Farwell boys golf team, girls golf team, girls tennis teams and three Steerette tracksters won their respective district competitions and are now to compete for the Regional titles.

In UIL literary competition, 12 Farwell students placed in the top three of their respective divisions and will compete at Regional literary/scholastic events.

Farwell won the coveted Sweepstakes Trophy last year, earning more points than any other school in the 3-A district with 476.

SCHOLASTIC COMPETITION
University Interscholastic League (UIL) literary contests took place at West Texas State University in Canyon on Friday with several Farwell students winning ribbons and 12 earning a chance to compete at Regional. Those in first, second or third place will advance to Regional competition slated for April 24-25 in Odessa.

Farwell debaters won second and third place at the event. The team of Judith Schilling and Sharmy Christian ranked 2nd and Bowie Howard and Jay Anderson placed 3rd.

In informative speaking, Doug Cole was 4th and Stacy Turner, 5th. Lawrence Gobble placed 4th in persuasive speaking and Polly Turner was 6th in poetry interpretation.

Farwell journalists swept the journalism competition with many in the top three spots. Doug Cole was 1st in feature writing, Rocky Ford placed 2nd and Jennifer Stancell was 5th.

In news writing, Rocky Ford was 1st place winner; Claud

Gobble, 2nd; and Jennifer Stancell, 4th.

Writers Cole, Gobble and Stancell took the top three spots respectively in editorial writing and Karen Magness was 2nd in headline writing.

In the ready writing category, Cydney Ford placed 5th. Sharla Stewart was 2nd in the spelling contest and Sandra H. Coates placed 4th. Polly Turner placed 5th in science and Frank Cantu was 2nd in typewriting.

GIRLS TENNIS
For the second year in a row, Farwell girls tennis team captured the district title after competition last Saturday in Hart, and all four members qualified for regional competition.

Lezie Castleberry took the district singles title after defeating Farwell's Janene Berry in the finals 6-1, 4-6, 6-2. Castleberry had a first round bye and defeated Segura from Kress 6-0, 6-0 in the second round of play.

Berry finished second in the district singles division, having a first round bye and then defeating Templeton of Springlake-Earth 7-6, 6-4. R. Bowden of Hart fell to Berry in the semi-finals 6-1, 6-3.

Defending district doubles champs Karen Magness and Tracy Williams once again garnered the district title after defeating Gouddy and Creitz of Vega in the first round 6-1, 6-0.

In the semi-finals the local girls overpowered Rogers and McGraw from Kress 6-1, 6-0.

The Springlake-Earth team of Kellar and Haydon fell to Magness and Williams 4-6, 6-3, 6-4 in the final round of play.

"I'm very proud of the way the girls played," said their coach Ted Phillips. "They have worked very hard this season and deserved to win."

Regional play for the girls is set for April 24-25 in Odessa.

Boys district tennis meet is April 21 at Hart. "We should do well there also," Phillips remarked.

GIRLS GOLF

To capture the district title once again, the Steerette linksters, defending state champions, shot a two-day total of 761 to defeat their only opponent Vega by 231 strokes.

District tourney medalist was Janene Berry who shot 87-90 during two days of play and second place medalist was Robin Vinton with a 94-92 two-day score.

New Judicial District - -

Actkinson Appointed As District Attorney

Parmer County Attorney Johnny Actkinson of Farwell has been appointed by Texas Governor Bill Clements to serve as District Attorney for the newly-formed 287th Judicial District. Actkinson's appointment is subject to Texas senate approval.

The new judicial district was created by Clements when he signed into law the Omnibus Court Act which divided District 154, which included Lamb, Parmer and Bailey counties, into two separate judicial districts. Parmer and Bailey counties are now in Judicial District 287, and District 154 is a one-county judicial district comprised of Lamb County.

Judge Pat Boone, Jr. will remain judicial district judge for District 154, serving Lamb County.

Appointed by Gov. Clements to serve as District Judge in of Muleshoe who has served as Jack Young's investigator and has approximately four years' experience.

As district attorney, Actkinson will prosecute felony crimes in both Bailey and Parmer counties. As Parmer County Attorney he prosecuted misdemeanor crimes.

Basically, the Omnibus Court Act signed into law by Gov. Clements creating 21 new courts, was placed into effect on the basis of population.

Actkinson explains that there are approximately 20,000 persons per judge in each district, Parmer and Bailey counties contain an approximate total of 20,000 persons and Lamb has 20,000.

Other district "splits" took place in the larger towns of Houston, Dallas, and San Antonio, according to Actkinson.

Special Easter Bunnies

Silly Rabbit, candy and colored eggs are for kids! These students in Alice Richmond's third grade class at Texico, along with their classmates, have been busy making special Easter decorations, including fluffy white bunny rabbits. The bunnies almost look like the real Easter Rabbit with pink floppy ears, pink curly whiskers and lots and lots of fluff. The little critters were constructed with empty milk cartons from the school cafeteria and are especially handy as their empty backs can hold jelly beans, chocolate covered candies or a couple of those special eggs Rabbits are famous for. Shown with their special Easter creations are, from left, Debert Baeza, Monia Ann Potts and Konni Warmuth.

City To Make Donation To Senior Citizen Fund

Farwell city fathers are making plans to donate money to the Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens organization and city clerk Janie Bowers has been asked to gather more facts on the local organization before the next session of the commissioners.

"I spoke with Mrs. Caywood, director of the local Senior Citizens group, and she said the organization receives no grant monies from Texas," Mrs. Bowers told council members at Monday night's council meeting. "It has been three years since we made any contribution. We used to match what PRPC paid, but we haven't done anything since that time," she said.

The clerk advised the council that Mrs. Caywood had said that any contribution would be greatly appreciated and that the organization has some funds available for their current remodeling work from the State of New Mexico but not enough to complete it.

"If it has been three years, we should think about it (making a contribution) and make a decision at our next meeting," said councilman Fred Chandler.

Councilman Johnny Curtis agreed, adding, "I think we have just as many Farwell senior citizens who use the organization, if not more."

Mrs. Bowers was advised to check into what sort of donation would be more helpful to the organization by checking into the total amount of money available to the club now for its remodeling project.

In other action taken at Monday's gathering, councilmen voted to raise the rental rate for use of the annex room connected to the city offices. Non-profit organizations who use the area for meetings will still have its use free. However, any profit organization, such as the professional photographers who come to Farwell will be charged a flat rental fee of $15. Previous rental charge was $6.

More progress was made on this summer's proposed road improvement seal coat project. Mrs. Bowers will send out a notice to bidders and exact (Continued on Page 2)

Pay Increase Okayed For Extension Agent

A resolution to enlist state governmental aid for a Bovina business, a pay raise for county extension agent Seth Ralston, and a letter of opposition to state representatives on current county employment retirement policies were approved at the recent meeting of the Parmer County Commissioners Court, conducted April 10.

A delegation comprised of John Atkins of Hereford, Don Murphy of Bovina and Floyd Schueler of Rhea Community representing Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc., met with the court and discussed the financial position of the Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc.

The three men then presented a resolution in support of their application for a Small Business Administration loan to enlist the aid of Governor Bill Clements, Senators Loyd Bentsen and John Tower, and Congressman Kent Hance in receiving the SBA loan at the earliest possible date.

The court voted unanimously to adopt this resolution following a discussion as to the impact of the closing of Bovina Wheat Growers, Inc., on the city of Bovina and Parmer County should the company be forced out of business.

Parmer County Extension Agent Seth Ralston had his pay raised $1,500 per year, or $125 per month, beginning April 1, 1981.

Before the agent's pay increase was approved, Dr. Catherine Crawford of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, and visitors Don Gerles and Jerry D. Owen held a discussion with the court on the job performed by Ralston.

"All of these contacts said that Ralston was doing an exceptionally good job for the county and the Agricultural Extension Service," said Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts. "His pay raise was approved unanimously," the judge said.

In the matter of county employee retirement benefits, the commissioners signed letters to Texas senators and representatives stating opposition to the current Texas County and District Retirement System. According to Judge Roberts, the current HB 925 system states that elected officials will retire at 60 percent of their salary after 12 years of service or at 60 years of age. Hired employees, such as secretaries or maintainer operators, retire at only 20 percent of their salary after the same 12 years of service or 60 years of age.

"The court decided this bill was unfair to employees and we voted to let our senator and representative know our opposition," said Roberts.

In other action taken at the meeting, boarding care bills were received on four Parmer County foster children. Bills totaling $323 were approved for payment.

The following soil conservation work was approved and ratified:

Precinct 1: Jerry Brownd, $70; Joe Bob Johnson, $35. Precinct 2: Lynn Hughes, $70; Donald Dale, $17.50; Jimmie Heard, $52.50; C.V. Potts, $175; Jack Patterson, $17.50; and Johnnie Rucker, $87.50.

Precinct 3: James Haseloff, $17.50; James Sides, $17.50; D.W. Pierson, $35; Gene Hardage, $35; Button Howard, $52.50; Don Gerles, $17.50; Doyle Johnson, $17.50; Larry Hodnett, $70; Bobby Calloway, $35; Richard Haseloff, $35; Mike Haseloff, $87.50.

A budget hearing was also conducted, and according to Judge Roberts no one from the public came to the meeting. It was voted that revenue sharing monies as they are received would be added as receipts to the annual budget. This action is an amendment to the 1981 budget.

Car Crashes Into Home

According to Texas Department of Public Safety investigating officer, Arturo Lopez, Lora Mears, 71, of Farwell was southbound on Fourth Street in Farwell when she had what doctors say was a stroke or a seizure, causing her car to veer from the street and crash into the home of Gene Sterling on Fourth and Avenue H. According to reports issued at presstime, Mrs. Mears was transferred immediately from the scene to Muleshoe hospital by Farwell ambulance, where she was pronounced in critical condition and then transferred to a Lubbock hospital.

PURELY
by John

The political facts of life are plain to see and the voters of the Panhandle ought to take these realities seriously. The 1980 census figures show that this entire area will lose political clout in the Texas legislature and in the national congress.

Our State Senatorial district is seriously under populated, our state representative District and our U.S. Representative district are also in the same boat. When redistricting comes about there will be more representatives from the urban areas and the rural representatives will take in more area to bring their people count up to the prescribed number.

There is a natural conflict of interest between the needs and wants of the urban concentrations and the needs and wants of the rural districts. In spending the tax monies, both in the state and national congresses, more funds will be appropriated for relief of big city problems and less to the countryside.

An example of this is the fight to expand funds for urban mass transit. Right now the rural folks are to some degree subsidizing the city dwellers to get them to work, play and the market place. The big city boys on the other hand are looking at higher gasoline taxes so they can spend it for their mass transportation purposes. The country family depends entirely on automobiles to get to where the urbanite goes with subsidized transportation.

The division between the benefits of state government to the big city folks and the rural people is becoming more clearly defined. This leads us to re-consider the oft considered option of the State of Texas, namely to divide itself into as many as five more states.

While the division of Texas into five new states may be impractical, maybe a division into two or even three states could be desirable. As the big city politicians pick the pockets of the rural people this alternative becomes more and more re-thinkable.

We were and still are mystified by the large amorphous red cloud that passed from west to east last Sunday night between 10 p.m. and about 10:45 p.m. Delbert Black phoned us a very few minutes after 10 and asked if we knew what was going on. No, we didn't then and are still not sure what went on.

As we understand it the "experts" are laying it off on an auroral effect on high clouds formed of ice crystals. We have lived here over 30 years and this is the first time we have seen anything attributable to the aurora borealis. We did see some "Northern Lights" when we lived in Illinois and they did not look like what we witnessed Sunday night.

There for awhile we almost expected some green men to come out of the red cloud and say "Merry Christmas." Well, joking aside, we fully expect somebody to say that this is what we get for poking holes in the sky with our space shuttle.

While we are not completely sold on the aurora effect we do not have any other plausible explanation so will put it down as a once in a lifetime experience and are happy we witnessed it.

When a politician changes his position on an issue, it's hard to tell whether he's seen the light or felt the heat.

Don't send a politician to jail when you nail him for his crooked dealings. Hit him where it hurts. Ban his books.

regional participation are, from left, Claud Gobble, 2nd place newswriting and 2nd place editorial writing; Jennifer Stancell, 5th place feature writing, 4th place newswriting and 3rd place editorial writing; Doug Cole, 1st place feature writing and 1st in editorial writing; Karen Magness, 2nd place headline writing; and Rocky Ford, 2nd place feature writing and 1st place newswriting.

(Continued from Page 1) specifications for the project soon. In the meantime she is to find out the type of rock mix that was used in last summer's project and add that description into the city's specifications.

"That mix was the best I've ever seen," said Chandler. "I'd like it in the specifications before we send out a bidders notice."

The clerk said she thought the mixture was a crushed compound of number three and number five type rock. "Well, we got a better coat last year than when we started this project," said Curtis. The clerk is to contact last year's contractor and find out the mixture description.

Farwell resident Judy Autrey approached the council about the placement of stop signs on First Street. Mrs. Autrey brought photographs of an auto accident that had occurred in her front yard Monday afternoon because of a driver traveling at excessive speed, losing control and skidding into her parked auto causing considerable damage.

Mrs. Autrey advised the councilmen that she felt adding a stop sign would slow down the traffic, which she said moved at high speeds frequently.

The city fathers had the request placed on the agenda for their next session so they could gather more information on the possibility.

The city clerk is to check with the Secretary of State on the proposal of having future city elections at the same location, and the possibility of having it on the same ballot as Farwell school board and hospital district board elections.

"I know we'll have more voters if we can do it," said Curtis. "I know of several city residents who voted in the school board election who didn't come down here to city hall to vote."

The councilmen asked Mrs. Bowery to find out the legality of voting under the same roof as the school board, even if it requires two separate ballots.

It was reported that 14 Farwell street signs are missing, either from the recent high winds or vandals. Mrs. Bowery advised the council that new signs cost $19.60 each.

The council has issued a request to citizens of Farwell to return any found street signs, with a "no questions asked" policy. "This may save us some money if people will turn them in," said Chandler. "Otherwise, let's plan on ordering the new signs in a couple of weeks."

In other business the council appointed Robert Bergner as a full time dog catcher for the city. Bergner, who is already employed by the city, will be paid $3 per dog or cat that he turns in to the city pound.

Before adjourning the members discussed street cleaning progress, cemetery and park lawn care, the water system and paying of bills.

More Regional Qualifiers

seated: Sharla Stewart, 2nd place spelling; Judith Schilling and Sharmy Christian, 2nd place debate; and Jay Anderson, 3rd place debate. Farwell is ranked number one this week in District 3-AA UIL competition with a total of 265 overall points, besting second place competitor Vega by 44 points.

"One of our goals this season was to win every tournament we entered," said a pleased coach Mike Martin. "We have four down and two to go."

The link champions were to compete in a regional qualifiers meet Wednesday in Slaton, and are to leave Saturday, April 18, for regional competition in Odessa.

"If we shoot 370 two days in a row at Odessa we'll do real well. We're going there to win," Martin said.

The girls have won all competitions this season and the coach is pleased with their efforts so far. "I'm more pleased with our team score than our individual scores," he said. "Some of our players could shave off several strokes. We had 11 penalty strokes in Vega alone."

BOYS GOLF

The Steer golfers took to the greens and emerged as the District 3-AA champions besting the second place competitor Vega by 39 strokes, following recent link competition on the Farwell and Vega courses.

The local team's two-day total was 704 with Rocky Ford being named tourney medalist with a two day shooting record of 83-84. Brent Green was second place medalist with a total of 79-90.

Other individual scores were Nicky Liethen, 88-92; Forrest Cole, 95-93; Brian Langdon, 100-94; Lenny Beal, 104-103.

Bovina placed third in the two-day event with a total of 769 strokes.

Farwell and Vega will now represent the district in Regional play in Odessa, April 29-30.

GIRLS TRACK

Farwell tracksters Johanna Mesman, Suzahn Inman and Jane Ward are the Steerette thinclads who will compete in Regional track competition April 24-25 in Odessa.

Mesman placed second in the 880 and second in the mile run; Inman placed 2nd in the long jump; and Ward was 2nd in the 100 meter low hurdles during recent district competition at the Farwell track.

Dog Catcher Hired By City Of Farwell

Farwell city employee Robert Bergner was appointed as full time dog catcher by the Farwell City Council at the Monday night regular bi-monthly meeting.

Bergner, who currently works in the city's sanitation department, is to be paid $3 per dog or cat caught by him and turned in to the city pound. He will also be responsible for disposing of the animal if it has not been claimed by an owner after 72 hours.

Bergner is to use the city's pickup in capturing the animals, and is also responsible for their care and feeding while they are in city custody.

Bergner stated that his wife has plans to begin a Humane Society in town and would like to try to find homes for some of the animals when they are not claimed by an owner. "We would catch them and if they are not claimed then we'd try and find a home for them, and if no one wants them, then put them to sleep," he told councilmen.

"We've been looking for a full time dog catcher ever since the last one left," commented councilman Johnny Curtis. "It will sure help to clean up the dogs around here. It's that time of year again," Curtis said.

Farwell has a leash law ordinance and the hiring of Bergner as its full time animal catcher is just one more effort to insure the obeying of that ordinance.

Once an owner does claim the pet, there is a charge for the city's hospitality. Pet owners will be assessed $7 for the first offense plus $1 for food; $14 for the second offense plus $1 for food, and on the third capture and confinement of the pet, the owner will be fined $28 plus $1 for food. The leash law applies to stray dogs and cats alike.

Texico City Council Has Routine Session

Members of the Texico City Council conducted a brief meeting during their regular bi-monthly session Tuesday night at Texico City Hall.

It was announced that the City of Clovis will furnish the equipment necessary for the chip and seal road work in Texico. Mayor John Hadley had met with the Clovis city officials on Monday to discuss this proposal.

The city of Texico has set an April 24 completion date of the road work. "If weather holds out," said city clerk Marie Christian.

The volunteer fire department's fiscal year 1981-82 budget was approved at the meeting, and the municipal quarterly report and the municipal judge report were approved. Copies of the quarterly report have been submitted to the Farmers Home Administration and the Department of Finance and Administration.

The city fathers are considering a lease agreement with the Texico-Farwell Senior Citizens on use of the building next to city hall.

Attending the Tuesday night session were Mayor John R. Hadley, trustees Vane Doshier, Lewis Cooper and Truman Kittrell; employees Mickey Fenn and Marie Christian and visitor Joe Goforth.

Student Council Officers

Kalbas and Rocky Ford; juniors, Shana Blain, Tammy Obenshain, Jennifer Stancell, and Kelly Davis; sophomores, Vicki Heard and Shelley Ford; and freshmen, Sammy Sanchez, Roger Robertson and Ricky Sikes.

Roberts Hears Cases

Parmer County Judge Porter Roberts heard four cases this week, involving DWI, DWLS, possession of marijuana, and obstruction of a public highway.

William Randolph, 48, of Friona was charged with obstructing a public highway and fined $100 plus court costs.

Virgil Morris, 29, of Friona, charged with DWI, fined $150 plus court costs, sentenced to 20 days in county custody and given a six-month deferred judgement.

Joe Andrew Costello was charged with two offenses, possession of marijuana under two ounces and DWLS. Costello was fined $100 and court costs for his marijuana charge and was fined $250 plus court costs in the driving with license suspended charge.

Sheriff's Report

The week was relatively quiet for Parmer County sheriff's officials with two vandal reports and two arrests.

Vandals struck the Andy Schumacher farm located five miles northeast of Lazbuddie and broke the hose off a diesel tank, allowing some 500 gallons of diesel fuel to pour out. Sheriff Bill Morgan estimates the damage at $600.

The Sherley-Anderson-Pit-

WORD of GOD

I am the way
John 14:6

Jesus said:
For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

How think ye? If a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

Matthew 18:11-14

Alpha Rho Lambda chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority will celebrate its 50th anniversary along with sister organizations around the country on April 30.

A special Founder's Day celebration is slated for that date at La Villa Restaurant in Clovis with the local chapter and chapters from Clovis participating.

Farwell mayor pro tem Johnny Curtis signed a proclamation designating April 30 as Beta Sigma Phi day in Farwell, and political officials across the nation have signed similar proclamations honoring their local chapters.

Beta Sigma Phi is the largest Greek letter sorority and has grown in its 50-year history from one chapter of seven women to a sorority of 250,000 women active in chapters in 32 countries throughout the world. Locally, members of the Alpha Rho Lambda chapter sponsor the annual Pheasant Hunters Breakfast, events in Border Town Days, a Mother's Day Tea, Valentine Dance and Founders Day celebration each year, as well as many other civic events.

Life, learning and friendship are the bywords of Beta Sigma Phi. Begun in the midst of the depression by Walter W. Ross, Beta Sigma Phi was originally designed to provide an outlet for women who, in those days, had financial hard times, could not attend college and were obliged to remain home and support their families. Walter Ross provided these women with a program of cultural study so they could have a chance at intellectual and social growth. From the first chapter formed in Abilene, Kansas, the sorority has grown from a small social and cultural group into an international sorority that devotes much time to service efforts as well.

Internationally, the chapters have created several special funds to which they contribute: the International Loan Fund, through which members help each other; the International Endowment Fund, which has donated over a million dollars to health research groups, homes for underprivileged children and many other causes; the Exemplar Fund, which helps support Literacy Village in India; and a college scholarship fund for members or their sons or daughters.

Serving as officers in the local chapter for the past year were Mary Ann Lingnau, president; Anita Ralston, vice-president; Cynthia Thigpen, secretary; Charlotte Donaldson, treasurer; Gloria Hutchins, extension officer; and Pam Smith, City Council representative.

Newly-elected officers are Anita Ralston, president; Sandra Joiner, vice-president; Cynthia Thigpen, secretary; Nedda Travis, treasurer; Mary Ann Lingnau, extension officer; and Kitty Johnson, City Council representative.

Welfare Board Chairman Pleased With Workshops

Mary Lee Johns of the Texas Conference of Churches was the featured speaker at the recent gathering of the Parmer County Child Welfare Board with two workshops on the problem of Child Abuse and Neglect.

Miss Johns spoke at two sessions on what Rev. Norman Sircic, chairman of the county child welfare board, said was a "knowledgeable low-key approach to the subject." Her talk was "excellent," he said.

The morning session was attended by ministers and lay leaders from Parmer County churches. "This session challenged churches to take an active role in helping deal with the serious problem of child abuse and neglect," said Rev. Sircic.

Persons attending the afternoon session showed an interest in Foster Parenting and many showed a concern about the problems.

A bake sale was held in conjunction with the workshop and netted $400 for the board to use in situations when needed.

Rev. Sircic expressed deep appreciation for the persons who participated in the workshops. "They sacrificed a portion of their time to help better understand and deal with the very real problem of child abuse and neglect," he said.

The board chairman also cited Parmer County newspapers, the State Line Tribune, the Friona Star and the Bovina Blade "for their continued cooperation in running articles for the Child Welfare Board."

"We also want to thank the Friona State Bank for the use of its facilities, the cablevision company for the community service announcements, the Texas Conference of Churches for making the workshop speaker available, and to all who sent cakes, pies and goodies or who bought them in support of the Child Welfare Board and its work," he said.

Everybody wants lower gas prices. Including us.

We know how you feel about rising energy costs. Because we have to pay fuel bills, too. That's why we're doing everything we can to bring you energy at the lowest possible cost.

There are still some people out there who think they know just how to lower our costs for us.

"Put pressure on your suppliers," they say, forgetting that our supplier's costs of exploration, drilling and labor are going up each year.

"Cut down on all the paper work and regulations," they counter, not realizing that it takes time and money to unsmarl government red tape.

"Chop your overhead," they argue, without considering that the cost of running trucks and equipment goes up almost monthly. They also forget that interest on loans has gone sky high and that it's necessary to borrow money to purchase new equipment and other improved service.

We cut our budget as much as we can without cutting into your gas service. And the natural gas we provide is still the most efficient and economical household energy source available.

Sure, we'll always look for ways to save you money. But we won't do anything that will cut your gas supply.

Because that would be the unkindest cut of all.

Today and tomorrow, we're delivering energy you can live with.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES. SEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"THE FIRST BOOK TO READ"

In years gone by, when life was simpler, men had time to ponder over the really important questions: What will become of me when I die? Is there a heaven—and a hell? Can I know God? Will He forgive my sins? If so, on what basis? What must I do to be saved?

The materialism, commercialism and the technology of our day, however, have so complicated life that secondary problems hinder many people from even considering at leisure the truly important things.

Yet despite all the hurry and anxiety, all the noise and distraction, there are troubled souls, hungering and thirsting for true satisfaction, for a heart cleansed from sin, delivered from the awful burden of a guilty conscience.

Such people should read Paul's Epistle to the Romans and meditate on its great message of salvation. In fact, this is the first book they ought to read.

In Romans the inspired apostle declares that "all have sinned" (3:23) and that "the wages of sin is death" (6:23). But this is not all. Romans also proclaims the good news that Christ was "delivered for our offences, and raised again for our justification" and that therefore we may have "peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (4:25, 5:1).

More than that, Romans offers abundant grace to all who trust in Christ. "The law entered that the offence might abound, but where sin abounded grace did much more abound" (5:20, 21). Thus believers are "justified freely by God's grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Jesus" (3:24) and "the (FREE) GIFT of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (6:23).

We urge those who are not sure of salvation to read carefully and prayerfully Paul's Epistle to the Romans. You may be thanking God for the rest of your earthly life that you did. Read St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans.

Visiting Norwegians

Texico-Farwell Rotary president Hugh Moseley, far left, played tour guide to six visiting Rotarians from Norway last week. The visitors were part of a Rotary Exchange Study Group and were hosted in the Twin Cities by Rotary chapter 552. Moseley took them on a tour of the Farwell area including stops at Buttons Howard's roping arena, the school buildings, feed lots and Rip's Western Wear in Texico. Members of the visiting group were, from left, Bjorn Ulset, leader of the group; Erik Skramstad, Egil Smestad, Kai Espeseth, Knut-Enmund Furu and Pal Morten Skollerud. Following their day in the Twin Cities, where they also presented a slide show to the local Rotarians, the men then spent time in Clovis, Albuquerque, Santa Fe and other New Mexico cities.

Local Rotarians Host Norwegian Visitors

by Mary Sobin
News Editor

"entertain" their host service club members at the local group's regular meeting.

Each of the six visiting men told about himself, his family and occupation and the country in which he lived. A slide presentation was given by each of the men, and Moseley remarked that the slides showed Norway to be "absolutely beautiful."

"One man showed us a slide with huge beautiful mountains and a pretty blue lake at the foot of the mountains and he commented, 'this is the view out of my office window,'" said Moseley. "It was a great program."

Moseley then took the men on a grand tour of Farwell, including stops at the schools and at the homes of the Mark Williamses and the Tom Nicholases. At the Tim Norton farm they witnessed corn being planted with an eight-row rig and also made a visit to the Orié Jones' place where they saw the antique and restored vehicles belonging to Jones.

Highlighting their day in Farwell was the trip out to the Buttons Howard rodeo arena. While there Moseley gave one of the men instructions on how to rope a calf using the wooden "dummy" calf on the grounds. "He tried to do it first, then I showed him how," recalls Moseley. "Well, before too long he was roping it... they all got a kick out of that," he laughed.

Also while they were in the Farwell area the group was taken to the Far-Tex Feed yards on State Line Road. On their way back to Clovis where they were to be hosted overnight by Clovis Rotarians, the men got a chance to shop at Rip's Western Wear in Texico. "They really liked that," Moseley said. "All of them commented on how inexpensive the clothing was compared to Norway prices."

The local Rotary president commented that he was "highly impressed" with the education levels of the six men and said they all spoke fluent English, although while speaking with each other they spoke in their native tongue of Norwegian.

The visiting Rotarians were given a tour of Clovis the following day by members of the Clovis Rotarian organization, and then gave another slide presentation at a special banquet sponsored by the Clovis group.

Traveling with the Norway Rotary team were Bjorn Ulset, leader. Ulset is the headmaster at Trintom Elementary School, and received his education from the University of Trondheim and the University of Oslo.

Pal Morten Skollerud is a teacher and farmer, teaching agricultural economics for different types of farms in Norway. He received his degree in agriculture economics from the Agricultural University of Norway. In addition to his native language, Skollerud speaks English, German and Spanish.

Kai Espeseth is a herd improvement advisor for Vang Dairy in Norway. He is responsible for advising farmers on the breeding and feeding of domestic animals and the production and treatment of milk. He also speaks three "other" languages, including English, German and French.

Knut-Edmund Furu is employed by Savings Bank Hedermarken, as office manager. He received his degree from the University of Business and Economy in Oslo and speaks English and German.

Erik Skramstad is a senior research engineer receiving his Mechanical Engineer's degree from Norwegian Technical University. He speaks English and German and is involved in research and development work for the safety of process plants and transport systems for hydrocarbons.

Egil Smestad teaches at the Institute of Pharmacy at the University of Oslo. He teaches Practical Pharmacy giving a course on different types of medicines.

After departing Clovis, the team was taken to Santa Fe where they were to tour the New Mexico State Capitol, Farmington, Gallup, Grants, Four Corners, Albuquerque, Alamogordo, Belen, Socorro, Carrizozo, White Sands, Las Cruces and El Paso.

Their tour will include various museums, Indian culture, Mexican culture, farms, missile ranges as well as universities and zoos.

The group departed from Texico on April 8 and stopped for lunch and sand surfing at White Sands, N.M., en route to Las Cruces.

Following their last judging event on Friday, the group traveled to El Paso where they spent the remainder of the day swimming and shopping at a large shopping center.

On Saturday morning the students shopped in Juarez, Mexico, before they began their return trip to Texico.

FFA members attending and their teams included Montie Powell and Elias Orozco, dairy; Danny Reid, dairy and poultry; Doyle Duncan, dairy and poultry; Jay Duncan, dairy; and Kevin West, livestock.

WHITE FARM EQUIPMENT RESUMES PRODUCTION

White Farm Equipment Company announced here today the resumption of production of its full line of farm wheel tractors. White Farm Equipment manufactures and distributes tractors ranging from 30 to 210 horsepower from Charles City.

The first tractor off the assembly line was a White "Field Boss" (R) tractor Model 2-70. It was greeted by members of White Farm management and Charles City staff in an informal celebration, which signaled the return to full production of the plant after nearly 11 months of curtailed operations due to a depressed farm economy and high interest rates.

White Farm noted that its South Bend, Indiana, factory resumed production and shipment of farm implements and tillage tools more than two months ago. R.A. Fuller, Executive Vice President, White Farm Equipment Company, said its current production mix includes the highly popular "Seed Boss" (R) 5100 Series air planter, which enjoyed very favorable reception among dealers and farmers when introduced last year.

"Today's farm machinery market is improved over one year ago, and according to projections it will continue to improve," Fuller said. "It is not as strong now as it has been in the past several years, but, as demand rises, our production schedule will be adjusted upward to adequately supply our dealers."

"During the curtailment, the company virtually reconstructed its organization so that the needs and the pace of the market can be responded to more rapidly. White Farm emerges from this period restructured and streamlined in many ways - from management techniques to physical operations. Our goals are improved efficiency and better planning for the demands of the retail market."

Employment levels will continue to follow historical trends to some extent. However, a part of the company's new strategy is to more efficiently manage around the cyclical layoff patterns which have been common throughout the farm machinery industry for years.

White Farm officials said financial operations of the company are a strong footing. Both wholesale and retail financing are in place through an agreement with Borg-Warner Acceptance Corporation. In addition, a strong bank line of operating capital has been established, Fuller said.

The company will maintain its dealer network and has begun to offer aggressive retail sales incentive programs to capture an increasingly larger share of the farm equipment market.

Fuller said "We are being extremely well supported by our traditional, long standing suppliers in bringing the operations back to full production."

White Farm Equipment Company, headquartered in Oak Brook, Illinois, a Chicago suburb, is a new subsidiary of the privately held TIC Investment Corporation, based in Dallas, Texas. TIC is continuing negotiations toward the purchase of White Farm's Canadian operations. TIC also owns several other successful manufacturing and serving subsidiaries.

Pete Moore, Local Dealer for White Farm Equipment invites everyone to come by at 1515 Mabry Drive, Clovis, N.M. and see the new line of White Tractors and Equipment.
