Electronic Kookiness

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you are interested in electronics but sated with Hi-Fi or Citizen's Band radio, don't give away your soldering iron without considering the kooky side of science.

You can wow a Saturday night party or keep the youngsters virtually hypnotized on a rainy Saturday with some of the do-it-yourself electronic stunts now within the novice's reach.

Take EMILY, which can be built in a few hours out of a dishpan, two photocells, two miniature motors and an elementary transistor circuit.

EMILY stands for Electro-Mechanical Intebriated Ladybug.

What does she do? Chugging along on two model-airplane wheels, she will follow a white line anywhere you draw it — or a flashlight beam. The see-saw sensing process of the photocells accounts for her tipsy behaviour.

Plans for building EMILY are featured in the March issue of Popular Electronics.

The content of such publications seems to indicate some of the best brains in electronics are busy working out enjoyable or offbeat gimmicks for the hobbyist.

The same magazine, for example, describes a delightful electronic toy which can be used as a scientific bingo game.

A total of 3,046 deer were killed by cars in Wisconsin in 1960, an increase of 55 from 1959.

Why are some cooks "lucky" all the time?

the modern answer is gas

A modern gas range makes good luck automatic. Set a roast to come out a shade under well done, and that's exactly what you get. You'll never again scorch a dessert sauce. Same goes for scrambled eggs, custard, creamed vegetables, and anything else you slow-cook. And you can cook dinner, hold it up for hours, and still serve it moist and warm clear through. Automatic features on the new gas ranges give you this absolute control. But it's the precision of gas itself that makes these features work. And, once you've enjoyed the precision of modern gas cooking, you'll never be happy with anything else.

Area Farmers Apprehensive As Estes Case Develops

22 Attend Sesame Meeting In Bovina

Sesame production and marketing trends and developments were discussed at a steak dinner in Bovina Restaurant Monday night.

Robert Parker, vice president of Texas Sesame Growers, presented a brief resume of the industry and its present trends.

"Last year, 23 million pounds of sesame were imported," Parker said. "When the industry was first started here (1956-57), the total consumption was only 10 million pounds," he added.

Parker reported that a bill

(HB 10330) is now before the legislature to allow sesame growers to grow the crop on diverted grain acres and collect one-half of the diverted acre payment. Last year, sesame could be grown on diverted acres but the diverted acre payment was forfeited.

With the high grain base on most farms in Parmer County which provided sizable diverted acre payments, most of the farmers chose to take the payment rather than grow sesame, Parker reported. The bill was designed to encourage farmers to grow the oil crop. Sesame growers may expect an average of at least $52 per acre net return on their investment under average conditions, according to the information disclosed at the meeting.

"Margo Sesame is the best variety to use in this area," Parker told the 22 men gathered at the dinner sponsored by Cummings Farm Store of Friona, sesame dealer in Parmer County.

For most efficient production, sesame requires one less watering than does grain sorghum, according to Parker. A hot, 120 to 130 day growing season is also best for production.

Raymond Hodges, association field representative at Muleshoe, described the progress being made on the self-feeding attachment for a combine to harvest sesame. Movie of the machine in operation were also shown.

Sampling sesame chips which are now being manufactured in Paris, Texas as part of the sesame market expansion are Carl Schlenker (L), of Rhea, Robert Parker, vice president of Texas Sesame Growers, Doyle Cummings, Friona and Curtis Murphree, Friona. The four were among the 22 men attending the county sesame meeting in Bovina Monday night.

Parmer County farmers are viewing the developments in the case against the Estes Enterprises with keen interest but have escaped direct involvement to date.

A check on chattel mortgages at the courthouse failed to reveal any mortgages of undue size or without ample reason.

In addition, the number of tanks mortgaged in the county is not apparently out of line with the number of tanks actually needed in county operations. A full check of county records was conducted about six weeks ago in an effort to determine whether mortgages similar to those discovered in Reeves County also existed here. Results were negative.

Several farmers with ammonia contracts with Associated Growers of Friona have voiced some apprehension concerning the assurance of future delivery according to their agreement. Any statement concerning the future operation of Associated Growers of Friona would be speculative.

Several thousand dollars have been paid by farmers as advance payments on ammonia contracts in consideration of the present low price, according to information supplied by farmers in the area. The exact figures are not available.

No action has been taken against the company and no report as to the future operation of the company is accessible at this time.

Although farmers do not agree with the illegal operations of the Estes Enterprises, they have reaped a sizeable profit due to lower prices paid for ammonia since Estes entered the field.

Ammonia prices fell from around seven cents per pound to a low of two and one-half cents per pound in the county after Estes and his associates entered the field. According to the reliable reports, ammonia sold at less than cost during the lowest price period.

Several reports of illegal transactions of ammonia during the past five years have been received by Parmer county newspapers, but no undeniable proof has been obtained at present.

Although the question is far from settled, present indications are that Associated Growers' operations in Parmer county will continue.

Local Delegates Attend National FU Convention

Several area people recently returned from Denver after attending the 60th Annual Convention of National Farmers Union.

Those attending the convention were: Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Lesly, Mr. and Mrs. Wyle Bullock, Mrs. O. D. Splitter.

The meeting which ended Thursday, March 22, was highlighted by addresses from the Secretary of Agriculture, Orville Freeman.

NFU President James G. Patton set the tone of the significant meeting with a stimulating address in which he called for the United States to take the driver's seat now in the "race for Peace."

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT DERYL COKER

Time flies, and thus planting time is just around the corner, but before we plant we should be ready. It is very hard to make plans for the whole growing season because of the adverse weather conditions that exist in Parmer County. But a farmer can put a lot of the factors affecting crop production in his favor. We are all after obtaining high yields with a low per unit production cost. To reach high production, all the factors which influence production must be balanced. Water is only one factor which must be managed properly if production is to be maximum.

We should all study the water requirements of the crops that we grow. The time and amount of irrigation water will vary with the soil type and stage of growth the plant is in.

Another factor we must look at real close is the variety. Any variety can be under irrigation; however, some are better adapted than others. A farmer must continue to check new varieties, but should not plant very many acres, and he should plant the majority of his acres in a variety already proven successful on his farm.

High yields often determine which varieties are recommended for a particular locality; however this factor should not be the sole or overriding consideration. Others such as (1) fiber properties (2) boll and plant characteristics, (3) harvesting and ginning methods, (4) seed sources and (5) local preference should be taken into account.

Here are a few storm-proof varieties that are recommended by the Texas A & M Extension Service (1) Paymaster 101, (2) Western S. P. (3) Gregg (4)

Macha No. 1, (5) Blightmaster, (6) Locket S.P. 1. Some of these varieties are fast maturing and some are later maturing - varieties. Our growing season is fairly short, so the time a variety requires until it is mature is important.

Here are some resistant and open varieties that are recommended, (1) Dunn &, (2) Stormking, (3) Lankart 57, (4) Lockett 140, (5) Northern Star (6) Paymaster 54. These varieties will also vary from slow to fast maturing varieties.

We have bulletins available in our office that will give more detailed information on these varieties.

Varieties should be selected on a basis on known performance in the area where they are to be grown. Varieties which do well in the Lower Rio Grande Valley may not live up to expectations on the High Plains. The producer should study all available current research findings, so that he can stay up to date on cotton varieties.

Cotton is a hot weather plant and should be planted only after certain minimum soil temperatures have been attained. For best results, the minimum soil temperature at a depth of 8 inches should not be lower than 60 degrees F. during any 24-hour period, for 10 days preceding planting. This condition general will not be met until early May on the High Plains. Cotton planted 30 days in advance of the optimum planting date for a given area will not necessarily permit harvest 30 days earlier. In most cases such a margin will be reduced by one half to two-thirds by harvest time. Planting too early seldom justifies the risk involved in having the seed and young plants exposed for longer periods to natural hazards, such as rain, hail, cold, disease and insects.

INTRODUCING--Little Elk No. T-950 (left and Peter Red Fox No. 2226 right) standing at stud. Little Elk and Peter Red Fox are both registered appaloosas with four generations of spots on both sire and side. Little Elk is a red roan with leopard spots. With this, you can put a distinctive color on your colts from good quarter mares and never have a doubt but what you bred to a top quarter horse. Peter Red Fox is a new stallion in our stables. We purchased him from Harold (Fuzzy) Brown. Peter Red Fox was raised by Pete Smith of Tatum, New Mexico. Peter Red Fox's sire was Poteete B who was the halter champion at Denver, Colorado five years ago. Poteete B is by Buttons B, who is by Double Six Domino and Double Six Domino is by COMANCHE. Comanche has sired one of the greatest and most outstanding line of Appaloosa horses. If you want color, conformation, action and a kind disposition with a choice and combination of the four, breed your solid colored mares to Little Elk or Peter Red Fox. We don't consider ourselves an authority on appaloosas but experience of other breeders and common sense tells us that you have a 50% better chance to get a spotted colt from a full-blooded appaloosa with four generations of spots than you have with a half appaloosa when crossing them to solid colored mares. Stud fee on both stallions will be $50.00 for 1962. Please come and see them at: Snipes Appaloosa Acres (Jake Snipes and Sons), Route 3, Box 215, Clovis, New Mexico. Phone No. PO3-7570 or PO3-3455.

A farmer bought a painting, took it home, and hung it first one way then another. Each time, the effect was confusing. Finally his wife asked: "What in the world is that supposed to be?" "Why," said the farmer, "it's a realistic picture of the farm situation. No matter how you look at it, it just doesn't make sense."

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

BY JUNE FLOYD

A recipe which Evelyn Macon of Bovina sent this column is very timely. In the not too far distant future, strawberries will be abundant. Most homemakers agree that if there's anything they enjoy more than fresh strawberries it is more fresh strawberries.

STRAWBERRY PIE

1 1/2 cups water (use strawberry juice if available)
1/2 cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar mixed with 3 tablespoons cornstarch
Pinch of salt
Combine ingredients and boil until thick. Cool. Add 5 or 6 drops almond flavoring. Mix in one quart fresh strawberries. Fill baked pie shell with mixture then top with whipped cream.

So much is being said and written about the importance of human beings being able to remain calm and self-possessed in order to live longer and enjoy life better that homemakers should encourage members of their household to pursue courses that lead in this direction.

A few simple rules that anyone, regardless of his station in life, can apply to daily living were printed recently in a leaflet that found its way to my desk.

Farm Chemicals Explained Friday

Area farmers will have a chance to learn of new chemicals designed and developed for use in agriculture at a meeting in the Hub Community center Friday at 9 a.m.

Representatives from several chemical manufacturers have been invited to explain their products by Hub Fertilizer, sponsor of the meeting.

Among the chemicals described and demonstrated in movies will be a new systemic insecticide which is planted with the seed and picked up through the roots of the plants to make the juices of the plant poison to pests, and a herbicide which is applied over the seed bed and prevents weeds from emerging but allows cotton or grain sorghum to grow at the normal rate. This herbicide leaves the furrows free of choking weeds and reduces or eliminates the need for expensive hoeing and keeps weeds from choking the plants.

Chemicals aimed at fungus diseases will also be shown, according to Bill Wooley, Hub Fertilizer owner.

The two hour meeting will provide the information on chemicals which are becoming more important to the agriculture industry each year due to the changes in the labor situation - such as the restrictions placed on the bracero program. Farmers will be forced to resort to chemicals or machinery to replace labor used in the past, unless present trends are reversed in the near future.

Companies represented at the meeting will be Chemagro, Ortho (a division of California Spray Chemical), and Rowland Gordon Chemical Company.

NEWS FROM THE ### FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

"Our Father, we are met here tonight to seek an escape from the delima into which we have gotten ourselves by depending on the knowledge of men instead of Divine guidance. We pray that you will be with us."

This was the invocation at a recent farmer's meeting which impressed us as being sincere, concise, humble and appropriate. It expresses thought that it would be well for all Christians to consider in our prayers and aspirations, we believe.

In a Farm Bureau meeting the other night, Bill Wedemeyer restated the fact that since 1920, Farm Bureau has had an important part in every major piece of farm legislation that has been enacted. He added that there was some of it of which he was not too proud, but that membership judged it to be best at the time of their support. Honesty, integrity, truthfulness and humility are qualities that must prevail in men's hearts if we are to find a workable program for the welfare of our farmers and all citizens, he said.

A foreign correspondent for nearly forty years, Hunter began his career as reporter and news editor of the Tokyo Advertiser and editor of the Hankow Herald and Peiping Leader.

"My career," he says, "paralleled the development of modern psychological warfare. . . I saw the creation of the puppet state of Manchukuo, was in Ethiopia for the conquest of that country by the Fascists, and witnessed two Spanish civil wars. . . I covered the various foreign offices in Europe from Wilhelmstrasse and 10 Downing Street to the D'Orsay, on the eve of World War II, and saw the elements that were building up into a psychological warfare pattern."

Hunter's appearance in Amarillo is sponsored by the Freedom Information Center, at 1410 West Eighth Avenue. Admission is $1 for adults and 50¢ for students. Mail orders will be filled.

will be conducted by the USDA, but testimony will be heard both for and against. All evidence will be presented under oath, and we hope many farmers will be present, potato growers particularly, but any farmer should be interested in this subject because it will finally concern all production items.

On the same day, April 12, at nine A.M., the annual noxious weed control demonstrations will be held at Bushland Experiment Station, and some members of your Farm Bureau Weed Committee, some FFA boys and instructors plus County Agent, Deryl Coker are going up there.

One hundred and ninety five Farm Bureau members renewed this month, (March) and 29 new members were received, making a total payment for 224. This gives a membership of 512, 28 short of the quota of 540. We believe when the balance of the workers have reported the quota will be about filled. If you weren't contacted, maybe you would like to send in your dues, or come in and see us.

Peggy White

Peggy White Named For State FHA Prize

Miss Peggy White, Farwell senior and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. White, has been chosen for the state degree of achievement in Future Homemakers of America. The degree will be awarded at the annual meeting of the Texas Association of Future Homemakers in Dallas April 27. Because of her participation in the senior play, Miss White will be unable to attend the state meeting. ### JOTTIN'S By Jeanne Dorothy Eason had a note from Bulger Dycus, former local man, who now resides near Seattle in Arlington. He remarks "If you hear of anyone from there coming to the World's Fair, tell them to come to see us." The family resides at Rt. 2, Box 166, Arlington, Wash. Mrs. E. G. Williams was telling me this week that she misses recipes each week in "Jottins"; I do appreciate any new recipes to include. Of course, I'm always afraid of the calories because I have to try all of them too. But let me know if you have a new one.

This is what the beloved Will Rogers thought of the weekly newspaper: "Take away my ham, take away my eggs, even my chili, but leave me my newspaper. Even if it has such purely local news as 'Jim Jones came home last night unexpectedly and bloodshed ensued', or 'Jes Bushyhead, our local M.D., is having one of the best years in his career, practically speaking--but they just won't pay him when they get well,' and 'election ain't far off, and everybody is up for office that can sign an application blank.' "Now all that don't seem much news to you. But it is news, especially when you know the people and they are your own folks. So, no matter how punk you think your local newspaper is, let them take it away from you for a while and see how you feel. The old newspaper, I think is about our biggest blessing.

"So let's read and be merry, for tomorrow the paper may not have enough ads to come out." If you are interested in checking back on your family history, a workshop is planned at Mary E. Bivins Library at 10th and Polk in Amarillo Saturday, 1 until 9 p. m. According to a news release, most Texans have family lines that were well established before the American revolution.

Charlie Phillips, former local song writer, who now lives in Amarillo, has written another song "I Guess I'll Never Learn", Western tune. He has written others, but "Sugartime" is probably the most well known.

Uncle Ray's "Hot Air"

A small boy was bored on a long auto trip. Suddenly he turned to his father and said: "I wish you'd let Mom drive -- it's more exciting."

A teacher was explaining the wondrous things of science as discovered about the universe. "Just think," she exclaimed, "the light we need comes all the way from the sun at a speed of 186,000 miles per second. Isn't that almost unbelievable?" "Aw, I dunno," retorted one unimpressed youngster. "After all, it's down hill all the way."

It will be down hill for you too -- when you shop Uncle Ray's low prices, everyday!

Texico Youth Hurt in Wreck

Jerry Reid, 21-year-old Texico youth, was to be released from the Clovis hospital Thursday following treatment for injuries sustained in a one-car accident on East 21st St., Clovis, Saturday afternoon.

Jerry apparently lost control of the 1962 model Corvair which overturned one and a half times. The car, which belonged to his brother, Kenneth, was a total loss.
Reid was treated for cuts and bruises, and 24 stitches were required to close a cut on his head. He is the son of Mrs. Ruth Reid, Texico.

Attend Funeral

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Medley returned from Hobart, Okla., where they attended funeral services of a niece, Mrs. Jewel Cruse, who was killed in a car accident.

Mrs. Medley had just returned from a visit to relatives in Hobart when the family received word of the tragedy.

Dieting Advice: Eye Portions, Not the Calories

CHICAGO (UPI) — One of the country's pioneer producers of diet and health foods believes low calorie foods make poor diet fare.

Dr. Stephen Gaymont, Hungarian-born bacteriologist, objects to crash diets of all low calorie foods because they fail to produce the good eating habits conducive to maintaining proper weight over the long run.

Gaymont, who introduced yogurt into the United States, believes the only effective way to diet is to eat anything you like, but in sensible quantities. He's all for letting you eat cake on a diet, but in small pieces.

If you deprive yourself of cake and other goodies on a diet, Gaymont maintains, these are the first things you eat after discontinuing the diet.

BUT NOT DIFFERENT

Here and there America is building modernistic churches. No one's quite sure where the trend will lead . . . or whether it yet should be called a trend.
But the thousands who have worshipped in these contemporary sanctuaries seem certain of this: The new architecture hasn't changed the age-old faith. Christianity has known many forms of worship, many terms of expression. But there has always been Unity underlying diversity. Christians worship the same God and Lord; they revere the same Cross; they search the same Scriptures.
Through human architects who express their devotion in different forms, The Divine Architect is pointing all men to the spire of Faith.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
