Farwell Loses To Morton; Splits Pair With Kress

Polly Middleton of Earth furnished a new insight into the racial problem in her column last week. Here is a portion of it:

"One of the highest paid business executives in America had a few things to say to a group of manufacturers in New Mexico recently that really rocked 'em on their heels.

"Lack of initiative, courage, integrity, loyalty and wisdom are responsible for the limited opportunities open to American Negroes," he told his stunned audience.

"The Negro believes the lack of civil rights legislation and the lack of integration have kept him back, but this is not true. The Negro must learn how to think. You can't change the Negro to fit the system. You can't legislate equality."

The man said the NAACP is trying to change the white man, not the Negro. The man who spoke was named Fuller. His firm manufactures $10 million worth of cosmetics each year. He began his business in 1935 with $25 and went only through the sixth grade in Louisiana. Fuller is a Negro.

The pending civil rights legislation, and the demonstrations of various types, both violent and orderly, are calculated to cause the Negro to progress by passing laws.

Certainly the Negro is entitled to basic constitutional rights, and he ought to be the white man's equal before the courts and before God.

But legislation will not make him any better than he will himself to be, no more than silly statutes on the books have solved the problems of unem-

Playing on their home court on Friday night the Farwell Steers and their sister team each lost games to Morton. Girls, coached by Billy White lost their game 52-29 and the boys dropped their tilt 69-57.

Coach White says, "Our girls played fairly good ball but were outclassed by the Morton team who has much more experience." Joann Rhodes with 12 points was high for Farwell followed by teammate Becky Strain with 10.

In the boys game Johnny Actkinson, contributed 15 points to cop scoring honors for the Steers. Leon Lovelace and Danny Lindop each counted for 13. "Mistakes contributed heavily to our loss," said Coach Vernon Scott.

On Tuesday night the teams met the Kress teams on the local court and split a pair with them. Girls dropped their game to the more experienced Kress girls 46-29 and boys won 63-42 from the Kress quintet.

"Our girls were playing fair ball, said Coach White, but they were unable to find the basket as they tried for 23 free throws and only made five." He adds that this contributed to the girls loss as they were doing better in the rebounding field than their opponents. Joann Rhodes with 12 was again high for the team. Becky Strain counted for

Auto License Sale Starts Saturday

Automobile registration plates go on sale Saturday, County Tax Assessor-Collector Hugh Moseley announced this week.

Parmer County car license for this year begin at 3400 and go through 6800. Prefix letters are CC.

Moseley said his office also had on hand a supply of pamphlets issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety that explain in brief recent changes in the Safety Responsibility Law that went into effect the first of the year.

Each motorist will be given one of the pamphlets when he purchases his car plates, he said.

Numerous changes have been made in the law, and to help the motoring public become familiar with the new provisions, the tax office is making the pamphlet available to the drivers of the county.

License plates for '64 are black with white numerals and letters in contrast to those for '63 which were the reverse.

Forty-eight have been selected for petit jury duty, to report at 1:30 p.m. Monday.

Those selected are: Mrs. Billy Buchanan, Mrs. Wiley Bullock, V. M. Bradley, Paul Daniel, L. C. Mingus, James Mabry, Mrs. Eldon Page, Mrs. Jack Waltmon, Neil Stewart, Elbert Nowell, Dudley Hughes, Mrs. J. W. Gammon, Mrs. Tom Paine, Weldon Slayton, Monty Barrett, Mrs. Carl Davis, L. L. Norton, S. M. Bailey Jr., and Dale McCuan.

Also Kenneth Percure, Mrs. Joe Wilson, Joe Pesch, Otho Whitefield, A. H. Cooper, Ray E. Castle, J. W. Flake Barber, Glenden Sudderth, Tulon White, Earl Dean Boyd, N. A. Curry, V. W. Rannals, Durwood Bell, Henry Haseloff, Edward Isaac, Travis Stone, Mrs. Joe Bujnossek and A. R. McCutchan.

nine and Dianne Lovelace hit for eight. Jerry Childs stole the ball from Kress five times during the game to contribute to the win for Farwell, while Johnny Actkinson was tops in the rebounding section. Danny Lindop with 12 was high man for Farwell followed by Leon Lovelace with 11. High man for Kress was Jim Glenn with 18. Next game for the teams will be here tonight (Friday) with Hale Center. The locals will meet the Springlake teams here Tuesday night and both games should prove to be good entertainment. Springlake boys have four wins and one loss in district play with the Steers having five wins to their credit.

In the Muleshoe game Jacque Gast with 12 was top point getter. "The girls played a fine defensive game, said Coach Craig, however they had difficulty hitting the basket and only racked up 16 points during the evening."

They were able to hold Muleshoe scoreless during the last half of the game. Final score was 16-6.

Both of the junior high teams will be in Sudan Thursday night to play district games and on Feb. 10 they will meet Bovina on the local court.

Feb. 6-8 they will be playing in the Springlake junior high tourney and will participate in the district tourney Feb. 20-22.

The junior high boys also took wins from Hart and Muleshoe during the past few days.

Records in the office of County tax assessor-collector Hugh Moseley reveal that some 2,195 persons had paid their poll taxes by Wednesday noon, with Moseley estimating that at least 300 to 400 additional taxes will be paid by the January 31 deadline.

In an average general election year approximately 2,700 county persons usually pay poll taxes, says Moseley. Delay in paying the taxes has been due this year to the poll tax amendment which was voted on earlier in the year; with many persons waiting to pay their tax in hope that it would be abolished.

Moseley announces that passenger car, truck, and farm vehicle licenses will go on sale Feb. 1 in his office. Deadline for vehicle licenses is April 1.

Revival services are scheduled to begin Monday night, Feb. 3 at the United Pentecostal church in Texico with John Kershaw of Lubbock as the speaker.

Jew to the Holy Land in the light of Bible prophesy.

Special singing will be a feature of each service, which will begin nightly at 8 p.m. (CST).

Texico Wolverines lost their first game in the EPAC tourney to Melrose 49-44, Thursday. Melrose had previously won a game from House 65-62 and went on to win fourth in the tourney.

Coach Paul Frederick attributed the Wolverine loss to poor ball handling on the part of the Wolverines coupled with the Melrose teams outstanding shooting that night. "Our boys hit well, said Coach Frederick, but they had difficulty in controlling the ball."

Melrose led the Wolves most of the game except for a brief period in the third quarter when the game was tied 30-30; however by end of the quarter the Buffalos had pulled into a four point lead which the Wolves were never able to overcome.

Bill Campbell with 25 points was high for Texico while Jerry Newman with 19 was high for Melrose.

This year marks the first time since the EPAC tourney has been played that Texico has

Mrs. Pool Conducts PTA Program

A good crowd of parents and teachers was present at Farwell PTA meeting Thursday night to see a demonstration of the new controlled reading machine which is now in use in the elementary school. The program was directed by Mrs. Lenton Pool.

In a business meeting preceding the program, Mrs. Jeanie Garner gave a report on the membership drive held in the fall, when PTA offered $10 to the classroom bringing in the most members to PTA. Mrs. Huffaker's third grade room won the award. Gene Dew, president, conducted the business session.

A report was given on the financial undertaking, project Christmas card. Mrs. R. W. Anderson was finance chairman. In her report which was given by Mrs. W.H. Graham, it was noted that 214 signatures were listed in the community Christmas greeting which was printed in the State Line Tribune during Christmas week, for a total of $705. Another donation was turned in Thursday evening by Mrs. Gladys King. Through unavoidable circumstances, her name did not appear on the Christmas card ad, but she wished to participate in the program. Money derived from the project is to be used to buy library books at the school.

Expenses of the project included two ads in The Tribune announcing details on the project. The Tribune in turn donated the ad which appeared in the Christmas paper. This ad was twice the size of the purchased advertising. Mrs. Anderson expressed appreciation to all the workers and everyone who participated in the project.

Mrs. John Boling discussed the possibilities of obtaining a traveling bookmobile library for Farmer, Bailey and Cochran counties.

Public School week was announced for the first week in March, and PTA members were asked to participate by Jack Williams, elementary principal.

Mrs. Pool then introduced her second graders and gave some background on the controlled reading program. After a demonstration by the youngsters, adults were then tested on speed and comprehension.

Farwell FFA Boys Exhibit Animals At El Paso Show

Four boys from the Farwell FFA Chapter and one member of the 4-H Club will be in El Paso, Feb. 1-Feb. 8 to attend the El Paso Livestock Show. The boys will take one Hereford calf and a total of 10 hogs to the show. The animals will be exhibited and if they place in the top three in their individual classes they will be sold at the stock sale to be held on Feb. 7.

Boys exhibiting animals at the show are: Larry Gregory, Hereford calf-two Poland China hogs; Mike Camp-three Duroc hogs; Richard Haseloff - two Duroc hogs; Gerald Chisman - one Hampshire hog, Randy Gregory will take two Poland China hogs to the show as a representative of the 4-H Club.

The boys will be accompanied to the show by Mr. and Mrs. Buck Gregory, Supt. W. M. Roberts, and A. H. Haseloff. They will be joined in El Paso on Sunday by Robert Morton, agriculture instructor in the Farwell schools. He will accompany a group of boys from the school to Ft. Worth Friday where they will be entered in the state poultry judging contest.

Bruises occur on hog carcasses in these places: ham, 61 percent; shoulder, 13 percent; belly, 19 percent; and 7 percent on the loin and fatback.

These fine heifers from the Langford herd will be exhibited and sold in Denver Feb. 17 at the Hereford Days USA Show.

Other fine bulls to be shown and sold at the El Paso show from the Langford herd include these five senior bull calves.

This junior yearling bull (18-20 months old) is one of a pen of five such animals owned by Elmer Langford and son which will be exhibited at the International Range Bull show in El Paso next week. This animal along with 14 others from the Langford herd will be sold at the bull sale on Thursday.

This registered calf (9-10 months of age) will be shown by the Langfords at the Tri-state Hereford breeders show in Clayton, Feb. 11-12 as will the animals in picture 5. Animals in picture 5 are a pen of the three junior registered calves from the herd.

FOOTSAVING EDUCATION
by James E. Edwards
Which Is The MOST Important Rule Of Foot Health?
I would say "KEEP THE SPRINGBOARD STRAIGHT." The springboard is the big toe. If you visualize an excellent diver taking his approach and landing on the end of the diving board to be lifted into the air you have a picture of the function of the great-toe. Then visualize the same procedure executed on a diving board that has two weak bends in it. The result might be funny if it isn't painful. Keeping the great-toe straight means avoiding ill-fitting shoes, socks, leotards, and pajamas. It isn't easy but neither is it easy to straighten a big-toe once it is bent.

Ginners Oppose Acreage Diversion

A campaign to preserve the state's cotton acreage history and strong opposition to a proposed voluntary diversion of cotton acreage came from the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association board of directors Tuesday in Corpus Christi.

At the organization's closing session of the annual Directors and Allied Industry meeting, the group adopted a 12-point legislative position which favored any legislative program providing for a reasonable income to the grower but which would not force the market to pay any supplemental income.

Association president C. L. Walker, Jr., Temple, and legislative committee chairman Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro said the resolution particularly opposed any program which would attract cotton into government stocks.

Directors voiced immediate concern over the state's release and reapportionment program for cotton acreage. The ginners' organization favored the present law and opposed the recently proposed voluntary diversion plan which would pay growers for not planting cotton. Jackson told directors the diversion plan had no chance of passage in time for the 1964 crop -- are not releasing unwanted acreage. In some instances, cottonfarmers who have already released acreage are asking for the acreage back from their county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committees.

This development threatens to hurt the economy of every community, county and region of the state, Jackson said.

The ginners' organization resolution also opposed any cotton program without a minimum acreage of 16,310,000 acres -- the present minimum.

The directors reaffirmed their earlier stand favoring a one price system for domestic and foreign mills and asked that no limitations be placed on government payments to cotton growers. The resolution also asked for quotas to remain in acres and not in pounds or bales.

Another section favored the handling of cotton through normal trade channels since "we believe in the principles of free government control instead of more government control; and a free marketing system."

Basically, the ginners' document pledged support to any cotton program which will permit cotton to move to consumers at a free market price and thus reduce the stocks on hand. This should replace the attempts to solve surplus cotton problems by forcing reduced production.

Walker said the deadline for release and request of acreage is February 4 in the southern half of the state and the reapportionment deadline is February 25. Releases and requests must be made by March 4 in the northern zone of Texas with final reapportionment set on March 25. Planting of cotton will start in the Rio Grande Valley around February 10, Walker said. He urged ginners to contact farmers and encourage them to go ahead with release of unwanted cotton acreage.

Should acreage be held, 75% must be planted to retain full history credit. Should farmers hold acreage and not plant it, they will lose their cotton history for future allotment purposes, Walker said. This will bring about a similar loss in county and state allotments.

Stilbestrol Gives Good Results When Used

Treating feeder cattle with stilbestrol from birth until they are slaughtered may be practical if the animals belong to the same owner during the entire period, says Uel D. Thompson, animal husbandman with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The beef cattle specialist says that increased gains have resulted from the use of hormones during the nursing, grazing, and feedlot stages. However, he points out that there are some disadvantages if the animals are not owned during the whole period by the same owner. Calves on test in Texas have shown higher weaning weights when implanted with stilbestrol but this extra weight might be undesirable from a price per pound standpoint if the animals were sold as stocker or feeder calves.

According to Texas research hormone implanting of animals that were implanted during the nursing, grazing and feeding periods gained 663 pounds during a 461-day period. Those receiving only two implants gained 657 pounds, those with only one implant gained 616 pounds, and animals with no implants gained 595 pounds during the period, says Thompson.

It, therefore, appears advantageous to implant steers during all three phases if the animals are under the same ownership, concludes Thompson.

Cholera is the number one killer of hogs in the United States. The infectious, highly contagious virus disease is nearly always fatal.

As a saver spotted a notation in the Association's advertisement which pegged dividends at 3% interest rate.

The rate is 4 1/2% -- and has been for a long time -- and the investor was wondering if the rate had been reduced.

It hasn't, and the misunderstanding, was due to an error in the ad, which the paper regrets.

Dairy Herd Management Outranks The Breeding

Breeding is perhaps no longer the major factor limiting production in many Texas herds, says A. M. Meekma, dairy specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Herd owners who have been breeding their cows continuously to carefully selected sires--such as those supplied by artificial breeding associations--have raised the ability of their cows to a very high level.

In herds where production ability is high, either management or feeding, or both, may now have become the limiting factors and responsible for low production. For example, says Meekma, poor milking practices may hold production down, even though cows are well bred and are provided sufficient protein, net energy, minerals, and vitamins. On the other hand, Meekma points out, milking practices may be perfect, but the cows may not produce at their potential because they are not receiving enough net energy and/or protein. The problem, Meekma continues, is to determine the limiting influences in the herd.

Cows require enough net energy, enough protein, and enough minerals, vitamins and water to supply their requirements for maintenance, milk production, pregnancy and growth. If cows are losing weight or if production is decreasing more than normal, it is a pretty good guess that feeding is responsible--cows are not receiving enough nutrients to meet all of their needs, he explains.

Forages normally make up a large part of the dairy cow's ration. In these times of limited forage supply and high forage prices, a much higher amount of the concentrate (grain) mix may be fed to preserve the forage supply and, at the same time, cut down on the cost of feeding. However, to keep the cow's rumen functioning properly and thereby guard against off-feed conditions and low milk-fat test, a minimum of one pound of hay or hay equivalent should be fed daily per 100 pounds of body weight. Furthermore, the amount of grain fed should be increased slowly and should never exceed the amount the cow can safely handle.

And remember, says the dairy specialist, the level at which cows produce is determined by two things--inheritance and opportunity.

"Are your cows being given full opportunity?" asks Meekma.

No Cut In Dividends

As a saver spotted a notation in the Association's advertisement which pegged dividends at 3% interest rate.

Cotton Exports Up For First Quarter

United States cotton exports are up, J.E. Kirby, economist-marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says exports of the fleecy staple for the first quarter of the current cotton year more than doubled those of a year ago.

Exports of all types of cotton amounted to 1,019,000 running bales for the August through October period. This volume was 34 per cent greater than the average for the same period in the preceding five years. This, points out Kirby, is good news for Texas producers since a good percent of their crop is exported.

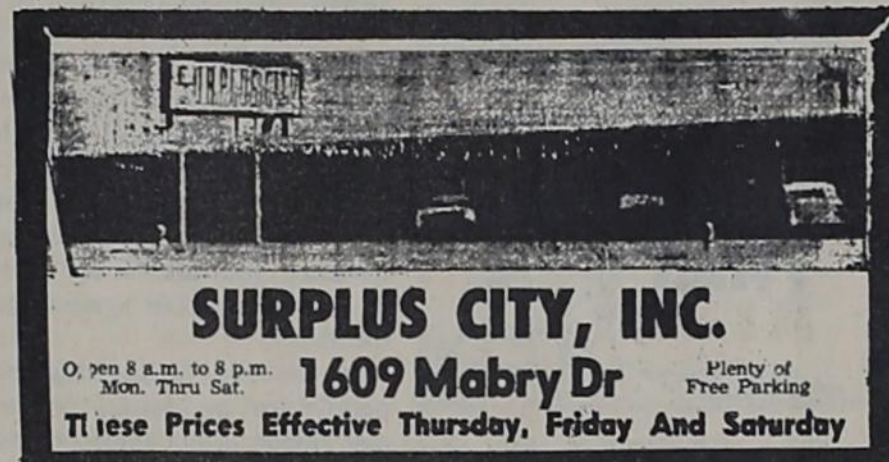

The specialist says that Japan was the top buyer during the first quarter. It took 22 per cent of the total or 221,000 bales. Total shipments to Europe amounted to 481,000 bales, an increase of 290,000 over the same period a year ago.

U. S. exports of cotton linters, mostly chemical qualities, totaled 81,000 bales for the three-month period. West Germany imported about 65 per cent of this total -- an increase of 45 per cent over a year ago.

The U. S., during the three-month period, imported 46,000 bales of linters, mostly felting quality, for an increase of 77 per cent over year earlier figures. Mexico supplied just under 50 per cent of these linters while smaller amounts were imported from Brazil, El Salvador and USSR.

Texas Grain Production And Storage Picture

"Texas' 1963 grain production, hampered somewhat by the drought, fell short of the five-year average on most kinds with the notable exception of rice," Agriculture Commissioner White said this week. At mid-summer of 1963, grain stored in Texas registered warehouses totaled some 452,150,159 bushels of barley, corn, milo, oats and wheat. Rice storage figures were not available. But with normal disappearance, not too much of a storage increase is expected from the total of 327,456,000 bushels produced. Rice, classified separately, yielded some 18,394,000 cwt. which tops considerably the five year average of 12,135,000 cwt. Ample storage capacity was available to handle the 1963 crop, after the usual harvest overload. Total capacity of warehouses registered with Commissioner White's office is 691,369,682 bushels and about one-third of this space was ready to receive the 1963 grains at the season's start. Despite much discussion of surplus grains, Texas warehouses have an average of only about a year's supply of most commodities on hand. This is regarded as adequate for emergencies but not excessive by food distribution officials. Commissioner John White also pointed out that Texas grain warehouse laws, offering about the best protection in the nation, have prevented any losses by grain growers. "No Texas grain farmer has lost even one bushel's worth of grain through theft or mismanagement in nearly 10 years because of our strict bonding and licensing provisions," White said. "The Estes scandals centered primarily on financial manipulations and not grain shortages, and no farmer lost his grain." Production figures and grain storage amounts were as follows (first figure is 1963 production, second figure is amount of storage at midsummer): Barley 3,780,000 bushels, 785,006 bushels; Corn 24,064,000 bu., 1,061,133 bu.; Milo 245,310,000 bu., 380,232,412 bu.; Oats 13,674,000 bu., 270,649 bu.; Wheat 40,618,000 bu., 67,779,640 bu. "Texas remains the leader in almost all forms of grain production and in laws protecting our stored crops," White added.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER
Four Parmer County FB men went to the Farm Bureau Legislative meeting in Lubbock last Thursday. They were Harry Hamilton, James Dixon, James Norton and Raymond Euler. There are several things going on that will have a definite impact on the future of agricultural people one way or another. The department of labor is becoming much more technical in its requirements of records on time, type of work, etc. performed by farm employees if there is a Bracero among them. Then, there is the idea being promoted of extending requirements for payment of the minimum wage, now $1.25 per hour, to those areas of employment that have been exempt because of the peculiarity of such areas of work. Farm employees are in the exempt group. And even more important than this, the pressure that is being generated to increase the minimum wage to $1.50 or $2.00 is not to be forgotten. The net result, of course, would be increased unemployment because of the inability of many employers to pay such minimum rates. Farm Bureau is opposing all of the above proposals. If you oppose them, your strength will be multiplied by your support of Farm Bureau through membership if you are not a member. In the field of cotton, Farm Bureau is endeavoring to get back to the program of operation in effect through 1960 which had reduced surplus of cotton to a normal amount while promising more acreage to meet the demand of the textile market. Every politician is now branded by someone as a liberal or a conservative. We would recommend support of men who have shown, and continue to show their belief in the Constitution of the United States. The Lampasas Schools program on citizenship recently emphasized these important points related to the Constitution: 1. We believe in and trust God; 2. Importance of the individual; 3. Freedom of the individual; 4. Dignity of work; 5. Private ownership of property; 6. The profit motive; 7. Free competition; and 8. The government is supposed to be a protector, not a provider. CONSIDER THIS: Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith. Proverbs 15:17.

The live oak tree is most common in Texas on the coastal plains north and east of Corpus Christi.

The pecan is the State Tree of Texas.

1963 Poor Year For Cattle Feeders

Many cattle feeders will remember 1963 as the year of discontent. The cause was low profits, and the primary culprits were falling feed cattle prices and higher feed costs. Total domestic production of beef reached an estimated 16,470 million pounds during 1963, and this total was swelled by record beef imports. Per capita consumption of beef was 95 pounds during the year, an all time high.

In 1964, domestic beef production is expected to be slightly above 1963 levels and shipments of foreign beef to the United States could exceed the record 1963 tonnage. Feed costs are expected to average near 1963 levels and feeder cattle below 1963 levels.

"With the supply of beef available in 1964 estimated above 1963, we can not expect fed cattle prices to return to 1962 levels," Bergsma explained. "However, with a continued strong demand we might expect prices to be above those of the last half of 1963."

On The Farm In Parmer County

By DERYL COKER
County Agent

Winter will be gone before you know it and planting season will be here. As we get ready and make plans for putting in our crops, lets consider some of the new herbicides, or weed chemicals that will be available for use this year. There is a wide range of chemicals for use on cotton, and if we can figure out how to use them right, it should save us a great deal on labor. Propazine has been approved by the Food and Drug for all types of sorghum and so far looks like it is going to do a good job of controlling weeds and watergrass in sorghum. Chemicals are a great deal cheaper than hand labor if they are used right and are effective.

I will have a county wide meeting in March on Weed Control chemicals, but in the mean time, talk to your farm dealers and try to learn much about these new weed control chemicals. The Agricultural Chemicals Conference will be held in Lubbock, on the 12, 13, and 14 of February on the Texas Tech campus. Herbicides, fertilization of crops, entomological developments and numerous other items will be discussed, so keep this date in mind. The Fourteenth Annual Field Day and Bull Sale will be held on March 12 at Texas Technological College Research Farm at Pantex, Texas. Several people have ordered trees this year from the Texas Forest Service, and we all appreciate them doing this. Trees add to the beauty of the county and add value to the land.

If you haven't ordered your trees, do so at once, because time is running out. The trees

FCIC Claim Awards Now Over $125,000

More than $125,000 has been paid to Parmer County farmers so far this season by USDA's Federal Crop Insurance Corporation to cover crop losses caused by hail and excessive moisture in June and July. In announcing the figure today, FCIC Texas-New Mexico State Director Ben A. Jordan, Jr. added that to date three quarters of all claims filed in the county have been paid. Advanced reports indicate that the total figure may reach $175,000, Jordan said. This is money that would have been lost to the economy of the area if these farmers had not protected their crop investment through crop insurance. He added that FCIC representatives are accepting applications now in this county for a limited time to cover the 1964 cotton and grain sorghum crops, and that information is available at the FCIC district office in Lubbock.

Soviet secondary schools are graduating 1,500,000 students per year as against 1,300,000 in the U. S.

Firemen's Auxiliary Reviews Years Activities, Installs Officers

Texico Firemen's Auxiliary members meeting in a local restaurant for a salad supper Tuesday night reviewed their work during 1963 and installed officers for 1964.

Mrs. Russell Johnson, who was president during 1963 and was installed as the 1964 president, told of the club's activities during the past year revealing that they had won first at the state convention on their scrapbook for the second consecutive year, had contributed to the Muscular Dystrophy drive, presented gifts to several shut ins, presented a gift to their former vice-president who moved away to make her home in Gallup, prepared and served dinner in several homes where death had taken a loved one, and had assisted the Jaycee organization with the SOS for ABC for Bolivia.

In addition they delivered 20 baskets of fruit and candies to senior citizens during the holiday season, prepared a food basket for a needy family, sent get well and sympathy cards to many persons and also were hostesses for a housewarming and a stork shower. As a financial project they sold kitchen knives.

Using as her theme "Seeing Aids," Mrs. Tena Roth installed officers. Using Proverbs as a basis for her discussion she told officers that "Where there is no vision people perish." Gladys Johnson, president was likened to a pair of binoculars "With them one can see afar and a good president needs a far sighted vision. We must not look back on the feats of yesterday but ahead to tomorrow," said Mrs. Roth.

Mrs. S. F. Thigpen, vice-president was likened to a microscope by the installing officer. "With a microscope one can see things not visible to the naked eye-always be looking for prospective members and ways to assist the president."

Mrs. John Adams, secretary, was illustrated as a spotlight. "By accurately keeping the records of achievements and progress of the club you will help to spotlight individual talents," she was told. Mrs. Roy Snodgrass-treasurer, was to be the telescope a great boon to distance seeing. "Always keep accurate account of club expenditures and finances."

Mrs. C. H. Webb, historian, was to be the camera of the club. "Your duty, she was told, is to record the beautiful deeds and activities for posterity."

Mrs. Ed Farmer, reporter was likened to tri-focal glasses. "Through the top section of the tri-focal you can see the things of the past, middle section is for seeing things to come, and with the bottom section one can see the things as they are and report them accurately."

All members of the club were likened to a pair of rose colored glasses, with them one can always improve his vision as all things look bright and beautiful and obstacles disappear from the path. "If each club member looks for the best in the officers and does his best to help a successful, happy year will be the result," said Mrs. Roth in conclusion.

Following the installation service gifts of appreciation were presented to Mrs. Roth and Mrs. Jim Moss. In making the presentations, Mrs. Johnson said, "For your assistance in all areas during the past year we offer these tokens of affection and appreciation." Mrs. Johnson was also presented with a gift, as retiring president.
