FIFTY-SIXTH YEAR

10 CENTS

PERSONAL
By John

Last week brought to a close Farwell Merchant's eighth Cotton Bowl Football Contest. It was the largest contest from the standpoint of contestants in the eight year history with a total of 339 entrants for a real nip and tuck battle. Dee Owen was the grand prize winner. The contest was so close that the winner was not decided until the winner of the last game of the last week was announced. Until the results of the Pittsburgh and St. Louis game came over TV, Dee and Gene Ezell were in a tie. Dee picked St. Louis and Gene chose Pittsburgh. St. Louis won the game 6-3 on an extra field goal. So you might say Dee was kicked into the Cotton Bowl and Gene was kicked out.

One of the disconcerting things, from the male ego standpoint, was the strong showing of the distaff entrants. In the majority of cases, the wife managed to outcall her husband. The football bug must run in families as there were quite a few families who got into the act.

Dodie Actkinson wound up beating Theo and Johnny, Dorothy Bauer topped Ray, Frances Birchfield edged Curtis, Debbie was the best Chandler, Rubie was the "craftiest" one in her family, Mrs. H. R. Crook beat "Mutt" but Randy was the family champ, Fred Curtis took his family's honors. William was the best of the Dannheim group, Ray Ford topped Joyce this year. Buck and Kandy Gregory battled it out with Buck finally winning. Yvonne walloped Truitt Harbage.

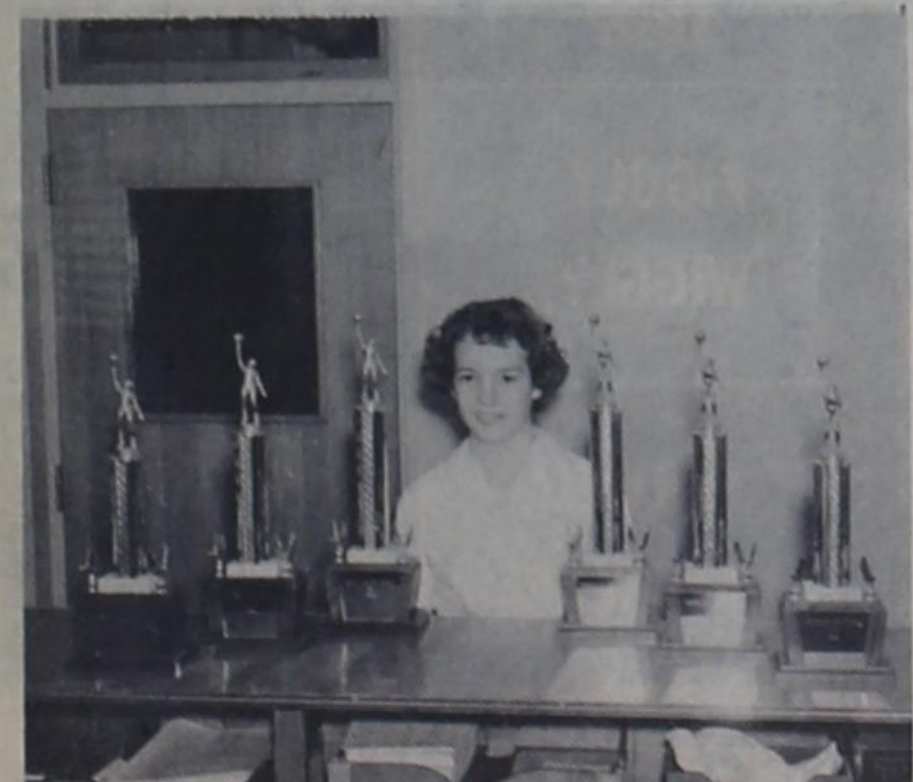

Greg Hargrove showed the rest of his family how to pick winners. Bobby Hart showed his dad how to guess games. Mrs. Albert Johnson showed greater skill and judgment than Albert for the 12-week course. E. A. Key topped his wife, but Mrs. Kitten beat Leroy, so the men didn't gain much in those two families.

Ysleta Kittrell took T. J. to task by ten games. Bruce and Dale McCuan wound up in a dead heat for the season. Bobbie McFarland showed John who was best around that household. Bill Meeks remained the top caller in his group. Bernice trounced Darrell Norton, but good. Dee Owen had to win the contest to finally beat his wife in the last week.

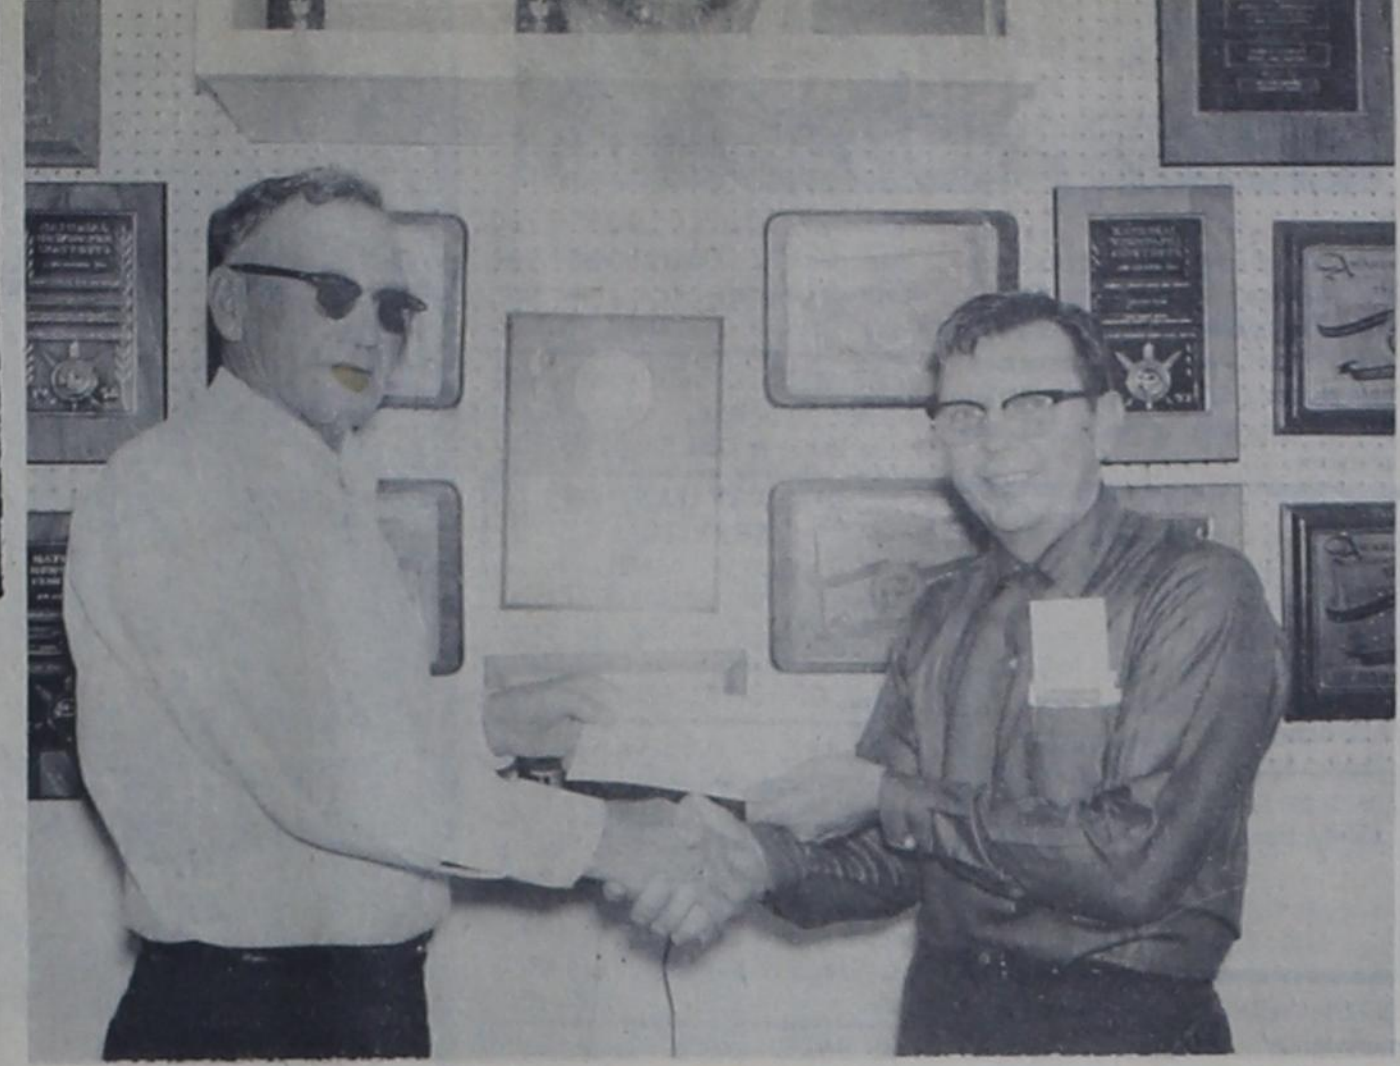

The Phillips clan had a large group to enter but it was all "Bunk" over Billie and girls, but Al took the honors. Champ Porter lost his crown to his wife this year, but John evened it up by beating Mae Porter. Georgia and Pete Russell wound up in a tie. Wonder if Georgia felt sorry for Pete? Vernon Scott finally edged Omata, but not many others.

Bob Shuman beat his wife, but she won $5.00 and Bob didn't scratch all year. Loyd Smith managed a win over Murlene. Harold Travis claimed a one point edge in his family to win.

Mark Williams showed all the other Williamses his heels and took Clan honors with a total of 82 points. Maxine was beating Don Williams so badly that he quit halfway through the contest. Irene Woods capped it by beating Carliss, so the men closed out on a losing note. After studying these results, I believe I would put my money on feminine intuition rather than sound masculine judgment and careful study.

GOOD CITIZEN OF THE WEEK -- LaDell Goldsmith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Goldsmith and a seventh grade student at Farwell Junior High School, has been chosen Good Citizen of the Week for the week Nov. 28 - Dec. 3. She displays the trophies which will be presented to winners of the first three places in the boys and girls divisions of the junior high school basketball tournament scheduled for this week in Farwell.

"I NEVER THOUGHT I WOULD," Dee Owen was the most surprised person in the merchant's football contest when he was informed that he was the Grand Prize winner, two tickets to the Cotton Bowl and $50 expense money. Although, he had been leading in the contest along with his wife, Edwina, for the past several weeks he had not really expected to win with two other persons trailing by only one game coming into the final week. Owen receives congratulations from John Getz, publisher of the Tribune.

Dee Owen Wins Football Contest

Winner of the merchant's football contest for this season is Dee Owen who called a total of 86 games right during the 12 weeks the contest was in progress. For the past several weeks Owen and his wife, Edwina, had been tied for first place in the contest followed by Bill Prince and Gene Ezell. However, at close of the contest Mrs. Owen had dropped to third place with 84 games right. Prince and Ezell ended in a tie for second place calling 85 games right.

Games missed by Owen in the final week of the contest were the Seagraves-Sonora game and the Baltimore Colts-Los Angeles game. Owen will receive two tickets to the Cotton Bowl game and $50 expense money for the trip as winner of the contest. Weekly winner during the final week of the contest was Mrs. R. S. Shuman, who called all of the games right along with Warlick Dollar. However, Mrs. Shuman was closer to the tiebreaker score than was Dollar, missing the score by 28 points. Winner of the third place weekly award was E. A. Key of Clovis who had nine games right. He missed the score 11 points.

Other persons calling nine games right were Clara Billingsley, Cleo Gregory, William Dannheim, Emmett Tabor, Elmer Hargrove, B.V. Hughes, Greg Hargrove, Theo Actkinson, Billy Meeks, Champ Porter, and Joe Hughes.

A record number of 339 persons entered the contest this year. Contest sponsors included

Security State Bank, Shuman-Haseloff Insurance Agency, Oklahoma Lane Gin and Oklahoma Lane Farm Supply, Nickels' Gin, State Line Grain and State Line Fertilizer, Lariat Gin, Piggly Wiggly, Capitol Food, Worley Grain, Sherley-Anderson-Pittman and Sherley-Anderson Grain, Farwell Equipment, Clara's Spur Restaurant, Farwell Grain Exchange, Kelly Green Seed, Williams Fertilizer, City Cleaners, Farwell Motors, Texaco, Inc., and Continental Oil Company.

LUCKY CHOICE -- Woodrow Lovelace, Texaco Consignee, agrees with Mrs. R. S. Shuman that she surely made "lucky choices" when she picked the games in the final week of the football contest as he offers her congratulations and presents a check for $5 as first place weekly award in the contest. Mrs. Shuman called all of the games right.

Cotton Referendum Explained

Farmer County cotton growers will vote on the cotton referendum December 5-9 at the same time as the marketing quota referendum. Vote will be by mail-in ballots.

A meeting was held in Lubbock on Nov. 15 where provisions of the Cotton Research and Promotion Act were explained, according to Ronnie F. McNutt county agent.

The meeting was one of seven being held over the state by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to present educational information on the Act.

John Box, Extension agronomist from Texas A&M University, explained to the group that Congress passed the Cotton Research and Promotion Act earlier in the year. It provides for a cotton research and promotion program which would be financed by a $1 a bale uniform assessment on cotton growers. The $1 a bale check-off will not, of course, go into effect unless it is approved by the growers in the coming referendum, said Box. The referendum is simply a vote, where cotton growers can accept or reject the proposal.

Box said there are two ways the Cotton Research and Promotion Act may be approved by the growers in the referendum. First, by a "yes" vote of two-thirds of all growers who vote in the referendum. Second, by a "yes" vote of over 50 per cent of those voting who also produce two-thirds of the cotton represented in the referendum.

WE'LL BEGIN HERE -- Oliver Pratt, left, U. S. Department of Agriculture animal health division federal livestock inspector, points out the spot in Parmer County where the Cattle Scabies inspection will begin to Dr. G. D. Lindsey, State Area Veterinarian a member of the State Animal Health Commission.

Cattle Scabies Inspection Begins Soon In County

Every herd of cattle in Parmer County must be inspected for Cattle Scabies before the March 31 deadline, says Ronny McNutt, County Agricultural Agent. The inspection will begin about Dec. 10.

Thirty-eight counties in the Panhandle will be inspected for Cattle Scabies before the March 31 deadline. All 38 counties must be inspected before other states will lift their restrictions for Texas cattle to be brought in.

California and Colorado are the only states that require Texas cattle to be dipped before entering the state. The inspection in the 38 Panhandle counties is being conducted by eight state and eight federal livestock inspectors working jointly.

In charge of the Parmer County Cattle Scabies inspection is Dr. G. D. Lindsey, State Area Veterinarian, who is also in charge of the Panhandle area inspection. Dr. Lindsey is living in Levelland at the present time.

Oliver Pratt, federal livestock inspector, and Denman Burns, state livestock inspector, will be handling the inspection of Parmer County herds. Pratt is located at the Sands Motel in Dimmitt and Burns is located in Lubbock.

Dr. Lindsey and Pratt were in Farwell on Monday to visit with the county agent and make final plans for the inspection which will begin around Dec. 10.

What are the Home Management Problems families face from day to day? It's a pretty safe bet that some of the management problems that families face from day to day in our own country are little different from those of families across the state and nation.

TOO MUCH INCOME? Do you believe that because the average income in a county such as Parmer, is higher than the state or national average, families do not need to be concerned with money management? Really, having an annual income of $10,000 or more does not insure a family against problems. On the contrary, a study made by Merrill-Parmer Institute showed that as incomes increase arithmetically, problems in money management increase geometrically! Why? Because higher incomes allow more discretionary spending and require more decision making. And generally, people lack a knowledge of management principles that could guide them in more effective decision making.

Research indicates that fam-

Cotton producers should remember and vote in the cotton referendums during December 5-9.

One of the items to vote on is the cotton research and promotion act. This program provides for a cotton research and promotion program which would be financed by a $1 a bald uniform assessment on cotton growers.

The other item to vote on is the cotton quota referendum, which is basically the same as voted in years past.

Every cotton producer should vote on these two referendums. Ballots should be returned to the ASCS office.

Anyone interested in the future of the Panhandle is urged to attend a public meeting scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 7, at Canyon. The meeting will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the Student Union Building of West Texas State University. The Panhandle Economic Program will be explained at the meeting. The primary purpose of the P. E. P. is improving income from our agricultural industry through improved use of area resources.

A crowd of 100 to 200 people are expected to attend this event in Canyon.

Water freeze-up problems around the farm and home can often be prevented by using an inexpensive electric heating cable.

Some places are especially vulnerable to winter freeze-up, such as a short section of exposed pipe in an unheated part of the barn or an outside faucet that must operate. All that is needed is to wrap the heating cable around the pipe in spiral fashion and plug it into a convenient electrical outlet. The cable can be bought in a wide range of lengths to suit the job.

It is best to wrap some kind of insulating material around the cable to conserve heat and electricity. For even more economy and freedom from supervision, a thermostat with a bulb sensing element can be used. This will automatically control the on-off operation of the cable.

With the arrival of colder weather, proper feeding of cows and calves takes on important significance.

Production efficiency and comfort of a mature cow is not reduced by cold weather, provided she is full of forage, has a dry coat and is exposed to dry still air.

The temperature at a given level of feed intake where no additional feed is necessary to maintain body temperature is called the critical temperature. It is slightly above the temperature at which cattle begin to shiver.

A cow on a fasting diet or without any feed will reach the critical temperature at about 55 degrees F.

Cattle can keep warm and survive cold weather if they consume sufficient forage. Low-quality roughage high in fiber serve as effective feeds during storms because of the high heat production that results from digesting the fiber in the roughage.

ilies can have a $4,500 level of living with a $3,000 annual income by improving their management.

Those who are interested in how this may be done, will not want to miss the county-wide Management School starting January 10, 1967. Watch the papers for schedule of meeting dates. So far 15 people have consented to be on the program, to teach, discuss and illustrate some phase of management.

4-H Leader - Mrs. John Christian reports three meetings of her Oklahoma Lane 4-H group of six who are taking the "Money Management" project. Such subjects as "What is Important to You" and "Your Dollars and Sense" are some points discussed in these meetings.

Another leader, Kathrine White, reports two meetings of her "Child Care" project group. Girls responded well as to their interest in this project on Family Life Education.

The Lucky Clover group taking Parliamentary Procedure, with Jamie Bowery as leader, reports two meetings with her six members - mostly boys. Learning to conduct meetings, and write minutes are discussed at these meetings. The 4-H Motto remember, is "to learn to do by doing."

Referendum --

sumed in the U.S., he said. When cotton was really "king" the U. S. produced more cotton than all foreign countries combined. This is not so today. Now, foreign countries produce more than twice as much cotton as we do, said Jenkins.

Dr. James Kirby, Extension marketing and policy economist at A&M, told the group about $70 million was spent last year for promotion of man-made fibers. That compares to $4 million spent to promote cotton, he said.

Kirby said research expenditures by the man-made fiber industry last year were $135 million compared with total cotton research funds of just over $26 million.

Kirby gave favoring and opposing points of view on the referendum. He said those who oppose the Research and Promotion Act say legislation which force cotton handlers to deduct the one dollar per bale is a potential dangerous policy and encroaches on the farmer's freedom of choice.

He said those who support the act point out the farmer cannot get a full refund of the dollar per bale if he does not want to support the program. Supporters say this provides the farmer with a choice.

Kirby said those who oppose the Act contend it gives too much authority to the Secretary of Agriculture. He said those who support it say the Secretary's authority is much less than under some 30 other marketing programs presently involved in research and promotion.

Kirby explained that since 1960 a research and promotion campaign has been carried on by the National Cotton Council. It has been financed by a one dollar a bale voluntary contribution by growers. Contributions last year amounted to $2.5 million. If all growers had contributed one dollar a bale, the total would have been about $15 million for Upland Cotton, he said.

The Cotton Council says the voluntary program has not worked well mainly because of problems of collecting funds, and irregular total income, and disproportionate contributions.

Kirby summed up, "The decision you make in the referendum has two basic parts: 'First, do you think research and promotion aimed at increasing the sale of your cotton is the proper method to use to get a greater share of the fiber market?' 'Second, if you believe increased emphasis on research

Kirby said purpose of the Extension meetings is educational -- not to say whether the proposed check-off is good or bad, but to present the facts and let growers decide for themselves.

Meet Your Teachers

Mrs. Nancy Coleman has just begun her teaching career as a second grade teacher in the Lazbuddie Elementary School. Although she was born in Borger, Mrs. Coleman hails from Fredrick, Okla., where she was reared and where she and Coach Bob Coleman were married in 1958. Mrs. Coleman received her degree in elementary education from Eastern New Mexico University in Portales. She is the mother of two; Brent, five, and Brooke, 15 months. Music is favorite with Mrs. Coleman, and I might add, she has a lovely alto voice. She also enjoys playing the piano, bridge, and sewing.

FHA Has Tea For Two

Twenty-one mothers were special guests of 30 Future Homemakers at a "Tea for Two" recently.

Refreshments of "tassies", party mix, spiced tea, and coffee were served from a table laid with white lace over a pink cloth. A large arrangement of pink and violet feather flowers centered the table. Each mother was presented a red rose by her daughter.

It looks like winter for sure! This picture was taken at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Blackburn, in Lazbuddie. Probably Bobby forgot to turn the water off, but it did make a pretty sight.

P. S. Kids, don't forget to send your letters to Santa Claus Box 255, Farwell, Texas, and they will be forwarded straight to the North Pole.

Country Club Progress Report

Persons interested in seeing the Farwell Country Club become a reality met in the Community Room at Security State Bank last Tuesday. A board of directors, to function until such time as the club becomes a reality and begins to function, has been elected to act as a steering committee.

Heading the board of directors is Bill Prince as president. Other members of the board include Jack Williams, vice-president; Elmer Hargrove, treasurer; Fred Chandler, secretary; and A. T. Watts, Gil Patschke, Herb Potts, James Norton and Don Geries.

The organization was informed by telegram from Congressman Walter Rogers last week that a loan in the amount of $150,000 had been approved for the project, says Prince. However, Billy Boling, representing the FHA from whom the funds are being secured, has had no official word on the status quo. He said, however, that he is sure there will be no delay in the official OK for the project. As soon as the official OK comes through, construction will begin. Ralph Douglas of Muleshoe, civil engineer for the project, met with Golf Architects in Lubbock this week to go over some of the proposed plans.

Junior High Tourney In Progress

Farwell junior high school basketball teams are hosting teams from Bovina, Sudan, Hart, Bula, Texico and Amherst this weekend for a tournament. Both the 7th and 8th grade teams from Farwell are playing in the tourney.

First game of the tournament got underway Thursday at 2:15 p.m.

Consolation games will be played at 6 p.m. on Saturday and finals in the winners bracket will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

Trophies are being presented to the first, second, and third place winners in both the boys and girls divisions.

That's exactly what I find for me in your dress department, nothing! Just because I'm a little older and need a size 18... what's wrong, my money's no good! Ah, if only everyone would have JEAN LANG dresses, my problems would be over. Won't you please see this marvelous, mature dress line and buy some 14s to 20s?
