

HOUSE GROUP RAKES BENSON FOR 'POLITICS'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today accused the Agriculture Department of allowing political considerations to darken the future of American farmers.

It blistered the department's management in a report recommending $878,625,391 in cash and 388 million dollars in lending authority to finance the agency for the next fiscal year. This was a net cut of over $6,424,524 from budget requests.

The report by the committee bristled with criticism of Secretary Benson and "others about him." The Commodity Credit Corp. and its parent organization, the Commodity Stabilization Service, bore the brunt of the committee's wrath. Benson is chairman of the Board of Directors of the CCC, which handles the government's farm price support program.

Noting a steady drop in farm income and a steady rise in farm costs in recent years, the committee said, "The outlook is for still further declines in net farm income in 1955."

Since 1945, it said, the farmers' share of the consumers' food dollar has dropped from 54 to 43 percent and "prospects are that this trend will continue."

In the South particularly, it added, the situation is "deplorable" because of government curtailment of cotton acreage. More than 55,000 farm families in the South "have been put off their farms, with no homes and limited employment possibilities," the committee said, and 130,000 farm families with gross income of $1,000 or less annually will suffer further losses of $100 or more this year.

The committee accused the CCC of having "largely overlooked" its responsibility to protect the government's investment in food surpluses.

The CCC has invested more than seven billion dollars to support farm prices, the committee said, but up to February of this year nearly $3,700,000,000 worth of commodities had never been offered for sale abroad at competitive prices.

"There is reason to believe that such products could be sold in world markets through normal channels if an effort were made to do so on a competitive basis," the committee commented.

The committee directed the CCC to reduce its storage costs at least 20 percent during the coming year, eventually holding only one year's security reserve. The surpluses held by the CCC were acquired under price support laws which were unrealistic and encouraged surplus production.

WASHN—Add appropriations 92. The committee ordered restored a cut proposed by the administration of $18,359,447 in "action" programs, which include disease and pest control, soil conservation operations, flood prevention, and the school lunch program.

It approved lending authority of 160 million dollars as requested for the Rural Electrification Administration and 75 million for rural telephone installations. The Farmers Home Administration was given 153 millions, a budget boost of 11 million, in loan authorization. For regular departmental activities, the committee voted the department $684,107,434 in cash, a budget cut of $17,424,524. For special activities, it approved the entire $184,517,957 requested. This included furnishing emergency feed aid.

The agricultural conservation program was cut 35 1/2 million dollars. The committee said there was a stable carryover of funds from the 1953 program. For next year's conservation payment program the committee recommended 250 million dollars, an increase of 75 million over department requests. The cash to finance the 1955 payments will be provided next year.

The committee restored $15,236,197 cut by the department from the school lunch program, recommending the program continue at the present level of $83,236,197.

Freeze Due As Gritty Norther Hits Texas

By The Associated Press
A norther packing snow and grit howled across Texas Friday. It threatened another damaging freeze over the upper two-thirds of the state before sunrise Saturday.

At mid-morning the norther's leading edge had rushed past the Fort Worth-Dallas area. Behind, temperatures sank and snow fell from Amarillo north to Dalhart and eastward across Central and Northern Oklahoma.

Stinging north winds up to 35 mph whirled dust through the Texas Panhandle. In the Dallas area, temperatures were hurriedly posted for the day.

Temperatures were expected to drop as low as 22 in North Central Texas, 24 in East Texas and 32 in south central Texas.

The Weather Bureau at New Orleans ordered small craft warnings hoisted from Brownsville to St. Marks, Fla., "for increasing southerly winds shifting to northerly 25-30 mph..." tonight and tomorrow.

At mid-morning the Panhandle town of Dalhart shivered in blowing snow, fog and 13-degree cold. Light snow swirled through Amarillo in 16-degree weather. Wind to 33 mph blasted dust through Amarillo.

Blowing dust cut visibility to 2 miles at Childress and Wichita Falls, Oklahoma City had freezing drizzle and light snow. Sleet and snow fell farther north, at Ponca City.

Cold wave warnings were hurriedly posted for the Panhandle, South Plains, East Texas, and North Central Texas. Temperatures as low as 24 degrees were expected in North Central Texas Friday night.

Stockmen were warned to look after their cattle. Householders were warned to attend to exposed plumbing and automobile radiators.

The cold front appeared even more severe than the one Monday. "Those going the wrong way are as fruit and vegetable crops," Capt. M. L. Kirby said. "Drivers going the right way have been yelling and honking their horns at those doing wrong."

There had been no tickets issued this morning. Officers said they were just warning those who were not used to the new system.

Mixups dwindled as the day went on, the patrolmen pointed out. Most officers believe that the kinks will be ironed out of the new system in record time.

It was noticeable this morning, however, that a good percentage of downtown Third and Fourth streets were by-passing the Third and Fourth Street arterials. Second and Fifth streets were handling an unusual amount of traffic.

Parking places could easily be found on Third and Fourth, but they were at a premium on Main, Scurry, Rannels and Second and Fifth.

Cars which were parked on Third and Fourth were usually on the right side. Some had been docketed on the driver's left, but only a few.

Most of the cars on Third and Fourth were being driven on the right side of the street, too. Only a few, in comparison, were crossing the center stripe to drive on the left side of the street.

Officers said that this situation probably will be eliminated when the three lane strips are painted on the streets. The lanes will probably be painted during the coming week, said Sam McComb, Highway Department maintenance chief here.

Highway Department crews this morning painted yellow strips down the center of the Highway 80 division point in West Big Spring. This prohibits cars getting on the wrong side at the merging point of the one-way systems.

All the one-way signs at intersections with Third and Fourth were clearly visible today, and the traffic signal light system was functioning.

The "green" lights are equipped with arrows to direct the motorist as to which direction he can drive. City Electrician Roy Hogan and several city crews were busy all night Thursday installing the new traffic light system. It was ready to go with the traffic change at 6 a.m.

Dr. Lee Rogers, chairman of the local Citizens Traffic Commission, expressed pleasure this morning with the public's attitude in accepting the new one-way system.

Law enforcement officials were also pleased by Dr. Rogers, and he complimented maintenance crews for the efficient method in which they effected the change.

Wrong Way

A driver (below) turns east into westbound traffic on Third Street. It took only a moment for this motorist to realize she was traveling the wrong way on the newly designated one-way street. Several others, however, got a block or so. Third and Fourth Streets, both Highway 80 arterials through Big Spring, were opened to one-way traffic at 6 a.m. today. One-way signs, such as the one pictured above, are posted at all intersections.

One-Way Traffic Mostly Smooth On 3rd And 4th

Big Springers were taking the one-way drives in stride this morning.

Motorists were rather cautious in operating their vehicles on Third and Fourth streets, but police reported a minimum of difficulty in the traffic system change.

There had been no accidents on the two new one-way arterials through noon.

The one-way traffic began at 6 a.m. today on Third and Fourth, both Highway 80 arterials through Big Spring. Third now handles westbound traffic, and Fourth handles eastbound traffic.

A number of drivers headed the wrong direction on the two streets this morning, but most got less than a block before they realized what had happened.

Motorcycle Patrolman Lindy Oldfield said he had to stop only eight drivers between 8 and 9 a.m. to tell them they were driving the wrong way on a one-way street.

"Those going the wrong way are as fruit and vegetable crops," Capt. M. L. Kirby said. "Drivers going the right way have been yelling and honking their horns at those doing wrong."

Phillips Filibuster Breaks U.S. Record

County Road Dept. Changes Approved

Voting unanimously this morning, county commissioners put into effect most of a broad reorganizational program proposed by the engineer for the county road department.

The plan will divide the department into three major divisions, with each unit to be responsible for one phase of operations — road maintenance, road and bridge construction and repair, and vehicle and equipment maintenance.

It will mean the addition of two employees and the purchase of $9,600 worth of additional equipment.

Deleted from the recommendation of Engineer Foster Dickey was the appointment of a draftsman and one additional truck driver. The two new workers approved will be a supply clerk and a clerk-typist.

New equipment to be purchased will be four pickup trucks for use of foremen of the four road districts which are to be laid out, an two road rollers.

Division of the county into road districts will be for maintenance purposes, with a maintenance crew to operate in each. Districts will be set up without regard to precinct lines, and their extent will be based on road mileage and maintenance conditions.

Commissioner Ralph Proctor, who moved that the plan be adopted with the exception of appointment of the two other proposed employees, suggested that the new set-up be placed on a trial basis. The draftsman and extra truck driver could be added, he said, if the operation proved satisfactory and need for the additional workers becomes apparent.

Proctor's motion was in line with a recommendation by County Judge R. H. Weaver that the plan be approved for a trial period, with the additional help to be employed later if their need is justified.

The organizational set-up proposed by Dickey would put road and bridge operations completely under the "unit system." Routine road maintenance would be performed on a district basis.

The plan also would provide for strict cost accounting within the department, and for a "perpetual inventory" of all equipment and materials.

Four additional employees, four more pickup trucks and two new road rollers would be required to carry out the plan, as suggested by the engineer. That would push total number of workers in the department to 37, not including the engineer.

The new workers required would be a draftsman, supply clerk, a clerk-typist, and a truck driver.

The reorganization would divide the county road department into three sections, each with a general foreman under the supervision of the road superintendent who would be responsible to the engineer.

The county engineer also would have two other aides — an administrative assistant to handle work orders, payroll and time records, purchase orders, cost accounting and budget work; and an engineering assistant, who would assist with planning, prepare drawings, and assist with estimation of costs, etc.

The three sections of the road department would be shops division, maintenance division, and a major repair and construction division. Each would be subdivided into smaller units, with a foreman in charge of each.

The shops division would have a foreman-mechanic and two vehicle service workers. The maintenance division would include a bridge and culvert crew, with a foreman and two laborers; an asphalt patching and fence crew, with a foreman and three other workers; and four district maintenance crews, each to have two equipment operators, two road graders and a pickup truck. One of the operators in each district also would serve as crew foreman.

The major repairs and construction division would consist of three units, with a fourth to be added when funds became available, according to Dickey's proposal. The three sections of the division initially would be the truck crew, construction crew, and maintenance crew.

In Taipei, Nationalist and U.S. officers continued their discussions on military requirements.

Solon Seeks More Funds For Hospital

AUSTIN (AP)—New national filibuster champion Jimmy Phillips dropped in his Texas Senate seat at 10:34 a.m. today. He set an all-time record of 23 hours and 35 minutes of continuous debate.

Phillips, a veteran of many filibusters, broke the old record of 22 hours and 26 minutes at 9:15 a.m.

His talkathon plea for more cash for a charity hospital service eclipsed the single speech filibuster record held by Sen. Wayne Morse (1-Or.) of 22 hours and 26 minutes. Morse's record was made in a speech on tidalands oil in 1953.

Phillips stood in his sock feet yesterday and today as he smashed the Legislature's filibustering record with his hands and hours of argument to force the Senate to vote for more cash.

Presiding officer Dorsey Hardeman gave official recognition to Phillips' talking record.

Announcing Phillips had been speaking longer than any lawmaker had ever spoken before in legislative debate, Hardeman added: "I don't know why."

Retorted Phillips: "I appreciate the announcement, but I'm more interested in the Senate votes than the record."

His voice was weak but still showed plenty of power in spurts. He was deadly serious in his debate and was hammering home his points as he clinched a microphone in his hand.

His marathon battle is aimed at forcing the Legislature to increase the 1 1/2 billion dollar spending bill. Phillips, pacing with a jerky stride around his desk, came back again and again to offer to pay the expenses of any member of the Senate wishing to visit the hospital before voting on the amendment.

"I'll get you a plane, pay your expenses, let you go to Galveston and have breakfast in the John Sealy Hospital and look over the wonderful work—and I'll be here to answer your questions when you get back," he shouted.

Sipping orange juice from a half gallon jar on his desk, Phillips looked calmly at Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and said he was fully aware that he would suffer for his lengthy speech.

"They'll take the hide off anyone who insurrects," he roared, "but what I want to tell you is that it's time for a little insurance."

Phillips wants another million dollars a year operating funds for the John Sealy Hospital at Galveston. He said he would try to beat the congressional non-stop talking record if it took that to win approval for his amendment. The hospital in Phillips' district has space to spare for lack of money to staff it.

"If my amendment fails to pass, I'll still say that what I did was right," he told the senators. "Perhaps I will have kindled in the hearts of some a spark of mercy and compassion."

"But, he warned, "you'll never have to apologize to one person on this earth if you vote for this amendment."

Last Week For One Group Of Baby Pictures

Today and Saturday are last days for photographing children in the age bracket of 19 months through 3 years, in the Herald-Barr Photocenter "Personality Child" contest.

Cash awards totaling $370 are to be presented to prize-winning children, named by an out-of-town board of judges. First place wins $100, and first, second and third places in each of three divisions will receive $50, $25 and $15.

All pictures are to appear in the Herald's annual Baby edition next month.

Nearly 200 photos already have been made. This week is set aside for the 19 months-3 years group, and next week will be for children of ages 3 through 5. Proofs will be shown one week after the sitting.

Registration fee is $1.50. There is no other cost or obligation. Any white child may be entered, just so long as pictures are made during times stipulated, at the Barr Photocenter, 311 Rannels.

Mothers are requested to arrange for photos promptly. No appointments are necessary.

Board Urges Rail Wage Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—A presidential emergency board recommended today that a commission be established "to review and to modernize the wage rate structure" in the railroad industry.

In a report to the President, the board said there is "an imperative need for a thorough-going review and modernization of the internal wage structure, specifically in the operating classifications."

The board was appointed by President Eisenhower last fall to deal with a 6-year-old pay dispute involving railroad conductors. The conductors had threatened a strike.

Workshop Open Saturday To Help Boys With Derby Cars

First of a series of clinics designed to help boys build their racers for the Soap Box Derby is scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The High School workshop will be open for Derby entrants from 1 to 4:30 p.m. and instructors will be on hand to give direction in following the Derby construction rules.

While a boy must build his coaster himself, he can have some guidance, and at the school workshop he will have access to tools that will help him perform major operations in the construction process.

All Derby boys are urged to take advantage of the workshop clinics offered through cooperation of the school system and Louis Maneely, industrial arts instructor.

Meanwhile, it was stressed again that Saturday is the last day for registration. Boys are urged not to stand back because of lack of finances. They may arrange to get official wheels and purchase materials — and then when their cars are completed, the expense will be borne by a sponsor.

It can be free, and fun, too. Besides, a lot of prizes await the winners.

6,864 Missed Puzzle; Prize Goes To $200

The dismal news must be announced again — No winners.

There were plenty who tried to master that infernally tricky Cashword Puzzle this week. The number of entries was 6,864 — a record. And there were some solutions that got pretty close; a couple that missed only a couple of letters.

But nobody got it perfect, the way the puzzle-maker says it should be. The solution today is on Page 6.

So-o-o, the jackpot prize goes up next week, to a full $200, and there may be some extra awards to go with that.

Two hundred snappers would pay for that vacation, so look for another Cashword Puzzle in The Herald Monday, and be ready to take a fresh start. Remember, somebody wins, sometime!

There are some Puzzle Parties we've heard about. People getting their heads together to figure out those sly definitions. You might try this, and everybody can send in ten each.

Men Helpless As Icy Nature Grinds Docks

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Local residents, Army engineers and Coast Guardsmen still watched helplessly today as the ice-filled Niagara River continued on its home and dock-wrecking rampage.

The grinding mass of glacierlike ice showed no signs of washing out into Lake Ontario. Army engineers said the pressure behind the jam remained about the same.

Summer homes and boat docks along the shoreline below the falls were reduced to rubble as the ice went up over the river banks. Property estimated at nearly a million dollars was threatened.

In some spots, the pileup was as deep as 50 feet. The only open water in the rapids below the falls was a short stretch near the whirlpool.

The shoreline from Lewiston down to Fort Niagara on the U.S. side and from Queenston to Niagara-on-the-Lake on the Canadian side caught the brunt of the damage.

Above the falls, an ice jam has slowed the flow of water over the American falls considerably.

Seven cottages were crushed by the ice at Lewiston. The Queenston steamboat dock, where Toronto excursion boats dock during the summer, was destroyed yesterday and water was reported to be pouring into the Ontario hydroelectric plants near Queenston.

Army engineers reported that Lake Ontario was about 20 feet above the normal level at Rochester.

The engineers said there was no hope of being able to dynamite the jam. The slush under the ice would only act as a cushion, they said.

An attempt was made Tuesday to dynamite the ice but it only succeeded in breaking up the surface ice.

Tension Grips Irving As School Vote Nears

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Tension gripped this small residential town today on the eve of an election that will decide the fate of the strife-torn Irving Independent School District.

Classes will continue regardless of the outcome of the election. Should voters vote to abolish the district it would be a victory for backers of deposed School Supt. John L. Beard, 53.

Beard was fired by the school board last month for what it termed failure to cooperate. Within a few days nearly 200 teachers and other school employees left their jobs in protest. They said there was no proper explanation of Beard's dismissal and that their jobs had grown "intolerable."

The school board retaliated quickly by firing nine executives of the school system, including the principals of seven schools. It warned the teachers and employees to come back to work or be dismissed. The "strikers" stayed away from the schools. They received dismissal letters. Parents and volunteers kept classes going until new people were hired.

But persons backing Beard petitioned County Judge Lew Sterrett of Dallas to call an election to decide whether to abolish the school district. If it carries, the school board will be deposed. The Beard faction says another election would be called immediately to "re-create" the district and elect another board.

By yesterday nearly every one of Irving's 23,500 residents had taken part in the bitter fuss. Door-to-door campaigning, telephone solicitation of votes, a barrage of big circulars, and special daily editions of the Irving weekly newspaper highlighted the feverish campaign.

There had been these additional developments since Beard's dismissal in February: 1. Student leaders asked their classmates "not to act like adults" and appealed to Dr. J. W. Edgar, State Commissioner of Education, for aid in getting their schools on an even keel again. Edgar said he had no such authority.

2. Teachers announced they were appealing their dismissals to the state education commissioner. This was followed yesterday by an announcement from Beard that he had completed his formal appeal to the Texas Education Agency and had forwarded it to Austin.

3. The Cain Organization, Inc., a Dallas public relations firm was retained by an Irving group, including some school board members, to present their side of the controversy to the public. The Cain Organization said "no press agents" had been hired.

4. Beard said his dismissal was caused by a "political clique" which he said he had been told was headed by Louis Blaylock, Irving financier, insurance man and son of a former Dallas mayor.

5. Blaylock joined the battle of press conferences about that time to deny any enmity toward Beard and disclaim such influence as Beard had said he possessed.

6. School Board President Charles E. Young, a Dallas accountant, said Beard's accounting of cafeteria funds did not follow methods of approved bookkeeping. He made no other specific charges, however.

7. Beard promptly entered suit for $300,000 against members of the school board, the husband of one member, and the Cain Organization for damages growing out of what was alleged to be libel and slander.

8. The school board announced it would quit in a body if the "proper state authorities" did not uphold its dismissal of Beard.

9. Donald O. Sterrett, Irving bus driver, filed a libel suit seeking $50,000 damages from the Reporter Publishing Co., a tabloid weekly newspaper.

Canada Keeps Muscles On Yankee Dollar

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada has a fund of almost two million dollars operating to keep muscles on the U.S. dollar after it crosses the border. At bank counters you generally get only 98 cents for your U.S. greenback. Cigar counters and the like may knock off 4 cents. Hotels vary between the bank rate and another penny premium.

That annoys some American tourists—but not too many. Canadian trade officials say hopefully, American tourists may never again see the day when they can fork over $1 of Uncle Sam's green and get a Canadian dollar and a dime to boot. That situation lasted for years.

Then, on Sept. 30, 1950, when the Canadian government—sensing a mining boom and other business expansion—set the Canadian dollar free to find its own level. That day the Canadian dollar was worth 91 cents U.S. officially.

It began climbing. One day in March 1952 a dollar of either nationality was just a dollar. And the Canadian dollar kept climbing. American businessmen and investors helped strengthen the Canadian economy. On Aug. 14, 1952, the official rate of the U.S. dollar was around 95 1/2 cents.

Then the government began using some of its gold and currency buying fund—in existence since 1935—to buy dollars in a day-to-day "smoothing-out operation." Greenbacks began a slow recovery. One day two weeks ago they were up to 99 cents. They hover around 2 to 3 cents premium pretty generally.

No profit-and-loss statements or balance sheets are issued about the fund by the Bank of Canada. But a holdings statement showed that the fund was at $1,934,000 on Feb. 1, a new high.

Some proposals have been made for big-scale buying of American dollars to restore exact parity. Exporters favor parity. They say the lower value of the U.S. dollar acts as a tariff barrier against their goods. Canadian consumers oppose parity.

In Montreal's big banking center in St. James Street, the rate is expected to remain steady for a while at least.

Area Meetings Set For Baylor Exes

Baylor University ex-students in this area are invited to participate in one of three sessions to be held early in April.

Graves Blanton, executive secretary of the ex-students association, and Ben Williams, association president, are making a two weeks swing through Texas and part of Louisiana to meet with area chapters.

Those nearest Big Spring are at the Plainsman Hotel, Lubbock, at 7:30 p.m. on April 7 with reservations to be made with Martin Jones, 4019-A 34th, Odessa-Midland at the Lincoln Hotel in Odessa on April 8 at 7:30 p.m. with reservations to be made with George Cook, 517 N. Golder, Odessa; April 11 in San Angelo at 7 p.m. in the Cactus Hotel with reservations to be made with Jack Davis, Chamber of Commerce.

Citizens Unit Slates School District Fight

WACO (AP)—A committee has been appointed by a citizens group to seek legal advice in calling an election to junk the Speegleville Independent School District and its board.

The three-man committee was named at a meeting of about 175 citizens last night, the majority friends of School Supt. H. A. Bennett, whose contract has not been renewed by the board. Bennett supporters hope to wipe out the district and the board, making it a common school district, and then vote another independent school district and a new board.

The three-man committee will wrestle with attorneys over the fate of the bonded indebtedness of the district if it is abolished and how a new independent school district could be set up.

No action was expected until the committee met with legal advisors later next week. J. E. Helton, Friday Hoffman and an unnamed third person were selected for the committee.

While most of the citizens at last night's meeting were Bennett backers, a Waco lawyer, M. M. O'Dowd, told the group that the meeting was not democratic and said the time to elect new members is at the regular election April 2.

The controversy flared up when the board voted 4-3 late last month against renewing Bennett's contract. The 52-year-old Bennett was superintendent of the district from 1929 to 1932 and returned in 1933.

Bennett supporters then petitioned the board to call an open meeting and give their reasons for their action. Hoffman said the four "who had ousted Mr. Bennett didn't appear."

J. V. Davis, board president, said, "We thought we could beat him as an administrator and a disciplinarian."

The three board members who supported Bennett are up for election April 2, but the other four are not up for reelection this term. "I'm out as far as I'm concerned," said Bennett.

FASTEST KNOWN PAIN RELIEF FOR ARTHRITIC, RHEUMATIC VICTIMS—NOW AVAILABLE

Judge Rules Astor's Wife 'Despicable'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—John Jacob Astor's third wife, branded by a circuit judge as "a scheming, lying girl," will have to get along on $75 a week.

Judge Vincent C. Giblin said he would sign a formal order today allowing $12,500 to attorneys for Mrs. Dolores Fullman Astor, 27, and stipulating that Astor pay all court costs.

Dolly, a curvy blonde who married the New York millionaire playboy in Arlington, Va., last Aug. 6 and left him Sept. 21, sued for separate maintenance and reportedly wanted $500,000.

Astor, 44, countered with a suit for divorce and was believed to have offered Dolly $50,000.

Judge Giblin denied Astor's plea for divorce, saying he lacked jurisdiction because Astor failed to prove he is a legal resident of Florida.

"I am not going to extract money from the defendant's pockets just because he is a wealthy man," Giblin said, adding he had "not the slightest bit of sympathy" for Mrs. Astor.

"To me she and her father (George J. Fullman of Miami Beach) are despicable people who have no principles; who were motivated in this case by greed for money. She married this man for his money. I don't believe his faults justified the vicious and untrue attacks."

The nature of the attacks was not disclosed. They were heard in the judge's chambers.

Rare Bible Congress Gift

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the most treasured of Christian documents, the oldest known New Testament in the language spoken by Christ and his disciples, goes to the Library of Congress today.

A 1 1/2-million-dollar insurance policy covered the document during the estimated 90-minute transfer from a downtown bank.

The volume, believed to be more than 1,600 years old, will be kept in a vault at the library until it goes on exhibition April 5.

The testament is known as the Yonan Codex. For centuries it has been in the keeping of the Malek Yonan family, which came from Assyria. Codex means a book form of manuscript as distinguished from the scroll form. No sale price has been announced.

L. Quincy Mumford, librarian of Congress, said the Yonan Codex would be the greatest possible addition to the library's collection of Biblical texts.

"This manuscript, so far as is known the world's oldest complete New Testament in Aramaic-Syriac—the language that Christ and his disciples spoke—brings to Washington a unique treasure..." Mumford said.

The vellum manuscript consists of 227 leaves about 7 by 9 inches. The writing is in black ink which has turned brownish in part, with the names of the various books in red ink. The handwriting is beautifully formed and uniform, apparently the work of a single scribe.

Charge Moslem Wedding Attack

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli military spokesman charged that armed Egyptians shot up a wedding party in southern Israel last night, killing a girl and injuring 18 persons.

He said the attack occurred in the village of Fatish, about 12 miles inside Israeli territory from the Gaza Strip, where 38 Egyptians and eight Israelis were killed Feb. 23 in a battle which the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission blamed on the Israeli army.

An eyewitness said about 39 persons were dancing in the village hall when two grenade explosions were heard. This was followed by a burst of gunfire and a young teacher fell dead. Two other persons were seriously wounded.

Final reports indicated the bride and groom were not injured.

2. Teachers announced they were appealing their dismissals to the state education commissioner. This was followed yesterday by an announcement from Beard that he had completed his formal appeal to the Texas Education Agency and had forwarded it to Austin.

3. The Cain Organization, Inc., a Dallas public relations firm was retained by an Irving group, including some school board members, to present their side of the controversy to the public. The Cain Organization said "no press agents" had been hired.

4. Beard said his dismissal was caused by a "political clique" which he said he had been told was headed by Louis Blaylock, Irving financier, insurance man and son of a former Dallas mayor.

5. Blaylock joined the battle of press conferences about that time to deny any enmity toward Beard and disclaim such influence as Beard had said he possessed.

6. School Board President Charles E. Young, a Dallas accountant, said Beard's accounting of cafeteria funds did not follow methods of approved bookkeeping. He made no other specific charges, however.

7. Beard promptly entered suit for $300,000 against members of the school board, the husband of one member, and the Cain Organization for damages growing out of what was alleged to be libel and slander.

8. The school board announced it would quit in a body if the "proper state authorities" did not uphold its dismissal of Beard.

9. Donald O. Sterrett, Irving bus driver, filed a libel suit seeking $50,000 damages from the Reporter Publishing Co., a tabloid weekly newspaper.

No gasoline-no, not a single one-has higher octane than New 1955 GULF NO-NOX but octane alone is not enough... New No-Nox burns clean!

Only a gasoline that burns clean can make its full octane power really work for you. Instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—at the refinery.

and clean-burning No-Nox gives your engine... more complete protection!

Gulf treats new NO-NOX to protect every part it touches against harmful deposits. See for yourself: Compare clean piston "A" from engine using new NO-NOX with piston "B" from engine using the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline that Gulf refines out. Both pistons, at left, from Gulf test engines, ran the same number of hours under the same conditions.

Fill up with new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX and feel the difference, right from the start, in full engine power that lasts. You'll get: More complete engine protection than with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most. Stall-proof smoothness... instant starts... fast, fuel-saving warm-up. No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's high-compression engines.

GULF'S PLEDGE to the motoring public We at Gulf make this promise to America's motorists. We will not permit a single competitor—no, not a single one—to offer a gasoline superior to our own superb No-Nox. It is our sincere belief that No-Nox is the finest gasoline on the market today, and no matter what others do or say we will keep it the finest—in power, in performance, in engine protection. This is not a boast, not a claim. It is a pledge to you, the motoring public—a pledge backed by all the resources—and the integrity—of the Gulf Oil Corporation.

It's super-refined... to burn clean! The '55 gasoline for all high-compression engines

Big Spring Solon In Gas Waste Bill Fight

AUSTIN — Only three West Texans voted against bringing the natural gas "economic waste" bill to the floor of the House in the battle Thursday which saw an 89-52 majority order the bill to be printed and put on the calendar.

Rep. W. G. Kirkin, chairman of the subcommittee which considered the bill and originally reported it unfavorably, helped lead the floor fight against the bill. Voting with Kirkin were Reps. Oble Bristow of Big Spring and Dick Slack of Pecos.

Voting with the majority which brought the bill to the floor were Reps. Allison, Anderson, Armor, Bishop, Brasher, Briscoe, Burkett, Chambers, Cloud, Cobb, Kelly, Latimer, Patterson, Stroman and Thurmond.

The bill flouted with death by strangulation from parliamentary strings. First, the subcommittee headed by Kirkin asked more time to study the bill. Then, by a narrow 19-9 decision, the whole committee voted to send the bill back to the House with a favorable report. Next, a few hours later, the committee discovered it had not voted on one of a series of motions and pulled the bill back. This time Chairman Tom King of Dallas voted and threw the thing into a 10-10 tie.

All that happened Wednesday afternoon and night.

Thursday morning, sponsors of the bill, J. B. Walling of Wichita Falls and Guy Hazlett of Borger, moved to have the bill printed by the House, which would have put it on the calendar. Foes of the bill attempted to have it re-referred to the tax committee for more study. Walling and Hazlett won, 89-52.

Opponents of the bill label it pure price fixing. Friends say it is designed to eliminate "economic waste" of natural gas.

Opponents charge that "economic waste" is not defined well enough and that the bill will result in price increases to consumers.

Army's Enlistment Plan Is Still Open

Young men may still enlist in the Army under the "Operation Gyroscope" plan, according to recruiter Sgt. Aubrey Barr. This plan allows the enlistee to join a division of his choice and remain with it throughout his Army career.

One such division is the 10th Infantry Division which is now stationed at Ft. Riley, Kansas, and scheduled for European service this summer.

Sgt. Barr is available every Monday and Thursday between 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. in the basement of the post office.

US Sits Highest On Totem Pole

MEXICO CITY, — The Pan-American Games swimming and diving program, final major sport events of the 1955 Western Hemisphere little Olympics, wound up today with the United States sitting highest on the international totem pole.

The U. S. aquatic talent added four of six possible gold medal awards to the collection late yesterday, along with two Pan-Am records.

With 15 events held, and five to be run off late this afternoon, the unofficial score in the swimming and diving schedule stood:

United States 188, Mexico 56, Argentina 51, Canada 45 and Brazil 17, to list the nations which entered the biggest teams.

The scoreboard for the games as a whole, including last week's track and field, showed:

United States 1,373 1/2, Argentina 545 1/2, Mexico 388.

The United States came out on top in men's basketball, thanks to a point-scoring system which gave her a plus 26, Argentina a minus 3 and Brazil a minus 25.

Argentina won the men's water polo with the U. S. team second and Brazil third.

The games come to a formal conclusion tomorrow. The feature of the colorful Olympic-fashioned program will be the classic Prix de Nations, or equestrian obstacle race, in University City's enormous stadium.

Catholic School Mass Protest Set In Belgium

BRUSSELS, Belgium — Belgian authorities took emergency steps today to head off a threatened Roman Catholic march on the capital tomorrow to protest the government's proposed slash in subsidies to church schools.

The governor of Brabant province—of which Brussels is the seat—ordered all roads into the capital patrolled to enforce a ban on group movements of buses or trucks into Brussels.

Authorities also forbade use of more than 100 special trains set up to bring demonstrators into the city. Fearing violent clashes would break out, the government moved state police reinforcements into the city.

Catholic organizations served notice they still planned to go through with the demonstration against what they charge is a government move to freeze out the church schools in favor of the state system.

The public protest was launched by a parents' strike yesterday which kept nearly a million Catholic children home from school. Of Belgium's 1,600,000 school children, 900,000 attend church schools.

The government contends it is trying to correct alleged abuses by the previous regime, which had a Catholic majority in the Cabinet. It accused its predecessor of encouraging parochial schools at the expense of state institutions. The present government's general plan is to strengthen state schools.

The government has been granting about 8 1/2 billion francs (170 million dollars) annually to state schools. It gives 4 1/2 billion francs (about 92 million dollars) in subsidies to private schools, mostly Catholic. The planned cut in subsidies to Catholic schools, according to some estimates, amounts to 250 million francs (five million dollars).

Oldest Twins To Visit Counterparts

BRUSSELS, Ill. — The nation's oldest twin brothers — widowers and veteran fliers — are planning an air trip to Kentucky to visit the nation's oldest twin sisters, widows.

Each pair of twins is 92. August and Fred Schulze, both spry and active, are lifelong residents of Calhoun County, a scenic apple orchard district without a mile of railroad track.

They noticed a newspaper story about the 92nd birthday last Jan. 11 of the sisters, Mrs. Mary Cullen of Maysville, Ky., and Mrs. Eva Bowman of Newport, Ky. The story mentioned that the sisters were honored as the nation's oldest twins at a St. Louis meeting five years ago of the International Twins Assn.

The Schulze brothers want to set the sisters straight on this. They say their own 92nd birthday was exactly five months earlier, last Aug. 11.

Motion For New Trial Overruled

Judge Charlie Sullivan overruled a motion for a new trial in 118th District Court Thursday in the case of Cactus Paint Manufacturing Company versus A. A. Walker.

Walker asked for the new trial of the suit on sworn account, on grounds that he was not the proper defendant. The suit originally was filed by Cactus against the St. Angelus Hotel Corp., J. C. Douglas Jr. and Walker, but was dismissed as to the St. Angelus and Douglas.

The suit involved merchandise delivered by the Cactus Paint Manufacturing Company to the Douglas Hotel in Big Spring. Walker was hotel manager, according to the petition.

The judgment, entered Feb. 1, was for $667.55 for the plaintiff.

Demands For Services Increase

Commissioners approved the proposed $14 million dollar budget for the City of Big Spring at the regular meeting Monday after a public hearing on the document.

Although there was generous discussion, no changes were made in the figures which the commission had arrived at in a series of earlier meetings.

While one and a half million dollars sounds like—and is—a lot of money, it figures down to around $60 per every man woman and child per annum for police and fire protection; for supporting health and sanitation activities; contributing to parks, cemetery and airport program; participating in capital improvements like streets, building, water treatment and distribution systems; bolstering safety and traffic control; checking on orderly, safe and sound building, and assorted other services.

This is upward of twice the amount per capita required at the end of the war. Of course, the purchasing power of the dollar has accounted for a substantial part of that spread. One of the chief factors, however, is that citizens of the municipality are demanding more and more services of the corporate government. Everytime one of these services is provided or enlarged, then corresponding costs are incurred. Usually, new and broadened services mean more personnel. These are reflected in requirements for more supporting personnel in departments devoted to control and accounting as well as in supply and maintenance. Thus, it is no wonder that even at $1 1/2 million, City Manager H. W. Whitney has described the budget as one which barely covers the essential needs.

Mystery Of The Leak

In a long and bitter Senate debate on the Yalta papers Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) posed a pretty sticky question for Secretary of State Dulles to answer. He wanted to know "Who is responsible" for giving out a copy of the secret document to the New York Times, which published it March 17.

Humphrey noted that Dulles had said March 14 that the papers would not be made public for the time being because national security was involved. Only a day later, he said, someone gave a copy to the New York Times. (The Times, refusing to comment on the Humphrey charge, had earlier said it had been offered a copy on March 14 if it would agree to publish the material.)

The senator also demanded to know if the confidential stamp had been removed from the paper at the time it was given to the Times. (If not, this could be a serious matter indeed to the hands-out of the document).

In spite of the bitter partisanship displayed during the debate, on both sides, Sen. Bridges (R-NH), a leader in pinning Yalta faults on the Democrats, agreed with Humphrey that there "must have been an unauthorized leak," and added he would be glad to help find out who was responsible.

So the troubles of the Secretary of State, as with all his predecessors, multiply. It will be remembered that one reason given for making the Yalta papers public was that one newspaper was about to publish their contents, so there was no point in further concealment. In view of Sen. Humphrey's charge, that claim gains considerable strength. Well, who "dummit."

Economists Back John Kenneth Galbraith

WASHINGTON — "We'll, no doubt, talk about them. And we'll probably have a good laugh. But I don't know whether we'll go further."

That was the answer of John D. Black, president of the American Economic Association and a professor of economics at Harvard University, to my long-distance question:

"Will the executive committee of the American Economic Association take official notice of the innuendoes uttered against John Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard economist, by Leonard Hall, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Sen. Homer Capehart (R-Ind.)?"

Hall and Capehart left a skein of words suggesting that Galbraith was "soft" toward communism — a suggestion rejected by Black, Simon Kuznets, former president of the AEA and a professor at Johns Hopkins, and Ralph J. Watkins, president of the American Statistical Association and director of research of Dun & Bradstreet, as "absurd."

Galbraith's sin was to appear as a witness at the stock market inquiry of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, chaired by J. William Fulbright (D-Ark). He warned that current optimism bore certain resemblances to 1929. That same day, stock prices fell. Hall then folded on Galbraith gull by quotation.

Early in 1952, Galbraith published "American Capitalism: The Concept of Countervailing Power," a book described by Business Week Magazine as "brilliant and provocative, witty, irreverent, and utterly merciless in the way it deals with much-loved theories of some of Galbraith's fellow economists."

Galbraith's thesis is this: The American economy has changed. We don't have thousands of buyers and sellers. We don't have competition in the classical sense. We have big steel companies selling to big automobile or machinery companies; we have big grocery chains, dicker with big meat packers and canners; we have big labor unions using countervailing power in bargaining with big auto, rubber, steel, and publishing companies. We have farmers in politics fighting for their share of American plenty. Bigness keeps bigness in place.

David McCord Wright, on leave from the University of Virginia to Oxford University, England, on a Fulbright grant, challenged Galbraith's thesis at the annual meeting of the American Economic Association in December, 1953. He argued that we have to rely in the United States on old-fashioned competition to protect producers and consumers. We need enforcement of anti-trust laws.

Countervailing power represents "right wing thought" — inflexible stalemate between giant forces. Business men should not "cut their own throats" by accepting this persuasive theory. To stop competing would invite economic stagnation.

Concluded Wright: "Albeit quite possibly unconsciously, I should judge Dr. Galbraith one of the most effective enemies of both capitalism and democracy."

Hall lighted on that sentence. He said: "This was the kind of 'expert' that was put on the witness stand" by the Fulbright Committee.

Capehart took up where Hall left off. He quoted two passages from a Galbraith pamphlet on the Marshall Plan, written in 1949. Galbraith argued that communism has a strong appeal to some Europeans. Americans must not underestimate the strength of communism as evidence of "softness" toward communism.

Notre Dame University, in Sen. Capehart's own state, didn't see it that way. Galbraith was invited to lecture, and the lecture, under the title, "European Recovery, the Larger View," was published under the Notre Dame imprimatur in 1950.

This is a problem for President Eisenhower. He cannot control Sen. Capehart. But he ought to be able to influence the chairman of the Republican Party.

A distinguished economist publishes a book. A fellow economist criticizes it. The criticism is taken out of context — out of the setting of a learned society discussion. And the name of an honest witness is besmirched.

That's worse than dirty politics. That's dirty ethics.

Reds Have A Try At Jazz

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Communist rulers of Poland have bowed to western-style jazz music, Red newspapers revealed in Vienna today.

"The discrimination against jazz music is over," Warsaw's Zycie Warszawy announced. At the same time, the paper assumed the sponsorship of four jazz concerts in the Polish capital.

But the Communists are not admitting their change of heart in good grace.

"Jazz music is not simply Negro music with wild rhythms," one Red newspaper wrote, "but rather it is the music of American Negroes, who are people threatened with mass murder and longing for freedom."

"Jazz must therefore be considered something like a social bill of indictment against the American rulers," the paper said.

Other papers gave what apparently is the real reason for the permission for jazz. "Our youths are not content with only political songs or music depicting the progress of the working class, they also want music which amuses them," one paper said.

Hanging Question

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Republican Majority leader Norman K. Parsells implied no threat to Abraham A. Ribicoff, Democratic chief executive, when he said on the floor of Connecticut's House of Representatives. "We always hang our governors." Parsells was speaking in favor of a resolution authorizing the painting of an official portrait of Ribicoff.

'Political Novice' Ike Is Master Diplomat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower, who used to be described as a political novice, is a master at not making people mad. He came through a ticklish question this week in typically good condition.

Wood he meet with the heads of the British, French and Russian governments to talk peace? He didn't quite say yes. He didn't quite say no. He left the whole idea of such a meeting a shadowy something in the future.

Yet, because of the way he said it, both Sen. George (D-Ga) and Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) could take comfort from it. But, before he gave his reply, at a news conference, there seemed a good chance he'd make one of them hopping sore.

For a President, Eisenhower has been amazingly free of personal attacks and mudslinging. He's given a few people an opportunity to get publicly angry at him. He has consistently avoided saying anything publicly to hurt people's feelings or ideas.

Eisenhower said long ago he would not meet with the Russians until they showed evidence of good intentions. Last Sunday George suggested Eisenhower meet with them, without the good intention requirement. Knowland opposed George's proposal.

He insisted the Russians must show honest purpose before Eisenhower sits down with them. Knowland, as Republican leader in the Senate, is Eisenhower's chief lieutenant in that House.

Knowland has frequently disagreed with Eisenhower and often must have tried his patience sorely. But Eisenhower has carefully avoided any quarrel. He needs Knowland. At the same time he has good reasons not to antagonize George, who is chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and the Democrats' chief Senate spokesman on foreign policy.

How could Eisenhower reconcile their opposite views?

He said there were various ways the Russians could show good intentions. And he said he'd willingly take part in a Big Four meeting if—it was a mighty big if.

First there would have to be exploratory conferences by others. He didn't explain exactly what he meant. But even if the exploratory conferences succeeded, it didn't mean he'd attend a Big Four meeting. That depended . . . There was enough generality in this statement for George and Knowland to interpret it as they wished. What they saw in it did not appear to dissatisfy them.

Engineers: Aristocrats Of The Campus

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaves from an oddity almanac:

Remember way back when college boys' biggest worry was where he could find a job? That is no problem with student engineers today. They are now aristocrats of the campus. Example: The Stevens Institute of Technology in Hoboken, N.J., expects to turn out 128 graduates this June, and already more than 170 industrial firms are sending talent scouts to bid for their services. Tip to parents: Why not give your little boy a slide rule instead of a sled next Christmas?

Success comes in strange ways, note: Denise Lor, vocalist on the Garey Moore CBS-TV program, got into the big money by disregarding the advice of both her mother and her doctor. Against the wishes of her mother, a film costume designer, she went into show business.

While singing semiclassical numbers in an ice show she caught a heavy cold and developed nodules on her vocal chords. A doctor advised her to take a vacation, rest her throat. Instead she kept singing, but in a lower register. Her new voice turned out to be just right for the new deep-throated "pop" tunes. Now, nodules notwithstanding, she earns about $125,000 a year.

Male ego dept: At least we have found something men do better than women: They eat a better breakfast. Only 23 per cent of white collar working girls under 25—and only 29 per cent over 25—regularly eat a well-balanced breakfast, according to a life insurance company survey. Is this why business women often seem short tempered? The same survey stated that 44 per cent of the men started the day right with a good meal.

Feminine ego dept: Women long have held they are safer drivers than men, and highway statistics often bear them out. One reason may be that they obey traffic lights better because they can distinguish the lights better. Optometrists report that eight per cent of all men suffer from red-green color blindness, but only one per cent of women have this vision defect.

Ever dream of finding a valuable pearl in a restaurant oyster? Well, keep right on dreaming. You have one chance in 5,000 of picking up a pearl that way, but even if you did the chances are it wouldn't have any real value except as a souvenir.

To Lose Weight—Quit Eating

Today's the day we talk about the diet. And the subject is a diet for all you two-ton Tonys, not the Big Berthas.

I'm a little hesitant to discuss it in print, but because I can't think of a more likely subject, I'm going to use me as a before-and-after example.

Before I weighed 210 pounds. Afterwards I leveled out at a cool 165. The time was about five months.

My "reduction" resulted from no secret formulas, pills, medicines, or other specialties of the house. I simply did what the doctor said.

I pushed myself away from the table—three times daily.

Just for the record, I want to testify that loss of excess baggage makes for more vim, vigor and zip. I feel a hundred per cent better for every one of those 45 pounds which went down the drain.

My testimonial is for the docs, too. They know what they are doing and can tell you how to do it. Following their advice is the tough part.

Probably the first thing the doctor will do to shed a few pounds off you is make you a calorie counter. That was the procedure in my case.

"Twelve hundred calories a day is all you can have," he said. "Four hundred in the morning, four hundred at noon, and four hundred at night."

Considering that I must have been shoveling in 12,000 that seemed like quite a dip to me. But I dutifully obeyed.

The doctor knew that wasn't going to be any cinch. He ordered me a bottle of pills and gave instructions to take one after every meal. They were supposed to keep me from getting nervous or hungry—or something like that.

To make a long story short, I had no trouble. When the pills played out, I continued anyway. The pounds flitted away right and left, and I shrank down to a little old thing.

Oh yes, in addition to counting the calories, I had to watch the type of foods scheduled for daily intake. Cuts came on such things as potatoes, gravies, sweets, etc.

As the man said, "All that meat and no potatoes."

The only trouble about this whole thing is that it requires a complete new wardrobe. My sixteen inch neck is now fifteen, and my 38 inch trousers are now 32.

I have chumped off and purchased some new clothes. But I still have the others around—just in case.

Reports On France As A Tourist Departs

PARIS—And now, as I bid a fond farewell to Paris and pack my bags for the homeward journey, I am having a terrible time forcing myself to part with menus, calling cards and backs of envelopes on which I have scrawled odd items, as "It doesn't pay to be dishonest in France any more" and "American Express going mad!"

The first notion, endorsing the old saw that honesty is the best policy, was designed to launch in inspirational column on the evils of trying to buy French francs with American dollars on the black market.

The American who gets thoroughly hooked in any such deals, as he so often does, deserves what he gets. And, in the second place, it just ain't worth the effort with the franc holding steady at 350 per dollar at the legal rate of exchange and the shysters bidding only 10 francs more.

The note about the American Express Company was jotted down when Max Elliot, head of the Paris office, told me that he plans to add yet another daring tour to the many tours of Paris now available.

Tossing caution to the winds with the advent of the 1955 tourist season, the company will offer a tour of the Flea Market, that vast open-air bazaar on the edge of Paris that exercises a hypnotic fascination on any womanly woman.

Male optimist that he is, Mr. Elliot is limiting the tour to one hour. I have placed a small side bet with him that once he has loosed the girls in this vast area of secondhand junk salted with antiques, he'll never be able to round 'em up again without a gun.

The back of another envelop carries a stark warning: "Seventh Avenue beware!" This was intended to alert Seventh Avenue, heart of New York's tremendous garment industry, to the fact that the French for the first time are producing really good ready-to-wear clothes for women, and at reasonable prices.

The business is still small. But one of the wisest and most widely respected Americans in France, Dora Miller Updegraff, chevalier of the Legion of Honor, believes it has a big export future. Dora, who has lived in Paris since 1925 with the exception of the war years, has spent this interim interpreting American industry to France and vice versa.

Dora bases her belief on the export future of French ready-to-wear in the American woman's yen for a dress actually made in Paris rather than one copied from a dress made in France.

Another American woman, June Taylor, who was formerly with the great couture houses of Moyniaux and Pierre Balmain, has just been hired by the biggest department store in Paris, Au Printemps, to exploit French buttons and bows, including ready-to-wear, to American women.

You can sell any woman anything made in France, for that matter. Au Printemps employs linguists who speak all languages, including Iranian, to aid shopping tourists.

I find another cryptic note: "Snails aren't un-American." Apparently, I was going to attempt to sell that French delicacy to the American palate. But I haven't time to do that and still catch my plane. Au revoir.

Film Festival In Hollywood?

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of Hollywood's most noted citizens, William Holden, today suggested an international film festival in Hollywood.

For years members of the film industry have sounded the need for film celebrations like those held in foreign countries. Holden, the incumbent Oscar winner, agrees.

"We send representatives to Uruguay, Venice, Cannes and other film festivals all over the world," he remarked on the set of "A Man Called Horse." "The logical thing would be to have an international festival here, at the center of the film industry."

"And I mean to really make it international. Not just invite the Western countries. We should be big enough to invite the countries behind the Iron Curtain, too. I think our films can certainly compete with theirs."

"I think such a festival would not only do good for our industry, but for the country as well. It is something the State Department could help to promote."

Holden admitted that the festival would cost a lot of money. But he feels that the resulting good will would be worth it. He cited the advantage of Hollywood's press corps, which he said is the second biggest group of correspondents in the United States first; Washington.

The lean, handsome actor is one of Hollywood's most internationally minded stars. During the past year, he had traveled 165,000 miles to all parts of the world.

to help spread good feeling toward Hollywood.

"You don't realize the tremendous interest in our pictures until you get out and see it," he said.

"Movies are more or less 'the silent ambassador' to other countries. That's why trips like the one Jimmy Stewart just took to Asia are so important to good relations with other countries."

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An optometrist believes modern children are handicapped in learning because they don't get the opportunity to "do things around the house and outside. There isn't a single top-flight mathematician in this country who is city-born and bred," says Dr. A. M. Skeffington of St. Louis. "You need a proper concept of time and space to be a top mathematician."

Skeffington told Arkansas optometrists that too much emphasis has been placed on 20-20 vision, adding: "A chimpanzee with 20-20 vision isn't the equal of a man."

How To Sleep When You're All Keyed Up

The best cure for nervousness, doctors advise, is plenty of sleep and relaxation. A wise prescription, you'll agree. But how do you GET to sleep when you're keyed up emotionally?

Tossing and turning, mulling over your personal problems and often those of the entire world, you lie awake for what seems like hours. Finally you drop off through almost sheer exhaustion. In the morning, you awaken, tired, irritable, and — yes — as nervous as before, if not more so.

Except for sleeping pills and other sedatives (which should be taken only in extreme cases under your physician's direction), there's no sure-fire ticket to dreamland. However, there is a "travel plan." First, start the water for a nice, tepid bath — not hot, but just warm enough to be soothing and comfortable. While the water is splashing into the tub, go into your bedroom and make a thorough check.

See that the bed linens are fresh and clean and that the bed is tightly made with the corners tucked in snugly. A clean, smooth, comfortable bed feels ever so relaxing after a warm bath. Remember, though, that the condition of your mattress, bedspring, and pillow is important, too. If they are worn (lumpy, droopy, or sagging), they should be replaced at the first opportunity or you'll never get a really good night's rest.

If your stomach has a hollow feeling, have a light snack. But keep it light! Warm milk or tea with a small sandwich or some cookies is preferable. Digestive processes draw the blood into your internal organs and away from your overworked brain.

By now your bath should be ready. Ease yourself into the tub, lean back, and soak leisurely. Observe how the mild temperature eases your tense muscles and frayed nerves. Blot yourself dry and crawl into bed. Make your mind as nearly blank as possible and you'll be surprised how quickly you fall asleep.

Want To Make Game Pie? Old Cook Book Will Help

By BRUCE HENDERSON
The Associated Press

There's nothing like an old-fashioned cook book to convince modern man he's living too late. Have some game pie for dinner? Or oyster pancakes?

How about roast haunch of venison topped off with pork cake or butterfly pie? Such a tantalizer is "Woman's Favorite Cook Book," copyright 1902. It's the possession of Mrs. Ruth White, teletype operator in The Associated Press Dallas Bureau. An aunt who lived as a girl in Oklahoma when it was Indian Territory handed it down to her.

The book is "By Annie Gregory, assisted by one thousand homekeepers" and tells you how to make everything from mulligatawny soup to macaroons of nuts. It starts off with an epigram from a gourmet who will dispute: "There is no higher art than that which tends toward the improvement of human food. H. W. Beecher." Here's the recipe for game pie:

Take two dozen woodcock, quail, snipe or other small birds. Split each one in half and put them into a saucepan containing about a gallon of cold water, although beef broth or soup stock would be preferable. When the boiling point has been reached, carefully skim and season with a little pepper and salt with mace, ground cloves and one bay leaf, adding half a pound of salt pork cut into squares, two small carrots and one onion. Boil until tender. . . .

Growth Expected In Scout Membership

Prospects for membership growth in Scouting of the Lone Star District are bright, reports at the regular monthly meeting of the district committee revealed Thursday.

Today there are 440 Cubs, 355 Scouts and 159 Explorers registered in the district, a total of 954. Units in the process of organizing may push that total upward by 100 to 200 within the next month.

Sam Sonntag, district organization and extension chairman, told the committee that Explorer posts had been organized at Forsan and in the Lakeview school, and that a troop had been chartered for Garden City with the Baptist Church as sponsor.

Organizational meetings have been scheduled for the First Presbyterian Church, the West Side Baptist Church, the Airport School, and the Salvation Army, Allen Orr, district commissioner, said that troop No. 2 of the First Methodist Church is due to be reorganized and that an Explorer unit may eventually be set up. Prospects were described as good for units at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Knott School and one for the North Side with the Optimist Club as sponsor. Midway, Gay Hill and Elbow schools are in process of organizing.

Potential of the district is 1,247 Cubs, 1,005 Scouts, and 901 Explorers. Currently Cub membership is 36 per cent of the potential, Scouts 35 and Explorers only 16 per cent.

Emphasis on membership, Bill McRee, Scout executive declared, is to answer the letter Sammy Buchanan of Route No. 2 wrote to Boy Scouts of America at 2 Park Avenue in New York. "Please send me some information on Boy Scouts," he wrote, "send me some of your books."

New members of the committee who were introduced at the meeting were Oliver Cofer Jr. and Tuiett Johnson. Cofer is to be advancement chairman and Johnson health and safety chairman. Plans are shaping for the annual Round Up April 29-30 at the Round Up grounds south of the City Park area. Charles Weeg district chairman, reported. More than 1,000 boys and leaders are anticipated. Weeg stressed the need of representation at the region IX meeting in San Antonio April 14-15.

Here's The SOLUTION To CASHWORD PUZZLE NO. 7

25. Put is preferred since strictly speaking you do not Pot flowers. You Pot plants.

27. Border is the better word. Many a tablecloth has no design at all so how could it have a Bolder one? A Bolder design may make it sell better.

CLUES DOWN:

1. Oil is preferred. The clue says "might not". They definitely "would not" if they got Nil. There is no "might not" about it. They might or might not feel happy according to the volume of oil they finally got.

5. Don, a Spanish title or form of address, precedes the actual name. Von is itself part of the name (e.g. Paul Von Hindenburg).

8. Dam is best. Since the clue refers to a horseman, the word Dam, being the mother of a horse, is a logical answer. Furthermore, the clue says "might". He surely would have recollections of some great Day. Every man has; there is no "might" about it. However, he "might" recollect a great Dam.

10. Good is preferred because it would include Gold and thus is the more comprehensive answer. A good Jeweller should know all kinds, of course.

14. Certainly he must be quite careful when he Taps a barrel of beer. He only needs to be quite careful when he Tips it if it is tapped. Otherwise no extra care is necessary.

22. Fees is more apt as big Fees charged you by someone might well worry you. People with big Feet have had them practically all their lives and of course become mentally conditioned to the fact.

23. The sound of an S O S would definitely distress you as it indicates great trouble. A 5ob need not distress you for it could well be when a person is crying with relief, or joy, or some other emotion.

EXPLANATION OF MORE DIFFICULT CLUES

CLUES ACROSS:

6. Said is preferred. If he were to Say too much, that would be his own indiscretion, so he may well feel a little annoyed "with himself". Having Paid too much, he would just as likely be annoyed with the person who charged him too much—that is, even assuming he found out.

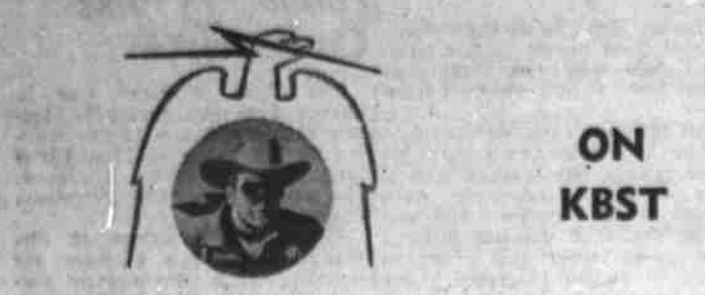

11. Played is better because a shot might be well Placed by accident.

13. Hem is more apt since the clue says "some care". The cutting of a Gem is a precise operation calling for Great care and not merely "some" care. "Some care" might well apply to a Hem.

14. Wasted is more apt since the clue says "there are always times". Opportunities are always Wanted—not merely at "times". There are, of course, times when they occur—and are Wasted.

18. Pry is preferred. Women who are always Crying are either very deeply wronged, or in need of psychiatric treatment, so to dismiss them as "a nuisance" would be, to say the least, extremely heartless. Pry is more apt.

Legendary Rhee Hits 80 Mark, Still Unsatisfied

By ROBERT EUNSON and MURRAY FROMSON
 SEOUL (AP)—You would think that an 80-year-old man who was head of his country's government on that particular birthday would consider his life a great success.

Not President Syngman Rhee of the Republic of Korea. Rhee, who will be 80 tomorrow, feels he has realized only partial success because North Korea still is occupied by the Communists.

"I hope and pray that we may liberate our people in North Korea before it is too late and they are all indoctrinated by the Communists," Rhee told us in an interview.

The white-haired President received in his study at Kyung Mu Dal, Korea's White House. He seemed completely recovered from a recent prostate gland operation and was in excellent spirits. He looked better physically than in years.

The peppery old President expressed these views:

1. Britain is not anti-Communist. It has changed. "I do not want to be compared to such a great man as Prime Minister Churchill, who is also 80. Churchill may have been a Communist fighter once, but he is different now. I don't understand him any more."
2. The United States "should turn loose Chiang Kai-shek (of Nationalist China) and Syngman Rhee. The sooner the better. I hope Secretary Dulles is considering this."
3. Japan should "make up her mind which side of the street she is going to walk down. We can never make friends with the Japanese so long as they are trying to be friendly with the Communists."

Rhee probably will go down in history as one of the most controversial figures of his time in Asia. Surely he has been stubborn, unpredictable and adamant.

He is one of the most loyal friends the United States ever had. The only thing he ever threatened to do was start the Korean War up again all by himself if the Far East Command would just give him enough gasoline and bullets.

Rhee's pet peeve with Britain is that the British recognize Communist China.

Then there is Japan, which once held Korea.

Rhee's gunboats seized Japanese fishermen who crossed the disputed Rhee line, in some places 60 miles from the coast of Korea. All efforts to get the two old neighbors' differences settled have failed.

Rhee was absent from Korea so long, fighting against Japanese control of his country, that he had the experience of becoming a legend in his lifetime in his own land.

In 1897 he was jailed for heading an independence movement. He broke out and was recaptured. In the next 6 1/2 years he was confined and tortured to the point of death.

He left Korea in 1904 when he got out of prison to seek aid and recognition for his country. The next 41 years he returned to Korea only once.

He came back for 17 months after his graduation from Princeton University in 1910. By then Korea had been annexed by Japan after years of rule by a king whom Rhee had considered a puppet.

The next time he appeared in

Senators To Decide Peress Probe Future

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigations subcommittee meets behind closed doors today to consider whether to pursue its studies of the Irving Peress case.

Pending that decision, it ended yesterday its public hearings into why the New York dentist was advanced from captain to major and got an honorable discharge after the Army had recorded him as a security risk.

Chairman McClellan (D - Ark) said he thought there would be "in all probability one more public session."

Most members, however, said they were convinced that Army red tape, errors and "bungling" are the answers, and not some Communist "mastermind" in the Pentagon as Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) has alleged.

French Socialists Endorse Reich Arms

PARIS (AP)—France's powerful Socialist party gave a new endorsement to German rearmament today in the Senate debate on the Paris treaties.

As the ratification debate went into its final day, Socialist Sen. Henri Barre told the upper-house Council of the Republic he would vote for the accords to put West German troops into the Western defense force "without any ifs, buts or hows."

Chief Geologist

HOUSTON (AP)—Hugh Beach will become chief geologist of the Texas Co. producing department April 1. He succeeds G. M. Clement, transferred to the research division here.

SYNGMAN RHEE

Seoul was in 1945, after United States troops had arrived to occupy the country.

In his old age, having built a distrust for fellow rebels when he was young, Rhee never has surrounded himself with strong men.

The United States wishes that Rhee would select an heir apparent but stubbornly he has refused.

The freedom of Korea is his credo. He believes:

"If you find within yourself any single thought of abandoning the welfare of your country, tear it out. Do not wait for others to lead or to do what must be done."

Hard Blizzard Lashes Rocky Mountain Area

DENVER (AP)—The worst spring blizzard in three years lashed three Rocky Mountain states with snow and subzero cold today. One death was reported.

Schools were closed in parts of Montana and Wyoming. Elsewhere temperatures dipped to all-time lows for the month.

Snow and triphammer winds cut off electric power at Evanston, a southern Wyoming town of 3,863. Auxiliary plants were providing power to the town's two hospitals. A resident termed the inconvenience "discomforting" but "not critical."

Colorado had winds up to 50 miles an hour. Carl Gustave Koch, 38, of Windsor, Colo., died in a two-car accident caused by slick highways.

Even as the storm moved southward, leaving Montana skies clear for the first time in three days, the Weather Bureau reported another would hit that state late today, again bringing blizzard conditions.

Montana temperatures dipped to -26 at Helena and -15 at Great Falls early today. Both are all-time lows for the date.

Snow depth was spotty. The top mark was 9 inches at Cody, Wyo. By midnight 6 inches were on the ground at Denver, where the storm struck in early evening, snarling traffic and causing scores of minor accidents.

Texas Spending Less Than 26 Other States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Texas collects less per capita to run its state government than the average in 26 states surveyed by the Commerce Department. It spends less, too.

The figures showed over-all revenue per capita in Texas in 1954 was $67.60. The average for the 26 states was $97.53. New Mexico led with $175.46. Kentucky trailed with $69.45.

Texas' expenditures were $80.45 per capita last year. The average in the 26 states was $97.62. Washington was high with $164.74. Illinois low with $72.13.

Texas' revenues from taxes were but $56.68 per capita, compared with an average of $69.02. Washington topped the list with $110.53. Kentucky was last with $46.59.

Many states have one or more of three important sources of revenue not used in Texas—income and sales taxes and state-owned liquor stores.

It was like a Texas-Mexican border fiesta the other day in the new House Office Building.

The focal point was the office of Rep. J. T. Rutherford of Odessa, whose district takes in Midland, Odessa and a lot of Rio Grande border country. He was staging a late afternoon get-together for Texas congressmen and their employees.

He mailed out invitations trimmed with a bright tiny Mexican sarape which can be used as a bookmark. It was written first in Spanish, followed by a "gringo translation" which said refreshments would include "vitties a la Mexicana: chili con queso, Frijoles, guacamole, tostadas and souvenira." The guests carried away lapel-sized Mexican straw hats.

A new member of the staff of Rep. Olin Teague of the Corsicana-Bryan district is Miss Julie Bourg, formerly of Odessa.

She graduated from North Texas State in Denton last year and taught at a junior high school in a suburb of Washington. Her contact with Teague's office came through a classmate at Denton, Miss Jane McBrierty of Ennis. Miss McBrierty has been on the congressman's staff since her graduation.

Responsibility Added To 3 R's For Distributive Education Club

A group of Big Spring High School students who work while they learn were urged Thursday evening to accept a fourth "R"—Responsibility—in their educational process.

Dulles Yalta Quiz Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) today opposed a move by several Democratic senators to question Secretary of State Dulles about the leak of the Yalta papers before their official release.

"I don't think it would be productive of any good," he said. "I would hope that the matter would be considered as the kind of thing better not uncovered. I think it would be better to leave the matter undisturbed even if it is muddled."

But Sen. Symington (D-Mo) said Dulles should "personally explain the background of this inconceivable leak and he should do it in person before a congressional committee," preferably the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee.

Burns To Death

CONVERSE, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Laura Rieley, 48, burned to death in her farm home near San Antonio last night.

The occasion was the annual employer-employee banquet of the school's Distributive Education Club, and the speaker was Dist. Atty. Guilford Jones.

Twenty-three juniors and seniors make up the DE group, under direction of Mrs. Mary Sears Herring. They follow a schedule of classes in the mornings, and take on-the-job training in the afternoons, specializing in fields of merchandise sales and services. Annually, the students fete their "bosses" who help give them their training.

Jones recalled the traditional "readin', ritin', and rithmetick" of old school days, and stressed that the R of responsibility also was an essential for success. He called upon the young students to face their tasks with confidence and to rise above temporary setbacks; to set a goal high enough to be worthy of the attempt; and to realize that the American way of free enterprise is the "best in the world." Such a program of training as the DE course, he said, is the answer to anti-American philosophies, it is the answer to the faint-hearted, to the pessimists, and to those who scorn success.

Don Gregory served as master of ceremonies for the host club, and Al Harkrider repeated the DE credo. Guests were welcomed by Virginia Carpenter and the response was by Sam Burns. Kenneth Hammack gave the invocation, and a vocal number was presented by Mary Walker, accompanied by Sharon McFee.

The meeting was in the High School cafeteria, decorated to follow an Easter motif. Large Easter baskets centered the tables, while traditional colored eggs and bunnies added color along table runners of imitation spring grass. Place cards were colored Easter eggs in miniature baskets.

Kennedy Hurls As Steers Vanquish Snyder, 9 To 4

Murphee's Hit Is Big Blow

The Big Spring Steers played 'catch-up' for four innings and then stormed to a 9-4 exhibition victory over the Snyder Tigers here Thursday afternoon.

The triumph evened the Big Springers' season record at 4-4. Against Snyder, they now have won two of five games.

Snyder got off to a fast start, scoring runs in the first and second innings, but T. L. Kennedy, who went all the way on the mound for Big Spring, shut the door in the visitors' face after that.

The Steers got only six hits off Milton Ham, who tolled on the mound for Snyder, but six bases on balls, coupled with some errors and mental lapses cost Ham dearly.

The Steers' big inning was the sixth, when they sent 11 men to the plate and plated seven tallies. They did it with the aid of only three hits but one of those was a two-on triple by Ralph Murphee. The runs put Big Spring ahead to stay.

The Steers had tied the score in the third when Frosty Robinson hit a pinch-hit double against the boards to score Tommy McAdams and Don Reynolds, who had walked.

Kennedy paced himself well. Snyder put together doubles by Don McNew and Alan Sneed with a Steer misplay to pick up two more runs in the seventh but by then it was too late.

The Steers return to action here Tuesday, at which time they tangle with Midland in the last of their exhibition games.

Jayhawk Diamond Corps In Debut Here Saturday

Harold Davis sends his Howard County Junior College Jayhawks into baseball action for the first time here at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The local collegians play hosts to the Odessa JC Wranglers in a nine-inning exhibition game.

HCJC will repay the visit on Wednesday.

The game tomorrow should provide a good test of which club will offer the chief competition for West Zone honors and a chance to compete for the state championships.

HCJC has been handicapped by a lack of workouts, due mainly to the weather, but the Wranglers have been similarly retarded.

In a meeting earlier this week, Phil Gore of Clovis, N. M., was named captain of the team by his mates, Charles Rose of Big Spring was selected as co-captain.

Gore lettered for two years at Clovis and was captain of his team the final season. Rose was a three-year letterman here.

HOUSTON (AP)—Rice will open its new track Saturday against Texas A&M in a dual track meet. The track was built this winter at the site of the old one.

Steers Leave For Odessa

Coach Harold Bentley and 27 members of the Big Spring High School track and field team were to leave at 10 a.m. today for Odessa, where they are entered in the West Texas Relays.

Preliminaries in the Big two-day show, which is attracting several university and college teams as well as 43 high schools, were to start at 1:30 p.m.

Milton Davis, half-miler, will be held out of action due to a hitch that has developed in his side. The injury forced him out of a race in Midland last week.

Those who will make the trip and in the events in which they will compete include:

Bryant Bullock, pole vault; Benjie Compton, relays; Richard Engle, relays; Ben Faulkner, pole vault; Bobby Fuller, mile; Guinette Gibbs, mile relay; McCoy Gillan, shot put; Bunky Grimes, discus; Kenneth Harmon, low hurdles and broad jump; Merle Dean Harter, relays; and Roy Hughes, high jump.

Bob Baker Fights Mederos Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—With a title shot at heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano looming on the horizon, Bob Baker, the 28-year-old Pitts-burgher, battles Julio Mederos, of Havana, in a 10-round bout in Madison Square Garden tonight.

Baker rules a solid 7-2 choice over Mederos, who popped into the limelight three weeks ago when he sent Roland La Starza down for the count in Miami. Even Marciano couldn't do that, so the flistic fraternity figured Mederos must have a good punch.

Originally, Baker was to take on Harold Johnson. But Johnson caught a cold, so the International Boxing Club picked Mederos, who has done most of his fighting around Miami.

Baker, No. 3 on the heavyweight list, has won eight in a row since being knocked out by Archie Moore the light heavyweight champion, a year ago.

NBC will broadcast and telecast at 10 p.m., EST.

Rice Decided

HOUSTON (AP)—Jerry Kindall's three-run homer and a bases-loaded triple by Gene Martin paced Minnesota to a 7-2 baseball triumph yesterday over Rice's Owls. The Owls open the South-west Conference season here today against Texas A&M.

IT'S NATIONAL BASEBALL WEEK!

Simmons' Wing Trouble Adds To Phil Woes

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

It was back on Oct. 14 last year that the Philadelphia Phillies picked a guy named Smith out of baseball obscurity and made him manager. They guaranteed him a living wage and the services of Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons.

Now it's just a scant few weeks before the opening of the 1955 season and Manager Mayo Smith looks as if he may have grounds for a breach of contract suit. He has money in his pockets and Roberts—but no Simmons as yet.

The southpaw is in camp, all right, but his left arm has been hanging on a hook. Which wasn't what Smith had in mind last fall when he commented, "Pitching is the biggest strength."

Roberts looks as robust as ever, and the rippling right-hander figures to be a 20-game winner for a sixth consecutive season. But Simmons, his running mate when Philadelphia was the 1950 National League champ, has been bothered by arm trouble since the start of spring training.

Simmons talked encouragingly yesterday, however, as most of the Florida clubs sat out the rain. He had pitched some the day before and, despite continued pain, was optimistic.

"I was firing pretty good," he said, "and it only bothered me a little. I think my arm will be better when I get out under the sunshine."

Eight Florida exhibition games were rained out yesterday and only the Baltimore Orioles and Kansas City Athletics managed to get some licks in. The Orioles won 4-2 as rain ended it at five innings.

The only other action was in Arizona. The Chicago Cubs won their sixth straight, defeating Cleveland 6-2, and the New York Giants disposed of an accumulation of Pacific Coast League stars 10-2.

Baltimore scored four runs in the first, leading the bases on an error and two walks. The runs came in on a second error and singles by Willie Miranda and Gus Tiranodon.

The Cubs let veteran Bob Rush go seven innings and finished with Warren Hacker to set down the Tribe on four hits. Hal Rice smacked a pair of homers and rookie Bob Speake lofted one, all off Mike Garcia.

HANSON'S SEWS UP TOP SPOT IN BOWLING LOOP

Lee Hanson keglers captured first place in final standings Monday night in the Men's Classic Bowling League by downing Pearl Beer, 2-1.

Frank Sabbato Insurance was defeated, 2-1, by Conoco and remained in second place. The win enabled Conoco to tie for third place with Cosden, who was losing, 2-1, to the Men's Store. Big Spring Herald turned back Westex Oil, 3-0, for seventh place.

E. B. Dosier Jr. turned in the high single and series score of the evening with a 218-568. A. A. Marchant was close behind with a 212-557.

Other high scores were W. Cunningham 203-544, Plerson Morgan 553, Miles Woods 551, John Gregory 522, Thomas 517, and W. Miller 510. Ray McMahan posted a high single game of 215.

With the end of regular play, all bowlers are being urged to participate in the City Association tournament March 26, 27, 28 and April 2 and 3.

Americans Win Cage Crown

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The United States held both trophies of Pan-American basketball today, the men's team taking the championship on points in a triple tie and the women capturing their title with an unbeaten sweep.

Argentina, the only team to lick the United States, actually handed the championship to America last night by defeating Cuba 66-50 in the last men's game of the tournament. Argentina wound up in a tie with the United States and Brazil for first place but the U. S. team got the championship with its point spread.

Had Cuba upset Argentina, the United States would have had to meet Brazil in a one-game playoff for the title.

The United States defeated Brazil 78-49. Argentina beat the United States 54-53 and Brazil downed Argentina 61-57. Thus the United States had a point margin of 28, while Argentina had a minus 3 and Brazil a minus 25.

The U.S. women's team had only two close games, beating Brazil 51-45 in the opening contest and defeating Mexico 53-49 in the second.

The High School Spanish Club, in the midst of a sale of opening night tickets for the Big Spring Cosden Cops, are setting up a booth in front of the Jewellers Saturday to try and contact as many people as possible.

Maxwell Two Strokes Back At Miami Beach

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The hard-punching youngsters of the golf trail, paced by Australia's 25-year-old Peter Thomson, were in full command today as the $12,500 Miami Beach Open Tournament moved into the second 18-hole round.

BIG SPRING COPS

Formal Workouts Under Way Today

Formal baseball workouts of the Big Spring Cosden Cops were due to get under way at Steer Park at 10 a.m. today.

Pitchers and catchers are due to suit out today. Infielders and outfielders are not due to check in until Monday.

Manager Pepper Martin is expecting a dozen hurlers to try for places on the team. He plans to carry half that number.

John Telenik, a hurler from Lorain, Ohio, checked in Thursday.

and additional arrivals are expected today.

Huck Doe will do most of the catching for the club until relief comes in from Austin. Martin did not know the name of the backstop being sent here by the Big State League club but he is due in today or Saturday.

The Cops will work daily from about 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. when the weather permits. They are scheduled to play their first exhibition game a week from Sunday, at which time they tangle with Hobbs here.

Martin announced today he would advance the starting time of regular season home games of the Cops from 8:15 to 8 o'clock, until June 1.

The move is designed to get fans home at an earlier hour.

After June 1, it generally is too light at 8 o'clock to see the ball.

"We intend to speed up our games as much as possible," Martin stated.

Yearling Sextets Win Two Games

Big Spring Junior High sextets registered wins in two of three girls' volleyball games played against Forsan teams here.

The Ninth Grade Yearlings lost to Forsan High School, 29-24. Forsan led at half time, 16-6.

Jean Peters played outstanding ball for the Yearlings.

The Big Spring Ninth Grade B team defeated the Forsan B sextet, 35-23. Forsan came on after scoring only five points in the first half.

The Big Spring Eighth Graders prevailed, 38-30, in a game with the Forsan Eighth Graders. The half time tally was 17-18. Big Spring.

Behrens Named Coahoma Coach

COAHOMA, (SC)—D. W. (Dub) Behrens, a native of Mason, has been hired as head coach at Coahoma High School, effective at the conclusion of the present school year.

Behrens will come here from Santa Anna, where he has been coach the past three seasons. Prior to that, he had coaching tenures at Crosbyton and Llano. He has had nine years coaching experience.

At Llano, he developed a district grid champion and his teams have finished as the district runner-up on four different occasions.

Last season, his Santa Anna basketball team was the runner-up to Llano in the district.

Behrens will coach all sports here and will be free to name his own assistant.

Mr. and Mrs. Behrens and their three children are due to move here sometime this summer.

Behrens succeeds Charles (Putt) Brandon as head coach. Brandon resigned after being re-appointed to become backfield coach and baseball mentor at El Paso High School.

Loeffler Is Named Coach At A&M

NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Loeffler, who in six years at LaSalle compiled an enviable 144-28 basketball coaching record, is heading for Texas A&M with hopes of giving a lift to the Southwest Conference school.

Loeffler, here to coach the East team in tomorrow night's East-West game, made the surprise announcement last night.

Cards To Lean Heavily On Hill Staff: Stanky

By JACK HAND

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — In the words of Manager Eddie Stanky, his St. Louis Cardinals "will go as far as our pitching can carry us."

The pitching didn't carry Eddie very far last summer when the club staggered to a sixth-place finish, 25 games behind the leaders after being considered a pennant contender.

With Vic Raschi unable to work in regular turn and Gerry Staley flopping, Stanky had to resort to the questionable tactics of using Harvey Haddix and Brooks Lawrence as both starters and relief.

"We're going with a young pitching staff," said Stanky at Al Reid Field.

"For my nucleus I have Haddix, Lawrence, Gordon Jones and Tom Poholsky," he said. "Of the new boys, Luis Arroyo, Floyd Woodridge and Larry Jackson have looked good. I hope to get some relief help for Frank Smith from Barney Schultz and Bobby Tiefenauer, plus Paul LaPalme. Tony Jacobs, another relief man, has done some good work. Joe Presko is a possibility but he has to show me this year."

The deal with Cincinnati by which the Cards acquired Smith, (5-8), for Staley and Ray Jablonski left the front office and Stanky wide open for second guessing. If Staley wins at Cincy and Jabbo drives in 100 runs, Smith will have to do a Hoyt Wilhelm-Mary Grisom job on relief to balance the scales.

Pete Newell, the basketball coach at the University of California, may have something here.

Pete recommends a rule change wherein a jump ball would be called if the man at the free-throw line makes his first shot. He also promises that the man who sank the toss jump against ANY player on the opposing team. That would undoubtedly be the opposing center, or the tallest player of the opposition, whichever the case might be.

In Newell's scheme, the defense would then have a better chance at recovering the ball—but the offense would at last have a chance. Too, the return of the jump would serve to control the race-horse pattern of modern basketball and it would lend a touch of suspense, which is the soul of athletic endeavor.

Kenny Jones, the former Midland catcher, will backstop for the Tyler entry in the Big State League this season. He was with Temple last year.

Dudley Parker, who is leaving Corpus Christi to become an assistant mentor at District I-AAA's new school, Monterrey of Lubbock, may best be remembered in these parts for an 80-yard scoring play for Baylor against SMU in 1950.

Parker slipped in behind the SMU secondary of the first scrimmage play of the game and raced for the TD. The Ponies never recovered. In fact, they may still be groggy. They haven't beaten the Bears since that time.

The game, which this writer was privileged to witness, was noteworthy, too, by the fact that Doak Walker (of SMU) grabbed a touchdown pass in the last few seconds while lying flat on his back.

Monterrey, incidentally, is obviously going high to get the kind of staff head coach Hill DuBoise and Athletic Director Eck Curtis thinks it should need to field a winner.

In addition to Parker, Don Gray of Tech and Ted Simon of San Marcos have been hired as assistant coaches.

Parker played high school ball under DuBoise at Corpus Christi before going to Baylor.

Gray moves over from Lubbock High to Monterrey. He tutored the B team last year. Simon coached down in the grades at Lubbock in 1954.

When Dave Cook decided to move from Lubbock High to Monterrey as head basketball coach, Max O'Banton, B team cage mentor there the past two seasons, took Cook's old job.

Teen-Age League Launches Building Drive Next Week

Officials of the Big Spring Teen-Age Baseball Association will launch a drive next week for $2,500, which will be used toward construction of a new baseball park.

The home base of the thriving organization, which is to replace the Pony League here, will be located on a City-owned plot immediately west of the present Little League park.

The league will cater to two different age groups, one for 15 and 16 years old and the other for 13 and 14-year-olds.

Sponsors of the association met last night at the City Hall to make plans for the drive and henceforth will gather once a week (Thursday nights) at the same place.

The association is drawing up plans for a charter with state headquarters at Austin. The charter is patterned after that of a Waco group.

There is a possibility, 17-year-olds will be able to play in the bigger boys' circuit.

Mae Alexander is chairman of the organization's committee. Working with him are Lawrence Robinson, Tom McAdams, Roy Bennett, Hack Wright, Mrs. J. O. Whitefield, Howard Stephens, Ray McMahan, Henry Maser, Clarence Suggs, H. B. Standolind and C. E. (Perry) Johnson.

Johnson served as president of the Pony League last year.

A spokesman for the group said play would probably get under way here June 1.

The park site has already been cleared off and plans are in the making to start grass growing there next week.

Odessa Linksters To Meet Hawks

A team of Odessa Junior College golfers will invade the Mundy Course here Saturday to do battle with Howard County Junior College players.

The match gets under way at 10:30 a.m.

Performing for the Jayhawks will be Luke Thompson, James Leo Underwood, Frank Hunt and Jimmy Smith.

Bawcom Is Bought

ARTESIA (SC) — James Bawcom, a 22-year-old outfielder who played with Paul's Valley in the Sooner State League last season, has been acquired by the Artesia Nulimers of the Longhorn League.

Gromyko Blamed For Tass Story

LONDON (AP) - Britain angrily accused Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko today of a "gross breach of secrecy rules" governing the five-power disarmament conference in session here.

The Foreign Office, in an unusually strong statement, condemned Gromyko for leaking details of the conference to a Tass correspondent in London before leaving yesterday for Stockholm and Moscow.

A spokesman said repeated Soviet leaks from the conference "show clearly that Russia is all out for propaganda and not for talks which might make progress."

Moscow radio carried a Tass interview with Gromyko early today in which he disclosed details of a Soviet plan supposedly aimed at bringing about world disarmament in both nuclear and conventional weapons.

Gromyko, who until yesterday was chief Soviet delegate at the talks, accused the West of attempting to "pursue, as before, an armaments race" and block nuclear disarmament.

Russia's meeting with the United States, Britain, France and Canada in a renewed session of the U.N. Disarmament Commission subcommittee. The talks were arranged last October at the U.N. General Assembly.

The Foreign Office said the Western delegations protested at yesterday afternoon's conference session against the Russian leaks. The protest was directed mainly at a lengthy article in Pravda on the course of the talks.

Today's was the second protest lodged with the Russians. The West complained the day after the conference opened on Feb. 25 about accounts of the session which were arrived in the London Communist Daily Worker.

Accusing the Russians of "grossly distorting" what actually happened at the conference, the spokesman said the delegations were consulting on a possible move to set the public record straight.

Air Force Faces Red; Navy Chuckles

WING JET exactly like the Navy's famed Skyraider. At Wright-Patterson Field in Dayton, Ohio, Brig. Gen. Arno Leuhman, commanding general of Air Force recruiting, promised to find out how the plane got on the poster-and-quick!

The general muttered maledictions against New York's Madison Avenue, the street where the poster was prepared by a national advertising agency.

The Pentagon, which approved the poster, also was red-faced. Had separation of the services been violated? What would the Joint Chiefs have to say?

Gen. Leuhman presumed the artist started out to draw Convair F102 but lost contact somewhere in the tall assembly. He also thought it may have been an attempt to draw a composite picture, one that would single out no particular manufacturer.

The to-do started when telegraph editor Allan Lazarus of the Shreveport Times, an airplane hobbyist, spotted the billboard near the business district.

Police Seek Missing Girl
DETROIT (AP) - A block-by-block search of a six-square-mile area of Detroit's densely populated East Side has failed to turn up a trace of a 7-year-old girl, missing since yesterday morning.

Mrs. Rita Gaca, 29, reported her daughter Barbara missing when she did not return home from school for lunch yesterday.

Non-Atomic Charge Set Off
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - A non-atomic charge was exploded today high over Yucca Flat, possibly to test the ability of TNT to break up the mushroom cloud of an A-bomb.

The blast, which replaced an atomic test postponed last night, was made in a sky-criss-crossed with a crazy patchwork of white smoke trails and smoke puffs laid by many planes.

The Atomic Energy Commission did not reveal the purpose of the non-atomic test. No atomic device was used in this test. The AEC said only that the test "involves military effects studies by the Army and Air Force."

Jeike Defense Nears Finish

NEW YORK (AP) - Defense lawyers for Minot F. (Mickey) Jeike today began putting the final touches to their case during a long weekend recess of his trial on compulsory prostitution charges.

The defense is bringing a witness from Florida's baker-but the nature of his testimony was not revealed. The defense begins Monday.

Judge Francis L. Valente late yesterday granted the long recess at the request of defense counsel George Washington Herz, who said he was waiting for the Florida witness to arrive.

The judge turned down motions by Herz for a directed verdict of acquittal and for dismissal of the indictment on the grounds that the prosecution had not established its case.

Former prostitute Pat Thompson, 25, was the final prosecution witness yesterday. She testified that Jeike gave her a list of 10 to 15 names of men and the prices they would pay. She also said Jeike told her to use Pat Ward's name in getting in touch with the men.

Several Attend Credit Meeting
Several representatives from Big Spring will attend the district No. 2 meeting of the Retail Credit Executives in Lubbock this weekend.

4 Sets Of Twins Called 'Enough'
MONTICELLO, Ky. (AP) - Four sets of twins are the steps of the Wayne County Courthouse yesterday, awaiting their regular checkup by the Health Department.

Cut Taxes, Too
DENVER (AP) - Colorado legislators approved a package of tax cuts totaling more than $4 million dollars yesterday and also renewed a 20 per cent cut in state income taxes.

TO LEAVE KOREA
TOKYO (AP) - Peiping radio tonight said six divisions of Chinese "volunteer" troops would be withdrawn from North Korea in March and April.

Mysteriously Wounded Houston Man Still In Serious Condition

JIMMY J. CHANDLER, who was mysteriously shot Wednesday while between Houston and this city, was reported in serious but not critical condition this morning.

The attending physician at the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital said that a bullet entered the right side of Chandler's neck, traveled downward and lodged in the lung.

Chandler lost quite a bit of blood as a result of the wound, and transfusions will be necessary before the bullet is removed, it was reported.

Chandler told police that he was wounded about 200 miles south of Big Spring while journeying to this city to see his brother, I. D. Chandler, 411 NW 9th.

He and Eugene Thornton left Houston on Tuesday and arrived about 8 p. m. Wednesday, officers said. Chandler was hospitalized immediately by his brother.

Solon Hits Gas Waste
WASHINGTON (AP) - A coal state congressman called today for laws to discourage "wasteful use of natural gas" and to make it harder to bring foreign gas into the country.

Rep. Staggers (D-W.Va.) told the House Commerce Committee a bill he has introduced would accomplish those aims. He said it would benefit the coal industry, railroads and gas consumers and, in the long run, gas producers and pipe lines.

The committee, studying bills to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation, interrupted that work to hear congressmen with other related proposals.

Staggers asserted his bill is needed to protect "the peacetime economy and for the maintenance of a strong mobilization base within the domestic fuels industry."

Abilene To Visit Abilene

ABILENE (AP) - A fleet of airplanes and a group of Abilene leaders will fly to Abilene, Kan., April 7 to tell the Kansans about Texas Industrial Week and the Texas city.

Abilene, Tex., was named for Abilene, Kan., by early-day cattlemen who drove their stock to the Kansas city for sale.

The Texans will bring back the "most typical" Abilene, Kan., couple for a four-day round of tours and entertainment.

The Texans will present a program at a luncheon arranged by the Kansas city's Chamber of Commerce. The Rev. Sterling Price, a Baptist pastor of this city, will be master of ceremonies.

Some members of the McMurry College Band, expected back from an European tour shortly, may help entertain.

The Texans will tour the Kansas city's industries and other points of interest, including the home of President Eisenhower. They will return late the same day.

A contest to select the "typical" Abilene, Kan., couple has been begun by the Abilene (Kan.) Reflector-Chronicle. Arrangements for the Texans' visit are being made by H. B. Jameson, general manager of the newspaper.

The plan was started by Andrew B. Shelton, executive vice-president of the Reporter-Publishing Co. He is president of the Chamber of Commerce. Helping in developing the plans was Ed Shouse, president of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

Senate Defies Ike On Postal Pay Hike Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate voted today 72-21 to give 500,000 postal workers at least a 10 per cent pay increase despite the threat of a presidential veto.

The action was a setback for the administration which had proposed limiting the raise to 7.6 per cent. That proposal was beaten by the Senate 52-41.

The 10 per cent raise measure now goes to the House where the administration also suffered a rebuff last Monday. At that time the House overwhelmingly rejected a rule which would have meant accepting the administration's 7.6 per cent pay hike bill on a take-it-or-leave-it basis.

Many Senate Republicans finally voted for the 10 per cent boost, explaining they did so reluctantly only after the administration proposal had been killed.

Democrats declared they were "tired" of attempted dictation from the executive branch, and insisted the Senate should pass what it believed to be right.

The bill passed by the Senate would give each employe at least a 10 per cent increase in pay, but would mean more for those receiving less than $4,000 a year since it has a $400 floor.

Republican Leader Knowland (Calif.) predicted President Eisenhower would not sign the 10 per cent increase if it ever reached his desk. Knowland appealed to the Senate to approve a measure which would not be an "empty gesture that will not become the law of the land."

Eisenhower himself has said that he viewed with "grave apprehension" any bill going beyond the 7.6 per cent figure.

Sounds More Like He Lost
PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Policeman Michael O'Flaherty was directing traffic in downtown Philadelphia yesterday when a battered-looking auto, at least 20 years old, chugged by.

As the vehicle stopped for a light with a loud squealing of brakes, O'Flaherty slid over and asked the youthful driver where he picked up the vibrating heap.

Dog's Lung Saves Boy In Surgery

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) - An Arkansas boy was pumped for 15 crucial minutes during a heart operation through a lung which had been removed from a dog and inflated to about the size of a football.

Some details of the dramatic operation on Calvin Richmond, 13, Pine Bluff, Ark., were revealed last night by doctors at University of Minnesota Hospitals.

The boy was reported in satisfactory condition after three hours were closed in his heart chamber Wednesday.

A short time before the three-hour operation, the dog's lung was removed and suspended in a plastic cylinder six feet from the patient.

When actual repair work on the heart began, the boy's blood flow was diverted by a mechanical pump through plastic tubes into the dog's lungs.

The isolated, sterile lung was ventilated with 100 per cent oxygen to purify the blood. A second pump then carried the blood back into the boy's system, first passing the blood through heated water to warm it.

By diverting the flow of blood from the heart, surgeons were able to work on a "dry field" in the opening of the heart chambers. One of the lungs was about the size of a nickel. The other two were somewhat larger.

Young Calvin had been a "heart cripple" since he was injured in a truck accident last year. The operative technique had been explained to the boy's mother and she gave her approval.

Dr. Gilbert S. Campbell, 31, spoke last night for the surgical team which worked for several months on experiments leading to use of the lung of an animal.

Police Seek Missing Girl

DETROIT (AP) - A block-by-block search of a six-square-mile area of Detroit's densely populated East Side has failed to turn up a trace of a 7-year-old girl, missing since yesterday morning.

Mrs. Rita Gaca, 29, reported her daughter Barbara missing when she did not return home from school for lunch yesterday.

Non-Atomic Charge Set Off
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) - A non-atomic charge was exploded today high over Yucca Flat, possibly to test the ability of TNT to break up the mushroom cloud of an A-bomb.

The blast, which replaced an atomic test postponed last night, was made in a sky-criss-crossed with a crazy patchwork of white smoke trails and smoke puffs laid by many planes.

The Atomic Energy Commission did not reveal the purpose of the non-atomic test. No atomic device was used in this test. The AEC said only that the test "involves military effects studies by the Army and Air Force."

Solon Hits Gas Waste

WASHINGTON (AP) - A coal state congressman called today for laws to discourage "wasteful use of natural gas" and to make it harder to bring foreign gas into the country.

Rep. Staggers (D-W.Va.) told the House Commerce Committee a bill he has introduced would accomplish those aims. He said it would benefit the coal industry, railroads and gas consumers and, in the long run, gas producers and pipe lines.

The committee, studying bills to exempt natural gas producers from federal regulation, interrupted that work to hear congressmen with other related proposals.

Staggers asserted his bill is needed to protect "the peacetime economy and for the maintenance of a strong mobilization base within the domestic fuels industry."

Jeike Defense Nears Finish

NEW YORK (AP) - Defense lawyers for Minot F. (Mickey) Jeike today began putting the final touches to their case during a long weekend recess of his trial on compulsory prostitution charges.

The defense is bringing a witness from Florida's baker-but the nature of his testimony was not revealed. The defense begins Monday.

Judge Francis L. Valente late yesterday granted the long recess at the request of defense counsel George Washington Herz, who said he was waiting for the Florida witness to arrive.

The judge turned down motions by Herz for a directed verdict of acquittal and for dismissal of the indictment on the grounds that the prosecution had not established its case.

Former prostitute Pat Thompson, 25, was the final prosecution witness yesterday. She testified that Jeike gave her a list of 10 to 15 names of men and the prices they would pay. She also said Jeike told her to use Pat Ward's name in getting in touch with the men.

Conflicting Advice

Dear Miss Brandow:
I am very fond of a boy in the Air Force, and I have reason to believe he feels the same way about me.
My friends tell me to forget him because they say he is girl-crazy, and is no good for me. I have known James for four years and think he is a nice boy. Should I keep my faith in him, or forget him?

Milton Berle Keeping Pace

NEW YORK (U)—Milton Berle may have lost his lease on first place in television popularity ratings, but for a guy who's been around as long as he has, he stays right up there.

The stir created by Jackie Gleason's big contract starting next season with Berle's current sponsor has tended to obscure the fact that Uncle Miltie remains among TV's elite.

In the Nielsen audience popularity ratings so far this season, Gleason has placed ahead of Berle six times and Miltie has had the edge five times. The latest rating separates them by four places. Love Lucy brought in an estimated 54 per cent of the sets tuned in, Disneyland 52.3, Gleason 52.2, Colgate Comedy Hour 50.1, Dragnet 48.4, Groucho Marx 48.2 and Berle 46.4. But for the season as a whole, Gleason has an edge of only a little over two percentage points.

Berle himself makes capital of his rivalry with Gleason. On his show this week, for example, he displayed his own dart board, with a big photograph of Gleason as the target.

Although he has revised the format of the show considerably from early days as Mr. Television, Berle remains basically a standup comedian while Gleason has moved more and more to situation comedy.

You never have to reach for Berle's jokes. They're delivered with about the same finesse as a blow with a blackjack. And if one misses, Berle lets go another before you can catch your breath.

Sometimes love is blind, but at other times it just sees deeper than others can. Four years is usually long enough time in which to get to know what a person is like. During that time they are almost bound to show their true colors.

Since you still believe James is a fine boy, I tend to think you are right. Girls often like to gossip. Advice is the only thing you can get plenty of for nothing. If your friends have proof, let them produce it; otherwise, ignore their juicy tidbits.

I am basing my answer on the assumption that during the four years you were friends rather than passing acquaintances.

Surely he has been in your home during this time. What impression did your parents get? Parents are often very wise in these matters. You can judge him with reasonable accuracy by the way he acts, for a man's actions always outweigh his words.

Does he write to you with regularity? Do you have his picture? When he is in town, does he date you? Does he take you to nice places, or would he rather not spend money on you?

Does he remember special occasions? If you are not going steady, he has every right to date other girls. Being far from home, you may be sure he gets lonely and you can just assume he seeks feminine companionship for dinner and a movie occasionally. You would not be justified in being jealous.

However, the way he acts with you and toward you will let you know whether you are his special girl or just another girl.

Bizarre Poison Whisky Story Told To Police

HOBBS, N.M. (U)—Police checked today the bizarre story of a Hobbs oil company employe that he was "forced to drink poisoned whisky" while a man pointed a gun at him on an involuntary auto trip.

Sam Suggs, 51, said the stranger, whom he had picked up for a ride, compelled him to drive to Seminole, Tex., about 30 miles east of here.

Suggs said he was required to drink the "poisoned whisky" until he lost consciousness. He was brought from Seminole to a Hobbs hospital yesterday after emergency treatment at Seminole.

Suggs said he started his enforced drinking from a pint bottle about five miles east of Hobbs and by the time he reached Seminole he was too far gone to remember when the gunman left his car.

He described the man as "tall, slim, with black hair and eyes, wearing a blue shirt, khaki pants and brown shoes." Suggs said the tall stranger carried the gun in a paper sack.

Suggs was discharged from the hospital today.

Peron Renews Church Fight

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (U)—Government charges of fraud directed today at parochial schools appeared to dash hopes for an early truce between Roman Catholic Church officials and the Peron regime.

President Juan D. Peron's Education Ministry accused 89 private Roman Catholic schools of defrauding the government of more than four million pesos—$300,000.

The new blow at the church educational system came on the heels of a report yesterday that Peron and Argentina's Catholic primate Santiago Luis Cardinal Copello had agreed in a series of long conferences this week to end the four-month running battle between church and state.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

A guitar fish.

Among the ocean fish are some called sting rays or stingarees. These differ widely in size, but are somewhat flat.

Q. Why are these fish called stingarees?

A. Each one has a stinger (a barbed spine) in its tail. This spine can cause a painful wound when it strikes a human being, and death has followed some stings. The stinger transfers a poison to its victim.

Q. Is the guitar fish a member of this family?

A. Yes. Like other rays, it has eyes on the top of its head, and the mouth below the head.

Q. How big is a guitar fish?

A. A full-grown specimen is likely to be about five feet long and two feet wide.

Q. Are other rays larger?

A. Yes, some are much larger. The biggest of all is often called a devilfish. It may be 20 feet wide, and may weigh a ton.

Devilfish live in the warmer parts of the ocean, including the Gulf of Mexico. One of them was hooked from a motorboat which was traveling about five miles an hour. According to the report, the devilfish soon pulled the boat backward faster than it had been going forward.

Q. How fast do devilfish swim?

A. Some make speeds of from 12 to 15 miles an hour. They are far less rapid than sharks, which are related to them.

Devilfish leap high out of the water. When they fall back, they make a loud noise, which has been compared to the report of a cannon.

Q. Do stingarees have large mouths?

A. Compared to the size of their bodies, these fish have rather small mouths. They eat small victims, including shellfish.

The larger members of the family, however, have good-sized mouths with brick-like molar teeth. The teeth are useful in grinding up big clams and other shellfish.

'Copter Pilot, German Exit Soviet Zone

HEIDELBERG, Germany (U)—An American helicopter pilot and a German national forced down last Thursday in Communist East Germany were returned to U.S. custody today.

U.S. Army headquarters here said the pilot, Lt. Herman E. Jacquay, of 230 Cambridge Ave., Fort Wayne, Ind., and his passenger, Horst Kuehn, were turned over to American officials at the Soviet Zone border near Fulda.

They disappeared on a flight in strong winds and snow squalls in the Fulda area. They landed unhurt.

They're Pinked But Not Leftish

NAPLES, Italy (U)—Two Monarchist politicians who pinked each other in a sword duel prepared today to have dinner together, both nursed minor wounds on the right forearm.

The duel was fought yesterday by Sen. Gaetano Fiorentino, a member of the Popular Monarchist party, and Attilio Romano, an official of the rival National Monarchist faction. Fiorentino said later it was over an article he wrote in a Naples newspaper.

"The Duel settled the issue," the senator said, announcing that he and his opponent were dining together tonight.

Dueling is illegal in Italy, but if no one is killed the police generally ignore the affairs.

The Christian and the Social Order

MAN SHOULD WORK FOR THE COMMON GOOD BRINGING BLESSINGS TO OTHERS

Scripture—Matthew 5:13-16; Luke 10:23-37; Romans 13; Ephesians 4:17-32; 1 Peter 4:18-19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
WHY ARE some people beloved by all who meet them, and others win only indifference or dislike? Even small children react to adults, seeming to know instinctively those who love children and are unselfish, kind and trustworthy. They sense, too, those who dislike youngsters and who think only of themselves and their own comforts, desires or convenience.

We older people know some—friends of ours—who are so sweet natured, kind, sympathetic, helpful, and so admirable that we not only love and appreciate them as they deserve, but we strive to emulate them.

In His Sermon on the Mount Jesus tells His listeners that they are the salt of the earth. Salt is a necessity to men. It not only makes foods taste better, but it is used to preserve foods, and to prevent the spread of corruption.

If salt loses its taste it is good for nothing, as Jesus says, "Ye are the light of the world." Jesus says next, "A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid; nor do men light a candle then put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick so that it may light the house."

"Every church should be a city of light."

helpless and suffering. A priest, having finished his duties, was on his way home. He saw the man, but passed him by on the other side of the road. A Levite did the same.

Then, a Samaritan (a race hated by Jews), came, saw him and went to the sufferer. He bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and laid him on his own beast, took him to the nearest inn, and paid the innkeeper to care for him. The Samaritan even told the innkeeper if the victim's care cost more than the Samaritan had left, he would pay the innkeeper when he came that way again. "Do thou and do likewise," Christ told the lawyer.

We wonder what that lawyer's thoughts were when he left the Master. Was he ashamed of his motive in questioning Him?

"Owe no man anything, save to love one another; for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law," wrote Paul to the Romans. "Love worketh no ill to his neighbor; therefore love is the fulfilling of the law."

Let each one of us memorize those words and remember them when we are tempted to be unkind, to write a disagreeable letter, or do a spiteful, mean deed.

"Love worketh no evil," only good. We owe our good friends, our neighbors and yes, even strangers, love instead of indifference and coldness.

Are you afraid to act like a Christian for fear people will say you are "soft" or a "sissy"?

In the time of Christ and for many years after, people were martyred in brutal ways—crucified, burned at the stake or thrown to wild beasts, and many of them doubtless went to their deaths praying and remembering Peter's words:

"Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you: But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when His glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy."

"If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you."

Let us also remember our Memory Verse and try our best to "be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good," so that we may add our share to the betterment of a sad world.

Naturally, they're pleased about it—it's their first bank-book. This is something they've managed together. They've saved for the things they want, and also for that "rainy day."

It's wise to save for a rainy day. But it's also wise to remember that drought can be just as devastating as rain... particularly spiritual drought.

Faith is the balance you'll find in your spiritual bank-book. It is something that you can renew, something that you can add to, and something that will pay you immeasurable dividends. Where else can such faith be renewed and developed than in the House of the Lord—your Church?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

BREST, France (U.S.)—Ten French sailors sitting on a raft in a survival experiment lost one of their number to an old seafaring complaint: He became so seasick he had to be taken off the raft.

Russ Present New Atomic Arms Proposal
MOSCOW (U.S.)—Pravda said today Russia has made a new proposal for banning nuclear weapons, reduction of conventional arms and international inspection to ensure compliance.
The Communist party organ said the proposal was made to the five-nation U.N. disarmament subcommittee at the secret talks now being held in London.
As explained by Pravda, the plan largely parallels the proposal Russia put before the U.N. General Assembly last fall, except that it goes more fully into the disputed question of a control organ to guarantee that disarmament is carried out.
The plan calls for all nations to sign a convention agreeing to arms reductions in two stages:
1. A 50 per cent cut in conventional arms and destruction of all atomic, hydrogen and other "mass destruction" weapons within six months of the signing.
2. A second 50 per cent cut during the ensuing six-month period. The signers also would agree not to produce mass destruction weapons.
Pravda casually outlined the plan in an editorial denouncing alleged war mongering by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.
The paper accused the Western Powers of using the London talks "as a screen for concealing an untrammelled arms drive and atomic war preparations."
Pravda said Russia's plan would call for a permanent international organ empowered to carry out inspections.
"The international control organ will keep staff inspectors permanently in all countries signing the convention," the article said, "and these inspectors in functions allotted them would have at any time free access to all objects of control."
The article did not specify whether this control board would come under the authority of the U.N. Security Council, where Russia has veto power. It was not immediately apparent whether this was an oversight or a policy shift.

Reds Condemn Black Market
MOSCOW (U.S.)—Black marketing in food is being sharply condemned in the Soviet press, especially in these days when the government is making great efforts to give Russia's millions more to eat.
There is a double market system in the Soviet Union. Prices in the state stores are fixed. Frequently you can't find certain meats, vegetables or other foods in the state stores. So you go to the free market, where peasants can sell their surplus. There you pay up to 200 per cent more for meat, for instance. That explains why some of the collective farmers have so much folding money.
Beyond these legal markets, there is also a black market. Its operators are frequently thieves, and always profiteers.
The newspaper Soviet Latvia, published in Riga, recently told how the women director of a state food department's section was caught in "dirty profiteering affairs."
This director lined up a black marketing ring which made off with a ton of sugar, 200 pounds of butter and other foodstuffs from state stores. They peddled the sugar for 10 rubles (officially $2.50) a pound, and other produce at similar prices.
The police caught the profiteers with large stocks of stolen goods and 12,000 rubles (officially $3,000) in cash. They were handed over for prosecution.

Maybe Their Stars Are Twins
LOS ANGELES (U.S.)—Two mothers took their babies home from the hospital yesterday, ending a series of astonishing coincidences.
Mrs. Elizabeth Boshard and Mrs. Jacqueline Luscher, each 28, were both born in Biel, Switzerland. They didn't know each other during girlhood.
But they were married on the same day, July 22, 1950, in different parts of the world. Elizabeth to Hans Boshard, an electrician, and Jacqueline to Werner Luscher, also an electrician.
Both couples came to Los Angeles. They met in August 1953 at a Swiss national holiday gathering in Swiss Park in nearby Anusa.
Both women learned that they were expectant mothers last summer. They were patients of the same obstetrician. Both entered the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital maternity ward last Saturday.
Mrs. Luscher gave birth to a 7-pound, 5-ounce girl, Cynthia, at 9 o'clock that night. Mrs. Boshard had a 7-pound, 5-ounce girl, Linda, at 11 o'clock.

A. R. Blagraves, who lives just north of the gin in the Brown community says they got a pleasant surprise last Saturday night. It was a two-inch rain which swept through from near Ackerley and soaked a strip of land several miles long and two miles wide. The sandy land is plenty wet now and will need only a heavy shower for planting moisture.
The Brown store will be reopened about April 1. Mrs. Otho Fitts, the owner, closed it about a year ago and moved to Levelland. Now she plans to operate the store the year around.
Brush is greening up on some ranges, but the wise mesquite takes its time. Peaches and elms may be frost-bitten, but never the mesquite. In its thousands of years in West Texas, it has become acclimated to the erratic weather and seldom puts out new leaves until the last severe frost is behind.
Mesquite is becoming the rancher's worst pest in many areas. You'll find it in all pastures where there is any soil, and it is spreading fast despite the dry years. One of the brushiest places I've seen on the High Plains is the rolling country south of Stanton where the Plains and Edwards Plateau converge.
One rancher who has been there a long time, M. O. Woody, says 20 or 30 years ago the mesquites were scattering in the draws. The low areas had plenty of grass then. Now there is hardly any, and the mesquite, lotebush and other worthless shrubs are so thick a rancher can't ride a horse through some parts of the pasture.
H. L. Derrick who ranches southeast of Big Spring has been feeding his cattle cottonseed cake, sudan and begari hay. It hasn't been too expensive for him, because he grew all except the cake on his 173 acres of farmland.
Derrick plans to try some African millet this year. He said he cut some for Walter Robinson last fall and it looked a lot better than begari or sudan. He still has some old grass, but won't get much of the green kind without a good rain.
The sale of baby chicks started slow this year but has picked up considerably the last few weeks. Most dealers earlier reported slow sales, though one feed store man said he had sold more chicks this year than he had in several years. One factor in the recent increase was the rising egg market. Another is that farmers are more optimistic about the coming crop and are willing to put out a little extra money for feed and equipment. No big flocks have been started, say the dealers. Farmers are buying from 100 to 200, and several residents in town plan to raise a few.
Dick Simpson says that most of his ranch, along with Tom Good's spread north of Vealmoor, received two inches of rain last Sunday morning. Naturally, it made a tremendous difference in the outlook.
Do you know the smartest animal in these parts—either wild or domesticated? I would have guessed the dog, but scientists say the raccoon is a regular Einstein beside the other animals. He is almost smart enough to vote if he had a poll tax. Only the chimpanzee showed more intelligence.
Do doubt the 'coon is smart, but for plain old trickery I'd put the mule up against all comers. He never ate enough to make himself sick like a horse; he could get into any feedstack no matter how high the fence guarding it, and when a green kid was behind the lines, he could get his hind feet

It gives me a great deal of pleasure and satisfaction to announce that on Sunday, March 27, the Ritz Theatre will bring to the people of Big Spring one of the finest motion pictures I have ever seen. The name of this picture is THE COUNTRY GIRL. I can't remember when a motion picture impressed me as much as THE COUNTRY GIRL.

Film critics over the nation have praised this picture very highly and the Academy of Motion picture Arts and Sciences has nominated THE COUNTRY GIRL for seven Academy Awards. These nominations are: Bing Crosby, Best Actor of the year; Grace Kelly, Best Actress of the year; George Seaton, best director of the year; Best Motion picture of the year; Best Art Direction of the year; Best Screen play of the year; and the Best Cinematography of the year. These seven Academy Award nominations in themselves reveal what a wonderful Motion Picture THE COUNTRY GIRL is.

I would like to urge every person who possibly can to attend the showing of THE COUNTRY GIRL, and see if you don't form the same opinion as I did--that THE COUNTRY GIRL is one of the finest Motion Pictures to be produced in Hollywood in recent years.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely yours,
