ers assisted at the concession stand.

The Pee Wee Showmanship event took place between the Lamb Show and the Barrow Show. Each youngster had the opportunity to show a swine.

Winners of the stock show were shown by:

Lazbuddle livestock show set for Jan. 15

The Lazbuddle Junior Livestock Show will be held at 1 p.m. on Jan. 15 in the old Co-operative Building (Chunk's Produce) on Highway 145 in Lazbuddle.

Weigh-in will begin at 10 a.m., said ag teacher Scott Burris.

Sean Mason will be ring steward. Any Forehand will be the judge. Burris will serve as announcer.

The livestock show is open to any student at Lazbuddle Schools who has raised steers, lambs or barrows.

Grand Champions and Junior and Senior Showmanship Champions will receive belt buckles. Grand Champions also will receive rodeo jackets, donated by Joe's Boot Shop.

Boothby's contract renewed

The Farwell School Board Tuesday held its annual evaluation of its superintendent.

The board renewed Supt. Richard Boothby's contract through the 1995-96 school year.

In other business, the board - Heard Boothby report that the school enrollment is still climbing, now up to 568. This includes 5 new elementary school pupils this week.

- Heard that the building program is on schedule. The new gym is about halfway completed. Due to the huge number of new students in the school system this year, Farwell is in good shape financially.

- Heard high school principal Larry Gregory discuss the new high school curriculum program suggested by the state. Farwell already is pretty well geared toward it. Gregory supports it, too.

Farwell Schools' request OK'd

The Parmer County Commissioners approved a request by Farwell Schools to get its portion of the Permanent School Funds.

Farwell's portion amounts to $140,717. The funds will be used for the building project under way.

Lazbuddle area commissioner Raymond McGehee is still looking into the best way to correct the problem with the Lazbuddle water structure.

The dam, northeast of Highway 145, is needed in the event of a major flood. The shaft is bent on its gate. Someone with the expertise and equipment to fix it is needed.

Get involved!

I never blame folks for being lazy.

If they gave them out, I would qualify for a "coach potato" first class medal. Especially when there's a good ball game on the boob tube.

But even folks who are lazy, like me, try and make the time to get involved in community activities. Because folks know that the only way to have a successful community is through involvement by its residents.

There's a bunch of folks reading this column who are active in community affairs - well, this column is NOT for you!

Instead, it's aimed at folks, especially newcomers to our community, who have the opportunity to be of service to their neighbors. And by helping their community and their neighbors, they, in effect, help themselves and their own families.

As a realist, I know that some folks don't have the time to participate in community groups and affairs. But quite frankly, that's a very tiny minority. The vast majority have the time - but prefer to use that lame alibi - "I don't have the time" - instead of showing a willingness to be active in community affairs.

We're fortunate to have a lot of fine service and community groups in our area that are very necessary for our area's well-being. Are YOU a member of one of them?

What brought me to write this column was the notice I've taken recently of what I believe to be an increasing number of fire calls handled by the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department.

I admire the folks who are active in our area's volunteer fire departments. Talk about a necessary organization. This is the one. These folks do a super job. Period.

In noticing the increased calls, I couldn't help but think of these folks being called out at all hours of the day or night, and responding as quickly as humanly possible. They are a rare breed of individuals - devoted to their neighbors and community.

And like all community service groups, they sure could use new members.

In our area, we have lots of super service groups. I'm not going to try and list all of them (whenever you try to do that, you inevitably leave one out by mistake), but they include 6 volunteer fire departments, the Rotary, the Lions, VFW, Beta Sigma Phi, ESA, Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary, 4-H and FFA, BTD Committee, TCAO, Booster Clubs, church groups, PTAs, and more.

All these groups serve an important function. And they all are necessary.

If you aren't a member of a community group, you are missing a bet. One of the best things about life is the opportunity to serve your fellow human beings.

Take a look at the groups I've mentioned. Maybe there's one that interests you. It's easy to find out about them. Just ask around, or call me at the Tribune (481-3681) if you wish.

The important thing is to get involved. The opportunity is there. The question is whether you wish to take advantage of it.

Correction from last week's Year in Review:

The correct Homecoming King and Queen at Lazbuddie High School last year were Jody Copp and Jarah Redwine.

Rumor of the Week: There's been a change in Texas UIL requirements involving some student athletes. So don't be surprised when the Sudan Hornets start a 20-year-old when they play the Steers in basketball this season.

I pick Sudan to win state this year.

Second Rumor of the Week: "PLO Chief Yasser Arafat" may be attending next week's Texico-Farwell Rotary Club meeting.

Third Rumor of the Week: Ask Greg Howard about the large scary object he saw while snorkeling in the Caribbean.

Heavy equipment is being used to raise the level of FM 145 and to prepare surface of the road before a finished coating is applied. The project to repair the road from the underpass to Hwy. 84 and Oklahoma Lane continues to move along.

FM 145 work continues

The project to repair FM 145 between the overpass near at Hwy. 84 and Oklahoma Lane is running a little behind schedule, according to foreman James Ennis of Amarillo.

The crew has been hauling in loads of material to raise the level of the road. Each layer must be packed and smoothed and settled before a "winter coat" of sealant is put over the base coat. Later, in warm weather, a top coat of blacktop will be added.

When the job will be finally finished depends upon the weather because some of the steps in the process can only be completed in warmer weather.

Texico seedings still jumbled

Where the Texico Wolverines end up in the EPAC Tournament seeding depends upon the outcome of Friday's games.

"It's so jumbled up we could end up anywhere from No. 5 to 7," said coach Richard Luscombe.

The Lady Wolverines are in a similar position. "We don't know yet," said coach Roy King. "We'll probably be seeded 5th or 6th."

The brackets will be available at Texico High School on Monday.

Two apply for Texico post of animal control officer

The Texico City Council Tuesday received two applications for the post of animal control officer.

The board also was told that a woman stopped by City Hall and said she was a certified dog catcher, but didn't apply.

Applicants will be contacted and talked to about the requirements for the job before a person is chosen.

In other business, the council:

- Heard councilman Oran Jay Autrey say that he and some other Texico residents met with their state representative, Earlene Roberts, who said she will work to try and get state funds for a Texico Community Center this year.
- Heard Manford Turnbough ask about the progress of the cleanup of the lot across from the Texico Senior Citizens Center and adjacent to the flea market.

City Clerk Treasurer Marie Christian said a certified letter was sent to the last known property owner, Jerry Duncan, but it was returned. It was stated later in the meeting that Duncan lives in Clovis.

The council plans to schedule an executive session after its Jan. 25 meeting to discuss a possible lawsuit to force cleanup of the lot.

- Discussed last year's street paving project by Appian Construction, Hereford. Mrs. Christian said Appian is in Chapter 11 bankruptcy. Appian had been paid 95 percent of what it was owed, with 5 percent withheld because the state wouldn't approve the work.
- Heard city employee Matt Meeks discuss the problem with the Tower Well. The well went down Jan. 2, with motor and pump problems. Since it was an emergency, he was given a verbal okay at the time to get them fixed, at a cost about $5,300.
- Tuesday, the council formally adopted a resolution approving this expenditure.
- Also, it was noted that the city is still waiting for the drilling to start on the new well near the school. The company got approval to proceed Dec. 6 but hasn't started yet. The work must be completed in early March but is expected to take less than a week if all goes well.
- Discussed buying six new chairs for the council table.
- Discussed having a credit card available for city employees to use, especially for gas when they are out of town.

Sorority Sweetheart

Debbie Phillips was named to represent Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi as the chapter Sweetheart at the group's annual Valentine Sweetheart Dance. She is the wife of Duane Phillips. They have two children, Christi and Michael.

Bailey County stock show upcoming

The Bailey County Junior Livestock Show is set for Jan. 13-15 at the Bailey County Coliseum in Muleshoe.

About 100 youths will participate. Judges are Terry Phillips, Jim Tucker, Burt Williams and Larry Gray.

Animals need to arrive Jan. 13 between 1 and 6 p.m. Sheep judging will begin at 9 a.m. Jan. 14. The swine show starts an hour after the sheep judging finishes, or 1 p.m. The cattle show will be at 8 a.m. Jan. 15.

Thinking about drilling a well or installing a CENTER PIVOT IRRIGATION SYSTEM?

Interest rates are the lowest since 1970. Our improvement loan rate is currently 6.95% fixed for 10 years. A $35,000 center pivot financed for 15 yards will have an annual payment of $3,830 for the first 10 years. A 10 year loan would cost $4,971 per year. You can't hire a hand to move pipe this cheap. Take advantage of low rates. Save labor, Save water! Rates change every Wednesday.

Cotton harvest completed early

By Judy Pomper

This year's cotton harvest went faster and smoother than usual, according to local gin workers.

"We're about 15 days early," said JaDon Gallman of the Farwell Gin. He mentioned good weather and the quality of the cotton as the reasons why the harvest moved so smoothly.

"If you have more trash and more immature cotton, that slows down everything," he said.

Cotton bolls are harvested after the first frost when the bolls have opened and the fiber inside has had a chance to dry out. If there isn't a frost early enough, some farmers use chemicals to kill the leaves and force the cotton bolls and open up and dry out.

The cotton is then harvested with a cotton stripper which separates the cotton from the stems and leaves. It is stored in the field in modules about the size of a semi-trailer. Then it is hauled to the gin where the cotton is separated from the remaining seeds, leaves and other "trash."

Then it is wrapped in bales, and taken to a compress where it is classified and stored until it is sold.

Gallman estimated the harvest this year to be a little more than normal this year.

"The price is holding well," he added.

At the Lariat Gin, Leman Stancell offered the opinion that the harvest was a "lot better than last year, and a little better than most times."

Finishing the harvest a little early gave him a little time to put his feet up and relax. (Of course he will still be busy running the parts store in Lariat, but at least he will now have only one job to do instead of two.)

Stancell offered the opinion that "everybody was surprised by the extra good quality (cotton) from this country."

Yaunda Martin of Lariat Gin noted that they had to work fast and furious, but they got the job done. "I've never had as busy a year as I have this year," she said. "We just sailed through harvest. The weather was just perfect," she said.

Normally there are several real windy days that keep the farmers from their work and several rainy ones that really slow down the progress of the harvest.

Martin said that Lariat's crop was sold out by the first week in January.

"Selling cotton isn't like selling other crops," said Martin. She explained that farmers don't get paid for their cotton immediately after they haul it to the gin. First it is ginned, and then hauled to the compress where it is classified and stored.

All of the cotton that a farmer has harvested is averaged together. "Each bale weighs 480-500 lbs. - each weighs different and each is classified different," said Martin.

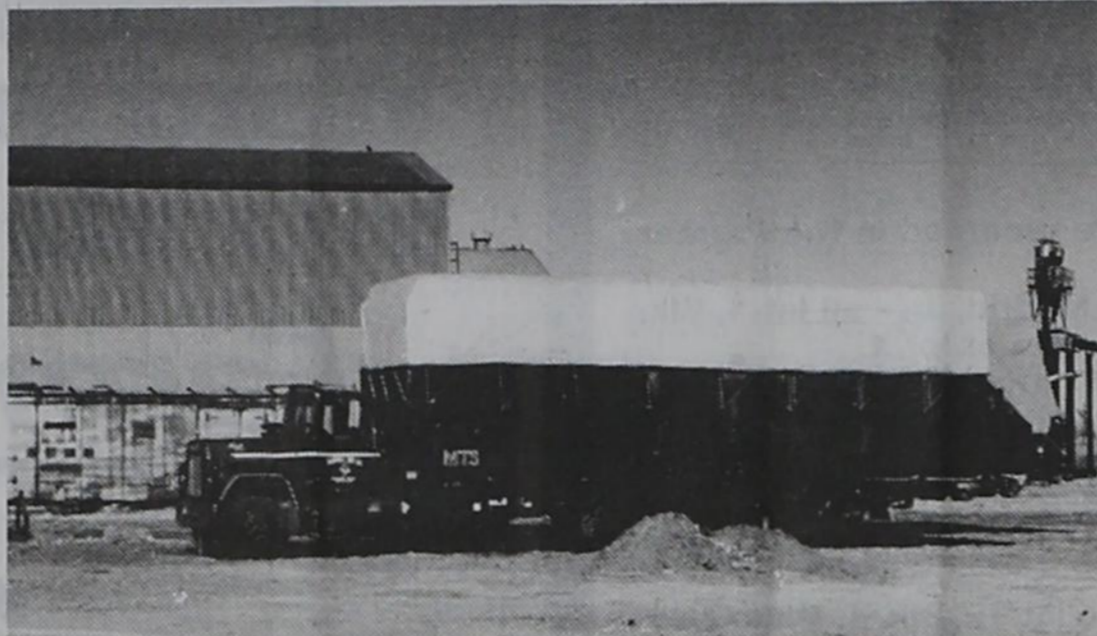

The final check the farmer receives depends upon the average of the total cotton crop the farmer has brought to the gin.

"It may be one to three weeks after the cotton is brought in before you can sell it," said Martin. "It's a long drawn out process, and it just takes time."

According to Martin one thing that remains the same is, "every year is different."

Bales of cotton await transportation.

Trucks haul the bales of cotton from the Farwell gin to the compress where it is classed and stored until it is sold.

Cotton burrs and trash are used in cattle feed.

Adult computer class offered

Farwell High School computer instructor Jimmie Mace will offer an adult computer class on Wednesdays at Farwell High School at 7 p.m.

"We did one last year, and I've been asked to do it again this year," said Mace. "We're just trying to serve the community."

The class will cover Windows 3.1; Word Perfect for Windows and Word Perfect DOS 5.1.

"There will be no tests. It's just strictly what people want to know," he added.

For more information, call Mace at 481-9044 after 5 p.m.

Mesman named

The Farwell Convalescent Center Auxiliary elected officers for the new year Jan. 10. Elected were: Mary Mesman, president; Frances Kube, vice president; Frances Boling, secretary and Nan Preston, treasurer.

The Auxiliary made plans for upcoming activities. Members are asked to bring cookies for all the residents for Valentine's Day. The group will purchase Valentines.

The group heard a report on activities that have been completed: about 200 family members and friends attended the Convalescent Center Thanksgiving dinner; the Auxiliary also helped with the Center's Christmas party where Santa made his annual appearance. The Auxiliary had a baked goods booth at Christmas on Parade to help raise money for its activities.

New member Charlene Cargile joined the group. Fourteen members and two home representatives attended.

Horner, Byrum, Winegeart honored

Three Texico Wolverines have been invited to play in the North - South All Star football game next spring.

Corey Horner has been invited to play linebacker. Sky Byrum and Bobby Winegeart have been invited as alternates.

"This is for Class A, Class 2A and 6-Man football teams," said coach Barry Partain.

Our sincerest thanks for the numerous ways our friends helped us during our recent loss. The kindness and genuine neighborliness meant so much to us.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Smith

Lezlie Castleberry weds Scott Smith

Randy and Betty Jean Kelley, of Farwell, and Bob and Peggy Smith, of Socorro, N.M., announce the marriage of Lezlie Castleberry and Scott Smith, of Clovis.

The Rev. Ronnie Kelley, of Roby, Texas, a cousin of Randy Kelley, united the couple in marriage on Dec. 25 at the home of the bride's parents.

Lezlie is the grand-daughter of Ray and Pauline Castleberry and Johnnie Eubank, of Farwell.

Scott is the grandson of Audy Smith, of Longview, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Money, of Gladewater, Texas.

Scott is employed at Glenco in Clovis. Lezlie is a coach and teacher at Clovis High School.

Parmer County sheriff's deputy Tracy Bridges spoke to the Texico-Farwell Lions Club Monday about the proposed Project KidCare.

The sheriff's department is seeking funds to start a project in which kits are bought. The kits include photos of children and pertinent information in case they are abducted.

The club voted to donate $25 to the proposed project.

Kathy Shields was treated and released from the hospital a couple of weeks ago following an auto accident.

The winning steer at this year's Farwell Livestock Show was a Santa Gertrudis, a big red critter that looks a little bit like a Black Angus except it's red. Richard Montgomery tells us that the breed was developed on the King Ranch in Texas.

We heard that three Menonite families have moved into the Farwell School District. We'd like to welcome these folks.

3 to get a consensus of their feelings about the programs offered at Texico Schools.

The four main points made by community representatives were:

- * They did not want the school to teach state-mandated values (sometimes called Outcomes Based Educations). Richards noted that they do not object to standards of learning which require students to acquire a certain skills or knowledge at a certain time. The objection is to values which might conflict with religious or ethical standards held by people here.

- * Their report asked the schools to "teach the basics."

- * They didn't want Texico Schools to try something that hasn't worked in other places.

- * Their report voiced the opinion that the community needs to have input into the educational system.

According to Richards, the committee made up of more than 20 representatives had brainstormed 48 points. These points fell into the four general headings listed above.

In other matters, the school board:

- Reviewed a proposed calendar for next year. It calls for a holiday on Labor Day.

- Reviewed the monitoring report from the State Department of Education.

- Heard that Texico Schools have 539 students enrolled - more than last year.

- Transferred money to the drug free schools program so that students can attend a fetal alcohol seminar.

- Increased the special education budget.

- Recognized the custodial department for all that they did to get the buildings in shape over the Christmas holidays.

- Approved the list of items to be sold at the school auction on Feb. 26.

- Approved the school photographer for next year.

- Approved the purchase of a new mower for next year.

- Heard that the state officials had given the cafeteria a good report.

- Discussed items to be presented at the 30 day legislative session that starts in Santa Fe on Jan. 18.

Rhea-Hollene Fire Dept. receives several grants

Fire department members stand beside the new truck.

The Rhea Hollene Volunteer Fire Dept. received a truck to pull their tanker trailer from the Texas Forest Service on Dec. 15.

They have also received grants from the Texas Forest Service to purchase fire-fighting equipment and the Texas Department of Health to purchase medical supplies.

"We couldn't have gotten this equipment without their help," said Glen Schueler.

The truck was acquired at no charge to the Department by applying to the Texas Forest Service under the Federal Excess Property program. Equipment acquired under this program is designated for fire control use. A fire department is responsible to insure and maintain the equipment under contract with the Texas Forest Service. Title to the equipment remains as federal property during use by the department. The truck received is a 6x6, 5 ton, Kaiser - Jeep 1969 year model, in very good condition.

Rhea Hollene has received help from the Texas Forest Service programs since their start in January 1992. They have received a 5,000 gal. tanker, 1977 Dodge 4x4 pickup, cost share of $1431.33 for a Pump Unit for the pickup, Cost Share of $241.81 for Dry Hydrants. They have also purchased new bunker gear at wholesale prices under the Fire Safe Fund program.

Schueler said Rhea-Hollene applied to the Forest Service for another grant to purchase fireproof clothing for the men on the force. They then used the money to purchase the gear from the Forest Service at wholesale prices.

"They said it would buy gear for 4 - 5 men and we bought gear for 8 - 9 men through the Forest Service," he said.

Rhea Hollene has also gotten the equipment to hook up dry hydrants to irrigation wells, turning them into instant fire hydrants in the middle of the country.

According to the Rhea firefighters, Texas Forest Service funding has been cut by the last two Texas legislatures and Congress. TFS can't help all fire departments with needed equipment when funds are continued to be cut. When this happens costs for needed equipment has to come from other local sources.

Rhea-Hollene asks that local folks write or call their state and U.S. Representatives and Congressmen to let them know how much you appreciate this funding.

Rhea-Hollene fire fighters have also received notice of funding from the Texas Department of Health to enable them to purchase $638 worth of first response medical supplies. When they get the funding, the department plans to purchase an oxygen inhalator unit and bag resuscitators.

NOTICE to Parmer County Taxpayers

January 31, 1994 is the deadline to pay all personal and property taxes in Parmer County.

Checks must be postmarked by January 31 or penalty and interest will occur.

If you turned 65 years old as of Jan. 1, 1994, then you need to sign up for the "65 and older" Homestead Exemption. This is a permanent exemption so if you already have signed up for it, you don't have to re-apply.

If you have purchased a home since you signed up for the Homestead Exemption," you need to re-apply for this exemption.

Agricultural use exemptions are available for all who have purchased agricultural property. If you purchased ag property during the past year, you need to apply for this exemption.

Call, or drop by our office, for your application(s). They will be mailed to you upon request.

Margie Crooks

Texico's Crooks seeks county assessor's post

Margie Crooks, of Texico, is running for the Curry County Assessor's post on the Democratic ticket.

She currently is chief deputy at the assessor's office.

A lifelong resident of Curry County, Mrs. Crooks is a Texico High graduate. She and husband, Arlye, have three children and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Crooks worked at Triangle Home Center for 29 years, in bookkeeping, sales, customer relations and personnel management, serving as secretary - treasurer of the corporation.

She also has worked at Rip's Western Wear, Pierce Realty and the Curry County treasurer's office.

Mrs. Crooks attended ENMU - Clovis.

New intercom - finally!

Farwell Junior High Principal Jerry Dee Owen is thankful for the new school intercom system. The old one dated back to 1952, and there have been a few improvements in sound technology since then. The school also had a new clock and automatic bell system installed at the same time.

Sorority has annual breakfast

Lynne Mahaney hosted the annual Beta Sigma Phi New Years breakfast at her home on Jan. 8.

This year members were asked to bring a treasured heirloom with them, and discuss its significance.

On the menu were: Beta Sigma Phi breakfast casseroles, apricot bread, fruit compote, and a fresh fruit tray along with breakfast beverages.

Present were Lynne Mahaney, Nedda Travis, Anne Norton, Colleen Stover, Judy

Pomper, Lynne Mahaney, Rhonda Kirkland and guest Jade Mahaney.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Planning to attend college? Already enrolled in college?

All members of Farmers' Electric Cooperative and their dependents are eligible to apply for the twenty-three $400.00 scholarships for the 1994 fall semester. Twenty scholarships will be awarded in accordance with the guidelines established by the Cooperative's Education Foundation, giving first preference to graduating high school seniors in our service area. In addition, the foundation will award three $400.00 scholarships on a system-wide basis to applicants that have already graduated from high school. The scholarship awards are made possible through donated and unclaimed Capital Credits.

Don't delay! Deadline for applications is February 1, 1994.

For more information, contact your high school guidance counselor or Farmers' Electric Cooperative, 1 (800) 445-8541 or, if in the Clovis area, 762-4466.

'Christian Family Money Management Program' offered

Hank Scott

A "Christian Family Money Management Program" will be offered at the First Baptist Church of Farwell Jan. 16-19.

Child care will be provided. Program leader will be H.F. (Hank) Scott, of Lubbock. Scott retired from the pastorate in 1990 after serving for 40 years as a pastor, including churches in Amarillo and Lubbock. He has served on the executive board of State Convention, director of the Texas Baptist Church Loan Corporation, and trustee and board member of the World Evangelism Foundation.

Scott currently serves as trustee of the Baptist Memorial Geriatric Center of Texas and on the Christian Education Coordinating Board.

Here's the schedule for the Successful Money Management (S.M.M.) program:

Sunday, Jan. 16

11 a.m. - Worship service, followed by a potluck meal.
7 p.m. - Worship service.
