

Plans Made To Pave Farwell

All of the town of Farwell with the exception of only 3 1/2 blocks will be paved. Citizens attending a public meeting called by the City Commission voted their approval of the project Friday.

Excluded on the paving program are the blocks north and south of the jail and 1/2 block east of the jail, and the lake bed block east of Farwell Baptist Church, according to a motion made by Bill Prince, Hurshel Harding seconded the proposal, which was approved.

Estimates based on the city's income and expenses were given and city officials predict that the paving program can be paid for in five years, without raising taxes.

Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, city's engineer, was present and answered questions about the paving, which will be 22 feet wide and does not include curb and gutter. Residents are urged to install curb and gutter on an individual basis and the engineer and contractor can aid in installing it according to specifications.

Douglas made a maximum estimate of $2.75 to $3 per level foot to install the improvement. He did say, however, that it would not be advisable for curb and gutter to be installed unless individuals subscribed to one entire block, at least on one side of the street.

Also, Douglas says, anyone who already has paving and would like to install curb and gutter, can make arrangements to have this done now, by contacting the city offices

Members of Farwell City Commission point to streets that will be included in the paving program that was given the go-ahead at a public meeting Friday afternoon. Ebb Randol points out proposed areas as Sam Aldridge and C. C. Christian hold the map.

In a brief review of the financial statement of the city, Sam Aldridge, mayor, revealed that the city owes $12,500 on the 1956 fire station bonds and payment is $1500 yearly. A balance of $3000 is owed on the sewer bond, payment is $500 a year. Balance owed on the paving of two years ago is $8000. Payments this year will run $10,000, but the $8000 note will be retired.

Payments of $2000 yearly plus interest will remain on city's indebtedness on past improvements.

Based on 1961 collections, $19,562.54 was received from ad valorem taxes; $6758.50 from sewer collections; $2,469.93 from franchises and the remainder from hall rent for a total of $28,988.97. Income has been increasing about $1000 a year, Aldridge says.

The city commission tries to run the city on $1000 a month which includes salaries, utilities, repairs and other expenses; but as a maximum, officials feel that the city can be operated on $15,000 a year.

The 20 attendants at the meeting discussed the possibility of only 28 blocks of paving which would include all streets on which homes are built, with notes to be paid in four years. But the final decision was to "do it all now." Douglas estimated it would cost about $36,000 to pave all the town, and about $25,000 to pave only residential streets.

Bids for the paving work will be taken April 16.

GOING UP are the walls of a concrete block building which, when completed, will house the Farwell Grain Exchange and the county ASC offices. The new structure is owned by Bill Prince and is being constructed by Raymond Jesko. The building, which will have 4200 square feet of floor space, is located on the corner of 9th Street and Avenue B, and faces east.

Building To Be Complete June 1

A concrete block building with brick veneer front being constructed at the corner of 9th Street and Avenue B in Farwell is scheduled to be completed around June 1, says Bill Prince, who is building the business house.

The structure, to have some 4200 square feet of floor space, will house the Farwell Grain Exchange laboratory and offices and also the county ASC offices, reports Prince. The ASC office will rent approximately 2800 feet of the building.

The area in front of the building will be paved for parking.

Raymond Jesko is in charge of construction.

Farwell Grain Exchange, owned by Prince, is now housed in the basement of the City Hall, and the ASC office is located on Avenue A east of Christian-Stone Motor Co.

Clara's Cafe Opens Monday

Opening for business Monday morning was Clara's Cafe, located in the old City Cafe building on Avenue A in Farwell.

The building has been completely redecorated and now features a white and pink color theme. Three walls are white, with one being finished with a wood paneling. Off-white leatherette booth chairs and white tables with pink tops highlight the dining area.

The kitchen also features all new equipment.

Operator of the new cafe is Mrs. Clara Mae Billingsley, who formerly operated the AA Bowl Cafe. Personnel employed by Mrs. Billingsley at her former location are at the new business.

Mrs. Billingsley says that the cafe will be open at 6 a.m. each day and that hot biscuits will be served with breakfast. Sunday dinners will also be served, she says. Also featured on the menu are homemade pies and good hot coffee.

An advertisement in this issue announces the opening.

Work Begins On New City Park

The Farwell City Park was the chief topic when members of the Chamber of Commerce met Tuesday afternoon. Procedure for park improvement was decided with those present recommending that most of the older trees be pulled out to allow seeding of grass and planting of new, healthier trees. Work began at the park Wednesday morning. The park area is located south of the courthouse.

Second major problem discussed in getting the park improvement started was the watering system needed and Wilfred Quikkel was asked to check into the best possibilities and report to the directors.

Hursel Harding, president, and Joe Jones surveyed the park area Tuesday and were to make arrangements for the disposal of the trees.

Attendants talked about preparing the area for grass seeding and installation of covered picnic tables. Further plans will depend on cost of the above work and money available for the project. The city has agreed to take care of upkeep after the park is completed.

Lack of interest by membership of the Chamber of Commerce was discussed, with attendants showing concern over this problem.

The group decided to send a letter to A. L. Black, chairman of the Soil Conservation Board of Supervisors of Parmer County, recommending that dams be built on Running Water Draw if the landowners donate the sites.

Harding reported that the Chamber of Commerce purchased one animal at the Parmer County stock show.

That some should be rich shows that others may become rich, and hence is just encouragement to industry and enterprise. . . . Let not him who is houseless pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus by example assuring that his own shall be safe from violence. . . . I take it that it is best for all to leave each man free to acquire property as fast as he can. Some will get wealthy. Joanne Brown In Play Cast

PORTALES (Special) -- "Mrs. McThing," often called "a fairy tale for children of all ages," has been cast for presentation at Eastern New Mexico University April 12-14. Joanne Brown is a member of the cast.

The comic fantasy, which starred Helen Hayes in its Broadway version, was written by Mary Chase, who delighted the nation with "Harvey," a comedy about an invisible 7-foot rabbit.

WANDERLUST

You see a giant ship at dockside and suddenly, you yearn to board her and journey to far-off, exotic ports.

Why? For the sake of excitement — adventure — or because, like most people, you feel the need to escape, at times, even from yourself?

This desire to escape is human. But it is also impossible. No matter where you go, the self you'd like to fling away, travels with you.

Sail the seven seas, if you can. But first find personal peace. Go to church. God shows you, through His Church, the only way that you, and that self of yours, truly can travel together.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

length gown of white lace over satin. The gown featured a scalloped neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls. The fitted bodice flowed into a bouffant skirt and was highlighted by a large butterfly bow in the back. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and sequins.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. For something old she wore pearls belonging to her maternal grandmother and carried a wedding band and lace handkerchief belonging to two of her great-grandmothers. Something blue was a garter given her by her sister and something new was her bridal ensemble. Something borrowed was her crown.

Melynda Kaye Ritchie, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a dress of pink nylon organdy, styled with a boat neckline and cap sleeves. A white lace hat, white gloves and shoes completed her ensemble. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Best man was Clifford Tuttle of Lubbock. Ushers were Delton Wilhite, cousin of the bride, and John Followill, brother of the groom.

Wiley Baker, Mrs. Charlie Felts, Mrs. Boone Allison and Jacque Baker sang wedding selections.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Jackson at Lariat.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, Alamogordo and El Paso, the bride wore a navy blue sheath dress with matching accessories.

The bride was graduated from Farwell High School in 1960 and is presently employed at Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. at Lubbock in the accounting department.

Followill attended Lubbock High School and graduated from Texas Tech in 1960. He is now a teaching fellow in Texas Tech and will receive his master's degree in math in June.

The couple will make their home at 2303 B, 15th St., Lubbock.

HD Agent Describes New Fashion Trend

With Spring just around the corner fashion seems to blossom out with the flowers. Ready-to-wear and fabric shops have a flower garden of fashionable garments and fabrics for spring.

Whatever the weather, it will be a "sun-bright" season for cotton. Picturesque colors will be popular, including bright, flag-waving shades of red, white, and blue, and warm citrus colors of lemon, lime, and orange. Brown will be the neutral color, as well as neutral beige and gray. Black and white is still favored for another season. Additional color interest comes in sky blue, porcelain blue, lightened navy, and fresh clear aqua.

The fashion look for dresses this season will feature femininity. Look for sleeves, normal waistlines, waist-length jackets, capes, ruffles, bias cuts and soft skirts.

Many different shapes will be in vogue. These will include the princess styles, flared skirts, raised waistlines, overblouses and the popular jacket dress. Three-piece costumes also will be featured, with open cutaway jackets made with narrow revers collars. The loose coat will fall softly from high busted smoothness. Fitted fronts, loose backs, and set-in sleeves will be used in both coats and suits.

Tunics, and overblouses or tuck-in blouses will be worn under coats and jackets of varying length. Stoles will be used for daytime as well as evening. Collarless necklines, small collars, and revers collars also will be stressed. Suit and coat fabrics will include smooth silk and worsted blends in dressy styles. There will be emphasis on black and bright colors. Lacy wools and mohair looped for a soft surface will also be used for coats and suits. The textured look will continue.

A softer, more feminine look is due in women's sportswear this season. Waistlines will be marked, but not cinched. Feminine influence will include ruffles, flounces, frills and fringes in sportswear. Skirts may have pleats or gentle flares. Overblouses will be more fitted and a bit shorter. Knitwear will follow two directions for fine gauge knits as well as bulky textures. Sweaters may be worn tucked in for the first time in a long time.

Stretch fabric will be widely used in pants, jackets, pullovers, skirts, and tops. Colors, which have been on the vivid side, will swing away from the brights toward the darks.

For blouses and dresses, lightweight fabrics will be popular this season. These fabrics include chiffons, organzas and crepes. Textured silks, silk-cotton and all-cotton tweeds, and smooth silk and worsted blends will be used in quantity. For accessories handbags will take a ladylike approach to spring. Although a variety of handbag shapes will be featured, they will be trimmed down in size. Colored patents and reptiles will look new this spring. Smaller and more slender handbags, envelopes, sleek lines and semi-circular handles and rounded bases will be other new features. In gloves, four-button models to meet longer sleeves will be used as well as eight-button lengths. Neutral-toned leather, colored fabrics and stretch nylons will continue to make glove news. Seamless stretch hose will be available in a wide variety of fashion shades this season. Demi-toe and sandalfoot hose will be popular.

Spring hair styles are destined to set a trend with dancing hair effects that swing, sway and flip up into light-hearted and amusing curls. The dancing coiffures have a tender and lighthearted touch to make this the youngest and gayest spring ever, according to the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. A keynote of the new style is the departure from the watermelon to the smaller heads. Hair lengths continue to be generally short. A hair cut becomes more important than in many seasons. The hair must be layered and ruffled to allow it to swing freely from side to side. Permanently waving, too, becomes vital to lend manageability to the carefree styles.

The HAPPY HOMEMAKER

By JUNE FLOYD

If you are one of those homemakers who have already been bitten by the spring "clean-up, paint-up, fix-up bug", you will probably want to try the following household hint.

When you are all through with painting a room, hot vinegar makes a very effective paint remover for paint you have on windows.

It will soon be time for serving cool hearty main dishes. A recipe that is ideal for meatless meals and hot-weather dining is this hearty main-dish salad.

- Tuna Mold
- 1 envelope Knox unflavored gelatine
- 1 3/4 cups milk, divided
- 2 egg yolks
- 1 teaspoon salt
- dash pepper
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 can (6 or 7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1/2 cup chopped celery
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped pimiento
- cooked marinated green peas
- Stir gelatine into 1/2 cup of the milk to soften. Beat egg yolks, remaining 1/4 cups milk, salt and pepper together; add to gelatine mixture.

Place over low heat, stirring constantly until gelatine is dissolved, about five minutes. Remove from heat. Chill mixture to unbeaten egg white consistency.

Combine tuna, mustard, lemon juice, celery and pimiento. Fold into gelatine mixture. Turn into a 3 cup ring mold or individual molds; chill until firm. Unmold on serving plate and garnish with salad greens. Fill center with green peas.

If desired, you may substitute salmon, lobster or crab meat for tuna. For a party, double recipe and turn into a 9 x 5 loaf pan. Serve with sliced cucumbers, tomato wedges, and radish roses.

It seems that current trends point towards waterless cooking whether you chose stainless steel or aluminum utensils. One manufacturer lists the following instructions, which are applicable to any type waterless cooking.

1. The food should fill, or nearly fill the utensil when cooking the waterless way.
2. After cleaning and preparing young, tender vegetables, place in the pan and rinse with cold water. Drain off water and cover. Just this water, which clings to vegetables will be enough for cooking.
3. In some cases when older or extremely starchy vegetables are prepared, it may be necessary to add 1/4 to 1/2 cup of water. In cases where amount of vegetables may not fill utensil, add 1/4 to 1/2 cup of water.
4. Start with medium to high heat until pan heats through, about three to five minutes. Then reduce heat to low for entire cooking period.

5. Every time cover is lifted, heat escapes, and thereby lengthens cooking time.

6. Use this simple test to prevent overheating. Place a crumb of butter in center of pan and place over a medium-high heat--as soon as butter begins to brown, add meat and sear to desired degree, then cover. When cover is too hot to touch, reduce heat to low for balance of cooking period.

7. When pan broiling meats (without fat) meat may stick to heated utensil a little until it is properly browned. Then heat should be reduced and sticking will gradually loosen.

8. Meats should be seasoned after broiling. Vegetables should be seasoned immediately before serving.

9. Select heating unit or burner which most nearly corresponds in diameter to the utensil.

10. To avoid possibility of damage to handles, read manufacturer's instructions and follow them carefully when using utensils designed for on top the stove or oven cooking.

Farm Facts

Frederick W. Waugh, writing in the Yearbook of Agriculture, points out that everyone has a stake in continuing technological improvements in agriculture.

"Our great modern industries of manufacturing and commerce would have been impossible without the technological revolution in agriculture, which made available the necessary manpower for factories, banks, stores.

"Primitive societies must use most of their resources in primary production--in farming, fishing, forestry, and mining. Very few people can be spared to work in manufacturing, trade, services, the arts and sciences.

"As our farm labor has become more productive, a smaller and smaller percentage of our workers can feed and clothe our whole population.

"The direct effects of better agricultural technology are seen in more and better food and fiber. The indirect effects are in more automobiles, television sets, roads, schools, and all sorts of non-agricultural goods and services.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION

by James E. Edwards

Is Foot Trouble Inherited?

Medical science is very definite about the fact that bunions, hammer toes, corns, and callouses are not hereditary. Some folks get awfully red in the face protesting that they inherited bunions because they have had them from birth and their parents had bunions.

I wasn't there when they were born and I don't doubt that the parents had bunions. A generation ago you almost had to have bunions to qualify for citizenship.

The reason people cling to the idea that they inherited the malformations is simply they can't remember the tight shoes, sox or pajamas that caused them. There are still many parents who believe that it is alright to wear short shoes and sox on babies who are not yet walking. That is the age when the bones are not boney. They are cartilage as soft as the gristle of well-cooked chicken.

I never get loud, but I wish that I could shout the fact that there should never be any doubt about babies' footwear. If there is even a remote possibility that shoes, sox, or pajama feet will bend the toes, the baby should be kept bare-foot. Remember, short shoes are POISON applied externally.

JOTTIN'S
By Jeanne

The 3-year-old was very pleased with the new license tags on the Graham-mobile this week because "those old ones were getting kinda dirty."

Now that I've had my car inspected, I can remind you readers that time is growing shorter and the lines will be growing longer. That inspection sticker has to be on the front windshield by April 15. The deadline is even nearer to get your car tags for the new year.

Chamber of Commerce directors indicated that they were ready to get started on the city park when they met Tuesday and early Wednesday morning, the first step of the improvement was being made. That was fast work.

All the old dwarfed and diseased trees in the park area were being pulled out leaving only a few of the better ones. Next step is to raise a few good crops of weeds before seeding grass: Covered picnic tables resembling the new ones at the roadside park outside Bovina are planned.

Cost and amount of help from civic organizations and the community will be a factor in the number of tables and other improvements. But the first step should be completed soon and the park can be used this summer, I'd say.

When the judge asked the old negro if he was the defendant in the case, the man shook his head and pointed to a lawyer. "Oh, no sah. He's the defendant. I'se jest the gentleman what stole them chickens."

Variety Club Meets In Caldwell Home

Variety club members met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Caldwell in Bovina Wednesday afternoon.

Members spent the afternoon in informal visiting and embroidering cuptowels for the hostess.

Sandwiches, fudge cake and punch were served to one visitor, Mrs. Scotty Barry and eight members, Mesdames C. C. Christian, John West, G. A. Bandy, Luther Grissom, George Lindop, W. N. Foster and Miss Lola Jean Grissom.

Next meeting is set for April 18, in the home of Mrs. C. C. Christian in Farwell.

Coastal Bermuda Makes Excellent Pasture Grass

Coastal Bermuda is an excellent pasture grass which produces high yields of good quality forage once it becomes established. Many farmers fail to get good stands or quick stands, however. What causes this?

E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says the major reasons for not getting a good stand are planting in a light or heavier stand of other grass, using dried out sprigs, or grazing before a stand is obtained. He says these problems can be overcome with proper management.

The first step toward a good stand is preparing a good seedbed. It should be clean, firm, and moist, and free of other growing grasses. Trew says farmers are expecting too much of Coastal Bermuda when they expect it to take over from established grasses.

Next is planting at the proper time. It is usually best to plant in the spring, after the soil warms up. South Texans, however, can plant in the fall. A satisfactory stand cannot be expected unless fresh, viable sprigs are used, the specialist points out. Sprigs should be planted the same day they are dug, and they should contain at least three nodes. It is important to keep sprigs shaded and moist until they are planted. Tests have shown that exposing sprigs to sunlight for four hours reduced viability by as much as 97 percent.

Recommended planting rate is 9 to 15 bushels of sprigs per acre, planted in 30 to 42 inch rows. It is essential that soil be firmed around the sprig after planting, says Trew. This can be done with the tractor wheel or large compress wheels.

Before fertilizing, the farmer should have his soil tested. Where soil is not too weedy or grassy, the fertilizer can be put in a band 3 to 4 inches below the sprigs at or ahead of planting. Otherwise, fertilizer should be applied as a topdressing after Coastal begins to grow. Never broadcast fertilizer until a good stand is obtained, advises the specialist. It is also a good idea to topdress once or twice with nitrogen to stimulate growth. "Remember," warns Trew, "don't graze the Coastal until a good stand is obtained. Grazing before this may seriously delay getting a stand."

The AMA Board of Trustees has pledged a fund of $60,000 to guarantee loans to Cuban refugee physicians who qualify to borrow up to $300 a month for three months. The loans will be repayable at the rate of $50 a month beginning two months after they obtain employment. This is international cooperation at its best.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

We thought we had one of the best kick-off banquets last week that we have ever seen in this county. Tables were nicely decorated by Mrs. Joe B. Jennings and Mrs. Raymond Martensen. The meal, arranged for by Earnest Kube and Calvin Meissner, was real good, and the entertainment furnished by the Friona Male Quartet was enjoyed by everyone, we believe.

Warren Newberry, AFBF staff member made a very good talk to inspire the people. President Hamilton handled the meeting well and Vice President Meissner got his workers lined up in good shape. Of course, a lot of the work that made the success possible was done by your good secretary, Nell Davis. We will give a report on the membership drive in next week's column.

In discussing Farm Bureau's National Farm Program, Bill Wedemeyer, director of research and promotion for TFB said in part, "The surest way to guarantee low prices to farmers is for the government to establish a support price above what the market will pay."

The present Secretary of Agriculture made the statement in 1961 that the price of soybeans was increased to prevent them from advancing in price. Prices cannot be supported above what the market will pay unless the government pays the difference between the established "fair price" and the "market price."

Fabian Essays on Socialism explain how Socialism (or Communism) eliminates free enterprise by "due process of law" this way: "The government owned industries, operating with government credit behind them, will begin to choke off private enterprise. After a while the private producers will disappear, not because there will be any law against individual production, but because they will not pay." Does this ring a bell for you?

Farm Bureau opposes, by resolution and action, socialism and communism wherever and whenever they may appear. Your membership strengthens this opposition. Farm Bureau is for free enterprise in farming or industry, large or small operations.

Cotton, Grain Contest Awards Made Friday

An embarrassingly small crowd appeared for the presentation of the Farmer County 4-H and FFA cotton and Grain sorghum contest awards Friday night at the Hub Community center.

Only two of the twelve recipients of cotton contest awards were present to receive the plaques and checks.

The contests are sponsored by the Farmer County Cotton Growers and Grain Sorghum Producers Association as a means of encouraging boys in the use of applicable and efficient practices that will result in higher yields per acre of good quality products.

A. W. Anthony, Jr. presented the awards to the contestants who were present at the meeting. Equal awards were presented to entrants by the Cotton Growers and the GSPA.

Awards for cotton and grain sorghum in both 4-H and FFA contests were: 1st-$40 and Plaque, 2nd-$35 and plaque, 3rd-$25 and plaque, 4th-$20, 5th-$15, 6th-$10, and 7th-$5. A silver dollar was awarded to 8,287 pounds;

Dollar awards were given to Gary Coker, 8,079 pounds; Terry Parham, 7,761 pounds; Lyndon Foster, 7,732 pounds; Mike Riethmeyer, 7,628 pounds; Cooper Young, 7,453 pounds; Richard Chitwood, 7,411 pounds; Charles Kitten, 7,213 pounds; Jimmy Taylor, 7,107 pounds; Larry Davis, 7,029 pounds; Darrell Matthews, 7,022 pounds; Steven Young, 6,874 pounds; Joe Murphree, 6,854 pounds; Gary Matthews, 6,829 pounds; and Danny Murphree, 6,457 pounds.

Cotton awards went to FFA members, Danny Johnson, Farwell, 1st; Dickie Clayton, Bovina 2nd; James Clayton, Bovina 3rd; Laurence Kregel and Terry Darling.

4-H members, Jerry Cass, Friona, 1st; Steven Young, Lazbuddie, 2nd; Cooper Young and Bobby Redwine, both of Lazbuddie, tied for 3rd; Richard Chitwood, Lazbuddie; Gary Matthews, Lazbuddie; and Darrell Matthews, Lazbuddie.

Arthur Drake, Friona Wheat Growers, showed slides taken on his trip to Austria last year. Drake was the U. S. Grain Sorghum representative at two fairs in that country.

Sesame Production Discussed At Bovina Meeting Monday

Sesame - the crop without federal controls - and its production will be discussed at a steak dinner and meeting in Bovina Restaurant on Highway 60 in Bovina at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Robert L. Parker, executive vice-president of the Texas Sesame Growers Association, Bill Wimberly, High Plains manager, and Raymond Hodges, fieldman of Muleshoe, will show color movie and discuss Sesame production. Deryl Coker, county agent, will be in charge of the meeting.

Because Sesame (and four other oilseed crops) are non-surplus and non-price supported crops and are now being imported in large quantities, Congress and the Department of Agriculture has granted special considerations for their production.

Farmers may take advantage of a provision of the feed grain and wheat laws which permit the growing of Sesame on retired land. Farmers with limited feed grain or wheat base or limited acreage allotments for other crops can grow Sesame, since no federal acreage control has been imposed on the crop.

Most of the Sesame in this area is grown on contract to the Texas Sesame Growers Association, but it can be marketed by the individual farmer. The contract production usually results in a better cash return because the volume desired by Sesame buyers cannot easily be produced by one farmer.

Doyle or Ennis Cummings or John Burrows should be called at Cummings Farm Store, sponsor of the meeting, for reservations. "Price for number one quality Sesame seed has averaged 10 1/2 cents per pound for the last two years and prospects for 1962 are even better. Limited supply and higher prices for competing imported seed is the reason for the improved prospects," Robert L. Parker of the Texas Sesame Association said.

Former Farmer County farmer Fred Carthel, now farming in Lockney County, produced the nation's highest yield for the second year in a row. Carthel's 105 acres of Margo Sesame produced 1,228 pounds of clean seed per acre for a gross profit of $128.45 per acre. All farmers interested in Sesame are invited to attend the meeting.

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

DERYL COKER

I have received a great number of phone calls from farmers who have wheat that looks a little sick. Most of the wheat that I saw, that fits this category had not been irrigated, or is dryland and is being damaged by the brown wheat mite and greenbugs.

The brown wheat mite is a pest of small grains and damage by this mite occurs only during dry weather and in some respects resembles that caused by drouth. A mottling of leaves occurs, and when observed from a distance, a yellowing or bronzing effect may be noted. Infested leaves first show a silvery cast and later turn brown. When this stage is reached, hundreds of mites can be seen on the leaves and on the ground at the base of the plants.

The mite has a rounded, metallic dark brown or blackish body about the size of a period in newsprint, with short hairs on the back. The legs are pale yellow, with the fore legs characteristically longer than the other three pairs. It can be identified with a hand lens in the field. This species does not spin webs as do some spider mites.

Brown wheat mites pass the summer as small, shiny, white eggs. The egg is coated with a white waxy material, and one end is flattened in a circular cap somewhat larger than the egg itself. Large numbers of these eggs may be found at the base of the plants in the soil, attached to debris and clods.

To hatch, the eggs must be in contact with free moisture.

Hatching begins in the fall as soon as there is a small amount of free moisture. Young mites are bright red and have three pairs of legs, but as soon as they feed, most of them become brownish. The next two stages each have four pairs of legs; some of them have greenish bodies and some resemble the adults in color.

After hatching, the mites reach the adult stage in 9 to 10 days. Egg laying begins 1 or 2 days later. Winter eggs, laid during the fall, winter and early spring, are brick red spherical.

They hatch in 6 or 7 days under favorable conditions. Each adult lays 70 to 90 eggs in a 3-week period. According to Baker and Pritchard males are unknown and the eggs hatch without fertilization. During the late spring, certain adults begin to lay summer eggs, and will lay about 30 during a 3-week period. An adult does not produce both summer and winter eggs.

Heavy rains reduce greatly the brown wheat mite populations. Replicated plot experiments at the Amarillo stations have shown that irrigation lowers populations. Border irrigation is similar to flooding from field ditches, except that small levees or border dikes confine the water to a limited area as it moves across the field. Although mite populations were low, control with border irrigation was good for about 3 weeks.

Complete flooding by border irrigation is better than flooding by corrugated furrows to lower mite populations. When irrigation is done by flooding listed furrows, the water does not cover the tops of the ridges, and the undisturbed mites may migrate and become as numerous in a week on the plants in the furrows as on the ridges.

Brown wheat mite populations usually are much lower on summer-fallowed wheat than on continuously cropped wheat. If the land is fallowed following a wheat crop and summer eggs hatch from stubble or residue in the fall, the young mites will die from lack of food.

Controlling this pest with chemicals is difficult. Tests

Texas Farmers Export $447 Million In '61

The world market continues to be a highly important outlet and source of income for Texas farmers. They supplied the export market with products worth $447 million in the 1960-61 fiscal year, ranking just behind California among all the states, according to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture study.

The principal commodities produced for export by Texans included cotton, grain sorghums, wheat, rice, and livestock. "It is a real tribute to the efficiency of Texas farmers that they were able to make this contribution to helping feed the world's consumers," said David Brown, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "We need to continue to keep our eyes on events affecting foreign markets because they have a real dollars and cents meaning to Texas agriculture even though our farms and ranches are a long way from foreign markets," Brown added. U. S. agricultural exports are running at record levels. Last year, $5 billion worth of U. S. farm products were exported. Sixty million acres of U. S. cropland are producing for export. This is about three times the harvested acreage in Texas.

The USDA study, in appraising the stake Texas farmers have in foreign trade, showed that the State's equivalent share of the nation's crop exports included 2 million bales of cotton, 46 million bushels of grain sorghum, 39 million bushels of wheat and 6.4 million hundred-weight of rice.

On the basis that foreign trade is a two-way street, Texas also plays a part in the imports of agricultural products. Many are non-competitive consumer items such as coffee, tea, cocoa, spices, bananas, etc. Although competing agricultural products also come in from abroad, Texas' agriculture is far ahead in the exchange since the State's share of exports is more than three times its share of competing imports.

Many agricultural commodity groups are working closely with USDA in efforts to expand exports even more. One of the big national objectives at this time is to arrive at an international trade program that gives U. S. agriculture better bargaining power so it can sell even more actively in foreign markets.

Here is a good recipe for getting along with a husband; Feed him well, baby him a little, and praise him a lot; and it'll either make him so nice you wouldn't give him up for the world, or spoil him so nobody else would want him.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

If you are a high school senior and scheduled to graduate this spring, you will soon have an important decision to make. The decision will be one of the most important of your lifetime.

The one big question is "Should I enroll for additional education after high school?" This important decision will affect your career. If you drop out of school when you take your diploma, and make no plans for additional vocational or professional training, you are freezing your job possibilities. In other words you will be putting a ceiling on your earning power.

This time of year before school is out many programs on careers are planned for the high school students. No matter what you plan to do, this is also your decision.

However, the future employment picture for unskilled laborers looks dim indeed. The activities of the world need more people who are skilled and educated. Certainly, the future looks most discouraging for the boy or girl who drops out before completing high school. So think twice or several times before dropping out of high school or not completing higher education.

In the last two or three years we see many newspaper and magazine stories that education will count more and more. The need for professional and technical workers, laboratory workers, statistical technicians and other qualified workers is expected to increase by 40 percent before 1970. Managers, proprietors, clerical and sales people, skilled repairmen and mechanics all require extra training. And competition gets keener all the time.

Young people need and want guidance for career and job opportunities. Yes, millions of trained young men and women are needed for jobs, but they need the extra training to qualify.

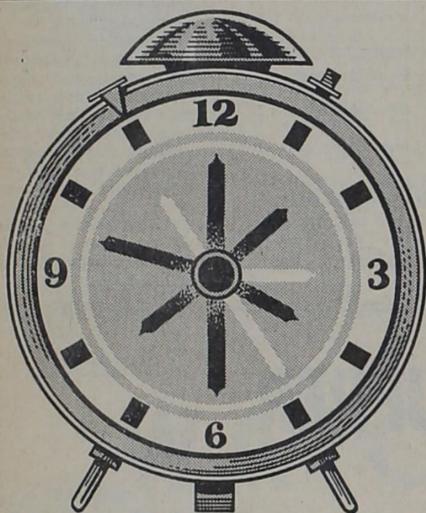

A study was made recently on the lifetime expected income of an individual.

For a person who has completed less than 8 years of school his total expected income is $115,418 from 18 to 64 years of age. If he has completed 8 years of school his expected income is $161,643.

If a person completes 1 to 3 years of high school his lifetime expected income is $188,362, in comparison to 4 years of high school with the income of $231,509.

For your all important decision of higher education after high school graduation, your earning power increased. With 1 to 3 years of college your earning power from 18 to 64 years of age is $279,640. For one additional year of college to graduate in 4 years an extra $100,000 increase is possible to $382,892 for the expected income.

Watch for later notes on cost comparisons of attending college. This should be of interest to all of you with younger children that may want to go to college.

Planes Signal Greenbug War

Buzzing planes darting over wheat fields signaled the attack on greenbugs in the county last week.

The small pest has infested several fields and has caused concern on the part of many wheat farmers. County Agent Deryl Coker reports that he is receiving numerous calls from farmers inquiring about the details of combating the plant lice.

The Greenbug reproduces rapidly at temperatures between 55 and 75 degrees. Its natural enemies, however, reproduce very slowly when the temperatures are below 65 degrees. Thus, in cool weather, the greenbug may increase to enormous numbers while the number of its natural enemies increase slowly.

Therefore, insecticides must be applied to prevent serious damage to wheat, but the necessity for spraying depends upon the number of greenbugs present, size and vigor of plants variety, temperature, time of year, moisture conditions, state of growth and presence or absence of parasites and predators.

As might be expected, irrigated wheat can withstand larger populations of greenbugs without a marked loss in yield. A count of greenbugs in a field can be used as a reliable guide for spraying. A minimum of five counts of one linear foot while walking across a field in a diagonal line should be made. The bugs should be shaken from the plants onto a paper and counted or estimated if there is a large number present.

If the plant is four to six inches high at present or during the remainder of this month, the presence of 200 to 400 greenbugs per linear foot indicate the need for spraying. During April, when the plants reach a height of six to sixteen inches, 300 to 800 may be allowed before spraying will be required.

The appearance of small deadened areas caused from greenbugs feeding is also a good indication that insecticides should be applied.

Recommended insecticides and applications for greenbugs on wheat are:

- (1) Malathion applied with one and one-half to two pints of concentrate spray (5 pound toxicant per gallon) per acre.
- (2) Parathion applied one to two pints concentrate spray (2 pound toxicant per gal) per acre. Wheat should not be grazed for 7 to 15 days after the application of the insecticides in most all cases. Additional information on this subject may be obtained from the county agent.

Coker also reported that John Thomas, area entomologist said his checks of wheat fields in the area did not show greenbugs in sufficient quantity to warrant spraying at present.

Germination Test Advised For Cotton Planting Seed

There is one sure way to know whether cotton planting seed will germinate when planted. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says it is through the use of germination tests.

In recent visits with ginners and farmers, Elliott reports that many are finding the seed which was saved to plant this year's crop isn't measuring up to expectations. And, points out Elliott, getting a good stand on the first planting may have a lot to do with yields next fall.

Elliott reports the lowest germinating seed apparently are from fields which were harvested when the moisture content was too high. Research, he explains, has shown that seed should not be saved from cotton which is harvested when moisture content is above 8-10 percent. When moisture is above this level and the seed cotton is held for even a comparatively short time on the trailer, the cotton goes through a heating process which not only lowers the grade but also the quality of the seed.

The specialist strongly recommends to all growers who plan to plant cottonseed saved from last year's crop that they have a germination test run or use the familiar 'rag doll' test at home. The small fee for a germination test, he adds, could save replanting.

He also suggests that after the germination ability of the seed has been established that they be treated with an approved fungicide. Seed treatment will aid in the reduction of stand losses from seedling disease and also helps to prevent seed decay and damping off from soil and seed borne organisms.

Elliott suggests a visit with the local county agent for more information on germination testing and seed treatment.

Facts about Fire and Clean-Up

Every 12 minutes a home in the home attic, basement, closets are the spots where 17.5% of all dwelling fires originate, National Fire Protection Association records show.

The three storage areas of the home attic, basement, closets are the spots where 17.5% of all dwelling fires originate, National Fire Protection Association studies show.

About 550,000 U.S. homes are hit by fire each year, and over 6,000 persons - 30 percent of them children - die in these fires, according to National Fire Protection Association records.

Last year (1961) Americans burned up more than $1.6 billion worth of property in over two million fires, figures compiled by the National Fire Protection Association show.

At one time, prairie dog villages stretched over a hundred miles and more than 400 thousand of the little animals inhabited these villages.

Spray planes like the one shown here have been dipping and skimming along the surface of wheat fields in the country during the past week as the farmers call for aerial help to fight greenbug outbreaks.

New TSCRA Head Named

Lt. Col. Joe Fletcher, Assistant Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety for the past 17 years, resigned today to become Secretary-General Manager of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association in Fort Worth, effective March 20.

Announcement of his resignation was made jointly by Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director, and Dolph Briscoe, Jr. of Uvalde, President of the cattle raisers association.

Garrison said Fletcher's resignation will mean "an irreparable loss to the people of Texas whom he has served for more than 30 years. His decision to leave the DPS was fully justified, in my opinion, being based upon financial considerations. In fairness to the financial security of his family, he could not see fit to refuse it."

"I regard Joe Fletcher as one of the outstanding administrators in the country, as well as one of my closest friends over a quarter of a century."

Briscoe said, "The Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association is proud to obtain the services of a man of Colonel Fletcher's ability, to direct the affairs of the largest cattlemen's association of its kind in the nation."

In his new post Fletcher will work closely with Ernest Duke, Assistant Secretary of the Association in all matters of benefit to the cattle industry of the Southwest.

Fletcher, a native of Marysville in Cooke County, took his first job as an automobile mechanic in Gainesville in 1922, and after several months enlisted in the U. S. Navy for a period of four years, serving as a gunner's mate.

Fletcher subsequently served as a Highway Patrolman at Odessa, Pecos and Big Spring. During this period he became interested in fingerprint identification, and set up a small identification bureau for the Sheriff's Department in Reeves County.

On October 15, 1935, he was transferred to Austin as a patrolman on special assignment in the Bureau of Identification and Records, where he pioneered in the establishment of a central criminal records file which today contains well over one million sets of criminal fingerprints.

In 1937, he was promoted to the position of handwriting expert and, on October 18, 1938, was promoted to Chief of the Bureau of Identification and Records of the Department of Public Safety.

On January 17, 1945, Fletcher was promoted to Assistant Director of the DPS, in which capacity he was charged directly with the operation of all of the training schools held by the state agency, the operation of the communications bureau which involved the development of a statewide network, as well as with assisting in the administration of the entire department.

Fletcher recently was re-elected Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Texas State Employees Retirement System, which is charged with operation of that agency and the investment of its $95,000,000 fund.

He is a member of the Texas Sheriff's Association; the East Texas Peace Officers Association; the Constables and Justices of the Peace Association; the Texas Division of the International Association of Identification Experts, and a past president of this organization; the South Plains Peace Officers Association; the Five States Peace Officers Association; the Hill Country Peace Officers Association; and the Texas Police Association.

Spreading out like a giant fan, the blackened area southwest of Bovina shows the extent of the first of three grass fires in as many days in the county last week. This area burned Friday, fanned by strong winds. Another grass fire was extinguished near Friona Saturday morning at 3 a. m. The third grass fire started Sunday about five miles west of the one shown above.

Like a huge mound of black tar and asphalt, the fire blackened area stands out against the unburned grass in Running Water Draw about five miles west of Bovina. The grass burned Sunday after wind, rain, snow storm passed over the area Saturday. This was the third grass fire in the county within three days. Such fires are very costly, both in rangeland time and money.

Area Farmers Aid In Forming Sugar Act Proposal

By BOB HAMILTON
Plains Farmer Publisher

Of this group, by far the largest delegation was from Texas. Seven were from the Hale County association, two from the Texas association, Jim Witherspoon and Benny Benefield, and one from the Trans-Pecos association. Hale's group was represented by Don Hegl, Earnest Sammann, Bill Sylvester, Don Tullis, Grady Murry, Homer Garrison and your reporter.

In a nut shell, the prospective beet growers will ask of the government this year, legislation allowing 100 per cent of the growth factor consumption, 150,000 tons annually, to be produced in the mainland of the United States, with most of this increase for new growers.

Of the 100 per cent growth factor, the group proposes 75 per cent be allocated to sugar beet growers and 25 per cent to cane growers, "with a special reserve, for beets, of up to 85,000 tons, or such acreage as would yield per year accumulative, 85,000 tons would be available each year for the expansion of mainland industry."

The 85,000 tons of sugar would allow for approximately two new refineries to be constructed on the mainland each year.

This legislative proposal was a compromise. One portion of the group wanted all the growth factor plus a million tons of the former Cuban 3-million ton allotment. Another faction was willing to settle for a legislative proposal put forth by the entire sugar industry.

The proposal sent by the industry reportedly represented the negotiations which took two and a half months to formulate. Representatives of the American Sugar Beet Industry, Mainland Sugar Cane Industry, U. S. Cane Sugar Refining Industry, Hawaiian Sugar Industry and Puerto Rican Sugar Industry had drawn up their own proposal which was considered fair by those at the Denver meeting, but not enough for needed mainland expansion.

Actually, the grower proposal is a very slight change to the industry's. The industry wanted 67 1/2 per cent of the growth factor for domestic continental areas and 32 1/2 for foreign areas, with a special reserve of up to 20,000 acres for industry expansion.

The rest of the industry's bill was accepted by the growers, giving them, if the grower change is accepted, a united front with which to approach the legislature. This is the first time this unity has been attained for proposed legislation on sugar.

As the proposed legislation now stands, here is what our congressmen will have to work with:

SUGAR LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

1. Term: The new law would be a five-year Act extending from January 1, 1962, through December 31, 1966.

2. Basic Quotas: New basic quotas for domestic areas would be established at a consumption estimate level of 9,700,000 tons. These would be as follows: Beet Area, 2,665,000; Mainland Cane Area, 900,000; Hawaii, 1,150,000; Puerto Rico, 1,200,000; and Virgin Islands, 15,000.

3. Growth: Growth over the 9,700,000 level of consumption requirements (consumption estimate minus unallocated amounts and deficits in allocated amounts under section 408) would be 100 per cent to domestic continental areas. The 100 per cent would be shared 75 per cent by the domestic beet sugar area and 25 per cent by the Mainland Cane sugar area. If in any year, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, or Virgin Islands, produces more than its basic quota, it may in the following year, upon request, have such quota increased by the amount of such excess: Provided that in no event shall such quota exceed the basic quota (plus growth) under the law before amendment, all such increases being charged to the foreign total.

4. New Beet Growers: A special reserve of up to 85,000 tons, or such acreage as would yield per year accumulative 85,000 tons, would be available each year for the expansion of mainland industry.

5. Domestic Deficits: All domestic deficits would go to foreign areas, with the exception that the excess of Hawaiian deficit over 350,000 tons would go to the beet area.

6. Direct Consumption Sugar: All foreign sugar would be imported in raw form. The Philippines would be given the option of a larger raw sugar quota in place of their quotas under existing law and the Treaty between the United States and the Philippines.

7. Personal History: The law would assure continued use of personal history as a basis for allocating proportionate shares in those sections of the beet area in which personal history now is a basis. No charge would be made in those areas in which land history is now the basis for allocating proportionate shares.

8. Liquid Sugar Quotas: All such quotas would be eliminated except provision would be made to permit continued entry of normal quantities of Barbados type molasses.

9. Non-Transferability of Quotas: Foreign counties assigned quotas under the Act could fill such quotas only with sugar they produce. No net importing country would be eligible for a quota.

10. Sugar Containing Products: The Secretary would be given authority to limit importation of sugar containing products when such importation would be contrary to the intent of the Act.

11. Foreign Supplies: Price incentives would be maintained in the Act to insure that foreign sugar will be available to the U. S. market in the quantities needed at the times required.

That is the bill which will be forwarded to our congressmen. It's calling for less than the growers want, by far, but it is more than the industry compromise and considerably more than the administration was reportedly ready to hand out. As a comparison, industry was proposing 67 1/2 per cent of the growth factor for mainland production while the administration was to propose only 55 per cent. Earl Gregory, representing a large faction of new growers in Quincy, Wash., who has worked on legislation eight years, warned those in the meeting that they should tread lightly on the industry program. It is "a lot better than the act is now, lot better than the administration proposes, and if we upset the waters by arguing with the (industry) proposal, we will get nothing but an extension (of the present act)."

The Texas delegation, some of whom wanted part of the Cuban allotment, voted for the final proposal. They had been warned late last year by Rep. Bob Poage, vice-chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, that if we asked for Cuban allotment and growth factor we would get nothing. But, if we settled for growth factor, he would work for it, himself.

Dick Blake, representing the National Beet Growers Association, attended the meeting giving very valuable advice and information. He said Rep. Cooley, chairman of the house committee, would hold hearings on the subject around the middle or late May. He also said the old growers are sympathetic with new grower proposals.

"This gives us a unified front with which to approach the legislature," stated Schenk, who himself has done considerable legislative work. Several at the meeting commented on the valuable number of congressmen Schenk's Indiana and Illinois would add to the cause's support.
