Rebellious Cons Reveal 9-Point Peace Demands

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Nine rebellious prisoners holed up in the Nebraska prison "jail" since yesterday with two guards as hostages, sent out a list of nine demands today.

Gov. Victor Anderson said he would "carefully consider" them but there would be "no compromise" until the guards were released.

Both the demands and the reply were delivered on a rope from the second floor of the maximum security building, or jail, where the besieged prisoners have locked themselves in.

The governor told a news conference that in his reply he had told the prisoners he felt most of the demands were "reasonable and deserve consideration," but he explained that consideration would be in the form of a private interview with each prisoner.

The nine demands as listed by the prisoners:

1. A definite segregation sentence.
2. Three hot meals daily.
3. Acknowledgment of interviews.
4. Adequate medical attention.
5. No favoritism.
6. Dismissal of all guards we can prove to be sadists and/or head beaters.
7. Keep mental patients out of the hole (the maximum security building).
8. No reprisals.
9. The same reading material as allowed other inmates and a table so we don't have to use our beds as tables.

The message was the first communication from the prisoners since 4 a.m. today when authorities were notified that the rebellious inmates wished to return three prisoners. It was the first list of demands presented to the governor.

Gov. Anderson quoted one of the expelled men as saying the trio left by mutual agreement because they were "dead weight."

The revolt developed about 10:30 a.m. yesterday when the 12 prisoners seized guard Warren B. Miller, 43. A short time later they grabbed guard Eugene Swanson, 34.

All was quiet elsewhere at the prison, home of 747 convicts and the scene of several incidents, including two riots, in recent years.

Mahon Among Solons On WTCC Panel

LUBBOCK (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention opened today with six congressmen facing questions from delegates.

The West Texas Congressional Forum featured the opening of the three-day convention.

On the panel were Reps. George Mahon, Lubbock; Frank Icard, Wichita Falls; Jim Wright, Weatherford; Omar Burleson, Anson; W. B. Poole, Waco; and O. C. Fisher, San Angelo.

The moderator was Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Mahon was named "Top West Texan" last night by the chamber. He was honored at a dinner and reception for WTCC directors. Three other persons are to receive the "Top West Texan" award tonight at the annual awards dinner.

Dr. J. O. Christianson of the University of Minnesota and Robert Kneebone, vice president of Houston's National Bank of Commerce, were to give keynote addresses.

Mahon was advised of his selection Sunday evening because he will be unable to remain over for the annual awards dinner Monday night. Due to pressing committee business in Washington (he is chairman of the subcommittee on military appropriations), he was to leave after the forum Monday morning.

Rep. Mahon was reared in Mitchell County where his parents were an early day farm couple. He attended Hardin Simmons University, taught school and then later worked his way through the University of Texas.

Returning to Colorado City, he began a private law practice. Subsequently, he was elected 32nd district attorney and made an enviable record in this position before he decided to run for congress when the 19th district was created.

Elected in 1934, he has served continuously since and most of the time has not had an opponent. During the World War II, he held his present committee assignment and it took him all over the world for a first hand inspection of military facilities and needs. He lost the place two years ago when the GOP majority took over, but this year he was reassigned to the top spot in passing on all military appropriations. He ranks second in seniority on the appropriations committee and conceivably could be its next chairman.

While he has supported his district in many enterprises, including consideration as sites for federal installations, he also has been in the forefront of the farm bill fight. His district produces more cotton than any other in the country.

Nation's Still A Bit Color-Blind

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Color City, the new NBC Burbank studio built from the ground up for color telecasting, went on the air last night with a 90-minute color spectacular viewed mostly in black and white across the nation.

As Bob Hope quipped: "Color TV soon will be within the reach of the average working millionaire."

An idea of the ratio of color to black and white sets is given in the Los Angeles Electric League's statistics estimating there are 699 color sets in southern California to 2,057,497 black and white receivers.

Pakistan Ruler Seizes Power

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Iron-handed Gov. Ghulam Mohammed held supreme authority in Pakistan today after his second crackdown in five months.

The 59-year-old army-backed strong man declared a state of emergency yesterday throughout the country.

Ghulam Mohammed acted ostensibly to solve a legal tangle stemming from his first crackdown Oct. 24, when he dissolved the Constituent Assembly. The Assembly had worked for seven years without producing a constitution and the governor general said, "The constitutional machinery has broken down."

He Sold To All Except Himself

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Merrill Swain Jr. and his wife were relaxing last night in front of their fireplace. Swain got fidgety. The room was getting hotter.

He discovered the floor under the fireplace was on fire. Firemen put out the blaze.

Swain sells fireplace equipment.

PAT WARD FRIEND Jelke Defense Calls Its First Witness

NEW YORK (AP)—A girl friend of ex-convict Pat Ward, principal prosecution witness in the Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke vice trial, was called as the first witness today for the defense.

Grace Appel, 21, of the lower East Side, testified that in February 1951, when both were 16, Miss Ward invited her to a "party" at the room of comedian Jerry Adams in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Miss Appel said she met Miss Ward at the room at 10 p.m., and they left together at 11:45 p.m. When she arrived, Miss Appel said, there was another woman with the comedian. This woman, whom she said she did not know, left at 11 o'clock.

Miss Appel said Adams spoke to her, and as a result of that conversation she went into the bathroom remaining 15 or 20 minutes until Miss Ward called her to come out.

The witness said Miss Ward and Adams remained in the room when she went into the bathroom. She said she noticed nothing unusual when she came out, and about 10 minutes later she and Miss Ward left.

Miss Ward previously had told Judge Francis L. Valente and the jury that her only association with Adams had been on one occasion when she went on a drive with him. She denied she ever had relations with him or had received any money from him.

The trial went into its fourth week today after a long weekend recess. The prosecution finished presentation of its case last Thursday.

Jelke, 25, oleomargarine heir, is not expected to testify in his own behalf. He did not at his first trial, when he was convicted and sentenced to three to six years in prison. The conviction was reversed on appeal because the public had been barred from the courtroom. He is charged with compulsory prostitution.

Faith, Hope and Charity—white-haired, blue-eyed triplets—observed their 87th birthdays yesterday with prayers and a chicken dinner. Mrs. Annie Faith McDowell, Mrs. Eileen Hope Daniels and Mrs. Charity Murphy, left to right, are shown whipping up their birthday cake in the kitchen of the Marlboro Country Club, Marlboro, Mass., where they celebrated the event. Alger Hiss Blamed For Yalta Failure WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) says Alger Hiss "was acting in an espionage capacity" when he was given secret American documents just before the Yalta conference.

The senator gave no details to back up his statement, made during an NBC television appearance yesterday, but he added:

"No wonder that the Russians were able to get the concessions because their courier, their agent, was at the time able to plant himself in the Department of State."

Hiss, who attended the Yalta conference as a State Department adviser, recently completed a prison sentence for perjury in denying that he had passed secret information before the war to a Communist spy ring in this country.

Hiss issued a brief statement at his New York City home, saying, "When one flimsy plank falls down people who take that partisan point of view jump to another one." He did not elaborate.

Mundt said the late Edward Stettinius, then American secretary of state, said in 1945 that "he wanted every single secret paper turned over to Alger Hiss before Jan. 15, prior to the Yalta conference. At that time Alger Hiss was acting in an espionage capacity."

At Yalta, agreement was reached that Russia would enter the war against Japan in return for territorial concessions in the Far East.

Mundt said, "It was a most unfair price and an unconscionable giveaway and in my opinion the greatest diplomatic blunder in American history."

High School Band Scores Top Mark

Senior high school band members won sweepstakes in regional competition Saturday in amassing their best record.

This was the second time a Big Spring High Band had been rated first division in concert playing, sight reading and marching. However, members achieved the unique distinction of winning first division in all musical events entered.

In addition, two junior high solists rated first division.

The band, directed by Clyde Rowe, brought back a handsome 32-inch loving cup as a sweepstakes winner in the region No. 8 contests at Odessa.

The junior high group, under direction of Billy Robbins, won several second division ratings and the band rated second in sight reading and third in concert playing. It did not compete in marching.

First division ratings went to these solists: Harris Wood and Margaret Martin, French horn; Jon Cook and J. T. Baird Jr., baritone; Julius Glickman, clarinet; Bill Bradley, baritone sax; and Anne Rowe, twirling. Laura Rhenton got a second and Robbie Flowers and Shirley Cross third divisions in twirling. First division winners among junior high players were Douglas Eastham, alto sax and Betty Guthrie, clarinet.

Ensemble first division winners were:

Clarinet quartet—Billy Evans, Preston Mason, Julius Glickman, Nelda Garrison.

Woodwind quintet—Joe Dawes, Anne Rowe, Billy Evans, Harris Wood, U. G. Powell.

Saxophone sextet—Norman Gound, Clyde McMahon, Jr., Jim Allen, Mariene Mann, Bill Bradley and J. C. Prevo.

Brass Sextet—Derrill Sanders, Susanne Patton, Margaret Martin, Howard Sheets, J. T. Baird Jr., Jennie McEvers.

Third division ratings went to Sharon Seals, twirling; clarinet quartet, Billy Guthrie, Linda Mason, Wilma Cole, June Ann Brown; cornet quartet, Beverly Osborne, Beverly Pierson, Tom Rogers and Donnie McCollum.

Hull Still In Bad Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cordell Hull, 83-year-old former secretary of state, showed "a slight improvement" overnight, physicians at Bethesda Naval Hospital reported today.

He remained conscious but his condition was still regarded as critical.

He was hospitalized after suffering a stroke Saturday. No marked change was reported in his condition yesterday. The hospital said, however, he had shown "definite improvement" during his first night there. Latest reports said he was conscious.

TIPRO Seeks Johnson Support

FORT WORTH (AP)—The Executive Committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn. sent a telegram yesterday to Sen. Lyndon Johnson, urging support of a bill aimed at cutting oil imports.

The TIPRO also heard Texas congressmen blamed for the failure of favorable action on oil import limitation through amendments to the pending Reciprocal Trade Agreements Bill.

Bryan Payne of Tyler, chairman of the TIPRO Imports Committee, said if the Texans had given the bills its full support, the import question fight would have been won in the House.

Coal Solon Calls For Wider View

WASHINGTON (AP)—In considering legislation to amend the natural gas act, Congress should "deal comprehensively with all the problems vexing our fuel economy," Rep. Carrigg (R-Pa.) said today.

"I do not believe this Congress should enact legislation dealing with only one phase of the many problems involved in the proper utilization and conservation of natural gas to the best interest of the public welfare," he declared.

Carrigg, representative of a hard coal area, wrote a bill which he says would end unfair competition from natural gas.

Japs Debate Atom Storage

TOKYO (AP)—Both Japan's prime minister and foreign minister expressed doubt yesterday whether the United States legally could stockpile atomic weapons in Japan, questioned by a Communist member in the Diet (Parliament), said neither the U. S.-Japan security pact nor its accompanying administrative agreement specifically authorized such a step. Prime Minister Hatoyama agreed.

Tars Lighter On Salt Water Diet

BREST, France (AP)—Three French sailors left a raft today 12 pounds lighter after five days on a salt water diet.

The purpose of this survival-at-sea experiment was to see how long men can live only on sea water without harm. The general belief through the years has been that consumption of sea water was fatal. The current experiment was conducted by the French navy in the Brest Roadstead.

Eleven men originally boarded the raft last Tuesday. Two became seasick. Six others were progressively withdrawn.

The last men to leave the raft today were in generally good shape despite loss of weight. Their only solid food in five days had been raw fish.

Harlan Steps Up To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Marshall Harlan took the oath today as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

In two brief ceremonies—the first a few minutes before noon and the second a few minutes later—Harlan was elevated to the vacancy created by the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson.

Storm Leaves Death Trail, Levels Crops

Out-Of-Season Blizzard Kills 36 Over U.S.

A killing storm, the more deadly because it prolonged winter a week beyond its calendar-scheduled departure, moved back toward Canada, leaving in its vast wake: Thirty-six dead.

Crop destruction estimated in excess of 50 million dollars.

A fresh blanket of snow over much of northeastern United States, and Freezing temperatures reaching as far south as the northern portions of the Gulf states.

The blizzard spearhead of the weekend storm dumped heavy falls of snow on upstate New York yesterday—15 inches at Syracuse—and paralyzed transportation. The thruway was closed for a 240-mile stretch.

Winds up to 55 miles an hour whipped snow into drifts as deep as 12 feet and cut visibility to zero.

Its long sweep through the United States had taken none of the sting out of its driving finish. The snowstorm was called Ontario and Quebec's worst of the year, as 60-mile winds piled 3 inches of new snow into 12-foot drifts.

Most highways in those provinces were blocked. Motorists had to abandon their stalled cars. Storm-caused accidents took five lives.

But the greatest disaster was in southern and south central United States, where a spell of spring had brought out the fruit blossoms before the storm swooped in from the northwest.

The hard freeze virtually wiped out the peach crop in eight states—Illinois, Georgia, the Carolinas, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama and Virginia. It left Illinois with prospects of only one fourth of its apple crop. Potatoes, strawberries, tung nuts and vegetables were among the ruined or badly damaged crops in Dixie.

Wind-whipped waters of the Gulf of Mexico menaced fishing and pleasure craft, as well.

The furious wind shredded sails of boats in New York harbor and prevented efforts to blast an ice jam in the Niagara River which has damaged property along the river's shores.

Both the winds and the cold moderated today. Temperatures were 5 to 12 degrees higher from the Ohio Valley to the Gulf Coast. On the Great Plains there were marked rises, such as the 27-degree climb at Cutchank, Mont. The early morning temperature there was 39.

Rites Tuesday

Body of Raymond Homer Simpson, 34, was to arrive here Monday afternoon on the T&P train and will be taken immediately to Lamesa to lie in state at the Higginbotham Funeral Home. Services will be held Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Walter G. Horn, pastor of the first Presbyterian Church, officiating. Mr. Simpson, a civic leader, had been a deacon of the church. He died Friday in New York after a year's illness.

Valley Cotton Escapes Ruin For 2nd Day

Texas crops that would have sold for millions hung limp, shriveled and blackened Monday from three straight morning freezes.

It froze again early Monday over most of the state, but to many a farmer it didn't matter much now. The damage had already been done.

For a second consecutive morning, though, the Lower Rio Grande Valley escaped the freeze. Between 700,000 to 800,000 acres of cotton is coming up there. A protective cloud cover again saved the valley. Overcast also prevented freezing along the coast.

Elsewhere, the Weather Bureau said, freezing temperatures were again widespread, knitting deep ice to East, Central and South Texas.

No new northers were in view, and a warmup was forecast.

The one that howled into the state Friday packed a multi-million-dollar punch. Stinging winds and icy morning freezes Saturday, Sunday and Monday wiped out many vegetable, fruit and field crops. Low temperature records were broken.

Sample reports:

Doyle Goughier, Houston Post agricultural editor, said a survey showed heavy losses in East and South Texas and the coast.

East Texas peach and plum crops worth four million dollars were "pretty well wiped out." East and South Texas tomatoes were severely damaged, and growers weren't sure there are enough new plant sets for substitute planting.

J. F. Rosebrough of Tyler, marketing specialist, said many rose buds were seriously damaged.

Tomatoes and melons were hardest hit in the Yaakum area. Cotton out of the ground was killed or damaged.

Bean, okra and cucumber crops in Harris County were virtually wiped out. Coastal rice apparently escaped.

Farm agents in the Coastal Bend said cotton and grain damage there could reach 30 million dollars, the Corpus Christi Caller-Times reported.

Overnight low temperatures included: Dalhart 15, Lubbock 23, San Angelo 25, Odessa 26, El Paso 28, Waco 27, Austin 28, College Station 30, San Antonio 29, Junction 27, Del Rio 27, Laredo 25, Galveston 42, Lufkin 31, Texas El Paso had an inch of snow on the ground early Sunday. It melted rapidly. Salt Flat also reported snow Sunday.

Fishing vessels caught in the Gulf during the weekend blow limped back to port Sunday. Coast Guard cutters found nine fishing boats and pleasure craft reported overdue.

"Some of them made port under their own power and some are being towed in," the Coast Guard said. "None of them is in trouble."

The fishing vessels Admiral and Angler, both overdue at Freeport, were reported safe.

The motor vessel Raven was disabled about 55 miles south of Aransas Pass. The Coast Guard cutter Triton sped to its aid. The 92-foot Raven, from Lafayette, La., reportedly had engine trouble but appeared in no immediate danger.

The cutter Boutwell, already towing two other disabled vessels, sped to the fishing vessel Pride of Pass A Loure 150 miles south of Brownsville, where it was tangled in the craft's wheel.

Due in Port Isabel Saturday, the fishing vessel Zamorra was reported en route there.

5 On Coahoma School Ballot

COAHOMA—Five names will be on the ballot Saturday when Coahoma Independent School District voters select three trustees.

In addition to the three whose terms expire, names on the ballot will be Quenon H. Reid and W. Ray Echols. They were added by petition last week.

Incumbents seeking re-election are Charles Read, J. D. Spears and Worner Robinson.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. at the Coahoma City Hall with H. H. Tanner as judge. Mrs. Mattie Miller and Fred Adams will assist in holding the election.

Cure Was Too Late For Georgi

LONDON (AP)—Moscow radio announced today a new cure for shortsightedness.

Quoting Vladimir Filatov, director of the Ukrainian Experimental Eye Institute the broadcast said:

"The new method is based on tissue therapy. The patient is given injections of an extract of preserved tissue. This extract can also be taken internally."

"Observation in thousands of cases has shown that tissue therapy gives excellent results if the progressing shortsightedness has not gone too far."

SUSPECT HELD

Murder Charged In Family Deaths

ROCK ISLAND, Tenn. (AP)—A family of four was found slain on their farm yesterday and officers accused Billy Gibbs, 23, whom they already had in jail for selling the family's mules and pigs.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bratcher, 44 and 42, their daughter, Lily May, 10, and their motherless granddaughter, 20 months.

As Sheriff Eldridge Youngblood explains it, this was the story:

Bratcher was shot to death, his wife and daughter beaten to death and the baby either drowned or allowed to die of exposure last Wednesday.

Thursday, Gibbs sold two mules, a sow and some pigs from Bratcher's farm to McMinnville livestock dealers, and warned one of them of a vicious dog at the farm.

Friday, Gibbs bought a 1940 used car, paying for it with cash and a $75 check from one of the livestock dealers.

Friday night, Charles Bratcher of McMinnville, father of the dead baby, found a note on his father's door: "Baby in Nashville hospital."

Saturday, finding this untrue, young Bratcher called for the sheriff. Officers saw the Bratchers' dog shot to death in the front yard and found bloodstains in the house and barn—but no bodies.

They found Bratcher's blood-stained truck on a McMinnville parking lot, and learned of the livestock sales. They charged Gibbs with larceny.

Sunday morning, they found the baby's body in a water-filled cistern. The mother and older girl were in a sinkhole a quarter of mile from the house, and Bratcher under refuse of a sorghum mill a half mile from the house.

The sheriff filed a murder warrant against Gibbs. He said Gibbs had admitted the theft but denied the slayings.

Gibbs, who is unemployed, grew up in the Bratchers' neighborhood, but now lives in McMinnville. He is the father of twins born last Tuesday.

Grace Or Judy? Marlon Or Bing? Academy Awards Race Gets Hotter

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Judy Garland vs. Grace Kelly, Marlon Brando vs. Bing Crosby, "On the Waterfront" vs. "The Country Girl." That's the way the 27th annual race for Hollywood's top honors shapes up. The votes of 1,700 Academy members — from scene shifters to scintillating stars — are all in, and the winners will be announced from the Pantages Theater stage Wednesday night. The outcome will be debated right up to the hour of a nationwide telecast — and probably for some time after.

prospects look to this observer: Best performance by an actress — What'll you have, the trouper or the lady? Academy voters are a sentimental lot. They love the comeback story of the fading star who smashes back to prominence. Example: Joan Crawford, "Mildred Pierce." 1945. For that reason, Judy Garland is a heavy favorite. She'd be a cinch, if "A Star Is Born" hadn't taken so long and been so costly to film—delays for which she says she was unjustly accused. Even so, she has great talent and reached dramatic heights she had never achieved before. But the voters also like a fresh personality who scores in an outstanding role. Example: Judy Holliday, "Born Yesterday." 1950. And so Grace Kelly could get the nod. She did fine work in "The Country Girl," sacrificing her beauty for near-dowdiness, always an asset in award-getting. If Garland and Kelly split the vote, Dorothy Dandridge might easily be the winner. She did a sparkling job in "Carmen Jones," which was better liked here than many of the big-budget epics. Choice: Judy Garland. Best performance by an actor—Bing or Brando, take your choice. I'll take Brando. The time is ripe for Marlon to get the big prize. He has been nominated four times, and many folks agree that he should have won in 1951 for "A Streetcar Named Desire." His role in "On the Waterfront" was a superb piece of acting, the taxi cab scene being one of the most memorable vignettes in film history. But don't count out Bing. "The Country Girl" was a big departure for him. As the fear-haunt-

Youth Group Presents TV Set To State Hospital

A television set for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital was presented Sunday afternoon by the Cimbrri chapter of the Odessa Tri-Hi-Y.

Ten members of the organization and their sponsors were on hand to make the presentation to Dr. Roy Sloan, hospital superintendent. They were accompanied by representatives of the Odessa and Midland chapters of Beta Sigma Phi, who toured hospital facilities.

Helen McClendon, one of the leaders of the latter group, said the Odessa-Midland chapters plan to submit to the state convention in May a proposal that the organization adopt a state-wide plan for aiding patients in the six mental hospitals in Texas.

Also here from Odessa for the television presentation Sunday was Mrs. Robert A. Walker, a leader in the State Mental Hospital Development Association of Texas, an organization that had its beginning in Odessa after residents of that city became interested in a program for aiding patients at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The SMHDA has provided several items, including another television receiver, for patients. Mrs. Walker said the organization is to install an electric organ in the hospital next Sunday. Several Odessa groups have contributed to this, including the Cimbrri Tri Hi Y, she said. Draperies are also being made for one of the state hospital buildings.

Not able to attend yesterday was Mrs. Dorothy Croft, whose early work resulted in formation of SMHDA. Her home burned Saturday, Mrs. Walker said.

Tri Hi Y members who were here from Odessa were Leah Akins, Merry Tuglie, Mary Jo Smith, Linda Parker, Susan Iardwick, Barbara Salmon, Zoe Ann Trogen, Kay Robbins, Diane Glass, Betty Dishong. Sponsors were Mrs. K. C. Smith, Mrs. Earl Tripp, and Mrs. Gayle Dishong.

Beta Sigma Phi representatives were Mrs. John Horton, Mrs. John Barrett Jr., Mrs. Jack Nottingham, Mrs. Rudy Rubin, Mrs. James Newton, Mrs. W. D. Barnes, Earnestine Barton, Helen McClendon.

Brain Tumor Progress Seen

BOSTON (U)—The American Cancer Society today reported scientists are devising methods of destroying brain tumors with atomic rays which do not damage normal brain tissues.

Scientists at Massachusetts General Hospital and the Harvard University school of medicine, were quoted in an announcement on society-supported research by Dr. William H. Sweet.

Members of the Cimbrri Chapter of Tri-Hi-Y are shown with their sponsors just before they presented the television set Sunday for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital. The Odessa group also has contributed to an electric organ which they and other Odessans plan to provide for the hospital next Sunday.

3 Held In GM Design Theft

DETROIT (U)—Wayne (Detroit) County authorities promised a decision today on whether warrants would be issued against two police officers and a General Motors Corp. guard alleged to have sold top-secret plans of future GM cars.

State police said the three were nabbed Friday after two of them accepted $1,000 in marked bills from an independent automobile designer in Mount Clemens for photographs of new GM models.

Designs of new-model cars are closely guarded secrets of the automotive industry. Police said GM claimed that had the pictures fallen into the hands of competitors, it could have cost the company millions of dollars to retool and change designs.

Arrested for investigation of grand larceny were Elmer E. Bolla, 27, Thomas Robertson, 32, and Richard DeClaire, 23. DeClaire is a brother-in-law of Bolla.

Bolla, a Macomb County deputy sheriff since March 15, was fired after his arrest. Robertson, a Roseville policeman was suspended.

The two were caught in a police trap after the car designer tipped troopers of their offer. DeClaire, a guard at the GM styling and research building in Detroit, was arrested at work.

Fight Not Over For Legislature Rebels

AUSTIN (U)—House and Senate rebels fighting what they call "false economy" in the record-breaking two-year spending bill may get a chance to renew their battle in public soon.

The 1 1/2-billion-dollar general appropriations measure, that Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton took the floor against in a record 23-hour 35-minute filibuster, is ready to go to conference committee.

There was speculation administration floor leaders in House and Senate might let it cool off a while before laying it out for more debate.

The next step would come in the House—which could concur in the Senate version, or refuse to concur and ask for appointment of a joint conference committee.

The measure could be left on the speaker's desk for a while to let the hubbub set off by Phillips' oratory die down, or it might be laid in the laps of House members immediately.

Phillips pitched his opposition on what he called the "false economy" of not voting another million dollars a year to staff empty charity hospital space at the John Sealy institution in Galveston.

His opponents said there has been a gradual addition to funds granted the institution and it all should not be done at once—that the state economy could not stand it.

The session seemed headed into mounting controversy as lawmakers came back from a weekend recess.

Li. Gov. Ben Ramsey in a press statement attacked "half truths" he said were being foisted off on the Legislature. One of these, Ramsey said, was that "life insurance company failures in Texas are rare."

"The record shows that of the 86 companies which went under in the last 10 years, 40 were life companies," Ramsey said.

Ramsey added that it was going to take fast action in the few remaining weeks of the session to plug loopholes in the law.

Re-Enacts Slaying, Claims 'Blackout'

EL CERRITO, Calif. (U)—A confessed slayer re-enacted the pistol killing of his ex-wife's fiancé, then pleaded "mental blackout."

Vernon L. Wiemeyer, 27, showed Police Lt. Homer Johnson how he shot William T. Richardson, 31, who answered the door Saturday night.

Four shots struck Richardson, a teacher at the Armstrong Business College at Berkeley, who had planned to marry Wiemeyer's wife Barbara Jean, 25, when her divorce became final.

Antiaircraft Atom Device Firing Slated

WASHINGTON (U)—The current atomic tests in Nevada include firing of a high-altitude nuclear blast that might pack enough power to wreck an entire formation of enemy bombers.

Plans to develop atomic antiaircraft weapons were revealed last night in a joint Atomic Energy Commission-Defense Department announcement. No date for the initial test was given.

The announcement referred to the explosion of a nuclear "device" at a point "many thousands of feet above the ground" at the Nevada experiment site. The reference presumably would have been to a weapon if an actual missile, bomb or artillery shell were involved.

It was assumed that the projected weapons will be designed for firing either from the ground or from interceptor planes flying above enemy bomber formations.

Dying Minister To Return To Post

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (U)—A 32-year-old lay minister who doctors say is dying of leukemia, will fly back to his tribe in Africa with the help of $1,100 donated by Americans.

The Rev. Nathaniel K. Abbey, a student at Oakwood College here, plans to leave this week.

He will stop in Chicago for another medical checkup.

Abbey appealed for help after being told by doctors he may have only a few weeks to live. He said he wants to see his wife and 2-year-old son again, and "spend the rest of my life teaching Christianity to the people of my tribe."

Contributions are still arriving.

Anti-Shivers Unit Elects

WACO (U)—The Texas Democratic Advisory Council, an organization opposed to Gov. Allan Shivers' party leadership, re-elected Navarro County Judge James Sewell chairman yesterday.

The council was formed by the National Democratic Committee after Shivers led the regular Texas Democratic Party organization into the Republican fold in 1952. The council is made up of those who supported Adlai Stevenson.

A 16-member steering committee was set up to "strengthen and organize the Democratic Party in Texas." Arrangements were completed for talks by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) at San Antonio May 6 and Houston May 7.

Services Pending

ACAPULCO (U)—Services were pending today for James Abeel of Waco, Midland, and Corpus Christi, Tex., who died of polio Saturday night.

The Eyes Have It

Cathy O'Donnell, soon to be seen in Columbia's 'The Man From Laramie,' believes that the eyes are a woman's biggest beauty asset.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Uses An Old-Fashioned Treatment On Her Eyes

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — I visited Cathy O'Donnell at Columbia Studios where she was making 'The Man From Laramie' with Jimmy Stewart, and between scenes we talked about her first trip to Hollywood.

"Although I moved away from Greensboro when I was twelve," Cathy told me, "I retained my Southern accent. I was told that I couldn't hope for a career in Hollywood until I learned to speak so that no one could detect what part of the country I came from."

"It was a difficult thing to do, but I finally managed to get rid of my accent. I think the method I used would be helpful to anyone who wants to improve his speech. I had a teacher but what helped me most of all was listening to records which were examples of good diction and then trying to imitate the sounds."

"It took a lot of practice. At first my speech sounded affected because I was pronouncing every syllable slowly and deliberately but after a while as it became more natural for me to speak that way it sounded better and better until I lost every trace of my accent."

"When I admired Cathy's hair she admitted that it was the one feature which brought her the most compliments."

"My hair is so fine that I have to be careful with permanents, and it looks pretty only when it's very clean so I shampoo it every two days," she said. "I use a vinegar rinse because it makes my hair easier to handle."

Cathy wears her hair shoulder length and admitted that she couldn't care less that short hair was the vogue.

"My idea of being attractive is to create an illusion of simplicity. I think being neat and clean, keeping your hair freshly washed and shiny and favoring the well-scrubbed look makes for infinitely more appeal than a studied attempt to be glamorous."

Cathy believes that the eyes are a woman's biggest beauty asset.

"There's a lot of truth in that old adage 'The eyes are the mirror of the soul,'" she said seriously. "Your eyes tell a great deal about the kind of person you are. If you are troubled, tense or just plain physically tired — these things are reflected in your eyes."

"I think the eyes are the focal point in a woman's face. I try to keep mine rested and clear looking. I have an old-fashioned eye treatment that works wonders on tired eyes."

"Take some green tea bags, dip them in boiling water and after they've cooled a few seconds place them over the eyes. They draw out that tired feeling like magic. When you remove the tea bags, you'll notice that the white part of the eye is a lot clearer."

"When I'm away from home and it isn't convenient to do this, I substitute pads of cotton dipped in cold witch hazel."

"After a day before the camera, behind a desk or hours of driving," Cathy said as she returned to the cameras, "the eyes need relaxation just as the body does."

MORE ABOUT EYES
Cathy is right when she says eyes are an important beauty asset. You'll find a special exercise for the eyes in leaflet M-38, "Routine for Releasing Nervous Tension." With this routine you'll have more beautiful eyes. Also in this leaflet you'll find excellent breathing and relaxing exercises. Adjustable Stool Gives Kitchen Comfort

Why not be comfortable in the kitchen? An adjustable step stool conforms to your own individual measurements.

The seat pulls forward for depth adjustment and the back rest has eight height adjustments. All this and foam rubber cushioning, too.

Lumpy Mattresses

About 26,650,000 mattresses in use today are ready for the scrap heap, statistics indicate. To see if your mattress is one of those over-due for replacement, check for lumps and depressions, broken stitching and sagging borders. It's foolish to rob yourself of restful sleep.

For Pear Halves

Canned or home-cooked pear halves look pretty and taste good when their cavities are filled with spricet puree and they are surrounded with a soft custard sauce.

THIS IS GOOD EATING

CINNAMON MUFFINS

Ingredients: One cup sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/4 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar, 1/4 cup butter or margarine, 1 cup uncooked quick rolled oats, 1 egg, 1 cup milk.

Method: Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon into medium-sized mixing bowl. If brown sugar is lumpy, force through strainer; stir into flour mixture. Cut in butter with pastry blender until no more fat particles can be seen; or rub fat in with fingers and palms of hands. Stir in rolled oats well. Beat egg until yolk and white are combined; add milk and beat enough to combine. Add to flour mixture; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Fill greased muffin pans about 3/4 full. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center of a muffin comes out clean. Remove muffins from cups at once and serve piping hot. If muffin pans whose cups each hold 1-3 cup are used, this recipe will make 10 muffins that will need to be baked 20 to 25 minutes. Serve with the following foods. Sliced Bananas with Orange Juice Soft-Cooked Eggs Cinnamon Muffins Beverage

French Premier Turns Efforts Toward Getting Big 4 Meeting

PARIS (AP)—Bolstered by final French parliamentary approval of German rearmament, Premier Edgar Faure turned his efforts today to getting Allied agreement for Big Four talks soon with Russia. As he prodded the apprehensive French Senate towards its crucial, predawn votes on the Paris accords yesterday, Faure gave assurance he already had contacted the United States and Britain on preparation for a high-level parley with the Kremlin.

STRIKE LEAVES 'EM COLD

What's Happened To Nature Girl?

LONDON (AP)—Did Jane get down to her bra and panties again or was this one of her bathtub days? (And what good would it do just to know?)

The horses are running at Leicester, but which ones? (That hot one will go and will you miss it?)

Did a certain princess elope with a certain Air Force hero? (Not that we know of.)

Did a certain elderly statesman announce retirement? (Nah, not yet.)

And above all, confound it, what does a man hold in front of his face while riding to work on the bus or subway?

Life in London without newspapers has, obviously, a great many frustrations. A wage strike by electricians and maintenance men has suspended publication since Friday of the city's 13 big dailies, the financial and sporting sheets and the Communist Daily Worker. And there's no sign of a break in the deadlock between the publishers and the unions.

The British Broadcasting Corp. does the best it can, but what can a BBC newscast do about Jane, for instance?

Jane is the queen of the comic page of the tabloid Mirror. A national pinup girl, she is blonde, beautiful, giddy, short skirted, and there are many times when she does not seem to realize she's a big girl now.

In full view of a circulation of some 4 1/2 million, Jane manages once every week or so to appear in nothing but flimsy underwear. Once every two weeks or so she is seen as nature made her.

And you take the horses. A horse player gets a hot tip on a 2-year-old which will be turned loose when the trainer finds the right spot at a spring meeting. Every day he's watching the entries and all of a sudden — no newspapers.

So it's a cinch the horse will run somewhere, and he won't get a bet down and it will pay maybe 33-1.

He went further by making an East-West conference — covering all problems "susceptible to a solution" — the final item in a five-point statement of government aims. He stressed the need for full cohesion among the Western Allies before entering into talks with Russia.

Chances of four-power talks were believed greatly improved by Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin's sudden support as the French Senate prepared to vote. In an interview with the Soviet news agency Tass Bulganin expressed his "positive attitude" toward President Eisenhower's news conference remarks last week advocating an East-West meeting after the accords have been fully ratified.

State Department officials in Washington said the Western Big Three were expected to consult promptly on Russia's favorable expression.

Secretary of State Dulles hailed the French Senate's approval of the West German rearmament treaties as "an event of great significance for the free world."

France's next diplomatic move is expected to be a conference between French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer sometime before Easter. The two will seek agreement on details of the split the West German Parliament.

Irving Officials Set Canvass Of School Balloting

IRVING, Tex. (AP)—Officials prepared today to canvass election returns which apparently abolished the Irving School District.

The election was another step in a lengthy community controversy including a walkout of some teachers and principals.

Officials expressed optimism classrooms would stay open without interruption.

Residents voted 1,962-1,648 Saturday to abolish the district. If upheld by canvass, this automatically ousts the seven-member school board which fired Supt. John Beard Feb. 16, touching off the controversy. Beard's discharge led to the walkout of 215 teachers and principals.

Beard backers, who petitioned for the election, say they'll now petition for another to re-create the district.

Between elections, the schools would be under control of three trustees named by the County School Board.

The present board said it fired the 53-year-old Dr. Beard for failure to cooperate. Beard blamed it on a local "political clique."

County School Supt. L. A. Roberts said there was a chance returns could be canvassed and trustees appointed today.

Legally, the present school board is still in charge until votes are canvassed.

Roberts added, "We will do our best to keep from closing the schools—even for a short time. I have heard of no opposition to re-creating an independent school district."

Nine principals and two other school executives who backed Beard were fired. Then, some 200 teachers and other school employees walked out. They were replaced first by volunteer, then by regular personnel.

Beard and teachers are appealing to the State Board of Education. Beard has filed a $300,000 damage suit against the board.

The Irving Citizens Committee, which backed Beard, met yesterday to discuss a new slate of board members.

Charles Young, president of the present board, said questions about whether any or all of its members would try to regain their posts in a new independent district are "premature."

"I just don't know," Young said. "There has been no discussion that I know about. Personally, I don't know about whether I would be a candidate or not."

Young said after the election outcome the board will go along with it "unless irregularities are shown to have occurred which would warrant challenging the election results." He would not elaborate.

Those close to him claimed no effort was made Saturday to determine whether voters lived in the school district. Some voting precincts lie partly within and partly beyond district boundaries.

Survivors Relate Plane Crash Story

SEATTLE (AP)—The dry, choked voice of Mrs. Emma Peterson sounded shocked and far away as she told of the crash landing Saturday of the big Pan American World Airways plane in the Pacific Ocean.

"I didn't know it was John," she said in the voice of a person who wants to but can't cry. "I just noticed that someone had been dragged in all covered with oil."

"I lifted his head up and laid it in my lap so it would not lie in the water on the bottom of the life raft."

"He opened his eyes and smiled weakly, then said, 'Oh, is that you, Emma?'"

"Then he didn't say any more. He groaned, became silent and died there—his head in my lap."

John Peterson, 80, died. And so did three others in the crash landing of the Hawaii-bound plane on a quiet sea 25 miles off the Oregon Coast. His 75-year-old wife survived, along with 18 other passengers and crew members.

The pilot of the big four-engine Stratocruiser, Capt. H. S. Joslyn, was forced to ditch the plane when one engine was wrenched from its mounting and fell into the sea. There was no explanation for the engine's tearing loose.

Last night the survivors brought back their recollections, bitter and sweet, and the bodies of the four who perished.

Three were swept to their deaths by a relentless current and wind that drove them away from life rafts on which the surviving huddled.

Those clustered on the three life rafts could hear the constantly sweaker and more distant cries of those who died in their life jackets, victims of cold, shock and drowning.

"It's something I never want to hear again," a crew member recalled with breaking voice.

Those who came ashore from the Navy transport USS Bayfield in Seattle last night told of the calm of all aboard when Capt. Joslyn ordered over the communication system:

"Get to your seats. Prepare to ditch."

Less than 10 minutes later the ship lurched down on the surface of the water. The tail assembly broke loose and passengers were thrown forward in a disorganized jumble as the plane seats tore loose from their fittings.

Helped by crew members with adjustment of life jackets, the passengers one by one plopped into the sea to fight their way to the life rafts which had been put on the water. The Petersons were the last of the passengers to leave. Capt. Joslyn was the last crew member.

Ten or 15 minutes later, 20 of them were huddled on the three rafts. The other three didn't make it.

Eighteen miles to the north, the Bayfield, carrying a shipload of troops home from Army maneuvers on the California coast, had watched the plane disappear from its radar screen and turned to aid.

It was 11:04 a.m. when the plane went down. The ship reached the life rafts at 12:30. Within three minutes the survivors were being bundled aboard lifeboats and then into the Bayfield's sick bay.

Lost in addition to Peterson were Angus G. Hendrick, 33, Seattle, the copilot; Donald R. Fowler, San Francisco, the flight engineer; and David Darrow, 29, an Auburn, Wash., bank employee.

Darrow and his wife were en route to Honolulu for a vacation.

The answers to everyday insurance problems*
By JESS THORNTON

QUESTION: I've had a $50.00 deductible collision policy for years and have never profited by it. All my accidents (three) have involved less than $50.00 so I had to pay. How much extra would I pay for full coverage?

ANSWER: Much more than you've paid for your damage repairs. Under terms of your $50.00 deductible you're insuring yourself for damages under that amount and your premium is what you've paid out for damage in your three accidents. You're letting the insurance company worry about the big ones that could really hit your pocketbook.

* If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

'Copters Save Stranded Boaters

VANCE, S.C. (AP)—Two helicopters flying a continuous shuttle service brought 93 stranded fishermen and pleasure seekers to safety yesterday. They were among more than 200 marooned overnight by high tides and rough water on Lake Marion.

Most of them—men, women and children—beached their boats on the small islands that dot the 12-mile lake and built bonfires. All made it safely to shore yesterday. No one suffered any more than a slight case of exposure.

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie critics for newspapers and radio and television stations have picked "The Caine Mutiny" as the outstanding film of 1954 in a poll by the trade paper Film Daily. "On the Waterfront" was second.

Drive it away for the price of a smaller car!

Did you know that the price of the Buick pictured here is now, so close to that of the leading smaller cars, that the dollar difference has practically disappeared?

Did you know that this is one of the big reasons why Buick is now in the "Big Three" of America's volume sales leaders—outselling all other cars but two of the best-known smaller cars?

And did you know that another big reason for this huge popularity is Buick's full-line of automobiles covering every price range—from the really-low-priced SPECIAL right up to the custom-built ROADMASTER?

But the clincher is this: More and more people are finding out that the dollars you pay for a Buick buy more sheer automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

More and more people are discovering that you get more comfort, more thrill, more satisfaction here—from Buick size and room, from Buick power and performance, from Buick ride steadiness and engineering and solidity of structure.

And—as we've said right along—more and more people are learning that you can afford a Buick if you can afford any new car.

Why don't you come visit us and judge things for yourself?

We can almost promise you that once you do that—once you see what's to be had here for the money you pay—and once you feel what happens when you press that pedal—you won't be happy again until you have a new Buick of your own.

DID YOU KNOW—

- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below any other car of 100 horsepower and 122-inch wheelbase?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL is priced below some models of the three best-known smaller cars?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL includes as standard equipment at no extra cost a long list of items usually charged for as "extras" by other cars—items such as direction signals, automatic lighting of glove compartment, variable speed windshield wipers with vacuum booster, and so on?
- ★ that the Buick SPECIAL gives you more pounds of automobile than any other car at its low price?

Mr. Baruch Views The Market

The stock market, which broke sharply three weeks ago when the Senate Banking Committee launched its probe, was bounding back just as sharply Wednesday when the committee completed its labor. The rebound was not the first in the last three weeks, either.

ing can have lasting value," the 84-year-old Baruch told the committee. We should, he said, determine just what our national security requires, both what we must do and what our allies must do, then do it. We should forego all tax reductions until our defenses are secure and the budget is balanced. We should discipline ourselves to whatever is required to win the cold war and a real peace.

The detailed record which he kept of the pressures brought to bear on the Army by McCarthy, Cohn & Company, started McCarthy down the long road he has travelled since. But for present and practical purposes, Adams is "a poor player, who struts and frets his hour upon the stage, and then is heard no more."

Yalta 'Leak' Still Mystery

WASHINGTON — Almost two weeks after someone in the State Department "leaked" the Yalta papers to the New York Times there is still no answer from the department on three basic questions.

In 1953 President Eisenhower explained to government agencies, including the State Department, the kind of documents which could be withheld from publication. This was called a "classified" list.

There are three, and three only, kinds of classified material: those which fall under the heading of top secret, secret and confidential. A document which involved national security or endangered this country's relations with its allies could be classified.

Famous Words OF FAMOUS PEOPLE

GOP Club Sets Off 'Break' In Party's Ranks

CHICAGO (U-P) — A Republican group has touched off a drive it terms "the first major break between Eisenhower liberals and the 'isolationist' wing of the party."

The drive was announced yesterday by the Abraham Lincoln National Republican Club. The club said its aim is "to wrest control of the Republican party from the New Dealers and internationalists."

The club was one of the sponsors of a conservative Republican rally in Chicago Feb. 12. Among the speakers were Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin, Sen. Malone of Nevada, Gov. J. Bricker of Ohio and Kit Clardy, former congressman from Michigan — all Republicans.

Capt. Edgar C. Bundy, of suburban Wheaton, the club president, said those speakers have said "they would make themselves available to speak at seminars in each of the 48 states at any time we wish to call them."

Bundy said the Chicago club is being expanded and will establish "recruiting offices around the country."

He also said he is confident that "by the time we are ready for another meeting we will have many other important American leaders on our team, including Senators John W. Bricker (Ohio), Styles Bridges (N.H.), William F. Knowland (Calif.) and William Jenner (Ind.)."

In Washington, Knowland declined comment; Bridges said he has had no contact with the sponsors and knew "nothing about their plans." In Columbus, Ohio, Bricker said: "I don't know who they are. They've made no contact with me." Jenner was not available for comment.

The Abraham Lincoln Club was founded in 1945 and has headquarters in Chicago. It has no official connection with the party. Bundy said it has about 1,200 members in some 25 states.

Byrd Lashes Tax Cut Drive

WASHINGTON (U-P) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) hoisted a stop signal today to Democrats and Republicans bent on cutting taxes in 1956's election year.

Byrd, who heads the tax-handling Senate Finance Committee, said in an interview he will fight any tax cut — whether it is suggested by Democrats or Republicans — until the budget is balanced.

Moreover, he said he won't go along with the idea expressed recently by President Eisenhower that it might be possible to cut taxes next year if budget balancing is in sight but not actually achieved.

"I don't go for that idea at all," he said. "The way to get a tax cut is to reduce expenses so that the budget actually is balanced. Until it is balanced, I am not willing to reduce taxes and borrow the money to do it."

CIO Readies 30-Hour Work Week Demand

CLEVELAND (U-P) — The 30-hour work week is being readied by the CIO United Auto Workers as the next bargaining target after the present drive for the guaranteed annual wage.

The union's leaders are concentrating on whipping up support among the more than 3,000 delegates at the UAW's annual convention for the year-around pay plan. But they talk of the shorter work week as the next big step.

In fact, Walter Reuther, president of the CIO and the 1 1/2-million-member UAW, indicated in his convention keynote address he sees no end in sight to organized labor's demands for more pay and improved working conditions so long as the American economy keeps expanding.

"When we go to the bargaining table," he said, "management asks, 'Don't you ever get tired of asking for more and more and more?'"

He said unions never will let up so long as they feel their demands are "economically just and economically necessary" and while science and technology continue to create more abundance.

"We are going in year after year and ask for more and more and more because we are entitled to more and more and more," he said.

The UAW has made the guaranteed wage plan its major demand on the auto industry in bargaining talks due to start in early April. It would bind employers to pay 52 full weeks of pay a year regardless of whether there was that much work for employees.

A cut of the present 40-hour week to 30 hours would mean it would take 25 per cent more individual employees to perform the same amount of work as now, if the cost of overtime penalty pay was to be avoided. It would also mean extending the annual employment guarantee to more employees.

Delegates were due to decide today on Reuther's proposal to boost members' $2.50 monthly dues temporarily to $7.50, effective in May, to increase the present seven-million-dollar strike fund to 25 million.

alley romance to me. Right is right and wrong is wrong, and never the twain shall meet. Your problem doesn't even fall into the gray zone.

Character is that something inside a person that keeps him from swiping an apple from the other kid's lunch when he is little, someone else's girl when he is older, and eventually the other fellow's wife.

Character, perhaps, is best described by the little boy who said it is "doing what you oughta even when you know no body's lookin'." Remember your Golden Rule. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." Think of the boy's steady.

There is nothing wrong in liking the boy. Further, there is nothing wrong in hoping to date him, but for goodness sake, think more of yourself than accepting the role of "the other woman." You deserve more than that, and the boy who does not agree is not worthy of you.

Don't descend to the level of being the girl he comes to for diversion when he is tired of his steady. Lay down the law. You like him, but you are not going to date him on the sly. He is not being fair to his steady. You know he has more character than to act this way, else you could not like him yourself. (Give him something to live up to.) Refuse to be the temptation that is bringing out less than the best in him.

If he wants to date you, he'll have to become a free-lance dater again.

Whatever his decision, circumstances will now take a turn for the better. A boy who likes a girl enough will do all in his power to protect her honor; otherwise she is better off without him.

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Island was a center for the metal during ancient times, and the Greeks called it Kupros. Later the Romans spoke of it as Cuprum.

With passing time, the name of the island turned into Cyprus, but the name of the metal became copper in English.

Tomorrow: The South Seas.

A young shepherd on the island Cyprus.

A dispute still remains to be settled over the island of Cyprus. Greece would like to have Great Britain place the island in the hands of the Greeks.

Q. Where is Cyprus, and what kind of people live there?

A. Cyprus is at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea, hardly 40 miles from the coast of Turkey. The people are mainly of Greek and Turkish stock.

Q. Who owned Cyprus before the British took it?

A. The island has a long history. During various periods in ancient times it was under the power of Phoenicia, Egypt, Assyria and Persia.

Crusaders invaded and conquered Cyprus, and ruled it during a portion of the Middle Ages. Next it was taken over the soldiers and sailors of Venice. Still later it fell into the hands of the Turks.

THE FRENZIED GROPE

pursues the glitter and passes up the gold

The GROPE is an advertiser who'd rather be flashy than right.

He walks when others are riding, and shaves with a goldplated axe.

Seeks pie in the sky rather than use the one medium that's proven productive so long for so many.

Fortunately, the GROPE is a rare creature.

Wise advertisers know that the newspaper is basic — no matter what the virtues of other media are.

They know that almost every person in every community reads a newspaper sometime during each day.

They also know that people have a strong allegiance to their newspapers, believe in newspapers, and shop from newspapers.

Thus, whatever advertising schedule they build, they make newspapers their solid foundation.

No wonder advertisers placed more money in newspapers last year than they did in television, radio, magazines and outdoor — combined!

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

More Work Due On East Second
East Second Street, recently opened all the way out to Birdwell Lane, is due to be reworked in the future.

The street was opened through combined efforts of the county and city, and at the present time is described as being "passable." Opening followed the donation of right-of-way by property owners adjacent to the street. The portion which was unpaved with dirt was paved from the downtown area eastward to State, however.

The portion of the street to be reworked is just east of State, where the city had a huge hill to cut through. A cut was made, but quite a bit more dirt must be moved before the street reaches the desired level.

The dirt which was removed from the hill was cut by county machinery, as the city does not have the proper equipment.

County commissioners allowed the machinery to be used so that some of the dirt could be used for a fill on lawlands east of Big Spring which were being flooded.

When the desired amount of dirt was removed from the fill, county equipment was pulled off the job. The city then leveled the street at the depth cut.

City Engineer Clifton Bellamy said that the street is still on the city's work agenda as an unfinished project. The desired cut will be made when equipment is available, he said.

Peron Paper Hits Prelates

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The newspaper Democracia said today ranking prelates of the Roman Catholic Church were "the worst and most insidious enemies" of President Juan D. Peron's program for the working classes.

Democracia published a front page editorial about the church under the heading "Crocodile Tears." This was offered as an answer to a pastoral letter, read in all Argentine Catholic churches yesterday, defending the position of the clergy in a dispute with the Peron government which has raged since last November.

The newspaper ranks as a semi-official government organ and its editorial is considered an authoritative statement of the Peron administration's views. Democracia denied, point by point, every statement made in the pastoral letter.

The clergy were the bitterest foes of Peron's social program, the paper declared, adding: "These cardinals, archbishops and bishops who today shamefully claim virtues to which they are not entitled were hidden accomplices in this exploitation (of workers) because, instead of arising like Christ in defense of the humble, they prepared a shameful and cowardly resignation to the workers."

County Adopts Worker Policies

Three policies involving county personnel, recommended by the county engineer, were formally adopted by the commissioners court this morning.

Plans for securing additional freeway right-of-way in the Coahoma area also were discussed and City Commissioner Curtis Driver conferred with the court briefly on the possibility of clearing the water drainage channel at the eastern edge of Big Spring. No action was taken on either of the latter.

The principal recommendation of County Engineer Foster Dickey had to do with payment of medical expenses for on-the-job injuries. He suggested that the county reiterate its policy that such expenses would be paid by the county, if not covered by insurance.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said that has been the policy, but that it should be emphasized to workers. Dickey had said that some employees apparently were under the impression that treatment for such injuries might be at their own expense.

Dickey also recommended that any requests which he rejects for work off public roads be referred to the commissioners court for final decision.

The other personnel policy concerned the filing of complaints. Dickey suggested, and commissioners approved, that when a complaint is made against someone, the person complained against be present when charges are made.

High Court Upholds Ban On Optics Ads

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today upheld the right of states to ban the advertising of eyeglasses in any manner.

The court declared a valid Oklahoma law making it illegal for anyone "to solicit the sale of spectacles, eyeglasses, lenses and prisms by radio, window display, television, telephone directory advertising or by any other means of advertising."

The ad ban is part of a law passed by the Oklahoma legislature intended to protect the public against "activities in the field of visual care deemed detrimental to the public interest." Oklahoma officials said 27 other states have similar bans.

Justice Douglas delivered the 8-0 decision. Justice Harlan took no part.

Today's ruling also upheld the validity of the Oklahoma law making it illegal to fit glasses except upon written prescriptive authority of an Oklahoma-licensed optometrist or ophthalmologist.

Douglas' opinion said the Oklahoma law "may exact a needless, wasteful requirement in many cases."

"But," he added, "it is for the legislature, not the courts, to balance the advantages and disadvantages of the new requirements."

The law forbids a retail establishment from advertising, displaying or renting space to any person "purporting to do eye examinations or visual care." It prohibits the advertising of frames, mountings and other optical appliances.

"It is enough that there is an evil at hand for correction, and that it might be thought that the particular legislative measure was a rational way to correct it," Douglas said.

"The day is gone when this court uses the due process clause of the Constitution's 14th Amendment to strike down state laws regulatory of business and industrial conditions, because they may be unwise, improvident or out of harmony with a particular school of thought."
