

Shreds of corn stalks with only a few corn ears stubbornly clinging to them show the complete destruction created by the hail, rain, and winds which struck in several areas of the county Sunday. Heaviest hail and rain was in the Pleasant Hill area, east of the state line, and some three and one-half miles east of Farwell.

Rain Spotted: Hail Severe In Area

This past weekend we attended the convention of the West Texas Press Association in San Angelo. There was a very interesting series of speakers lined up on topics of current interest. One of the speakers was Joe G. Moore, Executive Director of the Texas Water Development Board.

The current comments in the press about the faults of the preliminary plan of water development caused me to be especially anxious to hear this man. The talk was rather lengthy and often dull in a statistical way. However, several of his remarks and observations are worth repeating and worth local consideration.

The first remark was that water would go where the people were located. Obviously this did not mean West Texas. As he pointed out, with the legislative redistricting in conformity with the one man, one vote rule, the areas of lesser population would have a lesser voice in the legislature. This would mean that rural areas would be at the mercy of the heavily populated metropolitan districts. This tied in with his second observation that he was surprised at the lack of support for agricultural use of water that had been in evidence at the state-wide series of hearings Lising concluded.

The import of the two remarks are that we, as a large user of agricultural water, would suffer in the development of a master plan for distribution of the state's water. The public image of the agricultural user of water was very poor. Time and time again the remark was made, by witnesses to these meetings, that why allocate water to grow crops that are already in surplus and a drag on the present economy. Cotton was given as an example of a surplus crop that consumed a lot of water so why make provisions to just increase an already bad situation. Other witnesses to the hearing had also mentioned many of our basic crops as not deserving of water under the program.

This public image is one of very serious concern to all residents of these High Plains. We are in an area of relative sparse population and will inevitably lose ground in legislative representation. This, coupled with an unfavorable public image, can only mean that in the years ahead we will have an increasingly difficult time putting our case into the laws that are going to be passed by the legislature in regard to water. This is not something to consider in the years ahead but needs to be considered by our high plains citizens today. Water is not cheap and water is of vital necessity to both the urban dweller and the rural dweller.

Remember the remark, "WATER IS GOING WHERE THE POPULATION IS LOCATED." It may be one of the most significant observations of your life.

This past week we have had a rash of hysterical comments on the private ownership and sale of firearms to and by individuals. One of the most blatant pieces of slanted news commentaries was presented by the Columbia Broadcasting System and narrated by Walter Conkrite. This slop was so nauseous I cannot rationally comment on it. However, elsewhere in the Tribune is an article "Outdoors in Texas" by Vern Sanford, Executive Director of the Texas Press Association. This article reflects our thinking on this issue.

We recommend you read it and compare it with the highly emotional presentation on TV. We think newspapers will come out ahead.

Surgery Scheduled

Elmer Teel, manager of the local Southern Union Gas Company office, is in St. Anthony Hospital in Amarillo. He is scheduled to undergo major surgery today.

Although only two tenths of an inch of moisture was received in Farwell on Sunday afternoon, other areas in the county report heavy rain and damaging hail.

At Lariat, Asa Smith reports no more than a half inch of rain, but in the Oklahoma Lane vicinity, Glenden Sudderth received heavy damage to his crops under the deluge of rain and hail which fell in a short time.

W. F. Gable, three and one-half miles east of Farwell, reports the loss (100% damage) of 150 acres of cotton and heavy damage to his sorghum and other row crops. According to Mrs. Gable, single row crops received more damage than those planted in double rows. She also reports that all farmers in that general area received much damage to their crops. At the Gable farm one and one-half inches of rain fell, accompanied by the damaging hail, in only a few minutes.

North of Texico-Farwell on the John Lorenz farm, much hail was reported with heaviest damage to the vegetable crop, chiefly cabbage and cucumbers. Following the hail no cucumber vines were visible on the Lorenz farm, reports a neighbor, and the cabbage looked like "white balls" with all of the outside leaves beaten off.

Rain reports vary from only a trace west of town to three and four inches in the Pleasant Hill area. Some farmers report no damage from the rain or hail but indicate that the good rains which fell in their areas on Sunday will be of much benefit. The Sunday rains were preceded by high winds and much blowing dust.

Cabbage and cucumbers, some of the more prominent vegetable crops in the area, were ruined by the driving rains and gaint size hail which was accompanied by tornadic winds.

Jack Williams, principal of the Farwell elementary school, announces that parent interviews in regard to student placement will be held in his office on Monday, August 22, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon.

Persons wishing to make arrangements for the interviews should call the elementary school office, 481-9131.

Williams also announces changes in the lunchroom procedure of former years in the elementary school. This year, for the first time, tickets will be used throughout the elementary school, with the tickets to be left in the rooms and not carried by the students.

The program will be on a strictly cash basis, says Williams. Daily tickets will be 35¢; weekly tickets, $1.75; and monthly tickets, $7.00 each.

Mrs. Carolyn Henson will be teaching second grade. Other new teachers in the school include Clyde Powell, high school science; Mrs. Rosa Lee Lemay and Mrs. Ramona Berry, 5th grade; Mrs. Glynda Powell, third grade; Mrs. Patricia Bass and Mrs. Mary Ingram, first grade; and Mrs. Doris Treadwell and Q. T. Schults, remedial reading.

Roping Set At Arena

The Farwell Roping Club is sponsoring regular team ropings at the Farwell Roping Arena each Tuesday night beginning at 8:30 p.m. Anyone interested is invited to participate.

In addition, the roping club is holding practice roping sessions each Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. and each Thursday night at 8:30 p.m. All ropers are invited to attend all sessions.

Quarterback Club Meeting

Harry Sheets, president of the Farwell Quarterback Club, is calling a meeting of the organization for Tuesday, August 16, 8 p.m., at Clara's Cafe.

Plans will be made for a membership drive in the near future, and also for the coming football season.

Bill Meeks is secretary-treasurer of the organization.

A good attendance is urged for the meeting.

Pastor Resigns

The Rev. D. Casey Perry, pastor of West Camp Baptist Church for the past two years, has tendered his resignation as pastor of the church with the resignation to become effective on Sunday, August 14. Rev. Perry and his family will move to Fort Worth where he will enter Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

Prior to coming to the West Camp Church as pastor, Rev. Casey had pastored churches in Kansas, North Dakota and Central Texas.

In leaving the church at West Camp Rev. Casey said, "We have enjoyed our stay here and wish the best for the church in the future. They are a wonderful congregation and no one could have been finer to work with. However, I think that if I am ever going to return to school, now is the time while my family is still young." He added, "We will be going to school on faith, but I believe that we will make it."

Rev. Perry stated that Mrs. Perry and the four small children would accompany him to Fort Worth, but that Lester Gray, the oldest son, would remain in Farwell for the present and work. The family plans to leave Monday or Tuesday.

Attend Press Convention

Mr. and Mrs. John Getz, publishers of the State Line Tribune, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Mike Getz, attended the West Texas Press Convention in San Angelo over the weekend. They returned home on Sunday evening.

FORE-ward with plans for the Farwell Country Club, Bill Prince, Jerry Bradshaw and Fred Chandler, members of the planning committee for the proposed country club, examine the proposed site, the 66 acres of land one mile north of town belonging to Dr. V. Scott Johnson. Bradshaw points to the first green on the proposed nine hole golf course while Bill Prince gives Chandler, golfing novice, a few instructions on hitting the ball right. R. W. Anderson is the other member of the committee.

Local Lions Club Sponsors Essay Contest

The youth of Texico-Farwell have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club -- a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or assistance grant.

The Texico-Farwell Lions Club, together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today -- Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize, eight semi-final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than 20,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Jackie Williams of the local Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by the president of Lions International, Edward M. Lindsey, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," president Williams said.

"Our club's winner will advance to Lions District 40-x competition in their effort to qualify for the multiple district contest," Williams said.

The contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries in the free world, will be the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable," president Williams said.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal," he said.

In announcing the contest internationally, president Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor such a contest.

He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention given to international relations and friendship between different nationalities and their participation in international humanitarian programs were their credentials for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form, not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories: 75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to organization, ten per cent to style and five per cent to mechanics," Williams said.

"Three judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Williams said.

"If our winner can advance through the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award."

Lion Williams said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1966. "Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Texico-Farwell Lions to get full details of the contest," he said.

The age limit for the contest, includes all youth 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967.

Williams announced that each applicant would be limited to one entry, with one winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 40-x contest. Winner of district contest will be entered in state or county contest. Each county or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world divisions.

Faculty Complete

Faculty in the Texico school was completed this week when three elementary teachers were hired at the regular meeting of the school board on Tuesday night. However, one vacancy still exists in the lunchroom, where a cook is needed.

New teachers hired at the Tuesday night meeting of the board were Mrs. Oleta Ford, fifth grade; Milton Grimes, sixth grade; and Mrs. Lorene Mills, third grade. Both Mrs. Ford and Grimes have taught at Bovina for the past few years and Mrs. Ford taught in the Farwell school at one time. Mrs. Mills is wife of Clovis school superintendent, Vernon Mills.

Mrs. Jean Green, a teacher in Texico for a number of years, has been moved from the elementary school to high school where she will teach Spanish and English.

Any woman interested in working in the lunchroom is asked to contact Supt. McDonald.

Classes in the Texico school will begin on August 29, with students to register on the first day of school. They will receive textbooks and participate in a full days activities before returning home, early in the afternoon. Lunch will be served at the cafeteria on the opening day of school.

Other elementary teachers include Mesdames Leroy Faville, Hazel Stewart, Charles Stockton, Leroy Looper, Avis Patterson, Wanda Turnbough, Melvin Ridgley and Sylvia Burgett. Mrs. Zelfa Younger is elementary principal.

West, Mrs. Winnie Cobb, Tony McGowan, Mrs. Mary Peyton and Melvin Ridgley. James Pierce is high school principal and A. D. McDonald is superintendent. Mrs. Marcia Leavell is school secretary.

Lunchroom personnel includes Mesdames A. B. Bell, Nora Day and Paul Huber. Custodians are Earnest Cain and A. B. Bell, Assistant custodians are Mrs. R. E. Crooks and Walter Curd.

Mrs. Don Wilson and Mrs. Vernon Thigpen will serve as teacher aides, with Mrs. Wilson assigned to the high school and Mrs. Thigpen in the elementary division.

ENCOURAGE YOUTH -- W. M. Roberts, left, superintendent of Farwell Schools, Jackie Williams, Lions Club president, and A. D. McDonald, Texico superintendent, encourage all Texico-Farwell youth between the ages of 14-21 inclusive, to enter the essay contest which is being sponsored by the International Lions Club organization. Entrants must write an essay (no more than 5000 words) on PEACE. Top prize in the contest is $25,000.

One Rifle, Please

Let's take a quick look into the future. The year is 1971. Mass murders with rifles are now unheard of, thanks to federal legislation controlling the sale of firearms. No American citizen is allowed to keep a firearm in his home. All guns must be stored at the local armory under lock and key. Sale of such weapons is now carefully controlled.

The scene opens at the local sporting goods store where Casper T. Timidsoul, American citizen, is attempting to purchase a rifle.

Salesman: "Yes sir, What can I do for you?"
 Casper: "I would like to purchase a rifle if you please."
 Salesman: "Yes sir, right away. There are a few legal matters to get out of the way first however."
 Casper: "Of course."
 Salesman: "Let's see, where did I put the necessary forms?"
 Oh yes, here they are. (pulls out the 54-page federal firearm purchase application.) Now, for what purpose did you wish the rifle for?"
 Casper: "Hunting."
 Salesman: "What type of hunting?"
 Casper: "Rabbit."
 Salesman: "Male or female?"
 Casper: "Male or female what?"
 Salesman: "Rabbit of course."
 Casper: "Oh."
 Salesman: "Well?"
 Casper: "I wasn't aware it made any difference."
 Salesman: "Doesn't make any difference! Look here buddy, are you sure you only want to hunt rabbits or are you hiding something?"
 Casper: "No, no, only rabbits."
 Salesman: "Then let's have a little more cooperation out of you."
 Casper: "Yes sir."
 Salesman: "Now, where were we, oh yes, I'll need your birth certificate, driver's license, social security number, medicare number, mugshot, fingerprints, car registration, selective service card, life insurance policy, zip code, and a signed affidavit from your mother stating that you're a nice guy."
 Casper: "Then can I buy a rifle?"
 Salesman: "Not until we've completed an investigation of your mother."
 Casper: "Oh."
 Salesman: "Now, what time would like your appointment made for?"
 Casper: "Appointment, what appointment?"
 Salesman: "The appointment with the federal psychiatrist for this district, to determine if you are mentally fit to own a rifle."
 Casper: (somewhat flabbergasted) "A headshrinker?"
 Salesman: "That's right, the law is the law, now are you going to cooperate or do I have to put you on report?"
 Casper: "I'll cooperate, I'll cooperate, Monday will be fine."
 Salesman: "That's better. Let's see, I think I've about got everything. Just sign each page of the application at the bottom, and put your fingerprints under your signature."
 Casper: (Alarmingly) "On 54 pages?"
 Salesman: "Do you want a rifle or not?"
 Casper: "I suppose so," (starts signing)
 An hour and a half and ten very messy fingers later, Casper has finished.
 Salesman: "All finished?"
 Casper: "I think so."
 Salesman: "I'll just wrap up your application and mail it in. You should be notified within 90 days on whether or not your application has been approved."
 Casper: "Just one more thing."
 Salesman: "What's that?"
 Casper: "How much will the rifle cost?"
 Salesman: "Three hundred forty-one dollars and seventy-nine cents."
 Casper: (Unbelieving) "Three hundred forty-one dollars and seventy-nine cents? For a 22?"
 Salesman: "Well actually the gun only costs forty-one dollars and seventy-nine cents, The $300 is rent on your gun locker at the armory for one year."
 Casper: "Is that everything?"
 Salesman: "Not quite."
 Casper: (in a near state of shock) "What else?"
 Salesman: "There will be a three dollar deposit required on the key to the locker."
 Casper faints dead away, and with that, we return to the barbaric, unsophisticated year of 1966.

Are there really any sound reasons for buying a Chevrolet in August?

During August, it's as easy to own a Bel Air 4-Door Sedan as getting in the car.

Wait till you see how sporty you look sitting in your Impala Super Sport.

In a word: Six

1. Have you ever known the instant delight of selecting a new Impala Super Sport in the color you want, slipping into its Strato-bucket seats, and driving it home from the showroom the same day? Now's your chance. Your Chevrolet dealer has a big choice of models on hand with small August price tags.
2. More than likely, your present car will never be worth as much in trade as it is right now. Money—another good reason to buy a Chevrolet this month.
3. Read those articles about when to buy a new car and they'll tell you that August is one of the best months. And your Chevrolet dealer is ready to show you why... with buys that are better than ever.
4. If you think winter's tough on an old car, believe us, so is summer. There's added strain on the engine because of vacation driving. Greater tire wear. The cooling system has to work extra hard. A new Chevrolet can save you a lot of trouble.
5. You do a lot of driving for pleasure so why not ride on Chevrolet's Full Coil suspension. Let your feet feel that deep-twist Chevrolet carpeting. August is to enjoy.
6. Make your summer driving safer driving by taking advantage of the eight standard safety features built into every new Chevrolet. If your present car doesn't have seat belts, back-up lights, outside rearview mirror, padded instrument panel, look into a new Chevrolet.

Rise in Auto Thefts

NEW YORK—Auto thefts in the United States have nearly tripled since 1948, according to the Insurance Information Institute. There were 163,400 cars stolen in 1948 and 466,805 in 1964. Authorities stress that the best way to safeguard your car against thieves is to lock it and take the key with you.

Water-Nectar Of The Gods

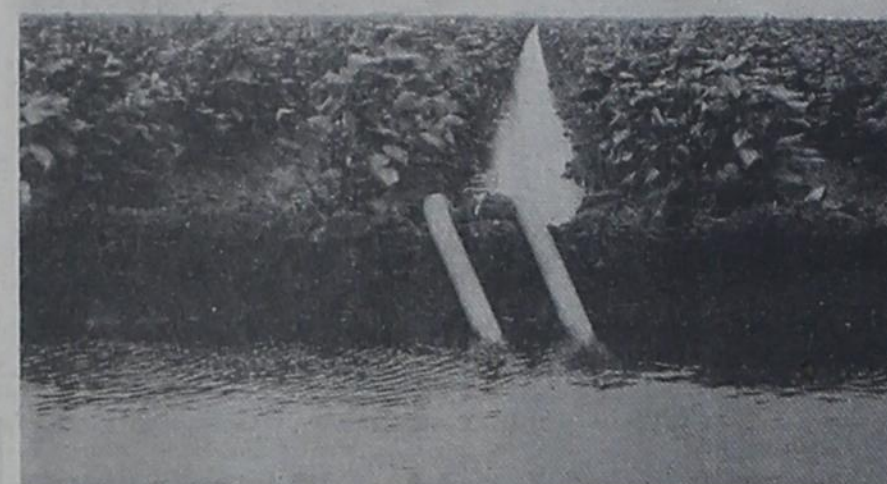

THE BRINGER OF LIFE -- from the very depths of the earth comes the cool goodness of water.

By Mike Getz In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth, and with the earth he created the seas, out of which all life began. At first, the only form of life on this planet was the one-celled creatures which dwelled in the depths. After a great span of time, several of these tiny creatures joined together to form the first primitive plants. Life prospered in the vast oceans for many millions of years before the first amphibian appeared upon the shores of land. The evolutionary process was to continue for eons to come. The amphibians evolved into reptiles, the reptiles into mammals, and finally God created man to have dominion over the earth, and all its creatures. Although the dominate species of life on this planet had shifted its environment from the seas to the land, it still could not remove itself from the water, for without it, life would surely perish. Today, man in all his technological glory must still have water, for water is truly the nectar of the gods, the very sustainer of life on this planet.

THE OLD AND THE NEW -- as man progresses, so do his means of storing the precious fluid he has removed from the earth.

AND WHERE THERE IS NOT -- man puts water. The many crops of man prosper because of modern irrigation.

POWER -- to bring water that lies in the earth to the surface, man relies on the motor and pump.

WASTE -- even with the best of things there is a bad side. This is water that will never be replaced, water that is lost.

AND WITHOUT WATER -- desolation.

Recently heard the statement: "I use to make good cakes but since I moved here, seems like my cakes never turn out right."

Each or all of these adjustments may be needed to a greater or lesser degree, depending on the richness and balance of ingredients.

This could be the answer: High Altitudes require adjustment for recipes. Most cake recipes are for sea level and need no modification up to the altitude of 2,500-3,000 feet. Above that, it is often necessary to adjust recipes slightly in proportion of certain ingredients, usually this is in leavening or sugar or both. Also an increase of liquids are needed.

Here is a table that may serve as a starting point for those who have this trouble. Reduce baking powder: 3,000 feet for each 1/8 teaspoon; 5,000 feet, decrease 1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon.

Increase liquid: 3,000 feet one to two tablespoons; 5,000 feet, two to three tablespoons. Sometimes in very rich cakes it is necessary to reduce shortening by one to two tablespoons. The altitude for Parmer County varies from about 4,100 feet at Farwell to less than 4,000 feet in other parts of the county, thus to follow modification guide use 5,000 feet guide.

Always use the smaller adjustment first, then if cake still

Steer Football Practice Begins Monday, August 15

All Steer football hopefuls are reminded that they should be at practice 8:30 a.m. on Monday morning, August 15, and again at 6:30 p.m. that afternoon. Practice will continue through the next two weeks, with members of the varsity squad playing a scrimmage game during the last week of summer practice.

imaginary straight line out from the muzzle, the bullet bisects this line twice, once on its way up in the curve and again on its way down. This means the bullet was "on target" somewhere before the 100-yard mark and again at 300 yards. Halfway, or at the peak of its curve, the bullet was 6.5 inches high. This means that from the muzzle out to 300 yards the rifle would pinpoint a bullet within a 6.5-inch diameter circle, by aiming right where the rifleman wanted to put his bullet. Even if it were aimed to impact at 200 yards, the rifleman could compensate for expected drop of the bullet at ranges beyond this by holding his sight pattern slightly high.

From his vantage, at the top of the Tower, Whitman's accuracy was remarkable. Shooting from a high place like this, down at an angle, the tendency is to overshoot. Only a skilled marksman would know immediately to compensate for this parallel.

When a 100-grain bullet in 6-mm leaves the rifle muzzle it is zipping along at 3,190 feet-per-second. Even at 300 yards it retains 2,420 fps velocity. At 100 yards it strikes with 1,890 foot-pounds of energy and at 300 yards there still is 1,300 fp energy. This bullet kills by shock. Hitting a victim at 1,300 fp energy creates tremendous shocking power. I've seen what a 6-mm bullet can do on whitetail deer; thus it amazes me that fewer people were slain.

Amazingly Accurate
If the 6-mm is sighted in for 300 yards, the mid-range trajectory (at 150 yards) is 6.5 inches. A bullet travels in an arch or curve when it leaves the barrel. By putting an

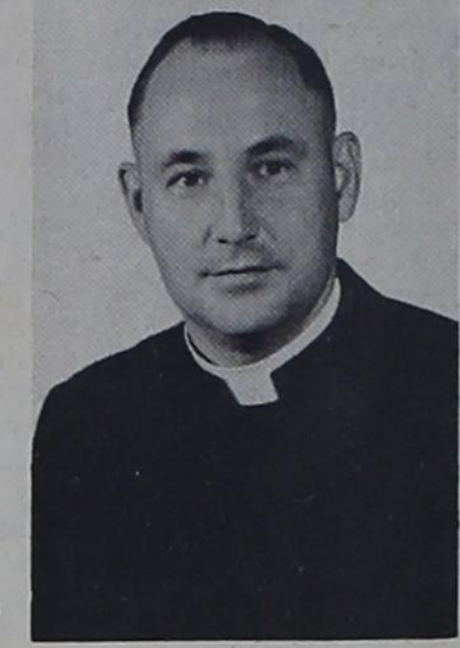

Freshman squad members are welcome to practice with the varsity squad, but they do not have to be present for practice until the following Monday, August 23, according to Coach Booth.

Morning practice sessions will be devoted to sprints to get the squad in shape and the evening sessions will be devoted to fundamentals of football. The only comment Coach Booth would make when questioned as to the prospects for the Steer team this year was,

"This is the year of the Steers!" Area sportswriters are already predicting that the Steers will be the top team in District 3A, but they indicate that at least two other teams in the district should be watched closely. Bovina is a newcomer to the 3A ranks this year having been lifted out of Class B, Silvertown which has been a class 3A school for the past several years will no longer be a member of the district.

Football equipment was issued on Wednesday afternoon.

This is not a time for hysteria" says Russell Tinsley in his outdoors column in the Austin American-Statesman. We agree so fully with what he has to say about guns and killers that we are reproducing his comments in full for your own consideration.

This latest macabre incident at The University of Texas provides even more hysterical fodder for the gun advocates. Considering the circumstances that is understandable. But let's be realistic about it all. Even if we would have the stringent firearms law now being pondered by Congress, one Charles J. Whitman still would have qualified to obtain both guns and ammunition. There was nothing in his past record to deny such a request. He had no criminal record, his character references were impeccable, he was a former scoutmaster, he was honorably discharged from the U.S. Marine Corps, he was not a known alcoholic or mental case. Viewed realistically, he was an All-American boy. Yet in our society people like this often create havoc. It would have been impossible to deny Whitman a gun without denying it to every other American citizen.

Anyway, a deer rifle is normally a weapon of violence. It is much too prominent to be carried about. Yet in this instance an ordinary deer rifle, one that is quite popular among Texas hunters, wrote a dubious and gory page of history.

Ironically, when the massacre started, the police were ill-equipped to do anything about it. Long-range rifles, scope sighted, are not standard issue. They are seldom needed. Yet in this case pistols and sawed-off shotguns were practically worthless. The sniper had all the advantages. Sniper Exposing Himself. In the first few minutes the sniper was roaming about the observation tower and firing at his victims with impunity.

Roy Reeves, a well-known

Austin hunter, was standing in his print shop at 308 W. 25th St., looking at the University Tower from his back door. He could clearly see the sniper walking about, firing at random. Reeves said the sniper would have been "easy pickings" with his deer rifle. He wouldn't have been a difficult shot. Yet no one on the ground was equipped with such an armament at the time.

Meanwhile, the sniper was hitting people at long distances. His arsenal included a 6-mm rifle with a four-power scope sight, a .35 Remington rifle and an Army surplus carbine in .30 caliber.

Obviously these extremely long and accurate shots were made with the 6-mm Remington. Neither the .35 Remington or carbine is capable of such marksmanship, not even in the hands of a skilled shooter.

The 6-mm Remington, then, is just a rifle, a weapon designed for deer hunting and not violence. The gun didn't kill. The man behind it, aiming through a scope and pulling the trigger, killed. Perhaps Whitman would have made some homemade bombs and lobbed them off the Tower into the unsuspecting crowd below. When a person sets his mind on killing and is willing to sacrifice his life in the process, then all the odds are in his favor.

Many people were amazed that so many victims died. Actually, knowing the capabilities of the 6-mm rifle since I hunt with one, it is surprising to me that of the number wounded, so few died. The 6-mm is capable of utter destruction. One of the modern high-velocity cartridges, it can reach far out with fairly flat trajectory and it carries a tremendous wallop when it hits.

No one in his right mind would advocate doing away with the Armed Services because of this incident. Yet there is a parallel here. The Marine Corps didn't kill; the 6-mm rifle didn't kill, per se; Whitman killed. It was an unfortunate, gory, shocking thing. But let's be realistic about it all. In our democratic way of life, these things not only are possible, they become reality at times. But we can't sacrifice all our freedoms on the long-shot possibility of preventing another disaster such as this in the future. Such negative thinking never has been a workable or practical solution.

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS & CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF CLOVIS AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of The State Line Tribune as he saw conditions. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the cooperation of those citizens in Clovis who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Dale R. Sampson

At the head of one of the district's more prominent wholesale automotive parts and supply firms, and as a leader of recognized ability in community life, Dale R. Sampson stands out today as one of the best liked men on the panorama of Clovis activity.

Aside from this business activities, Mr. Jones and Mr. Baldock have always shown an interest in the civic betterment and progress of the city, and have backed up their interest by their contributions to many projects which have benefited Clovis and the surrounding trade area. They are good and loyal citizens, and the full measure of their loyalty is most apparent because of their willingness to aid community activities.

Their help along these lines have made of Walter Baldock and Hugh Jones excellent examples of the type of men we all appreciate. We congratulate, and extend to them on behalf of all citizens interested in better business and civic progress, sincere appreciation for their contributions to the general welfare of Clovis and vicinity.

C. J. Todd

It is not always the kind of a business which determines its importance to the community. But, more or less, the methods used in its management, the services rendered to the public, and the manner in which it meets all business and civic obligations.

The cheerfulness of the entire personnel of the Federal Land Bank Association of Clovis, in their contacts with the public, and the ready acceptance of all responsibilities by C. J. Todd, proves conclusively that he is a man who is well-versed in the principles of successful business management.

As most people know, they are leaders in their line of business. This is partly so because of their long experience, as the association will celebrate their 50th anniversary in 1967, but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

It is a pleasure to compliment C. J. Todd, and the directors for the successful operation and management of the association, and for their many contributions to those civic projects aiding in the growth and development of Clovis and the adjacent territory.

Her business ability, coupled with a sense of obligation to her many satisfied customers have been major factors in maintaining the Stork Shop in a position of leadership throughout this entire area. She not only in her business activities, but also in her attention to civic duty, assumed an active part in community affairs.

Mrs. Reid has always been ready and willing to lend her support to the promotion of any project promising to benefit the community as a whole. She has often sacrificed personal interests to be of assistance to the city, and her efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Dorothy Reid on her past achievements which, in our opinion, indicate a similar successful career in the years ahead.

Dorothy Reid

As most people know, they are leaders in their line of business. This is partly so because of their long experience, as the association will celebrate their 50th anniversary in 1967, but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

It is a pleasure to compliment C. J. Todd, and the directors for the successful operation and management of the association, and for their many contributions to those civic projects aiding in the growth and development of Clovis and the adjacent territory.

Tom Johnson and Bob Linville

Tom Johnson and Bob Linville of Johnson The Men's Shop, have well-earned reputations for dependability because they have consistently forged ahead in their business, never letting up in their efforts to make the service they render to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made Johnson The Men's Shop outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public throughout this entire area.

But Mr. Johnson and Mr. Linville have accomplished much more than just making a success of their business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to them for devoting what time they could spare to the general welfare, not only to the city, but his district as well.

It is such men as they, who are both successful in business, and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Tom Johnson

George J. Sallee

George J. Sallee has proved his dependability by constantly adding to, and increasing the service which the First Street Bay Service Station has extended to the people. The large volume of business handled by his Bay station proves that "service" to him, is not "just a word", but something to be rendered to the motoring public to the fullest extent of his ability.

In addition to his close attention to his business affairs, Mr. Sallee was never a man to dodge his civic responsibilities, and help in those matters has always been cheerfully given. He fully appreciates the value forged ahead in his business, He has also put his shoulder to the wheels of civic progress whenever concerted help was needed in furthering enterprises promoted for the general welfare of the community.

Mr. Stewart was never a man given to wishful thinking. Because his methods are those of direct action, and whether the problem at hand is one concerning his own business or that of a civic nature, he attacks it with optimism and vigorous enthusiasm. Add to this acknowledged business ability, and his keen sense of values, and it is easily understood why he is almost invariably successful in business or other matters.

We feel that it is our duty to call the attention of our readers to these worth-while characteristics of "Doc" Stewart, and to pay him a well-deserved tribute for his straight-forward business methods, and for the unselfish interest he has shown in public welfare.

A. A. "Buddy" Holmberg

Logically a man who has earned the reputation of being one of Clovis' more dependable jewelers would in so doing, have earned the friendship and good will of a great many people throughout this entire district. And one who justly deserves that distinction is—modest, efficient, friendly, A. A. "Buddy" Holmberg of Holmberg Jewelry, who numbers many of our readers as some of his best satisfied customers.

Mr. Holmberg is the type of man who would be an asset to any community, not only because the successful conduct of his business plays a definite part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate measure of his value to the city and this district, lies in the fact that he is untiringly zealous and remarkably successful in the promotion of civic progress.

It would be difficult to estimate the actual dollars-and-cents value of such a man to his community. We congratulate the people of Clovis for numbering among their more progressive citizens such a man as "Buddy" Holmberg, and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of success.

C. B. McMennamy

In compiling this review of progressive Clovis business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business life of the city.

Such a man is C. B. McMennamy, representing the Lester Humphrey Pest Control Service, who also deserves an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. He is a consistent and enthusiastic booster of the community, and in his way has done much to advertise the city.

Mr. McMennamy has pursued the progressive policy of stepping up his business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which he has earned the reputation of being a go-getter, who does not sit back and wait for the business to come to him.

We are glad to pay tribute to C. B. McMennamy, and to point out to our readers that his sincere desire to be of service, coupled with his determined methods are largely responsible for the standing of the Lester Humphrey Pest Control Service throughout this entire area.

Gerald F. Dorough

Gerald F. Dorough, District Manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company, is one of those men who have helped Clovis grow, and who has at all times assisted in every manner possible to promote that growth. One of the principle objects has been to see the city take its proper place as a leader, and one of the more progressive cities in the state, and he has helped whenever help was needed to obtain that objective. The community has gone forward on the impetus of the activities of such men, and it continues to progress through their efforts.

This is but a small expression of gratitude to a citizen who has toiled for an ideal, and has gradually seen that ideal take shape. The many services performed for Clovis by Gerald Dorough are too well known to require repetition here. It is sufficient to say that we recognize in him, a leader in both business and civic enterprise; that we respect his opinions, and depend a great deal on him and men like him for future guidance.

E. O. "Doc" Stewart

E. O. "Doc" Stewart of Doc Stewart-Chevrolet-Buick Incorporated, is one of those dependable automobile and truck sales and service dealers of Clovis who has consistently

Dale Hill

Dale Hill, manager of the Sherwin-Williams Company, has won the universal respect and good will of the people of Clovis and the surrounding country for the progressive manner in which he has kept this reliable company in the forefront of the business life of this entire district. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Hill is not the kind of man who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment, whose opinions and advice are sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Dale Hill for the successful management of the Sherwin-Williams Company, and also for his constructive advice and help on those civic affairs in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call friend.

Allene Webb

In editing this review of progressive Clovis business people, we have endeavored to select those citizens who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their businesses, have earned for them positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such an individual is Allene Webb of Allene's Gift Shop, who is well known and has a great many friends and satisfied customers throughout this entire district.

Mrs. Webb's main interests have not been solely confined to her own business and private affairs, but have also included her contributions in one form or another, to those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of her activities.

Allene Webb is a woman of wide experience, whose exploits in the business and civic life of Clovis and vicinity, merits more than a passing attention, and the writer is privileged to pay this brief tribute to a woman who well deserves more credit than is accorded her here.

Johnny Salazar

We desire in this Clovis review to call the attention of our readers to the well-earned position which Johnny Salazar has reached in the business life of this section. During the comparatively short time he has been the manager in Clovis for the American Metals Company, he has made many personal friends as well as having earned the good will of his associates for the straight-forward manner in which he has conducted his business affairs.

Mr. Salazar is working hard to deserve the confidence which the people of the community have in him, and he continues to work hard to maintain in every way, that high standard which he has set, not only for himself, but for the operation and management of the American Metals Company as well.

He has also shown a willingness to assist in every manner at his disposal in the growth and development of Clovis, and is always ready to lend his support to civic projects. Johnny Salazar deserves our heartfelt congratulations on the splendid record he has already established, and we sincerely hope for his continued success.

F. H. Hoy

Performing an outstanding service for the people of Clovis and the surrounding territory, F. H. Hoy of the Noffsler-Willmott Insurance Agency, has achieved an enviable reputation for his progressive policies of business administration. His constant study of insurance problems in relation to the protection the people both need and can afford, have been important factors in his well-earned success.

Mr. Hoy is a man of ideas, and he is as practical as he is progressive in putting those ideas to beneficial use in furthering the service the agency renders to the public. His sound business judgment and unwavering honesty are characteristics which place him in the front rank with other business leaders of the city. Yet, he is unassuming and modest in his personal contact with the people; always ready to listen to their ideas and desires.

We are glad to pay tribute to dependable citizens of this type, for it is such men as F. H. Hoy who have caused Clovis to become recognized as the leading trading center of this entire region.

Don Messer

Every progressive and successful business man in Clovis contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And one who is always willing to do his part in both civic and business activities is Don Messer of the State Line Irrigation & Welding Company, who is well known, and has a great many friends and business associates throughout this entire district.

The prominent part that the State Line Irrigation & Welding Company is playing in the business and commercial life of Clovis and vicinity, mirrors the dependability and honesty of such men as he. Moreover, Mr. Messer has also at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country, and on many occasions has lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

Clovis and this district are fortunate to have such a man as Don Messer in a position of responsibility and service, and this newspaper feels that it merely reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to one of the city's more progressive business men.

Robert S. Rodgers

In singling out some of the more progressive business men of Clovis, we would be censored should we fail to include Robert S. Rodgers of the Curry County Abstract Company. He is a man who has never spared himself in his participation in both the business and civic activities of the city.

Mr. Rodgers has always been conscious of his civic responsibilities, and is ever ready and willing to meet in every detail, those opportunities which come to his attention to further civic enterprise. He may well be proud of his achievements long these lines.

Robert Rodgers deserves a great deal of credit for the honest and successful manner in which he has conducted his business affairs. He is a friendly and likeable personality, whose sincere desire to be of service has gained for him a host of friends and acquaintances in and around Clovis who would, if given the opportunity, join us in wishing him many more years of continued success.

Mrs. J. F. Watterson

We wish in this edition to pay tribute to Mrs. J. F. Watterson of Rosa's Odd Shop, for her many services to the people of this region, and her splendid record of achievements in the business life of the city.

Mrs. Watterson probably has as wide a circle of friends as any other person we could name, because she is just naturally the kind of woman who makes friends with almost everyone, and always conducts herself in such a manner as to deserve the respect and good will of all who know her. Clovis is fortunate in being able to number among its more progressive business people, citizens of this type.

She is always ready and willing to lend her support to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit this entire district.

She may be depended upon, and her services to the people are too many in number to be described here. It may be sufficient to say that we consider

Mrs. Watterson an asset to the community and a progressive business woman of whom the city may be proud.

Bob And Don Middleton And Ed C. Cantrell

Clovis has attained a prominent position in the business and commercial life of this section of the Southwest because of the foresight of those men who had the ability to envision the possibilities of the community, and the trade area it serves. And three wide awake progressive men who justly should be included in this category are Bob and Don Middleton, and Ed C. Cantrell of Bob's Super Market. Ed Cantrell has many friends in this region as he has been active in the retail meat business in the Clovis area for many years.

Such men have, many times over, proven their worth to the community, both as business men, and as active workers in the civic betterment and progress of the city. And the Middletons and Mr. Cantrell have earned the good will and respect of their fellow citizens for contributing their bit to the general welfare of the city and the people as a whole.

It is our duty to include Bob and Don Middleton and Ed Cantrell in that group of progressive and civic-minded individuals who have done so much for Clovis, and to express the wish that they will continue for many years to forge ahead with the success which they have enjoyed in the past.

R. D. Stalcup and Frank Smith

Due to the efforts of a group of wide awake business men, the city of Clovis has attained a dominant position in the commercial life of this section of the Southwest. And two of those who have justly earned credit for being progressive members of that group are R. D. Stalcup and Frank Smith of the Barry Hardware Company.

It is because of the successful operations of such a business as this that the city of Clovis has earned the reputation of being one of the more progressive communities in this area. Mr. Stalcup and Mr. Smith have been conspicuously successful in spite of the fact that they have repeatedly neglected their own private affairs to devote a part of their time and efforts to the successful promotion of civic projects.

It is considered a privilege to include Frank Smith and R. D. Stalcup in this Clovis review, and to publicly give them due credit for their success in the management of the Barry Hardware Company, and for their many contributions to the general welfare of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Yarberry

It is no coincidence that more frequently than not, those who take a progressive part in the civic and business life of their community, are the same ones who are pre-eminently successful in conducting their own private affairs. In connection with the foregoing statement, we wish to mention and pay tribute to Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Yarberry of Yarberry's Studio, and the Clovis Film & Camera Store.

The Yarberrys have proven very ably that they are photographers of more than average ability, for it is largely due to their progressive methods, coupled with their sound and practical ideas that their studio and camera store holds its high position in the public's opinion in this area. They have made their business a "profession" with the result that they are considered two of the more popular photographers in Clovis, giving to their patrons an excellence of artistic service seldom equaled. They also operate the only living color plant in the state, and are equipped to handle any assignment relative to fine color work.

It is also true that Mr. and Mrs. Yarberry do their share toward community improvement, and have given freely of their time and energy to those enterprises which have benefited the city at large. We are glad to voice our praise of two people who are successful in their own business, and who also have time to give toward community development.

Mrs. Melvin R. Wiley and Elouise McBride

In mentioning some of those men and women who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business and civic life of Clovis, we would be censored if we failed to include Mrs. Melvin R. Wiley and Elouise McBride of the Clovis Ditching Company, a firm that is recognized as a leader in their line of business.

Mrs. Wiley and Mrs. McBride are those solid type of citizens whose fairness and friendliness, and sincere desire to be of service are accountable for a large measure of their success. And as time goes on, their personal interests have become more closely interwoven with ATTENDS CITIZENSHIP SEMINAR -- Sheri Roberts opens a letter telling her of her selection to attend a "Citizenship Seminar" in Waco. The seminar is being sponsored by the Farm Bureau of Texas.

Sheri Roberts Attends Citizenship Seminar

Sheri Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Roberts and a senior in Farwell High School, is in Waco this week attending the fourth annual "Citizenship Seminar" sponsored by the Farm Bureau of Texas. Miss Roberts is one of three students, the only girl, selected to attend the seminar from Parmer County. The seminar is being held on the Baylor University campus. The other students attending are from Friona and Lazbuddie. The seminar is an intensive course in citizenship, our American heritage, the proper role of the government and the threat of communism. It is designed to complement the formal education of the young people, selected to attend, and to make it more meaningful for them. Several of the lectures during the week will deal with first hand accounts of people who have dealt directly with communist intrigue. However, other phases of the seminar deal with the danger of America losing its system of government because of apathy and misunderstanding of issues. C. L. Kay, a well-known lecturer from Lubbock Christian College, one of the lecturers selected for the week. Other lecturers include FBI officials and professors from several colleges.

Visits 24 States On Vacation

Mrs. Hattie Boling has returned from a trip which took her into 24 eastern states and two provinces of Canada. Mrs. Boling, who drove the entire distance of 8,500 miles, was accompanied on the trip by a friend, Mrs. Eula Garrett of Santa Ana, Calif., and Mrs. Katy Carroll, a former college roommate of Atlanta, Tex. Highlights of the trip were the French Quarters in New Orleans; the Leper Colony (Hansen Disease) at Carville, near Baton Rouge; a glass-bottom boat ride at Silver Springs, Fla.; guided tours of St. Augustine, Fla., Washington, D.C., Boston, Mass., and Quebec, Canada.

Other places and things of interest were Mt. Vernon, Statue of Liberty, Christus Biblical Gardens-at the entrance to the Great Smokies, Fifth Avenue drive and shopping, riding the subway, Niagara Falls, buying Canadian cheese (a must), and a tour of the Bellingraff Gardens. At Theodore, Alabama, the ladies attended a 69th anniversary celebration and homecoming service at the Southern Baptist Church where they were given the "extra" special guest treatment even with the scores of homecoming guests. They toured the birthplace of Woodrow Wilson in Staunton, Ind., which was at the time of his birth the home of the Methodist minister, since Wilson's father was pastor in Staunton at that time. Visits were made in Roselle Park, N.J., with Mrs. Garrett's daughter, Mrs. Jean Coulter, a former student of Mrs. Boling; with Mrs. Boling's niece who took the trio to Stone Mountain with its carved statues of Robert E. Lee, Jefferson Davis, and Stonewall Jackson in one side of the mountain of granite. A visit was also made in Atlanta, Ga., with Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bell, cousins of the late John Boling. The trip completed travel in at least 47 of the states of the United States for Mrs. Boling. She has never visited Minnesota.

Return From Mexican Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sheets and children, Kyle, Gene and LaShawn, returned Friday from a vacation which took them to Mexico City and Acapulca, Mexico. Leaving Farwell on July 24, they traveled by private plane to El Paso where they boarded a train for Mexico City. In Mexico City, they took the planned tours which are provided for tourists, visiting cathedrals, attending a ballet at the Palace of Fine Arts and visiting the floating gardens. Of special interest to the Sheets children were the market places. In Acapulca, they went out in a glass bottom boat, saw the skin divers and went swimming in the ocean. "The natural beauty of the place is awesome," said Mrs. Sheets who describes Acapulca as the "most beautiful place I have ever seen." The Sheets family found the tour quite interesting and educational. Here they found that life moves at a much slower pace than in the states. The people are also much more formal, for in any restaurant or hotel men guests always come dressed in white shirts and suits while the ladies are always dressed in street clothing. No shorts and slacks are evident except in the resort towns or on the beaches. However the Sheets family found that in Mexico City, particularly, the residents have done away with the siesta time due to the many tourists who visit annually.

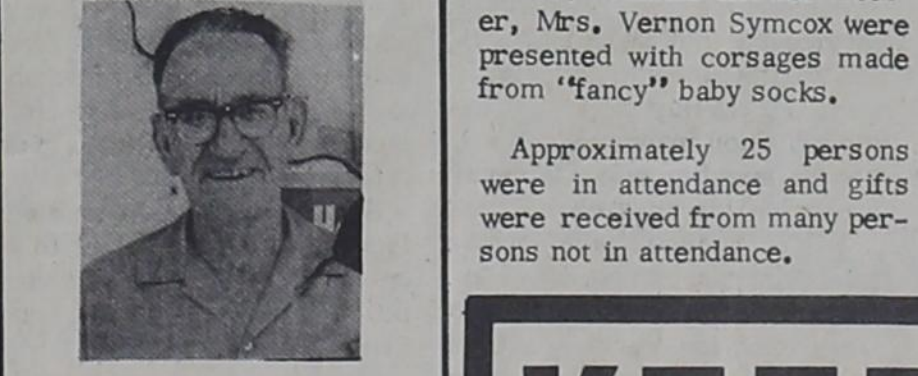

Hines Family Has Reunion At Clovis Park

Visitors in the home of Mrs. Nannie Hines during the past week have been her sons, Walter Westbrook and son, Randy, from El Monte, Calif., and Samuel Hines and son, Craig, Lompoc, Calif. On Sunday the group was joined by other family members for a picnic at the Clovis park. Attending the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bell and Darlene, Texico; Mrs. Rose Walls, Kim and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Westbrook and family, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Lynn Westbrook and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Westbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown, all of Clovis; Mr. and Mrs. Andres Drager, Friona; Mr. and Mrs. Butch Martin and daughter, Portales; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ford, Farwell. Six of the seven children of Mrs. Hines were here for the family gathering. The only one absent was Robert Hines of Boulder, Colorado. Walter Westbrook and son returned to their home on Wednesday; however, Samuel Hines and son will remain in Farwell for a longer visit.

Mrs. Hutchins Is Honoree At Tea

Mrs. Lee Hutchins and infant daughter, Geretta Lee, were honorees at a tea on Wednesday afternoon. Hostesses for the social were Mesdames Ted Magness, W. T. Magness, Bill Whitesides, Joel White, and Elmer Teel. The social was held in the parlor of Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church. Mrs. Teel and Mrs. Whitesides alternated at the guest register and other hostesses alternated at the serving table. Registration table was centered by an arrangement of pink carnations. Serving table was covered in white over pink and centered with a stork. At one end of the table was a crystal punch bowl holding pink punch and at the other end was a crystal plate filled with white cake squares iced in pink topped by miniature confection "booties" of blue. The cake squares were served with nuts, mints and punch.

During the 10 days they visited Pensacola, Fla.; Biloxi, Miss., where they visited with Bill Quickel, son of Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Quickel who is stationed there with the Armed Forces; and in Louisiana. They delivered two school buses which were recently sold by the Farwell school to Louisiana and on the return trip they picked up two new buses for the school at Jackson, Mississippi. The Crook family spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morton and family at Goldwithe, Tex. The Mortons are former Farwell residents, and only recently moved to Goldwithe where they had acquired a stock farm. ★ ★ Hail Damage ★ ★

Sugar beets which were damaged in the Sunday hail have some chance of coming back to make a fair crop although tops of the beets were stripped into ribbons.

Cantaloupes almost ready for market were nothing more than a mass of tangled vines and melons beaten to a pulp following the hail in the Pleasant Hill area on Sunday.

the business and civic affairs of the city. As a result they have, quite naturally become accepted as women who can be called upon, and who will cheerfully do their part to further the development of those community activities to which they are best fitted to lend assistance.

Elouise McBride and Mrs. Wiley have, by the conduct of the business, and by their attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of the people of this region. They are to be complimented for their activities, and we only express the desire of their business associates in wishing them continued success.

Two-Way Radio Discussed For Texico Fire Department

Bill Thigpen and Lewis Cooper, representing the Texico Volunteer Fire Department, met with the Town Council on Tuesday night to discuss the proper procedure to obtain bids for a two-way radio installation for the department. After some discussion, Town Attorney Harry Patton was instructed to work up the specifications and present them to the board at a later date.

Also meeting with the board were Felix Winegeart and S. N. Moore, who own property on Griffin Street. They were interested in obtaining a sewer line extension to their property. Town fathers informed the men that they will check into the cost of installation and let them know later. However, town fathers did tell the men that the town will pay its part of the required fee.

Town clerk Clara Wiehl was instructed to contact Otis Huggins, of Southwestern Public Service Co., with reference of having a street light installed at the new high school building. She was also instructed to contact the known members of the Texico Cemetery Board and make plans to bring the cemetery records up to date, with additional members to be added to the board as per town ordinance, governing the cemetery.

Mrs. Wiehl is also to learn from Wallace-Terrin what steps must be taken to change the six inch water line and pump system to an eight inch system. The police magistrate report in the amount of $42.50 was approved for the period August 2-6.
