

Peek At Pokes Prize For Pigskin Pickers

Translated:

Cowboy Tickets Await Lucky Football Contest Winner!!

What wouldn't you football fans, especially Dallas Cowboy fans, give to see the Pokes in their home game against their rivals from the east, those Philadelphia Eagles? (Just think, you could boo old Ron Jaworski et al in person.)

Well, it could be easier than you think. All you have to do to witness the big game in person is to win the 1981 edition of the Tribune Football Contest!

That's right!! This year's contest winner will receive two tickets to the Dallas-Philadelphia game to be played December 13 at Texas Stadium, PLUS overnight lodging at the Regent Hotel in Dallas, PLUS transportation to and from the hotel to the stadium, PLUS $50 to help with gasoline and meals. The Tribune has already reserved the room and purchased the tickets for the lucky winner.

It's enough to make even the medium-cool Cowboy fan start scanning the charts, comparing schedules and deciding who's going to beat whom on the 12 upcoming weekends in the Tribune's football contest which begins next Friday.

In years past, the top contest winner has received two tickets to the New Year's Day game in the Cotton Bowl, plus $50, and the second place winner wound up with two tickets to the Sun Bowl in El Paso with a $25 check.

But this year, only a GRAND PRIZE will be awarded - the trip to the biggie in Dallas for the person who has predicted correctly the outcome of the most games during the contest.

And the 23rd Annual Merchants Football Contest gets underway next Friday, Sept. 4, when the Farwell and Texico teams open their '81 seasons.

First and second place prizes will continue to be awarded each week during the contest with the first place gridiron guesser receiving $7.50 and the second place winner receiving $5.

All other rules of the contest remain the same as in years past. Each week the Tribune will list 12 games, high school, college and pro, and contestants must pick a winner of each of those games. In addition, entrants must pick a score for the tiebreaker game.

It is imperative that a contestant enter a score for the tiebreaker, as many weekly winners as well as overall contest winners have been named by virtue of the tiebreaker scores.

The person who picks the tiebreaker score closest to the actual score of that game (the point-spread system will be used) will be named the winner in case of a tie in the number of games correctly selected.

Weekly tabulations on contest winners and their points are kept for public viewing at the Tribune office, and are ready for inspection on Monday morning.

Those eligible to enter the annual football-foresight-game include anyone 12 years of age or older, with the exception of Tribune employees and their families.

Merchant sponsors and their families are eligible and are encouraged to enter.

Entry blanks will be available at the Tribune office and in each issue of the Tribune, and must be filled out and left at the Tribune by 5 p.m. CDT

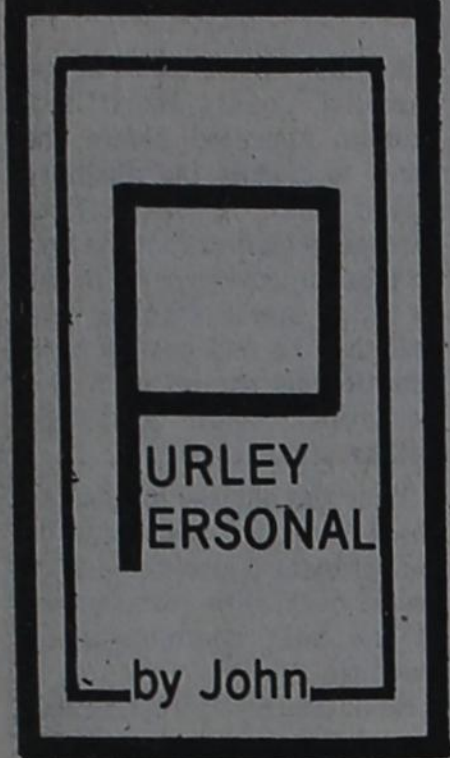

Friday, or if mailed, must bear a Friday postmark.

Winners of last year's contest were Earlene Porter of Clovis, first place, and Johnny Curtis of Farwell, second place.

First place winners in years past include Bunk Phillips, Maxine Williams, Jerry Dee Owen, A.D. Kirk, Thelma Alexander and Dodie Actkinson;

Also Doris Herington, Dee Owen, C.L. Mahaney, Mrs. Roy Everett, Greg Hargrove, T.J. Kittrell, Terry Craft, W.M. Roberts, Becky Taylor, Sam Gonzales, who won twice, Gay Goetsch;

Next week begins the 23rd annual football contest put on by the Tribune with the sponsorship of the area merchants. For the first time in 10 these many years we are forsaking the New Year's Cotton Bowl as our first place prize. We feel fortunate that we were able to latch onto a package deal that lets us reward this year's grand prize winner with two tickets to the Dallas Cowboy game with the Philadelphia Eagles on Sunday, December 13.

We only had a "window" of three weeks in December to have a Cowboy game. This year the only Cowboy home game is the Eagle game on the 13th. The next week the Cowboys finish the regular season playing the Giants at New York. So, we are happy that we could get the only Cowboy home game in December plus a guaranteed night's lodging in Dallas with transportation to and from Texas Stadium in Irving.

Have at it all you confirmed football addicts, the Trib contest has a wonderful reward for the sharpest guesser in the area.

We realize that as the years go by our concept of journalism is getting further out of step with the electronic media. Last week following the U.S. Navy shooting down of two Libyan war planes we sincerely wondered whose side the electronic press is on.

From some of the questions being asked the President and the Secretary of Defense we thought the questioners were from some communist country. Why do so many of the TV boys seem to operate from the premise that this country is always wrong? Now we are used to asking interview questions and realize that tough questions must be asked. Yet the phraseology and even the tone of voice from some of these very prominent people indicate a mind set inimical to the interest of the country.

Are some of them so miffed at Ronald Reagan's election to the Presidency that they would deliberately cast aspersions on the country just in order to discredit him?

We don't have the answer to their inner feelings or their thought processes, but we do know that our line of questioning would be from the basis of love and pride in this country. It would be different than we heard and read last week, by a damn sight.

TO RISK
To laugh is to risk appearing the fool.

To weep is to risk appearing sentimental.

To reach out for another is to risk involvement.

To place your ideas, your dreams before the crowd is to risk their loss.

To love is to risk not being loved in return.

To try is to risk failure.

To hope is to risk despair.

To live is to risk dying.

But risk must be taken, because the greatest hazard in life is to risk nothing. The person who risks nothing, does nothing, has nothing and is nothing. He may avoid suffering and sorrow but he simply cannot learn, grow, feel, change, love, and live. Chained by his certitudes, he is a slave. He has forfeited freedom. Only a person who risks is free.

Getting To Know You

There's a whole lot to learn at school, especially the first day. So Farwell third grade teacher Verona Trainer gives a little bit of help to her students by presenting them with name tags so that at least classmates' names won't be too difficult to remember. Melissa Cox has her tag pinned on and is all set to begin her third grade year. Classes began Monday at the Farwell school, and all three principals report that enrollment is down from last year's count.

Barrier judges will be Richard and Mike Haseloff. Time keepers will be furnished by the High Plains Junior Rodeo Association.

Competition will take place in the following events:

Boys 13-15, bareback bronc riding, tie down calf roping, steer riding, breakaway touching and steer roping.

Making The Rounds

Karen Snodgrass of Texico is one of the many junior rodeoers who will be competing in this weekend's High Plains Junior Rodeo Association Finals to be conducted in the Farwell Arena. Karen has spent a busy summer participating in junior rodeos throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, and has her sights set on winning a trophy saddle at this weekend's competition. The rodeo performances, sponsored locally by the Farwell Jaycees, will begin at 8 p.m. CDT Friday night and 2 p.m. Saturday afternoon. Admission to each performance is $2 for adults and $1.50 for students. Children ages six and under will be admitted free.

Texico Achievement Event Set Saturday

Texico FFA and 4-H Club members will take part in their annual Achievement Day tomorrow (Saturday) with exhibits of livestock being displayed for judging between the Texico school ag shop and school bus barn beginning at 9:30 a.m. MDT, in preparation for the upcoming Curry County Fair.

Trophies are to be awarded to the grand champion and reserve champion in beef, swine and sheep, and every participant will be awarded a ribbon.

In addition, a trophy will be awarded to the best showman in the Booster Swine Showmanship class. Those eligible to enter this class include anyone eight years or younger who is not a member of 4-H.

"It is not necessary that the child own the animal since the class will be judged strictly on showmanship of the pig," explained Eddie West, achievement day co-coordinator.

Judging this year's event will be Richard Montgomery, Farwell High School vo-ag instructor. Mike Spearman will be the show superintendent, and Richard Hadley will be in charge of weigh-ins.

Fathers of FFA and 4-H members will serve as ring men, and bookkeepers will be Rita Dunsforth and Peggy Holland.

Jean Smith will supervise the concession stand, which will be operated by both mothers and club members.

Entry cards for participation at the Curry County Fair will be available at tomorrow's event, and must be returned to coordinators Eddie and Kay West by September 3. The cards must be signed by the participant, his or her parent, and club leader.

Fees for entry at the Curry County Fair must accompany the entry card, and are priced as follows: beef, $4; sheep and swine, $2 per head; and booster showmanship, 50 cents.

If the cards are submitted to the Wests by the September 3 deadline, they will deliver them to the Curry County Extension office before the required September 4 deadline.

Schedule for tomorrow's activities is as follows:

8-9 a.m.: weigh-in. "All animals will show regardless of weight. The weigh-in is for classification and to be used as information for the Curry County Fair," West said.

9:30-9:45 a.m. calf judging; 9:45-10 a.m. sheep judging; 10-11:30 a.m., pig show; 11:30 to noon, lunch break.

The remainder of the pig show will begin at noon and will continue until completed. The booster showmanship class will immediately follow the completion of the 4-H, FFA show.

Trophies and ribbons have been donated for the Achievement Day by Capitol Foods, Citizens Bank of Texico, Hughes True Value, Kelly Green Seeds, Helton Oil, Worley Mills, Luce's Spur Restaurant, and Rip's Western Wear.

Because of the amount of livestock to be judged, 4-H record books and other projects will not be judged at the Achievement Day as in years past. "However, we will judge these during a September meeting following the Curry County Fair," West said.

The Wests also advised that donations of cookies, fudge, or other candy, popcorn balls, brownies, etc. are needed to help make the concession stand successful. In addition, the stand will be selling barbecue sandwiches. Profits from the stand usually pay for advertisements in local newspapers, thanking all sponsors, and livestock purchasers.

"Even if you are not showing an animal, we would like for everyone to come out to Achievement Day," said Kay West. "Bring parents, relatives and friends, and also invite the business people to come and watch."

Pager Donations Being Collected

Members of the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department are currently accepting dollar donations for the purchase of pagers to be used by the volunteer fire fighters, according to Joel White, fire chief.

"We have had many people tell us in the past that they would be willing to donate money to us to buy the pagers, so we are letting them know that we are ready to accept their donations now," White said.

Those wishing to donate to the pager fund may take their donation to any member of the Farwell Volunteer Fire Department, or to the Security State Bank in Farwell.

Ready For Judging

Ready for tomorrow's Achievement Day judging, and hoping to win one of the trophies shown in the background, are Texico students Wayne Holland, left, who will be exhibiting his pig, and Marcus Schauf, who will exhibit his sheep. The annual Achievement Day will begin at 8:30 Saturday morning with weigh-ins, and judging of animals will commence at 9:30 a.m. Judging this year's event, which is conducted annually in preparation for the Curry County Fair, will be Richard Montgomery, Farwell High School vo-ag instructor. Mike Spearman is show superintendent. The event is to be conducted on the Texico school grounds, between the ag shop and the school bus barn. Coordinators are Kay and Eddie West.

BTD Committee To Meet Monday

Border Town Days Committee will meet Monday, Aug. 31, at 8 p.m. at the Farwell Jaycee building for its final wrap-up session, announces John Getz, chairman.

Members are asked to please be present for this final meeting of the year. "All committee chairmen or their representatives are especially urged to attend to give their final reports," said Getz. The BTD Committee is made up of representatives of all the social and civic organizations in the Twin Cities.

Parmer Spraying Reports Burglary

Parmer County Spraying Company, located west of Bovina, reported a burglary to Parmer County sheriff's officials this week. The incident is believed to have occurred August 20, according to Parmer County Sheriff Bill Morgan.

Morgan said burglars took the company safe, which contained checkbooks, ledgers and personal papers, but no cash. Spraying company personnel place a value on the safe at $250. Other items missing following the burglary included a 10-channel police scanner; a Winn sander; skill saw; two calculators and three spray guns. Total value on the stolen items was set at $1250.

In other thefts reported this week, Jack Woltman of Bovina reported that a jersey colored cow with a white face and a notch on the left ear was taken from his property north of Bovina. The cow weighed 900 pounds and was valued at $550.

Printes Pruitt of Bovina reported that $150 worth of tools had been stolen from two of his tractors which were on his property located north of Bovina.

Jim Coleman of Farwell said a coin box containing approximately $25 was taken from the Farwell Car Wash the night of August 18.

Antonio Aguirre of Bovina reported that his billfold had been stolen from his home. Morgan said that the billfold contained $850 in American money and 2300 Mexican pesos.

The City of Farwell reported the theft of two fire station warning signs, believed to have been stolen within the last few days. Morgan said the signs are valued at $150 each.

In arrests this week, Robert Delgado, 27, Farwell, was arrested on August 23 and charged with public intoxication. Justice of the Peace Albert Smith fined Delgado $28.50.

Ronnie Johnson, 21, Friona, was arrested for possession of marijuana, less than two ounces, and was fined $250 plus court costs, by Justice of the Peace Albert Smith, and sentenced to 180 days in jail, all but 30 days suspended.

Can't I Go Too??

School began Monday for Farwell students, and excitement filled the hallways as kiddos entered the doors to the elementary school building to begin their new year. But one little pooch wasn't too excited and stood at the doorway all morning waiting for his owner to come out, or at least to be invited to school too. The beginning of school is always a traumatic experience for little brothers and sisters left behind, and for children's pets also. Remember Mary's Little Lamb?

County Court Appoints New Election Officials

County election officials were appointed by the Parmer County Commissioners Court during their regular meeting conducted Monday, Aug. 24.

Those appointed to serve during Parmer County elections include, precinct 1, Black, Mrs. Glynn Hamilton, presiding judge, and Joan Euler, alternate; precinct 2, Friona, Mrs. Ira Holt, presiding judge, and Mrs. Glenn E. Reeve, Sr., alternate; precinct 3, Bovina, J.E. Sherrill, Jr., presiding judge, and Mrs. Elton Venable, alternate; precinct 4, Farwell, Mrs. Albert Smith, presiding judge, and Billie Blain, alternate;

In other action taken at the meeting, County Sheriff Bill Morgan appeared before the court to discuss the auxiliary power unit in his office. Morgan explained that the unit is used for emergencies in the event of power failure, and said that the unit has not been functioning properly in the past, and repair bills are getting prohibitive.

The court advised Morgan to check into the possibility of replacing the power unit and to report back with cost figures at the next commissioners meeting.

Ralph Shirley, a representative of Energas, met with the court to explain a gas rate increase proposed by his company. The court was advised that the rate hike will affect all towns in the Energas system, and that the company has filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas a statement of Intent to Change Rates.

The court was advised that a check from the City of Muleshoe in the amount of $1,840.72 had been received as final division payment for Parmer County's share of the Bookmobile funds.

The purchase of a $260 calculator for the county treasurer's office was approved and the old machine is to be utilized in one of the Justice of the Peace offices.

The court approved unanimously the reinvestment of General Fund CD's, to mature October 1981.

A discussion was also conducted about the possibility of a percentage salary increase for county employees for the year 1982, but no definite decision was made.

Farwell Enrollment Shows Reduction

Farwell school principals each report a decline in enrollment for the 1981-82 school year, which officially began Monday.

At the high school, Don Malone reports that the total enrollment is 132, which he estimates to be a reduction of approximately five students from the end of the school year count.

At the junior high, Jerry Dee Owen says the count is at 109, which he figures to be an approximate 10 to 15 student decline from last year.

David Gobble reports a total of 240 students at the elementary school, and estimates that figure to be decline of 20 to 30 students from last year.

At the beginning of school last September, Farwell reported a total of 514 students compared to this week's total of 481.

Enrollment Down Slightly At Texico School System

Texico School Superintendent James Pierce says enrollment at Texico schools is down a little from last year, but that he is expecting more students to enroll soon.

he said, and junior high is the same.

Pierce also said that the school is searching for all handicapped students, age 5 and older.

All-Risk Crop Insurance Deadline Set August 31

Final date for sign-up for the U.S. Department of Agriculture All-Risk Crop Insurance for winter wheat and barley crops is August 31, according to Prentice Mills, ASCS executive director in Farwell.

Federal Crop Insurance Corporation's toll-free number at 1-800-447-4700," Mills said.

"This would be barley and wheat crops for harvest in 1982 in Parmer County," Mills said.

Agriculture secretary John R. Block has stated, "USDA statistics show that one out of every 14 acres planted never make it to harvest. Most farmer cannot afford to take such a risk on their own without insurance protection.

"Our new crop insurance program is a major policy change from federal disaster programs. All-Risk Crop Insurance is a self-help assistance program that is designed to be fair to all."

Mills explained that the all-risk crop insurance is available through several local insurance agents. "If your agent doesn't handle it, you may obtain a list of crop insurance agents by calling the ASCS office in Farwell at 481-3311, or by calling the

And Jerry Roddam, Rusty McFarland and Dale Sikes.

A Tribune tip: to really have a chance at the big prize, a person should enter the contest each week. Also, do not be discouraged when not winning the weekly prize. Consistency pays off in the long run, as many winners were named weekly winners as few times as once or twice in past years.

Last year's contest saw a weekly average of 318 entrants, many of whom braved the bitter cold and snow to make sure their entry was in by the 5 p.m. deadline.

So those with the gridiron know-how, and those with simple clairvoyance, and those with Lady Luck on their side, get ready. The annual contest begins with next Friday's Tribune, and two seats at Texas Stadium are waiting for you!!

Now Qualified EMTs - -

Emergency Medical Care Taught To 11 Twin Cities Men, Women

by Mary Sobin

They were told it would be 81 intensive hours of training, and it turned out to be more than that. They were told they would learn almost everything there is to know about saving a life in an emergency situation, and it turned out to be more than that, too. They were even told that they would learn things about Basic Life Support, Drug and Alcohol Abuse, and delivering babies, and it turned out to be even more than that.

The Emergency Medical Technician (EMT) course taken by 11 Texico and Farwell men and women recently turned out to be a whole lot more than any of them had expected, but all say they would feel very confident if a human life was placed in their care today for emergency treatment.

Most of the class members are Texico or Farwell volunteer firemen, one is a school bus driver, and two are members of the Fireman's Auxiliary Service Team (FAST) in Texico. Now all of them are certified Emergency Medical Technicians, and all are proud of it.

Their classroom training, conducted sometimes as much as four nights a week, included intensive book reading and testing, taken from the official Emergency Care and Transportation of the Sick and Injured text book of the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons.

The group also took part in a simulated car accident where they were tested by other EMT's and medical personnel on their knowledge of removing injured bodies from vehicles, and the treatment of those bodies. They also took part in actual hospital emergency room duty, seeing first-hand the condition of some medical emergency cases as they arrive at the hospital and how treatment is performed by medical personnel.

"We also learned the proper abbreviations used by doctors and nurses in the emergency rooms so that when we radio ahead from the ambulance about a victim's vital signs, we can speak in proper medical terminology," said Anne Cooper, one of the new EMTs.

The Twin Cities trainees were told that the trained EMT will often be confronted with situations that will tax his or her ability to remain calm and to perform effectively, and that they must learn to exhibit self-control and respond effectively to the suffering of others when witnessing horrifying events.

The 81-hour course, which for this class stretched into many more hours because of their enthusiasm, first began with lessons in anatomy, diagnostic signs and "triage," a term we have all heard on the popular television show, MASH.

It is during triage that a person's vital signs are taken, including pulse, respiration, blood pressure, body temperature, skin color, status of the pupils of the eyes, state of consciousness, ability to move and reaction to pain. The EMT determines from these signs what emergency action must be taken, and the 11 Texico men and women say they could handle an emergency situation confidently after taking this training.

Their course instructor was Tom Swearingen, a medical emergency supervisor at the Cannon Air Force Base Hospital. They were also given instruction by Art White of Emergency Medical Services in Clovis and Ron Edwards of the Clovis Fire Department.

In addition to learning how to handle the preliminaries at an emergency situation, the group was also taught bandaging, splinting, CPR and artificial resuscitation. They were instructed on how to handle injuries of the chest, bleeding, control of bleeding, shock, oxygen therapy and oxygen equipment.

And that's not all, they were also taught how to distinguish between a diabetic coma and insulin shock; how to determine drug overdose; and the difference between sprains, bone dislocations and fractures.

In fact, there probably isn't much the group wasn't taught about emergency care; including the delivery of a baby in an emergency situation.

Even the women, many of whom had given birth to children of their own, were surprised at how much they didn't know about bringing a new life into the world.

The class used what was called an "OB Mannequin" and watched the actual delivery of a baby on film. The OB mannequin also simulates the actual birth procedures and the group was given instructions how to care for the infant and the mother following birth; how to care for premature babies; and the different types of birth, including breech and multiple births.

The course stressed over and over to the students that once they graduated they would be recognized as qualified medical professionals among their peers, their community and among doctors and nurses.

The Twin Cities community should feel proud that 11 of our neighbors decided to give up more than 81 hours of their free time to learn how to take care of us should an emergency situation occur.

Those taking the course and who are now qualified EMTs include Frances and Martin Kube, Brian Kube, Lynn McDaniel, Betty and Vane Doshier, Starla and Joe Christopherson, Lewis and Anne Cooper, and Rick Resch.

Graduating EMTs

Swearingen, and Ricky Resch. Front row, Starla Christopherson, Frances Kube, Ann Cooper, Betty Doshier and Vane Doshier. Class members took part in over 81 hours of medical training, including how to treat car accident victims, natural disaster victims, and how to deliver babies in an emergency situation. A formal graduation ceremony is set for the middle of September.

Twin Cities EMT Students First At Accident Scene

"I guarantee you that you will use this training in a life threatening situation before this course is completed," predicted EMT course instructor Tom Swearingen to his recent class, who were all residents of the Twin Cities community.

"I have never taught a class yet that didn't have the opportunity to use this training before they graduated."

Swearingen's gloomy prediction did come true for some of the local EMT students Saturday morning at the fatal truck-pedestrian accident on Highway 60-70-84 one mile west of Texico that saw one woman die and two injured.

EMT students Martin and Frances Kube of Farwell were the first people at the scene of the accident, arriving there before the ambulance did. The Kubes had just returned from five-hours emergency room duty at Clovis High Plains Hospital when they drove upon the accident.

"We helped get everything organized at the scene," said Frances. "We were the first to see the two injured girls, not one spectator had gone to see if they were even still alive," she recalled.

Frances said her "patient" required a bandaged forehead where she had received lacerations. "She was lying on her left side so we left her that way until the ambulance came and then we rolled her over gently onto the spine board," she said. Martin's patient was unconscious and he also treated her for her injuries.

"When you are trained for it, you can handle it, and you feel good about it," Frances said, adding with confidence, "We did all the right things. The training had really prepared us."

She said almost the entire volunteer fire department was at the scene of the accident, keeping things under control and directing traffic.

She said neither she or any of her EMT classmates were panicky or frightened about dealing with the seriously injured accident victims, and says that they are all even more confident about dealing with emergency, life threatening situations than they were when completing their EMT course.

"We feel like we can handle any bad situation if we have to," she said.

Saturday's accident victims were transported to the Clovis High Plains Hospital by the Clovis Fire Department.

Chamber Discusses Membership Drive

Members of the Farwell Chamber of Commerce discussed the upcoming Membership Drive for the C of C, slated for the first two weeks in September.

Businesses wishing to join the Farwell organization will pay dues of $37.50, and individuals will pay $17.50.

Currently the Chamber has 18 paid members, which is in sharp decline from last year's 37 paid members. It was previously reported that there are 50 or 60 potential businesses that could belong to the Chamber.

In other business, the members discussed the proposed ethanol plant and its proposed locations, the decline in school enrollment, and the town's housing shortage.

Three Texico Firemen Attend State School

Three members of the Texico Volunteer Fire Department recently returned from a four day New Mexico State Fireman's Training School conducted in Albuquerque.

David Kube, Steve Chancy and Terry Curry each spent the four days at the Southwestern Indian Polytechnic Institute in Albuquerque where the fire fighting school was given, sponsored by the State Fire Marshall's Training Office.

Kube took instruction in Fire Department Pumps and Pump

Maintenance; Chancy was instructed on Fire Department Leadership and Administration; and Curry took Fireman's I, a course teaching basic fire fighting skills, including how to fight structural fires, the use of breathing apparatus and other fire fighting equipment.

It was the first time Chancy and Curry had ever attended the school; however Kube attended in 1978, taking the Fireman's I course.

The Texico threesome was among some 500 to 600 fire fighters from across New Mexico and West Texas to attend the fireman's school.

Mtn. Bell Reps Meet With Council

Representatives from Mountain Bell Telephone met with the Texico City Council Tuesday night and discussed a change in an agreement signed by the two parties in 1936.

In the original agreement, it was stated that the City of Texico would receive two free telephone lines and one free extension and would not receive the telephone company's franchise tax. But following Tuesday's meeting with the city fathers, the city will now pay for its phone service, and the telephone company will pay a proposed two percent franchise tax.

Texico council members also voted to obtain revenue bonds for an FHA loan in the amount of $166,000. The city has already received a $100,000 grant from the EID, and both sums are to be used for new water lines and valves. City clerk Marie Christian explains that the water improvement work will be done on a reimbursement basis from the FHA and EID. City employee Garland Edge met with the council and advised them that the city's Datsun pickup was in need of repair. The council then voted to take the truck to a car repair shop for a tune-up.

Mickey Fenn is to attend a Street Survival Seminar in Albuquerque in October. The seminar is limited in enrollment, and deals strictly with police tactics.

Pavement on Griffin Street was also discussed by the council, before adjourning.

Those attending were mayor John R. Hadley; trustees Vane Doshier, Truman Kittrell and Lewis Cooper; and employees Marie Christian and Garland Edge. Also, Mary Henny and Ron Brewton of Mountain Bell.

Yearbooks Arrive At Texico School

Not only have Texico students been weighed down with the usual arm loads of text books, but many have been seen carrying a green and white hard bound book, and it seems to be one book the students don't mind studying, over and over again.

The 1981 Wolverine yearbook staff and their sponsor, Connie Blue, have been busy delivering the picture filled annuals to those who ordered them during the last school year.

"Coming Together's is the theme of this year's book, which was edited under the direction of Kay West. Since its publication, the book has been chosen by the publisher to be used around the region as an example to show to other small schools.

This year's sponsor, Miss Blue, said, "The publisher told us that it's the only yearbook to have shown an improvement over past years." That in itself is quite a compliment considering the 1980 version of the Wolverine took "Best Overall" in its class during competition at the Panhandle High School Press Association last spring. The 1980 book also took first place in theme, first in cover design and second in division pages.

The new Wolverine boasts two color pages and lots of candid shots of school activities from the 1980-81 school year.

Division pages keep with the theme, and include "To Participate," with a section devoted entirely to school activities, celebrations and state athletic events; "To Excel," featuring a section on student awards, including Mr. and Miss THS, Most Popular, class favorites and academic awards; "To Belong," devoted to clubs, school band and cheerleaders; "To Grow," featuring individual student pictures by class; "To Compete," with attention given entirely to school athletic teams; and "To Sponsor," with ads from businesses and organizations that made the 1981 yearbook possible.

Leading into the faculty section is a special tribute to the late W.B. "Bucky" Walters, a faculty member who died last year.

The yearbook also includes a student index, listing each student and on what pages his or her picture may be found, and a special sports wrap-up including all school teams from junior high on up.

Those who have not picked up their yearbooks may do so at the high school office, according to Miss Blue, who also said that the 1981-82 Wolverine staff will be visiting area businesses this week to solicit ads for the coming publication.

Autrey, manager. The Wolverines will take part in a scrimmage against Dexter tonight [Friday] in Portales and next week will meet their first season opposition at Carrizozo.

Texico Boosters Have First Meeting

Texico Booster Club members met for their first meeting of the school year last week and voted to purchase additional traveling bags for the Wolverine football team. Club members also voted to give monetary support to the filming of each football game, and money raising projects were discussed.

The Texico boosters are currently selling ad space for their calendar, and any person, organization or business wishing to place an ad to support the calendar should call Gladys Johnson at 482-3830 or Kay Warmuth at the high school office at 482-3305.

Booster club officers are Eddie Dunsworth, president; Bobby Hoyl, vice-president; Evie Thornton, secretary; and Gardys Johnson, treasurer.

The club meets the third Tuesday of each month in the Texico High School library at 7:30 p.m. MDT. All Texico sports fans and parents are invited to attend.

Book Reviews

Texico yearbook sponsor Connie Blue [center] and staff members Danny Reid and Corinna Hungerford examine the 1981 Wolverine yearbook which arrived at the school this week. The yearbooks have been delivered to most of the students who ordered them last fall, but for those who have not received their book, they may get them by stopping by the Texico High School office. It is advised that a copy of the order receipt be taken also.

Miss Blue has recently taken over duties as the yearbook sponsor, in addition to teaching journalism and English. She replaces Kay West who has taken a year's leave of absence.

Students at Texico High School chose their student leaders last Friday, including class officers and Student Council officers and representatives.

Texico Cheerleaders

Although they don't have their matching green and white uniforms yet, the 1981 varsity cheerleaders at Texico High are ready to root the Wolverines on to victory. Members of this year's cheering squad

ACT Testing Dates Announced For Texico

The 1981-82 school year is just beginning and juniors and seniors at Texico High School and other high schools across the country are facing some big decisions.

One of those decisions is what to do after graduation—whether to go on to school, get a job, or try to do both.

An important role in students' planning will be played by guidance counselors, parents, friends, and the ACT Assessment Program. Designed to provide guidance information for education and career planning, this national program is recommended for use by student applicants at more than 2,700 colleges and universities.

Texico High School students will have five opportunities during the 1981-82 school year to make use of the program, which consists of four tests and a two-part questionnaire. "Students complete the questionnaire at home as part of the registration process. The tests are then administered at area test centers on any of five weekend national test dates," explained James Harding, Principal and Counselor.

The five 1981-82 national test dates and the corresponding registration deadlines are: October 17, 1981, September 18; December 12, 1981, November 13; February 20, 1982, January 22; April 3, 1982, March 5; June 12, 1982, May 14.

On any of the above test dates, most Texico students will take the tests at Clovis High School. The basic student fee for using the ACT Assessment is $8.50. (In order to comply with legislation enacted in the state of New York some tests dates and student fees in that state are different.)

It takes students three hours to complete the ACT Assessment's four exams (English, math, social studies, and natural sciences). In order that students may be familiar with the character and format of test items and responses, a copy of a full-length test booklet has been sent to all high schools. This booklet is available to interested students through the Texico High School principal's office.

Coffey Begins Training With Zia's

Lisa Coffey of Texico is among 11 athletes participating in conditioning and skill drills during Eastern New Mexico University's pre-season volleyball practices.

Second year Head Coach Gail Stinnett had her players working out twice daily at 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., with the two-a-day workouts conducted through August 25, when class registration began.

According to Coach Stinnett, this year's squad is taller and is showing more enthusiasm. "Our strong points will be our height and jumping ability," she said.

Six letterwomen return for the Zias in 1981, including four returning starters. There will also be four freshmen and one walk on player who is yet to be selected.

The Zias finished the 1980 season with a 13-18-1 record. The 1981 schedule includes three tournaments, starting with the opening day tourney at Lubbock Christian College. The Zias will host seven home games and 15 games on the road.

The 5-7 Coffey is a freshman and a 1981 graduate of Texico High.

Notice To Parents

Texico parents wanting to have students excused from class need to make a stop at the school office first.

Kay Warmuth, high school secretary, advises that parents visiting students for any reason, are to check in at the main office first.

"Teachers are not authorized to excuse students from the classroom," she explained. "The principal or myself are the only ones permitted to release students from school."

Rounding The Bend

Farwell's varsity football team has been hitting the turf every day in preparation for tonight's scrimmage against Anton and the beginning of their regular season next Friday. The Anton scrimmage will take place on

Steer turf, and next week's season opener will also be played at Farwell. Blocking so that the ball carrier can get by is only one of the many tactics being learned by the varsity defense. Admission is free to tonight's scrimmage, and everyone is encouraged to attend. Everyone is invited to an ice cream social at the football field following the scrimmage.

OK, On Three

New assistant football coach at Farwell High, Michael Prokop, plays the position of quarterback during a recent Steer practice session. The gridiron team has been practicing every day and will take part in a scrimmage match tonight on the Farwell field against Anton. Next week's season opener against Plains will also be on the Farwell field. Everyone is invited to attend tonight's scrimmage game. Admission is free. A concession stand will be open selling soft drinks and snacks.

Boosters To Host Ice Cream Social

Members of the Farwell Booster Club conducted their first meeting of the year Tuesday night and voted to host an ice cream social immediately following tonight's (Friday) scrimmage against Anton at the Farwell football field.

Everyone is invited and encouraged to attend tonight's scrimmage and the ice cream social that will follow. There is no admission charge.

Officers for the coming year were elected at Tuesday night's meet, including James Williams, president; Doyle Ford, vice-president; and Lee Nell Eubanks, secretary-treasurer.

The Booster Club is hoping to attract at least 100 members for the coming year, and dues were set at $15.

Advertising space will soon be solicited for the annual Booster Club sports schedule placards with prices set at $25 per ad.

The Farwell Boosters will meet each Tuesday night at Luce's Restaurant at 8 p.m., CDT with a film from the previous Friday night game being shown, and coaches' reports being given.

Steers Make Progress At Lorenzo Scrimmage

Farwell varsity Steers hit the turf at Lorenzo last Friday for a scrimmage session and Farwell head coach Bruce Dollar is pleased with the efforts put forth by his gridiron team.

"We made real progress, we're right where we should be now. Our defensive secondary played real well which was something we were concerned about because we're doing some things a little differently than what they have done before. But they played better than anyone," the coach said.

Another concern of the Farwell coaching staff was the pass-block capabilities of the varsity Steers. "But we did a good job on that even though our offensive line is pretty inexperienced," Dollar commented.

The new head coach has confidence when it comes to the passing game of the Steers. "We'll be all right throwing the ball," he said. "We threw it a lot last Friday night."

Starting quarterback for the Steers will be Alan Eubank, who will be backed up by David Daniel and Roger Robertson.

Tonight (Friday) the Steers will scrimmage Anton on the Farwell field. "Anton will be a real competitive scrimmage," Dollar predicted. "If we do well at this one, we'll be right where we should be."

Dollar said he will be playing the team members that did not play during last Friday's scrimmage.

The scrimmage begins at 6 p.m. CDT and Dollar encourages all Farwell residents to come out and view the Steers in action. Admission is free.

The Steers' first season game is September 4 against Plains on the Farwell field.

Band Boosters Slate Meeting

Farwell band parents are reminded that the Band Boosters organization will meet on Wednesday, Sept. 2, at 5 p.m. in the Band Hall at the school, according to Lynn Burton, band director.

All parents of band students from fifth grade through high school are encouraged to attend all the booster meetings.

Officers of the Band Boosters this year are Gloria Hutchins, president; Billie Blain, vice-president; Flo Davis, secretary; and Tommie Fulcher, treasurer.

Sidewinders Take 8th At Lubbock Contest

Farwell's Sidewinder Chili Team was awarded 8th place for their entry in last weekend's Lubbock Jaycees Chili Cookoff, emerging to that spot from approximately 60 other chili entries.

The local chili chefs, including Ted Magness, Bobby Vinton, Barthel Ford and Fred Curtis, were awarded a trophy for their efforts. The Sidewinders have placed in the top ten the last three years in the annual Lubbock cooking event, and took 4th place this past June at Clovis Pioneer Days Chili Cookoff.

Another area team entering the Lubbock event, sponsored by the Lubbock Jaycees, included Sharon and Max Eubanks and Larry and Brenda Gulley from Farwell, and Chief and Carolyn Buchenan and Detricia Miller of Friona.

Those attending as spectators from the Twin Cities included Alice Vinton, June Magness, Evelyn Curtis, Jeanette Ford, Johnny Curtis and Robert White, and Doug and Mary Sobin from Clovis.

Winning Chili Chefs

June Magness, Evelyn Curtis, Doug Sobin and Bobby Vinton. Front row: Barthel Ford, Fred Curtis, Ted Magness and Alice Vinton. The team has placed in the top ten at the annual Lubbock cooking event for the past three years. This year they were competing with approximately 60 other contenders, and won a trophy for their 8th place win. The team took 4th place at the recent Pioneer Days Chili Cookoff in Clovis.

Irrigation Field Day Planned September 3

An Irrigation Field Day has been planned for Thursday, Sept. 3, at 10 a.m. at the Phil Johnson farm located 1/4 mile west of Hub.

There will be a demonstration on how to efficiency check an electric irrigation pumping unit. The procedure for a natural gas unit will be explained. Overall pumping plant efficiency will be determined, cost per hour, cost per acre inch of water. In addition, the potential annual electric cost reduction from repair will be determined. There will be a discussion on furrow irrigation efficiency as well.

"We would like to encourage all farmers in Parmer County to attend this event. We feel like the program is designed to familiarize farmers with the benefits to be gained from efficiency testing," states Seth Ralston, county agent. The field day is being sponsored by the Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District, the Soil Conservation Services and The Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE
BY CORNELIUS R. STAM PRES. SERAEM BIBLE SOCIETY CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60633

UNDERSTANDEST THOU WHAT THOU READEST?

This was the question Philip asked of the Ethiopian prince as he sat reading from Isaiah's prophecy (Acts 8:30), and it is a question which we should continually keep asking ourselves as we read the holy Scriptures.

There are always those among God's people who do not much care whether or not they understand what they read, if only it warms their hearts! To them the Bible is little more than a fetish. Taking only those Scriptures which appeal to them, and leaving the rest, they actually feel themselves quite spiritual and often talk about believing the Bible whether they understand it or not!

But such "spirituality" is far from genuine, and such "faith" is blind and superstitious at best.

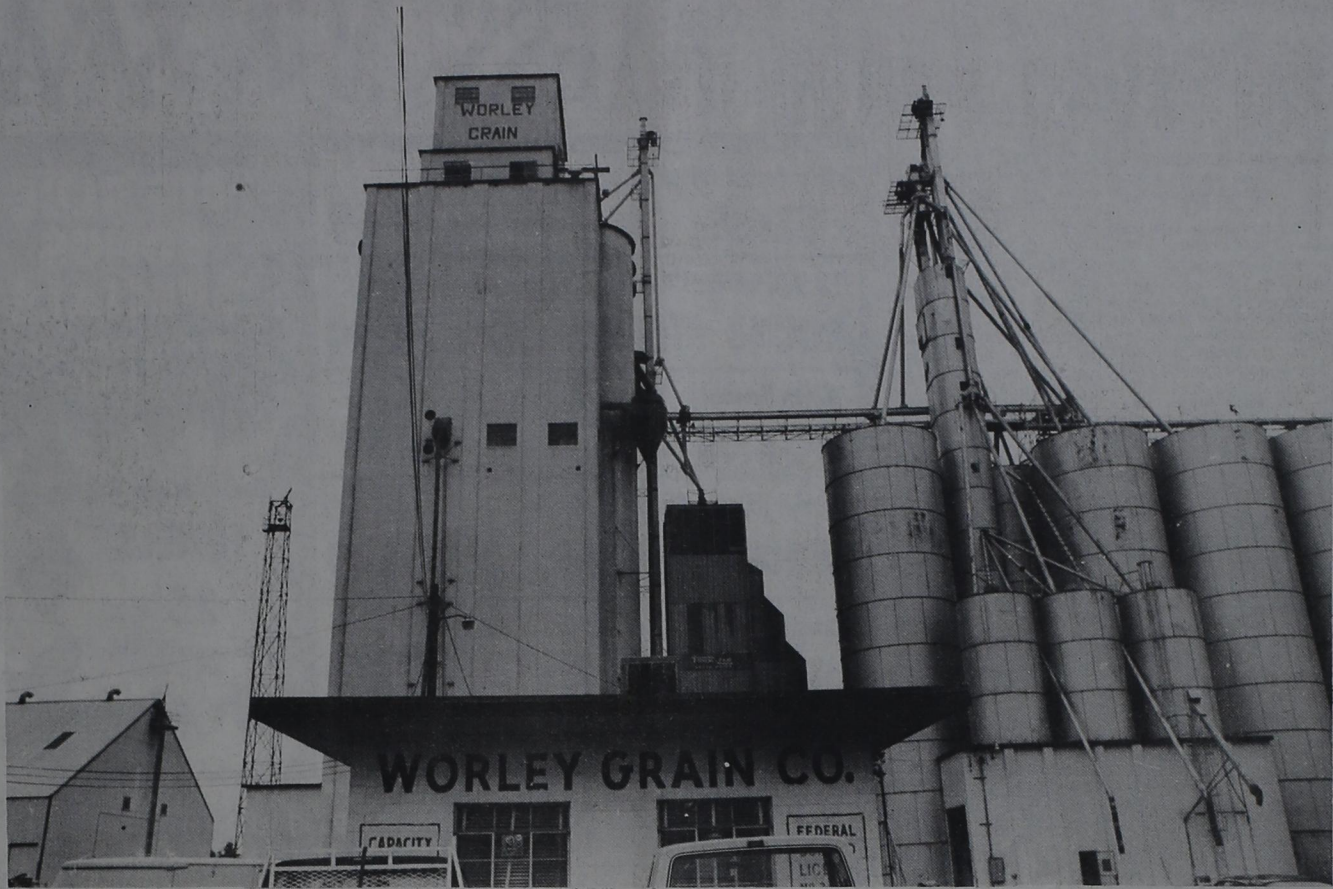

While it is true that the Bible teaches many truths which we believe, although they are beyond our comprehension (such as its opening verse), yet how can we believe what the Bible says unless we understand what it says? God would have us understand what we read and believe it intelligently. Indeed, true faith will want to know and understand more and more of God's Word. One who does not care whether or not he understands what God has said is not interested in knowing what God has said at all. His faith is based on his own will rather than on God's Word, for regardless of the meaning of Scripture, he will take any passage that suits his fancy and use it as he wishes.

How great an emphasis God Himself puts upon the importance of understanding His Word! On one occasion, when our Lord saw the compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd, and He began to teach them many things" (Mark 6:34).

And now that the secret of God's great plan has been made known, how much more reason there is to study the Scriptures with a view to understanding them! How Paul, by the Spirit, emphasizes this as he writes of his prayers for the saints: "That the God of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory, may give unto you THE SPIRIT OF WISDOM AND REVELATION IN THE KNOWLEDGE OF HIM:

"THE EYES OF YOUR UNDERSTANDING BEING ENLIGHTENED: THAT YE MAY KNOW WHAT IS THE HOPE OF HIS CALLING" (Ephesians 1:17,18).

RAs Enjoy Summer Fun

by Mark Ryburn

It was your typical RA summer.

It all began with the RA trip to Carlsbad Caverns. If you've been wanting to go but don't know a good route to get to Carlsbad, don't ask Bill Adams. If you want to know everything about the caverns, don't turn the handheld receiver on the Spanish channel and forget how to change the channel.

If you want to know how long it takes to walk through the caverns without resting, don't ask Dudley Bristow. If you want to know how to impress women with your youthful appearance, don't ask Jerry Monk or Ronald Byrd. If you want to know how the RA's and their dads survived this whole experience, don't ask me!!!

The advertisement says, "Let The Navy Show You The World?" If I were to do an advertisement for the RA backpacking trip to the Pecos Wilderness area, it would go something like this:

"Let J.R. Ivins show you how to backpack in seven miles with a honeydew melon, cantalope, corn-on-the-cob and Neiman-Marcus tea without wrinkling your disco shorts."

"Let Todd Gerles show you how to eat macaroni and cheese with your fingers."

"Let Wesley May show you how to go head first into the well on Hermit's Peak."

"Let Mark Bristow show you how to go swimming in 40 degree water with all your clothes on."

"Let Brent Stephens and Kenny Adams show you how to climb Hermit's Peak."

"Let Tim Hughes show you how to catch your hair on fire."

"Let Dudley Bristow show you how to single-handedly blaze a trail three-feet wide."

"Let our loved ones show you how to hold your nose and look disgusted."

Following our trip to the new cave at Carlsbad, the Pioneer RA's find that we need some advice from someone skilled in the following:

DRY CLEANING: how do you remove 17,000-year-old bat quana stains from your clothes?

NATURE PHOTOGRAPHY: How can J.R. Ivins keep the hawks from flying away when he puts the telephoto lens on his camera?

ETIQUETTE: What is the proper etiquette when each RA places his order from a different microphone when eating at the Sonic drive-in?

PODIATRY: Wesley May's near tragic fall over a cliff has convinced Keith Stephens that Wesley has two left feet. Is this possible?

WATCH REPAIR: How can we convince our wives and mothers that simultaneous watch failure caused us to be five hours late returning home?

Boy, it was a great RA summer. But the fun won't stop just because summer is over. The RA's begin their fall calendar of events with a trip to Cannon AFB Sunday at 1:30 CDT to see the Thunderbirds.

All young men in grades 1-9 and their dads are invited to come along!

Hughes, Todd Gerles, Wesley May, Mark Bristow, Brent Stephens, Mark Ryburn, Kenny Adams, Dudley Bristow and

J.R. Ivins. Next on the RA agenda is a trip to Cannon AFB to see the Thunderbirds this Sunday.
